Charter Revision Needs Reviewed Before 'Our Town'

Less than 20 civic-minded local residents gathered in Junior high school for the "Our Town" meeting Wednesday night in which the proposed revision of the city charter was discussed.

Ald. Peter Kromann described antiquities of the present charter which although revised in 1913 is in essence the same charter adopted in 1897 with "home rule" liberties added in 1913.

He pointed to specific passages which prohibit the sale of beer or the selling or giving of liquor in Holland; the running-at-large of horses, cattle or hogs in city streets; inspection of hay, ringing of bells and crying of goods.

He listed inconsistencies in conflict with state and national laws, and passages overlooked which handicap city government at present. As an example, he said it cost the city about $10,000 because the charter does not provide for issuing full faith and credit bonds for such improvements as paving.

He also pointed to the need of a charter which would set a pattern for development in a postwar world in which the federal government is urging decentralization of industry in view of beliefs that atom bombs will not be "wasted" on cities with less than 55,000 population.

"Our government, tax rates and other functions should be geared now to cope with what the future may bring forth in industrial development," he said. "Our charter must provide for the best efficiency in city government, and give proper consideration for youth activities, city and area planning, transportation and housing, along with the proper vision of the social and the economic aspects."

Vernon D. Ten Cate, former city attorney, gave the philosophies of democratic government as it functions through municipal, state and federal channels. He pointed to improvements in efficiency which would be possible under a new charter but reassured his listeners that it was his personal opinion that there would be little actual change in city government.

Another Petition Filed With Clerk

Louis Brondyke of 246 West 16th St., was the latest to file a petition as a member of the charter commission. Brondyke makes the fourth local person making a bid for the revision group.

Ald. Raymond Holwerda announced earlier that he intends to resign his seat on Common Council in the spring primary Feb. 21.

It was announced that petitions for Ald. Bert Slag's re-election as alderman of the third ward are being circulated.

Deadline for filing petitions for the Feb. 21 election is Feb. 7.

Lions Members Hear FBI Representative

Robert Lalley, Grand Rapids area representative of the FBI, division of department of justice, spoke at the regular Lions club meeting Tuesday noon in the Warm Friend Tavern. He explained various tactics of the FBI such as fingerprinting, entering a case on a Federal case and confidence games. Lalley said there are 110,000,000 fingerprints on record today.

Guests at the luncheon meeting were Gerrit Wiegert, Elmer Van Fassen, Paul Vander Hill, Sipp Houtman, Peter Kromann and Kenneth Welch.

Kromann also talked about the city charter revision which will be included in the February election. President Russ Vander Poel presided. The program was in charge of Dr. J. A. Lubbers. The next meeting will be a Ladies Night Valentine party in the Knights of Pythias hall.

Local Police Laud Courteous Driving

Holland police today lauded the courteous driving of Steve Boneberg, taxi driver, who lives at 214 West Ninth St., for possibly avoiding an accident at the intersection of Eighth St. and River Ave., Wednesday.

Officers reported Boneberg was going west on Eighth St., and a car driven by Lena Arendson of route 1, Hamilton, was coming east on the same street. Both cars waited until the traffic light changed before proceeding south on River Ave.

As the light changed, a woman started to cross the intersection in the path of the cars. Boneberg, who rightly had the right of way over the other car, stopped and waited until the woman had crossed the street and Arendson had made the turn, before going ahead.

Lena Arendson was warned by police about the regulation which allows pedestrians the right of way.

Michigan hotel officials gather in the studios of WHTC for a broadcast in connection with the annual convention of the Michigan Hotel association last week-end in the Warm Friend Tavern. Seated (left to right) are Miles Olsen, chief announcer; Ed A. Roberts, Hotels Fordney and Roberts in Saginaw, association president; and Belle L. Thomas, executive secretary, Michigan Hotel association. Standing are Earl M. Johnson, chairman of the board, Johnson's Rustic Resort, Houghton Lake; Richard C. Hodges, Tuller hotel, treasurer; D. H. Reycraft, first vice president, Perry hotel, Petoskey; Noel K. Black, Morton House, Grand Rapids, second vice president. Phil House of the Stevens hotel in Chicago was the main speaker at the convention which attracted 150 persons.

Rep. Jerry Ford Reports on Local Harbor Situation

From Our Washington Bureau

Washington, Jan. 27 (Special)—Army engineers have authority to broaden the scope of the Holland harbor and the Black river survey, Rep. Gerald Ford announced Monday.

Authority was gained through reinterpretation of the August resolution of the House Public Works committee, which had been construed as limiting the engineer's investigation.

The new survey will cover: 1. Extending the federal channel upstream in Black river to serve the municipal power plant and Brewer's City Coal dock.

2. Replacement of existing arrowhead piers with new piers enclosing large harbor.

3. Widening inner harbor entrance.

4. Straightening entrance through reverted section to give straight channel from Lake Michigan to Macatawa.

Col. J. O. Colonna, of the Army engineers, has asked Holland Mayor Bernard De Pree if additional public hearings are desired. Colonna says the Army can make a survey and report without hearings.

Ford hailed new survey as "first step in improvement of Holland harbor. We can get government action soon on expansion of dredging operations to help the power plant and coal dock."

CROP Drive Ends In Holland City

Complete collections for the CROP drive in Holland amounted to $560, according to figures totaled today by local headquarters.

Churches and individuals contributed to that amount in the city.

The money will be turned over to Clarence Reenders, county CROP drive chairman, who will forward the amount to the national church organizations for which it is earmarked.

Holland set its deadline for CROP contributions at Jan. 25 to give churches a chance to announce the drive from the pulpits. All funds collected will be used for relief of war-torn countries in Europe and Asia. The drive has been sponsored by church organizations.

Foundation Laid For Red Cross Fund Campaign

Ottawa county was represented by seven persons at an all-day Red Cross meeting in Grand Rapids Wednesday to hear plans for the fund raising campaign in March.

The over-all financial needs of Red Cross, both local and national with emphasis on a reduced budget for 1949, was outlined by regional Red Cross leaders.

Philip Schenkenberg, regional director, presided at the morning session in which the 1949 fund goal of $60,000,000 was discussed. This includes $26,000,000 for the national organization and $34,000,000 for the 3,746 chapters. Ottawa county's quota is $28,666 of which $21,250 will be retained for local needs and $7,416 for national operations.

Guy Emerson, a New York city banker who has had considerable experience in Red Cross campaigns, spoke at the luncheon meeting on the philosophy of charitable giving.

"Whether we like it or not, we're in a period of American history in which we are fighting a battle, partly real and partly a dream. That the Red Cross is out in front is an example of American democracy and in the American tradition, an organization which survives through war and peace, through good times and bad," Emerson said.

He quoted national statistics on charity giving, saying the total is about 21 billions a year (this includes all grants to colleges and universities) compared with 181 billions spent annually for beer, liquor, tobacco and horse racing.

"In the light of these figures, nobody is financially embarrassed because of the sums he gives to charity. There really is a lot more talk and less 'doing' on charity giving than anything else," he said.

The drive in Ottawa county will be directed by W. A. Butler of Holland, with the Rev. Donald Haddock of Grand Haven serving as vice chairman in charge of the campaign in north Ottawa.

Attending the Grand Rapids sessions were Beth Marcus, Cornelia Van Voorst, Mrs. Harold De Vries and Mrs. John Van Dam of Holland, Mrs. J. De Weerd of Hudsonville, Mrs. H. Hubbard of Blendon township and Mrs. W. Smith of Crookery township.

Among the many pictures which Robert Sarabia brought home from Palestine were scenes of the Nativity and the Holy Sepulcher. The fort-like building (top) is the scene of the Nativity in Bethlehem where Christ was born nearly 2,000 years ago. Inside a star-like hole in the floor marks the spot where the manger is believed to have been. Tourists may touch the soil. Bottom picture shows jewels of the Virgin Mary inside the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem. This room displays gifts to the Virgin from all over the world.

Soldier Who Served With UN Forces Comes Home

Experiences during the few months he was stationed with UN troops in Palestine were related today by Robert D. Sarabia, 174 East Fifth St., who returned to Holland a few weeks ago in time to celebrate Christmas with his wife, and to welcome the birth of his son last Saturday in Holland hospital.

Of the six years spent with the armed forces, Sarabia, formerly of Chicago, considers his "mission" in Palestine as by far the most pleasant. He spent several years overseas with the infantry during the World War II and afterward. He was stationed in Japan, the Philippines, Hawaii and New Guinea.

On May 2, 1947, he was transferred to the AAF and last September volunteered to go with a contingent of 140 American servicemen to Palestine in connection with the UN truce commission. He said Americans joined the British and the French in Palestine and set up separate companies on the Jewish side and the Arab side. UN "observers" were stationed at Gaza, Tel Aviv, Haifa, Jerusalem, Bethlehem in Palestine and in Damascus in Syria.

Sarabia chose the Arab side which he said generally receives the sympathy of the general public inasmuch as the Arabs do not have the resources to fight the better-equipped Jews. He was stationed in Old Jerusalem which also took in nearby Bethlehem.

He explained most of the "cities" in Palestine have "old" and "new" sections. In the case of Jerusalem, Old Jerusalem and Bethlehem were in Arab territory and New Jerusalem and cities on the Mediterranean were in Jewish territory. He said Tel Aviv and Haifa were particularly modern. Principal UN headquarters were located in Haifa.

He visited all the historic places of interest in the area which have attracted tourists and pilgrims from Jerusalem to Bethlehem would be six miles if one could travel through New Jerusalem. The other way it is 40 miles.

Sarabia said current provocation in Palestine generally is caused by the Jews and while casualties are light, soldiers and natives alike are on the lookout for snipers. Everyday at 4 p.m. UN observers from both sides would meet at "the line" to exchange information.

Among souvenirs Sarabia brought home for his wife, the former Ina Mae Annis, were a Bible with mother-of-pearl inlay covers purchased in Bethlehem, seven meters (meter is about 39 inches) of blue cloth woven in Damascus shot with red and silver thread and 31 meters of white cloth shot with silver. This cloth retails for about $4 a yard, considerably under the regular prices because of scarcity of tourists. He also took home a hand embroidered blouse and jacket from Bethlehem.

Driver Fined

Grand Haven, Jan. 27 (Special)—Don Molenkamp, 18, of route 1, Nunica, charged by city police Jan. 25 with reckless driving, was sentenced by Justice George V. Hoffer late Wednesday to pay $35 fine, $4.45 costs and serve two days in the county jail. He is alleged to have been driving at an excessive rate of speed on Washington St.

Police Officers Caution Drivers

City police and sheriff's officers again warned motorists to drive carefully in and around Holland. They said snow and freezing temperatures would make roads slippery. Sanding trucks were called out with the snowfall this morning in the city.

Meanwhile, sheriff's officers reported two mishaps Monday night. One was blamed on slippery pavement.

A fish shanty was demolished in an accident Monday night on South Shore Dr.

According to officers, a car driven by John L. V. Visser of 314 West 14th St., was pulling a fish shanty on skids and stopped on the right side of the highway without a light on the shanty.

A car driven by Milton Hamstra, route 2, ran into the shanty. The impact, besides demolishing the shanty, damaged the front of Hamstra's car and dented the rear of Visser's car.

Visser was given a summons for not having a light on the shanty. Marvin Brandt of route 2, told officers he couldn't stop on the icy road at the intersection of Butter-nut Dr. and US-31 Monday night, and slid into a car driven by Robert M. Kole of route 4.

Battery Cases Heard in Court

Dale Borgman, 17, of route 2, and Henry Holtrust, 17, of route 4, each waived examination in municipal court Wednesday and were bound over to circuit court to appear Feb. 21. Bond was set at $500 each.

Both youths were charged with breaking and entering a motor vehicle belonging to Henry Heintzel and taking a battery.

The complaint was brought against the youths by the sheriff's department.

Marvin Pieper, 21, of route 6, paid a $3 speeding fine.

Parking fines of $1 each were paid by Richard W. Flaherty of 66 West 10th St.; Donald Ihman of 182 West 15th St. and Garry Kaashoek of 147 West 18th St.

Alwin S. Kolm of 22 West 25th St., Bert Selles of 109 East 15th St., and Albert Frank Schwarz of 231 West 23rd St. are each circulating petitions as to be members of the charter revision commission, according to the city clerk's office.

Donald Crawford of 194 River Ave., is circulating a petition as an alderman for the third ward. Deadline for filing petitions for the annual spring primary is Feb. 7. The election will be held Feb. 21.

New Conservation Course Attracts Large Audience

Next Meeting Feb. 7
In Washington Gym
Because of Crowd

"Michigan, My Michigan," the new adult course for persons interested in the out-of-doors, got off to an auspicious start Monday night when 120 persons crowded into the music room of Junior high school for motion pictures and a talk by Charles F. Welch of the education department of the Michigan department of conservation.

"We are a small department, only 1,400 strong, and we cannot do a good job without public co-operation, and we can't expect public co-operation unless people know conservation," Welch said.

He pointed to the many natural resources that make Michigan a great state. He mentioned the 3,300-mile fresh-water shoreline, the 11,000 lakes, the thousands of miles of streams and the six million acres of national and state lands.

He called attention to the mineral resources which make Michigan a leader in industry and to the scenic beauties and resort business which attract hundreds of thousands of visitors who spend $500,000,000 each year.

Then he drew a curtain on these assets and blasted the many "bad habits of the fellow who generally regards himself as a sportsman."

He spoke of the 210,000 forest fires last year in the United States which destroyed enough lumber for 86,000 five-room houses and enough pulp wood to supply every newspaper in the country with newsprint for 12 months. Of the 80 fires in southern Michigan alone, Welch said 50 were caused by smokers—persons too careless to watch what they did with a cigarette.

He reprimanded the so-called sportsmen for bad housekeeping, who leave tin cans and refuse at camps and bottles and debris on the ice while winter fishing. "These men don't realize they add to one of our most serious problems—water pollution—or that these broken bottles or cans may cause serious injuries to bathers later," he said.

The state department interviewed 1,200 farmers in Michigan with a view to improving propagation of game birds, and found 29 per cent would not co-operate. They pointed to pheasant damage to crops, to damaged fences, trespassing, damage to crops, and in some cases livestock killed or molested.

Welch reiterated that offenders form a small minority, but said it gives all sportsmen a black eye. This, he said, offers a challenge to the true sportsmen, and the best way to accomplish this aim is by education.

He said youngsters in school are receiving some training on conservation, and meetings such as those planned here will give the Michigan resident an awareness of his responsibility in maintaining Michigan's natural resources.

The sound film, "No Idle Acres," pointed out that the state owns one-seventh of all the land in Michigan. The department constantly aims to put this land to the best uses possible, and the film showed what is being done in soil and water tests—how one plot may make a good gravel pit and another good cover for game birds.

Water tests show that one lake may be good for stocking a certain type of fish, while impractical for another species.

Neal De Waard, member of the board of directors of the Holland Fish and Game club, presided. The series is sponsored by the public schools in co-operation with the Michigan department of conservation.

The next meeting, Monday, Feb. 7, will be held in Washington school gymnasium on the subject "It Can Happen" with George McIntyre, forester with the Michigan department of conservation in charge. He will discuss the history and management of Michigan forests and will show a movie of forest fires.

Holland Youth Is Bound Over

Raymond Cobb, 19, of 471 East Eighth St., waived examination in municipal court Tuesday afternoon on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime. He was bound over to Circuit Court to appear Feb. 21.

He was released after furnishing a $300 bond.

According to the charge brought by the sheriff's department, Cobb is alleged to have entered a barn on route 4, leased by Fred Dirks.

William S. Eekrote, 40, of Geneva, Ind., pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge in municipal court this morning and was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail.

Marvin Wabeke of route 3, and Marvin Klopman of 120 Clover St., each paid $1 parking fines.

Spring Election To Bring at Least Two New Officials

Holwerda Resigning To Be Candidate for Charter Commission

There will be at least two new faces among city officials next term following announcements by City Attorney Peter Boter and Ald. Raymond Holwerda that they will not seek re-election in the spring primaries Feb. 21.

Holwerda, elected for the first time two years ago, told Common Council Wednesday night that he will resign at the next meeting of council so that he may be eligible as a candidate on the proposed nine-member commission to study charter revision for Holland city.

Boter, who also has served one two-year term, said he would not seek re-election because of the press of private business.

City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod and City Assessor William Koops said they would seek re-election. James H. Klomparsen, member of the Board of Public Works, already has filed petitions for re-election.

Ald. A. A. Nienhuis of the first ward, John Beltman of the fourth ward and William J. Meengs of the sixth ward have filed petitions for re-election.

Petitions are being circulated for Ald. Melvin Van Tatenhove of the second ward. Ald. Bertal Slag of the third ward said he is undecided whether he will run again, but his partner, Ald. Lloyd Massman, appointed within the past year to fill a vacancy caused when Ald. Bernard De Pree became mayor, will run for a one-year term.

Simon De Boer has filed petitions seeking re-election as supervisor on the county board, representing Holland city.

Only new petition to date has been filed by Fred E. Wise, seeking the office of sixth ward alderman.

Deadline for filing petitions is Feb. 7.

Vernon D. Ten Cate, Stuart B. Padnos and Bruce M. Raymond have filed petitions for the charter commission.

Hope Cage Team Downs Hillsdale By 63-44 Margin

Bearcats Taste Defeat For First Time in MIAA Conference This Season

To Coach Russ De Vette and his Hope college quintet goes the honor of being the first squad to stop Hillsdale college in MIAA play, this year. Hope completely overpowered the invading Bearcats by a score of 63-44 on the Army court Saturday night. The Bearcats had defeated every MIAA club this season without tasting defeat. Included among its victims was a 58-55 conquest over the Dutchmen a month ago.

The victory was Hope's second conference decision last week, having stopped Alma earlier by a 74-65 count. Two decisions this week definitely stamped the Hollanders as the club to beat in second round play.

There were many reasons for De Vette to be happy over the play of his club last week. They have finally found their shooting eyes, and are rapidly adapting themselves to the new system. Defensive honors Saturday night must be awarded to Paul Mayskens who held Paul Plodzinski, the leading scorer in the MIAA, to just five points. He constantly kept the Bearcat center out of position and blocked most of the shots he did try. All of the Dutchmen played excellent ball as did John Markland of Hillsdale. Extremely fast, the diminutive Bearcat guard broke loose on several occasions for easy layup shots.

Hillsdale led only for a few minutes in the contest, when they held a one point margin early in the tussle. After trailing 10-9 with six minutes gone, the Dutch moved to a four point advantage within a few minutes, before the Bearcats managed to knot the count at 19-19 with seven minutes left in the first half. Baskets by Nick Yonker, Bud Vande Wege and Herk Buter sparked the Dutchmen to a 29-21 margin shortly before the intermission horn. Dave Sebring scored a two pointer just before the half to make a 29-23 score at halftime.

Coach Harold Westerman's crew played slow deliberate basketball, working blocks and cuts for their scores. They did have some difficulty in finding the hoop for a greater share of the first half. Hope employed a fast break whenever the opportunity presented itself, but otherwise were content to work the ball in through its pivotman, Mayskens.

Hope really poured it on in the opening of the second half. Everybody started to hit for the locals while the dazed Bearcats failed to score a basket for the first five minutes. With eight minutes gone, the locals had piled up a convincing 45-29 margin. From then on it was just a matter of too much Hope as far as Hillsdale was concerned. The Dutchmen were doing everything right, while the losers were trying many combinations in attempt to halt the rout. With seven minutes left, the locals led 53-34 and victory was within their grasp.

The last five minutes found the game dominated by substitutes from both teams. At times the game resembled a football tilt, with the reserves fighting desperately for the ball.

Hope connected on nine out of 23 foul attempts while Hillsdale scored on 10 out of 20. Hope's scoring was again divided almost evenly among four starters. Yonker led with 16 and was followed closely by Vande Wege with 15 and Buter and Mayskens with 12 apiece. Markland was high for Hillsdale with 13 points.

Legion Auxiliary Hears Talk on UN

The Rev. J. Kenneth Hoffmaster of First Methodist church, addressing members of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday night in the Memorial club house, gave an interesting talk on the internal working of the United Nations and some of the personalities involved. He also discussed the United States Congress and its efforts toward national preparedness.

The United Nations in many respects has failed, he said, but in its broader aspects has taken a decided step forward on the road to peace.

Seven Children Escape Injury In Auto Mishap

Ice-smear roads caused at least three accidents in the Holland area Sunday.

Seven children and the driver of the car in which they were riding escaped injuries Sunday afternoon when the car skidded and ended up in Davis creek with its wheels up.

Driver of the car, which was going south on Butteraut Dr. near Port Sheldon, was Florence Jones of route 1, West Olive.

She told sheriff's officer that the car went out of control on the icy highway and over a culvert into the creek.

One of the children received scratches.

Walter H. Minnith of Grand Haven, was listed as a witness.

In another mishap Sunday, cars driven by Charles L. Rice of Muskegon and Carl E. Bakker of route 2, came together on US-31 at the drive to the duck farm.

Rice told deputies he was following a car going north, and all at once noticed the Bakker car skidding sideways in the center of the highway.

Bakker said he was following a semi truck and tried to pass. He did not see the oncoming Rice car and tried to get in the south-bound lane. In doing so he skidded sideways and into the Rice car.

Celeste Rice of Muskegon was a witness.

Nine cars ended up in the ditch on Lincoln Ave. Sunday afternoon at Jipping's corner. According to reports, the gravel road was slippery and first one car, then another piled into the ditch after going out of control on the icy road.

Four cars had to be towed out by wreckers and five were pushed out.

Orchestra Heard In Second Concert

Holland members of the West Shore Symphony orchestra association were in Grand Haven Monday night to attend the second concert of the season in Grand Haven high school. Palmer Quackenbush is director of the symphony.

Highlight of the program was the Beethoven piano concerto No. 3 in C minor played by the brilliant young American pianist, Vera Franceschi, who substituted at the last moment for Byron Janis, who is ill. Miss Franceschi not only displayed a brilliant tone and faultless technique, but her performance was full of life and spontaneity which was supplemented by outstanding orchestra support. She also played several piano numbers at the conclusion of the scheduled concerto.

The first half of the program featured selections by the orchestra and was characterized by freshness and vitality. Numbers included the familiar "Russian and Ludmilla Overture" by Glinka; the delicate harmonies of "The Walk to the Paradise Garden" from the opera, "A Village Romeo and Juliet" by Delius; and the Three Elizabeths suite by Coates; "Haykon Days," "Springtime in Angus," and "Youth in Britain."

The program closed with "The March and Procession of Bacchus," Delibes.

The orchestra, which is enjoying a highly successful season, will play again on May 10 in Grand Haven with Leonard Warren of the Metropolitan as soloist. Tentative arrangements have been made for a concert in Holland this spring.

ON THE OLEO SPOT

Pity the poor state representatives and senators; they are on the oleo spot, and so far as they can see there's no way to get off
it. To change the figure, they are between a very sulphureous devil
and an unusually stormy deep
sea. They are going to get hurt
whatever they do, and statesmen
quite naturally object to getting hurt.

But no one has come up with a solution that is guaranteed to keep the bricks, to say nothing of decayed eggs, from being aimed
at the statesmen with deadly accuracy. Whatever they say, whatever they do, no matter how they
squirm and argue and protest,
they are going to be on the receiving end of thousands of angry
protests from people who can make their gripes stick at the ballot box.

For from the Michigan state-
men's point of view the oleo issue is an irreconcilable conflict.
On the one side stand the embattled dairymen of Michigan, which includes most of Michigan's farmers, who insist on maintaining the privileges that they have enjoyed for nearly half a century. They want the tax on oleo perpetuated;
quite naturally they have come to believe that the favors they have enjoyed from government for so many years represent a kind of natural right to which they are entitled. They are going to be more than merely politely angry
when their legislators vote for the tax repeal.

On the other side stand the equally embattled and equally
numerous housewives of the state,
to say nothing of their husbands
and sons and daughters. A vast oleo consuming public has been developed, and those people quite understandably object to paying a tax on colored oleo. They can see no reason why they should maintain the dairy interests in the style of living to which they have become accustomed.

When an initiative petition bearing 133,000 names forced the issue, the legislature was faced with the alternative of doing nothing
and letting it go to the people or passing a law. Either way they are going to get a lot of knocks.
Even if they do nothing, the dairy interests will blame them; if they vote for the repeal of the tax, the dairymen will blame them. If they should do nothing, the taxpayers will slap them. They just can't see safety anywhere. The people are long-suffering but they have finally taken things into their own hands. Naturally the statesmen are very unhappy.

The Temptation of Jesus
Luke 4:1-13

By Henry Geerlings

IT IS NOT necessary for us
to move out of the regular tenor
of our lives to meet temptation in its manifold forms. Nor do temptations inhere primarily in certain avenues of life. If we imagine we can escape temptation by creating a certain environment in which we shall spend our days we shall soon be disappointed. It may be true that there are special
appeals to wrongdoing in certain associations or in particular
fields, but we have lived long enough to know that even in the most cherished environment we become conscious of assaults from the powers of darkness. No life
is safe that is not strongly built
and that has not laid hold of the usual aids for moral and religious achievement. It is possible for one
to build a life that is peculiarly sensitive to temptations and that
knowing their perils is able to extricate itself from them.

There are hosts of people who would never yield to the more mischievous vices of life. They have certain respect for that which is best. All of us will probably agree that we feel a revul-sion against any suggestion of indulgence in the grosser forms of evil, but there are times when we are willing to lower our standards
and to admit a measure of darkness into our lives. What all of us
ought to do is to cultivate a higher level for all of life. We probably know individuals who can rise to noble heights and yet who are not unwilling to forget who
they are and whom they serve.

May it not be true that most of our temptations are singularly
parallel to the three temptations
of our Lord. In the first temptation
He was urged to use His divine powers selfishly and therefore wrongfully. He had the power to satisfy His hunger through changing stones into bread. Which should He do? Should He use this power that inhered in Him to satisfy His hunger or should He
be content to wait until through normal avenues that hunger could be satisfied? Would He depart
from the normal method the average individual has of meeting
physical needs. He took upon Him
our nature and became man.
Would He now lift Himself above
man and repair the loss of physical powers in extraordinary ways.

In the second temptation, the suggestion came to Him to forsake the Father's appointed way
and adopt another in order to show His divine Sonship. There can be no doubt that to throw Himself from the pinnacle of the temple and to land on the earth
unharm would be convincing to some shallow minds that He possessed a power not belonging to men in general. That suggestion He spurned. He chose to take the longer and more tedious course
of proving His messiahship by letting His light shine day by day
and rendering such service and kindness and strength as to prove that He was the Son of God.

In the third temptation, the appeal came to Him to do evil
that good might come. He knew that through His ministry over
many centuries that the kingdoms
of the world would become His own kingdom. To bow down to Satan and worship him in order
to have these kingdoms surrender
to Him at once would have been a most costly way of achieving the end of His Incarnation. This perhaps is one of the most popular forms of evil. There may be people living who feel that it is perfectly proper to practice dishonest methods if they give part
of the proceeds to worthy causes.
If right in its own name, does not
ultimately triumph there is no
conceivable advantage in calling in questionable methods to aid
its cause.

It is scarcely possible to conceive of anyone thinking that temptation in itself is evil. It may arise from evil minds and even
be intended to accomplish evil
ends, but in itself temptation is not sin. There is no one who does not thoroughly believe that to overcome temptation is to strengthen ourselves in all that is best. Just as to yield to temptation
is to tear down so to resist temptation is to build up. If we go out in the morning resolved that the day shall be spent in one way or another in resisting the suggestions of evil we shall
return in the evening with life
further fortified against its enemies.

It is not possible for us to read
the account of the three temptations endured by our Lord without very promptly coming upon
the fact that in each case He repulsed Satan by using a pertinent passage from the Scripture. It would seem that the result was just the same as turning on the light to chase darkness or to increase one's strength to rout weakness. It can never be said that the person who reads the Bible
will be free from temptation. But it can be said that he will stand
a much better chance of overcoming it and of building up his life
in worthy habits.

handicapped children from the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area stopped in Holland Monday for supper. The children were return-

the Shrine circus in Grand Rapids

restaurant. Police routed traffic around the buses while they were eating.

Wedding Performed
In Church at Glenn

Fennville, Jan. 27 (Special)—
A quiet wedding ceremony took place at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Glenn Methodist church when Miss Lois Mae Bale, one of twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bale, was united in marriage to Robert Hartsuiker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hartsuijker. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Secord, church pastor.

The bride wore a beige street
length dress with matching hat
and a pink carnation corsage. She was attended by her sister, Mrs.
James Hartsuiker, who wore a blue street length jersey dress and a corsage of carnations. James Hartsuiker assisted his brother
as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives at the home
of the bride's parents.

The couple will live in Holland
where the groom is employed at the Baker Furniture Co.

The University of Finland was established in 1690.

There's a style rebellion in junior high school. In the bottom picture is Barry Bailey, ninth grader, one of the boys who started the whole affair by wearing what the girls call "those funny caps." A whole army of junior high boys arrived at the Holland high basketball game last Thursday with caps worn at rakish angles. In protest, girls began the next day to wear colored knee-length socks. Modeling the "protest" in top photo are (left to right): Selma Newhouse, Connie Tuinman, Judy Ryoma and Carol Dobbertin. The latter had to wike her new look skirt to model her protest. Below, viewing with disgust the "cause of it all," are Judy Konig (left) and Mary Ann Peerbolt.

State CE Leader Speaks
At Annual Banquet Here

Sixty young people attended
the annual Christian Endeavor
banquet Monday night in the pa-
lors of Sixth Reformed church.
Red streamers, candles and CE

The Rev. Elwood Dunn, newly appointed general secretary of the Michigan Christian Endeavor
society, spoke about the importance of Christian Endeavor. Rev.
Dunn said "the CE as a whole
contributed largely to the world
by producing leaders, training
young people and aiding the Ec-cumenical or Universal church."

Christian Endeavor is recognized
as a great youth movement
throughout the world," Rev. Dunn
went on to say. "The CE stands
in need of much. It must continually emphasize the basic principle; it needs to undergird its

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren who has charge of the Christmas Seals in Ottawa county and is chairman
of the organization that has charge of the work, has just received 10,000 seals that will be disposed of in this city, began a story in the Monday, Nov. 15, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel
published in 1915.

Dr. A. Vennema left Monday
for Rochester, Albany, New York City and other points east in the interests of the college. On his return west he will spend Dec.
8 to 10 in Columbus, Ohio, in attendance upon the annual meeting of the Executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America on which committee he has represented the Reformed church for several years.

Holland High school suffered
the first defeat of the season with
but one more game on their schedule when Saturday South Haven handed them the thin end
of a 16-6 score.

When Mr. Kampen, janitor at Hope college, unlocked the doors
of that institution this morning a sickening sight met his gaze. And this was not an optical illusion
but real sticky molasses smeared
and painted on every seat in Win-
ants chapel, and on every seat
and every desk in every recitation room both in Graves Hall and in Van Raalte hall. Consequently no chapel exercises were held this morning as the faculty is a respector of clothes. The plans of the lawbreakers for a day off
were, however, quickly frustrated, when Prof. Dimment organized some forty men into a bucket
brigade and washerwomen's society, and the sticky stuff was quickly removed by vigorous application of hot water. The student council is looking into the matter.

The campaign for 500 rooters to accompany the team to Grand Haven Saturday is being rigorously pursued, the football spirit
this week being a serious matter
to the student body. A systematic campaign will be carried on
during this week, the big
"splurge" being the mass meeting
and bonfire followed by the parade on Thursday evening. This news story appeared in the Tuesday, Nov. 16, issue.

The Reformed church at Grand-
ville has extended a call to the Rev. Jacob G. Brouwer of Lynden, Wash. Mr. Brouwer is a graduate of Hope college and has

years.

Friends in this city have been informed of the marriage of Miss
George Nies, the daughter of Mrs.
Nies, living east of the city, to R.
Shearer of Agnes, Oregon, at that place on Nov. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Strelinger
left Detroit today to live in California. Mr. Strelinger has sold his business there. Mrs. Strelinger
was Miss Hazel Van Landegend
of this city before her marriage
in San Antonio, Tex.

The bids for the plumbing and heating of the new First State bank were opened Tuesday evening, according to a story appearing in the Wednesday, Nov. 17, is-
sue. Henry Kraker of Holland
had the lowest bid.

The South Olive Christian Reformed church has named the following trio, one of whom will be called to succeed the former pastor, the Rev. J. Wyngarden; the Rev. W. D. Vander Werp of Holland; the Rev. A. Keizer of Bea-verdam; the Rev. J. Bruinooze of Grand Haven.

Miss Della M. Connoughton, assistant superintendent of nurses
of the state health campaign
group now operating in Ottawa
county, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Parents-Teachers
club of the Columbia Avenue
school this evening.

Still another indication that things in Holland are looking up
is shown from the fact that Burama & Cannon intend to build a beautiful movie theater next to Meyers' Music store on the lot owned by Mr. Vander Bosch of Grand Rapids.

Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, president of Princeton Theological seminary
and moderator of the general assembly will deliver a lecture in the seminary lecture course next Monday evening.

Last Period Rally By Niles Team Nips Hurricanes

Locals Hold Advantage For Three and a Half Quarters but Fizzle

A fourth quarter rally by the Niles Legion basketball team nipped the Holland Hurricanes 71-61 Saturday night at the Niles gym.

The Canes held the lead for three and a half quarters but faltered after the Legionnaires pulled even with four minutes left in the game. That final spurt by the Niles team saw the locals playing without big Ken Van Regenmorter, who was forced out via the foul route.

In that final period, the Niles quintet massed a total of 29 points.

Although the Canes played one of their better games of the season, that "hot" fourth period by the rangy Niles team was just too much to overcome.

Holland started the tilt by jumping ahead 14-9 at the end of the first canto.

In the second quarter, both teams netted an amazing total of 22 points. The Canes were ahead 36-20 just before the halftime buzzer sounded, but a last-minute spurge by the home team pulled them to within five points as the teams went to the locker room. Score at the half was 36-31 in favor of the Canes.

The third frame saw Holland score 13 points to 12 for the Niles team. The one-point difference put Holland out in front 49-43 as the period ended.

Then came that hectic final quarter. The Legionnaires slowly crept up on the Hurricanes and finally knotted the score at 59 points apiece with four minutes to go in the game. After that, Niles calmed the Hurricanes down to a breeze while they hit the hoop for 12 points.

Most of the Canes counters were from the area immediately around the foul circle.

However, a weak spot in the locals offense was at the foul line. The Canes cashed in on only five out of 15 tries while the victors made good 13 out of 19 times from the free throw line.

Highly-touted Bob Crocker of the Niles team was held to nine points by Van Regenmorter. However, his teammate Bob Franz was the big gun in the scoring department with 20 points.

Herk Butler of the Canes walked off with individual scoring honors for both teams with a total of 26 points. Earl Holkeboer came next with 11 points.

A good share of the Hurricanes brilliant game must go to Art Slager who was able to control both boards most of the time while he was in the game. The husky Holland defender managed to tally three quick field goals at one time during the fray.

Jack Tirrell kept the Niles defense on its toes with his stand-out performance.

The Canes face one of their stiffest tests of the current basketball campaign Thursday night at the Army when they play host to the potent Pastoor Fords of Grand Rapids. The Fords have lost only one game so far this season and already have chalked up one win over the Canes.

Boys Are Detained

Grand Haven, Jan. 27 (Special)—Undersheriff Snyder, with Muskegon police officers, left Monday for Detroit to pick up four boys, one 17, the others 16, who are being held there with a stolen car. They have admitted breakins in Ottawa county and are believed to be those involved in a series of breakins and enterings of five places near Conklin Jan. 8.

Here is the 1949 Chevrolet Fleetline De Luxe four-door sedan which exemplifies the clean, flowing surfaces that are the essence of modern transportation styling. Fleetline sedans are distinguished by the unbroken sweep of the roof line over rear quarters of the car.

A two-door model also is available. The 1949 Chevrolts are now on display at Decker Chevrolet Inc., 221 River Ave. Jack Decker is local dealer.

Attack Fatal for Grand Haven Man

He retired 15 years ago. A member of long standing in the Congregational church which was disbanded a number of years ago, within the last year, as one of the final functions of the late Mgr. Daniel J. Hyland, he was taken into the Catholic church.

He is survived by his wife; a son, the Rev. Smith of East Tawas; a daughter, Mrs. W. Creston Bilz of Spring Lake; a brother, Harold of Grand Haven; a sister, Ethel, clerk in the agriculture agent's office who is now confined to Municipal hospital with a broken hip; also two grandchildren.

Physician Lectures Rotary on Blood

It was not until the 20th Century that science became aware of the blood groups, and could be sure that transfusions would work. Dr. Otto van der Velde told members of the Holland Rotary club at their Thursday noon luncheon meeting in the Warm Friend Tavern.

In his paper, "The Romance of Blood," Dr. van der Velde traced the history of knowledge of blood, pointing out how slowly man has come by his knowledge of this life-giving fluid.

The Rev. William C. Warner president, presided at the meeting.

Period Furniture In Baker Display

In a clever arrangement in the window of the Chamber of Commerce building, Baker Furniture Inc., Holland, is displaying some early period furniture made in their local plants.

The pieces displayed are true reproductions of early-period furniture copied from the original. The finishes and tone of color have been duplicated to the exact degree.

Baker Furniture Inc. is one of Holland's outstanding industries, coming to this city in 1933 from Allegan. The company now is in its 58th year. It was originally founded under the name of Cook, Baker and Co. in 1890 in Allegan, by Siebe Baker, father of Hollis S. Baker and grandfather of Hollis M. Baker.

In 1896 the company specialty was combination bookcases. The "golden oak" furniture was then the popular type for all homes.

In 1922 an additional plant was purchased. With the acquiring of the new plant, bedroom furniture was made. In 1925 Hollis S. Baker, who had joined the firm soon after his graduation from the University of Michigan, became the president. The present organization was formed in 1931 with Hollis S. Baker as president; vice-president, Frank Van Steenberg; secretary-treasurer, William Millington. An additional plant was purchased at that time.

In 1933 the company moved to Holland to take over the former Bush and Lane Piano Co. plant. It is still located in this plant, which has been remodeled and enlarged.

In 1947, plant 2 was acquired on West 16th St., when a former utility building was converted into an upholstery department plant. Both plants are actively engaged in the manufacture of furniture of modern, Georgian productions, and specialty types.

The handcarving and craftsmanship displayed on the Baker-made furniture is typical of the class of furniture for which Holland is famous.

The Baker trade mark is known where all fine furniture can be found. It is composed of a crown for tradition, a tulip for Holland craftsmanship and the initial "B" for Baker. The Chamber window was designed by Ed Brolin, in charge of quality control at the company.

First enclosed cabin airplane was built in 1912.

Arie Ter Haar Attends 1949 Pontiac Preview

Arie Ter Haar of Ter Haar Auto Co., 150 East Eighth St., local Pontiac dealer, has returned to Holland after attending a dealers' preview of the new 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks in Detroit. More than 700 dealers and their personnel from this area saw the new cars for the first time and attended a daylong sales meeting conducted by L. W. Ward, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor division.

Ward revealed to dealers that the 1949 Pontiac Silver Streaks feature two completely new and distinct lines of cars. Entirely new to Pontiac is the Chieftain line which is functional in design and of the notch or bustle back type. Its companion is the new Streamliner series, an up-to-date version of the slant or fast back type made popular by Pontiac.

Both body styles are mounted on a 120-inch wheel base. The former Torpedo series has been discontinued. Pontiac will make 10 body styles for 1949.

Holland High Five Sinks Buccaneers By 50-36 Score

Tom Vander Kuy Shines For Dutch Under Boards And in Scoring Column

Holland high's cage team made 16 straight victories in a row over Grand Haven high's Buccaneers Thursday night. The Dutch whipped the Bucs 50-36.

The victory boosted Holland into undisputed possession of fourth place in Southwestern conference standings and plunged Grand Haven and Kalamazoo Central into the cellar. Holland now has a record of two wins and three defeats against conference teams.

Thursday's win was the first for the Dutchmen in their last four starts.

The win not only deflated the Buccaneer balloon for the 16th time in a row but also kept Holland even with its 46-point-per-game average against Grand Haven.

Although the Dutch won in the scoring department, they lost in the percentage column. Holland made just 23 out of 93 tries from the floor to 13 out of 47 for Grand Haven. The Dutch cashed in on only four out of 20 charity tosses while Grand Haven made good 10 out of 18 tries at the foul line.

Most of the credit must go to Tom Vander Kuy. The rangy Holland pivot man not only controlled play on both backboards most of the game, but he walked off with individual scoring honors. Vander Kuy made six field goals and one free throw in the first half and one field goal in the second half for a total of 15 points.

Holland started strong and forged to a 14-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Dutch weren't particularly "hot," but shot often and let percentages take care of the score.

However, the local cagers were able to set-up many shots through-out the game against the "loose" Grand Haven defense.

The Bucs began hitting on their "long toms" in the second canto and stayed even with Holland. Grand Haven scored 16 points to 15 for Holland. Score at half-time was Holland 29, Grand Haven 22.

Holland splurged in the third period and tallied 16 points to go ahead 45-31 at the end of the frame. The first three quarters were fast. The oval moved up and down the court at a rapid pace.

In the listless final period, both teams had trouble finding the hoop after three high-scoring periods. It wasn't until the fourth period was four minutes old that Grand Haven managed to swish through a field goal. Holland didn't tally until less than two minutes were left in the game.

Coach Malcolm Mackay relieved his regulars in the final minutes of the game and the subs laced in five points to two for the visitors.

Vander Kuy topped the scoring for both teams. Bob Van Soelen with his potent "hook" shots, along with Bob Friefeld, the other Grand Haven forward, copied scoring honors for the Bucs with 10 points apiece.

Gerrit Israels with nine points and Dave Kempker and Ron Appleborn, each with eight points, came next in the scoring column.

Howard W. Hoyt, chief of police of Kalamazoo, explained the importance of traffic control in preventing accidents to Holland police officers Friday night. The Kalamazoo chief, considered an expert on traffic control, spoke at one of the Holland department's in-training classes. He compared crime losses with traffic accident losses to bring out the importance of control.

Kalamazoo Chief Tells Traffic Control Problems

"Traffic fatalities come on gradually and people don't realize the importance of traffic control," said Howard W. Hoyt, chief of police in Kalamazoo.

Hoyt appeared in Holland last Friday night at one of the Holland training classes. Hoyt is president of the Michigan association of chiefs of police and a recognized authority on traffic control and accident prevention.

Hoyt emphasized the importance of traffic control by comparing traffic deaths, traffic injuries and property losses from traffic accidents for one year 1947 in Kalamazoo to the same figures of crime in that city.

In 1947, one person was killed because of crime while 10 persons were killed in traffic accidents. A total of 286 persons were injured in traffic accidents in that city while only 23 were injured in criminal cases. Losses from crimes amounted to $31,000 during the same year while accident losses hit a figure of $850,000.

The Kalamazoo chief explained how the enforcement index works in Kalamazoo and other cities. For each personal injury accident, there should be 24 arrests.

"This method has proven its worth in preventing accidents," Hoyt said.

The Rev. J. Kenneth Hoffmaster will speak to the local police force Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. and an FBI agent will conclude the school Friday evening.

After the business meeting they played games and sang songs. Miss Judy Bos reports that the Bonnie Bubbling Blue Bird Nest met at the home of Barbara Becker. The girls dramatized "Goldie Locks" and also the "Three Little Kittens." Cornelia Lucas received a Blue Bird scrapbook from the leaders for her birthday. Cornelia also served a treat. Classy State High Crushes Christian By 44-29 Count

Veteran Cagers Display Smooth-Working Offense To Dominate Throughout

A classy Western State high five of Kalamazoo had little trouble in downing Holland Christian 44-29 on the Armory court Friday night. Displaying one of the best brands of basketball seen on the local hardwoods this year, the invaders were never headed in the fray. The loss dropped the Hollanders to an even 500 record with four wins and four defeats. Western now boasts a 5-3 record.

Sparked by such individual performers as little Tom Woodworth and Jimmy Orwin, nationally known Boys Tennis star, the winners were complete masters all the way. Relying on expert ball handling and "cuts" off "screens" the Cubs zoomed to an early lead.

Although the locals did not play the brand of basketball displayed by the invaders, it must be said that they could not find the hoop. Another factor in the Christian defeat was the height advantage held by the Celery City club. Coach Fred Stevens' lads boasted a 6' 1" average.

The Hollanders were ahead only once, and that was in the opening moments of the game when Ken Mast sunk the initial basket. State High retaliated with two of its own within the space of a minute to move out in front permanently. Midway in the period the score stood 5-3 with neither club able to hit. Two successful free throws and a basket gave Coach Fred Stevens' boys a 9-3 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

Baskets by Ken Mast and Herb Otten brought the Maroons within striking distance again, before Western scored even successive tallies to move ahead to a 16-7 count. Both clubs played deliberate basketball for the remainder of the period, with the Cubs managing to hold a 22-12 margin at the intermission. Christian showed signs of coming back on several occasions in the second quarter, but a rally never materialized.

Coach Arthur Tuls' cagers narrowed the Western margin to only seven points at one spot in the third quarter, but failed to come through when the counters were needed most. After pulling up to a 26-19 score late in the second period, the determined Cubs managed to make the score read 28-19 at the end of the third canto.

Paced by shifty Tom Woodworth, offensive star of the tussle, the Kalamazoo team quickly moved to a commanding advantage early in the period. Preston (Butts) Kool kept the locals within 12 points throughout the period as he came through with several beautiful shots. Up until this time, it was sophomore Mast who had been the Dutch scoring punch.

Play moved slowly in the closing minutes with Western State playing control ball for the remainder of the tilt. Christian's Pete Holsteg was ejected from the tilt on five fouls in the last two minutes.

State High flashed a beautiful, organized attack — definitely a crowd pleasing type of basketball. Some consolation can be gained by the fact that Coach Stevens said, following the game, that it was his squad's best performance of the year. The locals fought to the end, but never were able to penetrate a sturdy State defense for consistent scoring.

Christian made good on five out of 14 foul attempts while Western hit on 10 out of 18. Woodworth was the game's leading scorer with 16 tallies while Ken Mast led the Hollanders with 13. Kool trailed Mast with 10.

Phil Brooks' version of fancy fishing at Holland, Mich.

HOW WOULD you like to catch fish like this?

In reply to this post card picture, Bill Connelly, formerly of Chamber of Commerce fame, wrote Phil Brooks here: "While in Holland I edited a book entitled 'The Truth About Fishing.' Too bad your post card was not available at that time to illustrate it. It would have probably made the list of best sellers."

Connelly, who sparkplugged industry along with Tulip Time festivals in Holland in the 1930's, is now in real estate and insurance business in San Mateo, Calif. (according to his stationery).

He added: "I shall miss the comradeship of the swell bunch of fellows at Holland but the poignant memories of Tulip Time have lessened somewhat since I am raising tulips of my own now, and you may tell Harry Nells that they rival his as to beauty but not in number."

Shake Off Label of Negative View, New Jersey Senator Tells GOPers

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty Washington, Jan. 27 (Special)—

The most candid Republican must be Sen. H. Alexander Smith, senior Senator of New Jersey.

Maybe it's because he was formerly a Princeton professor that he speaks right out loud about what's wrong with his political party...and why national elections are lost.

He put in a letter to the chairman of the Republican National committee the kind of talk heard only in off-record huddles of progressives within his party.

Chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., asked for his views, and get 'em! A lot of Smith's argument can be found in the word "negative."

Everyone identifies the GOP against the New Deal...but not "for" anything.

Says Smith, "Until we become identified in the public mind with a positive, dynamic program of legislation, worthy of public acclaim...the people will not turn to us to govern the nation."

Smith, unfortunately, does not outline what that positive program should be.

But he names some of the achievements of the GOP for which the Democrats have managed to get the credit:

1. Reciprocal trade agreements were first urged on William McKinley by James G. Blaine who in 1890 wrote the future President that strong protectionism "will protect the Republican party into a speedy retirement." Later McKinley negotiated a number of reciprocal trade agreements under the Dingley tariff of 1897.

2. Conservation and reclamation first became great national issues under the championship of Theodore Roosevelt who in 1902 signed an act creating a Reclamation bureau.

3. Fair labor legislation has had many Republican champions... The Labor department was first set up under President Taft.

4. Anti-trust legislation began with the Sherman act of 1890. Yet all these and more, says the New Jersey Republican, are "today in the public eye a part of the New Deal program, and their strongest opponents are Republicans."

Smith predicts: "Republicans will not win national elections until we, as a party, formulate legislative proposals which will capture the people's imaginations and lead them toward a greater release of that free creative effort which over-centralized government can never evoke."

Donna Nina Madrid is three today, but already she is bilingual. The child has been taught in English and Spanish by learning Spanish words from her father and English words from her mother. The Madrids hope to start teaching her Italian within a year. Her father teaches Spanish at Hope college.

Bilingualist at Three, That's Nina Madrid

Donna Nina Madrid, daughter of Don Carlos Madrid, associate professor of Spanish and chairman of the Spanish department at Hope college, is the center of attraction in the Madrid household, not because she is an only child, and not alone because she is three years old today, but because she is the chief character in a modern language experiment. Her name is pronounced as though it were spelled Neenya.

Nina is learning to talk Spanish and English simultaneously. According to Prof. Madrid's theory, there should be no conflict in learning two or more languages at the same time, providing the method used is correct. The psychology behind learning two languages at one time is that knowledge takes place in ideas and concepts rather than names for things. For example: One looks at a light and gives it the name "light" in English and "luz" in Spanish. To illustrate, Prof. Madrid asked Nina where the luz was and she replied to her mother: "The light is over there."

Prof. Madrid explained that one of the difficulties in teaching adults foreign languages is that they have a tendency to think in one language and use any others they have mastered by means of translation. The Madrids hope that Nina will be able to think clearly in three languages for they expect to introduce Italian when she is four years old. Thinking in a language rather than translating is much more advantageous for a person who needs to make use of several tongues.

To keep Nina from becoming confused, Prof. Madrid always talks to her in Spanish, while Mrs. Madrid converses with her in nothing but English. Nina has learned to count in Spanish on her right and and uses her left to count in English. In this way she keeps English and Spanish characters separated.

Nina gets confused sometimes, mostly when she is looking at a picture book. She will express concepts in whatever language she has learned best, but according to the Madrids that should disappear. Nina is not going to learn to read before the normal age, but Prof. Madrid said that reading will be easier for her in Spanish because all syllables in that language are pronounced as they are written. When she goes to bed Nina runs to her daddy and says "Te quiero mucho" (I love you very much) "Voy a dormir" (I am going to sleep). Hasta mañana (until tomorrow) buenas noches (goodnight). Then she goes to her mother, kneels and says "Now I lay me down to sleep."

St. A Smothers Holland Christian By 45-20 Margin

Irish Outclass Locals As Two of Their Stars Watch Game on Crutches

Playing inspired ball for their crippled teammates, a smooth working Kalamazoo St. Augustine aggregation had little trouble downing Holland Christian, 45-20, in a game played at Kalamazoo college's Treadway gym Tuesday night. With Phil Cavanaugh and Dave Scott, both on crutches with fractured bones, the fighting Irish refused to quit. Cavanaugh and Scott were key men in the St. A offense before they were sidelined with injuries several days ago.

Christian was outclassed in practically every department, with shooting a glaring weakness. The Dutchmen hit on only seven out of 51 shots for a scant 14 per cent average. All of the boys seemed tense, after a good first quarter, while the winners continued to gain momentum as the game wore on.

Coch Arthur Tuls' men looked their best in the first quarter, although they were outscored 6-2. The Hollanders controlled the ball throughout the period, but failed to cash in on easy opportunities. St. Augustine used its slow moving offense to good advantage, shooting only when a decent shot was available. Christian led 2-0 at one time, but the lead was erased with three Irish baskets.

Both squads were able to find the hoops for a few more points in the second quarter, although the determined Irish had things pretty much their way. As more shots rolled from the hoop, the Hollanders gradually lost their effectiveness. Things went just the other way for the green-clad Kalamazoo club, which now began to score rapidly. When the intermission horn sounded, Kalamazoo were out in front by a 16-8 margin.

Whatever hopes the Tulsens had of getting a rally under way in the second half, quickly vanished. Looking their best, Harvey Freeman's boys continued to pull away. With four minutes left in the tilt, the Irish led 26-9. At this point Tuls removed his entire first string in an effort to find a "hitting" five. Substitutes failed to do much better, with St. A. pulling up a commanding 30-11 lead at the end of the period.

The Hollanders did manage to score nine tallies in the final period, but they failed to close the gap against a 15-point Kalamazoo assault. Midway in the period the Celery City team were leading 41-17 with diminutive Jim Holton pacing the attack with one-handed shots. Christian played their hosts on even terms for the final four minutes with Gil Eady upping the St. A total to 45 with a lay-up shot just before the final horn sounded.

Although plagued with injuries, the Kalamazoo five showed promise of a great ball club. St. A. used a slow "set" offense with most of the scoring being done with shots from the foul area. Holland looked impotent for most of the fray, even though the boys showed plenty of scrap throughout the tilt. Tuls used every man on the bench in an effort to stop the Green Wave.

The Maroons hit on six out of 18 foul attempts while St. A. scored on nine out of 18. Leading scorer for the evening was St. Augustine's Jim Holton, with 15. Glenn Petroelja led the local attack with seven points.

Ten residents of Holland are among the 54 enrollees in the Butterworth hospital school of nursing, Grand Rapids, who are now attending Wayne university in Detroit under a co-operative arrangement which enables the hospital's students to spend 16 weeks at Wayne's college of nursing.

Work in the laboratories with "basic sciences" such as bacteriology, anatomy, and home economics, occupies a great share of their time, and just now the young women are getting ready for final examinations scheduled to begin Jan. 19.

The young women, who are living in Wayne's 12-story student center building, formerly Webster hall, will return to the hospital school Jan. 26 to get nursing experience and the remainder of their required class work. A new Butterworth class will enroll Feb. 7.

After three years of study, they will be awarded nurses' diplomas.

Exchangites Entertain At Ladies Night Dinner

A program and dinner in Hope church parish hall featured the annual ladies night of the Holland Exchange club Monday evening.

Dr. Carl Cooper, educational counselor at Western Michigan college in Kalamazoo was the speaker, talking on the subject, "Leisure—Makes or Mars." Dr. Cooper said he is a firm believer in learning through seeing, and illustrated each phase of his talk with unique sets of pictures, figurines symbolizing the ideal family group on which the American social order is founded, music, a segmented cone representing the geologic ages of the earth, and a mounted panel of polished semi-precious stones picked up along the shores of Michigan.

He said that "if we will but open our eyes, we will be able to see the truth in the well-known lines of poetry that are Tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything."

Opening number on the program following the dinner was a violin solo by Miss Louise Rundquist, supervisor of instrumental music in the local public schools. Miss Rundquist chose as her selection, "La Folie" by Carrelli and was accompanied by Miss Mary Quilatt of the Junior high faculty. Two solos, "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan and "Cradle Song," by Brahms, were sung by Miss Joan Ten Hoeve of Hope college accompanied by Miss Geraldine Walvoord. Zeeland High Five Nips Coopersville In Cage Contest

Zeeland, Jan. 27 (Special) — Zeeland high school defeated Coopersville here Tuesday night by the score of 38-25. Zeeland showed a lot of power, defeating the Coopersville cagers.

Zeeland jumped to a 9-2 first quarter lead and never were headed. The seven-point margin at the end of the first quarter proved too much for the visitors to overcome.

Coopersville, however, remained in the game and outscored the Chix in the second quarter seven points to five. The score at halftime was Zeeland 14, Coopersville 9.

The Chix, mainly through the efforts of Harvey Meyers scored 10 points in the third frame while holding Coopersville to 6, making the score 24 to 15 at the end of three quarters of play.

In the final frame both teams got "hot" and hit the baskets for the Coopersville boys netting 10.

Harve Meyers took high honors for Zeeland with 11 points while Garzeloni grabbed 16 markers to lead the Coopersville team.

In a preliminary game the Zeeland reserves defeated the Coopersville reserves 38-16.

Little Maroons Win by One Point

Jerry Schipper's basket in the final seconds of play gave the Holland Christian Little Maroons a hard earned 33-32 decision over the St. Augustine second in a preliminary tussle at Kalamazoo Tuesday night. The contest was hard fought all the way, with the lead changing hands many times.

Christian moved to an early 8-6 lead at the end of the first quarter, but St. A came back to take a 14-9 halftime advantage. A 15-point barrage gave the locals a 24-19 margin at the third quarter mark. Defensive lapses allowed the losers to pull up to a 27-27 tie with only a few minutes remaining. Christian finally managed to gain the decision after a nip and tuck final drive.

Ben Bouwman sparked the Christian attack with 10 tallies, while Maury led the Irish with 10 points.

News of Interest to Western Michigan Farm Operators

State Farmers Set Record for 1948 Soil Conservation

West Ottawa District Easily Kept Pace With New Statewide Trend

During the past year, farmers of Michigan set an all-time record in putting real soil conservation on the land. E. C. Sackrider, state conservationist, has reported. And in the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district, local farmers easily kept pace with the new statewide trend, Olin A. Clay of the U. S. Soil Conservation service, announced.

"In this district," Clay said, "local farmers speeded up their application of conservation methods during the past year to a noticeable degree. As an example, these district co-operators planted 630 acres of grass waterways, began strip cropping 360 acres, started 2,780 acres of cover crops, drained 230 acres, stabilized 300 acres of active sand blow area, added 575 acres of new pasture seedings to their farms, reduced soil loss in orchards by making 45 acres of grass seedings in them, and improved 700 acres of established woodland for future generations by protecting them from fire and grazing.

"We believe farmers of Michigan have set a record to be proud of," Sackrider said. "They put 7,300 acres of land on the contour during 1948 which brings the state's total to 25,000. They added 27,300 acres of cover crops increasing the total for Michigan to 92,000 acres.

"During the year, 8,300 more acres went into strip cropping which brought the state total to 24,700 acres. In addition, 7,000 acres of Michigan pastures were improved during 1948; and 9,500 acres of land were made more productive by drainage."

Current state totals reported by district co-operators, Sackrider said, are improved pastures, 40,800, and farm drainage, 28,500 acres.

Farmers of this state, Sackrider said, organized 13 new soil conservation districts during the year and the Michigan total now stands at 52.

Fire-Safe Homes Stop Many Deaths

Home is the place where the majority of fire victims die every year—and nine out of ten fires don't have to happen. Is your home fire-safe?

A stitch in time could have prevented those nine fires according to Olevia Meyer, extension home management specialist at Michigan State college. Chief causes of home fires are faulty chimneys, stoves and furnaces, careless smoking and use of matches, misusing gasoline and kerosene, and defective wiring.

Check your chimney to make sure it is fire-safe. Be sure your stoves or furnaces are large enough to heat the room or house without forcing. Overheated stoves or furnaces are fire hazards. Place a fire screen in front of the fire-place.

Don't be guilty of starting a fire with gasoline or kerosene and always warn the members of your family against the habit. Home fire cleaning is another dangerous business and should be done with caution.

Check electric cords, plugs, outlets and equipment before using to make sure they are not faulty. Broken plugs, outlets or electric cords with the insulation worn off are fire hazards. Don't run electric cords under rugs, or hang on hooks or nails. Be sure you have enough wall outlets in all rooms so this won't be necessary. Check the fuse box to make sure the fuse is not larger than 15 amperes and that some other object such as a penny is not being used instead of a fuse.

Winter Means Extra Attention for Hens

To keep those hens laying well takes a little effort during cold weather, reports J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

During the cold weather, he advises farmers not to let ice form on the drinking water. It takes a large amount of water to make eggs. Water should be kept warm and drinkable at all times.

Be sure the laying house is properly ventilated. Don't keep it closed up too tightly. Feed, too, is an important factor. Some green feed or well-cured alfalfa hay will help to keep hens active and sharpen their appetites.

Use of artificial light is a management practice that some farmers are adopting to keep up production, Moore concludes.

Tractor Care Now Pays in Spring

If that farm tractor is to be ready to go at the first break of spring, it needs some attention now according to Jack R. Schram, agricultural engineer at Michigan State college.

The farm tractor or any engine on a baler, combine or another implement, should be serviced just as though you were getting ready for a big day in the field, Schram says. It should be completely lubricated and the oil drained from the crankcase. The oil filter should be cleaned or replaced.

Schram advises if the crankcase is refilled with new oil and the tractor or engine run for a short period of time, a protective film of new oil will be pumped into all working parts.

Wheels should be jacked up off the ground. The spark plugs should be removed and two tablespoons of motor oil placed in each cylinder, and then the engine turned over by hand. Batteries should be stored inside. All drain cocks should be opened and fuel drained from tank and carburetor.

Schram reminds that complete draining of the radiator and block and leaving all drain plugs open or out also is important.

Dutch Apple Tarts Are Tasty Dessert

An apple dessert you'll want to serve often is Dutch tarts in lemon syrup, prepared in somewhat the same fashion as dumplings but with slight variation for new interest and appetite appeal.

DUTCH APPLE TARTS
2 red Winesap apples, peeled and cored.

3 cups biscuit mix
4 tbsps. butter or margarine
2/3 cup milk.

Cut butter or margarine into biscuit mix, using two knives. Add enough milk to make a stiff dough. Roll biscuit dough on lightly floured board to about quarter-inch thickness. With a sharp knife cut dough into 4-inch squares. Slice apples and place two slices in center of each square. Sprinkle with sugar, dot with nutmeg, and fold corners to center, pinch edges together. Prepare lemon syrup as follows:

Lemon syrup:
1 tbsps. flour
1 cup sugar
1 1/4 cups boiling water
Juice of 1 lemon
Grated rind of lemon
Combine sugar and flour. Add boiling water, lemon juice and rind, stirring slowly. Place tart in shallow baking dish and pour hot lemon syrup over all the tarts. Bake for 45 minutes in moderate (350 degrees F.) oven.

There's Still Time to Join Michigan TB Crusade

"There is still time to join your neighbors in the 1949 crusade to save Michigan lives from tuberculosis," states Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis association.

The Christmas Seal association spokesman reported that "more than 1,600 Michigan citizens will suffer tuberculosis death in this new year. They cannot be rescued," he declared, "simply because funds are not available to adequately finance TB prevention and control programs."

Werle urged Michiganders to "search their conscience and then their pocketbook for a sum, no matter how small, to help bolster the 1949 efforts against tuberculosis in communities throughout Michigan." He pointed out that tuberculosis is still a "major threat to the health and life of every Michigan man, woman and child and therefore should not be viewed with mistaken complacency."

ALFALFA FED HOGS
Hogs on good alfalfa pasture need only about half the protein supplement that hogs in the dry lot need. They need less grain per pound of gain also.

HAY SHORTAGE
Farmers depending on clover and timothy mixtures last summer are now short of hay in some areas. In many of these same areas alfalfa-brome grass mixtures came through about the same as normal.

Varied Program On Schedule for Farmers' Week

Lansing — Dairy management and herd improvement featured today's opening day program of the 34th annual Farmers' Week, which will bring an estimated 30,000 farmers to Michigan State college campus today through Friday.

Other dairy features will be staged during the week, covering the various problems of Michigan dairymen.

Every aspect of farm life, production, economics and machinery will be dealt with during the five-day show, college officials said.

Of main interest to Michigan farmers are farm prices, which have dropped far below operating costs, they pointed out.

Some solutions and aids will be suggested and demonstrated by various college departments.

Farm women have their own exhibits in the college's home economics building. These include home making, style shows, household equipment, cooking and lectures and films on the life of farm women in other countries.

Of special interest to the men is Michigan State's new agricultural engineering building and the farm machinery, equipment and building exhibits which will be demonstrated there.

Farm crops with emphasis on sugar beets, potatoes and beans is featured by the college's farm crops and soil science departments.

Michigan breeders start their activities with a horse exhibit on Tuesday and continue with lectures and demonstrations throughout the week. They will be called on to judge beef cattle, swine, sheep, horses and even beauty queens in their four day program.

A conservation exhibit is included for the first time since it was abandoned because of the war. Soil conservation, land use and zoning, wildlife, and resort trade discussions are highlighted by movies.

Visitors have a varied program of entertainment scheduled for them, according to the college.

There will be swimming and races by men and women on Michigan State swimming teams, a basketball game between the Spartans and Wayne university, an intercollegiate boxing match and a track meet.

Electric Cleaners Safe for New Rugs

If you're one of the homemakers who believes that no electric cleaner should ever touch a new rug or carpet—here's news for you.

You can use a cleaner on your rug from the very first moment it's laid on your floor. There will be no ill effects advises Ruth Peck, Michigan State college home economist. This information is based on recommendations from the American Institute of Carpet Manufacturers.

A new rug or carpet will "fluff" to a certain extent because there are short fibers left in the pile when the yarn is cut. These gradually work loose, but this does not injure the life or quality of your rug. It will stop as soon as the loose fibers have been removed.

Occasionally during the early life of your rug or carpet a tuft may protrude above the surface. Never try to pull this tuft out, as you may injure the fabric. Instead, clip the tuft close to the pile, with sharp shears.

Your new rug or carpet may also have a spot where several tufts are missing. Tufts may also be damaged or removed in service. When this happens, and when the areas are small, the tufts may be replaced by sewing in the proper colored yarns. The store from which you purchased the rug will be glad to help you with this problem.

Carpet frequently receive much wear in one or two spots, such as in front of a favorite chair or near a doorway. While a carpet is new, plan to protect it against such localized wear. Use scatter rugs or reverse the rug in the room.

Specialist Compares Tractor Engine Types

Questions concerning low compression and high compression tractor engines have been coming to the Michigan State college agricultural engineering department.

To answer them, Jack R. Schram, machinery specialist, points out a few facts about the high compression engines.

These engines, he said, give increased horsepower from the same size engine. Fuel consumption per horsepower is usually less. A point to consider is the need for higher anti-knock rating fuel which costs more.

In general, Schram advises, if the range in price between low and high octane fuel is not too great, the overall economy favors the high compression engine.

FREEZING COSTLY
When water freezes hard in farm equipment, it often means destruction or expensive repairs. Michigan State college agricultural engineers advise special care for exposed pipes and other places that might freeze with a sudden temperature drop.

Four-week-old Karla Sue is a trifle sleepy but she's very precious to her mother, Mrs. Ralph Bowman, who might not be alive today to enjoy her new daughter if it hadn't been for the Community Blood bank at Holland hospital. Mrs. Bowman needed a transfusion a few hours after the arrival of the baby and the blood was available from the bank. Karla is the Bowmans' first child after being married 15 years. They have an adopted son, Steven Jon, 23 months old.

Says She Owes Her Life To a Blood Transfusion

Mrs. Ralph Bowman, 285 East 13th St., is glad to be alive.

Quite frankly, she says she owes her life to a blood transfusion at Holland hospital the day before Christmas, a few hours after the birth of her daughter, Karla Sue, her first child after being married 15 years.

Consequently, Mrs. Bowman is high in her praise of Holland's Community Blood bank which has been operated by the Ottawa county chapter of the American Red Cross in conjunction with the Ottawa Medical association.

It was most fortunate that the bank had on hand a unit of "rare blood" with the Rh negative factor, a type not always to be found readily.

"I never realized how much a transfusion could mean," Mrs. Bowman said. She plans to be a donor herself later.

Mrs. Bowman's case was duplicated again only this week when need arose for a transfusion for Mrs. Delores Slikkers, another young mother whose blood type also called for Rh negative. Again, fortunately, the bank had on hand a unit, and Mrs. Slikkers joins Mrs. Bowman in praising the work of the bank.

Red Cross currently is seeking donors for the next clinic Monday from 5 to 7 p.m. at Red Cross headquarters, 6 East Eighth St. The work is in charge of physicians and registered nurses, assisted by Red Cross gray ladies, Mrs. Slikkers' aides and canteen workers. All services are volunteered. From 12 to 20 donors are registered for each clinic. Each donor is given a free blood type and a card bearing information for blood type.

Mrs. Harold De Vries is blood bank chairman and Mrs. John W. Van Putten is donor recruitment chairman. Dr. O. vander Velde is medical director.

The Community blood bank is regarded as an outstanding achievement of Ottawa county's 1948 program, and its continued operation will be a great factor in campaign for funds will start in Ottawa county March 1 under the direction of W. A. Butler of Holland. He will be assisted by the Rev. Donald H. Hallock of Grand Haven who will direct the drive in the north part of the county.

Forty-six students receive financial assistance from the denomination's board of education study aid fund, looking towards either the ministry or missionary service.

Hope College Awards Dormitory Contract

The contract for the building of the Hope college women's dormitory has been awarded to the construction firm of Elzinga & Volkers of Holland. It was announced Saturday by Dr. I. J. Lubbers, college president. The firm Holwerda and Huijsenga of Grand Rapids was given the heating, ventilating and plumbing contract. According to Dr. Lubbers the electrical contract has not been let.

Dr. Lubbers said that the college authorities were pleased over the interest shown in presenting bids which were received from firms located in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, South Haven, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and others.

The contracting firm Elzinga and Volkers built the new Holland Junior High school-unit, as well as the addition to the Holland hospital. At present it is building the West Michigan Christian high school and the Laketon Bethel church, both in Muskegon.

According to the contractors ground will be broken on the campus for the new building within the next two weeks.

First patent issued by the U. S. patent office went to Samuel Hopkins of Massachusetts for the making of "pot and peat ashes" or common hay.

Poultry Diseases Prove to Be Costly

Many poultry losses caused by disease show up in dead birds, but there are others just as costly that don't kill the birds.

Diseases of the breathing system often cuts production and cause birds to lose weight, even though they don't die, says W. R. Pritchard, veterinarian at the University of Wisconsin.

Colds are common in winter especially in younger birds. Some times only a few hens will get colds at once, but the whole flock may.

Best means of control is to get rid of the cause, Pritchard says. Drafts or poor ventilation will give your chickens the disease. Drafts come in through cracks, knotholes, or crevices on the side of the house opposite the roosts. Plugging these up will help, but the chickens need plenty of fresh air and sunshine. Three tight sides of the house with one open to the sun will help a lot in keeping colds out of the flock.

Chickens will catch the disease from each other, so it's a good idea to cull out the ones you notice. You may have to look the flock over several times a day to keep the disease under control. Pritchard says it's best to sell or kill them and not bring them back into the flock.

Clean and scalded water fountains or medicine such as chlorine compounds or potassium permanganate will kill germs in the water which may spread the disease. None of these will do any good for infected birds. Pritchard advises using sulfa drugs with caution and says spraying for colds does little good.

Other costly diseases are laryngotracheitis, bronchitis, and Newcastle. They can best be controlled by careful sanitation and avoiding chances of bringing in the disease from other places.

Block Machine Goal of Drive

When the Rev. and Mrs. George Huff return to their missionary post in the hinterland of Sierra Leone, West Africa, they will take with them a cement block machine, provided the young people of Wesleyan Methodist church collect enough funds through scrap drives.

A group is collecting scrap papers, magazines, any type of metal scrap, rags, batteries and the like. The young people are asking citizens to put collections at the curbs each Saturday.

The Huffs work among an African tribe known as the Warwaras. Many of these natives have never seen a white man, much less his machinery. Since there are no roads into this section, the Huffs will take with them a jeep equipped with a winch and power take-off. Rev. Hoff says many natives will be startled when this machinery arrives in the capital city of Bafodia.

A similar group in Grand Rapids has collected funds for a cement mixer. The Holland group after obtaining a machine at a cost of $80 to $100 may continue the program for additional equipment. The Huffs plan to build a dwelling, church, dispensary and school.

Donald Sundin and Jack Huff head the drive locally.
