SECOND ANNUAL REPORT.

The report of last year was the history of our organization as a society. We now present the result of a year's labor, to forward the work of Missions among the heathen women in the Stations established by our Church.

In view of the wide field open before us, and our brief existence as a Society, we are not prepared to say that what we have accomplished has had any other effect than to arouse and to increase the interest of the women in our Churches in the cause of Missions, and to encourage our Missionaries with kindly words and expressions of sympathy. But even were this all we had done, this would be the setting in motion of powerful enginery to carry on our future work.

The forming of a Society must primarily be a work of planning and arranging; and we have felt it to be important that we should plan discreetly, and arrange wisely, lest some mistake of ours should alienate from us the sympathy which has been so fully accorded us, from the initiative steps of our organization, until the present time.

We have endeavored to dispose of the small sums we have thus far collected to the best advantage. To increase our means, we have tried to enlist the attention and gain the confidence of all the ladies in our denomination, so that they may unite with us, and our Society may show a glorious result from the combined energies of our best Christian workers.

We do not desire to divert our sisters from union work in which they may be already engaged, but so to increase their zeal that in connection with their established relation to other Societies, they may be willing to add the work of their own Church; we want to arouse their interest, enlist their sympathy and obtain their co-operation, and by fulfilling the conditions of the promise, call down the blessing upon the dear Church we love so well: "Prove we now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of Heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room to receive it."

The work of this Board naturally is divided into Home and Foreign work.
consists in awakening an interest in the cause of Missions, in establishing Auxiliary Societies in the Churches of our denomination, and in collecting funds by these means, for the foreign work.

The Home Corresponding Secretaries have labored indefatigably to bring this cause to a knowledge of the ladies of the Reformed Church, by opening correspondence in their respective districts with members of the Church, or with the Ministers. The responses they have received have been very encouraging, and show that the Missionary spirit exists largely among our people, and only needs to be developed and directed to its proper channel.

More than thirty Societies have been formed, auxiliary to the Woman’s Board, and others are about being formed; the names of these Societies, and the amount furnished by each, will be found appended to this Report.

Much interest is shown, not only by the ready response given to the letters of the Home Secretaries, but in the willingness to bestow funds, even though the sums are necessarily small in many of the Churches, at this time of great pecuniary embarrassment.

We hope that the ladies of our Church are beginning to feel that where economy is necessary, they should begin the practice of it upon themselves, personally, and not upon their poorer sisters who are laboring in the cause of Christ in foreign lands.

As our Home Secretaries have time to extend their influence in still other directions, and with Churches they have not yet reached, we hope that there will be a corresponding increase and awakening of interest in the work.

A certificate of life-membership, tasteful in design, and neatly executed, has been prepared during the last year, and adopted by the Society. Already more than twenty copies have been sent, and our list of life-members is increasing. We offer these facts as encouraging proof that the sympathy and generosity of our people have not been confined to verbal expressions.

consists in corresponding with, and encouraging the ladies at present engaged at the Mission Stations planted by the Board of Foreign Missions of our Church, and by the funds we collect, enabling them to enlarge and extend their work.
We have not as yet sent out any new Missionaries, as it is not thought advisable to do so in the present financial condition of our Board.

An application was made by a lady from the West to be sent out as a foreign Missionary supported by this Society, but there were reasons why the applicant was refused, independent of the state of the treasury.

Many of the collections sent us have been accompanied with instructions as to the particular field to which they should be appropriated; where no special object is designated, the money is devoted to the Nagasaki Mission.

We have in preparation a manual which we propose to publish in the course of the year. It will contain a full account of the Mission Stations of our Church, and the information on the subject of Missionary work will be more explicit in its details than we could furnish in the limits of an annual report. We propose to make this manual attractive by illustrations of the Mission Stations from photographs taken on the spot, and by maps; and we hope that it may come into the possession of every family in the Church, so that mothers, with better knowledge themselves, may be enabled to interest children and imbue them with a Missionary spirit caught from their own enthusiasm.

Children's bands have already been formed in some of the Churches, and we hope that the Missionary manual may prepare the way for others by the influence it shall exert in giving more full accounts from the foreign field.

We give some extracts of letters from our Missionaries to show how they regard our Board and the assistance we can furnish them. Mrs. Scudder, of Vellore, says: "It is a comfort to know that a band of earnest workers at home are joining their efforts and prayers with ours in behalf of the work we are trying to do here."

Some months since, Mrs. Scudder took charge of Miss Mandeville's schools, with the average attendance of ninety scholars. This, with the superintendence of the other schools, gives her more to do than she can do justice to, and she complains sadly of the impossibility of caring properly for so many children; she says: "I am longing more than ever for a lady to come to our relief who can do in the schools all that it troubles me not to be able to do; and who can go with the little girls to their homes and gain a Christian influence there also; a work that I am obliged to leave entirely undone."

Looking to us for the much longed-for assistance, she adds: "I am sure you wish to carry on the work begun by Miss Mandeville and Miss Chapin in behalf of our Hindu sisters. We wait anxiously for the help which we hope may soon come."
We read so much of the ignorance and degradation of the Chinese women, that it is cheering to find a gleam of light kindled in the darkness there by those who have placed in their homes that word of God, which has ever proved a lamp unto the feet and a light in the path. Miss Van Doren of Amoy, China, writes thus of the closing exercises of another year of work in the girl’s school: “The older girls repeated from memory the Psalms they have committed, having just finished and reviewed the first thirty. These were selected from the many Bible lessons they had learned during the year, as giving a fair specimen of the work they had done. Lessons in Geography and Arithmetic followed. The Pastor expressed great satisfaction at the close, as the lessons had been carefully prepared and well recited. The parents seemed much pleased, and were very thankful for what had been done for their daughters.  I greatly wish that all who have contributed to the support of this school could be present; I feel sure they would never regret any sacrifice made in its behalf.”

Commenting on their progress, Miss Van Doren says: “It shows that Chinese girls can be taught to think for themselves if sufficient care and training be given them.” At the close of her letter she adds: “This shows what can be done, and we trust that it is only the beginning of a glorious work, which shall yet be accomplished by the daughters of this people.”

We think it a most sensible arrangement that these pupils are trained as teachers; a native Christian teacher has certainly the advantages of free access to her people, command of their language, and knowledge of their manners and customs. In speaking of their endeavor to accomplish this, Miss Van Doren says: “The oldest pupil is now so far advanced that the teacher previously employed has been dismissed, and she will have charge of this department herself this coming year. We are pleased to see this young lady in a position of such usefulness. It is indeed a step in advance. Since this school was opened six years ago fifty-seven pupils have been in attendance at different times. Sixteen have been received into the church.  We trust the young ladies will not only be well taught themselves, but it will be their earnest endeavor to instruct those with whom they live and associate.”

From Yokohama, Japan, we have received an account of the Girls’ School, in care of Mrs. Mary E. Miller, wife of Rev. E. K. Miller, and Miss E. C. Whitbeck. This School was opened in June last and has at present twenty-eight scholars. Mrs. Miller says: “Four of the older girls, to whom we pay five dollars a month, three of which goes to their board, assist us in taking care of the little ones, and teaching them their lessons. Three of these girls are members of the church, and are supported by mission bands at home.

"The boarders pay three dollars a month, the day scholars one. This seems out of proportion, but we wish to encourage the boarders, for we have so much more influence over those girls who are with us all the time. This three dollars just covers their board, which is the best Japanese food, better than that they get at home. It is of fish, rice, eggs and all kinds of vegetables, but no meat, bread or milk. The four older girls to whom we pay five dollars a month are a great assistance to us. It is our idea, and we are sure you will see the wisdom of it, to prepare these girls as soon as possible to become teachers in the school, rather than send out a large corps of foreigners from home. We want in about one year to give them a good salary, and have them devote their whole time to us."

We have given these extracts from Missionaries' letters; we wish that we had room for more, as these are but a few of the many we should like to offer, did space allow.

Mr. Stout, of Nagasaki, appeals for assistance in the establishment of a Christian Home in that place and Mrs. Pruyn joins most earnestly in the plea. A building suitable for that purpose can just now be purchased for a moderate sum. The matter has been taken into consideration. The Managers are very anxious to raise the money by an extra effort without interfering with the funds at present in the hands of the Treasurer, and to present this Christian Home as the Centennial offering of the Woman's Board to the Lord of Missions. We hope that we are not too sanguine when we say that we think this will be accomplished.

The Indian Mission work at Arizona, in the Apache country, has also its plea for our benevolence, but we have had neither the means nor the time to enter upon this field. Our attention was called to this post by an officer in the Army, through Mrs. Marten.

Although our sympathies were aroused, we felt that we should undertake no more work than that which at present we are laboring to accomplish. We see and feel that work is as needful among these Indians, as among the heathen in China or Japan, but we succumb to the necessity of checking the impulsive wish to work in every field, and acknowledge the wisdom of only doing so much as we have the means of doing well.

It has been frequently urged against Missionary Societies that a large portion of the funds collected go to defray the expenses of the work. It is due to the Home Corresponding Secretaries, and the Recording Secretary of this Society, upon whom in this instance, the heaviest share of expense has fallen, to state that they have themselves paid all the charges consequent upon their share of the work.

We have thus summed up what we have planned, and what we have accomplished, and we now submit what has been done, in the hope that it may be approved in our Churches, and stimulate many others to join with us, so that this may be but the beginning of a great work.

Where so much is to be done in every direction for Christ, while appealing hands are uplifted to us for help, to learn the way to Heaven, it seems sad that so many of our sisters, our Christian sisters, sit idle, never hearing the voice of the Master, as he says to them: "Go ye also into the vineyard and work!"

In the last war a "substitute" was sent by those who could not themselves go against the invader. Through the collections we ask you for your substitute in this war against ignorance and sin. As this has been a year of pecuniary trouble, do not take more from the income of your family, do not, dear sister, ask it of husband or father, but deny yourself, and lay upon the Lord's altar the sum that you have saved from your own wants.

We insert, by request, the following incident from a description of the reception of the Prince of Wales in India, sent to us by an eyewitness of the scene described. The young lady referred to is a Missionary from Brooklyn, New York, and she seems to have been unconsciously fulfilling the command: "Let your light so shine, that men may see your good works, and glorify your Father in Heaven."—"We witnessed the reception of the Prince of Wales, and all the ceremonies observed on his landing in India. The native chiefs attired in their richest apparel, stood resplendent, their ornaments glittering in the sun. Patiola, the richest of them, wore a turban which was valued at half a million of dollars. About his head were festooned strings of diamonds, any one of the precious jewels he had so lavishly displayed would have been a modest fortune. Pearls and emeralds also ornamented his attire, enabling him to stand, from head to foot, a perfect illustration of Oriental splendor. Other chiefs emulated, but could not surpass Patiola; some had their robes embroidered in gold, others in pearl and turquoise; above their heads glittered sprays of diamonds, with here and there an immense solitaire twinkling like a star.

"Another scene deeply impressed me: a native woman fainted and as 'Priests and Levites passed by,' myself among the number, I saw a delicate young lady bending over the prostrate form of the heathen woman, administering restoratives, and acting the part of the good Samaritan."

"What a contrast did this humble service of Christian self-denial present to the brilliant pageant which I had just witnessed! A cup of cold water given to a disciple in the name of a disciple, will outlive all the fleeting splendor of a world that is passing away. We seem to hear the Master who looked down upon this scene saying:—"Then shall also this that that woman hath done be told for a memorial of her."

'Gertrude L. Vanderbilt.'

ANNUAL REPORT

Of Mrs. J. P. Cumming, Home Corresponding Secretary,

Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church.

It is now a year and four months since the organization morning in which the "Woman's Board" of our Church was inaugurated. As we reviewed the work of the past year, and realize that it is the summing up of our first year's "balance sheet," we cannot but feel, that to the Source and Giver of all good, we have reason to be grateful, that this blessing has followed our efforts, and crowned them, with so good a measure of success. We have reason also in the retrospect, to feel that the cause has deepened in the minds and hearts of our people, and they have entered into the work with more earnestness and zeal. Many of our correspondents, although not quite ready pecuniarily to begin the work, assure us of awakened interest and sympathy, with the promise of effectual working for the cause another year, assuring us in words like these, of their sentiments: "When the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions was organized, we felt that it was a step in the right direction, and rejoice in the success that has so far attended it."

Ladies Missionary Society of Owasco Outlet.

From a report of Mrs. E. T. Throop Marten, we learn that the ladies in this Society have been much interested in the Mission established among the Pima and Mariposa Indians of Arizona, on their reservation upon the Gila river. There are about 12,000 Indians here who are spoken of as being among the best farmers in the Territory;
they wish to have schools for their children, and to acquire the customs of American civilized life.

This Society has also shown interest in the establishment of a girl's school at Yokohama, in answer to a call from Miss Mary E. Kidder, formerly a member of the church of Owasco Outlet. Their last contribution was a centennial offering to the projected girl's school at Nagasaki.

Ladies Missionary Society of the Reformed Church of Lafayette, Jersey City, Auxiliary to the Woman's Board.

From the report of this Society, we learn that the ladies decided to send the larger part of their contributions to the Nagasaki Mission, and also the sum required for the education of a girl in China. At their last meeting the Treasurer reported a balance in the treasury after deducting the amount paid to the Woman's Board for China and Japan, which was appropriated to the girl's school at Vellore.

Much interest in the work has been expressed by the ladies of this Society.

Ladies Missionary Society of the Middle Reformed Church, Brooklyn, Auxiliary to the Woman's Board.

This Society was organized March, 1876. From their recent organization there is little to report, except that the ladies are meeting with favor and success in their work.

From the Auxiliary Society in the Church of Rev. Dr. Romeyn, at Hackensack, we receive the intelligence that the ladies pledged themselves to raise the amount of three hundred dollars for the year, which they succeeded in doing, and also that the sabbath school children contributed, in addition, a sum to be appropriated to the Nagasaki Mission.

The Auxiliary Society in the First Van Vorst Church, Jersey City, has sent in its first annual report, from which we learn that the Society was formed with six members who resolved, amid many discouragements, financial and otherwise, "to do the best they could and leave the rest with God." This brave little band have shown the wisdom of their reliance; their number has been increased to thirty one. Their contributions have been given for the girl's school at Amoy. Two young misses subscribed twenty dollars for one year's tuition of a girl in the Amoy school.

The Auxiliary of Reformed Church Belleville, Rev. J. P. Strong, Pastor, was organized September, 1875, with eleven members, and it has now increased to thirty-six. In addition to the money contributed to the Nagasaki Mission, a valuable box was forwarded to that station containing books, papers, ladies' wearing apparel and other useful articles. New members are constantly being added to the Society.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church, Newark, by unanimous vote became last year an auxiliary to the Woman's Board. They are pledged to raise at least one hundred dollars yearly for the Nagasaki school.

From the Pastor of the Clinton Avenue Reformed Church, Newark, expressions of sympathy have been received, with the hope that a Missionary Society may be formed among the ladies of his congregation as an auxiliary to the Woman's Board.

At a quarterly meeting of the Woman's Board in October last, a communication was received from the wife of the Pastor of the Second Reformed Church, Newark, stating that her class of young ladies in the Sabbath school pledged themselves to pay twenty dollars for the support of a girl in the school at Amoy.

In the North Reformed Church, Newark, N. J., a Society was formed in April, 1875, called the "Day Spring Auxiliary." Last year their contributions were given towards the support of five girls in the Amoy school.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Reformed Church of Bergen, Jersey City, auxiliary to the Woman's Board, was organized May 1875. This Society has been successful in its work of the year and the interest of its members continues unabated. The late President, Mrs. J. L. Amerman, has resigned her position in that Society, as she is to accompany her husband to Yokohama, Japan.

The members of this Board bear in grateful remembrance the letters of encouragement and the warm and hearty expressions of interest received from her at the time of organization, and trust that the good seed of the kingdom which has been planted and watered in faith and prayer by these faithful co-workers with us in the cause of foreign missions may yield a bountiful harvest to the glory of God and praise of His name.

The Missionary Society of the Church on the Heights, Brooklyn, auxiliary to the Woman's Board, gave their liberal contribution last year to the Ferris Seminary at Yokohama, and the Secretary of that Society hopefully writes that their contributions will not fall off in any degree in the present year.

From the Auxiliary Society at Adams' Station, N. Y., we receive information of their doing well. Part of their funds are devoted to the Japan Mission, the balance is as yet unappropriated.

The Auxiliary Society in the First Reformed Church, Brooklyn, called the "Dawning Light Band" have not abated their zeal in the good work. We wish that their example may be followed by all the churches who are yet without an auxiliary to the Woman's Board. Their contributions have been given towards the support of Miss Whitbeck at Yokohama.

The Auxiliary Society of the Second Reformed Church, Freehold, N. J., organized April 1875, report that they propose to educate a Japanese girl in the Ferris Seminary at Yokohama.

At the first meeting ten ladies were present; there are now ninety-six members and four honorary members.

From Bushnell, Ill, we hear that in July last, the members of the Sabbath School formed themselves into a Missionary Society, but not feeling sure of success did not constitute themselves a branch of any Society. In January last they adopted the constitution and became an auxiliary of the Woman's Board. The infant class formed a "Mission Circle" calling themselves "Buds of Promise."

The funds collected are to be appropriated to the education of two or more girls in the school at Amoy, China.

From Hope College, Holland, Mich., a call has been made for copies of the Annual Report, Constitution, By-laws, etc.

God grant that in the West as in the East, Christian women may be found ready to send the Bread of Life to those who are famishing for want of it.

MRS. E. M. CUMMING, COR. SEC.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF MRS. A. E. MYERS, HOME CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

In presenting our report of the Home work for the past year, we find much to encourage us. The women of our Church have taken up the work with earnestness and zeal, the children are enlisted in the cause of Missions; new auxiliaries are being organized; and, looking onward, we thank God and take courage.

In the City of New York, we have some earnest workers in this cause. The Secretary of the Auxiliary in the Middle Collegiate Church writes — "In presenting our first Annual Report, we would express our gratitude to God, who does not despise the "day of small things," for the start we have made in our "Woman's work for Woman." We have paid to the Board of the Parent Society and have forwarded to Miss Talmage a box of goods, which will, it is hoped, be of service to her in her labors among the Chinese girls and women.

With renewed and increased zeal, and especially with constant prayers for the blessing of God upon our labors, we may hope to be the means of accomplishing much good to our sisters who are sitting in darkness.

In the Collegiate Church, Corner 29th St. and Fifth Avenue, an Auxiliary has recently been organized, and in the Autumn the work will be fairly entered upon.

In the Collegiate Church Cor. 48th St. and Fifth Avenue although there is no distinct organization, through individual effort, a liberal collection has been made for this cause.

In the Sixth Avenue Reformed Church, an Auxiliary was organized in January, 1876, and the Secretary writes—"We are greatly encouraged with the success of our enterprise. We have decided to direct our prayers and contributions to the Nagasaki school for girls."

At Saugerties N. Y., the ladies decided to reorganize the Woman's Missionary Society, which has been established there for many years, and make it auxiliary to our Board; and the Secretary writes that the Society has become much quickened, and the work is going forward well. A Sewing Circle has also been added to their other efforts.

The Secretary of the Auxiliary, at Readington, N. Y. writes,—"Our Auxiliary was organized in April, 1875, with thirteen members; the number has now increased to one hundred and thirty, and our contributions amounted to about $150. We feel that we have accomplished something, which under the blessing of our Heavenly Father, whose Kingdom we are laboring to extend, will be instrumental of great and constantly increasing good."

At Hopewell, N. Y., the ladies have become interested in educating a little girl in the Amoy Mission School, China; and their contributions are sent regularly, for that purpose.

They were recently much interested in an address from Dr. Chamberlain, and sent a donation towards the support of teachers in the Indian villages.

We present in full the Report from the Auxiliary in Yonkers, N. Y.

At the First Monthly Meeting, it was unanimously decided that the money collected from membership fees should be devoted to some special Mission of the Woman's Board.
On recommendation of the Board, and from an account given by Prof. Griffis of Japan, an interest was excited in the case of a young Japanese girl, Ko Okada, who was persecuted by her family on account of becoming a Christian, and then was under the care of Mrs. Miller, of the Girl's School at Yokohama. Mrs. Miller wished to educate her for an Assistant Teacher, in her school. The amount necessary for support was immediately pledged by the ladies of this Auxiliary, and at the same meeting a few of the members contributed $30.00, for the support of a Bible reader in India.

In October an appeal was presented from Mrs. Howland, of the Ceylon Mission, for a quantity of patchwork, to be used in teaching sewing in her Schools. This work was at once taken up and extra meetings have been held to accomplish it as quickly as possible.

May the year just closed be an encouragement to continue in this work for our Master.

A Mission Circle has also been organized among the children, and the little ones are heartily enlisted in the work of sending the Word to heathen lands.

In the Auxiliary at Nyack, N. Y., the work has been carried on very successfully. With a large membership and active workers, much has been accomplished, and a liberal amount has been sent to the Treasurer of the Board, as the result of a year of faithful effort.

At Wyckoff, N. J., the ladies have very recently organized an Auxiliary Society, and are entering upon the work with earnest purpose, to "do what they can for the Master."

At a meeting held in New Brunswick, N. J., March, 1876, a Society was formed under the name of the Woman's Missionary Society of the 2nd Reformed Church, of New Brunswick, and Auxiliary to the Woman's Board. As the work is but just entered upon, it is not time to look for results, but we hail the organization of each new Auxiliary with gladness, and bid them Godspeed.

A communication from the 1st Reformed Church of New Brunswick, informs us that the ladies of that church are occupied in the same work, although not Auxiliary to the Board: The Society has been in existence for fifty years, and has always contributed to both the Domestic and Foreign Boards. The ladies are at present supporting two scholars in the Chittoor Seminary, India.

From Millbrook, N. Y., the Secretary writes: "On Saturday last, April 23d, our little Mission Band formed itself into a regular organization and voted to put itself in connection with the Women's Board of Missions of our own Church."
“We pledge ourselves in doing this for $20,00 as required in your directions, but we hope to increase that amount at least four fold.”

A very flourishing society in Newburgh, N. Y., has been recently organized, with a membership of eighty. Dr. Chamberlain has interested the ladies here in the Chittoor Seminary, India, and all contributions for the year have been sent there.

In Fishkill Village, N. Y., an Auxiliary was organized in March, 1876. The ladies are willing and eager to enter upon this work, and we hope for large results in time.

A correspondent in Rhinebeck, N. Y., writes us giving an account of money collected and forwarded to the Treasurer of the Woman’s Board for Nagasaki. This society although not Auxiliary to our Board, each year devotes part of the amount collected to one of the Missions of our Church.

At Bedminster, N. J. there is a very large and flourishing society of forty or fifty years standing, and although not Auxiliary to our Board, a large proportion of their collections pass through the hands of our Mission schools and churches.

At Bronxville, N. Y., an Auxiliary was organized over two years ago, it is now in a very prosperous condition.

This year the ladies have pledged themselves to support a girl in India, and continue the support of Rio, an assistant teacher in Mrs. Miller’s school in Yokohama, Japan.

During the year letters have been received from the young girl in Japan, and the interest in the work has been wonderfully increased. Quarterly meetings are held, when each lady present is expected to give some item of missionary intelligence, and this has greatly increased the interest of the meetings.

God has prospered our work in its beginning, we may trust Him for our future. Let us look forward with courage, that we “may go up and possess the land which God has given us.”

ART. 2. Its object shall be to aid the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America, by promoting its work among the women and children of heathen lands, and for this purpose it shall receive, and disburse all money which shall be contributed to this society, subject to the approval of the Board, in the appointment of missionaries supported by this association, and in fixing their locations and salaries. To the furtherance of this end, it shall also endeavor to organize similar associations in all Reformed Churches, and these associations shall bear the name of Auxiliary Societies to the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America, and shall report their work to this Board at such times as the by-laws may direct.

ART. 3. Each person paying one dollar annually, through an auxiliary, or directly to the treasury, shall become a member of this association. The payment of twenty-five dollars by one person, at one time, shall constitute a life membership.

ART. 4. The business of this Board shall be conducted by thirty Managers, each of whom shall be a member of an auxiliary society. They shall be elected annually by the members of the Board, who may be present at the annual meeting, and shall organize on the first Tuesday after their election, by selecting from their number a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Recording Secretary, two or more Corresponding Secretaries, and a Treasurer. They shall have power to elect not more than twelve Honorary Vice-Presidents, and to appoint corresponding members, when the object of the Board can be promoted thereby; they shall also have authority to fill vacancies occurring in their body during the year.

ART. 5. There shall be an Executive Committee, composed of the officers and two other Managers, to be elected annually. This committee shall have power to transact such business as may require attention in the intervals between the stated meetings of the Managers. Five members shall constitute a quorum.
ART. 6. The annual meeting of the Board shall be held on the second Tuesday in May, in the City of New York, at which time the Managers shall report to the association the operations, conditions, and prospects thereof, and an election shall be made of Managers for the ensuing year.

ART. 7. A special meeting of the Board may be called at any time by the President, upon the request of the managers.

ART. 8. This Constitution may be altered at any regular meeting of the Board, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present, notice of the intended alteration having been given at a previous meeting.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE 1. The Managers shall hold their stated meetings on the second Tuesday of February, May, August, and November, at eleven o'clock, A.M., at such place as they shall appoint. Seven members shall constitute a quorum. Special meetings may be called by the President, upon the request of five members.

ART. 2. The Executive Committee shall meet once a month, at such time and place as the committee shall decide.

ART. 3. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board and of the Managers, appoint all committees not otherwise provided for, and perform such other duties as are incident to the office, and shall sign all drafts upon the treasury before they are paid.

ART. 4. A Vice-President shall perform, in the absence of the President, all the duties of her office. The Honorary Vice-Presidents shall have all the privileges of Corresponding Members.

ART. 5. The Treasurer shall receive and hold, and keep an account of, all money given to the Board, and shall disburse it as the Managers shall direct. She shall report the state of the treasury at each regular meeting of the Executive Committee, and make a quarterly report to the Managers. Her annual report shall be examined by an auditor appointed by the Managers.

ART. 6. The Recording Secretary shall keep a full record of the proceedings of the Board and Managers, which shall be read for correction at the close of each meeting, and she shall give proper notice of special and stated meetings.

ART. 7. It shall be the duty of the Corresponding Secretaries for the foreign field to conduct the business of this Board with the Board of Foreign Missions, and also with the Missionaries, Teachers, and Bible-readers supported by this association. They shall prepare the annual report of the Managers; and missionaries supported by this association shall report to them.

Art. 8. The Corresponding Secretaries for the home field shall correspond with the churches, and propose the organization of auxiliary societies wherever it is possible to awaken an interest in the work for which this association is formed.

Art. 9. Auxiliary societies shall be required to make an annual report to the Managers through the Corresponding Secretaries, on or before the first Tuesday in April.

Art. 10. Any Manager who shall be absent from three successive meetings, without giving notice of the reason of her absence, shall forfeit her position, and her place may be filled.

Art. 11. These By-Laws may be amended at any meeting of the Managers, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present; but notice of the proposed amendment must be given in writing at the meeting preceding such vote.
