Widow Of Dr. Vander Veen Passes Away

WAVES LANTERN FROM HOUSE TOP TO TELL DO-CTOR HUSBAND PA-TIENTS WERE WAITING

Was Eldest Daughter of Manley D.
Howard, Attorney and Founder of Grace Episcopal Church.

A host of Holland friends and relatives were gathered to hear of the death of Mrs. Kate E. Vander Veen of Grand Haven, one of that city's oldest residents.

Mrs. Vander Veen is almost as well known in Holland as she was in Grand Haven, since her father was the late Manley D. Howard, a pioneer attorney here and founder of Grace Episcopal church when that denomination built a modest church on Pine avenue and Eleventh street, which later was burned.

The deceased was born in Ann Arbor 84 years ago. When six years old her parents, the late Manley D. and Sarah B. Howard, moved to Holland, where the father continued his law practice and had extensive business interests.
He bought practically all the land on the north side of Black lake, now Beechwood, and beyond. The Dr. Vander Veen estate, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dunton still own a large part of the north side property. The Howards, Henry D.
Posts, Heber Walsh, and E. Herold families were the only four prominent American families living in Holland at that time, and Mr. Post was the first postmaster.

Miss Howard married Dr. Arend Vander Veen then also of Holland.
He was a brother of the late E.
Vander Veen, founder of the first hardware and locksmith establishment in this city and in later years conducted by his son, John.

Finally it came to be Corner Hardware, conducted by Dick Van Tatenhove.

Shortly after the Civil war when Dr. Vander Veen returned after four years of active service as a surgeon, they were married in Holland and went to Grand Haven to live. Two years later they built the present home on Washington street and Mrs. Vander Veen has lived there for 59 years.

As a young and beautiful woman she took her place there as a leader in social and club life. She was gifted with a fine soprano voice and for seventeen years sang in the choir of the Presbyterian church, Grand Haven. She was a member of a well-known church and Sunday school, and was a member of the Grand Haven Woman's club and an honorary member of the Tuesday Musicals and St. Margaret's guild of St. John's Episcopal church of which she had been a member for many years, attending regularly up until the time when her failing health no longer permitted it.

For many years the brick Vander Veen home on the hill, a palace in its day, was one of the centers of entertaining at the country seat. Mrs. Vander Veen taking an active part in the social life of the city; her spacious home, one of the finest in Grand Haven, offering a delightful place for guests.

Having a gift for language, Mrs.
Vander Veen early learned to speak the Dutch language and was a great help to her husband in the early days, when many in Ottawa county could not speak English. She frequently told of the hardships of the early days and the devotion of her husband to his profession.

Other of the family well known in Holland are a daughter, Mrs.
Charles Floyd, who lived on East Thirteenth street for a number of years, her husband being head of the Holland interurban at one time.
Also Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dunton, who reside at Ottawa Beach and Grand Rapids.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Kate E. Vander Veen were held Tuesday at the home at 1:30 p. m. and at St. John's Episcopal church at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Everett Moore conducted the service at the home, and Rev. Henry A. Hanson and Dr. James E. Wilkinson officiated at the church and Lake Forest cemetery where the deceased was laid beside the body of her husband, the late Dr. Arend Vander Veen, who died in that city five years ago.

Mrs. Otto Koch sang "Crossing the Bar," "Now Labor's Task Is Over" and "Thou Knowest, Lord, Our Woes and Sorrows." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Soule.
The pallbearers were: Rugee White, Voigt Perkins and Howard Sherman from Grand Rapids and Eugene Harbeck, Julian Hatten and Edward Soule of Grand Haven.

The services were largely attended with the following friends and relatives from Holland. Alderman and Mrs. Albert Van Zeeren, Stuart Boyd and Mrs. Annie Van Zanten, Holland; Mr. and Mrs.
Charles A. Floyd, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Floyd, Jr., of Detroit, formerly of Holland, arrived earlier in the week.

There was a score of relatives from Grand Rapids and several friends from abroad. It will be remembered that Mrs. Vander Veen this summer lost her younger sister, Mrs. Gregory Luke, whose husband was one-time head of the Luce Furniture company. For more than thirty years this family had made their home in Mobile, Alabama, where this beautiful Holland woman had won social prominence in the southland. She was Miss Sadie Howard as a girl.

DEADLINE FOR SIGNING BEET PAPERS FEB. 9

Michigan sugar beet farmers were advised Wednesday that Feb.
9 has been set as the closing date for signing production adjustment contracts by the farm administration. Indiana growers were given an extension to February 16.

WHALE HOLDS DEEP DIVING RECORD

The ability of the whale to dive to depths of a mile or more and come up none the worse for its journey through areas of varying water pressure is attributed by scientists to a special chemical reaction in the blood of these sea monsters.

3,000 ARRESTS AND 3,000 CONVICTIONS

Michigan conservation officers during 1934 made more than 3,000 arrests and obtained more than 3,000 convictions for violations of conservation laws.

If this number constitutes a fair estimate of the number of violations taking place in the entire state, then the violator is on the wane and self-enforced conservation is just around the corner.

COAL FOUND IN STATE OVER 100 YEARS AGO

The earliest production of coal in Michigan occurred in the Jackson district in 1835, according to the Geology Division of the Department of Conservation. Three years later coal was produced in the vicinity of Grand Lodge. Many of the coal deposits found in the State since that time were uncovered during the drilling of salt wells.

AS TO GRAPE CROPS

The Southern Michigan Fruit association of Lawton did not by any means handle all VanBuren grapes but did well to amount of $208,210. The New York crop was smallest since 1921 but amounted to $669,175. It was in California that the biggest crop was produced. It sold for thirty-four million dollars.

the files of the Holland City News of some years ago fits well into this story. The article was published at the death of Mr. Vander veen on March 14, 1930, when he was 89 years old.

Dr. Vander Veen was born in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, of sturdy Dutch stock and came to this country with his parents with the Dr. Van Raalte colony to Holland in 1847. He was one of the first graduates of Hope college and in a class of eleven was the only young man who did not follow the ministry. Instead he began the study of medicine under the tutelage of a physician and when the Civil war broke out, he answered Lincoln's call, enlisting as a private in the Eighth Michigan Infantry.
This was known as the "wandering regiment" because of its service in all parts of the South. He was known as the "kid" surgeon on the Ninth Army corps. He is credited with being in 18 of the hardest battles of the Civil war, including Antietam, Fredericksburg, The Wilderness and the second battle of Bull Run.

Dr. Vander Veen was one of the few living in recent years who heard the court martial of the conspirators of Lincoln and who witnessed the hanging of the notorious quartet, Herold, Mrs. Suratt, Atzerodt and Payne, in the capitol prison yard. John Wilkes Booth, the real assassin, had already been killed while hiding in a barn. In a diary which he kept he described the tragic recovery of the body of Mrs. Suratt by her daughter. His opportunity to see this execution resulted from the fact that he was sent to Washington to do guard duty.

After his discharge he attended the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York City and from there came with his bride, Miss Kate Howard of Holland, daughter of the late Manley D. Howard, founder of Grace Episcopal church of this city. The Howard home was just east of where the North Side Tannery is now located. After their marriage the Vander Veen moved to Grand Haven. Dr.
Vander Veen is credited with having saved the life of Stuart Edward White, noted writer, and son of the late T. Stuart White, millionaire lumberman.

Mr. Vander Veen was also an able surgeon, having gained much knowledge and experience on the battle fields during the Civil war when anesthesia was unknown and when an operation meant real skill because of the trying conditions and crude instruments available.
Then the operations were mostly major because of the terrible wounds and when patients were bound to crude tables because either as a medical and surgical blessing had not yet been discovered.

After the Civil war, Mr. Vander Veen settled in Grand Haven and his skill as a maternity doctor was also added to his already enviable reputation along other lines in the medical profession, in fact he is credited with having brought 4,000 babies into the world.

Rather an interesting sidelight in the doctor's practice was before the days of the telephone. Those who knew the large brick house on Washington avenue, Grand Haven, will remember that it has a glass cupola on the very top of many of the better houses were built in the early days. Mrs. Vander Veen, who has just passed away, at that time recalled how she used to mount to the little tower of their home and signal with a lantern when the doctor had been sent for on an emergency call, and a man would be dispatched to notify the doctor where he was wanted. Dr.
Vander Veen is one of the few who have never owned an automobile, preferring his old cream-colored horse to the new invention, even after it had been perfected.

Home Furnace Now Has Becker As Manager

JAMES DE YOUNG, THE HEAD FOR A SCORE YEARS
REMAINS WITH COMPANY

The Holland City News has been aware for some months that reorganization was taking place in the matrimonial staff of this city, although the matter was held in abeyance and no publicity was given until arrangements were fully perfected.

Mr. James De Young, repeatedly mayor of Holland, and present head of the board of public works, who has conducted the enterprise for a score of years, and that very successfully, wished to retire from the active connection of the Home Furnace company and the board of directors interested Mr. C. E. Becker of Grand Rapids, a veteran in the furnace business, to become the manager of the local heating plant.

Mr. Becker is a home boy, born in this city and is thoroughly acquainted with the furnace business, and he has accepted the position of directing the future destiny of the
"Home."

The local institution was organized in 1916 by Holland citizens and has manufactured a furnace that has merited an enviable reputation for quality. The institution has successfully passed through the recent years of depression under the able and careful management of James De Young, whose efforts have maintained the business on a sound financial basis.

A program of expansion is being planned by the local furnace company, which, in addition to the manufacture of its present well-known line, will include the latest and most modern home heating and air conditioning products and equipment.

Mr. Becker started in the furnace "game" as a youth, and not only is he acquainted with the manufacturing end, but has exceptional ability as a salesman and as an educator of prospective salesmen who contact the general public for heating units.

Mr. Becker has devoted his time during the past year to experimental and research work in the heating and air-conditioning field.

The office of the company are gratified in securing a manager with such a wealth of experience and are enthusiastic over the prospects of the future growth and continued prosperity of the business.

Chris Becker comes from a family of manufacturers. In the early days his father was the owner of the tallest building in the city, a large white flour mill on the site of the Holland Co-operative association property on East Seventh street. It was the center of activity for farmers and some of the old horse stalls still remain.

Some twenty-five years ago the wooden structure was burned, and believe us, it was some fire. It was at that time conducted by a local company and the Weurding mills was built on the site.

The Beckers were a family of millers, John and Elias successfully conducting flour mills in different parts of Michigan. Chris has been very successful in the heating enterprise, and is a recognized authority in this line.

Mr. James De Young, prominent citizen for a number of years, will not sever his connections altogether, but will remain on the board of directors and co-operate with the new management.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Becker called the entire force of the factory together, gave them an inspiring talk and asked them for their fullest co-operation in putting the Home Furnace company over. The men in the shop, the men and women in the office staff greeted the new manager with enthusiasm and an hour was set aside for reception, in which refreshments were also a part of the program.

The officers of the company are:
President, John Y. Huizenga; vice president, Attorney Daniel Ten Cate; secretary and treasurer, James De Young. These, together with the following directors, will constitute the board: E. P. Stephan, William Arendshorst, Dr.
De Vries, Henry Luidens, Otto P.
Kramer and Marinus Westraite.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jacobusse of 320 West Seventeenth street, recently moved to 304 West Seventeenth street.

Couple Pass Away Almost At Same Time

WIFE DIES; HUSBAND FOL-LWS THREE DAYS LATER

A week ago the Holland City News chronicled the death of Mrs.
Anthony Wiersma at her home in Berwyn, Illinois, and stated that Mrs. Wiersma was formerly Miss Reka Vee Beek of Holland, and for several years a much-loved teacher in the Holland schools.

Today the information comes that the husband "Tony" Wiersma, also a Holland man, died three days after the death of Mrs. Wiersma, the date being January 17, with funeral services held in Berwyn, Illinois, on January 19.

Mr. Wiersma was ill at the time of his wife's illness and the shock of her passing and the setting in of pneumonia resulted in his sudden death.

The Verbeke family once owned and lived for many years in the Van Schelven homestead on River avenue and Thirteenth street. Mr.
Wiersma as a boy, lived on West Ninth street just east of the old E. Vander Veen homestead.

Mr. Wiersma was once assistant postmaster for Postmaster William Ver Beek when the postoffice was located on the south side of Eighth street in a frame building just west of Charter's barber shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiersma leave two sons, Harry of Knoxville, Tenn., and Theodore of Pontiac, and three daughters, Florence of Riverside, Illinois; Josephine of Brookfield, Illinois; and Dorothy of Walnut Park, California.

CARP NETS ARE DIPPING AGAIN TODAY

When these nets are drawn then the commotion in the center of the net, indicated in the picture, means a solid mass of fish both game and the noxious kind. Such fish as carp, dog fish, sheephead, bill fish, etc., are mixed with the good fish.

This year has been the poorest poor fish netting since carp fishing began. It formerly was tons; today it is 75 pounds in one catch.
Maybe the bad fish are all caught —who knows. Anyway the carp have been the Holland Fish Game club's "gold fish" for several years.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A distressing accident occurred just north of the city when Harger Arends lost his life while chopping down trees for wood near his farm. The tree dropped unexpectedly, from the man sustaining injuries from which he died a few hours later. A brother-in-law of Mr.
Arends was killed in a similar manner in Fillmore township a year before. Note—The family lived in Holland for several years.
A widow and five children surviving. In the early day deaths from falling trees were frequent.

Twenty degrees below zero in Holland on St. Valentine's Day and a storm beginning Sunday morning lasted until Thursday night.
Traveling "drummers" were tied up at the city hotel all week with no trains in or out and no mail or outside papers reaching town.

Miss Maggie Plugger, one of Holland's talented singers, will be heard at Lyceum Hall next Tuesday evening at a concert then given. Note—Miss Plugger later became Mrs. George P. Hummer of Holland and was the mother of St. Charles Kirchen, West 12th St. Her father was a pioneer manufacturer and storekeeper, conducting the Plugger Mills, a lumber and flour concern built on the site of the West Michigan Furniture Co. When there he listened to several of the Columbia stars present.

Henry P. Zwemer, the coal man, has purchased the Tonker estate on East Eighth street and the plan is to plat it out into lots.

The committee having charge of raising funds for the new Wesleyan Methodist church are actively at work and expect to build their church for $4,000 and it is to be located on West Ninth street. Note:
The church was built but not on West Ninth street, but on the northeast corner of Seventeenth and Pine avenue.

Rev. Gerhardus Posthumus of Holland, marble and granite dealer on East Tenth St., who died Sunday, sculptured his own monument, and adorned the burial lot in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Whether it was because of a presentiment that death was near or whether he harbored a desire that it should be his own work is not known. The monument was finished last summer and embodies, besides the name, all the lettering, including the date of his birth. Mr. Posthumus was a fine sculptor and his work can be found in every nook and corner of the cemetery. De-

Cornelius Dornbos of the De Vries & Dornbos Furniture Co., was in Chicago attending the convention of the Columbia Gratonola famous book.

EVANGELIST DRAWS LARGE CROWD

The evangelistic services being conducted at the Wesleyan Methodist church, at Seventeenth and Pine avenue, is meeting with splendid success. Large crowds have gathered each evening to hear Rev.
Lincome, the evangelist.

On Monday evening, Rev. Lincome spoke on the subject: "The Wisdom Which God Giveth." His subjects on the following evenings this week have been "Heart Backsliding," "The Doubles of the Bible" (a sermon on the birth and baptism of the Holy Ghost), and
"The Greatest Menace to the Home."

On Thursday evening Rev. Lincome gave the reasons for the present crime wave that has been sweeping America. He also stated his opinion concerning the oft-repeated question, "Is this generation of youth worse than any other generation of youth?"

Rev. Lincome has chosen very timely subjects each evening, and the evident interest manifested is most gratifying to the pastor, Rev.
C. W. Meredith.

An added attraction to the meetings each evening has been the music furnished by Mrs. Magdalene DeBoer DeMille. Mrs. De-Mille, who has been in Holland twice before for evangelistic singing engagements, has endeavored herself to many with her vocal selections. She will furnish music each evening besides that of local talent.

The Home Furnace Co. of Holland has just closed a very prosperous year. Manager James De Young stated that the year 1920 looks up even more favorable than the past year. Although this is the dull season Mr. De Young said that furnace orders are coming in daily and the Home force is kept very busy filling these. At the annual stockholders meeting the same directors were re-elected: Thos. J.
Lugers, president; Chris J.
Lokker, vice-president; James De Young, secretary and treasurer; directors, J. P. Huyser, Otto P.
Kramer, Henry Luidens, John Y.
Huizenga, Dr. George H. Thomas and Henry Pelgrim, Sr. Note: The first two named have passed on and the personnel since 15 years has changed to some extent in the directorate. Beginning last Monday the management has also changed. James De Young has retired after 20 years of faithful service and Chris Becker, nationally known furnace man, will take his place.

Father Fred W. Ryan of Holland spoke to the Rotarians yesterday on the subject "Forces of Change." Father Ryan said the question naturally comes to us today as to how we are going to extricate ourselves from the difficult problems that confront us.

"There seems to be in process a change which is tearing us away from the old moorings and tending to destroy both mechanical and spiritual forces," he said. "We had a similar situation in the development during the last century.
At times like this many optimists become fatalists. We are confident, however, in the belief that there is some way to correct the errors of the past."

Father Ryan spoke of the example of the Indian. When he was found in this country he was a strong, fine man, but with the progress of civilization the Indian, as he was known then, has passed away. He asked, "Are we to become the red man of the future?"
"No," he said, in answer to this question, "we are not."

In times like these reactionaries and revolutionaries come to the fore. The former would do away with some of the development brought about by the machines.
The revolutionist would throw away all of the old order. Both of these, the speaker declared, are too severe. We must stick to certain of the traditions. To break away from all of them would be a complete destruction of the religious and cultural in our civilization.
It would bring about a complete disintegration, a loss of the civilization now existing.

Father Ryan continued, there has been in this country a slow change and we now accept certain principles that formerly we would not. Certain tenets of socialism are now accepted in our laws in government. We must break down the tendency in this country to turn away from the Christian and scientific traditions. Here is a work for Rotary and other organizations and individuals. In Rotary the motto must be taken,
"Service Above Self," and our code of ethics have evolved from our Christian traditions. It is our hope then that the changes that come may be orderly and that civilization adjust itself to the conditions that now confront us.

ALLEGAN FORGER GETS ADDED TIME FOR SECOND CHECK

W. W. Harrington of Battle ing forged a check on a wealthy Alma farmer namesake, was returned to Allegan and given Sat-he was learned he had passed an-

Others sentenced Saturday by Judge Fred T. Miles were: Paul Dussia, charged with violation of probation; Russell Dussia, charged with breaking and entering, and William Franklin charged with breaking and entering. Each was placed on probation for three years, assessed court costs and $1 a

W. J. Hanna of Toronto, an of-

"Don't harm an innocent thing like this," he argued. "It has done no harm to us."

Michigan, Winter Resort

An opportunity which Michigan can not afford to neglect is that of claiming its "place in the sun" as a winter resort.

Outdoor winter sports have entered on a reign of extraordinary popularity. Skating wins new devotees daily; bobsliding is coming back strong; snowshoeing, once a practical accomplishment, is being revived as a pleasure; and skiing, almost unknown in this country 10 years ago, has been adopted with such enthusiasm that it is universally hailed as the King of Winter sports.

No longer does everyone who is footloose go South for the winter. Many of those who live in the North remain there, and many from the South come North.

Eastern states in the same latitude as Michigan have seen the new movement coming and prepared for it. Snowshoe and ski trails have been laid out all over the Adirondacks and the White and Green mountains. Hotels remain open all winter to accommodate sportsmen. A week-end "snow train" runs regularly from Boston to whatever locality promises the best conditions at the time of departure. As a result, many New England resorts are now almost as populous in January as they are in July.

It is true that Michigan can not offer facilities equal to those of the mountains. Nevertheless, we do live in the snow belt, and if we make the most of what we have, people in the states south of us will easily be persuaded to come here.

It registers so accurately that even a fraction of a gallon is registered, together with the dollars and cents of the sale. Different gasolines, three in number, are thus registered.

Mr. Sybesma has just taken charge of this station, and has installed car washing racks, the latest types of hoists by air pressure, so that cars can be serviced easily from top to bottom, and such other accessories as are needed at a service station.

ternates: Geo. DuVall of Fennville, Ray Honeysett of Plainwell, Emmett Weaver of Allegan and Joe Bartz of Dor.

It has been a pleasant and interesting experience, this becoming acquainted with our new representative in the national house. He can not be set down as just another congressman. He is a real character. He has a keen mind, a penetrating eye, and a clear conscience. He is alert to the evils which infect the body politic and he shoots at them to kill. The wonder to us is that he was not drafted by the state or national government years ago. "Going along with Hoffman is pleasant company, but we can easily imagine that if he thought the occasion demanded he should turn and step on our toes he would step hard. We can imagine also that his rebuke could be terrible. However, we do not mind standing for such characteristics when they are backed by honesty and integrity. We are thinking that if all the legislators were like Mr. Hoffman there would be little use for the lobbyists, the "third house" they used to be called, which hang around the capitol.—Allegan Gazette.

Announcement

For five years I have served as judge of the Twentieth circuit, which includes Ottawa and Allegan counties. Our Republican primary election will be held on March 4, at which time I am a candidate for renomination.

Whatever may be the outcome of that election, I want the people of this community to know that I deeply appreciate the fine way in which they have upheld the hands of the law, and assisted to make my efforts to solve the difficult problems growing out of the depression, successful.

It would have been impossible to make our extensive probation system successful, but for the assistance of the whole people.

It would have been very difficult for us to assist men who were sentenced to make a happy return to society, without the Christian spirit of co-operation shown by the people of this neighborhood.

The men and women who have served on our juries have been honorable and just in their efforts to solve the problems presented to them, and are deserving of just commendation.

I hope I have deserved the many kind expressions of loyalty daily expressed by my work.

Of those who think well of me and my work, I hope for a favorable support at the primaries on the fourth of March.

Sincerely yours,

FRED T. MILES,

Circuit Judge.

A Valentine Buffet Supper Party

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

WE HAVE always felt that St. Valentine got undue credit for all the happy customs of February 14th. Really, we owe some of these pleasanties to a tradition of the old Roman festival of Lupercalia. As one part of the celebration on this pagan holiday, the city fathers conducted a marriage lottery. On this occasion certain eligible maidens dropped their names in a "love urn", from which the youths of the town, blindfolded but optimistic, picked their chance sweethearts. The whole town then celebrated these marriages with sumptuous feasts. A few centuries later St. Valentine, a Christian clergyman tried to discourage this casual selection of wives, but the lotteries continued, though the lovers were called "Valentines" as a concession to his influence. And so the tradition of Valentine Loves has continued through the ages, modified in different lands and times, but quite as romantic and gay. Perhaps you would enjoy serving a Valentine feast with such pretty customs and quaint sentiment for your own February 14th party. This Buffet Supper menu will make a Roman holiday of the simplest entertaining:

The Sunday School Lesson

FEBRUARY 3, 1935
"Peter's Restoration" (John 21:11-19)

HENRY GEERLINGS

Peter had been the recognized leader of the disciples, but he had three times denied his Lord. He had deeply repented with bitter weeping, but after such a serious lapse, it was fitting that he should renew those vows of love and loyalty which he had expressed early in his discipleship. We have in these verses three questions and three answers and three charges. The questions are similar but not all quite identical. The answers are likewise similar and yet not quite all the same. Two of the charges are the same, one differs slightly from the others. In one Jesus says "Feed My Lambs," in the others, "Feed My sheep," "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou Me more than these?" There have been different opinions as to what Jesus had in mind by the term "these." Some have thought that He was asking Peter whether he loved his Lord more than he loved the boats and nets and fish, so intimately associated with his former occupation. Doctor Alexander MacLaren expresses the belief that the question does not refer to things so trivial and irrelevant as this explanation supposes. He believes that the reference is to the other disciples and this is the explanation which seems most evident and natural, though at first thought we may wonder why Jesus asked Peter such a question. When we meditate on the matter, however, we discover adequate reasons for the inquiry. Peter was the recognized leader of the disciples. Leadership in the Christian church should be characterized by great and superior love and loyalty for the cause and for Christ. Peter not long before had intimated that he possessed such love and loyalty. He had said that even though all others should forsake Jesus yet would not he, and yet he had denied his Lord more shamefully than any of the others. By asking this question, Jesus was reminding Peter of his claims, seeking to lead him to earnest self-examination.

Peter's answer is not a clear claim to superior love, although it suggests that this is the case. He answered, "Yea, Lord," but he added "Thou knowest that I love thee." Peter would not admit that he had not loved his Master; neither would he admit that it was inferior to the love which any other man possessed. With sublime confidence in His disciple, Jesus replied without hesitation, "Feed My lambs." Since Peter loved his Lord, he was fit to serve those who were precious in the Lord's sight, possibly the word lambs design

HOLLAND SUGAR MILL ACREAGE COMING FINE

The sugar program is proceeding at a satisfactory rate in the Holland factory district. L. R. Arnold reports that many of the growers were present at the sign-up meetings last week. Later sign-up meetings have been set to accommodate these growers. Sign-up meetings have been held in all counties listed in the factory district. County agents report good results in signing up growers. The factory district, which includes fourteen counties in Michigan and one Indiana county, will soon be divided into five community districts. A community district includes all growers signed up by any one of the factory field representatives. Thus all growers who sign up beet contracts with John Kemme will be organized into a district. Ottawa growers will be included in three different districts. Organization meetings have been set. At such meetings three community committees will be elected to represent the growers of a district. Only contract signers may vote at such meetings. The first organization meeting was held at Blenden township Monday, January 28. Growers in the district covered by Mr. Van Hattuma as field man, will meet at the city hall, Zeeland, at 10 a. m. February 7, and growers located in Mr. Leenhouts' district will meet at 2 p. m. on the same day at the same place. The remaining organization meetings will be held in Berrien county.

Efforts are being made to have the Holland factory district allotment raised from 4,607 acres to 6,400 acres. In such case many new growers will be signed up.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Trinity Reformed church of which Mr. Dykstra had been an active member for many years. Rev. H. D. Ter Keurst, pastor, and Rev. Clarence P. Dame of Muskegon, former pastor of Trinity church, officiating. The Men's Adult Bible class, of which Mr. Dykstra was also a member, attended the funeral in a body. Mr. Dykstra had conducted a drug business in this city for more than thirty years, for the past ten years operating the Charles Dykstra Drug store at 664 College avenue. In previous years he owned and operated the Charles Dykstra Drug store at Central avenue and Sixteenth street, disposing of the business some ten years ago to George Smith, present occupant of the store.

Mr. Dykstra has always been prominent in civic affairs, and was ever ready to carry his share of the civic load. He served the city as alderman of the Fifth ward for twelve years, and filled many responsible committee appointments. In respect to his many years of service as alderman to the city, the city hall flag was placed at half staff Tuesday afternoon while the funeral was being conducted.

Mr. Dykstra was born in Hamilton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Klaas Dykstra, on December 16, 1879, where he lived for some time. He learned to be an efficient pharmacist and held positions in drug stores in Chicago and some of the western states. It is still too early to give information as to the disposition or plans for the drug business of the late Mr. Dykstra on College avenue.

Mr. Dykstra is survived by the widow and five children, George of this city, Carl of Muskegon, Miss Ruth of Hartland near Detroit; Paul of Chicago, and Charles, Jr., of Burlington, Vermont, and two step-daughters, Mrs. Howard Larson of Chicago, and Miss Lillian Pease of Seattle, Washington. Four brothers, Nicholas of Holland, Rien of Dor, Oscar of Detroit and Simon of Los Angeles, California, also survive.

In respect to Mr. Dykstra, stores of J. Hulst & Son, Bartels Shoe, Butler Grocery, and H. Vander Werf were closed Tuesday afternoon from 1:30 until 3 o'clock.

Pallbearers at the funeral were J. Henry Van Lente, George D. Albers, Attorney Nelson Miles, Prof. G. Van Zyl, Herman De Fouw and John Van Oss.

HOG AND WHEAT ARRANGEMENT IN OTTAWA WITH UNCLE SAM

A 1935 corn-hog program is to be offered to Ottawa growers in February. L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, expects to start the program as soon as the preliminary meetings of the sugar program are over.

The coming program will differ in some respects from last year's program. The grower has the choice of option of reducing on corn acreage from 10 to 30 per cent of his base acreage. No reduction of less than 10 per cent will be accepted, nor will any payments be made on a greater reduction than 30 per cent. If the grower reduces more than the 30 per cent he will receive payment only on a 30 per cent reduction. No restrictions are placed on the acres not put in corn. Such contracted acres will not be measured. Compliance will consist of not planting in excess of his maximum acreage. If a farmer grew on the average 100 acres of corn and he wished to reduce to 70 acres, he would be in compliance by not planting over 70 acres to corn. He may use the remaining acres as he wishes. The farmer must have raised an average of 10 acres in base years in order to sign contract.

Due to the drop in hog production last year the farmer will be required to reduce only 10 per cent instead of 25 per cent as in 1934. Payment of $15 per hog will be made on the reduced numbers. Restriction on feeder pigs have been lifted.

"GONE"
Mother is gone, yes, she's gone.
Her Savior said, "Your work's well done."

That's why her Savior called her home

To live with Him upon the throne.

'Twas her who hushed me in her arms

And on my cheek sweet kisses pressed,

But now she's gone away from harm,

Yes, mother's gone—she's laid to rest.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

American Legion notes are brief this week since Scribe Ed Slooter is again confined to his home suffering a relapse of the "flu."

The next regular meeting of the American Legion will be held on Wednesday, February 13. Jack Zwemer and Ed Onk will be in charge of the program. Everybody out!

The American Legion band will present their annual concert in the near future. Watch this paper for dates, place, etc.

Say, gang! Do you know the American Legion band has three new members? Yes, sir. Commander Cook has appointed Jake Boltman, Louis Dalman and Geo. Manting to serve on the executive committee of the band. The committee was appointed at a recent meeting of the executive committee held at Royal Neighbors' hall. Harold Karsten, band president, and Ray Knooihuizen, band secretary, were also present.

No dates for February 21—everybody! Keep that date open for the big joint district meet to be held at Grand Rapids on that day. Supper will be served at I.O.O.F. hall in the furniture city to legionnaires and auxiliary members. More information later.

For those who were not at the meeting, Mr. C. V. Miller and Chet Van Tongeren thought it would be very nice to get up some kind of drill team. When we get to these conventions with a snappy drill team we sure should go over with a BANG, so those who wish to try out on this team get to the next meeting.

As far as eats at our meetings I think when it comes to voting John certainly takes all the votes. He won again?

SIGN EVANGELIST TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Casey Van Der Jagt, sign evangelist from Grand Rapids, is to be the speaker at the Saturday night evangelistic meeting held in the Van Der Veen building, corner of Eighth street and River avenue. He comes well recommended and has a message for the hour. An inspiring song service begins at 7:45, accompanied by special music and singing. Do your shopping early and enjoy this great service.

GERRIT G. GROENEWOUW SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Gerrit G. Groenewoud, county commissioner of schools, who has for the past nineteen years, served the rural schools continuously and faithfully as teacher, principal and administrator, announces his candidacy for another term.

Mr. Groenewoud is a life-long resident of Ottawa county, having been born in Olive township, and having worked three years as a farm hand in Zeeland township. After this he continued his education and finished his academic work at the Ferris institute. He received his higher education at the Western State Teachers college at Kalamazoo, Michigan State college at East Lansing, and at the Michigan State Teachers college at Ypsilanti from which he is a graduate.

His life's experience has been in connection with the hardships of rural life and his educational experience has been in connection with rural schools and rural schools only, serving in that capacity as a teacher in a one-room rural school, as a principal of two-room rural school, and a rural high school, and during the past few years as commissioner of schools. He also taught one summer session at the Ferris institute.

During his administration he has been very active in P.-T. A. work, both as an organizer and as a speaker. For three years he has been president of the Ottawa county P.-T. A. council during which time he appeared on the program at the district meetings held at Zeeland and at Hastings, and at the state meeting held at Lansing. At present he is vice president of that organization. He has also been vice president of the Fourth district of the Michigan Education association. He is at present chairman of the committee on Rural Scouting.

He has taken an active part in encouraging many of the rural school activities such as spelling contests of which he personally conducted three finals during the past six months; rural teachers' organizations of which there are three active at present; educational exhibits at the Marne fair, of which he has had charge during the past three years, and the improvement of rural school buildings, and rural school conditions.

Mr. Groenewoud feels that one of his outstanding accomplishments has been to write a textbook, "Review in the Essentials of Agriculture," which is now used extensively in the rural schools of the state in aid to teachers in teaching agriculture.

During his administration Mr. Groenewoud has done as well as could be expected of any ONE man considering that he has charge of 127 rural school districts, employing 215 teachers, covering an area of 565 square miles, under the supervision of approximately 450 school officers and with a census list of nearly 10,000 children. He deserves re-election.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

WINTER weather throughout the country has slowed production and movement of most perishable foodstuffs. A severe freeze in Texas has seriously damaged the spinach, broccoli, beet and carrot crops of that region so that higher prices may be looked for. Many vegetables, however, are plentiful and either cheap or medium priced—among them potatoes, turnips, parsnips, cabbage, kale, cauliflower and green peas.

Grapefruit, navel oranges and apples are the outstanding fruits, though strawberries are beginning to be plentiful and very moderate in cost.

Meats continue high. Butter and eggs are higher, though eggs will be lower as production increases and shipping conditions improve.

Here are three menu suggestions which are timely and suited to three budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Beef Liver with Onions
Baked Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Chocolate Pudding
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Shoulder of Lamb
Brown Potatoes
Sweet-sour Beets
Tomato Salad
Orange Cream Pie
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Grapefruit
Cauliflower with Parsley Butter Rolls and Butter
Ice Cream with Strawberries Coffee

The following officers were nominated, subject to approval by the consistory: Treasurer, George De Vries; secretary, Jacob H. De Pree; accountant, William Appeldorn; assistant, Edward Munson.

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor meeting will be held next Sunday afternoon by Shirley VanderWerf. She will speak on "The Christian Use of Sunday."

How to Make Carp Taste Like a Real Fish

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT TELLS WHEN A CARP IS GOOD EATING AND WHEN IT IS BAD

When old fishermen get together for evening talkfests an "old recipe" about how to cook carp invariably bobs up. "Put the steaks on a clean board and place both in the oven," says the recipe. "After a couple hours remove from oven, throw carp away and eat the board, adding salt and pepper to taste."

The inference of this story like many other popular stories about nature is not entirely based on fact, says the Fisheries Division, Department of Conservation. The truth of the matter is that carp are not bad to eat at all when taken at the right time of the year and properly prepared.

Carp are much prized as food in metropolitan centers. Many tons of the species taken in Michigan are sold in Chicago and New York at good prices when there is a demand for fish food.

Fishermen who have overcome traditional aversions and have tested the edible qualities of carp have acclaimed its food value. Properly prepared, carp steaks are as edible as those of many varieties of game fish, says the Fisheries Division. G. C. Leach of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, states, however, that carp should be used for food only during the cold months of the year, for its flesh is unpalatable when caught from warm waters. Smoked carp is said to be highly palatable.

Some of the criticism of carp for table use is believed to have been originated by those who have eaten carp too soon after the spawning season and to improper preparation of the fish, including bad cooking.

Another source of criticism of the carp has been its habit of frequenting waters containing raw sewage or industrial wastes. Being an exceedingly hardy species, the carp is able to survive in waters having an oxygen content that is too low to maintain other varieties of fish.

Where found in waters containing raw sewage, the carp as a rule does not feed on the sewage, but on the minute forms of organic and animal matter that usually occurs with it.

Industrial wastes of certain types, however, impart a disagreeable taste and odor, not only to carp but to all species of fish that live in the polluted waters.

LOOK OUT FOR BAD LIGHTS IN ZEELAND

Chief of Police Fred Bosma issued a warning to all motorists of Zeeland and those passing through to check up on their lights and see to it that the repairs are made where necessary.

The police chief issued his statement today after he had received several complaints from the state police that many Zeeland motorists were running their cars with faulty head and tail lights. The chief's office has been receiving as many as eight complaints in one day.

VENERABLE SEA CAPTAIN SPEAKS IN ALLEGAN

Members of the Fireside Forum of the Federated church were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steketee, Allegan, Sunday evening. Captain Mark L. Gilbert of Holland, a retired sea captain, was the speaker, telling of some of his experiences during his many voyages and of an all-steel lifeboat of new design which he has invented and which he claims is noncollapsible and nonsinkable. It is now being tested by the United States navy, and Captain Gilbert recently returned from Washington where he went to arrange for its being patented.

The boat, which has a seating capacity of sixty, contains air tanks under all seats and along the side as well as a large stern compartment for stowing food, water, flares, and other gear. It differs from other boats also in keel design, which is of double concave type, instead of the conventional convex.

Commercial manufacture of the invention which Captain Gilbert conceived several years ago was stimulated by the Morro Castle disaster of last summer. A model submitted by the inventor to the steamboat inspection service commission last September was one of several selected for practical tests, according to Mr. Gilbert.

Capt. Gilbert, former captain of the Ocean Tours Corp. liner Oceana, has been a sailor since the age of nine. A native of Rockland, Me., he made his first voyage in 1887 with his father, then captain of a schooner plying from the West Indies to New York. He sailed with his father until, in Hong Kong, China, when he was twelve, he left the ship and hid in a water cask until the vessel sailed.

Second mate at sixteen and master of his ship at twenty, Captain Gilbert later turned to shipbuilding and in the war constructed three ships for the government which were not paid for. Now, without much money, his grandchildren will be wealthy in eighty years, for a court decision, after long litigation over the contract, provided that the judgment cannot be collected for eighty years. The news might add that the captain is head of the Gil-Boat Co. of Holland, located in one of the Ottawa Furniture Co. buildings.

GD. HAVEN MAN HURT AS CAR OVERTURNS

Leo Wood, employed by Joe Nejem, wholesale candy and tobacco merchant of Grand Haven, narrowly missed serious injury Thursday when driving to Grand Rapids on US-16. Near Dennison his car skidded and landed upside down in a ditch near the highway. An avalanche of merchandise fell upon him and for a time he was pinned underneath the wheel. He could hear the gasoline and water dripping out of the car as he endeavored to wiggle his way to a door which he found would open.

He escaped with a cut on the arm and slight scratches on his head. One window was broken in the car but no other damage was found. The merchandise was not damaged and after the car was righted he drove back to the city. There were several cars in the ditch nearby as the turn on the highway there was very dangerous.

DR. CHARLES SAMSON DIES AT HOME SUNDAY

Dr. Charles Samson, resident of this city for the past twelve years, passed away at his home on rural route 3, Sunday afternoon at the age of 61 years. Dr. Samson specialized in treatment of eye, ear, nose and throat ailments, and had practiced since coming here from Oakland, Nebraska, until shortly before his death.

Dr. Samson was born in Cheyenne, Wyoming, and received his education at the University of Chicago, Rush Medical school and the Illinois Post-Graduate school. He practiced in Salt Lake City, Utah; Lemosa, California, where he was mayor four times, and Oakland, Nebraska, where he was mayor two terms.

Dr. Samson is survived by the widow, Alice Seberg Samson, and one son, Vernon L. Samson, an electrical engineer at the University hospital at Ann Arbor.

Brief funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Nibbelink-Noter funeral home, with the Rev. Victor Maxam acting pastor of Third Reformed church, officiating. The remains were sent to Oakland, Nebraska, where funeral services and burial took place on Wednesday.

What are they doing at the new well of Bear Creek company? That is the common question. As nearly as we can learn they are putting down a lot of six-inch pipe to shut out the water and then—well, it will be great news or nothing and it will be another week before anyone will know.—Allegan Gazette.

Will Not Leave Pheasants Be Out of Season

A Stop Put to Ferret Hunting. Trappers Arrested Number 80. Confiscate 460 Traps — 188 Pelts

Michigan's ringneck pheasants continued to have their troubles in December. Relentless pursuit by violators, for one thing, kept them busy in many parts of lower Michigan. Although the season for legal pheasant shooting came to a close October 26, numerous arrests for hunting pheasants have been made by conservation officers since that date. During December approximately 100 individuals were taken on charges of violating hunting laws and of that number 20 percent were accused either of illegal killing or possession of pheasants, according to the monthly report of the Field Administration Division.

A majority of the pheasants shot were hens, which probably would have reared a brood of pheasant chicks next spring. Arrests were reported from Calhoun, Genesee, Hillsdale, Kent, Leelanau, Macomb, Oakland, Ottawa, St. Clair, St. Joseph, Shiawassee and Wayne counties. In Calhoun county one hunter admitted shooting three hen pheasants. He paid a fine of $75 and costs of $6.85 and his LeFever double-gun was confiscated.

Another 20 percent of the arrests for violations of hunting laws involved deer. Eight individuals were charged with possession of venison and seven with hunting, killing or attempting to kill deer. In addition 16 offenders were taken into justice court for illegal possession of buckshot and 17 on charges of hunting without a license. Other hunting and game law violations were as follows: Hunting with or possession of ferret illegally, six; killing or possession of partridge, five; killing or possession of fox squirrels and disturbing rabbit holes, four each; possession of firearms in game territory without permit, exceeding rabbit bag limit, three each; violation of Horton law, possession of woodcock, killing a flicker, buying deer and capturing quail, one each. Seven were charged with possession of a loaded gun in an automobile, two with resisting an officer and one with refusing to show hunting license. Conservation officers confiscated 48 guns, 20 of them single-barrel shotguns, 18 double-barrel shotguns, and repeaters and 10 rifles. Four ferrets and nearly a half-ton of illegal deer were taken from violators by conservation officers.

Arrests for trapping law violations increased during December, while the arrests for fishing law infractions dropped. Eighty arrests were made for illegal trapping, 19 for illegal fishing. Of the arrests for trapping law offenses, 24 were for setting traps without identification tags, 18 with trapping without a license, eight with trapping in closed season, eight with setting traps too near Muskrat and Beaver homes or dams, four with illegal fur purchases and two for digging for muskrats. Sixteen others were charged with a variety of illegal trapping or fur law counts. Officers confiscated 460 traps and 188 muskrat pelts. Two beaver pelts were confiscated. Arrests for violations of fishing laws included 10 for illegal spearing, two for exceeding the catch limit, two for fishing without a license, two for illegal netting, two for marketing or shipping short fish and one for illegal set lines. Fines assessed during the month totaled $1,369; costs assessed, $1,128.05. A total of 877 days in jail sentences was imposed on violators. Seven respondents were allowed probation, four cases were dismissed or involved sentences suspended and eight cases were lost.

RABBIT SEASON IS NOW CLOSED

Tonight, Thursday, the rabbit season is closed and it will go down as one of the most disappointing in years, at least in this section of Michigan. Rabbits are scarce and the bags have been extremely small. This is borne out by the reports of conservation officers who have halted hundreds of hunters seeking game violators and also to obtain information regarding the bags.

Many different explanations have been offered for the scarcity of rabbits this season. One is that thousands of rabbits were frozen to death during the extremely cold weather last winter. Another is that the rabbits and other game suffered from woodtick. The high water in the swamps also was a handicap to hunters last fall and it drove the rabbits out of their usual cover.

In some sections of the State, however, especially the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula, hunters have reported the snowshoes plentiful. They have been killed in large numbers at night as well as by day, snowshoe hunting at night having become a popular sport in some regions this winter. The white rabbits make an easy target at night when there is no snow on the ground.

Angie Stegenga, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stegenga, received scalp lacerations when she ran into the side of a car driven by Harry Wetter of Waukegan. She was treated at the Holland hospital.

John J. Slenk, Sr., aged 77, died Friday at his home, 135 West Seventeenth street. He is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mrs. B. Nyland, Mrs. B. Becksvort, Mrs. G. Gunther; three sons, J. H. Slenk, Peter Slenk and Gerrit Slenk; 26 grandchildren; one brother, Gerrit Slenk, and six sisters, Mrs. H. Tien, Mrs. I. Jipping, Mrs. J. Schrottenboer of near Holland, Mrs. W. Plasman of Ontario, California, Mrs. J. Drukker of Pasadena, New Jersey, and Mrs. D. Spoelstra of Grand Rapids. Funeral services took place Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home and at 2 o'clock at Graafschap Christian Reformed church. The Rev. H. Blystra officiated. Interment took place in Graafschap cemetery.

Second payment on the 1933 wheat crop and first payment on the 1934 crop soon will be made to Ottawa county farmers whose compliance papers have been approved. William Easton, treasurer of the local association, has received $15,000 for distribution.

Sugar contracts are being written in the county. Final compliance papers on corn-hog contracts have been sent to Washington. Wheat compliance work will start early in the spring. A 1935 corn-hog program will be offered to Ottawa growers in February by L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent.

CAR GOES OVER 60-FOOT BANK

Of all the automobile accidents we have had hereabout of late the one of last Sunday morning is in some ways the most amazing. Four people in a big car went over the bank in front of the Robinson hospital at Allegan and rolled half way down the steep bank fifty feet toward the river; and what a sight that car was Sunday morning to see this evidence of what can happen! That those four people escaped with little or no personal damage is just another wonder.

It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Ward Kaylor of Hopkins, their son Allen and Mrs. Alice Tiefenthal, were returning from a dance in Osego, and they were in a borrowed car. It was about one o'clock Sunday morning when they came almost in front of the hospital and it is said they attempted to pass another car. There was a third car along with them. The tracks showed that the Kaylor car left the pavement in a straight line and without skidding went over the bank. Then it must have rolled over sideways two or three times before it struck a small tree that was big enough to stop the car and save the four occupants from heaven only knows what, for if that car had rolled twenty feet more it would have gone into deep water and ice in the Kalamazoo river. Except for minor bruises and scratches none of the four people were hurt. Kaylor was at the scene Sunday morning when the wrecking crew began the work of pulling the heavy car up the bank and there was the usual crowd of people on hand to watch the work and wonder how such a wreck could occur and have no one hurt.

JACK RABBIT RESIDENT HERE 5,000,000 YEARS

Four fossil hare species unearthed in Idaho recently indicate that the jack rabbit was a resident of that vicinity 5,000,000 years ago, according to Dr. C. Lewis Gasin of the U. S. National Museum.

Ottawa Cattle Afflicted With Malta Fever

BANG'S DISEASE FOUND IN OTTAWA COUNTY CATTLE

Over 24 per cent of 388 cattle tested in Ottawa county for Bang's disease last year were found to be infected, according to information received by the Ottawa county department of health from Dr. T. S. Rich, U. S. inspector in charge of the bureau of animal industry of the U. S. department of agriculture. This percentage of positive reactors is similar to that being found all over the United States, said Dr. Morton L. Levin, head of the Ottawa county health department.

Bang's disease, also known as undulant fever, malta fever, recurrent fever and contagious abortion, is a disease which affects cattle and can be transmitted to humans through contact with cattle or through drinking raw milk from infected cattle. The disease causes great economic damage each year, estimated at more than $50,000,000, and in addition is a serious disease of humans. Because it is only in recent years that much has been known about it, the disease is apt to go unrecognized, but increasing number of cases are being reported each year in this country. Persons affected are apt to have fever for several weeks followed by a period of freedom from fever, again followed by a period of fever and so on—giving the name recurrent fever. Often the disease leads to a more or less chronic debilitated condition.

Efficient pasteurization of milk prevents the disease, but no effective remedy has as yet been discovered. The testing for Bang's disease in Ottawa county was done under the federal government's program for the eradication of Bang's disease, under which infected cows were destroyed and an indemnity paid to the farmer. While funds for this purpose are now low, farmers of Ottawa county should write to the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, Lansing, Michigan.

"The Goose Hangs High" Utilizes Same Players, Adds Three More

The substitution of "The Goose Hangs High" in place of "The Nut Farm" as the 1935 Senior play, seems to have universal approval. The scene of the drama is laid in the charming, restful living room of the Ingals. They are people of taste and the room radiates the charm of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ingals—better known to you as Bob Wismeier and Mary Jane Vaupell. They are indulgent parents—overly indulgent, in fact, to the twins, Bradley and Lois, young college students, played by Eugene Brown and Gertrude Young. The eldest child, Hugh, is now 29, and much in love with his charming fiancée, Dagmar Carroll. These lovers are none other than John Oler and Peggy Bergen.

A staunch family friend is Noel Derby, a man you feel you know personally as soon as you see him on the stage. A man of distinction and charm, 50, who has never lost his youthful enthusiasm, is the part played by Cornie Steketee.

A very clever role in this play is that of Granny Bradley, who lives with the Ingals, or rather they live with Granny. Granny is 75, but she has money and this home has been her home for years. Margaret Allen will interpret the

High School Band Concert Is Gratifying Success

Director Heeter is unusually pleased not only with the work of his band of 56 at the concert recently held at Holland High auditorium, but it was particularly gratifying to note the large gathering of Holland folks who came to see and hear what advancement the band had made and they were indeed surprised and well repaid for their coming. A picture of the band during drill is shown here.

Officers of the band are as follows: Cornie Steketee, president; Cliff Scholten, vice president; Jean Spaulding, secretary and treasurer; Victor Cherven, librarian; Clyde Woltman, assist. librarian; Simon Steketee, drum major; Lois Vrieling, assist. drum major and pianist; Eugene F. Heeter, conductor.

The band numbers fifty-six members, the personnel being listed below:

Piccolo and Flutes—James Nies, Craig Trueblood.
Oboe—Kenneth VanderHavel.
Bassoon—Bruce Mikula.
Solo Clarinets—Paul Scholten, Herbert Chapman, Harold Ormiston, Gordon Berkel, James Hinkam.
First Clarinets—Orrison Decker, Rodger Stroop, Harold Hewitt.
Second Clarinets—William Tappan, Margie Plakke, William Beckstoft, Willard Van Regenmortel.
Third Clarinets—James Moody, Malcolm Baron, Clifford Marcus, Charles Flamboe.
Alto Saxophones—Philip Waalkes, Simon Steketee.

part of Granny.

A cousin of Mrs. Ingals, Julia Murdock, played by Ella Garveling, will please the audience when she reprimands Eunice for her indulgence with her children. Julia has brought up her son, Ronald, played by "Bud" Drew, in a much different manner.

The Ingals keep a maid, Rhoda, whenever they are able to. Rhoda, who is Clarine Elenbaas in real life, loves the family dearly and gives much of her life to the children.

Two politicians who annoy our good Mr. and Mrs. Ingals, but who add much vim to the play are Leo Day, played by Rod Van Leeuwen, and Elliot Kimberly, played by Clifford Marcus.

Yacht Club.

The Holland High Yacht club held a special meeting Thursday, January 17, in room 102. At this meeting it was decided that the club should go ice boating and ice skating during club meeting on Friday, January 18. The members met at Kollen park and the members who had boats and owners of boats but not in the club, gave their guests a ride.

Senior Drama Club.

Miss Myra Ten Cate entertained the Senior Drama club on Friday with a lecture on "Make-Up." Miss Ten Cate used Miss Mary Jane Vaupell as a subject on whom to demonstrate her points.

A party on Friday, January 25, for the purpose of electing new officers for next semester, will be a pot-luck and will probably be held at Miss Ten Cate's home.

BREAKING BREAKFAST MONOTONY

By Jean Allen

People are coming more and more to realize what doctors have known and preached for a long time—that breakfast is just as important as dinner. We don't expect our automobiles to use piston rings and bearings for fuel when the gasoline is exhausted, but because our bodies are so wonderfully constructed that they can use their own internal tissues for fuel, we often make unreasonable demands of them that we would not think of making a piece of machinery. The foolish fad of going without breakfast either to save time, or as a means of reducing, is taking its toll. Our bodies have their own ways of getting back at us if we impose upon them, by reducing our efficiency or even permanently damaging our health. Breakfast should furnish from one-fourth to one-third of the day's energy requirements, and, therefore, should not only be adequate in amount, but must be eaten quietly and without hurry. Food eaten when we are "in a dither" of excitement serves more for a good case of indigestion than anything else.

Just as we have a dinner pattern, we may have a standard pattern for breakfast which we may build upon and vary as much as our dinners. You may find this one helpful:

FRUIT—Fresh or cooked dried fruit, baked apple, apple sauce, or fruit juices.

CEREALS—Emphasize the home-cooked variety, not only as a fine source of energy, but for the sake of economy. Serve them four times a week, and the ready-cooked cereals three times.

BREADS—Toasted whole wheat bread, heated rolls or quick breads such as bran, whole wheat, or plain muffins or biscuits, may be served with jam, jelly or marmalade, if desired.

BACON—Sausage, cod fish balls, eggs (if cost permits), fried mush or scrapple form a substantial main course.

COFFEE or tea for adults, milk or cocoa for children—but don't use them to "wash down" the rest of the meal.

If you are tired of plain orange juice, you might try a mixture of pineapple juice and canned orange juice, which by the way, is rapidly gaining in popularity as it is inexpensive, easily prepared, and good, as well as nutritious. And, of course, canned tomato juice has become a real standby.

Fresh oranges may be attractively served as ORANGE SLICES.

Pare oranges, removing all outer skin and inner white membrane. Cut in thin, even slices. Arrange on serving plates. Slices are easier to handle with a fork if they are halved or quartered. If desired, sweeten each serving with 2 tablespoons honey or maple syrup.

ORANGE SEGMENTS

Pare oranges as above. Cut on either side of each dividing membrane and remove pulp, segment by segment. Chill and arrange in a star or flower petal pattern on serving plate. Sweeten slightly if desired.

DICED ORANGES

Pare oranges as above. Cut in half-inch cubes, holding the fruit over a bowl so as to save the juice. Sweeten slightly and serve in small dessert dishes.

Cereal variations may be easily worked out by keeping at least four different kinds on the shelf. They are most satisfactorily cooked by following the directions on the box, as this gives the best proportions. A double boiler is a big help, as it not only prevents the cereal from sticking or scorching, but it is possible to cook it ahead of time, and by filling the lower pan with hot water and setting it on the fire when you put the co-ee on, you will find it piping hot by the time the coffee is done. Further changes in a cooked cereal may be effected by adding one of the following a few minutes before removing it from the stove:

1 cup (½ package) dates, washed, stoned, and cut in pieces.
¼ cup raisins, seeded or seedless.

¾ cup whole or pressed fruit, washed and cut in pieces.

An excellent main dish can be made out of your cereal course, also, and it offers a chance from the sugar-and-cream treatment. Fine grained cereals such as cornmeal, sweetmeats of the wheat, and others of which there are several forms, may be made up in advance so that only a few minutes are required to fry.

PLAIN MUFFINS

2 cups sifted flour 1 egg, slightly beaten ½ teaspoon salt 1 cup milk 3 teaspoons baking powder 1 to 3 tablespoons sugar

3 to 4 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift the dry ingredients. Add the slightly beaten egg, milk and melted shortening; stir quickly and lightly until mixed. DO NOT OVERMIX. Fill well-greased muffin tins 2-3 full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.), for 25 minutes. The smaller the muffin tins, the higher the baking temperature, and the shorter the baking time becomes. Yield: 12 medium sized muffins. If desired, add ¼ cup nut meats, ¼ cup seedless raisins, chopped dried apricots, or ¼ cup finely diced fried bacon to the plain muffin batter. Left-over muffins may be toasted.

Other breakfast menus and receipts will be furnished you free of charge if you will write me in care of this paper, or at my office, 125 Government Square, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Faithfully, JEAN ALLEN.

Sometime ago the common council and police board designated several hills in the city to be set aside for coasting purposes, watchmen to be placed at each so that children would be properly protected. The younger social set in Allegan are apparently establishing the vogue for little gatherings and birthday celebrations. Two little blonde four-year-old maids have enjoyed such anniversaries of late. They are Sarah Ann Hoffman and Gwendolyn Rosser, the former the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Carl E. Hoffman and the latter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Rosser. Sarah's mother asked a few of her daughter's small contemporaries to spend last Friday in the Hoffman home, where they amused themselves with games, had a grab bag and red poppers, and partook of refreshments with a beautiful pink and white birthday cake, a big drawing card with the children. Guests who accepted were Jacqueline Lee, Gwendolyn Rosser, Sally Stegeman, Hattie Alock, Junior Boyer, Billy Dalman, Dickie Armstrong, Peter Winter, and Sam Hoffman, sturdy big brother to little Sarah. Colds prevented the attendance of Kathryn Myers and Betty Schmitz and the icy condition of the highways made it inadvisable for Master George DeLano, Dan Buckle, and Louise Bassett, all of Holland, to join their Allegan friends on this occasion.—Allegan Gazette.
