Harrington Lauds Holland Chamber

The Holland Chamber of Commerce deserves the support of every firm and professional man in this city, Mayor Harry Harrington said today.

"The Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary association of business men and civic-minded citizens engaged in a collective effort to promote the welfare of this community," he added. "Civic leaders in every phase of community life take part in the Chamber of Commerce program."

"These business and civic leaders provide the sound judgment, the foresight and the aggressiveness that keeps the Chamber moving steadily in the right direction and assures maximum accomplishment."

"But we need more help, more people who are willing to help us carry on the work of the Chamber of Commerce. We have a good team but we need a better one. We need more players, more substitutes. We need the assistance of all business and professional men in this city."

He pointed out that any Chamber of Commerce can assume only as many projects as its budget will allow and Holland hopes to take on more projects during the coming months. The annual membership campaign gets under way next week.

New Civic Beauty Council Advocates Petunias in Lanes

Gas Stations Urged
To Beautify Places;
All to Join Weed Fight

Holland residents living on tulip lane will be encouraged to make other plantings in the lanes after Tulip Time as a move to make Holland more attractive.

Gas stations in Holland also will be encouraged to beautify their places of business.

Everybody in and around Holland can help fight the battle of the weeds, particularly school children.

These and many other projects were discussed at the first meeting of the Council for Civic Beauty headed by Lida Rogers, which met Wednesday night at the City Hall.

The council decided to work in four areas—industrial, civic, domestic and highways, the latter taking in beauty spots at entrances to the city and the Blue Star Memorial highway.

But since improvement in these lines moves gradually, the council decided to emphasize tulip lanes, gas stations and weeds first.

Miss Rogers, who called the meeting in an effort to unite all independent efforts on beautifying the city, said Holland citizens should appreciate beauty and see beauty in simple things, "along with helping to create beauty around them."

Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg suggested planting petunias in tulip lanes. He suggested planting seeds between the tulips before the leaves turn yellow late in May, or putting in transplants after tulips have been removed late in June. Committees will be formed to encourage work in various areas.

Attending the meeting were Miss Rogers, Ray Wenke representing Holland Heights, Bill Gargano of WHTC, John Benson of Junior Chamber of Commerce, William H. Aldrich of Holland township, William H. Vande Water of the Chamber of Commerce, Dick Smallenburg, City Manager H. C. McClintock who also represents Kiwanis club; Nick Prins of Fillmore township, Arthur A. Visscher of Park township, Bernice Bishop of City Council and public schools, Mrs. Robert Kouw of Woman's Literary Club, Mrs. William Schrier of Holland Tulip Garden Club and Mrs. William G. Winter, Jr., of the planning commission.

Police Continue Search For Missing Fugitives

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Police were still without definite clues today, three days after four prisoners cut their way out of the Ottawa county jail.

A car stolen here a few hours prior to the escape was to be returned from Wooster, Ohio by the owner, Roy Dillinger, 514 Lafayette St., and his son Patrick, 19, in the next few days.

The car was found abandoned in Wooster early Monday. Another car missing from the Ohio community a few hours later had not been recovered late today.

Still at large are Thomas Hills, 22, his brother, William, 25, both of Chicago; Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Haven; and Claude Baldrige, 29, Columbus, Ohio.

Two Autos Stripped

Two motorists reported to police that fender skirts and hub caps had been stolen from their cars in the last day or so. William Kluitinger, 3331 Central Ave. said two fender skirts were missing. Richard Hansen, 360 Fourth Ave., reported two fender skirts, four hub caps, and four chrome discs taken from his car.

Fire Protection Problem Aired

FENNVILLE (Special) — Four township supervisors, James Smeed of Manlius, Linn Sheckler of Clyde, Frank Mosier of Ganges and Thomas Gifford of Saugatuck, met Wednesday with Marc C. Hutchinson, president of Michigan Fruit Canners, Inc., to lay plans for fire protection in the four townships.

The fire protection problem has increased since Fennville's auxiliary fire truck was destroyed by fire in January. An order from the state fire marshal prevents taking the one remaining truck outside the village limits.

Just two weeks later the Pullman fire department was called to a barn fire in which six head of cattle were burned. The Fennville fire department was prevented from aiding by the state order, although the fire was only a half mile outside the village limits.

To add to the difficulty, the building now used to house the Fennville fire truck has been condemned by the state fire marshal.

The townships have been promised the loan of a fire truck from the state forestry department provided a building for suitable housing can be found. Hutchinson agreed to lease a cement block building in the village, owned by Michigan Fruit Canners and used for storage. The building was originally built for a cookie factory and later acquired by the canning company.

Portrait of Woman Will Be Accepted by Allegan

ALLEGAN (Special) — Although virtually every Alleganite has benefited from her philanthropy, only a few can recall what Mrs. Marilla Griswold looked like.

Thanks to the late Judge Oren S. Cross, of Holland, former Alleganite and close friend of Mrs. Griswold, that situation will no longer exist after tonight.

A portrait financed by a bequest in Judge Cross' will, will be unveiled tonight by Mrs. Cross at a directors meeting in the Griswold Memorial Building.

The portrait, painted by H. Kosak, an Austrian artist now living in Detroit, will hang in the foyer of the community building which was made possible by a $100,000 fund left to the city by Mrs. Griswold. It will hang directly in front of the main entrance through which most every area resident passes in the course of a year. The building, which includes a gymnasium, kitchen, 800-seat auditorium and two lounges, is in daily use for club meetings, dances, little theater productions and a host of other community events.

The painting will be accepted on behalf of the city and Griswold Auditorium board by Mayor Francis Hanson. The self-perpetuating committee which has direct control of the building, stems from the first board named in Mrs. Griswold's will. The first board had Judge Cross as its chairman and included Fred I. Chichester, Frank H. Williams, the Rev. S. E. Kelley and Charles R. Wilkes, all of whom are deceased.

Completion of the painting caused local residents to recall other bequests of the will which disposed of a lumber and mercantile fortune of more than $300,000. The Congregational church received $10,000; a like amount was given the University of Michigan as a fund for needy students; Michigan State College received $2,000 for a similar fund; the city library was left $2,000 to be invested and the income used for new books; $5,000 for the Children's Home at St. Joseph.

Newspaper accounts of her death in February, 1918, described the existence and contents of her will as the "best kept secret ever." Only her attorney and executor, Judge Cross, had any knowledge of the will and he had been pledged to secrecy so that, in Mrs. Griswold's words, she wouldn't be "pestered in every way by many persons."

News of the will was the talk of the town for weeks. Local newspapers predicted that the community building would be ready within two years, but it was 20 years before it became a reality.

Also long in bearing fruit was the suggestion from E. C. Reid, then editor of The Allegan Gazette, who wrote: "Now, when the Griswold auditorium is complete and ready for occupancy, the Gazette moves that this city shall provide a life-size oil painting of Mrs. Griswold, to be placed conspicuously in the building. We are ready to head the subscription for it."

Now, thanks to Judge Cross, that, too, has become a reality.

The alleged offense involving a tire and wheel from a car belonging to Reliable Garage in Holland occurred Dec. 6.

Clyde Katt of Grand Haven was brought into court this morning for non-payment of alimony for his wife, Doris, and their minor children. Upon his promise to take care of arrears amounting to about $240, the matter was adjourned until April 6.

John M. Kornoelje, 83, Succumbs at Hospital

John M. Kornoelje, 83, of 261 Van Raalte Ave., died at Holland Hospital this morning after a short illness. He was born in Grand Rapids and had been connected with the A. E. ## School Board Votes $100 Bonus For Teachers

Differential Between Bachelor and Master's Degree Hiked to $300

In view of unexpected revenue in the amount of approximately $22,000 which will be forthcoming near the end of the school year, the Board of Education Monday night voted a $100 bonus for school teachers and administrators on the current contracts.

The recommendation came from the teachers' committee headed by James A. Hallan on advice from Supt. Walter W. Scott that the fourth payment of State Aid will be made in the amount of approximately $8 per child in membership. Other members of the teachers' committee are Mrs. John K. Winter and Dr. L. J. Kuyper.

The board also amended the salary schedule adopted last month for the 1934-35 contracts to increase the differential between bachelor's and master's degrees another $100 or a total of $300. Currently, there are 50 teachers with master's degrees.

The board made clear that the $100 bonus this year is only for this year and will not be included in next year's contracts.

Approval also was given hiring Mrs. Edna Welch to teach second grade at Lincoln school and Mrs. Dora Tyssie first grade at Longfellow school for the second semester.

The schools committee reported that the School Memorial Committee for Miss Hawes plans to purchase two large pictures, Laurence's "Calvary Children" and Raphael's "Madonna of the Chair," favorites of Miss Hawes, as a memorial for the late Washington school principal.

The board okayed the committee's recommendation for purchasing a three-compartment stainless steel sink in the Junior high kitchen and okay lesser improvements in the Washington school orthopedic kitchen.

The buildings and grounds committee held three meetings the past month and reported the purchase of three more houses to enlarge school sites. The board also okayed the purchase of 2 1/2 acres on Van Raalte Ave. in the vicinity of 26th to 28th Sts. from Dick Zwilp. This property is adjacent to the new site for the new high school.

A request to raise the ceiling of the new Van Raalte gymnasium two feet has been rejected on recommendation of architects who said the additional two feet would involve additional expense, impair the design of the building and call for redesigning of the gym. The building will be built according to present plans calling for an 18-foot ceiling.

The committee agreed to a change in the Van Raalte building to include grounds and equipment room at a cost of $713. The board will meet informally Feb. 22 to discuss mathematics in the public schools.

Claims and accounts were okayed. The total for January was $81,281 and for February $84,436.08.

All members were present with the exception of E. V. Hartman and Wendell A. Miles. Mrs. John K. Winter, president, presided and Mrs. Kenneth De Pree gave the invocation. The meeting lasted 2 1/2 hours.

The secret of Abraham Lincoln's greatness, his rise to fame, his immortal influence and tragic end were interpreted for the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon by Col. William Herzog of Chicago, noted authority on Lincoln.

There is no character in all history so vilified and glorified as Lincoln, Col. Herzog said. There are 4,200 biographies written on Lincoln, 175 of them translated into foreign languages and more than 200 written by foreign authors in their own languages.

Lincoln's greatness can be attributed, not to his ancestry, his family or education, but to his astonishing power over words, Col. Herzog said. "Few sentences in the English language can equal his in majesty or grandeur of thought." This ability to say so much in so few words was illustrated by the speaker who spoke without notes and quoted with ease long portions of famous Lincoln speeches, branding them as "golden words from a man who never went to school."

Col. Herzog pointed out that almost all biographical material about America's immortal, martyred president are based on Lincoln's own 2,000 word biography in which he humbly set forth a personal description and step by step story of his life. He referred to his early childhood in Indiana where there was "absolutely nothing to incite the desire for education." Himself he described as six feet four inches tall, weighing about 180 pounds, with coarse, dark hair, gray eyes and "no other marks or brands recollected." This despite the well-known distinguishing cheek mole, Col. Herzog said.

A lover of Lincolniana since early school days, Col. Herzog lamented the fact that an original copy of the famous Gettysburg Address was allowed to get into the hands of a Cuban, undoubtedly "never to be returned to the United States." The copy was one of five written by Lincoln to sell at auction. The fifth, and best copy, was never sold, but kept by William Bliss, whose family finally put it up for auction in 1947. It sold for more than $55,000.

The speaker disproved legendary beliefs about the famous address, which was "not written on an envelope with a borrowed pencil while Lincoln was riding on the train." He explained the reason for the lack of photographs of Lincoln at that historic occasion. Considering the complexity of photographic equipment in that day, he said, the photographer waited through Everett's long, two-hour speech, then began to set up his camera to photograph the president. By the time he was ready, Lincoln had finished his brief address and returned to his seat.

Mrs. Bruce Van Leuven presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. Preceding the program, Ardith Naber, senior at Holland High School, announced the coming senior play, "January Thaw," which opens at the high school auditorium on Monday.

Two-Team Attack Really Pays Off In Lopsided Win

Kalamazoo, (Special) — The largest crowd of the season crammed Treadway gym Saturday night to see the Hope College Dutchmen meet a reinforced Kalamazoo College five. The partisan fans, however, saw a stunned and shocked Hornet team as Hope unleashed a blazing fast break that piled up a 29 point victory for the Dutchmen 94-65.

In the first minute and a half it looked as if the Hornets were out to prove that they were the aggressors. Hope's starting five worked doggedly in that first minute and with Bob Hendrickson, John Adams, Bob Visser, Bob Wagner and Harold Molenaar combining with excellent co-ordination, the Dutchmen came up to tie the Hornets 6-6. Hendrickson and Adams hit on timely shots and then at the five-minute mark, Wagner put the Dutchmen ahead 9-7. Wagner hit on a free throw and Adams added four quick points to push the locals ahead 14-10.

With two minutes remaining in the period, Coach John Visser unveiled his strategy for the night. An entire new team replaced the initial five. Willie Rink, Ken Armstrong, John Brannock, Norm Kramer and Dwight Riemersma took over the Dutch attack.

Brannock garnered a charity toss and Kramer worked his way around Kalamazoo ace, Manny Glasser, to add another two points. With 50 seconds remaining in the period, Brannock and Rink combined talents to bring the count to 20-13. Not to be outdone, Glasser and John Gideon whipped the Hornets back into shape as the canto ended with Hope five points ahead 22-17.

The second quarter opened with a Dutch flurry. Visser hit for two and Hendrickson added five to boost the score to 30-18. Hope was now definitely working the hardest as they took almost undisputed control of the boards. At one point, the locals took nine successive shots before Adams finally tipped the ball in.

Kalamazoo continued to inch along behind the Dutch, and at any time, it looked as if they might explode. The Hornets tripped momentarily and Hope took quick advantage and jumped their lead to 15 points, 34-19.

There were four minutes left in the second quarter when Visser again initiated the relief team. The new five worked as efficiently in every capacity as the starters, and Brannock and Rink raised the Dutch lead to 19 points. Moments later, Rink accounted for a charity toss and the locals jumped ahead 40-20. With little more than a minute left in the half, Kalamazoo became alive and dumped in 10 quick points to end the quarter trailing by 14 points 44-30.

As the third stanza went into play, the Hornets narrowed the lead to 11 points before Hope could break the ice. Hendrickson, refusing to be quartered, slipped in three consecutive field goals to make it 50-33. In came the new team, and again the Dutch attack rallied. Both teams became a bit over-eager midway in the period, and only after Glasser added 8 points to the Hornet cause, did the Dutch again start to roll.

Armstrong, playing a superb board game, strengthened the count by tossing in three timely points. Kramer added four, Brannock two, and Visser two as the period ended with Hope leading 70-50.

In the final period, Hope tallied 11 points to the Hornets' 3 in the first two minutes. For the first time this season, Hope had broken the back of their opponents attack. The Hornet spirit crumbled with a crack that was almost audible.

The Dutch accuracy refused to be denied even in the closing minutes of the contest. Aided by a tight defense, the locals pushed their lead to 32 points, 85-53. It was a matter of waiting for the final horn, and that's just what Hope did.

They made the Hornets come out after them, and when they did, the Dutch would shake loose a man for the score. The game ended with Hope ringing in a masterful victory 94-65.

High point honor for Kalamazoo was claimed by Glasser with 22. Hendrickson was Hope's big weapon as he hit for a big 24. Adams added 14, Kramer 9, Visser 9, Rink 12, Brannock 12, and Wagner 6. It was this balanced scoring coming from 10 men that enabled the Dutch victory.

The overwhelming victory could not have happened without the Dutch depth. Credit should be given to Kramer and Armstrong. The two freshmen played as alert and cool as the other Hope veterans. Rink and Brannock, though not starters, were definite Hope standouts.

Mr. Thomas opened his program with an Italian group, including selections by 17th and 18th century composers. Included was the spirited "La Danza," a tarantella by Rossini.

Holland Reserves Beat Muskegon

MUSKEGON (Special)—Coach Bob Connell's Holland reserve squad pounded out a hard fought 41-38 victory over the Muskegon seconds Friday night at Central Campus gym.

It was with No. 8 for Dutch who have lost only three contests.

The Big Red reserves slowed the game in the opening quarter as they attempted to work the ball into their lanky pivot man. The first half saw-sawed all the way, ending in an 18-18 deadlock at halftime. Holland's drive was hampered by the loss of Center Ron Van Dyke who had four fouls in the second period.

Muskegon surged ahead to a five point lead in the opening minutes of the second half, but the Dutch attack began to hit as the team matched point for point the rest of the way.

A red-hot Holland offense passed the Big Reds in the fourth quarter as they grabbed a 37-34 lead with two minutes to go. With 53 seconds remaining Ron Van Dyke made two foul shots giving the Dutch a 39-36 lead.

Holland played one of its better games, at least in the shooting department, as they hit 47 per cent of the free throws and 31 per cent of the field goals.

Tom Overbeek led the Dutch scoring with 18 points. Bill Japina and Sheridan Shaffer collected 7 each, with Ron Van Dyke getting 6 and Jim Vander Poel 3.

Cedar Springs Topples Chix

ZEELAND (Special)—A big first quarter gave Cedar Springs a lead that the Zeeland High basketball team couldn't overcome as the Red Flannels won 56-50 at Cedar Springs Friday night.

Cedar Springs avenged an earlier 47-42 defeat on the Chix home floor.

The Flannels jumped to an 8-0 lead with the game only five minutes old, and only a determined rally by Zeeland pulled the first quarter score to 13-8 with the Chix trailing.

Both teams operated a fast break, but more effective control of the backboards made the difference as the gap widened to 29-20 at halftime.

Throughout the third quarter both teams played on an even basis with the score 40-31 at the end of the period. In the final stanza the Chix started to gain on the home team but the rally was cut short as Center Don Schout left the game via the foul route.

Coach Mel Bouma's squad has only two victories in 12 starts this season.

Art Klamt with 17 points and Vern Pading with 14 paced the Chix while Townes had 25 and Lawrence 19 for the Flannels.

In the preliminary contest Coach Paul Van Dorts' squad romped to its eighth win in nine league starts as they toppled the Cedar Springs seconds 59-47.

It was the second win of the season over the Flannel seconds, with Carl Wissink pacing the Chix with 17 points while Pading collected 14. Avery led the Flannels with 17.

HOOVER'S NEW ASSIGNMENT

Without fanfare former President Herbert Hoover has launched on what may turn out to be his last major service to America. At 79 he is, in the course of nature, nearing the end of the road. Friends report him as having been reluctant to undertake a new job that might try the vitality of a man several decades younger. But now that he is in it he works at the job like a man of forty.

It is significant that there is no drama in the assignment; only a few here and there will ever become conscious of what is going on. But the former president has never been dramatic, he has usually been interested in the job for its own sake; that in fact proved fatal to his popular success, because people love histrionics.

Hoover's new job is that of heading a commission on government reorganization to carry forward the reorganizing started by the old Hoover Commission. It is a job that desperately needs doing and its size is suggested by the fact that it will take a full year merely to arrive at a preliminary report.

The extent of the work is further suggested by the fact that the commission has 39 full-time employees, all of them selected personally by Mr. Hoover much in the manner in which a president selects the members of his cabinet, and 140 part-time consultants — each one of them a big man in his own field.

The former president is reported to spend three or four days a week in Washington busy every minute on the work of his assignment, and during the other days in New York — except for the time out for the sport he loves best, fishing — he usually puts in longer days of labor than a workman in a factory.

And it need hardly be said that this hard drudgery is given to his country without remuneration. Mr. Hoover was fortunate as a young man to make a fortune in mining and he has never asked for pay; even in his Belgian Relief activities he paid his own way.

It is a sad commentary on justice in public life that such a man if even to this day often reviled by New Dealers "liberals," where as many time-servers whose only thought is of votes and what the traffic will stand are hailed as "statesmen."

As a people we are sometimes singularly unappreciative of the work of our truly great men.

Sunday School Lesson

February 14, 1954
Jesus Declares His Deity
John 7:37-44; 8:12-19
By Henry Geerlings

It is hardly necessary to say that our religion became visible and tangible in the person and ministry of Jesus. He revealed the Father as much in what He was as in what He taught. He came out from the Father; He represented the Father; He spoke for the Father; He declared that He and the Father were one.

When He was accused He appealed to the Father. All of the attempts of His enemies to set Him against the Father, to charge that He did not know the Father, and to bring down on Him the condemnation of the Father, utterly failed. The doctrine of His eternal Sonship is accepted by the church universal, and that is the note that prevails throughout the entire gospel as well as in this particular chapter.

In the gospel of John the teaching element of Jesus' ministry prevails. He was here addressing the Pharisees who were critical of His claim and unfriendly because the people hailed Him as their king. The Pharisees had no reason to ask Jesus who He was other than that they were seeking new ground on which to attack Him. Nothing He could say to them about Himself or His teaching would convince them. They had gone too far already to be reclaimed.

Christ had nothing to say beyond what He had already said. All along He had given them pearls of truth, but all they had done with them was to trample them under their feet. He was determined to stand on what He had previously spoken. And this truth which He had declared would eventually condemn them and eternally justify Him.

Did these people really not understand that Jesus spoke to them of the Father? That seems incredible. But listen. So far Christ had not designated by any title the One who had sent Him. He had called Him Jesus, as He did in the parables, that He might not understand at once; for He could hope to get judgement for the truth only by gradually unfolding it. It is true that a strange event, the crucifixion of our Lord was to be the means of convincing the world that Jesus is all that He claimed to be? That seems to be the fact. In the crucifixion the world would discover the love of God, the guilt and power of sin, the solitary means of atonement, and the only method whereby man can be restored to fellowship with God. Not always do we look at the cross in that light. The lifting up of Jesus in that manner means the lifting up of all of us to that place where we become the sons of God. The cross reveals Jesus, but not more so than it reveals the Father.

Jesus was conscious of two facts. First that His Father was with Him, never at any time leaving Him alone; and second, that He always did those things that were pleasing to the Father. It is possible for us to be increasingly conscious of those two awarenesses. They are not outside of our consciousness, nor at least of our partial possession.

There were some Jews who did believe in Jesus. His disciples were Jews born and bred in that faith. But this new relationship was not to be a temporary one. They were actually to abide in Him and in His word. It was to be permanent position, a vital union and no in-and-out affair. Knowing the word of Jesus is to know Him, and believing Him is to believe His word. What Jesus speaks of here is truth in its highest form, spiritual truth, the truth about God and His Son, about sin and the Bible, about peace, pardon and immortality. A man may be bound in body and be enslaved in service, and yet be free in mind and spirit.

The truth neither hampers nor binds man. It is error that enslaves and sin that puts chains on us. The discovery of gravitation, the knowledge of the forces that play around us and acquaintance with the laws with which God has undergirded our universe, it is these that give us freedom and multiply our blessings. It is the truth that makes us free and that releases us from the love of evil, that sends us in search of higher things and makes us ashamed of what is mean and low. The ability of Jesus, who is the truth, to make us hunger and thirst after righteousness is to put the truth of His divinity right into our hands. Those who love what Jesus loves are not bound like slaves, or driven like dumb creatures.

Calvin Squeaks Past Kalamazoo To Mantain Lead

GRAND RAPIDS (Special) — Calvin College squeaked through another tough one here Monday night against the Kalamazoo College Hornets by claiming a flimsy 73-68 victory.

Playing at the Civic Auditorium, Calvin looked as if it was going to run away with the game in the opening minutes. Jim Kok, Gord DeKruyter, and Paul Newhof hit rapidly to jump the Knights to a 17-7 lead midway in the period. Kalamazoo, still bewildered by the length of the floor, had trouble starting their fast break. The Hornets started to find the range as the quarter ended with Calvin leading 17-14.

Kalamazoo, playing superior ball, became alive in the second period and went ahead 19-17 under the leadership of newcomer Garry Morrison. Calvin struggled throughout the period, and only after a last minute spurt did they recapture the lead 39-30 as the half ended.

As the third period began, it looked as if the Knights were ready to clinch the game as they went ahead 41-30. Within a matter of minutes, however, Kalamazoo killed the 11 point deficit and proceeded to build their own lead which extended at one time to nine points. Scoring 27 points to the Knights' 19, Kalamazoo led 57-36 at the end of the third canto.

It took Calvin all but two minutes of the last quarter to catch the tricky Hornets. The lead saw-sawed for a minute and a half, and with 32 seconds remaining, Calvin narrowly led 70-68. As the clock ticked away, Morrison broke away from the Knight defenders and travelled the length of the floor all alone for a lay-up. The ball rolled around the hoop several times and then tipped off the edge. It was Calvin's game, and after several free throws they won 73-68.

The theme of the campaign is "We'll Get More Done If We Get Together." Copy on the first card pointed out that "it takes concerted action to get things done in these modern times, that it takes cooperation and mutual assistance, and that's where your Chamber of Commerce comes in."

Copy on the card also says, "Your Chamber of Commerce an organization of business and professional men and women banded together for the good of our community. Its sole function is to get things done for the community at large. It works on the community level and not for any individual or particular firm. The Chamber of Commerce invites you to share in maintaining the civic, industrial and commercial progress of our community. Help us make it a better place to live, to work and to do business."

Wood added: "Our Chamber of Commerce receives excellent support from the business firms and professional men of the community, but we are hoping to broaden the base of our membership group and have more individuals take part in our program."

Montgomery, Alabama, was once known as the "cradle of the Confederacy."

Dutch Fend Off Late Red Rally To Post Victory

MUSKEGON (Special) — Holland High's basketball team had to put the damper on Muskegon's determined effort in the fourth quarter to win a hard-fought 57-52 decision in a game played before a fair crowd at Muskegon Central Campus gymnasium here Friday night.

It wasn't easy. Muskegon was a hepped-up ball club and as late as halfway through the last quarter entertained hopes of chalking up the first win of the season.

As it was, the Reds now stand with 11 straight defeats and not a single win. However, it must be said that Coach Tom McShannock's charges scored 52 points, five more than their previous high in one game which happened to be the 47 against Holland on Jan. 5.

Both teams appeared to be jockeying for position in the first quarter and the score was tied, 12-12. Finally Muskegon went ahead 12-9. Holland committed just two fouls in that first eight minutes while the home team was detected seven times. It was a costly call for the Reds because Forward Gordon Huttenga was tagged with four of the seven and was used sparingly the rest of the evening until he committed No. 5 early in the fourth quarter.

During that first quarter, Holland made five of its nine points from the charity line.

As always seems to be the case, the Dutch came to life in the second quarter and at one time the difference between the teams ballooned to 10 points. Dwayne Teusink was inserted into the lineup early in the quarter and dropped in four vital points in less than a minute. From then on the Dutch caught fire and had things pretty well their own way. Paul Mack was a big help in the scoring department as he threw in four field goals for eight points. Mack and Bob Van Dyke were alternating at the pivot slot, a role familiar to them from bygone days on the reserve team. And they worked well. Both were giving off some nifty passes to their mates.

Holland was ahead 33-25 at halftime.

The Dutch, however, faltered in the third quarter and Muskegon started the long climb upward. They outscored Holland 13-10 during the stanza and it ended with the count 43-38, still in Holland's favor.

Forward Phil Berdinski, who was Muskegon's best weapon all evening, dumped in four quick points early in the last quarter and with 7:28 minutes to go it was a ticklish 43-42. However, Holland rallied and set the difference back up to four points. But the Big Reds weren't through. Not by a long shot. They came back and made it 51-49, but couldn't make the last push to tie the score.

Holland played good ball. Teusink seemed to spark the locals when he came in and fit like a glove into the local lineup. Forward Ron Israels was another big factor in the local cause as he teamed with Dick Plagenhoef to get a good share of the rebounds for the locals. For the most part, Holland's height kept Muskegon back and the Reds had to depend on long shots for most of their points.

Holland made 37 per cent of its field goal tries and a remarkable 15 out of 22 foul shots. The Dutch had 15 chances from the foul line during the first half and made nine. Muskegon on the other hand had just three chances during the entire first half and had only 10 for the evening—very low.

Scoring honors for the locals went to Plagenhoef with 15 on five field goals and the same number of free throws. Four of the five starters for Holland hit double figures.

Besides his brilliant offensive play, Plagenhoef led the team by getting 14 rebounds, nine on defense and five on offense. Others were: Israels, 12; Van Dyke, 7; Mark de Velder, 5; Mack, 6; Jim Vande Wege, 2; Chuck Gouloze, 1; and Teusink, 1.

Berdinski was high for the losers with 15 followed closely by substitute Gerry Erickson who dumped in 12.

Holland hosts Benton Harbor next at the Armory next Friday night.

Driver Gets Ticket

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Edward Klomp, 16, Grand Haven, was charged by city police with failure to yield right of way after being involved in an accident at Franklin and Griffin St. at 11:09 p.m. Thursday with a car driven by Howard C. De Witt, 21, route 2, Spring Lake.

FRED J. BAAR JR. (in dark coat) checks over plans for the new municipal building in the presence of Mayor Harry Harrington and members of the advisory committee. Baar has been manager of Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium for the last two or three years and has had

Pointers Given on New Municipal Auditorium

A visit of Fred J. Baar, Jr., manager of Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium, to Holland Thursday proved of great benefit to the advisory committee currently studying policy and auditorium use for the new building now under construction on the so-called tannery lot.

The advisory committee had previously visited Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium for a conducted tour in charge of Baar. On the return visit here, Baar pointed to several things that should be considered now in order to offer greater facilities when the auditorium is ready for use.

In checking plans for auditorium lighting he suggested additional outlets on the auditorium floor for display purposes in event of a home show. He gave advice on stage equipment, floor finish, and discussed basis for rental charges.

Baar urged maximum use of the auditorium, pointing out that basketball is only one use for such a building. But in order to have maximum use, such a building must have proper facilities, and the proper time to consider such facilities and changes is now.

Baar offered to send the stage manager of Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium here for further advice on stage equipment and made suggestions on concession locations and operations. He met with Mayor Harry Harrington and four of the five members of the advisory committee, Clarence Klaassen, chairman, Arnold W. Hertel, City Manager H. C. McClintock and City Clerk Clarence Greengood.

Ward Hansen, another member, is vacationing in Phoenix, Ariz. Chairman Klaassen said the committee is obtaining information on rent schedules from several other cities that have municipal auditoriums in order to draw up a uniform policy for the new auditorium.

Baar, an Irishman, made one last charitable suggestion. In looking over the Green Room near the stage, he said it should be called the Orange Room in Holland, Mich.

Horticultural Therapy Aids in Treating Illness

Horticultural therapy was defined as "treating illness through growing things" by Mrs. G. Arthur Ritchie of Battle Creek at a meeting of the Holland Tulip Garden Club Thursday afternoon in Fellowship Hall of Third Reformed Church.

Mrs. Ritchie, state chairman of horticultural therapy for garden clubs, explained that people who are ill feel better and happier through growing plants in the home, the hospital, the schools and in the garden.

She said garden club groups can help groups of children and adults in hospitals, institutions and old folks homes in gardening, arranging bouquets, growing vegetables and putting on flower shows.

She quoted Dr. Mortimer, superintendent of Kalamazoo State Hospital: "We are stressing gardening, arrangements of bouquets and competitive showing of flowers and garden products in the hope that the patient will assume social responsibilities and become better able to sublimate useless drives and day dreams into channels of social and spiritual value."

Mrs. Carl Cook, local horticulture chairman, will appoint a committee to make a local survey to decide who needs assistance and describe to them what can be accomplished in taking minds off illness. Mrs. Cook, who introduced the speaker, also explained flats for seedlings to be entered in the Tulip Time Flower Show. She also announced a national contest with a $10,000 prize for a pure white marigold.

Miss Gertrude Stetekete announced a project for raising money to contribute to a horticultural therapy scholarship.

The next horticulture class will be held Feb. 11 in Miss Stetekete's home.

Mrs. William Schrier, club president, presided. Hostesses were Mrs. Donald Winter and Miss Stetekete.

Senior Horizon Club members and their leaders were guests at a tea Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John K. Winter, 726 State St. Occasion for the tea was a timely talk on teen-age etiquette, which had been given by Mrs. Winter earlier for the Junior girls.

In her talk to the girls, Mrs. Winter covered every phase of good manners from courtesy at school to table manners. She especially stressed some of the things senior girls will encounter when they enter college next fall.

Clarence Luth, Miss Betty Watson, Mrs. Myron Van Oort and Mrs. E. H. Phillips, and some of Horizon members.

Mrs. Raymond L. Smith, Camp Fire executive board member and Horizon advisor, was general chairman for the affair. Chocolate, coffee, cookies and mints were served. About 40 girls were present.

Volleys

It's always a red letter day when we receive mail from Junius B. Wood in Washington, D. C. (more accurately Silver Spring, Md.) and this time he comes through with a brainstorm which he says could make the Holland Evening Sentinel and the Ambusher famous.

With the sea lamprey killing off the whitefish and trout in our inland lakes, Junius says the whole threat could be wiped out if people today would eat them like they did in the days of ancient Rome.

He even enclosed a recipe calculated to make the eel-like critter a rare delicacy. Junius warned, however, that The Sentinel might have to get a Hope College professor to interpret the names of the ingredients.

From the Complete Works of Horace comes this gem from book II, chapter 8, entitled "The Rich Man Dines."

"Then a lamprey, with a shrimp sauce, was brought in, stretched full length on a platter. At this the host remarked, 'It was caught before spawning. If caught after spawning its meat is poorer.'"

The host continues with the recipe:

"Oil of the first pressing from Venafum; roe from the juices of the Spanish mackerel; wine five years old, but domestic, poured in while the sauce is simmering—after the sauce is cooked, Chan is the best wine. I was the first to point out that green rockets and bitter elecampene should be boiled in the sauce. Curtillius says to add sea-urchins unwashed, for the shell-fish's natural brine is better than any pickle."

Junius continues: "You could be hailed as the Joan de Arc who saved our inland lakes by putting a lamprey in every skillet. Whitefish and trout will multiply and sing your praises and housewives will bless you for finding something that can be eaten free from Washington price supports. The lamprey may be a blessing instead of a nuisance!"

Conservation Commission, please note.

Junius concluded with one more quip: "Had some snow here, eight inches, but it went in three days. I asked the country commissioner when he expected to clean our street. He replied: 'God left it and he'll take it away.' The sun did the next day."

It's newcomer time again and we find nine new families have moved into Holland during January. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kleber have arrived here from Marion, Ind., and are living at 111 East 25th St. He is an engineer at Bohn Aluminum.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Springer and their two children of Dowagiac are living at 128 West 13th St. He is an engineer at H. E. Morse Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. Teeters have moved here from Durand and are living at 591 Midway. Mr. Teeters is a state bank examiner and his wife is employed at Parke Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gordon have moved here from Clarkes Summit, Pa., and are living at 1541 South Shore Dr. He is an engineer at Bohn Aluminum.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Geiser of Detroit have purchased a home at 808 West 24th St. Mr. Geiser is employed by Bell Telephone.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Issacson of Adrian are living at 80 West 13th St. He is a draftsman at Bohn Aluminum and his wife is a registered nurse at the South Haven plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Zink of Grand Rapids have moved to 326 Maple Ave. He is an engineer at Crampton's.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dobbins of South Haven are living at 181 West 16th St. They have two sons. Mr. Dobbins is employed in Grand Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Chicago are living at 97 Spruce Ave. They have two small daughters. Mr. Walker is an accountant for Maihofer, Moore and DeLong.

Isaac Kouw is having his first real vacation in 47 years. He and Mrs. Kouw left just before the first of the year to spend three months with their son, Paul, in Beaumont, Calif., where Paul is managing a hotel.

Tip to new 18-year-olds: Be sure to take your birth certificate along when you sign with Selective Service at Red Cross headquarters. It will save an extra trip.

Holland chapter No. 14, DAV, got recognition in both the state and national magazines which printed a picture of the DAV display in the Chamber of Commerce window shortly before Christmas. The window display remained for three weeks during the membership campaign.

Tip to motorists: Don't forget that Central Ave. is a through street now. Watch yourself on those crossings.

Thot for the day: The old-age pension isn't so big that you can afford to be disrespectful to your children.

When the owner is at the wheel of a new car we feel perfectly safe, well knowing that he will not take the slightest chance of a smashup.

People can understand what they want to understand—even retarded children have no difficulty in understanding you when you tell them to run down to the store and get themselves a hot dog or an ice cream cone.

Three Hurt in Crash In Tallmadge Township

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Officers of the sheriff's department are continuing investigation of an accident in which three persons were injured at 4:30 p.m. Friday on M-50 east of the bridge in Tallmadge township.

Involved were cars driven by Raymond R. Zinke, 24, route 3, Hudsonville, and Arthur Emery Howes, 50, of Allen Park, an engineer on the U.S. Dredge Haines at Grand Haven. Zinke, traveling west, reportedly was completely on the left side of the highway. Howes, going east, drove to the left to avoid a collision but was unable to get out of the path of the approaching car.

Both Zinke and Howes received face and knee injuries. Earl Crandell, 55, of Lansing, riding with Howes, received a fractured right leg, face cuts and back injuries. All were taken to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids.

About $300 damage resulted to Zinke's 1947 car, and $700 to Howes' 1950 model.

Late Game Spurt Puts Game on Ice For Maroon Five

OWOSSO (Special) — Holland Christian's cage squad squeaked past Owosso Friday night on the Owosso floor, taking a 44-40 decision over the Trojans. It was the eighth straight win for the Maroons and their 12th of the season.

Outside of the fact that the Hollanders had enough to whip the Trojans when the pressure was really on, the play of the locals was far below par. Coach Art Tuls termed it following the game, "the lowest mental and physical state—that we have been in all year." Only in the final three minutes of the fray did the Hollanders completely snuff out the victory hopes of the Trojans with some heads up play.

For the most part Christian's offense was ineffective on the rather long but narrow Trojan court. Although the Dutch had the overall height on the Owosso crew their rebounding was spotty up until the last few minutes, when Owosso seldom got a decent shot at the hoop. All in all it could best be termed as just one "of those nights."

It didn't help matters any that the host Owosso club was all primed to hang a defeat on the top rated Maroons. As the Dutch continued to make errors, keeping the score close, the more hepped up the scrappy Trojans were. They were after every loose ball and were ever alert to take advantage of the Dutch mistakes. Both clubs missed many passes and were called on frequent minor violations.

Although the Dutch were hard pressed all the way, they did lead up until six minutes left in the game, when the losers took a short-lived one point margin. However, after Christian led at one point by nine tallies early in the second stanza, the margin of difference was seldom more than three points throughout most of the game.

Tuls substituted freely, throughout the game as he repeatedly tried to find a combination that could click either on a fast or slow style of play. He settled for his regulars in the final three minutes, and they saved the game. Defensively, again the Maroons were satisfactory, as they repeatedly knocked down Owosso shots. Owosso used a rotary offense and would try to shake men loose for easy shots at the hoop. Two boys, Jim Crane and Captain Bill Haak, were fine performers for the home team.

Both teams started slowly with neither scoring until Christian broke the ice after three minutes. The Dutch were getting enough shots but couldn't connect. By the end of the quarter they were out in front 8-5.

Christian moved out to an 18-9 lead midway in the second quarter, but three quick Owosso baskets soon narrowed the count. At halftime the Dutch still were protecting a 20-17 lead.

Both clubs traded basket for basket in the third quarter with the Maroons taking a six point lead at one stage. Owosso narrowed the gap to a single tally a little later and only trailed by the same three points, 32-29 at the start of the final period.

Owosso made its bid with six minutes left to play when the tok their first lead, 34-33. Ron Nykamp put the Dutch ahead again, but the plucky Trojans came right back to take a 36-35 lead. Christian then went ahead by three points, with Nykamp icing the victory in the last 30 seconds on a free throw and a dog shot.

The locals hit on eight out of 15 foul shots while Owosso connected on 10 for 18. Ken Scholten led the Dutch attack with 14 tallies, followed by Nykamp with 11. Haak led Owosso with 12 followed by Crane with 11.

Auto Definitely Was Taken Sunday In Grand Haven

One of Four Lived In Nearby Columbus; Checking All Leads

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Search for four prisoners who escaped from Ottawa County jail Sunday night shifted to Wooster, Ohio, and points beyond Tuesday when a car stolen in Grand Haven some time Sunday night was found abandoned there.

It was the best lead that has turned up since the four sawed through three bars on a second floor window and slid down a rope, fashioned from mattress ticking, and made good a dramatic escape.

The four at large are William Hills, 25, and his brother, Thomas, both of Chicago; Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Haven, and Claude Baldrige, 29, Columbus, Ohio.

Ottawa County Sheriff's Department was informed via telegram at 11:02 Tuesday that the reported stolen car had been found by Wooster police Monday morning. Deputy Harry Nieuwma called Wooster and positive identification was made.

It was reported the car was found and another car was stolen in Wooster sometime between 1:30 a.m. and about 7 a.m. Monday morning. Police still are not sure the escapees used the car to get the 280 miles from Grand Haven to Wooster.

However, it's the hottest lead they have had since discovering the breakout at 11:15 Sunday night. The license plate (Michigan KT-49-71) had been removed and there was no evidence of many passengers in the car. Wooster police said the back seat didn't look as though it had been occupied and there were no ashes or cigarettes in the back seat ash trays.

The car belongs to Mrs. Roy Dillinger of 514 Lafayette St., Grand Haven, who said she first missed it about 6 p.m. Sunday night and thinking it was a prank by one of her neighbors or friends, did not report it until 8:10 p.m. Sunday.

However, deputies Tuesday said the time the car was reported actually stolen is not certain and they do not know if it was 6 p.m. or later.

"There seems to be some doubt when it was stolen," Nieuwma said. They planned to check further with the owner in Grand Haven this afternoon. If it was 6 p.m. it was some three hours before the breakout.

Speculation that the quartet would head for Ohio was heightened by the fact that Baldrige has a wife in Columbus and has other ties in the Buckeye state. Baldrige waived extradition on a bad check charge involving a Holland store and was returned to Grand Haven to face the charge last month.

Because he is the oldest of the four, he may be the ringleader if all four are still together.

Meanwhile, sheriff's officers were checking on where the four got the hacksaw blades to saw through the thick bars. Robert Wellman, 20, of Grand Haven, whom the four left bound and gagged in the cellblock Sunday, said that Edward T. Van Dusen, a federal prisoner who escaped by using the same methods 28 days previously, left the blades with the Hills brothers when he took off.

However, deputies said they checked the entire cellblock after the Van Dusen escape and didn't turn up anything. But there are tiny chinks in the griders where a blade could have been secreted. They checked again thoroughly Monday and found a piece of hacksaw blade about an inch long in one of the chinks.

They are not sure how many blades the four used in the breakout but speculate it must have been several and they further believe they took the blades with them.

Since the escape the Holland police station has been flooded with reports from citizens that men answering the descriptions of the four have been spotted at various places. Each tip is checked out and Monday night two police cars raced to the old Van Raalte home on Fairbanks Ave. after four men were seen running into the house. It turned out to be four Hope College students who said they read about the house "being haunted."

After finding out they might have been mistaken for the four felons, they quickly "got out of there."

Other calls reported seeing the four in a local drug store, another tipster Tuesday told of seeing three men driving in a car near Castle Park. However, so far none of the tips have panned out.

During Dutch Treat Week, annually celebrated at Hope, the men get a break and are treated by the coeds. Miss Durman, not sure she likes the custom, nevertheless pays as Ron De Graw of St. Joseph, Ed Kellogg of Holland, Harry Voss of Muskegon and John Adams of Saginaw enjoy plenty to eat at her expense. Mrs. Marge Douma, director of the college Kaffee Klets, receives the payment "with sympathy."

Economy Easily Defeats Morse; Pete's Defeated

Some unexpected thrills marked the final games of the 1953-54 Holland City Basketball League Wednesday night at the Army. Ithaca 74 Harper 54.

Last place Fox Jewelers muffed a last-second chance to upset the league leading Kole Auto team and went down to a 62-54 defeat in the overtime. If Fox had won it would have necessitated a playoff next week.

In the other league game, Economy IGA easily outdistanced H. E. Morse to win in a walk, 74-58. As if the second game between Fox and Kole wasn't enough, the last game between Pete's Place and Anderson-Bolling of Grand Haven ended in a close 58-56 win for the visitors.

Final standings:

Team	W	L
Kole Auto	7	1
Economy IGA	6	2
Pete's Place	5	3
H. E. Morse	2	6
Fox Jewelers	0	8

Economy IGA came up with a 25 point outburst in the fourth quarter to swamp H. E. Morse in the first game. That added to 19 points in the third quarter put the game far beyond the reach of the factory lads.

Score at the end of the first quarter was 18-10 and it went up to 30-22 at halftime.

However, the grocers turned in on with those 19 points in the third stanza and the count read 49-34 at the whistle.

Scoring honors for the winners went to Paul Fortney with 16. Others were: Ken Schipper, 13; George Zuverink, 7; Ken Zuverink, 1; Ron Fortney, 15; Dale Van Dord, 9, and Tim Beertuis, 13.

For the losers high scoring honors were divided between Roger Beckman and Earl Schippers, each with 11. Others were: Ed Alena, 10; John Kruid, 2; Lampen, 6; Kearney Zoerhof, 13 and Roger Kole, 5.

In the most dramatic game of the evening, the underdog Fox Jewelers had victory on their fingertips, but muffed a foul shot at the whistle and lost in the overtime.

The Jewelers were leading the entire fourth quarter until Kole tied it up in the closing seconds. However, Ken Van Wieren was awarded two foul shots for Fox and had made them it would have been the upset of the season. However, he missed and the horn sounded.

Kole did better in the overtime and thus wrapped up its third straight crown. The team was awarded a trophy after the game.

Quarter scores give a good indication of the tempo of the game. They were 15-15, 27-26 in favor of Kole and 43-35 in favor of Fox.

Tragedy Strikes Household Twice

FENNVILLE (Special)—Tragedy struck twice within a week at the home of Mrs. Lottie King and Mrs. Margaret Beagle, sisters who make their home here.

Last Friday they went to Detroit to attend funeral services for their brother, George Baker, 60, who was killed earlier in the week in an automobile accident.

When they returned home Saturday, word was awaiting them that a sister, Mrs. Blanche Randers, 60, had been murdered by her husband, George, in Phoenix, Ariz., in what was believed to be a murder-suicide.

The husband's body was found floating in an irrigation canal in Phoenix. After identifying the body, officers went to the Randers home to notify the wife, only to find she had been choked to death with a bed sheet. Evidence pointed to a terrific struggle.

Mrs. Beagle called Phoenix Monday evening to make arrangements for shipping Mrs. Randers' body to Fennville for burial. She was informed that legal proceedings and police investigation were delaying such a move for a time, but that the body would be shipped here.

Other survivors of Mrs. Randers are two sisters, Mrs. Florence Montique of Douglas and Mrs. Bessie Young of Phoenix, and a brother, Fred Baker of Niles.

Rep. Davis Urges GOPs To Keep Working in '54

ZEELAND (Special)—Rep. Glenn R. Davis of Wisconsin urged Ottawa County Republicans Monday night to go on from where they left off in '52 and "beat them by more in '54."

The congressman was speaker at the annual Lincoln Day banquet sponsored by the Young Republican Club of Ottawa County at Zeeland City Hall Monday night. A total of 185 attended.

Rep. Davis briefly traced accomplishments of the GOP from 1860-1932 and delved into accomplishments of the present administration.

"Under the Eisenhower leadership we are noticeably, deliberately and progressively returning to the true Republican principles of government," he said. "The principles and the traditions of Jefferson and of Lincoln are once more in the minds of our leaders. We are restoring the government to the people and to the states, consistent with the history and the platform of the Republican Party."

The Wisconsin lawmaker cited the centralization of government under the past 20 years of Democratic rule and emphasized how the GOP, since 1952, has "unshackled" the people from that kind of government.

"A second major encouraging development under Eisenhower has been executive leadership and legislative co-operation in reducing federal spending," he said.

He defended the Eisenhower request for a higher debt limit by citing the "unpaid commitments" inherited from the past Democratic regime.

"It is a source of no small satisfaction and credit that the appropriations of new money for the current fiscal year are better than $4 billion below the income of our government," he said. "And that spread will exceed $6 billion in the fiscal year which begins on July 1. That means we are making real progress in replacing Democratic fiscal irresponsibility with sound government financing."

"These significant trends add up to better government, less federal domination of our economic and political affairs, and greater responsibility in each individual and in state and local governments. They amount to more effective, responsible government at less cost."

State Rep. George Van Peursem of Zeeland introduced the speaker, Gerald Van Wyke, Holland attorney, was master of ceremonies. Among the guests were U.S. District Attorney Wendell Miles, his assistant, Robert Danhof, and U.S. Marshal Harry Jennings; Secretary of the Kent County Republican Club Mrs. A. Hubbell Loomis; State President of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs Mrs. Albert Koeze; Auditor General John B. Martin and State Supreme Court Justice John Dethmers.

Greetings were received from Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, Sens. Homer Ferguson and Charles Potter, former Young Republican National Committee woman Eleanor Duffy and State Sen. Clyde Geerlings.

Don Vos, chairman of the Ottawa Young Republican Club, welcomed those present and the Rev. Anthony Rozendal of First Christian Reformed Church, Zeeland, gave the invocation. Bill Bennett played organ selections during the meal and The Harmanacs (Jack and Chet Onk, Erv Smith and Bill Vander Yacht) sang several selections.

Miss Yvonne De Jonge was chairman of the banquet.

A short film of President Eisenhower calling for party unity and work was shown.

Resort Padlock Case Dismissed

ALLEGAN (Special)—In an opinion filed in Allegan Circuit Court Monday, Judge Henry L. Beers of Muskegon dismissed Prosecutor Dwight Cheever's petition to padlock Harding's Resort in Douglas as a public nuisance. Judge Beers heard testimony in the case last month after he and Judge Raymond L. Smith agreed to change benches for a week.

In his opinion, Beers said the resort is located in the heart of one of Michigan's largest resort areas with people traveling many miles to find relaxation and recreation. He said while establishments with liquor licenses are required to close at 2 a.m., Harding's had no license and consequently was not subject to such closing hours.

Judge Beers questioned the advisability of refusing the resort a license in the first place after the owners had spent a quarter million dollars on the investment. But since the owners had been refused a license, it seemed reasonable that they should use the means at hand to get a return on their money, he said.

The visiting judge felt no solid evidence of drunkenness or lewdness had been entered and termed testimony of waiters as rumors and hearsay.

The opinion dismissed Cheever's bill of complaint which would have padlocked the resort and allowed no costs to either party.
