History

The organization was originally formed under the name Hope College Faculty Wives Club in 1938 and meant to encourage interaction among the membership and to support the program of Hope College. The name was changed to the Hope College Faculty Dames in October 1940 and evolved to include all faculty and administrative women, the spouses of male faculty and administration, as well as other Hope women who wished to belong. The name was changed in 1984 to the Hope College Women's Association, which subsequently disbanded in 1989.

Scope and Content

The collection consists of the bylaws of the organization, the bylaws of the Newcomers Committee, the programs of the Newcomers Committee, and samples of the information handed out to new members. It also contains board correspondence, minutes, photographs, clippings, treasurer's records, and Attic Specials Fundraiser aprons. All boxes and oversized items are contained within one 1.50 linear feet box.
