Klein Nederland Now Actually A Dead Proposal

ALDERMAN DRINKWATER
MAKES MOTION THAT MAT-TER BE DROPPED.

Matter of Traffic Judge Is Deferred. City Attorney Says it Should Be Police Judge.

"Klein Nederland" is to be only a mind picture instead of a beautiful landscape with a Dutch complex in the large swamp north of the city.

The proposal has had a stormy career not only in common council but in several civic organizations and on the street. There is a division of opinion as to the feasibility but at last a project of little more than a third of a million was mapped out with the understanding that the United States government was to take this project on its merit and Holland was not to stand any of the losses.

The government came back with a detailed request for information and asked for the cost of this reclamation, the revenues expected, the type of buildings and how constructed, the labor involved, the cost of material of miniature bridges, a drawing of every unit in detail, drawing according to scale, a federal dredging permit, the number of people expected during 20 weeks of the resort season and what kind of foundations would be necessary to hold up the building in a solid manner.

There was silence in the council when all this was exacted. Alderman Jonkman, however, got up and said that he felt it was a hopeless task. The cost of constructing foundations for building under water and the details connected with such kinds of construction needed an engineer and the preliminary expense would be considerable, it was thought.

Alderman Steffens, Wolman, Klein and De Cock all spoke on the matter, asking for more information and doubting the advisability of spending money on what looked to be a hopeless cause.

Alderman Drinkwater then got up and suggested that we drop the whole matter and save the expense. Alderman Kleis proposed that the government request be filed, which was unanimously approved by the members of the council, which naturally means "death" to "Klein Nederland."

A recreational project, sponsored by the Exchange club, was approved by the council. Property between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets and between Maple and Pine avenue, will be turned over to the playground committee for construction of a swimming pool, dressing rooms, tennis courts, horse shoe courts, shuffle board and sand box, provided the project wins approval of CWA officials.

It is estimated to cost between $7,000 and $10,000, 75 per cent more of which will be spent for labor.

President Andrew Klomparsen of the Exchange club made a plea for these grounds and he stated that his hobby has always been to give the children "a break." Mr. Klomparsen states that the swimming pool would be 125 feet wide and 300 feet long with a depth at one end of 36 inches, while the other end would be 18 feet deep where swimmers could swim. There would be a battery of tennis courts in concrete that could be turned into skating ponds in the winter; also a battery of horse shoe courts. The sand box, 50x77 feet, would be for children to play in.

Alderman Habing figured that 75 per cent would go for labor and the rest for material.

Mayor Bosch stated that it was a very worthy cause and he served the support of all the aldermen.
Upon a motion of Alderman Van Zaen, supported by Alderman Kleis, the project passed unanimously.

Mr. Klomparsen presented his case briefly but earnestly and the aldermen fell in with his plans. He stated that the CWA considered playgrounds for children the first on the list.

Another matter that came up and requested by the police board was the establishing of a traffic court and a judge to preside over this court. City Attorney Lokker stated that this would be folly but that instead of a traffic judge handling only traffic violations a police court should be established handling all cases and this would do away with all justices of the peace and all police court matters would be centralized and taken care of by a man with a legal mind and who knew the law. He stated that he was not ready to pass upon how this was to be done but undoubtedly a change of character would have to be made and special legislation as this relates to Holland be brought about. It was deemed at least advisable to get this information and Mr. Lok-ker was called upon to go into the matter further should such a more be contemplated in the future.

Douglas chapter No. 203, O.E.S., will give a public card party at the village hall Friday evening, Feb. 9.
Everybody welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Jonker have left for Pella, Iowa, where they were called on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Jonker's brother, Rusk.

Mrs. N. Dykhuizen of West Third street entertained with a buffet supper at her home Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Martha Sherwood who will leave this Friday for Florida. Ten guests were present.

Word was received here of the birth of a daughter on January 31 to Rev. and Mrs. W. Idris Jones, missionary in Keith Falconer mission of Aden, Arabia. Mrs. Jones before her marriage was Miss Swartina De Young, formerly connected with the Arabian mission of the Reformed Church. She was graduated from Hope college in 1923.

COUNCIL NOTES

Mayor Bosch opened the council meeting by having the members and audience arise and salute the flag. Thereupon Rev. Fred Van Dyke, pastor of Central Park Reformed church, opened the deliberations with prayer.

Letters were received from Congressman Mapes and Senator Vanderberg upon the request of the Holland common council asking that CWA funds be continued so that some of the Holland proposed projects may materialize.
Both men wrote that they were doing their best to have it continue.

Damstra Bros. asked for a building permit of $1,600 to remodel the building on College avenue recently burned. City Attorney Lokker stated that blue prints should be submitted in order that the amount of repairs could be checked up. Alderman Habing stated the building was in the fire limits and if not granted to be rebuilt Damstra Bros. could consider the building a total loss for it would have to be wrecked. Mayor Bosch suggested that the matter be left to the fire chief and city engineer and decision should come quickly in order that Damstra Bros. would lose no time in starting to rebuild if the decision was favorable.

The two cars asked for by the police board were not granted at this time since there was no appropriation for this purpose.

A proposal to straighten out Lincoln avenue from Sixteenth to Twenty-fourth street is a matter between city and county and is now receiving attention. This is the dirt road east of Bolhuis Lumber Co., Holland Furnace Co. and the Baker Furniture Co.

Alderman Drinkwater seeks but finds no one. He was a committee of one to look after those white ants in those old ice houses at Montello Park but it appears that ants go under ground in the winter time so Mayor Bosch suggested that we wait until summer to see whether these are really there.
City Clerk Peterson also received a communication from the state informing him that white ants never appear above ground in the winter time.

Increase of the police force to one officer for every 1,000 persons subject to charter changes will be submitted at the April election.
Today there is one policeman for every 1,600 which does not give adequate protection.

The common council recommended a change in location for the proposed new warehouse for the board of public works, listed as a CWA project. It was stated the site selected was in the region of a sink hole area and much difficulty would be anticipated in finding a suitable and safe bottom at moderate cost. It also was stated that a new location could be purchased for less money than the risk of trying to build on a site which had no solid bottom.

The matter was referred to a committee to confer with the board for a proper solution. The man who brought up this project was Alderman Jonkman, who felt that the site was much land filled in and that it was evident that a road-fill-in near the site had gone down at least two feet and he could not notice the contour of the swamp where it was filled in. Mr. Jonk-man stated that it was not his intention to criticize but rather to point out what he believed to be a fact. The mayor stated that the board of public works has been very nice to the council all along and he wished a committee to confer rather than to dictate any changes that might be contemplated. Alderman Kleis moved that the matter be given to the committee on public building to confer with the board.

Alderman Habing again asked that those living around the sewer disposal plant be given some relief from the odorous condition.
It takes money to do that and no alderman had a suggestion unless it was made possible through government aid and the government aid such a proposal before it at this time—but action seems to be slow.

Folks want to know whether the city of Holland or the park board will replace new trees for the box elders that have been ordered taken out. Not a few residents are rather bitter to see their trees removed and their homes are left in the sun with very little prospects of shade soon. They at least want the city to put in trees at the city's expense. The matter was referred to the park board.

The following election inspectors were appointed: Sam Miller, first ward; Dr. Curtis, second ward; Harry Jones, third ward; William Lawrence, fourth ward; Alex Van Zanten, fifth ward; Herman Steggerda, sixth ward.

The number of election clerks as follows: First ward 6, second ward 5, third ward 6, fourth ward 6, fifth ward 7, and sixth ward 6.

Polling places in the various wards will be open from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the primary elections March 5, common council determined last evening. Alderman Albert P. Kleis' motion prevailed, setting the voting deadline.

Mrs. B. Sloat of East Tenth street was honored recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Van Keulen, in Grand Rapids, where a group of friends gathered in celebration of her birthday anniversary. A three-course lunch was served. Guests included Mrs.
Fred Kamferbeck, Mrs. Fred Schermer, Mrs. G. Schaffner, Mrs.
H. Schermer and Mrs. B. Sloat of Holland and Mrs. William Sloat of Michigan.

Local Drug Firm Will Exhibit At Big Drug Show

BEAUTIFUL DE PREE COM-PANY DISPLAY WILL BE IN HANDS OF WILLIS DIEKE-MA AND JAMES DE PREE.

The special San-Tox exhibit seen by so many local people at the Model Drug Store last fall will next be shown at the great Northwest Drug Show held in connection with the Golden Anniversary of the Minnesota Pharmaceutical Association February 13th to 16th.
The De Pree delegation to the Convention will include Willis A.
Diekema, manager of the company, James De Pree and L. C.
Brackett, special representatives, and E. L. Haddleton, Minnesota State representative of the company.

Mr. Diekema states that since the exhibit at the Model Drug Store many colorful new items have been added to the already beautiful line of merchandise, and that the impetus which this new line has given to their sales, plus the generally improved business conditions, has been reflected in a larger full-time working force.

One of the interesting things about the De Pree Company is the fact that they not only make their own pharmaceuticals, but also the packages in which they are marketed. The company operates its own printing and box-making plant where multi-color printing of boxes and labels is an industry all by itself. The presses of the De Pree Company are used exclusively for their own work—no outside printing of any kind being handled.

Many alterations have recently been made in the De Pree Company buildings to accommodate the larger run of business in the several departments. Manufacturing equipment has been augmented and relocated to avoid extra steps in manufacturing and effect operating economies. Recently the printing department was expanded to twice its former size.

The River avenue buildings, formerly occupied by the De Pree Laboratories for the manufacture of arsenicals, are now the new home of Riggi Candy Company for whom the De Pree Company are selling agents.

Thus the new San-Tox line contains not only the standard remedies and special lines of toilet preparations, but also a line of candies manufactured in the company's own building and marketed under the signature of "Aunt Molly's Kitchen."

Mr. Diekema reports that January started off with a substantial increase over the corresponding month last year and that indications are that the company will make considerable progress during the current year.

This is the first time the company has ever shown its line of products at the Northwest Drug Show, which is an annual event for the druggists of North and South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and northern Michigan.

The common council has finally awarded the contract to construct a water system in this city. The News has consistently advocated such a move for at least three years. It was a great undertaking but the public is thoroughly convinced of the needs of better fire protection. In the different awards $2,630 was allowed for building and grounds. The sums for the various contracts amounted to $19,470 which includes 30 fire hydrants for $965. All the pipe required cost $9,571.68. The pumping machinery cost $4,328. There were several other items in the figures given. Note Compared to present day prices for machinery and construction the prices of those days looked like "pin money," but it was a tremendous undertaking nevertheless, for values and earnings were far below even our present day levels.
Holland took a tremendous step forward and this project proved to be the nucleus of our wonderful municipal water, light and power plant of today, an enterprise that has paid to Holland in earnings alone near a million dollars and besides this city has one of the finest properties in the United States in a city of this size; with water, light and power rates extremely low. Volumes have been printed on this enterprise, the hospital it built, the welfare it helped, the bonds it paid—you know the story.
Its fame is nationwide—its affairs have been ably handled by able, honest men and politics does not exist and that tells the story.

HOLLAND TO GET NEXT MEETING OF TOURIST AND RESORT ASSN.

William M. Connelly and the delegation from Holland were successful in securing the next Michigan Tourist and Resort meet at Warm Friend Tavern, Holland, some time this spring.

A meeting was held at Hotel Whitcomb at St. Joe, and Holland had the largest delegation and the most peppy bunch present.

The guest speaker was Lee Hutchins, Jr., of Grand Rapids, a courteous and of his illustrious father. Mr. Hutchins spoke of the benefits that the tourists bring to Michigan. The figures were almost unbelievable. It is the second largest industry Michigan has.
Drug business alone in western Michigan during July and August was increased at least 40 per cent and retail business from 50 to 75 per cent.

William M. Connelly pointed out that resorts meant much to Holland and all cities along these shores. He said it well for a community to think of its schools and support them liberally, but an equal amount of money should be spent to give occupation to those who graduate from these schools and resort enterprises could not help but be one of these avenues.

Mr. Connelly stated that in Holland was beginning to work on a plan along these lines which is not nearly complete, but "in the making."

Frank Blakely of Grand Rapids presided over the meeting because of the absence of Hugh A. Gray, secretary, who was ill.

Others from Holland who attended were John Arendshorst, Vaudie Vandenberg, Henry Oost-ing, C. C. Wood, W. R. Pemberton, Ben Lievensen and Isaac Kouw.

U. S. DOLLAR STILL WORTH 100 PENNIES

The man-on-the-street with a dollar in his pocket needn't look at it any differently today because of its revaluation at 90.06 per cent of a former gold equivalent. The effect should be looked for elsewhere.

President Roosevelt hopes the devaluation will be shown first in the list of commodity prices. That is, that the same dollar wouldn't buy quite as much as it did before; the theory being that higher gold prices mean higher commodity prices.

Even so, the administration does not look for such a projected dollar "shrinkage" in terms of buying power to leap into effect so quickly as to bring an instantaneous change in prices.

Meanwhile, if the man-on-the-street would feel better by having his dollar changed into pennies he still would get 100 of the coppers.
Or if the weight bothers him the dollar is still worth ten times.

CITY HALL NOW BELONGS TO CITY OF HOLLAND

The common council authorized the payment of the two last city hall bonds. Twenty-five years ago when the building was built the city sold $50,000 worth of bonds to be paid off at the rate of 2,000 a year.

Well, the last $2,000 bonds were due on February 1 an dthe common council ordered them paid and there is no debt on the city hall today and a building that cost the City of Holland at that time the sum of $58,000 could not be duplicated at $150,000 today. That was a real bargain and one contractor went broke on it.

HURT IN AN ACCIDENT

Word has been received here from Wausau, Wisconsin, that Mrs. Anthony Karreman was seriously injured at her home where Rev. and Mrs. Karreman were entertaining at an afternoon tea.
Mrs. Karreman and her two daughters were busy in the kitchen of the parsonage when a large consignement of plaster broke loose from the ceiling, falling on the head of Mrs. Karreman, who was rendered unconscious and was in serious condition.

Word late today indicated that she is somewhat improved.
Mrs. Karreman is a daughter of Mrs. L. Mulder of Holland.

Bombs Fall Near Tena Holkeboer In China War Zone

INTERESTING LETTER FROM MISSIONARY IN ORIENT TELLING OF SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENT FOLKS.

By TENA HOEKEBOER

On Saturday evening our Middle school gave its Christmas program. Sunday was a quiet day.
On Monday our Middle school went out as usual to give gifts to the poor. We went to the prison and gave a suit of under clothes to each of 200 prisoners, also bread and oranges. We went to the old people's home and presented each of the old bodies with enough cloth to make a garment. We went to the home for girl refugees (from brothels and runaway slave girls), and gave them each cloth for a garment, a towel, and oranges and candy. We also went to two stations begun by our Chinese Women's Missionary society and there gave presents to 100 people each (cloth to the very poor), towel or stockings to the others, and candy and oranges to all. In addition we have four large children's meetings of about 100 children each, which we conduct every Sunday, and with these we held a special meeting on Christmas Day, giving each a gift of stockings, toy, candy and orange. All this money was raised from the girls themselves—we had $350—many giving up the sending of Christmas cards and presents in order that they might give for the needy. At each of these places we told the Christmas story and explained the way of salvation, sang Christmas carols, talked personally to those who were willing to listen. I have never seen the girls so happy as this Christmas. I think they experienced something of the true spirit of Christmas. Needless to say, seeing them so happy made my Christmas especially happy.

ON CHRISTMAS MORNING AT 3 o'clock about forty of the girls came to Saloh, and woke me by their carol singing. They begged us to come with them, and we went singing around the island, stopping at all our Christian schools and at the homes of some of the teachers and pupils on our route.
Everywhere people got up to listen, and many came out with oranges or candy as a reward for

EXAMINATION FOR MACATAWA POSTMASTER

Examination for a new postmaster at Macatawa has been scheduled by the government and receipt of applications will be closed at the Holland post office February 16. Examination will be held at this office at a future date.
Postmaster Westveer states. Harry Steffens will examine the applications.

The salary of the office is $1,300. The temporary postmaster is Roy Heath, who took the place of Leonard Van Regenmortel, who has occupied this position for more than a score of years.

BANK ROBBERY PUBLICITY ENDS
The First State Bank has been subjected to continuous bank robbery publicity for the past two years.

A rehash of the whole affair has been going through the Metropolitan press and every suspect or clue brought columns of copy, rehearsing the story. Every month brought a new crop of stories. The killing of Rossi will end all that.
None of the stories gave the fact that the bank got all the money back with interest included, got all the bonds back with interest included and the Holland City News was paid this week by the insurance company for reprinting the necessary bonds stolen. All the bank lost was a door window with a hole in it caused by the bullet which shot down Chief Lievensen.
The bank could have got money for that for a souvenir hunter wanted to pay for it but this was donated.

The First State Bank did not lose a penny in cash or bonds, in fact did not even have to pay for the expending and printing of these bonds. It is hoped that this ends the publicity of facts that are known from coast to coast.

Rossi Killing To Save County Many Dollars

CHIEF LIEVENSE AND HIS

Rossi Was Wanted for Local Bank Robbery of Two Years Ago

For nearly two years the Holland authorities have been picking up suspects, men from the gang who robbed the First State Bank of Holland at that time. Undoubtedly the local police had a man by the name of Ernest J. Rossi "dead to rights" as one of the leaders of the gang.

Chief Lievensen and other members of the Holland police depart-were to have gone to Chicago Feb-

Rossi fighting to escape extradition

THIS IS AN EGG AND A HALF

You can believe this or not—but when a hen lays an egg weighing 3 ounces and measuring 6 1/2 by 8 inches, she's "doing her part" whether working under an NRA code or not. But that's what one of Harry Langley's hens did at

ALDERMAN DRINKWATER TO CALL SQUARE DANCES

Holland chapter No. 429, O. E.
S., has completed plans for the St.
Valentine dance and card party to be held at the Masonic temple this Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be bought at the door. One of the features for the evening will be two or three square dances in charge of Arthur Drinkwater, who was an "old-time caller" at square dances.

STARTED ON "GROUND HOG" DAY

Gerrit Rutgers, local rural mail carrier, started on Ground Hog

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

STRAWBERRIES are so plentiful that they are being sold at little greater cost than in the height of their summer season. Enjoy this winter treat while it lasts. California naval oranges are at the height of their short season and they are particularly delicious to eat out of hand or in salads or desserts. For breakfast juice, Florida oranges are fine. Grapefruit continues plentiful. Spinach and green beans are abundant and cheap. Broccoli though fine and inexpensive is not being used so much as it was. Cauliflower and new cabbage are cheap. Peas continue plentiful and good. Beets and carrots are particularly economical. With Lent in the near future, favorite meat dishes should be enjoyed now though well cooked and seasoned fish is equally good. The Quaker Maid suggests the following menus for your Sunday dinner.

Low Cost Dinner
Pan-browned Chopped Beef Mashed Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Junclet with Preserves
Tea or Coffee MILK

Medium Cost Dinner
Chicken Pie with Bluet Crust Baked Sweet Potatoes or Yams Buttered Broccoli
Hot Biscuits Butter
Strawberry Whip with Crushed Strawberries Coffee MILK

Very Special Dinner
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Baked Smoked Ham or Roast Chicken Mashed Potatoes Buttered Broccoli Grapefruit and Orange Salad Rolls and Butter
Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream

"If you want your money to go

30% farther, here's my advice—

"Break in new tires at this time because cool roads toughen rubber—cold-cure it. Thus tires put on now will run about 30% farther than the same tires started off new on hot summer roads. That means you get 30% more mileage plus immediate non-acid safety. At today's low prices, isn't that worth thinking about?"

The Ladies' Aid society met on Thursday afternoon. Rev. S. Vroom's subject was "The False Prophets." Mrs. Charles Bosch and Mrs. Henry Nyenhuys were the hostesses at this meeting.

Heart Doesn't Stop Beating

Not only will the heart of a turtle keep on beating for hours after its owner has been killed, but the organ removed, scientists say, but freezing cannot stop its ability to function when thawed out again, provided the heart is not kept in a frigid state too long.

The persistent beating of a turtle's heart after the animal's death has been a matter of common knowledge for some time, but discovery of its remarkable resistance to cold was made only recently by E. Alfred Wolfe and Richard A. Torgerson of the University of Pittsburgh. These two scientists have found that turtle hearts immersed in liquid air at a temperature of 192 degrees Centigrade below freezing for as much as 10 minutes would resume beating again in a few minutes after having been allowed to thaw out slowly in a cold physiological solution. Hearts thus treated beat more slowly and for a shorter period, however, than those that had not been chilled. Further experiments showed that hearts submerged in the frigid liquid air for more than 10 minutes would not resume their beating at all.

It would be followed by a trial in Ottawa County.

But Chicago gangland cut this all short. They shot Rossi as he was entering the home of his sister Sunday morning and apparently Rossi was afraid to go in the front way so he went to the rear and he was shot down by sawed off shotguns in the hands of gangsters, two charges entering his back.

The Chicago American has the following in part on the Chicago end of the killing:
"Ernest Rossi's assassination early recently aroused speculation that gangland has a 'super-spy' who finds out when gangsters have betrayed the underworld's secrets to the Department of Justice."

"Rossi, whose underworld activities had brought him rating as a public enemy, fell before a charge of shotgun slugs on the rear steps of the home of his brother-in-law. In any event, Rossi knew that he was marked for death and so he used the rear door of the Mangano home, where he lived. The men who marked him learned of this, and lay in wait there for hours, it is indicated by many cigarette stubs found in the backyard after the shooting."

Holland was represented by six local men at the regional meeting of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association at Whitcomb hotel in St. Joe Wednesday. William M. Connelly, manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, spoke at the evening session on the subject of resorts as an industry. The others who attended were Vandenberg, John Arendshorst, W. R. Pemberton, C. C. Wood and Henry Oosting.

SALESMAN IS SLUGGED AND ROBBED OF $225

John J. Warwick, Grand Rapids, was beaten about the head and robbed of $225 and left seriously injured three miles east of Grand Haven on the Waverly road. He was taken to Hattum Hospital by State Trooper Graham Peebles.

Warwick, a salesman, is about 35 years old. He was beaten with the crank of his own car. After he regained consciousness yesterday, Warwick told Trooper Peebles two men in a coupe made the assault after stopping him on the road and getting into his car.

A draft for $135, which was in his wallet, and a valuable gold watch were not taken, the robbers evidently after cash only. He told police that he noticed a Plymouth car following him and when in a lonely place was pushed to one side of the road by the proximity of the other car, and forced to slow down. Warwick said two men jumped on the car and he was hit on the head and he knew nothing more.

ZEELAND STATE BANK PAYS OUT AHEAD OF TIME

The Zeeland State bank a few weeks ago received authority from Rudolph E. Reichert, state banking commissioner, to make available for its depositors on February 1 the series "B" time certificates which are not due until June 28, 1935. This is the second release made since this bank was licensed to reopen on June 28, 1933, and the two amounts nearly $600,000. These amounts made available to depositors are the result of liquidation of loans and mortgages and was made possible through the bank's own resources. All of which will help this vicinity with ready cash.

The Zeeland State bank also has the federal guarantee of deposits all deposits up to $2,500. This guarantee is having tremendous results favorably affecting all the banks in the nation, according to reports, including the Zeeland and Holland institutions.

singing. The girls sang until they had no voices left, but they said their hearts were so happy they could not contain themselves. We returned home at 6 a. m.

On Christmas evening there was a program at our big Chinese church which seats nearly 1,000 people. There was a choir which sang the hallelujah chorus and other Christmas music, and in addition we had tableaux of the Christmas story while some one read the Bible passages in connection with them. It was all most reverent and very beautiful. I took part in this, too. So you can see how it is my Christmas was busy—and also happy.

In my last letter I told you that we were facing a time of uncertainty as far as political conditions were concerned. The Fukien province has broken away from the central government; and has declared independence. On December 1 there were celebrations in all the principal cities inaugurating the new government. I went up to Chuanchow—a large inland city where the English Presbyterians are working—in order to help the Chinese church establish a young people's conference. We had our first meeting on the evening of the thirtieth, and were planning to continue for three more evenings, ending on Sunday night, December 3. On Friday morning all the Chuanchow pupils had to go to a big public gathering introducing the new government. During the midst of throwing bombs right into the crowd. I heard a stampede, but not until I heard the third bomb did I realize what was happening. I was on the veranda at the home of one of the missionaries, and I got up then to see what was happening. Imagine my consternation when I saw a bomb bursting at a distance of not more than 100 yards. I rushed out with the other missionaries to see whether the school children had returned. Soon they began coming in, many badly shaken up, some trampled underfoot in the stampede, but no one was seriously injured. Fortunately Chinese bombs are very inferior, several never burst at all, and not one burst completely. In all about a dozen were dropped, nearly twenty people killed and others wounded, as well as some houses ruined. It was an exciting time, as you may well imagine. But we gathered the children together, and prayed with them, so that all quieted down.

The entire city was upset, however, and I decided that we should not continue with the conference, so I came down to Amoy the next day. Since then Chuanchow has been bombed, six bombs falling on Talmadge college property, but no one was injured and even buildings are untouched. Our missionaries hid in cellars and dugouts, and the next day all came down to Amoy. Within the past week Foochow has been bombed four times. It really is terrible, for they only succeed in killing innocent people while the leaders of the new government get away unscathed. With fighting between Fukien and the central government, all the soldiers are needed at the front, and so the inland places are left to the mercy of communists and bandits. Word came this morning that the communists arrived in Changchow last night and are in charge of the city. Fortunately the Ottomans got down from Sickle last night—they have to pass through Changchow to get down. So this time our people are all safely on Kurlangsee, for which we are all profoundly thankful. A couple of days ago we were told that Amoy was to be bombed on Monday (New Year's day), and many people have fled to Kurlangsee. This seems to be about the only safe little spot in this whole region. But the most recent news is that fighting has been suspended and a conference is being called to see whether the two sides can get together. We hope and pray this may be successful and further trouble avoided. Poor China—how my heart aches for her. Her people have come to the point of utter despair. For the Christians it is making them realize that Jesus Christ is the only hope, and many of the young people are becoming far more serious minded.

This gives you some idea of conditions here. I'm sure you haven't worried about me in spite of the tales the papers may have given, for here in the international settlement we are not likely to be upset.

May God bless you all in the year 1934.

With all the love you can hold, your own TENA.

Miss Janet Overweg, who will become the bride of Abel Kuylers, was honored with a kitchen shower Wednesday afternoon given by Mrs. Peter Kuylers and Mrs. Harold J. Aalderink at the home of Mrs. Kuylers. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Refreshments were served. Seventeen guests were present.

Farewell To Retiring Rural Letter Carriers

ZEELAND SHOWS APPRECIATION TO POSTMAN WHOSE WORK WAS WELL DONE.

A most interesting and all-together a fitting occasion was staged by the Ottawa County Rural Letter Carriers' association, augmented by the ladies' auxiliary at Zeeland at the home of Albert Johnson, who retires as rural carrier after 25 years of faithful service.

Mr. Johnson is 65 years old and was born in Germany on January 8, 1869, and started as carrier on October 1, 1909.

The large party in reality was planned for three retiring carriers, the others being Fred Hicks of Coopersville, who started carrying on July 1, 1901, and has been in the service 33 years. His age is 57 years.

The third carrier to retire is Hiram Mackus of Jensen, aged 61, who began carrying on May 10, 1903, and has been making the rounds of the rural districts ever since that time.

The meeting was opened by Benjamin Stone of West Olive, president of the organization, and Anson A. Paris of Holland opened the deliberations with prayer. Mr. Johnson during the evening was in a reminiscent mood and told of the earlier days of the service when bad roads and big snow drifts made going difficult and with cutter or sulky, and the "old nag," the carriers did not have much of a snap—in fact the job was a hardship. With the much improved roads and with closed cars and with the snow plows the rural mail carrier's lot is much improved.

Mr. Johnson recalled that the first rural carriers' meeting was held in the Holland City News office where an organization was perfected.

The remarks of Mr. Hicks and Mr. Mackus, also retiring, were along the same lines, interspersed with unusual experiences during their long term of service.

Mr. Stone was toastmaster at the dinner and Mr. C. G. Schuur, postmaster at Marne, and Postmaster Ed Westover of Holland were among the guests present. These men were called upon for remarks and stated that they encouraged and endorsed fully the rural carriers' organization, and also complimented the rural branch of the service for having the best and most united group in the postal service.

Appropriate remarks were also made by the state vice president, Harold Laug of Coopersville. He stressed the fact that there was legislation pending before congress relative to salaries and maintenance and is now being considered.

Bernard Vander Heide of Zeeland, a faithful and prominent member of the Ottawa County Rural Letter Carriers' association, in his theme felt rather sad because of the nature of the meeting. He said, however, that although it was pathetic that these wonderful men are retiring, it was simply the nature of things and that every cloud has a silver lining and that the retiring men could anticipate and depend upon the annuities that would come to them as the result of a fund that had been built up during the passing years, this maintenance fund coming from all the members of the organization over a long period of time.

It is understood that the men contribute a portion of their salary toward the maintenance fund.

Mrs. Fred Hicks of Coopersville and Mrs. A. Johnson of Zeeland both gave short but interesting talks.

One of the features was the presentation to each of the retiring carriers of a gold mounted billfold with names properly engraved in gold letters, indicative of the esteem in which these men were held. It was evident that the men felt deeply the thoughtfulness and the kindness of their associates.

A pot-luck supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary and in this they were ably assisted by the Johnson sisters.

The meeting was well attended with 26 carriers and their wives being present. After singing "Bless Be the Tie that Binds" and "God Be with You Till We Meet Again," led by Herman C. Cook, the happy "mail folks" wended their way homeward after a short prayer had been said by Carrier Lambertus Tinholt of Holland.

Explorer's
Death Reminds Haven DoctorDR. EDWARD HOFMA TOOK PART IN SECOND WELLMAN EXPEDITION TO NORTH POLE IN 1898.

Death of Walter Wellman, the well known explorer and first man to attempt crossing the Atlantic ocean by air, recalls Grand Haven citizen, Dr. Edward Hofma, was one of four Americans with the second Wellman polar expedition in 1898.

At that time, many were struggling to reach the pole and Dr. Hofma, only a few years out of the University of Michigan, was fired with love of travel, adventure and exploration.

He read in the National Geographic magazine of the Wellman expedition and wrote Wellman asking to be one of the party. The two men met in Chicago and shortly after Dr. Hofma left alone for Tromsø, Norway, where he joined the expedition as its doctor and scientific observer.

Dr. Hofma recalls the second expedition was forced to turn back because of an injury to Wellman's foot. The injury occurred when prospects were bright. The party tried to proceed north but the foot failed to respond to treatment and reluctantly the explorers turned back. Later, on the return trip, Wellman's foot completely recovered.

The turn about was made when the party was 500 miles from the pole. Dr. Hofma recalls. The Arctic exploration with Wellman was filled with adventure, even for the doctor of the party, who aside from attending sick members of the crew, was forced to defend himself once from the attack of a polar bear. Dr. Hofma tells of a member of the expedition who slept beside a dead comrade three months rather than place the body in a shallow grave where animals might get at it.

Dr. Hofma is 74 years old. About two years ago he went to Western State Normal to complete his education in botany and literary interpretation. He is still studying and his library is well known for its advanced books. Dr. Hofma is a former member of the board of education, is the original surviving member of the original Duncan Park board, is president of the Peoples Savings bank and is prominent in other activities.

Dr. Hofma was born in Vriesland, Ottawa county, April 12, 1859. He graduated from Hope college, later from the University of Michigan, and has practiced medicine in Ottawa county since except for his absence with Wellman and several world cruises he has made. Mrs. Hofma holds a doctor's degree and practiced until several years ago. The doctor is well known in Holland politically, having served several terms as state senator.

Wild Life May Make Profit for Farmers

Crops game or fur bearing animals, of which there is no surplus and which voluntary helpers are anxious to harvest, may offer possibilities of profit to Michigan farmers but there are also possibilities of losses if the subject is not studied before an investment of money or capital is made, according to Dr. Miles Pirnie, director of the Kellogg Wild Life Sanctuary.

The most common source of income from wild life, at present in Michigan, is the sale of hunting rights on land. This type of sale involves no investment and requires only that the owner have game on the land to make it attractive territory for hunting and that non-paying guests be prevented from reaping the harvest.

Hunting rights may be sold for the season, by the day or by the size of the bag of game obtained by the hunter. Sales of day or season rights are most common. Duck, pheasant or deer hunting rights are most commonly leased in this state.

Animals may also be reared in confinement for sale as meat, fur, or for release by hunting clubs. This phase of the wild life business requires capital, labor and understanding of the work before any profit can be made. Muskrat farming is an example of this line of work which was popular at one time but which has proved, in many instances, to be unprofitable.

Land owners who wish to obtain a revenue from leasing hunting rights should study methods of land management which makes their cover attractive to game animals and birds. Winter feeding, presence of good cover, prevention of fire, and saving stock for breeding the next year are essential.

Anyone interested in game farming should write to Dr. Miles Pirnie, a member of Michigan State College staff, R. No. 1, Augusta, Mich. Dr. Pirnie is in charge of the W. K. Kellogg Sanctuary on Wintergreen Lake. Species of native and exotic land and water birds make this one of the show places of Michigan and visitors are always welcomed.

Tennessee Has
No State Bird

Only four states, Connecticut, Iowa, New Jersey and Tennessee, remain without having made a choice of a state bird. And the value in selecting a state bird is summed up by the sponsors as being an essential educational effort to interest our citizens in the value of bird life. "The mere fact that these bird emblems have been chosen is not important so far as the emblem itself is concerned," they say. "What is significant is that which led up to the selection; the discussion, study and thought that is required, the real educational service it performed. This resulted in an affectionate interest in all birds."

The states that have chosen bird emblems and their selections are as follows:

Alabama	Mockingbird
Arizona	Cactus Wren
Arkansas	Mockingbird

Ice Fishers Must Also Have License

Large numbers of ice fishermen, according to conservation officers, are still without their 1934 fishing licenses, on the assumption that one is not necessary until the reopening of the general fishing season next spring.

While the Department of Conservation has announced that it is permitting some leniency in such instances, due to probable ignorance of the laws, it requires that every person over 18 years of age must be provided with a 50c general rod license when fishing in any manner for any species of fish. The licenses are good for the calendar year.

The 1934 general rod licenses are now in the hands of about 1,800 license dealers in practically every city and village in Michigan. The licenses are accompanied by 1934-35 digests of Michigan fishing regulations.

Regular Meeting—FEB. 14

Get your committee lined up. Skinner; we've had some good programs and you can't let us down this time.

Chick Sales hasn't got anything on our post. At least three of our members volunteered to erect certain sundry buildings at the Boy Scout camp up Pine creek.

Edward W. Thompson post No. 49 entertained our post at their meeting on February 1. Oh! did you know that? Excuse us. The program consisted of songs and dances by a young colored lad, a fan dance, boxing bouts and wrestling matches. For the information of you fellows who didn't go, the 15c supper consisted of mashed potatoes, roast pork and brown gravy, dressing, peas, hot rolls and coffee, and—oh well, if you weren't there what difference does it make. Everyone had a good time on the way up and back. The fun began when the bus loaded at the city hall and everyone was going strong when it unloaded after the return trip.

Tony Dogger, one of the newest fathers of the post, had a regular celebration. He was excelled only by our calm and meek Louis Dalmat who attempted to tell the boxers when and how to hit.

NOTICE—On and after this date I will not be responsible for telephone bills contracted by others than my family. CHET VAN TONGEREN.

SLAUGHTERS 4,000 HEAD CAT-TLE EACH WEEK, GIVES MEAT TO JOBLESS

Facing an oversupply of livestock similar to that which existed in the United States, the government of Netherlands, through the Dutch crisis cattle board, has successfully carried out the first steps in its plans to slaughter 4,000 head of cattle a week and distribute the meat so obtained in cans to the unemployed, according to advices received from Amsterdam.

More than 1,000,000 cans of meat have so far been sold to municipalities for distribution to the poor and the plan has had the additional effect of stimulating the canning and allied industries, the cattle board reports.

The board was formed some months ago by the Dutch government to deal with the depression caused by a decline in the British, French and German markets for Dutch dairy products. It decided that a drastic restriction of output was necessary to maintain the domestic price level and this only could be achieved by the slaughter of 200,000 dairy cattle within a year. In order to prevent a ruinous fall of meat prices, the board formulated the plan whereby the meat so obtained could be made available to the unemployed.

Committee Hears
Plans to Improve
Harbor at HollandCAR FERRY SERVICE NOT CONSIDERED; CANAL
PROJECT GIVEN
SUPPORT

(Grand Rapids Herald)
Plans for the improvement of Holland's harbor facilities were laid before the special Grand Rapids committee named to study programs of Michigan port cities with a view to cooperation for better transportation across Lake Michigan and through the St. Lawrence seaway at a meeting in Holland yesterday.

Holland was represented at the meeting by Mayor Nicodemus Bosch, Arthur W. Wrieden, president of the chamber of commerce; Austin Harrington, chairman of the city harbor board; Andrew Klompars, chairman of the chamber of commerce harbor committee; A. F. Everett of the United States engineer office; W. M. Connelly, manager of the chamber of commerce; Simon Henkle and Albert Koppel.

Grand Rapids representatives were Lee H. Bierce, chairman; Emerson W. Bliss, L. A. Geisler, John Kohler, William Laban and Glenn R. Chamberlain of the committee and John Buys, chief proponent of the plan to build a ship canal between Holland and Grand Rapids.

The Holland harbor plan, as outlined, is largely a local program and does not contemplate carryover service across Lake Michigan, the local committee was told, since the construction of slips would require prohibitive costs. Mayor Bosch and Capt. Harrington, however, complimented Mr. Buys for his efforts to determine the feasibility and need for the canal he has proposed, declaring that his agitation for federal investigation was the proper method to pursue.

PLAN CWA REPAIRS TO CITY HOUSES AT GRAND HAVEN

Mayor Lionel Heap, City Manager Peter A. Kammeraad and members of the council of Grand Haven are to investigate the condition of 11 homes owned by the city and occupied by people on the welfare roll tomorrow. The inspection, with a view to eventually fixing up the property in each case, was authorized at a recent council meeting.

The houses have been deeded to the city by people who gave title in return for care for the balance of their lives. Mayor Heap believes the city can profitably employ CWA labor in repairing the property.

HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

Miss Clara De Kiep of Grand Haven and Miss Nella De Jongh, Holland, have been appointed by the state as additional nurses for the Ottawa county health unit. They will assist in the child health nursing project and began their duties on Monday. The additional service is being instituted to cover the large amount of work necessary since the welfare needs have increased and also to provide employment for unemployed nurses under state and federal funds. Dr. Ralph Ten Have, in charge of the health unit, received notice a week ago that two nurses would be allotted to Ottawa county and later received notice of who would be assigned here.

KAZOO HORNETS

Kalamazoo college stepped into the lead in the M.I.A.A. basketball contest by defeating Hope college 31 to 21 at Kalamazoo. It was the Hornets' fourth association victory in five starts and was featured by a great last half attack which wiped out an apparently safe margin previously rolled up by Hope. At half-time Hope was leading 16 to 9 and in the opening minute of the last period increased its lead to 20-12.

GRAND HAVEN

More than 300 reservations for the Ottawa county Democratic committee's annual banquet to be held Feb. 7 at the Hotel William M. Ferry, Grand Haven, with Gov. William A. Comstock as principal speaker have been received. Charles E. Misher, county committee chairman, stated today 50 had been received from Muskegon, 75 from Zeeland, 50 from Grand Rapids, a number from Allegan, Fremont, Newaygo, and Shelby. He expects not less than 500 reservations and plans are being made to care for the largest crowd ever assembled for a banquet in the hotel.

ALLEGED RACKET BRINGS
GRAND HAVEN ARREST

City police uncovered an alleged new racket against storekeepers a few days ago. The officers were called to the Addison-Balix store where a young man had tried to "return" and receive a $6.45 refund for a blanket he had taken from a counter in the rear of the store a few minutes before. Clerks asked for his sales slip and his excuses were so flimsy the officers were called. The man gave his name as Mat Larey and his home was in Kent county.

Local Man Tells
How Engine
Killed RondaPERCY OSBORNE, P. M. EN-GINEER, BLEW WHISTLE
AS WARNING

Ed Ronda, age 87 years, who died at Hutton Hospital, Grand Haven, as the result of being struck by a Pere Marquette switch engine, driven by Engineer Percy Osborne of Holland, seems to have walked directly into the engine despite the fact that the Holland man had given continuous blasts of the whistle when Ronda did not seem to stop as the train came along.

According to the Grand Haven Tribune, the story is as follows:

The engineer, Percy Osborne, saw the old man walking on Jackson Street approaching the tracks. He said he blew several short blasts which apparently the man did not hear and he walked directly into the engine. His arm was severed completely and his head appeared to be badly injured.

There is no watchman at the crossing which is open and wide with several tracks for the main line and switching tracks just beyond the Pere Marquette station.

"Mr. Ronda lived with his daughter, Miss Rena Ronda, and according to the family he was deaf and probably did not see the engine nor hear the whistle. He was accustomed to taking walks, as he was in good health. He is well known to many in the city, having been employed for many years at the Dornbos Bros. Wholesale Fish Co. of this city.

"He has two sons living here, Dick and Fred Ronda, and one daughter, Mrs. Peter Dornbos of Grand Rapids.

"He had lived in this city for 53 years, coming from the Netherlands where he was born April 4, 1840.

"Funeral services were held at the Kinkema Funeral home Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. and burial was at Lake Forest cemetery. Rev. J. G. Van Dyke officiating. The body was taken to the Kinkema Funeral home but was returned to the home, 503 Jackson St., to remain until Tuesday when it was taken back to the funeral home for the services.

"The survivors are two sons, Dick and Fred Ronda living here, a daughter, Mrs. Peter Dornbos of Grand Rapids, and another daughter, Miss Rena Ronda."

Clinics for Ottawa County

A series of clinics are to be held on Feb. 12 to give toxoid treatments for protection against diphtheria. Formerly three treatments three weeks apart were found necessary to give the child protection. It has been experienced that in a very large per cent of cases two treatments three weeks apart will give adequate protection. Treatments should be followed after about six months by the Schick test to be certain the child is protected. It has been experienced that younger children can be protected more readily than older children and adults. The time to protect is as soon as possible after six months of age.

Kent county has experienced a small epidemic of diphtheria recently in which two cases proved fatal. With the present protection available such incidents can be avoided. Most children of preschool age have not been protected by toxoid treatments which makes it very possible for such incidents to occur in this community. Parents are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity. The following schedule has been arranged, clinics to be held at the schools indicated:

9:00—Hudsonville.
10:00—Hudsonville Christian.
11:00—Jamestown.
1:00—Zeeland Christian.
2:00—Zeeland Public.

SPEAKS AT STATE CAPITAL

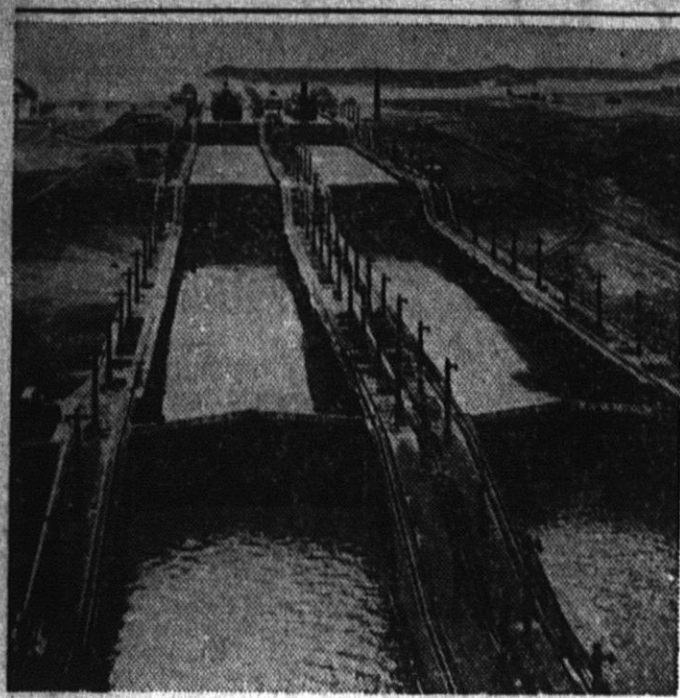

Mrs. Sears R. McLean of Holland, president of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke to the East Lansing club last week. Plans are on foot to reorganize the state federation and speakers gave discourses on the subject, including Mrs. McLean of this city.

Benny Oosterbaan of Muskegon, who recently spoke in Holland, will stay at Michigan as end coach and assistant to Harry Kipke. Authorities at Yale university yesterday made public the fact that Benny had refused to accept an offer to coach the Yale ends, deciding to remain with his old school.

Mr. Newton L. Partridge of the Michigan State College Horticultural Department will hold a meeting at the High School in Pennville at 2 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 15. Mr. Partridge has probably done more soil and cover crop work in orchards than any other man in Michigan and it is believed that he can give the fruit growers some valuable information concerning these two important matters. Any fruit grower interested in this line of work as it pertains to moisture and fertility content of the soil should attend this meeting, as it will probably be the only one in the county this year.

Frank Harbin, Jr., of 75 West Thirteenth street, a graduate of Holland High school and Michigan State college, has accepted a position as assistant chemist with the Leonard Refrigerator company in Grand Rapids.

Traveling Around America

A WATER ESCALATOR

HERE is Gatun Lock, one of the "water escalators" on duty in the Panama Canal. It is not far from Colon at the Atlantic entrance and is composed of a series of three locks each of which—like all the locks in this amazing waterway—is composed of twin chambers so that ships may be passed in opposite directions simultaneously.

Dimensions give the most graphic idea of what astounding feats of modern engineering the locks really are. Each of the chambers is about 70 feet deep, is more than 100 feet wide and 1000 feet long—spacious enough to accommodate the largest ships that sail the sea. The gates which give entrance to the chambers are composed of two leaves, each 65 feet long, 7 feet thick, and about 50 to 80 feet high, weighing about 400 to 700 tons.

The opportunity to see these locks at work is considered by most passengers taking the weekly cruises between New York, the Central America, and California, as one of the greatest treats of the entire trip. As the ship nears Gatun from Colon little electric engines called mules, running along both lock walls, take the ship in tow to guide her through the locks. The giant chamber doors mysteriously open, the ship enters the enclosure, and the doors swing closed. The water churns and bubbles, lifting its massive burden to the level of the second lock. This is repeated until the ship has been lifted 85 feet to the level of Gatun Lake—after crossing which it is lowered by Pedro Miguel and Miraflores Locks to the level of the Pacific.

Publish Sugar Essays of Local School Pupils

As has been stated before, the Holland City News will print from week to week all prize-winning beet sugar essays. Last week we printed the essay of Charles Bertsch of Holland High school. This week we print one of Peter Veltman, who receives second prize in the senior class of Holland High school.

Next week we will print the essay of Miss Matilda Plantinga, who won second prize in Christian High school.

Mr. Veltman won 10 pounds of Holland-made sugar, and Miss Plantinga $3 in cash.

WHY BEET SUGAR
Peter Veltman
Senior H 12
Second Prize

"We do our part." How many times have you seen, heard, or thought about this? You may have pledged yourself as a member of this drive, but do you do your part all ways, always?

The beet sugar industry is one of Michigan's leading industries, and ranks as one of the foremost in the United States. There are about fifteen plants in Michigan, which have a daily slicing capacity of 132,900 tons of beets. The Holland plant, in which you are most deeply interested, has a daily slicing capacity of 600 tons of beets.

The sugar, which the "Beta Vulgaris" or common beet contains, is made in the leaves of the plant. Sugar or sucrose contains hydrogen, oxygen, and carbon. It consists of one molecule of water and two molecules of starch. For over a century scientists and chemists have attempted to make sugar, but all attempts have been to no avail. Calories is a much-discussed subject these days. Sugar ranks higher than any other food in caloric value. It contains 1,820 calories of energy to the pound.

The modern housewife considers cheapness a very important factor. Beet sugar is cheaper than cane sugar. The educated woman of today tries to tell us that beet sugar is not as good for use in some instances as cane sugar is. Science disagrees, and every person who takes a little time to think the subject through, will do the same. Sugar is sugar, whether it comes from beets or cane. It is the same chemically—one is as good as the other. European countries seem to understand this, as they use almost nothing but beet sugar.

Help the farmer—buy beet sugar. Farmers get money for beets, and what the farmer needs is money. Put yourself in his place. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." The farmers are doing their part. They are buying beet sugar made from their own beets. The tops of the beets furnish feed for the cattle and stock of the farmer. If he has feed for his animals, he doesn't have to buy it. Many farmers are forced to sell their farms because mortgages are due and cannot be met. Others are unable to pay their taxes. The farmer gets fifty per cent of every dollar which you pay for beet sugar. Give the farmer a little encouragement for all his labor—buy beet sugar.

Michigan truckers and Michigan railroads are aided if you buy beet sugar. Trucks need gas, oil, tires, and other repairs. These are all Michigan products. Railroads and truckers must pay licenses and taxes. Railroads continually need money to pay their employees and to make repairs. On winter days, when streets are slippery, and even at other times, truckers risk their lives for you. Shall all their efforts be in vain? This remains for you to decide. At the Holland plant on November 13, at 5:30 P.M., sixty-four trucks and one wagon stood in line, ready to be unloaded. Were the men discontented? No. They knew the work had to be done and they were determined to do it. The factories, in which the sugar is removed from the beet, pay taxes

HOLLAND MAN NAMED TO CWA SAFETY POST

J. Vander Hull of Holland has been appointed safety inspector for the CWA in Ottawa county. He will inspect all construction work.

The CWA accounting department has moved its office from the county treasurer's office to the supervisors' room because of crowded conditions.

and use Michigan machinery and building materials. Michigan-made sacks and thread are used throughout.

Michigan labor is used exclusively. When the men are paid, money is put into circulation. People who have money buy goods which are made in Michigan, and this, in turn, helps other Michigan industries along.

The more sugar local people buy, the less express and freight charges there will be, and the more money the farmer will get. This year is a trial year in Holland. If sugar sells well this year, the farmers will be encouraged to have a larger acreage next year. If more beets are raised, more men will be needed to work in the sugar plants, more truckers to haul the beets, and more supplies will be needed to keep the trucks running. Additional machinery and enlargement of buildings will be necessary.

E. Wilson Crosse, managing director of the Manufacturers' Beet Sugar Association of Columbus, Ohio, recently estimated that 872,000,000 pounds of refined beet sugar, dried beet pulp, and molasses will be produced by some 31,600 farmers in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Wisconsin. 300,000,000 pounds of sugar are produced by 14,000 farmers in Michigan alone. Michigan consumes 500,000,000 pounds of sugar annually.

Sugar is a necessity, so why not buy Michigan beet sugar? It is just as pure and just as good as cane sugar. The cane sugar, which you buy, is no better because it costs more—it costs more because it is foreign-grown, and, consequently, freight charges and other expenses are involved, which are not encountered in the case of the home-grown product.

Therefore—let us do our part.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Ossewaarde, superintendent of this department. Mrs. I. Van Dyke was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Ossewaarde spoke briefly about the work of the department. She stressed the need of a life of faith to overcome obstacles. Games were played and a luncheon was present.

Thirty-four senior class members and teachers were present at a party held in the high school gymnasium on Thursday evening. The party was the result of a contest in selling tickets for the senior class play, "The Whole Town's Talking," which was presented some time ago. The class was divided into two divisions, with the understanding that the division selling the most tickets would be feted by the losing side. The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments were served under the direction of Evelyn De Haan, Josephine Bouwens and Geraldine Lanning. Zella Hendricks was in charge of games. Indoor baseball was played and several songs sung. T. A. Dewey and Miss L. Joblonski of the faculty were present.

Kroger Booklet Aids Housewives

COMPANY HAS PAMPHLETS DEALING WITH PREPARATION OF GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

One of the most important adjuncts of the food foundation of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. is a series of publications on food and food preparations.

All or any part of the series of booklets, together with an index, is available to women at a nominal charge who write to the Kroger Food Foundation in Cincinnati.

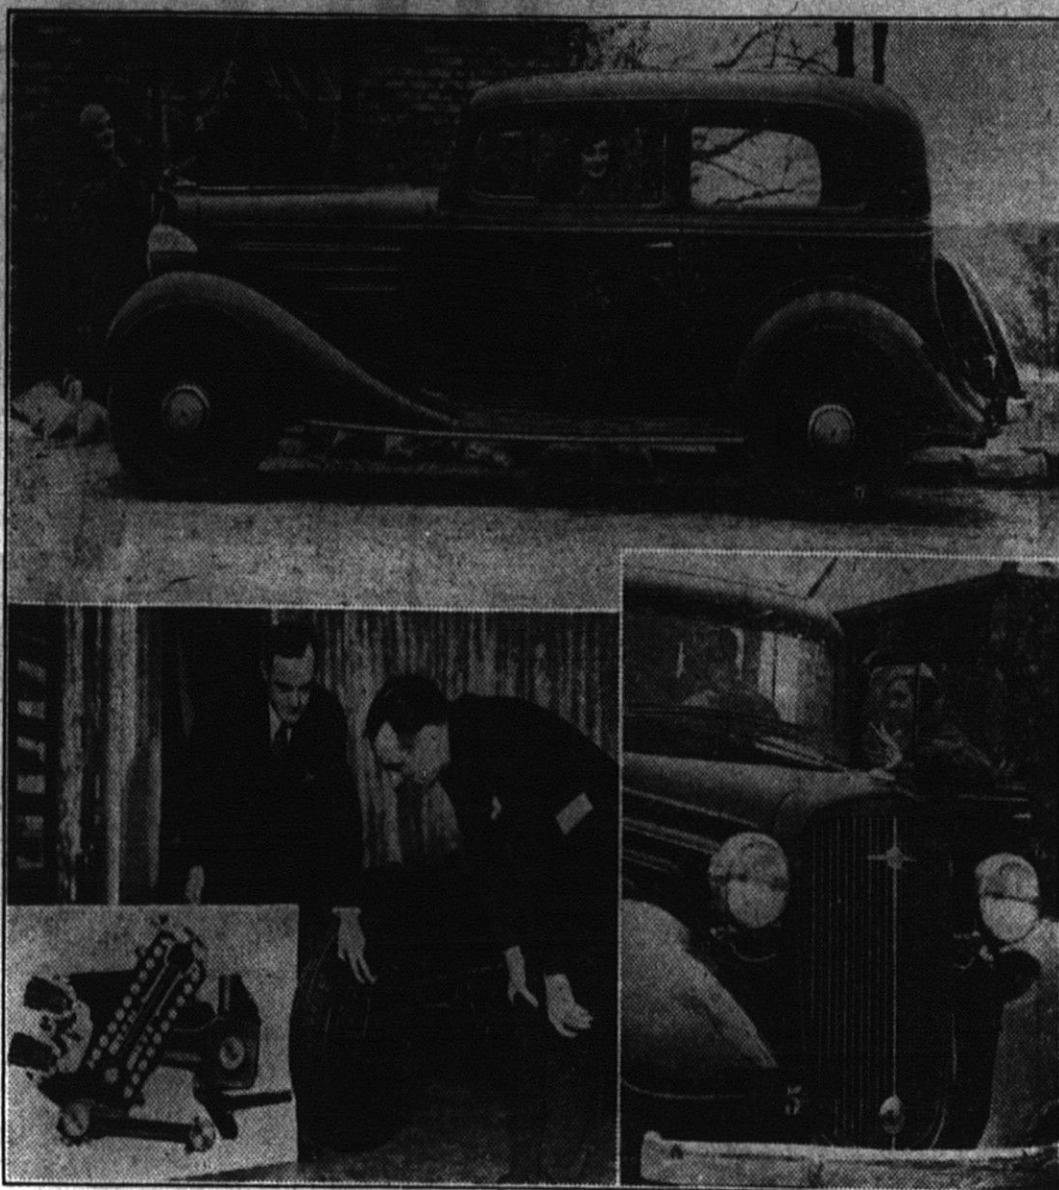

The booklets are of uniform size and are punched for filing in a binder. They bring a brand new slant to the housewife on many of her food problems.

The group of bulletins contains information intended to cover all phases of the management of that most important part of every home, the kitchen. In them is contained the answer to practically every food question which might arise. Each of the booklets deals in an interesting fashion with some phase of food preparation.

Such subjects as "Getting the Most Out of Vegetables," "Quick Dinners for Busy Days," "How to Make the Menu Please the Crowd," and many others are covered in this group of booklets.

There are also available to housewives a series of six free booklets which may be secured by writing to the Kroger Food Foundation, 125 Government Square, Cincinnati, Ohio.

New "Knee-Action" Chevrolet Gives Passengers Ride Like a Glide

In the design and development of the new 1934 Chevrolet, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort. All annoying sensations of disagreeable sound and feeling having been eliminated. The upper photo shows the new Chevrolet coach with its long, sleek lines. Wind rush has been eliminated by the Fisher No Draft Ventilators and the new streamlined hooding of the Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" wheels enjoy the advantage of being completely enclosed in a weather-tight housing; the coil springs and shock absorbers ride in a bath of oil. William E. Holler, Chevrolet's general sales manager, is shown at the left holding a chart which shows the internal construction of the system. The radiator of the new car has added beauty through its graceful and sharply pointed design. Smoothness has been the theme in every line of this year's Chevrolet.

The driver and passengers in the new 1934 Chevrolet get a ride like the glide of an airplane. One of the main factors in improving the riding qualities of the new car to such a great extent is the "Knee-Action"—or independently sprung front wheels, to use the technical term.

So much has been written about independent springing that the public has doubtless concluded that it is something too technical to understand. As a matter of fact, there is nothing complicated about either the principle involved or the construction of the system. Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" enjoys the advantage of being enclosed in a welded weather-tight housing in which the entire spring mechanism and shock absorbers ride up and down in a bath of oil.

An automobile gives a perfect ride when both the front and rear springs have the same "frequency," or tension. Actually this has been impossible to carry out in the past because the front springs had to be over twice as "stiff" as the rear springs in order to hold the front axle, wheels and brakes in place. In independent springing, the wheels and spring mechanism are rigidly attached directly to the frame and there is no front axle. By relieving the front springs of the task of carrying wheels and axle, therefore, it became possible to make the front springs as "soft" as the rear springs. When the new Chevrolet strikes an irregularity in the road, both front and rear move up and down with the same frequency—there is no inclination on the part of the rear end of the car to leap into the air and throw the passengers forward and upward.

Chevrolet's "Knee-Action" has additional advantages all contributing to a comfort in riding never before thought possible in a motor car. There is a decided improvement in handling, steering, safety at high speeds and tire economy.

In design, the front spring is a neat, compact and efficient unit, as Mr. Holler points out in the above picture. The entire spring mechanism is attached rigidly to the frame. From this enclosed unit the wheels spring vertically at the ends of strong, steel horizontal arms.

If you want to hear and see more of the "Knee Action" feature call for manager W. R. Pemperton or his able associates at the

RACING-CHILEAN STYLE

THE Club Hipico in Santiago, capital of Chile, is one race-course which goes in for spectacular scenic effects as well as a good show. Set as it is among the snow-capped peaks of the Andes, it is one of the most beautiful race courses in the world. The 2,000 meter track circles a perfect bowl surrounded with rolling green and colorful flower beds. Behind the artistically designed stadium—which resembles a rambling club house—stretches a patio set with gorgeous gardens and flashing fountains. And an avenue of stately trees leads back to the paddocks where stars of the racing world nervously await their big act.

Races are staged every Sunday afternoon from April 1st to January 1st, and since racing is the favorite outdoor sport in South America the events are attended by a distin-gushed throng—among which the fair half are particularly noticeable, for most travelers agree that the women of Chile are among the most beautiful and best dressed in the world.

Racing is by no means Santiago's only claim to the attention of travelers. In fact so varied are the city's attractions that few voyagers taking the weekly cruises between New York and Chile are content to leave the country without taking the four-hour trip from "Alparaiso, the port, to visit this charming capital. It is a beautiful city of perfect climate resting 4700 feet above sea level, famous for its beautiful parks. For entertainment, among other things, there are modern theaters and motion picture houses, numerous smart restaurants and hotels, three tennis clubs, and several excellent golf courses.

An inspired Holland five surprised the Muskegon Big Reds, 21 to 18, in a southwestern league battle at the Holland armory. Holland opened the game with a free throw and Muskegon retaliated with a basket, but from that point on the game was Holland's. They had a 6-5 lead at the quarter and increased it to 14-5 before leaving the floor at the intermission. Muskegon tried valiantly to overcome the margin with a barrage of long shots, but the lead was too great to overcome. Paawe was high point man for Holland with 9 points. Wooden Picket Fence Is Staging Come-Back

Remember the old wooden picket fence that used to enclose thousands of square miles of American front lawns from Bangor, Maine, to San Diego? It began disappearing along with the horse and the wood-burning stove about twenty years ago. Today it is almost nonexistent. But it is coming back. The difference is that while the old fence was built chiefly for protection—to mark the owner's premises and keep out the neighbor's dogs and other wandering creatures in a day when American cities were new—the modern fence is being built for beauty's sake, says the Home and Field magazine.

Americans with a feeling for beauty are coming to realize that long stretches of unbroken and unadorned front lawns open to the street are almost as unattractive as the unending miles of uniform picket fences in the old days, points out G. K. Geerlings, the writer, an authority on landscape gardening. The average residential district, costly though its homes may be, presents a general effect of monotony. And that, thinks Mr. Geerlings, is because the householder is content with a front lawn, well-kept perhaps and adorned with an occasional tree or shrub, but lacking individual distinction.

The enclosed front yard, laid out in a garden and walks with an ivy-covered house in the background impresses the owner's personality as mere architecture never can. The fact that each person's taste is different from his neighbor's would make such a street one of varied interest instead of uniform regularity.

That is why the enclosure is coming back, either as a simple picket affair, but different from its neighbors; as a low stone wall surrounded by pickets; as a fence composed of interesting panels of pickets, or as a stone wall high enough to shut off the view except from the entryways.

Such distinction is not only beautiful but profitable, says the Home and Field writer. Homes with well-designed grounds bring far higher prices than those that face on a bare and uninteresting landscape.
