Right-of-Way
Deed Given
To Council

City Council Wednesday night accepted with gratitude an offer from Mayor Robert Visscher and his family to deed to the city an area covering the south 33 feet of 27th St. as shown on the plat of Visscher's Orchard subdivision, between College Ave and State St.

The communication came from Scholten and Pant, Grand Haven attorneys, on behalf of Robert F. Visscher and wife, and the mayor's two sisters, Vivian H. Visscher and Jane Anne Conley. The mayor explained that the property was formerly owned by his parents and an oversight in the original plat had failed to deed to the city the road rights.

He said he understood that Dr. and Mrs. William G. Winter also were contemplating deeding part of the right-of-way to the city. Another section is owned by Cora Van Ark. Only after all the deeds are cleared can 27th St. be opened from State to College.

City Manager Herb Holt submitted a budget calendar. Listed are: Feb. 4, library submits estimates to council which are referred to city manager; Feb. 15, general city departments and BPW submits estimates to city manager; March 4, hospital board submits estimates to city council which are referred to city manager; April 1, city manager presents budget to council; April 6, city election; April 13, new council takes office; April 14, first meeting of new council; April 20 to 24, budget study sessions; April 27, council adopts proposed budget at special meeting; April 29, clerk publishes summary and notice of public hearing; May 6, public hearing and final adoption of budget by council.

In the city manager's monthly report was a summary of December activities of the health department on weights and measures. Councilman Ernest Phillips criticized the little work done on this front and Councilman Raymond Holwerda joined in the criticism, dramatically pointing out that the public could misconstrue some of the items to the point where there might be serious question on the accuracy of scales in local business places.

With only two spring scales checked, one of which was in error, the public conceivably could believe that 50 per cent of the scales were off. "Of course, only two scales were checked," Holwerda said, "but something should be done on checking weights and measures."

City Manager Holt said considerable checking is done by state representatives and this work is not reflected in the city report. He said the city sanitarian is of the opinion that in foods, quality is more important than weight. Holt added that some of the weight checking may be turned over to the new building inspector.

Phillips also said there should be some parking limitation because of the huge snowbanks on each side of the streets. Holt said the city tries to hold off restrictions as long as possible, preferring to deal with certain trouble spots as they develop.

Phillips also said the traffic signal at 15th and River which operates only certain hours each day is a hazard to traffic. Mayor Robert Visscher explained that the part-time service is a compromise effected by school authorities, local police and the State Highway Commission. That latter agency would not approve a fulltime light at this corner which is in the vicinity of four schools.

A report prepared by Building Consultant Arthur Read on landscaping, construction of an emergency generator room, relocation of zone controls and replacement of conductive floor at Holland Hospital, was read. The conductive floor will be repaired at no expense to the hospital.

LONELY SENTINEL — Unvisited by the fishermen who in summer crowd the piers, the light towers at the end of the outside piers at Holland Harbor stand ice-coated and alone in the winter silence. Holland Coast Guardsmen, who check the towers monthly by scrambling over the ice with their ice-creepers, had to chop away a solid wall of ice on their last visit to get into the door. The pier is covered several feet deep with glassy, treacherous ice. (Sentinel photo)

Two Area Youths
Spend Night in Car

Two Holland area youths were reported in good condition today — but cold — after spending the night in a car stuck out on a country road as temperatures dipped near zero.

Jack Van Slooten, of Port Sheldon Rd., and Fred Hemecke, of West Olive, both 19, said they started out about midnight to help a friend get his car out of a snowbank. On Quincy St., west of Butternut Dr., the boys became stuck in the deep drifts.

Unable to move the car and uncertain of finding their way out in the blinding storm, the boys curled up in the car blankets and spent the night. One of the boys' families reported them missing at 8 a.m. today.

Ottawa County deputies were searching when the boys walked out around 11 a.m. The car is still stuck in the impassable drifts.

Ask Residents to Keep
Snow From Fire Hydrants

Holland Fire Chief Dick Brandt today expressed concern over the fact that many fire hydrants throughout the city are covered over with snow, and would be nearly impossible to find and use in case of fire.

Chief Brandt urgently requests residents to clean out the snow around fire hydrants located in front of their homes, an action which could possibly save their homes and perhaps lives.

Motorists are further requested by Chief Brandt not to park directly across from other cars on snow-narrowed side streets, since it does not leave enough room for the wide fire trucks to get through in case of emergency.

Light Will Be Installed
At Eighth and Pine

City Council Wednesday night authorized the installation of a traffic light at Pine Ave. and Eighth St., upon recommendation of the Traffic and Safety Commission.

General plans call for red arrows for right turns on north-south traffic. Full top will be required before turns can be made on red arrows.

Skating Curtailed

There will be no supervised skating tonight at Fairbanks Park because the pond is snow-covered. If the weather clears late this afternoon, there will be supervised skating tonight at Van Raalte and Jefferson School ponds.

Worst Storm of Season
Moves Across Holland

Allegan Group
Plans Study
Of Building

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan county supervisors Wednesday voted 27-7 to authorize the county building committee, together with any other members the chairman wishes to appoint, to make a preliminary study of architectural firms and report back to the board's April session.

This was the first official step taken by the board towards construction of a new Allegan county building.

Objections to the motion were based on the fact that some of the board members might not return to the board in April—there being a chance they might be defeated or not choose to run in the spring township election April 6.

A report of the building fund, from the board of sinking fund commissioners, indicated that the amount available for the project may exceed $811,000 rather than the $750,000 which the special tax levy was designed to provide. The increase is due to accumulation of interest on government bonds in which the funds are being invested, plus the fact that the board was able to purchase the bonds at less than their face value, due to a depressed bond market.

The board ratified a roads and bridges committee report which recommended denial of a Consumers Power company request for a power line easement across county highway garage property at Overisel. The board also refused to approve an exchange of property at the Overisel garage. The committee felt that both moves would tend to devalue the county's property.

The board voted 20-8 to request an attorney general's opinion on the validity of Surveyor Donald Allen's four-year-old bill for services in connection with the Green Lake drain, immediately after an opinion from Prosecutor Ervin L. Andrews, which held the bill legal, was read into the record.

Local Youth
Pleads Guilty

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Earl Dean Miller, 18, of 382 Lakewood Blvd., Holland, Wednesday, changed his plea to guilty in Circuit Court to felonious driving.

He had previously pleaded not guilty and his trial was scheduled last Monday.

Bond of $500 was continued and Miller will return for sentence Jan. 3. Miller was charged as the result of an accident last spring when Carl Moomey bounced from the hood of Miller's car. Moomey is still a hospital patient.

Holland Man Given
Ticket in Accident

George H. Vrieling, 68, of 276 Fairbanks Ave., was ticketed by Holland police for interfering with through traffic and driving with obscured vision following an accident Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the corner of 16th St. and Columbia Ave.

Police said Vrieling, going north on Columbia Ave., collided with a car driven by Robert A. Den Bleyker, 17, of route 5, Holland, going west on 16th St. Den Bleyker's 1950 model car was damaged in excess of its value, police said, and they estimated the damage to Vrieling's 1953 model car at $100.

Vision Was Obscured

Holland police charged Harold W. Patz, 39, of 355 River Ave., with failure to yield the right of way and driving with obscured vision after Patz collided with a car driven by Mrs. Hazel Geurink, 39, of route 5, Holland, Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the corner of 15th St. and College Ave. Officers estimated the damage to Patz 1956 model car at $150 and the damage to Mrs. Geurink's 1953 model car at $100.

THE INDIGNITY OF IT ALL—The way it has been snowing in Holland lately, it was bound to happen sooner or later. One of the city snowplows got stuck in the snow. Victim of the indignity was Henry Slager, shown trying to shovel his way out, one of the hard-working crew which has been struggling day and night to keep Holland streets open. Snow on the ground in Holland now totals 16 inches, with drifts piled up much higher by the howling winds. And the Weather Bureau predicts more snow for the state, with heavy snow squalls in the western part—around Holland, of course. (Sentinel photo)

Feeding House Back;
Yes, It Was a Dog

The birds were happy again today at the William Jellema home at 320 South 120th Ave. The bird feeding station was back.

The Jellemas appealed Saturday to the public after it appeared that a dog had carried the feeding station away. Only clue was dog prints and from the station.

Sometimes after the Sentinel was delivered, a neighbor returned the feeding station intact to the Jellemas. His dog, a retriever, had broken loose and came home with the feeding house. It is believed the scent of the birds prompted this unusual action.

Mrs. Jellema could well understand it. Her dog had broken its chain that day too, but it didn't go bird-house hunting.

The feeding house was back in operation today at the Jellemas' back door. Later, Mr. Jellema will install it at a height safe from dogs, but not back in the tree where the birds initially regarded the snazzy feed house with suspicion.

Motorists Told,
Go at Half Speed

Seriously concerned by the city's toll of eight major accidents on Wednesday, Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today requested local motorists to cut their speed in half while streets remain in their present hazardous condition.

Any speed greater than 10 or 15 miles per hour, the chief said, is openly inviting trouble, since present conditions make it almost impossible to stop in time to avoid an accident.

Holland police have been instructed to watch carefully for motorists attempting to drive without their windshields and windows fully cleaned of snow and ice, since many of Wednesday's accidents, both major and minor, were in part due to the fact that motorists could not see. Van Hoff said.

Ottawa and Allegan County deputies report that many of the side roads in the Holland area are impassable and closed to traffic. Main highways such as US-31 and M-21, are open, deputies said, but covered with snow and ice and extremely hazardous.

Ottawa County deputies report that 136th Ave. (old US-31) is impassable north of Greenley St., a few miles north of Holland. Butternut Dr. north of Riley St. is impassable and closed to traffic, deputies said, as are 152nd, 160th and 168th Sts., north of Holland.

Allegan County deputies reported that only main arteries, such as M-40, are open in this area, with all side roads completely or nearly impassable.

Ottawa Veterans Oppose
Tampering With Funds

Members of the Ottawa County United Veterans Council announced Wednesday that they are opposed to any tampering with the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

The group notified Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his representatives in the state legislature.

The veterans said their stand was prompted by recent reports that "veteran's groups" were resigning to the liquidation of the fund, in view of the state's acute financial position.

At Convalescent Home

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Mrs. Clara Bruins, 77, of 215 South Seventh St., Grand Haven, died at 7:15 Tuesday in the Parkview Convalescent Home in Zeeland where she had been for the past six weeks.

Surviving are the brother, George Lange of Holland; one granddaughter and a grandson.

City Braces
For More
Snow, Wind

Virtually All Schools
In County Closed;
Many Roads Plugged

The worst storm of the season hit Holland today and nearly all schools outside the city were closed, and many primary roads allowed only one lane of travel. More snow squalls are predicted for today.

City schools remained open and Supt. Walter W. Scott said attendance was normal in all elementary schools. Only nine students were absent in Junior high. High school attendance ran about 90 per cent. All teachers were on hand.

Local radio stations were busy early today announcing long lists of schools which would not be open today. Some 64 schools were included in the list with strong likelihood of more. Only a few schools were in operation and those served children within walking distance.

Weather Observer Charles Steketee at Hope College said Wednesday night's blizzard was such that it was almost impossible to judge how much new snow fell. He estimated this snowfall at least three inches for a total depth on the ground of 16 inches.

This brought to 33.8 inches the amount of snow which has fallen so far in January, or a season's total of 86.3 inches. Snowfall in December totaled 40.6 inches and in November 11.9 inches. Last year, the season's snowfall through Jan. 21 totaled 45.1 inches. Snowfall was particularly heavy in February.

Mounting snow has been posing a problem in snow removal in Holland. With more and more private services pushing snow to the middle of the street in areas where the snow loader appears, engineering department personnel are hard put to care for the mounting piles. If storms continue, it is likely new policies will be adopted.

All street equipment was out at 2 a.m. today. Drifting was the biggest problem, and some plows had trouble bucking the big drifts. Sidewalk plows had a harder time. Ice under the snow caused wheels to spin.

A power failure lasting an hour and 15 minutes occurred on South Shore Dr. in the Virginia Park area Wednesday at 9:15 p.m. Areas affected were parts of Virginia and Jensen Parks and a small section of Castle Park.

Many local meetings have been postponed because of weather conditions.

No tickets were issued pending further investigation.

Charles Cooper Elected Chamber of Commerce President

Charles Cooper

Charles Cooper, president of the Holland Motor Express Co., was named president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce by the Board of Directors at its regular monthly meeting Monday night in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Cooper, who had been serving as first vice-president, will fill the unexpired term of W. H. Connor, who submitted his resignation to the board Monday night.

C. Neal Steketee, vice president and sales manager of Steketee-Van Huis Printing Co., was named Chamber first vice president. He formerly was second vice-president and Kenneth Zuverink, secretary-treasurer of the Brower Furniture Co., was elected second vice-president.

Connor stated in his resignation that he is leaving Holland because of his transfer to the New York office of the General Electric Co.

Collide at Corner

Ovid J. Cadrin, 27, of 70 West 12th St., was charged by Holland police with failure to keep an assured clear distance after he collided with the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Ruth A. Ter Haar, 28, of 370 Wildwood Ave. Friday at 9:15 p.m. at the corner of 16th St. and Central Ave. Officers estimated the damage to Cadrin's 1953 model car at $50 and the damage to Mrs. Ter Haar's 1959 model car at $120.

Charged in Accident

Mrs. Lorene Gunn, 36, of 12900 James St., was charged by Ottawa County deputies with interfering with through traffic after she collided with a car driven by Ronald L. Driesenga, 19, of 349 Maple Ave., Wednesday at 3:20 p.m. at the intersection of Eighth St. and the US-31 bypass. Deputies estimated the damage to Mrs. Gunn's 1953 model car at $95 and the damage to Driesenga's 1950 model car at $95.

Big Second Half Gives Maroons Win

KALAMAZOO (Special) — Holland Christian got its offense rolling in the second half here at the Western Michigan University fieldhouse, Friday night to down an improved University High quintet, 61-41. The win was the fourth for the Maroons compared to five defeats, while U High now has a 1-6 mark.

For two quarters the Maroon offense spluttered and actually stopped for several spells, before Christian finally started to click in the final two periods to win going away. Christian really started to move in the second half and coupled this with some excellent shooting to soundly trounce the Cubs. During the first half, Coach Earl Borr's Kazoo outfit carried the battle to the Maroons all the way and led most of the time.

Paced by Christian's one-two punch of Jim Hulst from out and Sterken from underneath, the Maroons combined two quarters of 20 and 18 points for perhaps their best sustained drive of the season. Sterken was terrific on the boards along with Vern Wedeven, particularly in the second half, to completely dominate the play. Before it was all over, Coach Art Tuls had practically cleared his bench with several reserves turning in fine performances.

Trying to beat size with speed, Borr kept fresh men shuttling back and forth during much of the first half. It paid off as they showed a polished fast break which repeatedly beat the Maroon defense or broke through it. Christian was slow and lacked fire and determination during much of the first half. Besides collecting on the fast break, the Cubs hit well from out, led by a stocky forward, Tom Brown, who accounted for all of his 12 points in the first half.

After the Maroons had taken a 3-1 lead on Vern Wedeven's jump shot, the Cubs connected on seven straight points to move ahead 8-3. Christian narrowed the count to three before Tom Vander Molen connected to move the count to 10-5. Then the locals started to connect to cash in on three foul shots and two quick baskets to take a 12-10 bulge. Brown then hit two from out to give the Cubs a 15-12 lead at the quarter.

Aided by the fast break the Cubs took their biggest lead of the tilt shortly after the period opened to widen the gap to 21-16. Wedeven and reserve center Frank Visser connected for the Maroons to knot the count at 21-21 with two minutes left. The pattern of the game continued as the Cubs again took over in a flurry to eventually leave the floor at half-time with a 25-23 advantage.

A vastly different Christian team took the floor in the second half as they stole a page from Kazoo's book. Led by Sterken and Hulst the Maroons flashed a break of their own to throw in 13 points in the first four minutes to take a 36-29 lead. The losers, with the fast tempo of the first half beginning to wear, never recovered. Although they managed to stay within striking distance for awhile, the Maroons were on the move with a 43-32 third quarter margin.

The Kazoo aggregation narrowed the bulge to 45-36 at one point early in the fourth quarter, but this was as close as they could come. With six boys breaking into the scoring column, the Maroons picked up confidence with every minute and they were a tough outfit when the game was drawing to a close. Jim Smits, along with Visser in reserve roles, also turned in fine games for the Maroons. Five of Kazoo's nine points in the final period came at the foul lane. Both Brown and Vander Molen fouled out in the last minutes.

Shooting wise Christian collected on 23 out of 66 tries for a little better than 33 per cent, while the losers were hitting on 12 out of 42 for about 28 per cent. At the foul lane, the locals cashed in on 13 out of 23 while U High hit on 17 out of 30.

Hulst pumped in 16 to lead all scorers, followed by Sterken with 14. Brown was high for Kazoo with 12.

Christian now rests during the exam week before taking on Grand Rapids Creston at Grand Rapids on Jan. 30.

Fremont Bumps Zeeland, 58-55

FREMONT (Special) — Zeeland High's basketball team found itself in a three-way tie for first place in the Kenewa League today after losing to Fremont here Friday night, 58-55.

The Chix are now tied with the Packers and Coopersville for the top spot. Each team has a 3-1 record. Coopersville defeated Sparta, 59-56.

It was Zeeland's first league loss in 15 games under Coach Paul Van Dort and came in the final 21 seconds of the game.

The Chix, after trailing for more than three-and-a-half quarters, caught the Packers with 2:30 to go and slipped ahead 54-53. Keith Hubbell made four straight free shots to put Zeeland ahead.

In the following two minutes each team made only one free shot and Zeeland held its one point lead. Then Terry Wyngarden, Fremont center, whipped in a basket with 21 seconds to go and this was followed by two free shots by Keith Visschere for the three-point margin.

Fremont led at the end of the first quarter, 21-16 and at half-time 38-31. The third quarter score favored the Packers, 49-44.

The winners worked a three-quarter court press effectively for the first three periods and did a minimum of fouling. Zeeland always managed to stay near Fremont but could never get into the lead until late in the fourth period.

Jim Boltman sank the most crowd-pleasing shot of the game with a long push shot from the center of the floor at the end of the third quarter.

Zeeland made 23 of 33 free shots and the Packers, 14 of 26. The Chix sank 16 of 52 basket tries for 31 per cent and Fremont made 22 of 73 for 30 per cent.

Wayne Schout led Zeeland with 16 points and Jack Van Dort popped 15. Wyngarden had 13 for the winners. Zeeland plays Sparta in Zeeland in a league game Friday night.

Little Dutch Take 8th Win

Holland High's reserve basketball team defeated the Grand Haven team 56-50 at the Civic Center Friday night for its eighth victory in nine starts.

Coach Bill Noyd called the game "one of the roughest this season" for the Little Dutch. Grand Haven committed 28 personal fouls and Holland, 26.

Grand Haven jumped off to a 20-16 first quarter lead with John Sluka and Doug Vander Wall each scoring seven points. Forward Ben Farabee and guard Art Dirksen paced the Little Dutch with 14 points as they came from behind in the second period to lead 36-33 at the midway mark. Holland sank 11 of 34 shots in the first half and Grand Haven, 10 of 27.

Little Maroons Win 5th Tilt

KALAMAZOO (Special) — Holland Christian's Little Maroons won their third straight game and their fourth in five starts here Friday night to down the University High reserves, 40-31 at the spacious fieldhouse court. Christian now has a 5-4 mark for the season.

Both teams opened the scoring with ease in the opening minutes with the lead changing hands repeatedly. Finally by the end of the period, the Maroons trailed 12-4. Chrihtian held the upper hand throughout much of the second period but the Cubs came back at the quarters close to take a 20-17 halftime margin.

University High opened the second half with a zone defense, but the Dutch shattered it in a hurry to take a lead immediately, which they never relinquished. By the end of the third stanza, the locals were rolling smoothly and were out in front, 32-26. The locals opened up a 10 point spread before the Cubs narrowed it to seven at one stage. The Maroons however were in command and won going away.

Balanced scoring was again the feature of the Maroon attack with Tom Bouman leading with 11, Harold Diepenhorst with nine, Paul Stegenga with eight, Dan Joldersma with five, Doug Windemuller with four and Ken Disselkoe with three. Duncan led U High with 13.

Dutch Beat Grand Haven For 6th Win

A capacity crowd for the first time in the five seasons Holland has been playing basketball in the Civic Center watched the Dutch defeat Grand Haven, 63-53 Friday night for its sixth win in nine starts.

More than 2,500 fans were on hand for the contest between the two long time foes and it turned out to be another typical Holland-Grand Haven game with plenty of tight, tension-packed play along with plenty of scrapping for the ball. A total of 40 fouls was called.

It was again Holland's superior rebounding which helped the Dutch take the upper hand along with some good shooting, especially at key points. Ed Loncki stood out for the Dutch in the rebounding department. He also had the best average of the night hitting on six of eight basket tries.

Holland made 22 of 60 shots in the game for 37 per cent while the Bucs could connect on only 17 of 70 for 24 per cent. Since their shooting was off the Bucs relied on a zone press and it did bother Holland frequently.

The Dutch had two spurts in the third quarter which helped them pull away. Trailing 35-33 with 5:26, Holland made four free shots (three by Glenn Van Wieren and one by Ted Walters) and a basket by Ed Loncki before Grand Haven tallied a free toss.

Then with 3:20 left, Holland scored four straight baskets, two by Ron Maat and one each by Jim Overbeek and Dave Wehmeyer while the Buc regulars were on the bench planning fourth period strategy and this gave Holland a 46-36 third period lead.

Grand Haven came back early in the fourth period with three straight baskets and narrowed the score to 46-42 but that was the last threat. Holland moved the score to 56-44, a 12 point spread and Coach Bob Connell chose to insert his reserves.

And the reserves came through under pressure. Burton (Red) Wiersma popped two free shots and advanced the score to 58-45, the biggest spread of the game. Holland continued to control play the rest of the time and received fine rebounding work from junior center Jack Naber. He made two baskets and should see more action as the season progresses.

The first quarter was close as the team felt each other out. Grand Haven led at the close, 13-12. Holland spurted ahead 20-15 early in the second quarter and then Grand Haven came back within two points, 22-20.

Overbeek did some popping in the closing stages of the half and hit on two quick baskets to put Holland ahead 30-23 just before Dave Foutz sank two buckets to narrow the score to 30-27 at half-time.

Loncki's work on rebounding was helped by Glenn Van Wieren, who led the Dutch with 13 points. He made three of 11 shots but added seven free shots, after missing his first foul try. Ron Maat, who sank three of nine shots and four foul tosses, had 10 points.

Gary Ten Hagen led Grand Haven with 15 points. He made four of 14 shots while Don Sullivan had 11 tallies on five of 14.

Holland had quarters from the floor of 5-12, 6-16; 5-14 and 6-18 while Grand Haven had 3-16; 6-16; and 4-21 and 4-17. The Bucs now have a 4-4 record. The Dutch made 19 of 42 free shots and Grand Haven, 19-28.

Holland doesn't play again until Jan. 27 when the Dutch entertain St. Joseph The Bears stopped Holland, 54-48 in the first meeting.

Dr. Kuyper Describes Visits To Missions on Persian Gulf

(Here is another in a series of articles prepared by Dr. Lester J. Kuyper of Western Theological Seminary who is on a year's leave of absence. This letter was written Jan. 10 from Jerusalem, Jordan.)

By Lester J. Kuyper

At the request of Dr. Barney Luben, secretary of our Board of Christian World Mission, I made a tour of the Reformed Church missions along the Persian (now Arabian) gulf. What I saw during the few days at each mission was so inspiring that I wish that everyone could have that privilege. From Cairo I took a plane to Bahrain to stay there one night and then to take a plane the next day to Muscat. The plane made one trip a week to Muscat at the south end of the gulf. This small 15-seat plane made two stops before coming to Muscat. The landing strip is between mountains and requires skillful maneuvering for landing and especially for getting altitude in leaving. The Rev. Gary De Jong and his wife with many of the mission personnel were on hand to meet me. We went through the customs formality in the open reed shelter and then I had rides in jeeps that were gifts of churches back home.

I attended many meetings ranging from little class groups to church services. The first, I recall, was a service held on the veranda of the hospital at Matrah. Here I saw about 50 men, some patients and others relatives, assembled on one veranda and almost an equal number of women gathered on another veranda. At the angle where the two verandas met, Dr. Heusinkveld stood to give the message. It was colorful for the men wore their bulky headgear and the women wore brilliantly colored dresses and capes. But more than this I was impressed with the fluency and earnestness of Dr. Heusinkveld in his speaking in which he not only held their attention, but some of the men gave answers and comments as he spoke. Here for the first time I heard Arabs pray with intensity and zeal that revealed deep sincerity, I felt.

The Sunday evening service was all English at which I spoke. Several British of the government and of business and some Indian business people and hospital staff were there. During the week morning prayers are held under the direction of Arab Christians, and services are held at hospitals for women, especially for those who come with the patients. Once a week the entire Christian community meets in a Mejlis, a place for sitting, for prayer and singing hymns. Custom requires each of us to remove our shoes or sandals. We sit on the floor around the room with brightly colored pillows for a back rest.

Here I gave a meditation which Gary De Jong translated into Arabic. After the meditation some hymns were sung and several prayers were offered. After the service we were served wafers and Hulwa, a sweet jelly-like substance that we took in our hands from a large mold. This is considered a delicacy, but because of its honey-like sweetness and rich ingredients I did not eat too much. After this we were given small cups with a little coffee in them. Those serving came back often to refill. Every time I offered to return the cup he would give me more coffee, until I was told to shake the cup to indicate enough.

Dr. Wells Thoms took me to see the leper clinic where I saw about 20 men getting medication for this dreaded disease. I saw one who had just come in with swollen lips and lumps on his hands and his eyebrows gone, and I saw one who was about ready to return home with normal appearance. These men assembled for prayer that morning and one who had been "cleansed" — to use the biblical word — gave an enthusiastic message. These men are well enough to work and they are being used around the hospital compound.

The pleading looks that these men gave Dr. Thoms as he looked into their faces were enough to move anyone of us in Holland to do all we could to help these people in the name of Christ. Another morning Jeanette Boersma, in charge of the women's hospital, took me through the maternity section. Next to each bed was a little wooden crib covered with a netting to keep flies away. Each crib had a dark bundle of sunshine. Here custom requires that the baby must wear a hood and so each head was covered. In the room there usually were relatives of the mother staying with her and preparing food for themselves and the patient. Miss Boersma wished very much that their customs would be different, but under these and other limitations, we and the capable staff have saved the lives of many babies and mothers. That morning I saw a happy father and mother leave the hospital with their "pride and joy."

Gary De Jong invited me to travel by jeep to Bikra, a station about three hours ride from Muscat. Two of the Heusinkveld boys, the servant Abood, and the two of went. We traveled up the gulf shore since the tide was out and then we drove inland to cross desert land and wadis, ravines through which waters gush after rains. Along these ravines are large date groves and other vegetation. Along the way we pay our respects to the local sheikh, which means having tea, canned pineapple and hulwa. After this we have small coffee and I shake the cup after the second serving. We drive in to a tribe along the way to tell them that tomorrow we shall return to buy some chickens. Finally we come to Bikra, a small village, where the mission compound had recently been repaired. The wall of the compound and the three cabins in it were built with date palm reeds. Within the compound Missionary Dirk Dykstra had planted trees which now gave pleasant shade. Here we unpacked and "camped" for that day and night.

That afternoon Gary drove inland about an hour to call on a Christian living in Afi. We came to the border of the mountainous region in which tribes were having "shooting affairs" with the British. After we had visited our Christian friend and had enjoyed his tea, we returned to the jeep to find it under guard. They demanded a permit from the British commander which we did not have. Consequently they threatened to hold us in custody until such permit could be obtained. I could see and hear that Gary was doing same fast talking to get out of that jam. They finally agreed to let us go provided that a letter from Col. Maxwell, the head of the British unit, would be at Afi in five days. If that did not happen, they would put our Christian friend in jail. Well, the next day as soon as we arrived at Matrah Gary called on Col. Maxwell who dispatched a messenger on camel back to Afi to explain the situation to the guards there. And so I trust our Christian friend did not go to jail.

Our friend at Afi gave us a bag of fresh dates, and we stopped at that village for chickens and it was most interesting to see women coming from all directions bringing small hens. After bargaining for the first one, Gary had set the market for the day and then bought three more. All seemed pleased except the women who were still holding their poultry. I could write about other interesting experiences, such as the Mission's picnic on the beach of the Gulf where we had a swim in the salty water in December. Most of all, I shall remember the genuine Christian fellowship of that group, and their compassionate and personal interest in the Arabs at Muscat and Matrah. I will write later of my experiences in Bahrain and Kuwait.

Allegan Roads Claim 21 Lives

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan county's 1958 traffic death toll followed the national down-trend, but highway accidents still claimed 21 lives in the county, according to Sheriff Walter Runkel's annual report.

His office investigated an even 300 traffic mishaps during the year, 232 involving property damage only and 68 in which one or more persons were injured.

Once again, July and August, November and December were the danger months for Allegan drivers. Nine other fatalities were investigated by the department in 1958, including one tractor accident, three who died in fires, three drownings and two suicides.

The county's crime rate climbed slightly with 907 arrests resulting from investigation of 2,278 complaints. Of the 841 persons jailed during the year, 692 were males, 149 females.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Taxes

"Michigan's Tax Dilemma" was the subject of Clarence Lock's address before the Rotary Club Thursday at the Warm Field Tavern.

Lock is deputy commissioner of the Department of Revenue, a veteran of 17 years in that department which handles about 100 million dollars yearly of Michigan's tax funds. In that position, he explained, he is not concerned with politics nor policies. His work solely is to see that the taxes set by law are collected.

The state truly is in a financial dilemma for in the last year it has shifted from a 7 million surplus to a 21 million deficit, he said. Actually it is a 49 million shortage for 28 millions of liquor inventory and bond reserves have been used up also.

The statement often is made, he went on, that the government could economize. Actually, the whole cost of running the government machinery takes only 4 to 5 per cent of the state's income. This takes in the executive, legislative, judicial and the various administrative agencies.

Forty-seven per cent goes for mental health and higher education, the speaker said. These together with welfare and public health take 75 of the total. So if major savings are to be made, they must be made in these fields of public service.

The speaker told of the organization of the Citizens Advisory Tax Commission. Their report, recently released, recommends several major changes in the state's tax structure, including graduated income taxes on personal incomes and a corporation income tax.

Elimination of several present taxes is also recommended. In short, the commission's program would raise $80 million in new taxes, do away with 252 million in present levies, giving Michigan 138 million in additional funds. Two basic ideas are followed in the program: putting more tax load on the middle and higher personal incomes, giving relief to business by shifting its taxes to those on low incomes.

Sen. Clyde Geerlings arranged for the speaker to come to Holland.

WINTER SCENE—A scene familiar to most local residents and many visitors is this view south toward Pine Creek Bay from the bridge over Pine Creek on Ottawa Beach Rd. Heavy recent snows have added to its charm, dressing the landscape in a soft white gown. In the background, out on the bay, can be seen some of the many fishing shanties which dot the lake. Local fishermen report the fishing lately has been spotty, with large catches in one place and nothing at other spots. (Sentinel photo)

EVEN WITH THE BOARD

You can rest easy from now on. As one of Uncle Sam's 175,000,000 citizens, you are even with the board. You may not have a superabundance of cash in your jeans or a loaded account in the bank, but, technically at least, you are solvent.

The House Committee on Government Operations is informing a population worried about the climbing national debt, that Uncle Sam owns about as much property as he has debt. As of June 30 the debt stood at $276 billion while the market value of Uncle Sam's property in land, buildings and other things all over the world was $262 billion. There is of course in those figures a minus balance of $14 billion, and $14 billion is not exactly alalfa hay in any man's language, even in that of such a financial wizard as Uncle Sam.

And yet, what's a mere $14 billion? Property is not mere cash. Any reasonably smart statistician can easily manipulate his figures in such a way that the $262 billion not only catches up with the $276 billion but gets way ahead of it.

On a personal basis the figures of the House Committee on Government Operations are still more heartening. We are informed that "262 billion dollars come to about $1.493 for each man, woman and child in the country."

Therefore take heart. You own $1.493 even if you are only a three months old child. It's a little sobering to reflect that even if you're 90 and have been scratching gravel all your life, you still don't own more in the government's statistical wealth than the babe in arms. But that's the nature of statistics.

Also sobering is the fact that you have almost exactly as much debt as you own in statistics. And like the character in "Alice in Wonderland," you have to keep on running faster than you can if you are merely to succeed in staying where you are in the race of life.

And if you're going to get the comfort out of the report that the House Committee on Government Operations was aiming to impart, you must above all not look the statistics too closely in the mouth.

For the sake of your peace of mind forget that a few of the people own a billion of those dollars, and many own some millions, to say nothing of still others in the hundred thousand bracket. If you look too closely you will be driven to the conclusion that this fact could inevitably cut into your little wad of $1.493.

But just don't think about that. Just enjoy the heartening news that statistically speaking, you own as much in Uncle Sam's corporation as you owe. Don't worry until Congress unbalances that balance the next time it raises the national debt limit.

Remember our population continues to increase. Everyone could give some thought to saving our tax dollars by reducing the waste. This we think is the number one project. So write your elected officials, mail the Sentinel a copy for publication 300 words. Please be sure to sign your name and address.

Jesus Reveals His Authority
Matthew 21: 12-13; 12:23-27
By C. P. Dame
(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)
Many people resent all authority. Far too many people want to do just as they please and make their own decisions. The refusal to accept proper authority leads to much trouble, unhappiness, and frustration. In this lesson we are taught that Jesus has authority over our lives. He has the right to command us.

I. A holy indignation ought to express itself in action. Jesus delighted to be in a synagogue and in the temple. On Palm Sunday Jesus had come to Jerusalem and went into the temple. Great crowds had accompanied Jesus as he rode into Jerusalem on that memorable Sunday. When the Lord looked around in the temple he saw things there that stirred his soul. One temple area looked like a carnival. In the Court of Gentiles money changers were busy exchanging foreign coins for Jewish coins which only were acceptable in the Temple. For this service they charged as much as thirteen or fourteen percent. Animals were bought and sold for sacrificial purposes. The confusion was terrible. On Monday Jesus returned to the temple and drove out "all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves."

This traffic was supposedly carried on for the convenience of the worshippers. However the religious leaders got rich from it and became angry at Jesus for his interference. Jesus told the traders that they had made the Temple into a den of thieves. It was meant to be a house of prayer. They stole and cheated and grafted in God's House. The Lord objected to the misuse of God's House and stopped it. Often men take the finest things in life and turn them into the worst. How easily the best may become the worst before it is realized! Is there anything in our church to which Jesus objects?

II. Jesus claims to have authority. Jesus cleansed the temple on Monday. On Tuesday a committee of the Sanhedrin came to see Jesus and asked him as he was teaching in the temple the question: "By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?" The words, "these things" refer to the miracles which Jesus had performed but especially to the cleansing of the temple.

The Sanhedrin believed that it had the authority to teach and regulate the temple affairs and they looked upon Jesus as an intruder. Jesus replied to these questioners by asking them a question about the baptism of John—"was that from heaven, that is from God, or from men. The Lord wanted to know whether they acknowledged God's new revelation through John before he was ready to speak to them about the revelation God was making through him."

The religious leaders faced a dilemma. If they would acknowledge that the baptism of John was from God then they felt Jesus would ask them why they did not believe on John. If however they would say that the baptism of John was of men they feared the people who held John in high esteem. They declined to answer and hence got no answer from Jesus. We all face Jesus who claims authority over us all. What is our attitude towards this claim? Those who acknowledge that Jesus has authority over their lives should commit themselves to him. Many people in this day submit themselves to the crowd and recognize its authority. Wise indeed are the people, the homes, the communities, the nations that obey the commands of Jesus and worship him as their Lord.

'Seidman and Son' Proves Happy Selection for Review

A warm intensely human story told in a humorous vein delighted members of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Bastian Kruthof reviewed the book, "Seidman and Son" by Elick Moll.

Mrs. Kruthof, no stranger to the club, told the members she had intended to report on Dr. Zhivago by Boris Pasternak, but decided on the more human story for her review.

Using the first person, Mrs. Kruthof told the story of Seidman to a writer as it was happening. From the beginning of his work in the garment business, the problem of bringing up a son and daughter in this modern age with all the problems facing parents and people, Seidman took a practical stand in all things.

Harold Seidman grew up as a normal boy, going to school and wanting a dog, "so he wouldn't grow up to be a problem adolescent," Mrs. Kruthof said later.

He was reported missing in action with all the heartache and worry it caused his parents. He returned with some unusual ideas of "social conscience" and upon being questioned even admitted being slightly "pink."

A humorous incident concerned Father Seidman finding a picture of Kim Sung, Harold's adopted Korean orphan with a letter signed "Your Family." Putting two and two together the elder Seidman imagined it to be another "Madam Butterfly."

After disillusionment about publishing a book of collected short stories, Harold left home to work his way to the west coast. With the misunderstanding about Kim Sung straightened out by Marie, a model, the elder Seidman published the book anyway and it is reviewed.

Harold Reads the reviews and after a phone call home decides to come back and work with his father to "build up" and not tear down the social structure. The happiest day is when the firm becomes "Seidman and Son."

Mrs. Clarence J. Becker, club president, announced a public affairs meeting for Tuesday Jan. 27. Coffee and dessert will be served at 1 p.m. At 1:15 p.m. Prosecutor James W. Bussard of Grand Haven will speak on "Government on the County Level."

Request Detention Home for Allegan

ALLEGAN (Special)—In his annual report to the board of supervisors, County Superintendent of Schools G. Ray Sturgis added his support to Probate Judge Harold Weston's long standing appeal for county juvenile detention facilities.

Sturgis said the county is in serious need of an institution to care for delinquents who become wards of the probate court.

In the last quarter of 1958 alone, Sturgis said that Truant Officer Robert Whitcomb investigated 42 cases of truancy. Warrants were issued for four parents and in three other cases the children were petitioned into probate court and became wards of the court.

Sturgis said "we find that most of our cases of delinquents come from homes where the parents themselves have been in trouble with the law. Too many mothers are working in factories and the children lack parental control."

Oilers Wallop Tigers, 89-61

ZEELAND (Special) — More than 1,500 fans watched Al Kaline, Billy Hoelt, Reno Bertoia and Hank Aguirre play basketball in Zeeland gym Saturday night but were convinced that baseball is the sport for this quartet.

The fans enjoyed seeing the baseball stars and found them accommodating prior to and after the game to sign autographs and answer baseball questions. The youngsters were allowed to go into the locker room before the game for autographs.

But as for basketball, it was the Oilers, playing probably their best game of the season, who showed how it was done. They won easily, 89-61 for their ninth win in 12 starts.

Kaline played briefly, starting the game and then coming in later for a couple minutes at a time. He made two baskets, the final two-pointers in the last 10 seconds, and the other baseball players each made one basket.

The Tigers, who were organized two years ago as a basketball group, have Walt Godfrey, former Michigan State star as the top player. He sank 18 points while Jim Hool, formerly of Assumption University, made 17.

Strong rebounding by Dean Vander Wal, Jim Kaat, Carl Edevaards and Ken Scholten was too much for the Tigers. The Oilers dominated play throughout and Scholten, playing his best game, snagged most of the rebounds.

Vander Wal scored 11 points in the first and led the Oilers to a 24-10 lead. He made 20 points in the game but received a sprained ankle blocking Kaline's shot with nine minutes left in the fourth quarter and will be out for three weeks.

Dave Kempker, who followed Vander Wal with 19, pumped 11 points in the second quarter to build the lead to 47-21 at halftime. Hool and Godfrey each hit well in the third quarter and the Tigers outscored the Oilers, 27 to 14 to narrow the margin to 61-48 at the third period's close. The Oilers broke loose for 28 more points in the final quarter.

The guards turned in some fine outcourt shooting for the Oilers. Besides Kempker's 19, Ron Yunkamp added 11 and Tiger Teusink, 7 for a 37-point total. Kaat had 14 points, Edevaards 10 and Scholten, 8.

The next home game for the Oilers will be Sat. Jan. 31 against the Vander Weide Plumbers of Grand Rapids. The Plumbers have a 2-1 season's edge on the Oilers with each game decided by two or three points. The Oilers will play the Detroit Lions in Zeeland Sat. Feb. 14 and this Saturday play Grand Haven in Muskegon.

Hope JVs Stop Texaco

Hope led at halftime, 44-43. The Dutch now have a 5-1 record. Ek Buys had his best night of the season with 32 points. Ron Vander Werf followed with 12 and Ron Vander Molen picked up 11. Rich Clarke popped 10 while Ron Rohe had nine. Jerry Hesslink made four, Jim Hesslink, three and Sharky Vander Woude, two.

Kaline Predicts He Will Have Best Year

Al Kaline, looking out of place in a basketball suit, talked on his favorite subject prior to playing an exhibition game in Zeeland Saturday night and predicted he would have his best year in baseball.

"I expect my best year in baseball," Kaline said. "With Eddie Yost leading off and Harvey Kuenn batting second, I should drive in a lot more runs. Both of them get on base often, Yost with walks and Kuenn with base hits," the Tiger star said.

Looking ahead to the Tigers chances this season, Kaline felt that "we should have a pretty good chance after those trades. The relief pitching will be a big factor again and we'll have to start winning games in the spring," the Tiger rightfielder remarked.

He thought the relief pitching helped a lot in '58 and that the Tigers did better than they were expected to do.

Kaline commented briefly on Jack Tighe and Bill Norman as managers. Tighe, who benched Kaline for a couple days last year, was rapped by the Tiger star.

The two men carried the unconscious youth to the John Koster home nearby where a son Jack, Grand Haven policeman, administered artificial respiration until the Barber ambulance arrived with the use of oxygen.

HISTORIC LETTERS — Acting postmaster Ken Scripsma points at one of the rare early letters to be found in a display being featured this month in the lobby of the Holland Post Office. The collection of letters, dating back to around 1850, is owned by Ray Vande Vusse, of 311 River Ave., and is insured for $2,000. As shown by the specimens, the local post office, in its early days, was identified as "Black River, Mich." (Sentinel photo)

Local Post Office Features Display of Historic Letters

There is a display being featured all this month in the Holland Post Office which recalls the days before postage stamps were introduced here and the post office was known as "Black River, Mich."

The display is the property of Ray Vande Vusse, of 311 River Ave., and features letters mailed through the local post office from around 1850 through 1903. It is insured for $2,000.

The first letter on exhibit is interesting since it was sent and signed by the first local postmaster, Henry D. Post. He took advantage of the franking privileges of the postmaster by writing "Free-H. D. Post" in the upper right-hand corner.

The local Post Office at that time was identified as "Black River, Mich.," although the settlement was known as Holland. The explanation for this is that there already was a "Holland" post office, located at a settlement near Kalamazoo, and the local office was not called Holland until May 11, 1851, after the other Holland office had closed.

The first post office was opened here on Feb. 9, 1848, in a building on a site now occupied by Rutgers Mens Store, at 8 West Eighth St.

In another relic dated 1852, Post sent a letter — "free" again — to the "Hon. Augustus W. Taylor" of Crockery, a man who served as county superintendent of schools from 1867 to 1869. The accompanying text says the letter was no doubt carried by one Keesje Vander Hook, who bore the mails faithfully through the country areas for many years.

A letter mailed from here in 1853 shows the first use of a hand stamp, probably locally made. Another dated 1861 shows the letters still being hand-stamped "Paid - 3" even though the United States had been issuing postage stamps since 1847.

It was not until 1863 that a letter showed up with a postage stamp upon it, although local authorities are wondering if there are any earlier examples around the city.

Another entry in the display shows a letter dated 1897, which was to be delivered locally and required only a one-cent stamp. A specimen dated 1903 shows the earliest known local use of a stamp-cancelling machine.

Dog Believed Culprit In Missing Feed House

A fancy new bird feeding house is missing at the William Jellema home at 320 South 120th Ave. and the Jellemas believe the culprit is a dog.

The Jellemas have had the feeding house since Christmas. It was a fancy outfit with glass windows. But the birds seemed suspicious of the thing when Mr. Jellema installed it in a tree. Then he put it on the ground under the tree and scattered feed around it. The birds adopted it as their own.

But this morning, the feeding house was missing. A trail of dog prints leads to the spot and away from the spot. If your dog hauls home a fancy feeding station, the Jellemas would appreciate a call.

The birds? Yes, they were present today, but no dinner...

Three Seek Sixth Ward Council Post

Lee De Pree is Third Candidate; Primary Set In City for Feb. 16

An announcement by Lee De Pree late Friday that he would be a candidate for sixth ward councilman assures a primary election in at least one ward in Holland city on Feb. 16. De Pree, who resides at 800 Columbia Ave., is owner of the Lee De Pree Piano Co.

As the political picture shapes up today, the sixth ward is the only one thus far to have enough candidates to warrant a primary election. Previously Richard Smith, Jr., of 252 East 24th St., and Stuart Padnos, of 53 East 30th St., were listed as candidates. De Pree lives in the Maplewood area which annexed to Holland last June 3 and Smith lives in the Apple Ave. district which annexed at the same time. The sixth ward with its four precincts covers a large area.

According to Holland charter, a primary election is held in the spring only when the candidates exceed twice the number of open positions. The charter provides for each ward to nominate its own candidates in a primary (in this case reducing the number to two) and the entire city votes on candidates in all wards in the April election.

Two years ago, there were six candidates for first ward councilman. The ward designated two candidates in the primary and the entire city voted in the April election.

So far, the slate shapes up as follows, incumbents designated:

Mayor—Robert Visscher (), Councilman-at-large—Raymond Holwerda ().

Councilman, second ward—Henry Steffens (*).

Councilman, fourth ward—John Beltman (*) and Harold Volkema.

Councilman, sixth ward—Stuart Padnos, Richard Smith, Jr., and Lee De Pree. Incumbent Robert Kouw has said he was not seeking reelection.

Municipal Judge—Cornelius vander Meulen (*).

Associate Municipal Judge—John Galien. Incumbent Fred T. Miles has indicated he was not seeking reelection.

Monday marks the last day for registering for the Feb. 16 primaries. As a special accommodation, City Clerk Clarence Grevenog's office in City Hall will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Qualifications for voters are 21 years of age, six months resident of Michigan, resident of city 30 days prior to election.

SNOW HAS BEAUTY, TOO — Holland area motorists are apt to take a dim view of the beauties of snow, particularly at this time of the year after a heavy three-day fall, but scenes like the one above compensate for much of the discomfort and annoyances. There is something soothing and peaceful in watching a stream gurgle placidly on its course, unmindful of the snow which covered the land and bowed the trees down with its weight. (Sentinel photo)

Civic Music Association Campaign Launched Here

Holland's 6th annual membership campaign for the 1959-60 season of the Holland Civic Music Association got off to a fine start at a kickoff dinner Monday night in the terrace dining room in Durfee Hall on Hope campus.

About 115 officers, directors and volunteer workers were present. Dr. Morrette Rider, association president, introduced officers and divisional chairmen. He read Mayor Robert Visscher's proclamation of Civic Music Week. Supplies were distributed and campaign techniques were explained. Gerrit Dykman gave the invocation.

Arthur C. Hills, past president, gave a pep talk pointing to the need of entertainment and enlightenment for the inner self in these days of Sputnik and space missiles. He said there is no better way of obtaining inner satisfaction than by attending the fine concerts offered through the Civic Music Association.

President Rider called attention to the check lists which are to be returned with membership fees listing preferences in talent next season. These ballots are carefully considered in making up next season's artists.

Dr. Rider emphasized that no single admissions are sold for any concerts. In Civic Music Association, admissions are by membership only. Reciprocal arrangements with other cities having Civic Music Associations allow members to attend Civic Music concerts any place in the entire country.

Speaking briefly on campaign techniques were Mrs. Grace L. Ruth and Byron Goode, field representatives for Civic Concert Service of New York. The two representatives will be in Holland all week to assist in the campaign which closes Saturday. Campaign headquarters are in the green room of Civic Center where telephones have been set up for numbers EX-6-8447 and EX-6-7154.

Workers are asked to keep in touch with their division chairman on progress of memberships.

Kaat will work out with the Senators in Orlando, Fla., and if he fails to make the club, he will be assigned to Charlotte. The Charlotte training starts later than Washington.

Miss Iturbi, Symphonette Enthusiastically Received

A well balanced program which included many familiar concert masterpieces was presented by the National Artist's Symphonette with Amparo Iturbi as piano soloist Tuesday night in Civic Center. It was the fourth in a series of six concerts for the Holland Civic Music Association.

From the first selection, the hauntingly beautiful "Water Music" by Handel, to the final encore, the program proved exceptionally entertaining. Highlights were Miss Iturbi's appearances, first in the Edward Grieg "Concerto in A Minor" and then in the contemporary "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin.

Contrasting numbers included the gentle "Siegfried Idyll," Richard Wagner, three selections by the woodwind quartet and the popular "March of the Little Lead Soldiers," Pierre.

Conductor William Haaker, who organized the symphonette composed of 13 first-chair musicians, appeared at ease as he led the spotlight musicians through the intricacies of concert and chamber works. Now in his late 30's, he conducted a symphony orchestra for the first time at 16 as the protégé of Jose Iturbi, brother of Amparo Iturbi.

Tuesday's program had something to please all music lovers. For those who like elaborate full-bodied works, the Grieg concerto and Gershwin's Rhapsody provided the desired pace and rolling volume. The Handel "Water Music" was just the right touch for the serene type. This selection is acclaimed by many as Handel's first orchestral composition.

The woodwind quintet demonstrated still other moods of chamber music and the Lead Soldiers march, played by another combination of the players, provided the marching rhythm and humorous touch particularly popular with children.

In her piano selections, Miss Iturbi dominated the scene to just the right degree, although it was evident she could do equally well with a 100-piece symphony as background.

Members of the Civic Music Association had an opportunity to renew their memberships during the intermission. The membership drive in Holland for next season will close Saturday. Tuesday's attendance was a little under normal, due no doubt to a heavy snowstorm.

David Hondorp, local student at Western Theological Seminary, told of his experiences and showed slides of his work at Haarlem in New York while he was serving a year of internship at the Elmdorff Reformed Church.

The business meeting was in charge of Gordon Veurink. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kruihof and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon De Waard. The Rev. Henry A. Mouw closed the meeting with prayer.

FAVORS FOR HOSPITAL — Mrs. Donald Boes (right) places a Michigan Day favor on a patient's tray at Holland Hospital as Fred Burd, hospital director, looks on. The favors were made by the Ida Sears McLean Committee of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and will appear on all hospital trays Jan. 26. Other civic projects of this committee have included the purchase of American flags for the Civic Center and for the public schools and sponsoring a high school student at Wolverine Girls' State each year. Hudsonville Residents Report Plane in Distress — HUDSONVILLE — An airplane was believed in distress in the Hudsonville area Tuesday night. Residents reported a low flying plane circling the area, but it flew away after a few minutes and was not heard from after that.

State police in Lansing were also alerted early today to help a pilot who circled that area for several hours in a light plane. The small craft flew away and authorities said they did not know whether the plane had landed at a nearby airport.
