CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
DRIVE FOR MEM-BERS GAINING MOMENTUM

By Helping the Holland Chamber of Commerce You are Helping Yourself

The chamber of commerce drive now going on in Holland is showing gratifying results. The many local committees divided and subdivided in territories covering the business and industrial districts are thoroughly and systematically canvassing. There is no lost motion on this drive, and judging from reports the canvass, under way for but three days, has shown gratifying results—and it should.

The Holland chamber of commerce has meant a great deal to this community. The enumeration of the many benefits would be astounding. Chamber of commerce work is at best a trying job, and the pivotal men are constantly a target for those who would do things different. There are always some who expect a new industrial plant every week, but let it be said that getting good new industries "and not crutches" that will stay financially put is the hardest job any chamber of commerce can tackle. Holland has been very fortunate to have all its empty factories of a few years ago filled with going concerns, and that has been only one of the hundred of meritorious undertakings that the chamber of commerce has performed.

A city without a chamber of commerce is a dead community. Such an organization is the clearing-house for all a community's problems, whether these problems emanate in the chamber or are problems that arise outside of the chamber. By virtue of being the business clearing-house for the city, naturally many matters of vital interest that might prove detrimental to a community and bring about strained relationships are often alleviated and finally cleared up. Such matters arise constantly, often through differences of opinion or policy, and that, too, is a great benefit the city receives when a chamber of commerce functions properly and diplomatically. We could tell much about the success of Tulip Time, the fostering of good roads fingered out from the city in every direction, and scores of other projects, which are only a few of the many things that the chamber of commerce does, enumerated so often through these columns, that they have become stereotypes.

Remember, that a chamber of commerce is not composed of a president and board of directors and secretary-manager alone, but these men are backed by more than a hundred willing workers, who are ready to jump in at beck and call, whether that be industrially as an arbitrator, as a Tulip Time booster, and the many other big and little matters that constantly come up at the chamber.

The large committee is now out soliciting. They are busy men. When they come, make them feel as if they are doing a great work. They are getting nothing out of it, but putting in days of straining effort and over and above are also giving full contribution to the Holland chamber of commerce. The Holland City News thanks them for coming, and has already given the amount asked from it.

The program of progress put on by L. S. Miller of the American Cities Bureau under the auspices of the chamber of commerce is well under way. Eighty workers have taken the field and have been working for the last three days.

Henry Geerts, chairman of the general sales organization, announced the following division leaders and captains:

Division No. 1—Jacob Fris; team No. 11, John Van Huis; team No. 12, O. A. Wolbrink; team No. 13, R. Kronmeyer; team No. 14, R. N. Smith.

Division No. 2—A. C. Joldersma; team No. 21, W. A. Butler; team No. 22, J. K. Kout; team No. 24, Harold Vander Bie.

Division No. 3—E. V. Hartman; team No. 31, Henry Oosting; team No. 32, Marinus De Fout; team No. 33, Dick Miles; team No. 34, H. De Neut.

Division No. 4—Dr. W. Westrate; team No. 41, Alex Van Zanten; team No. 42, Henry Wilson; team No. 43, B. J. Rosendahl; team No. 44, John Dethmers.

In a leaflet sent to every last member of the chamber of commerce, it has been fully explained just what the program for the coming year will be. Recently, a series of business clinics were held, where at least 500 citizens expressed their views on what ought to be done, and many gave suggestions that were timely and meritorious. From this labyrinth of opinions, the good thoughts were picked, and from these opinions plans were formed for the coming year, based on these gleanings of thought.

Under the several captions there are from five to seven suggestions for each, and these are fully printed: Develop and Expand Existing Industry; New Industry; Aids to Retail Business; Tulip Time; Resort and Tourist Activities; Civic Affairs; Highway, Harbor and Building; Taxation and Research; Publicity; General Improvements of the Chamber of Commerce.

JUST A THOUGHT

Should an outside industry knock at "our gate," willing to negotiate, and we had no chamber of commerce to deal with them, what would you say and what would they think? Let's help our chamber of commerce by joining and boosting for it.

THE LATCHSTRING MUST HANG OUT

Supposing we had no chamber of commerce with "Tulip Time" in the offing. We would be in a sorry plight, with more than a half million guests looking for the "latchstring" of this always hospitable city, and knocking at our door for admission.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DRIVE MORE THAN HALF OVER

It was announced late today that the drive for Chamber of Commerce memberships had been very successful so far, that the amount had gone more than half way over. The quota is $10,500 and $5,500 had been secured.

Mr. Dick Boter, who is general chairman, stated that it was a very gratifying showing. He not only was thankful, but in behalf of the committee and himself thanked all those who had made liberal responses.

The activities fund committee, headed by J. Frank Duffy, expects to have its work completed within the next 24 hours. Mr. Duffy reports substantial increases from the larger business interests of the city.

HOLLAND ASSESSOR HONORED

Peter Van Ark, Holland's city assessor, has been honored as first vice president of the state association of supervisors. It has always been customary to elevate the vice president to the presidency the following year, so in that case the Holland man may become head of that organization in time.

Mr. Van Ark and several other Ottawa County supervisors, went to Lansing to take up some very important matters as this relates to relief and other things common to every board of supervisors in the state today. There were some very trying questions constantly coming up since the beginning of the depression, and supervisors must be conversant with the ramifications of all these different laws and measures. The school laws, too, are so much changed that they bring out a great deal of discussion. Many of the rural schools today have scarcely enough money to get by with. In other words, the cloth don't fit the suit.

Anyway, the special committee appointed by the board of supervisors at the last session have been in Lansing most of the week, and it was at this meeting that Mr. Van Ark was elevated.

JOHN DOLFIN LOSES SALES TAX POSITION

John Dolfijn, Jr., well known in Holland, former Muskegon resident and for several months manager of the Grand Rapids branch of the sales tax administration, was one of the five branch managers replaced today by the state board of tax administration, according to press dispatches from Lansing.

Mr. Dolfijn, an active Democratic party worker, was employed in the state highway department before being transferred to the sales tax division. Muskegon was in the area served by the Grand Rapids branch office. Mr. Dolfijn has made several speeches in this city for the Democratic party. He, like his father, a minister, became a fluent orator.

OLD TEACHER OF VRIES- LAND SCHOOL PASSES

Mr. Hiram Seevey, former principal of the Vriesland school, passed away at Butterworth hospital on Wednesday at the age of 71 years. Mr. Seevey taught schools in Nebraska for more than 50 years. He retired eight years ago and was manager of a fruit farm near Coopersville at the time of his death.

Atty. Dan F. Pagelsen is in serious condition at Hatton hospital of uremic poison. Mr. Pagelsen was indisposed while in Iowa, and became so ill that he hastened home. He is circuit court commissioner of Ottawa county and was at one time prosecuting attorney. Mr. Pagelsen lives alone at Grand Haven and the other night Claude Vander Veen, a friend, called on him and found Mr. Pagelsen lying on the floor. He was rushed to Hatton hospital immediately.

The Holland Polar Bear club will hold a regular meeting next week Tuesday, January 31, at the American Legion club rooms "under the clock" at Holland, at 7:30 p.m. The refreshment committee is taking good care of the "chow."

Holland Man Again Hero Life Saver

CHARLES BONTKEOE AND CREW EXPERIENCE HARD-SHIPS IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN STATION

Since last night, many friends and relatives of Charles Bontkeoe of Holland were much worried over his safety, since reports came that he was stranded on an ice floe with several other coast guards on a rescuing call into Lake Michigan. Some two years ago, he was promoted as chief boatswain's mate at Walker's Point station on Bois Blanc Island near Cheboygan.

The crew, which left the Walker's Point station on Bois Blanc island Tuesday morning to search for three fishermen who had been carried away on an ice cake, was unreported late Wednesday evening.

Coast guard officers said they feared the motor in the lifeboat was disabled because the crew had experienced motor trouble before setting out. There was plenty of gasoline aboard, but the men had only the lunches they took with them Tuesday.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Charles Bontkeoe was in command of the missing craft. With him were Surfmen Thomas H. Golden, Fred Merritt, Jay Jewell and Robert Hartwell.

However, word has been received in Holland from Mr. Bontkeoe Thursday noon that he was safe. He stated that the crew went out in a 35-foot boat in search of the fishermen, and during the search had been locked in an ice floe some distance from their station. It took some time for them to extricate the boat from the ice, fearing that at any moment the craft might be crushed.

They drifted along with the floe until they were southeast of Cheboygan about 18 miles. They anchored the craft and started walking over the ice floe towards Cheboygan. They walked approximately 10 miles when, as luck would have it, they found a small fish shanty which protected them somewhat from the bitter cold. They continued their journey the next morning, reaching Cheboygan at about 10 o'clock. It was a bitter experience. All the men suffered of hunger and some of them had frost-bitten feet.

Mr. Bontkeoe stated that all during the search for the fishermen they were in constant danger of having the ice floe crush their frail craft.

It is stated that the weather was bitter cold and the thermometer registered well below the zero mark, so the men must have suffered considerably. It is gratifying to know that the Holland man is now safe with the rest of the crew, and the fishermen have also been found.

Mr. Bontkeoe has many friends and relatives here and for many years he was on the Holland crew at Macatawa. He was transferred to Muskegon where he took part in the rescuing of the crew of the Steamer Cort that had foundered by striking the reef-raft at the outer pier of Muskegon harbor. He, with the rest of the Muskegon coastguards did remarkable work.

Mr. Bontkeoe was also selected among the several coastguards of Michigan to aid in the rescue of the flood sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi valley some two years ago, and the story he can tell of the narrow escapes in those flooded rivers are thrilling indeed. Mr. Bontkeoe in his modest way always gave credit to all of the crew present; however, it is well known among his associates that he has made an exemplary life-saver. Mr. Bontkeoe has been a life-saver for eighteen years.

The family is indeed thankful to hear that his safety is assured. Among them are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tike Bontkeoe, 276 Van Raalte Ave.; two brothers, John, at home, and Jack, 322 East 13th St.; and four sisters, Misses Anna, Rena and Jane, at home, and Mrs. Neil De Koster, 260 West 17th St.

CITY MAY BE BROUGHT INTO SUIT AFTER INJUNCTION DISSOLUTION

Work is going forward on disputed land for Holland's new million and a half dollar power plant after dissolution of an injunction which had stopped part of the work for several weeks, in spite of a plan by the Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. to carry the case to the state supreme court.

Tuesday Judge Fred T. Miles of Ottawa circuit court dissolved an injunction which he had previously issued at the request of the Donnelly-Kelley Co., forbidding work to be started on the land in question. Tuesday night the board of public works decided to order work begun.

Some preliminary work had been done previous to Wednesday, but it had been done on land which was not in dispute. It was feared that any delay in the work might lead PWA, which is supplying $875,000 of the necessary funds, to cancel its grant, so Clarence Lokker, city attorney, urged Judge Miles to dissolve the injunction.

The largest single contract will be awarded after acceptance of bids for steam turbine-generators, heaters and condensers on Feb. 15, according to Joseph Geerts, member of the board of public works.

The Donnelly-Kelley Co. claims that it owns the filled-in land which composes part of the site of the power plant.

The city tennis courts at 12th and Columbia and at 21st and Maple are being used as skating ponds. They were flooded Thursday morning, according to Louis B. Dalman, assistant city engineer.

Up to the time of his death Mr. Chris Den Herder carried on after his father passed away and today Ed Den Herder, a grandson, is head of the bank and Attorney Jay Den Herder of Holland, also a grandson, is director. Two unusual happenings occurred to this bank. Fire a few weeks ago destroyed the interior of the building while the bank was in full operation. Not a dollar was lost nor was a valuable paper or records missing when the vaults were re-opened after the doors had been quickly closed when the fire was discovered. Another even more unusual occurrence took place when some 45 years ago a boiler exploded in the Keppel mill, then directly across the street. The boiler was sent with such force that it entered the front window of the building in which the bank was located at the time. It was a miracle that someone in the bank then open for business was not killed at the time. Later a fine new bank was built on the present site and a still finer bank will be the result after architects and contractors have the present fire-damaged bank completed. Anyway, the old Den Herder private bank has grown into the fine financial institution Zeeland now boasts of.

The deceased leaves three sons: John, Adrian and Albertus, and two daughters, Jennie and Alice. She was the widow of Rev. R. He in reality was a lake captain and made this port often with his sailing vessel. He is the father of the Raffenaud brothers on River ave.

President's Ball for the Treatment of Infantile Paralysis Promises to be Banner to All

The Holland committee and all those fostering the President's birthday ball this week Saturday at Warm Friend Tavern are indeed gratified at the response. It is through these functions throughout the nation that a mobilization is occurring that will fight against infantile paralysis. Proceeds of the party, ball or personal contributions, go to the support of the National Foundation intended for that cause. A large part of the money will be used in research to gain new knowledge about the disease, and also to assist in after-care of cases of infantile paralysis.

In Holland, public men have endorsed the drive through the Lion Club. Among them are Mayor Henry Geerlings; O. W. Lowry, president of the Holland Community Chest; and Dr. W. M. Tappan, our city health officer. George Damson, president of the President's Ball to be given Saturday at the Tavern under the auspices of the Lions, reports a healthy sale of tickets and foundation certificates. That means health to those so seriously afflicted with this dreaded disease for which the President's Ball is intended. Mr. Damson states that gratifying showing may be accounted for by the fact that a new plan has been adopted whereby 50% of the gross proceeds from the foundation certificates button will remain in Ottawa County for the relief of local cases. This is a fine idea, and that doesn't make the help so general; in fact, it is more specific knowing that part of the funds go to help local cases, folks we know.

During the past year, the handling of infantile paralysis cases has been in charge of the Ottawa County health officer, Dr. Ralph Ten Have, who is the head. Cases of this kind are supposed to be under his jurisdiction. He, too, reports that more money is sorely needed for this cause.

Relative to the dance at Warm Friend Tavern, Charles R. Sligh, general chairman, announces that besides the other features there is to be a floor show in charge of Doris Hurtig of Chicago. She is the lady who arranged the show last year and did a fine job. She is noted for such work, and was enlisted to put on the show for the furniture men at the ball held there recently. For the dance, there are to be two orchestras—one of Bob Kettner, well known maestro, who has been the orchestra with his musicians at Hotel Cody at Grand Rapids for a long time. The other will be Fran Weigle's Pandlind Hotel supper orchestra. Weigle will introduce the Goodman type of swing music at the dance Saturday night. Orchestra will play in the Tavern ballroom on the sixth floor, while the Kettner orchestra will play in the main lobby of Warm Friend Tavern. The Kettner band has just filed a long engagement at Flint, Michigan, and will come right from there.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS GOING AHEAD WITH BUILDING PLANS ON "ISLAND"

It is evident that the Board of Public Works is going ahead with its new plan on the "island," so called, for in the last page of the Holland City News will be found a call for bids for two turbines, and turbines cost money. They are the most expensive machinery in a lighting plant.

Bids must be in by February 15, and each turbine-generator is for 7500 KW and generators of the most approved type. All the specifications are set forth in the call for bids, where contractors can find the specifications and all the stipulations that have to do with the type of electrical machinery needed in a light plant of that size.

For information, turn to the last page of this issue, and find the Board of Public Works specifications relative to these turbine-generators.

Another improvement on the "island" already under way is a railroad spur over Third Street. The laying of the spur has not yet started, although most of the material, or what is called turnout, is already on the ground. Undoubtedly, there will be some ballasting done by the Lake State Co., who has the contract.

The "island" already has an office of considerable size, all fixed up, cosy and convenient, with telephone, desks, and other necessities common to any office. It must be remembered that an office will be required on this "island," since the building of the proposed plant will cover a period of at least two years, and all the convenience of an office are imperative.

Only 12 Deer
Damage Crops
In Allegan Co.

HAMILTON CELERY GROWERS
CUT LOSSES BY KILLING
TROUBLEMAKERS

Were 12 deer in the Allegan county heard, variously estimated at 200 to 600 head, responsible for the deer war of 1937 in the Rabbit river celery country?

Farmers in this community are asking this question in the light of their experiences with wild life in 1938. Using permits issued to them by the state conservation department, celery growers in the Rabbit river valley satisfactorily controlled damage to their crops by shooting about a dozen troublemaking deer. The carcasses were turned over to the state.

Few Complaints of Damage
"We had very few complaints of deer damage in the Hamilton section this last season," reported Andrew G. Lohman, manager of the Hamilton Farm Bureau and a member of the county committee on deer killing permits.

Lohman said Harry Ruhl, chief of the conservation department's game section, apparently was right in 1937 when he told members of the Allegan county board of supervisors that it probably would be found a few deer were causing all the trouble. Ruhl said the killing of the few "troublemakers" would probably solve the deer problem temporarily but not permanently. As the herd increases in size, he said more deer probably would become "troublemakers" as it becomes necessary for the herd to migrate from the natural deer country to farming communities for food.

Favor More State Control
Celery growers in this section hope the state legislature will amend the game laws so that the state conservation department may cope with the deer problem in the future in any way it may deem necessary in an emergency. Under the present statute, the department can only issue permits to farmers to kill troublemaking deer or open the territory to deer hunting for 15 days in November.

Fearful of hunters' rifle bullets, farmers are opposed to an open hunting season on deer in this section, but Lohman said the growers might look with favor upon the commission reducing the herd by "control hunting" measures. He said truck crop producers would prefer to see the herd reduced and restricted to a few enclosed deer yards near main traveled highways where motorists might come and admire the animals.—Grand Rapids Press.

A Thrilling Peace

Everyone agrees that there is a thrill to marching away to war. But who ever heard of anyone marching away to the farm, or to the office? As I heard Private Harold Peat point out recently, war has all the thrilling inducements: uniforms, medals, bands, banners. What we need is some way to make peace thrilling—to dramatize it and give it glamour and color. We must make our heroes of peace dwarf our military heroes. We must make living for our country more thrilling than dying for it.

So far we have tried to avoid war by talking about it. We have told of its horrors and its costs. Our appeal has been negative. You cannot sell your goods by talking against your competitor's goods, even if those goods are inferior. The more terrifying war is, the more heroic it will be to go to war—and every young man wants to be heroic. You can't scare him!

Educators, writers, artists, playwrights, advertising men should put their genius to work to sell the peace idea. To paint peace in glowing colors. To make young men and women desire to be heroes of peace. In Sidney Kingsley's great play, "10 Million Ghosts," one of the characters, a French poet, believes that the solution to our problem is not shells, but "words which have a power to explode in men's minds with a great light." Such words could make peace thrilling.

It's Still Work!

There are some folks around Holland who hold to the idea that many young people desire to get a higher education so they won't have to work with their hands, who seek college in order to fit themselves for white-collar jobs. This field is pretty well filled and many a lad is compelled to take a job where manual labor is necessary. Just because you are highly educated doesn't mean your work is not hard and tiresome. Often you will find that the uneducated man who labors by brawn returns to his home physically tired but not mentally worn out. Ask an office worker if he has sleepless nights worrying over mental problems? The fact that education gives a man a profession in business does not mean that the man does not want hard work and does not get it. Anyone who wants to avoid hard work can do so without using education as an excuse. A tired mental condition is often not relieved through living in bed relaxed, while the man whose muscles ache can benefit by such comfortable repose.

DEER HUNTING TOGS OF GD. HAVEN COUPLE DISAPPEAR FROM LINE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stant of Grand Haven decided to take advantage of the balmy weather Jan. 18 to air their deer hunting togs on the rear porch of the Fortino building where they have an apartment. When Mrs. Stant went to bring in the heavy red woolen clothing belonging to her husband and herself, it was missing. The garments are valued at more than $50 city police said. They have no clues. Mr. Stant said he thought he heard a commotion on the porch shortly before the loss was discovered. Both he and Mrs. Stant are enthusiastic hunters and make an annual trip to the deer country.

Injunction Against City Is Dissolved

been quoted as authority by every Court and lawyer of this State since his time, in the case of Edwards vs. Alloues Mining Company, 38 Michigan, 46 (1878), laid down the following principles relative to injunctions. To make the principles applicable to this case we have inserted by way of parenthesis a phrase or two. "There is no doubt that the operations of defendant, whether they inflict any serious injury on complainant or not, amount in effect to an appropriation of that portion of his property upon which sand is being deposited. It follows and is beyond question that complainant sustains a legal injury for which he is entitled to suitable redress. The only question on this record is, whether he is entitled to the special redress he seeks, namely, an injunction. (If the property is finally determined to be that of Plaintiff)

An injunction is not a process to be lightly ordered in any case. Where the effect will be to present to the owners of a valuable mill the alternative either to purchase complainant's lands at his own price or to sacrifice their property, any court having the power to order it ought very carefully to scrutinize the case and make sure that equity requires it. In theory its purpose is to prevent irreparable mischief; it stays an evil the consequences of which could not adequately be compensated if it were suffered to go on. The writ is not allowed for any injury threatened or done to the estate or rights of a person, but the granting of it must always rest in sound discretion, governed by the nature of the case.

As is said in another case, "Injunction is not of right but of grace; to move an equity chancery to interpose this strongest arm of the law, he must have not a sham case, but a well grounded complaint, the bona fides of which is unquestioned, or capable of vindication if questioned."

There is no power the exercise of which is more delicate, which requires greater caution, deliberation and sound discretion, or is more dangerous in a doubtful case than the issuing of an injunction. It is the strong arm of equity, that never ought to be extended unless to cases of great injury, where courts of law cannot afford an adequate or commensurate remedy in damages. All the cases referred to show that the court looks beyond the actual injury to contemplate the consequences, and however palpable may be the wrong, it will still balance the inconveniences of awarding or denying the writ, and adjudge as these may incline the judicial mind. Even in the case of a palpable violation of a public right to the annoyance of an individual, he must show the equity which requires this summary interference as the only adequate means of obtaining justice.

What is the irreparable injury which is done or threatened in this case? We can very plainly see what it is in the case of many nuisances, and the equity of this particular remedy is then very manifest. If one man creates intolerable smells near his neighbor's homestead, or by excavation threatens to undermine his house, or cuts off his access to the street by buildings or ditches, or in any other way destroys the comfortable, peaceful and quiet occupation of his homestead, he injures him irrevocably. No man holds the comfort of his home for sale, and no man is willing to accept in lieu of it an award of damages. If equity could not enjoin such a nuisance the writ ought to be dispensed with altogether, and the doctrine of irreparable mischief might be dismissed as meaningless. A nuisance which affects one's business is less in degree, but it may still be irreparable, because it may break up the business, destroy its good will and inflict damages which are incapable of measurement because the elements of reasonable certainty are not to be obtained for their computation. Even in the case of unoccupied land a nuisance may threaten irreparable injury, where it is devoted to its purchase to some special use, or where the person causing the nuisance is irresponsible, and in some other cases which need not here be specially mentioned."

The principles thus set forth by Mr. Justice Cooley have been referred to ever since by our Supreme Court as basis of decision, at least nineteen times, and as late as 1930, in the case of City of Benton Harbor vs. Michigan Fuel & Light Company, 250 Michigan, 614; in 1927, in the case of Monroe Carp Pond Co. vs. River Raisin Co., 240 Mich., 279, at page 288, the Supreme Court quotes from Justice Cooley's opinion as follows:

"Injunctions are to prevent irreparable mischief and stay consequences that could not be adequately compensated; their allowance is discretionary and not of right, calls for good faith in the petitioner, and may be withheld if likely to inflict greater injury than the grievance complained of."

No principles are better established: See 16 A. and 1, page 358, Sec. 4; 14 R. C. L., 213, Sec. 10.

Decision

As Plaintiff has offered to sell the property involved to the City at a price the City is willing to pay, if Plaintiff actually has title or is ultimately found by the Court to have title, it cannot be said that the Plaintiff will or may suffer irreparable injury if the injunction granted be now dissolved.

The wisdom (or lack of wisdom) of building the contemplated plant on land the title to which is in dispute, is not a question to be decided by the Court. This rests in the sound discretion of the Defendant City and its officials.

This Court decides only the question of the right to injunctive relief at this stage of the proceedings; and from the principles above stated it must be apparent that the injunction ought to be dissolved, and set aside.

It, upon the final hearing of this case Plaintiff is then found to be the legal owner of the property, the application for injunction may then be a remedy to which it is entitled. The motion to dissolve the injunction is granted; the question of a motion fee may abide the final outcome of the case.

Dated: January 24, 1939.
Fred T. Miles,
Circuit Judge.

Quail Grouped, Known To Have Been Frozen Together

Three quail owe their lives to a kind hearted motorist who found them in the middle of a road unable to fly and brought them to Conservation Officer Lyle Gates at Hillsdale.

Suffering acutely from the cold, the birds were fed by Officer Gates and after they had thawed out and recovered sufficient strength were released.

Instances of quail being seriously affected by severe winter weather conditions are not uncommon, according to game investigators. Normal winter temperatures do not bother them, but a sleet storm is apt to prove their doom. Because of their habit of bunching together on the ground during the night, they have been known to become so completely sheathed in ice and snow that they were unable to fly. Not infrequently they are found frozen to the ground after a bad ice storm.

Hopes that the quail would become increasingly abundant under a closed season in Michigan have not materialized. The bird appears to be no more than holding its own in numbers in this state. Records indicate, however, that there were very few quail here during the days of the early settlers. One of the chief limiting factors is winter weather, Michigan being in the extreme edge of this bird's natural range. A mild winter and dry spring are considered to make the most favorable weather conditions for the quail.

OUTDOOR CLUB HAS OUTING

The Holland Outdoor Sports club enjoyed two outings last week. On Wednesday evening a very successful sleigh ride was had, the ride going through the Wakarusa road and the party stopping for lunch at the Anchor Inn on the return to the city. On Saturday afternoon the club held a ski-toboggan outing at Goshorn Lake.

On Wednesday evening, February 1st, at 7:30 o'clock the club will hold a meeting for welcoming new members and planning future outings. The meeting will be held in the band room in the city hall. Young men and women from 18 to 30 years of age are invited to attend this meeting and become acquainted.

The following young people are members of the club: Charlotte Jacobs, Marjorie Calbraith, Hester Ende, Jeanne Wilson, Lucille Seckamp, Estelle Rusticus, Florence Derks, Alyda Sather, Evelyn Koshbohm, Hazel Koshbohm, Trnolda Derksen, Suzanne Por, Wilma Por, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Volkers, Bud Slaght, Julian Browne, Leon Van Huis, Jay Rypma, Mel Cloud, L. Van Gelder, Virgil White, Lem Harris, Jr., Louis Carrier, M. W. Kelly, and Rus Sakkers.

The club plans year around outdoor activities and also a banquet. There are no requirements for joining the club except that one desiring to join be an outdoor sports enthusiast and one who enjoys the social group idea.

Few dog licenses are being sold this year as compared with last year, according to Henry J. Beckers, city treasurer. Only 85 have been purchased since Dec. 1, when they were placed on sale. Licenses cost $1 for male and unsexed dogs, and $2 for females.

Mrs. R. B. Champion was hostess at a meeting of Third Reformed Ladies Aid society Wednesday afternoon.

A son was born Jan. 18 to Mr. and Mrs. James Klynstra of Jenison Park. A son, also on Jan. 18, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Diekmann of 125 West 21st st., a daughter, Saturday morning, to Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Van Putten of 322 College ave.; and a daughter on Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holwerda of 28 West 19th st.

W.A.A. Works On Honor Point Plan For Coming Year

The Women's Athletic Association formulated new plans for the coming semester at a meeting of major importance held on January 19th. A system of honor points for various sports was discussed. According to the new idea a girl may receive some form of an award when she attains a certain number of points. The tentative system is still in the hands of the committee consisting of Miss Lichty, Mr. Schouten, Ruth Van Popering and Thelma Kooliker.

Plans for the regular swimming trips to Grand Rapids were also discussed. The W.A.A. is planning to sponsor an all star swimming team.

Thelma Kooliker, in charge of basketball, presented her report. Various teams are scheduled to play each other on Tuesday nights after "Y" in the gymnasium. The captains of the teams are as follows:

Badgers, Jean Hoekje, captain; Wildcats, Margaret Allen, captain; Wolverines, Thelma Kooliker, captain; Tigers, Ruth Van Popering, captain.

Jack Schouten announced that the gymnasium will be open every Thursday evening whenever possible so that the girls may play badminton, ping-pong, or practice basketball shots.

All girls are urged to watch the bulletin boards for notice of an ice skating party which will occur whenever the weather permits.

There will be a meeting of all the girls who signed up for Hiking club at 7:15 this Thursday in the lobby of Voorhees hall. All these girls are requested to be present for purposes of organization.

The W.A.A. also wishes to remind girls to procure doctor's certificates of health as quickly as possible.

W.A.L. To Hear Policewoman At February Event

Plans are being made by the Woman's Activity League to have Miss Katherine Geiser, only police woman of Grand Rapids, as the speaker for the February event which will be a tea with Lois Hall in charge. The tentative date for the interesting talk has been set at February 22nd.

A skating party had been planned for January's activity but because of an overcrowded schedule it has been called off.

The meeting for March will be a Grooming Clinic and style show. Trudie Young is in charge of the day's activities and according to present plans the clinic will be similar to the one held last year on marriage, with meetings both afternoons and evenings for two or three days.

At the last board meeting the board appointed Martha Morgan general publicity chairman for the year.

DELPHIANS PRESENT "HOUR OF CHARM"

The Delphi society entertained their guests with the "Hour of Charm" in the blue room of the Warm Friend Tavern on Friday, January twentieth, as their winter party. Each tuxedo-clad guest was presented with a carnation boutonniere. Dinner music was furnished by Gerard Hanchet.

The charming sextette, consisting of Delphians Spaan, Meulendyke, Bultman, Bolema, Voorhorst and Potter, initiated the program by gently imparting the appeal of "Star Dust."

Delphian Marcey presented a humorous paper of original and some not so original verse entitled, "Apology," to the classic poets. The paper concluded by applying appropriate song titles to the guests' names.

Delphian Spaan, as a dream singing of a dream, crooned "Deep in a Dream" for the pleasure of the guests. Pledges Race and Vander May effectively demonstrated the "Lambeth Walk" for the edification and merriment of all those present.

The Aletheans had their annual winter part on Jan. fourteenth in the form of a "Night Club on Wheels" at Virginia Park. A few rounds of skating were enjoyed by all before the formal floor show was presented.

President Jean MacNeill welcomed the guests and the festivities started with an exhibition of fancy skating given by instructors. Musical numbers were rendered by Marie Looman; and a one-act skit entitled, "Curses, Foiled Again," followed.

After the program a buffet lunch was served. The guests paid their respects to the chaperons, Professor and Mrs. Brouwer and Professor and Mrs. Zwemer, and the party rolled to a climax in the Grand March.

SHOOT HOG FOR RABBIT, AND WITHOUT A LICENSE

Hunters have mistaken each other for a variety of game, but an error that is slightly different is revealed in the monthly report from Conservation Officer Winey of Kalamazoo county.

In this instance, the hunter's imagination stretched to the point where he mistook a hog weighing 125 pounds for a rabbit and shot it. The result was expensive. The hunter was assessed a fine of $15 and costs of $6.85 for hunting without a license and was also required to pay the farmer whose hog he shot $10.

MAN OF 90 TELLS AGE SECRET

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Park, Jr., Coopersville was the scene of a memorable occasion last Sunday, as they kept open house in honor of his father, John M. Park, Sr., celebrating his 90th birthday anniversary. Mr. Park, who is the only Civil War veteran living in Coopersville at the present time, is perhaps one of the youngest in the state, and certainly the youngest as far as his ability to get about is concerned.

When asked as to his secret for remaining "young" at such an age, Mr. Park replied: "There are two mottos I have adopted. One is 'Just keep going,' and the other 'Never do anything today for which you will be sorry tomorrow.'"

Peter Declares His Love—John 21:11-19.

Henry Geerlings

The resurrection of Christ was unexpected by His followers, even though He had revealed it to them as a coming fact. At least they did not grasp its significance. But proofs were provided to remove all doubts that He was truly living again. The women received the proof first. When Peter and John heard the report they hurried to the tomb. They found that His body was gone, but that there was no sign of haste as though it had been taken elsewhere for burial, or had been stolen. The fact that the wrappings were still there, showed that there was something remarkable about the absence of the body. John appears to have believed that the resurrection had taken place, though its full meaning had hardly come to him. It is probable that Peter was so amazed and uncertain that he did not reach as far in his faith at the time John did. But there was nothing they could do about the matter. They had the fact of the empty tomb, and the strange condition in the tomb, but they could only wait. So they returned to their own home.

Christ, however, did more than appear to show that He was alive. He manifested Himself, showing His power, His continued ability to minister, and His concern for the ministry, in which the apostles were soon to be engaged. The setting for this manifestation was a fishing scene in which seven of them took part. It was at Peter's suggestion that they went fishing. Perhaps it was the call of former occupation, or it may be that they needed to have fish for their immediate support. But on that particular night they had no success. They took nothing. They seemed to have lost their skill. Toward morning they had a pleasing surprise. Jesus stood on the shore and directed them where to cast the net. The taking was remarkable.

John first recognized Him. Peter waded ashore at once, eager to get to Christ. The catch of fish, which Jesus had started. He invited them to break their fast. He took the place of a servant waiting on them. This was the third time the disciples had been privileged to be in the presence of the risen Christ.

Peter was singled out for a particular testing. He was to have a thorough examination, in which he was to be allowed to prove himself worthy of being entrusted with the work of a pastor. If he was to be useful it would be because of his relationship to the Master. He did not have the natural disposition and tendency to qualify him for the work about to be assigned to him. Jesus addressed him as Simon, not as Peter. He inquired whether Peter loved Him more than the others did, thus recalling his boast about his personal loyalty.

The love was rather a putting Jesus first, a complete devotion to Him. He could not reach up to the exalted word, but he was sure that Jesus knew He had a deep affection for Him, the love that prefers being with Him, the love that is full of sentiment and emotion. Again he was asked if he could put Jesus first, he was wholly devoted to Him, to love Him in that noblest sense. The comparison between him and the others was omitted this time. His answer was as before. He could not bring himself to trust himself to claim that highest type of love. He had boasted before to his shame. He would not risk doing so again. The third time Jesus comes down to Peter's own word for love as if to really test Peter's sincerity in having said that for Him. When he heard this word used, he was deeply grieved to think that it was possible for his Lord to raise any question about his sincere affection for Him. His answer was a plea for recognition of his love for Christ.

Each time Peter answered he was assigned a pastor's work. He was to feed the lambs, tend and feed the sheep. When he had finished the assignment Jesus gave Peter a new outlook for his future. As a young man he had strength and was independent. Age would be coming when in comparative helplessness he would be dependent on others. In his younger days he enjoyed a large measure of freedom. He could come and go at will. In a sense he was his own master. But from this point on he would have his freedom largely taken from him. In the future he would be the bidding of another. He would be imprisoned and taken forth at the command of the Roman authorities and nailed to the cross; not that he would be unwilling to do it for his Master but it would not be his choice if he had his way.

The Hannah Society of the First Chr. Ref. church, a ladies organization of Zeeland, serving benefits for the Christian School, will meet at the First Church chapel this Friday afternoon, when all interested are invited to attend. Rev. Dick Walters of Holland will be the speaker for the occasion.

William Oostendorp, youngest son of the late Rev. H. Oostendorp, who has been making his home with his brother, Rev. E. H. Oostendorp of Luctor, Kan., since the death of his father, has returned to Zeeland and now will make his home with Mrs. H. E. Oostendorp at her home on Cherry street. It will be remembered that Rev. Oostendorp dropped dead the early part of last summer while talking to friends on the veranda of his cottage at Buchanan Beach, a Holland resort.

Mrs. Joe De Hoop, Mrs. D. Ver Hage, Mrs. Mary Kooyers and Mrs. P. Wuyngarden of Vriesland were entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Schermer in Holland.

Mrs. John Hulst, Sr., was the guest of honor Wednesday evening at a surprise birthday party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Boer of Lawndale Court. The marriage of Miss Agnes Hulst and Alfred Bulthuis on Feb. 24 was announced.

John L. Sterkens of 220 West 14th St. was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when a group of friends and relatives dropped in on the occasion of his 71st birthday anniversary. The group enjoyed playing games during the evening. Refreshments were served.

FITZGERALD WARNS SHERIFFS TO ENFORCE THE GAMBLING LAWS

Gov. Fitzgerald will crack down with the state police if local enforcing officers fail to meet their obligations, the chief executive said today in releasing a letter he sent to all prosecutors and sheriffs. "This letter means just what it says. Gambling places have been closed in Macomb county and they better keep closed," Fitzgerald said. "If there is non-enforcement due to willful negligence on the part of prosecutors and sheriffs, the state will be instituted against offending officials."

The governor pointed out that Macomb citizens themselves had taken care of their situation and now that there is a lull he deemed it advisable to again inform sheriffs and prosecutors what their duties are.

"I sincerely believe in my policy of home rule, and in following it I have taken some hard raps as a result of what occurred in Macomb county," the governor said. "Because gambling or any other law violation does not at the moment appear to be a burning question I want not only the sheriffs and prosecutors to know my position but the people as well."

"This letter means just what it says, and gambling better not open up."

GOOD ROAD

During the last few years, Holland was connected up with a super-highway to Saugatuck; and the Holland end of M-40 to Hamilton and Allegan and beyond has been built. It was very important to Holland to have Hamilton-Allegan connection; however, the highway goes further as has been written so often before in this publication.

This is the beginning of the Michigan-Erie highway, connecting these two big bodies of water with the Michigan terminal at Holland and the Ohio terminal at Toledo. Much of this road has been built, and as money is available, it will be completed within the near future, connecting Holland directly with the big trunk lines from New York to San Francisco.

Holland's end was completed first, in which we are fortunate. Do you know that for five years a Holland delegation under the direction of the chamber of commerce has been working quietly but effectively to have this road become a fact? They have made trips over the entire route, calling meetings in every important center that would be served by that highway.

The local committee even helped Allegan get its new bridge, now built, spanning this highway. Hamilton gives us unstinted praise because this new highway not only gave them a usable road to get to Holland, but gave them a new concrete bridge, the pride of the village.

This was done by the chamber of commerce and a committee of 15 men, who spent days to motor to places where the message would do the most good, and this was done without cost to anyone, only to the men who were willing to give of their efforts and money.

These same men are still working for the chamber of commerce, augmented by a hundred others. These roads would never have been built but for the Holland men who took the initial step in this cross-state super highway planning. Join the chamber, encourage such efforts, and it will be a satisfaction to you.

HOLLAND FURNACES CLUTTER UP HIGHWAY IN ACCIDENT

Sixteen tons of Holland Furnaces were here Thursday for examination after having been scattered and broken in a truck accident on US-16 near Saranac crossing, Ionia county, Tuesday.

The furnaces were on their way to Ohio in a Federal Trucking Corp. truck when the vehicle swung out of the line of traffic to go around a truck which was helping a car out of the ditch. The furnace truck swerved and smashed into several other cars parked nearby.

Mrs. Beatrice Van Broeklin, 29, of Muskegon suffered a broken arm and cuts on her face; Jean McKay, 15, of Traverse City was cut about the face and had two teeth knocked out; and Stanley Van Broeklin received minor bruises.

Arthur Hersh of Cleveland, a salesman who was watching the towing truck from beside his parked automobile, had a narrow escape. The trailer of the furnace truck struck him and his car, pinning him beneath his automobile. Then the trailer turned over and Hersh was beneath it, his car, and the 16 tons of furnaces. He received minor bruises.

Traffic on the highway was tied up for four hours.

PROGRESS CAMPAIGN OFF TO A GOOD START

A total of $5,550 was reported today at the second luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern in the Holland chamber of commerce "program of progress" drive. The campaign to raise $10,500 will end Friday.

The deceased was brought to this city on Sunday and funeral services were held Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. from the home of a daughter, Mrs. Willard Stickney, 526 Slayton street. The Baars are old pioneers of Ottawa county and Mr. Baar knows considerable of Ottawa county history.

The ministers conference of the Classis Zeeland met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Kolkman, at Oakland, Monday afternoon.

that city. They held sway at the Flint Athletic Club.

A wire has just been received from Miss Doris Hurlig, who is to put on the floor show, that some special numbers have been arranged for, that are going to bring a riot of fun. Bill Band, a card manipulator from the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, will be one of them, and there is Lee Miller, a girl singer from WJJD of Chicago who will be prominent on the program. Patry Mann, a croquet dancer, recently with the Dudley Rogers show, has also been engaged. She is the cleverest in the business. These are only a few of the many attractions, not counting the wonderful orchestral music and the opportunity to dance.

The Tavern will also serve dinners for those who wish to dine and dance. We mustn't forget the decorations. Bill Nies has charge of that, and he will no doubt do a good job. Phil Vicari is the ticket man, Russell Haight has charge of the publicity, and George Damsen is the watchdog at the treasurer. The tickets for the dance at $2 per couple are now on sale and can be obtained from any member of the Lions Club, and remember, part of the proceeds from the dance at the Tavern Saturday night will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, while the balance will remain here for use by the sponsoring club in checking the spread of disease locally.

There are at present several cases of infantile paralysis under treatment of muscle paralysis or weakness caused by the disease. The number of cases varies markedly from year to year. The most severe outbreak in Ottawa County was in 1931 when 20 cases occurred. The average number of cases annually occurring in the County is four, over a period of 8 years. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in its consistent effort to combat this disease which presents so many problems in control and treatment, needs the support of all who are in a position to help. Any progress in dealing with this disease more efficiently will most likely result from such a united movement.

MICHIGAN REDS LEAD EGG TEST

Pens of Rhode Island Red hens from Ford's Riverbank Poultry farm at Eastmanville, Ottawa county, are making some creditable winter egg laying records this season.

One entry is leading over all breeds in the Maine contest in both eggs laid and points scored. It also was the high point in egg laid in December and came within five one-hundredths of a point of tying for first place in points scored for the month.

The farm has just received a trophy from Michigan State college in recognition of the best egg production during December in its seventeenth international egg laying contest. Producing at an 84 per cent clip, Ford's red birds laid the most eggs and scored the most points of any pen during the month.

Will Celebrate 92nd Year Of Settling Here

PICTURES ARE TO BE PART OF COMMEMORATION PROGRAM

Novel plans for commemorating the 92nd anniversary of the settling of Western Michigan by the Dutch are nearly completed. Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of the Netherlands Pioneer and Historical Foundation announces that two films "Beautiful Holland" and a trip through "Amsterdam, Alkmaar, Volendam and Marken" have been secured, and will be shown at this meeting which will be held in the high school auditorium at Holland.

These films will come to Holland from G. H. Ravelli, American representative of the Netherlands Railways in New York city. Because of his active interest in the Netherlands Museum, Mr. Ravelli has gone to considerable trouble to call these films in, and have them in Holland for the meeting on February 9th. They are being shown by special arrangement in various cities in the United States. "Beautiful Holland" a travelogue in color is coming here from its showing in Dallas, Texas on February 8th.

These two films will be the high spots of the evening, but additional entertainment is being arranged to include music and brief remarks by Foundation members. There will be no outside speaker for the occasion.

Special reservations are being made for members of the Netherlands Pioneer and Historical Foundation, but the meeting will also be open to the public.

Museum officials regret to announce that the usual openhouse meeting at the Museum will not be possible this year, because many exhibition rooms at the Masonic Temple are not heated. This announcement is made regretfully, for the afternoon get-together held each year on February 9th was an anticipated feature of the day.

Willard C. Wichers, Supervisor Netherlands Pioneer-Historical Foundation.

Unknown Heroes Made Known

Special Music For The Wooden Shoe Dancers

MORE GIRLS FOR TULIP
TIME DANCING GROUP

The first steps of actual preparation for Holland's tenth anniversary Tulip Time have been taken under the leadership of Miss Mabel L. Apel, director of Physical Education for girls in the local schools. Miss Apel, whose home is in Sandusky, Ohio, is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College. At the present time, in preparation for the Village Green Program, she is working with a small group of girls in adapting new dance steps and formations to the music provided by Mr. Peter Buys of Hagerstown, Maryland. Mr. Buys, who at last year's Festival became enthused with the possibilities of Tulip Time, has written this number particularly for Holland's wooden shoe dancers. He conducts his own school of music and is a vice president of the American Bandmasters' Association.

Miss Apel, who has achieved outstanding results with her dancers in the three years that she has been in charge, is allowing one-hundred fifty more girls to participate than previously. This will bring the total number in the main dance to three hundred. Miss Lavina Cappon, in charge of the Village Green costumes, is busily engaged in providing additional equipment. Mr. Friedlen and Mr. Horwich, of the Security Sportswear Company, are arranging with a Chicago clothing firm for the making of several hundred caps patterned after an imported model which has the small visor the Dutchman commonly wears.

In previous years the Village Green Program was held on Tenth Street bordering Centennial Park. It included a tumbling team under the direction of Joseph Moran and a group of singers trained by Miss Trixie Moore. For 1939 it is hoped to hold this entire program on Eighth Street, between River Avenue and College Avenue. If a program is held at Riverview Park the dancers will be transferred there.

Miss Jean Bosman is acting as piano accompanist at dance rehearsals. Eugene Heeter, with the high school orchestra, prepares the recordings. Miss Apel is also planning two new specialty dances for small groups.

RABBI SPEAKS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Rabbi Jerome D. Folkma of Congregation Emmanuel, Grand Rapids, addressed the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon on "The World Today," a keen analysis of the problems of our civilization.

The Rabbi urged his audience to try to eliminate emotion from their view of current events and try to recognize as propaganda some of the influences which are brought to bear upon even the best informed people. "If the first Mrs. Woodrow Wilson had lived, the damaging effect of the Versailles treaty might not have been so severe," he said.

The speaker expressed the opinion that Sept. 26, 1938, is the key date in current history, and that Hitler is the most powerful man in the world. Rabbi Folkman spoke unfavorably of the passive policy which the democracies have carried out in the crisis over Ethiopia, Spain, Austria, and Czechoslovakia. Alsace and Lorraine will be next, the speaker predicted.

He urged preparedness for the United States on the ground that other countries are careful not to draw a prepared nation into conflict.

Mrs. James H. Warner, president of the Holland branch of the American Association of University Women, invited the group to attend the exhibit of Michigan art at the Netherlands museum this week. Mrs. J. J. Brower, chairman of the program committee, announced the program for Tuesday and for the guest meeting Feb. 26.

Mrs. J. D. French, chairman, Mrs. John Oert, Mrs. O. E. Cross, Mrs. Sidney Tiesenga, Mrs. Arie Weller and Mrs. Ralph Eash were appointed to the nomination committee, which will report on Feb. 21.

Funeral services for Leonard Dekker, 61, of route 4, Holland, who died unexpectedly of a heart attack Tuesday night, will be held Saturday at 1:15 p. m. in the home and at 2 p. m. in Ninth Street Christian Reformed church. REMOVING RUST FROM GUNS

If the bore of your gun is rusty here is a formula that will remove the rust. The barrel should be scrubbed first with a brass brush and then three ounces of strong ammonia, containing 28 per cent gas, mixed with two ounces of water, one-half ounce of ammonium persulfate and 100 grains of ammonia carbonate. This should be mixed fresh and kept tightly corked. Pour the solution into the barrel after plugging one end. Plug the other end and allow the mixture to remain in the barrel for one-half hour. Pour it out and scrub the barrel again. Repeat this until the rust is removed.

The annual supper of the Fellowship class of Bethel Reformed church held its annual supper in the church parlors Tuesday evening, with about 50 present. The Rev. J. Vanden Berg of Zeeland spoke on "The Christian's Message to a Modern World." Corinne Baker gave several readings. Louis Mulder gave two chalk talks, and the Harmony quartet sang. Seek to Protect Crops from Deer

A dispatch from Lansing states that three agencies are co-operating in preparations for an experiment in methods of preventing deer raids on farm crops.

Michigan State college, the state farm bureau and the department of conservation are planning to test the use of electric fencing as a means of keeping hungry deer out of farm fields. Data on the cost and operation of electric fences is now being gathered and the experiment is to be made soon in Alcona county where considerable deer damage has occurred in the past. The territory exemplifies the trouble which may occur where farms are located in the midst of game land.

Tests which have been conducted elsewhere indicate that the use of flash-guns, noise-makers, chemical substances, scarecrows and such devices is not entirely satisfactory as a means of keeping deer off cultivated land. Eight-foot, woven wire fences have been demonstrated to be deer proof but their cost is prohibitive for the average farmer and discouraging to large scale use.

Electric fences have been experimented with in several other states including Pennsylvania which has had an acute deer damage problem for a considerable time.

The question is why should the farmer pay for a fence to keep out the game who eat his crops uninvited.

Few Arrests Compared To the Licenses

ONLY ABOUT THREE OUT OF
EVERY THOUSAND HUNTERS
IN MICHIGAN VIOLATE

Only about one out every 300 persons who hunt, fish or trap in Michigan is a violator of the fish and game laws.

Prosecution records of the department of conservation show that notwithstanding better law enforcement, the percentage of violations remain low. Although the approximately 4,500 arrests made last year for fish and game law violations were more than the number made in any previous year, the number of persons who bought hunting, fishing and trapping licenses also was considerably larger than in any previous year.

Figuring that at least 1,400,000 persons were licensed to hunt, fish or trap during 1938, the 4,500 arrests constitute only about three tenths of one per cent—or about one in every 300.

The previous largest number of arrests made in any one year was 4,320 which was recorded in 1930. In 1937 conservation officers took 4,254 persons into custody.

Col. William A. Bergin, assistant chief of the field administration division in charge of law enforcement for the conservation department, attributes the 1938 increase to improved patrol methods as well as to the fact more persons went hunting and fishing than ever before. During both the small game and upland bird, and the deer seasons, more hunters were contacted than during any previous season, Col. Bergin points out. More fishermen also were checked by officers during 1938 than in any previous year, largely as a result of an extension of the inland water patrol system. A larger number of patrol boats were put in operation last year and by transporting them frequently on trailers from one lake to another, officers were able to visit more fishing spots than they could under the old system. During the hunting season, the same technique was used by shifting road blockades frequently from one site to another.

Arrests for fish law violations in 1938 numbered approximately 2,200; small game, 1,000; deer law, 700; fur laws, 200. Miscellaneous charges made up the remainder of the cases.

The Holland Christian Endeavor union will celebrate the observance of the fifty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the national organization Jan. 29 to Feb. 5.

On Feb. 3 a banquet will be held in Bethel Reformed church with Rev. Jacob Prins of Grand Rapids as the speaker.

On Feb. 5 rallies will be held for the juniors at Sixth Reformed church. Miss Nellie Zwemer, former missionary now residing in Holland, will speak. The intermediate-senior group will meet in Third Reformed church to hear Rev. Raymond Drukker, former Grand Rapids pastor and now director of youth activities for the Reformed church.

The recreational division of the union is sponsoring a play to be given in March. The three-act production, "Taking the Count," has been selected. The cast includes Paul Scholten, Lenore Dalman, Myrtle DeWitt, Ruth Plegema, Lloyd Plakke, Betty Williamson, Norma Rutgers, Paul Holleman, Gerard Veenschoten and John H. De Witt. PRESIDENT'S BALL

The returns from the advance sale of tickets and certificates in connection with the President's birthday ball Saturday night in the Warm Friend tavern indicate that this will be the largest of its kind held in Holland. George Damson, chairman of the dance which is sponsored by the Holland Lions club, says that the great interest this year may be due to the new plan under which half of the gross proceeds from founders' certificates, buttons, etc., will remain here for use by the county in local work against infantile paralysis.

Friday, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fabiano returned here after spending several weeks in Florida.

Stockholm is The Venice of The North

A COZY CITY ALL CUT UP WITH BRIDGES, WATER-
WAYS—SPANNING
MANY ISLANDS

By Dr. A. J. Brower

Stockholm, Capital of Sweden

Stockholm has been the capital of Sweden for over 700 years. There is no other capital in the world so cut up and intersected with broad waterways and nowhere does there exist such intimate contact with wild, romantic nature originally a forest-clad rocky archipelago which is still included in the topography of the beautiful city with much old and also modern architecture. In this archipelago, there are at least 13 islands all connected with bridges, a most pleasing network. The city is unique in that it is built on numerous beautiful small islands and peninsulas. Stockholm is known as the Venice of the north. It is a very gay capital with its many bridges and canals and waterways like Venice and Amsterdam.

I sometimes think that Amsterdam is more beautiful than Venice in this respect. It has also rightly been called the Swedish Versailles as it resembles Versailles, France, the show place of the emperors of France, a marvel for beauty. Beautiful parks, canals, harbors, locks, splendid bridges with pavements separated for street cars, buses, bicycles and pedestrians, all so nicely arranged for comfort and pleasure and safety. Narrow waterways separate one section from another and broad quays and attractive promenades line the shores.

The landscape beauty is gorgeous. Its many islands are hilly and form distinct units which are not covered under a mass of skyscrapers or high buildings, while on the mainland, the city stretches back to dark forests on rocky hills. The center of the highest point of the city behind the Royal Palace is the Great Market Place. This is a tragic place, where centuries ago many dangerous suspected public men were publicly executed.

At Skansen they have a very interesting, world famous open-air museum on the order we saw in Norway and like, no doubt, Henry Ford is copying after in building his Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Michigan.

Then they have the Old Riddarholm Church called the Pantheon of Sweden. Here are the tombs and sarcophagi of the kings and renowned field-marshal. This building was formerly a church of the Franciscans. This Pantheon very much resembles the old, old Pantheon of Rome where many Popes are entombed and emperors, thus illustrating how nations will copy after one another. Everywhere we visited, no matter what country, we would always be taken to Art Galleries, Museums, Palaces, Stadshuset, Parliaments, etc., as these are always the main attractions in every land, even in our city at Tulip Time, and all this is an account of its collective representation of the country.

Then we saw the new Town Hall a recent edifice of which any nation could be justly proud, with its impressive tower, a masterpiece of present-day architecture.

I cannot conceive of a more beautiful hall where the international medical assembly met just a few years ago than there is in this city hall or Stadhus. We saw that the interior was all of mosaic construction, small pieces less than an inch square and all gold faced, and there were more than a million pieces. I did not count them, but just seeing was believing for me. This is an assembly hall for festivals of kings and world famous meetings and no nicer room can be seen anywhere.

The best Tivoli known is here. Sweden pays as it goes. Cash as you go is their system and they never go beyond their means. They do not believe that spending will bring prosperity. Debt is debt and somebody sometime will have to pay.

The people are peace loving, very friendly, thrifty and intelligent. I was in the department store buying some famous Orrefors' glassware for which Sweden is noted and there I was told where Garbo had her sales counter when she was a clerk and her talent was discovered.

In conclusion, I do not blame her one bit in not liking Hollywood, California, when she knows what her native city is like and when she said, "I thank I go home."

Whereas, the untimely death of Mrs. Ben Steffens comes as a shock to all those who had the privilege of knowing her as a friend and a sad loss to the members of the family, who held her dear; now therefore be it

Resolved by the Common Council, that the members of the Council extend their sympathy to our colleague, Alderman Ben Steffens and his family, on the untimely death of Mrs. Steffens, a beloved wife, mother and friend, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family, and spread on the records of the Common Council and published in the newspapers.

Resolution offered by the special committee, Frank Smith, chairman; John Menken and Edward Brouwer.

Alderman Brouwer recommended that Section 5 of Title 4 of the City Charter as amended, be further amended so as to provide for the removal of the restriction that now limits the City Treasurer to hold office for a longer period than 4 years out of any six years. It was brought out that this provision had been inserted in the Charter in 1913 when it was not the practice of the city to have the books audited regularly as is the case at the present time when there is an annual audit. It was further stated that the County Treasurer is permitted to hold office as long as the people desire to elect him, and that there was no good reason for depriving the people of electing a competent City Treasurer as often as they desired to do so.

Adopted.

Mayor appointed as such committee, Alderman Kalkman, Oudemool and Menken.

Alderman Prins reported that he has recently been besieged by residents in the first ward living in the vicinity of the Gas Plant, complaining about the smoke and dirt nuisance caused by discharges from the plant and recommended the appointment of a committee to call upon Mr. Berg, local manager of the plant, to see what can be done to eliminate this nuisance.

He then installed a septic tank and now that sewers have been constructed in the street, he has been assessed for a benefit the same as others along the street, which he felt was unjust inasmuch as he had gone to the expense of installing a septic tank a few years ago.

Referred to Sewer Committee.

Adopted.
