Council Sets Hearings On March 4

City Council scheduled March 4 as date for public hearings on four paving projects and four sanitary sewer projects in Holland.

The projects, as presented to City Council Wednesday night, follow:

Street paving — 38th St., Central to Pine Aves.; 39th St., Central to Pine Aves.; Columbia to Lincoln Aves., and 37th St., Central Ave. west to end.

Sanitary sewer projects — in 37th St., Columbia Ave., west to end; in Pine Ave., 136 feet south of 37th St.; in 19th St., Plasman to Diekema Aves., and in 37th St., Columbia to Lincoln Aves.

Asked whether paving 17th St. between Columbia Aves. would be difficult because of railroad track levels, City Manager Herb Holt said the grade would be engineered so that traffic would flow as easily as possible, consistent with the levels of homes in that area.

Claims against the city were filed on behalf of Mrs. Neil Rutgers, 718 Joyce Ave.; John A. Brieve, 906 136th Ave., and Mrs. Gertrude Kramer, 65 Cherry St. They were referred to the insurance carrier and the city attorney for consideration and action.

Council granted permission to the Board of Education to use city registration records, voting precincts and voting machines for the special millage election scheduled March 24. The election will be conducted by the city clerk's office with the Board of Education paying necessary expenses involved. On question of Councilman Richard Smith about costs, Mayor Nelson Bosman said it amounted to about $1,600.

On suggestion of the mayor, Council extended an official invitation to Dr. J. J. G. Boot, mayor of Hilversum, the Netherlands, to visit Tulip Time this year. The Boots will be in the United States on an extended tour during May.

City Manager Holt informed Council he will be absent from the city the remainder of the week attending a conference of the Michigan Municipal League in Ann Arbor, and he designated City Clerk D. W. Schipper to act as city manager in his absence.

Mayor Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted almost 2½ hours. All Councilmen were present. The invocation was given by the Rev. John Pelon of the Christian Counseling Service.

Among the large audience of some 75 persons were members of the Holland chapter of the American Association of Women Accountants who earlier in the evening toured the offices of City Hall with City Auditor John W. Fonger as host.

City Council Studies New Fire Station

City Council Wednesday night approved preliminary planning and programming for improved police and fire station facilities in Holland.

A report by City Manager Herb Holt, accompanied by a proposal from Kammeraad and Stroop, local architects, listed three projects, (1) modification of fire station on East Eighth St., (2) conversion of combined police department and fire station on West Eighth St. to police use only, and (3) a new fire station.

The report listed an expenditure of $1,500 for schematic designs and preliminary estimates of costs including a fee schedule in the event projects are built.

A communication from local 515M, building service employees international union (AFL-CIO) listing several proposals for city employees was referred to the personnel officer. The communication asks a wage increase of 5 per cent for all employees, four weeks vacation for each employee after 20 years, full cost of Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance to be paid by city, the number of days of sick pay to be unlimited.

An application from Horne's Rental Service Inc. for a license to operate Holland Cab Co. to be acquired from William Vander Kallen was approved subject to requirements of the ordinance. The application was made inasmuch as the license is not transferable. The communication stated plans for operating 1964 taxis.

The Hospital board reported receipt of the following gifts: six months' supply of PKU test kits from the Junior Welfare League valued at $240; 15 pillows for mothers' exercises classes from Margaret Hummer guild valued at $51.75. The gifts were accepted with thanks.

Council adopted plans for hiring a four-member canvassing board consisting of two Republicans and two Democrats and approved a combination application and affidavit form since these persons must be appointed from those having affidavits on file. Council previously canvassed city elections and the new arrangement is a requirement of Michigan's new constitution. Rate of pay will be $5 a day.

The city manager submitted the report "Air Trade and Airport Site Selection Study" for Holland, Mich., prepared by Black and Veatch of Michigan, consulting engineers, and Leigh Fisher Associates, airport consultants, which was presented to Council at an informal meeting last week. A letter from Vernon E. Avery suggesting a street light on 32nd St. between Lugers Rd. and Graafschap Rd. was referred to the Traffic and Safety Commission for study and report. The Avery letter also called attention to the narrow road with very little shoulder at this point, plus steep banks on both sides of the road. Councilman Donald D. Oosterbaan added he had been contacted as to the possibility of yellow lines in this area, and this suggestion also was referred to the safety commission.

A letter from John Wammes requesting permission to remove the curb and install blacktop from the curb to the sidewalk in front of his commercial building at 624 Washington Ave. was referred to the safety commission for study and report.

A copy of a letter from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission addressed to Alfred and Charlene Von Ins was read. The letter informed the Von Inses that their application for a new dance permit at 234 East Eighth St. was denied.

A letter from Robert Freers and Charles Elander requesting study on the possibility of surface coating for approximately 150 feet on West 27th St. in front of 606 and 607 West 27th St. was referred to the city manager for study and report.

City Sells Two Parcels Of Property

City Council voted Wednesday night to sell two parcels of city-owned property and to establish a new street department facilities as a result.

The complicated "package" involves selling the old street department garage and related facilities at Fifth St. and Columbia Ave. to Swift and Co. which plans to expand its operation there by erecting a $500,000 addition to its existing plant.

The city also will sell the property on South Washington Ave. generally referred to as Roamer Boat to Charles Conrad who has been operating Thermotron Corp. there on a rental basis.

The street department garage will be relocated in the vicinity of 10th St. and Fairbanks Ave. usually referred to as the "sand hill site." This involves exchange of some parcels in the neighborhood.

City Manager Herb Holt explained the complicated package was an unusual situation. "It's a complicated venture and perhaps difficult to explain to the public, but Council has been working on it since August, 1963, and it just wasn't feasible to pass on these things one at a time," he said.

The Fifth St. site also includes some property in the vicinity of the Fifth St. power plant. The Board of Public Works determined last Aug. 19 that this vacant property was not needed for the electric utility.

Fair market value of the property was determined to be $55,000 and of this amount $12,000 is assignable to the electric utility parcel. In agreeing to the purchase, Swift and Co. announced a sizeable expansion starting with an expenditure of $500,000 which will result in additional tax base and job opportunities in Holland.

Fair market value of the old Roamer Boat was determined to be $55,600, and purchaser Conrad likewise expressed plans to expand and provide additional job opportunities in the city.

Cost of a new garage development for the street department is estimated at $138,000 to be financed by $43,000 from the sale of the existing property, $55,000 from the capital improvement fund to be repaid by sale of Roamer Boat, and $40,000 from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. It was pointed out that the new site is advantageous in that it is near the city truck route.

The manager's report on the new site indicated additional property would be necessary and acknowledged assistance from Koww Real Estate agency in certain trades and transactions. Owners of one parcel do not wish to sell at this time but have no apparent objection to the proposed development, and the acquisition of this parcel can be delayed without interfering materially with construction.

The parcel exchange also involves vacating a portion of Ninth St. as well as waiving and releasing any obligation imposed on Western Foundry in connection with an agreement dating back to Sept. 30, 1952.

Passenger Seriously Hurt in 2-Car Crash

FOREST GROVE — Cars driven by John C. Van Dam, 21, route 2, Holland, and Jennie Van Houten, 40, of 4068 Quincy St., Holland, collided at 2:05 p.m. Friday at the intersection of 32nd Ave. and Byron Rd.

Mrs. Van Houten's husband, John C., 48, was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids with a skull fracture, concussion and lacerations of the face and head. Mrs. Van Houten was released after treatment for minor injuries.

Van Dam, traveling south on 32nd Ave., apparently failed to yield the right of way for the Van Houten car headed west on Byron Rd. State police are investigating.

Ask More Facts On Collections

Following a public hearing on garbage and trash collection in Holland which lasted an hour and 25 minutes, City Council took no definite action on adopting a new collection program, but the issue is far from dead.

Specifically, Council voted 6-3 to give further consideration to the two proposals submitted three weeks ago, and the three-member committee which has been studying solid wastes disposal for several months was instructed to submit further information on financing at the earliest possible date.

A motion by Councilman Henry Steffens "to consider proposal No. 1" (100 per cent collection from all residences) was dumped in favor of a substitute motion by Councilman Bertal Slagh for further study on the entire program.

Casting dissenting votes on Slagh's substitute motion were Steffens, Donald D. Oosterbaan and Eugene Vande Vusse.

Steffens commented he hoped it would not take another decade before improved disposal is considered again, and Vande Vusse proposed that the committee be discharged. Then the motion by Morris Peerbolt for information on finances quickly passed unanimously.

Proposal No. 1 as favored by Vande Vusse and Oosterbaan of the solid wastes disposal committee called for 100 per cent collection of garbage, trash, etc., on a weekly basis (twice a week during four summer months) from all residences in the city on a contract basis by a private contractor, at a cost of approximately 35 cents a week.

Proposal No. 2 as favored by Slagh, the third member of the committee, called for continuing the present partial system with the city operating the dump.

At the opening of the hearing, City Clerk D. W. Schipper read three communications. One from Mr. and Mrs. George Artz, 699 East 16th St., opposed compulsory collection because they live in an agricultural zone. It was later clarified that collection would not extend to the agricultural zones.

Also read was the copy of a letter which appeared previously in the Sentinel submitted by Mrs. Margaret Wissink, 323 West 30th St., favoring a city wide collection. A third from Mrs. William Weststrate Jr. suggested the garbage issue be put to vote at the school millage election March 24.

About 75 were present at the Council meeting, several of whom expressed views on garbage collection at the public hearing.

Philip Crook, 643 West 22nd St., cited rat problems in Holland and the recent rat attack on a baby. He said half-way measures are not particularly effective, and said so long as food is available the rats will remain.

Dennis Duffield, representing the Holland Jaycees, presented a resolution Jaycees adopted Tuesday night endorsing the 100 per cent collection for Holland.

Cornelius De Waard, 261 East 13th St., said Hollanders are noted for their cleanliness and neatness and take pride in their property, but he for one found compulsory orders repulsive and felt the rat menace was exaggerated. He pointed to creeping inflation and its effect on widows and elderly couples who do not have the wherewithal to pay another $25 a year (or thereabouts) for compulsory garbage service.

De Waard opined that elections such as school millage issues are mainly defeated by blocs of elderly persons who live on limited incomes.

Cornelius Huizenga, 172 West 16th St., felt more strongly on the subject. "It's not fair to shove it on people that way and we don't go for it. Why must it be compulsory? Why can't we have a card in the window like the old days when we wanted the ice man to leave ice?"

Dr. Hollis Clark, 129 West 24th St., said anything compulsory is never popular, whether it be public health, sanitation, safety or schools, but he favored a city-wide garbage pickup and felt there was nothing radical, socialistic or communistic about such a program. He also spoke of the rat menace in his neighborhood and felt that a uniform program for collection was the only real answer. He hoped Council would act on the program and not submit it to referendum.

Charles Bradford, 258 East 24th St., representing the Jaycees, submitted a further analysis of the garbage section on the community survey which was presented three weeks ago. Out of 1,145 responses, 33 per cent opposed municipal garbage collections, 54 per cent favored it and 13 had no answer.

He said the 50 per cent of the local homes which have private collection would tend to favor municipal collection, and yet many who did not have this service also favored municipal collection. Even a breakdown in age groups revealed only one bracket (60-64) as being below 50 per cent.

Gerrit Jongsma, 22 East 21st St., did not object to the 35-cent fee but his principal objection was that he would still want to go to the city dump to dump grass clippings and hedge trimmings rather than wait for regular collections. He was assured later by Vande Vusse that he would be allowed to dump clippings at the dump at any time.

Jim Bradbury, 677 Concord, asked about curb or backdoor pickup and was informed that proposal No. 1 considers backdoor or garage pickups only. He expressed amazement that Holland with its reputation as a clean city had a pickup program which was so poor.

Sam Stephenson, director of the Department of Environmental Health which would supervise the pickup in case Proposal No. 1 was adopted, explained his staff is not large enough for a rigid enforcement program (burning or burying garbage) and he felt public health should follow the lead of public education rather than enforcement wherever possible. He explained how complaints are processed, some of them requiring three visits before all is cleared.

He spoke of being with the health department for four years and in that time has been evaluating the refuse problem with an aim to recommending the best possible solution — Proposal No. 1.

Roy Hickman, 95 West 27th St., a "newcomer" after 15 years here, spoke of having a disposal in his home, yet he favored a 100 per cent pickup, something he considered desirable for the majority, not the minority.

In answer to a question of De Waard, Stephenson said the most prevalent violations in Holland are open garbage pits, 55-gallon oil drums where garbage is tossed rather than burned, and ineffective wire baskets. He later defined "approved types of incinerators."

In answering questions on billings, Vande Vusse said he expected periodic billings to property owners through mechanical equipment at the Board of Public Works would be the most efficient way of billing households.

As for putting the entire cost into the city budget, he felt it was not fair to business and industry to be taxed for garbage collection at dwellings. He explained collection procedures in other cities including dump operations and pointed out that filled-in lands have provided excellent parks. In Holland's case, it could be excellent parking for Project Windmill.

As for rats, Vande Vusse offered to show rats within three blocks from any location in Holland, and accepted several challenges from the audience. He described how his son had helped kill many rats for laboratory experiments.

There was some question whether 35 cents a week would cover necessary costs, but proponents felt this fee which amounts to $18.20 a year would be sufficient. There also was some question on whether this service would cover the leaf pickup in the fall as well as the cleanup in the spring. It generally was conceded it would not cover the leaf pickup.

Special Vote Set April 28

Holland city will hold a special election Tuesday, April 28, on an amendment to the city charter changing the salary of the municipal judge.

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham said state law requires home rule cities such as Holland to set salaries for municipal judges in its charters, and the present charter provides a salary of $3,000 to $6,000 annually.

The new proposal calls for amending this figure to $8,000 to $15,000 annually. Cunningham said Judge Cornelius vander Meulen has not been in the best of health and faces retirement or perhaps forced retirement. He said he has consulted with Judge vander Meulen, with City Manager Herb Holt and with the Ottawa County Bar Association before drafting the resolution calling for the amendment.

Answering a question from Councilman Richard Smith on possibilities of holding this election at the same time as the school millage election March 24, Cunningham said a charter amendment requires approval by the governor and the application of form must be approved by the attorney general. Moreover, 60 days must elapse after the resolution is adopted.

Christian Loses Game To Allegan

A spirited Allegan basketball squad nipped Holland Christian's Maroons, 53-47 Friday night before a sellout homecoming crowd of 2500 in the Civic Center to take its eighth straight victory and hand the Maroons their second loss in 13 starts.

Allegan, which had been pointing for this one ever since the Maroons stopped the Tigers in their first meeting, played a smart conservative game and forced Christian to play its style most of the night. Led by alert play on the part of guards Paul Grewe and John Irwin, the Tigers maintained the advantage most of the way.

Coach Art Tuls' Maroons which had an uphill battle throughout were always in contention and at one point in the third period led by six points. However the Maroons committed far too many ball control errors, some of them forced by the excellent man-to-man defense of the winners.

When the game reached its crucial stage with the Tigers leading by a few points, the winners with some clever ball handling and stalling tactics forced the Maroons into fouling, and then capitalized at the charity stripe. They connected on seven free throws in the final quarter as they put the game on ice by outscoring the Maroons, 19-9.

Besides the tight defense thrown up by the Tigers, the Maroons had to contend with some fancy outcourt shooting by the Allegan guards and forward Allen Veenkant. It was obvious in the first half that the Tiger game plan was to play for the sure shot no matter how long it took to get it.

Coach Art Tuls' team also flashed a good defense throughout the game switching from a man-to-man in the first half to a zone press and zone defense in the second half. The press was effective and succeeded in giving the losers a 38-32 bulge with one minute remaining in the third stanza.

In the shooting department Christian hit its lowest percentage of season, scoring on 20 out of 58 attempts for a 35 per cent mark. Coach George Van Wagener's Tigers did some better hitting on 20 out of 32 for 63 per cent. It was at the charity stripe where a different story is told with the winning Tigers collecting on 13 out of 23 while the Maroons managed seven out of just 12 attempts.

Led by Veenkant and Irwin from outcourt, the keyed up Tigers held the upper hand throughout the whole first period. They led 8-4 at the 4:27 mark before the locals knocked the count at 10-10 with 2:02 left. It was Tom Deur and Jim Otte pacing the Maroon attack at this point. By the end of the period, the Tigers led 18-14.

It was strictly a defensive battle in the second period which saw the Maroons take their first lead, 25-24 late in the period. At one stage the Tigers had built up a 21-14 margin for their biggest of the night. Tom Dykema hit his only two baskets of the game to pull the Maroons to a 26-25 halftime deficit.

Christian's zone press rattled the winners during the third period and permitted the Maroons to gain the tempo of the tilt for the first time. With reserve Jack Kalmink leading the way with three swishers from the corner, the Maroons raced to a 38-32 bulge and appeared on their way. It was 38-34 going into the final period. Despite the fine defense, some costly errors on the part of the Maroons enabled the determined Tigers to score eight straight points to take a 42-38 count. The Tigers with their alert play never trailed after that, although the locals always kept within three points until the final 30 seconds. Christian lost both Don Kronemeyer and Dykema on fouls in the last quarter. Irwin counted eight for the Tigers in the last period.

Otte led all scorers with 15 points while the balanced Allegan attack was led by Veenkant with 14 and Grewe with 13.

West Ottawa Drops Game To Godwin

WYOMING — West Ottawa's varsity basketball squad met with the same type of frustration that the freshman and reserve squads had met earlier in the day as the Panthers were whipped 77-44 by Godwin Friday night at Godwin's fieldhouse before 800 fans.

Gene Nyenhuis, coach of the Wolves, had his group really up for the game to the point where they were razor sharp. The Wolves always hustle, press, rebound like big men and move the ball quickly but they never did any of these things any better than Friday night.

Before anyone really was settled in his seat, the Panthers were behind 17-2. Both teams realized that second place in the league was resting on the game, but it seemed to mean much more to Godwin than to West Ottawa.

The pressing antics caused mistakes and the excellent hustling defense kept West Ottawa from really ever getting set for any of their shots. West Ottawa was behind 23-7 at the quarter mark and it was a pretty frustrated group of boys that went to the locker room behind 53-13 at halftime. Thirteen points was the smallest point total West Ottawa has had in any half this season.

Godwin substituted its third unit in the game during the entire third quarter and the Panthers' confidence returned and outscored their opponents 16-6 to narrow the margin to 59-39 by the end of the quarter.

Both teams put in their first units to begin the fourth quarter, but Godwin lost their fine edge and played as was anticipated. West Ottawa was still outscored during the next five minutes, 16-10, but they looked as though they were in the game. The reserve units finished the games for both clubs.

Godwin was not any hotter than the Panthers over the whole game, but they did play their reserves often to cut down their percentage. Both teams ended with 30 per cent of their shots made, but Godwin took 91 shots to only 53 for the losers. West Ottawa had quarters of 3-12, 3-9, 6-17 and 4-15 for 16-53. Godwin had 8-26, 13-30, 1-14 and 5-21 for 27-91. West Ottawa made 12-26 free throws and Godwin had 23-28.

A bright spot for the Panthers was the play of reserve senior 6'2" Clare Vanden Bosch. Vanden Bosch was aggressive on both offense and defense and received praise from his coaching staff for his hustle and desire.

Bruce Van Huis led West Ottawa with 13 points and Dave Vizithum, whose sprained ankle forced him to sit out through a good share of the game, scored 10. Gary Rhoades led Godwin with 19, and Marv Post and John Isler each made 10.

Order Local Alley Open

GRAND HAVEN — A judgment was filed in Ottawa Circuit Court Thursday ordering the Masonic lodge of Holland to remove "all fences, stakes, barriers and obstructions" from a private alley at the rear of its property known as the Tower building on the northwest corner of Eighth St. and River Ave. in downtown Holland. The fence was erected years ago at the Eighth St. entrance of the alley which runs parallel to River Ave.

The alley barrier has been in dispute since Dec. 27, 1960, when Harold J. and Crystal Gee brought suit against the Masonic lodge. The Gees operate a store in the block abutting the alley.

Judge Raymond L. Smith also ruled that all obstructions that in any way interfere with the easement rights of the Gees must be removed by Feb. 6. The ruling also calls for the defendant to have mutual rights with plaintiffs in the use of the premises.

Holland Wins, 67-64; 7th Victory

Desire when it counted plus some fine shooting led Holland High's basketball team to a 67-64 upset win over Benton Harbor in LMAC action Friday night before 2,000 fans in the fieldhouse.

The desire shown through the overall strong Holland performance in the last five minutes when the Dutch realized they could pull the upset. From then on they completed an assignment of what they had been doing a good job of for the previous 28 minutes.

Benton Harbor, on three baskets by its star L. C. Bowen, had gone in front 55-52 with 6:02 left and it looked like the vaunted Tiger offense was off and rolling. This offense had scored 100 points last week and 92 against Holland Dec. 13.

But Holland came back. Darrell Schuurman hit a jump shot and Jim De Neff, who had only one basket in the game, followed suit from the other side. Tom Pelon added two free throws and Cal Beltman scored two baskets, one on a fast break and the other on a smooth Pelon pass.

This gave Holland 10 points in two minutes and a 62-55 lead before Bowen hit a free throw.

Schuurman tallied again and Pelon added two free throws as the determined Dutch continued to work and held a 10-point margin, 66-56 with 1:35 left.

That drive proved to be enough but the Tigers, showing why they are 8-2 and were second ranked, scored eight points in 50 seconds. Six were by John Rudley and two by Bowen.

This put the Tigers within two with 30 seconds left and the fans were wild as Benton Harbor rebounded a Schuurman shot with 11 seconds left. But a scramble at midcourt resulted in a foul and Vern Plagenhoef sank a free shot with one second left.

Holland hit 46 per cent of its shots on 29 of 64 including seven of 14 in the last period while the Tigers canned only five of 19 in the last period. Benton Harbor ended with 28 of 76 for 37 per cent.

Pelon, Holland's leading rebounder, didn't get a shot in the final quarter but he worked to get the ball to his mates, especially Schuurman who popped three. Schuurman made 14 points, 12 in the second half.

With 22 points, Pelon led Holland for the second straight game. He hit six straight free shots, four in the last quarter and had eight of 14 from the floor.

De Neff worked hard on Bowen before fouling out with 1:02 left. But De Neff's defense resulted in Bowen missing his last seven shots. Bowen hit 12 of 26 and added five free shots for 29, three points before his average. De Neff only took four shots in the game.

Ken Thompson, who picked up 12 points, held Mike Pollard to five as Holland's man-for-man defense did the job. The Dutch tried a zone press briefly in the second quarter leading, 33-25 and the Tigers punctured it and pulled within three, 34-31 at half. The Dutch had led 19-13 at the quarter.

Benton Harbor has its biggest lead they led five times in the game), 44-38 with 3:02 left in the third period. In front, 49-44 with 26 seconds left in the third period, Beltman rammed home two baskets to put Holland within one, 49-48 at the third period's close. Beltman was most effective when he realized he could beat speedy ball hawk Dave Mack down the floor.

Holland had quarters of 9-17; 7-20; 6-13 and 7-14 while the Tigers made 6-14; 9-23; 8-20 and 5-19. The Dutch made nine of 14 free shots and Benton Harbor, eight of 18. Beltman, who hit 15 points, sank seven of 11 for the best individual floor average.

Stop Signs Working Out Satisfactorily

Traffic movement was working out more easily Friday at the intersection of 10th St. and Central Ave. where city police installed four-way stop signs Thursday.

When the signs were first installed, there was the usual shakeup in traffic patterns, with many motorists failing to observe the new sign. A parked bus in a stall closest to the intersection also obscured vision. A traffic cone in the center of the intersection helped call attention to the stop but caused some confusion on turns.

Later, police placed two traffic cones in the vicinity of pedestrian crosswalks on Central Ave. — something that Central Ave. motorists could not ignore. The parking meter in the closest stall also was capped.

The four-way stop was approved by City Council at its last meeting on a trial basis, on recommendation of the Traffic and Safety Commission which had been studying traffic problems at the Ninth St. intersection. To solve this problem, the commission turned to a previous recommendation in an AAA report calling for slowing traffic at 10th St. rather than Ninth St. because of its proximity to the traffic signal at Eighth St.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said changes in the traffic pattern are always unsettling to motorists. Police stopped several cars for warning but issued no tickets.

Mrs. Harold Thorndill, conservation committee chairman presented a recommendation which was drawn up at a joint meeting of the landscape design and conservation committees, concerning ways and means by which the Holland Garden Club might be of service in the development of the Cammenga property. It was suggested that the club underwrite the cost of preliminary planning for the development of the property, subject to approval of the permanent committee for the development. The matter will be discussed at a later meeting.

A slate of new officers was also presented by Mrs. Edward Brolin, chairman of the nominating committee.

A BONNET IN THE RING

Another hat has been tossed in the presidential ring. Or would it be more proper to call it a bonnet?

The bee which has been buzzing for some time finally bit Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine when she announced her candidacy for the presidency before the Women's National Press Club on Monday of this week.

She herself, as her own announcement indicated, has no illusions about winning. But hers is a pioneering effort to test the prejudice against a woman aspiring to the highest office in the land. It will be interesting to speculate and later to observe what measure of support she will win in the primaries.

To many people the very idea of a woman president sounds strange. But we reckon without the leavening influence of time in human affairs to rule it out as a possibility for the future.

Today, for example, we accept as a matter of course the right of women to vote. But within the memory of many still alive today, the battles for that right, by Emmeline Frankhurst in England and by the likes of Lucretia Mott in this country, is still remembered. Certainly we have come a long long way from that early time when one of Lucretia Mott's meetings was mockingly announced by a clergyman: "I am asked to give notice that a hen will attempt to crow like a cock in the town hall at five o'clock." But since those early days, women have been accepted in politics not only as to the right to vote but to hold office as well.

Senator Smith is a capable woman to some to make a pioneering test. She is a legislative veteran with service both in the House and the Senate. Her courage is unquestioned. Her Declaration of Conscience in 1950 was perhaps the most effective voice raised against McCarthyism in that unfortunate era when disagreement with his methods of combatting Communism was equated with disloyalty. So too, more recently her courage was shown in her vote against the nuclear test ban treaty in the face of support for it by the majority of her own sex.

One is led to speculate how much of her vote will be a consolation award given by those who know of the futility of her success. The early primaries should be some kind of a measure for all the candidates.

Cigarette in Chair Sets Fire to House

GRAND HAVEN — Fire caused by a cigarette in an overstuffed chair caused considerable damage to the Joseph Glennie home at 707 Columbus St. at 4:20 a.m. Heat damage to the living room, dining room, front porch, plus a bedroom and bathroom upstairs was estimated at $2,000.

Sunday School Lesson

Peter, James and John
By C. P. Dame

All Bible readers know the three men whom we will study in this lesson. Our study ought to make us more familiar with these men and it should teach us lessons which may help us to be better workers in the Church.

I. The Lord calls workers. The three men were first called to be disciples, then they became apostles and then they formed an inner circle in the apostolic band.

A disciple is a learner — an apostle is a person who is sent. Jesus wanted fellowship, he needed helpers and he wanted his work to be continued and that is why he called apostles.

Peter, James and John were fishermen. Jesus called two sets of brothers from the sea, Peter and Andrew, and James and John, all fishermen who made a good living. They all left their work and followed Jesus due to his words, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men."

These men were uneducated, workers, outdoor men, used to hardships and storms. In their work they had been taught patience and perseverance and they had learned to deal with people. They gave up their daily work in order to serve with and for Jesus.

The work to which they were called was not easy. They were the kind of men who could take knocks and opposition.

II. The Lord gives some workers special privileges. These three were favored. The Bible relates three instances in which these three were given a special privilege.

Our lesson omits the story of the daughter of Jairus but contains the other two.

The story of the transfiguration of Jesus on the mountain is familiar. Peter, James and John never forgot how on the mountain they caught a vision of the deity of Jesus and met Moses and Elijah and heard those two Old Testament characters talk to Jesus about his coming death.

What companionship they had with Jesus, Moses and Elijah on that mountain!

The three men who saw the transfigured Lord also saw him suffer in the garden of Gethsemane. Eight apostles were left outside of the garden, the three were invited to go with him in the garden to watch with him. Instead of watching they fell asleep. These men, in the presence of an opportunity and obligation failed. We do that too at times.

III. Discipleship costs. It cost more than others. Herod the king, the grandson of Herod the Great who killed the babes in Bethlehem, killed James the brother of John. He was the first of the apostles to be put to death.

All the apostles, save John, died as martyrs.

These three Peter, James and John, responded to the call of Jesus, walked with him for about three years, served and suffered and grew and had a big part in the building of the early Church.

May we who serve now serve as they did.

Plan Group Holds Confab

Many areas in the realm of city planning were discussed at a seven-hour meeting of the Holland Planning Commission Tuesday at Hotel Warm Friend. Chairman Willard C. Wichers said much of the discussion dealt with buffer parks, recreational areas, utilities and service policies in connection with the proposed Holland industrial park. Also reviewed was the airport study and the commission felt that a site near the industrial park would be of particular benefit to the economic well being of the community.

Aspects of the subdivision ordinance also were discussed, and the commission decided that when an existing street is blacktopped the developer will not be required to put in curb and gutter until petitioned later by property owners. This action was taken in connection with discussions on a new subdivision in Holland Heights near Hope Ave. and 16th St.

Also discussed were zoning requirements for private recreational clubs such as the South Side Swimming Club. The group also reviewed standards for B-1 apartment districts. Meeting with the commission was Scott Bagby who is sometimes retained as planning consultant for certain work.

Snowfall At 9 Inches In January

Holland had only 9 1/4 inches of snow in January, a sharp contrast to December when an all-time record of 66 inches fell on Holland.

It was the lightest January snowfall since 1956 when 7.8 inches was recorded.

But while the snowfall was light, there were relatively few days that the ground was not covered, according to Bob Edwards, official weather observer. December's snowfall had left 11 inches on the ground on Jan. 1, and with a scattering of additional snow it was Jan. 22 that the ground was clear, and then only for three days.

Starting Feb. 1, Observer Edwards returned to the 5 p.m. observation period instead of the 7 a.m. reading.

Holland hit the season's low of -21 degrees on Jan. 1, but for the most part January was relatively mild and the average temperature of 27.9 degrees was 1.7 degrees above normal.

Precipitation measured 1.10 inches which was .98 inch below normal.

Holland hit a maximum of 56 degrees on Jan. 24, one of six days that week that the mercury was in the 40's and 50's. Maximums were 49 in 1963, 42 in 1962, 48 in 1961 and 51 in 1960. Minimums were -3 in 1963, -7 in 1962, -9 in 1961 and 13 in 1960.

Average temperature was 27.9, compared with 18.2 in 1963, 21.9 in 1962, 23.7 in 1961 and 24.2 in 1960. Average maximum was 35.8, compared with 24 in 1963, 28.4 in 1962, 30.9 in 1961 and 34.4 in 1960. Average minimum was 20, compared with 12.4 in 1963, 15.4 in 1962, 16.5 in 1961, and 24.2 in 1960.

Snowfall listed 9 1/4 inches, compared with 47 inches in 1963, 46 inches in 1962, 27 inches in 1961 and 23.3 inches in 1960. Precipitation measured 1.10 inches, compared with 2.04 inches in 1963, 3.47 inches in 1962, 1.19 inches in 1961 and 4.45 inches in 1960.

Greatest depth of snow on the ground was 11 inches, compared with 42 in 1963, 20 in 1962, 13 in 1961 and 10 in 1960. Greatest amount of snow in a 24-hour period was 3 inches on Jan. 27, compared with 7 inches in 1961, 8 inches in 1962, 5 inches in 1961 and 4 inches in 1960.

Muskegon Christian Takes Win

A hot shooting, spirited Muskegon Christian basketball squad handed Holland Christian its second straight loss and third of the season before 2,000 fans on the Civic Center court Tuesday night by trimming the Maroons, 78-61.

Coach Elmer Walcott's outfit was out to win from the opening whistle and proved it in all departments as the state-ranked Warriors outscraped, outshot and outplayed the Maroons.

To top it all off, the invaders hit a great 51 per cent of their shots, many coming from well ourcourt. Muskegon Christian is ranked fifth in Class C.

Although the Warriors managed to stave off every Maroon rally, they were not able to pull away from Christian until the last four minutes of play. The Maroons trailed 60-56 with a little more than half of the quarter left, but threw away their opportunities with missed free throws, bad passes and the like.

The play of the Maroons was just spotty as they lacked the overall determination of the winners. Repeatedly the Maroons would come through with a fine play to force the invaders, only to see a costly error, physical or otherwise, render it to no avail.

Besides the fine team play of the Warriors, the winners possess in guard Dean Duisternars one of the finest shooters which the Maroons have faced in many a season. Operating with or without a momentary screen in the outcourt area, the 6'3" junior hit a phenomenal percentage. His overall game total was 37 points but the Muskegon star hit on 10 out of 16 tries in the first half alone to account for 22 points at the intermission. Besides being a fine shooter, Duisternars is a fine d. er and sets up many other baskets by his teammates.

Muskegon played a pressing aggressive defense during the tilt. They fouled frequently, but the Maroons missed many "one and one" situations which could have been damaging to the Warrior cause. Although the Maroons still hit on 17 out of 30 tries at the charity stripe, the figure is misleading since most of the missed ones were of the bonus variety. Muskegon connected on 18 out of 25 attempts.

In the field goal department the Maroons hit on 22 out of 62 tries for a respectable 36 per cent. Muskegon garnered its 51 per cent on 30 out of 59.

Coach Art Tuls' Maroons led twice in the ball game, both coming in the first quarter. Led by Duisternars, who bombed four from out in the opening minutes, the Warriors moved out to an 11-7 lead midway in the period. Christian took a momentary 13-11 edge on Jack Langeland's swisher, before the Warriors upped their total to 19-15 at the quarter's end.

Led by Duisternars, the Warriors upped their margin to 26-17 before baskets by Tom Deur, Dykema and Langeland whittled the margin. Christian crept to within three late in the stanza before the winners managed a 36-31 lead at halftime.

After Muskegon had upped the difference to 10 points, reserve Ken Geurink sparked the Maroons with his aggressive play to enable the Maroons to start whittling the count. Geurink connected on seven points, while Dykema added eight to pull Christian to a 56-52 third quarter deficit. Duisternars, who counted 12 in the period, got help from forward Dave Workman, who collected eight points.

Don Kronemeyer hit on a rebound shot to pull the Maroons up to 58-56 with 7:09 left in the game. However this was the closest the Maroons could come although the Warrior offense stalled at this point, giving the Maroons many good opportunities to take the lead. Finally with 4:20 left in the game, the Warriors capitalized on the ineptness of the Maroons in the closing minutes to put the game out of reach. They hit on eight out of 11 free throws in the stanza while playing keep away with the Maroons.

Muskegon worked the boards hard with Dave Jaunese and Workman aiding Duisternars. For Holland Jack Langeland stood out with help from Jim Otte and Kronemeyer.

Christian was led by Dykema with 17 with Workman following Duisternars with 14.

Christian travels to St. Joseph Friday.

U of M Space Program Told at Century Club

"The University of Michigan Space Program is small, meaningful and we're proud of it," was the concluding remark of Dr. Wilbur C. Nelson, chairman of the Department of Aeronautical and Astronautical Engineering at the University, speaking for Century Club members and guests at Phelps Hall Monday evening.

Dr. Nelson said that the University's space program started 50 years ago through an aeronautical course written by the Wrights. The work, started in a hidden manner in a basement in order to get going, has developed into many buildings comprising most of the new North Campus. Through research, providing brain power for industry, and contributing five recent alumni to the Gemini project, the University is actively engaged in the Space Program.

Explaining the three stages of the present national Space Program, Dr. Nelson through film and lecture pointed out the success of the manned orbit; the Gemini project, the next step to attempt to rendezvous or dock out there in a 200 mile high orbit; and eventually the moon flight. The moon shot is important, he said, but for the present the work must be on the technique of putting up a parking vehicle in orbit on which another rocket can land, and at the astronaut's command turn on the motor and accelerate for further flights.

Dr. Nelson pointed out that in the space flights the big things, such as mid-course correction and space craft trajectory, have been successful, but that the failures had been due to imperfect performance of gadgets such as in the recent Ranger 6 flight.

Defining space as the exploration and utilization of outer space, the speaker said that there is much to be done with reconnaissance unmanned vehicles before the present ultimate of keeping 20 people in orbit for two years.

Dr. William G. Winter, president of the club, said that the membership is always interested in "reaching out and up" but that Dr. Nelson had taken the group pretty far "up" during the evening. Despite this there were many questions from members and guests that helped to clarify space "to some extent" for the audience.

Miss Jantina Holleman of the Hope College piano faculty played three selections: "Traumerei" by Schumann, "Sonata in F Minor" by Schumann, and "Sonatina" by Paep.

Measles Hits Holland Area And County

Measles, the red variety which lasts about nine days, is becoming prevalent in the Holland area and throughout Ottawa county.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have, director of the Ottawa County Health department, said today that 243 cases have been reported since Dec. 1, and he recommends immunization. Measles vaccine is not provided by the health department but is available through the local physician.

So far, no unusual severity has been reported, but Dr. Ten Have expects there will be some cases of complications of ear infection and pneumonia. Bed rest is recommended. The disease usually lasts a week to nine days from the onset of rash.

The measles vaccine which provides permanent protection is especially recommended for pre-school children.

Several cases of scarlet fever, strep throat and mumps also have been reported in Ottawa county, but not nearly so many as measles.

In Kalamazoo, measles has reached the epidemic stage, and medical authorities are urging parents to seek medical advice and protection for children who have never had red measles, described as the "nine-day," "hard" or "English" measles which involve a moderately severe illness. It is not to be confused with the milder "three-day" or "German" measles.

Dr. E. Freeman Hersey, director of the Kalamazoo County Health department, said three cases of encephalitis resulting from measles have been reported in December and January. Encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain, can result in permanent brain damage. There have been no deaths.

Dr. Vander Werf Kiwanis Speaker

Dr. Calvin Vander Werf, president of Hope College, spoke to the Kiwanis Club Monday night at the Hotel Warm Friend on "The Knowledge Explosion and the Most Sought Commodity Today — Educated Talent."

Dr. Vander Werf said that almost the total progress in science has been in the last 100 years; the next 50 years will be the most progressive. He made four predictions for the future: longer, healthier life up to 150 years of age; man relieved of all manual labor; leisure, a joy and comfort with climate control, age of luxury; a shriveled world just minutes from any place.

The speaker said the education of young boys and girls is the most important task for the future. He pointed out the local Dutch tradition in the past of "going hungry when necessary" to provide an education for the children. He concluded that Holland today is not doing all it should to provide adequate education of its children.

Rhine Vander Meulen presided and Howard Van Egmond gave the invocation. Jerry Roper introduced Dr. Vander Werf.

Muskegon Couple Hurt

GRAND HAVEN — A Muskegon couple was in fair condition today in Hackley Hospital following a two-car crash at 5:45 p.m. Saturday on 196 a half mile east of Crockery Creek bridge in Crockery township.

Injured were James Wilson, 57, and his wife, Mildred, 56, both of Muskegon. Mrs. Wilson, who was driving, received contusions of the chest and Wilson a fractured left hip and head lacerations.

State police said a deer jumped into the roadway causing Otha Mitchell Clark, 57, Muskegon, to hit his brakes. This caused his car to slide into the path of the Wilson car. Both cars were traveling west. Clark and his 14-year-old passenger, Mark S. Boyd, North Muskegon, were not injured.

Police found some deer hair on the grille of the Wilson car but could not find the animal which they surmised was not badly injured and ran away.

The impact caused the Wilson car to strike several small trees in the wooded median strip and then go down an embankment, striking several more small trees.

Cotton State and Yellowhammer State are two nicknames for Alabama.
