AFTER THE PRICE, THEN WHAT?

Insurance service doesn't mean just writing the policy and collecting the premium.

It is something more than the personal element, or a matter of patronage.

It means at least three things to you.

First, an insurance contract to meet your requirements. The lowest possible rate for this contract. The absolute assurance that any losses you may have will be paid promptly.

For fifty years the McBRIDE INSURANCE AGENCY has been building up the largest, strongest insurance agency here on this kind of service.

Ask your neighbor.

LOCAL BARBER ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

BREAKS WIFE'S ARM WITH A
ROCKING CHAIR; PAYS
$80.70

Jack Knoll, a local barber, living on 14th street near Maple, was arrested on an assault and battery charge, the complaint being made by Chief Van Ry after he had heard about the matter, and knew that the wife stood in fear of an obstreperous husband.

Knoll has been acting up of late at home and in a fit of anger over some trivial matter struck his wife over the arm with a rocking chair, which resulted in the breaking of that member.

It is said that he also dragged his young child through the house at the same time and has been making things obnoxious to the neighbors as well as molesting his own family. He was taken before Justice Van Schelven where he pleaded guilty and he was sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $80.70.

Justice Van Schelven also gave the man one of the worst tongue lashings he has ever received, stating that he wished that a public whipping post be erected back of the city hall in order that a man of the Knoll calibre might receive public lashing.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS TO BE PLACED ON THE ICE

Mayor Stephan called the attention of the aldermen Wednesday evening to the fact that a serious attempt should be made this winter to provide skating facilities for the young people of Holland on Black Lake. The aldermen took readily to the suggestion and the board of public works was asked to take the necessary steps for the placing of electric lights on the ice as soon as the conditions permit.

LAST SATURDAY IN JANUARY REG- ISTRATION DAY

The first hint of the fact that spring is on the way was given at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening when the aldermen were called upon to make arrangements for the holding of a city registration. This formality had to be gone through with on account of the spring primaries and election. The former will take place about the middle of March and the latter early in April.

The last Saturday in January will be registration day for this purpose. On that day the registration boards will be in session at the various polling places. All persons who have not yet voted, all those who have moved from one ward to another since the last election will be required to register if they desire to vote.

ARE IN FINE SHAPE TO TACKLE GRAND HAVEN ON FRIDAY NIGHT

After the winter vacation the Holland high basketball team have been doing some hard work and Coach Martin has been putting them through the "sprouts" at every opportunity preparing them for the big battle of the year namely with Grand Haven Friday.

The boys have been right on their toes ever since the defeat given them by the Kalamazoo Central team last Monday. Coach Martin has now strengthened the team in weak spots which were evident in the Kalamazoo game. The Kazoos have one of the strongest teams in the state and at that the score was nothing to feel bad about.

Holland is all set for the Grand Havenites. It will take place at Holland High Gym. The Grand Haven paper again announces their slogan "Let's Beat Holland." Well, let's turn it around and "Let's Beat Grand Haven!"

Local Real Estate and Insurance Firm Dissolve Co-Partnership

The real estate and insurance firm of Isaac Kouw & Co., consisting of Isaac Kouw and Adrian Van Putten doing business at No. 36 W. Eighth street, has dissolved partnership after fourteen years of successful business associations.

Isaac Kouw has taken over all of the Real Estate business and will continue this line in the front offices at the same place. Mr. Kouw expects to enter into the Real Estate developing business later on having considerable property of his own that he expects to beautify and subdivide for future sales and will confine his business in the future to real estate only including farm lands.

Mr. Van Putten has taken over all of the insurance business, renting and collections and will continue that part of the business in the rear offices at the same place, all of this line formerly in charge of Isaac Kouw & Co. will be taken care of by him.

AT LEAST FOUR HUNDRED FARMERS COME TO HOLLAND

MERCHANTS' COMMITTEE GIVE A DINNER TO MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED

Despite the drenching rain that had been falling all night and morning and consequently with bad roads, more farmers came to town and congregated at the city hall than have ever gathered here before on a similar occasion.

The event was a sort of a farmers' institute at which experienced farm and fruit men lectured on their respective subjects which no doubt proved very beneficial to the tillers of the soil.

Anyway the merchants of Holland took this opportunity to fraternize with their rural neighbors and have them as guests for dinner.

The bill of fare on this occasion went somewhat like this: French Sausage, German cabbage, a la Holland style, boiled sugar cured ham, Heinz pickles, full cream cheese with Rusk buns, mashed potatoes, apple pie and Arctic ice cream, homemade doughnuts, hot coffee and cigars.

The luncheon was put up cafeteria style and the local committee composed of H. R. Brink, Dick Boter, Herman De Fouw, Henry Van Ark, Joe Kooiker, Bert Slagh, John Vandersius, Jacob Lokker, Dick Schaftenaar, Harris Meyer, Milo De Vries and William Brouwer, handled the affair like veterans and not a guest of the more than 300 was overlooked.

Many volunteers consisting of the business men jumped in to assist the committee and it is doubtful if ever a similar affair of this kind has been taken care of so expeditiously before.

After the dinner Ottawa county agricultural agent, Mr. Milham introduced Mr. G. J. Diekema as the afterdinner speaker. "Diekema" was in his usual happy mood and soon had the farmers rocking with his puns and pointed stories. Interspersing these he gave them some solid facts that apply not alone to the farmer but the business man as well.

Said Mr. Diekema, "The farmer and the city man are dependant, one upon the other. The city man cannot do without the farmer and likewise the farmer, possibly to a lesser extent, cannot do without the townsman."

"Today—the farms are worth seventy billions of dollars and the production of one year of the farms in this country would be large enough to buy all the railroads in the United States and farmers would be able to pay cash for them. It was said in former days that the cackling hen that lays the eggs brings in enough money to the farmer in one year to pay the national debt."

"Of course, since the war, this is not true, and the turkeys, geese and cows must help a little. (Laughter) At least it shows what one commodity on the farm would do, and what a back bone the farmer is to our country."

"Figures show that two-thirds of the city folks do not own their own property. To the contrary, more than two-thirds of the farmers are the possessors of their own farms. A man who owns his own property has something to work for, something to live for, and makes a better American citizen. This is true whether he be in the city or in the country, and that is one of the reasons why the farmer is a substantial American citizen and as a rule, a patriotic one."

"Time was when the smart boy in the family was considered too smart to remain on the farm. He must go to the city because of this smartness where often he proved a failure. Today the smart boy is kept on the farm, after possibly taking a course through some good agricultural college, and the result has been better farming and better farms, for it takes as much brains to run a farm today as it does to conduct the business of a store or factory, and often a great deal more."

"There should be more mutual cooperation, too between the merchant and the farmer."

"The farmer that comes to town with the rosy, beautiful apples on top, and rotten fruit at the bottom of the basket will not exist long. A merchant who does not give a farmer a square deal at his store will soon be put out of business and he should be. There should be a more thorough understanding between the merchant and the farmer for they are neighbors who have much in common."

"A dollar spent in the community, builds up that community and the rural community around it. A dollar spent away from home never returns to build up anything. A dollar is a very unpatriotic individual, and altho it has liberty on its face, it does not recognize the flag. It spends itself for vice or virtue. The dollar that self does good or evil, according to where it is directed by the individual who owns it. Keep the dollars as near at home as possible, for where this is done such a community cannot help but be a prosperous one."

Peter Bouwman, spokesman for the Farmers' Association, spoke in behalf of the farmers present, and

SHERIFF HAS BUSY TIME IN FIRST YEAR

MAKES MANY ARRESTS DURING FIRST YEAR IN OFFICE AND WORKS ON MANY IMPORT-ANT CASES

Sheriff Delbert Fortney completed his first year in office on January 1. In looking over his records for the year he has discovered that his office has had rather a busy year of it. The force has worked upon a number of important cases and a great amount of stolen property has been recovered. Action has been taken against moonshiners and illicit liquor sellers pretty strenuously, and the general work of the office has been brisk.

The sheriff's jail records show a total of 317 arrests made by his officers in 1921, as against 173 arrests made in 1920. These figures include prisoners taken on all charges.

The records show 91 circuit court prisoners confined in the jail during the year just closing, as against 49 the previous year. Of this number 60 were held on moonshine charges. The sheriff's officers have raided a number of private stills in the county and have brought in many gallons of mash and finished product. A number of stills and equipment have been seized and their owners held to trial.

Included in the number of stills taken were some very large ones which were producing large quantities of illicit booze. A number of arrests were made also, on charges of having liquor in possession and charges of peddling it were also made.

The records show that $45,000.00 worth of stolen property has been recovered this year by the sheriff's office.

COMMITTEE FIGURES UP THE COLLEGE AVE. FRONTAGE

A remonstrance that came to the council two weeks ago, against the paving of College avenue, signed by a large number of property owners, led the streets committee to make a canvass of the frontage as shown by the remonstrance. The committee submitted its figures to the council Wednesday evening.

The total frontage of that section of College avenue that is to be paved is 11,748 feet. Of this frontage 2,160 is taken up by street crossings and alleys and can be deducted from the total because it is city property, leaving a voting frontage of 9,588. Of this voting total the signatures on the remonstrance represent 3,931 feet, leaving a total of 5,657 feet on which there has been no expression of opinion.

The Holland City News is fifty years old today. For thirty years the paper has been conducted by the present manager, B. A. Mulder of the News and Sentinel.

Peter Meeuwse who is under the care of the government hospital at Milwaukee, Wis., is visiting relatives in Grand Haven while on a 20 day furlough.

stated that they desired nothing better than a spirit of cooperation to exist between Holland and themselves. He stated that he felt that one needed the other and that it was meetings of this kind that could not help but create a closer and more communal spirit. He asked the guests present to give a rising vote of thanks to the thoughtful merchants of Holland who extended them the hand of welcome for a more thorough future understanding.

County Agent Milham gave a very fitting illustration of how closely allied the rural and urban citizens were. Said Mr. Milham: "We'll say for instance, supposing Holland was suddenly swallowed up, with the farms in the vicinity remaining. Surely such a condition would be mighty detrimental to the farmer."

"Supposing on the other hand the farms around Holland would be depleted and depopulated, Holland surely would have some hard sledding. This is not only true of this city, but of every city and trading center. That being the case, why not co-operate? Why not let one hand wash the other? Why not be friendly neighbors?"

After giving his little talk and thanking the Merchants Association and the Holland newspaper men for their cooperation he introduced Mr. White from the State Department of Agriculture, who spoke on the topic of production of fertilization and the marketing of fruit.

The morning session was taken up by T. A. Farrand, fruit specialist of the Michigan Agricultural College who gave an interesting discourse on fruit standardization. He stated that it was well for a whole community to organize and grow certain sorts of fruit and make such a locality popular for raising this line of fruit.

Everything connected with the raising and packing should be done in such a way that there could not help but be a demand for this A No. 1 fruit in the markets of the world.

COMMITTEE FINDS MANY ORDINANCES OUT OF DATE

HINTS OF MODERN PROGRESS
ARE GIVEN IN THE REVISION OF OLD STATUTES

City Has Grown and the World Has Moved On, Committee
Finds

How many things there were on the statute books of the city of Holland that had long since gone out of date was never appreciated until the ordinance committee made a complete revision of the ordinance book. This work has been practically completed now and the committee made a report to the common council on Wednesday night.

It was necessary to substitute the word "vehicles" for all such words as "wagons," "sled," etc., found in the old ordinances. When those ordinances were drawn some time in the seventies or eighties automobiles had never been heard of. A more inclusive term now has to be used to take care of flivvers, motorcycles, etc.

The committee found one ordinance on the books prohibiting geese, sheep, swine, cattle, and other domestic animals from running loose on the streets of Holland. This ordinance was drawn in 1886. The committee came to the conclusion that it was a little out of date in these latter days and decided to cut it out of the book.

There was one ordinance that regulated the driving of hacks within the city. This too was drawn in the days before the advent of the auto and when the word "taxi" had not yet been coined. Hacks now being passe, the committee substituted "taxi."

Several ordinances referred to such streets as "Market street," "Land street," "River street," and other names that are no longer found in Holland. In all these cases the ordinances were brought up to date and the correct names given to the streets.

There was one ordinance regulating "shows" which was passed many years before the motion picture had been invented. This had to be brought up to date to include the business represented by the silver screen. On the other hand one ordinance was cut out bodily because a once flourishing business had gone out of existence. This was the saloon ordinance.

GRAND HAVEN MAN ALSO SEES RED BIRDS

WRITES IN THE TRIBUNE ABOUT
THOSE SEEN BY THE HOL-LAND MAN

The following communication appears in the Grand Haven Tribune:
Mr. Editor:

The Tribune of Friday evening stated that a Mr. Bohl in Holland saw a strange red bird. I saw two birds of this description on Christmas afternoon near my home on Grant street. Knowing they were strangers I examined them carefully with a field glass. They were brilliant red, chin and band around bill was black. The beak was stout and red. They had a conspicuous crest. These birds are known as the Cardinal Grosbeak. They are also called crested Red Bird and Virginia Red Bird. They are southern birds but are becoming more and more common. They are resident rather than migrating birds remaining thruout the winter in localities where they have found their way.

A. J. Van Woerkom.

Apparently we are having our January thaw, if there is anything to thaw.

The music given at the Farmers' meeting which pleased so many of the guests yesterday was furnished by the Colonial orchestra and surely the farmers were pleased with the efforts of these popular musicians, judging from the applause that was forthcoming. The committee in charge here wish to thank the merchants who donated the orchestra for their music, the Arctic Ice Cream Co. for their ice cream, Heinz for their pickles, in fact all those who contributed toward the success of this institute. The committee is indeed thankful and or that matter they also deserve thanks.

The French Cloak store of this city will be refinished and redecorated throughout very shortly, but before this is done, the proprietor, Mr. Van Tatenhove is putting on a big sale to reduce the stock. The bargains he gives will be found in a large ad on page three of this issue.

STATISTICS SHOW BIG GROWTH OF CHURCH FOR YEAR

Statistics of the Christian Reformed church in America show that the denomination during the past year has gained 412 families, 1,048 members, 995 souls and ten ministers. The number of vacant pulpits has been decreased from 60 to 50. The present enrollment shows: Families, 19,350; members, 43,902; souls 97,050; ministers 196; churches, 246.

The denomination is divided into 13 classes. Its greatest strength centers in western Michigan, as 101 churches numbering 10,377 families, are connected with the classes of Grand Rapids East, Grand Rapids West, Muskegon, Holland and Zeeland.

Nineteen churches are located within a territory 12 miles long and 12 miles wide with Zeeland as the center. Eastern-av. church, Grand Rapids, Rev. H. Hoeksema, pastor, is the largest church in the denomination with 425 families and Grandville avenue church Grand Rapids, Rev. Y. P. De Jong, pastor, is second with 403 families. Rev. L. J. Hulst of Nunica, who became emeritus pastor in 1910, is the oldest minister, his ordination having taken place 72 years ago and his age being three years short of a centenarian.

The necrologist reported eight deaths in the ministerial ranks during the year. Sixty-eight ministers have died since the denomination was organized and 15 ministers are listed

DEDICATION OF PROSPECT PARK CHURCH BRINGS LARGE CROWD

DISMISS JURY FROM FURTHER DUTY IN COURT

Following a verdict of no cause for action returned in the case of Harry Proctor vs. John Ellman, Judge O. S. Cross dismissed the jury from further service for the term.

The Proctor-Ellman case involved an attempt by the plaintiff to recover a commission alleged to be due him for sale of real estate in Grand Haven township. In the case of Carlson vs. G. R. G. H. & M. R'y which was to have been heard a settlement was effected out of court.

Judge Cross also granted a decree for divorce in the case of Folager vs. Folager.

The January term of court will open on the 9th of January. A new jury panel will be called on the 16th of next month, as emeritus.

HOLLAND GAS RATE IS CUT BY STATE

Under an order issued Friday by the state public utilities commission the gas rate in Holland was reduced from $1.70 to $1.50 net. The new rate was based on an estimated income for a $200,000 valuation on the Holland City Gas Co.'s property.

"Main Street's Boast"

"DR. ZWEMER, ITS PRODUCT, HAS BECOME 'BIG' MAN"

The following articles on Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer with cut appears in Sunday's issue of the Detroit News:

Detroit News—"From a mere nobody on 'Main Street' to a world figure, is the romantic career of Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer who has just left Holland for Cairo, Egypt where he is engaged in 'big business.'"

Dr. Zwemer has made foreign missions "big business." As head of the Protestant missions for Africa, with headquarters in Cairo, though still a comparatively young man, he has tremendous power. He is practically the head of the forces of one civilization that are arrayed against the forces of another civilization prize of whose silent conflict is a whole continent.

About five years ago an American public speakers in America, but during his college days, while a student at Hope College here, he was considered the poorest speaker in that institution. His professor in oratory considered him impossible, but the boy won out against tremendous obstacles. His recent visit to America was due to the fact that a national organization with headquarters in New York city deemed his eloquence necessary here in a nationwide campaign. He has several times been called from Egypt by such organizations as the Interchurch World Movement, the International Y. M. C. A. and to conduct campaigns in this country.

Dr. Zwemer is as far removed from the conventional type of missionary as anyone could be. He is magazine devoted an article to the clash of civilizations in Africa, the Mohammedan and the Christian, and the writer of that article credited Dr. Zwemer with being the brains of the armies of Christendom in the "dark continent."

Main Street "Product"

Whatever may be the sins of "Main Street," Dr. Zwemer's case illustrates that it at least produces some persons who can be described as "big." Dr. Zwemer was born in the little village of Vriesland, in Western Michigan, which could go Sinclair Lewis' "Gopher Prairie" a few better in isolation. About all it has even today is a church, a school, a blacksmith shop, and lately a garage where flivvers of the surrounding farmers are repaired.

"Dr. Zwemer today is credited with being one of the most effective in "big business" in a very literal sense and the fact that the commodity he handles is spiritual is only incidental, so far as an estimate of his personality goes.

Honored by England

Aside from his career as a missionary leader of Christendom in Africa, Dr. Zwemer is one of the greatest authorities in the geography and civilization of Arabia in the world. The British government some years ago conferred upon him the title of fellow of the Royal Geographical society for his geographical researches and at that time he was the only American who had received that title. He is the author of a number of books dealing with Arabian manners and history. Before becoming head of the Protestant Missions in Africa, Dr. Zwemer for 20 years served as a missionary in Arabia.

LOCAL MAN MAKES TOUR WITH COLUMBIA UNIV. GLEE CLUB

Carroll Van Ark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Ark, is out on a long tour with the Columbia University Glee Club. Mr. Van Ark, who became a student at the School of Journalism of Columbia University last September, was elected a member of the Glee Club soon after matriculating in that school. The present tour includes concerts in Scranton, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and other eastern cities. The party left New York on Tuesday of last week and they expect to be back at Columbia on January 5, when they will begin practicing for Intercollegiate in April, a meet in New York city between eight or nine eastern colleges which was won by Howard last year and which resulted in their European tour shortly after. As all the boys are of college age for a trip to Europe the Columbia University Glee club will put in some hard work trying to win this meet.

Mr. Van Ark was also elected to the associate board on the "Columbia Spectator," the daily newspaper of the Columbia School of Journalism.

At midnight Saturday night the Macatawa Coast Guard station was closed orders to that effect having come recently from the district superintendent. Capt. Van Weelden and his crew have been busy the past few days getting the station and all the equipment into shipshape form so that it will be well taken care of during the winter months when the station is closed.

The station will not be entirely deserted this year. Captain Van Weelden and two members of the crew, Van Regenmorter and Landman will remain on duty during the winter, ready for any emergency that may arise. This is in accordance with the new policy adopted during the war of keeping the stations along the Great Lakes at least partially manned during the off-months. There is not much call for services on the part of life savers during the time when the harbor is locked in ice, but when the rare occasions do arise that a professional life saver is needed then he is needed badly. Moreover the men who stay at the station have their regular winter routine, keeping the place in good repair and taking care of the equipment. The Macatawa station has equipment that is worth a lot of money in actual cash and it is being kept spotless from one year's end to another.

According to the orders received from Headquarters the Macatawa station will remain closed until March 1. Soon after that date it is expected that navigation will open again and when it does the life savers will be back on the job and will have had a little spring training fitting them to cope with the emergencies that often arise during the spring storms.

The other members of the crew will for the most part remain at Macatawa during the two months. So far as known now all the present members of the crew will be back on the job next year. There is at present a full crew with the exception of one substitute.

Cornelia Nettinga is visiting in Spring Lake for a few days.

John J. Rutgers was in Grand Rapids on business Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Diekema took in "The Bat" at Powers Friday evening.

HOLLAND, MICH.

Miss Metz, who is coaching the characters for "The Man on the Box", is getting the cast in shape for this popular comedy which is to be presented by the Hope College dramatic work. The club is putting on a play, which is founded upon Harold McGrath's novel, is known throughout the country, has met with a decided success, and will be staged here by a cast of characters, all of whom have had some experience in dramatic work. The club is putting on a special effort to make this play a success, the proceeds of which will go toward securing new scenery for the college. The scenery has been ordered by the club and will be ready for use with the first presentation of the play.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hatch of Holland were suddenly called to Wells-ville, N. Y., by the death of Mr. Hatch, Sr. The Auto Top Co. of which Mr. Hatch is proprietor located on 7th street and Central avenue has been closed until Mr. and Mrs. Hatch return.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stang of Grand Haven had their hearing before Circuit Court Commissioner Pagelsen Tuesday morning on the charge of neglecting their children. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stang of Grand Haven who were arrested on a charge of neglecting their children at their hearing on Tuesday before Circuit Court Commissioner D. F. Pagelsen, were bound over to circuit court under $500 bonds.

William Washburn and Charles Walts of Kalamazoo, are awaiting trial on the charge of passing forged checks in Allegan, Otsego and Kalamazoo and of having committed numerous burglaries. They were bound over after preliminary hearing in lower court.

Holland hospital again is filled to capacity and beds have been placed in the hallways to take care of the overflow. The hospital was reopened a few days ago after the building was renovated following the development of a case of erysipelas among the nurses. Several patients are on the waiting list.

Breaking the Grip of Rheum. on the Body

Health Talk No. 31

By JOHN DE JONGE, D. C.

The principle characteristic of rheumatism is pain. There is dull and continuous aching, with severity and sharpness at times. If the pain would stop for intervals it might be more bearable, but the fact that it is continuous is what makes rheumatism the most dreaded of diseases.

The cause is weakened functioning of the kidneys, due to displacement of the spinal joints at what is known as "kidney place." This displacement causes pressure on the spinal nerves. Chiropractic spinal adjustments restore the spinal joints to alignment and with the pressure removed the kidneys act normally and the disease gradually clears.

Suffered Two Years Then Found Help

"For two years prior to consulting a chiropractor I suffered with rheumatism. In August 1919 the pain was so intense that I was unable to move. After the first chiropractic spinal adjustment the pain eased. I continued until December when I was discharged. I have been shoeing horses ever since."—John Schauss, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1282R.

NO FIRES SINCE

OCTOBER 25TH

Holland has been very fortunate when it comes to fires. No real big blaze has come to Holland for years and the little fires caused only minor or no damages.

Since October 25 until Friday, 66 days in all, the firemen were not called out for duty. That is an unusual record.

Friday however the record was broken by two fires, one occurring at 23 West 4th street at 4 o'clock when a small roof fire did minor damages.

At 8 o'clock Friday evening, box 43 was pulled and it was found that a freight car back of the freight depot of the Michigan Railway was on fire. The firemen worked faithfully for half hour to save the car from destruction. The fire was caused by a hot box it is said.

Chas. and Ray Badgerow formerly of Gladstone, Michigan, have purchased the John Vanden Berg home at 147 Central avenue and also the Palace Billiard hall at No. 34 West Eighth street conducted by the Korose Brothers. They took possession January 1st.

Mr. Badgerow and son come here very highly recommended from their former town and have had eight years in this same line of business.

The Palace Billiard hall has been conducted in a very business-like manner for the past ten years and Mr. Badgerow states that he will continue to conduct the business in the same way.

The 6th Reformed church is holding a very successful series of prayer meetings this week and an invitation is extended to all to help make the next three meetings a success. Wednesday night the Senior C. E. society had charge of the meeting and on this evening a prominent Holland man will make an address. Who this person is is being kept a secret, but a fine address is promised. On Friday evening Rev. J. H. Bruggers will be in charge.

The Sixth Reformed church has been engaged in erecting a new church building and the congregation will occupy this church in the very near future.

J. A. Hoover left Monday for Pittsburgh, Pa. to attend a convention of H. J. Heinz Co. officials.

Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Godfrey spent the week end as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. De Kleine in Flint.

Miss Katherine Mc Bride returned to Chicago National Kindergarten Academy to resume her studies.

Mr. Gerrit Van Lente of Oskaloosa, Iowa, is visiting friends and relatives in Holland.

Mr. Dan Den Uyl left for East Lansing Tuesday morning to resume his work at M. A. C.

DIES AT THE AGE

OF NINETY YEARS

The funeral was held Wednesday forenoon at 11 o'clock of George Osborne who died in Aurora, Ill., at the age of 90 years and seven months. The funeral was held at the Dykstra undertaking chapel, and interment took place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Mr. Osborne was born in Goudhurst, England, on June 1, 1831. He died on Monday of this week in Aurora Ill. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. George Haan, Aurora, Ill., Mrs. S. S. Beggs Topeka, Kas., George, Fred, Charles, Alfred of Grand Rapids and Percy V. of Holland.

Mr. Osborne spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Percy V. Osborne and he formerly made his home here. His wife died about seven years ago.

Russell H. Conwell, author of the lecture "Acres of Diamonds," was the theme of a paper read by Wm. E. Vander Hart before the Social Progress club Tuesday evening when the club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Drew. This lecture, which is said to have earned $4,000,000.00, has been delivered by Conwell over six thousand times and the proceeds have been used by him to help young persons secure an education. Mr. Vander Hart gave a clear idea of the gist of the lecture showing that it brought out and illustrated in many ways the fact that there are opportunities near a home and that true greatness lies in finding and making use of these opportunities instead of wasting time seeking the thing over which history has cast a glamour.

Mr. Vander Hart gave a very vivid impression in his paper of the personality of Conwell, telling the story of how he left a well paid law practice to become the pastor of a small church at $600 a year, how he helped out another small church in Philadelphia and built it into one of the largest in America, how he organized Temple University. The story of the man's life was a peculiarly appropriate setting for the story of the famous lecture.

The Delphi society of Hope college is preparing to stage a comedy-drama in Zeeland sometime in the near future entitled, "A Southern Cinderella." The play is given in three acts and written by Walter Ben Hare author of more than 100 plays.

The play will be presented with the following cast of characters: Ethel Leenhouts, Clarice Boland, Susanna Hamelink, Cornelia Orsewaarde, Frieda Gunneman, Lucille Van der Werf, and Eberdeen Kuiper.

Miss Gertrude Kramer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto P. Kramer has returned to resume her studies at the Chicago School of Music.

PROMINENT LOCAL

DOCTOR PASSES

MONDAY MORNING

Death came to Dr. William I. J. Bruinsma at 12:50 on the night between Sunday and Monday at his home at 63 W. Ninth street after an illness of some duration. Dr. Bruinsma's wedding anniversary had occurred on Saturday.

Dr. Bruinsma was born in Vriesland, The Netherlands, 59 years ago, and he came to America when he was 25 years old. While still in his native country he attended a medical school in the Province of Groningen. After arriving in this country he attended the Rush Medical college from which institution he graduated. For about 12 years he practiced in Olive Center. Twenty-one years ago he took the regular examination before the state board of medical examiners which was required to give him the right to practice in Michigan and passed it, receiving his license from the state.

After practicing in Olive Center for twelve years he came to Holland and built up a substantial practice here. Twenty-nine years ago he was married to Miss Caroline Ebels, who survives him. He is also survived by four children, Carl at home, Mrs. August Gunst, Anton and Gus both at home.

Dr. Bruinsma was very prominent in fraternal circles in Holland. He was for many years a member of the Mason, the Odd Fellows, the Maccabees, the Woodmen and the Eagles, and he was examining physician for the Woodmen, the Maccabees and the Eagles.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home 63 W. 9th St. and friends were given an opportunity to view the remains at any time until then. Rev. M. L. Tate officiated at the funeral, which was held under the auspices of the Eagles and the Odd Fellows.

Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Boot left Monday for Florida to spend the winter there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rodenhouse and daughter Lorraine have returned to Grand Rapids after spending the holidays with their mother, Mrs. J. Koning.

Mrs. Dora Witt and little granddaughter Doretta Zietlow visited in Reed City the past week.

ATTENTION, FORD OWNERS!

Ford parts, like most everything else worth while, are counterfeited. The manufacturers of these imitation parts are obviously not as interested as we are in maintaining the high standard of quality and the complete satisfaction of Ford owners. Imitation parts are manufactured to sell at the highest possible rate of profit and the grades of steel used are consequently not the same high quality, specially heat-treated alloy steels specified in Ford formulas for the manufacture of GENUINE FORD PARTS.

Don't be misled. Insist upon GENUINE FORD PARTS made by the Ford Motor Company. By so doing you will get from 35 to 100 per cent more wear from them, and you will pay the lowest possible cost—the same everywhere.

CITY OFFICIALS

MAYOR'S GUESTS

AT OUTING

Members of the common council, the board of public works, the city attorney, the city clerk, the city engineer, city assessor and local newspaper men were guests of Mayor Stephan Friday afternoon and evening when all made a trip to Grand Rapids to see the furniture exhibit and to take part in a dinner at the Pantlind hotel. When Mayor Stephan's pay check as mayor of the city was handed to him at the last meeting of the council, he invited these men to this little outing, declaring that he could think of no better way to spend his salary as mayor than to give this outing to the men who had been associated with him in city work the past two years. The company that went to Grand Rapids in a special car included 26 men. The furniture exhibit is not yet open, but the visitors had free entry into all the rooms and most of them gained for the first time a real idea of the beautiful furniture that is being manufactured in Holland, comparing very favorably as it does with most of the lines made in other cities. It was an educational tour as well as a most delightful one.

The dinner that followed at the Pantlind was complete in every detail, with all the necessary trimmings including the smokes, but it was wholly informal, and all the more enjoyable for that reason. There was good cheer and the dignified aldermen for once forgot their dignity and let themselves go in a real spirit of good fellowship. At the conclusion of the meal City Attorney C. H. McBride proposed a rising vote of thanks to Mayor Stephan, which proposal was heartily responded to. Speeches were not on the program but Mr. Stephan felt obligated after this vote to say a few words in response.

After thanking the men for their good will he said in part:

"I planned this little outing because I wanted to show my appreciation to you for your kindness and cooperation during the past two years. There were several things I wanted to do, and it was only with your help that I was able to do them.

"I wanted the council to become a real legislative body and this has been accomplished. You have done your work without dictation from me, fulfilling your own functions as the legislative body as I have tried to fulfill mine as the executive. In the same way I wanted the board of public works to be as nearly an autonomous body as the charter will permit and you have helped to bring this about. The board has done its work without unnecessary interference and there has been a spirit of co-operation between the council and the board. I planned at the beginning of my administration to settle the gas question, and this has been done through your loyal co-operation. I wanted to see the boulevard lights put through and this has just been done with the co-operation of the council and the board of public works. And there were other services on the part of both council and the board of public works and the other city officials for which I feel very grateful and which I wanted to recognize in this friendly little gathering.

"We have had differences of opinion, but through all our work we have been friends, and this gathering is meant to typify this fact. Work for the city is worth while if it can be done in this spirit of co-operation and friendliness.

"My administration is coming to a close and I sincerely hope that before another campaign opens some one else will be found who will take up the reins of office. I should much prefer if another man would assume the burdens of the office. The position requires a great deal of time and attention that I would like to give to my business. While this is not the time to make any positive statement and while I am not saying positively that I would not accept the office again, I would much rather that I should not have to continue the work."

At this juncture there were loud calls from several parts of the hall, "We want Abe!" and Mr. Stephan responded with a little incident out of his own life to illustrate how he felt about it.

"About two and a half years ago," he said, "I was stretched on a bed of illness for several weeks. Before that I had become rather indifferent to public service, having said to myself that I wasn't going to waste my time any longer in this kind of work but that I was going to attend strictly to my personal and business affairs. But that spell of illness made me think and take stock as to what life is for anyway. And I promised myself then that if I got well I would answer any call that my church or my city might make on me because the meaning of life is found in the word 'service.' And this pledge I have tried to keep. And in this spirit I shall answer any call that the city may make, but I am sincere when I say that I would rather that another man be named who will carry on the work we have been trying to do the past two years in the same spirit in which it has been done."

City Attorney McBride expressed the sentiment that the council was a better legislative body for such a little outing, and Arthur Van Duren, on behalf of the board of public works, declared that the board and the council have worked shoulder to shoulder during the past administration and that work on the board has been the most pleasant in years.

There has been cooperation, he said, and the board and the council have had confidence in each other. He said that he and the board would like to see the mayor continue in office or another term.

Others were getting ready to talk, but at his point Mr. Stephan laughingly pointed out that it was time for a show, and so the meeting adjourned. At eleven o'clock the special car took the company to Holland, and all voted it a most enjoyable affair in every respect.

CHRISTMAS GRAB WITH STRINGS ATTACHED

A very progressive Sunday School class named the Daughters of the King at the 9th Street Christian Reformed church held their Christmas annual Friday evening at the home of Miss Anna Holkeboer, 37 E. 15th street.

This event is always looked forward to with anticipation by the members of the class, for the season that some unusual features are thought out by the active ones who arrange the program.

A Christmas tree beautifully decorated naturally occupied a prominent place.

One unusual feature was a Christmas grab, but on this particular instance the grabbing was not done from a bag. The Christmas gifts were hidden all about the house, under plants, behind book cases, in the lamp shades, electric fixtures, in fact in every nook and corner that might place the gift in obscurity. Attached to each gift were long strands of pretty ribbon, and to the lead end of these strands were tagged small cards with quaint sayings.

One in particular was "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," and from all reports it took some trying to untangle the tangled mess of ribbon in order to find the other end, which like the rainbow "contained the pot of gold."

Anyway the gifts were all very pleasing and unusually acceptable.

VAN VALKENBERG IS BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

Two cases have recently come up for examination in the local justice courts. One was the people vs. John Van Valkenberg the man who with Cornelius Yskes was alleged to have had liquor in his possession and whose car was wrecked on the Saugstuck road in colliding with the abutments of a bridge.

Van Valkenberg demanded an examination, and Justice Van Schelven Friday morning considered the evidence sufficient to bind the man over to circuit court for trial. Attorney Thos. N. Robinson is defending Van Valkenberg.

Cornelius Ludema also demanded an examination when a charge of assault and battery was made against him by Harry Steinfort, a man living in the same house. In this case the jury disagreed and Ludema may have to be tried again. This case came up before Justice Den Herder who discharged the jury when they could not come to an agreement. The jury consisted of William Arendshorst, Fred Beuwkes, Martin Wiersma, Peter Raffensaud, Cecil White and Alvin Arnold.

CAPPON WILL START AGAINST CARNEGIE BASKETBALL QUINTET

When Michigan met the Carnegie Tech Friday in the Wolverine's 3rd game of the vacation period, Frank Cappon of Holland will make his initial bow before a Michigan audience as a basketball star. The stellar fullback, who played holes in the ones against Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota last fall, has shown considerable skill as a basket tosser during early winter practice and also performed well at Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Since Monday 16 members of the varsity squad have been practicing four hours daily at Waterman Gym in preparation for the game. Coach Eddie Mather considers Carnegie one of the hardest teams that Michigan has to meet this season. From the large number of players who turned out for basketball early in the season the squad has been cut to include the following: Guards, Capt. Rea, Birks, Cappon, Lipman, Pipor, J. McGregor, Paper, Forwards Miller, Whitlock, H. A. McGregor, Reason, Brown, Herman, Fairchild; centers Ely, McWood.

HOPE QUINTET DEFEATS TRAVERSE LEGIONNAIRES

Hope college basketball team continued the form that has won the Dutchmen a rating as one of the stellar quintets of the middle west and defeated Traverse City American Legion five, 24 to 23 there on Thursday night.

The Legion team, still in the embryo stage, battled valiantly against a style of playing that should mark Hope's outfit the greatest ever turned out by the Holland college. Bundy, Brief and Engstrom led the local efforts; Ottiply, Kuiper and Lubbers starred for the victors.—G. R. Herald.

CHANGE IS MADE IN GRAND HAVEN STATE BANK

The new year will see several changes in the official personnel of the Grand Haven State bank. At a meeting of the directors of the bank the appointments were confirmed and the changes in the bank positions were approved. Appreciations for good service were sincerely expressed by the directors and the feeling was prevalent that the officers of the Grand Haven State bank had given the best that was in them for the good of the bank and the community.

Martin Bos who has been connected with the bank for 20 years resigned because of ill health.

Albert Lynn, at one time county treasurer and vice-president and one of the organizers of the bank will relinquish some of his active duties in the bank after the first of the year. Mr. Lynn will continue as vice-president, a member of the Board of Directors of the bank and will maintain his desk there as usual. There will be no change in his status as an officer of the institution. Some of the routine duties of the bank, to which he has attended for many years will be transferred to other hands.

Albert E. Gale, for the last three years an examiner of the Michigan banking commission, has been elected a vice president of the Grand Haven State bank and after the first of the year will assume some of the active duties which have been supervised by Mr. Lynn. Mr. Gale is a Grand Haven young man. His acquaintance in Grand Haven is wide and his friends are many. His appointment of the official staff of the Grand Haven State bank is considered a valuable asset to the institution.

Mr. Gale began his banking career with the Peoples Savings bank of Grand Haven in which institution he put in a number of years of good service. He resigned to accept a position with the Eagle-Ottawa Leather Co., later becoming a state bank examiner which post he held for more than three years.

There is considerable Holland capital invested in the above named banks. G. J. Danhof of Holland is one of the directors as well as W. H. Bosch of this city.

SOCIAL AND BUSINESS MEETING OF LADIES ADULT BIBLE CLASS IS HELD

The Ladies Adult Bible Class of the 14th Street Christian Reformed church held their annual meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John De Witt, East 18th St. Mrs. John De Witt and Mrs. Klaas Bulthuis entertained. The gathering started off with the election of officers after which it was turned into a social affair. The officers as elected are as follows: president, Mrs. John De Witt; vice president, Mrs. J. Van Putten Sr.; secretary, Mrs. Edward Heeringa; assistant secretary Mrs. Harry TenBrink; treasurer, Mrs. Neil Dornbos; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Peter Lievense. The class presented Mrs. Gertrude Boer with a cameo necklace as a gift of appreciation.

NEW ISSUE OF MICHIGAN MANUAL IS PUBLISHED

Representative G. W. Kooyers Tuesday distributed the biennial issue of "The Michigan Manual" to persons in Holland who are in the habit of securing this publication and using it as a work of reference. The books may be had free of charge but they are not for indiscriminate distribution. Any one who can make use of it is entitled to a copy and may have it by applying to Mr. Kooyers.

The present volume gives the official 1920 population of Holland as 12,166, Grand Haven 7,205, Zeeland 2,275, Coopersville 914, Fruitport 321, and Spring Lake 978. Holland according to the volume, was incorporated in 1867, Grand Haven in 1867, Zeeland in 1907, Coopersville in 1871, Fruitport in 1891, and Spring Lake in 1869.

The 1920 population of Ottawa county is given as 47,643 as compared with 45,301 in 1910, and the population of Allegan county for 1920 is given as 37,540 as compared with 39,819 in 1910.

The valuation of taxable property in Ottawa county is given as $54,560,000; that of Allegan county as $46,663,000.

The following biographies of Ottawa county's two state representatives are given in the volume:

G. W. Kooyers, of Holland, representative from the first district, was born in township of Fillmore, Allegan county, April 17, 1876, of American parents. He attended the public schools of the city of Holland, Hope College and the law department of the University of Michigan, graduating from the latter in 1899. The following year he engaged in the general law, real estate and insurance business in Holland. Mr. Kooyers is married and has three daughters and one son. He has held the office of justice of the peace and served two terms as supervisor. He is a republican and was elected to the legislatures of 1915-16, 1917-18 and 1919

-20 and was re-elected Nov. 2, 1920 by a vote of 5,642 to 1,757 for Carl A. Bigge.

Harrison H. Averill: Of Coopersville, representative from the second district of Ottawa county was born July 25, 1859, in Polkton township, Ottawa county, on the farm on which he now resides. He received his education in the district school of that township. Mr. Averill is a widower and has four sons. He is a member of the I. O. O. F. and Grange. He has held the office of township treasurer for two years and supervisor 13 years, and was chairman of the county board of supervisors four years. He is a republican and was elected to the legislature Nov. 5, 1918, and re-elected Nov. 2, 1920, without opposition.

COACH YOST IS SOME TALKER

It is impossible to think of football at the University of Michigan without also thinking of Fielding H. Yost. "Hurry Up" Yost they call him—a dynamic figure who has left his mark not only on football in the West but on the game the country over.

Yost probably knows as much about football as any living man, and when it comes to talking football we would be willing to wager that he could stop any two living men without their ever carrying the linguistic ball an inch into his territory.

He has a larger football vocabulary says the New York Herald than any man living, and will do we know it for at the recent banquet held in Holland the veteran coach droned along without a stop for an hour and a half without a repetition, telling us about the intricacies of the game.

All of us looked wise as owls, but those who looked really intelligent at that banquet were Jim and Con De Pree, Neil a Vander Meulen, Dr. Knoohuizen, Jock Riemersma and a few more who know all about forward passing, punting and penalties. The rest of us came in on the chorus, knowing what a touchdown means.

The New York Herald in a three column article not only expounds the ability of the great coach but also points out where he "kills 'em dead" with his talk.

An instance that's rather amusing as related in the New York Herald states as follows:

"Yost's knowledge of the sport is profound, his memory for detail is marvelous, his vocabulary is unexcelled and his brain and tongue are keen. Many stories are told of him. There is a rumor to the effect that on one occasion he sat in a room one night with the entire coaching staff of a big Eastern university and out argued them to the extent that, one by one, they crept silently away until he remained the lone victor on the field.

Yost is one of the men who coach for sheer love of the game. The money involved means little to him. He is a lawyer and is also widely interested in real estate and oil properties. His home is in Nashville, Tenn., and his official title at the University of Michigan is dean of the college athletic instruction."

COUSINS GATHER TO GIVE FAREWELL TO HENRI BOEVE

A farewell party was given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boeve in Fillmore township in honor of Mr. Henri Boeve their nephew who left last Tuesday for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where he will take an important position in the western branch of the Holland Furnace company. All the cousins of Mr. Henri Boeve and their families were present some sixty in number and a delightful program was given.

OTTAWA CO. OBJECTS TO DEAD END ROAD BECAUSE KENT DIVERTED HIGHWAY

By changing the course of the Grandville ave. road at Jenison to parallel the Pere Marquette railroad for a short distance, thus eliminating two railroad crossings the Kent county road commission has created a condition which calls for a conference of the Kent and Ottawa road engineers, Pere Marquette division engineer and two representatives of the State Public Utilities commission.

The importance of the matter lies in the fact that by eliminating the railroad crossings, the Kent county commission made an Ottawa county road run into a dead end. Ottawa county has called upon the Pere Marquette to restore the disused crossings. The Pere Marquette objects because the cement road has been diverted. Engineers James Bice of the railroad and Otto S. Hess of Kent county and Carl T. Bowen, of Ottawa county, inspected the district and failed to agree. The railroad insists on referring the matter to the state public utilities commission.

MASONIC BALL WAS A WONDER- FUL SUCCESS

The New Year's Eve ball given by Unity Lodge, F. & A. M. was an unusual success. The committee had been working on this event for weeks, and their efforts were rewarded in the first place by an attendance of more than 75 couples, and a gallery packed with spectators.

The music by Van Doezen's orchestra of Grand Rapids was unusually fine. The organization consisted of six pieces and one of the features was the playing of two pianos at the same time.

The ball in reality started at 8:30 o'clock when a sort of mixed dance was held until 9:30 when the regular program dance began. This innovation was followed in order that all of those present might become more thoroughly acquainted.

Another reason for starting the dance an hour earlier was that the event would not run into Sunday, the dance closing promptly at midnight.

The light effect was a wonderful feature, the work of Alfred Sirrine, instructor in Holland High school. The regular lights were discarded for the night and there was a festooning of colored lights that made the Woman's Literary club rooms a veritable fairy land.

Included in the lighting effect were three large spot lights, red, green, and white respectively. These lights were so arranged that the rays could be thrown upon the dancers below adding considerable to the splendor of the scene.

At midnight the entire hall was one blaze of glory. Colored lights had been placed on the outside of the windows of the hall throwing off a lurid glow on the inside. The spotlights were then thrown upon the emblem of the Masonic order and a beautifully arranged "Happy New Year" sign which constituted part of the decorations.

Besides the festooning of the colored lights, many other decorations were in evidence.

Holly wreaths containing small Masonic emblems dotted the walls and were tastefully arranged in different parts of the ball room.

A few minutes after midnight when well wishes for the new year had been said, the party broke up with the participants unusually pleased with the efforts of those in charge.

The storm eliminated one unique feature of the dance. Mr. Sirrine had everything set for what he termed, the wireless dance. The intention was to have the music for one number played in the home of Mr. Sirrine and through this radio system and with amplifiers, transmit this music into the ball room. All arrangements had been completed, but the storm of the night before, blew down the wireless apparatus and there was not enough time left to re-establish it.

The material for the lighting effect was furnished by William Winstrom of the Winstrom Electric Co.

The committee in charge of the Masonic ball were Merrick Hanchett, chairman, John Vander Woude, R. M. Bosworth, Earnest Brooks and Leslie Risto.

HOPE COLLEGE BEATS CADILLAC "Y" 31-27

Hope College basketball team won from the Cadillac Y. M. C. A. at Cadillac Saturday night by a narrow margin, the score being 31 to 27. The close score has given the Cadillac team new hope of being able to win from the Traverse Legion team which plays there Monday night. Bundy Brief, home run wizard of baseball will be in the Traverse City lineup.

GAVE HIS LIFE FOR HIS COUNTRY

The funeral services of Albert Lovell McClellan were held Saturday afternoon, Dec. 30 in the 1st M. E. church, and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. B. Fleming, assisted by Rev. J. F. Bowerman and Rev. D. Stanley Coors of Grand Rapids. The large audience and the many beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the young man was held. The pastor stated that Mr. McClellan suffered great disappointment in not being able to go to France during the late war, but that he had given his life for his country, as he contracted the disease which caused his death while serving as an officer in the home camps.

Mr. McClellan was married June 24, 1919, to Miss Hazel Fairbanks of this city and their residence was at 1941 Horton Avenue, Grand Rapids. Beside the widow he is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McClellan and sisters, Miss Clara McClellan, Mrs. J. A. Winstrom, Mrs. H. Te Roller all of this city, Mrs. H. Zwearing of Flint, Mich.

Out of town people who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. H. Zwearing, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Holley and Mr. and Mrs. P. Lawrence, Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bowen of Spring Lake; Mr. and Mrs. J. Faasen, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fairbanks, Findley, O.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Dobberty, Marshall, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Bowerman, Rev. D. Stanley Coors, and Mr. T. Last of Grand Rapids.

NEW YEARS WAS NOT HAILED BY WHISTLES AND BELLS

Many New Year's revelers, and watch parties were disappointed because of the tame introduction of the New Year to Holland.

When the hands of the clock approached the midnight hour, all were alert waiting for the first signal of whistles and bells, but no sound materialized.

A comparison of watches and clocks was soon begun everywhere with the supposition that something must be wrong with them, but as the hands crept over the face of the clock far into the new year it was apparent that the noise making of other years was not to be.

Whether Sunday had anything to do with this we do not know, but up to this time and from the time that Holland had whistles and bells, there has never been a time when the new year was not rung in and the old year out, through the medium of the bells and whistles.

It is therefore unusual to find this year a silent New Year.

MAKES A SHIPMENT TO LONDON, ENGLAND

The Safety Release Clevis Company of Holland, doing business in the former Seif building on West Tenth street, Tuesday shipped one hundred tractor hitches to London, England. This new Holland company is beginning the new year in a bigger way than it did the year 1921. The order from London came to the firm through its recently established connection with the Oliver Plow Co. All the foreign business is now handled through the Oliver Company, and the affiliation with that concern means a large increase in business for the local company.

In connection with the Oliver Plow company the local firm will have a full page advertisement in the February number of "Farm Mechanics" a publication of several hundred thousand circulation. The advertisement will show illustrations of two of the devices manufactured by the local company.

MANY LISTEN TO CHR. SCHOOL PROGRAM

An audience that filled Holland High school auditorium to capacity listened to a program given under the auspices of the alumni of the Christian School.

The proceeds which were very substantial will be devoted to primary school purposes.

The program was well received and follows below:

Music; Orchestra; prayer and remarks, John De Pree; "Bridal Chorus" from Rose Maiden, Cowan, the Misses Dobbins, Michaelson, Haveman and Boersma; address, Rev. J. J. Hiemenga; songs Anna Hensen Michaelson; reading, Mrs. C. Prins; sketch "A Railroad Incident"; songs, Anna Hensen Michaelson; tableau, "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

TWO FIRES WITHIN THE LAST FEW DAYS

Although for 66 days Holland did not have a fire, surely the last few days they are coming in bunches.

Two have already been reported and Sunday morning at 12:30 a. m. during the first half hour of the New Year, alarm was turned in from box 41 which proved to be a roof fire at 211 West 13th street. The damage was small.

Monday night at 7 o'clock, alarm was turned in from box 51 which proved to be a fire in the home of Mr. Groeters, living on West 17th street.

Some lighted candles on a Christmas tree set fire to it causing some damage.

In both instances the Holland fire department was on the job quickly preventing any serious loss.

The funeral of Mrs. Aart Vliem was held Tuesday, Jan. 3, at one o'clock from the home, not on January 2 as previously announced.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vrieling of Holland have been spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Markle at Allegan.

The new peace dollar was issued Friday. Fine! Let's get them working for a prosperous New Year.

ROAD PROGRAM FOR NEW YEAR IS NOW ARRANGED

But three counties in the entire state of Michigan have a more pretentious road building program for 1922 than has Ottawa county. More than $400,000 will be spent in Ottawa by state and county on concrete road and grading work between now and the end of the year. Not in the history of the county has this amount even been approximated.

The total mileage to be improved in Ottawa during 1922 will be about 22 miles. Of this number 12 will be concreted and ten miles will be graded and furnished with drain structures, ready for concrete, or other form of covering at a later date.

Grading work is now in progress in at least two places in the county.

About one half of the grading to be done between the villages of Marne and Coopersville has been completed.

This stretch extends between the two communities for a distance of about 4½ miles and passes over an entirely new right of way. This road when completed will cut off much of the distance over the old route will eliminate several railroad crossings and will be entirely concrete.

Between the end of the present pavement at Denison and where it begins again east of Spring Lake a distance of 6½ miles will also be paved with concrete during the coming summer. With the completion of these two stretches of highway there will be an almost entirely paved way between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids.

One Mile in City
One mile of pavement on the West Michigan Pike will be laid during the coming year in the north end of the city of Holland. When work on that job is finished the entire route between Grand Haven and this city will be concreted.

In Jamestown Zeeland and Georgetown township about ten miles of grading and drain structure work will be done. This stretch of road will extend between Jenison and Vriesland station, and will also be over a new right of way. Work has been begun on this job also in spite of the cold weather and will be pushed as fast and consistently as the conditions will permit.

Contracts for all jobs not yet let will be awarded as soon after the new year as possible and work will be started as soon as practicable in the spring.

Estimated Cost

Of the 12 miles of concrete road to be laid the six and one-half miles stretch between Denison and the end of the pavement east of Spring Lake will be laid under the Covert Act. This piece of work will cost about $188,000 and it is estimated that the four and one-half miles stretch between Marne and Coopersville will cost approximately $135,000. The one mile of concrete on the West Michigan Pike in the city of Holland will involve the expenditure of $30,000 and the grading and drain construction work between Jenison and Vriesland station will necessitate the outlay of about $45,000.

To Advance Funds

No state funds or any of this work will be available before July 1, 1922. This is due to the fact that all bonds issued for 1921 have been sold and their proceeds already expended and funds from the sale of 1922 road bonds will not be receivable until July 1. Regardless of this fact it is the intention to proceed with the work long before July 1, having the county advance the money for the undertaking and receive reimbursement from the state later in the year. The county's portion of the expense will be 25 per cent of the total outlay.

All the county work for 1922 will be handled from the local office of the Ottawa County road commission. Formerly the state's interests were directed from the state highway department at Lansing.

Ottawa may indeed be proud of the amount of road work which will be done here during the coming year. Few counties in the country perhaps can point to a better or larger plan of road building.

HOLLAND HIGH DEFEATS CALVIN COLLEGE RIVALS

Friday night in a close and very exciting game the Holland High school basketball team defeated the Calvin Rivals by the score of 20 to 18. The game was hard fought thruout. The Rivals outplayed and outclassed the Holland team during the first half, rolling up eleven points to Holland's six. Holland was weak in passing and team work during this half. The absence of Vanden Brink from the Holland lineup was a great handicap, as his defensive playing was sorely missed. Holland showed the real comeback spirit during the 2nd half, fighting every minute and by hard consistent playing held the Rivals to seven points, and chalking up to 14 points themselves. It was a game full of thrills and kept the crowd on edge thruout the entire game.

WAS MADE VICTIM OF FLIMFLAM GAME

Katie Putnam, the well known Benton Harbor actress, who appeared in Holland a few years ago when J. A. Simon put on "Mother" at the Knickerbocker, has been made a victim of a new kind of flim flam game. The story is told as follows by the Benton Harbor News-Palladium:

"Friends of Katie Putnam Emery, Benton Harbor's popular and beloved actress, today declared that she had been victimized by David Worth, who came here recently to sign Mrs. Emery for a long tour in vaudeville.

"The story was given additional weight by the receipt by the News-Palladium of a note from Mrs. Emery requesting the publication of this notice:

"Mrs. Emery has postponed her trip for the present and has severed all business connections with Mr. David Worth."

Mrs. Emery is now stopping at the home of a friend in Chicago.

"Worth came here some two months ago. He was a former member of Mrs. Emery's troupe in the early days. He announced that he had signed Mrs. Emery for a vaudeville tour that would extend from Chicago to the Pacific coast where

Mrs. Emery achieved her most signal success. He then proceeded to give a local production of the piece that Mrs. Emery was supposed to star in her final tour. Friends of Mrs. Emery turned out in large numbers at the Bell to hear her in "Mother's Day," a skit that she had drafted. Friends today said Mrs. Emery never received a penny from the production and that Worth afterward claimed the expenses exceeded the proceeds.

"A few days later Mrs. Emery proceeded to Chicago with the expectations of beginning her tour. Upon her arrival there it is said that she found she had not been booked and that none of the booking houses knew anything about Worth's supposed contract. Worth seems to have dropped out of sight.

"The many friends of Mrs. Emery are indignant over the matter."

THE PIANO AND THE HOME

A HOME—what is it without a piano? Can a money value be placed upon the pleasure a piano gives? Is it not a home-maker? Is its music not character building? Into the hearts of all, it inculcates the love of better music—the desire for bigger things. It is a wondrous inspiration; it invigorates the imagination. Like Aladdin's magic lamp, its strains carry one away from the sorrows and worries of every-day life, into realms of rapture and enjoyment. Like a mystic thread, it connects one with the past and gives visions of the future.

Its music has charm for every member of the family.

THE BUSH & LANE CECILIAN "The Piano Anyone Can Play"

A pioneer, a leader—foremost of player-pianos is the Bush & Lane Cecilian. To it has been attributed, in large degree, the growing love for music so manifest today. It has made music—the very finest kind—possible for every one.

It is an instrument that meets the musical needs and the individual abilities of every member of the family. It is peculiarly adapted to those that play and those that do not.

One has but to insert the desired music roll in the player piano, and by a gentle movement of the feet the music starts. At all times the musical effects are at the control of the pianist. He can regulate the tempo, emphasize or subdue the treble or bass at will. If desired he can skip passages of the music. All the niceties of expression and accent, which are the goal of players by hand, is at his command.

A mere child can secure musical results from the Cecilian player-piano that would take years of patient study and practice.

Is there any doubt that it is a boon to the music lover unable to play? All music is at his disposal—without effort on his part.

It is ideally suited to the child just beginning to learn. Many music teachers supplement a child's instruction by its use. The splendid music that it gives is a standard—for which the child always strives. It shows how the music should be played. By letting a child absorb high-class music he will awaken and develop a love for the best, which will be a child's most precious possession in later years.

The Bush & Lane Cecilian is practically two pianos in one. It is the finest kind of a Bush & Lane piano, made especially strong, plus the very best playing mechanism that can be made.
