Driver May Lose Gas Ration Book On Speed Counts

First Action of Kind
In Local Vicinity Is
Instigated by Board

In compliance with a request from the local war price and rationing board, Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith today supplied three statements of conviction involving Preston Brandson, 20, route 4, Holland.

John J. Good, executive secretary of the local war price and rationing board, said the statements will be forwarded to the district OPA office in Grand Rapids to be turned over to enforcement officers relative to the revocation of his gasoline ration book. Should the OPA revoke Brandson's ration book, he will be the first motorist in this vicinity to have such action taken against him, Judge Smith said.

Following a trial Tuesday afternoon in municipal court, Brandson was found guilty of speeding 40 miles per hour in a 35-mile zone. Officers testified that he was driving 50 miles per hour after he crossed the Black River bridge on River Ave.

He was assessed a fine and costs of $10 which he paid. Brandson also paid a delinquent fine and costs of $15 assessed him last October for failing to stop for a through highway.

The three statements of conviction charged that Deputy Sheriff Harold Van de Bunte testified Brandson was driving from 50 to 55 miles per hour on US-31 when he was arrested for failing to stop for the through highway; that he was charged with speeding 38 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone last Dec. 21; and that he was speeding 40 miles per hour in a 35-mile zone last Sunday.

Repeal of Soil Act Would Be Hard Blow, Miles Says

Lansing, Jan. 14 (Special)—Repeal of the 1937 state soil conservation act not only would stop the present program in 10 Michigan districts, but would cancel arrangements to include many more acres in the soil-salvage project, Rep. Nelson A. Miles, R., Holland, declared today.

Miles, who said Tuesday he would fight the repeal bill introduced by Sen. Otto W. Bishop, R., Alpena, pointed out that no particular reason has been advanced as to why the act should be nullified.

Results obtained on the 212,000 acres in the 11 townships which embrace the west Ottawa soil conservation district are testimonials to a democratic process that is fundamental to the salvation of man and his land, Miles asserted.

"It is hoped that this program will be permitted to continue. Because of the economic manner in which it has been carried on thus far, and the control and cooperation which rests exclusively with the local soil conservation committee in each area composed of farmers residing within said area, there could be no reason why this act should be repealed," he said.

"The first district was set up in Ottawa county and many persons locally are familiar with what has been accomplished and all of this with almost negligible cost to the state."

He explained that the 10 districts in Michigan cover 15,582 farms which total 1,896,893 acres. "The state soil conservation headquarters at East Lansing informs me that in the 10 districts 12,288,622 trees have been planted on land previously destroyed for all farming purposes; 5,482 acres of contour cultivation has been established to prevent erosion; 3,095 acres of strip cropping have been established; 376 acres of orchards have been planted on the contour; 44 miles of diversion terraces have been constructed; 1,759 acres of sand blow stabilization have been set up; 5,186 acres of permanent grass seedings have been planted; and other beneficial action has been taken."

"The Ottawa soil conservation district was organized in May, 1938, and the outstanding accomplishment as reported by the Lansing office is the ownership and operation of a six-million tree capacity nursery and lineout bed, the product of which is rapidly reclaiming the badly worn out and blown out area of the western part of Ottawa county. Because these farmers showed great enough interest in their own problems to cooperate and get the job done, they were successful in getting the CCC to establish a camp in Grand Haven to aid in the problem. Also, because of the organization, the district became the logical mechanism for greatly activating and enlarging the distribution of marl in the county."

"The amount of victory tax which we will be required to pay in 1944 will be based on the amount of war savings bonds we purchase in 1943," Mr. Lievens commented.

Since various persons have wondered why this has not been permitted in the past, Mr. Lievens is now urging all persons to buy as many bonds as they can in January to help Holland meet this quota.

More Than Five Thousand Given In Gideon Drive

Close of Campaign Is Celebrated at Dinner;
Dr. Mulder Speaks

At a dinner Wednesday night in Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church which climaxed the Gideon campaign for funds, James Slager, chairman of the drive, announced that the total sum received in the letter campaign was $5,137.36, enough money to supply 20,500 more service men with Gideon testaments.

Ben L. Van Lente, president of the local group, presided. D. J. De Pree of Zeeland, chaplain, gave a short message from the word of God which was followed by a report from Herman Bos, secretary-treasurer, on the Testament distribution at draft boards.

At eight meetings, 229 service men were presented with Testaments. He also reported how the money from the campaign will enable the Chicago office to release a large number of orders for Testaments which are pending there.

Following the reports, Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Theological seminary, addressed the Gideons on the importance of holding forth the word of God and its transforming power in the hearts of men through the ages.

Mr. Van Lente, on behalf of the Gideons of Holland, said, "We appreciate more than we can state the splendid response of the people of Holland and vicinity in aiding us with this offering which will enable us to arm them with the Gospel, too. We congratulate you on sending in this fine amount."

Gilbert Van Wynen led in the singing of several songs and choruses. The meeting, which was attended by 70 persons, adjourned in the regular Gideon fashion, the group forming a large circle and singing "Bless Be the Tie That Binds." Closing prayer was offered by Henry Weyenberg.

Sub-Chaser Goes To New Orleans

War Craft Built Here
Is Being Taken South
For Delivery to Navy

Boatswain's Mate First Class Thomas F. Smith, officer in charge of the Holland coast guard station, has revealed that the sub-chaser, recently built by the Victory Shipbuilding Co. at its Macatawa park plant, is now en route to New Orleans, La., for delivery to the U. S. navy.

He said the sub-chaser left Holland and arrived in Chicago Friday night to enter the inland water route for the rest of its journey to New Orleans. The 165-foot ice breaker Almond came to Holland from the straits and aided local coast guard boats in breaking up the ice in Lake Macatawa and in the channel to permit the sub-chaser to leave the local harbor and enter Lake Michigan.

The Almond also accompanied the sub-chaser across the lake to Chicago. Launched with appropriate ceremonies last Nov. 29, the sub-chaser is the first one to be sent to the navy by the Victory Shipbuilding Co.

Four cases were continued, those of Zero Tellez, Allegan (Mexico), Barbara Janca, Allegan (Czechoslovakia), Theresa Spiesz, Fennville, and Theresa Morse, Fennville (both Yugoslavians).

Co-Discoverer of Oil Field Dies

Gerrit Vander Leest, 63, well known among local oil men as one of the co-discoverers of the Burnips oil field in 1937, died on Wednesday at his home in Muskegon Heights following a two-month illness.

Mr. Vander Leest's part in the discovering of oil in the vicinity of Burnips was recognized at a banquet here Feb. 2, 1938, which was the first anniversary of the finding of oil there. The other co-discoverers were Hugh R. Crider, Robert C. Lentz and Herman R. Miller, all of Muskegon. Each man was presented with a pair of engraved wooden shoes mounted on a plaque.

The story of the discovery of oil in Salem township was one of hardship for Mr. Vander Leest who emigrated from Vriesland, The Netherlands, when a boy. When the profits of his crossroads store in Salem township failed to support his family of eight, he disposed of his business and went to Muskegon where he was employed as a leasing agent in the Muskegon oil fields.

This work gave him the idea that oil might be found in the vicinity of his former Allegan county home. He solicited the aid of Dr. Crider, geologist in Muskegon. Deductions made from extensive studies encouraged the drilling of a test well in Overisel township. After a block of leases had been obtained the well was drilled in section 26, Overisel township, but no oil was found.

Mr. Vander Leest continued his studies of the formation of this well and plotted a new high structure in Salem township, lying about three miles northeast of the Overisel well. Subsequent discovery of oil in Salem township was the outstanding achievement in his life.

The Burnips field is still producing oil but not on so large extent as it did in 1937 and 1938. In 1937 it was estimated the field produced approximately $1,000,000 worth of oil.

Mr. Vander Leest is survived by the widow, the former Tena Vander Veer; six sons, Richard, Morris, Ted, Tony, Wesley and Walter, all of Muskegon; one daughter, home; eight grandchildren; seven sisters, several of whom reside in Grand Rapids; one brother-in-law, John Masselink, 230 West 18th St.; and several nephews and nieces who also reside in Holland.

Lead Changes Hands Several Times; Many Fouls in Hard Game

Before a jam-packed, hilarious crowd in Holland armory Friday night, Hope college eked out a 42-40 victory over the Calvin Knights in the first game of their renewed basketball rivalry. The lead changed hands five or six times during the contest, which was as hard played as any game yet witnessed by local fans.

Some 32 fouls were chalked up against both squads, Calvin being penalized twice more than the Dutch, but every indication of good sportsmanship was shown by all the players, and the old rivalry, although still as bitter as ever, is all in good, clean fun.

The Hinghamers were still somewhat handicapped by their recent attack of the flu, but it didn't stop the speed of the club, which is the big asset of the Dutch this year, and it was because of this uncanny speed and fast break that the score stands as it does. The Knights were tall, and recovered the big percentage of rebounds, but failed to work through the tight Hope defense, and resorted to a combination fast break and set-up style.

The game started with all the tenseness of an old rivalry, and not until Marv Bylma, ace shot of the Knights, let loose with his beautiful pivot shot did the crowd begin to cheer. From here on there wasn't a silent moment in the whole contest.

Van Dis scored first for the Dutch on a fast break shot under the board, but Calvin still remained in the lead when Elmer Van Wieren, Holland boy, sent a long one through the meshes. The score was now 5-2 but not for long. Hope let loose a barrage of shots that sent the Knights reeling and in a few minutes had jumped into a 12-5 lead, the biggest advantage of the whole game.

Calvin closed the gap to one point, then took the lead, but soon the game was all tied up at 20-20 when Capt. Et Kleinjans sent two through the meshes in succession. Highlight of the season affair so far was the brilliant cutting and shooting of Don Mulder, who kept the Dutch moving by his consistent baskets, and foul shots, of which he made 7. Calvin took a halftime lead of 25-24 when Lou Zylstra connected on one of his overhead charity tosses.

Immediately after the intermission the two clubs began their now habitual battle for basket shooting, knotting the game at 27-27, at which point Hope took the lead and never relinquished it. The reliable Mulder collected twice, followed by Kleinjans and De Vette to put the locals in front by 5 points before the Knights again collected, Van Wieren and Bylma shooting the damage. A quick break by Van Dis, two more long arched ones by Kleinjans and Hope seemed to have the game well sewed up with a neat 40-33 advantage and eight minutes left to play.

From here on things began to happen thick and fast. Bylma, Van Wieren and Capt. Henle Scholten all tallied in succession to narrow the lead to two points. Two foul shots by Van Dis and Mulder finished the Hope scoring with three minutes left to play, but Calvin wasn't quite ready to quit. They had two foul shots to shoot, both of which were missed, took another one out of bounds and Zylstra tallied to give them 40. The game ended with both squads sprawled on the floor, under the Hope basket, fighting for the ball. The game will go down in the annals of both schools as a basketball highlight of highlights.

The outstanding players were numerous. Everyone played their hardest, and no individual should have, not does he want, all the credit. Marv Bylma led his squad with points, collecting seven field goals for a total of 14. Don Mulder had 15 for Hope, while Et Kleinjans had 12. On defense, it was a team against the other, with every player an individual star in the estimation of the fans.

The preliminary contest proved to be almost as much of a thriller as the main event, although the score wasn't so close. Hope won the game, 36-20. Boersma pacing the winner with 15 points, while Lanning had 8 for Calvin. An unusual event was the refereeing by Coach John Tuls of Holland Christian, who saw seven of his players of last year on the floor at one time, five playing for Hope and two for the Knights.

The main event was officiated by Fred Spurgeon and John Bos, who called the fouls as accurately and skillfully as any referees could in such a contest.

Dr. J. Banninga Speaks to Lions

Members of the Holland Lions club heard Dr. John Banninga speak Tuesday on the political situation in India. Dr. Banninga, who was principal of Union Theological seminary at Pasmalai, India, presented a few of the basic problems confronting India which have led people to call her "problem child of this war."

He showed a keen insight into the Indian situation when he said, "Even though Great Britain has done amazing things for India in developing it as a country, their primary purpose in doing it was to increase the productivity of the country so that Great Britain could be enriched."

In analyzing the situation, Dr. Banninga stated there is a three-way conflict. To solve the problem it will be necessary to take into consideration the common people of India, the British and the Indian princes. All three classes will have to be satisfied.

Dr. Banninga also emphasized the fact that there are the two great religions, Mohammedanism and Hinduism and that are continually in conflict. Another factor is the inequality of the caste system.

"After this war it will be necessary for the Caucasian powers of the world to recognize the Oriental in world considerations to a greater extent than has been done in the past," he concluded.

In making his report Bert Post stated that in November $5,170.75 in bonds and stamps had been sold by the Lions club. In December the total was 5,231.35.

Guests of the club were G. W. Carlson and G. N. King of the Carnegie Steel Corp. and M. E. Stuckels. Lion Hubert Plane of Saugatuck was also present.

Point System Explained at Meeting of Defense Group

Zone captains, precinct wardens and 175 block leaders of zones 1, 2 and 3, of the civil defense corps, met in Washington school Monday night to listen to an explanation of the point system of rationing soon to be inaugurated by the government.

The meeting was called by Mrs. C. J. McLean, civil defense corps major. She complimented the 333 block leaders on their very efficient work in carrying needed information into the homes of Holland in the interest of home defense.

Three persons representing the A.A.U.W. were then introduced—Miss Lavina Cappon, Mrs. John D. White and Mrs. Henry Steffens—and through a panel discussion, they explained the manner in which the point system works. They emphasized the need of such a system to ensure civilians of a fair share of certain commodities and to provide adequate supplies for the armed forces.

One ration book, No. 2, will be issued to each member of a family upon presentation of Book No. 1 (the sugar book) on a date to be announced soon. This book contains 96 red stamps to be used for processed foods and 96 blue stamps to be used later for meat rationing. These stamps are lettered A, B and C, etc., there being four stamps bearing each letter, the point value of the stamps being 8, 5, 2 and 1, in each series.

The point system will be applied to commodities which are not sufficiently plentiful so that, like sugar, which everyone uses, the total supply could be divided by the number of users and allotted on a unit basis.

In the case of meat, for instance, the office of price administration says that it would be impossible to divide the total supply of each kind of meat among all consumers. There are too many types of meat, too many cuts of each type, and too many grades and types of cuts. Therefore the government will assign a point value to each cut of each kind of meat. This might be eight points for a soup bone which will be scarce, and one point for a coup bone which may be more plentiful. The housewife would then surrender an eight-point stamp for a porterhouse steak or a one-point stamp for a soup bone.

Miss Cappon emphasized the fact that under point rationing the housewife would need to budget not only the money to spend for food for the family, but the points as well. If all the points allotted for one month's use are "spent" before the end of the month, she cannot have more. There can be no borrowing of points from the next month's quota. The need for the housewife to be ready to change her plans on short notice was also emphasized. That is, she should have a second choice made before going to market for it is quite possible that there will be shortages in some types of food. It may be too, that the family's favorite food will not be the "best buy" in terms of its point value. Thus many will find it necessary to change their tastes in food in months to come.

The block leaders are urged to consider this an educational campaign. There is no question of accepting or not accepting the point system of buying. It is coming and everyone must learn to use it. Mrs. McLean pointed out that the block leaders are not asked to make a house to house canvass but are urged to call the housewives together in groups of two or three blocks in a church or school. The block leader will be responsible for calling the meeting after conferring with her precinct warden or zone captain. The A.A.U.W. will then send to the meeting someone to explain how the system works.

Fennville Youth Sent to Prison

Grand Haven, Jan. 14 (Special)—William Russell Payne, alias Dallas Grant, 21, route 2, Fennville, was arraigned in circuit court yesterday on supplemental information, charging him as a second offender to which he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve from five to 7½ years in Southern Michigan prison.

Payne pleaded guilty Dec. 28 to a charge of larceny of an automobile from the Haan Motor Sales of Holland. The supplemental information alleged that on April 26, 1937, he was convicted in Allegan county of a charge of assault and taking indecent liberties with a 9-year-old girl for which he was sentenced to serve three years at Jackson.

He also had been in Allegan probate court on a moral charge involving a seven-year-old girl and was sent to Lansing for about 18 months. During the time he had the stolen automobile, he forged a check in Saugatuck for $36.50. He has never been discharged from parole.

The court, in sentencing Payne, said "Because you have been such a bad boy all the way around and so long, I'm going to give you a little longer term."

Ottawa Farms Increase Yields

Grand Haven, Jan. 14.—The demand for greater production of farm products needed to win the war is being met by many Ottawa county farmers without irreparable damage to the soil.

Among these is Clarence Reenders, prominent Grand Haven township farmer who says conservation measures put into effect on his farm since he became a co-operator with the west Ottawa soil conservation district early in 1939 have increased production by more than 10 per cent.

Mr. Reenders, also a member of the district's board of directors, says, "My crops are getting better each year since a conservation plan for my farm was worked out with Lewis Ruch, district technician, and they will continue to get better."

Crop rotation, wind strip cropping, reforestation, application of marl and use of windbreaks have increased crop yields, doubled hay production and enabled him to have more livestock.

Robert E. Briola, district conservationist, points out that a 10 per cent increase in yields on ten farms is equal to another farm to produce food for the war effort. Besides, he says, this increased production is obtained without additional use of vital labor and materials.

Grand Haven, Jan. 14 (Special)—Purchase up to $50,000 of par value U.S. "Dollars for Victory" securities by the finance committee was authorized at Tuesday's meeting of the Ottawa county board of supervisors.

Action followed a suggestion Monday by Supervisor Herman Van Tongeren of Holland that the board buy war bonds. The decision to purchase the securities was made on motion by Supervisor Nicholas Frankens of Zeeland.

In other business Tuesday a resolution was passed whereby County Treasurer Fred Den Herder was directed to deposit all public monies, including those monies coming into his hands, into the following banks: The Peoples Savings bank and Grand Haven State bank, Grand Haven, the Spring Lake State bank, the Peoples State bank and Holland State bank of Holland; the Zeeland State bank and the Hudsonville State bank. The Peoples Savings bank of Grand Haven has been named as depository for the county checking account.

S. P. Slaughter suggested that a representative from the federal government meet with the county officers' committee and take up the matter of compensation which the county can expect for housing federal prisoners. Some of the federals are in the county jail a short time and others are in there much longer, awaiting arraignment or disposition of their cases.

Twenty-Five New Homes Listed in City During Year

Official Building Totals Shown in Report to Federal Government

Building activities in Holland for 1942 officially totaled $187,359.15, Mrs. Helen Termer, deputy city clerk, said Saturday after having completed her annual report which is filed yearly with the federal government. The amount is $413,867.65 less than the 1941 record of $601,226.80. The official figures for 1940 were $450,208.

Building permits totaled 479 in 1942. However, fewer were actually filed with the clerk's office. It was explained that when a builder applies for a permit to construct a new home and it also calls for construction of a new garage they are listed separately on the government report although they are shown jointly on the same permit. Permits in 1941 totaled 494 or 15 above those of last year.

New home construction provided the biggest expenditure of money. The 25 applications for permits to build new homes totaled $83,300. In 1941, there were 89 applications for new homes with a total amount of $291,700.

There were 52 applications for the construction of new private garage amounting to $9,125. Other classifications together with the number of applications and their value follow:

New industrial, three, $850; new commercial, one, $150; chicken coops, two, $350; remodeling, repairs, etc., to non-residential, 59 and $35,546.50.

Only one application for a building permit was filed last week at the city clerk's office and represents the first one of the new year. It was filed by Mrs. Alice Bonzeelaar, 165 West 17th St., who plans minor repairs to the second floor of her home at a cost of $100.

The amount of the single application is $420 less than those for the week of Dec. 24-31. Value of permits for the week of Dec. 18-24 was $175.

Heasley Home Is Scene Of Charming Wedding

In a charming ceremony performed at 4:30 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Heasley, 303 Maple Ave., their daughter, Helen Mae, became the bride of Lieut. William J. Mawhinney of the U.S. army air corps, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Mawhinney of Cincinnati, O. The Rev. Marion de Velder of Hope church officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Robert Cavanaugh of the Hope college music faculty sang "Because," d'Hardelot, accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, also of the college, who played the Loehring wedding march as members of the bridal party took their places before an artistic arrangement of palms and ferns flanked by tall baskets of white chrysanthemums and lighted seven-branch candelabra.

The bride, descending the stairs on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin. Pearl-trimmed lace was applied on the marquisette yoke which featured a high neckline, the bodice was fitted, ending in a point at the extended waistline, and the sleeves were long. The gathered skirt extended into a full train. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion cascaded from a Juliet cap of lace, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and stelia with an orchid center.

Her maid of honor, Miss Peggy Kirchner, wore a charming gown of aqua faille in colonial style, with fitted bodice, V neckline and puffed sleeves, the full hooped skirt gathered in puffs. She wore a bow of the same color in her hair and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and stelia tied with a pink bow.

Little Louise Ann Marsilje, cousin of the bride, wearing a dress of figured pink organdy trimmed with tiny lace ruffles, was flower girl, and another cousin, Master Marc Pierce, was ring bearer.

Robert Heasley, the bride's brother, served as best man. Prof. and Mrs. E. P. McLean were master and mistress of ceremonies. Miss Peggy Hadden was in charge of the gift room, and Murray Snow and Bob Chad presided at the punch bowl.

Following congratulations, a wedding supper was served the 80 guests, and the bride and groom cut the decorated wedding cake.

Lieut. and Mrs. Mawhinney left early in the evening on the first lap of their journey to Little Rock, Ark., where Lieut. Mawhinney will be stationed. For traveling, the bride wore under her fur coat a gold gabardine suit with brown accessories.

The bride, who was graduated from Holland high school, attended Hope college where she was a member of Sorosis sorority. The groom attended the University of Cincinnati and was well known as an instructor and exhibition player of badminton and tennis before his enlistment in the air corps. He was tennis instructor at Castle park during the summer of 1941. He was graduated last week from officers' training school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the groom's mother, Mrs. Mawhinney, and his sister, Mrs. Reeser of Crystal Lake, Ill.; also Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Pierce and two sons of Big Rapids, and Mrs. Willis Geerlings of Fremont.

NEEDED: A NEW NEW DEAL

The most urgent need America faces is that of concentrating all its forces on winning the war.
That is the one issue on which there is virtually no difference of opinion. The administration loudly calls for it, the Republicans and the Democratic anti-New Dealers agree to it; former isola-tionists are as enthusiastically committed to it as anybody else.

But large groups in and outside of the Democratic party believe that the action taken to achieve this end is not as whole-hearted as it should be. Large numbers of Democrats feel with Senator Byrd and his economy
committee that literally billions of dollars are being devoted to things that have no direct bearing on winning the war but that are merely designed to carry out the New Deal's social and political program. And of course large numbers of Republicans also feel like that.

But what happens to all demands for economy in non-war spending programs? They get the cold shoulder, and nowhere is that shoulder colder than in the White House itself. President Roosevelt has been a stone wall against it for years. The election last November shocked him into an awareness of the strength of such sentiment. But in spite of that he continued to cite non-war
services such as meat inspection and challenged the forces of economy to show how they could be curtailed. No one had even demanded it; the president kept carefully clear of answering the demands that had actually been made.

Whatever concessions are made by the New Deal high command
—and some will undoubtedly be made, because congress is now in a position to force them—they will still be made grudgingly.
There is no disposition on the part of said New Deal high command to cooperate with the forces of economy; the New Deal in its very nature is committed to a philosophy of spending and more spending. Whatever gains are made are such as are wrested from the forces in power.

That is the plain and simple reason why we need a new New Deal. Whether that comes in the form of a Republican majority or of a coalition of anti-New Deal Democrats and Republicans is not of major importance. We need in the seats of the mighty men who will not merely passively agree to return to the principles of economy; we need men who will eagerly and actively scheme and plan for ways in which American wealth may be conserved so that it may be used one hundred per cent to win the war.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

At the out-set of the Sino-Japanese conflict, the National Christian Council of China issued Christian Church of America may well learn: "In the midst of suffering and loss and national crisis,
we would call on the Christian church to move forward. The gospel of Christ is not a message of defeat. It is a summons to struggle against the forces of evil
in the lives of men and nations.
It is the good news of the love of God in action, of help of those in need, of devotion and sacrifice for the welfare of society, of ideals of the wide-world Kingdom of God and of faith in the ultimate victory of right."

Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Jesus and the Samaritan Woman

John 4:27-42

By Henry Geerlings

What mighty issues come forth
ofttimes from the merest incidents.
Jesus was going north and stopped by a well to rest. There is nothing remarkable about that. A woman came to that well to draw water while Jesus was resting there and there is nothing remarkable about that. She had done that probably hundreds of times before. But this time was different because Jesus was there.
A great soul makes incidents extraordinary and crowds into the commonplace ways and doings of life the very glory of heaven. A well and one woman gives Jesus
an opportunity to open the treasure house of his mind and take out some of its choicest jewels.
Jesus clothes this occasion with a wealth of charm and interest and vibrant truth.

It is interesting to note the de-lucacy and tact of Jesus. He never blundered. He was never offensive or rude or forward. He knew the amenities of life and practiced them. He saw in this simple minded woman one to whom He might reveal himself and entrust with a great message. He asked her for a drink, quite a natural thing for a thirsty individual on a hot day to do. But she was somewhat taken back that He should do it, not because He was a man and she was a woman, but because He was a Jew and she was a Samaritan. The Jews and Samaritans hated each other.
Here was race feeling that ran hot in the blood. But Jesus had none of it. He rose above such pet-tiness and such arbitrary fences
of division and included all peoples within the field of His interest and affection.

A Samaritan woman was a human being with a priceless soul in the mind of Jesus and that was the big thing. That she happened to have been born a Samaritan was of no more consequence to Jesus than the color of her hair or the architecture of her home. "A woman's woman for a that." She was susceptible to divine overtures and capable of giving a hospitable reception to a great truth. We moderns claim to be the followers of Jesus and we say that we are of His spirit, but some of us still harbor race hatred and still talk about the rights of the superior races and still make it hard in an already hard world for so-called inferior peoples. One wonders how much we have grown in the last two thousand years in the matter of Christian brotherhood. One pauses to call some peoples Christians who say they are Christians when he sees how they feel toward Jews and Negroes and Chinese and Hindus. At any rate, Jesus, the Jew, talked to the woman, the Samaritan, and he ignored
the old hatreds and differences in the warm glow of His benefi-cent purpose toward her. By asking for a drink He tactfully opened the way for a conversation that led her finally to the very feet of God and to a spiritual apprehension of the Christ. But it was a step-by-step process. He conducted her gradually from the known to the unknown, from the material to the spiritual, from the temporal to the eternal, from the well of man to the fountain of God.

Of course she was somewhat tardy of apprehension. She was slow in recognizing the identity of the man who talked so graciously to her. But small wonder, the intellectual and great of Jerusalem could not see the Christ in Him. But she arrived in God's good time, as all genuine souls do. She was disposed to be argumentative. Her misunderstanding of what Jesus meant by the water He offered her led her astray. Her spiritual obtuseness made Jesus as mysterious to her as the water He was talking about. But she is evidently impressed with the sincerity of Jesus and so she is ready to take His gift. But she is not as prepared to receive as she thinks she is.
She must be made conscious of her sin
and then a thirst for the living water must come as she sees herself as Jesus sees her. Jesus cannot give gifts that people do not want. He is an impossible gift to some people for the simple reason that there is no desire for Him.
You can give a man a book but the book will not be his until he loves and appreciates the contents of the book. You cannot give heaven to people who have no heavenly minds.

So Jesus takes another step in the process of reaching the soul of this woman with His great truth.
He asks her to go for her husband and then He touched a sore spot in her soul. She has no husband, for the man she was living with was not her husband. She tried to avoid the issue. She would lead the mind of Jesus away from that disagreeable theme. She introduced another thought which seemed to guide him far afield. But he led her soul up the dizzy heights of a great revelation and she saw from the heights a new glory of God.
And it looks as if she at last opened her heart to the fact that Jesus was the Messiah and for her a new life began. May we not feel that thereafter as she came to draw water from that well she sent her bucket down into the water of life
and her soul was satisfied?

Wartime Studies Will Be Started At Holland High

Pre-Induction Courses Are Included in Broad Program for Students

Holland high school will go on a wartime basis, starting Feb. 1, as a result of the board of education's action Monday afternoon in unanimously approving a course of study to meet the war emergency. The new studies will be offered at the start of the second semester.

Presented by Supt. E. E. Fell, the courses are divided into two categories: Pre-induction courses designed to be of immediate benefit for those who will probably be in the armed forces within the next year, and war courses, designed as preparation for life in wartime.

As selective service regulations now provide that a youth, on reaching his 18th birthday, must register with his selective service board, it is presumed that several boys of the 1943 graduating class will shortly thereafter be subject to military duty since the average graduation age is between 17 and 18 years old.

After listening to Supt. Fell's explanation of the proposed new course of study, the board approved his recommendations on motion of Mayor Henry Geerlings, seconded by Trustee Albert E. Van Lente.

The superintendent advised the board that school officials had been considering the new courses and curriculum in the high school for some time. He said they had been proposed by the war department and submitted to the state department to be passed on to the schools.

Supt. Fell dealt at length on the physical fitness program as the most important of all. He reported that Leon Moody, Malcolm Mackay and Joe Moran had attended a recent physical education institute in Grand Rapids where they were told that 30 per cent of the war casualties were due to fatigue as many soldiers had been found dead without marks of injuries but they had died "because they were unable to stand the pace."

He reported that an hour of strenuous exercises will be required one hour a day, five days a week for all senior boys since they will be the first to be inducted. Available facilities will be utilized for their benefit while boys of the eighth, ninth and 10th grades will receive as much physical education as facilities permit. The girls will be almost entirely deprived of this program since only one gymnasium is available, now that the Junior high school gymnasium is used for the vocational training program.

Boys of the 11A, 11B and 10A grades will meet twice weekly according to the present setup. Other pre-induction courses follow:

Refresher mathematics, a course open to seniors who have had one year of algebra and one year of geometry, the course to include review work in arithmetic, algebra, geometry and some trigonometry, use of the slide rule and logarithm tables; Refresher arithmetic, a course given in the ninth and 10th grades but open to junior and seniors; trigonometry IV; advanced aeronautics; elementary aeronautics, a one-semester course to be open to both boys and girls; physics II, dealing principally with the study of electricity and radio; and shop.

Under the latter, Supt. Fell said, a course in machine tool operation will be given at the vocational training school three hours per day, open to senior boys. Already this class has been filled and will be held from 1 to 4 p.m.

With seniors participating in this course, the school will receive only about a 65 per cent reimbursement from the state. Supt. Fell said a contract will be completed with the state board of control for vocational education to permit training of students since local war industries are hiring men before they complete their course of training. Mr. Fell also reported that arrangements have been made whereby boys and girls who are 18 years old or who will become that age before the end of the school year will receive machine shop training with adult classes and will be admitted to training as the needs permit. They will be certified for training through the local U. S. employment service office.

There also will be a class in model airplane building, which is already filled with students, and a general shop course for girls.

The war courses are divided into three groups—social studies, commercial subjects and home economics.

Under social studies, there will be three subjects: Modern History II for students who have finished American history II, the new course to include a study of the development of the governments of Germany, Italy, Japan, Russia and Great Britain, world geography, world resources, communications, military organization of the principal countries of the world; American history I and II, covering the field of American history beginning with the period of the Revolutionary war and time will thus be available for consideration of the place of the United States in world affairs, the war aims, world geography and some geopolitics; American history II which will include government and economics of the war aims, world geography and geopolitics.

Commercial subjects will cover salesmanship, including retail selling or distributive education open to seniors who are not enrolled in shorthand. The course will provide "how to do it" information and develop self-confidence in dealing with everyday sales activities, develop capable salespeople with due consideration for customers and prepare students to become more intelligent consumers. Advanced typing and shorthand courses will include instruction in military correspondence.

Under home economics, there will be home economics IV which is open to all junior and senior girls and will include work in home nursing but in order to get a Red Cross certificate, girls must take home economics III as well as home economics IV but the latter may be taken without having completed the former.

Supt. Fell said students will have to eliminate some studies and activities to take these new subjects but that colleges had granted this concession by reducing the various requirements for college entrance. He said major and minor sequences in the fields of commerce, home economics and industrial arts may be presented for admission to any state teachers college.

In other business disposed of by the board, claims amounting to $25,001.27 were approved for payment. Mayor Geerlings, board secretary, advised the board had a balance of $165,864.76 as of Dec. 31.

Trustee Albert E. Lampen thanked the board for the flowered plant which was sent him during his recent confinement in Holland hospital.

Supt. Fell also reported that Miss Thirix Moore, with the cooperation of Eugene F. Heeter had gathered a collection of songs which will be sung at patriotic public meetings and that 2,000 copies were being printed at the school print shop for use at such meetings. He said Miss Moore, Mr. Heeter, Margaret Van Vyven and Stuart Ludlow, have offered their services to lead in the singing of these songs at such meetings. On motion of Mrs. Martha D. Kollen, the board thanked Miss Moore for her work and also complimented the print shop for its fine printing job. Each board member was given a copy of the collected songs.

Russian Relief Exceeds Quota

C. Neal Stokette, who served as chairman of the 1942 Community chest campaign in November to raise funds for the 1943 activities of that organization, is in receipt of information from the New York headquarters of Russian War Relief, Inc., that says approximately $3,000,000 had been realized through participation in more than 300 Community war chests throughout the country.

Russian war relief was one of the agencies which were included in the local Community chest's budget.

Russian war relief has exceeded the goal of $6,000,000 which it set early in 1942 for relief supplies to the Soviet Union by more than 50 per cent. Edward C. Carter, president of the relief agency, advised the board of directors at a meeting in Washington Monday that a total of $3,342,204 had been raised in contributions in cash, in kind and in collectible pledges as of Dec. 31, 1942.

The total of relief goods shipped and in transit and purchase commitments as of Dec. 31, was $5,244,000. Of this total, 78 per cent was for medical and surgical supplies, 15 per cent for clothing, knitted goods and blankets and 6 per cent for foodstuffs and seeds and 1 per cent for miscellaneous other items.

Charges Stalling On Time Question

Rep. Miles Tells Kelly Farmers Will Act If Legislature Doesn't

In a special delivery letter which he sent Friday afternoon to Gov. Harry F. Kelly, State Rep. Nelson A. Miles of Holland outlined his views on Michigan's time question in which he informed the governor that because the present moves in the legislature have the appearance of stalling, "there is talk of petitions being circulated, calling for a referendum in the spring election."

"You can rest assured, if anything like this happens, every farmer in the state of Michigan will go out and vote and it certainly will put the legislature and the party in a position where we don't want to be," Miles warned the governor.

He also charged that "the hasty trip by the senators to confer with the state of Ohio is a waste of the taxpayers' money."

"The problems created by this time are our own problems. If the city of Detroit desires to stay on fast time, they should be permitted to do so and, except for the Wayne county members, I know that the whole state of Michigan with possibly two or three exceptions expect this legislature to return the time and do it as early as possible without any maneuvering by any one or two persons," Miles wrote.

The local representative has been active in attempts to have Michigan, which is now on eastern war time, returned to central war time, one hour slower. In a recent communication to Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Rushon, he contended that the legislature has the right to return Michigan to the central war time zone.

When the state legislature convened last week in Lansing, Gov. ernor Kelly, in addressing the legislators, warned that "this legislature should not act hastily on a question as important as this matter of official time." He urged that "either a special committee or the appropriate standing committees of the house and senate fully explore what is at stake."

Already bills have been introduced in the senate and house to turn back Michigan clocks one hour at 2 a.m. Feb. 1.

Miles' reference to the hasty trip by senators to Ohio pertains to Sen. Earl A. Munshaw, R., Grand Rapids, and Sen. Joseph A. Baldwin, R., Abilene, who conferred with Gov. John W. Bricker who is said to have collected a summary of arguments on both sides of the question preparatory to sending Ohio's legislature a similar bill.

Miles advised Gov. Kelly that he tried to see him before coming to Holland for the week-end but found the governor was busy, hence his decision to write him about the time situation.

"Personally, I believe there are no facts which need to be ascertained in connection with changing this act."

"As far as facts are concerned everybody knows what the facts are, and have been ever since a year ago this February when this time change took place. I have a file in the matter including letters and petitions from Manufacturers, school districts, farmers, farm organizations, common councils and boards of supervisors which I think practically every rural legislator has, which state all the facts anyone needs to know."

"Ever since I came home yesterday, I have had long distance telephone calls, letters and personal interviews by persons who feel that the maneuvering taking place by Senators Baldwin and Munshaw is just a scheme to sidetrack this issue."

Miles further contended that central war time would cause no inconvenience whatever to any manufacturer who is engaged in war work. He referred to one manufacturer engaged in war production near Detroit who wrote a two-page letter "and when he was all through, the only inconvenience found was his statement that Washington would be an hour out of 'kilter' in his telephone conversations."

"War plants in the state that are working 24 hours a day would suffer no loss of time where, on the other hand, there are certain plants that are only working two shifts, starting in the morning who can show that this fast war time is costing them a great many dollars," Miles added.

"Farmers have been greatly inconvenienced and it is also costing them money because of the difference in time between the Chicago markets and the western Michigan markets, which gets increasingly so as the summer comes on. Those engaged in dairy farming are up against it because of the strictness placed on them in delivering their milk. Also, those who must hire help have difficulty with her because they want to quit the middle of the afternoon on all other commercial enterprises."

"I do not write this letter to you out of any criticism whatever but because of the growing number of moves that are being made on this question, when this necessary and only has the appearance of sidetracking an issue I believe 90 per cent of the farmers are in favor of."

Judge Reports On Court Cases

In reviewing activities in Ottawa-Allegan circuit court during 1942 Judge Fred T. Miles reviewed Saturday that in Ottawa county, 76 criminal cases were filed in the clerk's office, 39 law cases, and 125 chancery cases which include divorces.

In Allegan county, there were 24 criminal cases, 68 law cases, and 135 chancery cases which include divorces.

"Of course not all of these cases were tried. Some were settled and in some criminal cases, there was a plea of 'guilty.' Some were dismissed but even so, we had a busy year," Judge Miles said.

Prior to his induction he was employed at Limberts Furniture factory.

Following a short business session Mrs. Albertus Pieters, a past president of the organization and director of alcoholic education, was presented with a life membership in the Michigan W.C.T.U. Mrs. M. De Boer made the presentation speech.

Mrs. C. M. Beerthuis, speaker for the afternoon, had for her theme, "Prayer as a Weapon." She spoke of the great need of the implements of modern warfare for the armed forces in comparison to the spiritual weapons of the armor of faith.

Mrs. Beerthuis quoted many instances in the scriptures where God's judgments upon the earth were changed by the prayers and repentance of his people, "when the Lord repented of his wrath and did not work the evil he had planned as a chastisement upon the nations." She spoke of the righteousness which exalted a nation and mentioned the names of prominent leaders in the present world crisis who firmly believe in prayer and who are not ashamed or afraid to confess Christ before men.

The speaker closed her discourse with the prayer of Daniel as found in the ninth chapter where the prophet pleads because "his people have sinned against the Lord." The program closed with a 15-minute season of prayer and testimony.

Mrs. Pieters was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Howard Dorgelo sang two solos, "Teach Me to Pray," and "Pause at His Feet for a Moment of Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Dick Vander Meer. Rural Youths Are Aiding War Effort Overisel, Jan. 14 (Special)—Organized in January, 1942, by a group of rural young people known as the Michigan State Junior Farm bureau, a committee called the Junior Farm bureau war project committee has completed its first year's activities in aiding the nation's war effort.

This committee took as its first project the raising of funds for a Red Cross ambulance which was presented to the army. The farm bureau at that time collected scrap, paper and rags in Overisel and vicinity to reach the quota.

The state committee presented at the April council meeting of the Michigan State Farm bureau, the so called "one bushel of wheat per farmer" campaign to raise a $10,000 war bond. Junior farm bureaus throughout the state are now at work on collecting this "bushel of wheat" or its equivalent to reach the quota set by the state board.

The purpose of this $10,000 war bond is to set up

Guns-Planes-Tanks QUICK!

5 Reasons Why

- By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- You add the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

LISTEN, Bud—glad to see you getting along. Sure, I know you've had to tighten your belt—for a long time you took it on the chin, and now you're getting good pay.

"That's O.K. with us soldiers. You've got your part to play, just as we have ours. You've got to make the stuff—and we've got to deliver it.

"But just a second . . . maybe it's none of our business, but, say, are you throwing your money around?

"Here's something straight from the shoulder. You see, we soldiers want to feel that we're not fighting alone—that you're behind us—every one of you, man, woman and youngster.

"How? Listen . . .

"How many WAR BONDS are you buying? Are you in on the Payroll Savings Plan? If you're not, you'll get in—won't you? This is your war—isn't it? We're fighting for you, aren't we?

"So look . . .

"When they come around to you, at your job, and ask you to put aside TEN PERCENT of your earnings every payday—a dime from every dollar—you'll do it, won't you—for us?

"You'll get a WAR BOND every time you've saved $18.75—and that Bond will build up, year by year, to $25 in ten years.

"So you're helping us and protecting yourself at the same time by your savings. Can't beat that, can you?

"We've got to have guns and planes, and tanks, and ships and bullets—and you've got to pay for them—from your own, voluntary WAR BOND savings.

"Invest a dime from every dollar in us—and keep it up, week after week, month after month. Then count on us to blast hell out of the Japs, the Huns, and their whole bloodthirsty gang.

"O.K., Bud—now let's go!"
