Millage Needs Are Explained

Failure to produce the necessary funds to carry on a good educational program in Holland could result in cutting 40 to 50 teachers, James O. Lamb, president of the Holland Board of Education, said at a Chamber of Commerce Early Bird breakfast this morning in Hotel Warm Friend.

"Or, we could go to half-day sessions or have overcrowded classrooms," he said in outlining needs for additional funds to carry on a good educational program in Holland next year.

He was referring to the special millage election Jan. 10 to vote 5.5 mills for one year, an increase of 2.5 mills over the present special voted millage. Holland has levied 3 mills for school operations the past 3 years.

"We need more money for schools the coming year," he said, outlining increased costs of school operations. "We are asking the 5.5 millage for only one year because of the many variables in the school picture. About 43 per cent of our income comes from the state and these figures always fluctuate."

"Most of our income comes from local taxes but these figures always vary, as do tax collections. Well over half of the local taxes comes from business and industry, with household owners paying over one-quarter of the taxes. A new variable the past year has been the negotiations for salaries, wages and other conditions of employment," he said.

"An estimate a year in advance can only be a guesstimate. Your Board of Education has adopted a balanced budget and we will not deficit spend. Twenty per cent of our $2.4 million budget goes for maintenance, supplies and educational materials, and the other 80 per cent goes for salaries."

"Failure in obtaining the necessary funds could bring cuts only in the 80 per cent salary bracket," he said.

"I consider our teachers and staff second to none, but as we compete and live in this most competitive era, we must keep building."

He pointed to the Christmas season just past, the toys yet unassembled for children, the ties which belong in rag rugs, the overspending and often needless spending, much of it yet unpaid, and asked, "Is your kid worth a nickel?" His answer: "Of course, he is; even a dime!"

He said the three R's now have turned to four R's, the fourth one being "Responsibility—yours and mine."

Don Rector who presided presented Lamb with a pair of wooden shoes. "We don't often give these to natives," he said.

Save Mother, Baby in Fire

ZEELAND — A Zeeland mother and her two-month-old baby were rescued from their second floor apartment as fire damaged a two-story frame home at 24 Cherry Ct. late Tuesday afternoon.

Zeeland police and firemen used a ladder to get Mrs. Richard Straight and her baby through a window of their apartment while fire engulfed the enclosed porch and stairway of the building.

Police said the blaze apparently started when the Christmas tree which Mrs. Straight was removing from the apartment brushed some electrical wires, causing a short which ignited the tree.

The tree was set on the enclosed front porch of the home while Mrs. Straight returned to her apartment. A neighbor noticed the fire and summoned firemen.

Zeeland firemen contained the fire in the porch and adjacent walls. Damage estimates were placed at between $1,000 and $2,000.

Grand Haven To Develop Water Front

GRAND HAVEN — The city council took action to start a grand new waterfront development in Grand Haven Tuesday night, when it accepted the offer of the Grand Trunk Railroad to sell three acres of waterfront property owned by the Grand Trunk for $66,375, to the city.

The action ended six years of negotiations between the city attorney's office and railroad officials at Detroit to obtain the 850 feet of frontage on Grand River, between Washington St. on the south and a point beyond the city Marina on the north.

The Loutit foundation of Grand Haven, which is also building a new city library and civic center here on Columbus St., will make the purchase possible.

The foundation notified Mayor William Creason Tuesday that it has decided to grant the city $90,000 to cover the cost of the purchase of the 130,500 square feet of property. The city must pay for the removal of the tracks, at a cost of $5,100, and must design and build a new station on remaining railroad land north of the site to be purchased. This station will replace the old depot at the corner of Washington and Water Sts. and will cost about $18,000.

The mayor has named a large committee to work with the planning commission and the city planner, Scott Bagby, in developing the mile-long waterfront property, extending from the U.S. Corps of Engineers depot on the south to the Marina on the north. The Grand Trunk property purchased is the largest single piece of property along the river at this point and is a "key" parcel in the development. The council will clear up the waterfront and beautify the area.

An amphitheatre at the end of Washington St., for viewing the musical fountain, a park area and off-street parking for persons viewing the fountain and the weekly water thrill shows are being considered by the study committee.

City Hires New Traffic Engineer

Holland will soon have its own traffic and parking consultant. City Council Wednesday night approved a city manager recommendation to hire Adrian H. Koert of East Lansing to handle traffic problems in the city.

Koert, who is traffic and parking consultant in East Lansing, will spend four days the first month in Holland, and two days a month thereafter, studying traffic conditions and making recommendations to Council or to the city manager. He will be available to attend Council meetings on request.

In recommending a consultant, City Manager Herb Holt said Holland has not done an adequate job in traffic engineering. He said it had been planned to develop a group of lay citizens who would study the problems and recommend changes to make the program more effective, but the traffic and safety commission which had functioned for several years recognized its own inadequacies and recommended its own demise.

"The only real alternative is to seek professional help to sell Council and the city on the necessary traffic reforms," Holt said.

He added he felt the most critical problems in Holland were a truck route, solving traffic at such intersections as 32nd and Michigan Aves., and one-way streets.

Koert will be paid $500 for the first month's work, and $200 a month thereafter.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance rescinding previous ordinances which created the traffic and safety commission.

Bypass Signals Being Installed

A crew of the Michigan Highway Department is installing traffic signals on US-31 bypass at the Eighth and 16th St. crossings today.

The signals had been ordered several months ago but there were delays in delivery of equipment.

A third signal for the M-40 crossing at Lincoln Ave. will be installed later. This will be a self-regulating signal with bar devices in Lincoln Ave.

The signals at Eighth and 16th St. will serve as flashers only for a time to allow local residents to adjust to the changes. Later they will be put on red, yellow and green signals.

The highway department is installing new pedestrian walkway signals at four intersections on Eighth St. The intersections are River, Central, College and Columbia Aves.

Ex-Holland Man, Wife Die in Crash

GERMANTON, N.C. — A former Holland, Mich., resident and his wife who resided in Grand Rapids, Mich., were killed in an airplane crash near here Wednesday night.

Andrew (Bud) Van Lier, 49, Holland native, and his wife, Mary Jean, 46, were identified by the State Highway Patrol. Their bodies were found near the plane about midnight.

It was reported the couple were on their way to attend the funeral of Mrs. Van Lier's father.

Federal Aviation Agency officials reported the light craft in which they were flying had radioed it was having engine trouble moments before it disappeared from a radar scope at the Tri-City Airport at 10:35 p.m.

Authorities said the plane was in an instrument flight plan when engine trouble was reported; the craft was in sight of the airport when it radioed.

Van Lier who attended Hope College in Holland was a Federal Aviation Agency examiner and the chief flight instructor for the Northern Air Service of Grand Rapids.

The couple has two sons, Randall and Steven, both at home in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Van Lier, whose first husband was killed during World War II, has a son, Theodore Williams of Grand Rapids.

Van Lier, son of Mrs. A. (Gertrude) Van Lier of 204 West 21st St. Holland and the late Anthony Van Lier, has two brothers, Cornelius Van Lier of Holland and Robert of Grand Rapids.

Funeral services, tentatively scheduled to be held in Grand Rapids, will be arranged pending arrival of the bodies.

Challenged Votes Allowed in Count

Local 515-M will not represent Board of Public Works employees as sole bargaining agent as the result of an amended tabulation of election results Tuesday by the State of Michigan Labor Mediation Board.

A special election last March 23 on whether Local 515-M, building service employees international (AFL-CIO) should represent BPW employees in negotiations lost by a vote of 37 to 35. The previous vote not counting challenged votes was 35 yes to 31 no.

The union had challenged six votes on eligibility. Hearings were held later, and the six votes were allowed. The votes were counted Tuesday at the regional office of the Labor Mediation Board in Grand Rapids.

Sewer Bid Awarded By Council

Low bid of Dykhouse Brothers, Bowen and Fullerton of Grand Haven for expanding Holland's sanitary sewer program at bid price of $1,350,828 was approved by City Council Wednesday night on recommendation of the Board of Public Works.

The expansion program includes interceptors sewers to Holland Heights and the South Shore area. The proposal includes a package type lift station at 16th St. The BPW report stated there would be a deficit of $17,017 but the board was confident this need could be met from other funds.

The Grand Haven bid was the lowest of three submitted Dec. 20. The bids were referred to consulting engineers for evaluation. The Dykhouse-Bowen-Fullerton bid lists 700 days for completion.

"The Board of Public Works also submitted a letter from Holland township suggesting that sewer service be made available to all properties abutting Eighth St. in the township in view of the fact that an interceptor sewer will be constructed in Eighth St. to service the Heights area."

The message stated the board had indicated it was favorable to granting the right of these properties at the same rate charged to outside customers.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt asked whether granting this request were a condition for approval of the easement, and City Manager Herb Holt said he was not inclined to interpret it as such. Peerbolt felt that Council should not be required to make a policy decision on such short notice and moved that the request be evaluated for later decision and suggested that the BPW continue negotiations for an easement. The vote carried.

The sewer expansion program will be financed through a $1.9 million bond sewer issue which city voters approved April 5, 1965.

Officers to be filled this spring are mayor and councilmen for the second, fourth and sixth wards and one councilman-at-large.

Brady Scores 36 Points In Victory

Floyd Brady, playing one of the finest games of his college career, poured in 36 points and grabbed 21 rebounds as Hope College's basketball team whipped Kalamazoo 82-70 at the Civic Center Wednesday night. The 36 points is the most Brady has made in college.

Hitting on dunk shots, jumpers, tips, layups and hook shots the 6'3" junior sank 13 of 23 shots from the floor for a 57 per cent average. He also meshed 10 of 13 foul shots for a 77 per cent mark.

The victory, Hope's fourth in four MIAA games, strengthened its hold on first place. Kalamazoo and Olivet are now tied for second place in the league standings with 2-1 records.

Hope won the game with two scoring bursts in the second half. The winners scored 10 straight points in the first 2:20 of the second half, and went on to open up a 17 point lead. The Flying Dutchmen had only a 35-34 lead at halftime. Brady made three baskets and Bruce Van Huis added two field goals in the 10-point surge.

After Hope opened up a 59-42 lead Kalamazoo started to make a comeback. The Hornets, led by Bob Trenary and Ralph Wellington, fought back to narrow the lead to 64-59 with 6:24 left in the game.

Gary Rypma came off the bench to spark a second Hope surge which resulted in the 12-point victory. Rypma made four field goals in the last five minutes of the game.

The exciting second half followed a sloppy first half which saw both teams make numerous ball control errors. The two teams alternated with the lead throughout the first half. The lead changed hands 11 times and the score was tied six times in the half.

Don Kronmeyer with 15 points and Carl Walters with 12 turned in fine games for the Flying Dutchmen. Van Huis was a big help on the boards with 18 rebounds.

Trenary with 28 points and Wellington with 22 paced the Hornets scoring.

Brady's 36 points gives him a total of 100 for the first four MIAA games. His 25 point per game scoring average leads the league.

Hope sank 32 of 79 field goal attempts for a 41 per cent average while the Hornets made 29 of 77 for 38 per cent.

Hope outscored Kalamazoo 59-54.

Coach Russ De Vette's team is now 6-3 overall for the season. Their next game is at Lake Forest at the Civic Center this Saturday night.

The Flying Dutchmen resume MIAA play with a home game against Adrian next Wednesday night.

FIRE CLAIMS PAIR — Deputy Sgt. Gerald Witteveen (right) and Holland Township fireman Norman Kamps examine damage caused by a fire that claimed the lives of Dennis Meeusen, 56, and his wife, Janet, 55, of 366 120th Ave. Monday. Mrs.

Meeusen, recovering from recent throat surgery, was unable to make herself understood over the telephone, resulting in a delay in locating the scene of the fire. The pair died of smoke asphyxiation. (Sentinel photo)

Local Man, Wife Die in House Fire

A Holland couple died of asphyxiation by smoke Monday morning while police and telephone company officials frantically tried to trace a whistled call for help.

Dead are Dennis Meeusen, 56, of 366 120th Ave., and his wife, Janet, 55. Police and firemen found Meeusen's body in the front bedroom while his wife was found in the rear bedroom. Dr. William Weststrate Jr. served as medical examiner. The couple was pronounced dead on arrival at Holland Hospital.

Holland police said a telephone operator received a whistled call for help at 7:15 a.m. from Mrs. Meeusen, but was unable to understand her so she immediately contacted police, who also could not understand Mrs. Meeusen, who recently underwent throat surgery.

The operator, Mrs. John Van Dam, 22, said "Her voice was muffled and I had a lot of trouble understanding her. I kept asking her to repeat what she said. But even then I couldn't understand her because someone was coughing in the background."

Police said they received a few garbled words that sounded like 20th or 28th St. and immediately set out to check. Police checked a number of streets and Ottawa sheriff's deputies did the same in the county.

At 8:05 a.m. Holland police received a second call from the operator reporting that the telephone company had traced the call and that the address was 366 120th Ave.

The first police car arrived at the scene at 8:09 a.m. and immediately radioed that the house was on fire. Fire trucks and ambulance were then sent to the scene.

Police were unable to enter the house because of the heavy smoke. Firemen, equipped with oxygen, then entered the smoke filled house and removed the couple.

Mrs. Van Dam kept trying to call the house, but no one answered. "I didn't stop calling until the police told me they got the man and woman out of the house," Mrs. Van Dam said.

Police said that the phone was ringing when the first officer reached the house.

Holland firemen first responded to the call but Holland township firemen were called when it was determined the fire was in the township.

Township fire chief Andrew Westenbroek said the fire was believed to have started in an overstuffed chair in the living room. A hole was burned through the floor and part of the chair had fallen into the basement.

Westenbroek said most of the damage was caused by smoke. No estimate of the damage was available.

Officers said that 40 minutes elapsed between the first and second call. They said there was no way of telling if the couple could have been saved if officials had been able to understand Mrs. Meeusen's message.

Mrs. Meeusen was the former Janet De Weerd, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. De Weerd of Holland. She was born in Zeeland and was formerly employed by General Electric Co. She also had been employed at the Royal Casket Co. in Zeeland for several years.

Surviving are five brothers, Joe E. De Weerd of West Olive, Evert De Weerd of Holland, George De Weerd of Holland, Lester De Weerd of Muskegon, Gerald De Weerd of Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Dick Ter Haar of Muskegon Heights and Mrs. J. Henry Gebben of Holland.

Mr. Meeusen was born in Zeeland and had been employed at the Holland Furniture Co. for the past year. He formerly was self employed as a building contractor and was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Peter Meeusen of Zeeland; one brother, Marvin Meeusen of Holland; two sis-

'No Cause' Jury Verdict Given

GRAND HAVEN — A jury in Ottawa Circuit Court Wednesday took only 20 minutes to return a verdict of "no cause" in a damage suit brought by a Benton Harbor firm against the Hudsonville Trailer Co.

Home Indemnity Co. and Thomas and Myron Gennaro of Gennaro Bros., Benton Harbor truckers, sought damages of $7,150 from the trailer firm.

They claimed that on Nov. 6, 1963, a refrigerator trailer of the Benton Harbor firm was moved to the Hudsonville firm for winterizing and was never returned. It was reported stolen from the Hudsonville firm's parking lot on Nov. 11, 1963.

In another action in Circuit Court, Warren J. Todd of Hudsonville started a $30,000 suit against a Jenison man, Douglas Jenison, for injuries suffered in a hayride accident on Jackson St. near 22nd Ave. in Ottawa county Jan. 15, 1966.

Todd claims he hired Jenison to take him, his family and friends on a hayride and because of careless driving an accident occurred in which Todd was injured.

Deputies Ticket Driver

Ottawa County deputies charged Steven Batema, 19, of 1055 Lincoln Ave., with failure to maintain an assured clear distance following a two-car collision on 120th Ave. at M-21 at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday. Deputies said Batema's car struck the rear of a car driven by Donald E. Berkompas, 36, of 419 Riley St., right of way, $10.

Red Raiders Top Lutheran In Title Game

Little Northwestern College of Orange City, Iowa, came up with its second surprise win in as many nights to capture the title in the first Dutch Classic basketball tournament Friday night.

Coach Paul Muyskens' Red Raiders, winless in five road games before the tournament, knocked off Michigan Lutheran College of Detroit, 82-74, to capture the crown and the first-place wooden shoe trophy.

Host Hope College held off Central College of Pella, Iowa, 92-89, to win third place in the consolation game in the Civic Center. A crowd of about 2,000 watched the windup of the tournament.

A pair of Northwestern forwards, both of whom were plagued by foul trouble in Thursday night's win over Hope, sparked the Red Raider victory.

Kalamazoo senior Dave Kleis, limited to just 10 minutes of playing time against Hope because of early foul trouble, wound up with 21 points and turned in excellent defensive and rebounding performances.

Kleis' front-line running mate Rick Vande Berg scored 13 first-half points and went on to capture scoring honors in the championship contest with 24 points.

Both were also largely responsible for Lutheran's inability to get the ball to its scoring ace Leroy Haywood, who was averaging more than 27 points per game going into Friday night's game.

Haywood scored 21 points to pace the losing Saints of coach Richard Sunday, but Lutheran needs more points from the former Detroit prep and Bowling Green standout to hope for victory.

Lutheran, with Haywood scoring 10 points in the first six minutes ran up an 18-9 advantage after Kleis had kept Northwestern in early contention with three early baskets.

An effective press forced the Saints into numerous ball control errors at that point and the Red Raiders from Iowa scored 15 straight points (eight by sub guard Erv Mellema) later to take a 27-22 lead.

Northwestern ran up scoring streaks of eight and four points later in the first half and took what appeared to be a safe 45-35 halftime lead.

Former Detroit Cass Tech performer James Scott, a 6'6" forward, and little guard standout Tim Jehn, sparked a Lutheran rally in the second half which saw the Saints take a 58-55 advantage, which it held until baskets by Kleis, Darwin De Vries and Vande Berg put the Iowans ahead to stay, 64-62.

Another press gave Northwestern a 76-71 lead with 3:50 remaining, but Lutheran would not give up, coming back with baskets by Jehn and Haywood, which cut the Raiders' lead to 76-75 with 2:30 left.

Northwestern scored the final six points of game as it held the ball for the most part.

With Kleis, Vande Berg and De Vries hitting the boards against the taller Saints, Northwestern was able to maintain a 63-55 margin on the boards.

Northwestern's champions goaled 29 of 75 field goal tries for 38.7 per cent, while Lutheran hit 23 of 79 for 35.4 per cent. The Saints were guilty of 22 turnovers, while the slick-passing Raiders committed just 12 errors.

In the consolation opener, Hope came out on top after leading for the entire second half, by as much as 12 points (74-62).

Hope's Floyd Brady hit on nine of 14 field goal tries and Carl Walters eight of 13 to pace coach Russ De Vette's Flying Dutchmen.

Brady finished with 26 points—for a two-night total of 53 points, tops in the tournament—and led Hope with 11 rebounds. Walters more than doubled his first-night scoring effort with his 17 points.

Bruce McCreary, a Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills freshman, added 14 points for Hope in his first starting role, and sophomore center Bruce Van Huis contributed 10.

Operating with four personnel in the final minutes of the second half, Brady was limited to one basket in the period after scoring 18 points in the first half.

That basket was a big one, however, as it came with 42 seconds left in the game and gave Hope a 92-87 lead and the consolation win.

Hope had held the ball for almost one minute before Brady's basket and was able to hang on for the victory over coach Jim Walvoord's Flying Dutchmen from Pella after the clutch goal.

Central scoring ace Jim Stone led the losers with 23 points, on a variety of field goals ranging from long jumpers to layups and kept his team in contention with 14 second-half points.

Center Lyle Kooiker scored 19 points for Central, Dave Witvoet 11 and Dennis Herrema 10.

Hope hit 37 of 72 field goal tries Friday night and was able to post a 48-45 halftime advantage only with fantastic 66.7 per cent first-half shooting (22 of 33). Central made 34 of 82 for 41.5 per cent.

Hope held a slim 37-36 advantage on the boards.

GRANDSTANDING . . 1966 in Review

A dramatic last-inning steal of home and a first-ever track win over Albion provided the top sports thrills as Hope College put on a strong spring sports burst to win the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association all-sports trophy for 1966-66.

There were other notable sporting events on the local scene in 1966, but the circumstances which surrounded Hope's all-sports victory allowed that event to overshadow any other.

Two other accomplishments are also worthy of immediate mention—Holland High's football resurgence and a pair of late-season perfect games in bowling.

Coach Dave Kempker's Dutch football team compiled a 6-2-1 record for the top Holland High mark since 1929. Highlight of the fine season was a 7-7 tie with then-fourth-ranked Class A power Muskegon.

Arlene Van Hekken rolled the first 300 game by a woman in city history Thursday night and 185-average bowler Bob Nedau turned in the first perfect effort by a man in the city in 1966 Friday night.

Hope won the MIAA baseball and track titles, finished second in tennis and fourth in golf in the spring of 1966. This went along with a second in basketball, a second-place tie in football and a tie for fourth in cross country to give the Dutchmen 64 all-sports points, nine more than Albion.

The baseball title was Hope's third in four years and couldn't have been more dramatic. Needing a doubleheader sweep at Adrian in the final league games of the season, Hope turned the trick, 9-2 and 3-2.

Hope trailed, however, 2-0 going into the top of the seventh and final inning of the second game at Adrian. After two runs had scored, Holland sophomore Cal Beltman stole home with two outs to provide the Dutchmen with title.

Beltman played a smaller, but important in the drive for the track title, too.

Although he'd never competed in the sports, he was enticed into competing in the MIAA Field Day here, May 21, and upset defending 100-yard dash champ Mike Ash in the preliminaries to knock Ash out of the finals.

Beltman didn't place in the 100 finals, but came up with a strong leg in Hope's winning 440-yard relay team.

Ray Cooper captured the 100 and 220-yard dash titles in the Field Day and was named the league's most valuable performer, an honor also accorded basketball star Clare Van Wieren.

The push for the track title included Hope's first dual meet win over Albion in history, 73-63, May 3, as Cooper won the 100 and 220, Chris Buys the pole vault and shot put to lead the way.

Hope clinched the win when the mile relay team of Sid Disbrow, Steve Reynen, Bill Hultgren and anchorman Cooper won the final event of the meet.

In addition to Cooper's winning .09.9 and .22.2 efforts in the Field Day meet at Van Raalte Field, Doug Formsa set a league two-mile record with a 9:47.0 clocking.

Formsa went on to capture the league's individual cross country title this fall and was unbeaten in dual meet competition.

In tennis, the story was the annual Kalamazoo title and Hope runnerup finish, as the Hornets swept all nine titles and Hope was second in all nine.

The golfers came up with a strong Field Day performance at the American Legion Memorial Park golf course May 20, finishing second to Albion to move up to fourth-place in the overall golf standings.

Bill Forbes led Hope's golf team in the tourney with rounds of 71 and 78, good for second behind medalist Jim Gittleman of Alma.

There were other top performances and stories in 1966.

Tom Nienhuis and Rex Smith (the latter a double winner) each set a state record as defending champion West Ottawa finished second to Riverside in the state Class B swim meet.

Holland Christian junior Phil DeVries finished first individually as the Maroons finished fourth in the state Class B cross country meet this fall.

Hope College football and basketball coach Russ DeVette was offered the head basketball coaching job at Calvin, but turned it down.

Holland Christian suffered through a rare losing season in basketball and last March dropped their tournament opener to Zeeland, winner of just three games all season. The Maroons held one distinction, however, as they held an 86-82 win over state Class B champion Grand Rapids East Christian during the

Maroons Edged

GRAND RAPIDS — Holland Christian dropped a 66-63 overtime decision to Grand Rapids Central Christian in the opening game of the second annual basketball doubleheader in Calvin College's Knollcrest Campus field-house Thursday night.

In the second game, Hudsonville Unity Christian upset defending state Class B champion Grand Rapids East Christian, 73-71.

Coach Art Tuls' Maroons led for most of the game (which was tied a total of 17 times) by as much as eight points (57-49 with three minutes left in the fourth quarter).

Central Christian's Mark Van Faasen singlehandedly put his team back in contention after the Maroons' eight-point lead. He scored eight straight points on four baskets—to knot the score at 57-57.

Bob Velthouse, the Eagles' center, then put his team ahead for the first time since early in the third period with a pair of free throws with six seconds remaining.

Holland's Bob Van Langevelde took the inbound pass after the free throws and dribbled to midcourt where he launched a shot with only a couple of seconds remaining.

The shot was short, but Bob De Nooyer grabbed it under the basket and put in a reverse layup to tie the score at 59-59 at the buzzer.

In the overtime period, Van Langevelde and John Lappinga each hit field goals to offset two quick Central Christian baskets, but Van Faasen scored the winning basket and Bob Cooper sewed things up with a free throw in the final seconds, although he missed the second attempt.

Van Faasen, son of Herman Van Faasen, a Holland Christian player in the 1930s, led all scorers with 24 points.

Van Langevelde was the Maroon standout, both offensively and defensively, and paced Holland Christian scoring with 17 points. De Nooyer and Lappinga added 14 apiece for the Maroons, center Steve Bushouse chipped in eight—all on free throws.

Velthouse finished with 16

regular season.

Basketball wasn't particularly successful anywhere in the area during the state tournament last spring. Only Hudsonville of the nine area high schools managed to win a district title, but the Eagles lost to eventual state champ East Christian in the regional semi-finals.

In addition to Van Wieren's Randall C. Bosch award as the MIAA MVP in basketball, the Holland senior was named co-winner (with Zeeland senior Roger Kroodsmas) of the Otto Van der Velde all-campus award at Hope.

Holland High seniors Bob Brolin and Herbert (Tom) Thomas were also recipients of awards. Brolin was named winner of the Milton L. Hinga sportsmanship award and Thomas won the Dennis Kuite tennis award for the second time.

Northwestern And Lutheran Win Contests

Lutheran won an 83-81 overtime thriller from Central College of Pella, Iowa, in Thursday night's tourney opener and Northwestern gunned down host Hope College, 93-80, in the nightcap before 2,400 fans in the Civic Center.

Northwestern, by far the smallest of the three Reformed Church in America colleges with just 675 students, shocked Hope by scoring 11 straight points early in the first half for a 17-7 lead it never relinquished.

The Red Raiders from Orange City hit a scorching 59.4 per cent of their second-half shots in disposing of Hope in the first meeting of the two schools in history.

Erv Mellema, a 5'11" senior substitute for coach Paul Muyskens' Raiders, set the shooting pace by tossing in 10 of 14 field goal tries (eight of 10 in the second half) and finished with 25 points.

Veteran forward Floyd Brady and surprising freshman guard Bruce McCreary provided Hope with its only semblance of an offense Thursday night.

Brady exceeded his 22.4 point per game average with his 27-point performance and gathered in 14 rebounds despite fouling out with more than three minutes remaining.

McCreary, seeing his first extensive action of the season on the Hope varsity, equalled Brady's field goal production with nine, scored 19 points, ran Hope's offense and turned in a fine defensive effort.

Forward Rick Vande Berg, who was second high for Northwestern with 15 points, scored six of them during the Raiders' early rally, which saw the score change from a 7-6 Hope advantage to a 17-7 from the 17-minute mark to the 13:44 mark in the first period.

Brady scored 13 first-half points to keep Hope in contention at the half (trailing only 40-38, but another Raider scoring spree early in the second half put the local Flying Dutchmen down by 12 points.

Northwestern forward Dave Kleis, a 6'3" Kalamazoo senior, sparked the second rally by driving the length of the floor for a pair of layups and by adding a short jumper and a free throw for seven of the Raiders' first 12 points in the second half.

Northwestern took a 52-40 lead after the first 4:30 of the second half when Hope managed only one basket during the same period.

Brady scored six points as Hope closed the gap with nine straight points later in the half to cut the Raider margin to 69-66 on Jim Klein's tipin goal with 5:00 left in the game.

Mellema then scored the game's next nine points to ice things for the visitors, giving Northwestern its first road win of the year. The Raiders are 3-5 and have won all three of their home games. Hope is now 4-2.

Kleis, who was plagued by foul trouble throughout the game, played only about 10 minutes, but scored 11 points and led all Raider rebounders with 10 retrievals.

Paced by Kleis, Northwestern held a 60-53 advantage on the boards (37-21 in the second half). The Raiders finished with 34 of 61 from the floor for 55.7 per cent, while Hope connected on 31 of 80 for 38.75 per cent.

Each team committed 17 ball control errors in the Hope-Northwestern contest.

Bowling Green transfer Leroy Haywood, who was averaging 27.1 points per game going into Thursday night's game, lived up to advance billing by scoring 29 points in leading Michigan Lutheran's free-lancing attack in its exciting win over Central.

The front line of Haywood (6'6"), Longworth Mapp (6'5") and James Scott (6'6") combined for 61 points and helped the Saints to a 48-37 advantage in rebounding.

Nineteen of Haywood's points came in the first half, after which Lutheran led 36-33. The score after regulation play was 75-75.

Hero of the final minutes was team captain Tim Jehn, a former high school All-America from Detroit's Lutheran East High.

Jehn scored just one basket all evening, but it put Lutheran ahead 70-65 with 4:35 left in the second half and allowed the Saints, coached by Richard Sunday, to stall away most of the rest of the half and much of the extra period.

Jehn provided the Saints with their only hint of steadiness in the closing minutes, almost singlehandedly controlling the ball on the stall, and sinking eight of nine clutch free throws after the halftime intermission.

Lutheran didn't trail at any time during the second half or in the extra five-minute frame. But, Central nearly pulled out the win after a technical foul against the Saints' Byron Yono in the closing seconds.

With the score tied 75-75 with 19 seconds left, Yono disagreed with a jump ball call and the technical was called.

Merlin Berkenpas missed the gift foul shot, but Central was given possession of the ball. The Flying Dutchmen stalled for one final shot and it was a 15-foot jumper by Berkenpas at the buzzer. The shot trickled off the right side of the rim to send the game into overtime.

Lutheran didn't score a basket in the overtime, but the stall tactics once again provided the Saints with plenty of free throw opportunities (10) and they made good on eight of them for the two-point win.

Scott and Mapp each scored 16 points for Lutheran, Jehn 10 (eight of them free throws). Dave Witvoet led coach Jack Walvoord's Flying Dutchmen with 17 points.

Lyle Kooiker, Jim Stone and Mike Justice contributed 12 apiece to the balanced Central scoring and Dennis Herrema scored 11.

Lutheran was 31 of 67 from the floor for 46.3 per cent, Central managed 32 of 82 for 39.0 per cent.

A mild dispute arose at the end of the Central-Lutheran game when a foul was called against Lutheran, which would have given Central a chance to tie things up with two free throws with no time left on the clock.

However, it was ruled that the foul occurred after the final buzzer, which was not heard because of the bedlam in the Civic Center.

Assessors Set for Tax Exemptions

The city assessor's office in City Hall will see considerable activity the next few months as senior citizens and veterans apply for tax exemptions.

Although such applications may be filed through March, the office asks that people who qualify file in January or February since March is the month for the Board of Review meetings.

To qualify for exemption, a senior citizen applicant must be 65. The exemption affects only his homestead and the assessment in Ottawa county must be $5,400 or less and in Allegan county $5,500 or less. The exemption is based on $2,500 on state equalized valuation which amounts to $1,364 in Ottawa county and $1,387 in Allegan county.

This means that taxes must be paid on the difference between these figures and the $5,400 and $5,500.

The past year was the first time senior citizens qualified for exemptions and the average saving in taxes amounted to $86.77. There may be slight changes this year.

Veterans follow much the same pattern as senior citizens, but the exemption is based on $2,000 state equalized instead of $2,500. This brings the exempted part on assessments to $1,091 in Ottawa and $1,110 in Allegan. The exemption applies only to homesteads with top assessments of $5,400 in Ottawa and $5,500 in Allegan.

In applying, senior citizens should submit their birth certificates and a deed to the property. Veterans should submit a current veterans check. If applying for the first time, they should submit their discharge papers and deed to the property.

Taxes exempted in these two programs are reimbursed by the state of Michigan to the various taxing authorities.

Jesus Began His Ministry
Luke 4:16-19; 5:18-26
By C. P. Dame

A good beginning is important, in marriage, in a business venture, in a race and in a preaching ministry. This lesson tells us about the beginning of the remarkable ministry of Jesus.

Jesus stressed preaching. The Holy Spirit anointed Jesus at His baptism and after that led Him in the wilderness to be tempted of the devil, and after that He "returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee," which lay in north Palestine. It was an area of about 50 miles long and 25 miles wide from east to west and had a large population, about 204 towns and villages with a population of 15,000 and more dotted the country. Wherever there were ten Jewish families there was a synagogue. Sacrifices were offered in the Temple, the synagogues, which originated in the days of Babylonian captivity and were used for teaching and as centers of the religious life of the people.

Following His custom Jesus went to the synagogue on the sabbath day in Nazareth. There were no professional preachers attached to the synagogues and so the president often called upon a visitor to speak after the reading of the Old Testament.

Jesus was asked to speak in His home synagogue in Nazareth. Jesus read from Isaiah and said to His hearers that the words of the prophet referred to Him. "Today, hath this Scripture been fulfilled in your ears." He had come "to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord." Some believed and some did not—and note the fact, unbelief is active and so they cast Him out of the city.

Jesus made the forgiveness of sin possible. The second part of the lesson text tells about a miracle which is recorded in the three synoptic gospels. Jesus was preaching in a house. Four men came to the house carrying a lame friend whom they wanted healed. When they could not get into the house through the door on account of the crowd, they carried the man to the roof and let him down right in front of Jesus who noting their faith said, "Man, thy sins are forgiven thee." All five evidently had faith.

Jesus showed more concern about the healing of the soul than of the body. Today some religious leaders differ, they are more concerned about physical needs and that is why they talk about slums, poverty, social and political problems and ignore the spiritual.

The Lord's critics questioned His words about forgiveness and said that only God forgives sins, which is true. Jesus asked, "Whether is easier to say, 'Thy sins be forgiven thee'; or to say, 'Rise up and walk'? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins (He said unto the sick of the palsy) I say unto thee, Arise and take up thy couch and go into thy house. And immediately he rose up before them. By doing the one deed He showed that He had power to do the other.

This miracle teaches that some people are saved by the faith and prayers and service of others and that there is forgiveness through Jesus who died on the cross that we might obtain pardon.

Local Pollution Picture Has Brightened Somewhat

EDITOR'S NOTE — Although pollution remains a problem for the Holland area, steps have been taken to improve the quality of Lake Macatawa and the Black River. This article, fourth in a series, will examine what has been done.

By Fred Oettle

The problem of water pollution in the Black River-Lake Macatawa basin is definitely not solved, but some encouraging steps have been taken in the last few years.

Fortunately, more people in government and industry are becoming aware of the very real advantages to water cleanup. From the state government down, new strides are being made in pollution control.

Until 1965, Michigan had water pollution laws, but there were no "teeth" in them, according to State Sen. Harold Volkema. But in 1965, the legislature passed revision of the Water Resources Act, making two important strides.

First, the discharge of raw (human) sewage into waters, directly or indirectly, was made a specific violation.

Any city, village or township which permits discharge of raw sewage by inhabitants is now subject to fines of up to $500 per day.

Second, the 1965 legislature for the first time gave townships new opportunities to finance sewage collection and treatment. If the courts order installation of a sewage system, and plans for such a system have been okayed by the state, the township is authorized to issue and sell bonds for such installations. The township can finance the work by court-order bonds, which require no vote from the residents.

In addition, the state provides technical assistance to firms setting up pollution control programs, and provides tax incentives for construction of pollution facilities by exempting the firms from property, use and sales taxes on the facilities.

On the local level, progress has been good also. After a study by the city of Holland in 1962 which pinpointed pollution in the lake (mentioned in part three of this series) a program was initiated to reaffirm and remove all sources of contamination within the city limits discovered during the survey.

Since that time, the Department of Environmental Health has eliminated a high percentage of the residential and business sources of pollution in its legal jurisdiction. Suspected sources of industrial contamination within the city were referred to the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Other sources of pollution were referred to either the Ottawa or Allegan County Health Department. Because of the varying standards for liquid disposal throughout the watershed, interested parties felt the whole area should have regulations at least equal to those enforced by the city. A sanitary code was adopted by the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, providing the county with the basic tools to combat pollution within its jurisdiction.

Also, within the last four years, the waste control facilities of Zeeland were expanded and improved, as were those of two major industrial plants in the area. These have made significant improvement in organic and chemical pollution in surface water, according to Sen. Volkema, but the present state of the lake will not be known until the results of a more recent study are available.

A survey of municipal and industrial pollution was conducted by the Water Resources Commission last October to evaluate water quality in the Black River and Lake Macatawa and to determine the extent of compliance with the revised Water Resources Act.

The data from the samplings are currently being evaluated and the results are expected sometime this winter.

Sen. Volkema said, "After extensive research with local, state, and federal agencies concerned with pollution, I feel the Holland Department of Environmental Health has done an excellent job in compiling and analyzing technical data necessary to pinpoint sources of pollution. In addition, Holland has cooperated well with the Water Resources Commission, and information is fully and openly shared between them."

Next: The final article of this series will study what remains to be done, and why.

IT'S WORTH A TRY.

A news item out of Bern, Switzerland, tells us that out of a labor force of approximately 2,700,000 there are only 216 listed as unemployed. Switzerland's economy is booming and the country has imported 800,000 workers.

It might be interesting to make some comparison between Switzerland and our own country. Both countries have and are enjoying a booming economy. Our economy has the added fuel of the war in Vietnam. But here the comparison bogs down. We have a number of unemployed and are trying out various programs to do something about the problem. It is true that the unemployment figures are deceiving. They reflect the temporary unemployment of teenagers whose actual employment has been at the best marginal. But this still leaves us with a situation, which, in comparison with the Swiss, is not rosy.

We might suggest that those in charge of our own program do some research on the Swiss program. It may be that the problem we face is not in the area where we are concentrating all our funds. The stability of the Swiss society may be more than a factor in the situation. We ought to ask ourselves whether education is as much a factor in the solution as appears on the surface.

We don't expect that our investigation will come up with some easy panacea, but we rather think that a good share of the problem will be found in an area outside the economy one. Recently a member of the civil rights groups took issue with the notion of a guaranteed income to all. He indicated some understanding of human nature when he suggested that this was not the way to meet the problem. Maybe he is also telling us something of the direction we ought to take in looking for a solution to our problem. Let's look around. There are those who have done better than we have. And with less. It may be worth a try.

Sophomore Nienhuis came back in the next event, the 200 yard freestyle to slip in ahead of Petes of Fremont. John Timmer placed third for West Ottawa in that event.

In the sprint freestyle events, freshman Bob Fisher placed first for the Panthers in the 50 and second in the 100, while freshman Mike Zavadii chalked up a second in the 50 and third in the 100.

Senior Allan Russell took top honors in the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:29.8 clocking, 12 seconds ahead of his nearest Packer opponent. Doornewerf took a close third for West Ottawa.

Hope College Reveals 10-Year Master Plan

CENTENNIAL DECADE — This architect's sketch of an International Center for Hope College is only one building in the $10 million development plan for the local institution in the next 10 years. The 10-year plan was unveiled at a Centennial Recognition Dinner Oct. 15 by Hugh De Pree of Zeeland, newly elected president of the Board of Trustees. The international education center would be located directly east of Van Raalte Hall.

CULTURAL-SOCIAL CENTER — Here is the plan for the new cultural-social center on Hope campus which is part of the 10-year development program unveiled during centennial ceremonies in October. Also in the program are a new science building, men's physical education building, new women's dormitory, new wings for the library and additions to Gilmore Hall and Nykerk Hall of Music. Van Raalte Hall would be renovated, Carnegie-Schouten gym altered and Van Vleck Hall would be made into a museum.

RAINY TULIP TIME — Klompen dancers remained loyal and went through their intricate steps when it rained three out of four days of Tulip Time in May. This person (or are there two?) stayed to the end of the performance, providing a limited cheering section for heroic effort. Spring arrived late this year and tulips set new records on length of stems. It was not unusual to be hip deep in tulips.

VICIOUS STORM — A howling storm hit Holland Nov. 3 dumping six inches of snow, closing schools and playing havoc with some construction jobs. A 200-foot long cement block wall of the new American Aerosol plant at 40th St. and Waverly Rd. collapsed after supporting cables snapped in winds up to 50 miles an hour.

BEER WAREHOUSE BURNS — Modern Beverage Co. office and warehouse on 112th Ave. off M-21 was hit by fire in January destroying $65,000 worth of beer and wine. The blaze was believed to have started from an exploding oil burner. Forty firemen of the Holland township department battled the flames about three hours.

HOME FURNACE FIRE — Here are the ruins of a tire which swept a one-floor masonry building at Seventh St. and Fairbanks Ave. housing all air conditioning manufacturing operations for Home Furnace Co. Jan. 14. The building is owned by the Holland Transplanter Co. Engineering offices and laboratories were not damaged. Damage to the building was estimated at $50,000 and to equipment $150,000.

MRS. MICHIGAN — Mrs. Gary W. (Nickie) Vreeman of Holland who was crowned Mrs. Michigan at Trenton, Mich., in April, is shown here with nine of her 10 children, checking on Dutch costumes and band uniforms for Tulip

Time before she and her husband take off for the Mrs. America Pageant in San Diego, Calif. Left to right are Joan, 4, Joel, 5, Steve, 9, Tom, 12, Jane, 14, Mary, 11, and Jerry, 15. On floor are Betty, 16, and Fred, 7.

Busy Holidays Are Lots of Fun in Holland

ENCHANTED FOREST — Holland High art students outdid themselves this year in transforming the gallery of the Hazel Forney Herrick Art Center into an "Enchanted Forest," a delightful woodland inhabited by huge bunnies, playful bears, bushy tailed squirrels, kangaroos and appealing mice. There were candy shops, a post office, depot, hospital, barber shop, bakery, toy shop and picnic grounds.

THANKSGIVING DAY — The Holland High School band, wearing wooden shoes and new uniforms with Dutch accents, happily marched in the big Hudson Thanksgiving Day parade in Detroit on Thanksgiving Day. The Detroit store provided a Dutch float with a huge windmill and professional skaters. A group of some 60 local residents followed in Dutch costumes. The band spent the preceding day at Greenfield Village.

UMMMM, TURKEY! — Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Hofmeyer are all eyes as Mrs. Hofmeyer prepares the turkey for a family dinner for Thanksgiving Day, a

THANKSGIVING — GOODING STYLE — Thanksgiving at the Robert Gooding home in Douglas this year was particularly happy since the family circle was widened to include Im Sun Hwa, a 10-year-old Korean orphan renamed Sonna Gooding. Sonna is shown here with her new father, Robert Gooding, fruit grower and school bus driver. The Goodings also have an 11-year-old daughter Sarah.

DOWNTOWN DECKED OUT — Flickering garland lights provided some of the nicest decorations Holland merchants have displayed for Christmas decorations. Kissing rings measuring five feet tall and 40 inches across lined Eighth St. from College to the Sentinel office and River Ave. from Seventh St. to City Hall. Additional new decorations in midblock gave an added festive touch.

CHRISTMAS BALL — Representatives of several Christmas parties in Holland in December are these Horizon Club girls modeling their formals for a Christmas ball in

HALLOWEEN PUMPKINS — Renee Kortman, 3, (left) and her sister, Lafon, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Kortman, pose with two huge Halloween pumpkins grown by their grandfather, Henry De Ridder. The larger pumpkin at right weighs 108 pounds and the other 95 pounds.

Construction Has Busy Year in Holland in 1966

BEECH-NUT GROUNDBREAKING—It was on June 7 that ground was broken for the new $11,000,000 Beech-Nut confections plant on a 100-acre site on Holland's new south side industrial park. In foreground at Sherwood A. Morse Jr., (left) vice-president-production of Beech-Nut Life Savers, Inc., and John Van Dyke Jr., president of the Holland Economic Development Corp. Ross Giles of the Chamber of Commerce is at right rear.

HOSPITAL ADDITION — Mayor Nelson Bosman (left) and John H. Van Dyke, president of the Hospital Board, participate in ground breaking in July for the new $3.3 million hospital addition which will double the facilities of the present hospital. Construction is expected to be completed in two years.

HOSPITAL PROGRESS — The cement slab for the first floor of the new hospital addition was poured in December with the aid of huge buckets on two large cranes. From this slab, the hospital will rise another three stories. The heating plant is seen at rear.

PROGRESS AT BEECH-NUT — Two large sugar tanks were installed at the new Beech-Nut plant in Holland in September. In all, there are four tanks, each 28 feet long and 12 feet in diameter with capacity of about 50 tons. By a pneumatic process, sugar will be loaded from railroad hopper cars and blown into the tanks for use in the manufacture of confections.

COMING DOWN — A 50-year-old landmark, the 120-foot smoke stack at Parke, Davis plant on Howard Ave. was taken down late in November. The stack was demolished because it was no longer safe and the company had no use for it.

LEAR PLANT — Ground was broken in Zeeland in July for the 13,000 square foot building which will house the new Fabrication Technology division of Lear-Siegler Instrument Division in Grand Rapids. Left to right are Lloyd Lindland, sales manager; Alan Hutton, operations manager; Zeeland Mayor Frank Hoogland and R.A. Gollhardt, general manager of Lear-Siegler Instrument Division

CHRISTIAN HIGH SCHOOL — The cornerstone to the new Christian High School at 40th St. and Ottawa Ave. was laid in August with Theodore Haeksema (right), president of the Holland Christian School board putting the stone in place. Supt. Mark Vander Ark is at top left. The address was given by the Rev. J.T. Hoogstra, former pastor of Prospect Park Church.

RED CROSS GIFTS — West Ottawa students were representative of effort in many local schools during December in providing stockings for children in the State Home and Training School at Fort Custer. Left to right are Principal Edward J. Roberts, Mary Lois Larr, Linda Van Kampen, Moira Donnelly and Carol Hansen.

Tulip Time and Windmill Island Still Top News

RAINY TULIP TIME — It rained on three of the four days during Tulip Time in 1966, but the street scrubbing ceremony went merrily on despite dark, rainy skies. Hundreds of costumed burghers thronged the main thoroughfare, preparing the streets for the four day festival. The children's parade was postponed from Thursday to Friday. It also rained on Friday, but the parade was staged nonetheless.

WINDMILL DE ZWAAN — Summer or winter, Windmill De Zwaan soars majestically and attracts as much attention around Christmas as it does in May. For the first time this year, the 80-foot sails were lighted for the Christmas season. It could be seen best from River Ave. near the Black River bridge.

WINDMILL IN SUMMER — Spring came late this year, but when it arrived the tulips soared to new heights and formed a beautiful setting for Holland's 200-year-old windmill now in its second year on Windmill Island, on the banks of Black River.

GOVERNOR SCRUBS — Gov. George Romney always dons a Dutch costume and leads local burghers in the scrubbing ceremony which officially opens Tulip Time in Holland each year.

WINDMILL ISLAND SWAN — A swan for Windmill De Zwaan swims on the small pond and on the canals of Windmill Island, joining a growing menagerie of peacocks, pheasants, sheep, goats and a flock of white ducks. De Zwaan means "The Swan" and a picture of the swan was on the old mill when it was dismantled at Vinkel.

RAINY TULIP TIME — Persistent rain on three of the four days of Tulip Time brought out a variety of raincoats this year, and this chap remains partly dry at the children's parade.

TULIP TIME FLOAT — The Zeeland community float promoting downtown shopping was representative of many beautiful floats that graced Tulip Time parades in May. Rain marred the folk parade and the children's parade, but Saturday was sunny and the parade of bands went off on schedule before record crowds.

AMPHITHEATRE IN WINTER — Hope College Student Director Michael Vogas of New York poses Pam Eaton, Hope senior of Grand Haven, in snow-filled amphitheatre at Castle Park where Vogas hopes to produce the Greek play "The Clouds" by Aristophanes next May. The classic design of the theatre is custom made for drama. It is the first time Hope College plans to use the facilities of the amphitheatre which was erected in 1922 in memory of Flora Pennell Parr of Castle Park.

DESCENT TO THEATRE — Now snow covered, here are the steps which lead downward to the Greek amphitheatre at Castle Park where Hope College players plan to present Aristophanes' "The Clouds" next May. Proceeds of the production would go toward the new student center for Hope College.

Hope to Stage Greek Play In Castle Amphitheatre

"The Clouds" by Aristophanes, a piece of experimental theater by Hope College students, is hopefully planned next May in the amphitheatre at Castle Park. The undertaking will be entirely student directed, performed, and implemented in an effort to raise funds for the new student center. Michael Vogas, senior from New York, will be the director.

Well-known in Hope College drama performances, Vogas played leads in The Master Builder, Hippolytus, Tartuffe, The Crucible, and For Heaven's Sake as well as in St. Vincent Millay's Aria De Capo and Eneidos's The Lesso.

Last year he won the Hope drama society's Award for Best Actor for his role as "the master builder." He has also served as lighting designer, crew head, and this fall was technical assistant to the designer-in-residence Richard Bianci. Most of his training has been under James Malcolm. He plans to go on to Yale's graduate school in drama.

Two other Hope students, Richard Valentasis of Buffalo, N.Y., and Robert Schwegler of Kenmore, N.Y., are spending their Christmas vacation assisting Vogas in the preparation for the spring presentation. Valentasis, a student of contemporary and classical Greek, is trying to obtain a copy of "Clouds" in Greek so he can do his own translating. Schwegler is doing research at the University of Buffalo Library in compiling an annotated bibliography on sources relating to Greek drama, dances, and theory of Greek production that may be useful to the direction of the play.

The play itself was written by Aristophanes in 423 B.C. Considered by some to be the most famous of all Greek writers of comedy, Aristophanes bases "Clouds" on a social theme, attacking "modern" education and morals of that day as taught by the sophists. According to Britannica encyclopedia, "The Clouds" yields valuable information about Socrates in his middle "forties" if allowance is made for the play's being essentially a burlesque.

The Castle Park amphitheatre, which has never before been used by Hope College for performances, was erected in 1922 in memory of Flora Pennell Parr who, with her husband, established Castle Park.

Local Couple Gives Russian Travel Talk

The Woman's Literary Club of Holland was taken on a tour of Russia in an illustrated travelogue by Mr. and Mrs. Peter N. Prins of Holland Tuesday afternoon.

Under the title "Cabbage Soup and Caviar," the Prins showed pictures taken for their own enjoyment with Mrs. Prins giving the commentary and Mr. Prins operating the projector.

"We do not pretend to understand Russia politically since this is a forever changing picture," Mrs. Prins explained. The pictures ran mostly to the people of Russia, the scenery and the mode of living with considerable emphasis on art and culture and the vast storehouses of treasures in Russian museums.

In visiting seven of the 15 Republics of the Soviet Union during their 70 days in Russia, the travel-minded couple showed many pictures of churches and cathedrals, many of them now museums but several working churches.

There were pictures of Red Square, the preparations for the May Day parade, the buildings in the Kremlin, the lineup at Lenin's tomb, a visit to the GUM store, the Moscow university, and the 4,000-seat Bolshoi theatre where top price for top ballet is under $4.

Mrs. Prins described the Kremlin with its cathedrals and onion domes covering 64 acres within walls. She said it was first built in 1156 but has been open to the public only since 1955, two years after Stalin's death. She also described the cleanliness of the Russian subways, its trains every three minutes and riding 2 1/2 miles for five cents.

In showing housing development, mostly prefabricated materials, Mrs. Prins said Russia deserves a great deal of credit for its attempts in caring for the common man.

Other pictures showed Leningrad which was under siege 30 days during World War II, Kiev, Georgia in the Black Sea area, ancient Armenia which dates back to 660 B.C., collective farms, and Samarkand which dates back to 329 B.C. and destroyed by Genghis Khan in 1122.

Mrs. Bryan Athey, club president, announced a new special gift committee, headed by Mrs. Russell Klaasen. Other members are Ruth Keppel, Ruth Blekkink, Mrs. Dick Boter, Mrs. William G. Winter Jr. and Mrs. Frank Lievens Sr.

The next meeting will be a guest meeting Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 8 p.m. with Mario Braggiotti, pianist, in a program of "Music Is Fun."

Lots of News in '66 But Nothing Spectacular

Holland had lots of activity during the year 1966 but very little of the spectacular type.

Much of the activity revolved about Hope College which celebrated its 100th anniversary with a series of public and cultural events.

The main celebration was held in October. One night, Dimment Memorial Chapel was filled for a debate on Vietnam by Norman Thomas, 84-year-old Socialist who ran for President six times, and Kenneth G. Crawford of Newsweek. The nearly blind Thomas opposed U.S. intervention overseas while Crawford defended the administration's position. There were no real solutions but plenty of stimulating thought.

The next night, Gov. George Romney addressed a Centennial meeting in Civic Center in which he urged more government aid for private colleges, and the following night NBC Newscaster Merrill Mueller spoke at the Chamber of Commerce on "Nothing to Fear But Ourselves," also geared to the centennial celebration.

The memorable week continued with a public ox roast in Civic Center, rained out of Pine Grove on campus, and a Centennial Recognition Dinner in Civic Center which unveiled a master plan calling for $10,000,000 in developments at the college in the coming 10 years.

Other centennial events brought famous philosophers, scholars and public figures to Holland, plus a series of music and drama which extended many weeks.

Windmill Island with its 200-year-old imported Windmill De Zwaan settled down to a more normal season this summer after two years in the news limelight. Well over 100,000 persons visited the cultural development on the shores of Black River. A new addition this year was moving Little Netherlands, the miniature Dutch village which has been a leading tourist attraction here for many years, has been a leading tourist attraction here for many years, from its walled enclosure at 13th St. and Central Ave. to its new home on Windmill Island where it can be visited at no extra charge.

Not even the snow made much news during the year. The total snowfall for the 1965-66 season totaled 74.8 inches. The previous year the total was 112.3 inches.

There were five traffic fatalities in Holland city during 1966 and 34 in Ottawa County.

There was lots of building activity in the area. This included ground breaking and substantial progress at the new $11 million Beech-Nut plant on Holland's south side industrial park, a new $3.3 million hospital addition, the new Holland Christian High School at 40th St. and Ottawa Ave., new buildings for Seven-Up, Slick-Craft Boat Co. and Holland Aerosols on the industrial park, a new building at Parke-Davis, additions to local schools, and the start of the community swimming pool.

There were several strikes on the labor front. The longest strike was at the Chris-Craft Corp. There also were strikes at the Roamer plant, General Electric, and a short strike at Baker Furniture.

Holland and Ottawa County voted its usual 3-1 Republican majority in the November elections. A Republican trend in Michigan and across the country resulted in substantial GOP gains.

Miserable weather plagued Tulip Time in May with rain on three of the four days. But Press day which was staged a day before the opening was sunny, if cold, and the final Saturday was without rain. Record crowds converged for the big parade and the festival generally ended on a happy note. There were some tulips for Tulip Time, but generally spring was two weeks late and when tulips reached their peak the stems hit new heights.

Despite the rain, Gov. George Romney was present for first-day ceremonies, bringing with him a group of guests from many countries all over the world. At the parade of bands Saturday, Frank Dubinsky, manager of the Chicago World Garden Show, served as grand marshal.

Holland and Ottawa County shared in three regional competitions for Michigan Week. John Thomas Batts, Inc., of Zeeland, won the product-of-the-year competition for a plastic clothes hanger, and Harvey Machine Inc. of Grand Haven won the agricultural competition with its five-ton blueberry harvester. Holland was regional winner in the community achievement award for the Windmill Island project.

In February, Leslie Van Beveren, 35, was appointed police chief in Holland.

In March, Susan Dampman, 20-year-old Hope College junior of Teaneck, N.J., was crowned Miss Holland in the Jaycee Pageant.

Mrs. Gary W. Vreeman of Holland was named Mrs. Michigan in April and went on to compete in the Mrs. America contest in San Diego, Calif.

In June, General Synod of the Reformed Church in America held its annual session on Hope College campus and Dr. Raymond Beckering of Zeeland was elected president.

Mrs. Hazel Hayes retired as director of Herrick Public Library in March after 12 years in Holland. Later in the summer, an oil painting of Mrs. Hayes, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herrick of Tecumseh, was hung in the library, which the Herricks gave to the city in 1960.

Ottawa County Fair at Waukazoo opened to record breaking crowds in August, setting a new record of 117,212.

There were two major fires early in the year. On Jan. 12, fire swept the office and warehouse of Modern Beverage Co. on 112th Ave. off M-21 destroying beer and wine stocks valued at $65,000. About two days later, fire hit a masonry building at Seventh and Fairbanks housing manufacturing operations for air conditioners for the Home Furnace Co. Loss was estimated at $200,000.

Late in the year, stockholders of Home Furnace Co. approved an agreement for the company to become a division of Lear-Siegler Inc. of Santa Monica, Calif. In June, Lear-Siegler announced plans to erect a plant in Zeeland.

In April, City Council renamed two city parks. Windmill Park was named Van Bragt Park for the late John Van Bragt, park superintendent from 1919 to 1943, and the newly developed nature center of Graafschap Rd. was named De Graaf Nature Center after the present park superintendent.

In June, Charles R. Sligh Jr. was presented with a Freedoms Foundation honor certificate for his public address on "Fair Practices and Fair Profits."

In November, announcement was made of the "1976 Committee," a 10-year crusade to assure a conservative executive branch of the federal government. Sligh is executive vice president and national offices are in the Sligh building at 222 River Ave.

June saw the establishment of a Human Relations Commission for greater Holland.

In July, Dr. Lars I. Granberg of Hope College, was appointed president of Northwestern College in Orange City, Ia.

In September, Holland National Guardsmen set up camp in South Haven to be available for possible riot duty in Benton Harbor. The men returned home after three days.

A week ago, Mr. and Mrs. George Banks of Holland were informed that their son, Capt. Charlie Banks, 32, a pilot serving in Vietnam, is being recommended for the Congressional Medal of Honor for heroism in throwing himself on a grenade preventing explosion of two tanks.

The parents were happy over the news but happier that their son survived the ordeal.

CRASH CLAIMS ZEELAND MAN — Robert Schuiteman, 23, of 1352 South State St., Zeeland, was killed instantly Friday evening in a three-car-truck collision on M-21 east of 64th Ave. Ottawa sheriff's deputies said Schuiteman's car (foreground) struck the rear of a car operated by Phil-

IN APPRECIATION—William H. Vande Water, who is retiring this week after 20 years as executive secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, views a framed certificate presented to him at the December meeting of the board of directors, acknowledging his years of service and many achievements during that period. In his retirement, Vande Water will serve as manager of the 1967 Tulip Time festival. It will be his second year as festival manager. (Sentinel photo)

1967 Tulip Time Festival Plans Off to Good Start

William H. Vande Water, who is retiring this week after 20 years as executive secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, already is busy with plans for the 1967 Tulip Time festival next May 17-20.

In his retirement he will be serving as Tulip Time manager for a second year.

Already he is trying to line up new attractions for the 1967 festival in an effort to have something of interest for everybody, not only in paid entertainment but also in attractions without charge.

The weather during the 1966 festival was bad and it rained three of the four days. "Yet we managed to break even, financially," Vande Water says.

"It took a lot of doing, and the cooperation of the people was terrific. When parades were postponed, we hastily arranged extra activity in Civic Center so that our many bus tour groups would not go elsewhere. Klompen dancers performed every hour, and many of them danced in the rain. Some had to dry and iron their costumes three times a day, but we heard no word of complaint," Vande Water recalled.

He said the cooperation of newspapers and news media was far above what could be expected. Press Day, reinstated after 14 years, was highly successful despite a cold day and the necessity to put an evening outdoor barbecue indoors. "We're trying to arrange another Press Day in 1967," he said.

Plans also call for adding another 100 to 150 Dutch costumes to the Tulip Time stock.

Working as Tulip Time manager is only a part time position for Vande Water who has reached his 65th birthday. He plans to continue as a free-lance writer after years of serving as correspondent for the Grand Rapids Press and stringing for other newspapers.

It was while he was teaching in Zeeland and serving as Zeeland correspondent for the Press that he wrote his first Tulip Time story. The Holland correspondent was ill that particular day in 1929 and Vande Water was sent to Holland to cover the event which was to grow and become famous worldwide. In 1937 he moved to Holland and engaged in personnel work before becoming Chamber of Commerce secretary in 1946. At the December meeting of the Chamber board of directors, Vande Water was presented with a framed certificate in gratitude to his efforts over the years.

A glimpse into the past 20 years reveals many interesting chapters in Holland's economic life. In all about 40 industries located in Holland during this time. Some failed to make the grade but others grew and prospered, all of them aided in one way or another by the Chambers industrial committee.

Among them were General Electric, H. E. Morse, Scott's, Holland Die Casting and Modern Products.

The Chamber's interest in Holland growth through annexation dates back to 1947, with new impetus in 1957, resulting in successful annexation elections in 1958 and subsequently.

Vande Water was instrumental in organizing the first Lake Macatawa Boating and Water Control program which received

Allegan ASC Committee Re-Elected

ALLEGAN — The Allegan County ASC (Agriculture Stabilization Conservation) service committee has been returned to office in a recent election of 56 delegates from 24 townships.

Frank Brown from Leighton Township was re-elected to a three year term with John Oetman of Manlius Township named to a two year term and Willard Evers of Martin for a one year term.

Oetman was re-elected chairman for the fourth term.

Work of this committee is unique in that no other group of citizens has so direct a voice in running government programs. The elected committees have responsibility for the local administration of Federal programs including expenditure of Federal funds. However committee members are not office holders.

Congress holds the Department of Agriculture responsible and the Department in turn relies on the judgment and leadership of the locally elected farmers and county office employees. The county office is headquarters for farmers business in connection with program participation.

Among the major activities of the Allegan group are the Agricultural Conservation program, price support, price support loans on wheat, oats and corn, the feed grain, wheat programs, wool and cropland adjustment program.

Total business handled by the ASC in Allegan County last year was more than $1,460,000.

Water Pollution Is Problem For Lake Macatawa Basin

By Fred Oetle

EDITORS NOTE — State Senator Harold Volkema, who has been concerned about the problem of pollution in Michigan, has collected information on water quality problems in the Black River basin and Lake Macatawa. This is the third in a series and the final articles in this series are taken from interviews with Senator Volkema.

Statistics from the Michigan Water Resources Commission and the Holland Department of Environmental Health show that there is indeed a pollution problem in Lake Macatawa and the Black River Basin, one which has required and will require corrective action.

In this article in the present series on water pollution, some facts and figures about the local problem of pollution will be considered and in the next story, consider the steps that have been taken by communities and industries in the area.

The Black River basin involves an area of 180 square miles, including the towns of Holland and Zeeland, the townships of Holland, Park, Port Sheldon, Jamestown, Blendon, Olive, Zeeland, and Georgetown in Ottawa County, and the townships of Laketown, Fillmore and Overisel in Allegan County.

Black River is termed a "flashy" stream with an average discharge of 120 cubic feet per second; extremes range from two to three cubic feet to 6-7,000 cubic feet per second.

Lake Macatawa has an average width of one-half mile, is five miles long, and has a maximum depth of 40 feet at the west end and (20 feet at the east end). The west end of the lake is mostly less than 30 feet, while the east end (nearest Holland) is mostly 10 to 20 feet.

Approximately 50,000 people live in the Black River basin and Lake Macatawa area, not counting summer residents who make use of the lake. University of Michigan statistical projections show that at least 70,000 will inhabit this same area by 1980.

Industrial and municipal wastes in Lake Macatawa are concentrated in the eastern end, that is, near Holland.

There is, in the east end of the lake, a daily discharge of eight million gallons of treated industrial waste from chemical, metal treating and food processing plants, according to the Michigan Water Resources Commission. In the same area, 3.5 million gallons of treated municipal waste water enter the lake daily, mostly from the city of Holland. In addition to the usual water treatment, this municipal water is disinfected during the recreation season, about May 15 to Sept. 1, the commission said.

The catch in these figures is the word "treated." Treated how? Some firms and individuals have gone to great expense to use the latest in pollution control facilities, but waste treatment is a costly process and one which—in the past—has often been shortchanged, according to industrial trade journals.

Another source of lake pollution is the unsuspecting farmer. Few people think of farming when considering those industries which contribute to pollution in some way, but poor conservation practices are a leading cause of lake pollution.

By carelessly allowing poor runoff from his land, the farmer not only wastes his own money, but allows fertilizers and insecticides to pollute the lake. Fertilizers—spur the growth of aquatic plants, which can choke the lake and take oxygen from fish life, while insecticides can make the water toxic to animal life (including man).

Boats are often suspects as lake polluters, but in reality, boaters contribute only a small fraction of the total pollutants in the lake. Also, such pollution as there is can be cleared up, usually by such simple procedures as placing litter barrels at marinas and boat launching ramps.

How polluted is the lake? According to a survey of the Lake Macatawa watershed in 1962, sponsored by the Holland Department of Environment Health and the Holland Garden Club, 28 out of 130 samples showed a positive detergent contamination, and 52 out of 132 samples showed a bacteria count in excess of desired limits. Along open county drains, streams and the lakeshore, a total of 110 pipes were found to be contributing contaminants in some degree.

A more recent survey of Lake Macatawa was taken this past year, but the results are not yet available.

Next: What has been done about pollution of the lake?
