Jaycees Juvenile Study Set

City Council Wednesday night approved a request from Holland Jaycees to join in a study on juvenile problems in Holland, asking the mayor to make appointments and the city attorney to act as legal adviser for the group.

The report, as outlined by Roger MacLeod, dealt with one phase of the Jaycee Community Survey which revealed a public concern in the areas of juvenile crime and law enforcement.

These pointed to a general disrespect for law among teenagers, increase in the number of juveniles involved in crimes, the large number of vehicles driven by teenagers and the resultant problems, general public lack of respect and support for police authority, liquor problems, and lack of an effective judicial system with respect to juveniles.

The Jaycees are proposing an organization known as the Jaycee Committee on Juvenile Problems, the function being to provide a source of complete unbiased information concerning the national problems as they affect Holland community. The organization also pledged $300 toward expenses of the community and in the event of future need for funds, Council's financial assistance will be requested.

The committee proposes to obtain information by such means as public hearings, private conferences with city employees and elected officials, private conferences with local attorneys, and the use of outside resource material. It is understood that data from hearings will be held in strictest confidence by the committee, and upon completion of study, the committee will submit to Council a summary of findings with recommendations.

Mayor Nelson Bosman commended the Jaycees for their interest and concern in serious problems. MacLeod told Council he already had talked with several specialists who have offered assistance as a public service. Among them, he said, were Dr. Douglas Blocksma, Grand Rapids psychologist, and Ted Van Dellen, Albion municipal judge and legal counsel to Starr Commonwealth.

Fire Hits Crampton's

City firemen responded to a call at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday at Crampton Manufacturing Co. on West 12th St. where fire started in a cupola in the foundry section on the western section of the building and spread to the tar on the roof and under the roofing.

Firemen had the blaze under control in 15 minutes, but water damage to engineering offices on the second floor plus smoke and water damage in other sections appeared to be more serious.

Firemen believed damage to the building would run to a few thousand dollars, but no estimate was available on other damage.

Production was halted for a time Wednesday night, but all employees were at work today. Firemen said a good share of the inside water damage resulted from the plant sprinkling system.

Community Survey Is Released

The long-awaited results of a Community Survey conducted some months ago by Holland Jaycees were released to City Council Wednesday night.

There was no discussion on the report which, like many another report or communication, was "received and placed on file."

Questionnaires totaling 3,453 were mailed to every other household in the city using electrical service from the Board of Public Works, and 1,106 or 32 per cent were returned. This was considered a remarkable response for a voluntary questionnaire. Several hundred questionnaires were disregarded because one or more pages were missing.

Since questionnaires were addressed to household heads, it was reasonable to expect the head to answer it, and the age group responding was considerably older than the average age expected, a factor which might have marked effect on attitudes. Answers also pointed to persons more highly educated than the average.

Some of the more significant results follow:

Of those answering, 990 owned homes and 120 rented them. These listed 137 retired, 321 blue collar, 130 white collar, 109 retail and service, 144 professional and 97 in business.

Church affiliation listed 304 for Christian Reformed, 405 Reformed, 51 Catholic and 60 Methodist.

A total of 844 households had a member of the family visiting Herrick Public Library within the past three months. Uses of Civic Center also were well established, the majority of families being in the building 1 to 10 times in the course of a year. The greater share of families shopped in the downtown area once a week.

A total of 555 households had garbage collection and 554 did not; 611 had milk delivery and 499 did not; 1,001 had gas service and 117 did not; 1,092 had telephones and 31 did not. A total of 1,069 subscribed to a newspaper (244 more than one) and 59 did not.

For decreasing accidents on US-31 bypass, 705 favored overpass, 248 stop lights, 319 speed reduction and 27 wider median strip.

One check sheet "rated" various city functions. Most people rated city water supply and city sewage system excellent to good, and the same for radior services, street maintenance, parks and recreational areas, and public library. Ratings on newspaper services had an almost balanced number for average and poor as for excellent and good.

Recreational opportunities had mixed ratings, leaning to better opportunities for children than for teenagers, adults and older persons. There were many more "poor" ratings than excellent or good ratings in these three groups.

Ratings on schools ran to good rather than excellent or average.

City owned free parking lots downtown were highly favored for a project. There was little support for a municipal golf course, more for a municipal pool, and only a few for expanded airport facilities. A total of 383 opposed a municipal garbage collection and 279 opposed a municipal pool.

On Tulip Time, 135 would drop it, 22 would cut it down, 114 said it was okay as is, 46 wanted better tulip lanes and 162 felt there was too much commercialism. There were 233 other answers.

The questionnaires opposed liquor by the glass in Holland, 695 to 368; favored Sunday closing laws, 703 to 382; opposed Project Windmill, 646 to 405; favored fluoridation of city water, 770 to 248; opposed extending water and sewer services to outlying areas without annexation, 607 to 443; opposed one-way streets, 549 to 511.

A total of 672 favored improved downtown area for shopping and 286 preferred outlying shopping centers.

On school millage, 432 said they voted yes and 436 voted no. Of these 71 did not want higher taxes, 139 were dissatisfied with school authorities, 66 felt present revenues were adequate.

In "anything you particularly like about Holland" 443 mentioned cleanliness, 74 the character of the people, 52 the religious atmosphere, 33 the parks and 12 the schools.

In "anything you particularly dislike about Holland," 106 mentioned backward and narrow-minded views of many of the people, 50 on unresponsive and arbitrary government, 41 on traffic and parking problems, 37 on lack of recreational facilities, 37 on bad school situation, 22 on high taxes and or high utility rates, 22 on dead Sundays, 17 on closed council sessions, and 14 on lack of job opportunity.

In rating "five most important things to make this a better Holland," 293 cited more and

Sale of Bonds Under Study For Hospital

After a full reading of the six-page contract and considerable discussion, City Council Wednesday night approved a contract with Schmidt, Garden and Erikson, Chicago architectural firm, to design a proposed addition for Holland Hospital.

On suggestion of Councilman Richard Smith, hospital needs were reviewed by John H. Van Dyke, president of the Hospital Board, who pointed to crowded rooms, beds in halls and the general need for improved or enlarged facilities in related fields.

"The first need, of course, is more beds but to provide more beds we must also expand the other departments to care for the patients. Our laundry is inadequate. We need more laboratory space, more office space . . . in fact every department is crowded, and since hospital building programs are always a long process and cannot be accomplished overnight, we must plan now so that we can have these facilities in a couple of years," Van Dyke said.

Smith also asked about financing the project and Van Dyke said the Hospital Board is studying the possibility of selling revenue bonds to be financed by an increase in patient room rates. He described this method as more equitable than a general obligation bond program in view of the fact that city patients number 53 per cent while 47 per cent are from outside the city.

He said no decisions have been made but on the basis of a $1.5 million addition, the rate might be increased $3.25 a day, and if the project ran from $1.75 million to $2 million, the rate might be $4 a day. Such increases, he said, would put Holland rates at approximately the same as those in many other areas.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt commended the Hospital Board for the time and energy put into the study program thus far, and the vote to approve the architect was unanimous.

Smith, Peerbolt and Henry Steffens have been serving on a special committee of Council to evaluate the Hamilton report, a preliminary report on local needs, and to work with the 14-member hospital building committee.

Public Hearings Slated On Garbage Collection

Two proposals of garbage collection in Holland city were submitted to City Council Wednesday night by the three-member refuse-solid wastes study committee and Council scheduled a public hearing at the next regular meeting Feb. 5 to learn how the city feels about it.

The majority report, favored by Chairman Eugene Vande Vusse and Donald D. Oosterbaan, recommends a 100 per cent collection from all residences in the city on a contract basis with a private contractor and supervised by the Environmental Health Department. This would provide complete pickup of all household wastes such as garbage tin cans, glass and grass clippings on a twice weekly basis during four summer months and once weekly for eight months at a cost of about 35 cents a week.

The minority opinion of Bertal H. Slaght would continue the present partial collection system with the city operating a sanitary land fill type disposal program. This operation would

New County Road Plan Under Study

GRAND HAVEN — A plan whereby the County Road Commission would be responsible for the development and maintenance of 20½ miles of streets and highways within cities and villages was approved in principle by a unanimous vote by the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

The plan which would cover certain primary roads would follow the same pattern used by the Michigan State Highway Department which cares for state highways in cities.

The plan lists seven miles within Holland city covering River Ave., Adams (16th) St. and South Shore Dr., and three miles in Zeeland city on Chicago Dr. and 96th Ave.

Final action will be taken at a meeting of the board April 14.

A recommendation of the Good Roads committee for the county to purchase buildings on the 14-acre Cedar Grove Park in Jamestown township for $8,000 also was tabled until April. The township board has offered to give the land to the county provided the county maintain it as a park. The park has been in use for 50 years. Facilities include a large shelter building, toilets that need improvements, a spring-fed well and a ball diamond.

Jamestown Supervisor John Tigelaar said if the county does not take the park over, the property will be sold for home sites.

The board approved a resolution setting up a special fund for the operation of the sheriff's marine enforcement program on lakes and rivers in the county in 1964. A total of $11,250 is available with the county paying $3,750, the state paying $7,500 and Holland city and Holland and Park townships paying $1,500.

Ottawa will entertain 5th district supervisors March 19 in Zeeland City Hall. Mayor Nelson Bosman of Holland, Supervisor Willard Claver of Zeeland and City Manager R.V. Terrill of Grand Haven will take charge of arrangements.

Herman Windemuller of Park township, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, said construction of the Civil Defense and Social Welfare storage building north of Holland has been completed, but an additional $7,000 is needed to pay the bills. The money was transferred from the improvement fund.

Appointments Are Made By Mayor

Gordon H. Cunningham, city attorney, and Jack Leenhouts, city treasurer, were appointed officer members of the Board of Review and Lucien J. Raven was appointed citizen member, by Mayor Nelson Bosman.

Willard C. Wichers also was appointed to the Planning Commission. Council set time schedule for the Board of Review for at least four days operating from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. at the pay scale of $12 a day. Only 14 persons consulted the board last year, it was stated.

The oath of office of Donald H. Hann as deputy city attorney was filed.

Council waived the rental fee of Riverview park for the Board of Education for the 1963 football season. This also was done in 1962.

The annual report of Herrick Public Library for the year ending June 30, 1963, was placed on file. A tremendous increase in circulation was reported, resulting in about 500 per cent over the last 10 years, and especially in the last year, according to Library Director Hazel Hayes.

The report added that these figures do not show the hundreds of services inside the library to many patrons who may never check out a book, such as reference questions telephone service, records, film previews, book reviews, story hours, lounge and smoking areas, magazines, etc.

There were three recommendations from the Traffic and Safety committee and all were approved although one was put on a temporary basis.

Council approved an amendment to the bicycle ordinance which will incorporate a biennial licensing and inspection program.

Another recommendation granted was to place flashing overhead yellow signals and 36-inch reflectorized stop signs at the intersection of 17th and Pine Ave.

In connection with a study of traffic problems at Ninth St. and Central Ave., the commission recommended slowing up the traffic at 10th St. to care for traffic on Ninth St. by means of placing four-way stop signs at 10th St. and Central Ave. On suggestion of Donald D. Oosterbaan, Council decided to approve it as an experiment for 90 days. This passed, 8 to 1, with Morris Peerbolt dissenting.

Councilman Harold Volkema reported that the wage and salary committee had met Monday night and conferred with Treasurer Jack Leenhouts who also is personnel director, and reviewed progress in the personnel section. Volkema asked that the committee be discharged which was granted.

Mayor Bosman also dismissed four other committees, the airport committee, joint city and school recreation committee, zoning committee and pollution committee.

The mayor announced some changes in other standing committees, listing: Charter Study Committee, Peerbolt, Smith, Volkema and City Attorney Gordon Cunningham; solid wastes, same committee of Eugene Vande Vusse, Oosterbaan and Bertal Slaght; gas policies committee, Peerbolt, Henry Steffens and the city manager and city attorney.

All Councilmen were present at the two-hour session with the exception of Henry Steffens. The Rev. John Medendorp, assistant pastor of First Christian Reformed Church of Zeeland, gave the invocation.

Six Paving Assessment Rolls Okayed

City Council approved assessment rolls for six paving projects completed in 1963 at a regular meeting Wednesday night, but only one serious objection was recorded in the process.

This came from Peter Boter, legal counsel, and O.W. Lowry, both speaking for the Charles R. Sligh Co. objecting to assessments levied against the company in paving Cleveland Ave. and Lake St. from 12th to 16th Sts.

Attorney Boter listed four reasons, mainly that the owner derives little or no benefit from such an improvement which runs mainly through a vacant land, that the assessment is not equitable, that the construction is not for the benefit of the property owner but for the city at large, and that the assessment is "unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious."

Lowry said the vacated land brings no income of any kind and reminded Council that the company has provided a launching ramp for boats free of charge to the city. He likened the assessment to a farmer being charged for having a state highway run through his farm, and pointed to further legal action if Council approved the assessment.

Councilman John Van Eerden felt that if an assessment is illegal then all assessments may be open to question, and Councilman Morris Peerbolt asked the price in an offer to sell the vacant property to the city some years ago. Lowry did not recall the figure, but Peerbolt mentioned $60,000, and then asked City Assessor Alvin De Haan what the assessments are on the Sligh property. Lowry recalled that his taxes had tripled following the offer.

After some delay in which De Haan went to his office to look up the records, the figures were available, listing $8,000 for the vacant property and $81,000 for the area with buildings and improvements. An "unfair" question to Lowry whether he would sell the vacant property for $25,000 ended up in a good-natured laugh all around. This property adjoins Kollen Park and has lake frontage.

Only one other person questioned assessments and this was Albert Helmus, 416 West 32nd St., asking about paving on 32nd St. He was informed property owners there were given consideration on previous assessments, and were charged at the rate of a standard residential road 30 feet wide. Additional cost in the heavy duty 36-foot pavement is borne by the Motor Vehicle Fund.

Assessments were approved for the following projects: 28th St., Harrison to Ottawa Aves.; Harrison Ave., 27th to 28th Sts.; Cleveland Ave., 38th St. to Fairhill Dr.; 32nd St., Lincoln to Ottawa Aves.; Cleveland Ave., Lake St., 12th to 16th Sts.; and 33rd St., Pine Ave., to a point 565 feet east.

The hearings took over a half hour of the two-hour meeting. There were more than 25 in the audience, but few participated in the discussion.

Hope Receives $3,000 Grant From Du Pont

Hope College has received a $3,000 grant from the Du Pont Company for use as scholarship funds to encourage students to undertake careers of teaching, science and mathematics in high schools.

Announcing the grant today, Hope's president, Dr. Calvin A. VanderWerf stated that scholarships will be given to several students which will enable them to take summer courses enabling them to teach in high schools the fall after graduation. Hope's grant was part of a total of $1,800,000 awarded to 168 colleges and universities in DuPont's program of aid to education.

The company's overall program is to strengthen the teaching of science and related subjects, for fundamental research by universities, and for facilities for education or research in science and engineering.

The largest part of the program is to help strengthen the education of scientists and engineers. Grants totaling $771,000 were awarded for 1964 to more than 100 colleges and universities to support the teaching of science and mathematics, research, teaching assistantships and scholarships.

Grants for fundamental research total $575,000 for 43 universities. Capital grants totaling $400,000 were made to 12 institutions.

A city-wide fellowship for all single adults, 20 years or older, will be held at the Rose Park Reformed Church Sunday at 8:30 p.m. The program will include special music and a film. Everyone is welcome.

Okay Plans For County Building

Expect Construction Costing $650,000 To Start in Summer

GRAND HAVEN—Preliminary plans for Ottawa county's new $650,000 county building and courthouse, to be erected this year at Grand Haven, were approved by the Board of Supervisors at the first meeting of the January session Monday.

Michael Koteles of Vander Meiden & Koteles, Grand Haven architects, explained several changes in the courthouse plans. The original plans were submitted at the October session but because of several suggestions for changes approval was held up.

Architects were authorized Monday to proceed with drawing up final plans and specifications, which may be completed for approval at the board's June session. Construction will start in late summer or early fall.

Koteles reported he had met with the County Bar association and others who sought revisions in the original plans, and major changes were made in two areas, the Circuit Court and the prosecutor's offices. An office was added for the prosecutor's assistant, who does not have an office in the present building.

The architect eliminated double level entrances at the Fourth St. entrance and the building will be entered at the main entrance, near Washington St., at a grade level. There will also be entrances off the parking lot near Fifth St. and in the rear, from the south.

The latest plan calls for an addition of 4,500 square feet to the floor space and the cost has now increased from the original estimate of $500,000 to $650,000. The Circuit Court room will be smaller than the present room, seating only 60 people, Koteles said. This can be enlarged later, he reported.

The prosecutor's offices will have 700 square feet, compared with 442 feet at present, and the square foot area of other offices will be increased as follows: county clerk, from 1,403 to 3,000; register of deeds, 1,377 to 2,700 and treasurer, from 1,339 to 3,363.

Supervisor Henry G. Slaughter of Lamont, chairman of the ways and means committee, asked for the transfer of $145,000 in interest and fees taken in by county offices in 1963 from the general fund to the new building fund and this was approved by the board.

He announced there is a total of $445,000 in the building fund, which has accumulated the past three years from fees and interest. In this way, he explained, the county can pay for the new building on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, sidestepping bond issues and interest on loans. The branch office building at Holland, the jail and the county youth detention home were financed in this manner.

Slaughter explained that the county building will not be completed for another year or more and by that time enough funds will be added to the building fund to "pay cash" for the building. Post office officials have inquired as to the design and the location of the "front" of the new courthouse as a 500,000 post office and federal building is planned on Fourth St. directly across the street from the county square.

Exchange Club Hears Talk On 'Telstar'

Members of the Holland Exchange Club at their meeting Monday noon in the Warm Friend Hotel heard Maurice Wilson of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. speak on "Telstar and Beyond."

Telstar is the only satellite built by private industry and was built by Bell, the speaker said. Although the company has been constantly expanding, it has been unable to keep up with the ever increasing demand for service. Its wires, cables and radio are jammed with calls and the demand is increasing. Mr. Wilson said. Bell has spent some $60,000,000 in research to answer this need and its latest invention is Telstar.

Called "the tower in the sky" by the company, Telstar has 15,000 component parts, 1,064 transistors and a large number of solar cells which transform the energy of the sun into electrical energy. Signals from earth are received by the satellite, amplified 10,000 times and then broadcast.

The speaker was introduced by the vice president, Charles Shidder. Jim Brown, president, conducted the meeting. Special guests included Jeff Hollenbach, president of Holland High School Senior class and Terry Hardenberg, Holland High School mayor.

West Ottawa Loses, 80-63; Sixth Defeat

HUDSONVILLE — West Ottawa's basketball team kept up with the high-flying Hudsonville Eagles for over three quarters, but lost in the fourth quarter, 80-63, here Tuesday night.

The real difference in the game was the great all-around play of the Hudsonville playmaker guard Roger Nyenhuis. Nyenhuis was steady on defense and he riddled the Panthers for 28 points to lead his team to victory.

Nyenhuis got most of his baskets on driving layups, either off the fast break or off the pattern offense of the Eagles. Larry Waite, Eagles forward, was also finding some driving room and chipped in with 19 points.

The first quarter was rather dull for each club as the teams slowed the play down and ran intricate patterns to try to get the good percentage shots. Hudsonville would occasionally display their good fast break but they were held pretty much in check. The smaller Panthers were getting their share of rebound and Arvin Visser was especially adept at clearing the boards. The first quarter score had Hudsonville in front, 15-12.

The second quarter play followed the same pattern for the most part with the lead changing hands a few times. West Ottawa received six points each from Visser, Bruce Van Huis, and Dave Vizithum, while Waite and Nyenhuis were pacing the winners. The winners scored three quick baskets in the last minute of play to give them a 40-34 halftime lead.

Both teams played on even terms throughout the third quarter and the net result was a seven point lead for the Eagles, 58-51, with one full quarter remaining. West Ottawa was still much in the game but they were tiring. The taller Eagles, with good bench strength and depth, began running their fast break with much more success in the final stanza and especially after Van Huis and Dave Farabee fouled out with 4:37 remaining. The Panthers then lost all their rebounding strength and Hudsonville pulled steadily ahead.

West Ottawa made 39 per cent of their field goal attempts on quarters of 5-17, 9-19, 8-14, and 6-21 and Hudsonville made 45 per cent on quarters of 6-16, 8-18, 9-23 and 8-12. West Ottawa made 7-11 free throws and the winners 18-30.

West Ottawa, who was coached by Doug Murdoch because of the illness of Jack Bonham, was led by Vizithum with 19 points, mostly on jump shots from out-court. Van Huis added 16 points and Visser made 11. The Eagles had balanced scoring with four men in double figures. Besides Nyenhuis and Waite, Keith Hoeze and Jim Nyhuis each made 12.

West Ottawa now has a record of 2-6 for the season and 0-2 in league play. Hudsonville has a 6-1 record. West Ottawa travels to Grandville Friday night to play the Bulldogs in a league contest.

All-Sports Trophy, League Teams Okayed by Directors

All-conference teams, an all-sports trophy and ribbons for cross country winners will be recommended by the LMCA athletic directors for approval by the principals at the March meeting of the league.

The LMCA athletic directors discussed the proposals Monday night at Steve Sluka's annual fish fry in Grand Haven. Following the fry, the directors held their winter meeting.

Harvey Buter of Holland, president of the Holland Board of Education, had suggested to the league at the November meeting that the coaches select the all-conference team and that the league have an all-sports trophy. The Sentinel has advocated an all-sports trophy since the LMCA was formed.

The matters had been referred to the athletic directors for recommendation. The principals must give unanimous approval to have the recommendations take effect.

Under the recommendation approved by the athletic directors, three groups would select the all-conference team.

Players would select all-opponent teams and each team could not choose any of their own players. Coaches would also select a team and the press and radio representatives covering the league would pick a team.

These three teams would be compiled and the leading vote getters would compose the all-conference team. This plan would be used for the selection of football and basketball all-league teams.

As for the all-sports trophy, the athletic directors said the trophy would be decided on the sports competed in by all of the LMCA schools. The schools presently compete in seven sports, football, basketball, baseball, golf, tennis, track and cross country.

The athletic directors suggested the league buy two trophies, a revolving trophy and a permanent trophy to be presented annually to the winner.

If approved, the all-conference teams and the all-sports trophy would take effect in the 1964-65 school year.

The athletic directors also approved giving ribbons to the first ten finishers in the league cross country meet and to the first seven members of the winning team.

Holland athletic director Joe Moran represented the Dutch at the meeting.

When the LMCA was formed in 1960, conference officials had opposed the selection of all-conference teams or an all-sports trophy. Members of the five newspapers covering the league then decided to pick an unofficial all-conference team in football and basketball.

Downtown Plan Tabled In Allegan

ALLEGAN — City council members Monday night voted unanimously to table action on the proposed downtown redevelopment plan and new fire station until the status of Allegan's $204,000 general fund surplus has been determined "to the complete satisfaction of all concerned."

A resolution calling for construction of a new fire station during the 1964-65 fiscal year will be added to a resolution previously tabled which called for legal steps to be taken to implement the downtown plan.

City Manager Kenneth Bollinger said he had written and called both the State Highway department and auditor general's office in an attempt to get rulings which might clear the air on the general fund surplus question.

Bollinger said the highway department's local government division was processing his request for a ruling and the auditor general's office indicated to him that it would confer with the highway department on its findings.

Pointing out that the status of the fund was first questioned seven months ago, Councilman Leo W. Hoffman said he felt both state departments had had ample time to act if there was "anything wrong."

Bollinger reported that he had personally checked city audits back to December, 1952 — when weight and gas tax money was first returned to the city for street purposes — and said that "at least $73,900 of the surplus was accumulated prior to Act 51."

Reappointment of J. Richard Mahar, Stanley Brokus and T. E. Malila as members of the Board of Review was approved by the council.

The council also directed City Manager Bollinger to advise the Allegan county fair board that the city would be unable to provide electrical power for the fair under the present set-up.

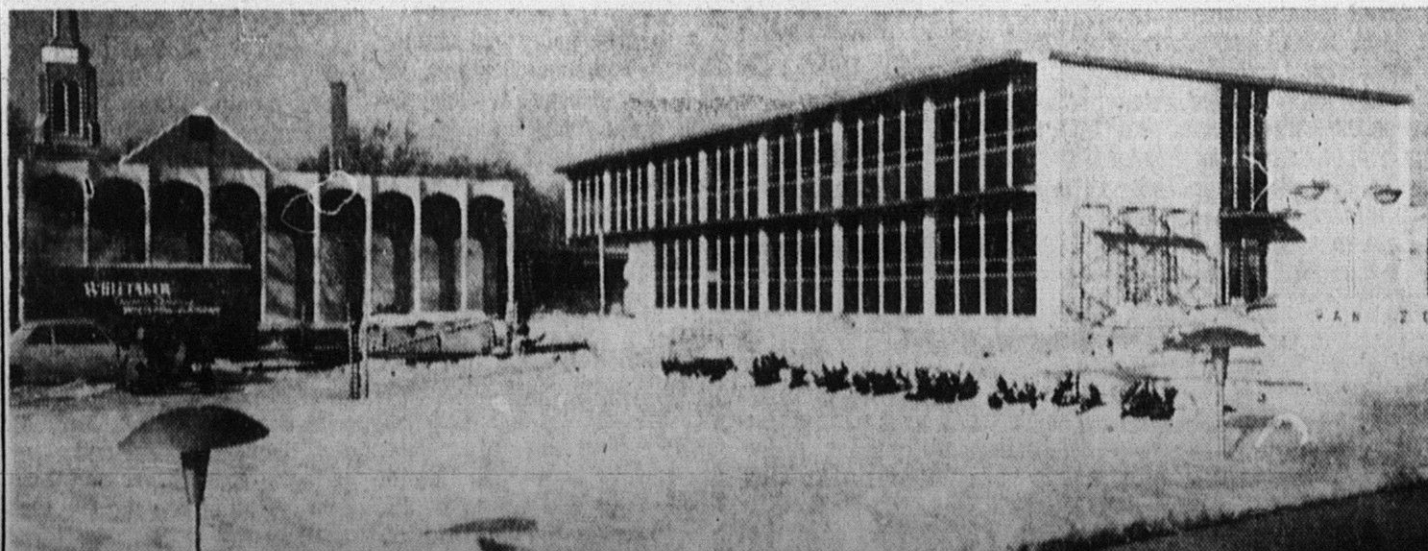

Bollinger has recommended that the fair provide its own substation to ease the once-a-year load on the substation now serving the fair which he said already is operating at near capacity.

AUTOMATION AND COLLECTIVE ACTION

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz addressed the commencement exercises recently at the University of Michigan. He correctly stated "Any philosophy or policy about automation must necessarily start from clear recognition that unrestrained technological advance is not only inexorable, but essential to the maintenance and elevation of the standard of living. Full employment in this country is completely dependent on our being more efficient producers than our competitors in a world where competition is tougher every day. The alternative to automation would be economic stagnation."

"The answers are not to smash the machines. They are to recognize that the individual versus the machine is as unfair a match today as the individual versus the corporation was in the last century, and that advancing technology requires the exercise of collective — public and private—responsibility for its effects and collective measures to carry out this responsibility."

It is typical of government bureaucrats to seek remedies for economic ills through more collective action. We submit that there are also available alternative courses of action that the forces of supply and demand would provide if they were permitted to operate without the coercion of collective action. Is it not possible that the rapid growth of automation is a direct result of collective action that helps to force wages above the level justified by productivity?

Is it not also possible that income taxes are reducing the earning capacity of millions of workers to a level below the so-called "living wage?" Are not the two questions related? Furthermore, is it not possible that if productivity gains resulting from automation were distributed to consumers in the form of lower prices instead of being either taxed away or pounced upon by increased labor costs, society might be better served?

Collective action may be the appropriate solution for a nation of sheeplike followers, but in a society that respects the dignity of the individual, alternative actions should be investigated.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, January 19
Nicomodemus, Cautious Inquirer
John 3:1-15

By C. P. Dame
When Jesus was upon this earth He made contacts with all kinds of people. This lesson tells us about a conversation Jesus had with a highly respected, elderly scholar and religious leader — Nicodemus. To this man Jesus spoke about the necessity of the new birth.

I. The new birth is essential to salvation.

Nicomodemus was a Pharisee. There were about 6,000 Pharisees in the nation and they were looked upon as being the best people, very strict in the observance of the Law of God and for the most part sincere.

Nicomodemus was a member of the Sanhedrin, the supreme court of the Jews, cultured, wealthy, cautious and a seeker. One night he sought Jesus and found Him and spoke to Him without interruption. The signs and miracles of Jesus had made an impression upon him and he told this to Him. He looked upon Jesus as a Teacher sent from God.

To this respectable man Jesus said, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God." In short, good works, character and a pleasant disposition are not enough — an inner change is essential, the new birth.

II. A new birth is possible. It is often said, "That's all very well, but you can't change human nature." We can't but God can. Man is called upon to repent and believe and God changes the heart. God is the Author of the new birth.

We may not be able to understand the mystery of the new birth but we can see evidences of it in the lives of people. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth; so is everyone that is born of the Spirit" says Jesus.

III. Some disciples of Jesus are a bit timid at times and bold at another time. Only John of the gospel writers says something about Nicodemus. At a meeting of the Sanhedrin, Nicodemus weakly defended Jesus.

The authorities had sent out officers to arrest Jesus but they did not do so and were reprimanded when they confessed that they had been much impressed by the speaking of Jesus. The authorities were angered.

Nicomodemus then spoke up and said, "Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth?" He was right for no court would judge a man before he has been heard. These religious leaders violated common justice.

After Jesus had died Joseph of Arimathea who was a secret disciple of Jesus got Pilate's permission to carry away the body of Jesus. Nicodemus came and the two disciples placed the Lord's body in Joseph's tomb. Nicodemus brought the spices for the body of the Lord and Joseph the linen. Both of these men showed boldness, but really they should have shown it before Jesus died and witnessed emphatically for Him in whom they believed.

There are many timid followers of Jesus today who should begin to speak up for Him among friend and foe.

GRANDSTANDING . . Dressen Discourses

By Randy Vande Water
GRAND RAPIDS — Red-faced, salty-tongued Charlie Dressen entertained members of the Western Michigan press and radio corps Tuesday with some Stengelese comments about baseball in General.

It was part of the Tigers annual trek to Grand Rapids, one of the stops throughout Michigan in the winter build-up of the club which gave newsmen a chance to chat with Tiger personnel.

Dressen, who is starting his first full season as Detroit manager, rambled about his many years in baseball. His style has been compared to that of Casey Stengel, of talking generally about many things and specifically about nothing.

But if Dressen did succeed in getting one point across, it was that the Tigers, besides being an improved club, "will be a different kind of club." "We're always going to play the percentages," the 65-year-old Dressen said.

"I do think we helped the club with the trades," Dressen said. "Demeter will be our centerfielder, leftfielder or maybe first basemen and Lumpe will be our second baseman."

He felt the Tigers "got value received" in their trades with Kansas City (Rocky Colavito for Jerry Lumpe, Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow) and with Philadelphia (Jim Bunning and Gus Triandos for Demeter and Jack Hamilton). Dressen said "it took two months of talking before the Colavito deal."

Dressen said he was glad he had the chance to go to spring training. "We have a great group of players," he said. "We're going to lose some games but I'm going to tell them you don't lose the ones you should win."

After telling several stories involving incidents with umpires, Dressen concluded with "we're going to be an exciting team." "We're going to hit and run, hit home runs, try squeeze plays and even get put out of the game. "We're going to do a little bit of everything," he quipped.

AAUW to Hear Talk by Junior High Principal

At their meeting Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in Durfee Hall, members of AAUW will hear John Noe, principal of E.E. Fell Junior High School, speak on "Persons and Personalities of the Civil War." Mr. Noe plans especially to portray the prominent women of this era.

Mrs. John De Haan, Jr., will head the social committee for the evening. Serving on her committee will be Mrs. J. McReynolds, Mrs. E. Van House, Miss Martha Wagbo, Miss Lavina Cappon, Miss Nella Meyer, Mrs. H. Knutson, Miss Belva McCormick and Miss Harriet Mulder.

General manager James Campbell said he was confident "Bill Freehan can do the catching job." Campbell said the Tigers were reserving their comments on Kansas City until the league meeting but answered "no" to question of if he thought the Tigers would play in Louisville this season.

The Tigers general manager said he was "looking for a pitcher" but quickly added "the other 19 teams are also looking for pitchers." He felt the White Sox, Baltimore, Minnesota and Cleveland had improved their clubs.

Campbell said he was "encouraged" by Frank Lary's performance at the end of last season and "if he comes around he will be a bonus to us." Campbell reported Grand Rapids outfielder Mickey Stanley signed Tuesday and the ex-Ottawa Hills athlete responded he was "ready for spring training."

Stanley, who is carried on the "Tigers roster, led the Florida league in homers. Campbell talked with Phil Regan about his 1964 contract while at the meeting but Regan, who won 15 games in 1963, still hasn't signed.

Regan said he figured the Tigers would be better because they had "much better team speed." Lumpe said he was "happy to be with Detroit." Al Kaline, already in the fold, chewed on a cigar and remarked "I think the trades we made will help." "Lumpe will add class and instill a winning spirit."

Pitching coach Stubby Overmire said "my job is to get the pitchers in shape and keep 'em in shape." He felt the Tigers would get special help this season from Mickey Lolich and Bill Faul but reported "Terry Fox had a sore arm last season and needs two days rest to be the most effective." Regan and Overmire live in Grand Rapids during the off-season.

Accompanying the Tigers were members of the Tigers public relations staff, who turned out three lengthy releases on the colorful Dressen.

Cocteau Drama Opens in Hope's Little Theatre

Hope College Theatre had a change of pace in drama selection with the opening Thursday night of "The Eagle With Two Heads" by Jean Cocteau with English version by Carl Wildman.

The Cocteau drama, rife with court intrigue, storms and gunshots, is a long play full of long talky lines, yet sprinkled with enough relief to make it palatable. It was evident from the fine castle sets, beautifully proportioned for a small stage, elaborate court costumes and dramatic lighting that Director David P. Karsten's players and crews put in many, many hours of hard work.

Carol Kuyper as the queen and Douglas McCullough as the poet headed the small cast in the dramatic story of the queen who had been in mourning for 10 years since the king was killed on their wedding day, and the young rebellious poet who resembled the king breaking into the queen's bedchamber to kill her and remaining to chart the way to a return to royal responsibilities.

Into this plot were woven the other characters, Marcia Newhouse as the queen's lady-in-waiting, Dirk Walvoord as top man on the queen's retinue, Leon Van Dyke as security head and Jim Howell as the loyal deaf-mute servant to the queen.

The drama covered just about everything in court intrigue from flashing changes in character to the good old double cross but always in courtly manner, and even probed such subjects as suicide and murder.

Hold Youth For Stabbing At Dance

GRAND HAVEN — A 19-year-old Muskegon youth was held in county jail today, unable to provide $5,000 bond in connection with a stabbing Saturday night at a dance in the roller rink at the corner of Elliott and Seventh Sts.

Jose Gonzales, 19, of 510 Jackson Ave., Muskegon, demanded examination when arraigned before Municipal Judge Jacob Ponstein Monday on a felonious assault charge, arising out of a fight at the roller rink in which he allegedly stabbed Richard Welch, 18, route 1, Allendale, in the stomach with an 8½-inch fish knife with a 3½-inch blade.

City police said the stabbing followed an incident at 10:22 p.m. in which several couples were bumping into each other. Police said they believed Welch took a swing at Gonzales before the latter pulled out a knife. The resulting melee involved several others, some of whom were injured.

Welch was taken to Municipal Hospital where he underwent surgery. His condition was reported as good today.

The roller rink is turned over for dancing periodically, and Saturday night's attendance was large.

Also wounded during the fight was Terry J. Keck, 17, Muskegon, who received a serious cut on the left forearm. He was released from Municipal Hospital after treatment which involved several stitches. Five others also were treated in Municipal Hospital for minor injuries.

In addition to Gonzales' knife, police also collected many other knives which others hastily got rid of. A 16-year-old Muskegon youth, unable to ditch a switchblade knife, was referred to Ottawa Probate Court for carrying a concealed weapon.

The rink is owned and operated by Jason Kraai of Grand Haven. Police conferred with Prosecutor James W. Bussard.

Retiring President John W. Fonger presented a capsule report of various agencies in United Fund, including a new agency on family counseling, this year operating under the Michigan Children's Aid Society. This service is now known as Family Service and Michigan Children's Aid Society with headquarters at 680 Washington Ave. As of Feb. 1, the staff will number four persons, listing one case worker for family counseling, two for children's services and an executive responsible for administration and supervision. Zeeland United Fund and Allegan Community Chest also share in the family counseling service.

A surprise feature was the award of a plaque to outgoing President Fonger, presented by a past president, James E. Townsend.

An informative talk on leadership and responsibility to community and nation was given by Fred Noyes, assistant to the president of the Jam Handy Corp. of Detroit. The talk which opened with an arresting new version of Little Red Riding Hood, was serious in nature with occasional humorous highlights. Included was reference to the corporation's work on the film for Detroit's bid for the World Olympics, and associations with the late President Kennedy in his part in the film. Dinner arrangements were in charge of Leonard O. Zick, Mrs. Will J. Scott, Corinne Pool and James Townsend. Organ music was provided by Mrs. Frank D. Kleinheksel.

Information Sought on Old Cannon

What happened to the cannon in Centennial Park?

Willard C. Wichers of Holland, president of the Michigan Historical Commission, has received a letter from Henry D. Brown, director of Detroit Historical Commission, who is compiling a list of old cannons around the state.

A staff member in Brown's office recalled such a cannon in Centennial Park.

People around City Hall recalled an old cannon and a pyramid of shot 30 or 35 years ago in the southeast section of the park. Memory had it that it was a short black cannon and that the pyramid of shot balls was well cemented. Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen was of the opinion that it was placed in the park following the Spanish - American War. He thought perhaps the late G. J. Diekema made arrangements for the placement.

The Detroit museum in compiling information on cannons throughout the state is seeking information on date or model, dimensions, size of projectile, type of mounting and historical notes. The Detroit museum is aware of the cannon at Veterans Home and Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Persons having information on the old cannon may get in touch with Wichers or the Sentinel.

Hope Notches 2nd Victory in MIAA

Dutch Take 68-65 Win Over Olivet

Hope College's basketball team squeezed out a 68-65 win over a scrappy Olivet College team here Saturday night to even its MIAA record at 2-2 before 1,200 fans in the Civic Center.

Although the Flying Dutchmen managed to get a 12-point lead, 54-42 with 10 minutes left to play, the Comets continually worked through the Hope defense to chip away at the margin and chopped it to three points at final buzzer.

When the winners moved to the 12-point spread, it appeared they would be able to pull away and record a convincing victory, needed to instill confidence into the Flying Dutchmen.

But Olivet's alert, aggressive play coupled with Hope's inability to take advantage of scoring situations, kept the Flying Dutchmen "confused."

Hope was attempting to set up its patterns but often Coach Russ De Vette noted his players weren't moving into the openings provided. The result was that Hope didn't get to try comparative easy shots, but would be attempting to shoot from out.

"We wasted a lot of time," De Vette said, "not moving when we should have and appeared confused." This allowed Olivet to grab the lead at one time and to cut the 12-point lead down to five points with a minute left and throw a scare into the Dutchmen.

But Hope succeeded in breaking Olivet's double-team in the last minute as Glenn Van Wieren broke through the defense and fired a pass to Ron Venhuizen, who scored Hope's last basket with 56 seconds remaining.

The Comets responded with a basket by Jim Everett and then Ed Donaldson stole the ball and scored the last Olivet basket with 10 seconds left to make the three-point difference.

Olivet's lone lead was attained on Doug Eveleth's one-hander as the second half opened. Hope had led 34-33 at half and the basket put the Comets in front by one.

Capt. Van Wieren drove in for a layup to put Hope back in front a half-minute later. But Eveleth sank a free throw to tie the score, 36-36 soon after. This was the game's second tie since the teams exchanged opening minute free throws.

Venhuizen popped a basket from the free throw lane and Glenn Van Wieren hit a driving layup with three minutes gone in the second half and the Dutchmen never again trailed.

Leading 46-42, Hope made its eight-point spur to its biggest lead. Bill Potter got two baskets in the drive and Glenn Van Wieren and Venhuizen each one. Van Wieren led Hope with 17, 12 in the second half and Venhuizen, 12, 10 in the second half.

Olivet's junior Everett and Donaldson, did a good job of puncturing the Hope defense with baskets for out and underneath. Donaldson made nine baskets and had 20 points while Everett hit eight field goals and scored 17.

Hope made 31 of 82 from the floor for 36 per cent on halves of 14-35 and 17-47. Olivet had 37 per cent on 28 of 73 and halves of 14-38 and 14-35. The winners made six of 13 free shots and the Comets, nine of 13.

Hope's record is now 6-4 while the Comets are 1-8 and 0-5 in the MIAA. The Flying Dutchmen play at Kalamazoo Wednesday.

Woodbine Tows Tug To Safety

GRAND HAVEN —The J.R. Chambers, a 49-foot Holland fishing tug which had been stuck in the ice in Lake Michigan outside Grand Haven harbor since Thursday evening, was towed into Grand Haven harbor shortly after 9 a.m. Saturday by the Coast Guard cutter Woodbine.

The tug, with five men aboard, was unable to enter Holland Harbor Thursday afternoon because of ice floes and radioed the Coast Guard it would go to Grand Haven. It encountered the same conditions there and became trapped when strong winds jammed it into ice floes piling up along shore. It was about 300 yards out in the lake about 2½ miles south of Grand Haven harbor.

The Woodbine stood by all day Friday but was unable to get a line to the boat because of heavy seas. Friday evening Coast Guardsmen reached the tug by use of a sled-like aluminum boat and brought fuel and food.

Aboard the fishing tug were Capt. Murray Chambers, his two engineers, Bill Helmink and Gordon McDonald, and two other crew members, Dennis Kimber and Ronnie Kiel. Kimber and Kiel walked ashore Friday night and the other three remained on board. There was no immediate danger, the Coast Guard said.

The tug, one of two operated by Chambers Brothers at Macatawa Park, had gone out Thursday morning for perch fishing. The tugs had been making fishing trips all season when weather permitted.

Hope made 31 of 82 from the floor for 36 per cent on halves of 14-35 and 17-47. Olivet had 37 per cent on 28 of 73 and halves of 14-38 and 14-35. The winners made six of 13 free shots and the Comets, nine of 13.

Crusaders Give Maroons First Loss

HUDSONVILLE — Paced by a blistering first quarter, Hudsonville Unity Christian snapped unbeaten Holland Christian's nine game winning streak here Friday by the score of 74-62 before an overflow crowd of 2,300 fans in the Hudsonville High gym.

A fired up Unity team with enthusiasm to burn swept the Maroons off their feet in the opening minutes to race out to a 25-7 first period score. From this point on, it was an even ball game with the Maroons holding the scoring edge for the final three quarters.

Coach Andy Ten Harmse's fine outfit was led by Bill Peuler, senior guard, who pumped in 36 points to set a school individual scoring record. The 6' Peuler was uncanny in the opening stanza as he fired seven from well outcourt and then upped his total to 22 points at halftime.

In building up the 18 point bulge in the first quarter the winners hit on 10 out of 14 tries for a 70 per cent clip while the Maroons were collecting just three from the field out of 16 tries.

Despite the defeat, the Maroons showed plenty of courage and determination of their own in the third stanza. After trailing by 45-25 at halftime, the Maroons fought back at the start of the second half to whittle the margin to 50-42 with 3:40 remaining in the third period. Here came the turning point in the game as the Maroons seemingly had the dazed Crusaders on the ropes. The Maroons missed a one and one free throw which stalled the drive, and permitted the Unity club to regain their lost momentum.

Christian's second half drive was set up in the second period when Coach Art Tuls jerked all of his regulars and permitted a second unit to work the whole eight minutes. The reserves did well against the Unity regulars and were only outscored 20-18 in the period. Tuls then opened the second half with a rested combination which nearly pulled the locals back into contention.

Tuls shuttled fresh players into the fray during the whole second half to keep the pressure on the Crusaders. By the time it was over, 14 Maroons had played with several turning in good performances. Coming in for praise were Larry Klaasen, a junior guard, Jack Kalmink, a junior forward, Herm Johnson at center and Paul Cook at forward.

Unity started out with a flurry, hitting their first five shots to lead 12-1. They upped the count to 21-3 with two minutes left in the period all behind Peuler's fantastic shooting.

Unity's enthusiasm wore down a bit in the second stanza but they built up a 41-18 margin at one stage with "Leaping" Doug Oostendorp and Lee Dykema leading the way. Johnson led the Maroons with six, followed by Klaasen with five in the period.

Christian's comeback drive in the third period was led by Don Kronemeyer with 10 points and Jim Otte with five markers. Peuler again led the winners in the third period as they regained some of their poise to post a 61-43 bulge going into the final period.

Birthday Party Honors DAR

Miss Maibelle Geiger gave a book review "Washington Wife The Journal of Ellen Maury Slayden," the wife of a Texas congressman living in Washington, D.C., from 1897 to 1918. Her memoirs were a lively first-hand report of events in that period and delighted the members of Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, DAR, at their Thursday meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Becker.

The writing was witty and sharp and presented a feminine touch to that phase of history. Mrs. Slayden lived in Washington during President McKinley's administration and remained through the terms of President Theodore Roosevelt, President Taft and President Woodrow Wilson.

Miss Geiger gave a lively and vivid portrait of the Texas wife of a congressman in her review.

It was a birthday party for the Holland chapter with two charter members, Miss Katherine Post and Miss Myrtle Beach attending. Birthday cakes with the number "56" for the 56th birthday of the chapter were served.

The Maroons again outscored the Crusaders 19-13 in the final period but could never get any closer than 12 points several times during the last eight minutes. Oostendorp, who was the game's outstanding rebounder, also led his club with six points in the final period. Guard Tom Deur and Kronemeyer each had four for the Maroons.

Unity finished the game with a great 53 per cent shooting mark, connecting on 24 out of 45 attempts. The Maroons, despite the miserable first quarter, still finished with a respectable 22 out of 59, for 37 per cent.

It was at the foul lane where the Maroons were beaten. They hit on 18 out of 29 but the winners collected 26 out of 41 tries. A total of 54 fouls were called, 30 against the Maroons and 24 against Unity.

Kronemeyer paced the Maroons with 19 points, followed by Deur and Otte with 10. Following Peuler was Oostendorp with 13 for Unity.

Christian is now 9-1 while Unity is 6-2. The Maroons entertain Kalamazoo Loy Norrix next Friday at the Civic Center.

The Zeeland Rotary Club had as their guest speaker this week Bill Helderman of Grand Rapids. Helderman, who is with Davenport Institute, is the local representative for the Dale Carnegie course to be offered in Zeeland.

At the meeting, Helderman assigned committees to make arrangements for the Carnegie demonstration meeting to be given on January 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the old high school gymnasium. Ed Levensby of Wyoming, Mich., was a guest of the club. The invocation was offered by Harvey Kalmink.

Mrs. J. N. Clark who spent the holidays in Mt. Pleasant, Ill., with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Clark, Richard and Mary Louise returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Miner Meindertma and Mr. and Mrs. John Dyksterhouse spent the holidays in Florida, stopping in St. Petersburg, Key West and other places of interest.

Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Paul and sons from Chicago spent New Years with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Ukitt.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baron, Mary and Stephen took a trip to Florida during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Van Hoven and daughters of Iron Mt., spent a week with her mother, Mrs. John Moeke and other relatives. Alice Hanselman, Judy Alderink, Shirley Watt, Rosemary Plewes, Marty Van Kley, Jacky Smallegan, Gloria Heuvelhorst are some of the students who returned to Western College in Kalamazoo.

Miss Hope Beckering spent the holiday vacation with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Beckering. Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Beckering of Ann Arbor spent New Years Day with his parents and they also visited in South Holland, Ill., where he will set up practice.

Mrs. James Vereke entertained with a family dinner party. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Pieper, Holland, Mrs. D. Vereke, Charlene, Boyd Machiele, Mr. and Mrs. John Klingenberg and Beverly and the hostess.

The Rev. L. J. Hofman of North Street Christian Reformed Church declined his call to the Cascade Christian Reformed Church in Grand Rapids.

The Zeeland Board of Education met last Tuesday evening and took action on many issues. Among them the board approved the hiring of Miss Vivian Van Blarcom to replace Mrs. Pat Visser whose husband is being relocated. Miss Van Blarcom will teach kindergarten in the Lincoln School the second semester of this school year. She will graduate from Hope College in January.

The Board also voted to hire Henry Brederland for the second semester. Mr. Brederland is replacing Mrs. Judy Van Ess in the Junior High School. Mrs. Van Ess had no contract with the board but certainly helped out this year and wanted to be relieved this semester. Mr. Brederland will also graduate from Hope College in January. He will teach English and Social Studies.

William Robertson was also present at the meeting and gave the Board a report on his first semester's work and also on his job of reporting news and supplying pictures for the press. Robertson also showed the Board how he has been handling the school coverage. The Board then voted to have Robertson continue in this capacity for at least the remainder of the school year.

The problem of physical education was next discussed. In years past boys out for a varsity sport were not required to take physical education nor were carrying five subjects. After some deliberation the Board decided that all students, in the future, would have to take the physical education courses no matter how many sports they were participating in or how many subjects they were taking.

Another recommendation of the Administrative Council was that those individuals who act as class advisors should be reimbursed for their time. The Board voted to do so starting next fall.

The schools insurance agency pool was also readjusted as Del Huisings, State Farm, was added to the school's program in place of the Den Herder agency.

Approval was given to Mr. Lampen to attend the National Association of Secondary School Principals which will be held in Chicago this year Feb. 7-12. Mr. Schipper was also given the Board's approval to attend the American Association of school Administrators conference in Atlantic City on Feb. 15-19.

Bids on the Town Line School building and the North Blendon No. 7 building were reviewed and Maurice Huyser got the bid on the Town Line building for $5,056.52. There were a total of six bids on this building.

The North Blendon building went to Gerald Berghorst for $1,787.33.

Dutch Drop Third Game In MIAA Play

KALAMAZOO — A 26-point effort in the last six minutes of a fine second half performance was all Hope College's basketball team could salvage from its 91-84 loss to Kalamazoo Wednesday night before 600 fans in Tredway gym.

The Flying Dutchmen outscored the Hornets, 55-47 in the last 20 minutes, but a disastrous first half had left the losers trailing, 44-29 at half.

Although Hope took the play away from the winners, Kalamazoo wasn't about to collapse in this key MIAA game and the Hornets managed to stay in command and didn't get rattled under the pressure.

Coach Russ De Vette sprung a full court zone press on Kalamazoo with 6:50 left in the game and the Hornets in front, 78-68. With this defense, Hope was able to chop down to seven points at the final horn as they outscored the winners, 26-13.

Leading the push was Capt. Glenn Van Wieren with three baskets and four free shots in the rally while Al Palmer sank three baskets.

Ron Venhuizen, who had led the early portion of the second half comeback, made two baskets during the spurt after he had canned seven field goals earlier in the second half.

Venhuizen hit seven of 11 in the first 10 minutes of the second half, including four straight and they were all one-hand jump shots. Freshman Carl Walters chipped in five two-pointers in the second half.

After hitting 10 of 39 for a poor 25 per cent in the first half, the Flying Dutchmen sank 24 of 56 in the second half. This gave them a game percentage of 36 on 34 of 95.

The Hornets turned in some of their best shooting as they connected on 18 of 47 in the first half and 17 of 31 in the final half for 46 per cent. At the free throw line, the winners made 21 of 31, nine in the last 10 minutes.

Hope sank 16 of 25 with Glenn Van Wieren making 10 of 17. Kalamazoo's Bob Pursel fouled out with four minutes left and Van Wieren departed with a minute to play.

Hope held the lead three times in the first seven minutes, with the last lead being, 11-10. Kalamazoo tied the score and never again trailed.

Kalamazoo's 65-43 lead with 13 minutes to play was the game's biggest spread but in the next two minutes Venhuizen and Walters each hit two baskets to pull the margin to 65-51 and with 10 minutes to play the score was 68-53.

While Hope had its second half standouts, the Hornets also received fine work from sophomores Jim Peters and Dick Johnson and freshman Tom Crawford.

Peters made five baskets in the second half and five straight free throws. He led the Hornets with 24 while Johnson, hitting from out, and Crawford each had three second half baskets. Johnson added four straight free shots and ended with 22 while Crawford had 15.

Van Wieren had 22, 13 in the second half while Venhuizen hit 21, 18 in the second half. Palmer and Walters added 12 each. Palmer scored six of Hope's last eight points in the last 10 minutes while holding the Hornets to one as Hope cut the 90-76 lead in half.

For Hope, it was the third loss in five MIAA games and gave the Dutchmen a 6-5 record. Kalamazoo is now 4-2 in the league and 6-4 overall. Hope plays at Adrian Saturday in an MIAA game.

The other car was driven by Chester Bronson, 38, of 597 West 21st St. Koeman told Kent county sheriff's officers that his car skidded into a snowbank and then slid into an oncoming car driven by Bronson. Bronson was traveling alone.

Koeman, Matchinsky and another passenger, Ben Cuperus, of 298 East 14th St., Holland, were returning from attending a VFW post meeting in Wayland.

New Park Slated for Olive Area

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Road Commission plans to establish the seventh county park, which will soon be added to the county's fast-growing system of parks.

The board of supervisors Monday afternoon approved a "swap" of 120 acres of dune area in Spring Lake township, a half mile from Lake Michigan and near the Muskegon county line, for 112 acres of reclaimed land in Olive township off Stanton St., now a part of the federal "land-use" acreage. There is no cash involved.

Engineer - manager H. E. Stafseth of the Road Commission told the board Monday that the county board has already authorized the spending of $9,000 for the development of the Olive township area.

He reported that the Olive tract is located in a secluded area and a beautiful stream, the large Pigeon Creek, runs through the area, making it ideal for recreation and picnics. It is accessible from Stanton St., a main east-west road, or 120th Ave., a blacktop south-south road. Because it is "off the beaten path," he said, it will be used mostly by residents of the county.

The county now owns six other parks, including the large parks on Lake Michigan, Tunnel Park near Holland and North Beach Park near Grand Haven. Chairman Clarence Reenders, Grand Haven township, of the conservation committee of the board, urged that the Olive land be obtained as it is near a larger area that may be obtained later for recreation purposes.

The Spring Lake tract is not accessible, he said, and is needed by the state for "squaring off" the south part of the area being converted on the Muskegon-Ottawa line for state park purposes. Part of the area will be traded with the state and will become a part of the new state park.

Garden Groups Hear Discussion On Small Parks

At the joint meeting of the Holland Garden Club's Conservation and Landscape Design groups held Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Carl Cook, Mrs. Harold Thornhill, chairman of the Conservation group, led a lively discussion concerning ways in which the two groups could aid in the development of the City Council's newly-acquired Cammenga property.

This property is located in the area of West 26th St. and Graafschap Rd. It is hoped that a concentrated community effort will soon develop the grounds into a natural type park where adults as well as young people may study and enjoy the fauna and flora in natural surroundings, she said.

A tape recording, "Small Parks," by William J. Johnson of the University of Michigan Landscape study course staff was heard. Mr. Johnson said parks should provide areas for all age group enjoyment. Areas with some sun and shade in a quiet scenic spot with benches would attract older people.

Small parks, Mr. Johnson said, sometimes serve a single purpose, like a small town square and fountain resting areas or nature preserves on the outskirts of town. Included might be a city block of formal gardens, the family picnic area type or the highly organized and equipped recreation type park with swimming and wading pools, tennis courts and play equipment.

He also urged city planners to procure land now for use and enjoyment of future generations. Mrs. Fred Pickel, a member of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan Park Board, reported that a revised and modified Bill 792 had been passed by the U. S. Senate and would be taken up by the House the latter part of January.

Mrs. Pickel said the bill, unfortunately, cut the acreage from 77,000 to $43,500 acres and thus eliminated the natural marshes, the high wooded and uninhabited area north of Glen Lake as well as the former ski area, Sugar Loaf Mountain.

She said that interested members could write to U. S. Senator Alan Bible, Washington, D. C., thanking him for his efforts in the passage of Bill 792, but expressing disappointment in the cut in acreage.
