Council Allocates $4,000 for Plans For Swim Pool

Civic Center Location Is Best All Around, Committee Recommends

City Council Wednesday night transferred $4,000 to a special swimming pool fund to be used in obtaining the services of an architect for drawing plans for an outdoor pool at Civic Center, with the hope that such a pool will be ready for use next summer.

The swimming pool committee of which Councilman John Van Eerden is chairman recommended the Civic Center location in preference to any other location in the city for several reasons.

For one thing, Van Eerden pointed out, a plot 95 by 290 feet at Civic Center is "existent and paid for" and is located within 1 1/2 miles from all parts of the city. He said there is adequate water supply and sewage disposal, and small likelihood of objections to building a pool there. There is plenty of offstreet parking and he said the state board of health already has approved the use of existing showers and locker rooms in Civic Center to be used for the swimming pool.

He also pointed out that Civic Center is the focal point for recreational activities in Holland, and the addition of a swimming pool will greatly increase the activity there in the summer months. In case of meets and contests, other facilities of Civic Center could be used to excellent advantage. With all these considerations, no other location could rival the advantages of this location, Van Eerden said.

At the Dec. 15 meeting of City Council, Van Eerden in his initial report said the committee had consulted school authorities and had met with Arthur Read, construction supervisor for the Board of Education, who estimated that a reinforced concrete pool of some 5,000 square feet would cost approximately $55,000. Additional showers and dressing rooms would cost an additional $25,000 to $30,000, and the committee recommended that the whole project be a two to three-year project rather than providing all facilities at once.

Van Eerden said construction of such a pool would be a boon to the local Red Cross which conducts swimming classes for youngsters in the area. For several years, the children have had to be taken by bus to Port Sheldon for the lessons.

In addition to setting up a $4,000 swimming pool fund, Council authorized the committee to continue its work and report to Council from time to time.

Although it set aside $4,000 for a swimming pool fund, Council decided until the next meeting a recommendation from City Manager Herbert Holt to transfer $154,393.71 in unappropriated surplus to various designated funds as follows: revolving public improvement fund, $100,000; sewage disposal improvements, $77,500; Civic Center equipment, $8,000; black dirt property for park department, $7,000.

Council approved workmen's compensation and general liability insurance contracts with two companies. General liability coverage was awarded to the Michigan Mutual Insurance Co. for $3,500, and the workmen's compensation to the Livens Agency (Auto Owners) for $7,561.34.

Council approved a recommendation of the city manager to purchase 25 tons of rock salt in 100-pound moisture proof bags from the International Salt Co. for $20.20 per ton or a total of $505, f.o.b. Holland.

Approval also was given low bid of the East Jordan Iron Works for manhole rings and covers at a cost of $3,500. Four bids had been entered.

Council also awarded a contract to Lamai Pipe and Tile Co. for low bid on concrete sewer pipe for $6,088.20, less 2 percent discount. It was the lowest of three bids.

A resolution also was adopted for Holland city to pay $10 a month maintenance cost for a traffic signal at the 24th St. crossing of the C and O tracks, the installation cost of $6,500 to $7,000 to be assumed jointly by the railroad and Ottawa county.

A request from the Kroger Co. requesting that property on 31st St. from Michigan to Maple be rezoned commercial to enable the company to construct a modern brick and cement block building was referred to the planning commission for recommendation at the next meeting. Plans call for a building 100 by 110 feet, plus parking lots on Michigan Ave. and Maple Ave.

A petition for paving 29th St. from Central to Michigan Aves. was referred to the city manager and city engineer for report.

Council passed a resolution designating City Manager Holt as administrator for the city in all transactions with the state highway commissioner. The resolution replaces one passed Sept. 19, 1951, designating former City Manager H. C. McClellent as administrator.

Zeeland Studies School Expansion

ZEELAND (Special) — A Grand Rapids architect, James K. Haveman, will meet with the Zeeland Board of Education to study building needs and future plans for the city's public school system.

Supt. J. F. Schipper announced Wednesday.

Last week the school board announced that it had purchased the property of the former Wichers Lumber Co. on East Main Ave. The property, purchased for $46,000, adjoins school property on the east. It was purchased from the Zeeland Truck and Trailer Body Co., which took it over several months ago.

Schipper said that the meeting will probably take place in the next two weeks. Preliminary planning for using present school properties for future building will be discussed, he said.

Architect Haveman prepared plans for Lincoln elementary school and also for the Christian school system for its building program.

The school board extended the lease of the Zeeland Truck and Trailer Body Co. on the part of the newly acquired property they now occupy. The current lease expires July 1. The new agreement, subject to six months notice to vacate, extends it beyond that date.

Until the property is needed for expansion, Schipper said, the school will probably continue to lease it to several parties.

Vienna Choir Boys Will Sing in Holland Jan. 21

One of the oldest and most appealing musical organizations in the world, the Vienna Choir Boys, will present a concert in the current Hope College series on Friday, Jan. 21, at 8:15 p.m. in Hope Memorial Chapel.

Dating back 454 years to July 7, 1498, the choir boys were first organized with orders from Emperor Maximilian to create a boys' choir to participate in the performance of religious music in the Court Chapel in Vienna.

A dozen boys were engaged and the choirmaster, in addition to directing their musical activities, was granted funds for their board and education. When the boys changed, they received "muster-out pay" plus their fare home. If they decided upon a course of study, they went to an ecclesiastical state boarding school, generally a Jesuit College, on a three year scholarship from the Emperor which covered tuition and living expenses.

After the death of Maximilian, other Hapsburgs subsidized the choir and its renown spread throughout Europe. Josef Haydn and Franz Schubert were members during their childhood.

With the fall of the Hapsburg monarchy at the end of World War I, the choir was supported by private funds and by the income derived from its tours which began in 1926. In addition to performing sacred music, the choir turned to folk songs and costume operettas.

The Vienna Boy Choir made its first appearance in the United States in 1932, and for six seasons toured North America presenting their unique programs. However, the outbreak of World War II curtailed their tours when Father Josef Schmitt, their rector, was imprisoned by the Nazis because he refused to permit the organization to become a propaganda medium.

With the end of hostilities, he recognized the group and in 1948, they made their first post-war American concert tour.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale.

Contract Awarded For Coast Guard Building on Lake

Elzinga-Volkers Will Begin Work This Week On $31,600 Structure

Officials of the United States Coast Guard announced Friday that contract for Holland's new Coast Guard station has been awarded and work is expected to begin this week.

Plans call for a prefabricated steel building in the center of a large concrete slab which formerly was a foundation for the Big Top, a restaurant-soda bar which burned down several years ago.

The 66 by 20 foot structure will include an office, day room, sleeping accommodations for three men, kitchen, shop and two-stall garage.

The $31,600 contract, awarded to Elzinga-Volkers Construction Co. of Holland, also includes raising and strengthening an existing dock.

When completed, the dock will extend 85 feet into Lake Macatawa.

Also included in the contract is a six foot steel fence surrounding the entire 120 by 60 foot concrete slab. Entrance would be on a restricted basis.

The steel, one-story shell will be insulated and paneled with wood on the inside. Two 1,000-gallon storage tanks and most of the other equipment from the present structure will be moved to the new site.

No decision on the future of the present station has been made. Officials of the Holland and Grand Haven stations conjectured it will either be torn down or sold.

Completion date on the new building is May 1.

The move is in conformance with an earlier decision by Coast Guard officials to put the Holland station on standby status. Summer complement will be nine men while the winter maintenance crew is three men.

BMC Arthur Cushing, commander of the Grand Haven station, said the new moorings would enable the crew to provide even faster emergency service.

During the winter a 13-foot ice skiff is kept on a trailer for emergency launching. The skiff has special planking and a copper bottom for rough use. Arrival of a new 30-foot utility boat is expected this spring.

Eng. I. George Montgomery is currently in charge of the Holland station, although BMC Arthur Wouters is expected to take over on Jan. 15.

Last Half Spurt Gives Local Five 73-55 Victory

MUSKEGON (Special) — Scoring 47 points in the second half, the Holland High basketball team gained its first win of the season Tuesday night stopping the Muskegon High Big Reds, 73-55, here before 1,200 fans at the Central Campus gymnasium. The victory gives Holland a 1-4 record, identical with the Big Reds, who now have lost four straight, after an opening win.

A close contest for almost three quarters, the game suddenly became a runaway. In the last minute of the third quarter and the entire fourth stanza, Holland played fired up basketball.

Overcoming a five-point half-time deficit, the Dutch tied the Reds with 2:27 left in the third quarter and went ahead to stay in the final 40 seconds.

Leading the final third quarter spurt were Sheridan Shaffer and Bill Japinga. Shaffer, a 6' junior forward starting his first varsity game, sunk six points in the last minute of the third quarter to give the Dutch a 52-45 lead. Japinga, 5'10" junior guard, began the rally with a long shot and hit the basket that tied the score at 41-41. The cool guard added five more straight points before Shaffer started scoring.

A total of 26 points, similar to the first half total, were made by the Dutch in the third period. Holland added 21 in the final eight minutes. The Big Reds netted 24 points in the entire last half.

"A good covering job without fouling" was the compliment Coach Fred Weiss paid his lads and it told the story of the game. Playing a pressing game, with many fouls expected, Holland gave Muskegon only 15 charity tosses, of which the Big Reds made seven.

Holland, on the other hand, won the game at the foul line. Outscored 0-10, the floor, 24-22, the Dutch made 29 out of 49 foul attempts. Muskegon lost four men on fouls.

The Dutch sank 22 out of 61 field goal attempts for 36 percent while Muskegon hit on 24 out of 74 tries for 31 percent.

Charles Blakely, sub forward, who hit 20 for the night, pulled the Big Reds into a 31-26 halftime lead, sinking eight points in the quarter and leading the offense.

At one point in the second period Muskegon held a seven point margin, largest separation in the first half.

The score was tied four times in the first period and the quarter closed 13-13. Each tie was made by Holland.

Tom Overbeek, a starter in the first three contests, came on in a reserve role and displayed a scoring punch and good ball handling.

A battle looms between Overbeek and Shaffer for the starting post. Shaffer was high point for the Dutch with 16 points, followed by Japinga with 15. Chuck Gouloze, Holland's mainstay in the first half, was third with 14. Blakely led the losers with 20 while Mart Waalkes had 11.

Holland will play Benton Harbor at the Civic Center Friday.

Box score.

Ottawa County 4-H News

Willis S. Boss, 4-H Club Agent

In visiting various places in the county the past two weeks I find much interest in the 4-H program. Winter project members are doing a good job along with the help of their leaders. Clubs are working hard and it is encouraging to have this interest spread in the county. The swine project is doing fair and beef interest is running stronger than last year. I hope that all 4-H members will keep up the good work in 1953.

4-H broiler program—Rules and regulations for the 1955 Broiler project have been received in the county 4-H office. Anyone interested in entering this contest should write for information.

Some of the particulars of the program this year are: chicks must be obtained the week of Feb. 13 with a minimum of 100 chicks. The chicks must have one square foot of floor space per bird and be straight run chicks. No hormone pellets will be allowed. The contest will run 10 weeks and 14 cockerels will be selected for process judging. Records must be kept to accompany the birds at judging. If any 4-H member between the ages of 14 and 20 is interested, write to County 4-H Club Agent, Court House, Grand Haven for further details.

Junior Leadership Schools—The annual 4-H Junior Leadership school will be held at St. Mary's Lake Camp on Jan. 11, 12 and 13. This school is conducted for training of 4-H members between the ages of 14 and 20 who are carrying on the Junior Leadership project.

The members selected to attend this school are Nancy Kober from Conklin, Joan Koppal from Coopersville, Dennis Beuschel from Lisbon School District and Robert Crouse from Nunica. These members are all from the northern part of our county. Enrollments in Junior Leadership in the southern half of the county is down to nothing and so no one was chosen from that area.

Eleven counties will be sending delegates to this meeting where club meetings, recreation and programs will be explained.

Miles Reports On Year's Work

GRAND RAPIDS Mich. —Federal Court criminal cases have increased about 60 percent during the last two years, U. S. District Attorney Wendell A. Miles said Friday in a year-end report.

Miles said 121 criminal cases were started during 1952, involving 131 defendants, compared with 88 criminal cases started in 1951 and 71 commenced in 1950. The district attorney said the sharp increase in criminal actions was partly due to the addition of five counties including Ingham and Calhoun, which were taken from the eastern district and attached to the western district early this year.

Miles said cases involving stolen cars taken across state lines led the list. There were 39 Dyer Act cases in 1952, compared with 23 last year and 26 in 1951. Post office violations were second with 24 prosecutions followed by 13 forgery cases, nine immigration cases, six men charged with bank robberies, four with stealing federal property and three other bank cases.

The remaining cases included violations of Interstate Commerce regulations, fair labor laws, selective service regulations, food and drug violations and several liquor cases.

In other cases, two men were charged with kidnapping an Upper Peninsula man and one man was charged with manslaughter as a result of the fatal shooting of another person on federal property at Fort Custer. Two people were charged with harboring a military deserter. The largest amount of money involved in any case was a $480,000 misapplication of bank funds of a Hancock bank.

Miles said 118 civil suits were filed by his office on behalf of the federal government. The largest number of these involved suits on behalf of the federal housing administration and the general accounting office.

Ottawa Farm News

By Richard Machiolo, County Agricultural Agent

Every Ottawa County farm and school organization should enroll in the 1955 Farm-to-Prosper Contest. This year's contest again shows real contributions to communities through the activities of these organizations. The extension office will be glad to enroll your group and send you a suggested list of activities you might be able to do to improve your local community. Let's have a real commitment from Ottawa County this year. We can easily beat the record of 19 enrolled last-year.

Farmers in the Holland area will have opportunity to hear about income tax and social security for farmers. On Jan. 20 the Holland Co-op in cooperation with the Extension Service is sponsoring an open meeting to be held at the Ladies Literary Club, Holland. Meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Warren Vincent from Michigan State College will lead the discussion. Bring your questions to this meeting.

A few weeks ago I mentioned that we were in need of certified oat growers in the county. I had some response on this request but would like more. A new oats is being offered for the first time for certification. It is called Jackson. It is yellow oats, mid-season for Central Michigan. It is susceptible to leaf rust and to race eight of stem rust. Tests show that it outyielded and had a heavier test weight than other Michigan varieties but that the stems were not quite as strong. Foundation seed can be ordered until Feb. 1. Blanks are available from the county agent.

Are rats eating away your profits. They are easy to control by using the following mixture. Freshly ground cornmeal 65 percent - rolled oats 20 percent - powdered sugar 5 percent - vegetable or mineral oil 5 percent and 5 percent warfarin. Enough bait should be prepared to last three or four days at each station. Bait stations can be made by just leaning a wide board against the wall with a dish of bait behind it. An inverted box with a hole for rats to go into also works. The latter will keep out other animals too.

Many Ottawa County farmers are using superphosphate fertilizer instead of lime for use in the dairy barn. A half pound of phosphate per cow per day spread in the gutter and a short distance behind the gutter will help preserve the nitrogen in the manure and help balance it for a better plant food. Phosphate is also less slippery than lime when used on the floor.

A new rye developed in Germany is becoming available for seed. This rye is called Tetra-Petkus. It has produced 64.1 bushels per acre at Purdue University. At Rutgers University it has yielded on a three year average 47.4 bushels as compared with 32.1 of Balboa Rye. In forage tests it has outyielded other varieties both in green volume and in dry matter per acre. From all indications it would make an excellent cover crop.

Shipping Totals Up Despite Late Start in Spring

St. Lawrence Seaway, Coast Guard Plans, Set Big Year for Harbor

A late opening of navigation in 1954 failed to stop a yearly increase in use of Holland harbor as 103 entries of major vessels occurred during the year.

The tanker "Meteor" opened the season on March 15, two months later than the Jan. 6 opening day in 1953. The Meteor also was the last ship to enter the harbor making its final appearance on Dec. 14.

Complete figures are unavailable because the local Coast Guard station was placed on an inactive status and the crew cut to 10 men during the summer and three in the winter. Thus 24-hour watches are no longer maintained.

Current tower watch is from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. but a continuous radio watch has been kept up.

Biggest user of harbor facilities was the Medusa Cement Co. which listed 31 entries totalling more than 24,738 tons. Barrel totals by water were given as 130,200, and company officials pointed out rail transportation was extensively used this year.

Gasoline shipments to the Texas Company ranked second with 22 entries totalling 1,500,000 gallons. Twelve entries by Army and Navy vessels were next in line followed by eight ship-entries for Brewer's City Coal Docks. These shipments included 10,980 tons of coal, 8,099 of limestone and 24,476 tons of gravel and sand.

Shipments of coal received by the Board of Public Works included seven cargoes totalling 38,000 tons. Two shiploads of coal were also received at Harrington Coal Docks, totalling 7,000 tons.

Considerable discussion during the year also centered around the effects on Holland harbor of approval in June of the new, St. Lawrence Seaway project.

A joint Board of Public Works-Chamber of Commerce committee was largely responsible for approval by the House of Representatives in Washington of a $378,700 appropriation for straightening the channel and $182,000 for extension of the channel past the City docks.

According to Randall C. Bosch and Henry S. Maentz, members of the committee who appeared before a congressional group to discuss the issue, improvements to the local harbor are absolutely essential in taking advantage of the new Seaway.

During the year plans also were completed for transferring the Coast Guard station across the channel to a site on the north side of the harbor entrance.

Incomplete plans call for a mooring station on property just inside the concrete breakwaters which line the channel on both sides.

Traffic Accidents Kill 29 in 1954

Traffic accidents continued to take their toll in 1954 with 29 deaths in Ottawa County and 25 fatalities in Allegan County.

The figures compared with 30 Allegan traffic deaths and 26 deaths in Ottawa County in 1953.

Only one fatality occurred in Holland this year against two in 1953. Twelve-year-old Mary Jonker, 551 Grove Dr., died Dec. 13 of injuries received in a two-car collision at 16th St. and gvan Raalte bave.

Holland's police department records reveal they investigated 190 accidents, a rise of 45 over the corresponding period of time in 1953.

The Ottawa County sheriff's department investigated 408 accidents in which 340 persons were injured. Grand Haven State Police said the department investigated 334 accidents in the county.

In Allegan sheriff's officers estimated they investigated 335 accidents in the county.

Bucs Set Record With 126 Points; Lake Forest Wins

Running up the highest score ever attained here by a college unit, the Beloit College Buccaneers ran roughshod over the Hope College Dutch, 126-81, in the final game of the first annual Holiday Classic Thursday night before 1,400 at the Civic Center. In the night's other contest, Lake Forest College stopped Albion College, 71-55.

The Bucs, running and shooting, were amazingly accurate throughout the game and hit on 48 out of 91 tries for 53 percent. The onslaught began with 4:26 remaining in the first half.

Hope was holding a 46-45 lead. Beloit pumped 21 points in the four minutes. The Dutch managed to grab two baskets just before the half ended and the halftime score stood at 66-50.

Two minutes prior to the spurge, the Bucs had hinted at a scoring punch coming when the winners tallied eight quick points to overcome a five point deficit and go into the lead for the first time in the game, 45-42.

Willie Rink opened the game with an outcourt shot. Two Beloit foul shots tied the score seconds later, but a push shot by John Adams gave Hope the lead again.

The Dutch held the upper hand as the half progressed and claimed a 30-24 margin at the midway mark. Three times in the first 10 minutes, Hope was leading by eight points.

Mack Stanley, 6'5" center, helped keep the Bucs in the game in the early minutes, sinking 10 straight foul goals and 12 out of 13 in the first half. Stanley's tosses brought Beloit up to a 38-35 margin, one minute before the first barrage.

Chuck Westall, 6' guard and Dick Hartzell, 5'9" sub guard, were consistent scorers in the first half. Hitting on 23 out of 51 shots in the 20 minutes for 45 percent, Westall got six baskets, and Stanley and Hartzell, five each.

Whitey Riemersma's six baskets, Bob Hendrickson's five and Rink's four were the majority of Hope's 18 out of 42 field goals in the opening half. The Dutch had a shooting record of 43 percent in the first half.

Beloit held a 20-point lead for the first seven minutes of the second half, continuing to increase the margin as the game moved along. Several times in the second half, the Bucs, using a press, intercepted Hope passes and drove in for baskets.

Sensing the nearness of the century mark, the Buc regulars stayed in the game and turned on a 17-point barrage midway in the final half. The 100 mark was passed with eight minutes remaining. Reserves finished up the contest.

Hope lost three via the foul route. Whitey Riemersma left with 14 minutes remaining. Willie Rink with five minutes to go and Mert Vander Lind with one minute left.

Hope Coach John Visser was pleased with the performance of his outmanned club. The Dutch hit a total of 38 percent of their shots, making 29 out of 76.

Mack Stanley scored 30 points, 14 on foul shots, to lead Beloit. He was followed by Westall with 24 and Hartzell with 19. Adams, strong on getting long rebounds, led Hope with 18. Harold Moleenaar scored 17 and Hendrickson 16.

With Wednesday night victories, the two out of state clubs concluded the classic with two wins each. Lake Forest stopped Hope Wednesday night, 103-73 and Beloit took the measure of Albion, 84-62.

Behind all but six minutes of the games, the Lake Forest College Foresters broke through the Albion College defenses for short scoring spurts in the final six minutes and stopped the Britons, 71-55 in the first game of the final night's play in the Holiday Classic at the Civic Center.

Albion, using a rotating offense, was able to keep in front 34 minutes. However, 25 seconds before the half, the Foresters tied the score but a driving layup shot by George Viviamore at the buzzer, gave the Britons a 34-32 halftime margin.

For the most part, the Foresters played a weaving style of offense, but switched to the running game long enough in the second half to take over the lead. The spurt was enough to insure victory.

At the 10 minute mark, the Foresters held a 49-42 lead. The closest Albion came again was six points.

NEW YEAR'S EVE is the time for parties, but these kids coasting on the Nies hill on Michigan Ave. wage they had more fun at this sport than any party ushering in the New Year. These youngsters were probably in bed when midnight whistles blew, but many parents will recall their own happy times coasting down this hill, a traditional winter play spot for all the kids in that end of town. The Nies home on the big hill, now an apartment house, is owned by Hulda Nies Bequette. (Sentinel photo)

Holland Notes Progress During '54; Looks Ahead to '55 With Optimism

Happy New Year! Holland citizens Friday looked forward to another new year—one of continued prosperity.

Adjusting to a peacetime prosperity instead of a wartime economy has resulted in little change on the economic front for Holland area, and on the whole the people can look back on a year of good accomplishment.

On the industrial front, the new General Electric plant east of the city is rapidly nearing completion. The plant is structurally complete and construction workers are currently busy installing electrical and water service lines. Equipment has started to arrive and installation will begin soon. The plant expects to be in production by spring.

Currently, the company has three women in training at the pilot line on River Ave., mastering the techniques of wire winding for the hermetic motors which will be manufactured in the new plant for the rapidly expanding refrigeration and air conditioning industry. Eventually, 25 to 30 will be employed on the pilot line. In full production, the multi-million dollar plant will employ 400 production workers and some 90 persons in offices.

Building in Holland exceeded that of last year and previous years. There were 547 permits for a total of $2,779,486 including 64 new houses valued at $743,450.

Largest single permit of the year was for Western Theological seminary for $550,000, followed by the fifth elementary school for $330,000. There were several other additions to schools and a few new churches.

In commercial development, a large Sears store was opened. The Penney store is another in a big remodeling program.

One of the most significant accomplishments of 1954 was the completion of Holland's new Civic Center which was dedicated at two-day ceremonies in November.

This modern new building which can seat 2,500 at a basketball game is designed to care for civic functions heretofore impossible in this city. It will be the hub of activity next Tulip Time. The building houses offices for the Chamber of Commerce and for the building manager who also is Tulip Time manager.

Perhaps one of the "blots" on accomplishments in 1954 was Holland's safety record—or lack of safety record. In Holland city alone, there were 190 accidents, compared with 145 in 1953 and 150 in 1952. Enforcement officials say the increase is part of a national trend, but also express concern over the obvious necessity for far more caution and courtesy on the part of all drivers. Holland had first traffic fatality on Dec. 19, less than two weeks before the end of the year. There were two traffic fatalities in the city in 1953, four in 1952 and three in 1951. There were 29 traffic fatalities in Ottawa County, compared with 26 last year. Allegan listed 25 fatalities, compared with 30 last year.

The need for a growing awareness of safety on the road resulted in a nation-wide program called S-D (Safe Driving) day on Dec. 15. Holland, fortunately, had no accidents that day and there was only one or two in Ottawa County. The national average marked a 15 per cent decrease in accidents.

On the commercial front, local merchants reported a good Christmas season and good year-round sales making 1954 possibly just a bit better than 1953. The year 1954 also was a good tourist year, although guests in Holland for the most part were "long-term" rather than overnight.

Opening of the US-31 bypass in December removed truck traffic from the downtown area, an improvement long sought by local residents. The Chamber of Commerce currently is working with other groups on a program designed to attract the passenger traffic into Holland over the newly designated business route.

The year 1954 saw the culmination of plans for a new water supply for Holland—a pipeline to Lake Michigan plus a filtration plant which will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. The Board of Public Works has approved plans and specifications for the lake intake pipe and the transmission line into Holland. Plans for the filtration plant to be erected on property in the vicinity of Tunnel park will come next.

Last fall, Holland city voters also approved a half-million dollar bond issue for an addition to Holland Hospital which will also be financed through federal funds and raised by surrounding townships. Estimated cost of the proposed addition is $1,100,000.

Ottawa County participated in a particularly lively election in November which saw the defeat of a local option issue by a 3 to 2 vote. Total county vote was about 2,000 under the 33,000 cast in the Presidential election in 1952.

The year also brought a new city manager for Holland, 33-year-old Herb Holt who succeeds H. C. McClintock who left in the fall for Webster Groves, Mo., after 34 years in Holland.

Holland also experienced a boost in interest in Big League baseball after George Zuverink became one of the topflight pitchers for the Detroit Tigers.

Perhaps the most dramatic piece of news for the year was the murder case in Allegan County in which Dr. Kenneth Small, 31-year-old Detroit dentist, shot and killed Jules Lack, 45-year-old New York industrialist, over his wife's affections. A five-day trial in Allegan Circuit Court in July was jam-packed with tense drama, and the jury deliberated five hours before returning a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity.

The most tragic story of the year was the murder of 20-year-old Marilyn Kraal of Holland, a student nurse on affiliation work at Kalamazoo State Hospital, who was attacked by an 18-year-old inmate with a record of sex deviations.

Among the celebrities who visited Holland during the year were Frygve Lie, former United Nations secretary-general, who addressed a mass meeting in Civic Center for UN Day; Douglas MacKay, secretary of the interior who spoke at a joint meeting of lunch-club clubs at Hope college, and Pastor Martin Niemoller, a feared enemy of Hitler who preached the opening convocation of Western Theological seminary in the fall. Gov. G. Mennen Williams and other state and national political figures also visited Holland during the year.

Lake Forest hit for 33 percent of its shots, making 30 out of 82 attempts. The Britons connected on 18 out of 65 for 29 percent.

Throwing a zone defense against the Foresters, the Britons stopped any expected running game. Lake Forest ran a lot against Hope Wednesday night.

Bill Collison, 6'5" Albion center, made a strong showing on both backboards, while Misha Rader, 6'4" forward and George Wolz, 6'9" center, did most of the rebounding for the winners.

Tony Banks, "hot" Wednesday night with a one hand ump shot, had trouble hitting and sunk only three of the floor game, getting the ball into the taller men, with the other playmaker, Gene Waterfall.

Rader led the scoring with 23 points while Ev Cocallas and Wolz each had 16 for Lake Forest. Viviamore had 22 points to pace Albion and Collison followed with 18.

A TOWNSHIP CLERK RETIRES

Usually when a township official leaves public office his retirement goes virtually unnoticed. When Walter Vander Haar, clerk of Holland township since 1933, announced that he would not seek reelection, the event received about the same attention that is usually given to the retirement of a city official.

This was not because this particular township official had made a record so out of the ordinary that it called for special eulogy. The event deserved attention because of its typical nature. Our public officials who do their jobs beyond the city limits deserve the same attention accorded to those who operate within the city itself. Holland and the rural areas surrounding it are not separate but one. What is good for one is good for all.

Mr. Vander Haar was emphatic in giving credit to his associates in township government. But he was equally emphatic in insisting on the achievements of that government. New industries located, property values conserved, fire protection provided, hospital service arranged for, an adequate water supply promised—these were some of the achievements that give the Holland township the same right to express satisfaction that the city government feels in reviewing its achievements at the close of the year.

Said Mr. Vander Haar, very properly: "This did not just happen but was made possible by the united efforts of all our citizens and my associates who were serving or have served as members of the township board."

Of course, such things do not just happen, either in the township or in the city. They are the result of hard work; they represent democratic action at its very best; they spell America at the township level, at the level where most of America still lives.

People in the cities are inclined to ignore and forget the Americans who occupy the rural areas. And the larger the city the greater the chance that the country will be overlooked. It is good for us in the city of Holland to remind ourselves that our neighbors beyond the city limits are of us, not separate from us. Their prosperity is ours, and ours is theirs.

The Living God
Psalm 103:8-13; Isaiah 40:25-29; John 4:23-24

By Henry Geerlings

There are a few people in this country who say that they do not believe there is a God. Of course they cannot prove there is no God, but they just think there is no such person others of us speak of as God.

That is an important question. Is there a God in and back of this universe, or is there not? It would not only be difficult, but it would be impossible for anyone to say how the earth and the moon and the sun and all the planets and the stars in the heavens came into existence of themselves without any cause or power back of them. Is absurd. Nothing else happens that way. The Bible all the way through not only accepts the existence of God, but it teaches very positively that there is a God.

We know also that there is a God for the reason that He is able to do great things for His people. When the children of Israel were slaves in Egypt there was no human leader who was able to do much for them. Then they began calling on God, or perhaps it would be better to say that God began to think of a way in which He could deliver them from their oppression. He raised up men like Moses and Aaron and sent them down into Egypt and made it possible for them to set the enslaved people free.

Then the prophet Isaiah speaks of God as the One who is able to save all men. If delivering the people from Egypt was hard for God to do, it is very much harder to save us from our sins and deliver us from their power. And yet that is what He is doing and will continue to do if we trust Him. And yet there are whole nations of people who do not have any knowledge of the true God.

Throughout the ages man has been a seeker after God. In all times and in all climes men have sought God. He has been found by individuals in different ways and in different degrees. Some have a fuller experience of Him than others. Some have found God through the pathway of nature. In the expression of Providence as seen in nature, mankind has found God. Nature is an index of God. He maintains the course of nature. Seedtime and harvest, summer and winter have all pointed to the presence of God in nature.

Nature ministers to man. The beauty of nature has led many to the throne of God. Some have found God through the pathway of man himself. In his likeness to God in his possession of a conscience, his longing for perfection, and in his search for God, we have God revealed to men.

Humanity is an argument for divinity. The great teachers, inventors, preachers, musicians, business geniuses and workers of all classes lead one to ask with the Psalmist, "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" But no man hath seen God at any time save the Son. Jesus is the ultimate revelation of God. Christ is God in person, in moral teachings, in power and influence.

There have been times when science has appeared to be the arch enemy of religious faith. Recently there has been a turning of the tide and many scientific men are showing their interest in religion. In a recent volume edited by Edward Cotton the editor has brought together sixteen essays by as many outstanding scientists from various fields. These essays tend to show that there is nothing in the findings of science which runs contrary to the faith of the religious individual.

Scripture teaches not only the fact of God but the nearness of God in our lives. This thought tends to do away with false distinctions which have arisen among us, such as making a sharp line of demarcation between the secular and the sacred, between the clergy and the laity, and between the buildings dedicated to religious uses and those used in the more common ways of life. God the creator and upholder of His world, is in its entirety.

One of the weaknesses of religious people is that they go about as if God is far away. They seem to have a depressed outlook on life. The people who profess to believe in God, that God is love, and is also power and wisdom, are very often the people who make one wonder whether God has ceased to exist.

Allegan Ups Goal For Polio Drive

ALLEGAN (Special) — Determined to become a "self supporting chapter" the Allegan County unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has more than doubled its goal for its current fund raising effort.

According to Irving J. Tucker, president of the county chapter, March of Dimes contributions here totaled $22,106.12, approximately 46 cents per capita. The local chapter paid out nearly $45,000 for patient care last year with advances from the national organization making up the deficit between the mount raised here and the total spent.

Because of the need for funds to care for county patients alone, the chapter set $45,000 as its goal for the campaign now underway.

Tucker said the local chapter now has a case load of about 100 polio patients, all of whom suffer with residual paralysis, requiring hospitalization, and more than half are "severely paralyzed." Of the total, 24 were new cases in 1954.

'Marry and Be Merry,' Advice to Club Women

Members of the Woman's Literary Club began a new year of club activity Tuesday afternoon with a witty and wise lecture by William E. Skadden, popular speaker, writer, humorist and philosopher.

"Marry and Be Merry" was his subject as well as his advice to the audience. Throughout his talk, Skadden displayed a marvelous humor along with some thought-provoking ideas on how to make a marriage successful.

"The average American couple can overcome any big crisis that comes into their marriage—it's the little ones that stub our toes," he said. Skadden, a former marital relations counselor, said there are about 30 little problems that enter a marriage, irritate and grow to the point where one of the mates can no longer stand it.

He illustrated with a series of comic situations the differences between "a bride and groom at the moment of their marriage" and how long it takes each to find out those differences—just minor things, like radio programs, food likes, lighting, open windows and a host of others. One of the biggest problems, he said, is family finance—not the amount of income but how it is handled.

"The two great sins of marriage," he said, are taking the other for granted, or feeling that your job is more important than your mate's. This latter point he illustrated well with a hilarious account of his own experiences at home while his wife took a 10-day vacation from her daily chores and care of their four children. The Skaddens now have six children, and Mrs. Skadden still takes a vacation, alone, each year but "never again for as long as 10 days."

"If we recognize that there are differences in marriage, that we need a 'plan' for finances, if we acknowledge the importance of the other and keep a sense of humor and a determination to make our marriage a success, we can marry and be merry," Skadden concluded.

Mrs. Bruce van Leuwen, president, conducted the meeting. Holiday projects were reviewed and letters of appreciation for Christmas gifts were read.

The club Hospital Committee and Civic Health Committees invited club members to attend their next meetings. The former will meet next on Jan. 18 and the latter, on Jan. 11.

Molenaar's Basket In Final Seconds Gives Dutch Win

Harold Molenaar, a tow-headed junior guard, sank a one-handed push shot in the final 10 seconds of the game Monday night to give Hope College an 86-84 win over Michigan Normal and squelch a four-game Dutch losing streak. A meager crowd of 350 fans at the Civic Center saw the Hope five, playing their "best game of the year" dominate play throughout and stun the highly touted Hurons, who had dumped Hope, 86-59, prior to the holidays.

Hope hit on 43 percent of its shots, tallying 15 out of 38 in the first half and 18 out of 39 in the final two periods. Michigan Normal connected on 33 percent of its shots, scoring 17 out of 52 in the first half and 19 out of 58 in the second half.

"We played our best game," Hope Coach John Visser said after the contest. "The boys were determined to win this one and we needed it to get us ready for the games coming up. We found ourselves and we'll be coming from now on."

Hope, holding an 84-76 lead in the final two minutes tried to play a cautious game, but the smart Hurons, with husky Dave Shepard spearheading, picked up eight points, tying the score with 27 seconds left. The Dutch worked the ball into the forecourt, where Molenaar pumped his shot from about 15 feet out to the left of the foul line.

Michigan Normal scored first, but Hope tied it up and jumped into a 22-10 lead midway in the first half. This was the largest margin separating the two teams.

Webster Kirksey, clever ball handler, who throws at the basket like a baseball pitcher, hit on eight baskets in the first half and kept the Huron threat up. Three baskets by Kirksey tied the score at 32-32 with 2:35 remaining in the first half.

Bob Hendrickson, Whitey Riemersma and Willie Rink, scored Hope's seven points in the next two minutes and the Dutch held a 39-36 halftime advantage.

Six times in the second half, Hope using a fast break, worked the score to an eight point lead, but each time the Hurons were able to break down the margin. With nine minutes left, Michigan Normal lost Kirksey, through fouls and although the attack did not bog down, the loss of the senior guard was felt. Kirksey's replacement, Nick Pappadakis, sank the tying basket in the final half minute.

Hendrickson turned in a strong game on both boards and led Hope scoring with 20 points. John Adams often on the end of the fast break, connected for 17 tallies. Molenaar was third with 16 points.

Shepard and Kirksey led the Hurons with 19 points. After being held scoreless in the first half, Shepard managed to score 19 point off the tiring Hendrickson in the second half.

Visser, pleased with his entire team's showing, singled out a strong point for each one of his regulars in operating the fast break and also complimented his three reserves. The Hope coach gave an added pat on the back to Adams, junior forward, "who turned in the best game I've seen him play."

The victory gave Hope an overall record of 4-5. The Hurons now have a 4-3 record.

New Western Seminary, 64 New Houses Boost Totals for This Year

Reflecting the general prosperity of the entire country, Holland carried on a building program in 1954 amounting to well over $2,700,000, a half million more than in 1953.

Figures compiled by Building Inspector Laverne Serne reveal that 547 permits were issued in 1954 for a total of $2,779,486. In 1953, 582 permits were issued for $2,285,394 and in 1953 there were 497 permits for $1,362,750.

Even with these increases, the figures do not present a true picture of new construction in Holland area, since a drive through adjoining townships reveal row upon row of new houses, churches and other buildings.

Not included in any of these figures is the new General Electric plant, a multi-million dollar concern being erected east of the city in Holland township.

The past year has seen the completion of Holland's new Civic Center at a cost of well over a half million dollars.

Largest single application during 1954 was one of $550,000 for building the new Western Theological seminary. Next highest was one of $439,000 for the new fifth elementary school. Resthaven was a building permit for $130,000, and the remodeling program at Penny Co. lists $110,000. There also were additions to schools and churches.

During 1954, there were 64 permits for new houses for a total of $743,450. Last year there were only 36 new homes for a total of $385,400.

An informal and entertaining program entitled "How to See Europe" was presented at a meeting of Century Club Monday night in the Ten Cate home on West 14th St., under the direction of Mrs. Edward Donovan.

On her panel of speakers were four who had travelled abroad during the past summer. Included were Dr. J. Harvey Kleinheksel, Mrs. William Winter, Bill Butler, Jr., and K. Don Jacobusse. The latter, student at Hope College, was Holland's community ambassador to Spain.

With her gracious talent of informality, Mrs. Donovan drew each member of the panel to tell their modes of transportation, their impressions of the countries visited and characteristics of the people.

Although all agreed that the United States is far in advance of European countries in material possessions, each had found in Europe other compensations — traditions, culture, the capacity to enjoy simple companionship and entertainment.

Mrs. Winter described her impressions of Paris and London, their plays and musicals. Dr. Kleinheksel gave a vivid picture of Rome and mentioned his visits to scientific and historical centers of learning. Jacobusse talked about Spain, its educational institutions, its loyalties, prejudices and limitations, and Butler told of Sweden, where they found good food, beautiful flowers, fine roads and efficient transportation, but a socialistic type of government.

A recital of some of the travelers' "embarrassing moments," and a question and answer period concluded the program.

Mrs. Willard Wichers presided and the social hour was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Visscher and their committee.

Big Bob (Shorty) Van Dyke, the league's top scorer again carried the Hollander scoring honors in the contest with 15, however Dell Koop's crew displayed a point-making attack for the first time this season.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water

With one third of the local high school basketball season history, and the local college schedule rapidly approaching the halfway mark, a check of individual scoring is in order. Hope College has played nine games, winning four and losing five, Holland Christian has been victorious in four out of seven contests and Holland High lists one win in five outings.

Hope College has scored 681 points for a 76 point game average, Holland Christian, 412 with 59 points averaged each game and Holland High, 262 points, an average of 52 per game.

Bob Hendrickson, who scored 342 points last season, already has pumped 154 points through the hoop this season. Three other Hope players are over the 100 mark. Dwight Riemersma has 138, John Adams, 114 and Harold Molenaar, 103.

Jun Buursma leads the Christian scoring with 94 points in seven games. John Mulder is second high with 73. Dave Vander Hill's 61 puts him in third while Warren Boer is fourth with 47 tallies and Garry Vander Ark, fifth, with 31 points.

Bill Japenga tops the Holland High scorers with 52 points followed by Chuck Gouloze with 49. Tom Overbeek is third with 39 while Ron Van Dyke is one point behind. Sheffy Shaffer is fifth scorer with 30 tallies.

Hope College is currently in the fight for the MIAA basketball crown, a title which the Dutch have won or shared 10 times. Champions have been named in the MIAA since 1910, however Hope didn't join the conference until 1926.

Kalamazoo College has taken or shared the championship 16 times. Alma, eight times, Albion and Hillsdale, five times each, Calvin, Olivet, and Michigan Normal (no longer a member of the conference) once. Adrian has never annexed the MIAA title.

The 1934 tie for the championship between Alma and Hope resulted in the approval by the board of directors of a playoff game on a neutral floor. Hope has been involved in every playoff.

In 1937-38, a three-way playoff was invented to narrow the field to a single night of play. This was established by having each team play a half game with each other team, and the points scored listed on a single tally, with the highest scoring team taking the crown. Hope lost out in this playoff and again the following year. Only one playoff has occurred in the post war period. In 1952-53 Hope and Kalamazoo tied with Hope winning the playoff.

Hope captured titles under Dean Milton (Bud) Hinga in 1933-34; 1936-37; 1937-38; 1938-39; 1939-40; 1942-43; 1945-46 and 1946-47. Coach John Visser brought Hope titles in 1951-52 and 1952-53. Calvin College, in the first year in the conference, took the crown last year.

The 1942-43 Hope team was the last team to go through the league season unbeaten, according to Hinga. The famed "Blitz Kids" won 10 straight games. Included on the team were Russ De Vette, Don Mulder, Bob (Gabby) Van Dis, Ets Kleinjans and George Dalman.

Although slammed shut abruptly after a sad season locally, we'll jar open the door slightly and peek at how the Hope College gridders fared statewide. Hope finished fifth in total offense, picking up 2,430 yards for a 270 yard game average. Olivet led the MIAA schools, finishing fourth 2,506 yards. Central Michigan was first netting 3,313 yards.

Hillsdale, MIAA champion, led the state in defensive giving up 1,387 yards or an average of 154 yards per game. Kalamazoo College was second yielding 1,485 yards for an average per contest mark of 165 yards. Hope finished seventh allowing 2,141 yards or 237 yards per game.

Olivet's Roland Wahls, a 5'10" 190 pound sophomore quarterback, led the state in total yardage picking up a total of 1,175 yards. John Adams was eighth in total yardage, Dave Kuysers, 15th and John Holmlund, 19th. The trio made 678, 451 and 418 yards respectively.

Kuysers was third in rushing and Adams sixth. Central Michigan's Jim Podoley won the rushing crown with 1,079 yards. Wahls' 955 yards was tops in passing. Holmlund was in sixth place.

In pass receiving Adams finished 20th and Lynn Post, 22nd. Podoley led the scoring with 109 points while Adams was 21st.

Holland Christian Travels Friday To Play Unbeaten St. Joseph Bears

Holland Christian's cage squad went through final drills, Thursday afternoon in preparation for its big tussle with the potent St. Joseph Bears at St. Joe, Friday. This is the first meeting between these two class B clubs this season.

Coach Art Tuls' aggregation will be out to spoil the Bears undefeated record so far this season which now totals five games. In addition the Maroons have a five game winning streak going over the St. Joe club which spreads over a span of three years, a feat of which few clubs can boast over the perennially powerful Bears.

Already this season, some newspapers are rating St. Joe as the No. 1 team in class B and the squad to beat for the state crown.

Included on the list of St. Joe victims are Niles and Holland, class A schools and Grand Haven and Buchanan in the B division. They have also defeated an Indiana outfit.

There is no doubt about it that the Maroons will have to turn in one of their best performances to stop the Bears. Coach Tuls sums it up this way, "If we can hold our own or do better on the boards, and contain their two clever guards, St. Joe is going to know that they have been in a ball game." Coach Ray Haack of St. Joe will be able to start a tall front line which averages over 6'3". This includes Jason Harness, family of Holland were New Year's dinner guests at the Vander Kolk home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Droeger of Holland were Sunday guests of Mrs. K. Jousma, Mr. and Mrs. S. Broersma.

PICTURESQUE IN ITS WOODED SURROUNDING is the recently completed clubhouse of the Holland Fish and Game Club on M-21 between Holland and Zeeland. The large auditorium and kitchen provide plenty of space for the club's varied activities. Actually, as club president Hine Vander Heuvel points out, a building of this type is never actually "complete" because members keep adding new ideas to increase its usefulness. The hall is also used by other clubs and various groups for meetings and get-togethers. This picture was taken looking south.

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

When I read Ernest Hemingway's message to the Swedish Academy in accepting the Nobel prize in literature, I felt in my bones that I had read all that before, long ago. So I turned to his big game hunting book called "Green Hills of Africa," and sure enough, there it was in substance.

"The Green Hills of Africa" was published as long ago as 1935, just after Hemingway had been hunting big game. In his recent message to the Swedish Academy Hemingway uses up only about 300 words. He was not so economical in 1935. Although his book was supposed to be about game hunting, he goes on and on, page after page, telling us what the writer's life is like.

But though he has become briefer in expression, Hemingway has hardly changed an iota since 1935 in ideas about writing. Writing, at its best, is a lonely life," he tells the Swedish Academy. "Writers should work alone." He says in "Green Hills of Africa," "They should see each other only after their work is done, and not too often then." Obviously Hemingway has no faith in writers' clubs.

Success destroys most writers. That idea runs through the 300-word message to the Swedish Academy. In "Green Hills" he puts it this way: "Our writers when they have made some money increase their standard of living and they are caught. They have to write to keep up their establishments, their wives, and so on, and they write slop."

There is one difference between the Nobel prize statement and the chapters about writing in "Green Hills"—in the 20 years that have elapsed since writing "Green Hills" Hemingway has learned to practice what he preached in his book. The last sentence in the Academy statement reads: "A writer should write what he has to say and not speak it." In "Green Hills" the younger Hemingway was always insisting on the same thing, but doing so in many, many words. He was constantly protesting against what he called the "rhetoric" of America's most famous writers, from Emerson to Thoreau to Poe to Henry James to Mark Twain, but he was doing so in a voluminous "rhetoric" of his own. In the Swedish Academy statement he disposes of it in just 12 words and lets it go at that.

There has been one other change. In the Academy statement Hemingway leaves the impression that he now believes there are great American writers other than himself. The younger Hemingway of 1935 was much more cocky. He devotes a long paragraph to what he calls "Emerson, Hawthorne, Whittier, and Company," and this is his verdict on them all: "They were all very respectable. They did not use the words that people always have used in speech, the words that survive in language. Nor would you gather that they had bodies. They had minds, yes. Nice, dry, clean minds."

Ernest Hemingway at the age of 37—he was born in 1898—was much more certain that America had produced no great writers until he, Hemingway, appeared upon the scene than he seems to be today. And there seem to be more doubts, in spite of the Nobel prize that he himself belongs to the ages. On the evidence alone of the Academy statement Ernest Hemingway appears to have grown up since 1935.

One theme he does not return to in the Academy statement that he treated in "Green Hills." Most writers suffer, he says in that book because they listen to what the critics say. One sentence reads: "At present we have two good writers who cannot write because they have lost confidence through reading critics." I have wondered ever since who those two were. Hemingway doesn't say.

THE EVASIVE GLOG

is happy go lucky—as long as luck is with him

The GLOG is an advertiser who refuses to be moored to the crass world of facts and figures.

He may spend a million on advertising. But if you ask him why, he talks about golf.

If you ask him what he expects to get out of his ads, he raves about some oomph-girl who has caught the public eye.

You can't pin him down—because he honestly doesn't expect much from advertising.

Fortunately the GLOG is a rare creature.

Wise advertisers expect plenty from their advertising dollar. And they prefer to keep luck out of the picture.

So they don't try to cover the nation with a flimsy catch-all schedule. They pick their best markets—then really cover them.

Naturally they use newspapers. Because newspapers are basic—the foundation of any intelligent ad schedule.

Because only the newspaper reaches just about everybody in every community. Because only the newspaper carries the sense of urgency—"If it's advertised today, I'd better go down and get it quick."

No wonder advertisers invested twice as much money in newspapers last year as in any other medium!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!
