Tulip Time Housing Seeks More Listings

The Tulip Time housing bureau has begun work in festival headquarters in Civic Center and currently is sending applications to people in the community who have been opening their homes for Tulip Time visitors.

The festival this year is May 17-20.

Mrs. Henry Buursma and Mrs. Gary Kruihof again are staffing the bureau and are prepared to deal with longtime residents (and new ones) who have found entertaining guests a pleasurable experience.

"We are so grateful for cooperation shown by the Holland people in opening their homes. Without their cooperation, we would not be able to care for all our overnight visitors," the two women said.

Because of the emphasis on Holland's 125th anniversary during 1972, it is expected more listings will be necessary, and persons interested in taking guests for the first time may call Tulip Time headquarters for information.

Most charter groups are accommodated in hotels and motels but several senior citizen groups have been requesting private homes.

Some families have been making Tulip Time an annual project, putting the money into children's education funds or vacation funds.

The housing bureau also arranges group meals in various churches and commercial establishments.

Judge Retiring After 25 Years

Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith of Holland is stepping down as judge of the 20th judicial circuit (Ottawa and Allegan) after 25 years on the bench, the longest tenure of a judge in the history of the district.

Judge Smith took over as circuit judge Jan. 1, 1948, succeeding Judge Fred T. Miles who had served 18 years. Judge Miles will be 95 years old April 8.

Judge Smith, 65, was born in Holland, was graduated from Holland High School in 1924 and from Hope College in 1928. He studied law at Harvard University, receiving a law degree in 1931, and on his return to Holland entered into a law partnership with Nelson A. Miles.

He served as municipal judge of Holland from 1940 to 1948. He and his wife have been living in 1170 Ottawa Beach Rd. They have three daughters, Mrs. Tom Carey of Holland, Mrs. Richard L. Den Uyl of Marysville, Mich., and Mrs. Bruce G. van Leuwen Jr. of Hamden, Conn. There are four granddaughters and three grandsons.

Several attorneys have expressed interest in the upcoming vacancy.

Bedding Company Rolls Up Record Sales, Earnings

Louisville Bedding Co. of which Holland Cotton Products Co. is an affiliate, reported record net sales and earnings for the first quarter of the fiscal year ended Dec. 31. The company's fiscal year starts Oct. 1.

Earnings were $193,000, 7.2 per cent higher than the previous year, while sales were up 12.3 per cent to $5,214,000.

In the first quarter last year the company earned $180,000 on sales of $4,642,000 after figures were restated to reflect the acquisition of Reed Hardcraft Inc. on a pooling-of-interest basis.

With one month gone in the second fiscal quarter, incoming orders are running 46.4 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

Company leaders state, however, that gross margins are being squeezed by increases in labor and raw materials which would account for the fact that an unusual drive for increased volume helped offset increased costs. That coupled with a modest price increase on mattress pads (foregone under Phase I) should maintain about the same percentage of profit to sales as in the past year.

In Holland, Phil Bertram of Louisville took over as plant manager Jan. 1. He has been at Louisville's Munfordville plant for a number of years. He and Mrs. Bertram and their four sons moved here Jan. 10.

ing vacancy. Candidates on the nonpartisan ballot must file by June 20 for the August primary. County Clerk Harris Nieuwma said if only two candidates file, there will be no primary and the runoff will be in November.

After Jan. 1, 1973, the Smiths plan to move to their lodge on Blue Lake near Kalkaska.

The 20th judicial circuit has two judges. Wendell A. Miles of Holland was appointed following the death of Judge Chester A. Ray in 1970.

Bussard Candidate For Judge

GRAND HAVEN — James W. Bussard, 50, Spring Lake, who served as Ottawa county prosecuting attorney for 16 years, Wednesday announced his candidacy for the office of circuit judge of the 20th judicial district, comprising Allegan and Ottawa counties.

Bussard resigned as county prosecutor in June, 1969 to go into private law practice. His assistant, Calvin Bosman, succeeded him as prosecutor.

Judge Raymond L. Smith, who has served since 1948, announced Tuesday he was not seeking reelection.

Several attorneys in the district are considering entering the primary, but Bussard is the first to announce.

June 20 is the deadline for filing petitions for the August primary. If no more than two candidates file, there will be no primary and the vote is in the November election.

Signals Will Be Retimed North of City

Effective Wednesday afternoon, several changes in traffic signals and traffic control devices were initiated on North River Ave. from the city limits north to Lakewood Blvd., according to Ronald Bakker, engineer-manager of the Board of Road Commissioners of Ottawa county.

During the changes, signals will not be operating for approximately one hour. Officers will direct traffic during that period.

The changes:

1. The delayed left turn movement at Douglas Ave will be eliminated which means left turns must be made during gaps of the through traffic movements as in most traffic light situations.

2. The signal light timing will be changed because of the removal of the delayed left turn signal at Douglas Ave. for all traffic lights on North River Ave. to allow more through movement time and provide a more stable traffic flow condition.

3. In the near future, eastbound traffic on Howard Ave. will be prohibited from making a left turn onto River Ave.

These changes are the result of an extensive traffic study for the North River Ave. area in which traffic volumes, turning movement studies, gap studies and capacity analysis were made. These studies clearly indicated that the delayed left turn movements at Douglas Ave. was the cause of most traffic problems on North River Ave.

The study showed that more traffic made left turn movements at Howard Ave. and at Lakewood Blvd. where there was no delayed left turn light than at Douglas Ave. It also showed that the traffic which is making the left turn from River Ave. onto Douglas Ave. has more than twice as much gap time in the through movement, and consequently the left turn movement is experiencing a longer wait than is necessary.

The study also showed that the left turn movement onto River Ave. from eastbound Howard was very minimal and that the elimination of this left turn movement would enhance the heavy left turn movement for westbound Howard onto River Ave. proceeding into the city of Holland.

Comparisons with previous traffic studies indicate driving habits and patterns have changed considerably. It is anticipated changes this week will produce a more stable traffic flow, Bakker said.

Local Man Faces Charge in Writing No Funds Check

Harry Dyer, 44, who gave his address as 255 West 12th St., waived examination at his Holland District court arraignment today to a felony charge of writing a check without sufficient funds. He was bound to Ottawa Circuit court for a Feb. 14 appearance and held under $10,000 bond.

Dyer was charged in connection with a $135.20 check written Oct. 16, 1971 and passed at a Holland clothing store. The check was "written against an account in Dyer's name at People's State Bank but not covered by funds."

Dyer was apprehended last week in Phoenix, Arizona, under a warrant issued by Holland police. He was returned to Holland Sunday by Holland officers.

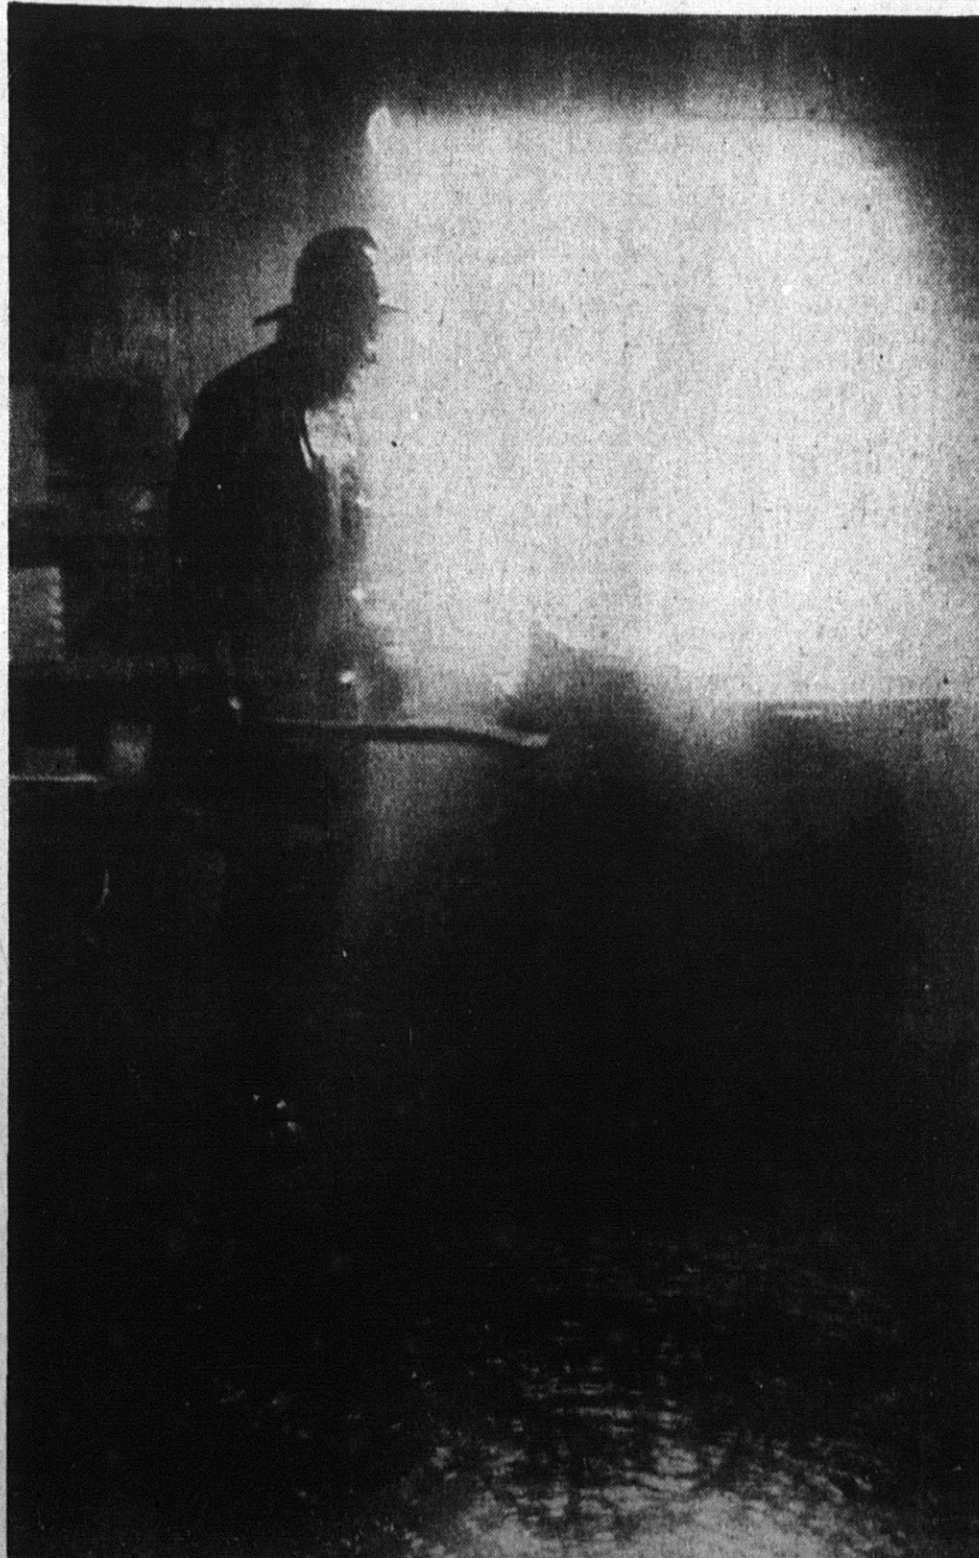

Police said checks written against the account and signed with Dyer's name totaled more than $7,000 since Oct., 1971. The checks were passed at airlines, motels and clothing stores in such widespread locations as Washington, D.C., New Orleans, Florida and California as well as in Holland.

Farm Tractor, Car in Collision

A farm tractor hauling a manure spreader was struck by a car Wednesday at 2:05 p.m. while the vehicles were northbound along 96th Ave. ½ mile south of Baldwin St. in Blendon township. No injuries were reported.

State Police at Grand Haven said the car, operated by David Zoerhoff, 20, of route 5, Holland, was attempting to pass the tractor operated by Raymond Koster, 66, of Grand Rapids, when Zoerhoff saw an oncoming car and attempted to get behind the tractor.

Instead the car struck the tractor and manure spreader. The farm vehicle was owned by Lester Boersma of route 1, Zeeland.

Holland Tips Grand Haven In Overtime

The "Little Man" of Holland High's basketball team Steve Shinabarger turned in his most sparkling performance ever Saturday night in the Fieldhouse, as he led the Dutch to a thrilling 67-64 overtime win over Grand Haven.

All Shinabarger did was sink two pressure free throws with 22 seconds left in the game to send it into overtime, 58-58 and key the win by dumping in two buckets and coming up with a crucial Bucs turnover in the extra session.

Shinabarger got his chance

Steve Shinabarger ... leads Dutch to Win

to tie the contest when Grand Haven's coach's son Jeff Schaffer pushed off on a side court out of bounds play.

The Dutch were down by eight points, 56-46 with 4:37 to play in the fourth quarter and trailed by four points, 58-54 with 1:02 left but for a change, luck was finally with Holland, as they fought with determination to pull out the triumph.

Grand Haven tried to stall out the win with time running out but Shinabarger took things into his own hands by swishing a long jumper and two charity tosses to send the Holland fans into hysterics.

"The 5'8" Shinabarger finished the game with his career high, 27 points, on nine baskets and nine free throws to lead both teams in scoring.

"Shiny" played his finest game ever," said a jubilant Coach Don Piersma after the game. "It sure feels good to finally win a close one after losing them like that."

"The win was also sweet revenge from our earlier game with Grand Haven," added Piersma. "They beat us 76-59 at their place and have one fine team."

"Holland just made the right plays at the right time," said a disappointed Coach Al Schaffer. "Those two turnovers in the overtime session really hurt us and it was the first time all season that we lost our poise."

Besides Shinabarger's 27 markers, Mike Riksen found the range for 18 points on six baskets and six free throws and Jed De Boer helped out with 11 counters.

Grand Haven's all-time leading scorer Bruce Albe, a bonafide all-star if there ever was one, led the Bucs in scoring with 21 points and also was their top rebounder with 15. He also had numerous assists.

The 6'5" Albe leads the LMHC in scoring with a 24.8 per game average and is considered one of the greatest athletes to ever come out of the Grand Haven area.

Center Chris Beghle was the only other Bucs' eager to reach double figures with 17 counters. Shinabarger gunned in his first field goal of the extra session to give the Dutch a 60-58 margin. Albe countered with a bucket but De Boer and Shinabarger added buckets and Riksen sank a free throw to put the game out of reach at 65-60.

Beghle tallied a two-point shot to cut the gap to 65-62 but Dave Brownson put the game on ice by netting two charity points with 17 seconds left.

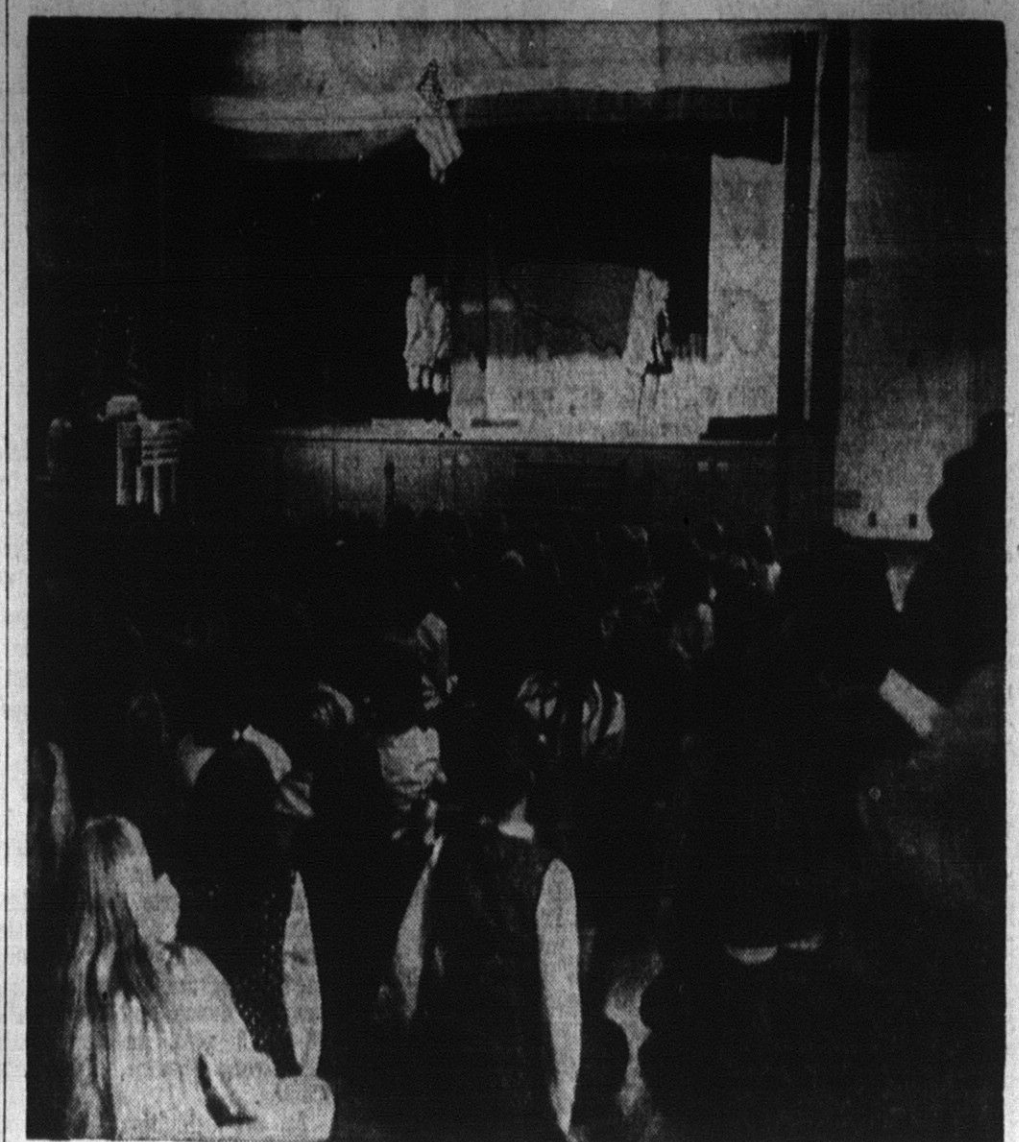

Holland's win, its third straight snapped a four-game Bucs winning streak and now gives the Dutch a 5-8 record. Grand Haven is 8-4.

The Dutch were off and running in the first period, as they took a 16-11 lead against the Bucs, who defeated Mona Shores, 75-65 Friday night to hold second place in their league with a 7-2 mark. Grand Haven trails first place Benton Harbor by one game in the standings.

Both teams scored 15 points in the second stanza, as Holland took a 30-25 lead into the intermission. Grand Haven put up 19 points on the scoreboard in the third quarter while the Dutch could only muster 15, as the game was getting tight.

Grand Haven registered one more point than the Dutch, 14-13 to send the contest into overtime but Holland was equal to the task, as they canned all three shots they took in the extra session to pick up the win.

The Bucs sank six more field goals, 27-21 than Holland but were way short in free throws, 10-25, as the Dutch were hot

Fire Alarm Boxes 'Sold Out' During 1-Day Open Sale

Holland firemen "sold out" their fire alarm boxes during the first day of the sale Thursday. The old red boxes, part of the fire alarm system retired by the city, were sold to citizens.

The pedestal mounted box that stood alongside the Warm Friend Hotel at Central Ave. and Eighth St. is to be mounted in front of the new fire station at Waverly Rd. and 32nd St.

At least one of the boxes was allocated for a museum.

Sale of the boxes was announced at a council meeting Wednesday and firemen said by Thursday afternoon most of the boxes had been spoken for. All were sold by Thursday evening.

Four different communities using similar alarm systems purchased some of the newer equipment before the general sale was started.

Muyskens, 68, of 559 West 32nd St., collided Saturday at 7:32 p.m. along Eighth St. near Mill St. at an entrance to Civic Center parking lot. Police said Lopez was heading west along Eighth St. while the Muyskens car was leaving the parking lot when the collision occurred.

from the line by hitting on 25 of 33 attempts.

Grand Haven took the reserve contest, 65-50, as Jeff Harsh led the way with 14 points. Tim Van Tongeren had 14 counters for Holland.

Holland won't see action until Feb. 15 when they travel to Muskegon.

Talent Show in School Raises Cancer Funds

Students at Woodside elementary school in the West Ottawa district Thursday held a talent show at the school and raised $33.80 for cancer research.

Principal Robert Hunt said the event was one of a series of programs being conducted in the school to aid in community projects. Earlier in the year students collected canned goods and toys for needy families.

The idea of the talent show was from the student council of the 414-student school. The council auditioned talent and produced the show.

Judges for the show were Norm Boeve and Norma Longstreet, counselors at the high school, and Mrs. Eugene Dams, head of the campaign for cancer funds in the West Ottawa area.

A donation of one penny was sought from each of the students in the all school assembly.

Students participating in the show and their talent were Amy Wolfert, vocalist; Cindy Alena and Laurie Rozema, flute duet; Patty and Nancy Haight, Peggy VandenBeldt and Pearl Va Dine, dancing; Margie Hield, vocalist; Dawn Boeve and Vicki Lee, duet; Bonnie Lee and Bonnie Bowser, duet; Heidi Kleever and Laurie VanDenOever, acrobatics; Ron Wilson, magician; and Kevin Van Wieren and Richard Ferry, acrobatics.

Ron Wilson was judged the winner.

Members of the student council at the Woodside school include John Weiss, mayor; Lynn Sas, vice mayor; Cindy Alena, secretary and Tammy Boeve, treasurer. Ben Timmy is faculty advisor to the council.

County Gets New Deputies, Units

Bernard Grysen, Ottawa county sheriff, has announced the recent hiring of four additional deputies who completed basic police training at Muskegon Community College in December. All were graduated in the top one-third of their class of 40.

Jerry Saggars, 27, was valedictorian of the class and has been assigned to the Georgetown township branch office. Saggars attended Hope College, received his BS in police administration from Michigan State University in 1967 and served as a captain in the Marine Corps for four years. He and his wife make their home in Jenison.

Phillip Jager, 23, is married and lives with his wife at 3191 142nd Ave. He attended Northwestern College, Orange City, Iowa, for three years, was a member of the Holland police reserves and is presently attending Hope College on a part-time basis. He has been assigned to the Grand Haven office.

The fourth new deputy, James De Vries, 28, is married and lives with his wife at 30 East Ninth St. He attended Ferris State and Hope colleges and served as a sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. He has been assigned to the Holland branch office.

The deputies are assigned to the patrol division under the direction of area corporals and their hiring was federally funded, Grysen said.

Sheriff Grysen has also announced that two new units have been created in his department. He said the action was taken to counter growing trends in traffic accidents and vice.

A three-man traffic safety unit will initiate a study of all factors that contribute to personal injury and fatal accidents, and formulate action programs to reverse the increasing accident rate. The sheriff said the traffic unit will be responsible for a vigorous county-wide traffic law enforcement program, as well as selective enforcement in problem areas.

He said that a fourth deputy will be assigned to this unit when additional manpower becomes available.

The traffic safety unit will work under the supervision of Sergeant Gerald Witteveen, Patrol Division Supervisor. Deputies appointed to the unit are Donald Newhouse, Paul Vroon and Harvey Slotman.

In addition, a two-man vice unit was created, and the suppression of use, possession and sale of all types of narcotics and dangerous drugs will be the primary goal of the unit. Two deputies were promoted to detective, and will serve in that unit: Norman Kamps and Martin Heyboer.

That unit will come under the supervision of the detective bureau, headed by Sgt. John Hempel.

Donald Newhouse, 36, has spent 10 years with the sheriff's department and lives with his wife and three children at 329 Hoover Blvd. He attended West State Law Enforcement Training School at Muskegon Community College in 1969 and traffic law enforcement school at MSU in 1966.

Hope is one of a small number of colleges and universities recognized by the DuPont program for its leadership role in the advancement of scientific knowledge according to T.L. Cairns, chairman of the Du Pont Committee on Education Aid.

"The most important criterion for selection of recipient universities is academic quality," said Mr. Cairns.

SUNDAY'S BULLETINS—Some 60 churches in Holland's area used church bulletins Sunday with this cover, marking Holland's 125th anniversary. The design also was used on programs for a public religious service at 3 p.m. in Dimnent Memorial Chapel with Dr. Lester De Koster, editor of the Banner, as speaker. The top design is being used as a logo for all anniversary events during 1972 including Tulip Time. It was designed by Karen Van Kampen, an art student at West Ottawa, who will receive a $50 savings bond, with an art book going to the school.

VAN RAALTE GIVING THANKS — When Dr. Albertus Christiaan Van Raalte arrived here Feb. 9, 1847, he knelt in the snow to give thanks to God, as is shown in this diorama in the exhibits of pioneer exhibits in the Netherlands Museum. Shown with Dr. Van Raalte are an Indian guide and another member of the advance party which selected sites and built cabins for other early settlers. The figures were made in the late 1930s by the late Ernest Wanrooy and Peter Kolean, now an artist in Florida. Holland is celebrating its 125th anniversary this year, which started with a religious service Sunday at 3 p.m. in Dimnent Memorial Chapel.

Blowing Snow Slows Travel on M-40

Blowing and drifting snow forced limitations to travel along M-40 between Holland and Hamilton Friday night and weather conditions led to the postponement of three area basketball games.

Allegan county sheriff's deputies said travel on M-40 was down to one lane in places south of Holland because of drifting snow conditions at about 9 p.m. Road commission crews plowed

Hamilton's basketball game with Wayland, Fennville's game at Martin and Saugatuck's contest at Covert were postponed Friday night.

An additional 2.5 inches of snow fell on Holland overnight bringing the depth of snow on the ground today to 12 inches, according to weather statistics compiled by observer Lynn Wheaton.

Sprinklers Stuck Open During Fire

Fire believed started in a second floor finishing area spread to a third floor spray booth and caused some fire damage to West Michigan Furniture Co., 195 West Eighth St. at 6:56 p.m. Friday.

But a frozen water valve allowed water to pour from activated sprinkler heads causing considerable water damage.

Firemen were summoned by an automatic alarm system and remained at the scene about two hours. They were recalled at 8:12 a.m. today when the spray booth continued to smolder. There was no additional fire damage.

Fire chief Richard Brandt said eight sprinkler heads on the two floors were activated during the fire and firemen were unable to shut off the water because of frozen valves. Board of Public Works crews shut off the water supply at a street valve.

Damage estimates from water and fire were not immediately determined.

Brandt said areas where completed pieces of furniture were stored were not affected.

Firemen drained the water from the third and second floors to the outside.

TAXES AND TAX INCREASES

Now is the time to start thinking about writing to your county, state and national representatives about the increase in taxes. The people charged with running the government, from the townships right on up to Congress, keep asking for more and more tax dollars. We think it is about time more programs are put into operation to reduce the huge deficits that appear every day in the news.

We have an increasing number of people who are on welfare and many should be required to do some work for the government. This program has been in operation in New York. We quote an editorial from the Daily Oklahoman:

WORK NO LONGER VIRTUE?

"Living off welfare has become so entrenched in our American system that it is viewed in some quarters not as a helping hand from the fortunate majority but as a right to which the beneficiaries are entitled.

"Thus, any effort to get back to the simple notion that a person should work if he is able evokes loud cries of protest from groups that have a vested interest in a continuing mammoth welfare establishment.

"This is happening now in New York State as it tries to put into effect an experimental program to encourage the poor to become self-sufficient. Divided into two sections, the program will require some of the poor to earn their welfare checks. It also provides for loss or reduction of the monthly family welfare check for failure to submit truant children to state-specified counseling or failure of children between 15 and 18 to work at least 150 hours a year. Welfare payments will also be reduced if adults on welfare and not working do not provide day care service for children of other recipients who work.

"The obvious advantage of such a program, if it can be made to operate, is that a number of people will get off welfare if they find they have to work anyway. If regular employment isn't available, they'll work off their grants through public service jobs.

"Already opposition is mounting. Lawyers at the Columbia University Center on Social Welfare Policy Law threaten to block the project with a federal court suit. They claim the program is illegal and 'possibly unconstitutional' because it deprives people of rights they have under federal and state laws.

"It's doubtful that most Americans have yet accepted the view that, if a person has to do anything for a living, it's involuntary servitude."

It will be well for people to learn more about the operation of their government. We need to do more checking on our operation of all government affairs. After all, we cannot allow the people who are charged with operating the government to keep on raising all of the taxes so that they can continue to hire more people and increase the waste and duplication. We the taxpayers, are the ones that must insist on some reductions. The time is now. Taxpayers desiring further information about appraisals may consult James R. Larid & Associates in City Hall this week. They should make appointments by calling the Laird office. Persons who have difficulty climbing stairs to the third floor will be accommodated in the city treasurer's office.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Feb. 13
Endurance and the Christian Hope
Luke 21:25-36
By C. P. Dame

The Old Testament foretold the coming of Jesus Christ and He came. The New Testament teaches that Jesus Christ will come again and this time in glory. This lesson tells us that since we know the Lord will return to earth Christian people should be watchful and look for His coming.

I. Jesus foretold His coming again. The three synoptic gospels contain a prophetic discourse which Jesus gave toward the close of His ministry (Matt. 24-25, Mark 13 and Luke 21:5-28). One day, as a group of people were talking about the beauty of the temple in Jerusalem, Jesus said things which shocked His hearers—namely that the days would come when not one stone of the temple would be left upon the other.

These words made the disciples ask when this would happen and what the sign would be. Jesus spoke saying that false messiahs would come, unrest, wars, nations and kingdoms would be in conflict and cataclysmic events in nature would create fear in many hearts and believers would be persecuted.

The prophecy concerning Jerusalem was fulfilled. The Roman army in the year 70 A.D. took the city, burned the temple and its palaces and killed many people. This part of the prophecy's fulfillment leads to the belief that the other part will also be fulfilled.

Much controversy regarding the second coming of Jesus has caused more confusion than light and comfort in some instances. The fact to remember is that God has a goal for this world. It is not just going on and on. Some day a new order will be established—this will happen when the Lord returns.

II. Jesus commends watchfulness. Nature speaks to us of the coming spring. Christians are told to watch for the signs which speak of the return of Jesus. This means they should notice what is going on in the world. Be mentally alert! In addition Jesus told the disciples while waiting to take heed to themselves. Temptations always abound. Easily do minds become dulled by the ways of the world. "Everybody does it."

The cares of life take up much time and energy. Spiritual needs are readily overlooked. For several reasons watchfulness is needed as is constant prayer. Our times should make us all more serious minded and concerned about the church and the world. Christ is the source of hope.

Bargaining To Resume at B & T

Contract negotiations in the week-old strike at B & T Machinery were expected to resume Friday with a labor mediator, union and company sources said today.

The strike by UAW Local 1502, representing about 125 employees, began last Tuesday after bargaining on a new three-year contract broke off. The old pact expired Jan. 31.

John Meiste, vice president of the union local, said the bargaining session was to resume Friday with the mediator. W. M. Cox, industrial relations manager, confirmed the talks were to continue.

The union said key issues in the contract dispute which has included production at B & T includes demands for better wages, improvements in insurance and pension plans and a union shop.

Volleyballs From Ambush

Do you know the official designation for a 125th anniversary?

According to Herrick Public Library which checked with Detroit sources, it's quasi - qui centennial.

Just try to get that in a headline!

Suffice it to say, that is why the Sentinel, and indeed the committee, refer to it as the 125th anniversary.

Mrs. William G. Winter Jr., a member of the anniversary committee, has suggested CXXV/72 for Holland's 125th in 1972. How are you on Roman numerals?

The term Tulip Time is just about the luckiest of all titles. It is short, it is descriptive, it sounds happy, and it is alliterative. Besides, it fits into almost any headline.

How lucky can you get?

There's a lot of work done at Windmill Island during the months it is closed. Jaap de Blecourt and his men have just finished paneling the entire interior of Little Netherlands, using siding from an old barn dismantled last year. Insulation also was added.

Of course, all the planting of new tulip bulbs was completed last fall.

At the last meeting of City Council, purchase of annuals was approved. These plants are put in after the tulip season to provide color for the summer.

Local residents will recall the fine plantings during the community ox roast last fall.

Would you like your very own 22-horse carousel?

The Dallas, Tex., Times Herald carried a UPI story about a going-out-of-business sale at Louisiana's Dutch Gardens near Newellton, La., which will not reopen this spring because of fire damage to several buildings in an electrical storm. Among the materials to be auctioned is the carousel with 28 wooden horses, none of them alike.

Operators of the tourist attraction had visited Holland a few years ago to learn how Tulip Time is operated here.

Brooks Products Inc. of Holland has been honored by the Food and Drug Packaging Magazine for participating in the development of the "Packaging of the Year" in the beverage category.

The design features a styrofoam surface to provide a dry, nonslippping comfortable grip in 10 and 28-ounce bottles. The plastic shield cover also serves as an insulator to keep 7-Up cold longer as well as serve as a built-on coaster.

Dr. Lester De Koster, who delivered the address at the service of praise and gratitude in connection with the city's 125th anniversary last Sunday afternoon, took a suggestion of keeping message to 20 minutes as a friendly challenge.

By the clock, he kept it to 17 minutes.

This is a big change (and improvement!) from oldtime sermons which, we are told, often took two hours. And all in Dutch, yet!

Holland has learned a few other tricks on brevity in recent years.

Memorial Day talks in Monument Square in Pilgrim Home Cemetery usually take 8 to 10 minutes. This became a "must" under former Mayor Nelson Bosman's regime who felt color bearers and other parade participants should not have to stand too long after marching in a parade.

The promptness and dispatch with which Tulip Time parades come off didn't just happen either. A layman would be surprised over the planning that goes into such a parade, steps per minute, etc., etc.

And no counter marching! That slows things up.

Eagles Nip Christian In Overtime

Holland Christian's basketball team had its five-game winning streak snapped Tuesday, dropping a thrilling 87-85 overtime decision to Grand Rapids Central Christian, in a game bordering on the unbelievable side.

The teams, in effect, played three games. The first was won by Central Christian, 51-30, which was the halftime score. Christian won the second battle, 47-26, to knot the score at 77-77 at the end of regulation time. In the third contest the Eagles edged the Maroons 10-8 in the overtime, to record the win.

Central Christian started fast, and quickly took an 8-2 lead, and although the Maroons narrowed the margin to 10-8, the Eagles continued on to a 22-16 lead at the quarter.

In the first three minutes of the second quarter, the Eagles outscored Christian 11-4 for a 33-20 lead. Tom Klaasen's third basket of the period made the score 37-26 with 3:41 left in the half. Central Christian then spurred to open up a 21-point, 51-30 halftime margin.

The domination of the Eagles showed in the number of shots taken in the half, 43 compared to 29 for the Maroons, and even more in the rebounding, where they held a wide 23-7 advantage on the boards at halftime.

If Coach Elmer Ribbens didn't know it already, he found out Tuesday his team doesn't quit. Ribbens used a shorter and faster lineup in the second half, and the Maroons pressed the Eagles all over the court. Dan Plasman and Jim Holwerda traded baskets before Christian reeled off 13 straight points on buckets by Klaasen, Ray Schrottenboer, Plasman, two more by Schrottenboer and a three-point play by Dave Mulder, and suddenly the Maroons were in the game, trailing 44-35 with 4:54 on the clock. The quarter ended with the Eagles holding a 64-55 lead.

The score was 69-59 when Christian again rolled up 12 points in a row to lead for the first time in the game, 71-69 with 4:31 left. In this rally Klaasen made two from the charity stripe, followed by baskets from Plasman, Schrottenboer, and a pair of two-pointers by Plasman, along with two free throws by Mulder.

Twice the Maroons took four-point leads, only to see the Eagles fight back to send the game into overtime.

Despite the smaller team, Christian played the Eagles evenly on the boards in the second half as each team took down 20 rebounds.

Central Christian ended with six more field goals, 39-33, but excellent foul shooting kept the Maroons in the game, as they made good on 19 of 23 attempts, while the Eagles were successful on nine of 18.

Plasman, who fouled out at 2:09 of the overtime, paced Christian in scoring with 22 points, while Schrottenboer was right behind with 21. Klaasen added 16 and Mulder 10.

Vanden Berg and Gord Blyma each had 20 for the Eagles, while Holwerda, Zwier and Dave De Vries carded 15 each. Christian, now 7-7 for the season, hosts Kalamazoo Christian Friday in the Civic Center.

Coach Dave Vander Hill's reserve team nearly avenged their worst defeat of the season, before falling 54-51 to the Little Eagles.

Central Christian led 18-11 at the quarter, and the teams were knotted 28-28 at halftime. The Maroons trailed 42-39 going into the final period. Dave Siegers tallied 19 and Dave Tuls 13 for the Maroons. Dave Mulder paced the Eagles with 18.

Hooker illustrated his talk with color slides taken during the tour of Russia and the Scandinavian countries.

Program chairman Marty Hardenberg introduced the speaker.

New members inducted were George Wise, Bernard Klumpmaier, Jacob Gramsmyer and Major Charles Duskina. In charge of the ceremony were Lieut. Gov. Elect Avery D. Baker and President-Elect William Sikkel.

Parking Fines $1 On Monday

Fines for overtime parking in Holland, which for years have been 50 cents if paid within 24 hours of the violation, notice, will be doubled starting Monday.

The hike in parking fines was approved by Holland Council but Holland police waited until the supply of 50 cent tickets was exhausted until issuing the new tickets.

Chief Charles Lindstrom said the new parking tickets are similar in design and size to the older tickets except all printing on the new $1 tickets is in red ink.

The new tickets call for a fine of $1 within 24 hours and $2 if paid later. Lindstrom said the higher fines might make motorists more aware of the meters and length of time remaining on them.

Last year police issued 17,849 parking violations.

Housing Presents Problem in Holland

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series of articles on the Latin American community in Holland.)

By Linda Klunge

Discrimination by surname and race in the area of housing has declined in recent years in the Holland area, but much remains to be done in order to provide decent housing for many Holland residents.

Tom Anaya, who works out of Community Action House as liaison for the Latin-speaking people, feels that the main housing problems for many Latin American families are finding homes that are large enough and finding landlords who are willing to rent to large families. Owners who have the multi-room homes necessary to accommodate a large family comfortably are quite often reluctant to rent to such families, Anaya said.

Housing for Latin American and migrant peoples is difficult during the summer months but is particularly acute in the fall, Anaya pointed out, when migrant laborers must move or settle. Those who decide to remain in Holland are faced not only with the need for a house but also with the need for furnishings because, as Anaya explained, in the migrant labor stream individuals generally own their clothing and utensils but need to acquire nearly everything else in order to settle.

In the summer, people who have previously settled out of the migrant stream sometimes return to it in order to find jobs and shelter, Anaya said.

Especially poor housing is in the minority in Holland, Anaya pointed out, although there are landlords who want to rent their properties without repairing or improving them and, as a result, offer them to individuals and families most desperate for housing. The rents on the undesirable units are generally low and the owners seem to feel that if they find someone whose need is great enough, he'll rent in spite of the condition.

Anaya said he hasn't encountered rats in an oven in a long time and Community Action House reports the bad houses to the city housing inspector who orders them cleaned up or closed.

Another major problem in housing lies in the need for temporary sleeping rooms or emergency facilities for individuals who need short-term accommodations. Anaya explained that Community Action House has plans to work with the city to rent a unit for emergency housing. A large home with several bedrooms would provide for those individuals who need a place to stay for a single night and would go far to alleviate short-term housing problems.

New arrivals in need of housing often contact workers at Community Action House who then follow channels through real estate brokers and private individuals known to have rental property available. However, Anaya added, this is not always successful because there may not be anything large enough open or owners may refuse to rent to a large family.

Mobile home living is generally out of the question for many Latin American families because of the number of children, Anaya said, but housing facilities such as 40th West will undoubtedly make a difference in housing difficulties. However, Anaya feels the ultimate solution to the problem is the purchase of permanent homes by Latin American families.

Unfortunately, although there are large houses for sale, large families generally cannot afford a down payment even if it is relatively small, Anaya said, and, as a result, are unable to acquire this best solution to the problem.

Realizing the importance of private homes for large Latin American families, some groups and individuals have volunteered assistance in securing down payments. Others interested in helping with the practical solution to the housing problem for Latin American people in Holland may contact Community Action House which will help provide the contact between a family and the donor. Persons with individual rooms or large homes to rent are also asked to phone Community Action House.

Minority people feel welcome in Holland, Anaya said, because the city is generally open and friendly to newcomers. Individuals and groups welcome minority peoples and many Latin Americans are joining organizations and clubs.

New housing can elevate the standards of the young, Anaya said, pointing out that young Latin American couples are decreasing the size of their families, perhaps as a result of knowing the difficulties large families encounter in finding suitable housing.

In the present situation where Latin Americans are actively joining in the life of the community and where the city is eager to offer assistance and to make newcomers feel welcome, Anaya feels that as the problem has improved since he took his post about a year ago it will continue to do so.

YFU Is Seeking Students For Summer Program

Mrs. Paul F. Carpenter, Western Michigan Area representative for Youth For Understanding, spoke and showed a film at Zeeland High School Tuesday for area students interested in spending a summer abroad as part of the YFU program.

High school sophomores, juniors and seniors are eligible to apply to live eight weeks abroad with a family, participating in their life and work, learning to appreciate another culture, and at the same time showing them what an American teenager is like.

The cost is $800, and partial scholarships are available through the Zeeland Rotary, the Student Council, and some other funds.

This year Zeeland is hosting three exchange students, Veronika Azada from the Philippines, living with the William Borst family, Leena Sirtola from Finland, living with the Ray Darbee family, and Barbara Mass, who just arrived from Chile to spend six months with the Bruce DePree family.

These students are available to talk to community groups about their countries, as would Zeeland students who were abroad last summer, Jeanne Jungling in Sweden, and Patti Kuylers in Brazil as part of the YFU program.

Over 27,000 teen-agers have been exchanged in this program since it began, and it is one of three such programs approved by the State Department. It also sponsors a Choral Group, a Wind Ensemble and a 13th Year Abroad program.

Zeeland host families for the school year 1972-73 are needed, and persons wishing to become involved are asked to call the high school. Students come here for six months from South America, and a year from most other countries.

Whereas, such approval by the County Board of Commissioners would necessitate a change in the present practices of the county in its water supply program, and would, in effect, constitute creating a policy applicable to future county water and wastewater operations in this and other geographical areas of the county, and

Whereas, it is the opinion of this County Board of Commissioners that such approval and resulting policy would not be in the best interests of the county in that it would not promote the area-wide concepts so vital to getting the most economical water and sewer services to the people of the county, and would cause fragmentation of water and sewer systems beyond that deemed desirable

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the request of Park Township is hereby denied, notwithstanding the fact that local units may still be permitted by the county to exercise operational control of county water and sewer systems within the local unit's boundaries, if such be deemed in the best interests of the public in each specific instance.

Mr. Visscher moved the adoption of the resolution which motion carried as shown by the following votes: Yeas: Messrs. ANNIVERSARY SERVICE — More than 1,000 persons gathered in Dimment Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon for a service of praise and gratitude, opening Holland's 125th anniversary year. A Dutch psalm was sung, music was provided by the Hope Chapel Choir and an address was given by Dr. Lester R. De Koster, editor of the Banner, Christian Reformed Church publication. The service was similar to one held in the chapel in 1947 celebrating Holland's centennial.

Over 1,000 Attend City's Anniversary Service

Rejoice in work well done, renew the spirit of our forefathers in building a city out of a wilderness, expand the boundaries of our thought, and translate our faith into works across the nation.

Such was the thrust of an address by Dr. Lester R. De Koster, former Zeeland resident and editor of the Christian Reformed Banner, at a service of praise and gratitude commemorating Holland's 125th anniversary Sunday afternoon in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

In starting the anniversary year with a religious service, Holland was following a well established pattern, geared to the arrival Feb. 9, 1847, of Dr. A. C. Van Raalte.

With bright sunshine shedding rainbow patterns inside Holland's stateliest building, Dimment Memorial Chapel, the service which lasted just under an hour was the essence of Holland's religious and cultural heritage. More than 1,000 were present for the event which featured music by the Hope College Chapel Choir under the direction of Dr. Robert Cavanaugh. Dr. Roger Rietberg was at the chapel organ and Dr. Roger Davis at the Dutch Tracker organ in the balcony.

The choir sang a Bunes arrangement of Psalm 42 in English and Dutch and the congregation sang Psalm 68:10 and the service was climaxed by a choir rendition of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." Dr. Bastian Kruihof, chairman of the committee arranging the worship service, presided.

Dr. De Koster spoke of continuing progress in community relations, in that it would have been unthinkable some years ago to invite a Zeelander to deliver the main address at such an historic event in Holland and that asking a Calvin man to

Holland Herald Sends Greetings For Anniversary

Holland, Mich., today received greetings from the Holland Herald, a monthly news magazine printed in English in Amsterdam, on this city's 125th anniversary Wednesday, Feb. 9. The message signed by the staff of Holland Herald reads: "Please congratulate Holland Michigan from Holland Herald Magazine here in Amsterdam on the 125th anniversary of your town's founding Feb. 9. Like wine, a city gets better as it gets older so let's offer a toast to that thought."

"Our own special tribute to your tulip town is currently being printed in the Netherlands and will be with you soon. Again, Happy Anniversary!"

Holland, Mich., will be featured in the February issue of the Holland Herald. Vernon Leonard, the editor, was here two years ago collecting material which has been updated for Holland's 125th anniversary.

deliver such an address at Hope College would be equally unthinkable.

In developing his theme of "Remember Now — Why?" he spoke of urbanization pointing to one gigantic global city but he praised cities instead of dwelling on blight and decay. "Our forefathers could have chosen to live like the Indians, but they developed a city demanding that every participant do his part, old and young, within the limits of his talents. In the midst of the city was the Church, the real symbol of order," he said.

Hope Ends Four-Game MIAA Skid

KALAMAZOO — Hope College's basketball team accomplished something Saturday night they have had trouble doing in recent years — defeating Kalamazoo College in Tredway Gym by a convincing 77-44 score.

In ending their four-game MIAA losing streak, the Flying Dutchmen of Coach Russ DeVette turned in possibly their best performance of the season, as they easily handled the Hornets, combining a strong defensive effort with a fine 47 per cent shooting percentage, including 52 per cent in the second half, while holding the Hornets to a cold 23 per cent mark for the game, due largely to Hope's hustling defense.

DeVette was justifiably pleased with the play of his team, and felt Lee Brandsma's out-court shooting has complimented Dan Shinabarger, taking some of the pressure off the MIAA's leading scorer. The two guards shared scoring honors, each garnering 14 points. Dave Harmelink added 10, while Kalamazoo was led by Dave Emig with 12.

The scoring started slowly, as each team had but one basket and free throw in the first five minutes of play. Center Tom Wolters put Hope ahead to stay with the Flying Dutchmen's second bucket at 13:57, making the score 5-4.

The Hornets again came within one at 19:18 with 4:25 left, before Hope erupted behind Lorenza Howard, Harmelink and Shinabarger, to take a 31-20 margin at the intermission. Each team took 30 shots in the half, with Hope making 12 and the Hornets eight. Hope also had a 24-22 edge in rebounding.

There was no stopping the Flying Dutchmen in the second half, even though DeVette played his subs much of the time, with 11 of the 14-man team scoring. Marty Snoap, although starting, played very little in the contest, due to illness, with Harmelink taking his place.

Shinabarger's final basket stretched Hope's lead to over 20 points, 49-23, and this was upped to 58-32 with 8:41 left, before the regulars departed.

DeVette received good results from his bench strength as Hope got 33 points from players who did not start, which was the margin of victory.

Hope ended with 33 baskets in 70 tries, compared to 17 of 72 for K College. The Hornets did manage a 50-47 edge in rebounds, however, Jack Hankamp did an outstanding job on the boards, as he took down 17.

Gorman Cans Half Of Total Points

In a basketball game full of mistakes and turnovers, the West Ottawa Panthers fell to the Forest Hills Rangers 80-40, here Friday night.

The Panthers were doing just fine for the first few minutes of the first quarter before they got back into their old losing groove, failing to break the Rangers fullcourt press and missing most of their long shots, the Panthers shot 28 per cent for the night. The score at the end of the first quarter showed the Panthers trailing, 17-13.

The second half saw the Panthers fall further and further behind as they scored only six points in the third quarter and failed to score for the beginning four minutes of the last stanza.

The score by quarters was, 17-13, 38-24, 61-30, 80-40.

Steve Hartman of West Ottawa played for the first time this season due to an early season illness and hit two field goals in the third quarter.

Conferences On Appraisals Continue Here

Conferences continued Tuesday with James R. Laird and Associates, Inc. on appraisals on properties in Holland city, following an 18-month city-wide professional appraisal.

"Holland people have been very cooperative," according to Thomas T. Peerenboom, project manager for Laird's who heads the team of seven members here for interviews.

Peerenboom added that approximately 20 per cent of people scheduling interviews are present for information on how appraisals are arrived at, not for protests. Schedules have been maintained quite well, some running 10 or 15 minutes late.

To date, some 500 conferences have been scheduled. All persons reporting for interviews will be notified by mail on whether or not changes are made.
