"MOVIES" AS PART OF SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

Some interesting tests with a view to determining the benefits derived from supplementing ordinary instruction by motion picture films illustrating the subjects taught were recently made in schools in San Diego and eleven other California cities.

In all more than 11,000 children were tested, each school being divided into two groups, one of which received both book and film instruction, the other being taught through text-books only. The tests covered a period of ten weeks, at the end of which examinations were held.

Pupils having the advantage of the motion pictures made grades averaging 33 per cent higher in geography and 15 per cent higher in general science subjects than those who used books alone. This experiment appears to have been extensive enough to warrant the conclusion that the combination book-picture method is highly advantageous in such subjects as mentioned.

Not only is this method beneficial to the individual pupil, but by reducing the number of failures in examinations, it reduces the number of pupils who must repeat courses, thus effecting a saving in expenses for school purposes.

The introduction of educational films is becoming widespread, and there is little doubt that they will become standard equipment for schools of the future.

THE HONEST OLD SPUD

Agricultural experts are predicting that farmers will cut down their acreage of potatoes the coming year. They raised too many during the past season and were unable to market them satisfactorily. Of course, there can be no carry-over, but the old-time logic of the farm is supposed to be not to plant next year the crop that doesn't pay this year.

But the Government statistics don't look so bad for the humble potato. The fault seems to be that the above mentioned logic worked in "reverse English" last year. The 1927 crop was a trifle light but brought a bumper price, so the potato growers planted largely in 1928 and took less for their bigger production. But even at that, according to Government figures, the average return per acre was $65.34, which would just about buy the average acre of ground. The honest old potato pays his way after all.

A BOATHOUSE FOR SEA SCOUTS WILL PROBABLY BE BUILT IN HOLLAND

Holland will become the Sea Scout center of the Ottawa-Allegan area if the step approved by district scout committee are carried out.

The committee voted to raise the amount of $3,500 above the regular scout budget the extra money going toward the erection of the proposed Sea Scout boat house. The above amount is only half of the cost, the other half will be raised at some later date.

The site of the boat house is not definitely determined, but it will have space for all the boats of the Holland ship.

Holland is doing a great deal of Sea Scout work. It has more Sea Scouts than any other city of its size in the United States and will become a stronger organization if the headquarters are located here. Sometime ago the Common Council granted the Sea Scouts permission to build on the shores of Kollen Park.

ZEELAND GIRL COMPLIMENT-ED ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

Our Zeeland girls have received many compliments for the quality of service that has been furnished our customers. Zeeland is one of the centers of the poultry and egg business of western Michigan, and a great many long distance calls are made from here as a result, for eggs and poultry must be marketed quickly. Cornelia Rooks, who has been our Traffic association representative, has proved popular with the girls. She has been an able representative. — "Michigan Bell Mouthpiece."

A group of girls enjoyed a sleigh ride to Zeeland Thursday evening. Refreshments were had at Well's restaurant in Zeeland. Those who enjoyed the party were: Angelina Vande Brink, Mildred Ter Vree, Marion Visser, Helena Knap, Jeannette Visser, Bernice Vanderploeg, Jeannette Hof, Jeannette Bouma, Gertrude Golds, Evelyn Vanderploeg, Francis Vande Wende, Mary Galsen, Anna Smeenge, Sadie Zane, and Evelyn Hietje.

HOLLAND GROWER CLAIMS COLD HAS FAILED TO DAMAGE TREES

Inspection of fruit trees by leading growers indicate that despite of the cold weather of the past few weeks not much damage has been done. "The Peach is the most sensitive of all fruit trees," remarked Gerrit J. Deur, a Holland township orchardist, "and unless the mercury registers more than 10 degrees below zero the danger of serious damage is eliminated." Deur Tuesday said that another month hence will be a much better time for a survey. Present indications augur for a good crop in most fruits. "The smaller fruits are well covered with snow and are safe from damage," Deur said.

HOLLAND'S 1930 BUDGET FEELS PRUNING KNIFE

Municipal boards used the pruning knife in the amounts to be recommended to the council to meet the various needs in the coming year which are to be incorporated in the annual appropriation bill. The total combined budgets for the police, fire, park and cemetery boards approximate $90,000. The various amounts are: Police, $26,156; fire department, $33,000; parks, $21,783; cemeteries, $8,900. Some of the much needed equipment for some of the departments was shelved for another year in order to lower taxes.

Louis H. Osterhaus of Grand Haven flooded Holland with circular letters Tuesday in advocacy of his candidacy for the office of circuit judge of Ottawa and Allegan counties as successor to Orien S. Cross who is seeking a fourth term. Fred T. Miles of this city, who was the first to announce his candidacy several weeks ago, had mailed circular letters to electors of the two counties some time ago. Friend of Judge Cross are planning to flood the two counties with letters for his candidacy.

The primaries are set for March 4, and the nomination will be equivalent to election.

IN MEMORY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

No bugles blared to herald out his birth,
No bonfires leaped above the sleeping earth,
No soft, luxurious cradle waited there
To hold his little body in its care.

His home was cold and cheerless like that cave
That sheltered One who came to love and save—
Humble and poor within that cabin rude,
He lay—the man to stir the multitude.

And like that other One when manhood came
He sought not riches, power or fleeting fame;
His was a purpose noble, great and high:
To make a better world for you and I.

O Man of vision, sent to fill our need,
Humble of heart, mighty of strength and deed;
A grateful world gives thanks and praise today
Because a man like you has walked its way.

OTTAWA COUNTY SUPERVISOR IN LANSING

The Ottawa County delegation to the annual meeting of the State Association of Supervisors are in Lansing where they are holding sessions this week.

The supervisors who were appointed at the January session, include: Fred Graham, Robinson; John Van Amrooy, Grand Haven; Chris W. Nibbelink, Holland; B. L. Taylor, Crockett; Cornelius Rowendaal, Zeeland; Roelof Dragt, Allendale and George Heneveld, Park. As it was impossible for the last member to attend he appointed Phillip Vinkemulder of Olive in his place. The meetings are of much interest to the supervisors, much that is later of use in the county meetings is discussed. Fred Graham, chairman of the board, was most enthusiastic over the meeting last year.

Miss Winnie H. Gates, who has for several months been employed at the Bentheim store, has accepted a position in Holland after spending a few weeks at home with her parents.

Small "windfall" came to not a few Holland folks in the way of a legacy from the Netherlands. It appears that members of the De Cook family were thus benefited. The story goes that Cornelius De Cook of Goes had died and left his estate to 50 relatives, cousins. De Cook many years ago lived in Holland and was employed at the John R. Klyn Lumber Co. factory on East 6th street. He returned to the old country and became a sheep rancher. Anyway when he died, nearly a year ago the will was probated and the cousins were remembered, each with $10.41, their share. The Holland people who benefited were: Mrs. Lane Perbolte, Mrs. Isaac Capoen, Mrs. James Barenman, Sr., Niel De Cook, Eessie De Cook, Frank De Cook, and Mrs. Fred Van Raalte.

January, 1929, Was a Most Unusual Month

NOT SO COLD, BUT LOTS OF SNOW AND LITTLE SUNSHINE

Two degrees below zero at the coldest hour and a total of 30.8 inches of snowfall, measure the approximate severity of January, 1929, in comparison with Michigan winters of former years, both since and before the opening of the official U. S. weather bureau was established in Western Michigan.

January was a below average month in many respects, except in the range of temperatures, though the mean temperature for the month was 5.4 degrees below the general average for Michigan over a period of years.

Precipitation, however, established a new 30-year record, with a total of 4 inches of moisture falling during the month, about evenly divided between snow and rain. The snow precipitation (reduced to water) was 1.82 inches, with a total snowfall of 30.8 inches during the 31 days. Precipitation was the highest since 1898, when it was measured at 4.04 inches. The snowfall for the month was the greatest since 1918, when a record was set at 45 inches, the greatest single month's snowfall recorded at any time since the beginning of snow records here in the winter of 1893-

94. The month just past stands second in that period.

The total snowfall for the present winter up to Jan. 31 was 42.3 inches. The greatest snowfall for any winter since 1893-94 was three years ago, with a total of 89.5 inches. The average snowfall for January is estimated at 13.8 inches.

Snow fell in a measurable amount on 16 days of last month, with the ground entirely covered by snow throughout the month. Sleet occurred twice, on Jan. 22 and 24, with a glazed ice condition on two days, Jan. 18 and 22.

Although the temperature did not reach untoward low marks, it did not rise to any great height, the highest being 41 degrees on Jan. 5. The low point was reached on the 13th. The average temperature for the month was 18.8.

Referring again to precipitation, only seven times previously since the maintenance of precipitation records in 1870, has the fall of moisture exceeded that of last month. These were: January, 1898, 4.04 inches; January, 1897, 6 inches; January, 1895, 4.42 inches; January, 1887, 5.44 inches; January, 1874, 4.78 inches; January, 1871, 5.34 inches.

Sunshine during last month was extremely deficient, with 14 days on which the sun was entirely obscured. With the total sunshine possible during January fixed at 100 per cent, the amount of sunshine received here last month was only 16 per cent, or 11 per cent less than the normal amount for January.

Since 1880, the hottest January day occurred Jan. 20, 1906, with 64 degrees, and the coldest, Jan. 31, 1899, with 20 below zero.

Modern travel in January was most difficult because of heavy snow and ice covering caused by rains. In the pre-auto days almost everyone traveled in sleighs and cutters and rode over the top of the snow-covered streets without difficulty. Snow and ice improved traffic rather than hampered it, for wet, muddy roads were the bane of travelers then, while snow and ice have that same effect on auto travel of today.

PLAN FOR RETURN OF MISSIONARY'S WIDOW

The board of foreign missions in the Reformed Churches of America is sponsoring plans for the return to this country of Mrs. Henry A. Bilkert and her three children from the mission field in Arabia. Mrs. Bilkert recently became a widow when her husband was shot and killed while accompanying the Crane party by Ikhwan, Mrs. Bilkert likely will locate in Kalama-zoo.

Mrs. A. Pieters, formerly of Japan, was the speaker at the meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society of the Fourteenth Street Church, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Bert Taylor took the place of Miss Esther McVea, principal of Lincoln School, who was called to Ganges because of the death of her brother-in-law.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vantak, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stern at Las Vegas, New Mexico, a son.

Birthplace of Lincoln by No Means Squalid

And now there has been brought to light practical evidence that the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln was not the pitiful lot of poverty that has been described lugubriously by historians, nor was the great emancipator of humble and poor parentage. A letter-book of Capt. John Dunlap, historic printer of Philadelphia, and wealthy landowner, coupled with a research made recently by a newspaper man of Kentucky, brings out plainly these refutations.

Since the recent discovery of the important work rendered during the Revolution by Captain Dunlap and Lieutenant Claypoole, printers of the first daily newspaper in America and official printers of the Continental congress, John Barr, Connecticut historian and a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, has followed the documents of Dunlap and revealed through his study many interesting facts of historical value.

The latest source of information that has come to notice is the letter-book of Dunlap, loaned the Historical society by the noted printer's great-grandson, George Chapman Bleight of Haymarket, Va., formerly a Philadelphia attorney. The letters are the correspondence of Dunlap and four other wealthy men who traveled to the very spot in Kentucky where Lincoln's family came from Virginia, in order to invest in land there.

Dispels Poverty Legend. By comparing the reports of these men to their Philadelphia associates and the documentary evidence presented in a book compiled by Louis A. Warren, a newspaper man of Hodgenville, Ky., Mr. Barr has drawn conclusions which he points out as adequate to dispel the popular belief in the poverty legend.

Abraham Lincoln needed no such tale to enhance his greatness. His rise from obscurity was mighty enough, starting from the Kentucky bluegrass frontier—it is not

Lincoln's Friend

He labored in a lonely field. Yet sometimes I have thought He glimpsed a figure distant there As patiently he wrought Through aching stillnesses, wherein He toiled, and murmured not.

How often in the anguished hours He felt and understood The Lonely One who watched afar So sorrowful, and good, The Silent Friend Whose presence there Gave solace to his mood.

Surely he felt Him near, when men Forsook and fled the place! When all he knew of comforting Was in that changeful grace! Surely, in his Gethsemane He must have seen His face! —Laura Simmons in the Boston Globe.

Lincoln Sayings

"The Lord must love the common people—that's why he made so many of them."

"Many have gotten into a habit of being dissatisfied."

"Be sure to put your feet in the right place; then stand firm."

"I do not think much of a man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday."

"Gold is good in its place; but loving, brave, patriotic men are better than gold."

"I'm nothing, but truth is everything."

"Dear Brother: I am now on my way to the Falls. I am sorry I have some very unhappy news to tell you—that is the death of Mr. Keightley, who was killed by the Indians on the 12th of August, 1784, within five miles of this place and 15 from the Falls—W. Daniels, the lawyer, was killed at the same instant. Mr. Johnston, the clerk of the lower county, was wounded; in the same company, Mr. Keightley was shot, tomahawked and scalped—Pray drive away all notions of returning to this country. All that is to be got in it is not equal to the danger that attends living in it—"

When Abraham Lincoln met his death at the hands of the Indians, his oldest son, Mordecai, who was fifteen years old at the time, avenged his death as an Indian stooped over to take the pioneer's scalp. Thomas Lincoln, father of the President, witnessed the scene. He was ten years old at the time. The entire estate went to Mordecai Lincoln, under the law of primogeniture, and consisted mainly of 5,544 acres of land in Virginia and in Kentucky—a considerable estate for a "drifting, moving people, struggling with poverty."

Father Owned Land. So it was that Thomas Lincoln was to earn his livelihood. He rose from laborer to carpenter, surveyor, soldier, farmer and property owner. In Elizabethtown he was employed by Samuel Haycraft, a substantial business man of the territory, who was a close friend of John Dunlap and who wrote many letters to the Philadelphia. There he met Nancy Hanks and later built the cabin where Lincoln, the President, was born—a new cabin and as well constructed as an average house of the time and section—on a farm, ten miles from Elizabethtown, at Hodgenville.

Deeds in the courts there show that the farm which has been identified as the site of Lincoln's birthplace and from which the cabin enshrined in the Lincoln memorial was taken consisted of more than 300 acres—a considerable plot, and not a few acres, as has been told. The farm was purchased in 1803 with $200 in cash and other subsequent payments. He owned, in addition, records show, 230 acres of Kentucky lands—Leonard H. Arnold, in the Philadelphia Record.

Above is pictured the painting of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, which was presented to the White House by Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the Great Emancipator. The painting is the work of Katherine Helm.

This Groundhog Chap! Can He Be the Bunk? We Really Think So!

In Holland the groundhog failed to see his shadow last Friday, although old Boris came near punching a hole thru the cloudy curtain a few times, but failed utterly to effect Mr. Woodchuck. However, in Grand Rapids, 30 miles away, the sun shown brightly for an hour or more, and the little fellow's silhouette was plainly visible against the white back ground. Well, according to the prophet, Holland is to have an early spring and by the same token Grand Rapids will be in the grip of winter for six weeks more. We begin to believe that this ground hog stuff is all the "bunk."

As a matter of fact, even where he saw his shadow plainly, it's only an even money bet that he was right; and where he didn't see it at all the same odds hold. Meteorologists who have made a statistical examination of the weather records for years back have found that there is no discernible correlation between the state of the sky on Feb. 2 and the state of the weather for six weeks thereafter. Groundhog doesn't care at all about the wagging heads or the arguing tongues. He's getting in the last sound licks of his beauty sleep, which began some time last fall. And he'll come out, shadow or no shadow, when he gets good and ready and not before.

The groundhog is the same animal known as woodchuck. It has been adopted as its scientific name, Marmota. There are three main species on this continent, split up into numerous subspecies by naturalists who know their groundhogs. In the lowlands are found the common or red-haired marmot and the yellow bellied marmot. Up in the Rockies there is a bigger animal, the hoary marmot or rock-chuck, which lives in among the tumbled rocks on the mountains instead of in burrows under ground.

The groundhog of course is in no way related to the squealing denizens of the pigpen. He is a cousin of that other misnamed animal, the guinea pig (which isn't a pig and never saw Guinea), and both of them are rodents. The groundhog, as a matter of fact, is simply a great big, oversized, short-tailed squirrel that prefers to dive into the ground for safety instead of climbing a tree.

To Symbolize Lincoln Spirit

In a clump of black oaks on a knoll in southwestern Indiana a monument of Indiana limestone is to be erected to perpetuate the memory of Abraham Lincoln and enshrine the humble grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, his mother.

Thomas Hibben of New York, a native of Indiana, has been selected as the architect, and his plans have been endorsed by the Indiana Lincoln union, an organization of nationally known Hoosiers.

The edifice will be a departure from the usual sophisticated type of architecture. Mr. Hibben explained, "We seek to create a symbol of the great power and gentleness that was Lincoln," said the architect. "Such gentleness is not negative, but infinite and human. Such power is the nobility of strength, the understanding of all humanity in its reality."

The memorial will be approximately 200 feet in each direction, comprising a series of four open courts of simple masonry surrounding a main building from which will rise a shaft 150 feet high.

The grounds surrounding the memorial will be landscaped to reproduce the scene as it was in the fourteen years the boy Lincoln lived and toiled there.

Your Newspaper Ad Can Make a Second Call

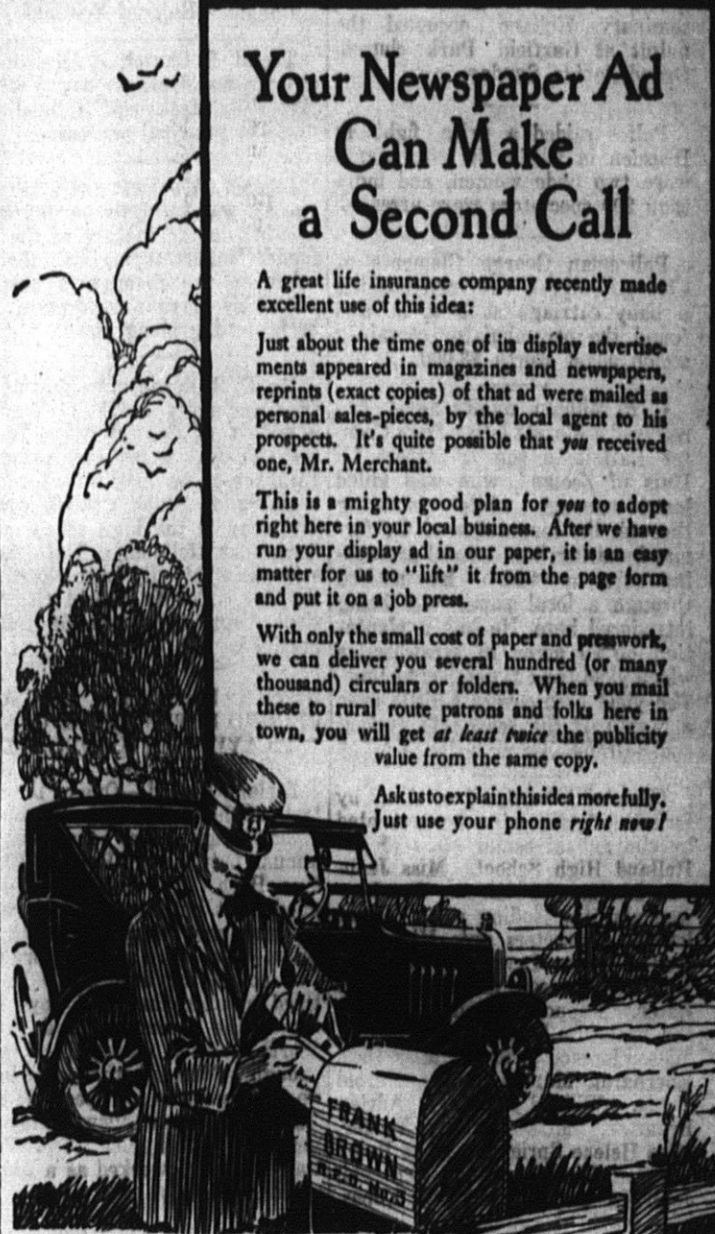

A great life insurance company recently made excellent use of this idea:

Just about the time one of its display advertisements appeared in magazines and newspapers, reprints (exact copies) of that ad were mailed as personal sales-pieces, by the local agent to his prospects. It's quite possible that you received one, Mr. Merchant.

This is a mighty good plan for you to adopt right here in your local business. After we have run your display ad in our paper, it is an easy matter for us to "lift" it from the page form and put it on a job press.

With only the small cost of paper and presswork, we can deliver you several hundred (or many thousand) circulars or folders. When you mail these to rural route patrons and folks here in town, you will get at least twice the publicity value from the same copy.

Ask us to explain this idea more fully. Just use your phone right now!

HERE'S HOW THE ZEELAND RECORD DOPES THREE GAMES PLAYED WITH HOLLAND

Zeeland Record.—One of the contests of the week engaged in by the Zeeland high school squad was the annual battle with Holland Christian High. The locals put up a good fight but the tall and rangy Holland crew were too much for them. They were able to score only two points in the first half. In the third quarter the local boys outscored the Hollanders and in the fourth quarter managed to score enough on the substitutes to bring up their score to a respectable size. Van Peurssem and Plewes played a nice ball in this game. The Christian High five worked as a unit to score repeatedly.

The Arnett-coached fair sextette also engaged in a real tussle on Friday evening with the Christian High girls. At first the game appeared to be about as evenly matched as any could be. The stage-fright wearing off, however, the Holland girls soon found themselves and were busy ringing them up. The guarding of the Christian High team was also commendable. Wille Van Peurssem, Van Dyke and Van Asselt, the latter doing some beautiful pivoting, played good ball for the locals. Many wild passes threw the game away.

Friday afternoon the reserves traveled to Holland for a game with the strong Junior High quint. This team is rated as one of the best in Holland's city schools and is reported to have victories over Holland High's reserve five. Meeting the team in Holland proved to a disadvantage to the locals who were handicapped by the low ceiling. The contest was close all the way through. At half time the locals were ahead 8 to 5. They retained the lead in the third quarter, although their advantage was pared down to a single point. In the final quarter a hot contest was waged for the leadership, Holland scoring 4 points to 3 for the locals, putting the game up in the air. It looked as though a little overtime play would have to decide the issue when, within three-quarters of a minute of the end of the fray, the locals pulled a play that always works. Plays from his position under the basket turned the tide for the locals and registered another win for the reserves. Tjepkema played a real game for the Gold and White troopers as did Essenburg for Holland.

ALLEGAN MAN, ASPIRANT FOR BENCH, IS TOO LATE, BUT IS STILL TRYING

Ira Montague of Allegan may not be in the race for judge of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, it appears. It was learned Friday his petitions had been returned to him. The petitions were mailed Tuesday, the last day on which they might be filed, but they did not reach the state department until Thursday. Montague claimed he will endeavor to have his name placed upon the ballot on the understanding that the petition had left his office and was in transit, showing his intent was O. K. It is doubtful that this will hold good, however.

If he fails it will leave the contest to three candidates, Louis H. Osterhaus of Grand Haven, Fred T. Miles of Holland and Judge O. S. Cross of Allegan, who is seeking re-election for a fourth term.

A peanut vending machine and a gum machine were taken away from the Lemmen garage.

"The Age Long Quest" Was the Topic Discussed by Dr. A. Leenhouts at Exchange Club.

Dr. A. Leenhouts was the speaker at the Exchange Club luncheon held Wednesday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern. He spoke on the subject "The Age Long Quest," which he explained was the search through the ages of past history for health.

He mentioned the fact that the old Egyptian records from several centuries before Christ show that mankind was then hunting for ways to lessen pain and to forestall death as we are doing now.

Dr. Leenhouts said, "Improvement began when the governments of different nations backed the medical profession, but the greatest progress was made when Pasteur demonstrated that bacteria were the cause of many of the sicknesses of humans."

He continued, "The aim and purpose of the medical profession is to produce conditions that will dispose of the need for curative medicine. Preventive medicine has saved many more lives than curative medicine."

Dr. Leenhouts also mentioned some suggestions about health, recommending correct eating, enough rest and recreation, physical exercise and correct habits of thinking.

The Sisters cleared about $131 on the football season which, with $40 profit from the basketball season, enabled them to purchase jerseys for the team. Last season they purchased uniforms for the basketball team. The money was realized largely from the sale of hot dogs, frost bites and delicacies sold to the crowds attending the games.

GRAND HAVEN HIGH SCHOOL ROBBED

The High School and Central Schools at Grand Haven were entered some time Saturday night and about $30 taken, the major part $20 in 40 fifty-cent packages from the office of Glenn H. Olsen. This money is kept there as a rule to provide change for the basketball games.

Several other small amounts were taken from the lockers and desks, with a few pens and pencils. Little was missing from the Central School. The door of the office was broken and the lock easily manipulated.

The discovery of the theft was made by Edward Boer, one of the janitors, who entered the building Sunday morning to look after the fires.

Supt. E. H. Babcock is offering $10 reward to any one furnishing information which will lead to the arrest of the thieves.

DUCKS STOP UP GRAND HAVEN WATER PIPES

The open well at the Grand Haven city pumping plant to which a condenser-pipe leads from the government pond in that vicinity is filled with wild duck that stays in these parts during the winter months. Several times dead birds have been found in pipes leading into the plant and if this is continued, the birds may become a nuisance.

GRAND HAVEN MAN FINDS WAY TO SOLVE FROZEN OIL PUZZLE

Orville F. Beers has introduced a clever device for automobiles which is his own invention called the Beers Oil Pan heater. It raises the temperature of the oil in a car materially assisting the oil to flow and promote lubrication.

Cold sluggish oil and an ice coated oil screen is the cause of many car difficulties during the winter months. The device is especially adapted to Dodge cars, for which Mr. Beers is the local agent. Testimonials from Dodge Brothers dealers and car owners who have experienced the "frozen oil" problem, show thoroughly Beers' invention has solved the cold weather difficulties for many.

Indian Tells of Catching Ducks

CHIEF POKAGON RELATES EXPERIENCE THAT MIGHT POSSIBLY BE TRIED BY SOME OF OUR DUCK HUNTERS

Chief Pokagon, the last of the Pottawattamie chieftains, who lived most of his life in Michigan, tells the following unique duck story in his book, "The Queen of the Woods," or as he calls it in his language, "O-gi-maw-kwe Mit-i-gwa-ki."

"On the following day, my old friend Bertrand, came after us according to promise, at the third full moon, to take us home. As we packed our goods into the boat, I noticed a basket of curious make, with wild rice trimmed, as if growing in the water. In seating myself in the boat to steer, I asked: 'What in the world is that for?' He replied: 'Sime, me guess meby me will show you wid him how me used to catch um duck alive!'

"In passing down the Sebe we came to a wild rice cove, in which some wild ducks were feeding. Here the old man dropped his oars, saying, 'Now, Sime, meby me will catch a pair of them ducks by their feet alive.' So saying, he put the basket over his head and jumped into the stream; the water just covered his shoulders. Slowly he walked in the water towards the ducks; the box trimmed with rice straw appeared to be floating toward the flock, soon moving among them. They appeared to realize no fear of danger from the floating craft.

"Anxiously my mother and I watched, as he moved among them. Soon I saw one duck sink like lead out of sight, then another disappeared, leaving scarcely a sparkle where they sank. Slowly the rice craft came floating back, until it reached the boat. The old man then handed us the box, which we placed in the boat, with a pair of beautiful ducks safely secured."

A BIRD ALARM CLOCK
Liberians have given the name "living alarm clock" to the little pepper bird, which with the rising of the sun flutters to house-tops, fences and trees uttering shrill cries. Both natives and whites have found this bird so dependable that its wakening cries are said not to vary more than three minutes from day to day.

The low price of fresh eggs has resulted in Zeeland chick hatcheries starting their 1929 operations about a month earlier than normal. The first chicks of the season were shipped by mail last week. Normally the hatcheries do not start filling their incubators until Feb. 1.

The Bible Seen Through Oriental Eyes, With Special Reference to India

By Chris A. De Jonge

THE YOKE

Fifty years ago, the people of most pioneering communities had a visual conception of the real meaning of the term "yoke," as oxen with their yoke were a common sight. The younger generation of today, while seeing many new methods of locomotion, seldom, if ever, sees a yoke.

The Indian child, however, sees the yoke constantly, for this is still the prime means of hitching bullocks into useful locomotion.

SOME FOOLHARDY BIRDS, BUT PLEASE FEED THEM

February comes with a few faint promises of spring. A few robins and bluebirds, either brave or foolhardy, are apt to be found coming north by the end of the month.

Birds that are winter residents here, such as cardinals, chickadees, bluejays and occasional flocks of bobwhites, will welcome food given them—grains, crumbs, meat scraps, suet, or bones with a little meat left on them. Such food should be placed where the birds can come in safety. After severe ice and snowstorms many birds starve unless helped by human friends.

Holland Men Find Way to Stop Car Stealing

Have Invention That Will Aid in Detecting Cars That Are Stolen

"A dispatch from Lansing states that a new plan to curb activities of automobile thieves has been called to the attention of state officials and members of the legislature by A. B. Hulsebos and J. G. Geerds of Holland. The men hope to have a law enacted that would place the state in a position to consider an invention they say would aid in law enforcement.

The plan has the endorsement of Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of public safety, and other enforcement officers of the state, its proponents claim. They intend to present their plan to Gov. Green and John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, who has charge of automobile licensing.

The invention, designed to assist in detection of stolen automobiles, consists of a metal device to be fastened to the windshield. Two numbers would be on the plate—both identical to the license plate number. When the car is being driven by the owner both numbers would be visible from the front; when the owner leaves his machine he would detach one of the numbers—provided for by the invention—and carry it with him.

Absence of the top number and the colored tab on which it is held, would denote a stolen automobile, the inventors point out. The fact that it would be impossible to remove the device from the windshield without defacing it, would prevent transfer of auto license plates from one car to another. It further is contended that the device would be difficult to counterfeit.

Legislation demanding use of this particular device would be classed legislation and unconstitutional, the attorney general's department told Hulsebos and Geerds. It is their intention, however, to encourage legislation providing for some such protective device. Then, they believe, they could go into successful competition with manufacturers of similar devices.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS FLEMING ON SCHOOL BIBLE STUDY

Rev. W. S. Fleming of Chicago delivered an address to a large audience in Third Reformed church Sunday afternoon in advocacy of a new law for Bible reading and Bible courses in the public schools of the state now pending in the Michigan legislature. "Place the Bible for study in the public schools," said Mr. Fleming, "and it will be one of the strongest weapons in checking the crime wave now rampant throughout the country and also the wave of atheism now spreading throughout the land." Fleming recounted some of his experiences in connection with his campaign for this cause in 18 states and Canada. He expressed the belief that the bill, the provisions of which were not as strong as he would like, would be enacted into law.

Dr. T. W. Davidson, pastor of Hope church was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Warm Friend Tavern Thursday noon with Charles Karr in charge of the program. Mr. Davidson selected as his topic the anniversary week of Robert Burns, which is being celebrated now. Among other things Mr. Davidson gave the interesting fact that "Bobby" Burns wrote 255 love poems, 33 of which were addressed to particular sweethearts of his.

Grand Haven Man Steals Tons of Coal

SHERIFF STEKETEE ARRESTS RAILROAD COAL THIEVES

Edward A. Klugas, Grand Haven, 39 years old, was arraigned before Justice C. E. Burr for grand larceny. He waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court under a $500 bond. It has not been furnished and he is in the jail. Klugas was arrested by Sheriff Steketee for stealing coal from the Grand Trunk loading dock. He gave the sheriff an affidavit saying that he had stolen coal from the railway company for the past five years and during that time had taken between 25 and 30 tons. He has six tons in his basement at 117 Elliott street, which he acknowledges he took this fall and winter. He is married and has four children. Up until a few months ago he had been employed at the Story & Clark Piano Co. The officers were notified after one of the employees of the Grand Trunk saw Klugas taking the fuel.

Each year hundreds of tons of coal are stolen from exposed coal piles in railroad yards and private yards, say the officers. This is the first conviction of the kind at Grand Haven in many years.

Among the characters will be the captain of the ship, "Peaches" Browning, Harold Lloyd, Clara Bow, General Pershing, Aimee Mac Pherson, Graham McNamee, Gilda Gray and the Smith Brothers.

The first scene depicts the sailing of the boat from New York City. The second act deals with the arrival in France.

Teaching Youth Thrift!

Q The lesson of thrift cannot be taught the youth too early. A boy or girl when taught at the age often that saving spare pennies is the proper thing to do will not forget those lessons when they become grown-ups.

Q A lad whose spending has been unrestricted, who has not been taught to save, will not know the value of a dollar at twenty and over.

Q There was no truer saying than this one, "As the twig is bent so the tree is inclined." This applies to the youth—the one that has been taught to save as a boy will be a thrifty successful man. On the other hand, the boy who has been allowed to spend his earnings or his allowance without the thought of saving some of it is liable to follow that bent as a grown man.

Q Teach your children to save while they are young. Give them a modest start in the way of a savings account. Let them handle their own savings book and see how interested they will become watching their savings grow.

Lesson for February 10

REPENTANCE AND FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2:32-39; Luke 15:11-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Repent ye, and believe in the gospel.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Boy Who Was Sorry.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy Who Was Sorry.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Turning From Sin to God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Way to Forgiveness.

I. Jesus Is Lord and Christ (Acts 2:32-38).
In order to induce repentance and faith, Jesus must be presented as both Lord and Christ. The presentation of Jesus as even the unusual son of Joseph and Mary will not convict of sin. One reason for the vanishing sense of sin is the failure of ministers and Sunday school teachers to declare the Lord.

1. The miracles which He wrought (Acts 2:22).
He performed before the very eyes of the people such mighty deeds as to demonstrate His Lordship.

2. His resurrection from the dead (Acts 2:24-32).
By His resurrection He was declared to be the Son of God with power (Rom. 1:4). His resurrection was attested to by many witnesses.

3. The outpouring of the Spirit (Acts 2:15-21).
Peter declared that the coming of the Spirit on Pentecost was the fulfillment of Joel's prophecy.

II. Repent and Believe the Gospel (Acts 2:37-39).
Peter's gospel message convicted the Jews of their sins. When they cried out, he commanded them to repent and be baptized. The evidence of their faith in Christ was manifested in their conviction of sin, and their penitence was shown in their confession of Christ in baptism.

III. The Forgiving God (Luke 15:11-24).
The center of things in this parable is not the prodigal son, but his brother, but the "certain man who had two sons." This narrative is a most picturesque and dramatic portrayal of the history of man from his fall to his reconciliation with God.

1. The son's insubordination (v. 12).
He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him willfully to choose to leave home—throw off the control of his father's rule. His desire to indulge selfish purposes, free from the restraint of rightful authority.

2. The son's departure (v. 13).
Having made the fateful decision, he immediately sought the fulfillment of his cherished purposes. The son could not now endure the presence of his father, so he gathered all together and hastened away. When the sinner casts off allegiance to God, he takes all that he has with him.

3. The son's degeneration (vv. 13, 14).
He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in a far country was a short journey.

4. The son's degradation (vv. 15, 16).
His money exhausted, he was driven to hire himself to a citizen to feed swine. It is ever so, those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Rom. 6:16). In his shame and disgrace he could not get necessary food.

5. The son's restoration (vv. 17, 24).
(1) He came to himself (v. 17). Reflection made him conscious that though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, he was still his father's son.

(2) His resolution (v. 18).
Memory picture of home, where even the hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

(3) His confession (vv. 18, 19).
He acknowledged that his sin was against heaven and his father, that he had forfeited his right to be called a son, and begged to be given a place as a hired servant.

(4) His action (v. 20).
Resolution does not avail unless accompanied with action. When the confession is genuine, action will follow.

(5) His reception by his father (vv. 20-24).
So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him.

Word has been received in Holland from Arizona that George Breitmier, 81 years of age, died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. N. Patterson, at Phoenix. A few weeks ago Mrs. Patterson came to Holland from Phoenix and took her father with her to take care of him in her home in Phoenix since his wife had died early in the fall of last year. It is understood that Mrs. Patterson is now coming to Michigan with the body and that interment will take place in Oak Hill cemetery in Grand Rapids.

SEAL REPORT GIVEN

Local managers for the Christmas seal sale in Ottawa county sold a total of $18.49 worth of seals in the 1928 sale, according to a report from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, Lansing. This sale marked the first time community managers were appointed to sell the seals in Michigan.

T. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, states that the manager system has worked out surprisingly well, and that it will be extended in future years to other towns and villages. A sale through the mails was conducted in 1928 in those communities where managers were not appointed.

The towns having managers, with the sums reported, are as follows: Jamestown, Nelson Van De Luyster, $6.43; and Lamont, Dora Robinson, $12.06.
