Storm Reminder Of Blizzard Of Jan. 10, 1918

CITY WAS SHOVELED OUT AT A COST OF $1,800

The most severe storm of years is with us today, and the temperature has varied, according to who tells it, from 10 to 15 below zero, although the official temperature at the Holland water and light station was 10 degrees below zero last night and at 11 o'clock this morning was 8 below.

Trains have been coming into Holland today spasmodically and the road to Grand Rapids at 10 o'clock this morning was still blocked, but is open now.

Country roads are mostly blocked and business in the city has been at a standstill with a biting wind sweeping down the main thoroughfare.

Today's storm is a reminder of the one that started January 10, 1918, and lasted for three days.

Factories were short of coal and were shut down because of the war and the snow blockade. Not a train entered the city for three days and all outside newspapers failed to arrive and be delivered. The Holland Evening Sentinel was the only paper that received a partial delivery, and one newsboy came near losing his life at the bridge on East Sixteenth street, where a snow heap had obscured the bridge proper and but for another passer-by the youngster would have sunk into the small stream.

Where plowing was possible it took four horses to a plow and besides the weights six men were used to hold the plow down.

But Holland really had to be shoveled out. Mayor Vander Sluis called in all the unemployed from the factories who were temporarily shut down and some 200 of them marched down the street with picks and shovels and from the intersection of River avenue and Eighth street the group was divided and sent out to four sections and the shoveling out began. It took nearly a week and the heaps at the side of the walks were no high that it was impossible to look over them.

Much of the snow was carted to Centennial park where a part of the snow mountain was still in existence early in April.

Even the highways had to be shoveled out and it was more than a week before folks from the rural districts could come to town.

The expense of taking care of this storm was a little over $1,800 as pay to the men for their services. This amount of money figured in the spring campaign by those candidates who were talking tax reduction.

Anyway it was the worst storm that anyone now living can remember as visiting Holland.

Merchants scarcely did a dollar's worth of business the first day because no one could possibly come to town to shop.

The storm of today is quite a blow, compared to the winters of the past five years, but it is a spring zephyr compared to the one of January 10, 1918.

SALE OF BUTTER NEARLY TRIPLE IN 1932; INCOME
IS $500,000.

The year 1932 was the best in the history of the Holland Crystal Creamery, according to the annual report of H. W. Fleischer, general manager. Sales of butter increased to 1,900,000 pounds from 750,000 in 1931. Income from sales exceeded $500,000.

The creamery ships butter to Grand Rapids, Detroit, Muskegon, Chicago and to several points in Pennsylvania. Besides its product is sold all over Michigan. Cream is purchased from all nearby counties and milk from more than 400 patrons. The company also buys butter from nearby creameries.

The plant recently was remodeled and repainted inside.

Mrs. Etta Whitman and Mrs. Lloyd Ketchum attended an executive board luncheon of the women's home missionary societies at Grand Rapids Tuesday. Mrs. Whitman is president of the district and Mrs. Ketchum is the junior superintendent.

A miscellaneous program will be presented at the Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock. The program, which will consist of readings, special musical numbers and Dutch songs by a chorus of men, is being sponsored by the Ladies Aid society. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Leonard De Waard, Mrs. Henry Vander Veen, Mrs. John Wolters and Mrs. Jack De Boe.

NORTH HOLLAND

Albert Siersema, Al. Stegenga, Gerrit Lievense and William Owens spent a few days last week in East Lansing, where they attended farmers' week sessions.

John Henry Elfers had the misfortune to fall and break his collar bone last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Siersema of Detroit visited relatives in this neighborhood recently.

Leonard Veldeer, who underwent an operation recently, is improving nicely. He is again able to be out visiting friends and relatives.

Gerrit Van Gelderen sold his farm to Henry Kruidhof. Mr. Van Gelderen is now residing in Holland. Mr. Kruidhof is a former resident of this place having lived on the farm now occupied by C. Sas.

CAUGHT BIGGEST FISH IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

Perhaps the largest fish ever taken in an inland lake in southwestern Michigan was a thirty-nine pound muskellunge speared in Gun lake last week by Calvin Streeter. He was fishing in an ice shanty, 150 feet from shore and was using a red wooden decoy not over six inches long which he had made the day before. Streeter had just gotten an eight- and a twelve-and-a-half pound muskie a short time before the big one appeared. He states it came in with a rush about two feet below the ice and took his decoy before he could pull it out of the way. He says that he struck the fish just back of the head and lifted it out of the water at once, it being stunned so that it put up very little fight. It measured fifty inches in length. Streeter has lived in the vicinity of Gun lake for more than 50 years.

Merchants Of This City Hold Annual Meet

PROF. PAUL HINKAMP AND
ARTHUR W. WRIEDEN
GIVE ADDRESSES

The Woman's Literary club rooms were the scene last Monday evening of the Merchants' Association Fellowship luncheon. More than 200 merchants, their wives, employees and guests filled into the banquet hall as Messrs. Clarence Dykema and C. Harill provided antidepressive music.

The invocation was said by Professor Paul Hinkamp, college pastor. The various numbers on the program were introduced by the retiring president of the association, Mr. William J. Brouwer, who acted as toastmaster.

Helen Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaw, favored with a vocal solo, "Indian Love Call," by Rudolph Friml. Her brother, Ned Shaw, then favored with a violin solo, "Legende," by Wienowski. William Van Der Ven, accompanied by Clarence Dykema, followed with two vocal solos, "The Hills of Home" and "The Home on the Range."

Mr. C. Barril, formerly of Chicago and now of New Richmond, then thrilled his audience by a masterful interpretation on his violin of "Souvenir" and "Humoresque."

Professor Paul Hinkamp delivered the address of the evening, which was cleverly entitled "Wise or Otherwise." Through a humorous mood he ridiculed all the quick cures which have been proposed to lift the depression. He said:

"It is time we have a little fun out of this depression if that is possible. We have gotten so used to it that we have learned to see its funny side."

He briefly reviewed all the "fool" remedies which have so far been suggested, showed their inadequacy, and cleverly placed them in the realm of the ludicrous by telling some pointed anecdotes. The inflation, silence, technocracy—all these cannot end the depression. "This depression must be lifted by courage, thrift and hard work."

He also stressed the moral issue involved in getting back to prosperity.

"We have been too covetous in days gone by; we have been too much interested in keeping up with the Joneses." Also, "We have forgotten that the greatest things—health, happiness and heaven—can be had without price."

As a sure cure Professor Hinkamp concluded, "Men must be satisfied to make a living; and not be so foolish as to try to make a fortune." This ideal would be more conducive to the growth of character, culture and the old-time virtues.

Mr. Arthur Wrieden of the Holland Furnace company was introduced (Continued on Page 2)

Believing in Your City

The above is a bird's eye view of Holland six years ago. Today it is the same Holland as then with the same buildings, the same streets, the same churches, colleges and schools, the same enterprises, the same homes, and the same courageous people with the same opportunity if we but confidently help right conditions.

Holland is a city of homes, which was one of the reasons for its continued prosperity in the past. Two-thirds of the homes you see in this picture have been financed in Holland. At least 75 per cent of the moneys deposited in our local financial institutions have been re-invested in this community.

This city can again prosper if a larger percentage of the money earned and saved is re-invested in this our own community—as in the good old days when this view was taken.

The new spar that lies at Harrington's dock is intended for the schooner R. Kanter. The tree for the mast was found by Mr. J. B. Kelley on the farm of Mr. Drake near Hopkins dock and is a perfect beauty. Note—Those were the days of sailing vessels here and Holland had a fleet of some 20.

The R. Kanter was captained by "Baas" Van Ry father of former chief of police. Frank Van Ry was cabin boy on her. Harrington's dock was at the foot of 4th street and the part of the old dock is still there.

We take pleasure this week in announcing that the "City Meat Market" in the first ward has again been opened. Messrs Van Duren and Co. being the proprietors. Geo. Van Duren and Wm. Vander Weere comprise the firm. Note—The Market is still in the first Ward though long since a brick block has taken the place of a wooden structure. Wm. Vander Weere still conducts the place. Mr. Van Duren was the late husband of Mrs. Van Duren so long identified with the Red Cross.

Fifteen thousand pounds of dressed pork was received by our local butchers last Tuesday.

Albert Hoeksema of the First State Bank has gone to the U. S. A. hospital in Grand Rapids where he will be operated upon for appendicitis. Note: The operation turned out successfully, for Albert is still running his Business College minus his appendix apparently.

Tony Guitar, one of the well known employees of the local piano company, found a pocket book last Saturday, containing $50. Some meal tickets showed it was the property of Paul Frederickson, formerly of Chicago, now employed at the piano factory. Guitar promptly returned the property to the owner. Note: That was an "A one" Guitar. Mr. Frederickson is today in the poultry industry west of Holland.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. C. M. McLean of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. stated that in the three plants of which this company is one, at least $1,000,000 was paid to farmers for sugar beets. From these beets 24,000,000 pounds of sugar were made and there were many by-products.

Dr. L. E. Heasley braved the storms and cold Monday, walked from Douglas to Holland in weather 18 degrees below zero over an unbroken road, a distance of 16 miles, to be home in time to feed his chickens at Shorewood Poultry Farm. He has a fine farm and blooded flocks. Dr. Heasley has a flock of more than a thousand chickens and war time made chicken feed scarce and he went to Douglas to see if any could be obtained, but found none. Drifts prevented him using cutter and horse.

A. K. Prins and family had a narrow escape from being burned in their home, a half mile south of the city. Heavy smoke filled the house and aroused some of the sleepers. Upon investigation it was found that the fire was confined to a bureau drawer started by a mouse in nibbling a box of matches. The loss was $75. The mouse paid the penalty.

Eight persons died in one week in Holland, all over 70 years. They are: Eliza Dempster, 90; Joseph Beaumont, 73; George Ohlman, 84; John F. Henry, 83; Willis S. Bryan, 70; John F. Baker, 74; H. Boone, 77; Sarah Greenless, 77.

Cornelius Blom, Sr., River Ave., passes away at the age of 73 years. Mr. Blom was deputy sheriff under Sheriff Arie Waltman. He married Miss Jeanette Mieras, 52 years ago. This is the first death in the family up to this date. Note: Since that time there have been three other deaths: Mrs. N. J. Whelan, Wm. Blom and Miss Martha Blom.

Perhaps the flock we saw (57 great Canadas) was the flock that remained all winter at Dr. Miles Pirnie's place. Perhaps they are "early birds" from the Southland. Perhaps they have wintered in Michigan—since coming from the north in November—giving great thrills to a few outdoor folks who were fortunate like us to see them.

They were Canada geese. We heard them honk and the sound from the heavens will never be forgotten. And mark it down in your note book—it was on the fifteenth day of January. There was no snow. The day was warm. The sun was shining. Fifty-three Canadas flew right over us.

G. G. Groenewoud, county school commissioner, said that, although he had not been notified, a majority of the rural schools undoubtedly had been closed until the cold wave subsided.

YOUTH ESCAPES INJURIES WHEN
CAR IS STRUCK

Automobile Was Completely
Demolished and Crash Laid
Up Locomotive.

Young Reinert Bakker, who resides on rural route No. 1, East Saugatuck, miraculously escaped with his life when the car he was driving was struck by the east-bound flier on the State street, Zeeland, Pere Marquette crossing at about midnight Sunday.

Bakker was driving south on State street in a large Hudson sedan on his way home from visiting a friend. When he was going to stop for the approaching train the snowy roadway permitted his car to slide into the path of the train.

Fortunately he was alone in the car and the driver's seat and the steering wheel are about the only parts of the auto that were not wrecked beyond repair. He escaped with a few scratches and bruises and a severe shaking and was able to be about immediately after the accident.

The car was struck on the front right wheel, smashing wheel, fender, radiator and breaking the motor. It was spun around, the engine cylinder head striking the rear right corner of the car body, and tipping off the top, besides generally crumpling up the rear and of the car. It finally came to rest about fifty feet east of the crossing, upright on the north railroad side, track facing toward the northwest where it remained on Monday forenoon.

The locomotive also was damaged, causing the train to be laid up for some time—Zeeland Record.

DETROIT SCRIBE
WRITES ABOUT
WINTER GEESSE

ALREADY SO A FLOCK GO
SOUTH UP FROM BLACK
LAKE

(By Jack Van Coevering
in Detroit Free Press)

In the southern sky we saw them. A great V—blowing its way northward through the blue. We could not believe our eyes—for it was only the fifteenth of January, and we don't expect Canada geese in Michigan quite as early as that!

No time for wonderment. Quick! Get out the camera, for they are coming directly toward us! Beyond us lay Black Lake and Lake Michigan, and we felt sure they were headed for the water. On they came. We could see their great wings beating. Camera pointed toward the sky, we watched and waited. Onward they came, straight as a broad-pointed arrow. Their white throats flashed in the sunlight.

Then we heard their cry, "h-o-n-k—h-o-n-k," they said—a startling babble of voices floating from the sky. Almost before we knew it, they are right over us. The camera clicks, and we prepare to take a second picture. They wheel directly overhead. Their perfect line of V's begins to break, and as they slide lower and closer, we can see the feathers of their wings. We get two more pictures while they are changing positions—thrilling moments in the life of a camera fan!

Then they climb again—and out of the mass of wings, two V's emerge—perfect spear heads aimed into the blue. Off to the west they go until they are almost swallowed up in the sky. We can see the little black dots circling above the water—and as the sun sinks red in the western sky, we watch them slide down—down, down, probably in the safety of Black Lake or on the depths of Lake Michigan.

"Ah, the geese are here; we won't have any more winter," we concluded. But wait, let's ask Dr. Joselyn VanTyne, the bird expert at the University of Michigan about it. Is this unusual?

"Most people do not know that geese are sometimes here at this time of the year," says Dr. VanTyne. "All this winter there have been flocks of geese at the W. K. Kellogg Sanctuary near Battle Creek."

Perhaps the flock we saw (57 great Canadas) was the flock that remained all winter at Dr. Miles Pirnie's place. Perhaps they are "early birds" from the Southland. Perhaps they have wintered in Michigan—since coming from the north in November—giving great thrills to a few outdoor folks who were fortunate like us to see them.

Grand Haven's Welfare Check Is Not so Bad

APPLICANTS MUST ANSWER
LIST OF QUESTIONS, PROM-ISE REPAYMENT IF POSSIBLE

(Grand Haven Tribune)

Welfare assistance in Grand Haven is being more closely scrutinized by the welfare board in an effort to allow no one to take advantage of the assistance given by the city and to keep the welfare costs down as low as possible, commensurate with the needs that are absolutely necessary to prevent indigent families from suffering.

A new application agreement for material relief is being adopted by the board whereby every one seeking help must answer a long list of questions relative to his financial and social life. This must be sworn to before a notary. In the application is a section whereby the applicant promises to pay back to the city 10 per cent of his weekly wages when he is able to secure work.

The questionnaire is the most complete to be applied to a welfare applicant. He must answer the questions truthfully and if it is found that the questions have not brought out his true situation, the applicant will be refused future assistance, said Anthony Pippel, poor director. Such questions as to birth, number in family, when he last worked, other assistance from church, lodge or relatives, any government assistance as pension, compensation, bonus, disability allowance, home ownership, back taxes, life insurance and savings account, are included. Also whether the applicant has an automobile, if so when did he last use it; are there any dogs supported, and other questions which reflect the condition of the family as accurately as possible.

Plan Adopted

The application was adopted at the meeting of the welfare board which was held last night in the city council chamber.

Anthony Pippel, director of welfare, reported a total of $3,361.36 spent during the month of January for welfare. Of this $3,329.91 was spent for temporary relief and $140 for permanent relief. The amount spent in December was $2,600.

There were 40 people before the board last night, of whom 14 were new applicants.

In the report of the relief, $1,759.81 was spent for food, $841.54 for fuel, $385.15 for clothing, $309 for medical treatment, $40 for funeral expenses, $7.90 for gas and $5.90 for light. Sundries make up the balance of the amount.

Michigan Has Biggest Quail, It Is Said

"The people in Michigan and southern Canada should be proud of their quail for they are the largest, strongest and fastest flying in America," says Jasper Miner, of Kingsville, Ont.

"Quail are plentiful in the South principally because the various States are operating game farms and raising quail by the thousands and liberating them in good cover. They find that it soon pays by the increase in the number of hunters licenses sold."

"Here at my game farm I have 105 quail now in my pens which I raised from five of my choice pairs using buff Cochins bantams for hatching, and I expect to raise close to 2000 birds this year. What we must do is to get the hunters interested. If we give them a few days open season they, in return, will join sportsmen's organizations and help restock, thus aiding nature to bring back our quail."

"Best results are obtained if restocking is done in the spring of the year. Did you ever think of what 1000 pairs of quail would mean to your State if liberated in the spring?"

"I am interested in seeing the quail brought back in plentiful numbers in Canada and Michigan. A brief open hunting season will stimulate the hunters' interest in this fine game bird which is now more or less neglected and not at all plentiful."

Joy of Maturity

(Detroit Free Press)

Franklin D. Roosevelt ran for vice president of the United States when he was 38 years old, but his case seems to have been an exception. Few figures of recent national stature have loomed much in the public eye before their fortieth year. Al Smith at that age was an obscure Tammany worker. Calvin Coolidge had just moved from the mayor's chair at Northampton to the Massachusetts senate. Herbert Hoover at 40 was a mining expert in London, with not too many clients.

The forties seem to be a time of first ripening for men who have notable careers ahead of them, particularly in intellectual fields. The genius on the average produces his masterpiece at 47.4 years, and that average is weighted by the dominance of youth in the special fields of light fiction, light music, lyric poetry and, oddly enough, medical research. In other lines youthful enthusiasm gives way to skill and experience.

Man is just getting under way at 40, just beginning to feel sure of himself and what he can do. Prof. Walter B. Pitkin, of Columbia University, has advanced the thesis that life only begins to be worth living after four decades of preparation. For the empty it is void, he says, for the stupid it is stupidity; for the weak it is consciousness. "But for the vigorous and the vivid, it is the end of an overture and the beginning of still greater music."

Trouble for Heirs in

Over-Supply of Wills

Mention was made in a recent lawsuit arising out of a will of the fact that the testator had made nine last wills and testaments.

This seems a fairly large number, but it is by no means a record. One woman made a dozen wills within a few years and on the death of a former duke of Sutherland it was found that he had left no fewer than 92 wills behind him.

But if the man who makes a number of different wills may complicate matters for the beneficiaries, the man who makes only one can sometimes do so just as effectively.

In one case a wealthy man was in the habit of lending copies of an elaborately kept diary for the year annually to four of his friends. They soon got bored and stopped reading them. But one of them discovered by accident, some years after the diarist's death, that he had written his will on page 647 of one of the annual volumes. In it he bequeathed his entire fortune to his four friends.

Meantime, the estate had passed to a distant relative, and it was only after a long lawsuit that the four legatees were able to recover what was left of it.—London Answers.

Spectacular to Spectacles

Artificial aids to the sight were invented by Roger Bacon, the great thirteenth-century scientist and philosopher, and others at a time when Latin was the universal language of all science and scholarship. Hence it was natural that the invention should be given Latin name. Spectacles, something seen or looked at, was the name selected—"spectacle," a show or pageant, coming from the same source. Spectacles later developed into the now familiar "spectacles."

duced next, and spoke very briefly, but pointedly, about present banking conditions. He stated that the Holland Furnace company handles some 500 bank accounts from all over the United States and as such can give an authentic slant on general conditions. Speaking of local conditions, he reminded the merchants that the local banks have been the real builders of the city, that at least two-thirds of all the homes in the city have been financed in some way or other by them.

"But some people lost confidence in a good thing," he said, "and withdrew much money during the depression. The banks, therefore, had to liquidate that much in assets. They called in as much as $500,000 on mortgages alone. And all this goes to show how strong they still can be in such a time as this. But," he continued, "we cannot press the banks to sell more of their mortgages. This will undermine the whole economic system. We as depositors own the assets of our banks, and it is up to us to protect these institutions which have so largely built our city."

He confided that if the people would co-operate properly the banks would remain strong and continue to serve well as they had for nearly half a century.

Further, if the citizens of Holland should practice confidence in these local institutions, he believed that they would soon withdraw the temporary restriction.

A unanimous vote of confidence was given both institutions by the Merchants' association after the discourse of Mr. Wrieden.

The officers of the association, past and present, are:

Retiring Officers—President, Mr. William J. Brouwer, toastmaster; vice president, Mr. J. Lokker; secretary, Mr. C. Van Zyl; treasurer, Mr. K. De Pree.

Newly Elected Officers—President, Mr. C. Van Zyl; vice president, Mr. J. Lokker; secretary, Mr. T. Taft; treasurer, Mr. J. Fris.

The leaders passed final obstacles this week, both teams winning from second division clubs by wide margins. The 47 points scored by the Rutgers against the Piepers is the high total of the city league campaign.

Wife's Good Reason for

Rejecting Hubby's Offer

It seems that a Kansas City man and his wife were on a motor car trip, and the weather was hot and the trip was difficult and ill-temper ran high on both the front and back seats. The car approached a stream over which there was a ferry, reached only after going down a steep, rough grade such as one finds frequently in the Arkansas Ozarks.

"Oh, must we go down that hill and take that ferry?" grumbled the wife, mopping her perspiring face.

"Listen, dearie," suggested the husband, "if you say the word, I'll walk right down that hill, jump in to that river and drown, and refrain from annoying you any more."

"That's all right for you," commented the wife calmly, "but what good will it do me? I've still got to get the car down the hill and across that ferry."—Kansas City Star.

Tribute to Walter Scott

"The greatest figure Walter Scott ever presented to the world was himself," said John Buchan, a member of the British parliament, at a celebration in the author's honor. "A partaker of our mortal frailties—for he had many—he is yet an example of the stature to which, by the grace of God, a Scotsman and a Borderer can attain. As long as there are human beings in our glens to hope and to dream and to endure, the memory of Walter Scott will rest like a benediction on the land he loved."—Detroit News.

Petitions for mayor in Grand Haven at the coming primary election have been filed by Mayor William Verduin, asking for a third term, and Lionel Heap.

Petitions for alderman have been filed by Harold Westerhoff, John Roberts and Alderman John McCracken. Several other petitions are being circulated for this office, which will make the coming primary election one of the most spirited in several years.

Petitions must be filed by February 17.

FEBRUARY TERM OF COURT WILL BE LIGHT

Circuit court calendar is being compiled at the county clerk's office. Thus far there are seven jury cases listed, sixteen non-jury cases, seventeen chancery contests, six default chancery cases and ten non-progress cases.

John R. Dethmers, prosecutor, stated yesterday that the criminal calendar, he expects, will be very light, although it was not completed as yet.

Judge Fred T. Miles will be in court on Wednesday to complete any matters hanging fire before the new term gets under way February 20. The term promises to be without cases of special interest.

STATE POLICE OFFICERS AID IN FINDING GALE

Troopers Roy Shields and Warren Hornbrook of the Ottawa county state police post assisted in finding Fred Gale, about 45, who was found in his car dead from monoxide poisoning. The only address was the Elks temple, Grand Rapids. Letters were found to members of the family living in Battle Creek.

The death was plainly a suicide, said Mr. Shields, as a rubber hose had been put on the exhaust pipe and then brought into the car and a clever device by means of a scale had been set up to keep the hose end over the man's mouth. Gale was a former employee of the Consumers' Power company. He had a daughter, to whom a letter was addressed. The body is held in Grand Rapids.

PROF. DIMMENT SPEAKS AT CENTURY CLUB

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. Davidson entertained the Century club at their home on West Eleventh street Monday evening.

Professor Edward D. Dimment of Hope college was the speaker of the evening. He had for his subject, "Robots." Professor Dimment explained the meaning of the humanized machine, calling attention to the fact that the man of the future may expect a completely mechanized world around him.

Mrs. Martha Robbins was in charge of the music for the evening. Albert Berzosa of Grand Rapids, of Ukrainian parentage, sang two Russian folk songs in native tongue. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jeanette Hughes Brumbaugh. Mr. Berzosa is a pupil of Mrs. Brumbaugh. For an encore he sang "Without a Song."

Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte sang three selections entitled "I Came with a Song," by La Forge, "Morgen" by Strauss, and "Hills of Gruzia" by Mednikoff. She was accompanied by Mrs. Robbins.

Two duets were sung by Mrs. Van Raalte and Mr. Berzosa, "One Fleeting Hour" by Dorothy Lee, and "O Lovely Night" by Landon Ronald.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by a committee headed by Professor and Mrs. W. Curtis Snow.

Miss Donna Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parrish, graduate of Saugatuck high school and now a graduate student of the University of Wisconsin, is again chosen on the 1933 debating team of which she was a member in her junior college year. Miss Parrish was graduated last year.

Taxicabbing to the Marne

Paris taxicab drivers performed their feat of carrying an army to the front in the first days of September, 1914, when thousands of taxicabs were impressed into army service by order of General Gallieni, the military governor of the Paris district, at the time when the Germans were nearest the capital. The cabs were employed to rush General Maunoury's forces to the front to take part in what became the first battle of the Marne. Back and forth the taxicab brigade rushed, each cab carrying five soldiers and the driver. In one trip this impromptu transport service carried 20,000 men to Meaux.

Musical Conducting

Wagner founded modern conducting, writes Richard Capell in the London Daily Mail. He wrote a little book on the subject which is nearly all a raging denunciation of bad conductors, but which lays down two principles: The conductor's business is (1) to establish the right tempo and (2) to bring out the melody. He also said, "I do not beat the time, for that would make for a stiff performance—I describe it in the air." These sayings really embrace almost the whole matter.

"Hung" Is Not Hanged

All bandits are "hung" in Manchuria! But it is not the result of a police or judicial efficiency. It is merely because the word for bandits in the Manchurian dialect is "hung huts." The derivation of this name is of interest. Translated literally, it means "red-beard" and was first applied to the bands of marauding Russians who used to pillage the border towns in the Eighteenth century. The term was later applied to all bandits.

Bargains in Brides on

Island in South Seas

If you are feeling lonely there is no need to indulge in melancholy "blues." Invest part of your savings in a passage to Rennell Island in the South seas, and take care to arrive with $40 in your pocket. You can then take your pick of the local belles, who are stated to be very handsome. They are quite European in appearance, since they are light-skinned and have lovely wavy hair.

Rennell is really an excellent place, not only for the lonely, but also for the hard-up. If you settle down there with your $40, your taxes will run only $125 a year. The staple industry of the island is the export of Kauri wood to South Africa, where it is in considerable demand. Steamers call four times a year to collect the logs.

Rennell Island has a wireless station all its own, but it is not found of much use owing to the fact that atmospheres of the most violent kind seldom cease. You cannot, therefore, expect much in the way of news or dance music. If, though, you feel that we have too many rules and regulations in this country, Rennell Island might suit you, for the whole police force consists of one white man and ten native constables.—London Tit-Bits.

Stock Exchange Sent

Held a Tool of Trade

The laws of most lands have recognized the sanctity of tools of trade. Usually the carpenter's saw, plane and hammer may not be seized for debt, nor the piano tuner's kit, nor the plumber's furnace and soldering iron. The same may be true of the surgeon's knives and the dentist's forceps. But there are further extensions of this thought that lead us far, as, for instance, in an action at law in the case of Worrall versus Worrall that was tried in the New York Supreme court before Justice Frederick P. Close.

There was trouble in the Worrall family and when the split-up came, falling to lay legal hands on other property to satisfy her alimony debt, the lady sought to sequester hubby's seat on the New York Stock exchange, brokering being the gentleman's business. No, not business, trade! To that effect was the judge's ruling. What the shovel is to the bricklayer, so is the exchange seat to the stockbroker. Take it from him and his means of livelihood is at an end. So wife had to look elsewhere, ruled the judge.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Justice Influenced by Medicine Man's Opinion

Trial by ordeal, with a cup of poison to determine the guilt or innocence of a person accused of theft, witchcraft or other crime, is still prevalent among certain African tribes. In the hall of African ethnology at Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago, are exhibited examples of the poison cup and the poisons used in such trials as practiced by the Ovimbundu people of West Africa.

It is said that the medicine man secretly makes up his own mind in advance of the trial as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, and thus controls the result, mixing his concoction of poisonous herbs to produce the effect he desires to justify a certain verdict either way. If the accused suffers from the poison he is adjudged guilty and is either allowed to die of the poison itself or is beaten to death, according to Wilfrid D. Hamby, assistant curator of African ethnology.

If he is innocent this fact is established by his stomach's rejection of the poison, and this may be brought about by the medicine man according to the mixture he administers. This is but one of a number of similar ordeals used in the dispensing of what the African tribesmen must accept as justice.

Dog's Brain Not Unlike That of Average Child

The dog piles up his knowledge almost wholly by association of ideas, especially pleasurable associations; and this comes very near to a perception of cause and effect, Sir W. Beach Thomas writes, in the Atlantic Monthly.

He can learn up to about 100 words. He can acquire a strong artistic sense—that is, can tell fine shades of black and gray, and distinguish a very round ellipse from a circle. He can distinguish both separate notes and ranges of notes.

His brain matter behaves very much as a child's, especially in shutting off attention from things that bore him by their unintelligibility, and can so concentrate on things that interest him that all the rest of his mind, and indeed, his other senses, are shut down.

The study of the dog's actual brain has given concrete evidence of how like it is to the mind of the child. Though soon the human mind climbs to heights that tower over the dog's attainment, its loss is permanent if it misses the perceptions proper to its doglike infancy.

Eisteddfod Unique

Over a thousand years have elapsed since King Offa set up his famous dyke for the purpose of keeping the Welsh people in a state of rigid isolation. Offa's dyke still remains. Indeed, in some places it is still of considerable height. But the little race which has been so long confined within its shadows still cherishes its native tongue with an unabating devotion.

The eisteddfod—the oldest of its distinctive institutions—still flourishes under the direction of its archdruid, and has no parallel in any other country on earth.—London Answers.

Jug-Like Hippopotamus

A huge earthenware jug, shaped like a hippopotamus, was recently discovered on the site of what was once the city of Nuzi in Mesopotamia, and is believed to be at least three thousand five hundred years old. Upon the spot where this relic was found there once existed a thriving community at a very early date. In fact the region has been called the "cradle of civilization." Within the area watered by the rivers, there were fertile farmlands which produced rich crops, and fertile meadows. There were cities, too, in which a thriving commerce was carried on.

Splendid Life Rules

Be true to your friends; stand by them in their adversity; never forget a good deed. Stand by the man who gave you credit at the bank when the banker would not, by the boy who stood by you when the breath of slander touched your reputation. Stand by the girl or woman who has stood by you. Stand by your mother and sister, for they will never forget you. If you have been elected to congress, do not placate your enemies with post offices. You cannot buy friendship worth having. Prize your friends; make as many of them as possible; be faithful to them—and make as few enemies as possible without sacrificing your principles.—Uncle Henry's Sayings, in Wallace's Farmer.

Usual Red Tape

A few weeks ago an official in one department of the civil service made an inquiry about a certain case to a subordinate official in another section, who allowed the matter to slide.

Recently the first official addressed a complaint to the subordinate's superior, and the superior passed on the minute to the subordinate with the query, "Has nothing been done?"

The minute was returned marked "Yes," and was sent back to the subordinate with a laconic "What?"

"Nothing," was the subordinate's comment on the minute.—London Tit-Bits.

King's Coach in Dublin

The city of Dublin possesses a lord mayor's coach which was presented it by William the Third, and also a mayoral chain which was given by the same monarch in 1688. Dublin, however, is not the only Irish city which received a mayoral chain from the king. He presented one to Londonderry, whose inhabitants rendered his cause such good service by holding the forces of James at bay outside the walls of their city. He also gave the corporation the right to use his colors of orange and blue.

OTTAWA CO. TEACHERS WILL GATHER FEB. 16-17

On Friday the delegates will convene in Grand Haven.

HOSPITAL BOARD RECEIVES $8,000 FROM ESTATE

The hospital board Friday received the sum of $8,000, bequeathed to them by Mrs. Maggie P. Hummer, who died here last June. The payment was made by Attorney Daniel Ten Cate and Vernon Ten Cate, co-executors. The bequest was left with the provision that it be invested and that the annual interest be used to give hospital treatment to needy women.

Mrs. Hummer was the widow of George P. Hummer, formerly superintendent of Holland schools and founder and manager of the West Michigan Furniture company.

Except for a few minor bequests the remainder of Mrs. Hummer's estate was divided among her children and grandchildren. Her daughters are Mrs. Katherine Bertels of Glen Cove, Long Island; Mrs. Hil-da Pantland of Grand Rapids.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARM NOTES

The onion and sugar beet meetings will be held on February 15 at Vriesland Town hall at 2 p. m. and at the Hudsonville High school at 7:30 instead of the date previously announced. C. H. Mahoney and Agricultural Agent Milham will speak. Onion growers are faced with the problem of controlling the size and quality of onions to satisfy the desires of the consuming trade. By growing some sugar beets under proper conditions the acreage of onions may well be reduced. An explanation of this set-up and its advantages to the growers of muck crops will be made.

The only meetings to be held for beekeepers in Ottawa county this year will be held at the Zeeland city hall at 2 p. m. and at Coopersville High school at 7:30 on February 16. Mr. Kremer, who will speak, is well known to the better beekeepers in the county for his work in the demonstration apiaries at the county infirmary, J. R. Gilbert, C. C. Lillie, Grandview Poultry Farm and Gerrit Lieverman farms. The question of summer management, preparation of honey for market and marketing will be discussed.

The Ottawa county council, newly organized to carry on agricultural work in the county, will meet at Allendale Town hall February 20 at 2 p. m. to consider the budget of the agricultural agent, and a program of work for this year. Mr. C. V. Ballard from the state college will explain the methods being carried on in several other counties where councils have been organized for the same purpose.

Farm accounting co-operators will meet February 24 and 25 to have their account books checked. This is a service the agent renders that has proved valuable to the twenty-five farmers co-operating. Any other farmers wishing to enroll in this work this year should notify Mr. Milham at Grand Haven. There is no charge for this service.

Wednesday, February 15, at 10 a. m. at the courthouse in Allegan, Mr. R. E. Decker, farm crops specialist from the Michigan State college, will meet with the local leaders of farm crops groups for the second of the 1933 series of meetings. These meetings tend to help the farmer in setting up his crop rotations to produce as much as possible all of the products he needs to take care of his live stock, thus eliminating a cash outlay for products that can be grown on his own farm.

"Give Him One of Your Cards, Bob!"

Two men in a sedan and a farmer and his boy in a smaller car had stopped on a country road for a short discussion of business in general. The farmer and one of the men from town were old friends. The other was unknown to him.

"Give Mr. Hartley one of your cards, Bob," suggested the farmer's friend. "You ought to do some business with him before long."

Now, if Bob had presented his card to Mr. Hartley, there would be little of interest to us in the transaction. But Bob did not have a card to give him!

Whatever your business or profession may be, you can't afford to be without a supply of personal cards. Your business is built by making yourself known favorably to a lot of people. When folks need, or consider, something in your line, you want them to think of you. If they have your card the chances are in your favor.

There is no better place in this community to get personal cards—for business, social or campaign use—than right at this newspaper office. Our prices will please you just as much as the cards. Let us prove it. You need them NOW!

HAMILTON

The local basketballers, after winning five games straight, were bowled over with two defeats. Hopkins was the first to give them a jolt, taking the game, 20 to 13. Friday night the boys seemed to be still dazed and dropped the game of the week in favor of a Holland team. John Kaper, local center, was on the sideline during the greater part of the game on account of a severe cold. However, it was a case in which the team simply could not get in the game. Their usual speedy attack was lacking, and in spite of all their efforts they were unable to locate the basket. Without a doubt the team will be back in form next Wednesday when they face Allegan at Allegan.

Next Friday Hopkins will be given a return game at the local hall with Junior High school staging a preliminary. It is expected that Kaper will be back in the game and the visitors will face a team determined to make up for the defeat last week. Let us be out to give the boys a boost.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Kaper, Ella Roggen, Josephine Kaper, Antoinette Kuite, Fannie Bultman, Mabel Lugten, Gertrude Vos and Morris Nienhuis attended the Union Christian Endeavor banquet which was held at Trinity Reformed church last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Maxam of Holland visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maxam, Saturday. Mrs. John Illg and daughters, Grace and Agnes, were in Grand Rapids Wednesday.

John Brink, Sr., was in Grand Rapids on business last week on Wednesday.

Jane Fairgrieve was a week-end guest at the Andrew Lubbers home.

The Hamilton youngsters had a great day last week, Wednesday. The teachers were compelled to attend an institute at Allegan and the big folks were given a free day. In our opinion they had two very good reasons for enjoying the day.

Two new enterprises have been started in this town. Clarence Billings has started a jewelry shop in the Ten Brink building. Mr. Billings has been in the business and a traveling salesman for jewelry for many years. He guarantees the best service and very low prices. Gladys Lubbers has started a reading library at her home. She has received a large number of the latest books and for a nominal sum Hamilton folks are given an opportunity to become acquainted with the latest publications. The plan has already proved to be very popular and a large number of the books called for on the opening day.

Marian Roggen visited at the home of Adelaide Maatman of Holland last week, Wednesday.

John De Haan, Ernest De Haan and son, Roger, visited Rev. and Mrs. John A. Roggen last week, Friday.

The Ladies' Missionary society held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlors last week on Thursday afternoon.

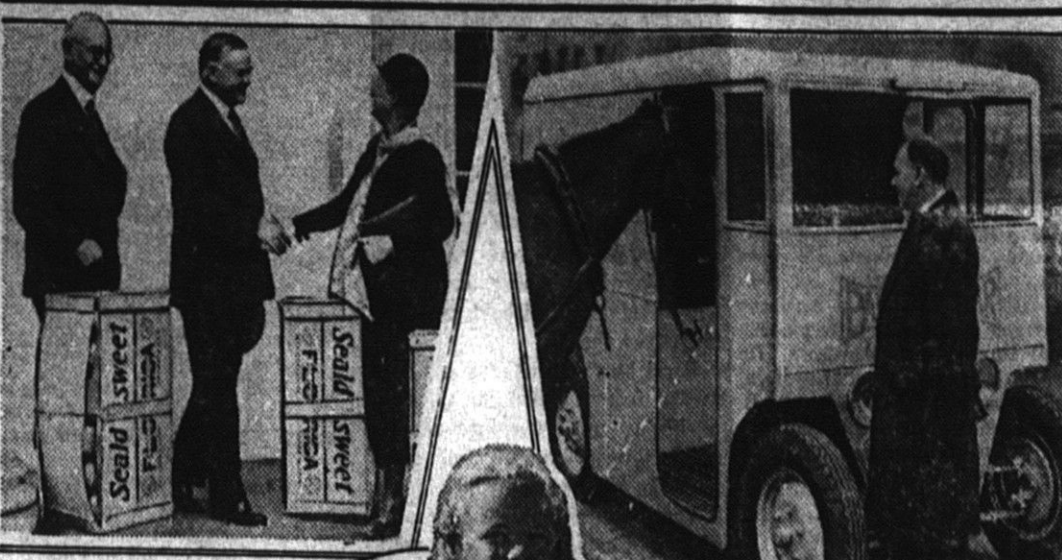

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Van Dyke and family of Fennville visited the former's mother, Mrs. J. J. Van Dyke, Mrs. B. Voorhorst, Mrs. H. D. Strabbing, Mrs. G. J. Bolks, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Henlen are confined to their homes with the flu. Harvey Zeerip, Jacob Eding, John Kalvoord, Jr. and Ed Miscooten were in Grand Rapids last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Meeuwse of Zeeland visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heinie Vos Monday. Deputy Sheriff Bert Vos has taken up the cudgel to enforce the speed law through town. Well, the deputy may be assured that all local folks are with him.

OVERISEL

Edward Fokkert was pleasantly surprised at his home in Overisel, Friday by members of his former Sunday school class and their wives. A social evening was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the women. Mr. Fokkert was presented with a bridge lamp from the group. Twenty-seven were present.

HOPE COLLEGE NEWS

M. ROTTSCHAFER AND H. DICK COMPOSE AFFIRMATIVE TEAM

On Friday, February 3, at 7:30 p. m., Hope's affirmative team, consisting of Margaret Rottschaffer and Hazel Dick clashed with Michigan State's negative team, which was upheld by Lillian Foggy and Veda Wheaton. Although not in the M. D. L. schedule, it was a decision debate. Dr. William Jellema, women's coach at Calvin college, acted as single critic judge. The debate was a lively one and proved interesting for both teams.

According to the M. D. L. schedule, Hope's affirmative team debates at Alma on February 10, and our negative at Central State on the same day. Miss Payne has not as yet decided who will represent Hope in these meets.

Holland THE HOME OF Hope College A LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE

This is the sign which will be seen very often by many of the students of Hope college who spend some of their leisure time riding to Grand Rapids or Saugatuck. It is the hope of the student council that others will also see it and take interest in it.

The student council is buying too large signs advertising the college. These signs will be placed, in the very near future on the road from Grand Rapids and the road from Chicago.

Many colleges in Michigan have done this and have found it very worthwhile. The student council thought this a very good way to tell the many tourists about our liberal arts college.

Very little is heard about the doings of the student council and many have the impression that they are doing and accomplishing very little for the school. The council has been busy and is busy. Among the things which they have done this past semester are the sponsoring of the all-college party, the sophomore and freshmen activities, and the elections of the student body.

The climax of the work of the council this semester is the all-college banquet. Miss Alma Cook, senior representative in the council, has been appointed chairman, and she and her committee are already making plans for this early spring festival.

Plans are also being made for a general clean-up day. This will take place in the spring and perhaps will be a "gala" day for Hope college.

Hope Will Meet Kazoo Team On Home Floor

TRADITIONAL RIVALS WILL FIGHT ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night the Orange and Blue basketballers will meet the Kazoo five at the Armory. It will be the initial meeting of the two schools in basketball this season. Kazoo lost several of its stars of last year by virtue of graduation. They have yet to record a Conference victory this season.

They will be struggling hard for their initial M.I.A.A. victory. The Orange and Blue have but one Conference victory to their credit, and they will be fighting hard to increase their standing.

Hope and Kazoo are traditional rivals, and a victory for Hope will please our coach immensely since he is a graduate of Kazoo College. A close and interesting game is expected, for many local Kazoo rooters will, no doubt, make the trip.

Hillsdale Five Defeats Hope By Big Margin

HOPE FROSH DEFEAT THE FRATERS IN PRELIM

Outplaying the Orange and Blue by a wide margin in the second half, Hillsdale defeated the Hope quintet last Friday night 40-25. By virtue of their victory, the Dales took temporary possession of the runner-up position in the Conference.

Hillsdale led at the half, 17-13, but soon after play resumed, the Dales swept away to a substantial lead and were never headed. Good team work and accurate shooting gave the Blue and White a comfortable lead in the latter half.

Twenty-nine personal fouls were called, sixteen against Hope and thirteen against the visitors. The Dales made good twelve of their sixteen, while Hope collected eight out of thirteen. Nykerk and Bonnette of Hope, and Mobily of Hillsdale left the game by the personal foul route. Sweeney, Dale's giant center, was high point man for the Blue and White with ten points, while Stanich ably assisted him with nine points.

Steffens collected four two-pointers for Hope, while both Van Zanden and Dalman played nice floor games for the Orange and Blue.

The Hope Frosh defeated the Fraters in the preliminary game, 29-24.

GAIN REVENGE FOR DEFEAT EARLIER IN SEASON

Central State Teachers' College gained revenge for an early season defeat by trimming the Orange and Blue quintet 32-28 last Friday night. Hope's team was crippled to a great extent. Van Zanden was out with the flu, Nykerk had a sprained ankle and Steffens, suffering from an eye infection caused Coach Hinga to use a revamped lineup.

The ball game was thrilling from beginning to end, the scoring being close throughout the entire fray. Central State led at the half 14-11. Paul was the backbone of the Central team, scoring four times from the field and five times from the free throw line for a total of thirteen points. Hamilton, flashy forward, added eight points for the Centralists.

Bonnette, with ten points, led the scoring for the Orange and Blue. Japinga, Korstanje and Boven also ably assisted. Boven, playing his first varsity game for the Orange and Blue, played a spectacular game, showing up especially well on the defensive.

FRATERS WHIP ADDITIONS; KNICKS BEAT EMMIES; SEM. TAKES COSMOS

The Fraternal basketball five, winners of the first half, started the second round of the interfraternity league with a 54 to 2 win over the Additions, while the Knickerbockers kept pace by defeating the Emersonians, 24 to 8. The Seminary added to their winning streak by taking the Cosmos, 28 to 21, in a non-league game.

Heersma's lone field goal in the first half marred the attainment of the ambition of every basketball team, holding the opponents scoreless. Decker, Van Kolken and Japinga led the Fraternals in piling up 64 points. The score at the half was 23 to 2.

"Red" De Young led the Knicks in the second-half attack to gain a 24 to 8 victory over the Emersonians. The Knicks held an 8 to 2 advantage at half time and increased it to 16 to 4 at the three-quarter mark. De Young with 6 field goals led the Knicks, while Zwemer helped with his consistent game. Rigtierink and Freeman stood out for the Emersonians.

After a tough battle the Cosmos lost to the Seminary, 26 to 21. The pre-ministers held a 6-point lead at the half but the Cosmos wiped that out in the third quarter to take a 17 to 16 advantage. However, Hoffman and Muyskens changed the outcome of the game by scoring 10 points in the last quarter. Hoffman led the scoring of the Seminary with 4 field goals and 5 foul shots. He was followed by Muyskens with 7 points. Gerrit Wiegink looked good for the Cosmos with 5 field goals and 3 foul shots. His brother, Jim, also looked good.

Times change, peoples' minds are versatile, semesters end, seldom do athletic teams stay the same, and as all these things change the "Weather-Cock" will attempt to tell you the up-to-date news, news which is "hot from the press." The news mentioned in this article concerns the latest about Coach Hinga and our basketball team, along with that information concerning M. I. A. A. competition.

Hope college played Central State with three forwards "under the weather." Steffens had the pink eye, Nykerk a sprained ankle and Ted Van Zanden was ill with the flu. This caused the coach to use four guards and a center during the last game.

Central State gave Ray Campbell's Alma team a 35-to-28 defeat last Thursday. This was the first defeat of the year for the Presbyterians.

Steve Selmac, star guard on last year's Kalamazoo team, is again eligible and should strengthen the "Hornet" team a great deal. When Hope plays Kalamazoo next Friday it will find Selmac, Louw and Krickard, former Kazoo Central stars, meeting Van Zanden, Bonnette and Korstanje for the first time since their rivalry in high school. The last time they met was in the finals of the Western State tournament. It's a small world after all.

Coach Hinga has defeated every team in the conference except his Alma Mater since coming to Hope a year ago. He hopes to add them to the list. The "Weather-Cock" predicts a victory for you, coach, and good luck to you and your boys.

With the start of the new semester we find that Arnie Van Zanten and "Stub" Boven have joined the local squad. They may add some much needed height.

Bonnette has the distinction of being the only member of the Hope squad who is not Dutch. We'll let you guess his nationality. Perhaps a little hint would be of some use. He eats Swedish bread, his mother is Irish, his father is German, he goes to a Dutch school, he buys American, and he denies the fact that he likes the "Scotch." Now guess.

In the next edition we hope to give you some more of the latest dope, nonsense, and what have you?

Salt's Effect on Stone

Solid stone is apt to play strange tricks. Extremely rapid decay occurred in the stonework of a war memorial. No one knew why until it was discovered that the memorial had been erected by a local mason, who conceived the idea of lowering a particularly heavy stone into position by supporting it on blocks of salt which were then gradually dissolved with water. The resulting decay was serious enough to cause the memorial to be dismantled within a year or two, and certain of the blocks replaced with new stone.

Pitfalls for Criminals

In a recent case where a safe had been rifled two men were suspected, but no evidence sufficient to convict them could be found until the dust on the sleeves of their coats was examined under the microscope. The examination showed that this dust was tiny particles of the fireproof cement used for the packing of the safe. A man's occupation can be discovered by the minute particles of dust taken from his ears. Flour shows the baker, minute particles of wood the carpenter, and tiny threads the weaver.

Lavish Hospitality in California in Forties

California hospitality of the forties is quality and accurately described by Rev. Walter Colton, who was alcalde of Monterey in the early forties, says an article in the Los Angeles Times.

"I have never seen a community to rival this in its spirit of hospitality and generous regard," he writes. "Such is the welcome to the privileges of the private hearth that a public hotel has never existed in California. You are not expected to wait for a particular invitation but to come without the slightest ceremony, make yourself entirely at home and tarry as long as suits your inclination. You are no longer a stranger in the family, awaken no apologies and are greeted every morning with the same bright smile. If a stranger you are not expected to bring a formal letter of introduction. No one thinks any the better of a man who carries the credentials of his character and standing in his pocket. If you turn out to be different from what your first impression and fair speech promised, still you are met with no frowning looks, no impatience for your departure. You still enjoy in full that charity which is long suffering and kind. Generous, forbearing people of California there is more true hospitality in one throb of your heart than circulates in years through the courts and capitals of kings."

To Promote Discoveries

The Royal Geographical society of England was founded in 1830. The object is to collect, register, digest and print in a cheap and convenient form such useful and interesting facts and discoveries as the society might from time to time acquire. It has always welcomed to its fellowship those anxious to further this object by their interest and support as well as those able to take more active part in the work of discovery and exploration. Candidates for admittance into the society must be proposed and seconded by the fellows.

The news item which appeared in last week's paper involving Harold Van Alsburg, Route 6, of larceny, was a misstatement. In an interview with Justice Huxtable at Zeeland Mr. Huxtable stated that this information did not come from him and he did not know who sent it in.

The true statement about this matter is a misunderstanding between Mr. Van Alsburg and a station attendant at Zeeland over a gas charge and failure to pay for gas on a stated day. The matter has been satisfactorily settled.

Ocean Depths Explored

Bottles that seal themselves four miles below the surface of the Pacific, thermometers that record deep sea temperatures and fish living in black bottles reveal to scientists many odd facts of the sea. At the University of California's Institute of Oceanography a group of scientists are plumbing the ocean's depths trying to learn why the ocean is saltier in some areas than in others and what goes on at the bottom of the sea. Fish nearly black and others transparent have been brought up from the depths.

Mather's Belief in Witches

Cotton Mather did literally subscribe to belief in witchcraft. In 1685 he wrote "Morable Providences Relating to Witchcraft and Possessions," in which he told of cases he had observed. During the Salem witchcraft excitement in 1692 he published "Wonders of the Invisible World" to confirm believers in that kind of demoniac possession.

History of Allegan County's Deer Herd

Fifty years ago Allegan county was the camping ground of many deer-hunting parties from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and many other states. They chose their camp sites along Bear and Swan creeks, Big Dalley, Buckhorn and Palmer bayous and other landings along the Kalamazoo river. Deer were plentiful, good killings were made, parties enjoyed their stay, and hunted and killed game without any limit to restrict them.

Local hunters, without any view to the future, killed for the sake of killing until the larger game animals were exterminated; along with the turkeys and wild pigeons.

Years passed, another generation of people came on, cut over white pine timberland grew up to scrub oak, of which we now have about 40,000 acres, including miles of river flats. This territory has been sparsely populated with any form of wild animal life because of the ruthless extermination of every living creature by unscrupulous hunters. Then the conservation department of the state came forth with its protective laws and an educational division to teach protection and preservation of natural resources.

Sportsmen's organizations have been formed to take care of the local problems with great success. The Allegan Rod and Gun Club is one of these. It has a large membership and a long list of achievements. Considerable credit is due its officers, Floyd Harter, president, and George Hoffman, secretary-treasurer. A successful bluegill rearing pond has been conducted. This stock of fish, along with thousands furnished by the state, have been planted in various lakes throughout the county.

This club and the county at large is indebted to Sheriff Guy Teed for the purchase of four deer (two pair) in January, 1931, the foundation stock for a herd in Allegan county. Since that time through the efforts of Sheriff Teed and the co-operation of Conservation Officer Harry Plotts, with donations from citizens of Allegan, Fennville and Saugatuck, the Hamilton Gun Club, and the Plainwell Isaak Walton League, we have 25 deer running at large in this wooded section. Several fawn were born this year, the natural increase was 1933 should be sixteen fawns and for 1934 about twenty-four of the little spotted fellows should be added to the herd. This project already has become an asset to the community and the sight of one of these white tails is a priceless pleasure to a great many outdoorsmen.

Another contribution to wild life has been the release of a flock of wild turkeys during 1931 by James B. Balch, Kalamazoo, on his 1200 acre game and bird sanctuary in Lee township.

The appearance of beaver along some of the streams during 1930 with their cuttings of food timber and building of dams, has been watched closely by interested admirers. The planting of many pheasants by the department of conservation, the bass and bluegill rearing ponds of the Plainwell Isaak Walton League, the bass pond of the Fennville Sportsmen's organization, located at the Simonson bird and wild life sanctuary at "Old PIER Cove" in Ganges township, where once stood one of our early water-powered flour mills, have all combined to make Allegan county stand out as a nature loving community and one worthy of emulation.—Kalamazoo Sunday Gazette, "Our Woods and Waters and Wilds" page, conducted by Ben East.

Olympic Winners Honored

While the present-day Olympic games are modeled after the ancient Greek games, there are important differences. The Greek games were really religious festivals, dedicated to Zeus, being manifestations of physical perfection, which the Greeks considered godlike. Therefore, winners of the games became national heroes, their praises were sung by the greatest poets, statues were erected to perpetuate their memory and, in Athens, they were pensioned for life.

Fourteen-Foot Task

What is believed to be the largest task of a hairy mammoth ever discovered by modern man has been presented to the natural history division of the British museum in London. The task is nearly 14 feet in length and is in a good state of preservation. It was found in a remote spot in northern Siberia, and given to the department of geology of the natural history division of the museum.

Getting and Giving

Getting may be the most important thing in life, according to your ideas. Others, however, measure your stature by what you give, not by what you grab. No man is a success who enriches only himself. You succeed only as your success enriches the entire community.—Grit.

is effective because of organization and preparedness, rather than luck. But it is just as much a scientific miracle as the other.

The Problem of the Railroads

THE difficulty of solving the railroad problem has been greatly increased by the development of competing means of transportation by highway, waterway and airway, which are aided by subsidies by our national and state governments, and by exemption from such regulation as is applied to the railroads. The importance of the railroads to the economic welfare of the country is such that constructive efforts to solve the problem must be made at once, confronted as we are by evidence of the effects produced upon the entire industry and commerce of the country by the decline in railroad earnings.

THE SERVICE OF THE RAILWAYS IS INDISPENSABLE FOR HANDLING THE GREAT BULK OF OUR COMMERCE.

HERE are the facts as to the decline in railway earnings during this depression. The gross earnings in 1929 were $6,360,000,000 while in 1932 they will approximate only $3,200,000,000. Railroad operating expenses are 45 per cent less than they were in 1929, a decline of $2,052,000,000. This was effected by the reduction in the number of employees by about 620,000 and in the total wages paid them about $1,325,000,000. Purchases of fuel, materials and equipment have been cut about $1,430,000,000. The total reduction in wages paid, and purchases, exceeds $2,750,000,000.

THE recovery of the railways is essential to the recovery of national prosperity and they cannot recover under government policies that promote every kind of competition with them and at the same time impose every kind of restriction upon the steam lines to prevent them from meeting this competition.

EXPERIENCE AND COMMON SENSE DICTATE THAT EQUALIZATION OF TAXATION AND EQUITABLE REGULATION ARE NEEDED IN ALL BRANCHES OF TRANSPORTATION.

IMMEDIATE, vigorous action by national, state and local executives and legislators is required. They alone have the opportunity and the power to enact and enforce the remedial legislation on taxation and regulation so necessary in this extreme exigency.

THROUGH forthright action the tide can be turned, and by bringing back the railroads' purchasing power, and by their larger employment of labor, all industry will be quickened simultaneously. Every man, woman and child in the country would be benefited by this correction of basic causes.

A Noble Legacy

OURS IS A GENEALOGY of which to be proud. A genealogy that wears the name of Lincoln proudly. In the light of the lofty, the noble tradition he bequeathed us it would be difficult to wander far from the straight road he indicated for us.

A road that runs a straight course, that never turns aside to take a doubtful or devious path to the realization of a national ideal of peace, of plenty of happiness for all. So in the inspiration of his courage, a courage that did not falter in darker days than we have known, let us go confidently forward.

Sportsmen Get Time to Study Nature Now

FEBRUARY IS TERMED "ZERO MONTH" FOR HUNTING

February is the "zero month" for sportsmen. Even the rabbit season is closed, and unless one wishes to hunt bobcats on which there is no closed season, ice fishing offers the only outdoor diversion. Trout fishermen are counting the days to the first of May—and getting together evenings to lay in a new supply of hatched lures.

Yet a trip through the fields and woods in February is not without its surprises. You may see flocks of bluejays moving north and south, but they are not migrating. They merely are seeking happier hunting grounds. You may discover coons swinging freely in the winds, which you see them in winter. Some of the trees show considerable swelling of the buds. Try to find a silver maple, which is one of the first to burst into flower.

Can Study Trees
And don't forget that winter is the best time of all the year to study the "architecture" of trees. Every tree has a characteristic form and branching, but all of the species are not necessarily of an exact pattern. While you are observing the shapes of the trees, you should take note of the bark and the buds as you see them in winter. Some of the trees show considerable swelling of the buds. Try to find a silver maple, which is one of the first to burst into flower.

Toward the close of the month, if the weather is warm, you will find an occasional pussy willow getting a jump on spring. If you wish, you may cut the branches of willow and bring them inside. The "pussies" will come out much sooner in warmth.

Little Insect Life
You will find little insect life in February, but you may find the "haw butterfly," the mourning cloak, on a warm day. These are individuals that have hatched late in the fall and have hidden themselves away under loose bark, where they will return in the cold weather between now and spring. Be sure to study the strange swellings called "galls" on the stems of goldenrod, on willows, oaks and cat-tails. If the gall is unmolested you will find a larva of the gallfly inside upon cutting it open, but if the gall has been pecked at, the birds have been feeding on both the gall and the insect. More than likely the hairy and downy woodpeckers have made a meal on them.

SALES TAX DISCUSSED AT VAN RAALTE CLUB

The Parent-Teacher association of Van Raalte school met Monday evening, two weeks earlier than usual, so that the arguments for the sales tax petition might be presented to the club members.

The speakers included Superintendent E. E. Fell, Henry Geerlings and Andrew Klomprens of the school board.

Mr. Fell in his discourse stated that the schools today require practical training to fit the pupil for earning a living and for enjoying life, not merely a preparation for college as did the schools of more restricted enrollment of former days.

Mr. Geerlings said in part as follows: "The citizens of tomorrow can only be educated properly if the citizens of today will do their share in backing them financially as well as in other ways. A real citizen wishes his neighbor's children educated even if his own has finished school."

Mr. Klomprens, in addressing the club members, compared the benefits gained from money spent for the sake of the children with those gained from spending money for roads and for other public purposes.

A short talk on safety at home and on the highways was given by Walter A. Buck, safety director of the Grand Rapids district.

A. Peerbolt led the devotions. Musical selections consisted of two clarinet solos by Roger Stroop and numbers on the accordion by Andrew Van Liere.

William Visser of Holland suffered a fracture of his leg above the ankle while pulling down a tree. The rope accidentally broke and Visser lost his balance and keeled over. His leg was twisted in the fall.

Club With Full Treasury Cancels Dues For Year

Detroit News:—With sufficient funds on hand to operate its rearing ponds and to take care of all regular expenses for three years, the Holland Fish and Game Club voted to allow all members who enrolled during the last four years to renew their memberships without cost for the year of 1933, reports Joseph C. Rhea, secretary. The club now has 1000 members, and an active campaign has been started to boost this membership to 1500.

At its annual meeting, the club again recorded its opposition to the shooting preserve law, and by resolution, favored the retention of the staggered system of conservation commissions. The organization is also actively backing the position of the Collins-Gerhardt, Pine River case (State vs. Ne-B-Shone Association).

Officers for 1933 will be Frank M. Lievens, president; Cornelius Klaassen, vice president; Jacob M. Lievens, secretary; Cornelius Van Dyke, treasurer; Joseph C. Rhea, corresponding secretary. Directors are John Eaton, Andrew Klomprens, Sam Althuis, Henry Geerlings, Henry Vanderschel, and William Wolldring.

Work done by the club during the past season includes the planting of 400 trees on the club's property, planting 400,000 bluegill fingerlings in public waters, and of 10,000 large bass.

Two M. I. A. conference rivals will clash here tonight in the lone basketball attraction of the week. Hope college entertains the Kalamazoo college Hornets in a game at the armory court.

Hope and Kalamazoo are rivals of long standing. Even before the days of Coach Bud Hinga's athletic career at Kalamazoo, the Dutch and the Hornets were bitter rivals. In the past few years Kalamazoo has copied the league court title, but Hope has always been one of the hardest outfits to defeat.

Former players of Holland and Kalamazoo Central High schools will feature the rivalry tonight. Kriekard, Selmay and other members of the Hornet squad were players at Kalamazoo Central three years ago when Holland was eliminated from the state tournament by one point. Van Zanden, Bonnette and Korstanje were Holland players now at Hope.

Coach Bud Hinga expects to have Van Zanden and Nykerk ready for action tonight, while Stan Boven, former Holland Christian High star, will make his varsity debut before the home crowds. The probable Hope line-up is Steffens and Van Zanden, forwards; Korstanje, center, and Boven and Bonnette as guards.

The Rutgers Clothiers, Holland's leading independent team, will meet the Muskegon Sanitary Dairy team in the preliminary game starting at 7:15 o'clock. The Muskies have lost only one game in 22 starts this season, and hold victories over Rutgers, Piepers and Keefers. The main attraction will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Two Holland amateur boxers are all that remain from the Elks team of eleven members that entered the Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Rapids. The local boys, Dent Norlin and Bud Hertz, will fight in the finals this evening.

Norlin, a former high school football star, has won three bouts, two of them by knockouts, while Hertz has won a pair of contests. Neil Remy, Holland's ace of Simon pures, was beaten in the second round, and George Boeks won three bouts before being eliminated.

Holland High has a Southwestern conference game with Kalamazoo Central at the Celery City this evening. Kalamazoo is holding joint leadership in the league with Muskegon Heights.

Holland Christian goes to Zeeland tonight and will be trying for its tenth straight victory. The Maroons defeated Zeeland here several weeks ago and should have little difficulty in the return game.

January Gives An Unusual Weather Record

EXCEEDED ONLY BY JANUARIES IN 1880 AND 1932 AS TO HIGH TEMPERATURES

January, 1933, will go down in the annals of the Ottawa county weather bureau as the third warmest first month of the year, being only exceeded by the Januarys in 1880 and 1932. The average temperature for the month was 32.9 degrees or 8.6 degrees above normal. All but three days of the months were above normal. Daily maximum temperature records for the 10th and 22nd were broken. The highest temperature of the month was 54 degrees on the 22nd. The lowest was 11 on the 29th.

The greatest daily range was 26 degrees on the 11th and the least daily range was 3 on the 26th. Very little ice formation took place during the month. The greatest 24-hour snowfall was 1.5 inches on the 12th and 13th and the greatest depth on the ground was four inches on the 13th.

Thunder was heard on the 22nd, a rare happening for January. Precipitation totaled 1.51 inches, compared to the normal of 2.41 inches and the total snowfall being only 4.9 inches compared to a normal of 17.0 inches. The greatest rainfall on 24th was .42 inches. The greatest 24-hour rainfall was 4.5 inches on the 18th and 19th.

Wind movement was about normal. The total movement was 9848 miles or an average of 13.2 miles per hour. The maximum velocity was 41 miles per hour from the west on the 11th and the least daily velocity or more were recorded on five days of the month compared to the normal of three per month.

Sunshine averaged 28 per cent of the possible compared to the normal of 25 per cent. Cloudiness was about normal. There were 4 clear, 4 partly cloudy, and 23 cloudy days in the month. Dense fog was recorded on three days. Solar halos were seen on two days.

275 PULLETS LOST IN BLAZE ON FARM

ASK DROP IN LICENSE FEE ON FISHING

Commission Recommends Reduction to Old Rates.
Reduction in the cost of various hunting, fishing and trapping licenses; protection for skunks and foxes; increase in the bag limit of grouse, and deletion of the license button requirement of the law will be recommended to the 1933 session of the legislature by the conservation commission.

The commission at its December meeting went on record as favoring a reduction of the small game license fee to $1.25 and the deer hunting license to $2.50, figures corresponding with the fee charged prior to 1931.

The commission's recommendations for license fees are:
Small game hunting license—Resident, $1.25; non-resident, $1.0.
Resident deer, $2.50; non-resident deer, $2.5.

Non-resident angler, $3. (Provision should be made so that the wife of a purchaser of this license may obtain a license for $1.00.)
Resident fishing (general) $1. (Should permit fishing for wife and minor children.)

General trapping (except beaver). Residents $3.
Under the recommendations a general trapping license is sought which would remove the trapping clause from the small game license and which would include muskrats. The license would permit all trapping except for beaver.

Other recommendations include retention of the Shiras Gun law as it was effective prior to 1931; placing foxes and skunks on the list of protected animals, but with a long open hunting and trapping season; adjusting the law so that deer may be transported across the state boundary; increasing the season's bag limit of partridges from 10 to 20, and removing the requirement for having a license "button."

The clerk also presented in this connection a communication from the appeal board stating that they are making a survey of property owners affected so as to get a more complete understanding of the sentiment of those people. Alderman Jonkman moved that the date of hearing be set for the next council meeting February 15, 1933, supported by Alderman Huyser.

After some discussion on the matter in which it was stated that the appeal board expected to have some more definite report to present at the next meeting the matter was postponed and no action taken.

The clerk presented communication from the Michigan Municipal league reporting the introduction in the house of representatives of a bill that proposes to divest transient peddlers of their interstate commerce exemptions and subject them to municipal license. The communication further suggests that if the common council approves the passage of such legislation that a resolution to this effect be transmitted to our representatives in congress.

section of the city. The estimate of the cost covering all this work was $7,476.15.

The communication further recommended that the cost be assessed against the abutting property owners in five yearly installments, beginning in the year 1935, and a date for a hearing on these projects be set.

The mayor objected to waiting for a hearing and also stated that he wished to change his former recommendation of an assessment of project, and have the work done without a charge against the property owners. There was considerable discussion on this subject, and the aldermen expressed the opinion that they would be setting a dangerous precedent by charging such expense to the city at large. The mayor took the position that these were unusual times, and since there were so many men on the welfare list who were being supported by the city that they might as well be doing something and receive credit on their account for these labors.

On motion of Alderman Prins, seconded by Jonkman, City engineer was instructed to proceed at once with this work on streets in Chamber of Commerce subdivision only.

On motion of Alderman Van Lente, seconded by Hyma,

The city engineer was further instructed to rent such trucks as might be necessary in addition to city trucks.

The sewer committee reported recommending that a sanitary sewer be constructed in Fairbanks avenue from Eleventh street and north to Fourth street.

Adopted and board of public works instructed to prepare the necessary plans, specifications and estimate of cost.

The welfare committee reported estimate of cost of erecting traf-amount of money expended for the last two weeks as $5,407.44, of which sum $2,111.25 is for welfare orders under the former system, and $3,296.19 for the balance of claims paid.

Accepted and filed.

Alderman Jonkman reported progress in the matter of securing data relative to a reduction in gas rates.

Mayor Bosch, subject to the approval of the council, appointed the following citizens as members of the "Industrial Commission," formerly known as the "Bonus Committee": Mayor, city attorney, Aldermen Woltman, Charles Kirchen, Otto P. Kramer, D. B. K. Van Raalte, Wynand Wichers, George Pelgrim, Arie Vander Hill. Approved.

Communications from Board and City Officers.

The claims approved by the hospital board in the sum of $3,015.56; park and cemetery board, $561.19; police and fire board, $2,692.46; board of public works, $41,422.14; were ordered certified to the council for payment. (Said claims on file in clerk's office for public inspection.) Allowed.

Approved.

The clerk presented communication from board of public works covering tests of gas for the month of January, 1933. These tests show an average for the month of 594 b. t. u., with a maximum of 654 b. t. u.

Accepted and filed.

The clerk presented a communication from police board reporting fic light at intersection of State and Twenty-fourth streets of approximately $700. Board further reported that arrangements were being made between chief of police and school authorities to safeguard the school children by other safety means.

Referred to Alderman Huyser to take up with Chief Lieveke for solution.

The clerk presented communication from American Legion band extending an invitation to council members and their families to attend their concert at Carnegie hall on Friday evening, February 3. Accepted with thanks.

Motions and Resolutions.

On motion of Alderman Prins, seconded by Kleis,

The local chapter of the American Red Cross was given a rising vote of thanks for their assistance in carrying on the relief work by the distribution of flour and clothing.

Messrs. Peter Zalsman and William Woldring, being present, addressed the council and asked if some method of relief could be worked out whereby the delinquent taxpayers could work out their delinquent taxes. The mayor called on the city attorney, who responded that there was no provision in our charter for such procedure.

Mr. Woldring reported that he understood some property owners who were supported by the city found means to pay their taxes, while others not on the welfare list could not pay them. Mr. Woldring was requested to report to the welfare director such persons if he knew who they were.

Messrs. Shearer and Van Eyck appeared before the council for the purpose of making some arrangements with the city in regard to getting the services of men on the welfare list to cut wood on shares. Referred to special committee of three with Alderman Huyser as chairman, and he to select his other two committee men. Said committee to get details of plan and report to general welfare committee for a decision.

Adjournment.

OSCAR PETERSON, City Clerk.
