Council Will Not Buy Local Masonic Temple

BUILDING IS WORTH PRICE
ASKED, BUT NOT SUITABLE FOR LIBRARY IS CON-TENTION

Differences Between Labor Unions
on Light Plant Project Will No Doubt Be Ironed Out

The question of a rumored preference given to American Federation of Labor members for employment on the municipal power plant project, brought up at the regular meeting of common council Wednesday night in the city hall, resulted in a broad discussion and general clarification of the subject, to the satisfaction of a representative of the council from the Christian Labor association.

Rhine Vander Meulen, president of the building trades council of the Holland union of the C.L.A., spoke from the gallery. He thanked City Atty. Clarence Lokker for a report in which the city attorney went into the legal aspects of the situation in detail. Mr. Vander Meulen expressed satisfaction that the matter will be cleared up through the Detroit office of the Michigan Employment Service.

Council went on record as being unanimously opposed to the purchase of the Masonic temple building as a library after a report from Albert Hekema, a member of the library board, that the building is not suitable for the purpose. Ald. Edward Brouwer of the civic improvements committee, which had investigated the possibility of the purchase in case the library board found the building satisfactory, said, "If the building is not suitable for library purposes, we should not buy it."

Mayor Geerlings stated that the building was cheap if compared with the amount of money that was put in to build it and it might be a good buy for some purposes, but the expense of remodeling for library for which it was not suited did not make it a desirable purchase from the city's standpoint. "I don't think the city should go into the real estate business," Ald. Cornelius Kalkman, Sr., said. Ald. Martin Oudemool, seconded by Ald. Brouwer, made the motion that council go on record as not entertaining the intention of purchasing the Masonic Temple.

The Christian Labor Association-American Federation of Labor question was introduced when City Clerk Oscar Peterson read a letter from J. Gritter, secretary of the C.L.A., in which the letter stated that he wishes to correct a statement made in a recent publication that the C.L.A. is "not a recognized union." Mr. Gritter wrote that the C.L.A. is recognized by the National Labor Relations board and the United States and state departments of labor.

WEST OLIVE FARMER IS IM- PROVING NICELY

Mr. Martin Berkompas of West Olive, who was seriously injured last November when he was trampled by his horses and his farm wagon passed away, has sufficiently recovered that he is now able to sit up a short time each day. Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Gebben and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Riemersma were their guests on Sunday afternoon.

Founders' Day To Be Observed Next Thursday

WILLARD WICHERS GIVES A REVIEW OF THE BEGINNING OF THE CELEBRATION
THREE YEARS AGO

Holland is again to celebrate Founders' Day, begun so auspiciously three years ago when the date was set for the observance on the exact day when the founders arrived and began to lay the foundation at the head of Lake Macatawa. That beginning has brought a beautiful city of culture, with the environs just as ideal, typifying the characteristics of those hardy Dutch pioneers, who planned all these things when they had nothing but a wilderness for a background.

Willard Wichers, secretary of the Netherlands Foundation gives a brief review of what has transpired during these three years in order to keep alive the traditions of our forefathers. The centennial of the founding of Holland is only eight years away, and it behooves us to take a deep interest in these celebrations perceiving what is to be a commemoration of considerable magnitude just a few years in the offing.

Mr. Wichers' resume follows:
By Willard Wichers
The Netherlands Museum is about to enter its third year. It will be remembered that its formal opening was a part of the program for February 9th two years ago when West Michigan residents of Dutch ancestry commemorated the arrival of the first of the colonists from the Netherlands, headed by Dr. A. C. Van Raalte.

That meeting two years ago, held in the City Hall, one afternoon in January brought representatives from all this section of the state. They came from Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Grand Haven and Zeeland, and from each of the smaller communities. Ideas were expressed freely, and it was finally decided to keep February 9th as the day to commemorate, although William M. Connelly, at that time Manager-Secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, with others especially interested in Tulip Time festivities urged that the celebration be held in May.

The motion to establish in Holland a Museum as a shrine to the memory of these pioneers was made by John Benkens, manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Muskegon and seconded by Col. Thomas Van Urk, president of the Kalamazoo Knickerbocker club.

That first memorable meeting held on February 9th was so successful that any doubt as to the wisdom of the day selected was soon dissipated. Hope college chapel housed the Museum exhibits, and the afternoon was given over to this opening. The rooms were crowded and exhibits continued to arrive throughout the day. Old friends met there, and traveled back through the years as cherished objects recalled the past. The evening meeting, held in the well-filled Hope chapel auditorium was addressed by Dr. Samuel Zwemer, Professor at Princeton Theological seminary at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Before last year's meeting, the museum had been moved to larger quarters at People's State Bank building on 8th Street, and on February 9th an invitation was extended by Willard C. Wichers to all local and visiting Dutchmen to again meet their friends at the museum. This increasing popularity of the day crowded this larger room to capacity, and the impromptu singing of psalms, led by William Amdershorst and Albert Keppel helped to knit old ties still closer. This evening meeting, again held in the college chapel, was addressed by Prof. Albert Hyma of the University of Michigan.

On February 9th of this year, a different type of entertainment has been outlined. The committee in charge, headed by Dr. Wynand Wichers, have planned an evening of unusual interest in which films of the Netherlands will be shown, as was announced last week. Music for the evening is being arranged by Prof. Kenneth Oudemool, head of the Music Department of Hope college. A male quartet consisting of J. Houting, Jack Bos, K. Trapp and Rein Vischer will sing, accompanied by Mrs. K. Trapp. Other musical numbers including trumpeters are being planned.

The meeting is to be held in the high school auditorium and a detailed program will be released as soon as final arrangements have been completed. Other details connected with the commemoration next week Tuesday include: that William Brouwer will be the "voorsinger." At four o'clock on the day of celebration, the trustees of the Netherlands Foundation will meet in the ballroom of Warm Friend Tavern and transact such business as will come before the meeting. Among them are Dr. Henry Beets, Dr. John Hoekje, registrar of Western State Teachers College, Kalamazoo; and Consul to the Netherlands, Jacob Steketee of Grand Rapids; Frank Botje of Grand Haven, John Hartgerink of Zeeland, Martin Frissell of Muskegon, Dr. A. Leenhouts, (Willard Wichers, George Tinnhof, Cornelius Vander Meulen, and Willard Wichers, secretary of Holland).

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knoll are back here after having attended the gift show in Chicago. Mrs. D. J. Du Saar also plans to attend the show.

Atty. O. S. Cross of Holland was in Lansing Wednesday for a meeting of the state bar committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knoll are back here after having attended the gift show in Chicago.

Last week James Heerspink attended a banquet for wholesale jewelers at Chicago.

The Eunice Aid society will hear an address at 2:30 p. m. Friday by the Rev. L. Van Laar of Prospect Park Christian Reformed church.

Friday evening the Ladies auxiliary of Eagles will meet for a business session and social hour.

A cafeteria dinner to which the public is invited will be given between 5:30 and 7 p. m. Friday by the XL class Sunday School class of Third Reformed church.

The 50th anniversary of the founding of the Arabian mission was observed Thursday afternoon by members of the Ladies Missionary society of Trinity Reformed church. Pictures of work among the lepers in Arabia were shown by Dr. William Moordyk, medical missionary to that country.

Sixty Years Ago Today

Diphtheria seems to have made its appearance in Holland in a virulent form and it seems to us parents will do well to be prepared by getting ready those remedies they deem best or those their family doctor prescribes. Medical men tell us that it ought to be treated in its earliest stages and a good precaution would be to teach children to gargle with water or milk so that in case of necessity they can receive more effective treatment than would otherwise be the case. Note: Today teaching the child how to gargle is unnecessary since they know how after their first teeth brushing. Sixty years ago many died from diphtheria since science had not discovered effective treatment. Today, with toxin-anti-toxin, there are few cases that even reach the serious stage and deaths are rare, according to reports. Diphtheria as a serious disease has been practically wiped out. Sixty years ago it was the most feared of all the serious human ailments.

The installation of the second pastor of Hope church, Rev. Daniel Van Pelt, took place directly after the Christmas holidays and the evergreens that filled the church were kept intact to serve a double purpose also as decorations for the installation. The order of service was as follows: Invocation, Rev. J. W. Beardslee of Constantine, Mich.; chant, Hope church choir; scripture, Rev. Peter Moordyk, Grand Rapids; prayer, Rev. N. D. Williamson of St. Joseph, Mo.; benediction, Rev. J. De Spelder of Maas, Mich.; sermon, Prof. Charles Scott of Holland; installation, Rev. A. H. Van Vranken of Centerville, Mich.; charge of congregation and pastor, Rev. Ph. Phelps, D.D., Holland; prayer, Rev. H. Uiterwyk, pastor of Third church; hymn, Rev. W. M. Coplin, pastor M. E. church, Holland; benediction, Rev. D. Van Pelt, new pastor who will deliver his first sermon Sunday. Note: Rev. Phelps, D.D., mentioned, was the first president of Hope college and also the first pastor of Hope church. His daughter, Mrs. Otte, widow of a missionary, still lives in Holland. Dr. J. W. Beardslee came to Holland and became head of the Western Theological seminary. Rev. Charles Scott later became the president of Hope college. He is the father of Ed Scott living on the North Side. He lived in an old Colonial-looking home with large pillars and veranda much like a southern home—located on East 9th st.

Fifty Years Ago Today

M. A. Vinkemulder of Graafschap died last Sunday at the age of 90 years. Note: Had he lived he would now be 140 years old, 38 years older than the founding of Holland by Dr. Van Raalte.

The Cappon Berach Leather Co. of this city received over 1,000 carloads of bark during 1888. Note: This bark, used for tanning purposes, was piled in house-like formation, covering acres of ground. Most of the piles were along 9th and 10th streets and on Maple ave. and also on the north side of West 8th st., still tannery property, made famous by Alderman Kalkman. This piling was a skillful job and the bark slabs were so arranged that they formed a roof so water would run off readily. It was the playground of the "kids" of my day and "hide and go seek" as well as "run sheep run" were ideal games, with rows upon rows of bark piles to play around.

James Ryder, for years proprietor of the Phoenix Hotel of Holland, died at the age of 83 years. He leaves a wife and three children, Charles, George and Nellie. Note: The Phoenix hotel was on the southeast corner of 8th st. and the C. & W. M. (now P. M.) main line. It was a large three-story frame building with a veranda all around it. It was a railroad men's headquarters and many traveling men of the old school stopped there also. It turned some 30 years ago. The widow, Mrs. M. A. Ryder, remained in the hotel business for years afterward, conducting Hotel Macatawa in the early days and later taking over the City hotel, changing the name to Hotel Holland, now the site of Warm Friend Tavern. Mrs. Ryder, as well as Charles and George, two of the children, have passed away. The daughter, Mrs. Nellie Wiers, lives at Palm Beach, Fla. The Ryder family has played an important part in hotel life in Holland and vicinity.

Kanters Bros., hardware dealers, have moved into their new building now owned by the Knoll Plumbing Co., recently remodeled.

A. J. Kramer's dry goods store is having a week's sale on dresses and all ladies' goods. Note: This store was located in the Vander Veen building, one of the stores now occupied by the Penny Co. You should see the pictures of the dresses in the advertisement—high in the waist, tight fitting sleeves, ruffles covering the top like a large cape, skirts touching the ground and a light collar right up to the chin. A nightgown is also pictured with a collar up to the ears, large mutton-leg sleeves and looks as if it might weigh a ton—surely not comfortable-looking.

John Vander Sluis, the dry goods merchant, advertises a grand removal sale, since he is going into his new store. Note: The veteran chorus director was one of the old-time merchants here. He came from Grand Rapids, where he was with the Herpolsheimer Co. and made a success of business in this city. After he landed here he stayed on and liked it so well that he will stay on now. He occupied the store now occupied by the French Cloak store, known as the Kleekent building. John retired some 20 years ago. His main hobbies are singing and fishing.

Mat Notier was putting on a sale of shoes at the corner of River and 7th st. A. B. Bosman had a sale disposing of winter clothing at his store on East 8th st., and "Mose" Yelms, of the Boston store, was conducting a clearance sale in his store on East 8th st. Those who have joined the William McKinley club, a Republican organization with headquarters in the S. B. Potter building, with E. P. Stephan as president, are the following: Robert De Pree, George Lages, William Brusse, John F. Schouten, Nick Kamerad, John S. Dykstra, Ed Everhard, Peter Brusse, Frank Congleton, John B. Mulder, Ben Mulder, Charles Floyd, Henry Whelan, Ben Van Raalte, Jr., Rick Lohman, Henry Pelgrim, Jr., Chris Lokker, Cornelius Vander Meulen, Dan Ten Cate, Richard H. Post, Otto P. Mokema, Charles M. McLean, John J. Cappon, Fred Tilt, Dr. John J. Mersen, Attorney Charles H. McBride, Gilbert T. Haan, William J. Garrod, Matthew Notier. This club was organized before the presidential campaign of William Howard Taft and Vice President James S. Sherman, Republican standard bearers, who won a decisive victory in Holland, Ottawa county, Michigan, and the nation. Flushed with victory, the Republicans, after a victory banquet at River's Rink, then on 16th and River ave., now Jess Reidenour's Packard service station, decided to establish this permanent club. Several hundred dollars were spent to furnish the second floor of the Boter building, and a reading room was a part of the conveniences. It lasted six months and after the campaign enthusiasm had dissipated, no one visited the place and the expense of carrying on brought a financial shortage and the furniture and fixtures paid the debt. The News got the "battleship lineoleum" for printing the stationery and other printing bills incurred. Anyway, the debts were paid and the club disbanded. Of the long list of members—sixty some—27 have passed away.

"A very pretty home wedding occurred at Overisel when Miss Lottie Mae Dangmond and John H. Schipper were united in the holy bond of marriage," says the correspondent 30 years ago.

Jacob G. Van Putten, prominent industrialist, head and founder of the Holland Furniture Co., died at the age of 49 years after a week's illness. He had been a German, mayor and postmaster of Holland, member of the Board of Education, Board of Police and Fire Commissioners and member of the Parks and Cemetery Board service at different periods. He was also head of the Board of Trade. The News devotes four columns to his passing, giving his life's history.

Arthur Baxter Cotton, a fine old gentleman, passed away suddenly while at supper. He had been in his usual health and his family and friends were not prepared for the sudden passing of a busy life. Mr. Cotton, who was 74 years old, had promoted several enterprises according to the story, given at some length, chronicled in the Holland City News. His home was at 93 West 14th st., where he lived with his daughters, Miss Florence Cotton and Mrs. Martha Robbins. He at one time was a wholesale dry goods merchant in New York.

Forty-three wounded World War soldiers arrived in Michigan and were taken to Camp Custer where eventually they will be mustered out of the army after they get well (some may never get well). Among the men is one from Holland, namely, J. S. Verburg, 39th Infantry, wounded with shrapnel while "over there." Note: This brings war right home again. Last week we related 500 wounded coming home on but one boat. We must not forget the thousands upon thousands of American boys who never came back and whose graves in France are marked with a small white cross. One of these marks the last resting place of Willard G. Leenhouts, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. Leenhouts of Holland.

Mayor Ernest Brooks was rather surprised to receive a letter from the Netherlands. However, while going through it he found the message came from his friend and colleague Fritz Jonkman, alderman of the Fifth ward. Fritz is on a trip to the Netherlands and other countries in Europe and wanted to keep our own burgemeester informed. The letter, a very interesting one, was read in open council and helped to live up to an otherwise uneventful meeting. Alderman Jonkman's letter, printed in full, ends rather patriotically. In substance he says: "You may ask the question whether I would like to spend the remainder of my days here? Oh, gentlemen, I answer in one short sentence with much respect for the land whereon once my cradle stood, I reverently doff my hat and proclaim to all the world that there is only one country for me and that is the United States of America and her glorious stars and stripes. Let it wave forever! My country! F. N. Jonkman."

Chester H. Beach of Holland was unanimously chosen to head the Boy Scouts of this district comprising 800 scouts. The meeting was held at Grand Haven and Mr. Beach as well as Scout Executive Francis J. Geiger, were given unstinting praise for their untiring efforts.

Icy walks in Zeeland caused much trouble for pedestrians and especially William Vitvliet, who fell and broke the only arm he had left and with which he made a living, since the other arm had to be amputated some time ago.

Missed Boat Saves Life of Old Sailors

BECAUSE CAPTAIN SAILED
STEAMERS INTO THIS HAR-BOR. PLAYED JOKE ON HOLLAND PASSENGER

Forty-four years ago Saturday the ill-fated S.S. Chicora foundered in Lake Michigan in a blizzard while en route from Milwaukee to St. Joseph, Michigan.

The only "survivor" of the Chicora was its second mate, Capt. William J. Russell, 74 years old, who is alive today because he missed the boat.

His sinking was one of the major Great Lakes disasters. Twenty-four men, every soul on board, were lost. Jan. 21, 1895, was a mild winter day when the Chicora cleared port at Milwaukee. A telegraph runner, racing to the dock, arrived just in time to see the G. & M. steamer two lengths away from the end of the pier.

Undelivered was a message from J. H. Graham, one of the Benton Harbor owners, ordering Capt. George Edward Stines to "remain in port until further orders." The boat never was heard from again. Russell had been ready to take his post on the ship again after a brief illness, but his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Jacobs, of St. Joseph, wouldn't let him go. She insisted, "You're a sick man. You stay in bed."

He did, and escaped drowning. Since the ship was fairly new, he refused ever to serve on a new ship again.

Capt. Russell, who lives at 363 Morton Avenue in Benton Harbor, was a very powerful man in his sailing days and a steel-fisted master. He faced mutiny, riots and brawls on his ships and quelled them with armaments ranging from his fists to beer bottles and fire hose.

But he had a sense of humor, too, and he is one man who put a souvenir seeker in his place. When the S.S. City of Chicago made its maiden excursion voyage into port at Holland, Michigan, a passenger took out a jackknife and began to whittle a generous piece of mahogany off the ship.

Capt. Russell took out his own knife and whacked off a piece of the passenger's coal.

Upon the anniversary last year the Holland City News gave several columns on this disaster.

BROTHER OF HOLLAND MAN WEDS IN FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Maentz of Holland and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Maentz of Allegan are in Delray Beach, Florida, to attend the wedding of Donald P. Maentz of Grand Rapids and Miss Eleanor Wasey, daughter of Mrs. Edward Gay Wasey of Birmingham, Michigan. The ceremonies took place today at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Delray. The groom is a brother of Henry Maentz, head of the Holland State Bank. The parents of Allegan intend to continue their trip up the eastern coast to Washington, D. C. to South Weymouth, Massachusetts, where Mr. Maentz has a sister living. Mr. and Mrs. Maentz and Dr. and Mrs. Harms of Holland are continuing their trip through Florida and the southern states.

A bean supper rally of Berrien county Republicans in St. Joseph was addressed Wednesday evening by John R. Dethmers, former prosecuting attorney of Ottawa county, on "Accomplishments and Objectives of the Present State Administration." He was accompanied to the meeting by Mrs. Dethmers.

A son was born late Wednesday in Holland hospital to Dr. and Mrs. William G. Winter. Mrs. Winter is the former Miss Helena Vischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vischer of Holland.

and after whom the Holland American Legion has been so fittingly named.

Mrs. Adolph De Koster and her daughter Julia De Koster of Zeeland were badly shaken and bruised when they figured in an auto-mobility collision at about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the old M-51 intersection with M-21 one mile east of Hudsonville.

Mrs. De Koster and her daughter were on their way to Grand Rapids and as they approached the intersection a car driven by M. De Bruyn of Grand Rapids came from the east and without stopping drove onto the highway directly into the path of the De Koster car. The result was a collision which caused the De Koster car to turn over twice before coming to rest. Both Mrs. De Koster and her daughter were badly bruised and slightly cut on the head, but escaped serious injury.

Clarence Elenbaas of W. McKinley St., Zeeland, escaped serious injury when the car he was driving turned over twice while driving on M21 near the Alpena road intersection two miles west of Zeeland, at about 9:00 o'clock Sunday evening.

Elenbaas was driving to Holland when the accident occurred, and he escaped with a severe shaking up. When another driver cut in too short while passing his car, Elenbaas attempted to avoid a collision and in his effort struck the ridge of ice and snow along the side of the road thrown there by the snow plows. This caused his car to swerve out of control and to roll over into the roadside.

The driver's car failed to stop and the driver's identity has not been learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bos and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Siersma recently returned from a three weeks' trip which included 13 days in Florida and a visit to Washington, D. C.

TODAY, THURSDAY, IS GROUNDHOG DAY

Well, there is no doubt at least around Holland, that the groundhog saw his shadow, for it was continuous sunshine nearly the entire day. If weather prognosticators are correct, it will mean six more weeks of winter, and if Jack Frost remains as lenient with this vicinity as he has been all winter, no one need fear the next six weeks to come.

Anyway, six weeks means the middle of March; and in any event,

If winter is only over by that time, it will mean an early spring just the same. Holland and vicinity surely cannot complain about the severe winter. A few "flashes in the pan" of cold and overnight storm, followed by thaws, which has been clearing up the "beautiful" as fast as it came, was about the extent of the entire winter season. At no time has the temperature been anywhere near the zero mark.

HOLLAND MAN DIES IN THE SOUTH; BODY TO ARRIVE LATER

The funeral of James E. Winter, son of Prof. John E. Winter, who passed away Monday morning, took place in Morgantown, West Virginia, and the remains will be placed in a mausoleum, awaiting burial in Holland some time this spring. Mr. Winter underwent a major operation on January 2 in the hospital at Morgantown, West Virginia.

He is survived by the wife, Mary Rockwood, and a little daughter, Margaret, the father, and a brother, Lawrence. He was an electrical engineer in the South. It will be remembered that in 1934 his mother, whose name was Loma Mokema, died in an automobile accident near Toledo, Ohio, when they were on their way to Holland. She was the daughter of Germ Mokema, many years ago cashier in the First State Bank, and mayor of this city.

When the remains finally arrive, interment will take place in the Winter plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Horrors of Perfection

A New York woman boasts that she never has been tired in her life, and says she yearns to tell her sisters how to become human dynamos too, and go on and on radiating vim and vigor.

We wouldn't care to meet the woman. She must be rather appalling and rather monotonous, like a locomotive endowed with perpetual motion but no brake.

We are rather sorry for her too. For like the person who never has experienced love, or fear, or rage, or exaltation, or depression, she has missed a lot in life. She has been denied one of the important contrasts of human existence.

The person who is never weary can never experience the joy of pleasant lassitude, the satisfaction of a day of pleasant, restorative indolence in bed, or the happiness of starting out on a bright morning full of the sense of renewed energy and well being.

Nobody really and truly can enjoy any good thing to the full without first having had some experience with the thing that makes it good, the thing that is unpleasant or bad.

Believe it or not, there are drawbacks and penalties in perfection. It has no lights, shades or contrasts, and the only escape from it is escape downward.

Perfection may be an ideal to be sought for, but it is a goal to be avoided. Luckily it isn't attainable.

Why Borrow Trouble?

(Detroit Free Press)

The announcement from the White House that Mr. Roosevelt did not approve the proposal to fortify Guam suggests that the President has been studying the map of the Western Pacific.

Guam is the southernmost of the Marianas, a group of volcanic islands 5,000 miles from the Pacific Coast of the United States, 3,000 miles from Honolulu, and only 1,300 miles from Japan.

Completely surrounded by the Pelew, Caroline, Marshall and other Mariana Islands, all of which are held by Japan, and offer it excellent facilities for submarine and air operations, Guam would be a hot spot to hold if ever the United States and Japan became involved in war.

The most that could be hoped would be that its capture would require "a major effort" on the part of the enemy.

As a stepping tone to the Philippines, Guam is valuable, but we are pledged to get out of the Philippines by 1946, and, thereafter, if we fortify it, Guam will remain "a sword pointed at the heart of Japan."

The United States has a perfect right to fortify the island if it wants to.

And the United States is not "afraid" of Japan.

Whether or not Guam should be fortified is simply a question of whether or not this country wishes to go 3,000 miles west of Hawaii to borrow trouble in the interests of a new imperialism.

And if we don't intend to fortify it, what value has a threat to fortify it as a means of bargaining with Japan, a country that is not daunted by unloaded guns pointed at its head?

The Hawaiian Islands are on our side of the Pacific, they can be held against any enemy, and for that reason they should be made impregnable, as our naval outpost in the Pacific.

HOLLAND FOLKS PURCHASE FENNVILLE EATING HOUSE

Another change was made in the business personnel at Fennville during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Smith of Holland purchased the Sandwich Shop of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Cutshaw, formerly of Douglas, and assumed immediate possession. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have rented their home in Holland and have moved to Fennville. Mrs. Smith has served the dinners at the Business Men's association meetings here for some time, and their son, Clifford and wife, are owners of the theater at Fennville and both are active in civic affairs.

Another business change was the purchase of the Fennville Market by Frank and Archie Flandels from Bensinger and Ridley last week.

CHIEF WHITE FEATHER TALKS IN $10,000 VEST

On Tuesday evening at the Fennville high school auditorium Chief White Feather, well known evangelist, and grandson of the famous Sitting Bull, gave an enjoyable program to a large audience. The chief wore the famous wampum vest which belonged to his grandfather and on which is carried a $10,000 insurance policy.

Traffic Officer Jay Dalman of the Holland police force was painfully bruised on his left side Monday when he slipped and fell on the bumper of a police car.

MANY INTERESTING MATTERS COME UP AT POLICE AND FIRE BOARD MEETING

Police Chief Ira A. Antles suggested that an officer of the Holland police department be enrolled in the Northwestern University Traffic Institute at Evanston, Ill. March 6 to 25, at a meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners Monday afternoon in the office of the city clerk.

"Authority without education is a dangerous thing in police work," Chief Antles said, in pointing out that practical experience is the only training that traffic officers here have had.

Chairman John Donnelly asked Chief Antles to get further information on the subject. Mayor Henry Geerlings suggested that economy might force the board to delay such a move until next year. Tuition and expenses at the school would total at least $75, Chief Antles estimated.

The Chief also reported that while the department's motorcycles are in good condition, the police automobiles are not. One car, purchased last spring, will require $20 worth of repairing, and the other one is "completely shot," the Chief reported.

The grade of gasoline was also brought up by Chief Antles, who complained that a great amount of dirt is being found in police car carburetors. It was brought out that gas for all of the city's cars and trucks is bought from a different local dealer every three months, in turn—so where the dirt came from was not apparent.

Commissioner Andrew Hyman suggested that 24 pails be bought for the city's summer fire truck to insure a supply of water in emergencies for the booster pump. Commissioner Hyman said that he noticed some delay in collecting buckets Sunday at the home of Raymond Slager. The question was referred to Commissioner Fred Kamferbeek.

The board filed the oath of office of Rance Overbeek, night driver for the police department, and an application for a position on the police force from Chester Lokker of East 14th St.

Justice of the Peace John Galien reported the collection of officers' fees for November and December at $25.80 and $18.90, respectively.

Two reports from Chief Antles indicated that in December, 41 warnings were issued and 41 cases disposed of; and in January, 21 warnings were given, and 57 cases were disposed of.

JUDGE GRANTS ADDITIONAL TIME TO APPEAL PARK ASSOCIATION CASE

Judge Leonard Verrier, Grand Rapids, has granted an additional 60 days in which to appeal to the state supreme court the decision of the judge granting a permanent injunction to the West Michigan Park association forbidding use of any portion of tracts set aside as park areas at Ottawa Beach for commercial or residential purposes.

Judge Verrier handed down his decision on Dec. 7, 1938, and set May 1, 1939, as the deadline for correcting existing violations at Ottawa Beach. Defendants in the case are the trustees of the segregated assets of the former First State bank of Holland and others. Attorney Cornelius Vander Meulen of Holland is in charge of the matter.

Bontekoe's Experience On Ice Floe

Gives First Hand Information of Crew's Suffering and Hunger

The story of how five coast guardsmen stood off death in sub-zero Lake Huron as they tossed in a disabled and ice-encrusted lifeboat with one sandwich apiece between them and starvation was told by Chief Boatwain's Mate Charles Bontekoe, a Holland man who has been with the local coast guard for years and also at Muskegon.

"Boys! am I glad to be where it's warm!" Bontekoe said Thursday, shortly after he and his four-man crew reached Cheboygan after a 20-mile hike along the Lake Huron beach. They had been missing for 48 hours.

"It's just a miracle that we are alive," Bontekoe said. "Our lifeboat got wedged in the ice half-way between Detroit and Bois Blanc island at 9 p. m. Tuesday and we soon became so badly iceed up that the boat wouldn't rise in the seas any more. The waves began to break right over us. I kept some of the boys busy bailing out while the rest of us worked at chopping ice from the boat so we wouldn't sink."

"This work kept us warm. I wouldn't let the boys let down because if they did I knew they'd be frozen to death. It was 16 below zero that night and we had no shelter. When we left Bois Blanc island Tuesday morning we had a sandwich apiece for our lunches. That was the last food we saw until we got to Cheboygan."

"The boys kept up their spirits pretty well. That helped. Wednesday morning we started rowing toward Cheboygan and at 5 p. m. we had worked the boat to within a couple of miles from shore. We got out and walked across the ice and started to hike to Cheboygan. It was an awful trip. About 1 a. m. Thursday morning we found a deserted shack and we got in and started a fire. That was all that kept us alive. At daylight we started to hike again, following the beach all the way. Some of the boys were pretty done in and wanted to lie down but I kept them moving. I knew if I didn't they'd be goners."

RAW MILK CAUSES UNDUANT FEVER, DR. TAPPAN STATES

Undulant fever is a disease which human beings get by drinking raw milk, Dr. William M. Tappan, Holland health officer, stated this week in warning members of the community against the disease. Unpasteurized milk from cows or goats which have Bang's disease causes undulant fever, he said.

A case in Laketown township, Allegan county, on Holland route 1, was discovered recently.

Very often the person having the disease does not know that he is afflicted until he has had it long enough for the fever to become chronic, the health officer stated. "In this enlightened age there is no excuse for any human being contracting this disease because pasteurized or boiled milk will absolutely prevent it."

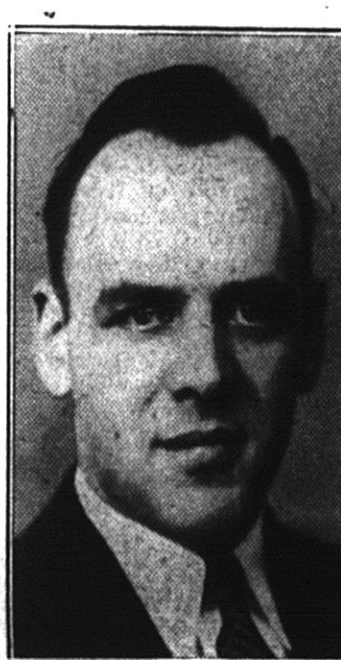

"The people of Holland are to be congratulated upon having a fine group of milk dealers, all of whom distribute only pasteurized milk and cream. So those persons who buy milk and cream from the local licensed dealers will not contract undulant fever."

There are a number of people in Holland who have friends and relatives living on farms and from whom they obtain raw milk and cream. My warning to them is to either cease this practice or to pasteurize the milk and cream when they take it home.

"This can be done by heating the milk or cream in a double boiler to the temperature of -80 degrees Fahrenheit, frequently stirring with a dairy thermometer and maintaining that temperature for three minutes. Then cool the milk or cream rapidly and place in a cool place or refrigerator."

Miss Cora Van Zanten is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Van Zanten of 35 West 18th st. She had previously been confined to Holland hospital for seven weeks as a result of a fractured leg.

Professional problems committee. At present he is chairman of the important Ottawa M.E.A. Publications committee which publishes monthly teachers' news-letter "The Broadcaster." He is active in community organizations, P. T. A. and Boy Scouts.

Encouragement of rural pupil activities is a hobby with Mr. Norlin. His pupils have held many spelling, arithmetic, athletic and debating contests with other rural schools. Nomination for this office will take place at the county convention in Grand Haven, February 8th. —Pol. Adv.

The marriage of Miss Irene Landman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Landman, 517 College Avenue, and Henry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smith, rural route No. 2, was solemnized at the home of the bride last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The impressive single-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. H. Walters, pastor of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, before an arch of carnations banked with palms and plants. Approximately 65 guests were present.

Miss Anne Landman attended her sister as bridesmaid. Her floor-length gown was of blue satin, and she carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses, sweet peas, and baby breath.

Gary Smith attended his brother as best man. Gerrit Landman, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies, and Miss Joanna Last presided in the gift room, while Miss Deane Bosma was in charge of the cloak room.

After the ceremonies, a two-course lunch was served the guests by the Misses Deane Bosma, Jo Bosma, Joanna Last, and Mrs. H. Beelen, while Miss Margie De Vries served as caterer. Had a real business meeting last week although not so many turned out. You would be surprised of the business that was taken care of.

Although our Commander had an awful cold and seemed to be talking out of his shoes, he surely did a good job of conducting the meeting. That's what we call a faithful member. Wish we were all like that. Let's turn out and fool 'em.

Anybody hearing of the whereabouts of Comrade Slagh, just say the word that we are still waiting for that membership list.

Our old pal Belder appeared on the scene last meeting. That a boy. Let's drag them all out.

The V.F.W. has discontinued the use of the Vv plates, but don't forget to get our Booster Plates before they are all gone.

Let all Recruit, Renew and Reinstatement members NOW. If you were in the A.E.F. you belong in the V.F.W.

After next meeting and continuing thereafter we have lunch. Oh, boy, that means we all have to turn out.

Now days about all of us have cars but still we come to meetings with snow on our feet; but Dutch Hank comes in without a speck of snow. Must be he now has an airplane instead of a bicycle.

The question is not one, primarily, of C.L.A. vs. A.F. of L., and that in many cities, such as in Kalamazoo, members of both unions work side by side. "But if the contractor wants to hire union men, let him hire indiscriminately from any union," the letter said.

Ald. Kalkman spoke, urging that members of either union be hired, and taxpayers of the city of Holland first of all.

At this point Clarence Lokker, said, "I think that you better let the opinion of the city attorney be for you go into this any further." He explained that the Public Works administration, which supplies 46 per cent of the funds for the project, gives exact regulations as to the hiring of men for the project.

Men enrolled on the County Emergency Relief rolls are given first preference for employment under the P.W.A. regulations. Attorney Lokker explained and this was also the contention of Mr. Jacob Barendse, manager of the local office in the Mass building. Such additional men as are needed may be drawn from either of two sources, at the discretion of the contractor; he hires either men listed with the Michigan State Employment service, or men from a list supplied by the local union.

Mr. Lokker stressed that where the government pays a large share of the cost of the project, not here alone, but elsewhere, the labor provisions naturally were the same everywhere, nationwide. Because of the many projects, the government had to have set rules for all projects the same. He stated that there were two classifications under which a contractor may secure workmen for his project.

In the first classification, are those men registered with the Emergency Relief Administration, and these men were given preference over all other workers, since that is the object of work's relief under which head the project comes. The second classification is in reality under two divisions, the first is for those workers who are listed with the U.S. Re-employment Service here, which has since been changed and become a part of the Michigan State Employment Service. Unless a non-union worker was registered with this service, he is not eligible to work on any project.

The second division, Mr. Lokker contended, concerns the labor union. Their members are not required to register with the employment service, and the contractor may obtain his union help through the regular channels; that is, by going to the union local and making requests for workers. Mr. Lokker contended further that after all those enrolled on the Emergency Relief have been hired and no more are available, the contractor can then go to one of the other two classes. If he does not care to use those men registered in the State Employment Service, he can employ union men.

Mr. Vander Meulen of the C.L.A. then spoke, stating that he had found the facts to be the same as those reported by the city attorney by writing to Detroit, and that he believes that C.L.A. men will soon be given equal privileges with members of the American Federation. Information which Mr. Vander Meulen has received from Detroit indicates that the Employment Service has had no intention of favoring the A.F. of L. or any particular union.

The C.L.A. representatives said, however, that a P.W.A. regulation which stipulates that a contractor who has not been provided with qualified workmen within 48 hours after he demanded them from a union must go to the Employment Service and should be complied with.

The dangerous practice of breaking insulators on local electric power lines was condemned in an announcement Thursday by Abo Nauta, superintendent of public works. Boys either throwing stones or shooting rifles have broken a number of insulators on poles in Montello park and on the north side recently. Such breakage causes interference on radios, is expensive, and may cause a breakdown in power facilities, Mr. Nauta pointed out.

DR. DIMMENT TELLS LIONS ABOUT MONEY

Members of the Holland Lions club heard Dr. Edward Dimment, head of the department of business administration at Hope college, speak on "Gold and Money" Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the club.

Dr. Dimment used blocks and cardboard discs to represent various amounts of gold and silver in illustrating his talk. Speaking of "the muck called gold," Dr. Dimment said, "You can't eat it, you can't wear it, and you can't take it with you. It's in a hole in the ground in Fort Knox, Ky. And yet men go 'clean mad' for the muck called gold."

The speaker said that all of the 14 billion in gold which the government stores at Fort Knox is kept in a block "that would require less than half of this room for storage"—meaning the main dining room at the Warm Friend Tavern, where the meeting occurred. "Forty-four towns of the assessed value of Holland could be bought for a cube of gold of 14-inch dimensions," Dr. Dimment said.

He explained that there are three prices of silver: the world price, 52 cents; the price of old or foreign silver in this country, 45 cents; and the price which the U. S. government pays for newly-mined silver, 65 cents.

COUNTY RELIEF STAFF REDUCED; EXPENSES CUT; CONFERS WITH MISS VENKLAZEN

Efforts will be made by the Ottawa county emergency relief administration to assist the state in curtailing expense in the coming months according to a letter which was authorized by the commission to be sent to Acting Director George Granger.

The Ottawa county staff will be decreased from 12 to 9 to take effect today, and a sharp eye will be kept on all applications for further assistance in order that the present rolls be kept on the same level or decreased.

Mayor Richard L. Cook, a member of the commission, said today there are about 600 in the county on direct relief and 700 on WPA, which is not a record but which is a fairly good number. It is always high at this time of year.

Emergency relief bills in this city as well as in other parts of the county have dropped due to unemployment insurance, aid to dependent children and old age assistance. The board of supervisors voluntarily offered $1,000 a month until June for the aid to dependent children's fund. Several old age assistance applications have been accepted and funds for this agency are reported to be coming in more freely than they have been for some time, said Mayor Cook.

The commission met at Holland to discuss with Miss Deborah Venklausen, county administrator where economics could be made.

REVOLUTION NOT FOR AMERICA

"America Does Not Want a Revolution," R. A. Colorado, Grand Rapids advertising man, told members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Colorado, a native of Porto Rico and a close friend and relative of several people who are now going through the terrors of the revolution and civil war in Spain, has spent a great deal of time in South America, and has had contacts "too close for comfort" with several revolutions. "Our institutions are not perfect—we have many faults," Mr. Colorado said. "But let us correct our faults and injustices, and by all means preserve our democratic institutions and the American system." He took his material from the French revolution and the present strife in Spain.

Mrs. J. J. Brower presided. She announced the observance of the club house birthday anniversary next Tuesday.

LAST HOLLAND CIVIL WAR VETERAN ANSWERS "TAPS"

The funeral services of John R. Douma will be held today, Friday, at 1:30 o'clock from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Lampen, 86 E. 14th Street, and at 2 o'clock from the Nibbelink-Notter funeral mortuary, with interment in Pilgrim Home cemetery, formerly Fairlawn cemetery. The Rev. D. H. Walters, pastor of Central Ave. Chr. Ref. church will officiate. Spanish-American war veterans will serve as honorary pallbearers and the active pallbearers will be sons and sons-in-law. The sons are: Henry, Isaac, and Robert Douma, and the sons-in-law are: Prof. Albert E. Lampen, Mr. A. De Waard, and Mr. Peter De Kraker. Taps will be sounded at the grave by veterans of that war.

Mr. Douma passed away quietly at the age of 92 years, at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. He had been in ill health for more than a year, and death was largely due to old age, and during the last ten days he failed rapidly, and most of the time he was in a semi-conscious condition. Mr. Douma is considered to be the last veteran of the Civil War in this city.

He was born in the Netherlands on January 20, 1847, and came to America with his parents ten years later. With them were six other children and his mother and brother, a Mr. Mokema, who with four children also came to America at the same time, however, the father, Mr. Mokema, died at sea, and Mr. Douma's mother took up the task of bringing up the four Mokema children, who were orphaned. This made the family, including these added children, a company of ten. The family settled in Fillmore Township, southeast of Holland.

Mr. Douma was 18 years when Lincoln gave the last call for troops during the Civil War. Mr. Douma, together with five other young men from Graafschap, enlisted. Among them were Gern W. Mokema, one time cashier of the First State Bank; G. J. Nyland, J. H. Eppink, C. Lokker, Matthew Notter, and Mr. Douma. The six young men volunteered to take the places of married men with families who were drafted.

Mr. Douma was chosen to serve as a guard at the tomb of Lincoln after the martyred president had been shot by John Wilkes Booth in Ford theatre in Washington, D. C. Mr. Douma was a member of the 24th Michigan Infantry, and after being honorably discharged when the war was over, he returned to the farm in Fillmore, where he was married, later moving to Holland to serve as caretaker of the old First State Bank, where he was in charge for several years. Mrs. Douma died 22 years ago, and Mr. Douma retired from his bank duties shortly afterward.

The Douma family came to Holland a decade after Dr. Van Raalte and his little band arrived, and he is the only survivor of the entire family then living. For many years Mr. Douma attended Memorial Sunday services and was generally seen on the platform on Decoration Day, and was called upon to make a few remarks. The lone soldier, when he could not attend these functions any longer, was brought a beautiful basket of flowers by Daughters of Spanish-American War and World War veterans each year. His decline was more rapid during the last three years, after being involved in an automobile accident, the shock of which never left him, and he was confined at the home of his daughter most of the time.

Friends were given the privilege to pay their respects Thursday and Friday before the rites. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, showing the love which this community held for this last "boy in blue" from Holland.

Surviving are three sons, Henry Douma of Munkegon, Robert Douma of Whitehall, and Isaac Douma of Battle Creek; four daughters, Mrs. Lampen and Mrs. G. J. Deur of Holland, Mrs. A. De Waard of Jenison and Mrs. Peter De Kraker of Holland; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. W. H. Takken, who is spending the winter in Holland, attended Saugatuck Woman's club guest night. Her guest was Mrs. Minnie Barden of South Haven. Mrs. Barden was a Saugatuck girl and many of her old friends were there to greet her.

It Doesn't Cost Much to Live In Finland

This is the Only Country Paying Its War Debt to Uncle Sam

(By Dr. A. J. Brower)

We liked Finland very much. It is one vast pleasure ground and health resort. It is the country which has gained much admiration from Americans in recent years because of its national integrity. It is the only one country that has always paid us their war debts and always on time. We told them that we would buy much of them because we appreciated very much their honesty and faithfulness towards America. How they liked to hear us say that!

We anchored at Helsingfors, a charming capital. This city has been awarded the 1940 Olympic games. Ten years ago I was in the Netherlands when that country enjoyed that honor. How I would like to go there at that time. It is called the White City of the North and is the most northernmost capital city in the world. The new Parliament building, built of Finnish granite, is about the nicest Parliament house I ever saw anywhere in Europe. All the latest, and best built, that man can produce. Finland is the cheapest country in all Europe to spend a vacation—the lowest railway rates, lowest travel fares, lowest hotel charges. Everything is clean, cheap, modern and efficient and still they pay their debts, so the moral surely is here: "Honesty is the best policy." "He who pays his debts shall not be in want." They figure on paying when they buy. Too bad more countries do not follow this example. I am a firm believer that the man that is honest enough to never shirk his just debts will always, somehow or other, have the means to meet his debts, and likewise those that do not, never have the wherewith to pay. "The more one gives, the more one lives," also holds true in Finland. It is an independent government now. They freed themselves from Russia. It is not only a land of snow and reindeer, of bears and wolves, but of music, architecture and athletics, like the fleet-footed murre. The people are tall and intelligent, good-looking and friendly. In one store I heard a native dame say (in a Russian accent) "Was that a fact?" That was Finnish. I could catch quite a little of their language like in the Scandinavian countries just because I know my Dutch upside down, sideways and from any angle. I could read, talk and write it from childhood though born close to Holland, Michigan, and how it helps me in my travels! Spanish and French with it, one would be set pretty.

Finland is also a land of sunshine with 65,000 lakes. Winter, of course, is another tale but I have had no experience with that. The Finns are not Russians, by language, character or habits, still for many years under Russian influence up to 1917, when they declared their independence. Educational advantages are high. It was the first country in Europe to grant equal suffrage and they are not a drunken people for they abolished all alcoholic liquors. They have command of several languages, like the case in Netherlands in particular. Their railway station at Helsingfors is about as pretty as New York Central and all made of Finnish pink granite, beautiful in the extreme.

Religion is mostly Lutheran. Their most beautiful church is St. Nicholas, a rival of St. Peter's of Rome.

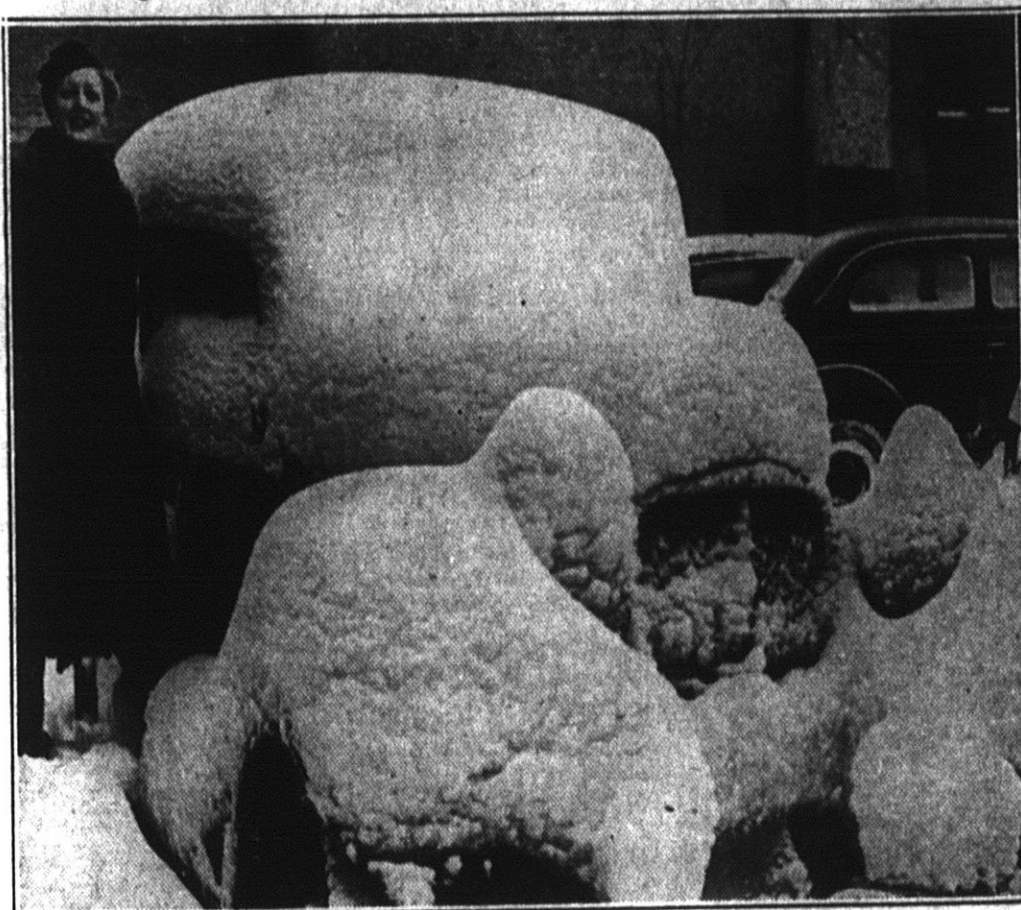

Nowhere have I ever seen such a unique and splendid system for legislators to vote by electricity as in the new parliament building. On each member's desk are two buttons, one for yes and another for no vote. Pressure on these buttons is recorded on a large glass panel near the chairman's desk and visible to all in the house. There are 200 members in the Parliament and a vote may be completed in less than two minutes. The yes vote has a different colored light than the no vote. Pressing both buttons at once means present but not voting. Only one man at the glass panel registers all votes and every member can see how another member votes.

Finland has lots of forest. Three-fourths of its land is in timber, consequently timber, pulp and paper is its chief industry. Much of it is pine, spruce and birch. In an old cathedral, called the mother church of Finland, we saw many sarcophagi of royal and noble families rest in this 700-year-old structure like we see in Egypt at the pyramids where the Pharaohs and King Tutankhamen at Thebes are kept, but these are much older, some 1,500 to 2,000 years before Christ. All of that was very interesting. If cremation had been in vogue in those days we could not see these places today.

I wonder, but I did not find out, if the kiddies here knew or cared anything about Santa Claus, as it is a common sight to see reindeer with their Lapp owners clad like a saint Nicholas. Lapps and reindeer are plentiful and they are used to deliver mail.

On account of all the pine wood they manufacture much tar. Many of their boats look like the viking ships of Norway. Tar boats is a common sight—that is, boats are constructed of wood and black tar or pitch. I suppose that is just what Noah did when he built the ark, so the Finlanders have nothing on him. Nothing new under the sun after all and history often repeats itself. They export millions of gallons of tar in one year. Way up there they eat everything like we do, and even the cattle are bothered with the same kinds of insects as our cows are. Women carry live shoots or little pigs to market just like I saw done in Portugal and Madeira Islands, sell them on the street and the buyer carries the squealer home in his arms. All so interesting and I believe people really live here and are very happy. I like Finland.

Heavy Snowfall Hides Cars Beneath White Blanket

Evelyn DeVries of Holland spent Monday in Grand Rapids. When she went to a parking lot in the afternoon to retrieve her car she found it pretty well snowed under as a result of the blizzard which spilled more than 4 inches of snow over the city within a short time and piled it high in drifts.

APPEALS ADMITTING WILL OF BROTHER TO PROBATE IN OTTAWA

An appeal of the decision of Probate Judge Corn Vande Water, Grand Haven, admitting the will of the late August M. Cosgrove, to probate, has been filed in Ottawa county circuit court by a brother, Richard D. Cosgrove, an heir at law. The brother, resident of Bucyrus, O., alleges the will, written in pencil on tablet paper by Mr. Cosgrove, is not valid because it is not in the same handwriting, and is not properly drawn and its terms are not clear.

Mr. Cosgrove died Dec. 20 and the will, made Oct. 3, 1937, divides his property holdings in Grand Haven between Mrs. Herman Van Pypen, J. A. Wierenga, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ackerman and Charles M. Cosgrove of Akron, a nephew. Under the will, the beneficiaries are required to contribute money totaling $25 to the brother, Richard D. Cosgrove.

The arch and entrance building plans will be kept within the $10,000 mark. Proposed plans for later developments include another building, on the opposite, or east, side of the entrance, in which services may be held.

The board of health and the board of public works also held regular meetings Monday. Thirteen cases of contagious diseases, including nine of scarlet fever and four of chicken pox, were reported at the former meeting for the month of January by Dr. William M. Tappan, city health officer.

SKATING RINK LIGHTING PERILED BY SHARPSHOOTERS

Slingshot marksmen who formerly used Allegan City street lamps for target practice have turned to the $5.85 lamps used to illuminate the new ice skating rink in the flats near the sewage disposal plant. Alderman V. C. Olcott, chairman of the parks committee, asked this week that this unwarranted practice stop.

None of those shot out will be replaced, Mr. Olcott indicated, so that if the youths want to skate on the pond at night, they had better cease their target practice. In addition, any offender will be prosecuted if he is caught in the act.

A fox hunt is going on at Port Sheldon, north of Holland, today, sponsored by the Holland Fish and Game club. Fox have become more numerous in Michigan and it is up to his old trick of raiding chicken runs and catching wild rabbits. Sheriff Miller of Allegan county is also one of the party, taking his hound pack with him. Jacob Van Braht, Dr. Otto Vander Velde and "Y" Woldring are rounding up the hunters who will round up the fox.

Great Speaker To Meet Scouts On February 4

BOY SCOUT EXECUTIVE FROM NEW YORK WILL SPEAK AT BEECHWOOD BANQUET

Dr. Ray O. Wyland, Ph.D., assistant national director, division of program and director of education and relationships, national council, Boy Scouts of America, New York city, will address the annual council meeting and scouters' appreciation dinner, to be held at Beechwood school, Holland, on Saturday, February 4, at 6:30 p. m. on the subject "Our Crusade for Democracy." Tickets are in the hands of the various chairmen and many of them have been sold. Those who wish to attend will have to get their tickets early. It is expected that the crowd will exceed the capacity of the building, which is 400 people.

Dr. Wyland's ability as a speaker is so well known to so many scouters who have heard him at regional meetings, that there will no doubt be a heavy demand for reservations.

Dr. Wyland will also address a meeting of ministers of the area at a breakfast to be held on Saturday morning, and another meeting of council scouters on Saturday noon.

This will be a fitting climax to the outstanding record of scouters of the Ottawa-Allegan council in making the huge net gain in scouts and units as sent to you in previous information.

Dr. Wyland came to the national council, Boy Scouts of America, Aug., 1922 as assistant director of education. He was appointed director of relationships in 1924, director of education in 1930, and assistant national director of the division of program in 1937.

Dr. Wyland travels 30 to 40 thousand miles each year and has visited each state of the union many times. He has spoken to audiences aggregating approximately two million persons, including high school and college gatherings; national, state and local conventions of superintendents, principals and teachers; meetings with the clergy; social workers; civic bodies; service clubs and fraternal groups of all nationalities, races and religions.

After the banquet and the speaking at Beechwood school on the North Side, 82 scouters of Ottawa-Allegan council will receive recognition as veterans. The program is laid out by Prof. Egbert Winter of Hope college, chairman of leadership and training. Mr. Winter is a charter member of the Ottawa-Allegan council, having been honored with the area chairmanship in 1936, and was given the ten-year veteran's award in 1937. All the training courses conducted by the council during the past dozen years have been mapped out and directed by Prof. Winter, and hundreds of scouts can point to him as graduating under his planning.

Those who will receive five-year awards from the central district are: Le Roy Alder, Randall Bosch, Robert Curtis, Donald Den Uyl, John De Wilde, Albert Faasen, Clarence Harris, Edward A. John, Martin Kamaraad, Clarence Kleis, J. T. Klompars, Joe Kramer, Raymond Mooi, Ben Mulder, Harvard Newaveel, Robert Rose and Carl Seif of Holland, and the Rev. Richard Vandenberg of Zeeland.

Field Commissioner W. P. Bills of Spring Lake will receive recognition for 20 years of service, and Jack Spangler, Jr., scoutmaster of troop No. 1, Grand Haven, will receive a 15-year award. Those who will receive 10-year awards include Edward C. Roberts, veteran scoutmaster of troop No. 23, Grand Haven, and his assistant, John Van Woerkom, and W. D. Augst, and the Rev. Charles Oughton of Plainville, the Rev. John H. Bruggers, Lee Little and Perle Reynolds of Coopersville, Clay Benson of Allegan, Reynard Braak and Jacob Braak of Spring Lake, E. E. Eady of Otsego, Leon Hopkins and John VanTaten-hove of Holland, J. L. Robinson of Wyland and Stuart Sessions of Saugatuck.

The public interested in scouting is cordially invited to attend the banquet Saturday at Beechwood school at 6:30 o'clock, according to scout executive M. P. Russel of Holland.

In a previous article, the Holland City News gave a detailed history of Dr. Wyland's life, and his activities in Boy Scout and other work.

Methods of promoting residential construction are to be discussed and the convention is to hear representatives of the national association discuss plans for the annual small home demonstration.

PETER AT PENTECOST
Acts 2:12-18, 36-41

Henry Geerlings

Peter soon has a chance to prove his changed attitude. He had a severe test made of his courage and his skill was put to its best to speak a good word for his Master. This happened fifty days after the resurrection. It was on Pentecost. It was a feast time and great crowds were in Jerusalem. It was an opportune time for the gospel to be given to many people who had come from many parts of the country. The Holy Spirit was strangely given to the disciples so that they could tell the gospel to all the people in their own language. There was so much about it all that was strange and difficult to understand that everybody began to wonder and ask questions and suggest explanations as to how it had all come about.

So perplexed were the people about what had taken place that they turned away from the apostles and talked to one another, asking questions and making comments. The questions were all right and were to be expected, but Peter caught one of the comments and it aroused his indignation. He resented the suggestion that they had been intoxicated, and so were just babbling words that they themselves did not understand. Perhaps the comment was made in jest and with a slur on the truth.

This was Peter's challenge and opportunity. He arose to the defense of his brethren, who under the power and direction of the Holy Spirit, had talked to the people. Peter addressed the multitude courteously and acknowledged them as men of Judea and Jerusalem. As such they would be able to understand what that day's strange occurrences were all about, for he proposed to link up with the truth of the Scriptures which these men had believed from childhood. He spurned the idea that his associates were intoxicated, appealing to custom of the time, indicating that so early in the day men would not have taken enough strong drink to make them weak folk.

He did not waste much time on the defense. He had greater things to do than that, for no defense was needed. A simple denial was sufficient. By this time he had the attention of the multitude and he launched forth into a great sermon in which he declared to them the gospel. He laid the background of it in the history of their nation and led them up to the life and works of Christ. He emphasized not so much the crucifixion as the resurrection. He claimed that as eye witnesses they were declaring that Christ was living again. More than that, God had received him back to himself. Jesus had ascended. He had promised the coming of the Holy Spirit. That promise had been fulfilled in their midst that day and what they had heard, which seemed to them so difficult to explain, was the result of the work of the Holy Spirit. If they doubted, they could refer to statements in the Scriptures which foretold these events. Peter made a closing appeal to the people to accept as truth the words he had been saying about Jesus. God had made him both Lord and Christ. Who was this Jesus? He was the Son of God whom they had crucified.

The effect of Peter's words can hardly be appreciated. We find it difficult to picture before us the changed attitude of the multitude. At once they began to show that they were convicted by this message and they began to ask eagerly what they should do. They sincerely felt that if they were under condemnation for crucifying Jesus, and Jesus was in truth the Christ of God, they must do something to remove the penalty.

Peter had won out. His message had done its work. The people were changed from accusers to inquirers. They were waiting for the apostle to instruct them. He knew what steps these repentant Jews must take to get into right relation with their God. There was only one answer to the question. They must repent. They must have their sins remitted. They must be baptized. Ordinarily this would have seemed an insult to tell Jews to do these things. But they were ready and prepared for these directions.

Peter added God's promise to the obedient. When they would carry out the instructions of Peter, he declared it was God's promise that they, too, would receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. What they had seen done by and for others would come to them also.

About three thousand accepted the answer and believed in Jesus as the Christ of God and their own Savior and offered themselves for baptism. Thus the church grew marvelously that day.

It is still true that the world cannot understand the zeal of Christians for God's work. All we need to do to defend ourselves is to tell the true story of Christ and allow the Holy Spirit to direct us. In the end we will be gratified to find many acknowledging him as their Savior.

The Woman's Study club met last Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Scherpenisse. Each member responded to roll call by reading a favorite Bible passage. Miss Fanny Bultman gave a wonderful book report on the book entitled "The Art of Living" by Norman Vincent Peale. Miss Gladys Bultman favored with a vocal solo, "Life's Weaving." She was accompanied by Mrs. Scherpenisse at the piano.

Miss Genevieve Klomprens of Grand Rapids and Miss Verle's Klomprens of Plainwell were week end guests in the home of their parents here.

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY

Director of A&P Kitchen

EGGS are a food whose use fluctuates greatly with price. Fortunately they are at their best when most plentiful and cheap. At present, even grade B eggs are fresh and delicious enough for poaching and boiling and they are as cheap as at any time last year. Butter, too, and cheese are low in price.

Meats are a trifle higher while poultry is steady. Frost has injured the crops of green beans and peas so that these vegetables are high. Spinach is cheap and broccoli, cauliflower and mushrooms relatively so. Salad greens are reasonable.

Three dinner menus follow.

WOMAN'S DAY MAGAZINE

OUT FOR FEBRUARY

The Woman's Day magazine is very seasonal with a little child in curls gleefully looking over her numerous valentines. The heart-shaped one already touches the "little tyke."

"Just Between Neighbors" again appears in the usual place. "You'll Have to Send Your Boy to College," by Robert Maynard Hutchins, with a large university picture, is a very important feature. "What Shall We Do for Our Poor Mothers?" also illustrated, is the subject of Dorothy Canfield. "American Heroes and Why I Like Them," by Gracie Allen, prominent radio star, bubbles over with historic lore. "Washington Crossing the Delaware," from a famous painting, is reprinted. "Twenty-Five Dollars for Your Own Home," illustrating a half dozen homes and the details are minutely described by Elizabeth Coit, architect. The leading story is "Will the Romance be the Same?" by Aldrich. "Cousin Effie," "I Raised Three Sons," "How Men Like Women to Dress," "Good Buys," are subjects of intense interest at this time.

"Teen Age," "Hats and Bags," illustrate what young girls wear on their heads and carry in their hands, showing chic outfits, all pictured. "The School Bus" is a regular feature. "Lamp Shades and How to Make Them," by Dorothy Wagner, shows a dozen lamps, and they surely are beauties. "Beauty Problems," "Child's Care," "Schooling Your Young Child," are three subjects that would be interesting to anyone. Two pages of children's puzzles and some cartoons for the youngsters will keep them interested. "Menus for February," "The Pastry Question in the Home," "Winter Salads," and how to prepare all these, are not only illustrated but are well defined through recipes. "Six of the Best Meat Pies," by Cora Anthony, with pictures good enough to eat, are fully illustrated on pages 36 and 37. "Budgeting the Family," "Well-Balanced Meals for Budgets," "Hollywood Review," "Patterns for Children's Dresses," are given considerable space.

The Woman's Day magazine for February now on sale is jammed full of diversified reading matter for folks of all ages. A lot of reading for two cents.

The regular issue of the Woman's Day, a monthly publication sponsored by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., is now available and copies can be secured at 2c each at any Holland, Ottawa, or Allegan county A&P food stores. Ask for your copy.

The special collection at Central Park church last week Sunday totaled $48.66. The amount will be applied to the church debt.

A Message to the 6,000,000 Women Who Do Their Marketing at A & P

By choosing A&P as your grocer you have taken full advantage of the most efficient system of food distribution in the world. You are getting more real value for each food dollar you spend . . . because you are paying only one small profit (instead of many) for the service A&P renders you. You are receiving your full share of the many savings A&P constantly makes by dealing direct with producers and manufacturers. You are saving more money on your food bills than many women because in addition to the low prices on nationally known foods, you are getting extra big values each time you purchase a loaf of A&P Bread, a pound of A&P Coffee, a package of A&P Teas, and any of A&P's famous Ann Page quality foods.

You will never risk one penny of your money because you will have your full purchase price refunded any time you buy anything which fails to give you full satisfaction.

And since A&P checks food prices daily and knows food values, A&P will always see to it that you get full value for every dollar you spend at their stores. It has been that way for 80 years; it will continue that way. And to the thousands of new customers who will come to A&P this year, the same fair dealings will be accorded each one.

"Eat More Beans Week"

LANSING—Gov. Fitzgerald Wednesday issued his first proclamation since taking office, calling for public observance of "Eat More Beans Week" Feb. 2 to 8.

Pointing out that Michigan bean growers face an emergency in view of a surplus of more than 1,000,000 bags of beans, the Governor said that this State should take a leading role in stimulating consumption of the food. He called upon restaurants, the consuming public and public institutions to feature beans on their menus.

A & P COOPERATES WITH MICHIGAN FARMERS
Your A & P Markets, during February, are aiding the Michigan bean producer by offering dried Michigan Beans and Canned Beans (Michigan grown) at prices that represent exceptional values.

Beans are good for you. Their nutritive value is high. And Michigan, the biggest bean producing state in the union, offers the finest quality. Help yourself to real savings and help the Michigan farmer too during this great cooperative effort.
