City Moves To Acquire Needed Land

Bond Issue Will Be On April Ballot; Program
To Cost $350,000

City Council at a special meeting late Friday afternoon took first steps toward developing an extensive program to provide more offstreet parking for the downtown area.

The program as proposed by City Manager Herb Holt would involve an estimated $350,000 which would be financed through parking meter receipts over a period of 20 years.

The proposed program calls for extensive development on the south side of Seventh St. between Central and River Aves., and lesser programs on Eighth St. just west of River. The entire program would provide parking space for 183 cars.

The greater share of the $350,000 or an estimated $280,000 would be used in the Seventh St. development. This involves acquiring the First National Bank parking lot, the Mercury Garage, the VFW building, the Warm Friend Service Station and the Owl restaurant. This area, designated as project A, would provide 141 parking spaces. Property values are estimated at $246,000, plus $4,000 for demolition, $20,000 for surfacing and $8,400 for parking meters.

Project B would provide 27 parking spaces on Eighth St. at the rear of the Tower Building. This would involve acquiring a small parcel owned by the Masonic Lodge, the Sink property and an adjoining building which Essenburg Electric Co. uses for storage. Property values are estimated at $35,000, demolition at $1,000, surfacing at $6,600 and parking meters at $1,600 for a total of some $44,000.

Project C would provide 15 parking spaces on Eighth St. at the rear of Peck's drug store. This would involve acquiring a print shop and the so-called Van Putten garage. Property values are estimated at $19,500, demolition at $1,000, surfacing at $2,600, and parking meters at $900 for an estimated total of $24,000.

It was pointed out that the city could sell revenue bonds as distinct from general obligation bonds without a vote of the people and without pledging the full faith and tax credit of the city. However, there are two compelling reasons why this is not proposed.

First, the covenants required for revenue bonds would place the parking program in a straight jacket for the next 20 years and the city would not be allowed to provide any free parking such as the Civic Center lot until bonds are paid out. Also the 15-year lease arrangement on many other lots are not compatible with a 20-year revenue bond issue. Properties involved in a revenue bond issue must be acquired and contracts let prior to the sale of the bonds, and the bond sale is limited to amounts involved.

The second compelling reason is interest costs. Revenue was told. Next to hospital revenue bonds, parking lot revenue bonds are the most difficult to sell. It is estimated that interest costs would be 1 1/2 to 2 per cent higher.

This parking development project has been under study for the last few years. It was in 1953 that the Holland Planning Commission recommended that Eighth St. between River and College Aves. be ringed with offstreet parking areas. The report at that time pointed out that all too few people realize how competitive trade areas are and how easily many people who trade in other centers could be attracted to the Holland business district.

Since 1953, the city's own experience has shown that short-time parkers demand convenience and are willing to pay for it, and considerable progress was made toward accomplishing this goal. An offstreet parking program was developed on the north side of Ninth St. between Central and College, and sufficient area was made available, through purchase and lease arrangements, to provide parking for 105 cars.

Also on Ninth St. between River and Central, a project was completed to provide 56 parking spaces, and just west of River Ave. on the north side of Ninth St. another 15 spaces were provided.

On the south side of Seventh St. between Central and College, plans are well toward completion to provide for 100 more controlled parking spaces under lease arrangement. All of this has or will be accomplished through the parking meter fund.

The proposed new program, although it requires a vote of the people, will not reflect on the tax program.

Failed to Yield at Corner

John W. Matthews, 59, of 859 South Shore Dr., was charged by Holland police with failure to yield the right of way after he collided with a car driven by Martin W. Kule, 34, of 736 Aster Ave., Tuesday at 4:51 p.m. at the corner of South Shore Dr. and Graafschap Rd. Police estimated the damage to Matthews' 1957 model car at $100 and the damage to Kule's 1955 model car at $175.

Downtown Group Adopts Store Hours

Store hours for February and March were adopted Monday by members of the Downtown Merchants Association of the Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly meeting in the Warm Friend Tavern.

On Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday the stores will be open until 5:30 p.m. while Wednesday the stores are open until 12 noon and Friday until 9 p.m. These hours are presently in effect.

Mel Kail, chairman of the store hour committee, recommended to the group that merchants approve official store hours at three month intervals. Store hours arrived at in this manner can only be interpreted as recommended hours in the best interest of the downtown area and the public. Compliance with the hours will continue to be on a voluntary basis.

"We know uniformity of hours is in the best interest of the buying public," Kail said. He presented a resolution pointing out that uniformity in store hours of all retail establishments in the downtown area is most desirable.

The resolution stated that it warrants the serious consideration of all merchants because when all stores are open our town presents its most attractive and convenient shopping atmosphere to the buying public and customer traffic can only reach its maximum during hours that all stores are open and all descriptions of merchandise and services are available.

Kail pointed out that due to the diversification in the types of operation and goods sold, the association can't possibly recommend hours that will be 100 per cent satisfactory to all business.

Polio Drive Short of Goal

With total receipts of $14,500, the March of Dimes campaign in Holland area is still considerably short of its $25,500 goal, and the Holland Inter Club Council will continue its efforts to reach the goal.

This was decided at a meeting of the committee representing local service clubs which met to review the progress of the current drive. Chairman Don Reek pointed out that many contributions usually are received during the first two weeks of February and hence, he was optimistic of reaching the goal.

Funds received in last Saturday's Mothers March were second only to one previous march. The committee arranged to leave canisters and dime boards out for another two weeks.

Reek pointed out that in the last 20 years 98 per cent of all money collected in Ottawa county was required for local patient care. This is continuing with a large number of polio patients on rehabilitation in the county.

Last Saturday the J. S. Sosa Latin American orchestra played for a capacity crowd at a dance in the VFW hall, bringing $80 for the drive. The annual polio dance is tentatively scheduled Feb. 21.

In Fillmore township, Polio Chairman Gordon Oetman reported a total of $1,099.35 collected for polio. The drive in Maplewood area yielded $430 and the canvass in rural areas netted $645.02. Canisters brought $24.33. Oetman expressed appreciation to all volunteers and persons who contributed to the Sentinel and radio stations which promoted the Fillmore drive.

Council OKs Big Parking Development

Resolutions Adopted
Calling for Public
Election April 6

City Council Wednesday night approved in principle the new parking development program for the downtown area which was first presented at a special meeting Jan. 30 and then adopted the necessary resolutions setting up a public vote at the April 6 election to raise $350,000 in general obligation bonds to finance the program.

The "in principle" reservation was included in Council action to allow for certain variations in the proposed program which might develop through long months of negotiations, etc. As the situation now stands, the program is as it was proposed Jan. 30, calling for major development on Seventh St. between River and Central Aves., and lesser development on Eighth St. just west of River Ave.

Plans call for financing the $350,000 program by parking meter funds over a period of some 20 years. Resolutions drawn up by Claude Stevens, Detroit bond attorney, called for placing the issue on the April ballot, names hours of the election, all polling places and established wording of the issue in abbreviated form for voting machines and for absent voter ballots.

In connection with the parking development program, City Clerk Clarence Greengood read a letter from the Downtown Merchants Association endorsing the proposed offstreet parking program as submitted and approving plans for a city election on a $350,000 bond issue. The letter was written by Ernest Post, association president.

Also appearing was Lawrence E. Wade of the Chamber of Commerce staff in charge of retail activities. Wade said the downtown merchants are interested in providing customer convenience as well as modernizing downtown areas. He said merchants located on the south side of Eighth St. are grateful for parking areas previously arranged for. Plans also are under way for improving parking areas on Seventh St. between Central and College Aves.

In other business, Mayor Robert Vischer appointed a committee of four councilmen to set up meetings in which any city employee or group of employees or representatives of employees may discuss whatever matters they wish to discuss with Councilmen. Named to this committee were the holdover members of Council, John Van Eerden, William Heeringa, Ernest Phillips and Nelson Bosman. This committee may call in administrative department heads or members of boards as well as the city manager and city attorney for assistance. Council unanimously approved the mayor's program.

A letter from Judge Fred T. Miles tendering his resignation as associate municipal judge was read along with Miles' recommendation that Council appoint John Gallen to fill the vacancy. Gallen is a candidate for this position in the April election. Miles expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the mayor, council, city officials, Judge Vander Meulen and Miss Kooyers, and asked God's blessing on this fine city and its fine people. Council noted Judge Miles' fine contribution of service to the city and agreed to take action soon on his request for resignation.

A request from the Holland Council for Civic Beauty for an appropriation of $100 for organizational activities which include assisting with a spring garden clinic, was referred to the city manager for later consideration.

A letter from U. S. Sen. Patrick McNamara stated his position on the suggested Sunday elections and assuring Council he will give its views most careful consideration.

Soil District Directors Are Reelected

Clarence Reenders and William Sinderman were reelected to the board of directors of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation district at the annual meeting of the district Saturday night in Allendale town hall.

A total of 293, the largest crowd ever to attend the annual meeting, were present for dinner. Another 100 attended the afternoon program.

Reenders will start his eighth term as district director. He has served continuously since 1938 and has never missed attending a regular meeting. Sinderman, district treasurer, is starting a fifth term.

A fight over naming two directors failed to materialize, although a good share of the 293 persons present were there mainly to protest certain practices of the soil conservation district. Private nurserymen, faced with a surplus of Christmas tree stock and seedlings, maintain that the district is competing in this line instead of sticking to varieties recommended for conservation uses.

Marion Van Slooten, secretary of the Michigan Seedling Growers Association and spokesman for local nursery operators, said Monday that there was no opportunity to nominate further candidates from the floor or to air their protests.

Results of the election follow: Reenders, 159; Sinderman, 175; Tony Mareček, 28, and Clinton Peterson, 58.

The conservation "Farmer of the Year" award was presented to Wilford Umlof of Chester township.

The district recognized Jacob Pater of Jamestown township and Dennis Walters of Zeeland township for conservation, accomplishments on their farms the past year. Mrs. Marvin Pratt received a certificate of merit for her work in helping the district with its 20th anniversary celebration.

W. C. Ryder of the farm game restoration program of the Michigan Department of Conservation spoke on "Wildlife Plantings — Their Place in a Complete Soil Conservation Plan." His talk was illustrated with color slides. Movies taken recently in the district also were shown.

Subdivision Changes OK'd

The Holland Planning Commission at a regular meeting Tuesday night unanimously passed amendments to the subdivision ordinance affecting general requirements and street requirements. This involves 16 changes in the subdivision ordinance which was adopted in 1956.

Subdivision revision has been under study for quite some time and Tuesday night's action works toward establishing a workable system for developing subdivisions in the newly annexed areas. The commission's action will be referred to City Council for study before it is finally adopted.

Besides approving the amendments, the commission also increased the performance bond requirement for two to three years.

Attending the meeting were Chairman Willard C. Wichers, Ernest Phillips, Laverne Serne, Clarence Klaasen, Lawrence Wade, George Bishop, W. A. Butler, Consultant Bob Boatman, James Townsend, Herb Holt, Jack Plewes, Guy Bell and Gordon Streur.

The four injured persons were taken to Holland Hospital by ambulances which arrived in relays about 11:15 a.m. They were taken immediately to emergency rooms near the ambulance entrance on the ground floor. Wednesday night's snowfall left highways slick and hazardous. Both cars were badly damaged.

Mrs. Bruischart, the former Frances Nivison of Holland, is survived by the husband and a 21-year-old son.

Christian Whips Zeeland, 66-41

Maroons Jump To Big Lead In 1st Period

Holland Christian's Maroons put on a convincing performance on the Civic Center court Tuesday night to whip the Zeeland Chix, 66-41 before a turn-away crowd of 2,700 fans. The win boosted the Maroon season mark to 5-6 while the Zeelanders now have a 7-5 record.

It was obvious from the start that the locals were out to avenge the early season defeat pinned on them by the Chix. Christian moved from the opening whistle and built up a 13-0 lead, from which the Chix never did recover. The Zeeland quint never came any closer than nine points after this and that just briefly.

Christian unquestionably had one of their better games of the season, both offensively and defensively. Besides hitting an excellent 40 per cent of their shots (23-57) the defense of the Maroons was superb—the best it has been all season. Coach Paul Van Dort's club had anything but a hot night at the hoop, but many of their shots, particularly in the first half were from well out. During the game, the losers hit on just 12 out of 51 tries from the field for a 24 per cent mark. The first half was really a contrast in scoring as the locals connected on 13 for 28, while Zeeland managed only six out of 34 attempts.

As expected the rebounding on the part of both quintets was rugged. Jack Bouman, Henry Sterken and Vern Wedeven were the big rebounding guns for the Maroons while Jack Van Dort and Wayne Schout did yeoman work for the Chix.

A big factor in the easy win of the Maroons, was their ability to control the defensive board and then get started on the fast break. Although the Maroons did not score often on the break itself, they were able to get away good scoring shots before the losers could get their defense set. Jim Hulst and Bouman, particularly got several good shots off this stepped up tempo.

Bouman continued to look good for the Hollanders, along with the steady Hulst. Arlyn Lanting also turned in an excellent floor game for the Maroons at one of the guard spots. Rugged Jack Van Dort was again the Zeeland stand-out as he broke loose for several nice hookers off a screen set up in the front court. Schout, along with Reserve Bill Hansen also turned in good games for the Zeelanders.

After Christian's Hulst opened the scoring on a free throw, the Maroons really got their offensive machine moving. Getting balanced scoring the locals upped their margin to 13-0 before Van Dort connected from the side for Zeeland with 3:15 remaining in the period. Although the pace slowed somewhat, the Maroons continued to hold command and led 18-7 at the first horn.

With Bouman and Lanting leading the way in the second period Christian continued to pour it on and upped their margin to 26-11 with 5:21 remaining. Zeeland was having its troubles and could manage just two fielders in the period, both by Hansen. Meanwhile the Maroons continued to hit with amazing accuracy to take a 35-16 halftime margin.

After Christian had upped their count to 24 points over the Chix, Zeeland started to find the range a bit and managed to stay with the locals throughout the rest of the period. Bob Brower hit his only two fielders of the game for the Chix while Van Dort added two more baskets to give the Chix their biggest goal output in any one quarter. By the end of the period, the Maroons led 49-27.

Scoring in the final period went in spurts with one club getting a string of points and then the other. Christian's biggest margin came in the final period, holding 27 point spreads on two occasions. Both coaches substituted frequently in the final stanza with a good deal of the action taking place at the foul line.

Bob Brackenridge ... has 203 points

Saugatuck Tops Marne

Marne (Special) — Bob Brackenridge continued on a scoring spree here Tuesday night with 24 points as Saugatuck walloped Marne, 62-40 in a non-league game.

Brackenridge, leading scorer in the Al-Van League, has now scored 203 points this season in 10 games for a 20.3 mark per game. He hit 24 last Friday and 25 the game before after suffering a slight slump a few games ago.

Saugatuck led all the way in chalking up its fourth win against six losses. The Indians led 16-11 at the end of the quarter and 29-17 at halftime.

Marne outscored the winners, 18-9 in the third quarter as Saugatuck had trouble with its passing and shooting. But the Indians came back in the fourth period and outscored Marne, 24-5.

Scotland Yard Detective Outlines a Murder Case

Members of the Woman's Literary Club and their guests were taken on a step-by-step investigation of a murder case with Capt. Robert Fabian of Scotland Yard as host at the annual guest meeting of the club Tuesday night.

The case was the 1946 murder of an eccentric woman whose body was found thrown over a hedge in Kent. By the time Capt. Fabian arrived, the body had been moved and autopsy done. Then came the general investigation, identity, habits, how long the woman was dead, where had it happened, and it developed that the woman lived in a small garden hut and was not on speaking terms with her family.

She had the habit of rising early and hitching a ride with trucks or lorries into London where she visited friends. Immediately, a questionnaire went out to all 67,000 policemen in England and Wales to check on all truck drivers on that particular highway the day of the murder.

Extensive work by a traveling laboratory resulted in pictures of the woman's purse and house key. There was a possibility the woman also was carrying a yellow string bag. The latter proved to be the real clue since such a bag was found in Clare Park Lake six miles from where the body was found.

Further investigation revealed that the bag might have been carried by current from water near a cider mill. All trucks that day were checked from a book kept by the gatekeeper.

Sarajane Bonnette, delegate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenard Bonnette, Horizon Club; Laurel Schaftenaar, alternate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Schaftenaar, Horizon Club.

Mary Rottschaefer, delegate,

Quite by chance, detectives questioned a load of bricks not checked by the gatekeeper since it was work under a subcontractor. This finally led to a large trucking company in Cambridge and the information that the driver who had taken the bricks to the cider mill that day had been sacked because the radiator in the new $8,000 truck had boiled over. Moreover, the truck had been hosed and cleaned thoroughly and the traveling laboratory could find only one dog hair three-eighths of an inch long which could match the dog which occasionally had visited the victim.

Then into the case came the suspect, one with a long line of convictions, the tracing of the route, the eventual confession, a few more trumped up stories, the trial (the jury agreed with Fabian, and the early morning walk from which a convicted man never returns.

Capt. Fabian carried a case of exhibits of the case — the photos of purse, bag and key, the yellow string bag, the crocheted cord and other odds and ends. Throughout the case history, Capt. Fabian threw in interesting side remarks on corporal and capital punishment, psychiatry, and the need of respect and discipline in the home. Typically British in his presentation, Capt. Fabian tossed in several comparisons of the American way and the Scotland Yard way.

He was introduced by Mrs. Clarence J. Becker, club president.

ZEELAND (Special) — Playing the fastest and hardest fought game of the season to date, the Texaco Oilers defeated Grand Rapids Vander Weide Plumbers, 81-71 Saturday night in Zeeland High gym.

With the score tied 56-56 in the fourth period, the Oilers rallied for eight points and took a 64-58 lead. The margin stayed between seven and 10 the rest of the game.

Tiger Teusink played the entire game while Armstrong, Dave Kempker, Jim Kaat and Ron Nykamp had brief rests. This five-man combination led the Oilers in the fourth period as each man hit a one-and-one foul shot in the pressure-filled fourth quarter.

George Zuverink, Baltimore Orioles pitcher, made a brief appearance in the game. Teusink followed Armstrong with 14 while Nykamp made 13 and Kempker, nine. Kaat scored seven and Ken Scholten tallied four.

Stacy made 17 for the losers while Jim Eaddy and Glenn Stuart had 13 each and Tom Newhof added 10. The Oilers' win makes the season's series between the clubs, 2-2. The Oilers are 11-3 overall.

She was released the next day from Municipal Hospital but later entered St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids for treatment of two crushed vertebrae and was physically unable to appear earlier for trial. State police made the arrest.

BATISTA LINCOLN WORSHIP

Perhaps the strangest side issue of the Cuban revolution is the revelation that former President Batista was an Abraham Lincoln worshiper. The fact, attested to by several, was confirmed by Carl Sandburg, who was impromptu by Batista to autograph two four-volume sets of Sandburg's biography of Lincoln.

Batista, we are told, read everything about Lincoln he could lay his hands on, and his worship of the great American had an almost religious fervor. That for a dictator whose life repudiated almost everything Lincoln stood for, who, among other things, is revealed to have slashed away a couple of a million dollars outside of Cuba that of course came out of the Cuban economy. This is passing strange, to put it mildly.

But it would be disingenuous to assume that Batista's Lincoln worship is personally a politically insincere. Such ambivalence, the co-existence of opposite and conflicting feelings about the same person or object, is far more common than most of us realize. And Lincoln is perhaps more often the subject of it than most famous men.

Only a month or two ago a national magazine published an article by a Negro intellectual telling of his experiences on a trip through the Lincoln country in Illinois. Everywhere he saw on the Illinois license plates the legend, "Land of Lincoln." Obviously the people of the area were Lincoln worshippers—in words, and doubtless in feeling as well.

Yet nowhere in the whole of America, the writer affirmed, had he met with more rebuffs, not even in the Deep South, than in the "Land of Lincoln." He was barred from many hotels, restaurants, and theaters. In the minds of thousands of the people of the area Lincoln was almost Christlike in thought and deed, but their repudiation of a Negro intellectual was at the same time a repudiation of their own Lincoln worship.

The same thing has been reasonably common for two thousand years with respect to worship of another personality even far more intense than that of Lincoln. Throughout those two millenniums many Jesus worshippers have burned other followers of Jesus at the stake because their worship was of a different kind. Many who inflicted such cruel deaths were obviously sincere at the same time that they were criminally wrong.

Batista's Lincoln worship is not as strange as it looks. Some degree of ambivalence is in the minds of most people.

Dr. Nykerk Flies Home From Iraq in Two Days

Dr. Gerald Nykerk, medical missionary in Iraq, arrived in Holland Saturday night after a plane trip which started in Bahrain, Iraq, Thursday afternoon.

From Beirut he accompanied a nurse who was ill, to this country. From Beirut they flew to London via Frankfurt, Germany, and were able to board a plane within two hours for the trans-Atlantic flight, even though weather conditions previously had held up the plane a day. At New York, the nurse checked into St. Luke's Hospital and Dr. Nykerk consulted Reformed Church officials Saturday afternoon before flying to Grand Rapids.

One of the reasons he made the trip was to visit his father, James Nykerk, who is ill. The missionary-doctor tentatively expects to remain here three or four weeks. His wife, the former Rose Witteveen of Holland, remained in Bahrain. Their children left Bahrain Jan. 14 after a long Christmas holiday to return to school in India.

Jesus Questioned About The Resurrection
Luke 24:27-38
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

Most people believe in a hereafter. The Bible teaches that this life is followed by a life beyond the grave. In times past people used to talk more about the other life than they do now. Today many are very busy with this life. We should think more of the future life.

I. Jesus was asked many questions. In the lesson of last week we observed that the Pharisees and Herodians came to Jesus with a question about paying tribute money. They were silenced. On the same day — it was Tuesday of Passion week, called the Day of Controversy, the Sadducees, who were the rich, the rationalists, the intellectuals, the aristocrats of that day, came with a question about the resurrection. This priestly party believed in the Five Books of Moses, but not in the resurrection or in angels or the spirit. They denied the miraculous. There are people like that today.

These questioners addressed Jesus as Master. Their purpose was to make the whole idea of the resurrection look ridiculous. They told a story about a woman who had been a wife of seven brothers and then died childless. The Sadducees said that Moses in Deuteronomy 25:5 etc. commanded that if a man died childless his brother should marry the widow and keep his name and line alive. The first son born of such a union would be considered the son of the man who died. The seven brothers married this widow who died childless. They asked, "Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she?" The question revealed the carnality of their minds. They could only think of life as being connected with the body.

II. Jesus knew how to answer questions. The Lord told them first of all that the heavenly life differed from this life. Marriage is for this world but not for the other world. Sex, marriage, reproduction, and childbirth belong to this life only. The redeemed in heaven will be like angels as regards sex and marriage. Friendships will continue but not the marriage relationships.

The Sadducees believed in the five books of Moses. Jesus said to them that even Moses shewed at the burning bush that the dead are raised. Jesus might have referred to other passages of the Scriptures but he wisely selected proof from the books of Moses. When God appeared to Moses at the burning bush, God said to him, "I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob" (Exodus 3:6). When God spoke these words to Moses these three patriarchs had been dead for a long time. God is the God of the living and not of the dead.

Life implies fellowship. There can be no fellowship between a living God and dead people. No wonder that Jesus said to these Sadducees, "You are wrong, because you know neither the scriptures nor the power of God" (Matthew 22:29). Many heresies have their origin in ignorance of the Bible. Some of the scribes who heard what Jesus said to the Sadducees were pleased with his answer for they said, "Master, thou hast spoken well." Although these questioners were silenced they did not change their attitude for they continued in their unbelief.

The Christian religion teaches that there will be a resurrection of the body. This may sound miraculous to some but those who believe in an omnipotent God need not be troubled about anything miraculous. God will provide a transformed body for the redeemed.

GONE SOUTH — Father groundhog didn't even wait around Monday to see his shadow. He and the entire family apparently decided the sun was going to shine, which it did, and left early. He did leave behind a neatly lettered sign for Sentinel reporter Linda Gordon who went looking Monday for Mr. Groundhog. According to the popular myth, Winter will continue for six more weeks if the groundhog sees his shadow. If he doesn't we will have an early Spring. In either case the weatherman doesn't think much of this type of forecasting pointing out that Spring arrives on March 21 which is seven weeks away.

January Snow Sets New Record

With a low of 3 above zero Monday, Holland residents settled down to more cold weather in a season which already has produced records or near records.

While Holland registered 3 above, Grand Rapids, 25 miles away, registered 8 below and Ionia registered 17 below. Meteorologist Fred Baughman in Grand Rapids said Holland was protected by a westerly winds off Lake Michigan which moderated temperatures through cloud banks even though it appeared clear in the city. This moderating influence did not hold for cities farther away.

Although there was little or no new snow, all Western Michigan had a heavy blanket of snow on the ground, the result of heavy snowfalls in January. A total of 46.9 inches of snow, believed to be a new record, fell on Holland during the month. In available records at The Sentinel, there were only two instances when snowfall hit the 40-inch mark previously, once last December when 40.6 inches fell and in December, 1951, when 40.7 inches fell. There are many instances when snowfall exceeded 35 inches.

To date, snowfall in Holland this season totals 99.4 inches for the three months of November, December and January. Residents may recall that last year, heaviest snowfall came in February with snow every day from Feb. 9 to 19. Snowfall that month amounted to 39.3 inches.

Notwithstanding the snow, it also was the coldest January in several years, marking an average of 20.6 degrees of 5.8 degrees below normal. December also was exceptionally cold with an average temperature of 22.9 degrees of 6.5 degrees below normal.

There was four inches of snow on the ground on Jan. 1, but snowfalls mounted steadily and by the last week in January, the depth maintained was 19 inches. Heaviest snowfall in a 24-hour period was 7.3 inches on Jan. 19, and since then the snow on the ground was above the 12-inch mark.

Highest temperature was 41 degrees on Jan. 14 and the low was -2 on Jan. 26. Average maximum was 27.2 and average minimum 13.9. Precipitation totaled 2.30 inches, or 13 inch above normal. Precipitation fell on 17 days.

Roughest weather of the month occurred on Jan. 21 when a rain storm developed into sleet, coating all streets with ice. A drop in temperatures and gusty winds the following day complicated the already difficult situation further. This storm closed virtually all rural schools in the area.

In five-year comparisons, the maximum last month was 41, compared with 41 in 1954, 54 in 1957, 41 in 1956 and 47 in 1955. Minimum was -2, compared with 2 in 1958, 0 in 1957, 7 in 1956 and 2 in 1955. Average temperature was 20.6, compared with 26.3 in 1958, 22.7 in 1957, 26.8 in 1956 and 26.5 in 1955. Snowfall measured 46.9, compared with 31.3 in 1958, 37.9 in 1957, 7.8 in 1956 and 36.2 in 1955.

Jenison Man Saved From Burning Truck

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Quick action by Hudsonville Police Chief Bill Ten Have and County Weighmaster Sam Hartwell Saturday saved a Jenison truckdriver from possible serious burns and injury when they pulled him from the flaming cab of his truck which had tipped over following a collision.

Ten Have said the driver, Robert L. Buist, 24, of 8245 Cottonwood Dr., Jenison, suffered cuts and bruises but refused medical treatment. The driver of the car, Miss Caroline M. Palmbo, 18, of Berry St., Hudsonville, was treated by a local doctor for shock and head bruises.

According to Ten Have, Buist was headed east on M-21 at 10:40 a.m. and going through a green light at 32nd St., the main intersection, when he crashed into Miss Palmbo's car, headed north on 32nd St.

The truck ran right over the car's front fender and hood, Ten Have said, flipped over on its left side, and skidded 150 feet down the highway, with gas spilling from the tank. Sparks from the metal grinding on the pavement started the truck afire, but Ten Have and Hartwell, in a nearby shop, were on the scene immediately.

The two men climbed on the truck and pulled Buist from the right-hand door as flames enveloped the cab.

Ten Have said both the 1938 model dump truck and Miss Palmbo's 1953 model car were damaged in excess of their value, and said Miss Palmbo will be charged with running a red light.

The Hudsonville Fire Department was called to put out the fire, and Ottawa County deputies and State Police helped in re-routing traffic until the highway was cleared.

Corps Surveys Local Channel

A nine-man crew from the Grand Haven division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is presently making soundings in the Lake Macatawa channel to determine if dredging will be required next spring.

This is the first time since 1952 that a complete sounding of the channel has been made. Robert R. Sandrel, engineer in charge of the Grand Haven office of the corps of engineers, said.

Sandrel said the entire channel has a depth of 21 feet and has not been dredged for 12 years. The survey includes plotting the channel boundary from the shore control points.

Red flags are placed at the sounding points and the survey is made in the winter because the engineers can walk on the ice. The survey began Jan. 14 and is expected to be completed this week.

W. Faber Named To Hatchery Post

Wesley Faber

Wesley Faber of Zeeland has been named vice president and general manager of De Witt's Zeeland Hatchery, a new post created especially for him.

He is taking over active direction of all phases of the Hatchery's operation. Up to now, much of this work has been done by President R. A. De Witt, who will continue in that office.

Faber has been in hatchery work most of his life. While in high school he worked afternoons and weekends for various chick producers around Zeeland. In 1942 he started with the DeWitt brothers and has been with them since. Before the new advance, he was superintendent of the hatchery.

The company plans a staff dinner for department heads at the Warm Friend Tavern on Thursday evening. At that time Faber will outline his plans.

Vriesman, Schut and Vander Hill made the dean's list last year while Buursma just missed. Vander Hill and Vriesman are regulars and Buursma is the first replacement on the Hope team which has won 12 straight games after losing the opener in an overtime to Valparaiso University. (Sentinel photo)

Four Hope Cagers Honored on Dean's List

Besides excelling on the basketball court with a United Press International rating of 20th among small-college teams in the nation, Hope College's basketball team also knows its way around the classroom.

The Hope dean's list, which includes the names of students who have all A's and B's and are carrying higher than a three-point average, lists four basketball players.

Seniors Wayne Vriesman and Jun Buursma and juniors Warren Vander Hill and Rolland Schut have each made the coveted list for grades compiled during the just completed first semester. This marked the second straight year that Vriesman, Vander Hill and Schut were honored while Buursma, who just missed the list last winter, was named for the first time.

Vriesman and Vander Hill are regulars on Hope's basketball team which has won 12 straight games since dropping an overtime decision to Valparaiso University in the opener. Buursma is the first substitute and Schut sees frequent action.

Three players just missed the dean's list, including two, Darrell Beernink and John Kleinheksel, who were on last year. Beernink, a senior, is a regular and Kleinheksel is a junior. The other player just missing the list is junior Daryl Siedentop.

The rest of the team all improved their marks from last basketball season and all are well above a C average. The overall team scholastic record is better this year than last season when Hope put six on the dean's list, Coach Russ De Vette said.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors must maintain a two-point (C) average while freshmen must have a 1.7 average. Bob Reid of Buffalo, N.Y., is the lone freshman on the club and he has a 2.3 average.

Other team members are senior Paul Benes, junior Ray Ritsema and sophomores Rich Bakker, Don Boyink, Norm Schut and Bill Vander Bilt.

Ask $125,000 In Crash Suit

ALLEGAN (Special)—John W. Shashaguy and his son, John F., of 299 West 11th St., Holland, have been named co-defendants in two suits filed here in Circuit court asking $125,000 damages as the result of a "joy ride" last June which ended in a crash and injury to five persons.

The action was begun by George A. Speet, of 570 Central Ave., Holland, on behalf of himself and his daughter, Carole, 15, charging that Carole incurred permanent injuries and disfigurement in the accident, while riding with the younger Shashaguy.

The accident occurred on a twisting gravel road in Lakewood Township, south of Holland, on June 22. The bill of complaint charges that the Shashaguy car, out of control at 115 miles per hour, first collided with a car driven by Alton J. Van Faasen, of Holland, then careened into a tree and rammed a tree. Miss Speet was thrown from the car.

Miss Speet suffered internal injuries and, two weeks later, contracted pneumonia and massive pleural effusions. The suit alleges she still suffers from anemia, liver damage, permanent internal injuries and scars.

In the suit, Speet asks $5,000 for hospital and medical care to date and $200,000 for future care. On behalf of his daughter, he asks $100,000 in damages. He is represented by Allegan Attorney Rex Orton.

Shashaguy and three other youths riding in the station wagon received lesser injuries.

Third Period Hurts Dutch; Lose 52-48

A poor third quarter wrecked Holland's chances here Friday night and the Dutch basketball team absorbed a 52-48 loss to Muskegon Heights before 2,200 fans in the Civic Center.

In that fateful frame, Holland was able to sink only one basket (a layup in the final half-minute by Ron Dorgelo) in eight tries and add two free shots while the Tigers, behind 28-21 at halftime, controlled the play, making six of 16 from the floor for its best quarter and completely dominating the boards.

The winners outscored Holland, 13-4 in the third quarter and gained a 34-32 advantage at the period's close. They never again relinquished the lead despite some last minute threats by the Dutch. Twice in the fourth period the Tigers pushed the margin to eight points but Holland was able to chop the spread to four points, including the final margin.

But the Dutch couldn't gain take over the lead and get back the boards, two things they enjoyed in the first half.

It was Gene Young and John Calloway who stole the boards in the second half. They looked like different athletes, especially the lanky Calloway, who shied away from the rebounding in the first half but was all over the defensive boards in the third quarter and picked up three baskets.

Muskegon Heights scored nine straight points in the third period and went ahead 30-28 before Holland tied the score with free shots by Glenn Van Wieren and Dorgelo. Calloway and Young added a basket before Dorgelo made his to close out the third quarter.

Young gave the Dutch trouble in the fourth period with three baskets before the 6'2" guard fouled out with 3:19 left. Bob Sims, playing his final game because of February graduation, was another constant second half threat and he ended with 13 points for high honors. He hit on five of 12 from the floor.

Dribbling Al Oliver, who threw in some showboating in the final minutes, whipped in 12 for the winners and held the club together with his floor play.

Holland jumped off to an 8-2 early lead and led 14-9 at the end of the first period. With the exception of an early Tiger rally when the count was narrowed to 16-14, Holland had a six and seven-point spread throughout the second quarter.

In the first half, the Dutch played fired-up basketball and were intercepting passes and doing some good ball hawking. Some of this returned in the fourth quarter but the damage had been done.

Both teams had poor nights from the floor. Holland had its lowest percentage of the season, hitting on 18 of 62 shots for 27 per cent while the Tigers weren't much better, striking 19 times in 60 tries for 32 per cent. At the free throw line, Holland made 12 of 23 and the Tigers, 14 of 32.

Van Wieren, who picked up six points in the fourth quarter push, led Holland with 15 while Jack Hulst, who made three buckets in the first quarter, followed with eight. Dave Wehrmeyer had the best percentage for the Dutch, hitting on three of six from the floor.

Holland now has a 6-5 record and will play Muskegon in the Civic Center next Friday night. The Tigers, who haven't lost since Holland stopped them in December, now have a 7-2 record.

The officiating was close and a total of 43 fouls were blown, 23 against Holland and 20 against Muskegon Heights. Because of the many fouls, the bonus rule was in effect early but neither team cashed in at the free throw line.

Maroons Fall To Creston By 10 Points

GRAND RAPIDS (Special) — A strong Creston quintet built up a first half lead here Friday night and then hung on to defeat a scrappy Holland Christian cage squad, 68-58. The Maroons now have a 4-6 mark, while the Creston crew rolls along with seven wins in nine starts.

Coach Art Tuls' club lost the contest in the first half and managed to play the Polar Bears on even terms after that. Tuls was disappointed in the defeat and said, "We gave them enough points to more than close the gap by our costly mistakes." The Maroon mentor referred to several obvious "gift" baskets by bad passes as well as some costly mental lapse throughout the game.

Another big factor in the Maroon defeat was the foul menace. Christian was in trouble right away with Vern Wedeven, Arlyn Lanting and Henry Sterken all with three fouls right after the second quarter started. As it turned out these boys sat out a good share of the game, and eventually Jim Hulst and Sterken fouled out. The game was long and interrupted frequently by the trips to the foul lane, with 24 called on the Dutch and 21 on the Bears.

Despite the fact that they trailed by 14 points early in the final quarter, the Maroons with the aid of an all-court press, narrowed the gap to six points at one stage and were in a good position to close the game. Coach Bill Noyd, "Our boys really came back after that third quarter," Muskegon Heights held Holland to only one point in the third period.

The little Dutch jumped off to a 16-10 first quarter lead with center Russ Kleinhessel and guard Steve Groters combining to score nine points. Heights outscored Holland in the second period, 8-7, and trailed the little Dutch, 23-18, at halftime. Holland sank 10 of 34 shots in the first half for 39 per cent and Muskegon Heights, seven of 21 for 33 per cent.

The third period was a nightmare for the little Dutch, who were outscored 16-1. Holland was unable to attempt a single shot from outcourt and the only point came on a free throw by Groters. The third period score favored Muskegon Heights, 34-24.

Holland exploded in the final period scoring 25 points — more than the other three quarters combined. Kleinhessel and Groters each sank four field goals and a free throw — a total of 18 points — to aid the Dutch cause. Holland attempted 23 shots in the second half and sank 10 for 43 per cent and Muskegon Heights attempted 37, sank 11 for 27 per cent.

Kleinhessel and Groters led Holland each with 14 points followed by Ben Farabee, Art Dirks and Rog Buurma who scored five apiece. Bob Klaver, Chuck Klompars and Gary Alderink each scored two. Adams led Muskegon Heights with 12 points.

Seek Free Ride

By Randy Vande Water
Recruiting, full-scale and otherwise, is a popular subject which always accompanies college athletics and it has reached the point where athletes have asked "what's in it for me" and have availed themselves to schools for a fee.

Letters from athletes, who list themselves as not able to attend college because of the lack of money, and are seeking financial help are common at the large universities.

But they have also been reported at the smaller colleges, where athletes, not quite on a caliber with the first-rate players picked off by the bigger schools are also trying to get a "free ride."

Hope College coach Russ De Vette, who directs football, basketball and baseball, received letters from athletes who "wanted to offer their services." The letters came from football players.

"The letters all follow the same pattern," De Vette said. "They tell how good they are, what they have done, what athletic achievements they have (such as throw a football 75 yards), that their high school coach will give a recommendation and that they heard the school was in need of good athletes and they will offer their services."

Services in exchange for an athletic scholarship. "These kids pick out many schools to send these letters in hopes of getting one that will show an interest. Usually these boys are poor scholastically and are writing because the big schools haven't shown any interest."

"It doesn't occur to these boys that the need for an education is more important than participating in athletics," De Vette added. "We don't answer the letters," he concluded.

Hope doesn't offer any athletic scholarships. In fact they don't offer any scholarships prior to a student entering the school. If a student is accepted and has a B average he may apply for a scholarship.

Scholarships are given solely for academic achievement and not as an incentive and only a certain number are awarded each year. A Hope board decides if the student will be given a scholarship.

Grants in aid are also given at Hope for students with less than a B average but these persons must show that they need and qualify for help. A few of these grants are given each year. The scholarship board also decides what students will receive the grants.

Dutch Seconds Defeat Tigers

A combined scoring drive and tight press enabled Holland High's reserve basketball team to overcome a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter and edge the Muskegon Heights seconds, 49-45, in one of the most exciting reserve games of the season Friday night in the Civic Center. The victory was the 10th for the little Dutch against only one loss.

"This was our best comeback of the season," said Coach Bill Noyd. "Our boys really came back after that third quarter." Muskegon Heights held Holland to only one point in the third period.

The little Dutch jumped off to a 16-10 first quarter lead with center Russ Kleinhessel and guard Steve Groters combining to score nine points. Blind Spanish Teacher Visits Local Classes

Spanish students of Holland High School had an interesting visitor Friday. Miss Mary Bull, a blind Spanish teacher from Highland Park Junior College in Detroit, quietly observed with her seeing-eye dog, a black Labrador retriever named "Picara" the classes taught by Miss Gladys Wiskamp and Mrs. Margaret Lashua.

Miss Bull and Mrs. Lashua attended Middlebury College, Vermont, in 1955 where they became close friends. Miss Bull also studied in Southmore, Pa., Madrid and Mexico City.

Now in her third year of teaching, she considers her handicap only as an incentive to become more devoted to her profession. "I started teaching Spanish by mistake," she said. "I spoke Spanish well and had a real interest in it. I wanted to do something active and help other people so I started teaching it."

Since written tests present a problem in Miss Bull's classes, she usually gives oral and individual five-minute tests. The final written exams are graded by students with the aid of a correction sheet. "My classes aren't simple, though," she asserted, "many of my first semester students failed the course."

Miss Bull said her visit to Holland High School was most enjoyable and she was "filled with admiration" for the classes and their teachers.

Zeeland started to pick up in the second quarter and tallied 12 of 18 free shots and added four baskets to cut the margin to 30-21 at halftime.

Bob Brouwer, who started at guard and switched to forward during the game, and Jack Van Dort began to hit in the third quarter and the Chix narrowed the count to 35-31 at the end of the third period.

But that was the closest the Chix came. Coopersville whipped the cords seven times in 10 tries in the fourth quarter to control the action.

Zeeland hit on 14 of 49 shots from the floor for 29 per cent while Coopersville had 23 of 48 for 48 per cent. The Ch

Members of the Holland Christian Endeavor Union closed C.E. Week activities Monday evening with the annual banquet in Ter Keurst Auditorium of Trinity Reformed Church.

The Rev. Elwood Dunn, executive secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Union, conducted devotions and showed slides depicting "C.E. Around the World." Invocation was by Miss Joan Heneveld, president of the Holland Christian Endeavor Union. The program was presented by the State Christian Endeavor Board. Al Nieboer, directed the group in singing a number of choruses and Miss Joan Pyle, president of the State board, introduced other board members.

Music was provided by the State C.E. Quartet with Dick Bolks as accompanist. The Rev. Kenneth Van Wyk, a sponsor of the Holland Union, gave the closing prayer.

The local union is making plans for a film to be shown in March and for the annual Easter Sunrise service to be held in Hope Memorial Chapel.

4 Leave Monday

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Four young men of Ottawa county will leave Grand Haven Monday, Feb. 9, for induction into the armed forces at Detroit. They are Arvon Gerald Farrell, L. D. Taylor, David Sterling Buskard, and Calvin Dale Olund. The latter has been transferred to the Grand Haven board from another board.

School Board Discusses NCA Revisions, Salaries

Proposed revisions in policies of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools were discussed at an informal meeting of the Board of Education Monday night in E. E. Felt Junior High School.

These changes were outlined by Principal Jay W. Formsma, assisted by several faculty members. Another meeting followed the revision discussion with the Salary and Welfare committee of public school teachers meeting with the board to discuss salaries for the 1959-60 school year.

A good feeling prevailed at both gatherings. In the early meeting, there were no problems that more space (a new high school in the future) wouldn't cure. In the second meeting there was considerable discussion on sources of revenue, particularly with state finances in difficulty. One member of the committee expressed the belief that 99-plus per cent of the teachers would be willing to help promote a millage election. This would mean a public vote to increase millage for operating expenses.

Holland High School has been a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools continuously since 1891. This association covers 19 states. In Michigan, the work is coordinated with the University of Michigan, and North Central membership mainly means that students can be accepted in almost any college or university without entrance exams, Formsma explained.

Proposed revisions, not yet adopted, affect mainly the library, the science department and the physical education program in Holland High School. Mrs. Lucille Donivan, school librarian, pointed to a somewhat reduced enrollment next year and suggested that an arch be put between the library and room 201, as well as extending the library southward into the assistant principal's office.

Proposed revision would require 8,400 books in the school library, compared with a present 7,115 books. It also lists seats for 10 per cent of the student body. In this case there should be seating for 130 students whereas the library seats only 46.

In the science department, several classes are held in regular classrooms not set up for lab equipment. On days that experiments are held, classes switch rooms. As for the physical education department, Joe Moran explained that classes average 79, an unwieldy number. Moreover, gym is offered in only the ninth, tenth and 11th grades, whereas new revisions call for a four-year program.

Garrell Adler, chairman of the Salary and Welfare committee, presented comparative salary figures for 20 school systems of comparable size in Michigan. While Holland's present schedule which ranges from $4,000 in 14 steps to $6,200 appears low, it was pointed out that a big share of teachers are at the maximum schedule, resulting in larger average salaries than the schedule would indicate. The committee suggested a schedule starting at $4,200 and ranging in 13 steps to $6,800. A master's degree would continue to pay $300 a year additional.

While no recommendations are expected to be made this year, Adler said the committee also is working on policies on sick leave, business leave, scholarship and loan fund, terminal pay on retirement, additional pay beyond an M. A. degree.
