Cyclist Killed en Route to Factory

Fred Howard Is Hit by Car Driven by Worker
In Same Department

Fred Howard, 58, route 2, Holland, died at 9:57 a.m. Friday in City hospital of injuries he received about 7:40 a.m. when he was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle across the railroad tracks on Columbia Ave., between Sixth and Seventh Sts., en route to his work at the Charles P. Limbert Co., 147 Columbia Ave.

Driver of the automobile, according to Holland police was Byron P. Switzer, 30, 75 East Ninth St., also employed at the Limbert company. Both car and bicycle were northbound on Columbia Ave.

In a preliminary statement to police, Switzer said he failed to see Mr. Howard on his bicycle until his car struck the man because his windshield was partly covered by frost. He said he was driving between 15 and 20 miles per hour.

Police said Mr. Howard was struck near the center of the railroad crossing which includes several tracks and was carried about 20 feet.

Mr. Howard was rushed to the hospital in the Dykstra ambulance in a semi-conscious condition. The attending physician reported Mr. Howard's death was the result of acute shock and circulatory failure, occasioned by extensive lacerations on the left side of his head and face with probable skull fracture. Mr. Howard also suffered a fractured left collar bone, fracture of several ribs on the left side, fracture of the lower left leg and multiple body contusions and abrasions.

The coroner questioned Byron P. Switzer, 30, 75 East Ninth St., driver of the car, Friday afternoon. Switzer told the coroner he failed to see Howard on his bicycle. Both men were employed in the same department at the Charles P. Limbert Co.

Two other witnesses, Henry Windemulder, 174 East Fourth St., and Mrs. Hazel Morris, route 4, Holland, both employed at Limbert's, were questioned Friday. Howard was riding his bicycle in front of Switzer's car and was about two feet into the street from the edge of the ice and snow. They said Switzer was driving about 15 miles per hour.

The death was the first automobile fatality in Ottawa county this year.

Mr. Howard is survived by two children, Clifford and Miss Eva Mae, both of Grand Rapids; two grandchildren; one brother, Joseph Howard of Waverly; one sister, Mrs. Joseph Clark of Grandville.

He was born Aug. 25, 1883, at Waverly to the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howard.

Mr. Howard and Mr. Switzer worked in the same department at the furniture company.

Fined for Driving With Obstructed Windshield

Byron P. Switzer, 30, 75 East Ninth St., paid a fine and costs of $10 to Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith today upon his plea of guilty to a charge of operating a car with an obstructed windshield.

Switzer was the driver of the car which struck Fred Howard, 58, route 2, Holland, Friday morning while Howard was riding his bicycle on Columbia Ave. between Sixth and Seventh Sts., causing the latter's death later in Holland hospital.

Switzer told investigators that he failed to see the cyclist because his windshield was partly covered by frost.

Survey Being Made at Lake

Three representatives of the University of Michigan fisheries research department, Ann Arbor, are making a survey of Lake Macatawa to determine the lack of vegetation, possible clue to pollution.

The surveyors are R. J. Matthews of Grand Rapids, Paul Sears of Lansing and James Oliver of Hamilton. The three men began their work two days ago but had to cease operations today because of the fog.

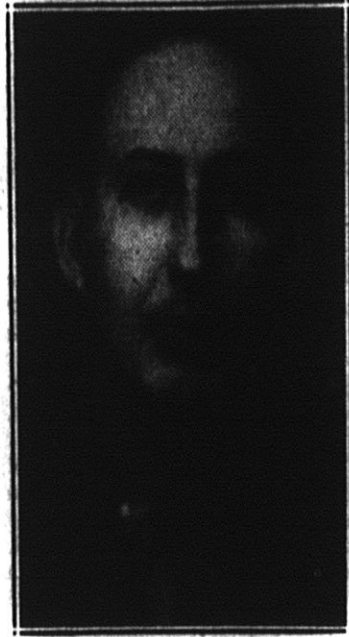

After completing the initial survey on the lake ice, they will return here later to survey in open waters.

Alleged pollutions of Lake Macatawa was considered at the annual meeting of the Holland Fish and Game club Jan. 8 when it was reported that through the efforts of Joseph C. Rhea and S. H. Houtman the state conservation department agreed to survey the local lake.

Dies Suddenly

Cornelius Tiesenga

Tiesenga, Head of Local Firm, Dies Of Heart Seizure

Rites Wednesday for President of Holland
Aniline Dye Company

Stricken ill of a heart attack in the bathroom of his home, Cornelius Tiesenga, 50, president and general manager of the Holland Aniline Dye Co., died suddenly about 7:30 a.m. Sunday shortly after he had arisen for the day.

Although he had been suffering of heart trouble the past two years, he had retired Saturday night in apparently good health. Coroner Gilbert Vande Water was called to the home, 337 College Ave., to investigate the death.

Mr. Tiesenga had been active in local business affairs for many years. He became affiliated with the Holland Aniline Dye Co. when it was organized in Chicago in 1916. The following year the company was moved to Holland.

In 1924, when the firm was reorganized, Mr. Tiesenga was elected secretary-treasurer and general manager, a position he held until September, 1940, when he was elected president upon the death of A. Peters, the president at that time.

For several years, Mr. Tiesenga served as a director of the Holland Furnace Co. In March, 1924, he was elected to the board of directors of the Holland State Bank. He was present at the bank's annual meeting last Tuesday when he was reelected to the board of directors for another one-year term.

Mr. Tiesenga was a member of Third Reformed church, Holland Rotary club, Elks and Masonic lodges and the Holland Chamber of Commerce.

He was born in Forest Grove Oct. 31, 1891, to Mr. and Mrs. John Tiesenga. He attended school in Holland and was graduated from Holland high school in 1911. He attended the University of Michigan and after taking post graduate work received his master's degree in chemistry in 1917.

In 1917 he married Miss Genevieve Slaght in Grand Haven. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Genevieve Tiesenga; a daughter, Phyllis, a teacher in Ohio; the mother, Mrs. Fred Ter Haar of Holland; one sister, Mrs. Hubert Frans of Holland; three brothers, Andrew of Jamaica, N. Y., John H. and Dr. Sidney S. Tiesenga, both of Holland.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. from the home and at 2 p.m. from Third Reformed church, with the Rev. William Van't Hof, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Gunderson's case was appealed from justice court. Following his acquittal, he was severely reprimanded by Judge Fred T. Miles, who advised him to avoid any actions in the future which might return him in court.

Council Orders Man's Arrest on Building Charge

Attorney Is Authorized
To Start Proceedings
On Permit Violation

Strict enforcement of the city's building and zoning ordinance was ordered Wednesday night by common council when it instructed City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker to start criminal proceedings against Albert Wiegink, 501 Central Ave., for violation of the building ordinance.

Lokker said a warrant will be issued for Wiegink's arrest, charging him with remodeling his home in the amount of $400 without first having obtained a permit under the building ordinance which specifies a $50 maximum for construction without a permit.

Council, in deciding to take action against Wiegink, also was informed that the home had been remodeled into a two-family residence in a residential district which is limited to one-family houses.

The matter was brought to council's attention when Henry Looman, building inspector, submitted a communication in which he reported that on Aug. 15 an application for a building permit was made to remodel the home. He wrote that the lot in question contains but 5,487.3 square feet and is located in "A" residential district.

Looman advised council that he had refused to approve the application as he had not been assured that the owner would not remodel the home into a two-family residence. He wrote that the remodeling had been carried out without a permit and claimed that Wiegink violated both the building and zoning ordinances.

Ald. Bruce Raymond stated this was a direct violation of the building ordinance, in that the owner refused to obtain a permit before making the improvements, and that he also is operating a two-family house in a residential district where it is prohibited by the zoning ordinance.

He pointed out two courses which could be taken, the first being to instruct the city attorney to take criminal action for a violation of the building ordinance and the second being civil action to restrain the owner from using the home as a two-family residence, a violation of the zoning ordinance.

"It's time the ordinances are enforced or repealed," Raymond said, adding that there had been other cases where owners had hesitated to comply with the provisions of the ordinances.

Lokker, pointing out to council that Looman had been carrying out a strict campaign against violators of the ordinances and said efforts should be recognized.

Although Looman said Wiegink was the first to be accused of violating the ordinance "willfully," Lokker explained that other builders had "technically" violated provisions, but that these cases had been settled to the satisfaction of the appeal board, no penalties had been assessed and no publicity had been given the infractions.

Lokker said that by such action, warnings of enforcement of the ordinances had not been given to the public. Publicly, he asserted, would have its good effect on the builders as well as those engaged in making repairs.

He agreed with Raymond that two steps could be taken but he felt that in such matters as these council should instruct him on the proper action. He pointed out that the appeal board has deviated from the provisions of the ordinances where "hardships" would have been involved but, he said, it apparently is the appeal board's intentions to advise the public that it will be expected to comply with provisions of the ordinances.

Raymond, in expressing belief that he felt it was not council's intentions to penalize any person who technically violates the ordinance, but only those who did so "willfully," moved that the city attorney take criminal action against Wiegink for violating the building ordinance. Ald. Frank Smith seconded the motion.

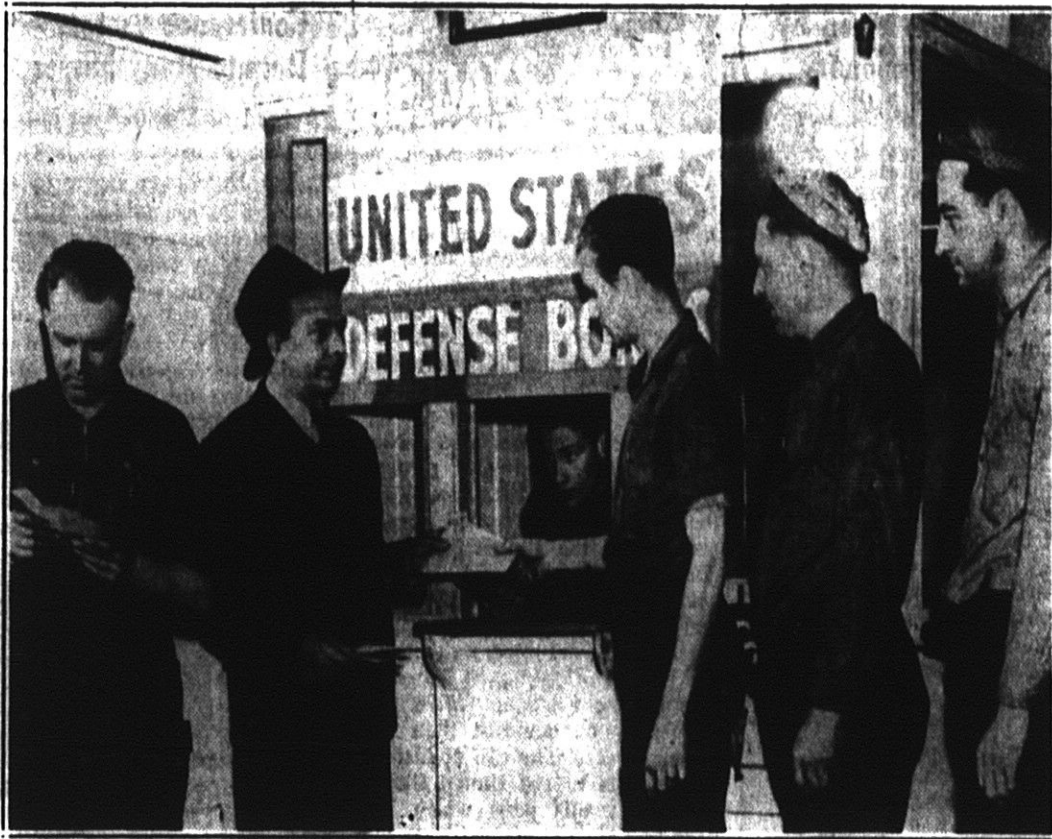

The application on file with City Clerk Oscar Peterson shows that Wiegink sought a permit to remodel the interior of his home, one room to be enlarged for a bathroom and a sun parlor to be made into a bedroom.

Many Inquiries Are Received on Tulip Time Fete

Tire Shortage Fails to Dampen Interest, Says
Manager Houtman

That the tire shortage has not dampened public interest in the 1942 Tulip Time festival is evidenced by the fact that inquiries are being received at the Tulip Time office as numerous as in previous years, S. H. Houtman, general festival manager, reports.

Heading last week's inquiries was the request from the Indianapolis Travel club that reservations be made for dinner on the evening of the opening Saturday for 400 of its members. Mr. Houtman is requesting church groups, interested in providing the dinner for the Indianapolis Travel club, to mail to him a choice of several menus and prices as soon as possible. Locations near the downtown area are specified in the travel club request.

Other requests represent such widespread regions as Boston, Mass., Waukesha, Wis., Columbus, O., and Remus, Mich. Two women from St. Petersburg, Fla., wish to represent Holland and its festival in a Festival of the States to be presented there.

The extension service of Michigan state college asks for the loan of a wooden shoe maker for several days and Fred Kunkel, trade journal writer, asks for pictures and a story on the festival. Requests for photographs have recently been received from 12 national publications and they also wish publicity material.

The American Blower Co. of Detroit is running a two-page advertisement in a number of national trade publications, featuring photographs of Tulip Time in Holland and the new power plant in which the firm recently installed equipment.

He informed police the youth had been in his home on two other occasions and had taken money.

Local Channel Project Is Opposed; City May Appeal

Improvement of the Black river channel from the turning basin in Holland harbor to the Black River bridge as a federal project has received an unfavorable report, according to notices received in Holland today by persons interested in the project from Col. R. G. Powell of the office of division engineer, Great Lakes division, war department, Cleveland, O.

Col. Powell said the review of the reports, as authorized by resolution of the committee on rivers and harbors, house of representatives, adopted Feb. 11, 1941, has been made and "is unfavorable to the improvement."

"The principal grounds upon which the adverse conclusion is based are that the cost of the desired dredging in the Black river, upstream of the channel and turning basin, provided by the United States, is not economically justified by the probable benefits to accrue to navigation interests and that the requested improvement is primarily in the nature of a terminal development ordinarily provided by local interests," he said.

He pointed out that interested parties have the privilege of an appeal from this conclusion to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, a permanent body sitting in Washington, D. C., to which all examination and survey reports

Woman Is Killed In Burning Shack

Two Others Seared as Temporary Home Near
Agnew Catches Fire

Grand Haven, Jan. 22 (Special)—Mrs. Alvina Correll, 77, who was residing with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards near Pigeon Creek, eight miles south of Agnew, was burned to death yesterday in a fire that destroyed the two room temporary dwelling they were occupying while the farm home was being remodeled.

Apparently waking about 1 a.m. to find the dwelling in flames, Mrs. Correll shouted a warning to Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, who rushed from the building, a former chicken house which had been converted into the temporary home. It was lined with tar paper which apparently contributed to the intensity of the fire which was of unknown origin.

Taking for granted their mother had escaped, Edwards broke a window and succeeded in rescuing his son, Donald, 17-year-old Grand Haven high school senior, who is in Municipal hospital here in critical condition due to severe burns.

Failing to find her mother on the outside of the flaming building, Mrs. Edwards attempted to enter the dwelling in search of her, but was restrained by her husband with considerable difficulty. When hope had been given up for Mrs. Correll, Mrs. Edwards, suffering minor burns, drove her husband and son, both severely burned, to the hospital in Grand Haven. She was later taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. John Welling, 518 Slayton St.

Sheriff William Boeve was called by a passing motorist, who took Dr. W. B. Bloemendaal, corner, to the scene about 3 a.m. There will be no inquest. The body of Mrs. Correll was found by a grandson, James Edwards, who returned from Muskegon where he is employed.

Born in Chippewa county, Wisconsin, July 19, 1864, Mrs. Correll came to Grand Haven 39 years ago with her first husband. She later was married to his brother, She has been a widow many years. Survivors include the two daughters, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Welling; four sons, Samuel and Prentiss of North Dakota, Herman and William of California; and a brother, Albert Henneman.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Kinkema funeral home, with burial in Grand Haven township cemetery.

Joins Racine Plant in Defense Production as New Order Is Obtained

Additional defense work has been made available for Holland as the result of the awarding of a government contract to the Holland-Racine Shoe, Inc., for the manufacture of 25,000 pairs of army garrison shoes.

General Manager C. C. Andresen has been advised in a telephone conversation with Major L. H. Cox, contracting officer of the Boston quartermaster depot of the awarding of the contract to the local shoe firm. Mr. Andresen said production work will get under way at the Holland plant as soon as the necessary equipment is received and installed.

Although the firm already has completed 400,000 pairs of army shoes, the garrison shoe award represents an entirely different type of work as the specifications call for lighter construction and materials adapted to production in the Holland plant. The company will now devote well over half of its entire output to the defense program.

All other shoe contracts for the army have been filled at the Racine, Wis., plant. With this new type of shoe being manufactured here, it is expected that other contracts will be forthcoming and will add to Holland's increased participation in the national defense program.

The army shoes will be manufactured here in addition to the firm's regular line of shoes.

The new order is expected to provide increased employment in the shoe factory at a later date.

It was pointed out that this contemplated contract and increased production at the Holland plant made it necessary for the company's board of directors to decline a lease with the board of education in which a part of the local plant would have been utilized for vocational defense courses.

The state board of control for vocational education has approved a plan in which this school will be established temporarily in the Junior high school gymnasium until the school board can construct a permanent building.

Grand Rapids Trucker Is Fined on Log-Book Count

Peter De Boer, 24, route 6, Grand Rapids, pleaded guilty today to a charge of failing to have his log books made out, a violation of a provision of the Michigan public service commission, and paid a fine and costs of $5 to Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

John G. Wagner, an inspector, swore to the complaint and alleged the offence occurred Jan. 21 on M-21. The commission requires truck drivers to have log books which show their mileage, nature of the truck cargo and its destination.

John Hop of Fremont paid a fine and costs of $10 to Judge Smith Wednesday and was released. He was picked up Monday by police after he had failed to return in "one hour" to pay a fine and costs of $10, assessed about a year ago on an intoxication charge.

The following motorists have paid fines and costs to the court for traffic violations: Julius Holt, 18, 138 Fairbanks Ave., speeding, $5; Charles Kraker, 20, route 5, Holland, failing to yield right of way to pedestrian, $5.

Promote Local Man to Grand Rapids Position

He has been serving the association in Holland for the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Burton will move to Grand Rapids to establish residence. Mr. Burton replaces Frank A. Walton, Jr., who has been promoted to the district managership for eastern Iowa with headquarters at Waterloo, Ia.

Holland Victory Book Campaign Will Start Soon

Seek Three Thousand Volumes to Be Sent to U.S. Military Forces

Sponsored by the American Library association, the American Red Cross and the U. S. O., the Victory Book campaign headquarters launched its national drive on Jan. 12. Local committees throughout the country were given permission to hold their drives any week from Jan. 12 to March 1, and the Holland committee has chosen Feb. 5-12 as its week. Any books coming in before that time will be accepted, but the "big push" will be concentrated on those dates, it was said here.

The national quota of 10,000,000 books seems high, but librarians are confident that the American public will contribute well over that number. Miss Dora Schermer, local chairman, feels certain that the local quota of 3,000 books will be met by a generous response.

Presidents of clubs are asked to urge members to take books to the meeting which falls nearest the campaign date. Schools are being contacted, and each child will be given opportunity to participate in the project. Miss Hazel De Meyer, Holland high school librarian, is chairman of a school committee to conduct the campaign with the student body. Miss Margaret Gibbs, Hope college librarian, is chairman of the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A. and Christian Endeavor groups which are enthusiastically cooperating in preparations for the coming drive.

In choosing books for this drive, parents are urged to remember that they will be read by young men of varied interests from the ages of 20 to 35. Two types of books are wanted. First, recent textbooks or technical books—texts of shorthand, history, languages, mathematics, business training, radio and current affairs. Second, books of fiction—adventure, aviation, humor, mystery, westerns.

Armed forces are increasing in number so rapidly that reading material is badly needed, the committee states. The government provides libraries and trained librarians at army camps of more than 5,000 men, but smaller units have no regular library facilities.

Local citizens are urged not to "clear the attic," but to send books they enjoy or want themselves, during the Victory Book campaign.

May Still Register for Civilian Defense Work

Registrations for civilian defense activities continue to be accepted at headquarters in the city hall with 4,500 persons already having signed for service. With only one more week remaining in which to register, many are expected to take advantage of all-day office hours on Saturday to register for volunteer service. The headquarters will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. All schools and college groups have been registered, it was stated. Registration will not be continued after Jan. 31.

Although classification is not yet complete, a total of 27 classes in first aid already are under way under direction of the local Red Cross. Others signing for special training groups will be notified as soon as classes are formed, it was indicated by local chairman.

All Vehicles Require Federal Tax Stickers

In response to numerous inquiries, Assistant Postmaster John Greengrove pointed out today that federal automobile use tax stickers are required for all trucks and motorcycles as well as for passenger cars.

Purchasers of stickers also are required to send a post card to the treasury department as this card represents their registration. Stickers may be purchased at a special window at the local post office, the cost being $2.09 plus one cent for a stamp for the card.

Hope Maintains Lead in 56 to 36 Win Over Albion

Britons Put Up Strong Fight, Though, in MIAA Contest in Armory

A battling five from Albion college gave Hope a terrific fight, but fell before a second half onslaught that gave the Dutch a 56-36 decision in Holland armory Thursday night.

Hope swept into an early lead, and never trailed in the contest, although the lead was always around 10 points until the final minutes. Bob Lynn led all scorers by dropping in 16 points for the Britons. The Dutch scored by dropping in five men, Els Kleinjans led the team with 11, while grouped at 10 pieces were Kenny Vanden Berg, John Visser and Jackie Baas, and George Dalman tallied 8.

Kleinjans started the fireworks with his first Long Tom of the evening, followed by three more, while Dalman added two goals and Van Wieren contributed one to give the Dutch an early 14-7 lead. The Britons employed a revolving type of offense that proved confusing to the Dutch. Lynn paced the Briton attack with 4 buckets and a free throw. However, the Dutch maintained its lead and late in the first half, 3 buckets by Baas and one by Visser gave the Orange and Blue a 26-18 lead at the intermission.

Paced by VandenBerg with 3 buckets, Hope swept into a 38-23 lead early in the second stanza. But the Britons, led by Lynn, kept pecking at the score and with five minutes of play remaining tallied 42-32. Two buckets by Dalman and a side court shot by Kleinjans sailed the game away and the reserves held the lead and the ball game ended with the Dutch out in front. This was the second conference victory for the Dutch, who travel to Alma next Tuesday to meet the strong Scots.

Her husband also was burned in the fire which originated when gasoline fumes became ignited while Mr. Butterfield was using the liquid to clean grease from his cap and jacket.

Mrs. Butterfield rushed to her husband's aid and was burned when her clothing caught fire.

Program to Conserve Burlap Bags Started

Grand Haven, Jan. 22 (Special)—A nation-wide program is being advanced for conservation of burlap bags on farms. The ordinary length of life of a bag is brief due largely to lack of care given them.

Burlap is imported from India and due to the diversion of most of U. S. shipping to food and munitions of war, importation of this product is cut to a minimum. Two-thirds of the imports are being taken by the government for military purposes, consequently, it will be most necessary for farmers to take better care of the ones they have on hand, according to County Agent L. R. Arnold. Care should be exercised in opening them, using no hooks in moving them and they should be hung up in a dry protected place. All this will repay the farmer by getting more trips to the mill for him.

Workers Return To Tool Works

Federal Labor Board Will Conduct Hearing On Dispute Feb. 3

Pending final settlement of the dispute by the recently created war labor relations boards in Washington, D. C., 150 employees of the Western Machine Tool works returned to work at 7 a.m. today, ending a two-day walkout which occurred at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, "because of the seriousness of the emergency and their patriotism."

In a statement given late Wednesday night to The Sentinel, Carl Cederquist of Grand Rapids, international representative for the machinists' union, AFL, said the dispute has been certified to this board which has set Tuesday, Feb. 3, as the date for a hearing in Washington. Mr. Cederquist's statement follows: "The members of the lodge, No. 1418, machinists' union (AFL) had a meeting tonight (Wednesday night) to discuss developments up to tonight. Through the efforts of the United States conciliation service and the state mediation board, the dispute was certified to the war labor relation board. The case now is in the hands of the war labor relations board, which was recently created, for final settlement.

"Our local president, Bernie Vander Vusse, received confirmation of certification by the board after the meeting had started. The membership voted unanimously to return to work Thursday at 7 a.m., pending a final satisfactory settlement by the board.

"The board set Feb. 3 for a hearing to be held in Washington, D. C., and the bargaining committee and the international representative, Mr. Cederquist, will attend the hearing.

"The union desires to thank John Bremer who kept his place of business open all night in order that the workers could obtain hot coffee, sandwiches and soup and it also wishes to commend the women, wives, mothers and sisters of the striking members for their cooperation in serving coffee and doughnuts on every picket line shift.

"The union served notice on Nov. 28, 1941, with the labor mediation board at Lansing of its intention to strike but the state law requires a 30-day period. The union exceeded this period and its members were patient to the last degree to use every avenue of mediation before the action was called and felt they were justified in taking the action they did.

"Realizing the seriousness of the emergency and their patriotism, they agreed to return to work immediately."

Mr. Cederquist said he informed Manager G. J. Bosch of the union's action Wednesday night and received his thanks for advising him, telling Mr. Cederquist that "everything will be ready for the men to return to work."

Mr. Cederquist revealed that Robert Pilkington of the United States conciliation service and Noel P. Fox of Muskegon, a member of the state mediation board, were in Holland Wednesday in connection with the dispute.

Contacted today, Mr. Bosch said he had nothing else to add to Mr. Cederquist's statement, except that the men had reported for work this morning.

Dr. Pieters Lists Reasons for War With Nipponese

Religious and Political History Reviewed by Veteran Missionary

A summation of the war with Japan was given by Dr. Albertus Pieters in an address delivered at the meeting of the Western Social conference Monday in the Reformed church at Vriesland.

Beginning with the obvious statement, "We are at war with Japan because the Japanese people are what they are and because the situation in the Far East is what it is," Dr. Pieters analyzed the entire question: "What is the Cause and Significance of Our War with Japan?"

He said the Japanese people are what they are because of their religious and political history. The real national religion of Japan is Shinto which is nature worship—worship of the creature rather than the Creator. The fox and the snake were mentioned as special objects of worship along with hundreds of other creatures and objects of nature. In common with most other heathen religions, the sun is the supreme object of worship. On the human side there is the worship of ancestors, spirits of the dead and hero worship culminating in the worship of the emperor as a descendant of the sun-goddess.

All this leads to a unique view of the special character and mission of the Japanese people. They are firmly convinced that there is no such ruler as theirs in all the world and that as subjects they are destined to take the leading place among the nations of the world, he said.

Dr. Pieters explained that there is much in the history of Japan which helps to convince the Japanese that they are the ones to rule the world. There has been one continuous imperial dynasty from the very beginning of Japanese history. They read about the rise and fall of different lines of rulers in Europe and think with pride of the fact that in Japan the emperor is descended in a direct line from the gods. It is also true, however, that little real political power has ever been extended to the imperial rulers. This has always been invested in various militaristic groups which have gained control from time to time.

Another source of pride pointed out by Dr. Pieters was the fact that Japan has never been successfully invaded. The year 720 A. D. marks the date of the first written records of its history and since that time the only attempt to invade the country was made by the Chinese ruler, Kubla Kahn, in 1270 and this was repulsed. In China the scholar and professional man is regarded with highest honor, but Japan more than any other nation has honored the career of the soldier. This is illustrated by the proverb, "As among flowers the cherry blossom is supreme, so among men, the soldier (or warrior) is supreme."

In about the middle of the 17th century, Roman Catholic missionary work was begun in Japan and not long after a group of leading men made a tour among the western nations of Europe and America. Their report was so unfavorable that absolute exclusion laws were enacted forbidding any foreigner to come into Japan and prohibiting Japanese from emigrating to the nations of Europe and America.

These laws were rigidly enforced from 1650 to 1850 and thus was prevented a settlement and colonization by the Japanese of the Pacific coast of North America which might well have changed the entire history of the United States and led to a clash of two civilizations on the banks of the Mississippi river.

Dr. Pieters called attention to the fact that Dr. Van Raalte's settlement in the wilderness of Michigan took place at about the same time that Commodore Perry sailed into the harbor of Japan and more or less forcibly opened that country to begin to trade with our country and other western nations.

Further characteristics pointed out were the entire absence of any love for liberty, no sense of the rights of man and utter disregard for the sanctity of human life.

With regard to the situation in the Far East, Dr. Pieters said that when he first arrived in Japan as a missionary in 1891 there was no problem in that respect. It began with the war between Japan and China in 1894-1895 for the control of Korea. In this the Chinese navy, which at that time was quite sizeable, was completely smashed by the Japanese and although money was later appropriated for the rebuilding of a navy, so corrupt were the Chinese officials that the entire sum was misappropriated. This form of graft is still one of the great obstacles with which Chiang Kai Shek has to cope in getting supplies over the Burma road. The temptation to control China is one of tremendous proportions and is unequalled in the history of nations.

It was also pointed out that the interference of Russia and Germany as well as France in the outcome of the China war in 1895 made the Japanese very angry. In the war with Russia in 1904 Japan gained control of Manchuria and strengthened her hold upon Korea. The treaty of Portsmouth negotiated by President Theodore Roosevelt afforded no satisfaction to the Japanese authorities and soon afterward the Pacific fleet was dispatched to Japan to impress them with the power of this country to enforce its demands. An abortive attempt was made by Secretary Philander C. Knox to put the Manchurian railway under international control without consultation with the Japanese. Even though it was not successful, the attempt did much to increase the rancor and suspicion that was already beginning to foment.

In World war II, Japan at last saw the opportunity for which she had so long been waiting. The hold of Russia, England, Germany, The Netherlands and France in the Far East had been considerably weakened and the only powerful nation which could stand in Japan's way was the United States which has already placed Japan on the list of enemy countries and finally placed the embargo on scrap iron and oil. Hence the long awaited attack on Pearl harbor and the Philippines whose possession by the United States has always been a source of envy to this ambitious nation of the Pacific.

In closing, Dr. Pieters pointed out the three choices of the Nipponese: First, A do-nothing policy which would have been utterly ruinous to Japan; second, make peace with the United States on our terms which would mean to get out of China and Indo-China and live at the mercy of the Anglo-Saxon races; or, third, fight it out and go down fighting, as Churchill said of the English, "We would rather die on our feet than live on our knees." The call of history then comes to the United States to combat this peril which, has risen and not to underestimate the spirit and strength of our foes, Dr. Pieters said.

In response to questions raised during the discussion which followed, it was pointed out that this is a righteous war and that the consequences of victory or defeat are far-reaching in their effects upon the Christian church. The Christians in Japan are in deep distress but are powerless to do anything about the situation. Both Dr. Pieters and the Rev. B. Luben, western district secretary of the board of foreign missions and former missionary to Japan, were positive that the Christian church in Japan would continue, no matter how the war turned out.

The Rev. E. E. Heeren conducted the devotions and the Rev. A. G. Van Zante presided at the business sessions of the conference. A. Smoes, J. Hagelskamp and Gerrit Huyser were introduced as new members.

Dr. John R. Mulder read an interesting paper on the subject, "A New Heaven and a New Earth."

Holland Is Hard Pressed to Sink Heights, 26 to 21

But Mark Up Fourth Conference Victory Despite Many Misses

A band of Tigers from Muskegon Heights battled the powerful Holland Dutchmen down to the final wire before falling, 26-21, in the local armory before a roaring crowd of high school fans Friday night. The game was thrill packed and close all the way. The Dutch missed numerous shots but had the height on the Tigers.

The game marked the fourth conference victory for Holland, on top in the standings, and dropped the Heights out of second place.

A push-shot by Kenny Rotman started the fireworks for the Dutch, and little Wally Bradley scored on an out-of-bounds play to sweep the Dutch into a 4-point lead. The Heights began to shoot from far out and Swiatek and Brothers tallied to knot the count, then Hilliard scored on a dog shot to give the Tigers the lead. Ploegsma knotted the count at 6-all with an underbasket shot. The Heights came roaring back to take the biggest lead of the evening. Mike Regazzi swished a Long Tom, then Hilliard followed with a dog shot and a corner shot to increase the Tiger lead to 12-6 at the quarter.

In the second stanza, Holland threw up a brilliant defense in holding the Tigers to one point, a charity toss by Regazzi. In the meantime, the Dutch went to work whittling the Tiger lead. Ploegsma scored on a dog shot, George Zuverink tipped in a bucket, and Rotman hooked in a side court shot. Three charity tosses gave the Dutch a 15-13 lead at the intermission.

As at the start of the game, the Hollanders opened fast in the second half by scoring two quick buckets by Rotman and Bradley to build up a 19-13 lead. During the remainder of the period, the Dutch shot and shot in vain and failed to find the hoop, while the Tigers pecked away and rolled in four points to creep up to 19-17 as the game entered the final stanza. The Tigers' scoring was done on a long shot by Bill Thornberry and two free throws by Regazzi and Brothers.

In the wild final stanza, the Dutch sailed the game away on three buckets—a push shot by Pete Groeters, a dog shot by Rotman and another set shot by the same Rotman, who figured in much of the scoring. A dog by Regazzi and a long toss by Kohlbeck failed to catch the flying Dutch and the victory was assured.

The Dutch were badly off form in shooting. The local five had at least eight shots to the Tigers one, but failed to connect consistently. For the Dutch, it was Rotman who led the scorers with 10 points, while Ploegsma had 6. The Tigers were paced by Regazzi and Hilliard with 6 apiece. What hurt the Tiger cause was the loss of Swiatek, star forward, in the second stanza via the personal foul rule.

Salvation Army Heads of City to Be Transferred

Envoys Genevieve Shafer

Major Clare Edwards

After six years' service with the Salvation army in Holland and western Michigan, Major Clare Edwards and Envoys Genevieve Shafer are to end their stay here and accept appointments elsewhere. Before taking another appointment, Major Edwards and Envoys Shafer are going on a furlough.

They have not been advised as to their new appointments, nor have they learned who will be their successors.

A public farewell meeting for them will be held Sunday night, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Salvation Army chapel.

On Jan. 2, 1936, Major Edwards and Envoys Shafer arrived in Michigan in a raging snowstorm, having traveled approximately 800 miles by car from the Dakotas. En route to Holland, the trip was made through ice and snow and the worst of the blizzard was encountered 50 miles from Rockford, Ill., where the view was obscured and the driver had to follow telegraph poles as guides.

As their first work, the officers for one month held special meetings at various corps in Western Michigan, prior to the opening of the Holland corps Feb. 16, 1936.

In the intervening years, the Salvation army has purchased the citadel on Central Ave. between Seventh and Eighth Sts. First pastor of the citadel, then operated as the City Rescue mission, was Nellie Churchford, a former soldier of the Salvation army of the Grand Rapids corps and a member of the Salvation Army Brass band. A substantial work has been built up in Holland, a thriving corps is functioning and a parsonage has been obtained under the administration of the present officers.

Among the outstanding work accomplished during the past six years has been the reclamation of those looked upon as hopeless cases in the community, especially those addicted to drink. Not only have these "trophy cases" been respected citizens but also all have good positions, some of them working up to factory foremen.

The Salvation army is one of the leading agencies in the Community chest and has worked hand in hand with the Council of Social Agencies to make the community a better place in which to live.

Present Varied Program At Annual Rabbit Supper

About 185 members and their guests were present at the annual rabbit supper held in the Virginia Park Community hall under the joint auspices of the Men's club and the Women's club Wednesday night. Lester Cook led in the singing of "God Bless America" with Clifford Onthank at the piano after which the invocation was given by the Rev. F. J. Van Dyk.

After the dinner the two musicians led in the community singing which was followed by the introductory remarks of the president of the Men's club, Rex Chapman. He also introduced the officers, Vice President, Dick Miles, Secretary Dee Bolhuis, Treasurer Al Brinkman and Corresponding Secretary Lester Cook of the Men's club and President Mrs. Ralph Van Lente, Vice President Mrs. John Hartorn, Secretary Mrs. Van O'Connor, treasurer Mrs. Russell Teusink and Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Gerrit Nevenzel.

Instrumental music was furnished by an orchestra composed of Bob Wajohn, Harvey Combs, Bob Hall, Vern Rudolph, Bill Lowry, George Combs and Marie Lemmen. Clayton Congleton delighted the crowd with some excellent work as an amateur magician, especially when he called Lester Cook, Gerrit Nevenzel and Dick Miles to the stage as his assistants.

After more music by the orchestra and further reports of the year's activity by the president, the Rev. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope church, was introduced as the speaker of the evening. He gave a unique and interesting talk which was correctly entitled, "Sense and Nonsense" in which several jokes were sprung on the audience but which left them all in such good humor that when the bowls were passed for donations to the Red Cross special drive a liberal response was made. Rev. F. J. Van Dyk was called on to make a plea for this cause and when sum donated was totaled by Mrs. George Heeneveld, Red Cross solicitor for this community, it amounted to $37.

Local Group Will Go to Sugar Beet Meeting at MSC

Profit Sharing Plan Is Urged at Hearing on Wages, Agreements

C. F. Diekmann, assistant field manager for the Lake Shore Sugar Co., Marquette, is expected to attend the Sugar Beet Day program at Michigan State college, East Lansing, Tuesday, Feb. 3.

The event will be held in conjunction with the annual farmers' week program at the college the week of Feb. 2-6. R. W. Bell, extension specialist in farm crops at Michigan State college, will be chairman for the sugar beet program which will be of vital interest to Michigan's 160,000 sugar beet farmers.

The Lake Shore Sugar Co. was represented last Tuesday in Detroit before a five-man federal board of inquiry which conducted a public hearing on labor wages and marketing agreements. Upon conclusion of the hearing, it was announced that interested parties had until Feb. 10 to file written testimony and arguments with Secretary of Agriculture Wickard in Washington.

Michigan sugar beet growers' spokesmen proposed a new profit-sharing marketing agreement while at the same time offering a bonus payment plan to keep labor down on the farm until the crop is harvested in the fall.

After operating for 10 years under the so-called 50-50 contract for dividing the beet sugar dollar equally between growers and processors, producers contended that they were entitled to a larger share of the sugar dollar when the sweetest wholesales above four cents a pound. They maintained this agreement was inaugurated when the beet sugar industry was in financial distress.

When sugar sells above four cents a pound, the growers proposed the following schedule: At 4.2 cents a pound, 51 per cent to the grower; 4.8 cents, 54 per cent; five cents, 55 per cent; 5.6 cents, 58 per cent; six cents a pound and up, 60 per cent.

The beet farmer spokesmen also proposed a 15 per cent bonus payment to beet workers in 1942 upon completion of their work in the fall.

Dozens of growers told federal officials that ordinarily about 10 per cent of the contract workers fail to complete their jobs, but last fall about 25 per cent of the labor went south to pick cotton at beet-topping time. The bonus plan was proposed to hold the workers. Contract breakers would forfeit claim to the bonus under the growers' proposal.

As part of the 15 per cent bonus the growers proposed a flat rate of $1 a ton for topping beets in fields yielding seven tons or more per acre. The old wage scale ranged from 80 cents a ton for yields of 16 or more tons per acre to 96 cents a ton for 8-ton yields. Present rates for yields under 7 tons would continue.

Beet workers said the rate of blocking, thinning and hoeing should be raised from $11 an acre to $13 or $13.50. Some growers favored continuation of the $11 rate for spring labor with the raise taking place in the harvesting operation.

Many Attracted to Alumni Meeting

Between 350 and 400 persons attended the annual alumni meeting in Christian high school Thursday evening sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. Clarence Greengood, president of the organization, presided and Cornie Karsten of Zeeland led community singing.

Two new officers were elected, P. H. Karsten of Zeeland as vice president succeeding the Rev. P. De Boer, and Mrs. Harry Kalmink as secretary succeeding Mrs. Peter Kaashoek. Selections were sung by a girls' trio of 1940 consisting of Arlene Deur, Emily Vander Vlies and Jean Vos, accompanied by Hazel Anne Oelen. Reports were given by Mrs. Kaashoek, the retiring secretary, and by Robert Evenhuis, treasurer.

Prof. Clarence De Graaf of Hope college gave an address on "The School of Tomorrow." Supt. John A. Swets who spoke briefly urged the parents to cooperate with the children in the saving of waste paper and to participate in the defense stamps sale once a week. He also mentioned that Miss Ella Monson, third grade teacher, will be released at the end of the first semester as there is serious illness in her home in Paterson, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bengelink also were present and were introduced. Mr. Bengelink will start teaching biology in the school next semester. Refreshments were served and the building was open for inspection. Raymond Holwerda closed with prayer.

Corp. Nevenzel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Nevenzel of route 1, received an official communication from Washington earlier this week stating that their son is probably a prisoner of war as his name does not appear on any casualty list. Corp. Nevenzel enlisted Nov. 1, 1939, and went directly to San Diego, Cal. Last Feb. 15 he was sent to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and left there Oct. 18 for Wake island, arriving there Oct. 30.

The officers are John Muller, president; Harriet Maatman, vice president; and Howard Maatman, secretary and treasurer. Meetings will be held each Thursday at 5 p.m. and the purpose of the organization is prayer, evangelism and Christian fellowship. Numerous activities are being planned.

Pirate Ship Is Setting For Sibylline Party

Members of the Hope college Sibylline society and their guests tripped up the gangplank to spend some time aboard the pirate ship "Black Hawk" Friday evening as the sorority held its annual winter party in the main dining room of the Warm Friend tavern.

Swords and scabbards in the center of the dining tables, together with lighted tapers and a sea chest about the room, created the effect of a scene in a pirate galleon. The stage was transformed into a ship's deck complete with rail for the program. In the background from the mast bravely flew the black skull and crossbones on the pirate flag.

Place cards were in the form of silver swords, and guests received sword-shaped tie clasps with nail file concealed in the hilt as favors. Chaparones for the gala affair were Prof. and Mrs. Clarence Kleis and Mr. and Mrs. John Schouten.

Black and white programs decorated with a silhouetted pirate ship and a scowling buccaner announced the numbers included in the evening's operetta. Preceding the program, President Lorraine Timmer issued "Matey's Orders," a welcome to all guests. Opening the show was "The Pirates' Song" sung by members of the costumed pirate chorus.

Swashbuckling seamen in the chorus included Betty Davis, Florence Dykema, Janet Clark, Frances Hillebrands, Myra Kleis, Shirley Lemmen, Jean Swart, Janet Arnold, Lileeth Brouwer, Donna Eby, Doris Van Hoven, Mabel Vander Linden, Morrell Webber, Billie Wieland and Mildred Vander Linden. "We are Three Pirates Gay" was presented by Janet Clark, Betty Davis, and Doris Van Hoven.

Rousing musical numbers were alternated with bits of appropriate dialogue throughout the program. Janet Arnold as a Dutch pirate presented "Blow Me Down." "Just a Little Cuckoo" and "With Mop and Pail," novelty numbers, were presented by "Limpy and Slim," the Vander Linden twins. "Song of the Sea" was given by Captain Lileeth Brouwer. Junella Vander Linden was accompanist for the concluding number "Come Sing My Song With Me," presented by a group of costumed brigands.

Chairman for the party was Mary Felter. She was assisted by a committee composed of Janet Arnold, Norma Beeksfors, Nancy Boynton, Edith Klaaren and Junella Vander Linden. The Sibylline song was sung at the close of the program.

World's Day of Prayer To Be Observed Here

Thirty-five women representing 17 churches in Holland met in Hope church on Friday to make plans for the annual World Day of Prayer for Missions. Mrs. George E. Kollen presided and devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Marion de Velder. An invitation to hold the World Day of Prayer meeting in First Methodist church was accepted. When tentative plans were completed, an hour of fellowship was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by members of the Hope church Women's Missionary Society under the direction of Mrs. O. Vander Velde.

This Day of Prayer will be observed by Christian women throughout the world on Feb. 20, the first Friday in Lent. Services begin on the Fiji Islands and New Zealand and end 40 hours later on the St. Lawrence Islands off the coast of Alaska, thirty miles from the International date line and 30 miles from the Arctic circle. The program for the day, based on the theme "I am the Way," was prepared by three women now living in the United States. Dr. Emily Werner, chairman of the group, was formerly a teacher in Gilling college in China. She was assisted by a French woman who has had no word from her family in France for more than a year, and by the wife of a German pastor who came to the United States when released from concentration camps abroad and whose younger son, a student for the ministry, is still confined in a concentration camp. Out of a rich background of faith in the face of discouragements they have prepared the 1942 program.

Dental Status in County Brighter

Zeeland, Jan. 22 — A joint luncheon meeting of the Ottawa county dental health committee, the county nutrition committee and the Ottawa county dentist was held in Zeeland city hall Wednesday night, Jan. 14.

Dr. William R. Davis, head of the department of dental hygiene, Michigan department of health, was the principal speaker. He stressed the importance of three points in dental hygiene: The importance of early and continuous dental care, nutrition and cleanliness.

Dr. Davis briefly reviewed the history of the dental division of the department of health in the county. In 1928 he made a survey of the dental condition in Ottawa county and found little effort given to the care of children's teeth, with almost all in need of dental aid. Conditions have improved considerably since that time, he stated. Only four out of five children out of every 30 children examined need dental care now, it was said.

Other speakers were Dr. Carl Frost and Dr. Virginia Winterhoff of the Children's fund of Michigan, Mrs. Frances Cermak, chairman of the county nutrition committee, D. H. Vande Bunte, president of the Ottawa county dental health committee, and Stephen Head, principal of the Grand Haven public schools, and secretary of the Ottawa county dental health committee.

"FLOWING IN" a new cable line. These huge machines bury several miles of telephone cable a day.

Cables for America's Battle

★ IN THE past year, while the nation was preparing for the present struggle, Michigan Bell spent $28,000,000 largely to meet the need for increased telephone service.

★ Part of that total went into new buildings, additions and new central office equipment. But a large and important share was buried in the ground—in the form of telephone cable. 448,000 miles of new telephone wire were used in the cables placed by Michigan Bell in 1941—enough wire to go more than 18 times around the earth!

Hundreds of miles of new cable bring telephone service to military bases and munitions plants. Other hundreds supply the swiftly growing districts of defense workers' homes. As long as the necessary materials can be obtained, your Telephone Company will do its level best to provide good telephone service for all who need it.

CAN THE HORSE
COME BACK?

A Kansas City reporter did a piece the other day on the possibility of the horse coming back.
In view of the fact that the vast automobile industry has been turning away from its job of turning out motor cars and will put in practically full time making tanks and planes instead, this reporter thought that some serious attention ought to be given to the horse.

The time seems to be coming,
he speculated, when those who cannot or do not wish to walk will have to use old-fashioned —old-fashioned hitched to a buckboard or a surrey or a top-buggy. The young fellow wishing to show his best girl a good time will have to hitch up the old plug, wind the reins around the whip and his arms around the girl, and thus sally forth into the moonlight.

But alas, sober reality always takes the joy out of life. To many the prospect of at least a temporary return to the horse-and-buggy days would not be too unpleasant.
But until there has been time enough to make over nearly the whole of our civilization, such a return to old-fashioned and the top buggy is out of the question. At least the Kansas City reporter so concluded after he had inquired into the matter somewhat.

In the first place, there aren't enough old buggies to accommodate even a fraction of the boys of today who would need them to take their girls out for a ride.
And it takes quite a while—a matter of years—to breed and bring to maturity any kind of a horse. So that practical difficulty would be likely to mar the beautiful picture that those citizens are conjuring up who look forward to the horse's comeback.

But even if there were enough horses, there are practically no saddles, no top-buggies, no surreys. For winter use there are no cutters, no bob-sleighs. What is worse, the art of making any or all of these commonplace articles of the horse-and-buggy days has been lost. The tools have been lost that were used to make them; the factories in which they were turned out are now occupied by filling stations.

There is also the little matter of expense. True, a horse does not cost as much as a motor car; it isn't the initial cost, it's the upkeep that counts. This reporter found that alfalfa hay costs $21
a ton; at that rate the average horse would soon eat his owner into the poorhouse.

No, old-fashioned is hardly likely to stage a comeback. Poets may dream of such a thing; hard facts are against it.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Maintaining Spiritual Values
Governor Langley of Washington has said, "A renewed recognition of the spiritual values will make our public officials true leaders of democracy and our people united and invincible. The woes and travail of this world today will give way to peace and happiness when truth, justice and godliness become paramount in the mind and soul of man."

Spiritual values are presented and conserved by the church whose service of worship is designed to create and maintain spiritual values. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

The Temptation of Jesus
Matthew 4:1-11

By Henry Geerlings

The wilderness experience of Jesus is one of those great events in the life of the Master that we will never fully understand. It is always difficult to see into the soul of any of us and tell all that goes on there. However, there are some facts that seem to yield themselves to our understanding and that do so because they are facts of our experience. We, too, are tempted and tested to the utmost. We are living in a world of testing. There are always ways, luring and beautiful ways, opening up to us, but always into which we must not go. There are always things that we are moved to do, but which we must not do even for the good of some cause.
So in much of the temptation of Jesus in the wilderness, we see a common ground upon which he and we stand.

It was a real happening, but just exactly how it happened we do not know. And it is not essential that we should know the total how of it. It was a real experience. It took place in His soul.
It was a profound and terrible spiritual struggle. He had come into a sense of power. He knew He had it and He knew that He could use it, but at once it became a question of how He was going to use it. There can be no greater and more arresting question for any man than just the one—how am I going to use the power that I may have? A man has got to decide how he is going to use any extraordinary brain power with which he may be endowed. Is he going to use it as a blessing or a curse to society? Is he going to use it for selfish ends or is he going to use it for the glory of God and for the good of his fellows?

Certainly there come times in such a man's life when ways that seem harmless open up in which he may use his power, but so to use it would be a perversion of power. Herein comes a great struggle, if the man is honest and conscientious, a battle to save his own soul and to do the right thing, the thing that will fit into God's plan and purpose. A man sometimes has to fight against the plausibility of a thing. That is just what Jesus had to do. He was hungry and needed bread desperately. He had the power to turn the stones into bread and what was wrong about doing that? He would have broken no law. He would have robbed nobody of his property. He would have deprived nobody of his immediate rights.

Why not turn the stones and so help Himself out of trouble. Well, we say at once that Jesus had no right to use His extraordinary power to get food for Himself when we cannot do that. He was fighting our battle. He was being tested for our sakes. He was on our level and must act under the same limitations as we do. If He were to show us how, He must extricate Himself from the difficulty as we must do. So he becomes indeed our human example.
He is one with us and we are one with Him. And, furthermore, He was demonstrating to the world that there are other problems for men than the bread problem.
Sometimes men must forego bread for the higher good and Jesus showed that in His victory.

Jesus also showed that there is always an easy way and a hard way, and that sometimes we must take the hard way. Indeed, we must always take the hard way
where the higher good is involved.
He could have jumped from the pinnacle of the temple with perfect safety and He would have created a great sensation, but what of it? It would have lasted as long as any sensation lasted.
People that are won that way do not last. You cannot play people's sense of wonder over against the devotions of their hearts.
Wonder becomes common or the thing that causes it does. But love never faileth. It persists and furnishes great loyalties. So Jesus took the hard way rather than the easy way of permanence and victory. It is not difficult to see that there would have been no blessed memory of Jesus, no commanding power, no great love for him, no kingdom, had He taken the easy way. He would have been another one who tried and failed and the world would have been looking for another redeemer who could bring to man something effective and lasting.

Let us also note that Jesus could have yielded. He could have said, "I am not able to do this. There is a vast difference between being able not to and not being able to. If it were the latter respecting Jesus He would interest some of us. How could He have been our exemplar if He could not yield, if temptation did not cause Him a real soul struggle, if He did not have the power of saying yes or no? We demand that Jesus was as real as the temptation was real. We have no place in our religion for a cast iron saint. The fact remains that Jesus was tempted in all points as we are.

HOLLAND

Shall the city of Holland be which the people of this city will hall, according to the Thursday, April 25, issue of the Holland are putting him in the pole position in the race now and he is likely to be heard of a great deal between now and August 27.—G.

Holland's churches are keeping place with the growth of the city. Trinity Reformed and the Fourth Reformed are building
new churches, the Central Avenue and Ninth Street Christian Reformed churches are planning large additions, the Wesleyan Methodists are branching out to larger quarters, the Catholics are cramped for room and the Third Reformed church is handicapped for Sunday school purposes. The fourteenth street Christian Reformed church has also become inadequate to accommodate the increasing attendance at the Sunday services. With the exception of Hope church all the churches are supplied with regular pastors.

The Rev. F. O. Grannis, rector of Grace church, is the owner of a book that was printed in 1480, 30 years after the art of printing was invented. This item appeared in the Friday, April 26, issue. This book is perhaps the oldest printed volume in this state and one of the oldest in the United States. The subject matter of the book is the story of the Bible from the time of Adam and Biblical history up to the year 1474.

a surprise on the Rev. and Mrs.

Critically Burned
In Trailer BlazeWoman at Hudsonville
Tries to Aid Husband
When Gas Explodes

Grand Rapids, Jan. 22 — Mrs.
Dahlia Butterfield, 38, remained in a critical condition in St.
Mary's hospital Monday due to burns she suffered Sunday in her trailer near Hudsonville.

Mrs. Butterfield had second and third-degree burns over her entire body.
Her husband, Glen Butterfield,
42, crane operator for the Marsden and Tabor Construction Co., also was burned about the hands and face. His condition was reported improved by the hospital.

Mrs. Butterfield had gone to the aid of her husband in their trailer home when she was burned. He is employed on the M-21 road extension project.
Fire Chief John De Vree of Hudsonville quoted Butterfield as saying he was cleaning grease from a cap and jacket in the trailer when the fumes ignited.
The flames spread to his clothing and Mrs. Butterfield attempted to help her husband extinguish them.

In doing so, Mrs. Butterfield's clothing caught fire and she ran outside to extinguish the fire in a snowbank. As she ran outside she tripped over a dishpan filled with gasoline which exploded.

The husband, too, went outside and had wrapped his wife in a piece of canvas to extinguish the burning clothing when Hudsonville firemen arrived.

Both were rushed to St. Mary's hospital by Hudsonville Fireman
Don Emlander.
The interior of the trailer was slightly damaged.

Twelve Hundred Are Scheduled to Register in City

Holland Draft Board Still Awaits Data on Conscription Details

Local selective service officials estimate that approximately 1,200 men between 20 and 44 years old will be registered in Holland when the third registration, scheduled for Monday, Feb. 16, is held.

As yet no instructions have been received by the local board as to how the registration will be conducted but Col. E. M. Rosenkrans, state selective service director, announced in Lansing today that more than 20,000 volunteer workers will be needed in Michigan to conduct the registration.

State officials have advised local officials that they can expect the registration to total 60 per cent of the present registrant which totals 2,130 for the local board.

Persons wishing to volunteer their assistance on registration day should get in touch with their nearest local board, Col. Rosenkrans requested. With Michigan's registration concentrated in one day, it is expected that approximately 435,000 men will visit registration places in public schools and other government buildings. Special registration places are now being established by local boards in all major industrial establishments and colleges and universities.

Col. Rosenkrans issued printed copies of the president's registration proclamation and ordered local boards throughout the state to arrange for posting of the proclamation in board offices and all public buildings. The proclamation orders the registration of all male persons born on or after Feb. 17, 1897, and on or before Dec. 31, 1921. The registration will take place in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii and in Puerto Rico, as well as throughout the United States. Registration is required of every male citizen and every male person residing in these areas. A person outside the boundaries of the United States on registration day shall present himself for registration as soon as possible after his return to this country.

Col. Rosenkrans emphasized that all persons now registered under the selective service act will not be required to register again Feb. 16. All persons subject to registration should plan to register in their local board area if at all possible, he declared. Any person who must be away from home on registration day, however, may be registered at any local board registration place where he may go. Every effort will be made, Col. Rosenkrans indicated, to avoid disruption of war production industries. Local boards have been authorized to establish special registration places in such industries wherever it may be necessary.

Garbage Project Postponed at G.H.

Grand Haven, Jan. 22 (Special)—Municipal garbage and ash collection will not be instituted in Grand Haven for the duration of the war emergency, at least, as the city council voted to reject all bids on the collection Monday night, due to the lowest bid, $10,447, being $2,000 more than the amount budgeted for the project.

Mayor James Van Wessem, in a prepared statement said the project was not definitely dead but that as he believed the higher cost was due to war conditions and uncertainty as to the future, the project would not be revived until the emergency is over. He said a study of the question, based on a survey of 138 cities, had convinced him that garbage and ash collection could be carried on here for $8,500 a year.

Central Park Man Had Hunt Date With Gables

A resident of Central park will not be able to keep a tentative engagement which he made last fall with Clark Gable and Carole Lombard to meet them again in October for duck shooting and pheasant hunting in South Dakota.

Van O'Connor of Central park and Chicago, and his friend, Homer Derry of Chicago, last October went to Tulare, S. D., where the ducks and pheasants are so abundant that cars are driven through the fields to flush the birds.

While hunting with a group of other sportsmen they learned that Clark Gable and Carole Lombard were among those present. At the close of the day's hunt the entire group enjoyed the evening together in a hunting lodge and agreed to meet again the next year.

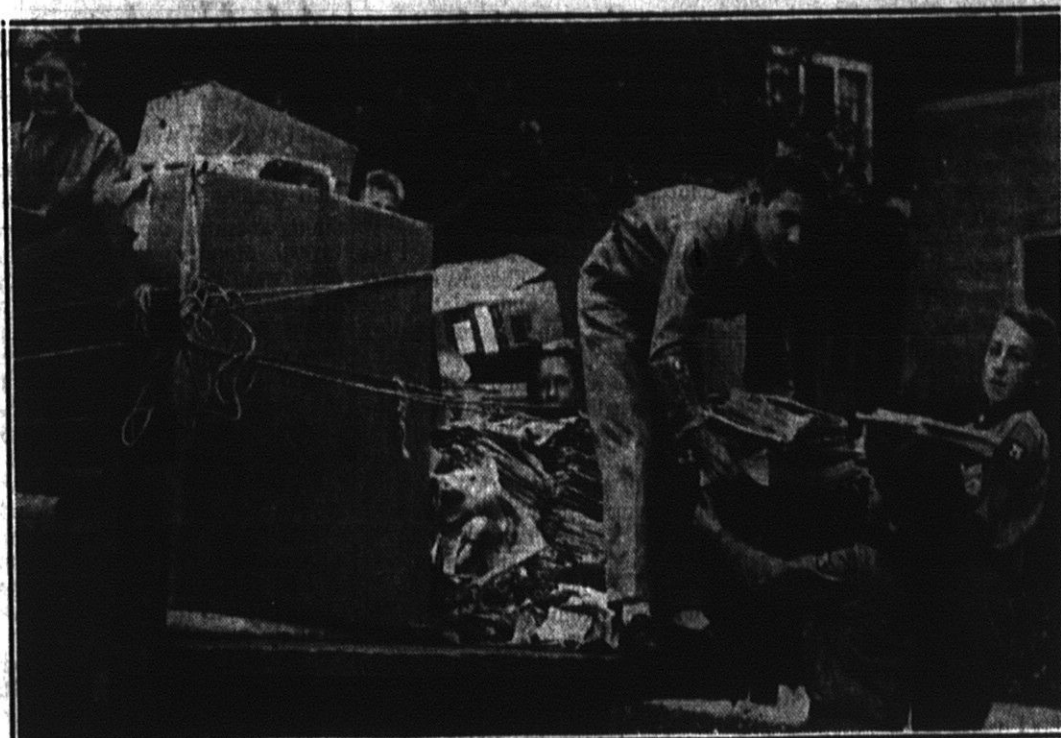

News of Miss Lombard's death in an airplane crash near Las Vegas, Nev., Friday night came as a shock to O'Connor.

Scouts Collect More Than 30,000 Pounds of Waste Paper

Since inauguration of the waste paper collection campaign in co-operation with the office of civilian defense, Boy Scouts of Holland have collected more than 30,000 pounds of paper.

Although the scouts mainly seek to be of service in the defense program, the money which they will incidentally make through the sale of waste paper materials will go into the troop treasuries and aid them in purchase of troop equipment, including that for first aid and emergency service corps use. Some will be used to aid scouts attend summer camp.

The top picture shows scouts of troop No. 26, sponsored by the local American Legion post, gathering scrap paper. Those in the picture are (left to right) Junior Exo, Stanley McClure, Donald Russell, Gordon Burt and Edgar Mosher. The boy whose head barely shows above the top of the carton is unidentified.

In the lower picture, scouts of troop No. 6 of First Reformed church are seen purchasing a defense bond with part of the proceeds they obtained from sale of scrap paper. Scoutmaster Elmore Van Lente and Assistant Ray Mool are shown displaying the bond to members of their troop.

Troop 6 has collected the largest amount of paper in the district to date. Other troops throughout the country also have used portions of their funds for this purpose.

Each scout unit has been allotted a section of the city and the scouts are now covering each section, armed with a folder telling of the need for paper and the uses to which it will be put in the defense program. Householders and businessmen will be asked to sign a pledge indicating whom he would like to have collect his paper.

Thus, if anyone prefers that some other organization than the scouts make the collection these pledges will be turned over to that organization. The main thing is to see that every scrap of waste paper is collected, and returned to useful channels.

Telegrams received by the scout organization from Leon Henderson and Mayor LaGuardia have praised the scouts for the immense quantities of paper which they already have collected and urged them to redouble their efforts.

William S. Knudsen, director of the OPM, also has requested scouts and others to expand their work to cover collection of scrap metals, old rubber, rags, copper wire and other materials of brass, lead, copper, and zinc as these items are needed for the defense effort.

Waste paper includes newspapers, magazines, wrapping paper, cardboard boxes, etc. There is no use at present for items such as tin cans, bottles, glass jars, bottle tops or used razor blades.

Troop 22 is collecting paper in Beechwood and on the North Side. Troop No. 26, is canvassing the first ward, troop No. 6 the second ward, troop 10 and ship 10 the third ward; troop 7 the fourth ward; troop 9 the fifth ward and troop 12 the sixth ward.

Chicagoans Buy Belvedere Farm

Belvedere farm, located near Saugatuck on US-31, consisting of 65 acres, has been sold to Chicago parties who will make some changes and operate it as a fruit and poultry farm.

The property many years ago was owned and operated by William Comstock of Chicago who built a modern mansion and other buildings at the time of the inter-urban days. The large house burned down and later the property was sold to a Mr. Williams, also from Chicago, who then built a large modern home of tile and concrete construction, making it practically fireproof.

The house has mammoth rooms with several fireplaces, oak floors, butler's pantry, five complete tile bathrooms and seven or eight bedrooms and two sun parlors.

The yard is beautifully landscaped and besides the large main house, there are a tenant house, large barn and all necessary out-buildings, including a pump house, water tower and sprinkling system. During the past 10 years, the property was owned by Mrs. E. C. Ernest of Chicago and has been occupied during that time by George York as tenant.

The deal was made through the Isaac Kouv agency of Holland.

Christian Quintet Is Hard Pressed In Beating Wyoming Park, 32 to 26

Holland Christian ran into a peck of trouble before subduing a tough Wyoming Park quintet, 32-26, in the latter's gym Tuesday night. The Christian five led throughout the contest, but were compelled to put on the steam in the last few minutes to assure victory as the Parkers crept up to 24-22 with four minutes of play remaining. Holland again showed a decided weakness from the free throw line, connecting for only two out of 13 attempts.

The Parkers tallied eight out of a possible 16 to keep them in the ball game. For the Christians, scoring honors were divided between Dell Boersma and Chuck Bazuin with 9 points apiece. Shay, of Wyoming had 9 also, while D.

Formama and J. Formama each scored 7.

Wes Vryhof hit the meshes for two consecutive Long Toms to start the Holland five on to victory. Boersma added a long shot, while Bazuin tallied on a push shot and Vryhof added another two pointer to sweep the Hollanders into a 11-6 lead at the quarter. They led the Wyoming attack with a side court shot and a free throw.

In the second quarter, the Holland scoring was limited to a side angle shot by Boersma and a free toss by the same lad to up the Holland total to 14. However, the Parkers were held to 4 points, on field goals by Shay and J. Formama to trail 14-10 at the half.

Three Year Plan Of Study Offered By Hope College

No Saturday Classes Involved in Optional War-Time Schedule

Announcement of an accelerated program which will be offered to Hope college students beginning next semester was made on Monday in chapel by President Wynand Wichers. A broad plan to meet the wartime emergency was formulated at a faculty meeting Saturday, but details of the program remain to be worked out.

The new, "three-year" schedule will involve no Saturday classes as a six-day week would prevent students who are employed on Saturdays from attending school. The regular spring vacation originally scheduled for March 27 through April 6 will be omitted during the second semester, dismissing school about a week earlier. Commencement, instead of being June 17, will come as early as June 10 or even earlier.

Students who have shown their ability to graduate in June of 1944. Present sophomores would receive their degrees in August, 1943, and juniors in February, 1943.

The program will be entirely optional, Dr. Wichers emphasized. Students who desire to maintain the regular four-year course will not be affected by the change. No announcement as to government assistance for the summer program either for the institution or the student could be made. Charges amounting to about what a semester costs at present will be made for all hours over the average schedule.

Sometimes this week a questionnaire concerning interest in the accelerated program, the type of work desired in the curriculum and the increased program of physical education for the second semester will be distributed to students.

Dr. Wichers plans to attend a state-wide conference of educators and college presidents at Michigan State College in Lansing Feb. 10. Many Michigan colleges have altered their present programs but they may vary in some instances, he said. Dr. Wichers also announced that the sale of defense stamps would begin in the college office today in accordance with the wish of the treasury department that stamps be sold on every campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Boeve are complimented. A group of neighbors planned a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boeve, who were recently married, at their home on route 5, Thursday evening. Games were played and a pot-luck lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Boeve were presented with a gift.

Meeting Is Called To Discuss Local Airplane Patrol

Those Wanting to Fly And Join Organization Will Confer Tonight

Organization of a civil air patrol in Holland as part of the civilian defense program will be considered at a meeting to be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Warm Friend tavern.

The room in which the meeting will be held will be posted on the bulletin board of the hotel lobby. All persons who are interested in learning how to fly and are willing to join this civil air patrol are urged to attend this preliminary organization meeting.

Park township airport, located west of Holland, is now closed and cannot be opened until a full-time manager and guards are appointed. This is due to a ruling of the civil aeronautics administration.

At a meeting of the board of supervisors this week in Grand Haven, a special committee of Charles Lowing, George Heneveld and Clarence A. Lokker was appointed to confer with a special committee of the Holland Chamber of Commerce to study the advisability of obtaining the services of a full-time manager. The Chamber of Commerce committee, including Charles R. Sligh, Jr., Eddie Landwehr, Alfred C. Jolderama, Ralph Brouwer and Ald. Bruce Raymond.

Mr. Sligh, in announcing Thursday's meeting, pointed out that the government and especially the office of civilian defense is anxious that every one who is interested in flying should join the civil air patrol.

Headquarters for this district which includes 21 counties is located in Grand Rapids and is headed by H. Mueller, Jr., is district commander. Mr. Mueller, a member of the national defense committee, and Thomas Walsh, manager of the Grand Rapids airport, are urging that everything possible be done to reopen the Park township airport so that a flight or squadron of the civil air patrol can be established in Holland.

At the present time, the government is not subsidizing the civil air patrol but this fact gives every member an opportunity to serve the government to a fuller extent for it is necessary for pilots to pay for their own flying lessons and to pay for their own gasoline and oil as well as ships except when on actual government missions when they will be paid for their time and expenses, Mr. Sligh said.

He pointed out that it is not necessary that all members of the civil air patrol be pilots as there also is a need for mechanics, parachute riggers, navigators and ground crew personnel. Already several men are interested in purchasing ships and are anxious for those who are interested in forming a local civil air patrol to meet with them Thursday night.

Attorney Speaks To Men's Club

Speaking to more than 70 members of the Third Reformed Church Men's club Monday night on "A Liberal Dutchman," Cornelius Vander Meulen described the birth of political liberalism, traced its growth and pointed out present day dangers confronting this conception of government.

Mr. Vander Meulen pointed out that liberalism is as old as the human race but as a political idea it was unknown until the period after the dark ages. A Dutchman, Erasmus, born in 1467 was the first champion, and the first great liberal statesman was William of Orange of Holland.

Quoting from the letters and other writings of Erasmus, Mr. Vander Meulen described the life of the middle ages and the Erasmus period in literature, religion, social and economic fields.

"Erasmus envisioned a golden age when people would be learned, and able to read and write. Not only did he start the great trend to education, but he advocated truth, tolerance as expressed through the rights of an individual, a hatred of war, and Christianity in the ethical application of Christ's life."

"Erasmus' philosophy caught root in The Netherlands, England and especially in America where the English and Dutch were carving a new life, burying the prejudice of the old world. The liberalism of his teachings, which were so widely accepted in the government of Holland and England, were exemplified best in our own declaration of independence and the constitution."

Mr. Vander Meulen pointed out that it is often written, "Erasmus laid the egg which Luther hatched. However, greatly Erasmus influenced Luther, there were two marked differences in the approach to the problem. Erasmus wished to reform the church from within while Luther favored a complete break which he accomplished."

He concluded his address with the plea that every American learn about the freedom "we enjoy and cherish them highly."

"Never has the philosophy of liberalism been so much attached," Mr. Vander Meulen said. "To weather the present storm it is necessary for our government to sometimes function in a manner contrary to these ideals until our liberties can be fully re-established. If we hand down to our children the freedom of thought and conscience which we have inherited, then we have succeeded in our present task."

Jungle Pictures Shown At Exchange Meeting

Pictures of jungle life in the heart of Brazil were shown by Dr. Charles E. Boys at the Exchange club Ladies Night in the main dining room of the Warm Friend tavern Monday night. The pictures were taken by Dr. Boys and his party on a tiger hunt in 1939. Wives of the Exchangeites were honored guests and were welcomed by President Albert E. the Hope college sextet and Miss Lampen. Music was presented by Marjorie Brouwer, soloist.

Preceding his pictures, Dr. Boys gave a talk on life in the jungle swamp lands where "births are not recorded and deaths are not noticed." Civilization has not reached in to disturb the natives or their customs.

Headquarters for the hunting party was a ranch covering 1,115 square miles and inhabited by 80,000 cattle. Their guide was the "Tiger Man" of international fame and subject of a recent book. Dr. Boys reviewed the guide's warnings about the dangers and annoyances from the animals, insects, blood-sucking fish and deceptive appearances of the swamp.

Dr. Boys exhibited several interesting gourd, drinking tube, a machete and spear as used in tiger hunting. Graphic explanations and demonstrations were given of their use.

In the colored film, Dr. Boys showed scenes on shipboard, in the larger cities at which they docked, coffee plantations and the trip inland. Their camp was located near the Bolivian border and they were within daily sight of the Bolivian "Christ of the Andes" which was shown in the pictures.

Alma Repulses Hope Rally, Wins By 54-42 Margin

Dutch Have Trouble in Finding Hoop in Battle For Conference Lead

Hope college invaded the domain of the Alma Scots Tuesday night and suffered a 54-42 defeat at the hands of a smooth-running five. The Dutch had trouble finding the hoop and trailed all the way. Behind 35-21 at half-time, the Dutch rallied to out-play and outscore the Scots in the second half, but the lead was too great to overcome and Hope fell 12 points short.

The win marked the third straight conference win for Alma and the first defeat for the Dutch. It broke the three-way tie for the MIAA lead, leaving Alma on top, Kalamazoo in second place with two victories and Hope in third with a 2-1 ratio.

In the scoring column, Els Kleinjans led the Dutch with 12 tallies, while Gil Van Wieren had 11. Jack Howe led the Scots with 17 big points, and Tinker Kirby had 10, beside playing a wonderful floor game.

Howe opened the scoring with a hook shot from the corner. Big John Visser tied the count with a dog, but successive buckets by Carey and Howe swept the Scots into a lead they never relinquished. With Jack Howe finding the hoop with amazing regularity and Carey adding 4 buckets, the Scots maintained a commanding lead throughout the first half. Kleinjans kept the Dutch in the running with three Long Toms, while Van Wieren added two baskets and a free throw.

During the intermission, Randall C. Bosch presented his trophy to the most valuable football player in the MIAA of last year, Bob Kirby of Alma.

In the second half, the Dutch came fighting back in an attempt to whittle the big lead of the Scots. Kleinjans scored the first bucket on a long one and Baas followed with a tip in shot to narrow the gap to 39-28. However, with Substitute Bob Howe dropping in three crucial buckets, the Scots managed to keep its lead, although two baskets by Dalman and a hook shot by Van Wieren narrowed the gap to 48-38 with five minutes of play remaining.

Hope takes a lay-off for a week and a half because of examinations with its next scheduled game with Michigan Normal Jan. 31, followed by a game at Adrian Feb. 2. The next home game is Friday, Feb. 5, with the strong Kalamazoo five.

601 Thousand in Year's Building Is Official Total

Details Are Shown in Annual Report Drafted By Clerk Peterson

Building operations in Holland for 1941 reached a grand total of $601,226.80 or an increase of $151,018.80 over the 1940 figure of $450,208.

This was revealed here by City Clerk Oscar Peterson in his annual report. Monthly reports are filed with the federal government in Washington, D. C., but at the end of the year, Mr. Peterson makes a tabulation of these monthly reports for his own records.

Building permits for the year totaled 494. However, fewer were actually filed with the city clerk. It was explained that when a builder applies for a permit to construct a new home and it also calls for construction of a new garage, these are listed separately although they are shown jointly on the one application. Permits for 1940 totaled 395, a decrease of 99.

New home construction in 1941 provided the biggest expenditure of money. The 80 permits for new homes called for a total expenditure of $291,700. In 1940, there were 89 applications for homes with a total value of $275,925.

Ninety-one applications for new garages, totaling $17,155, were filed during the year.

New industrial construction, including additions to factories, brought six permits with a value of $52,500.

Ten permits were issued for new commercial construction at a cost of $35,750.

Permits for three new gasoline filling stations, totaling $15,500, were allowed.

The year's largest single application was that for the construction of the new science building on Hope college campus at an estimated value of $100,000.

One application for a chicken coop, valued at $50, was granted in 1941.

There were 255 applications for permits for remodeling, repairs, etc., for residential properties, amounting to $48,472.80.

Forty-seven permits were issued for remodeling and repairs to non-residential property.

The 1941 operations of the Lake Shore Sugar Co. in Holland produced slightly more than 10,500,000 pounds of beet sugar, the company reported this week.

About the same amount of sugar was produced by the local plant in 1940, Byron J. Paschal, plant superintendent, said. The plant was in operation about 80 days of which 70 were devoted to slicing of beets. The other 10 days were required to wind up operations.

During 1941, the company harvested 3,621 acres of beets which produced 50,114 tons. The average yield was 13.8 tons per acre. This is the highest yield for the firm and is the biggest tonnage ever processed at the plant here.

even though the sugar total was near that of a year ago.

The 1940 tonnage was 42,703 tons which was obtained from a much larger acreage.

Payment to growers for the 50,114 tons will total $275,629.75. The first installment was paid last Dec. 15 and other payments will be made as the sugar is sold.

Regarding the outlook for 1942, the company reported that from all indications there will be an increased acreage for the local plant. The government is requesting a larger amount of sugar and is backing up its request with an extensive campaign. C. F. Diekmann, assistant field manager, said.

The Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association reports that 151,000 tons or 302,000,000 pounds of sugar were produced in Michigan in 1941 by the state's 12 sugar factories.

Last spring, sugar beet acreage was cut 17 per cent from 1940 but despite this the 1941 crop produced only 10 per cent less sugar than in 1940.

Yields per acre were highest in the state's history, reaching 10.6 tons by the government's preliminary estimate which is conservative. Only three years in the past have approached this—10.3 tons per acre were grown in 1940 and 10 tons in 1931 and 1932.

The 1941 harvest season was the wettest in years, but efficient beet handling resulted in less abandonment and fewer lost beets than normally occurs, the state association reported.

The 10-year average yield of sugar beets in Michigan is 8.2 tons per acre.

While no alarm is felt that there will be a serious sugar shortage in the immediate future, it is no secret that more sugar will be needed before this war is over. Hostilities in the Pacific, cutting off imports from Hawaii and the Philippines, and the diversion of a good part of Cuba's sugar output to molasses for manufacture of alcohol from which explosives are made, presages a use for every pound of domestic sugar that can be made from now on. In 1942, the role of Michigan's sugar industry may be more vital than ever before.

Businessmen at Fire Drill Meet

Continuing his plans to organize an auxiliary fire defense force in connection with Holland's civilian defense program, Capt. Andrew Klomparsos of the Holland fire department held a drill meeting Friday night with about 31 "Eight St." businessmen in attendance.

The drill was held for the purpose of teaching them how to fight fires. They were told what to do and what not to do and instructed how many feet of hose would be required to fight a fire in their respective establishments, where to obtain the hose and nozzles, should one break out.

Capt. Klomparsos reported today that if other volunteer firemen respond as efficiently as did the merchants there is no immediate danger that organized sabotage could do much damage in Holland. He explained the auxiliary fire force is being organized for duty should four or five fires break out at once in various parts of the city as the local firemen would be unable to handle so many fires at the same time.

Rotary Club Sees Movie of Fight to Halt Tuberculosis

Methods Employed in Model Case Explained At Meeting of Group

"The Case History of Lucy X," a motion picture presented by the Michigan Tuberculosis association which portrayed the advances being made against tuberculosis through scientific research based on public contributions, was shown the Holland Rotary club in the Warm Friend tavern Thursday noon, Jan. 15.

Based on an actual case history taken from the files of the M.T.A., the film was shown under the direction of Keith Avery, a representative of the association.

Depicting the story of the procedure for the treatment of the disease, the movie presented an interesting diagram of the methods employed in a model case—from the discovery of the affliction in an advanced stage, through the period of curing the patient in a modern sanatorium. Many outstanding aspects of the work accomplished in these sanatoriums were pictured, including free hospitalization for those not able to pay and the social and moral problems that demand constant sympathetic attention on the part of the nurses and doctors. At the conclusion of the film the need was stressed for the continuance of John G. Public's whole-hearted support in the national anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Preceding the main section of the program, Clinton Harrison, Hope college student, entertained the group with two vocal selections. Roger Reiburg, also a college student, accompanied Harrison at the piano.

It was announced that Leon Moody would accompany the crippled children of Holland to the Shrine circus in Grand Rapids. Duncan Weaver, program chairman, stated that Dr. Roy Street, formerly with the Kellogg foundation and now a lecturer with the Grand Rapids Medical society, would speak on "psychological Problems in Present Day Industrial Relations" at the next Rotary meeting.
