Zero Readings Predicted After Brief Respite

Police Ask Co-operation In Parking as Snow Deposits Mount Here

Holland had the promised "slightly warmer" weather today with temperatures of 15 instead of Wednesday's five above, but the weather man brought discouraging news with a fresh prediction that zero temperatures "or below" may be expected Friday morning, accompanied by the usual snow flurries.

With another two or three inches of fresh snow added today to already heavy deposits, Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff and City Engineer Jacob Zuidema requested better co-operation from local motorists in their parking habits.

Car owners are requested not to park overnight on their drives between the road and the sidewalk, since this practice is hazardous both to street plows and sidewalk plows. Street plows begin their rounds at 3 a.m. and since a certain speed is necessary to "throw" the snow, visibility is lessened and truck drivers reported several "close calls" in missing cars.

Although a city ordinance prohibits street parking between 2 and 5 a.m., police requested that drivers desist from parking on streets in the early morning, thereby enabling the snow plows to give better service.

Police also asked motorists not to park near to other cars on residential streets, Chief Van Hoff said he hesitates to specify that all parking must be on a certain side, since this order might be inconvenient in many places.

"Just use common sense, and co-operate all you can," he pleaded. "We don't want to resort to having cars removed from the streets by wreckers like some other cities have been doing," he said.

Meanwhile, street employees continued work on snow removal today under better conditions than Wednesday's intense blizzard. One philosophical employee said, "After all, it's only 42 days to spring!"

Local Woman Fined on Beer-to-Minors Charge

Hazel Schurman, 39, of 346 College Ave., paid fine and costs of $53.90 Tuesday after pleading guilty before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith to a charge of selling beer to minors.

Mrs. Schurman, working at the Covered Wagon on River Ave., was arrested by city police Tuesday on complaint of Prosecutor Howard W. Fant, who last Saturday was instructed by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles "to do something" about taverns selling beer to minors after two 20-year-old Hope college students testified that they had been served beer there.

The two named in the complaint were Ivan E. Martin, Jr., and Guy Hackett, Jr. At Saturday's court session, the two youths and Vernon Bennett, Jr., 22, were assessed fine and costs of $89 each after pleading guilty to charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile, without intent to steal.

Polio Coin Containers Missing in Holland

Local Kiwanians hope it isn't true, but suspicion points to somebody winning Holland's title as the meanest thief of 1947. Three canisters, placed in local drug stores to collect money for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, are missing.

The Model Drug store reports their container has been missing since last Thursday noon. Hansen Drug store reports one of the two containers left there is gone and Wade Drug on Eighth St., said a collection box was missing from their store.

Local police are investigating. The money was intended to apply toward the local quota of $4,500 and "every cent will be needed to care for polio cases in Ottawa county," sponsors said.

Resthaven Has Only Five More Vacancies

Applications of two more residents for Resthaven, home for old people located at 10th St. and Central Ave., were approved Tuesday night at a meeting of the board of trustees. This swells the present total of Resthaven residents to seven. Total capacity of the home is 12.

The board urged any local residents who have considered residency in Resthaven to apply at once as the number of vacancies is small. It was understood that several people are considering the move but have been slow about taking definite action.

Those wishing to apply may obtain application blanks from Dr. Teunis Vergeer, 50 East 15th St., phone 3819.

Dr. Robert L. Fleming called at The Sentinel office to discuss problems of education in India. Dr. Fleming, Holland High graduate of the class of 1923 is visiting friends before returning to India to take up his duties in Woodstock school. He expressed interest in strides America has made in visual education.

Former Holland Man Now Teaches in India

"I am anxious to get back to India. With the British leaving, India is going to attempt an experiment that will be interesting for the next 20 years."

This is the reaction of Dr. Robert L. Fleming, who graduated from Holland High school with the class of 1923. His father, the Rev. G. B. Fleming, was minister of the First Methodist church of Holland from 1919 to 1923, when he was transferred to Grand Rapids where he has had a charge since.

Dr. Fleming has just been granted a doctor's degree in education at the University of Chicago where he has been spending his furlough in graduate school. After graduating from high school, Dr. Fleming went to Albion college from which he was graduated in 1927. He then enrolled in Drew university at Madison, N.J., and received a master's degree in 1928.

From Drew, Dr. Fleming went to India as a missionary teacher and became connected with the Woodstock school at Musoorie, in north India. This school corresponds to the Kodakikan in Southern India, maintained by the Reformed church.

Dr. Fleming met and married his wife in India. She is a physician and graduate of a Philadelphia medical college. The Flemings have two children, Bobbie, 9, and a daughter Beth, age 2.

Dr. Fleming is in Holland visiting friends. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrington, 237 Van Raalte Ave. He has visited the high school, where several teachers he knew during school days still conduct classes.

Dr. Fleming's hobbies are allied to natural history. He collects birds and ferns and on his trip to the United States brought a collection of snakes for the University of Michigan. His fields are sociology and biology, which he says is an ideal combination for India.

Musoorie is a "hill station," a mountain resort where residents of India spend their "holidays." The altitude is 7,000 feet and the mountains are wooded with oak, pine and other forest trees.

Woodstock school has an enrollment of 350 pupils, ranging from kindergarten to 12th grade. Of this number 140 are Americans, 90 British and 75 Indians, with the rest mixed.

The school is supported by seven Protestant denominations. India is looking to the United States for technical and social leadership, Dr. Fleming believes. He said increasing numbers of Indian students are attending American universities with the approval of Indian leaders. American schools in the country are popular with the Indian leaders and Woodstock has had its quota of children from families that figure in news of India.

Judgment Is Sought

Grand Haven, Feb. 6 (Special)—Suit has been started in Circuit Court by Henry R. Dykstra of Holland seeking $10,000 judgment for injuries received by his son, Jay R., in an accident Feb. 5, 1945, at River Ave. and 16th St. Holland. Defendant in the case is Herman Meppelink of Holland, owner of the car which was driven by his daughter, Carol. The child, five years old at the time of the accident, was severely injured when he was struck by the car.

Grand Haven Joins Annual Chicago Music Festival

Grand Haven, Feb. 6 (Special)—Representatives of major civic and fraternal organizations of Grand Haven, meeting in the city hall Wednesday night, decided in favor of the city joining the Chicago Land Music festival.

According to the plan, Grand Haven will become the center of the area which extends as far north as Manistee, east to Lansing, and south to Kalamazoo and South Haven, in which it will be necessary for musicians of various classes to come to Grand Haven for elimination contests before becoming eligible to compete in the Chicago Land festival. Direct contact is to be made through P. H. Murdick, local Chamber of Commerce secretary, and with Director Philip Maxwell of the Chicago Land festival.

Ways and means of support were discussed at the meeting. Mr. Murdick indicated that already four or five interested individuals are willing to underwrite the undertaking which in time is expected to become self-supporting. Tentative plans suggest the festival may grow in importance and size and may possibly include a series of concerts in which nationally known musicians will appear here.

Classifications in which elimination contests will be held will include mixed choruses, men's choruses, women's choruses and band, A, B, C, D, baton twirlers, cornet, trombone and accordion solos and men and women soloists.

The contest will get under way this summer and more meetings are to be held in the future to carry out the plans already inaugurated. The Chicago Land festival has been in progress 13 years.

Circuit Court Lists Busy February Session

Grand Haven, Feb. 6 (Special)—On the Circuit Court calendar for the February term there are 12 criminal cases, two jury cases, 11 non-jury cases, 15 chancery cases, contested; five chancery cases, default, and 34 cases in which no progress has been made during the past year, listed.

Fined for Vandalism

Grand Haven, Feb. 6 (Special)—Clarence Baker, 19, and Albert Cooper, 21, both of Grand Haven, were arraigned Saturday morning in Justice George V. Hoffer's court on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Life at Pine Court Has Troubles, Council Learns

The Buildings and Grounds committee of Common Council Wednesday night was appointed to investigate complaints at Pine court, the city's temporary veterans' housing project, after two wives told councilmen that electric bills were unnecessarily high, the roofs leaked, the window coverings were flimsy and no floor coverings had arrived.

Their talks followed a communication, signed by about a dozen Pine court residents, calling attention to high electric bills. One of the women said she had been told that the electric range provided by FPHA was at fault.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson explained that the 13 two-family units were assembled under government contract and turned over to the city as soon as they are ready for occupancy. He said all furnishings listed in the contract have not been received. Twenty-one of the 26 units are occupied, he said.

Ald. Bernard De Pree, although sympathetic to the complaints, said the criticism of council was somewhat unfair. "Here we tried to do something for the veterans at their insistence and now we appear to be on trial because all is not well," he said.

The Building and Grounds committee was instructed to study the government agreement to see if faulty construction could be repaired.

One woman representative said, "Our husbands sacrificed a lot when they were in service while 4-F's at home made a lot of money in war plants."

March 19 was set as a date for a public hearing for vacating Lake St. between First and Second Sts., the city retaining rights to maintain utilities. The street never was opened for traffic.

Council approved a recommendation of the Public Safety commission to purchase a new three-wheeled motorcycle for the Police department at a cost of $700, with a minimum of $300 to be received for the old motorcycle.

Included are Dr. A. C. Van Raalte's worn top hat, a large picture of him, pictures of other founders, and other articles.

Night Watchman Killed in Impact Of Freight Cars

Frank H. Eby, 58, of 54 West 12th St., night watchman for the H. J. Heinz Co. for 16 years, was fatally injured Monday night when he was caught between two freight cars while working at the Heinz plant.

The accident occurred at 7:45 p.m. when Eby was crossing the track between the two cars, unaware that one was part of a long string being moved by a locomotive around a curve.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water, who accompanied Dykstra attendants on the ambulance call, said Eby was conscious and talked freely on the way to Holland hospital where he died shortly after admittance. The coroner said death was due to loss of blood and shock.

Crew members of the train, a Pere Marquette freight, said they were not aware of the accident until they heard Eby's cries for help.

Surviving are the wife; two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Wagner and Arlene Eby at home; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Otto Dressel of Holland; a stepson, Ray Japenga, of Grandville; three grandchildren; and two brothers, William C. Eby of Grand Rapids and Leo F. Eby of Rockford.

The trio told the court they were celebrating the completion of semester exams at the time. They said they drank beer in a Holland tavern and when Judge Miles found two of the number were 20 years old, he instructed Prosecutor Howard W. Fant "to do something about beer places serving minors." The three youths told the court they plan to be total abstainers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benscoter returned to Holland last Thursday with their car, recovered in Lake Forest.

Original Painting In De Pree Display

In keeping with a policy of the Chamber of Commerce featuring local industries for local citizens, the display of the De Pree Co. now being shown in the east window of the Chamber headquarters is attracting considerable attention.

The display shows only a part of the pharmaceutical drugs and toiletries which the company manufactures and processes. As pharmaceutical chemists, the Holland concern is known internationally in this special field.

The display is built around the original picture which has served as a company trademark since 1911. It was painted by a famous woman artist, Meyna McMein, in 1911 when she was commissioned to paint the picture she worked with several models to find the one who would portray the qualities found in an outstanding nurse. Then she worked months before completing the picture of the blue and white clad nurse.

The company manufactures and distributes 568 articles in pharmaceutical and toiletries lines. The company also pioneered in promoting vitamins before "vitamin" became a household word. The company was making the American public conscious of its now famous brand of Wheatamin. The B complex was first made from a wheat germ which gave the product its name. At present the company is producing 25 vitamin products.

County Agent Cautions Farmers Against Fires

The winter season is the time for many farm fires. L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, says loss by fires is serious at any time, but in the winter human life is often lost and valuable livestock and equipment is destroyed.

"The fire that never starts doesn't have to be fought," Arnold says in advising farmers to use every precaution. He estimated that three fourths of the farm fires this winter could have been prevented if the people had looked for and eliminated fire hazards. He believes many fires could be extinguished while small if there were adequate home preparation.

The loss of a home at any time is serious. However when it is expensive to replace it and some materials are still difficult to get, Arnold believes farmers should consider the problem and take proper precautions.

Objective to Give Place to Farmers Wins Sweepstakes

North Chester Bureau Wins Prize in 1946 West Michigan Contest

"To help our rural people take their place, any place, and not feel out of place." That was the objective which won for the North Chester Community Farm bureau, of Chester township, Ottawa county, the Sweepstakes prize in the 1946 West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper contests, conducted in Ottawa, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, and Mason counties.

Willard Hoskins is chairman of the North Chester group and Mrs. H. E. Stroh, discussion leader. With its objective in mind, the North Chester group developed a well-rounded program of activities in 1946, based on the uniform report blanks sent out at the beginning of the year to all competing organizations.

Competing organizations submitted reports on what they did to improve their own organizations; to develop leadership among the young people; to improve the community; to promote the best interests of their county; what they did looking to a better state and nation, and in lending influence for world peace and other important developments in world affairs.

In improving the organization, Mrs. H. E. Stroh, discussion leader, singly enrolled the most members of any farm bureau in the county. A pie social was held for the flower fund, Blue Cross hospital insurance was made available; the membership was kept informed of current events; each family reported as to the progress made in improvements, and participation in such campaigns as the rat extermination drives. Recreational events were held.

To develop youth leadership, young people were sent to leadership training centers, and to conventions. Meetings were kept attractive for young people. A Junior Leadership project was sponsored, as was also 4-H club work. Young people were encouraged to hold offices and head committees.

To improve the community, monthly meetings in MSC extension classes were held for women; a yard clean-up campaign was sponsored; shrubbery was planted on home grounds; 41 farm homes were covered in a fire protection area; building of two miles of good roads was achieved, and a swamp road raised; endeavored to help the less fortunate; developed better standards through social contacts; held showers for brides and young mothers.

Continuing community accomplishments, Mrs. Stroh was named to serve as rehabilitation officer for returned veterans. A family night community supper is held annually at Thanksgiving time. Everyone is asked, not only members. A fund which has been held by the township board for cemeteries, which, under recommendation of the Farm Bureau will be used in 1947 to improve all three cemeteries in the township.

In promoting the best interests of the county, the North Chester Farm bureau started the county on a Bange disease eradication program. Conservation talks and movies were arranged for, with Leo R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, and Andrew Briola, soils conservationist. A discussion also was conducted on roads, by one of the highway commissioners. State and county officers of the Farm Bureau addressed meetings.

An education exhibit was placed at the Berlin fair, and promoted Farm Bureau membership. Looking toward a better state and nation, the organization set machinery in motion in the entire township for a house-to-house canvass to have every eligible voter registered. Contact was maintained to representatives in state and national governments. A full collection was sent for the cancer fund drive. A penny march is conducted at meetings and the funds given to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. A junior member made a house-to-house solicitation for the Red Cross fund and Community Chest.

In world affairs the community "adopted" 12 children in Rotterdam, The Netherlands, so that they could attend school. William Rasch, North Ottawa Junior Farm Bureau president, brought a French farmer student to talk to the North Chester group. The group also had a committee ready to contact government officials on world matters.

Snow is carried on the conveyor and dumped onto trucks at the rear. Loading operations were concluded at 9:30 p.m. Thursday after the loader displaced snow at the rate of 30 loads an hour all day.

City Clerk Contest To Highlight Election

With last Monday deadline for filing of petitions for candidates in the primary election Feb. 17, interest in city politics today centered about the race for city clerk with six entries.

Little opposition in other positions is evident elsewhere. There are two candidates for the office of municipal judge and only hints of opposition elsewhere.

Christian Wins Ninth Victory By Taking South

Maroon Team Builds Big First Quarter Lead; Schrotenboer Injured

Holland Christian won its third straight game from Grand Rapids schools here Friday night when they defeated South 37-25 in a rough and tumble affair. Play was spotty with the locals taking an early lead and never relinquishing it. It was the Maroons' ninth win of the season and their third in a row. The locals were complete masters of the contest, although hard pressed by the Trojans for two quarters.

Coach Art Tuls of the Dutch had grief throughout the contest. In the first place, he was experimenting with a lineup in an effort to find a winning combination without the services of Bobby Altena. Added to this, he lost his star center, Gene Schrotenboer, in the second quarter with a badly sprained ankle. Then, early in the third quarter the local mentor was forced to replace his regular guard, Jim Lampen, who was ejected from the game on five personal fouls.

The first quarter opened with the locals still hot from the Ottawa Hills tilt of last week. They jumped into an 8-0 lead in the first two minutes. Little Kearney Zoerhof, with three quick baskets combined with two pointers by Rosendahl and Bremer, gave Christian an 18-3 lead at the end of the first period. The Hollanders had both back boards completely under control and scored several tip-in shots.

It was then that the bottom fell out of the local attack. The rugged South crew turned on a blast that swept the Trojans off their feet. Burly Frank Pellerito and Cecil Marsh repeatedly drove through the Christian defense for easy scores. Coach Galt Patterson's boys tallied 10 points in the second canto while the locals managed to garner but two. The score stood 20-13 at the half.

The Maroons still couldn't get going in the third period and soon lost diminutive Jim Lampen on fouls. Coach Tuls substituted frequently in this period in an effort to find a winning combination without help from the lanky Schrotenboer. The Dutch were again out-scored by the aggressive Trojan five, 8-4 in the third period. The Maroons now held a slim three-point margin as the quarter ended.

It was a rejuvenated Christian five which took the floor in the fourth period when Gene Schrotenboer, although limping noticeably, returned to the lineup. Rosendahl and Zoerhof quickly combined on one handed shots to give the Holland five a 29-23 lead four minutes to go. The South five was losing its aggressiveness and showed signs of tiring at this stage. Bremer, replacement for Altena and making his first start since the Creston game, then personally took charge of the Christian scoring for the remainder of the contest. He sank four successive foul shots and a long one-handed push shot in the closing stages to ice the game for the Holland crew.

The Christian attack was a far cry from that of the Ottawa Hills tilt but this can be blamed to constant pressing attack of the South aggregation. On several occasions a man would break into the clear only to be fouled before he was able to shoot. Zoerhof and Lampen continually stalled South's fast break attack to wreck the Trojans' only offensive weapon. Bremer played stellar ball besides leading all scorers with 14 points for the evening. Don Hondorp and Frank Pellerito stood out for the Patterson crew and were the two scrappiest players the Dutch have faced this year.

Holland cashed in on nine out of 19 charity tosses while South made good on seven out of 18. Following Bremer in the Christian scoring was Zoerhof with 10 and Rosendahl with nine. Pellerito scored nearly half of the visitors' points as he garnered 12.

Coach Els Kleijns' reserve quintet lost a heart-breaking 43-41 overtime decision to the South seconds in the preliminary tilt. The game was knotted at 8-8 at the end of the first period and 19-19 at the half. The Dutch forged ahead 31-24 at the end of the third canto but lost the lead when South knotted the score at 40-all as the final whistle blew. The Maroons missed several scoring opportunities in the extra period but could only garner a single charity toss to South's three points.

Kool and Otten were high for the locals with 10 apiece while Baker led the winners with 12.

Vandenberg, Jr., Back in Father's Executive Office

Senator's Son Also Back Socially; Friends Hint Link With Miss Truman

Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — No cry of nepotism has been made against Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg for reappointing his son as his executive assistant. The reason is simple. It's so obvious to constituents, the press, and those who offer Arthur, Jr., better paying jobs that it's a sacrifice financially. His base pay, under reorganization, is fixed at $8,000 a year.

This tall son of a tall father, who must grow weary of hearing "My, you look just like the senator," is really the generalissimo of the Vandenberg activities in the nation's capital.

He's a buffer to those who "must see the Senator right away" and can't. He's the campaign manager in and between election years. He's a confidante when the Senator wants to sound-off. He's a critic of his speeches. He's an advisor about whom the Senator should see and, more importantly, should not see.

HE'S THE man who keeps the Senator writing fewer letters (which he likes to do) and seeing more people (which he does not always like to do). He's the contact man with Michigan Republicans.

Even the senator, who is never stingy with praise for the services rendered by his only son, was startled at the loss of smoothness in the office machinery when Arthur, Jr., put on a uniform (a private's) and went off to war. He emerged a major and is always interrupting his busy day to say "Howdy" to visiting Army friends.

A graduate of Dartmouth, Arthur, Jr., hasn't a chosen profession. He is a sort of newspaper man who never worked on a newspaper; a business man who never operated a business; a politician who never ran for office.

His desk is just outside the Senator's inner sanctum. He keeps one secretary busy just handling the overflow from his desk.

ARTHUR, JR. really "runs" the office. He sees to it that deserving Michigan Republicans are on the staff. He only wishes he had more jobs, but "the office is all set and there are more deserving Republicans than jobs." Generalissimo Arthur is the despair of the stenographers with his avid desire to have every letter answered the same day. That is quite a neat trick as some 200 letters come in every day.

Determined to ease his father's legislative burden, he is trying to take more and more of the letter-dictation, which occupies at least the first two hours of the Senator's day, which begins at 8:30 in the morning.

Actually, he can dictate an answer to a letter in the Senator's own phrases so the recipient could never tell the difference. But this real talent is with the visitors who seek the Senator. He likes people and wants people to like his father who in the press of the day's events isn't always sociable.

ARTHUR REMEMBERS those who helped during the campaign, which was like no other since the candidate was in Paris and New York and not in the state making noises like a candidate is supposed to do. Arthur, Jr., convinced many a Republican that his father "has not gone so international, he has forgotten his home state."

His determination to help his father delays, of course, the launching of any business enterprise of his own. He tries not to think about that and says "no" to editing a newspaper or to becoming a partner in an advertising firm.

At social functions, Arthur, Jr. is just beginning to be seen again after his long time away in the Army followed by his election-stay in Michigan. But the other night he did have dinner at the White House. His friends are suggesting to him that the famed Vandenberg bi-partisanism be extended to a romantic alliance with the daughter of the Democratic President, the equally eligible Margaret Truman.

Reformed Church Plans Union Talks At Synod Here

Dr. Harry J. Hager of Chicago, president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, has announced that the next regular meeting of the synod will be held in Holland June 5 to June 11. The synod, highest judiciary of the Reformed church, meets in Holland on invitation of First Reformed church and Hope college and will join in the Centennial celebration.

A major issue before the synod will be consideration of the plan of union between the United Presbyterian and Reformed churches. This plan has been prepared by a joint committee of the two denominations and is now under discussion in the church-at-large. It approved by the synod the plan must be sent down to the 41 classes of the church for ratification.

A two-thirds vote from the classes is required to make the union effective. The same procedure is required in the Presbyterian church. The proposed name of the joint denomination is The United Presbyterian-Reformed church. If consummated, it will create a denomination of 400,000 communicant members. Strong feature is that the creedal statements as well as the form of government of the groups are substantially alike and that there is slight overlapping in the location of churches in the nation. There is no duplication or overlapping in colleges, theological seminaries and mission fields.

First reports of the denominations' United Advance program will be presented by the Rev. Marion de Velder, director of the campaign. Present indications are that the entire sum will be raised within the allowed 3-year limit, according to campaign authorities.

More than 200 delegates from the nation and visitors will share in the synod meetings. The Rev. Henry J. Belmont of Los Angeles, Calif., vice-president of the synod, will lead morning devotional services.

Appraisal Firm Continues Work In Local Area

Revaluation of Holland's personal property, commercial and industrial, for tax equalization purposes, is underway, according to J. M. Clemenishaw, managing partner of J. M. Clemenishaw & Associates, Cleveland appraisal engineers. Two of the firm's staff has been here several days. Clemenishaw is handling appraisal of industrial plants.

Findings will be submitted to the City Assessor for use in equalizing assessments and to furnish additional tax data, he said.

He said that this year his firm will revalue plants, real and personal, along with the central business district, on the same basis as dwellings and land. The appraisal head mentioned that in 1938 his firm appraised the industrial plants, real and personal and also the real estate of the central business district, in Holland. This is the first time that the firm is appraising all of the tangible personal property of all business establishments on the same basis as the dwelling properties.

Clemenishaw wished to make clear to the citizens that his firm was merely a disinterested party in the appraisal and is only assisting the city assessor.

The appraisal firm has a reputation for having worked from coast to coast, city officials said. Clemenishaw estimated that his firm had appraised nearly 10 billion dollars worth of property, and on the average appraise five million dollars worth every working day.

Money Order Service Is Resumed to Italy

Money order transactions from the United States to Italy which were suspended in 1941 have been resumed. Postmaster Harry Kramer said today. The Postal administration of Italy reports that it is not prepared at the present time to issue money orders for payment in the United States.

Postmaster Kramer also said that effective March 1, the importation of more than 200 cigarettes or more than 250 grams (8 1/2 ounces) of chopped tobacco per month is prohibited in gift parcels exchanged between private individuals in the United States and the Netherlands.

Parcels received in the Netherlands after Feb. 28 containing cigarettes or tobacco in excess of these amounts will be subject to confiscation by customs authorities. Therefore, after today postal authorities will refuse to accept gift parcels containing more tobacco than will be allowed March 1.

AFL Edges CIO in Hart-Cooley Vote

By a two-vote margin, employees of the Hart and Cooley Co., favored the International Association of Machinists (AFL) as their bargaining representative in a special election Friday, labor and management reported jointly today.

IAM-AFL polled 133 votes and United Auto Workers (CIO) polled 131 votes. The vote was called by NLRB Representative Joseph Kulik of Detroit.

In a three-way vote Jan. 16, UAW-CIO received 121 votes, IAM-AFL polled 92 votes and the remaining ballots, 77, were cast for non-affiliation. Since none received a "one plus 50 per cent majority," a run off election was scheduled.

Farm-to-Prosper Event May Be Rescheduled

The program committee for the West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper contest Round-Up in Muskegon is attempting to plot a future course after having been given a complete knockout by the weather man Thursday, when a record 24-hour snowfall and strong wind forced cancellation of all plans for the big event of that day, according to C. D. McNamee, chairman of trustees.

Tentative plans now are to entertain the heads of competing organizations of Ottawa, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Mason counties at a noon luncheon sometime in February, with presentation of awards at that time. Hundreds of dollars had been spent for the event of last Thursday, including cooking of dinner for 700. Something was salvaged from the food but hundreds of dollars loss was suffered in financing of the event. The committee had spent about $1,800 on the event.

Only facilities available in Muskegon for accommodating an event of that magnitude were the Central Campus auditorium and cafeteria. These were available only on Thursday, Jan. 30, between semesters.

Holland Loses To Benton Harbor In Return Game

Tigers Knock Dutchmen From League Lead; Offense Fails to Click

Holland High school met a highly keyed Benton Harbor squad Friday night and lost their top standing in the Southwestern Conference by virtue of a 55-31 setback. The Dutch sorely missed the services of their graduated stars and never got their offense rolling.

The contest was exceedingly rough with 44 fouls being called 25 against the Tigers and 19 on the locals. Capt. Jack Sabadin was forced from the game on personal fouls and was followed closely by Fuzz Bauman, Dutch guard.

In the opening minutes of play, the Hollanders took seven free throws before they hit the mark. In the meantime the Tigers gathered 10 points giving them a 10-1 lead midway in the first quarter. Toward the end of the first period the Dutch and the Tigers each got five points to make the quarter score 15-6.

The Hollanders lost more ground in the second quarter as Flaherty and Sabadin began hitting. At the end of the first half the locals were trailing 25-10. During the entire half the locals scored only three baskets as the Tigers continued roughing it up. The Harbortites missed only four foul tosses in the first half while counting on nine. The Dutch hit only four out of 15.

In the third period the Dutch whittled the Tiger lead down to 31-24 at one time but Coach Bill Perigo's cagers stopped the Dutch rally cold and went on to score six points while the Dutch went scoreless making the score 37-24.

Again in the final frame the Dutch were weak and scored only seven points while Benton Harbor showed no mercy by hitting for 18 points to finish off the Hollanders 55-31. Both coaches substituted in the last few minutes of play as the outcome was not doubted by anyone.

It was the poorest exhibition of basketball the locals have displayed all season but Coach Malcolm Mackay said he had no doubt that the team would get back on its feet. "It was a tough game for the boys who started their first game" stated Mackay, "but none of the boys played good ball."

Bob Van Dyke, giant center, rang up 14 points to lead the Dutch in the scoring while the next high total was four. It was strange for Van Dyke too who lost his tip-in partner, Leo Vanderkuy, at first semester.

Holladay, Tiger center, led the winners with 16 points and was followed by Flaherty and Sames who had 14 and 12 respectively. Jack Sabadin continued his scoring slump as he was held to eight points. This brings his total to only 13 points in the last three games.

In the pregame the little Tigers scored a 32-27 victory over the Dutch Reserves. The quarter scores were 9-6, 24-19, 29-23 and the 32-27 final. Fox, substitute forward entered the game and took scoring honors with 15 points. Kruithoff led the Holland cagers with eight points with Israels and Appledorn totaling five each.

Junior CE Rally Climaxes Week

Christian Endeavor week was climaxed for the Juniors of Holland at the annual C. E. rally, Sunday afternoon in the Bethel Reformed church.

Dr. Jacob J. Sessler spoke to the children. His illustrated object talk featured an alarm clock. He compared the workings of the clock to the face, heart, and hands of people. Quoting from Scripture, Dr. Sessler said, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

He surprised the children by allowing the alarm to ring, first very mildly, and then louder and louder. "So too," he said, "our conscience warns us of evil, first in a mild manner, and if we fail to listen, it continues to become more persistent." "To live a Christ-like life, we must keep our minds and hearts stayed on Him."

Arlene Welling, president of the Bethel society presided, and devotions were conducted by Shirley Ham, Sidney Hibma, Glen Mulder, Don Newhouse, Carol Vandermeulen, and Joyce Van Langevelde of Sixth church. Special music included the songs "Jesus and I," and "Safe Am I," sung by a double quartet composed of Connie Tuinsma, Betty Schepers, Mary Lou Van Dyke, Vivian Vischer, Shirley Essenburg, Delores Vanden Berg, Roger Essenburg, and Tommy McCarthy of the Trinity society. A piano duet during the offering was played by Elaine Reinink and Phyllis Boes.

To impress upon the minds of the children that Christian Endeavor is founded upon basic principles, the group recited in unison the Christian Endeavor pledge. It was announced that part of the offering would be used for the purchase of a Christian Endeavor poster which will be posted on one of the large bill boards somewhere in Michigan.

The song service was led by Robert Vander Hart, accompanied by Miss Adrianna Stekete. Societies having 100 per cent of their membership present, and who will share the banner for the coming year are Trinity who had 34 members present, Maplewood, 33 members; First, 24 members; and Central Park, 16. Of the 243 Juniors enrolled in local societies, 220 were present at the Rally.

Van Koevering, Hering Honored At Soil Meeting

Rural Poster and Scrapbook Prizes Awarded Winners

Grand Haven, Feb. 6 (Special)—Awarding of special certificates of merit to Editor Adrian Van Koevering of the Zeeland Record and to former Chairman Hunter Hering, Coopersville, highlighted the annual meeting of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district Thursday January 30 in Grand Haven high school.

There were only 58 voters present, but according to state law, the election could not be postponed since it must be held not later than Jan. 30.

Van Koevering was praised for his work in sponsoring soil conservation through the columns of his paper.

Four directors were re-elected. They are Clarence Reenders, Edwin Schaefer, William Sinderman, and Albert Stegenga. The fifth director elected was George Maierhauser of Olive township. He succeeds Hering who is retiring after serving as chairman since the district was formed in 1938.

Volleys From Ambush - -

NO WONDER THE public is confused. In a recent survey made by The Sentinel editorial staff, it was estimated that 54,056 speeches and lectures are given in Holland each year. To make matters worse, each speaker generally has his own ideas on the subject of which he is talking. The Ambusher, hastens to add however, that he is not an authority and the above figure is merely an estimate.

Church meetings account for a large number of the total—14,894 that is. The 33 churches in Holland and immediate vicinity have an average of more than 453 meetings a year. This includes the Sunday services, numbering 3,432; special services, 235; Sunday school meetings, 1,716; church clubs and organizations, 8,580 on the basis of five organizations in each church holding weekly meetings; catechism, 924. These figures may vary in some churches but estimates were made on an average basis. Annual Good Friday services in Hope chapel account for seven different speeches.

Clubs and non-church organizations in the city number some 32. Estimates show that 310 speeches are given in one year. A few of the clubs, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Exchange, Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, Woman's Literary club, WCTU, Daughters of the American Revolution, Century, Yachting, Faculty Dames, Sons of Revolution, American Association of University Woman and others, have a speaker at each meeting. Many other clubs probably have a speaker once a year—at an annual banquet or convention.

Hope college students probably hear more lectures in a single year than anyone else. An estimated 38,340 classroom lectures are given. Some 53 professors have an average of 20 classes a week, the Ambusher was told, with 36 weeks of school in a year. Chapel exercises are held daily too.

School children have fewer speeches. Fifteen schools listed for Holland probably do not have more than six assemblies a year for which speakers are engaged. Parents and teachers listen to 120 speakers a year. At least each school should have eight PTA meetings a year—a meeting after each issuance of report cards.

The Youth for Christ organization meets weekly in Holland and a speaker is engaged for each meeting. This accounts for 52 of the total.

Surprising to many, including the Ambusher, is the fact that there are an average of 250 funerals a year in Holland. His estimate would have far exceeded that had he not checked the Necrology columns in the Dec. 31, 1946, issue of the Sentinel.

Now add the figures listed above and you will get a total of 54,056—we hope. The Ambusher again reminds readers that he is no authority on the subject. Anyone wishing to verify the figures is invited to check for himself.

If your results vary from these figures, the Ambusher would be interested to hear from you.

New Store Offers U.S. Surplus Goods

Holland's newest commercial enterprise has a special interest to sportsmen, because it will deal in surplus Army and Navy goods.

Holland Surplus Stores at 126 East Eighth St. opened Thursday with a special offering at 55,000 Army blankets, according to J. G. Van Volkenburgh, proprietor.

Van Volkenburgh, a former Navy officer, has recently been returned to inactive duty. The Holland store is the first of several West Michigan outlets for surplus goods that Van Volkenburgh plans to open.

Two truck loads of blankets were among the first items received. These articles are widely used by sportsmen for camping, car seat coverings and general use where a sturdy blanket is required, Van Volkenburgh said.

As government surplus goods are offered for sale, Holland Surplus Stores expects to buy. These surpluses will include hand tools, clothing suitable for sports and general wear, wood and metal working machinery. Many other types of surplus commodities will also be stocked.

As a special service the store will attempt to secure any particular surplus item a customer wants, Van Volkenburgh said.

Lansing Sexton Hands Holland Third Cage Loss

Locals Lose Contest In Bad Second Period; Victors Improved Club

Lansing Sexton handed the Holland High cagers a 56-34 defeat Tuesday in the spacious Sexton gym in Lansing. It was the third loss of the season for the locals and the second straight as the Sextons took revenge for the 43-31 trimming Holland gave them earlier this season.

A bad second quarter proved to be the difference between victory and defeat for the locals as they lost 20 points in that frame. Coach Malcolm Mackay said that he was well satisfied with the Dutch play in the first and third quarters and realized the inconsistency of the new men in the lineup.

GAME POSTPONED

The Holland Christian-Western State basketball game was postponed Tuesday night because of weather conditions. Plans will be made to reschedule the tilt. Raymond Holwerda, athletic director of Holland Christian said today.

Both teams did little scoring in the first quarter as the Dutch stayed with the Sextons and sneaked up to a 9-8 first quarter score. The Hollanders were shadowing Sexton's center, Sheathelm, and slowing down the Lansing offense.

The Dutch failed to halt the Lansing attack in the second quarter; and as a result the speedy Sextons thundered down the hardwood ahead of the Dutchmen at times, and if not, they hit on long set-shots with amazing regularity. Sexton showed scoring power in the second frame, and they racked up 24 points while the Hollanders were having a difficult time scoring five tallies. The Sexton club was handling the ball well and were shooting with great accuracy.

Sheathelm, a center who broke into the lineup after Grant's graduation in January, speeded up the Sexton team considerably and according to the Dutch Coaches Mackay and Weiss, made Lansing a better team. As the first half ended the Hollanders were trailing 33-13.

Holland came to life again in the third quarter and scored 14 points while holding the Lansingites to eight counters. Again Holland's defense tightened and the Sextons' speed was of no use as Sheathelm again was tied up by the Dutch. At the end of the third quarter the locals were still far behind with the score 41-27. Mackay saw glimpses of power in the Hollanders during the third quarter and thought they were going to pull one out of the fire.

But the fourth quarter saw the end of the Dutch rally and Sexton picked up 15 points while the Dutch garnered but seven. The ball game ended with the final score 56-34.

None of the Hollanders played outstanding ball but Bob Van Dyke nevertheless tallied 17 points on five field goals and seven foul tosses. Little, an aggressive and high scoring Lansing guard tallied 17 also for the winners.

In the preliminary game Coach Fred Weiss' squad were defeated by the Lansing Reserves 41-26. The quarter scores were 5-5, 10-9 with Holland leading and 29-18 with Lansing leading and the final 41-26. Vander Kuy and Appledorn led the local scorers with seven each. Haan and Nichols scored nine each for the Sexton reserves.

Holland Outfit Ekes League Win

Holland Pure Oils pulled somewhat of an upset Tuesday night when they eked out a 37-36 victory over the first round YMCA champs, Fox Jewelers in a league game. The Fox outfit was also leading the second round race previous to the tilt.

The game was a nip and tuck affair all the way through with both teams holding good margins on different occasions. At one point in the contest the champs held an 8-3 lead and at another time the locals led by six points.

Fox held a comfortable 36-28 lead with three minutes to go, and then the fireworks began. Claire Van Lier, diminutive speedster broke loose on two occasions for two quick baskets to put the Dutch back in the game. Five more quick points in the last two minutes gave the narrow decision to the Dutch. This was the second close game which the locals have had in the second round of play. Their only defeat was a one point overtime decision to the Pastor Ford.

Earl Holkeboer paced the locals with nine points.

Holland Trucking Terminal Boosts Company Service

Expanded Facilities Permit New Fast Service to Chicago

Transportation in Holland has taken another step forward.

The new Michigan Express, Inc. office and terminal has been officially opened at 170 East 15th St., near Columbia Ave.

The building, engineered and built by Elzinga and Volkens of Holland, embodies the latest in terminal operation and triples the capacity of the present terminal.

The new facilities will permit 11 loads of freight to be handled at one time, according to B. J. Rosendahl, Michigan Express agent in Holland.

B. J. Rosendahl

Holland, Service in and out of Holland will be greatly improved by the expanded terminal, he said.

The terminal will make possible inauguration of direct, daily service between Holland and Chicago, rights for which have been in the possession of MX for some time. Lack of terminal facilities at Holland delayed this service until now.

Service between Holland and Chicago will start Feb. 1 and will be the same fast delivery now given between all other points of MX, Rosendahl said.

Rosendahl, who has been with the Michigan Express, Inc. and its predecessor the Vyn company since 1936, is enthusiastic about the complete traffic service offered by his organization.

"Overnight service" between Holland and Detroit and adjacent localities and "same-day service" between Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Grand Rapids and intermediate points is now a regular schedule.

The company's business volume is triple that of a year ago and Rosendahl attributes the increase solely to the service being given shippers and receivers of MX "fast freight."

In addition to Holland, Michigan Express maintains terminals in Grand Rapids, Detroit, Muskegon, Grand Haven, Battle Creek, Jackson, Kalamazoo and Chicago. General offices are located at Grand Rapids.

Program and Tea Mark Woman's Club Birthday

The Women's Glee club of Hope college, under the direction of Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, presented a charming program before the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon. The occasion was the annual birthday celebration of the club house dedicated on Feb. 7, 1914. Assisting the glee club were Miss Georgia Boss, pianist, and Miss Betty Fuller, harpist.

Following a custom established many years ago, a collection was taken to swell the Kate Garrod Post scholarship fund. Miss Laura Boyd, a member of the education committee which administers the fund, explained that nearly 100 girls have been assisted in securing advanced education since the fund was established in 1915. More than $72 was received at the meeting.

The glee club opened the program with a group of sacred numbers, including "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, with solo by Misses Betty Brinkman and Phyllis Darrow; "A Prayer for Peace," Johnson, Miss Claire Wieringa, soloist; and "Psalm 150," Frank. Miss Boss played the piano solo, "The Singing Fountain," Niemann, and the club sang a second group. Numbers were "A Spirit Flower," Campbell-Tipton; "A Snow Legend," Clokey; and "Beyond the Blue Horizon," Whitting-Harling.

Miss Fuller pleased with two harp solos, "Fleur-de-lis," Rogers, and "Night Breezes," Salzedo, and the club closed the program with "When I Have Sung My Songs," Charles, "Annie Laurie," arranged by Branscombe, with solo by Miss Betty Christie; and "Battie Hymn of the Republic," also arranged by Branscombe.

Outlining the services performed by Horizon girls, including bandage rolling, bulb planting, crippled children's parties and work as Blue Bird helpers in the Camp Fire program, was Miss Van Zyl.

The closed parties, including informal affairs and the major parties such as the formal May Dance, were described by Miss Mulder. March 21 was announced as the date for a "Best-Dress party" to be held in the Woman's Literary club. Miss Barbara West-rate reported on the regular Horizon meetings which seek through constructive, educational programs to give information on personality, good grooming, careers, personal hygiene and various subjects of current interest.

Mrs. Ralph Eash, president of the Camp Fire board of the Woman's Literary club, spoke briefly for that group. Group advisers were introduced by Mrs. Timmer and Miss Janet Bogart was introduced as the new leader for the group which will be organized of 10-B girls. Mrs. Bernice Davidson will be her assistant.

Zoning Recommended But With Conditions

Setback lines, alley lines and conformance to commercial fire provisions were included as conditions in a recommendation to rezone River Ave. submitted by a special re-zoning committee at a regular meeting of Common Council Wednesday night.

No action was taken on the recommendation submitted by Chairman Herman Mooi, but it was decided that council discuss the issue thoroughly within the next two weeks.

The committee's recommendation came after a year of discussion on the subject, involving appointment of committees, resignations, lulls and eruptions. The issue involves re-zoning of River Ave. from class B residential to class C commercial from 12th to 17th Sts.

Conditions listed in the recommendation include:

1. That a setback line of seven feet be established in the entire area.

2. That such commercial area be established to include such area as lies between River Ave. and an alleyway be established by agreement of property owners. The alley must be 12 feet wide and be located to the city for alley purposes. It must be parallel to River Ave. through the entire block between the streets. It will be a one-way alley and all loading and unloading will be in the alley. It also provides that property owners agree at their own expense to remove any structures or obstacles upon notice from the city.

3. That no commercial use will be made of dwelling houses, but that any use be made of the plans to build.

Dutchmen Take Lopsided Victory From Calvin Here

Has Too Much Class For Invading Quintet; Buter Has Big Night

Hope college added Calvin to its list of basketball victims Thursday night after the Dutchmen trounced them 71-38. It was win No. 11 for the local tossers as Herk Buter kept the Armory baskets hot with 10 field goals and five charity tosses to lead the Hollanders in the scoring with 25 points.

The Knights from Calvin started out with a 4-0 lead to consternation of partisan fans. They held their 4-0 advantage until the game was two minutes old. The advantage disappeared and changed to a 9-6 in favor of Hope before five minutes had passed. From this point on the locals were in command but with the margin narrow at times.

The Hollanders couldn't pull far enough ahead to keep Coach Milton (Bud) Hinga happy and the score stood at 23-12 midway in the first half. Buter kept hustling down the court ahead of the Calvin defense and scored often on dog shots as the Knights began tiring.

But as the first half neared an end the Hope squad began slowing up and missing their shots. Calvin took advantage of the opportunity to count several long shots and narrow the score to 28-23.

Buter and Mulder connected on long shots while Zondervan registered for the Knights making the halftime score 32-25. Hinga substituted only twice in the first half taking nothing for granted with respect to Coach Chuck Bult of the Calvinites.

The second half was a different story and before Calvin had scored their 31st point the Dutchmen had passed the 50 mark. Then a lay up shot by Don Scholten and a repeat performance by all the Dutchmen raised the figures to 64-35 before the regulars were removed from the game. The reserves scored seven points to three for the Calvinites in the final five minutes of play. Coach Bult substituted freely also in the last five minutes of play. The final score was Hope, 71; Calvin, 38.

Herk Buter played better than any ball he has displayed all season and not only scored 25 points himself but held lanky Jake Hekman, Calvin center, to one field goal. Van Dis and De Vette together matched Buter's tallies as they scored 13 and 12 points respectively.

Mary Bysma, high scoring Calvin forward, led the Knights in scoring with 14 points while Lou Zondervan garnered 11 tallies. Zondervan turned in a sparkling defensive game as he held Don Mulder to three field goals and two foul shots.

The Dutchmen were far from hot Thursday night and again a few spurts of scoring raised the figures to the seventies. The Knights gave away a height advantage to Hope, but made it up with the vigor of their defense. Hope was unable to control back board play, except for an occasional layup.

In the preliminary game the Calvin "B" squad, under Coach Gord Buter, squandered a 40-26 defeat at Coach Jack Schouten's Hope college "B" team in an affair which Calvin led all the way. At the first quarter the score was 10-6 and after a close second quarter the Knights led 17-11 at intermission. Calvin moved further ahead in the third quarter with a 26-19 score and finally won out 40-26. Bekkering led the Knights with 12 points while Van Wieren counted five for the locals.

Ten Cate Outlines City Fiscal Needs

Charter revision is a principal city problem, Vernon D. Ten Cate, city attorney, asserted Monday night in a talk before the local Kiwanis club at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Ten Cate pointed out the inadequacy of the 1913 charter and emphasized the necessity of bringing it up to date. Revision of the charter is necessary to give specialized training needed in various offices of city government, he said.

In praising the city officials for the excellent work they have performed, Ten Cate stated, "these men running our city are entitled to specialized service in the management of the fiscal affairs of the city. It is time we have specialized training and service by people responsible to the city."

"We are spending $300,000 a year of the taxpayers' money," Ten Cate said, "and problems come up that require a definite study. Therefore, it is important that we have somebody who measures the cost against income."

In explaining the ever increasing tax burden, Ten Cate said, "there is no end to the public demand for services the way it stands today. It is a question today where labor demands have come so high it has of necessity come to the point where there must be labor saving devices purchased such as the snow loader, leaf conveyor, and the proposed purchase of a new bulldozer."

In voicing praise for the municipal hospital staff, Ten Cate emphasized that "today the hospital has become a totally inadequate affair. We have prospects of expenditures from half to three-quarters of a million dollars to bring the hospital to the minimum needs of the city."

Past President William Meengs introduced the speaker. Simon Borr, president, conducted the meeting.
