Zeeland Banker Dies Suddenly While Asleep

PASSING OF "CHRIS" DEN
HERDER IS SHOCK TO TWO COMMUNITIES

Is Father of Att. Jay Den Herder of Holland. Funeral Largely Attended

The death of Christian J. Den Herder, better known to his many friends as "Chris", shocked two communities, namely Zeeland and Holland, where he had many relatives, friends and business associates. Death came to him sometime during the early morning of Saturday, for he was found in his bed and those who investigated immediately saw that death had come to him while he was asleep.

The young lady who is employed as a domestic said she was unable to arouse anyone when she arrived at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning to do the day's housework. She went to the home of Ed Den Herder, a son who lives next door, and summoned Mrs. Den Herder who, when noticing something was amiss, immediately called a physician who pronounced the sad fact that Mr. Den Herder had passed away peacefully, possibly shortly after midnight. Coroner Gilbert Vande Water was summoned and he verified the facts as stated above.

Mr. Den Herder was 70 years old and had been prominent in business circles in Zeeland for more than a half century. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Den Herder of Vriesland, Michigan. His father operated a general store at that place. The elder Den Herder also taught school at Vriesland at intervals. Later the Den Herders moved to Zeeland where the father opened a private bank, which later was re-organized into the Zeeland State Bank, although for many years it was known as the Den Herder Bank.

"Chris" Den Herder first aided his father in the store at Vriesland, then conducted a general store of his own at Overisel. In 1889 he was married to Miss Johanna Bosch of Bass River, a tributary to the Grand River.

One coincidence in connection with the marriage was the fact that he drove his bride by horse and buggy from Bass River to their prospective home in Overisel, a distance of 35 miles, which was rather a long trip over the then impassable roads. The marriage took place in October. This was at the time when he was in charge of the Overisel store.

Shortly after his marriage he moved to Zeeland and there opened the Den Herder Shoe Store, which he conducted for at least ten years when he became identified with the Zeeland State Bank, founded by his venerable father.

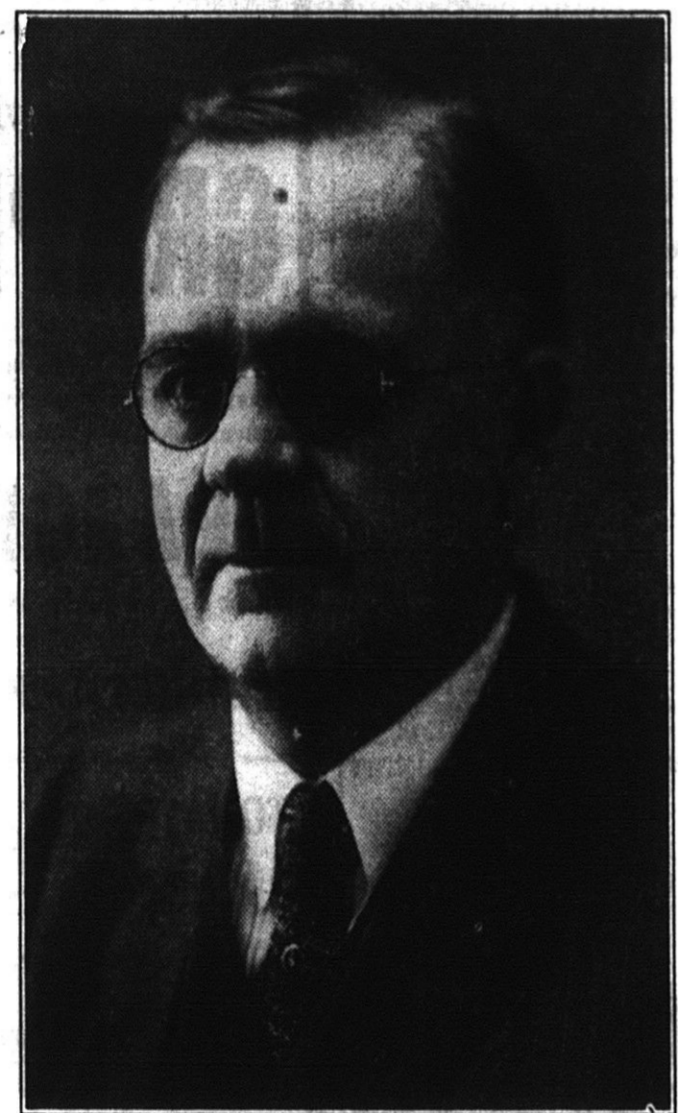

The parent was one those men who did not play favorites. He compelled the son to start from the bottom rung of the banking ladder and climb. By dint of hard work and honest effort he gradually gained the top and became the president of this banking institution. He was one of Zeeland's mainstays in a commercial way and gave his moral and financial support to enterprises that were really worthwhile.

He was one of the organizers of the Colonial Manufacturing Co. more than 30 years ago, and was connected with the Zeeland Brick Co. and the Herman Miller Furniture factory. He was formerly connected with the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. and was interested in other Holland enterprises.

Mr. Den Herder's sterling qualities were recognized beyond his business circles. He was a faithful worker and a devout Christian gentleman. He was a charter member of the Second Reformed Church of Zeeland and was named a deacon with the organization of this congregation. During the many years of his affiliation with that church he was repeatedly named as a member of the consistory in one capacity or another.

Holland Dems. Are Selected To State Meet

COUNTY DELEGATES INDORSE
ATTORNEY CHARLES MISNER FOR SUPREME COURT POST

Charles E. Misner, chairman of the Democratic county committee and Grand Haven city attorney, was indorsed as a candidate for nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court by the Ottawa County Democratic convention which met at the court house on Saturday afternoon. The nominations for the state ticket for the spring election will be made at the state convention in Grand Rapids on Feb. 10 and 11.

Mr. Misner has long been the backbone of the Democratic party in this county having been chairman of the committee for 23 years. He has practiced law in Grand Haven for that length of time, coming there following his graduation from the University of Michigan where he completed the law school. He is widely known in state Democratic circles and has been among the leading Democrats in this county for years.

Murray D. Van Wagoner was also endorsed for renomination and re-election as state highway commissioner. Gerrit Van Coevering of Lansing, formerly of Grand Haven, who has been active in Democratic circles for several years, was recommended and indorsed as a member of the Democratic state central committee from the fifth district.

JACOB VANDER VEEN 93 YEARS OLD

Today Jacob Vander Veen of Grand Haven is celebrating his 93rd birthday. He is an uncle of the Vander Veen family of Holland, in fact, he is the only surviving pioneer of the Van Raalte colony, coming here as a child with his parents at the age of 3.

He has been a druggist in Grand Haven for nearly a half century, however, although now retired, he still takes his daily walks, during good weather, downtown. His tall, soldierly bearing makes him stand out wherever he goes. He is a fine old gentleman.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Henry Kamperman, foreman of the Phoenix Planing Mill, was married Thursday, Jan. 27, to Miss Nellie Kringsman by Rev. Dirk Broek, pastor of Third Church. Note: Both have passed away. The mill was a large red building on the Post Office corner.

"The right thing in the right place"—The latest style a big bustle when women fall while skating on Black Lake or on our icy walks.

Mrs. M. De Feyter, wife of our street commissioner, dies at 63. Peter W. Dykema, an old settler of Holland Township, passes at 85.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Lente, a daughter.

Wm. Kremers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Henry Kremers, of Holland, has accepted a position as manager of the new sugar factory in course of construction at Decatur, Ind. Note:—Later the factory became allied with the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. The plant was very successful under his management. The Kremer family now lives at Niagara Falls, where Mr. Kremer is a prominent engineer.

Klaas Zuidewind, of Holland, has a health record that most people would be glad to have. Although he is 66 years old he has never consulted a doctor. Note:—Zuidewind passed away several years ago, not so long after this health record was chronicled. Many years ago he was head of a stove and barrel factory. He, with Mr. Tieman Slaght built the four Waverly store buildings, just west of the Holland Theatre. "Slaght and Zuidewind" still adorns the crowning stone at the top. Mr. Slaght also built Holland Theatre and was killed as he was putting up the sign. Knickerbocker Theatre, the night before it was opened to the public. A chain holding the sign broke and the builder fell 25 feet to the concrete below.

A Singing School was organized at Fillmore school district No. 5. The following officers were elected: President, John Alferink; vice-president, Herman Menken; secretary, John Beckman; treasurer, Herman Busscher. The singing society started with 20 members and Friday evening at Beckvoort school is the place for study, with John Arenas as leader. Note:—But where was Henry Boeve about that time? Twenty five years ago Henry was a comparatively young man.

Michigan is 75 years old now and she is not afraid to let anybody know it. Note:—Well, she is 100 now.

Bowling 292 points out of a possible 320; Jake Jappinga broke the record of 287 made by "Oddie".

Bredeweg, Jake Jappinga and Billy Van Alsburg won from John Bredeweg and Oddie Bredeweg in the doubles by 119 points. High score was made by Billy Van Alsburg, which was 272.

Since Oct. 25 until Friday, totaling 72 days, the fire department was not called out for a single fire. The more than two months of rest was broken when the alarm sounded for a small chimney fire at 23 West 4th st., and a few minutes after that a Holland Interurban freight car started to burn at the freight depot on West 8th street.

Mrs. J. Huizenga, Zeeland's oldest citizen at present, died at the age of 86 years.

Walter Walsh has purchased the Van Tongeren Cigar Co. site and will raze the wooden building to make room for a two-story two-story brick block. One of the buildings has been leased by D. J. Du Saar, to be occupied by his photo shop and art ware. Mr. Du Saar has just purchased the business of Paul R. Coster, pioneer photographer in the Kanters building, and Mr. Du Saar will move over, until the new building is completed. Mr. Abel Postma has the contract.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nienhuis, a nine-pound boy. Mr. Nienhuis is on the First State Bank staff.

A car loaded with eggs and dressed poultry, New York bound via the Michigan Railway, was wrecked and the car thrown free of the track. All the barrels containing eggs were broken but not an egg was broken. The shipment came from Allegan county and was shipped by Perry Sirine of Allegan.

Henry Zwemer, the local coal dealer, who has a regular lumber camp in his woods near West Olive, caught three flying squirrels the other day and now has them in captivity at his place of business. They are very peculiar little animals, rolling themselves up in a sort of egg-shaped ball when not active. Flying squirrels are very rare in these parts. However, Mr. Zwemer says he had seen a number near his woods camp. Although they cannot fly like birds, they seem to sail from tree to tree or limb to limb and the wing-like appendages to their little legs and body assists them in their gymnastics in the forest and some of the stunts much resemble flying or sailing alone as a plane would.

OTTAWA COUNTY COLLECTS $7,779.60 FOR RED CROSS

Ottawa County has done a great work for the flood sufferers thus far. Otto P. Kramer states that up until noon today the grand total has reached $7,779.60 and still more money is coming in. The sum of $175,000 came under the wire from Forest Grove just before tabulating, and judging from our correspondents, every church and school in the rural districts are donating various sums. Holland and Zeeland churches also did a fine work according to the various sums collected, found elsewhere in this issue.

The amount of clothing received tremendous, tons and tons of clothes of all descriptions have been collected. The American Legion and Auxiliary, Salvation Army of Holland, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Red Cross are all collecting clothing and these are sent as rapidly as possible to pack and ship the consignments.

Open house was held, Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Duren, 24 East 14th St., for Mrs. G. J. Van Duren who observed her 85th birthday anniversary. Born in Holland Mrs. Van Duren has always been active in church and community affairs. For many years she was director of local Red Cross activities, and during the World War took charge of the sending of supplies to the front. Since she has been an active supporter of the local American Legion and auxiliary. Other activities of Mrs. Van Duren include her interest in the Woman's Literary club, of which she was recently made an honorary member, the Eastern Star, and the public library. She has been a member of the library board for several years. Many friends and relatives extended congratulations. Refreshments were served by the hostess. In the evening, the immediate family gathered at the Arthur Van Duren home for a birthday dinner party.

Miss Jeanette Kling of the Chicago School of Expression addressed members of the Woman's Literary club, Tuesday, on "Personalities That Win." Miss Kling, who is director of personality training and instructor in public speaking at the Chicago school, outlined several suggestions for the development of an effective personality. There should be development of the social traits of unselfishness, kindness, generosity, and tact. Talent is something, Miss Kling said, but fact is everything. One should cultivate poise, cheerfulness, and health, naming as the five pillars of health, exercise, diet, rest, sunshine, and recreation. Miss Kling closed her most interesting lecture with the challenge to realize joy in service and the performing of one's duty to the world, explaining that "only through a well-balanced life of work and play, can we hope to realize the full dignity of personality." Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, president, presided, announcing next week's meeting to feature a talk by Mrs. James N. Downey of Detroit, on "Women and Accident Prevention."

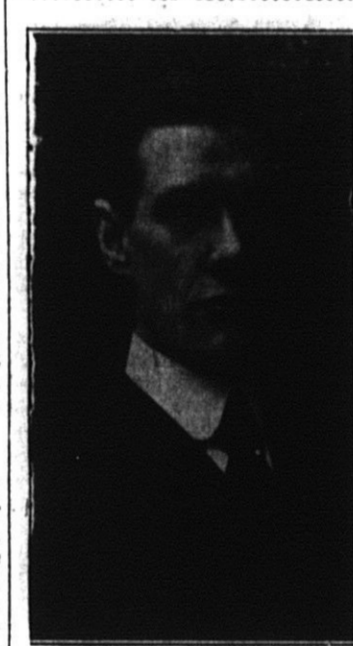

Holland Ready To Be Host To The Hollanders

DR. ZWEMER HEADS SPEAK-
ING PROGRAM; MUSEUM FEATURE WILL BE INTERESTING

The Dutch Mass Meeting Commemorating the Coming of Van
Raalte Next Tuesday, Feb. 9

The nineteenth anniversary of the settlement of the Hollanders in western Michigan will be formally celebrated at 7:30 Tuesday evening with a program in Hope Memorial chapel. The principal speaker will be Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, professor of missions at Princeton Theological seminary, and the son of pioneer Dutch settlers. Dr. Wyndam Wichers, president of Hope College will preside at the chapel next Tuesday evening.

Other highlights of the program, revealed by Willard C. Wichers of the Historical Records Survey Tuesday, will be the organization of a permanent museum by John C. Brukema, manager and secretary of the chamber of commerce of Muskegon; an expression of the survey's interest in the project by William Jabine of Detroit, state director; music by the Excelsior chorus of Grand Rapids; music by Kenneth Osborne, Hope college.

DR. SAMUEL ZWEMER

instructor of organ; and the welcome by C. Vander Meulen. A colorful merging of the flags of The Netherlands and United States to the accompaniment of the national anthems will be a feature of the program.

A feature of the museum exhibit to be opened also on Tuesday will be a replica of a Dutch room like those in the cottages of Zeelanders. Mrs. C. Berken and members of her committee, who will arrange the exhibit, will appear in authentic costume and will explain the exhibit. Most of the documents to be exhibited will pertain to the life of the pioneers when they arrived here in 1847. Dr. Van Raalte's belongings, labeled "Traveling and Begging Guide," which tell of many of the early struggles, will be displayed, also an account of the colonization of Zeeland, Mich., in Vander Luyster's notebooks. Other items will be displayed.

The Historical Records Survey is collecting material for the museum here and is asking other communities to contribute to the displays.

In an interview Mr. Willard Wichers, secretary of the Movement, states: "This week throughout western Michigan the Hollanders are reviving long half-forgotten memories as they dig into trunks and boxes for old records, documents and other treasures. On some of these things there is accumulated the dust of nearly a century. As they appear again many of them will take a permanent place in the Museum of Holland. Memory stirs in the minds and hearts of this people whose early groupings after ideal and religious freedom is recorded in letters, diaries, pictures and treasured objects from The Netherlands."

"On Tuesday afternoon and evening the past will come into its own and the founders of the various Dutch colonies in Michigan will be honored with the establishment of a shrine to their memories. These courageous pioneers will live again in the hearts of their descendants as they gather together in memorial meeting to do them honor."

"The highlights of the program will include an organ prelude by Kenneth Osborne; address of welcome by Attorney C. Vander Meulen; two musical numbers by the Dutch Novelty Shop for the use of their trucks, the Peoples State Bank for their building, the Dutch Tea Rusk and Holland Rusk Co. for cartons."

About two tons of clothing was shipped today and three tons on Monday to the flood stricken area. The clothing was the best and cleanest that has ever been received in any drive. It was all sorted and packed by the Legionnaires, each carton being marked with the kind of clothing it contained.

CLOTHING DRIVE OF LEGION SUCCESSFUL

The American Legion has closed a most successful drive for clothing for the flood stricken area and wishes to thank the people of Holland for their hearty response. The Ford Garage, Holland Motor Express, George Essenburg and the Dutch Novelty Shop for the use of their trucks, the Peoples State Bank for their building, the Dutch Tea Rusk and Holland Rusk Co. for cartons.

NOVEL FEATURES FOR CELEBRATION

Holland—A special feature of the celebration of the nineteenth anniversary of the settling of the Dutch in western Michigan, to be held at Hope Memorial chapel Feb. 9, will be representation of every province in The Netherlands.

Persons having descendants from the various provinces will appear at the celebration in authentic costumes.

Ushers will be garbed in authentic dress of the days of 1847 and 1848.

Another feature will be the singing of a psalm from the "Voorzinger's" book, or first singer. The "voorzingers" led the singing in Reformed churches before the introduction of organs. The book to be used will be that used in the pioneer Graafschap Reformed church. It was given to the organization by Albert Strabbing of Graafschap. The "voorzinger" would use a tuning fork and begin his song one-half note before his congregation.

Two New Park Commissioners Are Named

COUNCIL ACCEPTS INVITA-TION FROM COMMITTEE ON
DUTCH CELEBRATION

City of Holland is in Fine Financial Shape. Pays $41,000 In Bonds

The Common Council last evening was of short duration and as usual Mayor Geerlings, after saying devotions and saluting the flag with all present, started the meeting off with dispatch, and it lasted just twenty minutes.

Two vacancies on the Park Board were filled, the one of Mr. Van Kolken and the place held for so many years by Harry Doesburg, both men having passed away recently. Herman De Neut of the fifth ward was elected on the fourth ballot for the long term of three years, and George Moomey of the second ward was named in the place of Harry Doesburg on the third ballot. Other names mentioned were Albert Keppel, Dick Oosting and Dick Van Lente. The new park commissioners will be Mr. De Neut and Mr. Moomey.

Arthur Drinkwater suggested Mr. Moomey for his ward stating that the second ward was poorly represented on such boards and were entitled to consideration. Mr. Buisman presented the name of Mr. De Neut.

The Board of Public Works reported upon the request of the ways and means committee and the board is advancing $30,000 to the city government to be applied against the net earnings for 1937. The city charter now provides that 50% of the net earnings from the light and water department are to be turned over to the city government. This $30,000 will be used temporarily to start work on the Van Raalte Ave. paving. With the money available the government is willing to give its share immediately so the city can go right ahead and pave the street, weather permitting. Of course, the city gets back its money through special assessment from the property owners through taxation.

Alderman Steffens reported that the City Sign Company is interested in constructing another Wooden Shoe Sign for the entrance to the City of Holland. Mr. Steffens further reported that he proposes to transfer the sign which is now at the East limits and erect it on Washington Avenue near 32nd Street where US-81 now enters the city. They then propose to construct a new Wooden Shoe sign at the East limits which would point the proper way. He further reported that the City Sign Company proposes to construct this new sign and light it for a five-year period on the same basis as they are now lighting the three Wooden Shoe signs, which is now $15.00 per month per sign, and at the expiration of five years, the sign is to become the property of the City of Holland.

The common council accepted an invitation to attend the exercises celebrating the 90th anniversary of the colonization of Western Michigan by Dr. Van Raalte and by the peoples from The Netherlands. The exercises will be held at Hope Memorial Chapel next week Tuesday evening, when the museum of Netherlands lore will also be dedicated.

City Inspector Wiersma brought in a report for January and as usual it was an excellent one, showing he had done a great deal of work on inspections of milk, places of business where food is sold, putting up quarantine signs, and so forth.

The City Clerk, Peterson, reported the payment of $41,714.14 of interest in coupons on special assessment bonds. Mr. Peterson volunteered the good news that in 1928 and 1929 there were only $50,000 more in bonds to pay as far as the city is concerned. That is, in fact, it might be said that Holland has no debt. Of course, that does not mean the debt on some of our schools, but those bonds are well taken care of covering a period of years and are in great demand, indicating that Holland's credit stands high.

Mr. Geerlings, secretary of the Board of Education states that the school, too, is paying $25,000 of its debt this week, which adds to the good showing.

The common council approved the request of the Board of Public Works for $1,500.86 for a water softener at one of the local water plants. Alderman Steffens stated that progress was being made in going into the request of the Board of Public Works for a $75,000 elevated water tank, fully described in a previous issue.

Alderman Prins stated that a traffic ordinance, long sought, would be presented at the next meeting for its first reading.

News Relic Proves To Be Unusual Find

GREAT SOLDIER AND SEMI-CENTENNIAL PICTURE WILL
MUSEUM

The Holland City News has secured a very familiar scene during the semi-centennial celebration in 1897. The scene shows the A.C. Van Raalte Post G. A. R. passing through the large arch built on West 8th Street about where the Strand Theatre is now located.

The arch, all electrified even at that early date, flies from the top the stars and stripes and the Dutch three-color flag. At the apex is a picture of Dr. Van Raalte and at the side in large letters are shown the states to which the Hollanders immigrated, Michigan coming first, Iowa next, Illinois, Wisconsin and so on.

The most realistic feature of this large painting, three by four feet, is the coming through the arch of the A. C. Van Raalte Post G.A.R. Ben Van Raalte, the color bearer, leads the procession. Then comes Gerrit Van Schelven, Mr. Masselink, Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. De Kraker. Mr. Tuttle, Mr. Aussicker, and "Berrie" Clark are also visible, as is Commander John Kramer and John Zwemer.

Then the figures begin to fade as you look further down the line. It would appear that there are at least one hundred "boys in blue" in the line of march. The men in the front ranks cannot be mistaken. It is a wonderful reproduction, and the writer could recognize everyone of them immediately.

All along the line on 8th Street the wooden buildings, for they were mostly frame buildings at that time, are decorated with American flags and bunting. One laughable little feature of the painting are two little girls dressed in white and both have pigtails with ribbons. They had gotten into the middle of the street nearly up to the soldiers. The style of yesterday in head-dress and clothing is well defined in the painting.

Rather an unusual "getup" in the building of the arch was the crest. There had to be an object at the very top to trim off the whole. For this purpose they borrowed the large wooden horse, and let us say, it was a fine looking horse, from that of the harness shop of Ed Vaupell, who has recently put it on display in front of his store on West 8th St. to show harnesses to advantage. Well, this fine cream horse was hoisted to the top of the arch, which was at least 50 feet high. The feline topped off the colorful vision in fine shape although it had no real significance as far as the semi-centennial celebration was concerned, since there were more oxen than horses in the colonial days.

The painting is from the brush of Ralph Schepers, Rural Route 6, Holland, the rural poet, who has contributed many timely verses in the columns of the News.

Mr. Schepers also contributed a painting of the old Scottish Presbyterian Church that stood at the corner of Michigan Avenue and 32nd Street. The old gentleman, Rev. Schepers, father of Ralph Schepers, was the pastor of the flock. Around the little church a lot of forest trees are painted, indicating that this little church, one of the very early churches in Holland and vicinity, was right off a clearing. The church is surrounded with a rail fence such as all farms had in the earlier days. There are still a few of these "accidental looking" fences left, but not many. Time has rotted the wooden rails and substantial wire fences have taken the place of these cross pile enclosures. The church at that time was far beyond the city limits.

Rev. J. R. Schepers was pastor of this little church in 1858. The windows are ornamentally shaped at the top, and the artist apparently believes in fresh air, for three of the five windows are raised. The fences would indicate that the church stands on a slight elevation.

This, too, is going to be placed in the exhibit at Hope Memorial Chapel next Tuesday and will undoubtedly find a permanent place there. This church painting was presented to the Holland City News by Mr. Schepers several years ago, and the history of the church is also in possession of this newspaper. Mr. Schepers also left several old Bibles, printed more than three hundred years ago, several newspapers of Civil War Days and several old copies of the Holland City News, which, of course, are always on file at this office. This newspaper has every issue of this publication printed from February 23, 1872. There is not a copy missing.

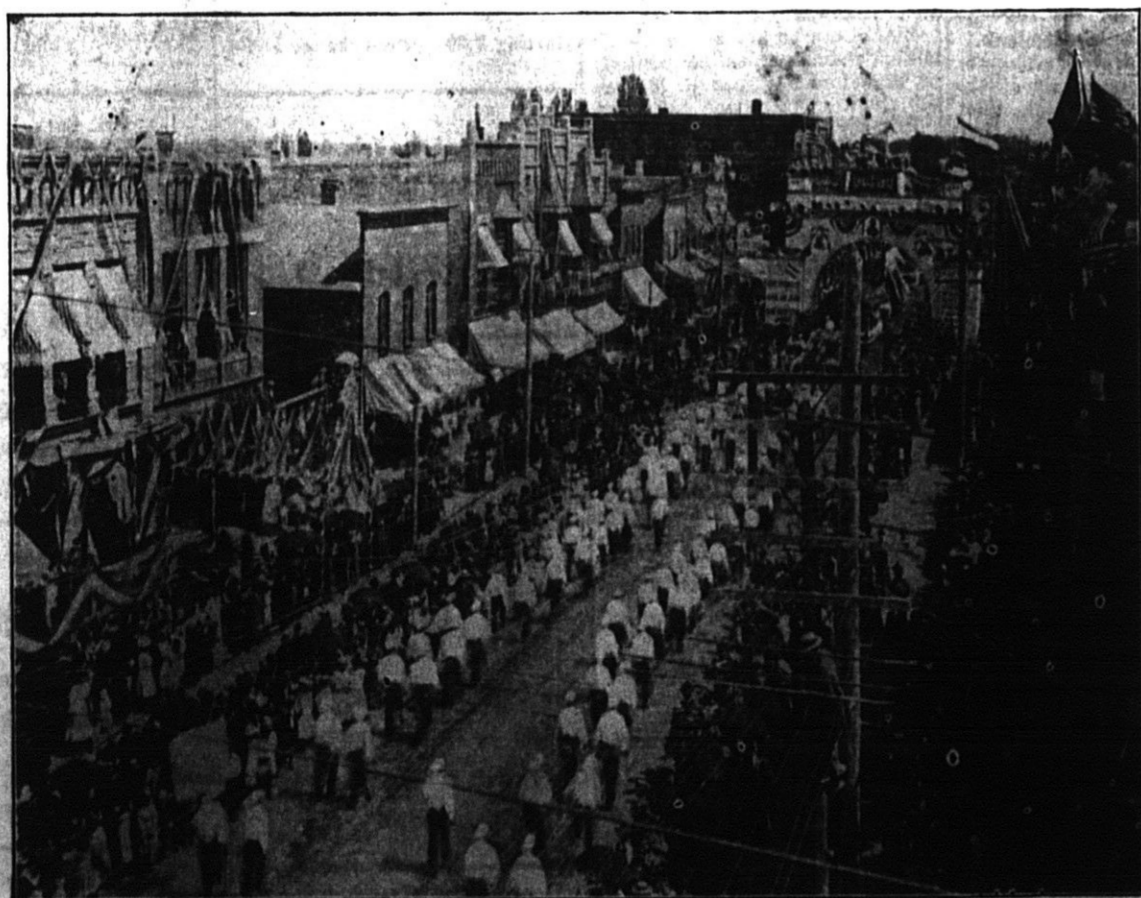

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Post of East Ninth St. were both confined at home with the flu.

A surprise party was held for Otto Van Til, Tuesday night, at his home, 49 East Seventh St., on the occasion of his 46th birthday anniversary. Games were played and a two-course lunch was served.

David Eugene Vander Vusse, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Vander Vusse, 466 Central Ave., celebrated his first birthday anniversary Monday afternoon. The group of little friends who helped him celebrate included Gonda Jean Ten Brink, Julia and Bobby Simonsen, Carl and Ruth Risselada, Alberta, Mary and Donna Mae Vande Vusse, Leroy and Johnnie Cobb, Donald, Harold, Roger and Clarine Knoll. Games were played and a two-course lunch was served, the guests being seated at a table with a large lighted cake as a centerpiece.

Henry Oetman was surprised, Friday evening, at his home in East Saugatuck on the occasion of his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in a social way and refreshments were served.

Semi-Centennial Parade in 1897

In an article on a painting by Ralph Schepers on this page the News mentions a large arch built in the center of the street. The arch mentioned is in this photograph taken on the big day during the semi-centennial celebration in the summer of 1897. It was a tremendous parade and those men in line as seen here are the employees of the Cappa-Bertsch Leather Co. division.

This is the North side of Eighth Street between River and Central Avenues. The skyline, our readers will notice, has changed considerably as far as buildings go. Practically every industry had floats and men in line, the tannery alone having eleven floats.

The Allegan Project

By ALBERT STOLL, JR.

(Detroit News)

Over in Allegan County one of the most extensive Federal recreational projects in Michigan is well under way. It involves the transformation of 34,000 acres of sub-marginal and poor farming lands into a great public playground and combined forest and game refuge.

It is known as the Allegan project, and after the Government has finished with its work the area will be turned over to the State for administration.

Work began in 1935, when the Government started taking options on lands. Land purchases for the consolidation of the entire 34,000 acres are about completed and CCC labor has brought about many improvements over the area in the last two years.

Reforestation of denuded woodlot areas has been under way, with pines replacing the old hardwood growth. Over 2,500 acres of marsh lands have been dammed and re-flooded to serve as wild fowl refuges. Several hundred acres have been planted to food patches to attract game and upland bird life. Streams and lakes have been improved in the interest of fish life. Camp grounds are being established and the lands criss-crossed with trails and fire lanes. Tourist shelters and convenience stations are being erected and the area is being developed along the lines of our National Parks. Wildlife is fairly abundant and this will increase as cover is made more attractive. At present a herd of 300 to 400 deer is roaming the area, the largest in southern Michigan.

It is expected that the Allegan project will be about completed late this spring—at least it will be in condition to entertain visitors. This will bring to southwestern Michigan a much-needed recreational center of decent size and attractiveness.

HOPE COLLEGE NEWS

Y GROUPS HEAR McCRAE DISCUSS WORLD PROBLEM

Last night Archie E. McCrea, editor of the Muskegon Chronicle, led a joint meeting of the Y.M. and Y.W. organizations on the subject, "A Look Ahead."

Mr. McCrea is a past president of the Muskegon Y. M. C. A., heading its building campaign, which gave Muskegon one of the first Y. M. C. A. buildings in this country. At present Mr. McCrea is vice-president of the State committee of the Y. M. C. A., and a member of the national council, on which he has served for the last ten years.

Mr. McCrea has been a member of the editorial staff of the Muskegon Chronicle for almost thirty-four years.

Veldheer Improving; Returns to Holland From Hospital Stay

James Veldheer, sophomore, who was very seriously injured in an automobile accident which demolished his car, Jan. 3, is recovering as rapidly as possible. He returned from the Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids, Jan. 22, and is now residing at 187 W. 9th Street.

His condition was very critical but has improved sufficiently so that he is able to take short walks.

One clavicle, his cheekbones, and his jawbone were broken. His nose was very badly fractured and one hip was dislocated. His eyes, which have been under a terrific strain due to the swelling and the broken bones of his face, are improving, and were not seriously affected, as was previously believed.

James is still under the doctor's care, and is planning to make some arrangements about his school work, even though he may not be able to attend college the next semester. "Jim" wishes to thank the sophomore class for their gift during his invalidism.

At the election of the Christian Workers' League held in Memorial chapel, Ben VerSteg was chosen to serve as president for the coming semester. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Lucille Termost; secretary, Albert Shipworth; and treasurer, Katherine Eather.

ATTORNEY TEN CATE HEADS HOME FURNACE CO.

Stockholders of the Home Furnace Co. held their 21st annual meeting Monday night, in the Woman's Literary club and elected the following officers:

Daniel Ten Cate, president; E. P. Stephan, vice president; James De Young, secretary and treasurer; Clarence J. Becker, assistant secretary-treasurer. The board of directors includes Otto P. Kramer, Henry J. Luidens, John W. De Vries, C. E. Becker, general manager, and M. C. Weststrate.

The stockholders passed a resolution fixing the date of the corporation's annual meeting and also approved the new by-laws of the corporation. C. E. Becker, general manager, addressed the group upon the splendid progress of the company during the past year. Special attention was called to the 114 per cent increase in sales of 1935 as a result of the expansion activities conducted during 1935. Plans for 1937 are already in operation and give indications of resulting in a substantial advance over the previous year. It is expected that the developments made in the Home line will greatly aid the company in meeting the new trends found in residence heating and air conditioning.

ZEELAND VOTES TO BUILD LIGHT AND POWER PLANT

Citizens of Zeeland Tuesday voted by large majorities to expand the electric light and power service of the city with a bond issue of $85,000 for the purchase of two new Diesel engines for an electric generating plant.

Vote on the first proposal was 482 yes, 189 no. The proposal read, in part: "Shall the city of Zeeland acquire a Diesel electric generating plant and extend the present system of distribution for supplying electric light and power to Zeeland and its inhabitants?" The plan of purchase is to sell $85,000 of first mortgage bonds to construct the building and completely install the new plant.

Second proposal voted on, which passed 471 to 194, permits a 20-year operating franchise to be included on the mortgage bonds given as security so that, in the event of default, bondholders can take over the plant and conduct it.

It is expected bids will be taken on the plant in about three weeks. Consulting engineers employed by the city are expected immediately to determine a site for the new plant.

Traveling Around America

COPPER FROM THE ANDES

Bars of copper destined to find their way into automobiles and airplanes, cables and wires—being loaded at Callao, Peru, on one of the ships sailing weekly between New York and South America's West Coast. The mountains which form the backbone of the southern continent are veritable storehouses of precious and semi-precious metals. In fact it was rumors of the "gold in them thar hills" which lured the Spaniards southward from the Canal area in the sixteenth century.

The Indians of the Early Chimu Empire, which flourished on the southern continent more than fifteen hundred years ago, were adept in the art of metal-working—making weapons, implements of various kinds, and cleverly wrought jewelry and ornaments. The more ordinary articles were made from copper, and it was not a difficult metal to work. Gold and silver, too, were used very commonly for they were not considered "precious" metals.

In addition to their skill in working metals, the Indians of the early days were able by some unknown process which has never been discovered to harden copper so that it could be used in pointed weapons and instruments such as steel is used today—in fact it was with implements of copper that the Indians cut the gigantic stones from which they built their imposing temples and palaces. Examples of these centuries-old, hard-as-steel instruments made from copper are to be seen in the museums of Lima—their presence a reminder to us that there are some things that the pre-historic races can teach us moderns.

G. J. Veldman of Holland began his twenty-third year as president of the organization and John Freeman of Salem township, Allegan county, began his thirty-third year as a director. Gerrit Yntema of Zeeland, secretary, has served for the last eight years, following the death of Henry Bosch of Jamestown, the first president.

The financial statement at the end of 1936 showed receipts of $87,744.59. Disbursements during 1936 totaled $53,010.07, leaving a balance on hand of $34,734.52. Funds impounded in banks amount to $18,199. There are now 4,964 members compared with 4,807 a year ago.

Directors re-elected are: A. H. Schrotenboer, Holland; G. J. Brower Hamilton; Harm F. Knoper, Zeeland; Albert Scholten, Holland, and Freeman.

Of the 24 townships listed where fires occurred in 1936, Fillmore, in Allegan county, had 17 fires with losses amounting to $6,625. Zeeland township, in Ottawa county, was next with 16 fires. Manlius, in Allegan, recorded only one fire, as did Grand Haven township. Manlius had the lowest record with $96.95, while the Grand Haven loss was $3,317.95.

Total insurance in force showed a gain over the previous year of more than $441,415, amounting to $17,512,170 as of Dec. 31.

Fined by Justice Ferris

Leonard Dangremont, 20, Hamilton, appeared before Justice V. W. Ferris Wednesday afternoon and paid a $25.00 fine and $4.50 costs for breaking the window at Clark's pool parlor Tuesday night. Dangremont drove his car through the window, shattering it.

Less Arrest for Game Violations

Arrests and convictions for violations of the conservation laws tumbled during 1936 after a steady increase during the preceding four years.

Conservation authorities here reported that a total of 3,706 arrests were made during the past year, convictions being obtained in 3,631 or all but 75 cases.

The past year cases were divided as follows: Game cases, 1,581; fish cases, 1,564; fur cases, 432; miscellaneous cases, including infractions of fire-prevention regulations, trespass on state land, etc., 129.

The 1936 record in comparison with previous years follows:

Year	Arrests
1936	3,706
1935	4,045
1934	3,624
1933	2,936
1932	2,821

It is believed that one of the factors contributing to the drop in arrests during 1936 was the severe winter weather during the first three months of the year which discouraged violators from entering the woods; in some parts of the north conservation officers were unable to go on patrol on snowshoes during this period due to soft-snow as well as weather conditions.

BIRDS ARE UNAFRAID OF MICHIGAN WINTER

By MACK B. STIELAU

(Isaac Walton League, Detroit)

Periodically, during the winter months, we see items in the newspapers about robins having been sighted here and there, the latest report coming from Lansing where a robin was seen on New Year's Day. Such stories always seem to excite wonder and yet quite a few of our feathered friends normally migrate to the Southland at the approach of cold weather stay with us and seem to survive the rigors of Michigan winters.

A recognized ornithologist, who made a study of this subject in the New England States, reports that he even found a Carolina wren which burst into song in the face of almost zero weather. The cardinal wintering with us is perhaps a more common sight than the robin. Then there are the woodpeckers, juncos, nuthatches and others than linger on long after their kind have flown to warmer regions.

Presence a Mystery

Just why these birds should stay on to eke out a precarious existence in this part of the country is not definitely known. There are, however, some fairly well-grounded theories on the subject. One of these which seems especially logical involves the marvelous migratory urge, or instinct. When the time comes, birds find themselves utterly unable to resist this immutable law and so a concentration of their kind takes place and they leave.

It is entirely possible that among some of the older birds this mysterious force does not manifest itself in sufficient intensity to compel the migration and so they stay. This theory is strengthened by observations in the northern movement in spring which come authorities claim is superinduced by a biological change in the reproductive organs.

Dulled Instinct

Then, too, in a few cases among the younger birds there may be a disordered condition which dulls their normal instinct. Further, injury at the migratory season often prevents birds from following the flock, and so they are left behind. And while the prevailing impression is that such birds suffer great hardship during severe weather, this is only true when food is scarce.

If they can find an ample supply of seeds to generate heat they manage to live quite comfortably and can always find a place in the densely wooded sections where they are protected from biting winds.

FULL ACRE OF PANSIES IN BLOOM IN NEW JERSEY

In a world where Scotland gradually is moving to ice-land and snow falls at San Pedro, Cal., the eastern seaboard kept its step Friday by exhibiting a full acre of pansies in full bloom on January.

At least six weeks of abnormally warm weather, punctuated by not one good snowfall, have brought signs of a premature spring up and down the coast. Even New England, normally well blanketed with snow long prior to mid-January, has had to revise its calendar.

Crocuses and lilacs bloomed almost everywhere in the metropolitan district of New York and robins, bluebirds and at least one Maryland yellowthroat sang from the leafless branches of trees.

The pansies bloomed on a farm in Clifton, N. J. At St. Johnsbury, Vt., the warm weather has started a snow falling in maple trees and a large maple sugar company reported it was boiling the sap. The company described the run as the earliest in northeastern Vermont in memory.

SPEAR DOGFISH, CARP AND GAR-PIKE

That is the advice of state fisheries men here to ice-fishermen who use the spear during January and February, the months to which the use of the spear is limited.

By removing these species of obnoxious fish, which are more or less dormant during the cold months, ice-fishermen may help to improve habitat conditions for game-fish.

Any of these species is edible, but their flesh is not as palatable as that of game fish. The noxious varieties may be left on the ice, however, for birds and predators if the angler's taste does not happen to run to the rougher varieties of fish. In Jackson county last winter hundreds of obnoxious fish were speared by ice-fishermen and left on the ice of inland lakes.

FARM AND AGRICULTURAL NOTES

An increase in dairy herd improvement association work in Michigan in 1936 raised the number of testing groups to the highest point since 1932, with 1937 starting out with 62 associations, it is announced by E. C. Scheidehelm, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. Dairy production of butterfat for December, however, hit the low point of 1936 with 70 hundredths of a pound of fat per day as the average production of cows on test. High protein concentrate costs caused many men to study ration changes to obtain more economical production from their herds.

'Controlling Horse Parasites', a concise four page bulletin newly printed for Michigan State College, is now available through the office of County Agricultural Agents.

Arnold, County House, Grand Haven, by writing to the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing. The bulletin was written by Dr. B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pathology at the college. It is designed to outline reasons for parasite control so that owners of horses can work more intelligently in co-operation with their veterinarians and with the county and roundworm control programs set up by county agents.

All newly elected committeemen of the 1937 soil conservation program were called to the Court House for a discussion of the new program. Mr. Spencer and Mr. Wing, state officials, on this program discussed the rulings and gave much necessary information to committeemen. The county is divided into 13 districts and three committeemen are elected in each district. These men are in charge of the districts and give the information to the farmers.

Chairman of the local county committees were called in extra session by L. R. Arnold, secretary of the 1936 association, for the purpose of organizing the new 1937 association and election of a county committee and selection of a treasurer and secretary.

The directors elected Glenn Taylor, Coopersville, president, C. L. McNitt, Conklin, vice president and D. H. S. Rymer, Spring Lake, third member of the committee. Richard Berg, Robinson township, was elected alternate. The county committee selected L. R. Arnold for secretary and Sam Rymer for treasurer. Glenn Taylor as chief clerk and Pauline Page as assistant clerk.

The committee in charge of the 1936 program report that work on papers is drawing to a close. Signatures are being obtained in those cases where payments have been earned. Transmittal of 400 applications for payment were made in January. All transmittals of papers covering 1200 farms will have been made by March 1st.

SUGAR BEET DAY FOR OTTAWA COUNTY AT ZEELAND

February 9 has been set as sugar beet day for Ottawa County. L. R. Arnold, agricultural agent, has arranged for an all day meeting at Zeeland City Hall to which sugar beet growers of the Lake Shore Sugar Co. are invited. Some very popular speakers have been engaged for this event. The meeting will open at 10 A.M.

Dr. A. J. Brook, educational secretary of the Farmers and Milk Beet Sugar Association, will discuss activities of his association. C. A. Oviatt, formerly from Michigan State College, now with the Lake Shore Sugar Co. as chief agriculturalist, will discuss the 1937 growing contract. The 1937 agreement is meeting with great favor. Growers will feel it is a great improvement over past contracts. R. C. Gunn, economist from M. S. C. will discuss the agricultural outlook laying particular emphasis upon the sugar beet situation. Geo. Weener, crop specialist M. S. C. will discuss the new 1937 soil conservation program as it pertains to sugar beet growers. Mr. Weener succeeds Mr. Morrish in sugar beet extension activities. He will discuss his work which covers much of the state. A free lunch will be served at noon by the business men of Zeeland and Lake Shore Sugar Co. Other such meetings are to be scheduled in other beet growing counties included in the Lake Shore Company's territory.

SUGAR BEET NOTICES

Two meetings will be held for the Sugar Beet growers of the county on Thursday afternoon, February 11th, at the Wayland Village Hall and the Banning School at Hooper.

Dr. J. A. Brock of the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association, C. R. Oviatt of the Lake Shore Sugar Company and R. G. Gunn of Michigan State College will be the speakers.

Although there will be two meetings in one afternoon it is expected that each one of the speakers will be able to talk at each of the places.

People raising sugar beets should make a special effort to attend one of these meetings.

Her Heart is Torn by Love

LINDA CROCKETT

Daytime radio listeners will be thrilled by the new "show of the air" starting February 1st, on 23 radio stations of the midwest. The show, known as "Linda's First Love", is sponsored by the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company and is on the air every day except Saturday and Sunday.

In this entertaining story, Danny Grogan is Linda's boyhood sweetheart. Into her life comes Kenneth Woodruff. The love difficulties are not only thrilling, but amusing as well.

LOCAL NEWS

The "ground hog" has seen his shadow and undoubtedly spring will continue in Michigan despite the adage.

A union meeting of the Women's Missionary Society and the Mubersherat Society of Zeeland will be held next Monday evening, Feb. 8, at 7:45 p. m. at Second Reformed Church. Miss Bertha Zagers, missionary nurse in Nigeria, Africa, will address the meeting and members and friends are requested to attend.

The Zeeland Literary Club will meet for a regular meeting at the club room next Tuesday, February 9, at 8:30 p. m. Miss Metta Ross of Hope College faculty will be guest speaker and an interesting meeting is anticipated. Her subject will be "Mexico, Past and Present." Music will be in the form of a vocal solo by Mrs. Henry Borst. Mrs. Wm. Borst and Mrs. F. Van Sijtzama will be hostesses.

A capacity crowd filled the dining room of the First Methodist church, Tuesday evening, when the annual banquet of the Holland Business Institute was held. On arrival each person was given a small lock or key and was requested to find the word that completed the sentence started on his own. The invocation, "The Golden Key," was given by Mrs. E. V. Hartman. Music during the dinner was furnished by Wilmer Vander Hoop and his orchestra and Jerry Houting led community singing. A. Hoeksema greeted the alumni and business men and Mrs. Estelle De Vries expressed appreciation for co-operation of helpers. Miss Esther Harris introduced the toastmaster, Miss Wilma Por. The theme of the program was "The Keys of Tomorrow." A playlet, "The Key to the Situation," was enacted by Misses Jessie Gerding, Mabel Bos, Lucille Reimink, Ruth Leenhouts, Helen Kraker, Carolyn Steffens, Florence Kraai, Marie Beckman and Gerben Walters. A solo was sung by Mrs. Leona Fogarty, accompanied by Miss Sarah Lacey. The "Key of B" was a style demonstration in which the following business girls participated: Misses Irene Plakke, Florence Post, Josephine De Vries, Cornelia Van Leeuwen, Marie Beckman, Kathleen Van Leeuwen, Margret De Vries, Henrietta Grading, Florence Kraai and Grace Keeler. A solo by Miss Helene Van Kersen was accompanied by Miss Annette McGilvra. The address of the evening was given by Dr. John Mulder of Western Theological seminary who spoke on "The Key to Success." Taps were sung by Miss Van Kersen.

William Stoppels, about 50, of Muskegon, brother of the Rev. C. A. Stoppels of Holland, died of a heart attack early Wednesday morning, at his home in Muskegon. He had been ill, at home, a few days. He was employed in the Muskegon post office. Mr. Stoppels formerly was a lieutenant in the United States army and served during the entire World War. He also fought in Mexico with Funston's Fighting Fifth cavalry at Vera Cruz. He was a member of The Christian Veterans of Muskegon, and was known here.

Mrs. John H. Tripp, 77 East 16th St., died Wednesday afternoon, at her home after a lingering illness at the age of 75. Surviving are the husband; four daughters, Mrs. William Van Melle of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Albert Kuipers of Jenison Park, Mrs. George Koning of Holland and Mrs. John Dyke of Allendale; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eva Tripp of Holland; 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Tyms of Graafschap, and two brothers, John Jipping of Graafschap and Herman Jipping of Hamilton. Funeral services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the home private, and at 2 p. m. in the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church with the Rev. N. J. Monsma officiating. Burial will be in Graafschap cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Laubscher and family of Virginia Park left for Braddock, Pa., where Mr. Laubscher has been appointed manager of a Kresge store. B. F. Hensley succeeds Mr. Laubscher as manager of Holland Kresge emporium.

Reserved Seat Section Planned for Home Games

—Hope College Anchor

Students of Hope College will sit together in an organized cheering section it was decreed by the members of the student council Monday night. The first cheering section will be gathered at the Hope-Olivet game this Friday.

It is the plan of the council to hold a practice pep-meeting for the game, Thursday night before gym meetings at the Carnegie gym.

The first pep-meeting of the basketball season was voted to be held on Thursday, because students will have to leave too early for the game Friday to allow a meeting before the battle.

The council is in charge of a musical and pep program at which the section will be explained. It has been asked that all students co-operate and sit in the seats designated for Hope students, insuring solid support for the team.

Other enactments of the council this week set a date for the Nykerk Cup contest at Feb. 24. It was to be held next week, but was postponed.

Judges for the contest will be the senior class president, one faculty member and an outsider. They have not been chosen.

The date of the contest will fall in the middle of the second "Get Acquainted Week." The week was decided upon by council members at their meeting.

Instead of letting students write their own names on their tags this year, the name will be printed, and handed out promiscuously. In the search for his own card, it is hoped that the student will learn to know more people.

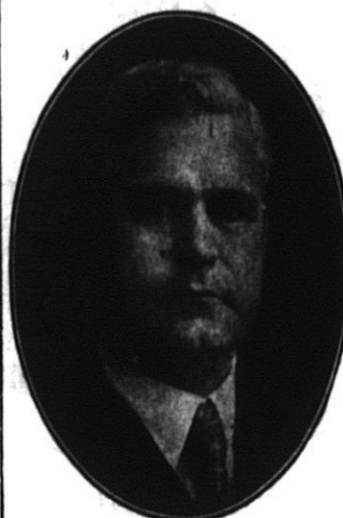

School Men Hold Meeting; Fell Speaks

175 Ottawa County Board of Education Members Meet at Zeeland

The teachers' tenure bill, now up for consideration in the state legislature, was discussed by 175 board of education members and school officials of Ottawa county, at a meeting Tuesday night at Zeeland.

Supt. E. E. Fell of Holland discussed the bill and brought out its advantages and disadvantages shown through a study of similar laws in other states. A. W. Elliott, Grand Haven board of education president, was chairman of the meeting.

Supt. J. E. Holmes of Spring Lake discussed the sales tax, telling of the amount collected, sources from which the money comes and distribution of the money received.

The teachers' retirement fund and proposed changes to the fund were discussed by Supt. E. H. Babcock of Grand Haven. He reviewed the history of the fund and drew comparisons with the proposed teacher act to the social security act.

The Thatcher-Saur act and the proposed revisions to that act were explained by M. B. Rogers, superintendent of the Zeeland schools. He said that it was planned to increase state aid to schools and to extend tuition for rural students to the seventh and eighth grade students. It is also planned to raise the appropriations from the state for tuition students from $48 to $55 in the elementary schools and from $65 to $75 in secondary schools.

The meeting was called to inform board of education members on the proposals concerning schools now before the state legislature.

There was a large gathering present, several being from Holland. The meeting was held in the High School Auditorium at Zeeland.

BOY'S EYE INJURED

HOLLAND VOTES FULL PAY FOR POLICEMEN ON FLINT RIOT DUTY

The board of police and fire commissioners, at a meeting this week, allowed the police officers, serving with Company D, National Guards at Flint, during the strike, their full pay for time while on riot duty. Patrolman Earnest Bear and Cruiser Driver Jay Dalman are members of the Holland National Guards now in Flint.

The allowance was granted following a motion of Commissioner John Donnelly, supported by "Dixie" Hyma.

Mr. Donnelly said that it is the least the city can do to show its appreciation for the officers being done by the local police officers while on duty in Flint as members of the Michigan National Guard.

During the meeting Monday, Mr. Peterson read to the members of the board a letter from Mr. Bear and Mr. Dalman in which they told of the work they are carrying out but both expressed hopes that they may be able to be back at their posts in the near future.

Upon the suggestion of Commissioner Donnelly, City Clerk Peterson said that he would write a letter to the police officers in which he would tell them of the board's appreciation of their work and of the action in granting full pay during their absence.

R. E. Hefron of the state highway department, reporting in regard to a traffic signal at the intersection of U.S. 31, M-40 and Nineteenth St., said the state department had not forgotten the Holland commissioner's request, but that it desired to wait until near the tourist season so that a more accurate count could be made of traffic. The letter also stated the state highway department would participate in the erection and maintenance of the light.

Commissioner Donnelly, during the discussion on the matter, reported that he had contacted State Rep. Nelson A. Miles in regard to the matter of installing the light and the latter, he had been in conference with the highway commission and had been granted another conference in regard to the matter.

The city's proposed new traffic ordinance was also brought up to the board by chairman Henry Ketel. The ordinance has now been drafted with the collaboration of Chief Blom, Chief Van Ry, City Attorney Elbert Parsons and the board.

At last night's council meeting Alderman Prins brought up the matter of traffic ordinance to the common council and it will go on its first reading at the next regular meeting two weeks hence.

Justice of Peace Nicholas Hoffman, Jr., presented his report for December and part of January in regard to the fees collected for the police retirement fund. It showed a collection of $9.60. The January report of Justice of Peace John Galien showed a collection of $15.40.

Chief of the fire department Cornelius Blom, Chief of the police department Frank Van Ry were instructed to prepare their budgets in time for perusal at the next meeting.

Miss Bertha Vender Bis entertained at a kitchen shower, last Wednesday evening, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Vander Bis, in honor of Miss Helene Broek whose marriage to William Dekker took place Friday evening. A few games were played and the balance of the evening was spent in playing Bunco followed by a two-course lunch.

Rodger Evan Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kramer, 122 East 25th St., celebrated his seventh birthday at his home Saturday by entertaining at a dinner party for several of his neighborhood friends.

Attending the party were Barbara Weststrate, Bobby and Betty May Kuiper, Jack and Joan Gogolin, Kenneth Bosma, Bobby Van Lier, Lynn Post, Joan and Donna Strabbing, Dorothy, Shirley, Beth and Rodger Evan Kramer.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Florence M. Verburg, a graduate of Northwestern university and a member of Kappa Delta sorority, has been made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Verburg of Chicago, to Frank E. Monahan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Monahan of Chicago, the wedding to take place in the early summer.

Miss Verburg, who has many friends in Holland, is a niece of Mrs. J. C. Van Leeuwen, route 5.

Activities for Christian Endeavor week, which this year is celebrating the 56th anniversary of the founding of the Christian Endeavor movement, opened with a rally at the Intermediate Christian Endeavor union of Holland, Sunday afternoon in Sixth Reformed church. About 190 attended the meeting which was presided over by Gus Van Eerden of Third church president of the Intermediate union. The honor banner for attendance was awarded to the Sixth church society and Fourth society each having 100 per cent of pledged membership present. Sixth church will have the banner for the first six months. Christian Walvoord, student at Western Theological seminary gave an interesting address on "Christian Youth Facing the Future Together." Discussion groups were in charge of Henry Kleinheks, Peter Bol, and Misses Luella Nykerk, Mabel Vaughn and Beatrice Boot. Following the rally a meeting of the superintendents was held to elect an advisory treasurer to replace Mrs. Marvin Schaap, formerly Miss Muriel De Witt, of the Ebenezer church, who is now in Georgia. Bernadine Van Meulen of Sixth Reformed church was named to position with Fred Van Voorst as union treasurer. Paul Scholten, Hope college student, led the meeting of the Senior C. E. society at Sixth Reformed church, Sunday evening on the topic, "What Do We Know About My Church?" At a meeting of the Junior society of Fourth Reformed church, Roger Vissercher led on the topic, "We Choose Christ," Sunday afternoon. In the evening the Rev. Henry Van Dyke led the Intermediate society on the topic, "What Do We Know About Our Church?" Junior rally will be held Sunday afternoon in Third Reformed church and activities will be climaxed Monday evening, Feb. 8, with a Christian Endeavor banquet in First church. Dr. Simon Blocker of Western seminary will be the main speaker.

Excelsior Chorus of Grand Rapids; participation of the Survey of Historical Records by William Jabine of Detroit; the organization of the museum by J. C. Beukema, secretary and manager of the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce; and the address of the evening by Dr. Samuel Zwemer of Princeton, New Jersey. Color will be added to the evening's entertainment by people in native provincial dress and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner with a merging of the American and Netherlands flags.

"Mrs. C. Bergen and her committee working under the supervision of the Survey of Historical Records are preparing a Dutch room typical of the province of Zeeland in The Netherlands. Zeelanders in costume will greet the guests at the exhibit and explain the many things of interest.

"The first museum exhibit transports the observer back to 1847 and the early years of struggle, homesickness, privation, sickness and often heart break. The struggle of Dr. Van Raalte for higher education for his flock is told graphically in two small black notebooks labeled "Traveling and Begging Guide." The Zeeland colonization and early financing is recorded in the Vander Luyster diary and record book. Numerous other documents testify to the life in each community. That these people brought to their new homes their habits of thought and their virtues is evident in the treasures that are coming to light daily. Every letter written in those early days is a testimony to their faith in a real and living God who directed them and guided them in the foundation that has resulted in today's prosperity for the Hollanders in this state."

Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, professor of the history of religion and Christian missions at Princeton Theological seminary, will be principal speaker at the ninetieth anniversary celebration of the setting of the Dutch in western Michigan. The celebration is to be held in Hope college chapel Feb. 9.

Dr. Zwemer is a former missionary to Arabia and is the son of a pioneer of western Michigan. The Zwemers settled in Vriesland, Ottawa county, in 1849. The father, Rev. Abram Zwemer, came from America from the province of Zeeland, The Netherlands.

Rev. Zwemer was secretary for the day at the public exercises held for the laying of the keel of a missionary ship later used on Black Lake, since renamed Lake Macatawa.

Graduate of Hope

Dr. Samuel Zwemer was born at Vriesland on April 2, 1867. He spent his early boyhood in Holland. He studied at Hope preparatory school and later at Hope college, where he was an outstanding student. Graduating with honors in 1887, Zwemer entered the Reformed seminary at New Brunswick the following fall. Before his graduation in 1890, Zwemer and two other students had determined upon a missionary career in Arabia.

Following a trying session at the general synod of the Reformed church at which the three young men were unable to obtain money, they went out and raised the money themselves. Dr. Zwemer's companions were Dr. John G. Lansing and James Cantine. In August, 1891, the mission was established in Basrah, Shatt-el-Arab, 60 miles from the Persian gulf. Later the Reformed church took over the Arabian mission, but the original contract drawn up by the three young missionaries remained the basis for operation.

In May, 1896, Dr. Zwemer and Amy Wilkes were married at Baghdad. Mrs. Zwemer was connected with a mission of the English church. She died Jan. 25, 1937.

In 1900 Dr. Zwemer was awarded the F. R. G. S., Fellow of the Royal Geographical society, London. In 1905 the Zwemers returned to the United States. It was then that he became candidate secretary for the student volunteer movement and field secretary to his own mission.

Dr. Zwemer went to Cairo, Egypt, in 1911, under an arrangement with the United Presbyterian mission of Egypt. He remained in Cairo as editor of the Moslem World, and honorary secretary of American Christian Literature society for Moslems. He also did a great deal of literary work. He became known at this time as one of the greatest authorities of the Moslem world of the present day. He still holds this distinction.

About seven years ago Dr. Zwemer accepted his present position at Princeton seminary.

An illustrated lecture was presented by Dr. Titus Van Hattena, local dentist, at the Parent-Teacher meeting in Washington school, Tuesday evening. Selections were given by the school band and orchestra under the direction of Stuart Ludlow. The Rev. William Van't Hof of Third Reformed church was in charge of devotions. The program was arranged by teachers of the third grade assisted by Mrs. J. D. French, Mrs. J. Zuidema, Mrs. H. J. Beckstorf and Mrs. B. J. Brower.

The 51st birthday anniversary of the Women's Missionary society of Hope Reformed church was celebrated at the regular monthly meeting, Wednesday, in the church parlors. Mr. George A. Pelgrim, recently elected president of the organization, presided. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. E. Leddick. The society was founded Feb. 1, 1886, and last year celebrated its golden anniversary. Mrs. Randall C. Bosch and Mrs. Leon Moody were chairmen of the program and the social hour was in charge of Mrs. Merrick Hanchett and her committee.

Mrs. Mary Steketee of 114 West 11th St., left for Racine Wis., Monday, where she will spend a month with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Nash.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Next Wednesday is the night of our regular meeting, February 10th.

Comrade Zwemer with his committee will pass out the lunch and have some entertainment for us.

The officers of the High Command of the National Guards at Flint have passed up the best manner of removing the "sit-downers." Why don't they send in Major Geerts to give the men a talk, they wouldn't stay long after he started, they would be out buying dictionaries.

Two shipment of clothing were made this last week by the Post. Several of the members spent Saturday afternoon and some evenings packing and boxing the material.

Pardon our bringing up the membership drive awards again, but we hear quite a bit about Coopersville who have more than doubled their membership. Even this is not so much when we learn of one man in Bay City who has signed up his 310th member so far.

Don't forget the regular meeting next Wed. Jack has already called that he and his committee are all set; think of that, a week in advance.

Mrs. Fred H. Ter Vree was hostess at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening, in honor of Miss Helen Klaver who will become the bride of Bernard Coster in the near future. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Klaver, Mrs. H. Wiekamp, Mrs. Gerald Vanderbeek and Miss Etta Mae Coster. The bride-to-be was presented with many lovely gifts and a two-course lunch was served.

Clarence Overbeek was the honored guest at a surprise party, Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jansen on rural route No. 6. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. H. Jansen and Ben Jansen. Mr. Overbeek was presented with a gift.

Zeeland Banker Dies Suddenly While Asleep

ty or another, having served almost continuously as elder and deacon. The rotary election system adopted by the church automatically placed him on the retired list two years ago. The congregation, nevertheless, felt that they needed his advice and guidance and made him a member of the greater consistency, a position which he held up to the time of his death.

The same zeal with which he performed the duties of the church was also reflected in conducting his office in the Sunday School. He had been the treasurer of the Sabbath School ever since the church was organized and served on the executive committee of that body.

Mr. Den Herder was a great lover of music. He believed in good music. He proved not only to be a good banker, but an excellent director of choruses. For many years the mixed chorus in Second Reformed Church was under his direction every Sunday, and on special occasions religious oratorios, Christmas and Easter contributions were in his charge and were wonderful offerings of a sacred nature.

During recent years Mr. Den Herder had curtailed his work in the bank to some extent, placing a portion of his duties on younger shoulders and in the summer he spent a great deal of his time at his home here on Lake Michigan.

For several winters he had gone to Florida for a few weeks each year and was planning to go again this winter, but the beautiful weather in Michigan delayed this trip for a few weeks.

The funeral of Mr. Den Herder took place in Zeeland Tuesday afternoon, with the services at the beautiful home, 43 East Central Avenue, taking place at 1:30 o'clock.

The services at the Second Reformed Church were called at 2:15 o'clock. The edifice was crowded to capacity and a large number from Holland, business associates and friends, came to Zeeland to attend the rites. A section of the church was reserved for the many relatives who came from far and near.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and came from every section of the state and beyond, indicating that "Chris" Den Herder was loved and stood in high esteem in the hearts and minds of a great many people in all walks of life.

Miss Antoinette Van Koeveering was at the console of the large pipe organ with her rendition of appropriate numbers softly playing throughout the service. One outstanding offering was "The Angels' Serenade," a very impressive moment came when Miss Naomi Van Loo sang, "Open The Gates Of The Temple," a favorite of Mr. Den Herder and an offering that leaves a lasting impression by the very able rendition of it.

The funeral in Second Reformed Church was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Richard Vanden Berg, who was assisted by Dr. Wynand Wichers of Hope College and Rev. John Van Peursen, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Zeeland.

The services were begun by Rev. John Van Peursen, who gave a fervent prayer in which he extolled the high qualities of the deceased. At one time Mr. Den Herder attended First Reformed Church and here is where he made his first confession of faith.

Following the prayer, Rev. Richard Vanden Berg gave a review of the life of Mr. Den Herder, presenting a beautiful word picture of his fine qualities, honesty of purpose and sterling character. He stated that Mr. Den Herder was not dead, but was where death and pain and the trials of this earth were no more. He stated that Mr. Den Herder still lived in the hearts of his dear ones and his intimate friends. He pointed out that in the life of Mr. Den Herder a lesson could be learned which we all should emulate.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, President of Hope College, was then introduced. He said in part as follows: "I have known Mr. Den Herder for a great many years. When a native of Zeeland I looked up to him with the highest respect and I want to say that I am not here to praise Mr. Den Herder but to praise the things he stood for in life. His was a sterling character and that character had its foundation when he was but a lad. Stern but loving parents and discipline figured in his early life. That character carried him through future years. Men trusted him, men loved him. 'Chris' Den Herder was always the same, a man of strong personality and bearing, he brought his fine qualities into play in civic, commercial or religious life. Those lessons of rugged honesty were a part of his being until the day of his death.

"He was a great believer in education, and it has been my privilege to work with him and, here too, his great ability, his broad vision was apparent. He believed in advanced education. It was more than he had personally received, and despite this handicap he educated himself, was well read and his mental horizon was indicative of the fact that he had gone far in delving into things educational.

"He served for many years on the Board of Education of Zeeland and no one will be able to estimate the value of his aid to education over the many years. I have worked with him on the Board of Trustees of Hope College and here, too, we sought his advice and guidance. Mr. Den Herder was never in a hurry to make a decision, but when he did make one it was either 'no' or 'yes,' and generally he was right.

"The pioneers stood for their religious ideals. They did not swerve to the right or the left. This trait was also inherent in him. His religious ideals were as those of his forebears, which will remain as a lasting monument to his memory.

His business dealings were conscientious, fair and just. Selfishness was not a part of his makeup. He was 'pure gold' in the market place, and if he was 'pure gold' in his dealings I believe he was 'pure gold' wherever he was and in whatever he undertook. Our whole well-being, whether that be our commercial, our educational or our religious structure, must depend on such men as 'Chris' Den Herder.

Interment took place in the Den Herder plot in the Zeeland cemetery.

Those who survive are four children, Jay H., of Holland, Harmon and Edward of Zeeland, and Mrs. Margaret Vande Velde of Holland; 10 grandchildren; a brother, George of Zeeland; and two sisters, Mrs. Kate Osewaarde and Mrs. Mary Kolyn of Holland.

The pallbearers were Mr. Henry Baron and Adrian Vanden Bosch of the Zeeland State Bank and Mr. Robert De Bruyn, Mr. Donald De Bruyn, Mr. Peter Schaap and Mr. Harmon Bosch, nephews of the deceased.

The funeral directors in charge were Dykstra of Holland and Baron of Zeeland.

Mild Weather
Would be Break
For Wildlife

'Hunger Moon' Always is the Big Danger Period for Animals and Birds

If February should fail to live up to its Indian name of "hunger moon," Michigan's birds, animals and fish will get a real break this winter. December and most of January established records for mild weather, which was a great help to wildlife getting through the winter. If February continues to fight off Jack Frost, chances are there will be a greater carry-over of wildlife than for many years.

In the bird world, there has been no necessity for emergency feeding this year. The ground was barren most of the time. Often it was not even frozen. Weed seeds were always available, and food could even be picked off the ground. During the last week of December, there were over 3,000 ducks on Gull Lake when the ice went out. Dr. Miles Pirnie, of the W. K. Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, reports:

During the day of the thaw, even a few pintail ducks returned. One Sunday afternoon, he says, a bald eagle tried to capture a captive, pinioned golden-eye duck at the sanctuary, but the duck kicked water in the eagle's face every time he swooped down.

Deer in Michigan's North country are getting a real break this winter. With a lot of talk about the threat of starvation next spring, it seems that Mother Nature is taking a hand to help out the deer. There has been little yarding this winter, which means the white-tails have been able to browse on the uplands, where there is plenty of food.

Among fish the lack of ice has served to protect them from winter die-offs. In shallow lakes, thick ice and heavy snows result in oxygen depletion, but with open water, this naturally does not occur. In the trout streams there has been no plague of merganser ducks which feed on trout when their usual haunts become frozen over. Should the mild weather of early January continue into February, fisheries men are fearful that pike and perch may spawn early, which might be disastrous if followed by a cold spell.

Hibernators Stay In

Hibernating animals have shown little inclination to come out of their dens for a "look-see" at our mild winter. Durward Allen, of the Department of Conservation, discovered a den containing 11 skunks, but the animals were sluggish and even after being handled, seemed anxious to go back to sleep again. Raccoons move about frequently, however, during mild weather.

Chances are that if February develops no unusual cold that opossums, which suffered a great deal last winter and actually were "frozen out" in many places, will show a good survival.

CHILD KILLED TRYING TO CLIMB IN WINDOW

Nettie Jane, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Lemen, of Allendale, was killed Friday afternoon when a window sash fell on her neck as she was trying to climb in a bedroom window of her parents' home.

The girl was unable to gain entrance into her home when she returned from school and was attempting to enter the house through a bedroom window by climbing on a box and pushing the window open when the accident occurred.

She was found trapped in the window by a younger sister who was unable to extract her from the closed window. The sister ran a short distance to the Walbrink garage where her father is employed.

Coroner Gilbert Vandewater stated that no inquest would be held.

Kin of Holland Folks Dies
in Grand Haven Wreck

Injuries suffered in the auto accident occurring in front of his home, near Muskegon, Friday claimed the life of John Knooihuizen, 70, of route 1, a well-known Norton township resident.

Mr. Knooihuizen suffered a skull fracture, punctured lung and fractures of both legs when he was reported by officers to have walked into a car driven by Henry Neiring, Jr., 22, of Grand Haven. The scene was U.S. 31, about three-quarters of a mile south of the Muskegon Airport road.

The death of Mr. Knooihuizen in Hackley hospital was the second due to traffic in Muskegon county since January. Only Wednesday, Mrs. Lillian Keur, 38, of Wolf Lake, was fatally injured when her car skidded on Bolt highway ice pavement and struck a telephone pole.

Mr. Knooihuizen was for about 30 years a grocery store operator at Walton and Terrace sts., Muskegon. He was born in North Holland, near Holland, in 1866 and came to Muskegon 32 years ago. He was a member of Bethany Christian Reformed church. Surviving are his son, Raymond; a daughter, Mrs. James Kilmer of Lansing; 3 grandchildren; two brothers, Matthew of Minneapolis and Dr. Albert Knooihuizen of Holland; and three sisters, Mrs. Jacob Lokker, Miss Margaret and Miss Laura Knooihuizen, all of Holland. Services were held Monday at 2 p. m. in the Clock funeral home. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Dr. Thomas J. Kane, coroner, was called in the case. Deputies Glenn Corey and J. C. Fowler investigated.

CITY NURSE RECOVERING FROM WHOOPING COUGH

Miss Florence Dykhouse, Haven nurse, who is convalescing from an attack of whooping cough contracted while visiting cases here during a recent widespread attack of the malady, remains in quarantine in her home but is expected to be at work within a week or two. Miss Dykhouse's name was inadvertently included in the guest list of a recent social event which she was unable to attend.

TWO GET PRISON TERMS IN OTTAWA

Eugene Stark, 25 years old of Nunica and Arthur Hyde, 17 years old, of Spring Lake, were sentenced to prison by Judge Fred T. Miles in circuit court today following their pleas of guilty to breaking and entering charges. Stark, arrested for alleged breaking and entering in the township, was sentenced to Southern Michigan prison for seven and a half to 22 years. Hyde, alleged to have broken into summer cottages at Spring Lake, was sentenced to Ionia for 18 months to five years.

Cyrus Kuiper and Udell Hoffman, both 21 years old, of Blenden, pleaded not guilty to charges of larceny from a dwelling. Sheriff's officers alleged they took money from the home of Johannes Kaats of Blenden.

Emersonian Task-Master Examines
Faculty on Shakespeare at Party

Hope College Anchor

That red-headed freshman, Don Sager, acted as a true champion of the students' cause when he put Chaperones Wichers and Winter through a mock examination last Friday night at the Emersonian party at the Woman's Literary Club.

On the "Globe Theatre" stage he requested the dignitaries to assume "alternate seats." Then chortling with satanic glee he assigned each "student" a long and comprehensive thought question dealing with Shakespeare, setting a time limit of one minute. He walked about the "classroom" asking a merry tune in emulation of you know who,

and after calling time, announced that it grieved him to state that Prof. Winter had received a C- and Dr. Wichers an F (a technical failure due to unsatisfactory arrangements with the Chancellor of the Exchequer in regard to payment of tuition).

Shakespeare himself in person of L. e. "Ancient Mariner" Mahan contributed timely topics to the occasion. H. Edwin Allen interpreted excerpts from the Bard of Avon in the original and then in contrasting modern fashion. Movies of Marlowe and Shakespeare were interspersed with the "classroom" asking a merry tune in emulation of you know who,

SET DATE FOR FROSH TRY AT NYKERK'S CUP

All has been quiet on the Freshmen-Sophomore front for some time, but the fire-works are expected to start again when the co-ed underclassmen clash next week. The date for the oratorical-musical-dramatic conflict has been set.

At the student council meeting last night the date of the freshman-sophomore contest was postponed to February 21 to accommodate the members not yet prepared to enter next week.

For February, when it will be staged in Carnegie gymnasium. The victors will be awarded the Nykerk cup trophy, which will be theirs for one year. This cup was donated last year by the late Dr. J. B. Nykerk to foster artistic achievement and to turn inter-class feeling into constructive channels.

The contest this year promises to be an extremely close one. The sophomores, according to Mary Jane Vaupell, who is in charge of their arrangements, will feature Gladys Van Lare as orator; the sophomore trio will sing, and a well-cast play with an unusual twist will be presented. Genevieve Nafe, as Freshman manager, promises plenty of competing with Rose Teninga to orate, a sextette to sing, and a play whose title, of course, cannot be disclosed.

The judges last year awarded the Nykerk cup to the Freshmen girls—this year's sophomores—as giving the best performance. This year's judges are yet to be selected.

ZEELAND LADY REPORTS
SAFE FROM FLOOD

Friends of Miss Martha Ossewaarde, who is employed at the Baptist hospital, Louisville, Kentucky, will be interested to know that she has not been greatly affected because of flood conditions there. Miss Ossewaarde has spent the past few weeks in Florida.

A message received here by her mother, Mrs. Wm. Ossewaarde, of Central Avenue, states that she is returning to Louisville on Monday. Mrs. Ossewaarde, who has visited her daughter in Louisville several times since the Baptist hospital is situated on a hill which has helped wonderfully in this flood experience. Miss Ossewaarde is a graduate of Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, and has been at Blodgett Hospital, Grand Rapids, before going to Louisville.

FISH TUGS PREPARE FOR MILD WEATHER

If mild weather conditions prevail, the whole fleet of fishing tugs operating out of Grand Haven will resume activity within a week or two.

Three tugs are in operation now and others are laid up repairing nets and other gear. There are about eight or nine tugs at Grand Haven ranging from 30 feet to 65 feet in length.

Holland Societies
Observe Prayer Day

The World Day of Prayer will be celebrated Feb. 12 this year in Christian lands. The day is an outgrowth of the united days of prayer instituted by the Women's Board of Home and Foreign Missions. The world day was first organized in 1927.

The theme this year is "Thou Art the Christ, the Son of the Living God." The program was written by Miss Mable Shaw, founder of the Livingston Memorial Girls' Boarding school in North Rhodesia, Africa.

The Holland, Mich., societies will meet in Hope church on that date, from 2 to 4 p. m. Mrs. G. H. Dubink will preside. Mrs. James Wayer of Holland will give the principal address.

ZEELAND CAGE TEAM
DEFEATS GRANDVILLE

Zeeland high school won from Grandville, 22 to 15, in the annual struggle between the schools. Coach Leon Kleis' boys overcame 10-5 lead held by Grandville at the half to win.

Zeeland held Grandville to one point in the third period while building up a 14-9 margin. Then the Zeelandites pulled away to clinch the contest. Brower, Borra and Van Valkenburg shared high honors with 6 points apiece.

Folke and Chayne were outstanding for Grandville with 5 and 6 points, respectively. Zeeland reserves won, 22 to 19.

Village Fire Loss in 1936 $1 per Capita

The annual report of the Coopersville Fire Department for the year 1936 shows that the loss for the village of Coopersville for that period was approximately $1.00 per capita, or in the neighborhood of $10,000, this figure being derived from the losses as adjusted by the insurance companies, although the actual figure might exceed this total somewhat.

The report shows that during the year there were 22 fires, 15 alarms being sent from the village. From the township, and from outside the township, that being the Conklin fire which destroyed the elevator of the Peoples Milling Co. Twenty-five practices for members of the Firemen's Club were held during the year, and the average attendance at both the practices and fires was 88 percent, or an average of 10.25 percent of the crew at each fire. This is an excellent record, which may well be the envy of many communities much larger than Coopersville.

Since the purchase of the new fire truck, arrangements have been made by the Coopersville village council and the township board with several of the nearby townships, providing additional fire protection for those localities.

HENRY GOUGH BIRCHBY
FORMER HOPE CHURCH PASTOR
PASSES IN PASADENA

Mrs. Albert Diekema, west 16th Street, has received a message telling of the death of Rev. Birchby, pastor of Hope Church 45 years ago. Rev. Birchby was born in Euxton, Lancashire, England, on June 25, 1853. When two years of age his family moved to Manchester. He came to the United States in 1874. In preparation for the ministry he prepared for college at Mantua Academy, and graduated from Lafayette College in 1881, and from Union Theological Seminary in 1884. After graduation he returned to England where he married Elizabeth Bradshaw on July 24, 1884, who died on October 15, 1908.

His first pastorate was in Willmar, Minnesota, where he labored as a home missionary. In 1888 he went to New York City where he became assistant to Dr. Howard Crosby, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, and was in charge of Grace Chapel. For thirty-two years he held various pastorates: Smithfield, N. Y., Holland, Mich., Westerville, Ohio, Kasson, Minn., and Peabody, Kans. Two years of this time were spent in evangelistic work.

On December 1, 1810, in Newton, Kans., he married Miss Helen A. Donnan, who survives him. They came to California soon after their wedding, and spent the following eight years in pastorates at La Jolla and Placentia. He resided in Alhambra for several years, and later moved to Pasadena where he lived until his death, January 14, 1937. His body was laid to rest in Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena.

He was ordained by the Presbytery of St. Paul, on November 5, 1884, and was a Presbyterian minister for more than fifty years. After retirement he attended Lake Avenue Congregational Church of Pasadena, for nearly ten years and during much of this period taught a Bible Class of young married people in that church. From early youth he was a devout student of the Bible. He was given a remarkably clear understanding of the deeper truths of God's Word, and possessed in large measure the faculty of imparting this truth to others. He loved the Word, and he was indeed a teaching ministry, for he awakened a love for Divine truth in many hearts.

After February 2, 1936 he was laid aside suffering from Bright's disease and bronchitis. He suffered much but at the last was more restful and quiet. During these weary months he often prayed and sang his favorite hymn, one of which was "My Faith Looks up to Thee." He testified to God's goodness and love all along the way until the very end. Rev. Birchby was pastor of Hope Church 45 years ago and labored in this field at least 8 years.—Contributed.

Franklin Van Alsburg left Monday morning for Missouri after spending about five days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Van Alsburg. Mr. Van Alsburg has been employed as junior forester with the Clark National Forest Service at St. Louis, Mo., since November.

Raymond M. Foley Tells Exchange Club City Far Out-Strips Other Communities

There was a large attendance at the Exchange Club meeting on Monday noon at Warm Friend Tavern in recognition of the speaker, Mr. Raymond M. Foley, State Director at Detroit of the Federal Housing Administration. He had been obtained by Mr. "Bill" Connelly, our efficient Chamber of Commerce Secretary, but was introduced by President Joe Goetts to forestall a too lengthy introduction of the visiting Irishman by our only Irish member, "Bill," and thus taking away too much time from the speaker who had an important message and some very fine things to say about Holland.

Mr. Foley said he had been in Holland before as a speaker on some political questions, as he was for more than twenty years in newspaper work and now for two years in government employ in charge of Michigan, as this relates to the Federal Housing Act. He said he felt it rather superfluous for him to visit Holland with his message, since during 1936, this city had accomplished more for good housing than any other city in Michigan compared to size. Holland, he said, should be complimented in making real effort to relieve the housing shortage so prevalent in our state.

He said that this shortage of good, respectable homes was due to the fact that as long as a house stands, people just let it go regardless of how poorly it suits the needs and social standards of the family. We think of slum districts as restricted to larger cities, but these are found, he claimed, even in smaller ones like Holland so that many homes are really not fit for children to live and grow up in. He said, however, he knew of no slum district in Holland; and there absolutely is none. Tracing the growth of the home and city from primitive savage conditions, he said that all governmental activity rested on the prime purpose of making good homes and safe for the people. To this central home goes back all authority vested in national and state governments, so such homes should be built as will bring honor to the people growing up in them. Bad housing conditions cause social threats because they produce dissatisfied people.

The Federal Housing Act is the government's effort to remedy this unhappy condition and is a most powerful tool, in the speaker's conception, for improving social standards. Its two-fold purpose is to improve the homes and to support the building trade and provide work for many people. It began when mortgage foreclosures were frequent especially in Michigan since in this state more homes had been sold by the land contract method than in any other. Based on faith in the credit of the average man, the Federal Government will guarantee to banks full payment on loans on new homes up to reasonable amounts and help present owners in carrying mortgages over longer periods of time. He hopes Holland will continue its good work in building more good homes and congratulated those who had been sold by the land contract method in any other. He might add that the Holland Chamber of Commerce, through the efforts of Mr. Connelly and a committee for that purpose, have been able to accomplish this work of which Mr. Foley speaks so highly.

Mr. John Van Appledorn was welcomed as the newest member of the club. There were several guests, among those present: Mr. L. D. Abbe, a member of the Exchange Club of Benton Harbor, and Mr. Arthur Boyce of York, Pa., a branch manager of the H. C. Furnace Company who sang "Loves Old Sweet Song" and led the club in singing the chorus.

Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp gave a tentative report on the plans for this year's operation of the Good-fellows Foundation. The Stokette-Van Huis Printing Company were thanked for the 10,000 sales tickets furnished for the "Newspaper Sales."

Rev. W. G. Flowerday, pastor of M. E. Church, offered the invocation. Mr. M. P. Russell, Boy Scout Executive for Ottawa and Allegan Counties, distributed the reports of the Eleventh Annual meeting of the Scout Council. It was a very flattering resume.

544 Pike Spearred on Bluegill Lake

More than 500 fish were speared by a group of Jackson and Lenawee County sportsmen, accompanied by Conservation Officer Lester T. Harkness. The total haul amounted to 544 garpike, two dogfish and two carp. On some nights as many as 50 to 60 garpike were taken. Local resorters and resort operators on popular bluegill lakes contributed gasoline for the jack-lights.

MUSKEGON DEFEATS
HOLLAND QUINTET BY
30 TO 23 MARGIN

Muskegon continued its undefeated basketball march at Muskegon Friday night, winning over Holland high 30 to 23, in a southwest conference game. Muskegon, its passing attack working in clicking order, was in front, 20 to 9, at halftime. The last two quarters proved a reversal of this first-half form for the locals, and Holland outscored the Big Reds to make it an interesting battle, as had been predicted.

McIntyre, Mason and Kolenie were outstanding for Muskegon, and Van Dort and Grisen, for Holland. The Holland reserves were swamped in the opener, when the Muskegon reserves triumphed, 54 to 7, in a definitely "on" night.

He does not say that neither this man nor his parents had sinned, for they had sinned and come short of the glory of God. What He means is that the sin of neither of them was responsible for this particular affliction. In the fourth place He shows that suffering is not so much a thing to be debated and argued about as it is an opportunity to manifest our sympathy and helpfulness and to put into action the grace of God.

How little profit there has been in the average discussion on the origin of evil and the source and purpose of suffering. We cannot help being impressed with the meagre light Jesus threw on these questions. He had no time for them. He came to remove sin and to ameliorate suffering. He called His disciples to labor with Him. To that end He was sent in the world, and a similar commission He gave His followers. Theorizing about evil never helped anyone. To ease the burden it imposes and to remove it, these are our major opportunities. And besides we are not roving to have much time to work at it. Death is coming and that will end our labor.

Christ did deal with a word and He often did. Sometimes He chose to use means. An eye-salve, made of clay and saliva, was looked upon as having remedial values. The touch of the Saviour's fingers and the application of the moistened clay would serve to assist the weak faith of the blind man. It was not the clay that affected the cure. The Jews forbade this method of healing on the Sabbath, probably because it was a form of work. When the blind turned to go to the pool to wash he showed his faith in the physician. The pool has been identified, and may be seen on the south east edge of Jerusalem. Siloam means "issuing, gushing forth;" but John gives it a mystical interpretation, referring either to the man who was sent on a mission of healing, or to Jesus who was sent forth from the Father.

It is easy to imagine what a great change would come over a person, who had suddenly passed from blindness to sight. It is a little wonder that there was a little change of view about his identity. They had never seen him as a helpless, despondent figure, staring vacantly into space. Now he is alert, moves quickly, and radiates from his face the joy of the discovery of a new world that floods his soul. Either this is the man that begged, or he is some one else. He declares that he is the same man.

The miracle was the occasion of a bitter religious controversy. Physically the man's identity could easily be proved, but the fact that he was the object of the amazing mercy of Christ involved a number of theological questions. Is this Christ who is supposed to perform the miracle from God? If He is a good man? If He is a good man would He violate our Sabbath? Does He perform miracles by His own power or by the power of Beelzebub? The dispute waxed hot. There was a division. Some said this is a good man. Others said He was not a good man, else He would keep the Sabbath. The blind man's parents were involved, but they side-stepped. They knew the penalty of taking sides with Christ.

The man was called back for a second time for examination. He said that his parents had said. His examiners tried to browbeat him into denying Jesus and the reality of the miracle. For that is what they meant when they told him to give the glory to God. They refused to think of Christ as from God. They connected His work with demons. Did the man also say of Jesus, "Whether He is a sinner, I know not?" or was his knowledge of Jesus very limited? That the latter was the case is quite clear, as the progress of the story shows. He could not say much as to the character of Jesus, but he refused point blank to deny the miracle. He held fast to two facts—first he was blind, second he now sees.

An application was filed with City Clerk Oscar Peterson Monday by Frank Charter to remodel the interior of his barber shop, 6 West 8th st., by installing a partition at a cost of $75.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Cotts of Michigan City, Ind., were week-end guests of Mrs. Cotts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Van Alsburg, 419 Lincoln ave.

Miss Clara Nelson of Fennville, who spent a few days with her parents in Fennville, has returned here to resume her studies at the local Christian high school.

Peter Sikkil is confined to his home on West 10th st. with a broken ankle.

A sacred program was presented by the chorus of Holland Christian high school in the Borculo church

Friday evening. Marvin Baas, director, was in charge.

State Sen. Earnest C. Brooks and State Rep. Nelson A. Miles and William Woldering, of Holland, sergeant of arm in the state senate, left here Monday to attend sessions of the Michigan state legislature.

Allegan county, of course, with its large number of Hollanders, is taking a part in celebration of the ninetieth anniversary of the coming of the Rev. Van Raalte and his colony which began the city of Holland. A meeting last week in that city to formulate plans was attended by Mrs. L. R. Brady of Saugatuck, G. J. Brower of Overisel, and Judge Tucker and Albertus Kolyoord of Allegan—Allegan Gazette.

Word has been received at Fennville that "Jack" Zetek of Holland, who formerly lived in this locality, is a patient in Holland hospital where he underwent an operation.

Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, dean of Albion college, was the speaker at the meeting of the Century club Monday night, in the home of Mr.

and Mrs. George A. Pelgrim. Dr. Whitehouse presented an interesting picture of American life and institutions as seen through European eyes. He told how Europe is gradually adopting many American suggestions and methods although the American life and many of their customs have been viewed by the foreigner as ludicrous. Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp presided and introduced the speaker. A program of music included vocal solos by Mrs. Arthur A. Visscher, who sang Landon Ronald's "Cycle of Life," accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow. A social hour was in charge of Prof. and Mrs. Milton L. Hinga, Mrs. J. D. French, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rhea, and Dr. M. J. Cook.

The Holland Candy Co. of Holland was the first to contribute in the drive put on last week by the Chamber of Commerce for donations of "knick-knacks" and candy bars for the members of the Holland National guard unit in Flint. They offered enough bars to supply the local men with five rations.

Attorney Orien S. Cross was in Allegan last Thursday on business. Mrs. Sallie Nash, who has been caring for Mrs. John Goodin of Port Sheldon, has returned to her home in Holland.

The Melody Men of Zeeland, under the direction of John Vanderstus of Holland, furnished special music at the evening service Sunday in Sixth Reformed church. Clarence Dykema was the accompanist.

Information has been received by Jacob Barendse, manager of the Holland office of the National Reemployment Service, from Major Howard Starret, state re-employment director, that more men over 40 years of age are being employed in the building and construction industry in Michigan. Approximately 30 per cent of the men and women getting jobs through the NRS are above 40, he said. During November, 1936, chosen because it is considered a normal month, out of 6,835 private placements analyzed, 1,992 persons were over the 40 mark. Practically every industry in Michigan was represented, Major Starret said.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smallegan and children of Forest Grove are making an extended pleasure visit through Florida, Texas and California. They visited Miss Jennie Kremer, an aunt, in St. Petersburg, Fla., and wrote about flood disaster scenes in Texas. They are now visiting in California.

A 1936 Oldsmobile coach owned by Miss Leona Dins, of Grand Rapids, was recovered Friday in Zeeland by Officer Lester De Pree of the Zeeland police department. Leveine Van Koevering, 839 Broadway, Grand Rapids, 15 years old, and Oiva Linholm, 412 Fifth Place, N.W., Grand Rapids, 16 years old, were found driving the car in Zeeland. The boys were taken back to Grand Rapids by Grand Rapids police officers. No statement of charges was made.

Gerrit A. Bax, a parcel post and factory delivery carrier for the Holland postal department for the past 24 years, was made postal clerk on Feb. 1 to fill the vacancy left by the death of Richard Van Kolken, who died here Jan. 3. Gerrit Doorn, a substitute carrier for 7 years, was promoted to a regular carrier and Paul H. Michelsen, a carrier for the past 15 years, took over Mr. Bax's route. Edwin Bos was taken on as a substitute carrier in place of Gerrit Doorn.

The marriage of Miss Johanna Alice Cook of Drenthe and Anthony J. Bouwens of Zeeland was solemnized last Wednesday evening at the parsonage of Sixth Reformed church. The Rev. J. Van der Beek officiated. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Will De Groot of Vriesland. Mr. and Mrs. Bouwens will make their home south of Zeeland on a farm, at least 8 years.

Following the request of the Chamber of Commerce, a local candy company has sent William M. Connelly, manager of the chamber, enough candy bars to supply the local guardsmen at Flint with five rations each. This is the first contribution received by the chamber since it sent out its request a few days ago for "knickknacks" for the local guardsmen.

The Holland City News, a weekly published in this city, was awarded a life membership certificate in the Half Century club of the American Press. The certificate was received by Editor Ben Mulder Saturday. The News has just finished its sixty-sixth year and Mulder has been in charge of the paper 44 years.—Grand Rapids Press.

Four elders and six deacons were elected to the consistory of Hope Reformed church for two-year terms at the annual meeting held in the church parlors, Wednesday night. Re-elected elders were Dr. A. Leenhouts and W. J. Olive, elected were J. J. Riemersma and Merrick Hanchett. Randall C. Bosch and Albert Van Zoeren were re-elected deacons. Also named as deacons were M. L. Hinga, Dr. O. Vander Velde, George A. Pelgrim and Henry Winter. Dr. A. Leenhouts presided at the business meeting. Reported of auxiliary societies of the church were read by Kenneth U. De Pree, A. Van Zoeren, treasurer, and Henry Winter, clerk, gave reports. The pastor, Dr. T. W. Davidson, presented a report of the year's work. It was decided to hold a special collection during the Sunday morning service for the benefit of the Red Cross flood relief fund. Community singing was led by Vernon Ten Cate, with Mrs. Martha Robbins at the piano. The meeting followed a congregational supper served by the Women's Aid society under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lloyd Healey.

About 165 members and guests were present at the anniversary meeting last Wednesday evening of the Sisters of Bethany society of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. Husbands of the members were invited to help celebrate the fifth anniversary. A program was presented after devotions and a hearty welcome was extended by the president, Mrs. C. Greengood. Mrs. E. Heeringa, representing the Aid society, extended greetings and a history of the society was given by Mrs. C. De Graaf. The president read a letter received from Mrs. H. Bouma, the society's organizer and first president, sending her love and good wishes. A double quartet consisting of four women, Mrs. H. Palmboos, Mrs. M. Vander Vliet, Mrs. B. Kalkman and Mrs. C. Vos, and four men, W. J. Brouwer, A. Van Dyke, F. Vander Ploeg and E. Stegink, sang "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," accompanied by Miss Gertrude Beckman at the piano. A dialogue, "Interviewing Servant Girls," was enacted by Mrs. W. J. Brouwer, Mrs. J. Vos, Mrs. M. De Boer, Mrs. P. Ueno, Mrs. J. Volkers, Mrs. C. Ter Haar, and Mrs. E. Stegink. Another selection, "Remember Now Thy Creator," was given by the double quartet. "A Practical Use for Peddlers," a dialogue, was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Wieren, J. Zwemer and C. Greengood. Following a budget by Mrs. C. Kragt, the president read a poem concerning the Sisters of Bethany, written by Mrs. G. Slenk. G. Lemmen in the name of the men, expressed appreciation to the women for the invitation and entertaining and closed with a prayer. A two-course lunch was served by Mrs. E. Barendse, Mrs. J. Greengood, Mrs. W. Selles, Mrs. J. Westerhof, Mrs. W. Beckman and Mrs. E. Rotman.

A letter telling of the experiences of residents of Cincinnati in the great Ohio river flood was received last week by Harry Grond, 89 West 9th st., assistant manager of the J. C. Penny store here, from his brother, Albert Grond. Mr. Grond, who is employed in the vocational department of the Cincinnati public schools, writes his brother that he and his wife, who live in a Cincinnati suburb, have been engaged in the past week working at relief stations. Continuing, he writes that he and his wife got up every morning in a cold house and cook their breakfast by candlelight and then work all day until late at night in the relief stations. The letter also contains details of the hardships being faced by other Cincinnati residents.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2144, voted Friday night to send a donation of cash and blankets for the relief of flood sufferers with gifts being sent by the post auxiliary. Previous to the meeting, Commander F. J. Bissell of the post presented the Boy Scout troop of Montello Park with an American flag. Plans were adopted for the serving of refreshments at the regular meetings from now until summer.

At a meeting of the fifth district of the American Legion, last Thursday evening in Grand Rapids, plans were made for the transportation to the flooded area of the articles which are being collected by a large number of Legion posts throughout the state which are working in conjunction with the Red Cross. Local Legionnaires attending the meeting were Edward Slooter, Alfred Joldersma, Dr. William Weststrate, Jack Barendse, Charles V. Miller and Chester Van Tongeren. The Holland Legion post has established headquarters in the old People's State bank building on East Eighth st. A number of Legionnaires are making calls at various homes. If local residents call the Red Cross office, telephone 2532, or notify any Legionnaire, a truck will call for the donations.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

FREEZING weather in California and flood conditions in the Mississippi basin have affected supplies and prices of most foods either directly or sympathetically due to increased demand on whatever is available. Most directly affected are naval oranges, lemons, avocados and iceberg lettuce with peas, celery and broccoli to a lesser extent.

Lamb, pork and poultry offer the best meat values, eggs are plentiful and very reasonable and butter is lower than last year at this season. The three dinners given below are based on current market conditions.

Low Cost Dinner

Lamb Pot Pie with Vegetables
Coke
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Pudding with Sliced Bananas
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb

There's Nothing Like GASfor
BROILING

Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.

ROASTING

GAS gives you the oven ventilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts. Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that flat "steamed" flavor.

BAKING

Baking requires an unlimited range of oven temperatures evenly distributed. That's why Gas assures light, evenly browned cakes, pies and breads.

FRYING

Perfect, speedy frying requires instant heat—even spread of heat under the skillet—numberless heat variations. GAS gives them all!

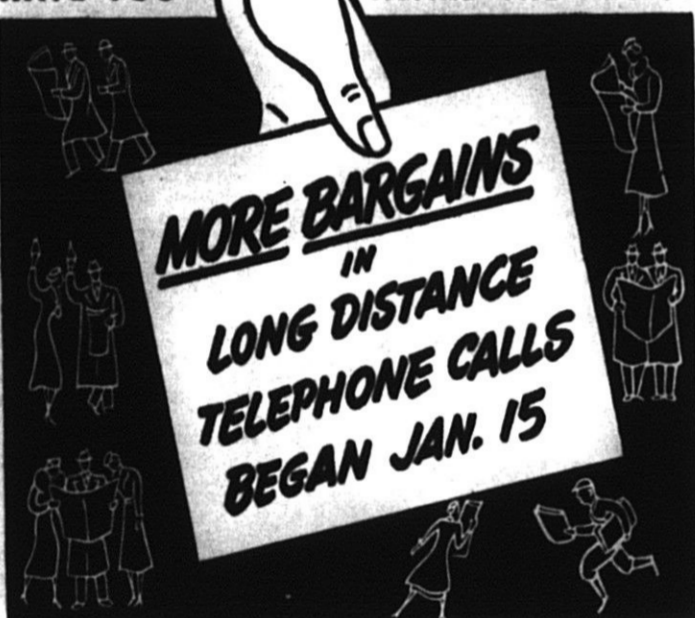

BOILING

Faster! GAS brings foods to boil in two-thirds or less the time of other fuels. Because it is more flexible, it gives you the exact degrees of heat you need.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE NEWS?

AGAIN Long Distance telephone rates have been reduced—the eighth time in about ten years.

Many interstate rates, for calls of more than 42 miles, are affected. The reductions for the first three minutes range from 5 cents to $1, depending on distance.

The new rates make it easier to keep in touch with distant friends or relatives—easier to do business in other cities. Sample Long Distance service soon. It's two-way. It's quick, clear, personal—and above all, more economical than ever.

Representative rates are listed below.
