A total of 21.2 inches of snow fell in Holland during December, a sharp contrast to the all-time high of 66 inches in December, 1963, according to statistics compiled by Lynn P. Wheaton, official weather observer.

Heaviest snowfall of 3.7 inches fell on Dec. 15, quite different from the 13 inches which fell Dec. 17, 1963. Greatest depth on the ground at any time was 7.9 inches, compared with 26 inches last year and 32 inches in 1962.

Average temperature in December was 26.5 degrees or 2.9 degrees below normal. The maximum was 44 on Dec. 20 and the minimum was 4 on Dec. 9.

Although the snowfall was relatively light, Holland had more than its share of slippery roads during the first half of the month. Sleet was noted on only one occasion on Dec. 28, and fog was listed on four occasions on Dec. 23, 24, 29 and 30.

Biting winds and snow flurries on Dec. 14 marred official ceremonies at Holland's windmill when the first structural beams of the old windmill De Zwaan were put into place.

The maximum was 44, compared with 54 in 1963, 62 in 1962, 61 in 1961 and 56 in 1960. The minimum was 4 compared with -16 in 1963, 1 in 1962, 4 in 1961 and -5 in 1960.

Average maximum was 32.2, compared with 29.4 in 1963, 34.8 in 1962, 35.4 in 1961 and 33.4 in 1960. Average minimum was 20.7, compared with 13.5 in 1963, 20.1 in 1962, 23.6 in 1961, and 18.5 in 1960. Average temperature was 26.5, compared with 21.5 in 1963, 27.4 in 1962, 29.4 in 1961 and 25.9 in 1960.

Precipitation measured 2.04 inches, compared with 5.19 inches in 1963, 4.75 inches in 1962, 1.60 inches in 1961 and 1.48 inches in 1960. Precipitation fell on 20 days, compared with 26 days in 1963, 18 days in 1962, 18 days in 1961 and 18 days in 1960.

The 21.2-inch snowfall compared with 66 inches in 1963, 50.5 inches in 1962, 18.8 inches in 1961 and 16 inches in 1960. Greatest depth on the ground was 7.9 inches, compared with 26 inches in 1963, 32 inches in 1962, 10 inches in 1961 and 12.5 inches in 1960.

Greatest precipitation in a 24-hour period was .50 inch, compared with 1.90 inches in 1963, 1.20 inches in 1962, .50 inch in 1961 and .40 inch in 1960.

Boy Seriously Hurt in Crash

Christopher Visscher, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Visscher of 657 Anderson Ave., was on the critical list Monday at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids with head injuries suffered in a three-car crash on South Shore Dr. near Allen St. Saturday night. Hospital officials said the boy's condition was improving, however.

Holland police said the Visscher boy was riding in a car driven by his father when the car was struck from behind by a car driven by George Welch, 31, of 472 West 16th St., and forced into the rear of the third car driven by David E. Van Orman, 24, of 705 Myrtle Ave.

Also in the Visscher auto were the boy's mother and two other Visscher children, Carin, 2, and Cindy, 6. None of the others was injured.

Welch was treated at Holland Hospital for minor injuries and was later released.

Police said all three vehicles were headed west on South Shore Dr. The Van Orman auto and the Visscher car were stopped, waiting for a car ahead of them to make a left turn into a driveway, when the crash occurred.

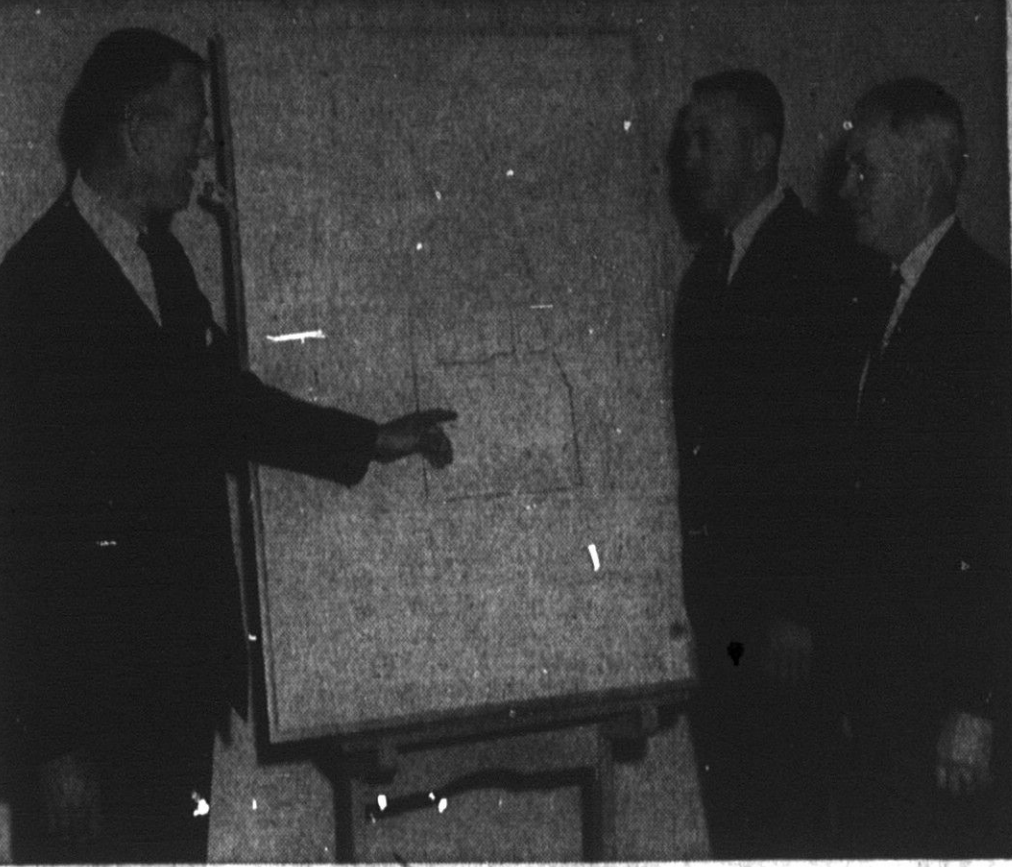

After the accident, Welch's car careened off the road and struck a fence at the Henry Weyenberg residence at 841 South Shore Dr. Fire broke out in the engine of Welch's car and was extinguished. Holland firemen were called to the scene.

Police are continuing their investigation of the crash.

Windmill Drawbridge Contract Let

City Council Wednesday night approved contracts for construction of a drawbridge and a service bridge in connection with Windmill Island.

The drawbridge contract involving a replica of an authentic drawbridge in an open air museum at Arnhem, the Netherlands, was awarded to the Willard Meyer Co. for low bid of $17,851.92.

Previously, plans had called for a rather light footbridge, but they were changed when plans were available for reproducing an authentic drawbridge of an earlier Dutch period. The drawbridge over which visitors to the windmill will cross over the canal and dikes will be a sturdy affair of heavy timbers, designed 10 feet wide with 20-foot approaches. Plans were drawn by Kammeraad and Stroop, architects.

Contract for the service bridge was awarded to Dell Construction Co. for low bid of $6,390. This will be a standard timber bridge for rural type roads designed for 30-ton weights. The span will be 27 feet, and the bridge will rise 10 to 15 feet above the water, depending on water levels.

Following a public hearing, Council approved vacating a 77-foot portion of Ninth St. between Lincoln and Fairbanks Ave. No objections were voiced.

City Auditor John Fonger, who is also the city's representative on the Allegan County Board of Supervisors, was appointed to represent the city at dedication ceremonies for the new Allegan County Youth Home Jan. 9 at 1:30 p.m.

Council set a public hearing Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. on a petition requesting vacating a portion of an alley lying between 18th and 19th Sts. running from College to Columbia Aves.

Application from Walter Dietz for a permit to move a house from 498 State St. to 515 West 22nd St. was tabled until the next regular meeting.

A communication from the Liquor Control Commission requested objections to renewal of licenses to sell alcoholic beverages for consumption on the premises be forwarded in resolution form, otherwise licenses would be automatically renewed. The communication was referred to the city manager for study and report.

A claim against the city from Donald Stegink, of 197 West 28th St., was referred to the city's insurance carrier and the city attorney.

Council approved proposed specifications for taking bids for four police cruisers and authorized the clerk to take bids.

Council amended a previous resolution on exchange of property between the city and the then Western Foundry Co., changing the name to Consolidated Foundries and Mfg. Corp.

Also approved was a recommendation from Civic Center Manager Joe Moran setting a split rate for use of kitchen facilities at Civic Center. A fee of $50 will be charged for full use of the kitchen including dishes, silver, dishwasher and extra kitchen help required by the health department, and $25 fee will be charged for the use of the kitchen facilities involving no use of dishes, silver, dishwasher or extra help.

A report from the city sanitarian pointed out that the $25 rate should require single-use eating utensils (paper plates, etc.) except when food and eating utensils are provided by a licensed caterer or when the function is a family-type, potluck.

Speaker Lists Plan for Growth

"Holland's leaders have a tremendous responsibility to make sound planning for growth," Michael Conboy, executive director of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion, said Wednesday at the Hotel Warm Friend.

Conboy in addressing more than 75 members of the Chamber of Commerce at this morning's "early bird" breakfast said that Holland is presently at a "critical mass" for growth. He said that sound planning and leadership are necessary to make sure the growth is along broad economic lines and at the same time retains the character of the community.

Conboy cited as good examples of planning and leadership the city's master plan, the capacity for expansion in Holland's water, sewer, and utilities and the attractive location of the city's industrial park.

He emphasized, however, that Holland must continue "to be ahead of its growth trend." Two ways to do this, Conboy suggested, might be to review and revise the city's master plan, and to think in terms of more than the present boundaries of the city.

He also said the city should plan for overall economic development. He said that leaders should work to promote not only heavy industry, but also tourism and agriculture in the area. One way to do this, he said, might be to present alternatives sites for new businesses to locate around town.

Conboy said that the whole idea of growth for Holland as well as the state is in competing successfully with other cities and states. Holland must keep its already good image of a clean and industrious town, he said.

Two ways of retaining the city's unique image might be to set up a committee of the chamber or other organization to maintain the beauty of the city, and to promote fully the city's unique ties with the Netherlands.

Conboy concluded that the outlook for the state and city seem quite bright. He said that there was about $1 billion in new investment in Michigan's economy and that the state's economic growth was generating 125,000 future jobs.

He added, however, that Michigan and Holland should take advantage of growth opportunities while times are good. He said that steps for economic growth are far more effective when they are made during economic upturns rather than during recession periods.

Council Names Dr. Hollis Clark

Dr. Hollis H. Clark Jr., 34-year-old doctor of veterinary medicine, was named by City Council Wednesday night to fill the vacancy of third ward councilman succeeding Harold R. Volkema who was elected to the state senate in the Nov. 3 election.

Others nominated for the position were William De Mots and Gerald Appledorn.

Dr. Clark, who received a majority on the second ballot, is married and has two children.

He came to Holland seven years ago. A native of Lansing, he is a graduate of Michigan State University and spent two years as first lieutenant in the U.S. Army at Fort Sill, Okla. Before coming to Holland he spent 1½ years at the Veterinary Medical Center in Flint.

He is former treasurer and board member of the Michigan Association of the Professions. The Clarks reside at 129 West 24th St. An Episcopalian, he is president of the Holland Community Concert Association and is active in Holland Community Theatre.

Several other board members were reappointed to new terms. These include Gordon Cunningham and Jack Leenhouts as officers of members of the Board of Review for one-year terms and Ralph Bouwman as citizen member for a three-year term.

John Keuning and Clarence Klaasen were reappointed to the Planning Commission for three-year terms and Lawrence A. Wade to the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors for a four-year term.

The Board of Review appointments were made by Council and the Planning Commission appointments by the mayor. The supervisor appointment was made by the mayor with advice and approval of Council.

Council also designated sessions for the Board of Review, setting the time of the first four days from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. in City Hall. Salary was set at $12 a day including city officers.

A report from the Traffic and Safety Commission recommending an ordinance restricting parking on the north and east sides of all residential streets except those already posted from Dec. 1 to April 1 was referred to the city manager.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt recalled that evidence for such a move appeared insufficient at a previous meeting and wondered if all details had been considered sufficiently to request such an enabling ordinance.

City Manager Herb Holt felt the present system of restricting parking when snow deposits prompted such action had worked out satisfactorily, pointing to complete cooperation of the press and for the most part from citizens. He said special signs were put up in some areas and in some cases tickets were issued.

He was of the opinion that the Traffic and Safety Commission recommendation was somewhat sweeping, pointing out that some residential streets are sufficiently wide so that restricting parking to one side for four months would not be necessary. He added he preferred a more selective approach.

Council approved a 60-day option on property at 67 West 13th St. for $8,100 which property is adjacent to city-owned property to the east for proposed development as a parking lot for

City to Join In Salt Price Fixing Suit

Holland city will intervene in litigation involving antitrust proceedings against certain salt suppliers from whom the city has purchased rock salt, City Council decided unanimously Wednesday night.

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham explained class action now pending in the U.S. district court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania, and recommended that the city retain the law firm of Cohen, Shapiro, Berger and Cohen of Philadelphia as its representative.

Holland will be joining several other cities in the state in seeking redress in alleged price fixing, arising out of government indictments in 1961 in Philadelphia and Minneapolis. Other cities include Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Detroit and several county road commissions, Cunningham said.

Local purchases of rock salt total $40,000 to $50,000 and while estimates of recovery are elusive at best, it was the opinion of David Berger of the Philadelphia firm that the recovery might be 10 to 30 per cent of the gross price.

In recommending action, Cunningham said amounts involved are not great but are substantial, aside from the fact that "this is something of a matter of principle" in view of the fact that the city had engaged in price fixing suits against suppliers of electrical equipment.

Cunningham explained that the fee in this type of litigation would be the standard one-third of net recovery for the Philadelphia firm, and that out-of-pocket costs to the city are not to exceed $2,500. Council approved the fee proposal.

Cunningham said there is reasonable expectation of recovery, but that charges of artificial prices are yet to be proved. His recommendation came after a week of study on the local case, including a meeting in Lansing Dec. 30 attended by city attorneys from various cities in Michigan.

Herrick Public Library.

A discussion ensued on possibilities of obtaining other property in the immediate area. Entering into this discussion was the subject of city-owned property on West 12th St. currently in use for tulip plantings.

In separate action on suggestion of Councilman Peerbolt, the city manager was instructed to draft a report on this property for the first meeting in February. The 12th St. property originally had been obtained as a site for a branch office for the county building.

Council passed an ordinance amending the salary for associate municipal judge to $10 an hour, $25 a half day and $50 a day, the total compensation not to exceed $1,500 in any one year unless additional compensation be authorized by Council when such associate is called upon to perform extraordinary services over long periods of time.

All Councilmen were present. Mayor Nelson Bosman presided. The invocation was given by Dr. Anthony Luidens, retired minister of the Reformed Church.

Army Pfc Bennie A. Summers, son of Mrs. Willie P. Hamlin of Douglas was assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany on Dec. 26. A graduate of Fennville High School Pfc. Summers entered the Army in December of 1963 and completed basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky.

ALLEGAN — Three teenagers, including a Holland girl, were killed when their car slammed into a tree on M-40, about nine miles north of Allegan, early Sunday.

All were pronounced dead at the scene of the crash by medical examiner, Dr. Peter A. Brachman of Allegan. Miss Unruh and one of the youths had been thrown from the auto.

Allegan County Sheriff's officers said the car was owned by Westgate, but it had not been determined who was driving the car at the time of the accident.

The crash occurred at 12:15 a.m. near the intersection of M-40 and 12th Ave., about a half-mile north of the M-89 intersection. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road, coming out of a sweeping curve at the highway's intersection with M-89.

Deputies said the driver apparently lost control of the car when the vehicle skidded on a patch of ice. The car traveled about 100 feet before striking the tree, located approximately 30 feet off the right side of the highway.

Volkema Hits Mayor Bosman Over Method

State Sen. Harold Volkema and former third ward city councilman, today expressed surprise at the choice of his successor but at the same time said he did not challenge the selection.

Dr. Hollis H. Clark Jr. was elected Wednesday night by city council to fill Volkema's term which expires in April this year. Volkema resigned Dec. 31.

Volkema was miffed that Mayor Nelson Bosman had not informed him that Bosman was supporting Dr. Clark for the vacancy.

Volkema said two persons had contacted him and expressed interest. One of the two was among the three voted on Wednesday although Volkema, no longer a councilman, could not vote for his successor.

The second man who had contacted Volkema was not nominated for consideration by any of the council members.

Volkema was insistent that Bosman should have informed him personally that Dr. Clark was being considered and that he knew nothing of the matter until Wednesday night.

A radio station had listed Dr. Clark's name as a possible candidate in a newscast earlier Wednesday and the name had been mentioned in discussions by downtown businessmen.

In a release phoned to the Sentinel and both radio stations

Hutchinson Blasts Plan

FENNVILLE — U.S. Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., said Tuesday in a weekly newsletter that he sees no role left for the states in the Great Society program portrayed by President Johnson in his State of the Union message Monday night.

"His all-encompassing program would leave no area to the states and their only function would appear to be the administration of a few facets of federal programs," he said. "In fact, by my reckoning, he mentioned the word (states) only once in his hour-long address. We have long used the terms creeping socialism and the onrush of centralization of government, but as of Monday night these terms can be used only in the past tense...socialism in America is no longer creeping... it is off and running," Hutchinson said.

4th Period Rally Nets 69-64 Win

ST JOSEPH — Holland Christian's basketball squad reversed its script here Tuesday night and came roaring back in the final quarter to take a convincing 69-64 victory over the St. Joseph Bears.

It was a scrappy band of Maroons that really turned it on to fight back from an eight-point deficit at the start of the final period and snatch victory from the host Bears. The outcome was exactly the opposite situation of recent weeks when the Maroons faded after building up big leads to lose four straight contests.

Trailing 55-47 going into the finale, the Maroons, behind an effective all-court press took the lead 57-56 with five minutes left and then played smart basketball to clinch the victory. It was tight up to the finish with the St. Joseph team scoring two quick baskets to whittle the margin to 65-64 with 1:18 remaining. Guard Larry Klaasen came through with a charity toss with seven seconds left and Tom Deur topped it off with a fielder just before the final horn.

It was strictly a pressure victory as the Maroons needed a win badly to snap out of their longest losing streak in years. Christian played its best ball of the season against the tallest foe so far this year. The Bears started twin pivots Tim Fenderbosch and M. Johnson, both huskies and standing 6'5".

A preliminary meeting for organizing an Allegan County Young Republicans Club was held last week at the home of former State Senator and Mrs. Fred Hilbert of Wayland. ## Holland Pastor Participates in Service Attended by LBJ

WASHINGTON — The Rev. Gordon L. Van Oostenburg, pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church in Holland, Mich., and president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, participated in annual service of intercession and Holy Communion in the National Presbyterian Church here Monday.

President Lyndon Johnson and vice president-elect Hubert Humphrey attended the service held each year on the opening of Congress. Several members of the House and Senate attended and six were among the elders officiating in serving the Communion.

The Rev. Van Oostenburg, one of 11 ministers participating in the service, conducted "the call to worship." Senators who officiated at the Communion were Carl T. Curtis and John C. Stennis and representatives were L. H. Houtman, J. Irving Whalley, Tom S. Gettys and Melvin R. Laird.

The service preceding the opening of Congress was initiated 17 years ago and is now sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A. in cooperation with the Council of Churches of the National Capital Area.

Johnson and Humphrey arrived separately but sat together and left together in the President's limousine. They sat on the right side of the church in the third row from the front, in the pew once reserved for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who regularly attended the church.

Others taking part in the service were the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, minister of the National Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Elder G. Hawkins, Bronx N. Y., moderator of the General Assembly, United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.; the Rev. Felix Gear, Decatur, Ga., moderator of the General Assembly, Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.; the Rev. David C. Colwell, president of the Council of Churches of Greater Washington and the Rev. Lowell Russell Ditzon, executive secretary of the Council for the National Presbyterian Church and Center and director of the National Presbyterian Center.

Also taking part were the Rev. Zoltan Beky, bishop of the Hungarian Reformed Church in America; the Rev. Robert J. Marshburn, Statesville, N. C., moderator of the General Synod, Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Vaughn Fults, Nashville, Tenn., moderator of the General Assembly, the Cumberland Presbyterian Church; the Rev. J. A. Fisher, Birmingham, Ala., moderator of the General Assembly, Second Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer, secretary, the United Church of Christ.

Following the service, Rev. Van Oostenburg and the Presbyterian moderators signed a statement calling "for national unity."

"Because the world needs so much what our nation in unity could offer and because our churches can truly minister to our nation only if we try to demonstrate in our lives the gospel we proclaim, we call all Christians to a new dedication in 1965 to the end that together we may strive to bring greater unity within our nation," the joint statement said.

White House Hospitality Described at Club Meet

Official entertaining in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., and all the details of protocol came alive for the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Edward Donivan, librarian at Holland High School, reviewed Wylie T. Buchanan's book, "Red Carpet at the White House."

Adding a dash of her own stimulating personality, Mrs. Donivan termed the book a true picture of the most fascinating and most colorful job in government. The author, she said, was chief of protocol under the second Eisenhower administration of 1956 through 1960. His appointment was by the White House and he held the personal rank of ambassador and an official rank of assistant secretary of state. He formerly had been ambassador to Luxembourg.

With America's rise as a world power, state visits are now frequent and are carried on with meticulous detail, although it was not until 1928 that the state department set up a formal division of protocol whose function is far more than determining who stands next to whom in line or where guests sit at which tables. It covers with split second timing the entire visit of any distinguished guest. Safety and security are big factors.

In 1937, the United States had only one state visit, and that was from the governor-general of Canada, but in the eight years Eisenhower was in office, he entertained 128 kings, queens, presidents, prime ministers and other high officials.

Diplomatic immunity was a particularly interesting subject in the book. Foreign diplomats and their families are exempt from taxes, and from arrests unless they waive immunity.

With 5,000 such persons in Washington and 2,000 to 3,000 in New York, mostly with United Nations, this may seem as if foreign guests "get away with a lot" but Mrs. Donivan said this is a two-way street and American diplomats have immunity in foreign capitals, and thus this country stands to gain more than it loses, particularly in cases of unusual laws which otherwise would subject diplomats overseas to huge fines, imprisonment and possibly worse.

Although the book covers interesting details on many state visits, Mrs. Donivan chose two visits, the one the Eisenhowers enjoyed the most and the one they liked the least. These, of course, are the visits of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip of England in 1957 and the Khrushchev entourage in 1959.

The six-day visit of Queen Elizabeth was pure joy as such visits go. Instead of staying in Blair House, the official guest house for such visitors, the queen and prince were entertained in the White House since Blair House was being redecorated. The Eisenhowers previously had been entertained in Buckingham Palace and the President was eager to return hospitality.

The official cause for the queen's visit was the 350th anniversary Jamestown Festival, with her arrival in the Williamsburg, Va., area, before Washington and New York. But the real reason, it appeared, was to cement ties more firmly with England, following the Suez crisis. The enthusiastic response in Washington and New York to the royal visitors was greater than could possibly have been anticipated.

In sharp contrast was the 1959 visit of Nikita Khrushchev who rode through almost empty streets in Washington on his way to the White House. Real purpose for this visit was a return visit of Eisenhower to Moscow, but such plans were cancelled after the U-2 incident. The Russians' welcome (50 in party) was icy in New York too, and the trip by rail across the country failed to bring any gracious comment from the visitors except enthusiasm for a sunset and a waterfall.

Even gracious Eleanor Roosevelt failed to thaw the Russian freeze in a visit to Hyde Park, and the party departed without even sampling the food at her buffet.

The two most asked questions on protocol activities by Americans are: what does it cost, and is it worth it? The ordinary cost of a week's visit for a dignitary and a party of 10 or 12 persons is $11,000 although a visit by King Saud and his entourage of 70 cost $30,000 plus $5,000 for repairs to Blair House. But Author Buchanan believes the effort and expense is worth every cent, particularly in view of world understanding and world peace.

The reviewer was introduced by Mrs. Kenneth Kookier, club president, who called attention to a literature seminar Jan. 12 at 2 p.m. on the works of Henry and William James. The regular meeting on Jan. 19 will feature a talk by Stuart Shaw of the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York. His subject will be "American Furniture in the 18th Century."

Miles Swears In Miles In New Year's Day Ritual

When 87-year-old Judge Fred T. Miles administered the oath of office Friday to his son, Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles of Grand Haven, the two were engaging in a New Year's Day ritual which has been repeated on many occasions.

It was the fifth time the younger judge appeared before his father to take a New Year's Day oath in the Miles home at 14 East 26th St. Frederick has served as probate judge of Ottawa County for four 4-year terms and now, under the new constitution, is starting a six year term. This is the longest time any probate judge has served in Ottawa county.

The elder judge also has sworn in another son, Wendell A. Miles, as prosecutor of Ottawa county on three occasions on New Year's Day, and once in a special ceremony in Hotel Warm Friend when Wendell became U.S. attorney for Western Michigan.

For Friday's ceremony, Frederick used an old well-worn Bible which his father had given him, opening the family heirloom to Matthew 7:12 which reads: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets."

The younger judge said it was his New Year's resolution to learn the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5th, 6th, and 7th chapters), something his father had done many years ago. The elder Miles, who suffered a slight stroke some weeks ago while spending several weeks in Holland Hospital with a liver ailment, felt he probably could not recall the entire passage at present.

Jaunty despite his recent serious illness, the elder judge found time for a few words on New Year's Day. "It's a great honor to be a judge," speaking from his 13 years of experience on the bench for the 20th judicial circuit (Ottawa and Allegan counties), "but a good judge forgets all about that in the face of his responsibilities. Frederick's work in probate court deals with the rights and responsibilities of children and making such decisions is one of the greatest responsibilities of any judge. The future depends on changing attitudes and most of the troubles in the world today result from children gone wrong."

"DO YOU SOLEMNLY SWEAR . . ." — Judge Fred T. Miles (left) administers the oath of office to his son, Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles, for the fifth time in a New Year's ceremony in the elder Miles home which has become a tradition in the Miles family. The younger Miles is starting his fifth term as probate judge of Ottawa county.

Albion Wins 4th Straight Game, 84-79

ALBION—Inability to hit free throws and ineffectiveness on the boards cost Hope College's basketball team here Wednesday night and Albion took over sole possession of first place in the MIAA with an 84-79 win in Kresge gym.

For the Britons it was their fourth straight league win while the Flying Dutchmen now have a 3-1 league mark.

Hope trailed the entire game and stayed within striking distance. But frequently when the Flying Dutchmen had the chance to gain on the winners, they would miss the first chance on a one-and-one free throw situation, miss a shot or throw the ball away.

They also had troubles on the boards as Hope found the Britons tougher on the boards than expected. Big Bruce Brown, 6'7" senior, and 6'4" Roger Moliere were good on the boards along with replacements 6'3" freshman Les Miller and 6'5" Tom Gerow.

Performances by Miller and Gerow were also indicative of Albion's fine bench. Coach Dean Dooley was able to rest his regulars and the subs kept up the Albion attack.

This was especially true of Gerow. In the closing minutes he came through with three baskets and three free throws to keep Albion in front.

Albion kept one to seven-point margins the entire first half and ended with a 39-33 half-time lead. Carl Walters shot a 55-foot two-hand basket as the half ended for the most exciting Hope basket in the game.

Hope cut the margin to three points early in the second half but a quick Albion surge pushed the Britons to a 12-point lead, 58-46 with 12:58 left. This was the game's biggest margin and Albion's 58th point came on Floyd Brady's goal tending.

The Flying Dutchmen began chipping away again and in the next three minutes had again narrowed the count to three points. A Walters' jumper with 8:50 to play made the score 58-55.

The winners kept three to nine-point margins in the next four minutes but a Brady dunk at 2:34 got Hope started again. Brady's basket made the score 72-65.

Hope's final surge came with a minute left. Brady hit a rebound basket to make the score 80-75 and Chris Buys followed with a basket to put Hope within three.

With 26 seconds left, Brady fouled Don Genson and he hit a pair. Roy Anker got Hope's last basket nine seconds later. Genson's two free shots in the final seconds ended the scoring.

Genson made six of six free throws in the game and the Britons hit 20 of 31. Hope made only 19 of 34. Genson, Dave Anspaugh and Brown each had 14 for the winners while Moliere added 13 and Larry Downs 12 as all of the Albion starters were in double figures.

Brady, who turned in a fine all-around performance, led Hope with 22 including 10 of 11 free throws. He hit six of 12 from the floor. Buys, who had eight of 17, made 18 points and Walters, seven of 17, had 16.

Clare Van Wieren, Hope's leading scorer, hit 15 but took only nine shots. He made six. Hope made 30 of 66 shots for 45 per cent while Albion had 31 of 76 for 42 per cent.

Hope, now 4-4, entertains Lake Forest Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center. Albion is 7-1.

5 LMAC Records Set This Season

Action in the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference resumes Jan. 15 and league teams will be shooting for five records set in the final game before the holidays between Benton Harbor and Grand Haven on Dec. 23. Benton Harbor dumped Grand Haven, 112-88 and the Tigers' score was a record. The mark had been 100, set by Benton Harbor against Muskegon Heights, Jan. 24, 1964.

The total score, 180, was a record smashing the old mark of 176 made by Muskegon Heights against Holland, 90-86 last Jan. 17. Another mark is for free throws made by both teams, 58. The previous mark was 51.

Free throws made by one team, 38, wipes out the 32 tied by Grand Haven and Benton Harbor twice and set for the last time in the Holland-Benton Harbor game Dec. 11. The other record is personal fouls, 59, which erases the mark of 54 set in an overtime game between Holland and Grand Haven on Dec. 22, 1961.

Electrical Profits Exceed Half Million in Holland

The 70th annual report of the Board of Public Works which was submitted to City Council Wednesday night revealed a net income for the electric department of $529,807.46 for the year 1963-64, or an increase of $107,968.99 over the corresponding period the previous year.

Since up to 50 per cent of this net income figure goes into the city budget, this means that $264,903.73 is turned over to the city. City Manager Herb Holt said Council had budgeted $275,000 for BPW revenue, earmarking $175,000 for the general fund and $100,000 for capital improvements.

Net income for the water department totaled $27,388.35, compared with $1,091.31 the previous year. The sewage department listed a loss of $22,060.49 compared with a net income of $34,900.47 the previous year. This difference was accounted for in a new entry for depreciation this year for $47,814.81.

There was no allowance for depreciation the previous year. Water sold to Zeeland during the period amounted to $24,577.65.

The report lists total investment in the electric department at $12,888,435.53; water department, $5,233,306.66; sewage department $2,625,027.12.

Since the organization of the Board of Public Works in 1893, 42 men including present members of the board have served on the board. As in the case of all other boards of the city, they serve without pay. Two regular sessions are held each month, generally the Monday preceding Council meeting.

Board members are Randall C. Bosch, president; Adrian Klaasen, vice president; Winthrop F. Roser, Henry S. Maentz and William P. De Long. Guy E. Bell is superintendent; R. J. Riemersma, assistant superintendent, and R. H. Reidsma, office manager.

Ottawa County Grandelius To Be Here On Jan. 28

By Richard Machiele, Ottawa Co. Extension Director

I believe every dairy farmer milking 15 or more cows should make a New Year's resolution to join a local testing association.

As we look over the records of years back we find that in 1905 when the first testing association was organized in New-ago County, average production per cow was 5,334 pounds of milk and 215 pounds of butterfat. By 1924 when alfalfa became a part of the dairy rations, production that year was 7,227 pounds milk and 324 pounds fat.

Twenty years later with the advent of artificial breeding production was 7,520 pounds milk and 354 pounds fat. This year, 1964, with more than 20% of our cows on test, production is 12,490 pounds of milk and 469 pounds of fat. Translated to dollars, income per cow has doubled since production testing started. In terms of $4 milk, income has increased $200 per cow since 1944.

We wish we could report that the year of 1965 for farmers will be a glowing year. According to economists, the gross farm income will drop to about 943 million dollars from the 948 million dollars of 1964. Production expenses will increase and with the declining gross income, will mean less net income of about 20 million dollars in 1965.

Farm production expenses have increased over the last few years and further increase is expected in 1965. Wage rates for farm labor and farm machinery costs have increased about one-third in the last 10 years.

One bright outlook is the prices paid for feed and livestock are expected to be steady to lower. Also there is a bright outlook for feeder cattle as it is expected the purchase price for feeder cattle and feed will be lower. Income from feeding might be slightly better than last year.

As far as milk is concerned, there has been a decline in cow numbers in Michigan but an increase in milk of about 2%. The prediction is that there will be very little change in milk prices for the year ahead.

Saginaw Women Voters To Back Income Tax

SAGINAW (UPI)—A campaign will be launched by the Saginaw League of Women Voters for a favorable vote on the proposed 1 per cent income tax which goes to the voters Feb. 2.

This will be the second time the league has gone to bat for the tax levy. A similar measure, supported strongly by the league, met defeat two years ago.

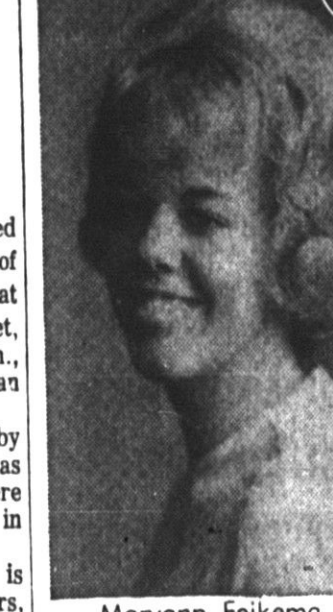

The speed of the ostrich is said to exceed 60 miles an hour, but not for a long-sustained period.

Grandelius was in Muskegon attending the Muskegon all-city high school football banquet when he heard on television he had been fired as offensive backfield coach.

He had served this season in the post before being fired along with four other Detroit aides. Shortly after the assistants were fired, head coach George Wilson resigned. Reportedly Grandelius will be named to the post Sunday.

Schuler May Resign Post

MARSHALL — A new commissioner may be selected in the near future for the MIAA. Reportedly Win Schuler has asked to be relieved of his position as commissioner due to the press of business. Schuler is an internationally known restaurateur.

It has been reported that Schuler has offered to serve the MIAA until a successor can be found to replace him. Action on a new commissioner may come up at the league meeting in May.

Hope College athletic director Gordon Brewer said today he had heard nothing about the report Schuler was to step down from the post.

Schuler, the fourth MIAA commissioner in 77 years the league has been in operation, took the post in the spring of 1962. The MIAA first named a commissioner in 1922 when Clark Herron of Hillsdale took the post.

He served until 1931 and James Hesselman of Lansing took over in 1931 and held the office until the spring of 1933 when DeGay Ernst started a 28-year tenure and served until his retirement in the spring of 1961.

During the 1961-62 school year, the league operated without a commissioner while successors to Ernst were considered. Al Vanderbush, Hope's faculty representative, was a member of the MIAA group selecting Schuler.

The Guild for Christian Service of Sixth Reformed Church will be in charge of the service at 7 p.m. in the church tonight in commemoration of the Week of Prayer. Speaker will be the Rev. William Swets, pastor of Maplewood Reformed Church.

Suggests Plan To Train Youth

Former City Clerk's Wife Dies at 61

Mrs. Alta Grevenoged, 61, of 41 West 22nd St., widow of Clarence Grevenoged, died this morning at Holland Hospital after a lingering illness. Her husband, former city clerk, died in February of 1961.

Mrs. Grevenoged was a member of Faith Christian Reformed Church and had been active in mission work in the Kibbie Chapel, teacher in Ladies Aid Society, past president of the Eunice Aid Society, the Hospital Auxiliary, and was scheduling chairman of the Hospitality Coffee Shop at the hospital.

Surviving are two sons, Merle, of Western Springs, Ill.; and Gordon, of Holland; one daughter, Mrs. James (Eleanor) Rozendal, of Grand Rapids; eight grandchildren; two brothers, Harry Vork, of Holland and George Vork of East Saugatuck; three sisters, Mrs. John Bartels, Mrs. John Menken, and Mrs. Ralph Waldyke, all of Holland.

Boss recommended that the training program be handled under the new county committee organized to implement the federal Economic Opportunities act. He suggested that youths might be trained to be gas station attendants, waitresses, clerks in stores and other similar jobs. He added that perhaps after getting a first job the youths might be motivated to go on to other jobs.

Zane Cooper, manager of the Holland branch of the Michigan Employment Securities Commission, told the group that his agency already has vocational training programs in drafting, auto mechanics, woodworking and auto body repair, but that the commission has trouble getting the dropouts motivated. He said that his commission has had no applicants for the training programs from the Holland area.

Willis Boss, Ottawa County

4-H extension agent, recommended a vocational training program for school dropouts and other unemployed youths at a breakfast meeting of the Holland Workers With Youth at the Hotel Warm Friend Tuesday morning.

Boss told the group of more than 25 social workers, educators, police and other workers with youth that the Holland area needs a training program that will reach the five to ten per cent of the area's youth who are not in school or involved in other youth activities.

Boss recommended a ten-hour training program which would give specific training in a job, and also attempt to teach responsibility and develop a more pleasing personality for employment.

To be successful, Boss said, the program would have to be handled by others than the youth organizations or the schools. He said that having the training program under any specific group would probably discourage many dropouts since they had already dropped out of such groups.

Boss recommended that the training program be handled under the new county committee organized to implement the federal Economic Opportunities act. He suggested that youths might be trained to be gas station attendants, waitresses, clerks in stores and other similar jobs. He added that perhaps after getting a first job the youths might be motivated to go on to other jobs.

Zane Cooper, manager of the Holland branch of the Michigan Employment Securities Commission, told the group that his agency already has vocational training programs in drafting, auto mechanics, woodworking and auto body repair, but that the commission has trouble getting the dropouts motivated. He said that his commission has had no applicants for the training programs from the Holland area.

Victory Over Temptation
Matthew 4:1-11
By C. P. Dame

We are all tempted. It is not a sin to be tempted but, it is a sin to court and yield to temptation. Jesus was tempted in all things as we are "yet without sin." He was tempted to enjoy, to do and to get — the whole round of desire.

I. Bread is important but not of primary importance. The three synoptic gospels, Matthew, Mark and Luke, tell the story of the temptations of Jesus. Jesus was led by the Holy Spirit to be tempted—this was a part of His training for the Messiahship. The temptations came from without.

A temptation is an inducement to do evil. Jesus, when He was hungry, for He had been fasting, was asked by the devil to prove His Sonship by making bread out of stones—to use His miraculous power for self. Jesus refused quoting Deuteronomy 8:3b, "It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

This was a temptation to enjoy. To use one's special gifts exclusively for self and for personal gain is wrong.

Communism claims it is concerned about bread for the poor. It teaches that when a man's physical needs are satisfied all is well. Christianity says that man needs bread but he also needs the Word of God. Today many people in our land think only of things and luxuries and forget the needs of the soul.

II. It is wrong to tempt God. The devil does not give up easily. He told Jesus to cast Himself down from the pinnacle of the temple and show in a spectacular manner that He is the Son of God.

The devil quoted Scripture, "He shall give His angels charge concerning thee; and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou shalt dash thy foot against a stone." Psalm 91:11. Satan left out the words, "in all thy ways."

Jesus refused this temptation saying, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God" (Deuteronomy 6:16).

It is wrong to presume upon God. This was a temptation to really do something in a sensational manner.

III. We must worship and serve God only. The devil took Jesus up on a high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of this world and their glory and promised to give them to Him if He would worship him. Once again Jesus quoted Scripture, saying, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve" (Deuteronomy 6:13).

The devil promised to give something which he did not have. He is like a politician who promises more than he can deliver. This was a temptation to get.

Jesus resisted every temptation by quoting Scripture. This was His source of authority. Too many modern Christians are poorly armed and hence are defeated when tempted.

We should follow the example of the Psalmist who said, "Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee" (Psalm 119:11) and that of Jesus who said, "It is written" and overcame.

Christian Drops Fourth Straight

Muskegon Christian's basketball squad came on strong in the second half New Year's afternoon in the Civic Center to whip Holland Christian, 76-59 before a capacity crowd of more than 2,500 fans.

The loss to the state's top rated class C outfit was Holland's fourth straight and school officials can't recall any occasion within the last 15 years that a Christian outfit lost four successive contests. For Muskegon Christian, it was their fifth win in seven starts this season.

The Maroons were in the game until the waning minutes and led throughout the first half, leading by one point both at the end of the first quarter and at halftime. Going into the final eight minutes the Maroons trailed 55-50 and never got any closer than that during the last stanza.

Aided by strong bench strength, the good shooting Warriors pulled away from a tiring Maroon aggregation. An all court press also bothered the Maroons in the final two periods. Coach Elmer Walcott kept shuffling players in and out during the entire game enabling the Muskegon crew to control the boards as well as keep the pressure on the full 32 minutes.

Coach Art Tuls' club looked good in the first half, featuring good shooting by forward Tom Wedeven and guard Tom Deur and some fine individual moves by Guard Larry Klassen. Fouls again bothered Harold Alferink, lanky Maroon center, as he picked up three in the first six minutes of play.

Muskegon received fine individual efforts from Steve Tubergen, rugged Warrior forward, guard Vern Palsrok and substitute Wes Van Dyke. Besides playing strong board games, all three chipped in with 17 points apiece, many coming at crucial points in the game.

The biggest Maroon lead in the game was eight points, coming early in the second stanza. They also led by five points on three different occasions in the third period. Muskegon's largest margin was 18 markers just before the end of the contest.

After the invaders had scored on a foul shot to open the tilt, the Maroons behind three quick baskets by Wedeven, moved out to an early lull. Both teams had the shooting jitters in the opening minutes before guard Den Vander Stelt of the winners and Deur of the Maroons began to trade baskets. Christian led 15-14 at the first horn.

The Girls League of the Reformed church held their Christmas party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Neal Mol last week Monday evening.

Others with perfect attendance were:

Fine shooting by Deur, Wedeven and Klassen boosted the Holland lead to 22-14 before defensive lapses permitted the Warriors to knot the count at 22-22. It was nip and tuck for the rest of the half with Holland never trailing, and still managing to hold a 36-35 lead at the intermission.

Deur and Klassen continued to keep the Maroons on top sending the Maroons out to a 42-36 bulge. Muskegon narrowed the margin to 47-44 before some faulty Maroon passing permitted the Warriors to score eight straight points and take a 52-47 lead. Although the Maroons narrowed the gap to three points on two occasions, there was no stopping the Warriors as fresh players continued to wear down the losers. Muskegon led 55-50 moving into the last eight minutes.

Some great work by Van Dyke enabled the winners to pull away from the Maroons in the opening minutes of the last period. At the midway point it was 67-54 and the Warriors looking stronger as the game wore on. The Maroons tried pressing tactics in the final minutes but couldn't turn the tide.

At the charity lane, Christian hit on 11 out of 21 and Muskegon on 18 out of 26. Deur led with 19 points, followed by Wedeven with 18 for his second straight game.

Christian next travels to St. Joseph on Tuesday.

Hope Drops 104-80 Game To Wheaton

WHEATON, Ill. — Hope College's basketball team had its four-game winning string snapped here Saturday night as Wheaton College recorded a 104-80 win in Centennial gym.

Against Wheaton, Hope had some trouble against the Crusaders' zone press and also were bothered with fouls. Wheaton grabbed a 15-point lead in the first half and held a 60-45 halftime margin.

Hope's play early in the second half was the best of the past two games as the Flying Dutchmen chopped the margin to five points, 69-64, but that was the closest they came.

Roy Anker and Clare Van Wieren led the rally which saw the losers outscore Wheaton, 19-9 in the first eight minutes of the second half. Anker's tip put Hope within five, 69-64.

Van Wieren was handling the rebounding during the rally and also picked up a key basket. Fouls caught up with the losers and Wheaton began to pull away against the Hope replacements.

Carl Walters, who had three fouls in the early minutes of the game and was removed with the score 6-6, picked up his fourth with the second half three minutes along.

Floyd Brady made his fourth foul after Anker's third basket and was sent to the sidelines. Brady returned later and fouled out in the closing minute. The Hope freshmen committed three fouls in the first half.

Wheaton pushed its lead to 94-78 with about a minute to play. The Hope subs chose to press the winners and the result was 10 easy points on six free throws and two baskets. John Simons got Hope's lone two-pointer.

Coach Russ De Vette lauded the play of 6'7" Anker and Van Wieren. Anker blocked many shots and his defensive play was outstanding. He grabbed nine rebounds.

Van Wieren's all-around play pleased De Vette. He scored 22 and snagged 16 rebounds to lead in both departments. Hitting seven of 17 from the floor, Van Wieren has now scored 157 points this season for a 21.3 average. He made eight of nine free throws.

Hope took rebounding honors, 58-35 as Brady picked off 10 and Chris Buys had seven. Hope's free throw shooting was a fine 22 of 28 including four straight and three straight by Buys and Bill Potter.

The winners sank 24 of 38 free throws. From the floor, Wheaton had a fine 44 per cent, with 40 of 90 while Hope had 36 per cent on 29 of 80. Buys was a distant second in scoring with 12.

John Pfund led the winners with 20 while Bill Province had 16 and Kerry Otterby 14. Rog Weavers, 6'6" Grand Haven sophomore, started at center and scored six points.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele
Ottawa County Extension Director

On Jan. 1, 1965, the Michigan Department of Agriculture will adopt the tube agglutination test for all official testing for brucellosis in cattle. During the past two years, the tube agglutination test has been used exclusively on the cooperative brucellosis program and for testing herds for certification status and for export to certain states requiring the use of the tube test.

In order to have a more uniform procedure, the decision was made to discard the use of the plate agglutination test now being used only on blood samples submitted by private practitioners. Therefore, beginning on New Year's Day 1965 the tube agglutination test will be used on all blood samples from cattle submitted to the Michigan Department of Agriculture Laboratory Division.

Because of the nature of the tube agglutination test, which requires an incubation period of 48 hours before determination of the results of the test, there will be no so-called "rush" tests performed on private practitioners blood samples. Herd owners should be advised so they can take this schedule of testing into their planning when testing their cattle for brucellosis.

Testing of beef cattle for anaplasmosis, a sometimes fatal bovine disease, will be available free to beef herd owners who request it. The survey tests will begin in the immediate future. Within recent years the disease has been found in some Michigan herds, but is not extensive as in the major beef producing states. The survey testing will be under the direction of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Livestock Disease Control Division headed by the state veterinarian, Dr. J.F. Quinn.

The tests will be conducted in conjunction with brucellosis testing. If herd owners wish the free anaplasmosis survey test, they must give their approval in writing.

The disease was found in only ten herds in the state in 1964. All but four herds have been cleared up without deaths from disease. Anaplasmosis is chiefly a beef cattle disease although it sometimes is found in dairy herds. This is rare, according to Dr. Quinn.

The ailment is mainly a blood disease that causes listlessness, anemia, and loss of weight in animals. It is thought to be carried from diseased animals to healthy ones by biting insects.

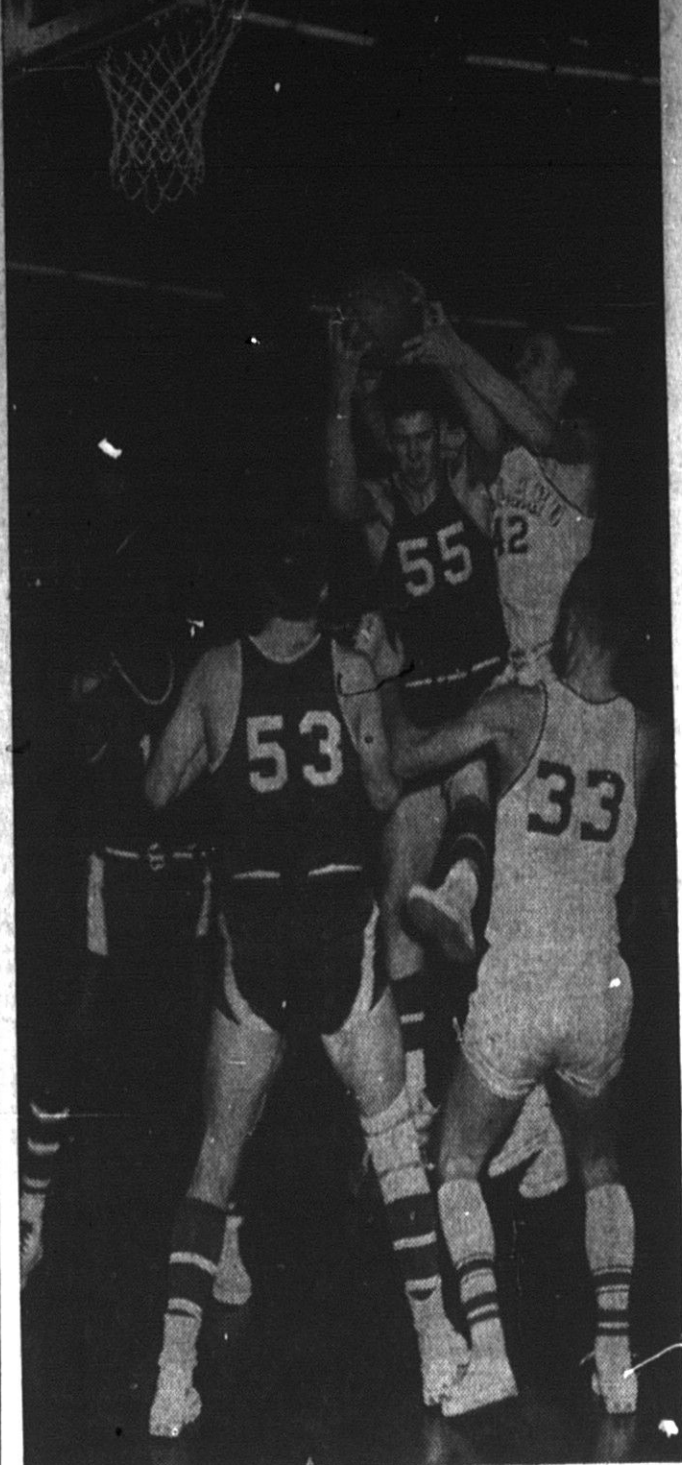

Cattle owners who suspect presence of the disease in their herds should consult their local practicing veterinarian. Originally thought to be a disease prevalent only in hot climates, anaplasmosis has spread northward and has been found in at least 32 states. With the low known incidence in Michigan, livestock disease officials believe eradication of the disease is a distinct possibility in the state with voluntary testing programs a step in this direction.

Two new, plump oat varieties are causing changes in seed recommendations throughout southern Michigan and the central lower peninsula, thanks to their superior yields. Coachman and Ausable, released in the spring of 1964 to certified seed producers, were the top performers in yield trials in Lenawee, Kalamazoo, Tuscola and Ingham counties. The Michigan State University scientists who developed the new varieties, Drs. John Grafius and Richard Kiesling, report that the new varieties not only are outyielding their competition, but they also have a high degree of disease resistance. Both have more resistance to red leaf and black stem than other recommended varieties.

Coachman has adequate resistance to stem rust, but Ausable is susceptible to several common races and, for this reason, is not recommended for the northern lower peninsula or the Upper Peninsula. Recommendations are that Coachman replace Rodney and Clintland types in southern Michigan and that Ausable replace Rodney in the central lower peninsula when seed is available.

Garry should be retained on the recommended list. It has a fine yield record and has excellent lodging resistance, but it tends to have low test weight. In recent yield trials both Coachman and Ausable proved to be resistant to lodging. They had the highest test weights of any varieties grown in Michigan, and both have very large seeds. Field trials showed that Coachman yielded 107.4 bushels per acre during the last three years in Lenawee county. Garry produced 106.3 bushels; Ausable, 100.4; Rodney, 99.0; and Clintland 60 yielded 92.9 bushels per acre. Coachman also topped the list in two years of trials in Kalamazoo county.

A slight alteration has been made in the United States-Mexico border. Mexico lost land along the Rio Grande when the river shifted course in the 19th century. An exchange of treaty ratifications early in 1964 restored to Mexico a large part of El Paso's Chamizal zone. Four miles of the Rio Grande will be relocated in a concrete channel along the new boundary.

Dutch Ragged In Recording 58-55 Win

Although ragged and rusty from a two-week layoff, Holland High's basketball team managed not to relinquish the lead here Tuesday night and hung on to take a 58-55 win over Muskegon Catholic in the Holland fieldhouse before 1,000 fans.

The way the Dutch played most of the time if they had fallen behind they would have had trouble getting back on top. But fortunately for Holland, Muskegon Catholic isn't that good a team.

Holland had one period in the contest when they looked like a fine ball club. After leading 15-12 at the quarter, the Dutch opened up in the second quarter and really went to work.

They got their driving game going and scored 20 points while holding the losers to 11. Holland was getting the rebounds, set the fast break in motion a few times and played good defense, allowing the Crusaders only one free throw in the eight minutes.

Sub Don Colenbrander picked up six points in the rally while John Leenhouts and Cal Beltman each had two baskets and sub Al Holleman added four points, and was tough on the boards.

With two minutes left in the half, Holland after a four-straight basket flurry (two by Beltman and one each by Leenhouts and Colenbrander) held a 33-17 margin, the biggest bulge.

Phil Murray preluded what was to come as he hit two of Catholic's last three first half baskets and the Crusaders cut the lead to 35-23 at half.

The 5'11" Murray, having his best night of the season, opened up in the second half and hit three of Catholic's first four baskets and suddenly Muskegon was in the game. They cut the margin to four points, 37-33 midway in the period.

But Coach Don Piersma got his club to hold the ball and the losers fouled or Holland worked for the good shot and the Dutch scored six straight points, three each by Steve Millard and Beltman. Millard added another basket as the quarter closed and Holland led, 45-36.

With Murray bombing jump shots from all over the place, the losers crept within one, 50-49 with 3:13 left. But in the next minute Holland again racked up six points, three free shots by Mike Lawson and a basket and free throw by Beltman and took a 56-50 lead with 2:15 left.

That proved the cushion but the Crusaders pulled within three with 39 seconds left and missed their last basket try 16 seconds later. The losers outscored Holland, 19-13 in the last quarter and Murray got four baskets.

Beltman led Holland with 20, including six baskets in the second half. When Holland decided to hold the ball, Piersma had trouble getting this team to keep running its offense and frequently in trying to pass the ball around, the Dutch forgot to run the patterns and work to get a man open.

This resulted in Holland's driving game falling apart and Beltman got only two baskets in the second half. The board work was also lacking and the Dutch were out rebounded, 27-26 by the shorter Crusaders.

Jerry Jones, 5'11" Catholic player, had lots of spring and picked off many rebounds. Holland's guards, always anxious to run, also lost several of the long rebounds.

From the floor, Holland had its troubles as the Dutch hit only 33 per cent of their shots on 21 baskets in 61 shots. They had quarters of 5-20; 9-22; 4-12 and 3-7. The losers, led by Murray's 26, 16 in the second half, had periods of 6-20; 5-11; 6-22 and 8-21. Holland's shooting was hurt by the ineffectiveness of leading scorer Bob Brolin, who couldn't buy a basket and ended with one free throw.

Holland's free throws, although not a good average, did prove the difference as they hit 16 of 29 while the Crusaders made only five of 12, three in the last three minutes.

The Dutch, now 4-2, return to LMCA action Jan. 15 here against Muskegon Heights. Fearing the consequences of another long layoff, Piersma began today to get his club set for the Tigers. Both teams are 2-1 in the LMCA. Muskegon Catholic is 2-4 overall.

Old Petitions For Van Meer Are Ruled Out

The State Supreme Court in Lansing Tuesday upheld an earlier Ottawa County Circuit Court decision setting aside petitions some Holland township residents had made 2½ years ago to incorporate a 7½-square mile area of Holland township into the city of Van Meer.

Petitions bearing some 200 signatures were filed in July, 1962, seeking incorporation of a new home rule city of some 5,000 population. The petitions came at a time when the Federal school district which is part of the area was considering annexation to Holland city and a portion in the eastern part of the district was considering annexation to Zeeland city.

A maze of litigation followed involving appeals which eventually reached the Supreme Court.

Plaintiffs in the case considered by the Supreme Court were Jack Taylor and Mrs. Mary Ann Visser, residents of Federal district, whose suit was against County Clerk Harris Nieuwma and the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors. The Federal residents were represented by Atty. James E. Townsend of Holland and oral arguments before the Supreme Court were heard last May.

In upholding Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith's opinion, the Supreme Court held that the Van Meer petitions had been insufficient in three respects and they should be set aside.

Judge Smith issued the opinion June 24, 1963, stating that the petitions failed to conform to state laws. He said the map attached to the petition does not clearly show the area to be incorporated; that five areas excluded from the proposed area of incorporation in the legal description were not indicated on the map; and that the heading of the map was incorrect and misleading.

Subsequent litigation was something of a tangle of legal mixups, involving as many as six annexation petitions before the county board. In this framework was a heated election for the Federal district proposing annexation to Holland city on Sept. 24, 1963, which lost 86-77.

In its ruling Tuesday, the Supreme Court levied no costs because a public question was involved.

First National Sets Banking By Television

Banking by television will soon be a reality in Holland.

Henry S. Maentz, president, announced today that First National Bank of Holland will put into operation Thursday two Mosier TV Auto-Banker units at its downtown office.

The TV Auto-Banker will enable First National Bank to provide virtually all in-bank services to drive-in customers, Maentz said.

The Holland bank is the first in Michigan to use this system of television banking.

Developed by the Mosier Safe Co. and manufactured by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., the TV Auto-Banker consists of a specially engineered combination of closed circuit television, voice communication and pneumatic tube system which makes drive-in banking possible at points separated from the main bank while the teller remains inside the bank.

First National's TV Auto-Banker is located near the main bank building at the corner of Eighth St. and Central Ave. in downtown Holland.

The customer and teller can see each other on television screens and can converse with each other in normal tones. The pneumatic tube system whisks transactions between customer and teller, inside the bank, and the customer need only place his transaction in a drawer which is opened and closed by the teller. The customer can watch the teller count his money on the television screen.

Hope Wins Over Aquinas, 90-84

Winning its fourth straight game, Hope College's basketball team started off the New Year in the right fashion Friday night in the Civic Center with a 90-84 win over Aquinas before 1,400 fans.

Against the Tommies, Hope didn't play consistent basketball and suffered from scoring lapses, especially in the first half. Hope's second half comeback and improved play pleased Coach Russ De Vette.

Suffering from the holiday layoff, the winners had trouble finding the basket in the first half and hit only 15 of 48 for 31 per cent. Fortunately for Hope, Aquinas wasn't doing much better and Hope was able to stay in the game.

Janice M. Justine, 16, of 136 East Ninth St., driver of the car, and two passengers, John Holden, 17, of 120 Spruce Ave., and Kathy Kiriazis, 16, of 271 East 11th St., were taken to Holland Hospital. All were released after treatment.

Oldest royal throne in the world is that of Japan.

Aquinas hit 16 of 41 in the first half for 39 per cent and with 7:15 left in the first half enjoyed a seven-point lead. But co-captain Clare Van Wieren took matters in his hands and pulled the Flying Dutchmen back into the game.

He made five quick baskets from various angles and pulled Hope within a point, 31-30 with 3:16 left. Aquinas added five quick points but Hope matched it with five more before the teams tied at 37-37. An Aquinas basket at half gave the losers a 39-37 edge.

After three ties early in the second half, making a total of six in the game, Hope got baskets by Chris Buys and Floyd Brady to lead, 49-45, and never again trailed.

Sub Jim Klein and Van Wieren each added four points in the next spurt and Hope led, 59-49 before Aquinas challenged again. Hope was able to keep De Vette felt Aquinas' second half zone actually helped the winners because it allowed Buys and Carl Walters to hit over the zone. Buys made six of 12 in the second half and eight of 19 in the game and ended with 18.

Walters chipped in 16, including seven baskets in 17 tries, and did some fine ball handling in the closing minutes when the Tommies threatened. Also coming through in the second half were Van Wieren and Brady.

Brady had five of 12 in the second half and made seven of eight free throws, including his last four in the final seconds, and ended with 21.

four to nine-point margins the rest of the game as the losers tried to whittle the score with a periodic press. The last four-point spread was 88-84 with 24 seconds remaining.

Van Wieren had identical halves of six of 12, and his 12 baskets and free throw gave him high honors with 25. He has scored 135 in six games for a 24.1 average.

Hope's second half shooting of 22 for 53 and 42 per cent gave the winners a game total of 36 per cent on 37 baskets in 101 shots. Aquinas ended with 40 per cent with 37 of 91. At the free throw line, Hope had 16 of 22 and Aquinas, 10 of 18.

Dennis Alexander led the losers with 23 and Gary Fewless had 20. Aquinas now has a 5-5 record and Hope is 4-2.

In rebounding, Hope won 63-51 as Van Wieren grabbed 18 and Brady had 16.

Views From The Campus

By Daryl Siedentop

Of what educational significance is a physical education program in an elementary school?

Modern educational theory seems clearly to accord a basic and important role to physical education in the elementary school program. There is a range of opinion that seems significantly unified on at least one point, that every elementary school child should have some organized physical education experience every day as an integral part of his total school experience.

A survey of the present standing of physical education in the elementary school program gives an entirely different answer. Most school systems are content to let a recess or playground period serve as their physical education program. If funds get a little tight elementary physical education is one of the first "frills" that is dropped. In practice we seem to say that elementary physical education has little educational significance.

This educational lag between theory and practice occurs because many educators and most of the tax-paying public do not really believe that schools should be concerned with the education of the whole child. Many people are still shackled with the dualistic notion that the schools should educate the mind and literally forget about the body. Montaigne once pointed out that "it is not a mind, it is not a body that we are training; it is a man, and he ought not to be divided into two parts."

This concept of the organismic unity of man is not an ancient Hebraic idea that is fully carried on in New Testament teachings. Modern Biblical scholars have refuted the dualism that crept into the medieval church and have theologically reestablished the Biblical concept of the whole person.

It is interesting to note, however, that this concept of the organismic unity of man is coming to be more fully understood in our time not as a result of the work done by Biblical scholars or theologians, but rather as a result of the work done by those whose roots lie in the natural and behavioral sciences.

The natural and behavioral sciences have provided educators with a mass of information indicating in its totality that the mind is not educated as a separate entity, nor is the body educated as a separate entity, but that any education is education of the whole person.

For example, in talking about the mental and emotional stability of children, psychiatrist Joseph Jacob points out that "much more emphasis is needed in the elementary grades in the fields which give a sense of body mastery and a sense of identity — oneness with others — so that each child has a reasonable feeling that 'I can do this or that with confidence.' This basic trust of one's self and then of others stems, in part, from a sense of physical coordination."

In other areas we find that the balance beam, jump rope, and balance board are essential tools of the trade for an optometrist treating children with certain vision problems. It is not uncommon to find a large part of the work of remedial reading clinic being done in the gymnasium, and speech therapists, also, find that gross motor activity can help remedy certain speech difficulties that plague children.

If we accept the concept of organismic unity then it should not be too surprising to find that psychologists, optometrists, reading specialists, and speech therapists are using physical education activities in their specialized fields, and we can also begin to recognize the important role that education through the physical can play in the total school experience.

If we can recognize the importance of education through the physical in its developmental sense, as we have discussed it, then how much more important does it become when we speculate to the recreational needs of adults in tomorrow's leisure-time world.

To assume that through free and un-directed play today's child will get adequate developmental activity and also a broad base of skills that will serve him well as an adult is unrealistic — as unrealistic as assuming that children will learn how to read adequately on their own. To assure that adequate results will be achieved our schools must have daily programs of physical education.

Year-end Editions Note Progress, Growth

Special year-end editions of the Owosso Argus-Press, the Benton Harbor News-Palladium, and the Midland Daily News commemorated the achievements of those communities during 1964 and looked to their futures in 1965, as did a special edition of the Sentinel for the Holland area.

The papers surveyed the achievements and prospects in business, industry, education and public services. They reviewed increased building and industrial expansion rates, a shrinking number of unemployed workers, progressive revisions in city governments, and expanded educational facilities.

The accomplishments listed indicated that 1964 was a year of considerable progress, and the outlook for 1965 indicates a continuation of growth and expansion.

Marriage vows between Miss Diane Shashaguay and Gary Dale Vander Molen were exchanged at an evening ceremony last Wednesday in First Methodist Church.

Floral arrangements of red carnations and white snapdragons formed the setting for the single ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Harold Derks. Mrs. Rudolph Mattson was organist and Marshall Hill was soloist.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. John Shashaguay of 1139 Legion Park Dr. and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Vander Molen of 198 West 16th St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of luster satin featuring a modified bell-shaped skirt with a hemline band of imported re-embroidered Alencon lace. A detachable panel train fell from a tailored bow at the back waistline. She carried a small white Bible topped with lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. George Miles. Mrs. Miles wore a floor-length, red velvet gown and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Kenneth Vander Molen served his brother as best man. George Miles and Royce Rudolph were ushers.

Mrs. Shashaguay chose a blue lace over taffeta ensemble with white accessories while the groom's mother wore a tan embroidered crepe outfit with brown accessories.

The newlyweds greeted 100 guests at a reception held immediately following the ceremony. Reception attendants included Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shashaguay, master and mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Donald Hulett, Mrs. Richard Ode, Mary Jo Shashaguay, Sally Shashaguay, Jane Shashaguay, Carol Vander Molen and Connie Vander Molen.

For a wedding trip to Augusta, Ga., the bride changed to a camel colored three-piece ensemble with brown accessories.

The bride was graduated from Holland High School and is employed at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The groom was also graduated from Holland High School and is stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga., with the U.S. Army.

Board Studies Sewer Plan

The Board of Public Works tabled for further study proposals for three interceptor sewers at their regular meeting Monday afternoon at City Hall.

The board hopes to come up with definite proposals to be made to City Council on the three sewers at their next meeting, Jan. 18, according to Guy Bell, superintendent of public utilities. The proposed sewers would go to the Holland Heights area, along South Shore Dr., and to a southeast section of the city. The report is being prepared by Black and Veatch, consulting engineers.

The board discussed a petition by Holland Township for the purchase of water from the city. The board is currently considering the present and future cost of this project, Bell said.

The board also authorized Black and Veatch to include alternative methods of firing standby boilers at the city's power plant. The board recommended to the firm that gas firing be considered for the two boilers that are available for emergency use. The consulting firm is making a study of use of the two boilers.

'Seniors Plus Two' Hold Post-Holiday Party

A week of party-going was climaxed Saturday evening when several members of the "Seniors Plus Two" held a party at the residence of Alan Ver Schure, 520 Jacob Ave., from 8 to 12 p.m. Hosting the party were Miss Bonnie Black, Alan Ver Schure and Ronald Kratt.

Invited guests included juniors and seniors from both West Ottawa and Holland High Schools.

In 1961, aboard the Submarx, a 170 foot tramp steamer equipped with drilling gear and accompanied by a fishing vessel to help them place their anchor lines, Dr. Zumberge and his party charted the bottom of this area of Lake Superior by towing two cables, one with electronic sound producing equipment, and the other with a hydrophone to pick up and magnify the frequencies. Then, plotting their position in a spot where the water was 1,000 feet deep, they drilled into the lake-bottom to a depth of about 700 feet.

By lining the drill with clear plastic material they were able to extract samples of the layering of the sediments and rock as they encountered them to be examined later under laboratory conditions.

Examinations of the specimens largely substantiated Dr. Zumberge's hypothesis that a major downfaulted block was present in this area of Lake Superior.

Mrs. B. G. van Leuwen, club president, welcomed the guests and presided at the meeting. Dr. and Mrs. John Hollenbach and their committee presided at the social hour which was held on the mezzanine floor of the library.
