Council Slow In Giving Gas Pump Permits

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO GO FURTHER INTO BON-TEKOE MATTER

Election Inspectors For the Primaries Have All Been Named

Mayor Brooks and family being in Florida for a few weeks ended Alderman Brieve, the "Cookie King", to preside over the meeting of the common council as mayor. He ably handled the situation. There was no fire-work relative to the communication of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners sent to the common council giving Patrolman Peter Bontekoe a "clear bill." Apparently the council is not through with the matter for a committee has been appointed to go further into this matter with the police board.

There were several applications to place gasoline stations and pumps in or at several garages in the city. At least two of them were deferred because the location will not comply with the city ordinance. The Wolverine Garage asked for a permit to building a filling station on River and Ninth streets but this is within 300 feet of both Grace Church and the Holland Armory.

Harry Knipe wished to erect a filling station at Central Avenue and Seventh street, but this is within 300 feet of the City Mission. The Holland Co-Operative Company also asked for station privileges but they can comply with the ordinance with a required number of feet from the Holland Theatre.

Some stations now are within 300 feet of churches and public buildings but these stations were erected before the ordinance was passed and to stop further encroachment of this kind, the ordinance was passed.

For the same reason some few years ago two oil companies were refused building permits on River avenue and Tenth street, and on River avenue and Twelfth street, first because of the close proximity to public buildings and second because the common council did not want Centennial Park crowned with oil stations, where now all public and semi-public buildings are located and without doubt more will be built in the future.

These matters and many others are found compiled in the official proceedings below:

Holland, Mich., Feb. 4, 1931. The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor pro tem Mr. Brieve.

Present: Mayor pro tem Brieve, Ald. Kleis, Prins, Wolman, Hyma, Vandenberg, Steffens, Habing, Postma, Jonkman, Veltman, Thompson, and the clerk.

Deviations were led by Chaplain A. P. Kleis.

HOLLAND FOLK HELP CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hirdes, of Zeeland, on last Friday evening celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Wall street, that city.

Among those present to help them make merry for this occasion, were Mr. and Mrs. Core Hirdes and children of Zeeland, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Hirdes and children of Grand Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gordon and daughter of Holland and Peter De Pree of Schore, The Netherlands. A three-course lunch was served and all enjoyed the sociable good time.

During all the thirty-five years Mr. and Mrs. Hirdes have been residents of that city, Mr. Hirdes taking an active part in the community affairs and progress of that city. For several years he conducted a bakery on North State street, Zeeland, and he was a pioneer service station operator.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HEARS PRES. SCHULING OF HOLLAND

The Second Reformed Sunday school of Zeeland enjoyed a visit of George Schulling, president of Ottawa County Sunday school union, at the Sunday session of the school. Mr. Schulling is aiming to visit each school in the county during the year.

He said he also visits state institutions, such as industrial school and state prisons, and in talks with inmates of these institutions, realizes that there is among many of the young people a longing and thirst for attendance at religious meetings. Many are eager to be released, in order to attend Sunday school, even if they have never before attended. He cites experiences such as these in talks with boys of the industrial school at Lansing.

The girls' school at Pontiac was also visited with great satisfaction. Work accomplished for these girls who wear marks of immorality and whose lives are full of bitter experiences, has proven worthwhile. Scores of girls have shown themselves to be worthy of trust and are eager to attend religious meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bolhuis left Wednesday on an extended trip to Florida.

DIEKEMA CAR ARRIVES FROM THE NETHERLANDS

The Packard car used by Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Diekema in Europe was shipped from the Netherlands and arrived in Holland today. Netherlands plates, rather strange looking compared to Michigan licenses, were still fastened to the car. The car was completely boxed when it arrived in this city.

Rev. Muste to Become Pastor of Union Church

FORMER HOLLAND MAN CHOSEN WHEN BROOKLYN CHURCHES MERGE

Rev. C. B. Muste, a graduate from Hope college and the Eastern representative of the local college—now law of Mr. J. B. Mulder, manager of De Gruyter—has been chosen the pastor of two united Reformed church congregations at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Formal announcement of the union of the Reformed Church-on-the-Heights, Brooklyn, with the First Reformed Church, also of that city was made recently, following official action by the two consistories and by the Great Consistory.

The Rev. Cornelius B. Muste, present pastor of the Heights church a congregation served four years ago by Thomas W. Davidson of Hope Church, has been called to the pulpit of the united church and has been officially accepted. The two congregations will join for the first time in the morning service Feb. 15 and will continue to meet thereafter in the "Old First", which was founded in 1654 and is Brooklyn's oldest church. The Brooklyn Heights church property, built in 1851, will be sold, according to the decision of the two consistories.

Since last May the First Reformed Church has been without a pastor, the Rev. Dr. Theodore Floyds Bayles, D.D., of New Brunswick Theological Seminary, substituting as guest minister. It was the action of the consistory toward securing a regular pastor which led to the conferences with the Reformed Church-on-the-Heights Brooklyn on the possibilities of the Reformed Church on the Heights in union, according to Forrest M. Towl, chairman.

The Reformed Church on the Heights was established in 1851 and the Old First in 1654. Statistics of the Old First in the last Federation of Churches Year Book give a membership of 694 and Sunday school membership of 398. The Eagle Almanac for 1921 gives the value of the church property at $250,000, which according to real estate estimates, has increased materially.

One reason for the merging and the proposed sale of the Heights property is the rapidly-changing population of the Heights section of Brooklyn and the metamorphosis of the district from an exclusive residential area to one largely given to financial houses, hotels and apartments. This has scattered the old congregation of the Heights Church and rendered effective church work increasingly difficult. The church building is old but the property itself has very great value as a real estate proposition.

FORMER HOLLAND MAYOR IN CITY ASSESSOR RACE

In announcing his candidacy for the office of city assessor former Mayor E. P. Stepien is the first person to enter the field as a candidate at the March primaries. Peter H. Van Ark, who has served as city assessor for two years, is a candidate for re-election. Oscar Petersen will seek renomination for the office of city clerk and Nicholas Spruietsema will seek a second term as city treasurer. There also will be contests for supervisors, public works and police boards, and city council.

G. G. Groenewoud and R. P. Leestma are candidates for county school commissioner.

COUNTY HEALTH STAFF NOW BUSY NORTH AND WEST OF HOLLAND

By Dr. Ralph Ten Have At the time of the fourth treatment of toxin-antitoxin we shall give smallpox vaccination to those who give their consent to do so. We urge very strongly that as many as possible be vaccinated.

Smallpox is prevalent in some of the surrounding counties and also in the northern part of our county. The reaction from smallpox will in no way interfere with the diphtheria treatment. It can safely be given at this time otherwise the Department of Health would not recommend it.

We expect to begin our immunization program in the northern part of Holland Township on Feb. 12, 1931.

Our schedule will be as follows: 9:00 W. Crisp—Olive, No. 9 9:30 Harlem—Olive, No. 5 10:00 Pine Creek—Holland, No. 6 10:30 Holland Center—Holland, No. 13 11:00 North Holland, No. 5 11:30 Noordeloos, No. 10.

Mrs. Ben Van Eyck of Holland spent Tuesday at Zeeland with Miss Sarah Nies.

Henry Balke and Jacob Kool of Grand Rapids were assessed $14.35 fine and costs each in Justice E. B. Parsons' court on charges of illegal possession of perch. Arrests were made by Maurice Kuite, conservation officer.

Wichers Finds Hidden Treasure In Time of Stress

"HIDDEN ASSETS" THE BIG THEME AT HOLLAND MERCHANTS' BANQUET

Rev. Ter Keurst also Adds Words of Advice and Gives Praise to Local Business Men

Possibly one of the most interesting and satisfying annual Merchants' banquets took place at the Masonic Temple banquet hall Monday night. The menu by the Masonic ladies was par-excellence. The decorations on tables, walls and stage were in excellent taste. The program was on blue and seagull paper, printed in brown. The speakers' program, together with the musical interludes were of the highest order. Not one of the 280 men and women for whom covers were laid was dissatisfied. It was a happy gathering that adjourned at 10 o'clock at the close of this event. The meeting was opened by the president of the association, Cornelius Dornbos and Cornelius was in a happy frame of mind, joshing the members and pulling several take-offs on the toastmaster-to-be. Seriously he stated that a Merchants' Association is worthless unless it functions and it cannot function unless it receives the co-operation of its members. He thanked the different committees in charge of tickets, decorations, programs and banquet for their work, stating it was a 100 per cent job. He then laughingly took a vote of the wives present in order to ascertain whether they would object to their husbands smoking. There was not a dissenting vote and Mr. Dornbos loudly exclaimed, "Well, boys, light up."

He then proceeded to introduce the toastmaster of the evening, Alderman William C. Vandenberg, who handled the situation like a veteran. He introduced the different speakers with tact, not failing to mix up a few puns on the speaker who was to deliver.

Mr. Vandenberg dwelt shortly upon the problems of the independent merchant, stating that instead of scolding at conditions they should sell good goods and give service and this augmented by their own home personality could not help but bring success. He took for an example his own case as an independent oil dealer, paralleling it with the two classes of merchants of today. Oil competition is very keen but in spite of this fact this local concern has been unusually successful.

The first speaker introduced was Rev. H. Ter Keurst, who was on the program for brief remarks. The new Holland dominion immediately endeared himself to the guests present with his easy grace and his sound advice as this relates to merchants.

He said in part: "We have often heard it said, 'What is to become of the independent merchant?' I believe that this class of merchants will always be here. Without doubt, it means a change in system with some of the merchants. Many have already complied with the new conditions and while the independent merchants may have their problems, big centralized organizations also have their troubles."

"I congratulate Holland on its wonderful organization that can get together on one common ground and spend an evening of this kind. It eliminates competitive jealousy and brings about co-operation and co-operation means power. Power is an inspiring thing. Whether this is the powers of the sea, powers of the storm or powers of personality, back of this power there is reinforcement."

Every personality has this reinforcement that can be called upon when needed. It is man's reserve strength. I believe that this surplus power can be paralyzed through fear. It places man in an atmosphere of cold. Some merchants are that way. They have created a fear of grudge; jealousies have arisen and through it all runs this element of fear, holding back the reinforcement of surplus power that might otherwise be utilized to make his business function better. There is nothing in a community as constructive as good blood. That holds good for the church as well as for the community.

"A Holland business man holds a responsible position. While they are merchants, they at the same time are stewards of the community and a merchant who fills that trust with honest dealing, with service to his customer, and helps to promote the civic welfare, will again prosper when prosperity comes."

Rev. Ter Keurst interspersed his talk with keen repartee that brought side-splitting laughter and the Holland "Koffie Klets" which Holland's new minister occasionally visits was the butt of some rare take-offs.

Mr. Wynand Wichers of the First State Bank, president-elect of Hope College, gave the principal address of the evening and his story on "Hidden Assets" was a masterpiece as it dovetailed with the national conditions today. He could not refrain from telling a few amusing stories to the toastmaster and his side pal, Vaudie, of Dixie Oil fame. He sprang a rare one on Rev. Ter Keurst, who a few moments before stated that there was rhythm in everything, in music, in business and in love. Mr. Wichers gave the sequel to the story by saying that if the new pastor gained in popularity as rapidly in the future as in the past and there was rhythm in courting, that the time undoubtedly was not far off when the paragonage at Trinity would become a "Union depot."

More seriously, Mr. Wichers spoke in part as follows: "My subject 'Hidden Assets' deals with a mysterious force that is tangible but has remained in the background. Childhood likes to read of hidden treasures. Man has the urge to discover hidden rivers and unexplored lands."

Eight cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Grand Haven by Mrs. Ann Lundborg, city nurse. The cases are light in most instances.

FORMER HEAD OF HOLLAND TANNING INTERESTS DIES IN LOS ANGELES

A telegram from Los Angeles, California, advised relatives Monday that Mr. John J. Cappon, former head of the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co., had passed away at 11 o'clock that morning of heart failure.

Mr. and Mrs. Cappon were stopping at Glendon Apts. for the winter and letters stated that Mr. Cappon had been seriously ill for six weeks before death came.

Mr. Cappon was 70 years old on Sept. 13, and this was his 18th season spent in California.

He was born in this city and at an early age his father, the late Isaac Cappon, one of the founders of the first tanning industry in this city, put his son to work to learn the business.

After the death of the father on January 1902, John Cappon took charge of the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. until the enterprise was taken over by the Armour interests of Chicago shortly before the war.

Mr. Cappon had been with the concern about 40 years and had served the institution as secretary and manager for several years. He also had been associated with other local industries.

Mr. Cappon leaves a widow, whose maiden name was Minnie Ailing. They were married nearly 50 years ago. Other survivors are 4 sisters, Mrs. Helen DeBruyn and Mrs. William Brusse of Holland, Mrs. Harry Kremers of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mrs. I. Houtkamp of Wauwatosa, Wis., and one brother, A. L. Cappon of Holland.

The remains left Los Angeles on Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Cappon and a sister Mrs. Kate Sluiter of Grand Rapids, who was also in California.

Funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at the home of his brother, A. L. Cappon, West 12th street, Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, officiating. The body will lie in state at the Nibbelink-Notter Mortuary on Sunday afternoon from 2:00 until 5 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

It is expected that the body will arrive in Holland some time today.

IMMANUEL CHURCH

"The Vineyard and Sour Grapes," will be the theme of a Sunday evening message of Rev. J. Lanting of the Immanuel church. These stirring messages are from the Book of Revelations, and are very interesting and instructive. In the morning the pastor will speak in the Armory on the subject, "A Guide in the Darkness."

On Tuesday evening the Personal Workers class will meet in the armory. All Christians are urged to attend this class which is taught by Mr. Lanting.

On Thursday evening a prayer, praise and Bible Study Hour will be held in the Armory on the second floor. On Saturday evening there will be cottage prayer meeting at two homes.

Eight cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Grand Haven by Mrs. Ann Lundborg, city nurse. The cases are light in most instances.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Her face almost entirely eaten away by a pet cat which she kept, the body of Mrs. Jerry Yaeger, age 75 was found at her home on Vorhees street Grand Haven, frozen rigid. The lady who was living alone, had not been seen for more than a week and it appears did not want neighbors to call. The poor master was called to investigate and found the body—the lady having been dead more than a week. King's Daughters a religious society had sent a basket of groceries to the house and a special delivery letter was also left at the door, both remained untouched.

For the last three years the Central Avenue Church has had an orchestra of 22 pieces under the leadership of director John Van Vyven. This fact shows how time changes things. An orchestra with fiddles, drums and such would be unthinkable with the well meaning folks of that church a score of years before, in fact they would have thrown up their hands in holy horror. Anyway, it is an excellent orchestra and the church is to be congratulated. The officers just elected are president, Joe Rowan; vice president, Nick Brower; secretary, Alderman Verschure; treasurer, Ed. Brower; vice treasurer, Leonard De Vries; librarian, Henry Huizenga. Note: The Colonial Orchestra of today was the outgrowth of this Central Avenue organization and these artists played at the Merchants Banquet last Monday.

Wm. Groendael, 144 E. Seventh street was found dead on the floor of his home by mail carrier Neil Sandy. The local postman still found mail from New Year's day untouched. Thinking this strange, Neil tried the door and found it unlocked and discovered the man. Dr. D. G. Cook, who was called, said that Groendael had died of heart failure.

A fatal drowning accident was averted by Alderman Frank Brieve and his two sons, Peter and Joe. They succeeded in rescuing James Groenhuus, fifteen years old, who had fallen through a hole in the ice at the mouth of Black river. The three lads shoved a boat over the ice and grabbed the lad as he was slipping away under the ice drawn by the river's current. The young man was skating in the vicinity of this most dangerous spot.

EX-MAYOR GEERLINGS TO SPEAK TO THE ZEELAND LEGION

Lincoln Day banquet at Zeeland will be held in the Legion rooms on Thursday, February 12, at 6:30 o'clock p. m. Tickets can be obtained from Jack Boonstra, Gil Van Hoven and T. Buikema. The banquet committee is asking only 35 cents plate and hope to see all the Legion and auxiliary members present. Ex-service men and their wives are invited. The main speaker for the evening will be former mayor Henry Geerlings from Holland. Former Commander, Al Joldersma, of Holland will also speak. A very good program of music and other features is to follow.

HOLLAND FURNACE SALES WELL MAINTAINED IN 1930

Net sales of the Holland Furnace Company for 1930 are expected to be off but slightly from the previous year. For the 10 months ended Oct. 31, 1930, the company reported its sales were 6 per cent behind the previous year and the last two months are expected to maintain this course.

The stability of its sales is due to the large portion of Holland furnaces sold to fill replacement demand rather than for the construction of new buildings. More than 75 per cent of the sales are to replacement field.

PUT ON SACKCLOTH

This is the subject of the sermon that will be preached by Rev. J. Vanderbeek of the Sixth Reformed Church of Lincoln Avenue, next Sunday evening. The church choir will sing a special entitled "O Jesus Thou Art Standing." The subject of the morning sermon will be "When There Is No Vision."

JAMBOREE PROGRAM ON THE NEXT PAGE

Everything is prepared for the "Big Scout Jamboree" to be held at the Holland Armory at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday evening. Scout Commander Norg gives all information in the complete and official program found on the next page.

WESTERN COUNTIES GET MANY BIRDS

Three hundred and forty-five pheasants, both male and female, were released in Kent county during 1930.

Only one county, Livingston, received more birds than Kent, according to the state report. Livingston's total was 425. Besides Kent other western Michigan counties received the following quotas of pheasants:

Ottawa, 266. Allegan, 222. Barry, 235. Ionia, 280. Montcalm, 125. Newaygo, 155. Muskegon, 115.

Holland Zoning Ordinance Is Upheld By Court

CASE OF DE KEYZER VERSUS KLOMPARENS GOES AGAINST KLOMPARENS

For more than a year there has been considerable agitation brought on by neighbors relative to the operating of a so-called Bump Shop on West Tenth street near River Ave. Action was brought by Justice of the Peace C. DeKeyzer a neighbor, through his attorneys Arthur Van Duren and Robinson & Parsons.

In short the complaint was that Harry Klompars was conducting a manufacturing establishment in the commercial zone, which the plaintiff states was not in compliance with the zoning ordinance and asked for a permanent injunction restraining the said Harry Klompars from conducting business only as prescribed by the ordinance.

In a nut-shell a business such as Mr. Klompars is conducting at this particular location can employ two men and at the said Bump and Paint Shop three and sometimes five men were employed, according to the complaint, which makes it a manufacturing establishment according to the zoning ordinance.

This is not permissible in the commercial zone, which in this case also happens to be part of a residential district.

The case was tried last December in Circuit Court, Judge Van der Werf presiding, and the result was a request of Judge Fred T. Miles, who felt that he was disqualified to serve in this particular case as judge.

Judge Vander Werf states that this litigation might have been avoided by a conference between the parties before the suit was brought to trial. But no efforts to that end seem to have been made. He thereupon granted the injunction.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN ENTERTAINED BY KING

Dr. Lee Huizenga, formerly of Holland, medical missionary of the Christian Reformed church at Jukao mission station, China, in company with delegates to the Leonard Wood memorial conference on leprosy at Manila, was entertained by the king and queen of Siam at the palace at Bangkok.

LAD KILLS SPARROWS TO BUY DOG LICENSE

Thus far there have been 25 dog licenses sold at the Grand Haven city hall which is a surprisingly low number as the limit of time for buying dog tags is Feb. 28. A little chap recently came up to the office with 150 sparrow heads and was given the regulation two cents a piece. With eyes shining with happiness he turned the whole amount over to the man at the desk, saying, "a dog license please."

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thomasma of Grand Rapids, is a graduate of Hope College and has been an executive in the national organization of Campfire girls.

On Tuesday evening of next week at 7:30 o'clock local poultrymen will be given an opportunity to see one of the biggest poultry exhibitions in the country at the Holland Town Hall on Waverly road.

This will be the first local showing of this new film entitled "On the Trail of the Golden Egg" but advance notices indicate that it will be something worth seeing.

It will show the extreme care taken by poultry specialists so the records of their experiments will be accurate. Their records, special equipment and labor saving methods will be pictured for you while they explain their test work on thousands of chickens of all ages and in different stages of development.

There will only be one showing of the film starting promptly at 7:30

WE ASK YOU, WHICH IS THE BARKING SEX?

A little girl stopped in at the Grand Haven city hall recently to buy a license for the family dog. She had no idea that the lady city clerk behind the counter would ask her so many questions. But she faced the situation bravely.

After telling what she knew of the canine's Christian names, ancestry, place of residence, etc., the child was completely flabbergasted by this question:

"What's the sex of your dog, young lady? Is it male or female?"

The child stared at her interrogator blankly. At length she made bold to answer:

"I really do not know, mum—except that my dog barks a lot!"

Ottawa Had Warmest Jan. In Ten Years

GROUND HOG SAW SHADOW OFTEN BUT EVEN FEBRUARY NOT AFFECTED

Almost a week has passed since Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow presaging six weeks of terrible weather, but up to this time his actions of last Monday failed to run true to prophecy—it's as mild as spring and has been the entire week with cloudy and warmer set for today by the weatherman.

The warmest January in 10 years has just passed, according to the Ottawa County weatherman, W. J. Rice. The month shows 4.9 degrees above normal or an average temperature of 29.5 degrees. It was consistently warm, there being only four days below normal. On only one of these was as much as ten degrees below normal. The range in temperature was small. The lowest reading of the thermometer was 10 degrees above zero on Jan. 21 and the highest was 45 degrees on the 24th. The greatest daily range was 21 degrees on the 24th and 28th and the least daily range was 2 on the 17th.

Precipitation was practically normal, the total being 2.39 inches of rain fall, compared to the normal of 2.41 inches. Snowfall totaled 19.7 inches or about 2½ inches above normal. The precipitation amounts falling on 13 days of the month. The greatest snowfall in 24 hours was 12.0 inches on the 18th-19th. While not a record, this was an unusually heavy snowfall. Some sleet fell on the 6th of the month.

Wind movement was well below normal. The total movement was 7872 miles or an average of 10.6 miles per hour. This is the smallest average for January since the present exposure of the anemometer which has been continuous since 1901. The maximum velocity was 31 miles per hour from the west.

Savings Might Be Called a
"Hidden Asset"

Cashier Wynand Wichers in his address before the Holland Merchants' association stressed bank savings as one point among many others covering his subject "Hidden Assets". We believe the tremendous amount of savings deposited in the banks of this country have kept the nation's finance on an even keel during this trying period.

The little old savings bank-book acts as a sort of cushion to take up the shock of business depression. It belongs to the type of financier who takes few chances. It furnishes the guaranty of a come-back when calm judgment and sanity regain the ascendancy in business.

It is a curious fact that in times of great prosperity when money seems abundant and everyone is thinking and talking in terms of big money, the humble financing of the savings bank-book owner is lightly thought of. Its wisdom and security is vindicated when hard times come.

It is fortunate for the economic stability of the world that there is a great mass of diligent, industrious, thrifty folk who maintain a balance of savings. Statistics were published for 22 countries, outside of the United States, showing that at the close of 1930 savings were accumulated to the amount of more than 17 and one-half billion. Savings deposits for the United States were in excess of 28 billion dollars.

These large resources, accumulated against a feared emergency during the period of depression, will give a tremendous impetus to returning prosperity.

The Holland High Basketball team will play South High tonight, Friday, at the Holland Armory.

Old-Age Pensions
Why Not Hunt Gold?
Bad News Comes Out
Future of Television

Calvin Coolidge has written his opinion that old-age pensions are not advisable. Says he: "What a self-respecting people really needs is not a system of old-age pensions but a population made sufficiently skilled by education and sufficiently self-controlled and well disposed by the help of religion, so that old-age pensions would be a superfluity. Unless real reform comes from within, the problem will never be solved."

Education may some day provide for old age. Meanwhile what "self-respecting old people" want is something to eat, and a place to sleep, outside of the poor house.

They have plenty of religion, but can't eat it, unfortunately.

After you have taken all the work out of an old horse you should either knock him on the head or feed him.

After it has taken all the work out of old men and women, their country can't knock them on the head and, therefore, having had their work, it ought to feed them.

The world needs more gold and may get it. France and Uncle Sam now control the world's supply. France with the highest per capita world reserve. Hard times have sent prospectors back to hills and mountains, their "good times" easy jobs in cities having vanished. You see more and more of them traveling the western desert country each in his years of prospecting, probably passing great fortunes a dozen times. To prospect is our thing, to find is another.

These men often spend a lifetime without reward. More money has been put into gold mines and gold hunting than has ever been taken out. But even the oldest prospector never looks discouraged. Hope is back of the sunburned face and gray beard, and fortune is always just ahead. You needn't feel sorry for him. Trying is the only thing in life worth while—possession is nothing. And he is trying, and full of hope. A young gentleman spending his dead father's money in a fashionable gambling house might well envy the old prospector seeking a "grub-stake" for just one more trip.

Wise men that invest in American values, foolish people that gamble in those values, will probably be deceived as to real conditions during the next few months.

The bad news of 1930 will come out now, in the corporation reports showing what happened, profits down, gloomy change in earnings. And this will frighten those that do not realize conditions.

Dozens of these sad statements will come out, and the foolish will say: "Everything is going to the dogs. I shall sell what I have." The fact is that things are coming back, having "gone to the dogs" last year. If you are wise you will hold what you have.

The healthy man has his little illnesses. Uncle Sam has just had his. The situation is described by Otto H. Kahn, accurately, thus: "In a few years we shall look back and find it hard to believe that the best American properties once sold at today's ridiculous prices."

Television, which means "seeing afar," has its real beginning, and in the usual way. Men made tools of bronze to kill each other more easily than with flints, and the iron age came to supply better killing tools. Now bronze and iron are useful apart from killing. Television is used to flash stock quotations, a whole row of them, in a fraction of a second, making the stock ticker as old-fashioned as the stage coach. Young Mr. Vincent Astor catching turtles on the Galapagos islands, could have on his yacht an instrument that would show him before any Wall street man could know it, that he made a mistake in buying sugar stock.

Later television will be useful apart from stock speculation. Some Einstein, Moses, Maimonides or Spinoza of the future may be seen and heard by the whole world standing on Mount Ararat, sending out a message of vital importance that nobody but himself will understand.

Gandhi is freed by Britain after nine months in a comfortable jail, and is said to find freedom oppressive. Leading 320,000,000 Asiatics is not an easy task, when 60,000,000 of them insist on killing the others, and there is no particular place to which they can be led. Drive Britain out of India and millions would die off or be killed off every year, and Gandhi, intelligent and well meaning, knows it.

Of all scientific discoveries made accidentally one of the strangest comes from Juliet, Ill. Doctor Weaver ordered a transfusion of "parent's" blood, in the case of a fifteen-year-old girl suffering from infantile paralysis.

Another doctor misunderstood him to say "parrot's" blood, and accordingly made a transfusion of blood from the heart of a living parrot. Doctors say the child is getting well. A thousand doctors will exclaim "hosh."

Men know for certain only two things—first, that they know nothing, and second, that nothing is impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deur and family of 220 West 14th street have moved to Jamestown to make their home.

A meeting of the H. O. H. will be held tonight, Friday, at the Woman's Literary Club rooms. Alex Van Zanten and B. P. Koopman have charge of the program. The women are invited to attend this meeting.

Petitions are being circulated for the nomination of Peter H. VanArk, who will seek re-nomination as city assessor in the approaching election.

C. E. UNION HOLDS MEETING AT TRINITY CHURCH

About 350 young people gathered in Trinity Reformed church Sunday evening to culminate a week of Christian Endeavor activity. Howland Scholten, president of the Holland Union, was in charge of the program. Lester Vander Werf led in the singing and Rev. H. D. Ter Keurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, read scripture and led in prayer.

A group of Hope College students rendered the special music. Prof. J. R. Mulder of the Western Theological seminary, gave an address on "Youth and Vision". He congratulated the group on being members of a vast organization with such high ideals. "It is in an organization of this type," he continued, "that young people may see visions. If they do not, they have become old. A vision focuses all our energies on a particular thing. Great careers are born out of such visions. Dr. Clark had a vision and today there are 4,000,000 endeavorers for Christ."

Prof. Mulder emphasized the fact that youth needs a vision of God or a vision of truth. "Truth," he said, "is not consumed; it is like the burning bush which Moses saw."

Following this meeting, the endeavorers entered the main auditorium where places had been reserved for them, and listened to the evening service.

A diary of D. W. Wiley, of Saugatuck, written January 31, 1921, says, "January has been a remarkable mild month, no snow to speak of with many clear days an unusual thing," which could in almost the same words describe January 1931.

Uncorking a series of long, well-placed shots, Godwin high school court five burrowed themselves out of a hole six points deep and succeeded in defeating a cage visiting team from Saugatuck high Friday night to the score of 28 to 25.

The first period ended in a tie, 5-5. However, action during the rest of the game made up for it, as Conklin for Godwin and Edgecomb for Saugatuck, captains, found themselves and snared baskets from all parts of the floor. The half ended with the question of superiority still undecided.

In the final period, with the score 19 to 25, Sands and Neu of Godwin managed to pull their team out into the fore. Conklin and Sands contributed most to Godwin's success, while Edgecomb, who alone was responsible for 17 points, and Bird were of the most value to the visitors.

The score of the preliminary game was 15 to 7, favor of Saugatuck.

MICH. BUCKS LOCK HORNS AND STARVE TO DEATH

Heads of two buck deer, their antlers firmly interlocked were found by Frank Knowles, Ludington, conservation officer, in the woods of Mason County. The deer had apparently starved to death when they were unable to untangle their antlers following a fight. Instances of bucks locking their horns during fights are relatively common in Michigan. A year ago a game refuge keeper found two bucks in this condition, but saved the lives of the animals by breaking the antlers with a club.

This has been a hard winter on the highway commission and the street cleaners — hard because there has been so little to do. Except for two falls of snow, neither of them very great, the roads and streets have had a way of staying open and unclogged. There is plenty of time yet for the real thing in the way of winter. Here's hoping it won't come, but if it shall we will not suffer from cold as have the denizens of California and Florida with their slight freezings for which they always are quite unprepared.

JACK KNOLL USING HIS POLAR BEAR TACTICS

Our well known Jack Knoll, who heads the plumbing company of that name, a warm-hearted chap with a perpetual smile, has struck a more frigid attitude. Jack is giving short lectures through the local press embracing page announcements on Kelvinators. A Kelvinator in other words is a refrigerator so now you know the reason for Jack's cool complex for the past few weeks. He is putting on a drive in which Kelvinators play the all-important part. Jack may have been a polar bear in Russia during the World War but he says that the inside of a Kelvinator can keep things even colder than there these big "White boys" come from. Jack has another page lecture in section two of this issue.

known places on this earth or power that has not yet been utilized. Power in man, if the assets are there, will be disseminated and will be used. No period in which to uncover our hidden assets is more timely than the present during this stressful situation.

From a period of plenty we have slipped to a time of want and find ourselves in a slough of despond which has slowed up our progress.

We are hopeful that good times are coming but we do not know when. Many methods to bring about a change have been suggested. Not a few have been tried out and found defective. It takes courage to face a period of depression as we find it today.

However, the first thing for us to do is to look upward, to get out of this mood of despond, and if I can I would like to lift you to brighter days.

"You will ask, 'What are these hidden assets?' The first asset is in the fact that the world is discovering and is bringing about a growing economic unit. From this unit tremendous profits will be derived. The depression has shown us that as a whole we are one body — if one suffers, we all suffer whether they be great or small, rich or poor. I believe this situation cannot help but bring about a closer co-operation in a business way between city, state and nation and even internationally. Out of this will come the new ideal of peace. It is a well known fact that the peaceful countries are not in the World War were and are today the most prosperous.

"The second asset that I can see is the more democratic views taken and practiced between wealth and poverty. I sincerely believe we are getting closer together in this great social economic problem. Another question arises: How are we going to treat the problem of the unemployed? Holland is doing a noble work; however, it is only a temporary relief and does not go to the root of the matter for what we assume today cannot help but be a burden tomorrow. It is only a temporary method at best like the Dole system so prevalent in England, which, if continued, would bring a crushing burden to posterity.

"Big business has been studying this question of unemployment and it is hoped that these interests will find a way. They have solved many other vexing questions and it would seem that great poverty, if not all poverty, could be eliminated from this nation. If ways and means do not come from this source before long legislation will have to be brought about to cope with this situation.

"Production is another factor to be considered. Manufacturing up to this time has been going on by leaps and bounds. Very little thought was given to over-production and high power salesmen tactics were used to place these goods on the market. This cannot help but bring about tremendous waste and naturally a loss somewhere. The time is coming when the manufacturer will ascertain just what the consumer can use and then manufacture accordingly. Consumption should keep up with production which would eliminate a stagnant business condition."

Mr. Wichers stated that our credit system based on confidence is one of our hidden assets; that the tremendous volume of business of the nation in the past has been done because of this stable confidence. However, if this confidence is removed, the entire business and economic structure suffers. At least 90 per cent of business is transacted on confidence and when this confidence is restored fully, it is certain to overturn the present depressing situation.

"We have all the material prosperity — these conditions have not changed and never have. We have the tools to work with, we have the resources to develop and we have unlimited capital. These sureties are hidden assets if we only had the courage to go ahead.

"There is great strength in human resource. All fortunes in the past have been made as the result of times like the present. The fortunes of the future will come out of this period. Big men are now looking ahead, using their strength for tomorrow.

"In spite of the depression we can always look back to blacker days. 'Black Friday' will never be forgotten by the financial world when banks and brokerage houses went to the wall everywhere. Panics in the past brought about similar situations.

"Unlike those periods the financial structure of this nation today is the strongest during the country's existence. Banking is done along stricter, safer and more sane lines, under the close state and government supervision.

"We can thank God that we have in Holland three banks, time tested and panic tried. Sometimes they call us a little 'hard-hearted' when it comes to loans but it must be understood that the funds put in our trusts by those who place their confidence in our institutions are the first to be considered.

"I am glad that in Holland a situation of confidence exists. It is our duty to put our every resource trust and although appearing 'inhuman' at times, it must be considered that these methods are applied for the good of depositors and as an added strength to our banking institutions.

"Finally — we have every known necessity to make this country prosperous, as long as these are marshalled in the right way. We have so much food we do not know what to do with it. We burn wheat since it is more profitable than mar- ket. It is, yet, we have starvation. It indicates that in the soil we have hidden assets and forces strong enough to bring about the 'good day'."

"What we need most is men of big horizon — in fact, big enough to go beyond today. American men have the courage; have the energy to back such work for the good of all mankind. Man must work together a little differently. Individuality must not be wiped out and will not be if we create a greater mutual understanding, as man to man. Higher ideals in men and better purposes of men will bring a more equitable distribution of the wealth of a great nation.

"This is a period of intensity between a 'good time' and a 'good time'."

"Men of Holland this is the time when the sap begins to flow into the tree bringing life and energy to it. Go into the garden in the spring. You first see a little brown bud. A few days later you see a flower and you wonder how it happened to materialize within a few days. The flower can come out of that brown bud so quickly because the sap has been flowing into the tree for some time even before the bud appeared. The same sudden change will take place in the business garden if the supply of sap in the way of confidence, energy and finance permeates the tree of business. That taking place, fear, disaster and failure will soon be dissipated."

TOASTMASTER AT HOLLAND MERCHANTS' BANQUET READS TRIBUTE TO DIEKEMA

Ald. Wm. C. Vandenberg, toastmaster at the Holland Merchants' Ass'n banquet, Monday night, read a tribute paid by the local merchants to the late Mr. Diekema.

Mr. Vandenberg said: "Mr. Diekema was a friend of the merchants of Holland and a friend of this association always. He has been our principal speaker at many of our banquets. I feel very sure that he was to you merchants as he always was to me—an inspiration to keep fighting on."

In response to this toast, I would like you all to arise while I read a tribute to him written by an association member.

RESOLUTION

HOLLAND MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

The members of the Holland Merchants' Association, although assembled on their annual festive occasion, cannot refrain from pausing a moment in solemn thought and prayer, feeling that their annual guest is not present now.

Since the inception of the Holland Merchants' Association there has not been a day when we have not felt the loss of our dear and loyal townsman rise higher and higher to places of trust in his city, in his state and in his nation, and he has filled them all with thoroughness that made him an outstanding figure in our national life. His honesty of character, his selfless administration of the duties set before him, brought trust, respect, love and admiration from all who came in contact with him.

Intervened into the records of Holland's citizenry in every pursuit is the record from youth to maturity of our own Mr. Diekema. Every quality that placed him foremost in these activities was poured lavishly into this community, and by him every enterprise and activity was touched or molded. His church, his college, his profession, his commercial and business contacts, all religious, patriotic, civic, industrial and recreational activities have been elevated by his wise and benign influence.

Much has been said in our local, state, national and foreign press. So glorious a eulogy seldom comes to any man and while we grieve his passing, we feel that his elevation to the highest place in our nation's esteem is the land of his forebears, was the crowning achievement in an otherwise full and beautiful life. Almighty God has chosen to take away our neighbor and our friend—His will be done.

When Mr. Vandenberg had concluded the reading of this resolution the asked permission of President Dornbos—calling for a motion from the floor to adopt this tribute, which adoption was unanimously made. The secretary was instructed to spread a copy on the records of the Holland Merchants' Ass'n and requested that a copy be sent to the family of Mr. Diekema.

RESOLUTION

Board of Domestic Missions

Resolved, that the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America desires to express its sense of sorrow and loss to the Church in the passing of Gerrit John Diekema, American Minister to the Netherlands on December 26, 1931.

He was born in Holland, Michigan, March 27, 1859. He was graduated from Hope College in 1881 and from the Law School of the University of Michigan in 1884. He was a loyal son of the Reformed Church in America, deeply interested in the western and northern sections of the church, especially the Council of Hope College for over thirty-three years and a trustee of the Western Theological Seminary. He was an eloquent orator, an able statesman, a loyal Christian and a most friendly man. He was honored by the Church and Synods. For some time he was a member of the Congress of the United States.

As Minister to the Netherlands, he became known and loved by the people of that country, who mourn his death. Through his ministry, he strengthened the ties of the Reformed Church in Holland and America and the churches in Holland and increased the feeling of goodwill between the Netherlands and the United States. In every relation of his brilliant career, he was an outstanding Christian, the honored son of the Church and States.

We desire further that a copy of these resolutions be placed on our Minutes, published in the Christian Intelligencer, The Leader and the Holland City News, and a copy sent to the family.

Done at a meeting of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America in New York City on January 26, 1932.

It was "cooked up" evidence, but it proved effective in court, because it sent George Wilson, Carp Lake, Michigan, to jail for 90 days. The "cooked up" evidence was a choice piece of partly roasted venison. Conservation officers obtained evidence that Wilson had killed a deer out of season. With a search warrant they went to Wilson's home. It was about meal time and as the door was opened for them the aroma of roasting meat assailed them. In the oven of the kitchen stove they found the evidence, spiced, browned and tempting.

Advocate The Bible In The Public SchoolsSAYS "GETTING AWAY FROM GOD'S WORD RESPONSIBLE FOR CRIME WAVE"

Last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a union meeting was held at Hope Reformed church, which was very slimly attended considering that it was a meeting of all the churches. About 150 gathered to hear Dr. W. S. Fleming, of Chicago expound his views on placing the Bible in the schools.

Dr. Fleming is the executive secretary of the Michigan Citizens' committee taking up this matter and he is also special representative in the National Reformed association and is speaking daily on topics of this kind. His subject on Sunday afternoon was "Christian Public Education, the Only Cure for Crime."

For many years Dr. Fleming has made a study of religious education in its relationship to crime. He has also made an extensive study of the crime problem. He holds that the absence of religious training from the public schools is the final cause of crime in America and that we will never curb crime until the Bible again goes back into the schools and all the children are taught its great religious and moral truths day by day.

Mr. Fleming stated that getting away from God means the destruction of man and the destruction of nations. He harks back to the Children of Israel, while they were under the guidance of Moses. At that time they served God but after the death of their leader, they forsake God and today they are a people without a country.

Mr. Fleming said in part as follows: "It has been prophesied that the end of America would come within 200 years, and one of the reasons given is that we have retrograded during the last half century from the most law-abiding nation to the most lawless nation. The fact that our so-called law-abiding and God-fearing citizens do not resent this indicates that this statement is true."

"A score of years ago the church kept more than pace with the growing population, in fact, 20 per cent larger than the growth of the nation. In 1929 the population grew 15 times faster than the church."

"Two score years ago it was not difficult to raise money for missions to preach the gospel in heathen lands. Today the missionaries have their backs to the wall and some of them must return for lack of financial aid. Even the preacher today is much perturbed, in fact, they are sweating blood because of the terrible iniquities outside of the church and the indifference within the church."

"Where is our home worship, our family altar today? It seems that in thousands and thousands of cases the parents are unfit to give religious training to their children because they themselves are not religious."

"Within 20 years crime has increased 45 per cent. There is one prisoner in jail for every thousand population and several more that should be, and shame on Michigan, for not only has it built the largest prison on earth, but it has a prisoner in jail for every 550 population, the highest percentage of any state in the Union based on population. The prisons are filled and a new one costing $3,000,000 is being advocated for Northern Michigan. So crammed are these prisons for room that 645 criminals were paroled last year."

"The pleasure automobile and the average movie throughout the nation have had a deteriorating effect upon the morals of the young. A half century ago the Bible was in every school house as well as in every home and in every church and there was no such thing as a crime wave but a stubborn aggressive minority pushed the Bible out of the school and now they are training the heads and not the hearts."

"When you eliminated the Bible from the school it immediately gave the impression to the child that the Word of God did not amount to much. When you drop the Bible out of the school, you drop it out of our national life."

In the east teachers have been instructed to teach morals without the religious aspect. It has proven a failure for religion and morality are the foundation of good government."

"There are just four nations now who do not have religion in their schools and they are deteriorating nations. You have 9 chaplains who teach the Word of God in our Michigan prisons. We have preachers who minister to the insane in our state institutions every Sunday. Why teach the Bible in our madhouses and eliminate it from our school houses?"

"This is a Christian nation, the Supreme Court holds, and for that reason Christianity is a part of the common law of the nation. Why not allow it to be a part and parcel of our religious instructions? I do not mean sectarian teaching in Michigan schools, but there is a middle ground, in fact fundamental religious principles that all can subscribe to. Even our own constitution for Michigan lays the foundation for religious education; for the first three words in this document stress religion first, morality second, and knowledge third."

Girls Have Fish
Shanty Deluxe
on Black LakeNO BODY OF WATER IN MICH-IGAN HAS MORE FISHING
SHACKS THAN THE
LOCAL BAYBy Bill McClaran
In Grand Rapids Herald

Fish shanties are a common sight on western Michigan lakes during the winter season when ice fishing is in vogue, and for the most part fish shanties are just fish shanties and nothing more. Just a place to get in out of the cold while you seek to lure a perch to the hook or get a big pike to come floating in where you can stick a spear into him.

Perhaps no body of water in the state has more fish shanties than Black lake, Holland. Here the perch fishermen gather in droves; and particularly on Saturday and Sunday these shanties hold a population equal to a small city.

There is one fish shanty among these hundreds so different that it is pointed out by anglers as a show place, something to be sure and see before you leave the ice. It deserves a better name than just shanty, it should be termed a fish manseion.

This structure is owned and used by two Grand Rapids women, Bessie and Bell Lindley of 445 Lafayette ave., S.E. Miss Bessie Lindley is vocal instructor at South high school, Grand Rapids, and both women are ardent ice fishermen and seem to fare mighty well when it comes to getting their share of fish.

These women spend their summers in a cottage not far from Black lake and they became interested in ice fishing. Perhaps it is only natural that when feminine interest centers on the construction of a fish shanty that the ultimate result should be something quite different and much superior to the ordinary run of such buildings.

This is the conclusion drawn after viewing the 440 structure which William Smith built for these ardent anglers.

In the first place it is built of corrugated sheet metal, carefully fitted and attractively painted. It has windows on three sides, and there is a window in the door. Moreover these windows may be opened when the interior gets a bit stuffy.

When one steps into the shanty the feminine touch is most apparent, and yet not one degree of efficiency has been passed up in the interests of comfort.

The seat, which extends along one side of the shanty, is wide enough for comfort and well padded. It is low enough so that one has no difficulty in bending over to tend the lines, a feature which might be copied by 99 per cent of the fish shanty owner we know.

The windows have regular shades, and, of course, bright little curtains which add much to the appearance and make it look mighty attractive. On the wall opposite the seat, and just over the fish opening is a board which when dropped down forms a table along the entire length of the shanty which is used when meal time rolls around.

A small but efficient stove keeps the shanty warm, even in the coldest weather.

Nailed to the wall, just over the fish hole are two 7-inch rules so that the legal status of the fish may be established efficiently and without undue effort.

Clever little shelves and hooks provide plenty of storage space, and, of course, there is a substantial floor. If you are down on Black lake it is well worth your time to see this fish manseion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Overbeek entertained at their home Monday evening in honor of their mother, Mrs. Adriana Vander Hill, the occasion being her 88th birthday anniversary. A delicious three-course dinner was served to the guests present. Mrs. Overbeek read a beautiful Dutch poem, composed by Mrs. S. DeBoer. The family budget was read by Mrs. James VanderHill.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vander Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Overbeek, Mr. and Mrs. H. VanFaasen, Mr. and Mrs. Gerit Vander Hill, Arie Vander Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James Vander Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Vander Hill and Miss Esther Vander Hill.

Strange Court Cases Decided
by Judge MilesRUNAWAY HORSE, QUARREL
OVER FARM PROPERTY; DESERTED CHILDREN AND
BANK CASE ARE ALL
AIDED

Judge Miles has had rather a strange run of cases in Allegan county circuit court. One has to do with abandoned children of Saugatuck, another the management of a farm while a runaway horse brings action in still another matter.

In the disagreement of Gerrit Oetman and Henry and John Brower over the management of the Oetman farm, which the Browers rented, Judge Miles ordered Brower to sell his portion of the stock and turn his money in to the county clerk with an accounting. All his obligations must be paid from this, Miles ordered. Three neighbors were named to make divisions of property should any difficulty arise.

When David Howland, adopted son of Arthur D. and Nettie Howland of Saugatuck, abandoned his two children in Erie, Pa., the older Howland went from his Saugatuck home, found the motherless boys, sick and destitute and brought them home. Later David remarried and demanded his children. Last year he came to Saugatuck and got them and took them to Detroit, but the elder Howland again went after the boys and brought them back to Saugatuck. David demanded a deed to their farm or the return of the children, but Judge Miles ruled in favor of the grandparents today and enjoined the father from ever bothering any of them again. The elder Howland and his wife both are past 65. The children testified for their grandparents.

In the case of the First National bank against Mayor Joseph F. Mosier and Clarence Boone of Kalamazoo, former Allegan restaurant man, Judge Miles instructed lawyers to file briefs before he makes his decision. The suit is over a $575 note given in 1926 by Boone to Mosier for an automobile which Mosier discounted at the bank, in dorsing the note with his own signature.

A jury is trying to determine whether or not Adam Fleser of Salem, Allegan county, must pay a note which he gave last March for two horses bought from Zerfas Bros. of Allegan at an auction sale. Not reaching a decision the jury resumed considering the case Saturday morning. Fleser claims the horses were warranted good when he purchased them but when he got them home they ran away with a wagon. He says Zerfas agreed to take the horses back but Zerfas claims he told Fleser to bring them to his pasture and Fleser could sell them in the spring.

A regular meeting of the Maplewood Parents-Teachers' Club was held Friday evening in the school. A short business meeting was held after which the following program was given: Piano solos by Miss Margaret Bousma and Miss Hazel Scrotenboer, recitation by Kenneth Tien. Corporal Ray Shields, state police, gave an address and also showed some pictures on police work. A Dutch dialogue was given by Miss Cornelia Glauw and Miss Hermina Derks, music by Holland trio, reading by Miss Gertrude Bussie, dialogue, "At the Photographer" by 15 characters. The double quartet of the Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church offered several selections and guitar and harmonica music was played by Herman Zoerhoff and Dean Molken. Mr. and Mrs. D. Derks had charge of the program. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Scrotenboer and committee. Music was furnished by a stringed quartet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Nachtrieb of 67 West Ninth street, have moved to Grand Rapids to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fors and children spent the week-end in Lansing visiting relatives.

This policy calls for one increase in rate beginning with the fourth year; but dividends begin at that time and on the basis of current experience as indicated above these dividends are more than sufficient at all ages to fully offset the increase in the premium, thus reducing the cost below the initial rate.

You Have a Right to Know

Why Automobile Liability Rates Are Increasing

HERE'S OUR ANSWER:

1—Greater Power and Speed of Automobiles

The motors used in automobiles manufactured during the last few years have been improved to such an extent that the motor horsepower has been increased at least 50 percent on the average. This increase in power has resulted in the operation of automobiles at greater speeds, thereby causing more serious and more costly accidents.

2—Improved Roads

States, counties and municipalities have expended large sums of money in recent years in improving roads, the result being the operation of automobiles at greater speeds and over longer distances. Moreover, the improved roads have made it possible to operate automobiles the year around in good and bad weather. These factors have increased both the exposure to accident and the resulting damages.

3—Closed Automobiles

In 1925 only 56.5 percent of the private passenger automobiles manufactured were closed cars, whereas in 1929 the percentage of closed cars manufactured was 89.4 pct. This development has resulted in the operation of more automobiles in inclement weather, when the accident hazard is greater.

4—Purposes for Which Automobiles Are Used

Improvements in automobiles from a mechanical standpoint have continuously increased their dependability as a means of transportation, the result being a greater use of automobiles for all sorts of purposes. In addition to the greatly increased use of private passenger as well as commercial automobiles in business the private passenger automobile has been subjected to greatly increased family use through operation by several members of the family. Evidence of this growing family use is found in a study made during the past year which shows that the number of women operating private passenger automobiles has increased to 24 percent of the total number of operators.

5—Greater Congestion

The number of automobiles on the highways in the United States has grown from 22,000,000 in 1926 to 26,500,000 in 1929 (an increase of 20 pct.) During the same period there has also been a steady increase in population. The result has been an increasing congestion of the highways, thereby increasing the chance of accident occurrence.

These developments, occurring simultaneously have had a cumulative effect upon the accident situation, namely, of increasing materially the hazard of automobile operation. If evidence other than the experience of the insurance companies is needed to substantiate this, it is to be found in the increase in the number of persons accidentally killed and injured. In 1926—23,500 persons were killed as the result of motor vehicle accidents in the United States. In each successive year that number increased until in 1929—31,000 persons were killed. It is estimated that the number killed in 1930 will be found to have exceeded 33,000. This increase in the number of deaths has been accompanied by a corresponding increase in the number of non-fatal personal injuries sustained in motor vehicle accidents, both having exceeded proportionately the increase in the number of automobiles in use.

ALLEGAN COUNTY FARM AGENT HAS LARGE PROGRAM FOR FEBRUARY

The Allegan County Jersey Breeders' Association will hold their annual meeting at the city hall in Allegan, on Wednesday, February 11, beginning at 10:00 o'clock A. M., Central Standard Time.

The president, Mr. Everett Fowler, will be in charge of the meeting.

A county wide dairy survey is being made in Allegan county in anticipation of the Dairy Profits Conference at Allegan, on February 20. This survey is being made by eight grade school boys. One boy from each 105 school districts in the dairy sections will do the work under the guidance of the official delegate from the district.

The information collected by these boys and the official delegates will be used at the conference in outlining a long time program of work that will fit the dairy needs of the county. It will include the number of dairy cows and heifers, the number of bulls over 12 months and under that age and whether these bull are purebred or scrub and if purebreds, whether they are registered.

This information will also be of great educational value to the schools of the county, giving them a true picture of dairying in their own district, township and the county. Extension dairymen from Michigan State College are satisfied that this Dairy Profits Conference for Allegan County will help improve the individual dairy profits realized by the dairymen. The survey should be conducted by the school boys under the guidance of the official delegates and will have an important bearing on the effectiveness of the conference.

The second school for the local leaders in first year soils work will be held in the supervisors room, at the Court House, on Tuesday, February 10, at 10 A. M.

Mr. E. C. Sackrider, the soils expert from Michigan State College, will be in charge of the meeting. The main topic for discussion in the lesson will be organic matter in the soil.

The local leaders will take part in the discussion and on a later date will give the same lesson to the people who have signed up in different communities they represent.

Mr. Paul Harmer, the muck soil specialist will hold his third meeting for muck farmers of Allegan county, at the Hopkinsburg Grange hall, at 2 o'clock P. M., February 10. Mr. Morley, county agricultural agent will be unable to assist Mr. Harmer with this meeting, as he has been requested to be present at the annual meeting of the Salem Co-operative Association in Burnetts the afternoon of that day. A dairy specialist from Michigan State College will accompany Mr. Morley and both will be on the program.

Three one-week short courses will be offered by the Horticultural Department in the near future. They are as follows: Market Gardeners' and Canning Crops Course, February 9 to 13; Beekeepers' Course, February 10 to 13. Pickle Packers' Course, February 17 to 19.

The course fee for each is $1. Rooms may be secured in East Lansing homes through the Y. M. C. A. at the Peoples Church at $1 a night per person. Meals may be secured at reasonable rates in the restaurants.

Lawyer Vs. Witness

A lawyer recently engaged in trying a case asked one of the witnesses his name. The witness gave it, but the lawyer did not catch it. He repeated the question, and the man on the stand promptly repeated the answer. Still failing to get any clear idea of the name the lawyer demanded, rather impatiently that the witness spell his name. He did so, saying, "O-double t-double you e-double l-double you-double o-double d."

The spelling confounded the attorney; and, amid the laughter in the courtroom, he quietly conducted the witness to one side, and learned that his name was "Otwell Woodd."

WELSH IMPERIAL SINGERS

CELEBRATED WELSH IMPERIAL SINGERS COME TO CARNEGIE HALL

The world renowned Welsh Imperial Singers, following their triumphal tour in various European countries, Canada and Newfoundland are now making a transcontinental tour this season under the management of Redpath Bureau. They will appear at Carnegie Hall, February 13, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. R. Festyn, celebrated director who organized this group of singers and who will conduct them on their present tour, has had a most interesting musical career. For many years he has held the distinction of being one of the most prominent tenor soloists and choral directors of the British Isles. His first visit to the United States was in 1908 when he became leading soloist with the best that Wales could produce.

the Filipino Constabulary Band at Atlantic City. This popular musical organization made a cross-country tour. Mr. Davies liked the Pacific Coast so well, he remained there for several years, and made a name for himself not only as a singer and teacher, but as a great choral director as well. He has conducted some of the biggest musical festivals of this country, the biggest of all being the Great Festival held at Stanford University Stadium, where he conducted a chorus of 10,000 voices, accompanied by six full bands. Mme. Schuman Heink and he were the soloists. A crowd of 50,000 heard this magnificent chorus.

Hearing many Welsh choirs from time to time, supposed to represent Wales, Mr. Davies felt that the American people were not hearing what the Welsh could produce.

Rev. DePree Has Report On Hope Men In Missions

59 HOPE GRADUATES ON REFORMED CHURCH FOREIGN FIELD

There are 59 Hope College alumni on the four mission fields of our Reformed Church. If we include those who graduated from the Preparatory School or who took only a partial college course, it is possible to add at least six more. Practically one-third of all the missionaries our Reformed Church has on the foreign field are Hope College graduates.

It is interesting to note also that about one-third of this number of alumni are women. Twenty-five years ago you could have counted the Hope Alumnae in foreign service on the fingers of one hand; now every field has them.

Of course there are graduates in the Orient who are not included in the enumeration above, which does not take account of those in other lines of work or in the service of other denominations. Many of these have gained distinction for themselves and are rendering a wonderful service. But just a glance at the mission fields of our own church. We find them in work ranging from kindergarten to Theological Seminary. They are ministering not only to lepers and outcasts, but they have also won the confidence of Arab sheikhs and Chinese generals. Their medical skill is exercised over a wide range of calls from embalming a dead body to performing the delicate operation for cataract, from training doctors and nurses in the country of their adoption to planning for city sanitation and working against the spread of disease.

Many of Hope's Alumni are in educational institutions on the mission field, and whether teaching the sturdy Arab youth or the polite Japanese maiden, they are exerting a tremendous influence. In all of the three countries where Theological Seminaries are conducted for the training of a native ministry we have Hope men chosen to work in them. In at least two of these instances the choice has been made not by their missionary colleagues but by the ecclesiastical assembly of the church in that particular country. The Bueh Boys' School in Arabia and Mesopotamia and has made the name of John Van Ess widely known as a trusted friend and benefactor of the Arabs. Voorhees College and Katpadi Industrial School in India likewise are under Hope leadership and with the 1200 students amongst whom they work they have had a wonderful opportunity to reproduce the Hope Spirit in countless lives. Talmage College in China has at present three Hope graduates working in it and one who had a partial course, and they are training not only many of the men who are going into the Christian ministry there but their graduates are in prominent places in government and business circles. So also among the thousand students of Meiji Gakuin in Tokio, Hope is rendering a great service in training leaders in the life of Japan.

The new women of the East are coming to the front very rapidly. There is no change so striking as the revolution in the place of women. Hope graduates are in the front ranks, guiding and inspiring these young women who are coming to hold places in every department of life that their mothers never dreamed of. In Japan the question of extending the franchise to women has been urged. In China women are finding their way into occupations and political positions unheard of before and demanding rights that have been withheld. In Mohammedan lands, too, they are coming more and more out of their seclusion and will come to play their part side by side with men. And in preparing these ambitious, enthusiastic young women, as they have already helped to equip many for glorious service, Ferris Seminary and Sturges Seminary, Amy Girls' High School and Chittoor Girls' School with their thousand pupils, form the field for some of our Alumnae where they are inspiring many with high and holy ideals.

Hope men have contributed much also in a literary way. In three fields, Japan, Arabia and China, Hope men have prepared a dictionary or handbook for the study of the language, making the road of others easier as they try to master these languages. It would take investigation not now possible to sum up the books and tracts prepared by Hope men, which have gone out spreading their message in strange tongues. Even in so important and fundamental a work as Bible translation they have made their contribution in more than one land.

The fame of some of Hope's Alumni on the mission field has become international so that their services have been rendered in the field of international missionary planning and wide co-operation. Drs. Zwemer and Warnshuis, although no longer on the list of Alumni on the field, come to mind particularly in this regard. Some of the Alumni may not be heard of so much but they are nevertheless carrying the Spirit of Hope into their task just as faithfully. They are showing an unflinching spirit and dogged devotion and perseverance in the face of a hard task as in Arabia. Others have met Communist attack or robbery by bandits, or the daily grinding wear of a trying educational situation in China. In all these, the Spera in Deo has been their motto.

In India the Alumni are working amidst great movements—mass movements as whole villages are touched by the gospel or vast movements taking in their sweep plans for the unification of the divisions of the Christian Church. In these plans for church union Dr. Banning, although not working under our Reformed Church Board, has been particularly prominent. In Japan a new feature in missionary evangelism was inaugurated by Dr. Pieters in the newspaper evangelism. Dr. Ottmans, after long and widely appreciated service in Japan, has, after the age of retirement arrived, chosen a new line of work, showing the large sympathetic heart of the real missionary as he came into prominent connection with the work for lepers. So Hope men and women have been and are still in the front ranks on the mission field. Considering the size of our church or the size of our Alma Mater, we have had a very large share in the work that is "turning the world upside down" and ushering in a new day in the Orient.

The teachers of the grades department of the Sixth Reformed Sunday School held their annual business meeting Friday evening in the church parlors. Mrs. J. Vanderbeek, the superintendent, presided. Mrs. C. Ter Louw was elected superintendent for the primary department and Mrs. J. Greengood was elected superintendent for the beginners department. Mrs. L. B. Dalman was named secretary and treasurer. After the business meeting, a short program was given. Mrs. J. Greengood entertained with two readings. A short play entitled "A Matrimonial Advertisement" was given by Miss Dorothy Dalman, Miss Rolene Van Voorst, Miss Christine Spuyhoven, Mrs. S. Scheerhorn and Arthur Gravenog. “At these liberal terms IT'S REAL ECONOMY to own a Kelvinator”

“Every family in Holland can now own a Kelvinator. There is no need for anybody to be without one just because he thinks he cannot afford it.

“Now, you can buy a Kelvinator—the very finest in electric refrigeration—for such a small down payment and on such long term easy monthly installments that it is actually more economical to own a Kelvinator than not to own one.

For a down payment of only $10.00 and the balance in monthly installments as low as 28c per day, depending on the model you select, you can own a Kelvinator and enjoy it while paying for it.

“Many Kelvinator owners have proved that ‘a Kelvinator pays for itself.’ Over a period of years, and a Kelvinator lasts a lifetime, the savings amount to more than the cost of the Kelvinator.

“You save money by buying your foods and provisions in quantity—taking advantage of the lower prices. The problem of food spoilage, which costs every family many dollars during the year, is eliminated. And the cost of operating a Kelvinator is less than the older method of refrigeration. All of these savings added together, in most cases, are enough to take care of the small monthly payments.

“And in addition to these actual dollar-and-cents savings, you have the money conveniences and pleasures which come from Kelvinator ownership. In countless ways, a Kelvinator adds to health and happiness of the whole family.

“Let us explain the liberal terms the ReDisCo Monthly Budget Plan offers you. Come in today and learn why it is real economy to own a Kelvinator.”
