Speech Contest Comes First

Local Eagle Scout To Meet President

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J.—A 16-year-old Holland Scout is headed for Washington, D.C., next month to visit President Nixon and compete for $9,000 in scholarships.

John Scholten

Eagle Scout John Scholten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scholten of 94 East 30th St., is competing in the national finals of the Reader's Digest Association — Boy Scouts of America National Public Speaking Contest. The contest is a part of the Boy Scouts of America's 63d anniversary celebration.

He is one of the 12 finalists who earned the honor after competing with over 1,000 contestants nationally. Final competition for the $3,000 first prize will be held at 12:45 p.m. (EST) Wednesday, Feb. 21, at the Washington Hilton Hotel.

The following morning, John and 15 fellow Scouts and Explorers will meet the President, Cabinet members, Congressmen, and labor and business leaders at a special Scout anniversary breakfast.

A junior at Holland High School, he is active in student council, football, and debate.

Earning his Eagle award in 1970, John has been active in Scouting for 8 years and is a member of Troop 147, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church.

The Boy Scouts of America was incorporated on Feb. 8, 1910, in Washington, D.C., and for 60 years the occasion was observed as "Boy Scout Week." However, in 1971 a monthlong celebration was initiated so that local packs, troops, and posts could adequately schedule celebration ceremonies and other events.

Reports on the BSA's progress in serving American youth are given annually to the community, the 50 Governors, the President of the United States, and the 100,000 organizations in the United States that sponsor the three Scouting programs.

Merchants Hear Plans For 8th St.

Plans for beautifying the Eighth St. business district costing between $50,000 and $100,000 were outlined Monday at a noon luncheon meeting of the Holland Downtown Merchants in the Hotel Warm Friend.

Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr., and city manager William L. Bopf presented the proposals which would be paid for with federal revenue sharing funds.

Bopf said the proposal calls for planting of trees along Eighth St. from Pine Ave. to Columbia Ave. Eighth St. would become one-way from River to College and angle parking would be added.

The 56-foot wide Eighth would be narrowed to about 20 feet at the entrances of River, Central and College and at pedestrian crosswalks. The areas would be grassed and park benches and other decorative fixtures added.

Bopf said use of angle parking could add 50 or 60 more parking places along Eighth St. compared with the number available with the current parallel parking system.

Once council has approved final plans, perhaps as soon as March, construction could begin this summer with completion by the fall.

Bopf said the beautification plan could maintain the tax base in the business district, eliminate much of the unnecessary truck traffic and cruising of cars and provide a much quieter atmosphere for the shoppers.

Bopf said existing lighting would be maintained and perhaps decorative lighting added in the park-like areas at the intersections.

While not mentioned at the meeting, city officials said later the proposed beautification and angle parking could accommodate Tulip Time parades and provide even greater areas for spectators by use of the parking sections.

Bopf said it was proposed that trees be planted in the ground rather than installed in giant planters.

Some of the merchants at the meeting suggested Eighth St. be made one-way east from River to Central and one-way west from College or Columbia Ave. to Central to allow for westbound traffic to enter the business district. Others wondered whether a second crosswalk could be added between Central and College Aves.

Bopf said none of the plans had been finalized and that his office was open to suggestions.

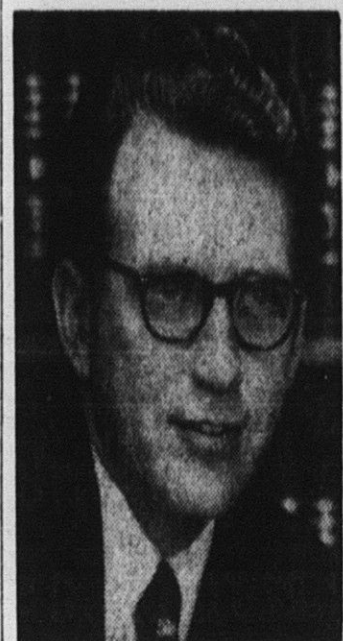

Some 54 persons attended the meeting. A public meeting for citizens and other merchants is scheduled Monday, Feb. 12 at 7 p.m. in the Hotel Warm Friend Bopf said the same information concerning the beautification plans will be presented again.

Pioneers' Height Gets Best of Panthers, 74-59

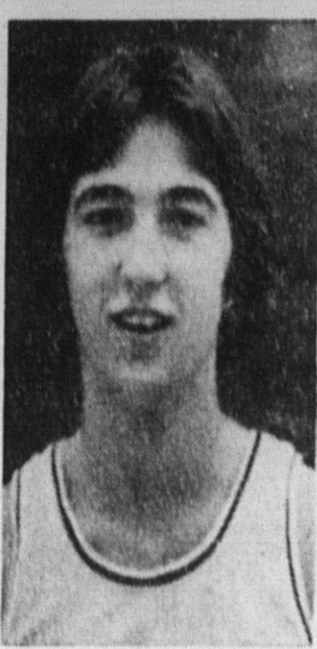

West Ottawa played even basketball for three periods, but East Grand Rapids' height got the best of them as the Pioneers defeated the Panthers here Tuesday night by a 74-59 score.

The O-K Red Division co-leader did not have an easy time of it however as West Ottawa put on a good show, especially in the first half. The Panthers, on some torrid shooting by Con Zomermaand, enjoyed a lead at the end of the first period of 19-15. West Ottawa pretty much kept the pace throughout the first half with some excellent defense but had to keep fighting off the giants of East Grand Rapids.

Coach Jerry Kissman of the Panthers was well pleased as his team would not say die. "Tim Glupker and Steve Hartman did a real good job on the boards considering the big men they were up against, but their height finally got to us," stated the likeable Panther coach.

While East's big men were hauling the ball in, it was a little guy by the name of Randy Ernst who was swishing the baskets. Ernst led all scorers with 20 points while Jim Saur, the huge center of the Pioneers had 19 total points.

The Panthers handled the press of East very well and had few turnovers. The Pioneers made only two more field goals than the Panthers but were much more consistent at the foul line.

Mark Miersma
... Panther guard

East had 16 for 22 charity losses while West Ottawa had only five of 14. Going into the final period East only had a five point lead but scored most of its points when they continued in the quarter.

For the 10th game in a row, steady Tim Glupker was the Panthers leading rebounder. He takes the ball off the boards with authority.

Mark Miersma kept West

Ottawa in contention with some fine shots and Joe Gaskill played well defensively before he was out on fouls: Zomermaand led the Panthers with 21 points followed by Glupker and Miersma at 12 and Hartman with 10.

The Panthers shooting percentage was 36 while East made 45 per cent of its shots.

Coach Carl Von Ins' little Panthers won a real thriller over East 48-47. Dan Scheerhorn's basket with 59 seconds remaining gave West Ottawa the victory. Mark Visser led in scoring with 17 while Scheerhorn gunned in 13 points.

The Panthers play at Northville on Friday.

MEET THE DIRECTOR — It was a gala occasion for members of the Junior Welfare League Tuesday night when they met their director, Gary Randolph of New York, at Leisure Acres. ## Greet Follies Director..

A crowd of Holland Junior League, associate members, and guests greeted the New York director on his arrival to Holland Tuesday night at Leisure Acres.

The introduction of Gary Randolph, a director and producer from Jerome H. Cargill Co. of New York, marks the beginning of long and steady rehearsals for the Follies show, "A Bit of Kamp," to be presented in the Holland High School Performing Arts Center for two consecutive nights, Feb. 23 and 24.

Opening the evening's program with a musical introduction set to the music of "Side By Side" were Mrs. Ronald Boeve and Mrs. Landis Zylman, which was followed by a film featuring the Follies presented in 1970.

Jack De Roo, master of ceremonies for the evening, then introduced "Liberation Woman," sung by a group of Junior League members made up of Mrs. Allen Butler, Mrs. William Boyer, Mrs. Jack De Roo, Mrs. Paul Dykema, Mrs. James Nelson, Mrs. James Siegers, and Mrs. Michael Calahan.

A surprise act, reminiscent of the 1970 Follies, was a brief presentation of "Brush Up On Your Shakespeare" performed by League husbands. No doubt the hit of the night was a "chorus line" made up of League members who have rehearsed together preceding league meetings for the past month.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Richard Burkholder of Saugatuck, the Follies musical director.

Following the program, Mrs. Carol Von Ins and Mrs. Don Miller, co-chairmen for the Follies, introduced Mr. Randolph who announced the rehearsal schedule which began Wednesday in the Woman's Literary Club, and gave a brief talk on what the Follies will be all about.

League husbands are always the hit of the show when they "get into the act," and now that rehearsals have begun, many of Holland's amateurs may find themselves right up there with the professionals as "the show must go on".... at least for two nights.

Voting for the Kampiest Kritter in canisters at Readers World and the Hotel Warm Friend is now taking place as well as at their various service club meetings. Tickets for the Follies are now available from any member of the cast, at Lakewood Music, from League members or by calling Mrs. David Paulson.

W.E. Dunn Pulls Upset

W. E. Dunn proved the spoiler Wednesday night in Recreation basketball in the A League by beating Elzinga and Volkers, 55-43.

The losers were leading the loop with a 7-2 slate but their loss and County Wide's win over Boeve Oil, 74-52 now gives County Wide a share of the league lead with 7-3 records.

Bob VanLangevelde scored 23 points for Dunn while Mike Brinks and Jim Fortney had 12 apiece for the losers. Bill Keen fired in 18 markers for County Wide while Bob Nyhof had 14 for Boeve.

Elsewhere, Model Drug stopped Village Inn, 64-53, Holland Cotton Products downed Ten Harns Furniture, 49-41, and Sky Line sank Elhart Pontiac, 40-26.

Willie Cunningham threw in 17 counters for Holland Cotton while Vic Sharda had 13 for Ten Harns. Randy Johnson was good for 26 points for Model Drug while Mike Lawson had 16 for Village Inn.

Bill Shoemaker and Ron Westrate each tallied nine points for Sky Line while Chuck Kleis led the losers.

Hope Knocks Kalamazoo Out of First Place Tie

KALAMAZOO — Hope College's basketball team sparked in its 66-64 MIAA victory over Kalamazoo College here Wednesday night in old Tredway, the home of the Hornets.

The Flying Dutchmen win knocked the Hornets out of a share of their top nest in the league and gives the winners a

However, the Dutchmen were not to be denied, as first Harmeling put in a jump shot and Brandsma was "Johnny on the Spot" by going underneath for the winning bucket after "K" made a turnover.

Harmeling led the thrilling contest with a charity throw with seven seconds left.

Kalamazoo used up three quick fouls in the last 10 seconds in trying to get a Hope player to shoot a free throw. The new rule this year which states a team must have seven before shooting helped the Dutchmen on this occasion, as time was on their side and every time they threw the ball in, another which seemed longer, second would vanish from the scoreboard.

The Hornets finally did get the ball with six seconds to play but didn't get a good shot off, as Hope's defense was determined to not let this one get away like they did Calvin.

"We were patient tonight and that was the difference," explained Coach Russ De Vette. "The other MIAA teams know we have a good club when we are patient and they try to get us to speed up our game. If we would have been patient against Calvin, we would have won also."

"I was pleased with our hustling defense and fine shooting and I thought that Klunder's play enabled us to play just the way we wanted to against 'K,'" continued DeVette.

Both teams were blistering the nets in the second half. The Dutchmen connected on 57 per cent of their fielders while Kalamazoo was good on 60 per cent. For the game, Hope ended with a 45 per cent clip while the Hornets had a 51 per cent mark.

The Dutchmen also played a strong floor game, as they only had seven turnovers compared to 15 for the losers.

Jim Van Sweden of "K," who may be the best center in the league, paced his team into a slim 29-28 halftime lead with 11 points. Harmeling led Hope with 12.

Van Sweden also ended the night as the high scorer for either team with 26 counters on 10 field goals and six free throws. Ruben Billings, a fine looking freshman forward from Saginaw added 10 while another first year cager, Duane Garner of Niles had eight.

3-4 loop slate compared to Kalamazoo's 4-3 mark.

Kalamazoo had entered the game as one of four MIAA clubs tied for first place but came away holding the losing bag, as the Dutchmen beat the Hornets for the second time this winter. Earlier Hope won by an easy 79-61 score in the Civic Center.

Sparkling Hope to the win was its outside guard shooting combination of Dave Harmelink of Grand Rapids and Lee Brandsma of South Holland, Ill.

Harmelink blitzed the nets for 22 markers while Brandsma had 20. Jack Klunder, a one-time starter at guard for Hope added 10 from his forward position as did Brian Vriesman.

The Hornets fans were buzzing as they thought they had the game won as Pat Cunningham netted two free throws with 56 seconds left in the game to put his team on top, 64-61.

Spring Is Here? Mourning Doves Arrive Early

Spring is here early this year, or at least former Mayor Robert Visscher believes.

A pair of mourning doves arrived at the Visscher home at 67 East 28th St. Wednesday, just as wintry weather returned after several weeks of mild temperatures.

Usually the doves arrive the latter part of March, part of the bird migration from the southern swamps near New Orleans.

The Visschers have played host to a pair of mourning doves ever since they built their home on 28th St. in 1948. Visscher is not prepared to say it is the same pair of mourning doves each year, but there have always been doves, in addition to grosbeaks, nuthatches, cardinals and chickadees.

The Visschers are bird lovers and feed them through the winter. He is opposed to any proposal of the Department of Natural Resources to add doves, pigeons or what-have-you to the game list for shooting.

The Visschers have not named the doves, but for starters, he suggests Bill and Co.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Feb. 11
Restoring God's House
Haggai 1:1-8, 12-15
By C. P. Dame

This lesson gives us the opportunity to become acquainted again with a prophet who is not known well in some churches. If on a Sunday morning a preacher would ask the congregation, "What do you know about Haggai?" a few would have to admit that they do not know anything about this man of God. This lesson tells about a preacher who stirred the people to go to work.

I. A preacher needs a message from God. Haggai most likely was an old man (2:3) who had lived in Babylon and came to Jerusalem with the returning exiles. His name means "festive." His short book contains four messages dealing with the Temple and its rebuilding. Cyrus the Mede permitted the Jews to return to Palestine in 538 B. C. Under Zerubbabel they returned and first restored the Temple altar (Ezra 3:2) and then laid the foundation for a new Temple (Ezra 3:10) but "the people of the land" stopped the work (Ezra 4:4) and for 15 years nothing was done and the people got used to looking at the bare foundation of a temple. What unfinished work do you see in your church?

II. An elderly preacher saw the need. (Some congregations will not call a preacher of 50 — he is too old.) Haggai saw the unfinished work. God put a passion in his heart — the Temple had to be built. The people made excuses — it was not a good time to build. God disagreed with the people and the prophet told the people in the name of the Lord of hosts to consider their ways and get busy. The people had time and money to build paneled houses. Today some members have no money for missions but plenty for cars, boats, traveling, fancy restaurants and parties. Times were not good then; money slipped away. The preacher said this was due to their neglect of the Temple.

The leaders of the people, Zerubbabel, the governor, and Joshua, the priest, got stirred up and the "people did fear before the Lord" and this old preacher saw great results and the Temple was rebuilt — leaders and people unitedly worked.

III. God's Spirit moves people to work. Look at the situation and apply it to our times. First there was a need. The foundation was laid but the work was unfinished. One man, an elderly man, saw the need and got a burning passion from God and he preached God's message, and both leaders and people responded. The prophet was stirred, and the Lord who stirred him, also stirred the people. What unfinished work do you see in your Sunday School and church? Are you making excuses or are you building God's work in this day when there is a lot to be done?

Talent Search...

With less than a week before the arrival of Gary Randolph, the New York Jerome Gargill Company's professional director for a "A Bit of Kamp," the local committee of the Junior Welfare League has been conducting a local "talent search" for singers, dancers, actors and specialty acts.

Gary Randolph has spent many years in show business. On stage he is equally at ease as an actor, dancer, and singer as well as off stage as choreographer, stage manager, director, costume designer and writer.

Across the nation, he has been applauded for his wit and vitality in one-man shows such as "Dance Americana," "Footnotes on Broadway," "Those Characters," "Shall We Dance," and "The Diesel Went That-a-Way."

Mr. Randolph also performed in the dancing choruses of "A Connecticut Yankee" and "The Merry Widow." He danced on "The Perry Como Show" and has done commercials on television.

Randolph, a Midwesterner, has completed four trips around the world, doing extensive work and observing theatre in Taiwan, Japan, and Korea plus some 18 additional countries.

The Follies will be presented in the Holland High School Performing Arts Center on Feb. 23 and 24 and serving as local talent chairmen are Mrs. Ronald Boeve and Mrs. Landis Zylman. All residents interested in being in the revue are asked to contact the talent chairman.

Holland is fortunate in being able to produce the type of talent with which to present this kind of variety show. In the past the Follies have proved to be an evening of delightful and hilarious entertainment.

League, associate members and other interested parties are planning to attend a special "meet the director" party at Leisure Acres on Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. Mrs. Leo Jungblut and Mrs. Tom Buis will co-host the evening, while Jack De Roo serves as Master of Ceremonies.

Names for "the Kamp Kritter" contest have been announced by co-chairmen Mrs. Roger Ilsen and Mrs. Richard Ordon. The "fun contest," a sidelight of the Follies, will be the voting for the "Kamp Kritter" among candidates appointed by local men's service organizations.

Participants and their sponsors are Jack Leenhouts, Exchange Club; Bud Raphael, Elks Club; Dave Hall, Holland Jaycees; Avery Baker, Kiwanis Club; Jim Von Ins, American Legion; William Hamlin, Lions Club; Lester Walker, Shriners; and LeRoy Sybesma, VFW. Voting for the "Kamp Kritter" at a penny-a-vote, will be done by the public beginning Feb. 2 at Readers' World and Warm Friend Hotel.

As of now tickets will be on sale at Lakewood Music, and can be purchased through members of the participating men's service organizations, members of the cast and Junior League, or by calling Mrs. David Paulson. Special patron tickets are available with non-reserved seats in the reserved patron sections by telephoning Mrs. Jack Doezman. The deadline for patron tickets is Feb. 13. A special patron parking area will be provided.

The Junior Welfare League, one of Holland's charitable organizations, is dedicated to the motto: "Children: By supporting them now; Build a better tomorrow." Proceeds of "A Bit of Kamp" with a goal of $5,500 will go towards the modernizing of the kitchen and winterizing of the sanitary facilities at Kamp Kiwanis.

In the past the funds raised by the Follies have been used to furnish and decorate the children's section at the Herriek Public Library; and to help the Higher Horizons of Holland which received three years of sustained support.

New Book Gives History Of Consumers Power Co.

The story of the Consumers Power Co. and its development in becoming Michigan's major energy supplier is told in a new book, "Future Builders," written by George Bush, a former Detroit newspaperman, and published by McGraw-Hill Book Co.

The 608-page volume is a fascinating account of the men and events that were involved in providing energy, first for homes and then for industry, as Michigan evolved from a largely agricultural state to the industrial giant it is today.

Interesting and little-known aspects of Michigan's early history are brought to life. There is the account of how William T. Powers, a furniture maker with a penchant for experimenting with electricity, introduced electric street lighting to Grand Rapids.

Another is the account of how W. A. Foote, an Adrian grain miller, decided in the late 1880's to start an electric business, and how his brother, J. B. Foote, who contributed engineering know-how to the business, and who, as the years went by, earned an international reputation as an innovator in electrical technology.

(J. B. Foote was the father of Margaret Foote French, wife of J. D. French, who worked in the Holland Sentinel newsroom for several years before her death Feb. 1, 1957. She was president of the Woman's Literary Club in Holland and active in civic circles.)

In 1901, the celebrated electrical wizard of the General Electric Co., Dr. Charles Steinmetz, came to Michigan to learn what the Foote brothers were doing in developing new ways of transmitting power over long distances.

The book relates equally interesting background on the early development of gas services in Michigan. Gas first was manufactured from resin, but this quickly became uneconomical, and coal was used. Eventually, natural gas was discovered in Michigan, and later brought 2,000 miles by pipeline from the southwestern United States.

Among the colorful and influential men in Consumers Power history was Wendell Wilkie, "the barefoot boy from Wall Street" as Harold Ickes called him, who played a major role as chairman of the board of Consumers Power Co. Wilkie was the Republican candidate for President in 1940.

Consumers Power was the first utility to extend its lines to 100,000 farms, leading the nation in rural electric service.

Even today it serves no cities larger than Flint and Grand Rapids — yet it is one of the nation's largest utility operating companies.

Supplying both electricity and natural gas, it was a major force in developing Michigan into the Midwest's fastest growing industrial state.

Crime Prevention Week Proclaimed Feb. 11 to 17

The week of Feb. 11-17 has been proclaimed Crime Prevention Week in Holland by Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr. in recognition of efforts of the Holland Exchange Club to make citizens aware of criminal activity.

The mayor urged citizens to join the Exchange in participation of activities scheduled for the week and to be conscious of and to cooperate fully in totally preventing the situation proclaimed in the slogan, "You've Just Been Robbed."

The aim of Crime Prevention Week is to reduce the price in pain and property loss of crime and to show citizens how full support of a variety of crime prevention measures can assist in thwarting criminal activity.

In 1972, the value of property reported stolen in Holland was $105,141. Nationally the cost of crime reaches $54 billion a year.

The Holland Exchange club is sponsoring poster and essay contests in local schools and an open house is planned at the police department building.

Progress, Goals Are Reviewed at Meeting

The Ottawa County Community Mental Health Services Board held its annual meeting for professional workers, members of supporting agencies, volunteer workers and their guests at Holiday Inn Monday.

The Rev. Rodney Westveer, board chairman, presided at the meeting and guest speaker was Donald Kuney of the Michigan Society for Mental Health. Closing remarks were made by Dr. Floyd Westendorp, psychiatric director of Ottawa County Community Mental Health Services.

A slide presentation of the services available in the county was also shown for the first time. It will be available for showing in the community also.

Kuney's topic "Where Is Mental Health Going?" was a review of the programs instituted after the passage of Public Act 54, which made possible the treatment of mental problems in the home community. Viewed with alarm as a threat to local control, Kuney pointed out that there are now 70 counties with their own programs, out of the state's 83, with growing public awareness and support, growing volunteer programs and growing local leadership, all a result of Act 54.

He also cited the group that review of programs will be necessary as growth slows down and costs rise.

Looking ahead, Kuney pointed out the current experiment-tal work being done that may result in a break-through in treatment of schizophrenia, and the need for cross-country planning particularly in reaching those in fringe areas and for economic reasons. He also envisions cooperative planning by community mental health services, health departments, educational institutions, social services and police agencies.

Dr. Westendorp's remarks were more localized than Kuney's as he pointed out that local commitments to state hospitals dropped from 72 to 54 with more reductions seen.

He also cited the new residential treatment center and the growth of volunteer programs in the county and gave as goals the new programs for the retarded and the initiation of a coordinated program for children, pointing out that psychosis is a problem in six per cent of the child population. He also expressed hope that a program for the elderly may be developed reaching the nursing homes in the county and that emergency help may be improved to be effective county-wide through the implementation of a walk-in emergency program as well as the telephone assistance now available.

Guests at the meeting included members of the Board of Commissioners, Reps. James Farnsworth and Mel De Stigter.

and last coal-fired steam plant. It was completed in 1967 at Port Sheldon and required an investment of $90 million.

Two Street Department Employees Are Retiring

Two employees of the city engineer's department, who are retiring were honored by their co-workers at a dinner Thursday night at Van Raalte's in Zeeland.

Adrian Moes, who has been employed near 37 years, mostly in the street department garage, will retire July 1, and Harry Vander Zwaag who has been with the department eight years, retired this week.

Clarence Windemulder served as master of ceremonies. Vander Zwaag was presented with fishing equipment and Moes with something for his golf game. Framed citations of tribute also were presented.

Moes was a garage mechanic and press operator at Hart and Cooley before starting work with the city Aug. 10, 1936. His first job lasting about two years was operating the old street flusher for dust control. His next job was on the street sweeper (it had solid rubber tires) and after three or four years he became the mechanic in the old street warehouse.

In general, Moes worked in an era covering shoveling snow into trucks by hand, tractor plows without cabs, horse and scoop snow collection downtown, dirty grease pits and crude mechanical equipment all the way to the sophisticated mechanical equipment of today. He not only worked through this change but had a major role in bringing it about.

Vander Zwaag's career with the city was really his second career. He had spent 34 years with the Holland Farmers Co-op, the latter years as manager. When he started work April 6, 1965, it was first at Windmill Island, later at the sanitary landfill which was closed, and then as building custodian in the department's new warehouse.

The warehouse was a model of orderliness and cleanliness and many were the compliments from out-of-state salesmen who frequent similar warehouses all over the country. The precedent Vander Zwaag set will be a tough act to follow, his co-workers said. His attitude was "You can always find work if you want to" and "I enjoy the group here."

Schwartz Defends U.S. Medicine in New Book

For the Century Club book review Monday night in the Festival Room of the Hotel Warm Friend, Mrs. Edward Donovan said she selected "The Case for American Medicine" because she liked the author, Harry Schwartz when she saw him on the Today show early in January. It promised to be a realistic look at our health care system.

Schwartz, in his book, explained that although Americans are receiving more and usually better medical care than ever before in the nation's history, there are many critics who ignore the accomplishments and complain that this nation is in the midst of a health-care crisis.

As an example of overlooking progress, Mrs. Donovan noted the incidents of polio in 1950 compared to the present reports. Another fact of medical progress is that children born in 1971 could expect to live 11.4 years longer than the 1930 babies.

Some critics charge the socio-economic ills like drug abuse and alcoholism to the medical field which is unfair, while others enjoy pointing out that a certain foreign system is superior.

In answering the critics of the high cost of medical care, Mrs. Donovan reviewed the tremendous costs incurred by the introduction of Medicare and Medicaid programs in 1965, when resources to meet the expense were not provided.

The abuse of insurance, Mrs. Donovan pointed out, has also helped to push up the price. The author's investigation showed that doctors' fees have risen more slowly than many other professions, but their costs have increased beyond belief, especially the cost of malpractice insurance and up-to-date equipment.

Facts show that a doctor averages at least 51 hours per week and that hospital costs have increased because of labor costs.

Schwartz, in his book, presented his findings regarding the Health Maintenance Organization known as HMO, the Kennedy-Griffith plan and other pre-paid medical care plans which could only increase taxes and take away the freedom of choice.

The author agrees there is always room for improvement but proposes that we focus on particular trouble areas and concentrate on improving those.

Mrs. Donovan summarized that the author is not asking that we throw out anything, he is just urging us to go slowly, to experiment carefully before imposing revolutionary change upon this great and diverse nation, and to realize the advantage of evolutionary change as compared to revolutionary change for patching up and remedying the weaknesses of a basically sound medical system that has served us so well. Harry Schwartz, Mrs. Donovan said, was an author, a professor and a lecturer who had two members of his family require prolonged medical care. The efficient and compassionate treatment they received prompted him to write this defense of medicine.

Mrs. Jerome Counihan presided, introduced the program and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van Leuwen for the pictures and slides of the 75th anniversary program which will be placed in the archives.

Council Acts On Pair Of Ordinances

Councilmen Monday adopted revisions in the sewer assessment roll along east 40th St., accepted for first reading an ordinance creating a building board of appeals and adopted a license fee ordinance.

The revised assessment roll affects property owners living along 40th St. for a distance 1,302 feet east of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway right of way where the original cost estimate approved was $9.37 per foot but the actual cost was $11.53 a foot. The revision reflects the actual cost.

The building board of appeals ordinance would create a five-member board appointed by the mayor to hear appeals by builders concerning building codes.

The license fee ordinance brings the city's fee structure concerning certain food service establishments, basically restaurants, into line with fees charged by the county. The minimum fee would be $25.

Council rejected, on an 8 to 1 vote, a request by Skiles Tavern, 154 East Eighth St., for reclassification of its license to allow the serving of liquor by the glass. Councilman Elmer Wissink voted in favor of granting the license.

In his report, city manager William L. Bopf said the tavern failed to meet dining room requirements of the city ordinance and said complaints had been received from neighboring businesses concerning parking by Skiles patrons.

David Skiles, associated with the tavern, told councilmen he was unable to provide additional parking at this time and complained that council had removed parking near his tavern with the one-way street system. He said he felt the requirements of the city's liquor policy were unreasonable and questioned whether they were legal.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt, chairman of the swimming pool committee, said six bids were received for the construction of a proposed outdoor pool in Smallenburg Park but the bids were higher than estimated costs.

Peerbolt said members of the committee were to meet with architects to study the bids before a recommendation is made.

Removal of parking on the east side of Ottawa Ave. for a distance of 50 feet south of a driveway at the Ottawa County Mental Health building was approved but council tabled a request to remove parking on the east side of Cleveland Ave. between 16th and 17th Sts.

Council approved a city manager recommendation that a computer operator be hired to replace one employed under the Emergency Employment Act and who was leaving the city.

Council okayed the removal of two parking meters along the west side of Central north of Ninth St. to allow for turn and through traffic lanes for south-bound vehicles.

The city manager was instructed to study the possibility of raising speed limits along Lincoln Ave. from 16th to 32nd Sts. and along Fairbanks Ave. from 8th to 16th Sts. In addition the city manager was asked to study the possibility of making a right turn lane at northbound Fairbanks at Eighth St.

Council adopted recommendations of the Planning Commission in granting a reduction of easement in Knollcrest Subdivision and rejecting requests from RF & D Corp. for rezoning of land at 32nd St. and Waverly Rd. for apartments and from William Boersma to rezone one acre of land at Paw Paw Dr. and Legion Park Dr. for apartments.

Council approved transfer from the contingency account of $2,000 to the community promotion account, $435.87 to the independent audit account, $750 to the city manager's telephone account and $350 to the fire department account.

A recommendation that $3,750 be withdrawn from the Youth For Christ budget and transferred into a program of youth guidance using mini bikes was approved.

Overland Leasing Co. at 16th St. and Waverly Rd. was granted permission to connect to an existing sanitary sewer line in 16th St.

Council okayed installation of a sanitary sewer 600 feet north of 32nd St. along Waverly Rd. instead of the original 1,300 feet.

Marvin Lemmen was granted permission to build within 11 feet of an easement in River Ave. extended along 32nd St. without sheet piling.

Several gifts to the hospital board were accepted with thanks. Included were $3,059.79 from the estate of Ethelene Metz, 11 overbed tables valued at $759 from the Christian Reformed Unit, one over bed table valued at $69 from the St. Francis guild; $500 from Home Division, Lear Slinger, Inc.; $300 from the Sentinel Printing Co.; $200 toward the purchase of an ultrasonic nebulizer from Lodge 104, Fraternal Order of Police; subscriptions to Readers Digest from Klass Veen and H. S. Rowell, and $200 from Mead.

Johnson Co. for in-service education.

Gifts to the library board accepted with thanks were from Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet, renewal of a magazine; Mrs. Harold Ketchum, books "Unforgettable Faces" and "Gardener's World," and $10 in the memory of Mrs. Mary Vander Meulen from Margaret Collins and Gladys Snyder.

CLUB HONORS MRS. RHEA — Proudly wearing a corsage is Mrs. J.C. Rhea, a past president of the Woman's Literary Club in 1925-27 and 1929-30, who was honored Tuesday afternoon by the members at their 59th birthday celebration. Mrs. Thomas DePree, right, presented the corsage to Mrs. Rhea and told how the club burned its original $6,000 mortgage during her presidency. A birthday tea followed the program. (Sentinel photo)

Club Birthday...

A large crowd of Literary Club members met Tuesday afternoon to celebrate the 59th birthday of their clubhouse.

Mrs. Thomas DePree, club president, recalled for the members that day, Feb. 7, 1914, when the structure was dedicated. Mrs. N. Kessler played the same music that was used on that day.

Emphasizing the foresight of the members at that time, Mrs. DePree read from records that the dining room was so constructed that it could also serve as a gymnasium because "young people had to have something to lure them away from the evils of the time." The building was dedicated to "young women" and classes were offered there in language, manners and calisthenics.

Because of the financial situation of the club, the programs featured local talent. Each meeting featured a roll call with members answering with favorite sayings or helpful hints. The club honored Mrs. J. C. Rhea, who served three years as President, 1925-27 and 1929-30. During the former term the original mortgage of $6,000 was paid off.

Dr. John H. Piet of the Western Theological Seminary addressed the group on the subject "I through 5: Hindu and Muslim Come Alive." He informed the group that there are 450 million Hindus today, most of whom live in India. He explained the position of a Hindu's hands while worshipping. The thumb is God, the index finger, Soul and the remaining three fingers represent ignorance, retaliation and illusion. According to the Hindu, God creates, preserves, destroys and everything that lives has a soul.

There is much symbolism in this religion: a tree, a cornfield, an ant hill are symbols of fertility. Some such symbols have been carried over into the Christian religion, such as the throwing of rice at weddings.

Islam is the religion of Muslims. A Muslim is one who submits and the posture of a Muslim at prayer is one of submission. The revelation of Islam is the Koran. A Muslim recites the creed, prays five times a day, keeps the feast of Ramadan, gives alms regularly and once a year makes a pilgrimage. Islam is the fastest growing religion in the United States probably because many people feel that within Islam they can achieve brotherhood they have been unable to achieve elsewhere. Following the program a Birthday Tea was held in the tearoom. Mrs. Clarence Becker and Mrs. J. W. Long presided at a table decorated in a Valentine motif with red and white carnations and red candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Greene and family of the Lake Shore spent two weeks visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seyforth of Apalachicola, Fla. They also called on former residents of Saugatuck, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Polka of Vero Beach and summer residents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Griep of Tampa. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Van Os visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Norman St. John of Akron, Ohio last weekend. Dr. and Mrs. Justin Dummire of Milan came last Friday to attend the funeral of her uncle, Richard B. Newnam which was held Saturday. Others from out of town attending were his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newnam and Richard B. Newnam Jr. of Scottsdale, Ariz., his sister Mrs. Bessie Neal and his brother-in-law, Bruce Dick both of Harvey, Ill. Mr. Newnam was a former resident of Saugatuck. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frehe celebrated their 56 wedding anniversary, Feb. 6. In the February issue of Reader's Digest on page 76, an article, "Mission, Mine Haiphong" tells of Commander Roger Sheets' May 6 mission at Haiphong. Roger is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ervin Sheets of Walnut Creek, Calif. Mrs. Sheets is the former Laura Scales who was a resident of Saugatuck. Cmdr. Sheets at that time had flown over 300 combat missions. He is wing commander on the USS Coral Sea.

SPRING BREAK UP — Portions of 46th St. south of Ottagan St. in Allegan County's Overisel Township appeared impossible Tuesday because of spring-like weather conditions on the clay-based roadbed. In past years, Neils said, residents on such county roads were content to live with the situation until conditions allowed for repairs but now do not want to accept the waiting theory. He said many roads in the county have the same conditions "and we're doing all we can," to improve the conditions. (Sentinel photo)

Panthers Fade in 2nd Half, Lose to Jenison

JENISON — West Ottawa got off to a fast start but faded in the second half and lost to Jenison's Wildcats Friday night by a 72-61 basketball score.

The Panthers started off like they might pull an upset as they took complete control in the first period and held a slim lead at the half 34-33.

The Panthers could do no wrong in the first period racking up nine points before Jenison could get on the board, but a disastrous third period put them out of reach. It was good to see West Ottawa take charge at the beginning. The defense was superb and some fine shooting by Mark Miersma and Tim Glupker gave them a commanding 21-10 first quarter lead. Then a fine guard by the name of Ross Hoezee found the range and started the Wildcats on the comeback trail.

This was not a weak team that the Panthers met in this beautiful new Jenison school. Jenison's center, Brian Farwell leads the league in rebounding and is second in scoring. Not long ago these same Wildcats were ranked 10th in the state and only one week ago lost by one point in an overtime against Co-Big Red leader East Grand Rapids.

Glupker, who has many

moves, was sensational with his rebounding and led the Panthers in scoring with 23 points. Con Zomermaand, who had the flu earlier in the week and could not play on Tuesday was able to break the Wildcats press fairly easy and scored 15 points along with iMersma who also had 15.

The fatal third period saw West Ottawa hit on only 18 per cent of its shots, scoring only five points but ended up with a game total of 44 per cent. This was slightly better than Jenison's, as they had 41 per cent. The big gun for the Wildcats was Hoezee who scored 25 mostly from the outside.

The Reserve game was a thriller all the way with Jenison winning on a basket in the final seconds by a 60-59 score. Mark Visser had 24 points while Kelly Solis had 13 for the Panthers.

Service Holds Mental Health Seminar Here

Comparing "People with problems" to a "potential market" to be supplied by human service workers, Mrs. Nery Luria challenged representatives of Community Mental Health Services, the County Health Department, Schools, and several other services agencies to examine their approaches to the Ottawa County latino community at an in-service seminar on Jan. 26.

She pointed out that developing the full potential of handicapped people is more expensive and challenging than doing this for those with more advantages. Just as researchers alter their methods when dealing with different subjects, so she insisted, human service workers must expect to develop new and different approaches as they serve different groups of people.

Mrs. Luria spoke after Martin Sosa, also of the Mental Health staff, underlined intercultural differences between anglos and latinos which human service workers should be aware of in Ottawa County. He noted, for example, the role change a latino male experiences when he must depend on a female social worker. Sosa remarked that many latinos try to avoid hurting another's feelings, at times even by giving misleading answers, and used examples of differences in words and body gestures which may be misunderstood by one group or the other.

After the movie, "Mexican American: Heritage and Destiny," a panel composed of Miss Mary Silva, Mrs. Lupita Reyes, and Alfredo Gonzales, responded to questions and comments from the audience.

The session was one in a series sponsored by Community Mental Health for human service workers in Ottawa County. The next program will deal with "Alcoholism in Ottawa County" and will be at the Grand Haven Community Center on February 23, 1973.

Before Mocini's basket, Saugatuck's last lead had been 31-29. Covert held 21-14 and 37-33 leads at the first two periods and 59-53 going into the fourth stanza.

BIG MAN BEATS HAWKS—Juergen Spindel, a 6'2" center for Byron Center's basketball team was just too much for Hamilton to cope with Friday night in the Hawkeyes' gym. Here Spindel scores two of his 16 points in the second period to pace the Bulldogs to a 72-70 victory. Spindel ended the evening as the game's top scorer with 31 markers. ## Bulldogs Knock Hawks Into 2nd

HAMILTON — Byron Center making good use of Juergen Spindel's 31 - point scoring binge and some crucial Hamilton ball control errors, racked up a 72-70 league basketball win here Friday night before a packed house.

It wasn't the same Byron Center team Friday that the Hawkeyes ran out of the Bulldogs' gym by a 64-38 score back on Dec. 8. "They had a bad game against us the first time but they showed us why they're the No. 1 scoring team in our league," said a dejected Coach Wayne Tanis.

Byron's win knocked the Hawkeyes out of a three-way tie for first place in the O-K Blue Division. The Bulldogs and Caledonia now lead the field with 8-1 slates while Hamilton is 7-2.

"We have to beat Caledonia next week and hope that someone else beats Byron Center," continued Tanis. "We aren't out of it by a long shot."

It looked like the Bulldogs had the game wrapped up early in the fourth stanza when they enjoyed their biggest lead, 61-50. However, the Hawks came back to outscore Byron, 14-0 to go on top, 64-61.

A nice move for a bucket by Denny Ellens gave Hamilton its 62nd point and Brad Brink followed with another basket on a long jumper from the side.

Hamilton went up again by three points, 66-63 but the winners countered on some quick moves by Jim Klunder to pull out the contest.

Klunder went sailing through the air for the decisive basket with 36 seconds left in the game.

Warren Berens tied the game at 70-70 moments earlier by hitting one off the backboard but three straight Hamilton turnovers cost them the outing when they had a chance to lock up the tilt.

Also scoring well for the winners were Duane Mingerink, Dan Rairigh and Klunder with 16, 12 and 11 points in that order.

Berens ended up pacing Hamilton in points with 18 while Tom Boeriger, who played a strong game on the boards helped out with 12. He also led the Hawks in rebounds with 12. Ellens, Cal Lubbers and Brink chipped in with 11, 10 and 10 markers respectively.

Hamilton will visit Lee Tuesday.

Allegan Defeats Zeeland, 71-67

ALLEGAN — Zeeland's basketball losing streak reached eight here Saturday night when Allegan turned back Coach Hal Cutshall's Chix, 71-67.

The third period was the difference of the game, as the Tigers outscored the Chix, 26-13 during this time after trailing at the end of the first period, 19-14 and at the half 35-29.

Brian Cook paced Allegan to the win with 24 points, 18 of them came in the third quarter. Doug Allen followed with 16 while Rick Morgan added 10. Leading the Chix were Kurt Bennett, Steve Bassett and John Dykema with respective 15, 14 and 12 totals.

"We just couldn't stop Cook in that third period," explained Cutshall. "We even had three different people on him but he was just shooting like a mad man."

Bassett, sprained his ankle early in the fourth stanza, after tallying 14 points up to that time. Bassett's father died earlier Saturday. "His presence gave us quite an inspiration," Cutshall said. "The guys wanted to win badly for him."

Zeeland also lost the reserve game.

Mrs. Edna Dordon Has Bracelet Of Fennville POW

Mrs. Edna Dordon, 412 Chicago Dr., is wearing a POW bracelet for Navy Lt. Cmdr. William Tromp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Tromp of Fennville.

Lt. Cmdr. Tromp's aircraft, the Kitty Hawk of the 7th Fleet in Vietnam, failed to return from a night mission on April 17, 1966, and he was listed as missing in action. On July 23 of the same year his status was changed to prisoner of war, however, his name has not appeared on any lists from Hanoi or Laos.

Tromp was graduated from Fennville High School in 1959 and Michigan Technology and Mining College in 1963. He had been married just six weeks when he was sent to Vietnam. His wife is presently living in California.

Mrs. Dordon has been a friend of the Tromp family for many years, having worked with Lt. Cmdr. Tromp's mother in 1957. She has been keeping in touch with the family since receiving the bracelet and has many newspaper clippings about their son.

This past fall the Tromps planted a freedom tree in South Haven as a living tribute to their son and other POWs and MIAs throughout the country. This is Michigan's first freedom tree, with the only other such tree in the country dedicated last July in California. Many state and local dignitaries were in South Haven for the presentation of the tree and plaque, dedicated to the Navy pilot.

Calvin Tops Dutchmen 7th Straight Time

Art Tuls showed what kind of a "gutsy" basketball player he was Saturday night in the Civic Center, as he led Calvin College to a thrilling 74-71 win over arch rival Hope College.

For the 6'1" Calvin senior, it was the first time that he has played since he suffered his broken cheekbone two weeks ago against Albion College, but most observers wouldn't have noticed any difference in his play, as he hit 10 of 18 shots from the field and eight of 10 free throws for a game high 28 point total.

"He's just great, isn't he," insisted Calvin's fine young Coach Ralph Hondert after the game.

With Calvin leading by six points, 58-52 and 7:54 left in the game, Tuls was injured when a teammate bumped into his tender cheekbone. Art's father Art Sr. and Hondert raced out underneath the Hope basket to check young Artie out, as it was evident he was in deep pain.

Hondert was already sending in a replacement for Tuls when he gave his coach the sign that he was okay.

"It's so sensitive, it was just instant pain," said Tuls in the Calvin dressing room after the contest. "The surgery on the cheekbone is just fine. After 30 seconds, it cleared up."

Tuls said his cheekbone was 100 per cent okay but he was just exhausted from not practicing with the team that much since his injury.

He added, "I only worked out Thursday and Friday and I'm just plain tired."

Tuls may have been tired after the exciting game but during it, he was his natural self, scoring, passing and dribbling with the best of them in the MIAA.

His basket at the first half buzzer gave the Knights the momentum they carried into the second half to pull out the win.

Hope only turned the ball over six times in the first half and led 41-33 but when the Knights went into a full court press, the Dutchmen couldn't even get it to half court a lot of time which resulted in Calvin eventually overtaking Hope's lead and in the process, the ball game.

"Our press did it," said Hondert. "And also our rebounding was a whole lot better in the second half."

Another former Holland Christian flash, Dick Frens led Calvin in caroms with 12. "He was just outstanding on the boards for us," stated Hondert. "He can really jump can't he?"

While Frens was pulling down 12 of Calvin's 38 team rebounds, Brian Vriesman and Tom Wolters also did an excellent job in that department for Hope with 16 and 12 respective totals.

Another area player for Calvin, Larry Vander Veen of Hudsonville Unity, followed Tuls in scoring with 18 markers. Frens added 10.

Leading the Hope scoring attack was Lee Brandsma, who played a strong game with 24 counters. Dave Harmelink was hot with his long "bombs" with 20 while Vriesman, who just may be the best overall sophomore in the MIAA added 15 to go with his game high rebounds.

Hope's other starting forward Mike Riksen of Holland, broke the same wrist Thursday in practice that he busted last year playing for the Dutch and will be out for the season.

He was replaced in the lineup by hustling Doug Edema, who fouled out with 58 seconds left in the game.

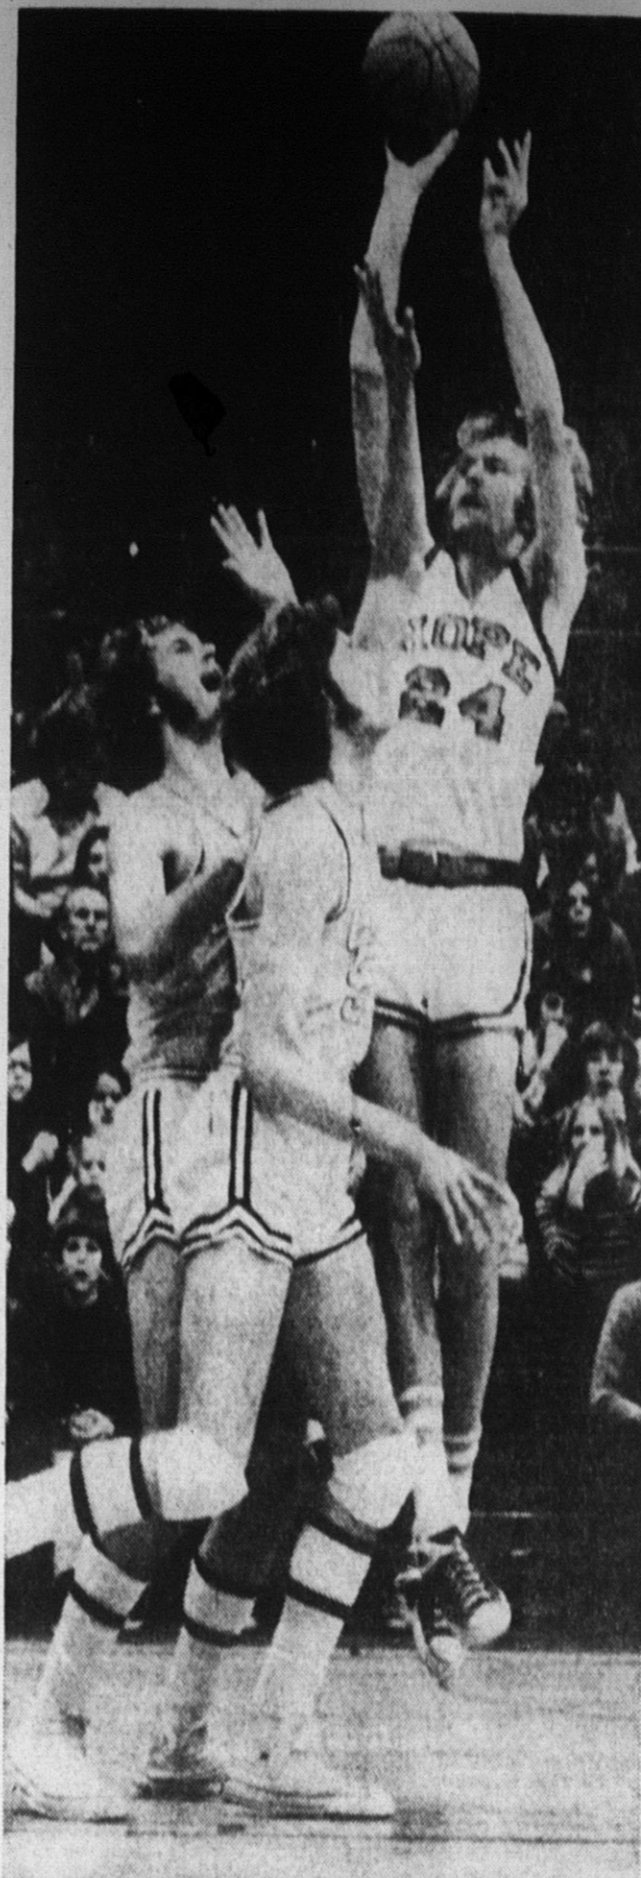

Guard John De Jonge of Calvin took an early shower with 7:34 left in the second half.

It looked like the Dutchmen were going to finally end their six-game losing streak to Calvin in the first half, as they dominated play throughout behind a balanced scoring attack. Brandsma, Harmelink and Vriesman tallied 13, 10 and eight points during the span while Tuls was high for the Knights with 13.

The Dutchmen fans were cheering wildly, as their favorite team led by 10 points on eight different occasions in the first half.

Calvin's press and Hope's failure at the free throw lane caused the Dutchmen to drop their fourth MIAA contest in six outings. The Knights are fighting for the title with a 4-2 slate.

reeled off 20 straight points while holding the host team scoreless to go from a 47-33 deficit to a 58-47 advantage with 11:10 to play in the game.

The Dutchmen had a real chance to get back into the game but couldn't find the lid to the basket from the charity stripe.

"We just couldn't put the ball in the bucket," said a disappointed Coach Russ De Vette. Our "missed free throws and their press was the difference."

Calvin now only trails Hope by 11 games in the all-time series. The Knights have won 33 times compared to Hope's 44 total.

The Knights have a key league game at Olivet Wednesday while Hope travels to Kalamazoo.

Coach Tuls Returns As A Winner

A familiar face returned to the Civic Center Saturday to direct Calvin College's junior varsity basketball team to an easy 77-58 win over Hope College.

The Art Tuls led Knights took a quick 20-6 lead and never headed in picking up their sixth win in 10 outings. The Dutchmen are now just the opposite at 4-6.

"It was one of our better games," said the talented Calvin coach, who was in command of Holland Christian's great teams for so many seasons before retiring after the 1968-69 season.

Randy Wolthuis paced Calvin with 24 points while Gordy Alderink was super for the Dutchmen with 25. Bob Klomparsens was the only other Hope cager to score well with 10.

Following Wolthuis in scoring were Paul Zwier, Dave De Vries and Greg Afman with 12, 11 and 10 respective points.

"Our cold start killed us," said Hope's Coach Bill Vanderbilt, who saw his team trail at the half by a 42-26 score.

Vocational Center Topic At Breakfast

A presentation entitled "The Need for an Area Vocational Center" was presented to the Chamber of Commerce at today's Early Bird Breakfast at the Warm Friend Hotel.

Robert J. Doyle, manager of personnel and organizational development, Donnelly Mirrors, Inc., introduced the slide program, speaking from his experience in personnel work over the years. He cited the real shortage of skilled personnel in industry; the lack of career momentum for adults who have entered industry without specific training and the lack of motivation and goals for most high school graduates entering the job market, as three reasons for the introduction of the proposed program.

A slide program on the need for the center, and the kinds of training that could be provided was presented by Donald Gebraad, director of vocational education for Ottawa County.

Facts brought out by the slide presentation included eight out of 10 students do not plan to attend college; the program would serve 13 school districts and be located centrally for all the participating schools; programs will be provided half-days for 11th and 12 graders at the center, who would take academic courses and participate in extra-curricular activities at their home schools. The center will serve a total of 1,600 students.

Without either federal or state funding, the program would cost taxpayers 1.5 mills yearly. It was pointed out that state and federal funding for building and equipment could run as high as 50 per cent of the more than $4 million cost.

In a question period following the program it was revealed that there are currently 5,800 11th and 12th graders in the area to be served by the center and that if necessary, a third shift of classes at the center could be scheduled. Admission will be on a first come, first served basis at first, with more shifts and a possible quota system probably following.

A question about current vocational classes and equipment in the separate districts revealed that each district will curtail or continue its programs as it sees fit. Gebraad and Doyle pointed out that by continuing their programs, school districts could provide some training for younger students which would introduce them to vocational courses on a "smorgasboard" basis, help in developing career interests and basic skills that would help in career choices.

Muskegon Beats Dutch 2nd Time

MUSKEGON — Muskegon defeated Holland's basketball team for the second time this season, 60-44 here Saturday night but not before the Dutch gave them quite a scare.

"I considered it a good game because they are the best Class A team in Western Michigan," said Coach Don Piersma.

Holland stunned the Big Reds by leading at the end of the first eight minutes, 13-12 and only trailing at the intermission, 27-23. Muskegon led at the third period stop, 41-31.

The Dutch ended the night with a cool 25 per cent average from the field while Muskegon was good on 35 per cent of its shots.

Muskegon dominated the backboards with 49 rebounds compared to Holland's 29 total.

Dick Wood replaced Tim Van Tongeren at guard in the starting Dutch lineup. Van Tongeren is out for the season with mononucleosis.

Larry Knox, Paul Peterman and Eric Morris scored 11, 10 and 10 points in that order for the winners, while pacing Holland were Jed De Boer and Paul Van Oostenburg with 16 and 12 totals.

Greg Holcombe turned in a fine game in a losing cause for Holland's reserves, as Muskegon took a 68-55 decision.

Holcombe scored 15 points and had 17 rebounds. Chuck Moders chipped in with 12 points.

The Dutch will host powerful Hudsonville Unity Friday.
