Welfare Again Confronts Our City Fathers

SESSION IS SHORT; MATTER OF DIRECTOR DECIDED BY
JOINT MEETING OF WEL-FARE AND COUNCIL.

Question of Re-Zoning River Avenue Is Again Brought Up.

The council meeting last evening was large in numbers but short in session. Some 600 gathered in the council room and lobby, mostly to see some "fire works" which they expected as this relates to the welfare arrangement of the City of Holland. No such "fire works" were forthcoming and that was sensible. Whatever differences there may be as to policy can well be taken care of between the common council and the welfare committee in a joint session and this was so arranged, on motion of Alderman Kleis.

There are some who are quick in offering suggestions and much quicker to criticize. Those well meaning folks do not know the whole story and what the welfare committee has planned will undoubtedly come out at a joint meeting of the common council and this committee when it is called by Mayor Bosch.

Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope church, gave a little impromptu talk to the members of the council which was rather cheering, and council members need that more than criticism. He also offered prayer, which together with the saluting of the flag has become a semi-monthly institution.

The common council authorized the signing of the State of Michigan of the trunk line maintenance contract, whereby it receives $7,795 to keep the trunk lines through Holland clear of snow. This will add materially to the welfare source of funds and work.

The Michigan Gas and Electric company gave a report of their test of gas during the last month and were found to be high, and approved by the board of public works.

The special committee, which has in hand the question of Holland gas rates, is reporting progress. The committee is composed of Mayor Bosch, City Attorney Clarence Lokker, ways and means committee, Henry Prins, Andrew Hyma and Al Kleis.

Dick Homkes, who has worn an "officer's star" as long as Holland folks can remember, has received his credentials from the city as constable of the first ward. The first ward is now safe with Mr. Homkes, the guardian of the law.

The vexing question of John Knapp's building on the northeast corner of Fifteenth street and River avenue, presumably for a drug store, came up again in an indirect way through an application asking for the rezoning of River avenue between Twelfth and River avenues, streets, having it changed from a residential to a commercial street covering those blocks.

The matter will be considered at the next meeting of the common council and before anything is finally done a legally called public hearing must be held of all the property owners on that street covering this section and those on immediate abutting streets in that section.

The putting in of a welfare system as this relates to the questionnaire, was fully approved by the common council at last night's meeting. Other details on which there is not full co-ordination are matters to be taken up by the welfare committee and the common council jointly. Undoubtedly with some thoughtful discussion by both the aldermen and the committee the differences can be ironed out satisfactory to both and to the benefit of the City of Holland as a whole, for there is not a man on the welfare committee who does not have the good of all the citizens with emphasis on the "all"—at heart, and that also goes for the aldermen.

Remember this welfare situation is new to everyone. It has more angles than the "man in the street" has any idea of. It is one of the most perplexing questions that Holland has ever been called upon to solve and at least a little tolerance and patience are due those who give of their time to solve this problem justly to the city as a whole, and especially to the taxpayers who are paying that added burden.

ANOTHER JUDGE WILL HEAR M'KAY-KOUW CASE, JUDGE STATES

Judge Fred T. Miles stated today that it was the desire of the attorneys in the Isaac Kouw vs. Frank L. McKay and Corie C. Coburn accounting case, scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 5, that another judge be allowed to hear the case. Judge Miles will oblige the contestants, he said yesterday morning, and step from the bench. Judge Miles is a long-time resident of Holland, the same city where the plaintiff lives. Judge James E. Spier of Mt. Clemens will preside, it is stated.

GRAND RAPIDS CHURCH CALLS REV. LANTING

Rev. J. Lanting, pastor of the Immanuel church of this city, has received a call from the Church of the Open Door of Grand Rapids. This church has been without a pastor since the death of its former pastor, Rev. A. H. Waalkes, last September.

Mr. Lanting has been pastor of the local church for three and one-half years. During that time the congregation has grown from 13 to 125 families.

Women make better listeners.

CORP. SULLIVAN WILL ADDRESS MERCHANTS

The monthly meeting of the Holland Merchants' association will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall. Corp. Ray Sullivan of the Grand Haven post of the Michigan state police, will discuss the apprehension of the modern criminal with chalk illustrations and charts. For the past two weeks Corporal Sullivan has been in charge of the police exhibition at DeVries & Dornbos store.

It will be decided at this meeting whether the association will give an annual dinner this year. Election of officers will also take place.

Present officers are William Brouwer, president; Jacob Lokker, vice president; Charles Van Zyl, secretary, and Kenneth De Pree, treasurer.

"SQUADS RIGHT" IS ABOLISHED BY ARMY. COMPANY D LEARNS

Capt. "Heinie" Geerds of Company D, National Guards, Holland, received word of a new war department regulation abolishing the old squad formation which has been in use for years.

The most revolutionary change in regulations in recent years, according to Capt. Geerds, will replace the old four man column with a marching column of three men wide. Mr. Geerds says various changes may be needed before the new regulation is in perfect form but it will result in greater flexibility of movement for large bodies of men as well as simplify training soldiers in marching order.

Formerly the smallest unit for maneuvering was the squad composed of eight men, with a corporal stationed as number one man on the left of the front rank. The regular formation of squads in battle array was the section, composed of three squads, each fronting the line and making two ranks of 12 men each.

The new section is also composed of 24 men but the squad will form in a single line of 8 men with the corporal at the right end. Three of these lines, forming ranks three deep, compose the new section. For ordinary marching, the section will simply right, left, or about face as the situation may call for and march away in a column three men wide, a corporal leading each group of 24 men.

While this is true for the rifle companies, it must be modified considerably for the machine guns. A section of machine gunners is made up of two squads of ten men and a corporal each, so the new regulations will not greatly change the drills for them, but will eliminate the unsatisfactory condition of the old drill based upon the eight-man squad. It certainly is a step in the right direction, as the new drill greatly increases the flexibility of the companies, and tends toward increased control of the squads and sections.

Grand Haven Car Mystery Is Cleared Up

YOUNG MAN CONFESSES RUN-
NING CAR IN RIVER; NO
BODIES IN RIVER

The mystery concerning the car that plunged into Grand river at the foot of Clinton street Dec. 27, belonging to T. McMahon, was cleared up today when a young man, Holcomb, by name, confessed he had taken the car from the garage and abandoned it on the brow of the hill on Clinton street leading to Harbor avenue and the river. He was arrested yesterday morning by the state police and made a written statement to them as to his part in the mystery. He was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Easterly and bound over to circuit court.

Holcomb said he had been drinking with a party from this city and had frequented several local places and also some in the country where they got liquor. He said he had had about three quarts of moonshine whiskey, when he was made to go after more liquor by the remainder of the party. He had no car and started out on foot. As he went past the McMahon house he saw the garage and tried it. He found it open, he said, and the car unlocked. He rode around in it for some time and then left the car at Clinton street when it was going about 15 miles an hour, he said. He said the car was in gear. He saw it strike the curb in front of William Noant's house and supposed it would strike some other object. He stated he never expected it could possibly reach the river without crushing into something on the way down.

The sharp decline in Clinton street to Harbor avenue and the even steeper decline from Harbor avenue to the river probably gave the impetus to the car which sent it out into the river so far.

He stated that when he abandoned the car he went directly home. In his statement he said, "I drove to Clinton street to the top of the hill near Harbor avenue. There I don't know what the heck got into me, but I jumped out of the car, gave the wheel a twist and left it in high. I let it go down the hill. I cut the wheel over so that it would run into the curb."

The course of the car down through the cross street, around the warning sign and between the piles at the wharf is one of those things that just happen, it is believed. Due to the time of night there was little or no traffic but an accident might have resulted as the car crossed the street, said the officers in speaking of the occurrence.

Mrs. Henriette Morgenstern and family visited Mrs. L. P. Brink and family Friday night.

Meet Coal And Grocery Men On Welfare

MR. DREGMAN MAKES AR-RANGEMENTS WITH BOTH
UNITS ON ALTOGETHER
BASIS

Mr. C. J. Dregman, business college man and able accountant, who is putting in a thorough system as this relates to welfare work in Holland with the welfare committee, held a meeting with the coal dealers of this city, and these men have pledged to sell coal to the city welfare at only a small margin of profit to themselves, and in this they have shown a loyal spirit and have cut profits to the bone and because of their attitude toward welfare materially benefit during these stressful periods.

Mr. Dregman also called in all the grocery merchants and discussed plans with them at headquarters at the city hall. Many plans were suggested and at last a basis of sale cost plus a profit was agreed upon as satisfactory to all the merchants present, and there were at least sixty of them.

We understand that the milk men, doctors, drug men and others are also co-operating; however food and fuel constitute the two major items in welfare and these have been settled satisfactorily unless changed conditions make a different arrangement necessary.

In the nine months of welfare aid totals $62,648.50. The food item of $34,209.97 did not include $2,801.75 for milk. Among the larger divisions of expenses were $5,869.47 for rent; $7,215.47 for fuel, $5,137.49 for hospital and medical care, and $2,674.81 for light and water. Each of the items will be taken up as the new system gets under way.

Under the new arrangement of food special healthful menus for every-day rations will be applied. A food "layout" that will not only give full nourishment for the family but will save doctor bills as well—for the city must not only sustain those on the welfare list with the proper elements of food but must keep them healthy to save expense to the city and well-being to the welfare.

Another feature incident to welfare was the naming of investigators in six wards of the city. These will canvass their respective wards to see what a real needs of the indigent of their wards are. If there are any doubtful cases reported these will be turned over to Miss Elsie Gumsier, qualified through a college education and experience in social service work to take up this task. She has been appointed as a "visitor," and will investigate these doubtful cases. In addition she will make regular calls upon those obtaining aid from the city to determine their actual needs from week to week, reports of which will be placed in files in which each family will be listed.

Mayor Bosch, who is really at the head of all welfare work, wants it understood that this system is not inaugurated to take from the needy but to give to the needy everything they need without waste. Mr. Bosch states that the needy must not suffer. They must be given first consideration but not at unnecessary and wasteful expense of the regular taxpayers, who foot the bill. That is why the welfare committee is endeavoring to install a system that eliminates waste and overlapping. A system of economy will help rather than hurt the needy person in the end, he states.

Mr. Dregman states that this system is not perfect yet and undoubtedly changes will have to be made here and there, but if folks are only patient an equitable and just distribution to all who need will surely follow.

HUGH LILLIE GETS LANSING APPOINTMENT

Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, announced the appointment of Hugh E. Lillie of Grand Haven, former assistant attorney general, as chief enforcement officer of the malt, gasoline and motor vehicle tax division. The appointment was made because of Mr. Lillie's familiarity with the work with which he had been engaged in his former post. His work will involve following up cases to the point of prosecution with closer investigation of minor law violations than has been heretofore possible.

HENRY PRINS IN CHARGE OF LICENSES AT HOLLAND

Henry Prins, alderman from the first ward of this city, has been appointed manager of the Holland branch office of the state automobile license bureau by Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state. Mr. Prins succeeds Alfred C. Joldersma, who served as manager here the last two years. As a result of the appointment, the branch office was moved yesterday from the Holland City State bank to Mr. Prins' grocery store on East Eighth street. The bureau will be open from 8 p. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

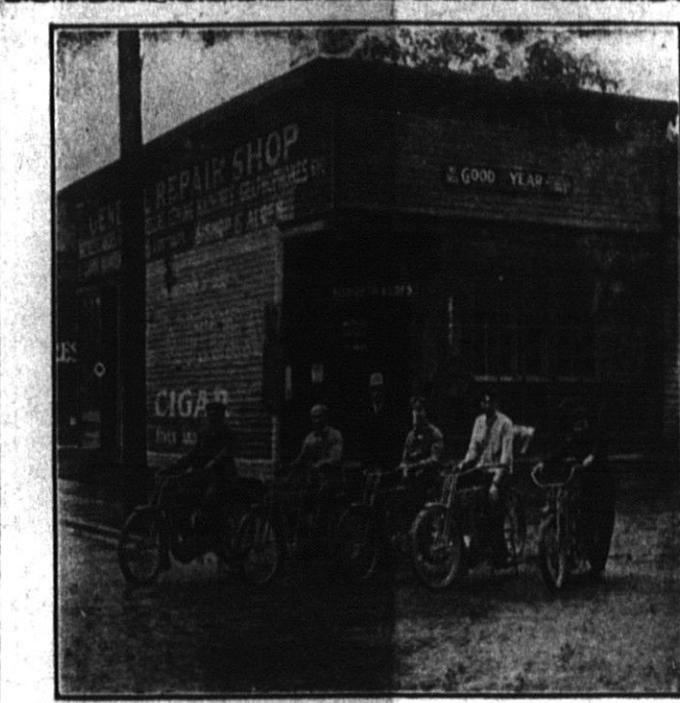

VAN HARTSEVELDT CASE AIRED AGAIN

Attorney Clarence Lokker was in Grand Haven yesterday making argument before Judge Fred T. Miles relative to a retrial of the alienation suit of Philip Van Hartseveldt against Dr. William Westrate.

Judge Fred T. Miles took the arguments under advisement. This would be the third trial in case a new trial is granted. In the second the verdict was reduced from $15,000 to $8,000 against the doctor.

The French Pastry Shoppe, which was located at Washington Square for seven years, has moved to its new quarters at 59 East Eighth street.

An Old Timer

Holland's first motorcycle club are they? Surely, according to that cop's helmet the picture must be at least a score of years old.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The boiler at the Star Mills at Fillmore Center exploded last Tuesday killing C. Teleman, the 18-year-old son of the senior proprietor. Others who were nearby were also badly scalded by hot water and steam. A. De Pree, a farmer from Laketown who was eating his lunch at the noon hour, was badly burned. C. Barkel, saw mill man, received a fractured leg and C. B. Zwemer of Overisel and Martin Looyengood were also severely scalded. The long boiler was thrown about 600 feet from the mill, the end being blown out. Defective safety valve is given as the cause. Note: Boilers blowing out in the early days was rather common, largely because in the saw mill day a green hand and not an experienced engineer was in charge. Some 40 years ago a boiler blew up in the Zeeland mill on the main street and not only was a large part of the mill destroyed but two stores across the street had their fronts demolished and a boiler had to be hauled out of one of them where it rested after its flight across the street. If our memory is right one man was killed in that explosion and his body was found hanging over a pump handle, where it was blown by the explosion.

Rev. N. M. Steffens will be installed as the first pastor of the new First Reformed church congregation. The installation will take place at the "Old Hope College Chapel." Those in charge will be Rev. Dirk Broek of Third Reformed church, Rev. G. J. Nykerk of Nykerk church and Rev. B. Van Es. Dr. and Mrs. Steffens and family will live in the Dr. R. A. Schouten home on East Ninth St. This branch of the church has not had a pastor since Rev. Roelf Pieters died three years ago.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The inventory of the estate of the late I. P. Griswold of Allegan is filed in probate court and totals $238,970. Note: It is the widow who had taken the car from the garage and abandoned it on the brow of the hill on Clinton street leading to Harbor avenue and the river. He was arrested yesterday morning by the state police and made a written statement to them as to his part in the mystery. He was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Easterly and bound over to circuit court.

Martin Palmboos of Forest Grove was killed as the result of sparrow shooting with an old muzzle loader gun.

The members of Hope church congregation presented Rev. and Mrs. John M. Vander Meulen with a handsome chest of solid silver on Christmas; showing their esteem for the pastor of the church and his estimable wife.

OTTAWA SUPERVISORS MEET MONDAY

The Ottawa county board of supervisors will convene on Monday, Jan. 9, at 10 a. m. for the short session of the year. The usual length of the session is three days. Before the state auditing system was in force it used to be necessary for the board to audit the treasurer's accounts. Since the monthly audit was put in force this is no longer necessary.

It is anticipated that one of the questions to come before the board will be the matter of reinstating the agricultural and home demonstration offices. There has been agitation for both sides since the board took action last October and abolished both offices as an economy measure.

The vote at that time was largely in favor of abolishing the offices. One of the supervisors said today that the matter is controversial and there are many for and against the question.

Zeeland Literary club has been invited by Holland Literary club to attend a joint meeting with the Holland club Jan. 10 at the Holland club rooms. Prof. Joseph R. Hayden of the University of Michigan, extension professor in the department of political science, will present a lecture on American interests in the Orient.

A reunion of the last four classes of Holland High school was featured at Maccabee hall, acquired for that evening. About 60 alumni were present and not only enjoyed a fine social hour and refreshments but an excellent program as well. The numbers given were violin solo, Mable Oakes, 06; vocal solo, Helene Keppel, 06; "stunt," Ben Van Eyck, 07; reading, Ethelwyn Metz, 05; piano solo, Hazel Wing, 05; budget, Henry Rottschaefer, 06. Toasts were given by Ray Handen, Ernest Kramer, George Kost, George C. Van Duren and James Deto. Tom N. Robinson was official announcer.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vander Pool, East 16th St., a son, Rev. Henry J. Veldman, pastor of First Reformed church, was the recipient of a generous New Year's token in the form of a purse of $100. The congregation also gave him a raise in salary from $1,000 to $1,200 annually. The church debt has been cancelled and the church pledged $900 annually toward the support of Miss Minnie Witterdink, missionary in Arabia.

Lokker Rutgers Co. is again putting on one of those popular "Green Ticket" sales. Those were the days.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Mayor Isaac Van Dyke of Zeeland made public a request received from Richard M. Hurd, American Defense Society, urging citizens to organize local vigilance corps to stop German propaganda and prevent further enemy activity. The mayor called in citizens to a committee of three to work this matter out. All residents in the city will be classified as follows: 1, loyal; 2, disloyal; 3, doubtful; 4, unknown. A second classification are: 1, alien enemy; 2, pro-German; 3, anti-government. Note: Again we must remind you that the "big war" was on. A similar organization was formed in Holland and elsewhere. It was a national movement.

The News is filled with interesting letters from the front. This week messages are published from Elmer P. Burgh, Private E. Vandenberg, Corporal Bernie Mulder, Harry Soulen, son of Prof. and Mrs. Philip Soulen; Dan Kruidenier, Orrie Brusse and others.

News publicity on Red Cross: "Supposing John Vandewoort, 'Marsh' Irving, Willard G. Leenhouts, 'Jack' Riemersma, Norman Cobb, Ben Rutgers, Carrol Van Ark, Elmer Poppe or anyone of 200 other boys from Holland returned home wounded, how could you greet them without a Red Cross button? Note: The need is just as great today, 15 years later, only in a different way. Do not forget the Red Cross, whatever you do. They are the angels of benevolence and mercy.

ROOSEVELT LANDSLIDE WASN'T PARTY VICTORY. IS WARNING OF MADDOO

William G. McAdoo of California declared today the Roosevelt landslide in November was not "a party victory" and voiced his opinion that the Democratic party is on trial.

Speaking before Californians delegated to vote today as members of the electoral college for Franklin D. Roosevelt for president, the former treasury secretary and Democratic United States senator-elect interpreted the general election result as a "great progressive revolt."

He predicted destruction of the Democratic party unless it relieves conditions which he attributed to a "diseased economic system" and "stupid, stand-pat, reactionary leadership of the Republican party."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tanis and children of Muskegon and Mr. and Mrs. Al Barveld and baby of Holland spent Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Weaver on East Main street—Zeeland Record.

Don't Believe Fires Were Set Causing Losses

LOCAL FIRE INSURANCE COM-
PANY HAS SEVERAL FIRE
LOSSES DURING YEAR

The Zeeland Record of this week gives a very enlightening review of the Ottawa and Allegan Mutual Insurance company. During the past year many barns were burned and several incidents connected with these fires had the earmarks of being of an incendiary nature. From the report, which shows an excessive fire toll, it is indicated that the officials of the company do not hold the incendiary view. Anyways, the report as given in the "Record" follows: "The Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Ottawa and Allegan counties has just closed another year with a very respectable balance in the treasury in spite of excessive losses that are greater by 46 per cent than during the last preceding calendar year.

"This company is one of the strongest mutual fire insurance companies in the state, while its assessment rates have always been several points lower than most other companies. Five years ago it was unnecessary to levy any assessment at all, the surplus funds on hand being great enough to offset the estimated losses.

"The losses during the year just closed were rather excessive and the most unfortunate circumstances is its coincidence with the lowest dip in the depression. The officers feel certain, however, that the increase is merely circumstantial, and thorough investigation while 637 new memberships were entered. These 4,670 members carry $20,070,670.00 insurance on their real and personal farm property, an average of $4,297.00 per member, a decrease of $225 from that of one year ago.

"The greatest loss experienced during the year was that of H. Stroven's barn and contents at $5,337.28. Other large losses were William Keefe, $2,878.80; H. J. Sterenburg, $2,036.80; G. J. Alofs, $2,260.80; Ben Velhouse, $3,524; N. Sebricht, $2,311.40; J. Cotts, $3,601.07; R. Boonstra, $2,263.95; E. Elzinga, $2,897.70; R. Burgess, $2,717.35; C. Podrigel, $3,119.04. The total loss for the year exceeded the total receipts from fees, premiums, penalties and assessments by $10,666.85. The respective sums being: Losses, $67,860.55; receipts, $57,193.70. The gross receipts, including balance on hand of the previous year, were $114,902.62, and the gross disbursements were $77,947.45, leaving a net balance on hand at the beginning of the present calendar year of $36,955.17.

"Gerrit J. Veltman of Holland is president of the company, Henry Weber of Door, vice president, and Gerrit Yntema of Forest Grove, secretary-treasurer. The other directors are L. J. Mulder, Cooper, C. J. Podrigel, East Holland; W. Kooienga, Byron Center; G. F. Brower, North Holland; Fred Berens, Blenden; Al Scholten, Holland; H. F. Knoper, Alendale; Al Scholtenboer, Holland, and Gerrit J. Brower, Hamilton."

George F. Getz, Chicago sportsman, who aided Tex Rickard in the promotion of the second Tunney-Dempsey fight, will arrive in New York tomorrow to discuss the possibility of bringing the Max Schmeling-Max Baer match to Chicago next summer, Jack Dempsey said today.

Mr. Getz is chairman of the Chicago committee arranging the sports program for the world's fair. While no definite offer has been made Dempsey said he would discuss the situation with Getz, although one of the most serious obstacles as far as boxing in Chicago is concerned is the Illinois law setting 10 rounds as a maximum for non-championship matches.

Schmeling, who with Baer signed articles recently for a match under Dempsey's promotion in June, insists that the bout be for 15 rounds. Dempsey said he already had received offers to take the bout to Cleveland, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Agua Caliente and Philadelphia. He will leave here within a month on a "shopping" tour of the proposed sites.

MANAGEMENT CHANGES AT WARM FRIEND TAVERN

A policy of economy resulted in the release of George Dauchy as manager of the Warm Friend Tavern, Arthur W. Wrieden, chairman of the board of directors, announced yesterday. John Hafner, who has been chief clerk of the hotel since its opening, will succeed Mr. Dauchy. Mr. Dauchy, who came to Holland in 1930 from the Medina Athletic club in Chicago, will retire to Chicago. He has been a fine friend to Holland in all its civic projects, never failing to do his full share of the work and he was called upon often. He took a special interest in the "Tulip Time Festival" Mrs. Dauchy had also become quite active in social affairs.

FORMER PRESIDENT DIES OF HEART FAILURE

As The News goes to press the report has arrived stating that former President Calvin Coolidge died suddenly of a heart attack. His body was discovered by Mrs. Coolidge when she returned from a shopping tour. Mr. Coolidge was believed to have been dead about 15 minutes when found.

Mr. Coolidge went to his office Thursday morning, but returned home accompanied by his secretary about 10 o'clock.

Mr. Coolidge had complained of indigestion in the last two or three weeks, but had not consulted a physician in the last month.

ZEELAND SCHOOL TAX CUT IN HALF

The board of education announced that the tax rate has been lowered from $20 per $1,000 in 1925 to $10.93 in 1932. The high rate in 1925 was due to the erection of the high school building.

The budget for the present year is $63,421. Of this amount $29,700 is raised by direct taxes in the local school district. The average cost per pupil for the present year is $72.65. Sixteen per cent of the budget is for bonded debt service. The valuation of the district is $2,990,528.

Weather Of Last Month Of Year Strange Mix-up

WEATHER MAN P L A Y E D
MONTH OF DECEMBER

December was marked by queer quirk of the weather man, according to the Ottawa county weather bureau, when temperatures ranged from 1 below zero to 56 above on the twenty-fourth, the last equaling the record for that month made in 1893. The low temperature was the first time since February, 1929, that a sub-zero temperature has been recorded here. Christmas Day, December 25, the temperature reached 44, the warmest for that date since 1895. The greatest daily range in temperature was 23 on the first and seventeenth. The least was 3 on the fifteenth. The average temperature for the month was 28.8 degrees or slightly below the normal of 29.3 degrees. There was a severe cold period from the seventh to the eighteenth but temperatures were above normal on all other days except the thirty-first.

Precipitation totaled 2.83 inches compared to the normal of 2.49 inches. Measurable amounts of precipitation occurred on nineteen days of the month. The greatest precipitation in 24 hours was 0.93 inches on the twenty-fourth. The rain on the twenty-fourth was much like a summer rain, with a rapid rate of fall at times. Snowfall totaled 11.4 inches compared to the normal of 13.1 inches. The greatest snowfall in 24 hours was 3.5 inches on the fifteenth, and the greatest depth on the ground was 6.2 inches on the eighteenth. Thunder was heard on the sixth.

Wind movement was somewhat above normal. The total movement was 10,152 miles, or an average of 13.6 miles an hour. The maximum velocity was 32 miles per hour from the southwest on the twenty-fourth and the twenty-fifth.

Sunshine averaged 22 per cent of the possible amount or about normal. Cloudiness was slightly above normal. There were two clear, two partly cloudy and 27 cloudy days in the month. Stratus clouds were prevalent. Light fogs were recorded on four days.

OTTAWA COUNTY JURY VER- DICT AFFIRMED

Verdict of an Ottawa county circuit court jury before Judge Fred T. Miles, in Grand Haven, awarding Miss Gertrude Gieglio of Grand Rapids $3,000 judgment against John Huizenga, in a suit growing out of an auto accident near Cooperville about two years ago, was affirmed. The plaintiff was represented by the Grand Rapids legal firm of Linsey, Shivel & Phelps. Two other suits are pending in the same accident.

Although State Senator George Leland of Fennville, now at Lansing, was left off the highway committee, of which he was chairman the past two sessions, he did win several other committee appointments in the state senate, announced yesterday. He was placed on the agricultural, election, finance and corporations committees. Senator Gordon F. Van Eenennaam of Muskegon was placed on the college of mines, conservation, judiciary, military affairs, public health, state hospitals, transportation and university committees.

Still, it would be strange if congressmen thought up no crazy schemes to save us. Everybody else has.

Man Drowns Attempting To Save Friend

ICE CRASHED; RESCUER UN-ABLE TO SWIM, SANK IN WATER OF BAY

The heroism of Henry Bolthouse, Spring Lake, when he attempted to rescue a nephew, Clarence DeWitt of Muskegon Heights, from drowning while skating on Smith's bayou Monday afternoon cost his life as he sank into the icy waters of the bayou. The thin ice broke away as he struggled to get a hold.

Mr. Bolthouse was in company with Clarence and Marvin DeWitt, nephews of Muskegon. He was skating with his wife and Marvin DeWitt was with a young lady when Clarence struck a thin spot and crashed through. Mr. Bolthouse and Marvin DeWitt lay out to the lad who was out from shore about 20 feet. Marvin succeeded in catching hold of the skates of his brother and was dragged toward the shore. Mr. Bolthouse crashed through. As he could not swim he struggled and sank. The coast guards brought up body in about three-quarters of an hour. The sheriff's officers and state police also assisted.

The party had gone to the bayou at about 4:00 p. m. The ice was reported to be about six inches thick and it was believed to have been perfectly safe. The family said today that the ice was safe but there was one thin spot. Skaters had been going over it all day. Bolthouse was born in Ferrysburg 34 years ago. He lived there until about five years ago when he was married to Miss Anna Krusenga, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krusenga of West Spring Lake. The couple had no children.

He had a charming home in Spring Lake. Mr. Bolthouse was a carpenter and was well known among business men in the community. He was a member of the Reformed church at Spring Lake. Coroner VanZantwick was called to the death scene and announced no inquest was necessary.

SPRING LAKE TRAGEDY RECALLS DROWNING OF VICTIM'S UNCLE IN '95

The drowning tragedy on Monday, Jan. 2, which took the life of Henry Bolthouse, recalls to memory the tragic death of the young man's uncle, Henry Bolthouse, which occurred Christmas night in 1895.

Henry Bolthouse, in company with another young man, Porter Thayer, left Spring Lake in a rowboat on Christmas night presumably to go up the lake to attend a party. They were never seen again and for days the anxious relatives and friends scanned the shores of the lake in hope that some trace of the bodies could be found. Later Thayer's hat was found on the lake and it became certain they had both been drowned.

It was not until April 6, 1896, that Thayer's body was found by Tom Trotter of Spring Lake near the docks of J. J. West. On April 13, the body of Bolthouse was found near the shore of the old Water's place by Henry Vanderkolk of Ferrysburg.

It was believed at the time that the young men attempted to change seats in the boat and capsized, and that icy water made it impossible to survive.

Cheaper Than Charity

This is addressed to the millions of Americans who have jobs and incomes and money to spend. Perhaps they haven't as much income as they did a few years ago—but the chances are that drops in the cost of living have compensated for their salary cuts and lowered dividends.

These millions owe an obligation to those other millions who are unemployed, and are facing a winter of distress and poverty. That obligation can be partially—but only partially—met by contributions to charity. Of greater moment is the obligation to give their less fortunate fellows jobs.

All over the country there are homes in need of repair. In Holland alone one man who knows ventures to say that there were $50,000 in house painting necessary right now. Surely our homes do not look as fresh and new as even three years ago—just glance them over.

People everywhere have been holding back and refusing to spend—waiting for better times. And yet it's as obvious as the multiplication table that better times will never come until money again flows through the business arteries, and into channels of trade. Today we can do some needed re-roofing, repair the bathroom, build a new room, repaint the home, fix the heating plant and a hundred other necessary improvements for a fraction of what they cost in the past—and a fraction of what they will cost in the future when better times actually do appear. By doing those things now, we are putting money into our own pockets—as well as into pockets that are empty.

Increased purchasing power is the vital need of the hour. More payrolls—more employed workers—more busy industries. Look around your property, see what improvements you need—and act, it's cheaper and better than charity.

Tomatoes

Diet, which is one of the favorite obsessions in these days of discontent, has given us many a laugh at the expense of the calorie hounds, but one cannot help feeling a wee bit sorry for the lad who wrote to the Times medical department the other day. He said: "My murrer says I am a bit blood. She is on a diet for some thing I can't spell. She says diet will cure anything. What diet will I use so as not to be a blue blood but have it nice and red like the rest of the boys?"—Los Angeles Times.

Not So Much Interest

I have observed in reading that it is frequently said of the hero that he "knows books," and is able to talk about them. This being admitted, it is at once concluded he is a man of education and character, and worthy of all confidence. The most interesting people I know do not talk much about books, or mention them; I have never been in a bookish atmosphere, except when occasionally in company with publishers or writers.—E. W. Howe, Monthly.

Volcano's Temperature

In the volcano of Kilauea the temperature at the surface of the lava is in the neighborhood of 1,000 degrees Centigrade. Basalt which is the molten rock in Kilauea and many other volcanoes, may melt at either higher or lower temperatures, depending on their composition. Thus the melting point of sandstone would be very high, probably in the neighborhood of 1,600 to 1,700 degrees Centigrade, depending on their purity.

GRAND HAVEN MALPRACTICE VERDICT IS SET ASIDE

The supreme court set aside a $4,000 judgment against Dr. Cornelius Addison of Grand Haven, awarded Frank Vayda, a laborer. The appeal was brought on a charge of malpractice. Vayda was treated for a broken arm in 1930 by Dr. Addison when he was hit by an appliance on a dredge.

The annual report from the register of deeds office in the county building shows a total of 3,149 transactions were made in the office during 1932. Of this number the largest was 1201 deeds. The balance of the work was divided up among the following transactions: 350 mortgages; 351 district mortgages; 252 probate cases; 291 assignments; 291 rights of way; 110 miscellaneous; 22 decrees; 127 chattels; 8 mechanics' liens; 5 attachments; 9 certified copies; 6 patents; 13 Lis pendens; 11 levies; 52 district oil and gas leases; 9 patents; 4 contracts; 12 oil and gas leases; 9 powers of attorney; 90 sheriff's deeds; 12 assignments of oil and gas leases; 29 partial releases and three redemption mortgages.

Noxious Fish Catchers

If persons interested in particular lakes wish to assist in removing noxious fish from these waters they should get in touch with the nearest conservation officer who will supervise them in spearing carp, dogfish and garpike, the Conservation Department advises.

Officers in the regular employ of the Department may organize and supervise noxious fish spearing parties at any time of the year. With an officer supervising, the three noxious species may be taken with a spear and an artificial light. Thousands of noxious fish are removed from Michigan waters in this manner every year.

COWBIRDS NEVER BUILD NESTS OF THEIR OWN

The cowbird, remarkable for its habit of laying its eggs in the nests of other birds, never builds a nest of its own nor takes any care whatever of its young. And rarely, ornithologists tell us, does it make the mistake of depositing its eggs in deserted nests where they are not likely to be incubated by other birds.

HAWKS ARE DEFENDED

All but a very few species of hawks and owls are being vigorously defended by investigators of feeding habits of birds. The only outlaws are the Cooper's and sharp-shinned hawks, the goshawk and the great horned owl.

SPARROW GETS ANOTHER RAP

P. S. Lovejoy's statement that English sparrows are not nearly as numerous in Michigan as they used to be is refuted by Prof. Frank Smith, of Hillsdale, who states that these birds are a great pest in that section. Mr. Lovejoy is director of game resources of Michigan and does not believe that the English sparrow has migrated in any large numbers from the city to rural districts but that they have naturally grown less in numbers during the past few years. Prof. Smith claims the sparrows are so numerous in Hillsdale that he has advocated trapping and destroying them. This is being done on a rather extensive scale so obnoxious that their control is essential.

Recalling Old Times and the Stereopticon

"What has become of the stereopticon lecturer?" asks an old Washingtonian the other day. "I remember when they used to be popular here in the city and crowds turned out to listen to them and to look at the slides. "When he wanted a slide changed he would push a buzzer, clearly audible to the audience. Sometimes the operator of the machine would either be asleep or talking and failed to hear it. "This necessitated a number of extra sharp buzzes on the button. We were patient with him, though even if occasionally he was describing the Leaning Tower of Pisa while a picture of the ruins of the Coliseum was being shown on the screen. "Then there was the era of illustrated songs, when a sour tenor sang mauldin songs about some girl who lived in a village by the sea. They were foolishly sentimental things, but we managed to get a kick out of it. Of course we didn't have the diversions in those days that occupy us now. Imagine our young generation attending a stereopticon performance!" We can't—Washington Star.

True Wife a Servant

A true wife in her husband's house is his servant; it is in his heart that she is queen. Whatever of best he can conceive, it is her part to be; whatever of highest he can hope, it is hers to promise all that is dark to him she must purge into purity; all that is falling in him she must strengthen into truth; from her, through all the world's clamor, he must win his praise; in her, through all the world's warfare, he must find his peace.—Ruskin.

Just Her Way

All in one evening, while dancing with me, she said: "The hall is so hot, I'm cooked." "I'm crazy about dancing." "I was petrified, when I saw him." "That light is so glaring it makes me blind." "Can't you shut the window? I'm frozen stiff." "You make me sick." "I nearly had a fit when he told me about that joke." "The last partner I had drove me insane." "I simply died laughing." "I was perfectly dumb." "I'm so tired, I'm just dead." Then when I looked at her she seemed as alive and healthy as ever.

Young Financier

Don't dismiss this as a made-up story, for it happens to be based upon an actual happening. A boy in a town not far away called at a store to say he had come to pay a bill owed by his father. "No hurry about it," said the merchant. "I will send him a statement." The boy insisted he was there to settle the account, so it was figured up and the money paid. "Now give me the two cents it would have cost you to mail the bill," suggested the lad, who would seem to have in him the making of a shrewd financier. He got the two cents and went away satisfied.—Brockton (Mass.) Enterprise.

State Secrets Hidden by Absorbent Roller

Every foreign office in Europe acts on the theory that an army of spies is constantly on the alert to steal its secrets, and infinite precautions are taken to baffle their efforts. Very shortly after the first use of blotting paper it was discovered that it was quite possible to cause a blotting pad to give up secrets by simply holding it in front of a mirror. Long after all the commercial world had forgotten the existence of such a thing, the British foreign office used a sand shaker to dry its important written documents, of which there are many despite the use of the type-writing machine. Then specially manufactured black blotting paper was used, but this was not found to be absolutely waterproof and a return to the sandshaker was contemplated when some one suggested the simple expedient of a small absorbent roller. These rollers have since been used for drying diplomatic documents. When such a roller has been run up and down across a document once or twice, the cleverest spy in the world is at liberty to try his hand at deciphering the impressions.

ODD BELIEFS ABOUT FIRST DAY OF YEAR

TO OPEN a bank account at New Year's was considered lucky in Old England, the custom growing probably from the belief of many centuries that whatever you do on the first day of the year will be an indication of what will happen during the months to follow. So deep seated was this superstition in the minds of men that even after the festival was declared a general holiday, many clung to the old-time belief, and to insure work for the coming year would set the pace by spending at least an hour or two in some useful pursuit.

The first day of the year has been more generally observed than any other holiday, and over a longer period, as well, its observance dating back to the Druids in England and to ancient Babylon when it was made an occasion for a celebration lasting from ten to twelve days. With every nation this holiday has been considered a time for the expression of good will and the renewing of old friendships. The effort to demonstrate the kindly spirit led to the custom of making gifts, often very expensive jewelry and large sums of money. But it was not necessary to remember one's friends in that lavish way for custom made it possible also to express good wishes in a fitting and very humble manner.

Almost every nation has welcomed the New Year with some form of ceremony, not, however, on the same date or in the same way. The Druids celebrate the New Year on the shortest day of the year, the time, in their belief, when the sun, which journeyed away from earth during the cold months, turned homeward bringing with it sunshine, light, warmth and good cheer. The superstitions that cluster around the day began away back in the time of these sun worshippers when the priests led the people to the forests of the gods for small sprigs of mistletoe which would bring them health and prosperity for the year. So important was the event the people marched in processions to the groves, led by the priests, selected for the sacred duty of cutting the mistletoe, being armed with sickles of gold. And just as primitive man made his plans for the beginning of a New Year the Mexican, Japanese, Chinese, Persian, Turk, in fact, every nation on the globe followed in the footsteps, each celebrating according to his own ideas and customs.

Omens of good and bad luck have always been associated with the New Year, all founded more or less upon the belief that supreme power was vested in an unseen deity, who could bring good luck if properly appeased or mete out punishments. The Romans named their New Year in honor of Janus, the two-faced god, who had the power to look back over the past, and also in a prophetic way could look into the future. He was represented with a key in his hand symbolizing his power to open doors, and gateways, and this holiday was one of great gaiety lasting several days. The festival was not observed in midwinter, but in the spring, when the Roman year began, and had only ten months. Later when two months were added to the calendar, January and February were placed at the beginning of the year, the New Year was celebrated on the first of January.

Among the old superstitions are many quaint customs that have been observed for centuries and have come down almost to this day and age. Among them are the following:

To bring good luck one must wear something new on the first day of the year, according to old English custom.

In some parts of England and Scotland it is supposed to be unlucky to leave a house until some outsider has first entered.

There is also an old superstition concerning the weather told in an old legend as follows:

"If New Year night wind bloweth south,
It betokeneth warmth and growth;
If west, much milk, and fish in the sea;
If north, much cold and storms there'll be;
If east, the trees will bear much fruit.
If northeast, flee it, man and brute."

England's Oldest House

Minster abbey, in the Isle of Thanet, is said to be the oldest house in England. It is in the market by order of the trustees of the late Lord Conyngham, the fifth marquess. It is said to be a fine example of an Eleventh century Norman manor house, renovated about 1413, the house being built on the site of Edburgh's monastery of Saints Peter and Paul, founded early in the Eighth century and destroyed in the Ninth by the Danes. The building is specifically described in Domesday book as Thanet manor, and is said to have been the only manor in the island in Saxon times.

The era of so-called "bargains" is waning and people are considering quality now where they were guided only by price for a while. This is especially true in the flour market. The demand for F-H flour, truly a quality product, is growing. F-H sells for a few cents more but its wonderful value gives you food worth while.

Cleveland and Pittsburgh
Cleveland, Ohio, is named for Moses Cleveland, the founder of the city, but the extra "n" has been eliminated. Pittsburgh honors the name of William Pitt. Its first name was Duquesne, given by the French, who had located a fort at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. After its capture by the English, in 1758, George Washington, then an officer of the British colonial troops, suggested that it be named Pittsburgh.

Rev. J. A. Roggen led the congregational meeting of the Reformed church of Dunningville on Tuesday afternoon.

Holiday festivities are again past. Saturday evening old year services were held at the First church with a large attendance. New Year services in both churches were held on Sunday. A large number of family gatherings were held Monday. The youngsters did not waste any time but they missed the snow and ice this year. Tuesday there was an early exodus of students and teachers to various places. The local schools resumed work Tuesday morning. Everybody has donned overalls, rolled up the sleeves and has taken up the work for the new year.

Angie Zweering of Holland was a guest of Gladys Lubbers during the week-end.

Prof. and Mrs. Arthur Kaechele and family of Allegan were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brink, Jr., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ten Brink, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ten Brink and children and Bud Ten Brink attended a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Schaap of Holland.

Basket ball is in full swing. The Junior High team of Holland lost a close game to the Junior High of Hamilton last Wednesday evening by a 30 to 31 score. The first team defeated the Trinity team, 33 to 32. On Friday the team secured another victory by a score of 34 to 19 in a fast game against the East Ends of Holland. The locals outplayed their opponents throughout the game, both on the defense and offense. This was without doubt the best played game staged by the local team. Although Ivan Roggen and Alvin Bourman led in the scoring every member of the team played in stellar form. Line-up was as follows:

The annual mother-and-daughter banquet of The Kings Daughters society of the First Reformed church was held last Thursday evening. The tables and room were decorated in green and red, giving a pretty effect with the shaded lights and candles. Covers were laid for twenty-five with Miss Nellie Zwemer as the guest of honor.

After the banquet Miss Josephine Kaper, president and toastmistress, was introduced by the patroness, Mrs. J. Roggen, who also welcomed the guests. Mrs. H. D. Strabbing responded by a toast to the daughters. Mildred Strabbing and Mar-

The cash taken was returned to the bank within five days after the event and the insurance company has recovered $26,000 in bonds taken, and these were returned to the bank this week. There are $5,000 in bonds still out, but these the insurance company will settle for in cash if not recovered shortly. "Every Time He Took One Thing Looked Different"

DRINK — DRANK — DRUNK — WITH GRAMMATICAL VARIATIONS

Says his wife says he:

I had twelve bottles of whiskey in my cellar and my wife made me empty the contents of each and every bottle down the sink, so I proceeded to do as my wife desired and withdrew the cork from the first bottle, poured the contents down the sink with the exception of one glass which I drank.

I then withdrew the cork from the second bottle and did likewise, with the exception of one glass which I drank.

I extracted the cork from the third bottle, emptied the good old booze down the bottle except a glass which I devoured.

I pulled the cork from the fourth sink and pored the bottle down the glass when I drank some.

I pulled the bottle out of the cork of the next and drank one sink out of it and then threw the rest down the drain.

I pulled the sink out of the next cork and poured the bottle down my neck.

I pulled the next bottle out of my throat and poured the cork down the sink, all but the sink, which I drank.

I pulled the next cork from my throat and poured the sink down the bottle and drank the cork. Well, I had them all emptied and I staided the house with one hand and counted the bottles which were twenty-four, so counted them when they came around again and I had seventy-four, and as the houses came around I counted them and finally I had all the houses and bottles counted and I proceeded to wash the bottles, so I turned them inside out and washed and wiped them all, and went upstairs and told my other half all about what I did, and, Oh, boy! I've got the wifist little nice in the world.

GrandHavenMan Wants Milham To Go Back

SAYS OFFICE SAVES COUNTY THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

Lionel Heap of Grand Haven, in a lengthy communication, sets forth the reasons why County Farm Agent Milham and Miss Loot, home demonstrator, should be retained in office.

First, that Mr. Milham as farm agent, has saved thousands to the farmers because of the information he so freely gives to the "tillers of the soil."

Mr. Heap at some length makes comparisons between other political offices and the importance of a county farm agent. The balance, according to Mr. Heap, is in favor of a county farm agent such as Mr. Milham has proved to be.

The News has always admired the work of Mr. Milham. He has been painstaking, economical and surely obliging and in the vernacular of slang "he knows his stuff."

The News was rather surprised when this office was abolished, always feeling that Mr. Milham, because of his ability stood about as strong as any man in the county. Drastic economy, very necessary, no doubt, made supervisors feel that where there could be an abolition of offices temporarily or permanently, such steps should be taken. Undoubtedly the committee has gone into the matter thoroughly relative to the county farm agent and the home demonstrator, but it is really deplorable, because of the benefits received that these units are no longer a part of the county's avenue for good.

It is Mr. Heap's contention that Mr. Milham, as farm agent, has earned this county over one million dollars during the twelve years he has held office, an average of over $80,000 a year. The figures proving this are on record and are open for examination by any interested party. Mr. Heap states, Mr. Milham's work in tuberculosis eradication in cattle brought $400,000 from the United States government into the pockets of Ottawa farmers. His increasing of the alfalfa acreage from 317 acres to 3,500 acres means a yearly gain to Ottawa county of $40,000. The Zeeland chick industry acknowledges that, without Mr. Milham's help, that industry would never have reached its present important position. It is safe to assume that, in spite of the depression Mr. Milham will continue to earn this county $40,000 per year, is the contention of Mr. Heap.

Mr. Heap also points out that at the Farmers' Institute at Holland where 1,600 farmers gathered, it was resolved that the work of Mr. Milham was indorsed and a similar resolution was passed at a farm bureau meeting also recently held when a request was made to reinstate Mr. Milham as Ottawa county's agricultural agent.

Mr. Heap also makes a plea for Miss Loot, home demonstration agent, where he states it is not so easy to appraise her work in dollars and cents, and for that reason it is possibly is more valuable.

Mr. Heap holds the health of little children of more value than money and keeping them healthy is economy in the long run.

Mr. Heap points out that the work of Miss Loot is illustrated in the fact that the Red Cross has picked her extension clubs as the units of distribution of cloth and garments throughout the rural districts of the county.

She is the woman who helps to make the homes attractive, which holds the family together, which is surely more than to have unattractive domestic conditions which has a tendency to dissipate the family. In fact, Mr. Heap's article points out the wholesome influence of Miss Loot on families, especially rural, who do not have the advantages, sensible guidance, domestic science attributes that others have.

Mr. Heap goes at some length on some matters relative to county officers, township officers and other units of government, which has largely been taken up by a board of commissioners appointed some time ago, who recently reported at Lansing, when these matters together with the revision of our tax system were fully gone into and published and will be matters for the present session of the legislature to take up.

Shows Returns From Ottawa County Herds

MONTHLY TEST SHOWS BIG DECREASE IN FEED AND DAIRY PRODUCT; VALUE ALSO LOWER

Cow testing association work in Ottawa county has been a big factor in helping its members make both ends meet under present conditions, says Agricultural Agent Milham. Due to regular monthly testing, assistance in planning feeding rations, feeding according to production, locating and removing unprofitable cows, use of better sires and other things, members have proven the value of association work.

In a comparison of figures compiled by R. G. Wyant, tester, for the last four years, he presents the following figures:

Returns for each dollar's worth of feed given cows: 1929, $2.73; 1930, $2.57; 1931, $3.12; and 1932, $2.34.

Feed cost per pound butterfat produced: 1929, 25c; 1930, 29c; 1931, 23c; and 1932, 16c.

Feed cost per hundred pounds of milk: 1929, $1.27; 1930, $1.32; 1931, 94c; and 1932, 65c.

Reduction in feed costs was due to lower feed costs, culling cows raising better heifers and feeding scientifically. A good cow can make a profit for her owner in these low priced times but a poor cow does not pay even in good times.

From the annual report of Ottawa County Dairy Herd Improvement work, 1932, R. G. Wyant, tester, gave these figures:

Average production per cow among 236 cows was, milk, 4330; butterfat, 349. Feed cost butterfat per lb., 16.6c; milk, 65c per 100 lbs.

High herd in milk, W. S. Boynton & Son, averaged 12,070 lbs.

High herd in butterfat, Wm. Gross, averaged 409.5 lbs.

High cow in butterfat, Nora of Greenvale Farm, produced 753.3 lbs.

The average of two lowest herds were 6965 lbs. milk and 262.6 lbs. butterfat. Average of five lowest cows was 4511 lbs. milk and 167.5 lbs. fat.

Herds averaging over 300 lbs. fat were: Wm. Gross, 409.5; W. S. Boynton & Son, 401.1; Tony Zahm, 396.5; Henry Lubben, 382.3; County Infirmary, 381.7; Greenvale Farm, 368.6; Wm. Schwallier, 348.4; Ira Purchase, 344; Robert Rasch, 331.7; Schoenborn Bros., 327.6; J. Kishman, 316.5.

Owners and number of cows in record of performance: Greenvale Farm, 42; Wm. Gross, Tony Zahm, County Infirmary, each 7. W. S. Boynton & Son, Henry Lubben, each 5. J. Kishman & Son, 3. Ira purchase, Robert Rasch, Schoenborn Bros., each 2; and Wm. Sietsema, 1.

COMARISON OF PAST FOUR YEARS

1929 2.73 .29 1.27

DAIRY NOTES

Will Sietsema, Henry Lubben, Ira Purchase and County Infirmary culled out 10% or more of their cows.

Henry Lubben, Schoenborn Bros. and Greenvale Farms have safety bull pens.

Tony Zahm and Greenvale Farms have proven sires whose daughters produce more than their dams.

Henry Lubben, County Infirmary and Greenvale Farms have sires they will keep until they are proven.

Wm. Gross herd won the cup on high herd in butterfat. His herd of pure bred Jerseys has averaged 420 lbs. butterfat for past three years.

Greenvale Farm won cup permanently for high cow in butterfat. Testing regularly and culling plus careful feeding reduce cost of milk and butterfat and increases profit.

Henry Lubben's herd averaged 382.3 lbs. more milk and 64.9 lbs. fat and W. S. Boynton & Son's herd averaged 401.1 lbs. more milk and 35.2 lbs. more butterfat per cow this year than last.

All but two of the Ottawa county tested cows are high bred. Showing that high grade stock is by far the most profitable.

HOPE FRATERNAL SOCIETY

PLANNING ITS CENTENNIAL

The Fraternal society, Hope college's oldest literary fraternity, is sponsoring plans for the celebration of its centennial anniversary in 1934. The society was founded in Union College in 1834 and was the first of Hope's fraternities to establish its own home in close proximity to the campus with the purchase of the Wheeler homestead a few years ago. Irving H. Decker of Newburgh, N.Y., is president for the winter term.

CHIMNEY SWIFTS SWEEP AROUND PET CHIMNEYS

Sometimes in the early spring, but more commonly in late summer, large flocks of chimney swifts have been observed to sweep in great circles about a favorite chimney, then form a conical cloud resembling a cyclone funnel and drop rapidly from the apex into the chimney to roost for the night. Chimneys of abandoned factories or public buildings constitute favorite resorts of this kind.

"Depots" Built to House the Idle

With the help of seven or eight homes in the main population centers of the state, the Industrial Commission of Madison, Wis. hopes it will be able this winter to care for unemployed labor, transient because of the depression.

Four of the homes already have been established and an equal number will follow. Technically known as "depots," they are in fact hotels where the unemployed can be housed and fed.

Grand Rapids is using an old hotel on Monroe Ave. for that purpose.

Mrs. D. R. Druker of Grand Rapids, well known in Holland as visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Frank De Jonge of Prairie View, Kansas.

INSURANCE CO. SETTLES FOR CAR LOST IN RIVER

A satisfactory settlement was made by the insurance company for the car belonging to T. McMahon, which was found on Tuesday morning in Grand river at the foot of the Clinton street bridge. The car was judged a total wreck and was sold for junk. The owner carried fire and theft insurance. The insurance company was satisfied that it had been stolen regardless of the fact that the body of the person, who evidently drove it into the river, has not been found, or the person, if he is alive has been identified.

County Treasurer John Den Herder and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Witvliet on River Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Geerlings and daughter Mary Johanna from New York, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geerlings over the holidays motored back home.

Many See The Poultry and Rabbit Show

RESUMPTION OF THIS EXHIBITION FEATURE IS A FINE THING

After discontinuing the regular annual poultry show for the last three years this fine educational feature was resumed by the Holland Poultry association, although on a more modest scale. The exhibition was well patronized and Monday night saw the close after a successful showing over the weekend, except Sunday, continuing until late Monday. There was no admission charge the poultry fanners, getting behind the project more as a labor of love.

The exhibition was held in the old West Michigan Laundry building on West Eighth street and there were at least 375 entries of poultry and rabbits together on exhibit. At least fifteen silver cups were won by contestants as follows:

Vanden Berg Bros. Oil Co. cup was won by John Ter Vree, Holland; cup for best display of any one variety, standard class. Three other cups were won by Mr. Ter Vree.

Odd—but TRUE

Might Work On More Ships For Holland Harbor

SOUTH HAVEN TO GET DEEPER PORTS BECAUSE OF ITS TONNAGE

A dispatch from Washington shows that our neighbor, South Haven, is alive to its shipping interests for it is proposed to deepen the harbor there and the matter will be sponsored in the present session of Congress by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and Rep. John C. Ketcham.

Rep. Ketcham said that any improvements that could be made in the harbor will be of tremendous aid to shipping bringing cargo, principally wood pulp and china clay from foreign countries, into the harbor.

The Michigan congressman has an exhibit showing that 57 ships in the last year brought in wood pulp and china clay from England, Finland, Germany, Sweden, Norway and Canada. The products are used extensively in the paper manufacturing industry in many Michigan cities.

Rep. Ketcham said that the harbor now has a project depth of 18 feet, which figure he proposes to establish as the minimum depth for the port. He said a resolution probably would be introduced proposing a new survey of the harbor.

Only a few years ago South Haven was not considered a port of great significance, in fact there wasn't even a Chicago boat line for a number of years after the Eastland left. However, with the growing resort business which is becoming tremendous there, and the effort put forth to induce ocean-going boats to unload there, this port has piled up a sizable annual tonnage; in fact the barges have been coming into that port in such numbers, Washington has taken notice.

Grand Haven has also been receiving its share in gravel, coke, wood pulp and iron ore barges, which, together with the regular car ferry and passenger steamship entries, have made the sum total of the tonnage run into large figures.

It seems that Holland, with its excellent harbor, should become a little more harbor minded. We have resort possibilities here second to none—a dozen miles of bathing beach as fine as nature could ever make it. An inland lake that is becoming more attractive every year to yacht owners and adequate facilities for docking have been started to make their coming to Holland as welcome and as attractive as possible.

Now the securing of large barges to unload in this port is also a matter for earnest consideration. It is true that during the last year—partly through the good offices of Capt. Austin Harrington—several coal, coke and wood pulp freighters have made this port so that is rather encouraging. But more ships, it seems, can be secured and efforts should be made to gradually develop our lake ship volume along these lines.

Holland harbor has not been deserted entirely. We still have had our Holland-Chicago boat line, thanks to the earnest efforts of our friend, George F. Getz, and the late Senator Smith, and it is hoped that by next spring there may be an adjustment there that will enable the present boat line to continue. Holland also retains the beautiful steamers North and South America, the company having established fine permanent properties at Montello Park.

It is encouraging to note the development of the summer yachting business here, largely because nature has provided such wonderful anchorage in this inner harbor and also because of our close proximity to Chicago and Milwaukee. Last summer as high as forty cruisers and small yachts were anchored in Black Lake at one time. It is evident that a lot of good can be said about our harbor and our resorts, in fact, we have the nucleus here for wonderful development along both resort and shipping lines and who knows but that when the "sun of better days" shines more brightly again a permanent car ferry may loom up out of the mist.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Sugar and molasses are the cheapest sweets and are excellent sources of energy. Molasses also supplies iron and other minerals. Honey and maple syrup are also valuable sweets if they can be produced at home.

Just enough water in the pan to cover the bottom of it, will allow squash to be baked without drying out. The small amount of water helps to steam the squash, so that it is soft throughout.

There need be no worry concerning food cooked in aluminum utensils. The most carefully controlled studies have shown that but an insignificant amount is dissolved during cooking and that this amount is not absorbed by the body.

COUZENS WANTS ARMY CAMPS FOR JOBLESS A bill to domicile 200,000 jobless youths in army camps over the country will be offered in a few days by Senator Couzens of Michigan, he stated today. "The army provided food and shelter for the nation's youth during the World war. The existing condition is worse than war," Couzens said.

Many farmers in this section have appealed to their supervisors to reinstate County Agent C. P. Milham and Home Demonstration Agent Esther Lott at the next regular meeting of the board. The appeal is being made because of the usefulness of the two officers and also because of new developments in the case being prepared for the board of supervisors.

The salaries paid by the county to the two officers is $500, the remainder being paid by the state and federal governments. The offices were discontinued at the close of 1932 as an economy measure.

VELDMAN DELIVERED FAREWELL SERMON TUES.

Rev. Jerry Veldman, pastor of Richmond Street Reformed church at Grand Rapids, who has accepted a call to Bethany Reformed church, Kalamazoo, delivered his farewell sermon Tuesday night before an audience that taxed the capacity of the church. The Beld Brothers quartet rendered special music.

Mr. Veldman is being installed in his new charge this Thursday night. Among those who are participating in the installation services are Rev. Abraham De Young, former pastor of Fifth Reformed church, now pastor of a church in Kalamazoo, and Rev. Henry Veldman, Muskegon, uncle of Rev. J. Veldman.

Other former residents of Grand Rapids who are colleagues of Pastor Veldman at Kalamazoo are Rev. James J. Burggraaf and Rev. Abraham Klerk. Bethany church, Kalamazoo, has a constituency of 178 families and a Sunday school of 600 members.

Mr. Veldman leaves the Richmond Street church, of which he was the first pastor, in a flourishing condition. He served the church as student-pastor one summer prior to his ordination and installation in May, 1928. The church then numbered 23 communicants, while now 152 communicants are enrolled. Mr. Veldman was formerly on the Holland City News staff and is a graduate from Hope college and the local seminary.

FAREWELL PARTY IS GIVEN SHERIFF

CORNELIS STEKETEE FAMILY RETURN TO HOLLAND; HAVE POTLUCK PARTY BEFORE GOING

Sheriff Cornelis Steketee, sheriff of Ottawa county for the past four years, moved his family to their former home in Holland. Ben Rosema, sheriff-elect, who was sworn in shortly after midnight, Jan. 1, moved his family from Ferryburg to the county home Saturday. Sheriff Steketee and his force remained on duty until midnight Dec. 31, when the new sheriff and his deputies took over the county police work.

In honor of their leaving, a group of friends held a surprise potluck party at the home last Friday night. Supper was served and bridge was played during the evening. There were sixteen in the party.

The Steketee family and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Markus returned to 146 West 18th street, Holland, where they lived for 16 years before coming to Grand Haven. Mrs. Markus has been the organist at the Second Reformed church, Grand Haven for some time and has assisted many circles with her ability to play either the piano or organ. She will help the Grand Haven church until it is able to replace her.

Jack Spangler, who has served the sheriff as undersheriff since the resignation of Marvin Den Herder last spring and who before that time was the chief deputy, went out with the Steketee regime. Peter Wieringer, who has been in the force since Mr. Spangler's promotion, also stepped out of office.

Mr. Rosema installed Edward Ryeenga, former chief of police of Zeeland, as undersheriff, and William Boeve of Holland as chief deputy. Tony Groeneveld of Holland will be the Holland deputy.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN TRIMS CHICAGO FIVE

Chicago Christian high dropped its first game of its invasion of Michigan, losing a 36 to 16 decision to Holland Christian Maroons. The locals were in the lead all the way to chalk up their sixth victory of the season and their second over Chicago.

Tuls and John Robert led scoring for the Maroons with 13 and 8 points, respectively. Offshoot of Chicago scored 3 baskets for his team and aided the Holland cause by accidentally tipping the ball in the wrong goal. The Holland seconds downed the Chicago reserves in the prelim, 26 to 22.

HOLLAND REALTY MAN SENTENCED AS ARSONIST

Jacob Essenberg, a real estate dealer of Holland, was committed to Ionia reformatory to serve 3 to 10 years for arson. Essenberg was sentenced last Oct. 1 after conviction of having fired a building to collect insurance, but commitment was delayed to permit an appeal. He failed to appeal and is now serving.

FISH PRODUCES YOUNG ALIVE

One of the most peculiar aquatic specimens is now on exhibit at the London, Eng., zoo. It is a Mexican sword-tailed fish. This fish, unlike the majority of fishes, does not spawn but produces its young alive. Usually the young run about 40 in number. Periodically the females tend to far outnumber the males and then nature steps in to balance the species. The sex of a number of females, which have produced several families, is changed and the fish takes on all of the male characteristics even to developing the long sword-like tail peculiar only to the males.

Raymond Steketee of New York was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Steketee over the holidays. His parents accompanied him as far as Grand Rapids on his return home.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SOLD IN OTTAWA COUNTY—WILL HELP CHILDREN IN THIS COUNTY

Summaries on the 1932 sale of Christmas seals, compiled by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, show a total of $614.76 received up to December 31 in Ottawa county.

In co-operation with Dr. Ralph TenHave and the Ottawa County Health Unit, funds from the Christmas seal sale will be used to finance examinations of Ottawa county children for signs of tuberculosis. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association is putting its services at the disposal of the health unit for the survey work. The Association's portable X-ray unit will be used to take X-ray pictures of children reacting to the tuberculin test, given by Dr. TenHave and assistants.

By revealing disease in its very earliest stages, the examinations will in many cases save the need in later years for expensive treatment to arrest active tuberculosis. For economical and humane reasons, anti-tuberculosis work is being concentrated on early discovery of the disease in children.

TWO MUST SERVE TIME

Two sentences were meted out by Judge Fred T. Miles to Delbert McClure, age 19, 247 W. 20th St., and Louis Vise, age 18, 104 E. 22nd St., Holland, for violation of probation. McClure was sent to Jackson prison for 5 to 15 years and Vise to Ionia for the same length of time.

The young men were arrested following an attempt to hold up Peter Van Huizen in his home near Holland. McClure has been on probation since 1920. Vise was placed on probation in 1932. He has served time in the Industrial school at Lansing, having been sentenced from the probate court several years ago. The lads also stole an automobile. Rather a coincidence, Mr. Van Huizen has since died of heart failure although this was not attributed to the holdup which occurred several weeks before.

Michigan Potato Is in Better Standing

Michigan may not be represented at a proposed conference to consider ways of reducing the 1933 potato acreage in the United States, it was indicated in shipping circles this week. No decrease in Michigan potato acreage is considered advisable.

In a recent speech before potato growers in Aroostook county, Maine, Horace Bowker, president of the American Agricultural Chemical Co., urged the calling of a governors' conference to restrict the acreage planted to tubers in 1933. Curtailed production, he said, was essential to restore prices to a profitable level.

Maine growers, working alone, could not expect to accomplish the higher price objective, Bowker said.

Objection to the proposal in Michigan centers largely in the belief that Michigan now is growing just about the quantity of potatoes it should produce. Shippers point out that Maine and Idaho growers would be the chief beneficiaries by any decrease in Michigan's crop. Only a few seasons ago, shippers recalled, Maine and Idaho were shipping from 1,000 to 3,000 cars of potatoes a year into Detroit besides many thousands of cars into other middle western cities which normally should draw their supplies from this state. So long as Michigan continues to grow crops such as it harvested in 1932, shippers declare there will be no incentive for Maine and Idaho farmers to plant potatoes in expectation of selling them in midwestern cities. Michigan has a market for a 30,000,000 to 35,000,000-bushel crop. Michigan grew such a crop in 1932 and with its short haul to market, it has discouraged the importation of large quantities of Idaho and Maine tubers.

Coster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter De Young, of Holland. Preceding the ceremony, performed by Rev. A. H. Peffy, pastor of the bride, an hour's program of wedding music was given. Miss Lulu Dargitz, of Blanchard, close friend of the bride and teacher at Lincoln school, sang two numbers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, Emanuel Paul, wore a beautiful gown of rough silk crepe of a pastel shade of blue. Young Financier
Don't dismiss this as a made-up story, for it happens to be based upon an actual happening.

A boy in a town not far away called at a store to say he had come to pay a bill owed by his father. "No hurry about it," said the merchant. "I will send him a statement."

The boy insisted he was there to settle the account, so it was figured up, and the money paid. "Now give me the two cents it would have cost you to mail the bill," suggested the lad, who would seem to have in him the making of a shrewd financier. He got the two cents and went away satisfied.—Brockton (Mass.) Enterprise.

Volcano's Temperature
In the volcano of Kiluaue the temperature at the surface of the lava is in the neighborhood of 1,000 degrees Centigrade. Basalt, which is the molten rock in Kiluaue, and many other volcanoes, may melt at either higher or lower temperatures, depending on their composition. Thus the melting point of sandstone would be very high, probably in the neighborhood of 1,000 to 1,700 degrees Centigrade, depending on their purity.

Too Exacting
One day a fashionably dressed man entered Howell's music store in Bristol and asked to see some piano music. Howell put before him the latest sonatas, just published. The stranger looked at them, then said:

"I do not care for these. I do not like them, show me something better."

"Something better?" Howell exclaimed rather impatiently. "There is nothing better! I am sorry not to be able to serve you. Good day sir."

The stranger smilingly replied: "I have written these myself. I am Haydn."

At which Howell fell on his neck overjoyed to make the acquaintance of the great composer. They became fast friends.—Kansas City Star.

England's Oldest House

Minster abbey, in the Isle of Thanet, is said to be the oldest house in England. It is in the market by order of the trustees of the late Lord Conyngham, the fifth marquis. It is said to be a fine example of an eleventh century Norman manor house, renovated about 1415, the house being built on the site of Edward's monastery of Saints Peter and Paul, founded early in the eighth century and destroyed in the ninth by the Danes. The building is specifically described in Domesday book as Thanet manor, and is said to have been the only manor in the island in Saxon times.

Bacon and Shakespeare

There are three main points upon which the supposition that Bacon was in reality the author of Shakespeare's works are based: First there are a few passages in Shakespeare's works which are similar to Bacon's; second, the existence of certain supposed ciphers in plays which have been interpreted as cryptic signatures of Bacon; third a single sentence written in a letter to Bacon by Sir Tobie Matthews at some date subsequent to January, 1621.

Quakers in World War

The selective service law in vogue during the World war provided exemption to "a member of a well recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing on May 18, 1917, whose then existing creed or principles forbid its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein." This selective service law applied to Quakers as well as many other religious sects. However, there were numbers of Quakers who served in our active fighting forces.

CHAIN STORE TAXATION IS PREVENTED BY DETROIT COURT

In a suit brought by the Kroger Grocery & Baking company as plaintiffs to enjoin the enforcement of an ordinance drafted by the City of Hamtramck, Mich., which is part of Detroit, the court ruled against the city in question on the grounds that the tax was unconstitutional and beyond the power of a city or village to levy.

The City of Hamtramck, Mich., which is part of Greater Detroit, attempted to impose a graduated tax on chain stores, beginning with $25 for the first store, $50 for the second store, $75 for the third store and $1,000 for each of four or more stores.

In Holland the Kroger company has four stores, so that if this tax would have been valid the amount of tax imposed could easily be computed on that basis.

The Wayne county circuit court, holding in the City of Detroit, held against the right of a municipal corporation to collect taxes under such an ordinance. This is the first case brought to test the validity of a law whereby a municipality is empowered to levy discriminatory taxes under such an ordinance.

The Kroger company considers this an important victory against a taxation of this kind.

The case was tried on its merits in the Michigan court before Judge Theodore J. Richter, circuit court, who heard the evidence during a four-day trial. In his written opinion Judge Richter said:

"There can be little doubt of the unconstitutionality of the ordinance itself. Whatever may be the rights of the city to regulate food stores they cannot, under the guise of regulation or taxation, enact an ordinance calling for the payment of different amounts for the same privilege—that of operating a store—just because one, two, three or four stores may be operated in addition to that one. This is an arbitrary, unjust and illegal classification."

The court ordered a permanent injunction against the City of Hamtramck from enforcing the ordinance.

Messrs. Butzel, Levin and Winston of Detroit, and Nichols, Morrill, Wood, Marx and Ginter of Cincinnati, represented the Kroger Grocery & Baking company.

No Atmosphere on Moon

The absence of atmosphere on the moon is proved by the fact that at the time of an eclipse of the sun the moon's limb is perfectly dark and sharp, with no apparent distortion of the sun due to refraction. Similarly, when a star is occulted by the moon it disappears suddenly and not somewhat gradually as it would if its light were being more and more extinguished by the atmosphere. There are other indications which lead to the same conclusions.

Of Course

In a plea for more careful use of English, Professor Jordan said: "A great many American expressions are directly contrary to what we really mean, and the real reason why the English are sometimes so perplexed when an American tries to say something. The story of how we say 'look out' when we mean 'look in' is a sample."

"The other day, on the beach, I heard a young girl ask: 'If I were drowning, would you help me?'" "No," said the young man, evidently an Englishman, "I'd endeavor to prevent you."

An exhibit staged in Holland by the Michigan state police this week is proving to be of unusual interest as it is attracting large crowds. These are on exhibition in the De Vries-Dornbos Furniture Co. show windows.

1000 Cases Of Measles In This County

DR. TEN HAVE OF THE COUNTY HEALTH UNIT GIVES INTERESTING REPORT

Below will be found rather an interesting report from Dr. Ten Have of the health unit of Ottawa county where a tabulation gives some conception of communicable diseases that Ottawa county had had to contend with during the year ending October 1:

Measles, 1,051 cases.
Scarlet fever, 87 cases.
Chicken pox, 99 cases.
Diphtheria, 8 cases.
Whooping cough, 208 cases.
Infantile paralysis, 5 cases.
Typhoid fever, 2 cases.
Mumps, 129 cases.
Tuberculosis:

Clinics, 23; number attending clinics, 485; new cases found, 13; old cases returned, 104; contacts examined, 235; home visits, 349.

Immunization:

Children given treatments (three doses of toxoid each), 630; children given Schick test, 3,440; children vaccinated against smallpox, 870; children given Dick test for scarlet fever, 33; scarlet fever treatments given, 2.

The health officer's report covers three pages of closely typewritten figures, the highlights of which show the deaths from cancer numbered 53; cerebral hemorrhage 60; hardening of the arteries 29; auto accidents 16; flu 15; diabetes 11; premature birth 12. It also shows that the health officer attended 2,289 health meetings during the year, distributed 1,778 different bulletins, also receiving much publicity through the newspapers. He has made 1,206 visits to schools, made 534 calls to the homes of school children, gave 1,569 physical examinations, found 1,333 defective in one form or another, especially the eyes, teeth and tonsils.

The financial report states as follows:

Assured from Jan. 1, 1933, to July 1, 1933:

State, $1,150; United States public health service, $500; Rockefeller Foundation, $375; total, $2,025.

Dr. Ten Have closes his report in part as follows:

"During the past year not a single case of diphtheria or small pox has been reported in Ottawa county. The entire county has been covered thoroughly so that every parent has had an opportunity to have their children immunized and vaccinated. An extensive survey of all of the rural schools of the county has been made of Schick testing, for the purpose of finding the number of pupils still susceptible to diphtheria. Two thousand three hundred twenty-six (2,326), have been Schicked. All children with negative Schick tests have been given cards stating that they were protected from diphtheria.

Parents have been more interested in getting children of pre-school age immunized and vaccinated. It cannot be stated that a satisfactory number of pre-school children have been immunized or vaccinated. The physicians of the county are supplied with toxoid for diphtheria immunization and the hospitals have been supplied with vaccine with recommendations, urging mothers to have their infants vaccinated against smallpox before being discharged from the hospital. This is the most satisfactory age for vaccination. Vaccination a few days after birth and immunization at six months will eliminate smallpox and diphtheria.

A great deal of work has been done in connection with tuberculosis control. Clinics have been well attended. A county-wide tuberculosis testing campaign has just been completed. Ottawa county has a remarkable record in case and death rates of tuberculosis. At present there are fourteen cases of tuberculosis. Muskogean county sanatorium, Ottawa county is very fortunate in having a sanatorium as near as Muskegon. Dr. P. H. Bartlett, who is in charge of the sanatorium, is also in charge of the clinics. This makes it very convenient to follow up contacts of patients at the sanatorium as well as checking up on cases after they are discharged from the hospital.

There have been two cases of typhoid fever this year. Both cases contracted the disease outside of the county and no other cases occurred. Typhoid fever with proper precautions and proper sanitary measures can all be eliminated.

It is hope that during this next year a more efficient plan will be devised to give medical aid to indigent families. The quality of medical care has been called "The Index of a Civilization." Our physical and mental health is perhaps the nation's greatest asset.

An excellent example of sand-dune control by forest planting may be found at Saugatuck, Mich., where Old Bald Head mountain, 300 feet high and boasting an eroding area of four acres, is being held in place with trees, federal forest-land this week. For some time the dune had been encroaching on the channel of the Kalamazoo river and threatening cottages near its base. Under the direction of R. F. Kroodsmma, extension forester at Michigan State college, the dune was planted to trees in April, 1931. Black locust, honey locust, ponderosa, white, Norway, jack, and pitch pines were planted, along with large-sized willow and poplar cuttings. Carloads of brush were hauled up by cable and spread over the sand between the seedling trees. The village again planted trees in 1932. A high percentage of the trees survived, natural weed growth sprung up and the dune now is considered under control.

You Can't Kill Eagles

Just because golden and bald-headed eagles are not mentioned specifically by name in the general game laws of Michigan, many persons believe that these two birds are considered predatory and may be killed at any time. This belief is strengthened by the failure of our migratory bird treaty to protect eagles. However, eagles are protected in Michigan, in the same manner as are robins, blue herons or gulls. They are considered migratory non-game birds, which covers hundreds of other species as well as eagles. The only birds that may be killed or captured in Michigan, outside of game birds, are English sparrows, crows, blackbirds, starlings, hawks and owls. That is the complete list, and when a gunner brings in anything else, except game birds during the legal hunting season, he makes himself liable to arrest.

The Problem of the Railroads

THE difficulty of solving the railroad problem has been greatly increased by the development of competing means of transportation by highway, waterway and airway, which are aided by subsidies by our national and state governments, and by exemption from such regulation as is applied to the railroads. The importance of the railroads to the economic welfare of the country is such that constructive efforts to solve the problem must be made at once, confronted as we are by evidence of the effects produced upon the entire industry and commerce of the country by the decline in railroad earnings.

THE SERVICE OF THE RAILWAYS IS INDISPENSABLE FOR HANDLING THE GREAT BULK OF OUR COMMERCE.

HERE are the facts as to the decline in railway earnings during this depression. The gross earnings in 1929 were $6,360,000,000 while in 1932 they will approximate only $3,200,000,000. Railroad operating expenses are 45 per cent less than they were in 1929, a decline of $2,052,000,000. This was effected by the reduction in the number of employees by about 620,000 and in the total wages paid them about $1,325,000,000. Purchases of fuel, materials and equipment have been cut about $1,430,000,000. The total reduction in wages paid, and purchases, exceeds $2,750,000,000.

THE recovery of the railways is essential to the recovery of national prosperity and they cannot recover under government policies that promote every kind of competition with them and at the same time impose every kind of restriction upon the steam lines to prevent them from meeting this competition.

EXPERIENCE AND COMMON SENSE DICTATE THAT EQUALIZATION OF TAXATION AND EQUITABLE REGULATION ARE NEEDED IN ALL BRANCHES OF TRANSPORTATION.

IMMEDIATE, vigorous action by national, state and local executives and legislators is required. They alone have the opportunity and the power to enact and enforce the remedial legislation on taxation and regulation so necessary in this extreme exigency.

THROUGH forthright action the tide can be turned, and by bringing back the railroads' purchasing power, and by their larger employment of labor, all industry will be quickened simultaneously. Every man, woman and child in the country would be benefited by this correction of basic causes.

"Give Him One of Your Cards, Bob!"

Two men in a sedan and a farmer and his boy in a smaller car had stopped on a country road for a short discussion of business in general. The farmer and one of the men from town were old friends. The other was unknown to him.

"Give Mr. Hartley one of your cards, Bob," suggested the farmer's friend. "You ought to do some business with him before long."

Now, if Bob had presented his card to Mr. Hartley, there would be little of interest to us in the transaction. But Bob did not have a card to give him!

Whatever your business or profession may be, you can't afford to be without a supply of personal cards. Your business is built by making yourself known favorably to a lot of people. When folks need, or consider, something in your line, you want them to think of you. If they have your card the chances are in your favor.

There is no better place in this community to get personal cards—for business, social or campaign use—than right at this newspaper office. Our prices will please you just as much as the cards. Let us prove it. You need them NOW!
