Holland Spirit Would Bring Us Real Prosperity

SPILLMAN WANTS POSTAGE STAMPS EMBELLISHED DIFFERENTLY

At Least 375 Hear Noted Speaker At Chamber of Commerce Banquet

The Chamber of Commerce banquet held at the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening was one that will long be remembered by those present. The menu was all that could be desired, the music had a lively swing, the decorations were in harmony with the event. President Boter was at his best in the preliminaries and Con DePree never fails to make a good toastmaster, and last but not least, Harry Collins Spillman, a speaker of international reputation, was simply marvelous, interspersing his logic and serious matter with rich puns and anecdotes.

Toastmaster De Pree handled the situation a little differently than is customary. Instead of introducing the speaker to the audience, he did just the opposite, introducing Holland and the audience to the speaker. He vividly gave Mr. Spillman a resume of Holland and its advantages, its religious and educational environments, the solidity of its banks, the thrift of its people through savings, its tourists and resort advantages, a city of beautiful homes and well kept lawns, its one hundred per cent paving, in fact, an inventory of almost a perfect city.

Of all the things Mr. DePree said, there is one thing that if it were applied universally, it would solve most of our economic ills and would make this a wonderful world to live in. He said, "I believe this is the most democratic city on earth, Mr. Spillman. More brotherly love exists and there is a greater helpful spirit one to the other than any spot I know of. This is not the largest city and we are not striving to make it that but we have a city here living in. In Holland we believe in the brotherhood of man."

It was a substantial picture that Mr. DePree presented to Mr. Spillman, winding up with an introduction of the guests present who arose with the speaker and were collectively introduced.

Mr. Spillman said: "I've heard a great deal about your beautiful city before I came here. If this audience is a sample of your citizenry, then I want to say that if this spirit of Holland permeated the nation, it would help more to bring about prosperity than all the laws and prosperity measures that congress could pass. It seems that there is a spirit of confidence here and that is holding back prosperity, which is just around the corner. The opportunities are still here, the tools to work with are the same as before, but the energy and the confidence are missing, generally speaking. Opportunity walking hand in hand with competency to which confidence is added cannot help but bring results."

Mr. Spillman believes in aristocracy, not the sham aristocracy, for which the word is often used. He said, "No man can be a real aristocrat unless he feels humanitarian on the side of the great questions and while an aristocrat is above the multitudes of his fellows, he is at the same time helpful to others not so blessed."

Mr. Spillman places great store with the captains of industry, stating that men like Henry Ford, Wamaker, Schawb, Judge Gary, Mr. Hill and men of that type have been the great power that has brought development and prosperity to this great nation, and he stated that instead of generals and statesmen, men of this class should also have a place on the postage stamps of this country, the honored places now being given to the former.

Mr. Spillman had a fine word for the business men of a community. He said the business man is the master-worker in a city, untiring in his civic efforts, beset by many problems but still is the aristocrat as I see him.

Mr. Spillman stated further "You often hear the true saying, 'All men are created equal.' I put very little stock in that for one man towers above the other in business capacity, in brain power, in the same proportion as the trees in the forests, where some are monarchs and others are dwarfs."

"No man can be a real aristocrat as I define the word unless he has been of service to humanity. Jesus was an aristocrat. He gave his full service to mankind, not only spiritually, but otherwise. He did not seek riches, self-aggrandizement. Nothing mattered with Him but people and their salvation."

"The richness of America is not in its mines, its land, its railroads, its gold—no, America's richness is that it has 110,000,000 people who have the highest standard of living on this earth. What does riches amount to anyone unless these riches help people?"

"Some men who are aristocrats, as I term it, are more bent to a city, state and nation than others. If you take 500 men like Franklin, Edison and Lincoln out of world's history, we would today be back at the stone age. A man's worth cannot be valued in dollars and cents."

"What would Thomas Jefferson who wrote the Declaration of Independence be worth to this nation? The worth of Lincoln's emancipation of the slaves cannot be estimated. Benjamin Franklin's value to Philadelphia is immeasurable and a spirit of helpfulness is still firmly established through the printing press and the Saturday Evening Post established by him."

Coming back to the merchants and business men, Mr. Spillman says:

"When we get through changing our minds in politics or business we are through. The business man must be able to change his mind. (Continued on Page 4)

BANQUET NOTES

The tellers appointed by the chair to count the C. of C. ballots for directors were Bernard Rosendahl, Principal Riemersma, Al Joldersma, and Alex Van Zanten.

The printer forgot to put a star back of the name of Frank Lieveense on the ballot. Of course the printer is always blamed. However, Frank's popularity is still in the ascendency even though the star was missing, for he was elected.

Van Duren's Orchestra was filled with pep, enthusiasm and jazz. They also impersonated the Hungry Five, harking back to the little German band.

The Holland Furnace Company's places at the banquet table were readily noticeable for a large banner was over the spot which read "Holland Furnace Company—Heating Engineers. We Like Your City."

Zeeland Exchange Club was represented at the banquet by three of its members. Those from Zeeland who were present were Mayor Moeke, Bernard Camps, Road Commissioner, and Mr. Klaver, president of the Exchange club.

Secretary Gross recently organized a Chamber of Commerce in our neighboring village of Saugatuck. Not a few of these were invited guests and the members of this infant C. of C. were asked to stand up and be introduced.

Mr. Allen and his class of 50 Warm Friend students were also introduced. These Holland Furnace Company salesmen were given hearty applause and Mr. Boter stated that there would be three hundred more of them coming to town from time to time before the summer months.

President Boter could not refrain from giving Hope College a most deserved boost and had Dean Nykerk beaming all over when he spoke about the Lecture Course that had been in vogue for 35 years and the School of Music and the Library of this institution had been enriched when the course was successful. He incidentally mentioned the Welsh singers who are coming this week Friday night.

Secretary Gross's financial report was given by him, telling the financial condition of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, fully printed in the C. of C. bulletin. Mr. Gross incidentally stated that his work in this position has been made easier through the hearty co-operation of the members of the organization and the officials as well.

It will be interesting to note, harking back to Tulip Time, that 40,000 visitors saw the flower show at the Masonic Temple and from a business standpoint it paid at least one nurseryman who received 600 prospects.

Mayor Earnest Brooks was introduced as the best and youngest-looking mayor in Michigan. Now Earnie will have to buy himself a new hat—maybe.

All the Pere Marquette officials present were introduced one by one, but the big hand came when George Hunt arose. George started with the old C. & W. M. as office boy at the old Holland depot. This was 45 years ago and the former Holland man is still with the road.

Mrs. Arthur Visscher rendered two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow at the piano. The work of the artists was well received.

Toastmaster Con De Pree threw a dart at the officials from the Pere Marquette when he said "The Pere Marquette is a good railroad but any railroad is good when its the only one. But then the Pere Marquette also knows that Holland is good for the Pere Marquette and although it is the only road, the officials have been inclined to be fair with this city."

Con also sprang a story on Dick Boter. It seems that Dick had gone hunting for deer with five others. Towards night-fall he knocked on the shack door and anxiously inquired whether all the boys were in. He was advised that they were. "You are sure there are none out of that shack," said Dick. He was given assurance that they were all inside. "Well," Dick said "I want to tell you that I shot a deer."

OLD DIRECTORS OF C. OF C. ELECTED MONDAY

A vote taken at the banquet of the Holland Chamber of Commerce Monday night re-elected all of the old directors. Those named were Wynand Wichers, E. C. Brooks, Arthur W. Wrieden, Milo De Vries, Frank Lieveense and Vaudie Vandenberg.

The hold-overs are Dick Boter, Andrew Klomparsen, Frank Dyke, J. A. Hoover and Isaac Kouw.

Wants To Hear Toot Of Sugar Factory Whistle

DR. COOK, LOCAL DENTIST BELIEVES FACTORY COULD BE OPENED AGAIN

For sometime there have been murmurings and rumors that the Holland Sugar Co. might make preparations to re-open for business but the factory campaign for beets is now over, however, the season for planting will soon be here. Dr. M. J. Cook, who is a sugar enthusiast, got rather enthused when he received a report from Isabella County, Michigan, where they still grow sugar beets.

This year 700 acres were harvested in that county, but the officials of the company asked that an acreage of more than double that amount be subscribed for next year. Even though the sugar beet crop was short, a half million dollars went to the farmer and laborer in that county and "dats sump'n," Amos would say.

Anyway, Dr. Cook feels that our civic organizations might inquire into the status of the local sugar company to see what might be done for Holland through this plant.

Holland's situation again shows what a great blessing a St. Lawrence water-way would be for in that case the raw sugar from Cuba, after it was taken from the cane, might easily be loaded in large ships at any of the harbors in Cuba and unloaded at the Holland Sugar Beet Factory dock. Even now this is a possibility through the Welland Canal where coasters and smaller ships could pass through well loaded.

If farmers will not raise enough beets to keep a factory going, it seems that the Holland Sugar Factory which is still idle and Michigan sugar factories working only part time, could be run to advantage as sugar refineries. This has already been suggested and may be tried out at the Mt. Pleasant factory, provided of course, the shipping of raw sugar by boat out of Cuba to the United States is not frowned upon and the boats tied up at Washington with a labyrinth of legal technicalities.

Another thought that would enter in such a project would be to educate the farmers to raise sugar beets again, when the factory is not converting beets into sugar, the plant could be switched over to sugar refining, that is if such a thing is possible.

Anyway there is no harm in taking up this matter through the industrial committee of our Chamber of Commerce and our Merchants' association.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

All within one month an unusual event took place relative to the Holland Post Office. Alle Toppen, a staunch Democrat, was appointed by President Wilson as the new postmaster. Toppen was called the "Original Wilson Man" voting for the president in that memorable national convention at Baltimore 43 times. Well, Mr. Wilson did not forget Mr. Toppen, who had had his heart on that Post Office position for many years. The tragic part of this story is that on the day of his confirmation at Washington, the new postmaster-elect died of heart failure. He had been overjoyed that his great ambition had at last come true.

Mr. Gerrit Van Schevel retained the office for a time longer until the democrats could agree on another candidate, which proved to be Wm. O. Van Eyck, former City Clerk, who retained the position until Ed. Westveer was appointed under the Coolidge administration.

Holland Hears From Boy Scouts in Netherlands

MRS. DIEKEMA RECEIVES WORD OF PRESENTATION OF SHIELD TO SCOUTS AT THE HAGUE

Mrs. G. J. Diekema is in receipt of a letter in response to the heart shaped plaque that was sent by the Holland Boy Scouts to the scout troop of The Hague. This plaque was to have been presented by Minister Diekema upon his return to The Netherlands, but illness and death prevented this.

The presentation was made however by Mr. Johnson, the late Mr. Diekema's secretary, as seen in the picture. The man in uniform is Commander Corwin of the United States Navy.

The words of presentation by Mr. Johnson to a group of Boy Scouts of The Hague follows:

"The late Minister to this post, the Honorable Gerrit J. Diekema, was asked by the Boy Scouts of his home town, the town of Holland, in the State of Michigan, to present this shield to the Boy Scouts of The Hague, as a greeting from them and an evidence of their good will. The Minister, whom death has unfortunately removed from us, would have been happy to perform this pleasant duty himself. He was a man of Dutch blood who was born and brought up in the United States and who united in himself the best characteristics of the two kindred races. 'It would thus have given him particular pleasure to have presented this shield to the Boy Scouts of this Holland city from the Boy Scouts of the American town of Holland."

"This presentation now falls to me and it is as a happy omen of the present and future good relations between the boys and men of Holland and America that I present it to you."

Further recognition was given the Holland Boy Scouts through H. J. Spykerman, head-quarters secretary of the scouts at The Hague. The organization there goes under the name of "De Nederlandsche Padfinders," translated, "The Pathfinders of the Netherlands." The letter from Mr. Spykerman to the local scouts follows below:

ZEELAND QUINT MEETS CHRISTIAN NIGHT TONIGHT

Zeeland will try to gain revenge on Holland Christian for an unbroken string of defeats during the past three years. The Maroons defeated Zeeland, 44 to 12 in the first meeting of the two teams. Coach Al Muijskens' new combination is displaying a flashy attack, however, and the local record shows only one defeat in 14 starts.

CONTEST IN SECOND WARD TO FEATURE HOLLAND ELECTION

Interest in the March primaries will be focussed on the aldermanic contest in the Second ward between Frank Brieve and Arthur Drinkwater.

Brieve is the present dean and president pro tem of the council and has been a member of that body 15 years. Drinkwater served his ward 19 years before he retired three years ago.

Brieve and Drinkwater never were opponents for the office, having made the race in alternate years. They have always been close friends.

ONCE AGAIN HOLLAND'S ARMORY WILL BE PACKED TO SEE GRAND HAVEN HOLLAND GAME

Grand Haven Tribune—Grand Haven will meet its old natural rival on the Holland Armory hardwood Friday night when it meets Bud Hinga's Holland troop of cagers. Holland hasn't the team this year that it has had in former years but report comes from Holland that Hinga is weeding out loopers from his first squad that have not been clicking and he expects to present a formidable outfit Friday night.

At any rate it is expected that the Hollanders won't be outfigured. The local lads will have to get together sooner Friday night than they did last week against Benton Harbor to get the jump on the Dutch.

HOLLAND TICKETS

Holland High School has sent 150 general admission tickets to the Holland-Grand Haven basketball game to be distributed in Grand Haven. men. Holland will have a decided advantage in that the game will take place on native soil. It is possible that the Hingamen may upset the local boys for the first southwest pennant.

Whether or not Grand Haven will play in class A state tournaments next month will be decided Friday night. If Grand Haven can beat Holland, thereby clinching the title, the local boys will play in class A.

Coch Bosworth's local reserve squad, undefeated in conference reserve play, will meet the Holland reserve squad in a prelim to the main game Friday night.

Holland High School Must be Enlarged

The Board of Education has for sometime been facing the problem of providing adequate room for the constantly increasing enrollment in the senior high school. The senior high school building was erected in 1913 to accommodate 400 students. For several years it has housed over 500 students. With careful organization the building has been able to accommodate that number without lowering the efficiency of the school work. Three years ago there were 570 students enrolled, and since that time the enrollment has steadily increased.

At the present time there is an attendance of 669 students in the senior high school which considerably overtaxes the capacity of the building. The future enrollment in the senior high school can be quite accurately estimated from the numbers now enrolled in the junior high school.

One year from now the senior high school enrollment will be 750. Two years from now about 830 and three years from now about 840. These figures are based entirely upon the present enrollment in the senior and junior high schools and not allowing for any increase in population in the city of Holland. It can be reasonably expected with a normal increase in population the actual number in attendance in the future will be in excess of the numbers being above.

The Board has been struggling with this problem for some time, and has been carefully investigating the conditions and needs. At their meeting Monday night the Board voted unanimously to take the necessary steps to build an addition to the senior high school building.

The first step will be the employment of an architect who will make the preliminary sketch and give an estimate of the cost of the proposed addition. Then the Board will hold a special election, and give the people of Holland an opportunity to say whether or not they want this addition to be erected at this time.

Although the charter of the city of Holland gives the Board of Education the authority to proceed with such building projects without an election, the Board is unanimous in feeling that the people of Holland should express themselves on a question of building that entails an expenditure of a considerable sum of money. If the people approve of this addition to the high school building, the Board will issue bonds and proceed with the building immediately so that it will be ready to occupy at the opening of school in September.

The Board is unanimous in feeling the need of this addition. It is also believed that this is an opportunity to build when money can be secured at a low rate of interest and building materials are lower now than they have been for many years, and building at this time will furnish work for many Holland people. The building, if built, will extend south from the present high school on the southwest corner of the school grounds on Pine Ave. and Sixteenth street.

Holland C. of C. Does Many Things Report Shows

PRESIDENT BOTER GIVES REVIEW OF YEAR'S WORK OF LOCAL ORGANIZATION

Mr. Dick Boter, president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, in opening the speaking program at the annual banquet given at the Masonic Temple Banquet hall Tuesday night before introducing the toastmaster, first complimented Secretary Gross for being a faithful right-hand man, making his burdens lighter by eliminating as much detail as possible. The president called him "an able secretary" who was constantly thinking in terms of Chamber of Commerce.

The report given by Mr. Boter was interesting indeed and explained a great many things that cannot always be entered in a figurative report but are aiding Holland directly and indirectly nevertheless.

The report as given by Mr. Boter follows:

The question is often asked, "Is the Chamber of Commerce a worth while organization to support?" In order to answer this question, a check up of records for the past two years shows that the Chamber of Commerce means more to the people of Holland than any other thing promoted in Holland at the present time. In "cold turkey" which is a business and not a pleasure, the Chamber of Commerce has made a list of things that are of value to the community of every business man, property holder, manufacturer in Holland.

1st: The Chas. Karr Company who employ forty to fifty people and who were organized through the Chamber of Commerce to start operations in Holland, have an annual payroll of $40,000.00. This firm has operated for the past two years and during which time it has contributed in payroll to this community approximately $120,000.00.

2nd: Cordale Manufacturing Company through help from the Chamber of Commerce made contacts possible for the past two years. (Since its recent affiliation with a former A. J. Mfg. Company, this firm has possibilities of being one of Holland's leading manufacturing concerns) has an annual payroll of approximately $100,000.00 for increase of $80,000.00.

3rd: During the past year the Chamber of Commerce has made contacts with two local factory organizations for Holland (Names withheld) which have an annual payroll in normal times of approximately $200,000.00.

4th: B. B. has an annual payroll in normal times of approximately $75,000.00.

5th: The Chamber of Commerce continued its efforts to house canvas and through solicitation of considerable advertising, has saved the business man and the citizens of Holland during the past year approximately $20,000.00.

6th: Fourteen conventions held in 1930 at a total attendance of 5074 delegates estimated the expenditure of each delegate at $10.00. This activity in which the Chamber of Commerce assisted, has saved the business of Holland approximately $24,000.00.

7th: Holland's tourist bureau, which is a business and means to the business man of Holland annually approximately $300,000.00.

OUR LATEST INDUSTRY! ADDITION We know you have with pride the announcement in our local papers, the securing of a new industry for our city. This new industry will employ forty people with good possibilities of doubling this force within the first year of operation. This new industry will employ forty people with good possibilities of doubling this force within the first year of operation. This new industry will employ forty people with good possibilities of doubling this force within the first year of operation.

Industry at Home

The growing tendency of industrial communities to progress by growth from within rather than by increase from without is attested by the Department of Manufacture of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States which is making a study of the subject.

Manufacturers are discovering that desirable results can be more easily obtained by working together than by working singly. New England, facing the competition of newer sections, appears to have taken the lead in this practice. It is developing it under the formidable title of manufacturers' cooperative research. Common problems—labor supply, employment, transportation, materials—are threshed out by industries working together. By taking counsel together employees of one industry during a slack season may be full blast in other industry in full blast. In some cases one industry has loaned its skilled employees for a certain length of time to other industries temporarily in need of them. In others, standard practices are agreed upon.

All of this works not only to the advantage of the industries but also to the advantage of the community itself.

MANY ATTEND

COOKING SCHOOL

A large crowd of women prominent in social and civic circles in Holland attended the opening class of the Cooking School sponsored by Jack Knoll, local Kelvinator dealer, at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Miss Gertrude P. Janssen, nationally known home economist, gave a very interesting lecture on the care and preservation of food and demonstrated "cooking with cold." Since the announcement of the Cooking School by Mr. Knoll last week many requests to attend the classes have been received from individuals, local clubs and societies. The Literary club, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Ladies Aid Societies of the Third Reformed Church, Trinity Reformed church, First Reformed church and the M. E. Church of Saugatuck will be guests of Miss Janssen at special classes during the next ten days.

The W. C. T. U. will present a program on "The Spirit of Frances Willard" at the Woman's Club rooms today, Friday, at 2:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Carl Shaw. The public is invited. No admission will be charged, but a collection will be taken.

Slippery Sidewalks Often Mean Damage Suits

Are your premises covered under a proper Public Liability Policy? Would a personal injury and a resulting damage suit mean money out of your pocket for legal defense and possible awards? You will find that a Public Liability Policy is a very satisfying sort of contract. It will save you many hours of worry and possibly thousands of dollars.

Mr. Young on Banks
A Wise German
Gandhi's Sky Writing
Dogs, Beef, Pork

Extremely important to American business, especially to the little man who would like to know that his savings are safe and not used by grafters in their speculations, is a suggestion by Owen D. Young. He would establish government control of commercial banks for their regulation and the public's protection.

Mr. Young points out that this country has had 6,000 bank failures in the past ten years. He did not say so, but everybody knows that dishonesty is back of many such failures. Mr. Young says truly: "It is a great reflection on the American people that they cannot get a banking system which will prevent such tragedies as we have witnessed."

Gandhi tells 100,000 listeners that victory for his "holy crusade" to free India is "written in the skies if we follow the path of truth and non-violence."

Few victories have been won by non-violence. In fact, no nation ever won freedom except by fighting for it.

In the opinion of at least 200,000 Hindus, a successful "holy crusade" would include the right to restore child marriage without restriction, the burning of widows, and a system of reverence for animal life, cows especially, that allows the miserable animals, when they get old, to die of hunger because no one has the right to kill them.

Germany possesses an appalling wise person named Dr. Georg Joss, professor of theoretical physics at Jena.

The wave length of a ray of light is from one twenty-five thousandth to one fifty thousandth of an inch in length. The marvelous Joss can measure the one thousandth part of that.

This enables him to prove that there is no ether drift and that the speed of light is absolute. In some mysterious way, Doctor Joss confirms Einstein's theories. Sometimes you are sorry you cannot understand all that, and sometimes you thank heaven for your ignorance.

Mohammedans are fighting Hindus in India, as usual. Mohammedans cooked some beef, which horrified Hindus, by whom the cow and all its relations are held sacred. War started, a village was burned, and a Sikh officer in the British service was burned alive.

Then the Mohammedans threw the beef into Hindu temples. The Hindus, for revenge, threw dead dogs into the Mohammedan mosques, greatest insult you can make a Mohammedan.

Hindus won't eat beef. Mohammedans won't eat pork. Englishmen eat both and rule Mohammedans and Hindus.

"Joe the Baker," known to his mother and early friends as Joseph Catania, is dead. With his mouth shut tight, refusing to tell who shot him, he struggled against a flock of machine gun bullets and succumbed, eliminated because he interfered with bootlegging in the territory of "Dutch" Schultz, the "Bronx beer baron."

Thus far, not one of many gangsters shot down has told police who killed him, although a majority of them knew. Perhaps they thought they would not die.

"Joe the Baker" was one of the New York gangsters that had the honor of entertaining a distinguished New York judge at a well come home dinner.

Other cities will read with a gasp that projects for public improvements which New York now has in hand will cost more than two thousand million dollars.

Mr. Berry, comptroller, delights the hearts of capitalists, announcing the sale this year of $22,130,000 of city bonds. On their income Uncle Sam collects no income tax.

When the big bridge over the Hudson is completed New York city will have its first above-ground connection with the rest of the American continent, and New York newspapers cannot agree on a name for the bridge. "Washington Memorial bridge" is the official name thus far.

Mr. Mason of the Post wants to call it "Palisades bridge" and Mr. Patterson, who has a newspaper wants to call it "the Hudson bridge." A wise compromise might call it "Edison bridge."

Edison brought light across the Hudson, from New Jersey to Manhattan, and spread it all over the world.

This writer back in the night of time saw him putting lights in "Harry Hill's" bare John L. Sullivan fought. It would please a good many Americans to honor Edison, the greatest man this country has developed since Lincoln, and to do it while he is alive, to know about it.

Stalin of Russia, who ought to know, does not agree with American financiers who predict disaster for Russia's "five-year plan."

He says the plan will be completed inside of four years, perhaps in three.

Previous to 1931 the Bible had been translated into 890 languages. Now the 891st is added, that of the Indian aborigines of Guatemala.

Learn, if it can give you satisfaction, that condition of Wall Street are "technically" much better. That won't give satisfaction to little people that were gambling gamely a year ago. When Wall Street gets "technically" better, it means that small accounts are wiped out, the little gamblers are dead and buried financially and must save up for the next foolishness.

Stocks are in "strong hands," which means that those that put them out at a low price have bought them back at a low price. Call money lends at 1 per cent, 90 day money lends at 2 per cent. Everything is charming "technically," which ought to be a lesson for little men not to gamble, but it will not be.

News that comes from Russia seems as topsy-turvy as though it came from "Alice in Wonderland." American engineers are developing asbestos resources in Russia, adding another surprise concerning Russian resources generally.

United States engineers are operating an asbestos pit two miles wide in a place far off from Moscow and the other centers, that had 10,000 population a short time ago, now has 35,000 population, and within two years will yield twice as much as the world's total output of asbestos in 1928. More reason for worrying about "Russian dumping."

Mr. Thomas of the British Labor cabinet says the world's trouble is the sudden end of great buying power.

Four hundred million people in China, 200,000,000 in India, 140,000,000 in Russia, half the buying population of the world, suddenly stopped buying.

Boycotting silver, which India and China use for money, plus civil war and rebellion, are responsible for part of the trouble.

And the United States boycott of Russia is responsible for part.

This is an extraordinary world, in which too much of everything, too much wheat, coal, copper, sugar and even too much money, means disaster.

T. W. Lamont of Morgan and company, revives a story about Julius Morgan, father of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, grandfather of today's head of the firm.

When the late J. Morgan was very young, crossing the ocean with his father, the latter gave him this advice:

"Remember, my son, that any man who is a bear on the future of this country will go broke."

That is as true now as it was half a century ago, and citizens will do well to remember it.

Railroad men, including the greatest in the United States, representing 90 per cent of all the railroads, pledged themselves to avoid cutting wages or discharging men and to employ as many more men as possible.

This they do in the face of decreased railroad earnings, an excellent example to other employers.

The farm board has held up the price of American wheat by spending a million dollars a day to buy grain and take it out of the market.

Wheat has been selling at Winnipeg and Liverpool at 15 cents below the American price.

This means that other wheat producing countries have been changing their wheat into money, and sending it where it will be eaten.

Regular airplane travel is planned between Chicago and New York in eight and a half hours or less.

That interests railroad men. Four young people in Buffalo decided to see the Yale-Princeton game at Princeton, N. J. They made the trip in one day in a small automobile. For gas and oil the cost was $4.10. Railroad tickets for the four, not including pullman, would cost $72.

Permitting railroads to increase their rates would not solve that problem.

When Mussolini encounters a problem he does something. Italy faces a deficit of $36,450,000. Mussolini cuts all official salaries 12 per cent.

He cuts cabinet members at the top and all the way down, army and navy officers, school teachers, police clerks.

That would not be popular here, and it isn't necessary.

But our national government and big cities might well try cutting off employees that accumulate as barnacles accumulate on a ship.

The Oxford dictionary is finished, with more than 414,825 words in it. You can get a copy of it for $1,500, but if you don't hurry you won't get any. Only a few copies are left and no more of the present expensive kind will be printed.

Thirteen hundred men and women have worked on that dictionary more than seventy years. And the average man gets along comfortably with 2,000 words, including "Gee," "Well," and "Listen." Millions of peasants use fewer than 500 words.

THE HOLLAND CITY NEWS

DR. WESTRAE ISSUES WARNING

In a warning to Holland residents Dr. William Westrae, health officer, said this is the season of the year when colds are most prevalent and if neglected are most likely to result in more serious conditions such as influenza and pneumonia.

Much can be done to avoid colds by following a few simple rules, he pointed out.

Avoid exposure, fatigue and bodily excess, it was warned.

"Sleep from eight to ten hours each night with windows open, but under enough covering to keep warm."

"Eat a moderate, mixed diet and drink from six to eight glasses of water each day at regular periods."

"Wear clothing to suit the environment and which will prevent chilling of the body surfaces and which keeps the body dry."

"Avoid people with colds, especially those who are sneezing or coughing. There is more danger from contact with those just beginning to feel ill than those ill enough to be confined to bed."

"Keep out of crowds as much as possible."

"Avoid the use of common towels, basins, glasses, eating utensils and the like."

"Wash the hands before eating."

"Avoid the use of any so-called preventative."

Dr. Westrae said that any person who becomes ill or feverish should go to bed at once, cover up warmly and send for a physician.

"Remember that the most important measure in prevention of pneumonia or other serious complications is to remain in bed until all symptoms have disappeared and then under a doctor's advice, return very gradually to usual activities, making it a rule to rest before becoming tired."

Oho! Oho! Life of a Farmer's wife, Oh! Oh!

EVERYBODY IS LOAFING BUT MOTHER, IF THIS REPORT IS TRUE

How much help does the farm woman receive in her homemaking?

Does her husband give her much time to assisting with household tasks and minding the baby? Do the children give mother a hand? Is a hired girl frequently employed to lighten the work?

A study recently made by the bureau of home economics makes it clear that the work of the home on the farm is no longer a family affair. Almost all of it falls to the lot of the homemaker herself.

While farm women spend fifty-one and three-quarters hours per week on the average in homemaking tasks, only nine and one-quarter hours per week were spent by all other persons in their households. Most of this help, of course, came from members of the family—seven and three-quarters hours per week in the average home, or a little over an hour per day. Only one hour per week was given by hired help and the remaining half hour came from guests in the home.

Who were the members of the family giving this slight amount of help? Just two hours per week were contributed by the farmer himself, four and one-half hours by daughters and other women relatives in the home, and one and one-quarter hours per week by sons and other men relatives.

Naturally many farm women received less help than nine and one-quarter hours per week, and some received much more. One homemaker, in fact, was blessed with 111 hours of help during the week, or almost sixteen hours per day; but this was a most unusual household, with five children under ten years of age and a hired girl and a hired man to come to the mother's assistance.

In the great majority of cases the amount of help given the housewife was very small. Seventy out of 559 farm women received as much as three hours per day, in contrast with ninety-nine who had no aid whatever.

How much help a particular homemaker received depended first of all, of course, on whether she had a hired girl; but only twenty-nine of these housewives employed any paid help whatever, and half of these had less than seven hours per week. Only six homemakers, in fact, had full-time hired help.

A daughter of high school age or over, or a sister or other woman relative living in the home, was the housewife's next best chance of assistance. Just 103 of the group of 559 had help from this source.

But again the amount of time which each helper gave was small, averaging thirteen and three-quarters hours per week for the women of twenty years of age or over, and only ten and one-quarter hours per week for daughters of fifteen to nineteen years. For younger daughters the figures dropped still lower—to six hours for girls ten to fourteen, and to three and one-quarter hours for girls of six to nine.

The men of the household, as would be expected, made an even poorer showing. Two-thirds of the husbands lent a hand in some phase of housekeeping, but the amount of help which they gave made but a small dent in the volume of work to be done—three hours per week on the average. The sons who helped gave still less time, even the older ones averaging less than two and one-half hours per week.

Rev. G. H. Hoppers, D.D., Ontario, N.Y.—Dr. Hoppers has served a number of churches in the denomination. He has served the church at Ontario for a period of 22 years. But the pastoral relationship was dissolved on December 1st. Dr. Hoppers has written many controversial articles in defense of the Reformed Faith, pamphlets on various themes, and also a book on the Reformed Principles.

Rev. M. E. Koster came from Fulton, Ill., to his present charge in E. Williamson, N.Y., in 1918. One of his daughters, Ruth, graduated from Hope College last June and is at present at home. A second daughter, Esther, is at present a Freshman at Hope. She is majoring in music.

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

By T. E. STEWARD
WNU Service

Maize, or Indian Corn

ALTHOUGH some poorly supported claims have been made for its origin in southeastern Asia, Indian corn is considered beyond reasonable doubt a native of America, possibly the Old world food plant given to the New. Not only is there ample proof that maize was raised in America long before the first discoverer ever touched foot here, but it is equally true that no proof exists of its having been known before that time in either Asia, Egypt or Europe.

Best of all proofs, though a circumstantial one, that corn is American, is the fact that it spread through Europe and Asia with great swiftness once it had been introduced from America. This being so, say the botanists, a similar swift spread of so valuable a grain would have taken place centuries sooner had it been available for planting. It would have been as valuable and desirable as the 400 or 800 A. D. as it was in 1492.

Corn probably originated in the blands of what is now the Republic of Colombia. This belief is supported by the fact that it was grown both by the Indians of pre-discovery Peru and of ancient Mexico. But these two groups had little commerce and, in fact, almost no knowledge of one another. From that it is deduced that both got it from a common source.

Common use in Europe of the name "ble de Turquie" or Turkish wheat, for corn, has misled some investigators into believing that maize was actually Turkish, or eastern, in its origin.

A fascinating fact in the story of maize is that it has never been found in the wild state anywhere in the world.

Dr. C. Otto Rosendahl, professor of botany at the University of Minnesota, declares that this is interesting, but has little bearing on the question of its origin. Maize is not alone among plants known in cultivation but not in the wild state. He does not hold that maize is a species developed by man from a wild form, but rather that it is a species, like the bean, preserved by man from what would otherwise have been extinction. Like the bean, maize has no natural means of "locomotion." Its seed cannot be carried by wind or water, nor is it sufficiently hardy to resist digestion in the stomachs of animals, although it sometimes does so. The likelihood is that it originated in a small area. A glacier, a volcanic eruption or a complete change of climate may have wiped it out. To now, no authenticated wild growth of the species has ever been recorded. The important thing is that it has been preserved for the use of man, the great gift remaining from the vanished civilization of the Incas and the Aztecs.

He was taken to University hospital, where attaches said the entire lower part of his body had been burned. He is expected to recover. HOPE QUINET DEFEATS CALVIN COLLEGE TEAM 31 TO 26

At least 300 fans left Holland for Grand Rapids Wednesday evening to see Hope College's court five defeat Calvin college's quintet 31 to 26 in a closely contested struggle during which Hope held a lead all the way, although constantly threatened by the Grand Rapids cagers. The nearest Calvin approached in overhauling the visitors came in the closing minutes of play when the Knights drew up within three points, 22 to 22, but Hope rallied to the occasion and finished with a rush.

Hope started out fast and gradually gathering momentum in its attack went out ahead by a big margin in the first half while Calvin seemed unable to get started. Finally Coach Cornelisse put in three new men. Boelkins, Eldersveldt and Houseman and the Calvinites became a different team. The locals came back with a rally of their own and brought the score up to where things looked a little brighter for Calvin's chances, the count reading 18 to 13, Hope, at the half.

The early part of the second half witnessed close defensive play with Calvin, although failing to score, nevertheless holding the Hope cagers even. Both teams missed plenty of shots, especially the visiting outfit. The latter part of the second period found the action becoming faster and the excitement reached a high pitch when the Schouten five's lead began to dwindle. With Hope leading 25 to 20, Bontekoe put in a pretty under-basket shot that reduced the visitor's margin to three points. But Becker sank a field goal to again raise Hope's total and Cupey followed with two fouls and another field goal to give his team a secure advantage, which it retained until the game ended.

Two Hope performers, Zwemer forward, and Becker, guard, the latter a Grand Rapids boy, both left the game via the personal foul route. Boelkins, Calvin forward, also had four personals called upon him and left the contest.

Becker, however, with nine points to his credit, played an outstanding role in the Hope attack while Spoelstra, center, accounted for six.

DECORATION DAY COMMITTEES WILL MISS "GENE" GOURDEAU

Friends of Mr. Eugene Gourdeau—and there are many in Holland,—were shocked Monday morning to hear of the sudden death of this veteran of the Spanish American War who died unexpectedly. Mr. Gourdeau was always active in Holland camp and was called on from year to year to aid in the preparation of Memorial Day exercises. These men will surely miss the untiring service of the soldier who has just passed away at 71 years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the United Spanish War Veterans of which he was a member and an official. Cornelius Swartz, chaplain of Soldiers' Home in Grand Rapids conducted the services. Interment took place in Rest Lawn cemetery.

A large gathering of friends and members of the Holland camp and auxiliary of U. S. W. V., attended the services in a body, meeting at the city hall and marching to the Nibbelink-Notter Funeral Home, where services were held.

Six comrades of the deceased of Company C, No. 157, called Tigers of the Infantry of Goshen, Indiana, served as pallbearers. They were LeRoy Darnell, of Chicago; Joseph A. Collins, Lindsay E. Perry, Warren Sheffer, George C. Beaver, and William H. Burkett, of Goshen, Indiana.

Services at the cemetery were in charge of Chaplain Swartz and John Homfield. A squad of the American Legion fired a salute at the grave. Taps were played by George Mooney.

Mr. Gourdeau leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. G. H. Holloway of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Robert F. Galpin of Muskegon, Ia.

A large delegation of Spanish War veterans and Auxiliary from Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Goshen, Indiana, and Chicago attended.

MRS. PELGRIM REVIEWS BOOK AT MEETING

A meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms. Mrs. George Pelgrim gave a review of the book, "The Education of a Princess," by Marie Grandduchess of Russia.

This story covers only the years of her birth in 1890 to her arrival in the United States in 1918. She is now employed as a stylist by Bergdorf-Goodman in New York City.

Marie's grandfather was an Emperor hence the title "Grandduchess" for Marie. Nicholas II last Czar of Russia was her cousin. He and his wife were close to Marie, always trying to make up to her the loss of her parents. It was due to these associations that she came in contact with royalty and its customs.

Marie's mother, Princess Alexandra of Greece, was married at the age of 18 to Duke Paul of Russia. The two children born to them were Marie and a son, Dmitri. The mother died when the boy was born. The father cared for the children until he remarried and was banished from Russia. Marie then 11, says this was her great sorrow.

At 18, Marie, against her wishes, was married to Prince William of Sweden. However, the marriage was not successful and was annulled soon after the birth of a son, Prince Lennart.

Marie took an active part in the war and was known as the cheerful nurse. She later became head of the hospital at Pskov. After this she lived with her father's family in Petrograd. Here she became acquainted with Sergiy Putiatin, a friend of her stepbrother. In spite of the war, these two fell in love and were married in September of that year. Her father's family all had been imprisoned before the wedding.

The closing chapters describe the hardships of that winter and the escape of Marie and her husband to the United States in 1918.

Mrs. Marvin Lindemann had charge of the music for the afternoon. Miss Ruth Keppel ably rendered three violin selections of Russian music, "Meditation" by Glazounow, "Hindu Chant" from the opera Sadko and Paraphrase of Russian folk songs by Kreisler. Miss Nella Meyer accompanied Miss Keppel.

HOPE QUINET DEFEATS CALVIN COLLEGE TEAM 31 TO 26

At least 300 fans left Holland for Grand Rapids Wednesday evening to see Hope College's court five defeat Calvin college's quintet 31 to 26 in a closely contested struggle during which Hope held a lead all the way, although constantly threatened by the Grand Rapids cagers. The nearest Calvin approached in overhauling the visitors came in the closing minutes of play when the Knights drew up within three points, 22 to 22, but Hope rallied to the occasion and finished with a rush.

Hope started out fast and gradually gathering momentum in its attack went out ahead by a big margin in the first half while Calvin seemed unable to get started. Finally Coach Cornelisse put in three new men. Boelkins, Eldersveldt and Houseman and the Calvinites became a different team. The locals came back with a rally of their own and brought the score up to where things looked a little brighter for Calvin's chances, the count reading 18 to 13, Hope, at the half.

The early part of the second half witnessed close defensive play with Calvin, although failing to score, nevertheless holding the Hope cagers even. Both teams missed plenty of shots, especially the visiting outfit. The latter part of the second period found the action becoming faster and the excitement reached a high pitch when the Schouten five's lead began to dwindle. With Hope leading 25 to 20, Bontekoe put in a pretty under-basket shot that reduced the visitor's margin to three points. But Becker sank a field goal to again raise Hope's total and Cupey followed with two fouls and another field goal to give his team a secure advantage, which it retained until the game ended.

Two Hope performers, Zwemer forward, and Becker, guard, the latter a Grand Rapids boy, both left the game via the personal foul route. Boelkins, Calvin forward, also had four personals called upon him and left the contest.

Becker, however, with nine points to his credit, played an outstanding role in the Hope attack while Spoelstra, center, accounted for six.

EXAMINATION OF LESTER VENHUIZEN SET FOR SATURDAY

Lester Venhuizen was arraigned before Justice Cornelius DeKeyser on the charge of not stopping his automobile and rendering first aid in an accident. He demanded examination which was set for Saturday morning at the city hall. Venhuizen furnished $300 bond for his appearance.

It is charged Venhuizen was driver of the car which struck Elmer Ray Kuhlman, age 9. Complaint against Venhuizen was made by Police Chief Frank VanRy. Venhuizen, it is further charged, failed to stop his machine and did not report the accident until the next day.

In explaining the situation, Lester Venhuizen stated he felt a jar, but thinking he had struck a dog or some obstruction paid no attention to it, but when later he heard a boy had been injured he immediately started an investigation and when convinced he was the driver of the car he so informed Chief VanRy.

Venhuizen and Kuhlman are friends and neighbors. The Kuhlman boy is confined to Holland hospital with a severe scalp wound, fractured leg and painful body bruises. Russell Beekman said he and Elmer Kuhlman were standing near the curb when a machine swerved toward them, striking Elmer and dragging him for some distance. Beekman escaped the impact and was not hurt.

Tramps Break Into Sealed Express Car — Caught in Holland

Charged with rifling packages on an express car of a Pere Marquette train from Chicago, James Collins and Ralph Martin were arrested at Holland Monday by Officer Niel Plaggenhoef and are held in jail.

Chief Van Ry states the men had been drinking and that they appeared dazed when they emerged from the car and began wandering about in the direction of Waverly. One of the men was wearing a pair of trousers which officers said were taken from a rifled package. Other packages had been broken open and a mail pouch had been slit, officers contend.

When the train arrived in Holland early Monday morning, train men noticed that the seal of the express car door had been broken.

Authorities at Sawyers, south of Holland, state that some old clothing had been thrown from the passing train and wired Holland and the local police to watch the train when it arrived. The result was the arrest of the men who not only were drunk but had bottles of "booze" with them.

Local postmaster, Ed. Westveer, called up the postal inspector's office at Grand Rapids and the inspection of the mail and parcel post sacks is being made and a check on the possible goods taken will not doubt come to light. The men are being held until this inspection is completed.

Ralph Martin and Stephen J. Holland, both of Chicago, arrested by Holland police Monday, following the robbery of a railway mail car between Chicago and Holland, are in jail awaiting consideration of their cases by the federal grand jury following their appearance before U. S. Commissioner Arthur VanDuren of Holland. The men who give their ages as 22 years, are said to have repeated admissions alleged to have been made to Chicago and Grand Rapids postal inspectors after which the commissioner fixed bail at $3,000 each, which they were unable to furnish.

The showing of the poultry picture "On the Trail of the Golden Egg," at Holland Town Hall Tuesday evening was worthy of the attentive interest of a representative crowd of local poultry raisers. Through a series of interesting and splendidly photographed scenes on the big poultry experimental plant at Larro Research Farm the audience was shown the extreme care taken to insure accuracy in test work. We saw enormous laying houses with their trap nests and other thoroughly practical equipment for recording egg production and feed consumption.

This film showed how seemingly small increases in efficiency could be responsible for enormous increases in our income from each ton of feed consumed. For instance, by decreasing mortality 2 per cent and adding 2 ounces to the average weight of baby chicks, our income from one ton of chick starter would be increased $58.00.

It was a worthwhile entertainment and instruction and the Cook Co., local feed dealers, through whose courtesy the film was shown are to be commended for their thoughtfulness in arranging for a local showing.

Old Auto Bow Building Being Used for Casket Factory

The officials of the Holland Chamber of Commerce announce that the so called Auto Bow factory building, a dead industry for some time has been reopened and will be occupied by a casket factory.

The company will manufacture a metal casket under the name of the Royal Casket company, a subsidiary to the Zeeland Ornamental company, which is engaged at present in the manufacture of casket hardware and trimmings with the addition of a well equipped factory of steel caskets.

The building is already being re-modeled and is awaiting new machinery. The proposition is not a stock selling matter, but is financed by the present owners of the Zeeland concern who believe Holland a suitable city in which to expand. Mr. Gross states that the plant already has 10 men at work and the company expects to place 30 more when the plant is fully equipped and in running order.

Scout Meet At Armory Was A Real Jamboree

Large Scout Representations From Out of the City Were Present

By PETER NORG Scout Executive

Between 800 and 900 Scouts and parents assembled at the Holland Armory for the first Annual Indoor Jamboree of the Ottawa-Allegan Area Council. The program of the events began at 8:00 o'clock, opening with several selections by the Holland Drum Corps led by Ben Mulder. The parade of massed colors followed, and the grand entry was made by the six district jamboree teams made up of the various communities. With every scout and visitor at attention, giving the proper salute, the colors were hoisted by Sea Scouts in charge of their officers. This was followed by the pledge to the flag and then all the Scouts rededicated themselves to the Scout Pledge.

Cheers for each district next filled the room and first call was sounded for the start of events.

The first event was the Snake Relay Race in charge of Wm. Vande Water of Zeeland, in which Troop 34 of the East Central District took first place, all other teams disqualified because of breaks in the lines. The winning time for this race was 18.4 seconds. The troop 34 teams was made up of the following boys: Paul Kiel, Harvey VanDam, Clarence Kloster, Russell Kiel, Claude TerHaar, Jared Nienhuis, Jake Cotts, and Lloyd Hoyer.

The first aid contest in charge of T. R. Ward of Allegan, proved a very difficult contest to judge. Troops 33 and 29 were tied for first place and Troops 6 and 1 for second. Elimination contests were again run off and Troop 33 of the South East District was given first place. Troop 29 of Saugatuck second place, and Troop 1 of Grand Haven, third. Troop 33 is located at Wayland in the South East District, and their first aid team was made up of the following boys: LeRoy Purtee, Howard Conrad, Carlos Russell and Robert Cozzer.

The next contest was the Knot-tying championship in charge of J. J. McCracken. First place was awarded to Emory Niemchuck, member of Troop 33, who tied the nine knots in 33½ seconds. Second place went to Troop 29, Saugatuck, 51 seconds, and third place to Troop 4, Leopersville, 61 seconds.

Fire by Flint and Steel proved to be a very speedy contest. Fire was made by Francis Fales of Troop 33, Wayland, in 7 seconds; Troop 34 of Forest Grove, 10 seconds; Troop 29, Saugatuck, 14 seconds.

In the Fire by Friction contest the best time was made by Robert Warnar of Troop 23, Grand Haven. His time was 20.5 seconds. Troop 20 of Hudsonville took second place with 1 minute and 38 seconds.

Demonstrations followed next in line. A signal tower constructed from pines, every piece tied with ropes. Troop 3, Grand Haven demonstrated.

Troop 29, Saugatuck, demonstrated Pyramid Building. Troop 30, Virginia Park, demonstrated some model airplanes and Troop 34, Forest Grove, gave a demonstration in rope making.

Judges for these various contests were made up almost entirely of outside men. Four Scoutmasters under the leadership of Edward Mersen, South Haven, and five Scoutmasters under the leadership of Dr. A. W. Moore, Muskegon, making a total of eleven judges from outside councils.

Dr. A. Leopersville was in charge of the judging on First Aid. Leon Moody was official timekeeper, and Commissioner Stephen Mead was supervisor of judges and scorekeeper.

A Court of Honor swung into action immediately after the demonstrations. This committee was made up of Prof. E. Winter, acting as the chairman, C. C. Benson, Allegan, and C. L. Beach, Holland.

Carl Seif, Scoutmaster of Troop 8, received several Second Class certificates for members in his troop.

Scoutmaster E. C. Roberts, Troop 23, received Merit Badges and Star badge. Scoutmaster Louis Mulder, Troop 12, Holland, received his 10-year Veteran.

Raymond Lamb, Scoutmaster of Troop 22, Holland, was presented with the Stanley Cup. Troop 22 maintained the highest percentage in the troop rating system for the year 1930. This is the second year that this troop has won this especially high honor.

Beautiful bronze medals were presented to Scouts showing the highest degree of efficiency in Knot-tying, Fire-by-Friction and Fire by Flint and Steel. An appropriate banner will be presented to the group of boys standing highest in First Aid Contest, and to the troop which made the best record in the Skin the Snake Relay Race.

Tells of Trip From Holland to Dark Africa

MISS BREEN, MISSIONARY, SAW MANY THINGS OF INTEREST IN MAKING JOURNEY

By MISS NELL BREEN, Missionary in Africa.

Kuambai, Nigeria, Nov. 22, 1930.

Dear Mission Friends:

It almost seems like one of our late summer days, and it seems real good after some of the hot days we've had. October was real hot, then the latter part of November the Harmottous came and there is a relief just before the hottest part of the year—January and February.

These four months since leaving home have gone very fast. It has all been so different from anything ever experienced before. Some of you very likely have heard about the trip here. As planned, I spent a few days in Paterson with Miss Veenstra's family. Then that Saturday a group went with me to the boat. It was so good to have some friends ashore as the boat left. We had had a short service in the Lounge before the bell rang for visitors to get off. Soon we were off and past the Statue of Liberty. The boat took the northerly route so we were wearing winter coats and using steamer rugs after a few days, at the same time it was so terribly hot at home.

I felt lonesome at first after such a busy time at home, but as He promised, He was with me and lonesomeness fled. It doesn't take long before one makes friends and we soon had a group of about six that spent part of the day together. We were glad though to get to Liverpool Sunday noon. This made just eight days on the boat.

Mr. Jones, the secretary of the Sudan Interior Mission, met me in the Customs House. I was hunting around to find my trunks when he came and took care of it.

Then I went to their home for a few days, before going to our Mission office in London.

England was so different from what I had expected. It is all so old fashioned. Liverpool had very few autos but bicycles and motorcycles in abundance. The homes are very different also.

Miss Hildebrand arrived in London the same day I did. She was to be my cabin mate, so we spent the rest of the time in England together.

She had a great deal to buy yet as she had been in France studying French and couldn't get what she needed there.

I also had my tropical things to buy, so we trotted the streets of London together asking policemen half a dozen times a day how to find places. We had some time for sight seeing.

We saw St. Paul's Cathedral; its mammoth and oh, so beautiful. Also the British Museum, it is so different from Field's in Chicago. They have stone inscriptions from old Ur of the Chaldeans, Nineveh, and Babylon, etc. Being an old nation, they have ancient things also from Greece and Rome of long ago. We saw the Alexandrian manuscript of the Bible. It is one of the three oldest in existence. Also saw the Rosetta Stone that gave the key to the old Grecian writings. In one case were old letters written by Cromwell, old kings and historic personages. Milton's original Paradise Lost was there. It was very enjoyable. Then we went thru the Parliament buildings. Saw where the English laws were made, the Royal throne, etc. It was all so impressive. Next we went to Westminster Abbey. I really can't describe it. It's such an odd building. It is very old and some beautiful architecture. The ceilings are like gold fans. St. Paul's has such a beautiful ceiling in the dome, while this one was so pretty in the chapel of Henry VII. The old coronation chair was there; tombs of royal family and English nobles. David Livingstone's grave was there also. One part had a beautiful mosaic floor and we had to put soft overshoes on to go in. One Chapel in the basement was where the old monks met during times of persecution. It was also a place where the government money was kept and the precious jewelry. Later we saw Spurgeons Tabernacle.

About 100 boats are in storage at the plant of the Jesiek brothers. They are building a 60-foot mahogany cabin cruiser for E. C. Denman of Rock Island, Ill., who spends his summers at Waukegan. SPORTING

Holland Christian high's powerful quintet invaded Hart and defeated the high school team there by a 34 to 1 count. The visitors presented a fast, flashy offensive, snatching an early lead and going out in front to hold a 20 to 8 margin at the half. Brat, of Holland Christian was his team's outstanding performer on the offensive getting a total of 15 points. VanFassen also played a strong game for Holland. Pite was Hart's most capable star, making 5 points.

Grand Rapids South high defeated Holland's five at the Armory on last Friday night in a closely fought struggle, 22 to 17. The visitors employed a reserve lineup, saving their men for the important city title battle with Ottawa Hills, at Grand Rapids Saturday night. And the reserves proved themselves worthy of the task. Not one South high regular did any scoring in the contest, the varsity only playing a short time. The score at the end of the first quarter was 4 to 4. In the second period, the invading Trojans advanced into a ten to five lead which they held when the first half came to an end. The third quarter found Coach Rose's men rolling up an increased advantage, scoring ten points to Holland's six in the third stanza and ending 20 to 11 going into the final quarter, Holland put on a rally in the last period, but to no avail. The Hingham got 6 to South's 2 in the closing 8 minutes. For South, Johnson, with five field goals for a 10-point total, was the outstanding star, while Preston and Heinzelman accounted for the rest of the points made by the Red and Blue, each making three field goals and six points apiece. For "Bud" Hingham's revamped team, Slighter scored six points to tie with Te Roller for high scoring honors. In the preliminary game, the South seconds kept their season's victory string unbroken by edging out the Holland reserves, 15 to 14. The Holland Christian girls' defeated the Muskegon girls' team 31 to 23.

Hillsdale college strengthened its grip on second place in the M. I. A. A. pennant race by defeating Hope College here Thursday night 36 to 23. Hope led 13 to 11 at the half. The teams seasawed for the lead in the second half until Hillsdale clinched the game by several well directed shots. Restifo led in the points for Hillsdale with 11 and Brooks was runnerup with 9. Spoelstra led Hope with 11 points and Dalman was second with 9. Hope frosh defeated Richmond Street church of Grand Rapids 39 to 24 in the preliminary.

A large crowd of Saugatuck and Zeeland fans watched Zeeland High school register two victories over Saugatuck at Zeeland Friday in the High School Gym. The first game was between the reserve teams of both schools which was won by Zeeland. The final score of this game was 35 to 6 in Zeeland's favor. The main game between the two teams of both schools, was more closely contested. For the greater part of the time the difference in score between the two teams was slight, Zeeland leading at the end of the first half 13 to 10. At the close Saugatuck had 20, Zeeland 26.

Smallpox quarantines in Saugatuck and Douglas have prevented organizations from meeting regularly. It seems the worst is over, however, since the Rebekahs and the Ladies' Society of the Congregational church of Douglas have meetings scheduled again.

INDIA and Its Peoples

By Capt. L. R. Cloud Robinson

India Under Water

IN THE rainy season—June to October—the plains of Bengal present a remarkable spectacle. In the eastern part of the province the whole land is under water from which spring wonderful crops of jute and rice, transforming the whole country into a vast field of emerald green. Villages have the appearance of small islands set in a vivid green sea. The houses almost buried in dense clumps of shady trees—mango, banana, palm and bamboo—are supported on artificial foundations raised a foot or two above the usual level of the monsoon floods.

Small boats with varied colored sails move over the great expanses of the rivers. Indian children in curious little improvised boats of clay, paddle themselves around the creeks which eat into the village site. One may witness the strange phenomenon of a boat sailing across a field of jute or rice. These crops grow in varying depths of water, usually several feet, and in some cases where there are depressions in the surface of the land, up to 15 feet and more. It has been recorded that as fast as the water rises the stalks grow, so that the ear is never immersed in water. Such crops are reaped in boats, but ordinarily the men of eastern Bengal spend the day waist deep or more in water.

This cultivated land remains under water as much as five months of the year, so that, since most of the harvesting is done under these conditions, man becomes an amphibian. Yet curiously enough, the Indian dislikes getting his head wet and I have seen men up to their arms in water, clad only with a loin cloth and wearing large circular, pleated bamboo hats to keep off the rain.

In eastern Bengal rivers form the highways, and in the monsoon season innumerable smaller channels take the place of country lanes. This is the most convenient season for travel. The heat and moisture are oppressive and the insect life, vast in number and bewildering in variety, is a constant source of exasperation, but one may move freely wherever one wishes, for water the medium of travel, is universal.

The scene through which one passes, though monotonous at times, has a peculiar charm, for seldom can one see elsewhere so glorious a variety of shades of green. Little can be seen of the dwelling of the Indians, owing to the density of the jungle that surrounds them. A cultivator's house consists often of a number of semi-detached sheds of wattle, built round and opening onto a courtyard. The big man of the village may have a most substantial residence of brick. Sometimes the force of the rain is so great that the mud houses of the natives are washed away. Where such a calamity has overtaken them, I have known of Indians who have built themselves houses in the trees until the rainy season has passed.

Spearing Laws Are Now Fully Explained

ENFORCEMENT DIVISION PUBLISHES OUTLINE OF SPEARING REGULATIONS

Despite the fact that the state is experiencing its second season under the present winter and spring fishing and spearing regulations, large numbers of inquiries concerning details of the spearing laws are being received by the Law Enforcement Division of Conservation.

To facilitate understanding these regulations, the Division has prepared an outline which it believes will help those who wish to spear or fish with hook and line through the ice.

The outline follows:

A spear without the use of artificial light may be used on inland lakes open to the public for fishing, for taking grass or great northern pike, mullet, suckers and red-sides during the time these lakes are frozen. Spearing on streams or ponds created by the backwaters of an artificial barrier in a stream is prohibited during this period.

All species of fish except large and small mouth black bass, brook, brown and rainbow trout, may be taken by hook and line through the ice on inland lakes or non-trout streams during the winter season.

Five ice lines which are single lines with single hooks attached may be used if attended at least every hour.

Spears with or without the use of artificial light may be used on non-trout rivers and streams during April and May for taking all species of non-game fish except grass pike which may be taken only during the month of May. Grass or Great Northern pike may not be taken during April by any means whatsoever.

FAIRS SEEM TO BE "HAS-BEENS"

In face of the fact that only four county fairs in Michigan paid expenses last year and the state fair was behind more than $35,000, it is proposed by Grand Rapids people that the state shall buy the grounds of the West Michigan fair and run it as a state enterprise. Instead of this, the state should get entirely out of the fair business. The state fair has become little else than a carnival for Detroit. The Grand Rapids fair is very much like unto it, and the county fairs in general have come to take on much of the same bad character. Therefore public interest in them as agricultural and industrial expositions has decidedly waned. These two large cities are abundantly able to provide their own fairs if they still think them worth while. The state has burdens enough now without acquiring a lot of "dead horses."—Allegan Gazette.

MORE THAN 8000 PHEASANTS LIBERATED

During 1930 the Department of Conservation liberated about 8,400 ring neck pheasants, a slight increase over the total for 1929. The releases consisted of 3,722 cock birds and 4,709 hens. Hen birds are released during August and September, but the cock birds are held at the Mason Game farm until after the close of the pheasant hunting season. Approximately 700 birds for breeding stock for the coming season. Last year 6,500 pheasant eggs were shipped from the Mason Game farm to the various organizations and individuals in moved pheasant territory who had filed written applications. All birds hatched from eggs supplied by the state must be released when old enough to care for themselves.

LANGLAND REMODELING FUNERAL HOME MARKS WORTHY IMPROVEMENT

The Langland Funeral Home is making some noteworthy improvements in its property on Main St., Zealand near St. street, and when completed will be a credit to that city, comparable very favorably with like institutions in larger cities.

The front part of the residence in which the office has formerly been held is being remodeled and equipped as a complete funeral home and chapel.

The entrance, which is to be situated in the front to one side of the building, one story high and about twenty-five feet wide. This entrance leads into the reception room. At the rear of the reception room is located the office. As you enter the reception room, to the right is the chapel room, 13 by 20 feet. This will accommodate seating for about sixty persons. By opening a large double door this may be increased, by using a large living room, to 125 persons.

VALUE OF BIRDS PER ACRE

Since 1917 State and Federal agencies have slaughtered more than two-thirds of all the cattle in the country infected with tuberculosis. . . .

Wild life is valuable. In the eastern part of the country, it has a meat and fur value of about 14 cents an acre; birds are worth more than 26 cents an acre as destroyers of insects and other pests. . . .

Bone meal is a very good commercial fertilizer for lawns. It is safe to apply and gives fairly quick results. Apply it in late winter or early spring, using from 10 to 15 pounds to 1,000 square feet.

A lubricating-oil emulsion spray applied in the dormant period is the most effective way to control the San Jose scale on deciduous fruit trees, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This pest sucks the sap of the trees; consequently lead arsenate and other stomach poisons are of no use. To be effective, the spray must hit every side of the trunk limbs, and twigs.

After having done over the two kitchen chairs, a Louisville woman discovered that she had a little lacquer left, and so she surprised her husband by putting a Chinese red finish on two of his golf clubs.—Louisville Times

Behavioristic Theory

The theory of behaviorism is a theory and method of psychological study, based on the conception that sound psychological progress must rest upon a purely observational and objective analysis of behavior, thus avoiding the "psycho-logical fallacy."

Michigan is TO HAVE ROAD; GAME REFUGE AND PARK MAP ALL IN ONE

A map of Michigan, combining the maps formerly issued by the State Highway Department and the Parks Division of the Conservation Department is now being prepared. The new map is being prepared by the Highway Department and the Park and Land Economic Survey Division of the Conservation Department.

For several years the Highway Department has been issuing a highway map of Michigan and including some features of conservation projects. During the same period the Parks Division has been issuing annual maps indicating state parks, forest and game refuges, and showing the main state highways. In the interests of economy the two Departments this year are cooperating in issuing a combined map which it is believed will serve a more valuable and practical function. The new map will be ready for general distribution next spring before the opening of the tourist season.

KILLING POULTRY

Before killing poultry, hang the birds up by their feet to insure complete bleeding. A fowl that is bled improperly has a dark, reddened skin, which detracts from its appearance. Such a fowl is likely to spoil more rapidly. Cut the jugular vein in the neck first and then pierce the brain, passing the knife through the opening in the roof of the mouth and into the brain.

Geese can be raised successfully in small number and at a profit on farms where there is plenty of grass or pasture land with a natural water supply. Geese are the closest grazers known and both mature geese and partially grown goslings will get their entire living from good pasture when it is available. Moist pasture land makes especially good grazing. Young and old geese are very hardy and are rarely affected by disease or insect pests.

Same Fix

He was too young to be in school. He seemed very lonesome since his playmates were gone. While he sat down with his head bowed and a downcast look on his face, a shaggy, dirty, little dog ran up to him whining. The dog was friendless and forsaken also. "Aw doggie," called the little lad, pathetically, "I'll play with you. Me and you go to the house."—

"Dear Old Town" Is Often Heard In Hertzog Hall

From Hope College Anchor.

Strains of "In that dear old town" are often heard ringing through the corridors of Hertzog Hall. New Brunswick Seminary dormitory. Nearly a score of Hope alumni are enrolled in the student body. This group is prominent in all the student activities of the seminary. They have maintained a high standard of scholarship, for seventy per cent of the scholarship awards during the last two years have been won by Hope graduates.

The student organization, The Society of Inquiry, which is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, organization of its sort in the country, has had Hope men at its head for the last three years, Richard P. Mellerv. '25, Theodore W. Luidens, '27, and William A. Heydorn, '28. This society, besides sponsoring the "Inquiry" activities among the students, is active in keeping the great tasks of the church before the student body. A round table discussion group at present, for example, under the leadership of Martin Hoeksema, '25, is discussing missions. Student prayer meetings are held weekly, the period of fellowship in prayer doing much to maintain the spiritual tone of the seminary. Last year under the chairmanship of Paul R. Hunter, '28, the seminary students conducted a life work conference in which full time service in the Kingdom was presented to over eighty young men. This conference resulted in a number of decisions on the part of young men to give themselves fully to the Master's work.

That interest is still being maintained in their Alma Mater is shown by the fact that two Hope men are planning a Hope reunion in conjunction with the basketball game to be played with New York Biblical Seminary in New York City. Five men from Hope are included in the New Brunswick squad, three of them being former varsity players in college. All Hopeites in the vicinity of New York are invited to this game to be played on January 9, 1931.

WHY PHEASANTS BECOME SCARCE

A new angle to the question of the scarcity of pheasants this year is presented by F. A. Mills, of Detroit. "There has been much waiting by the city hunters that there were no pheasants this year within a radius of 40 miles from Detroit, and I can give a good reason for this scarcity," says Mills.

"Within a distance of 30 miles from Detroit live many gardeners and farmers who raise gardens for themselves. The pheasants hide in a corn patch or berry bushes and sally forth in the morning, or at any time, and pick the ripening tomatoes, eat muskmelons, pick holes in apples and clean out whole patches of red raspberries. I can cite gardeners who have lost whole acres of tomatoes and have had hundreds of melons destroyed. When the gun license is divided justly and the man who feeds the game for 10 months each year is paid for his losses, you will have lots of pheasants for the city folk to shoot."

MICHIGAN FARMERS ARE THE HIGHEST TAXED OF ANY IN THE UNITED STATES

Michigan farmers are paying higher taxes upon their property than agriculturists of any other state in the Union. R. Wayne Newton, tax advisor of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, said the other day.

Newton bases his assertion upon statistics obtained from the United States department of agriculture which show that farmers, of this state are paying a tax levy in excess of those of other states. As a relief measure, Newton advocated the "Indiana" method of taxing.

Under this plan the farmers in Indiana have a chance to voice their opinion to the state tax commission if they believe their taxes too high and the commission will take the specific matter under advisement. He cited one particular instance where a sum of approximately $80,000 was saved Indiana's rural population.

Under the Indiana plan a group of 10 or more farmers must agree that they have been over-taxed before the state tax commission will act upon their request.

"Agriculture does not and cannot control the state legislature of Michigan," Newton said. "Reapportionment of the state legislature is one of the ways by which desired results can be obtained. Farmers approve of the redistricting plan, but not one such as was presented to them in the November election. They ask the co-operation of city groups to work out a plan that is fairer than the present one or that which was proposed."

"It's downright extravagance NOT to OWN a KELVINATOR"

Jack Knoll

"There are many people right here in Holland today who are denying themselves the pleasure and economies of electric refrigeration because they think they cannot afford it.

"As a matter of fact, if they are interested in saving money by cutting down expenses, they really cannot afford to be without one.

"A Kelvinator is not a luxury—it is a necessity. It is not an extravagance, but an economy, that effects economies in many ways.

"If it were possible to put a dollar-and-cents valuation on pleasure and pride of ownership, a Kelvinator would pay for itself the first month you had it in your home. But this pride of possession which comes from owning the best, is one of the benefits you cannot put a price on.

"The convenience of a Kelvinator, is another. Of all the modern appliances to make living more enjoyable and easier, electric refrigeration takes first place in the home.

"The pride of owning a Kelvinator and the many conveniences a Kelvinator offers the housewife are plus-benefits, over and above the actual economies a Kelvinator affords.

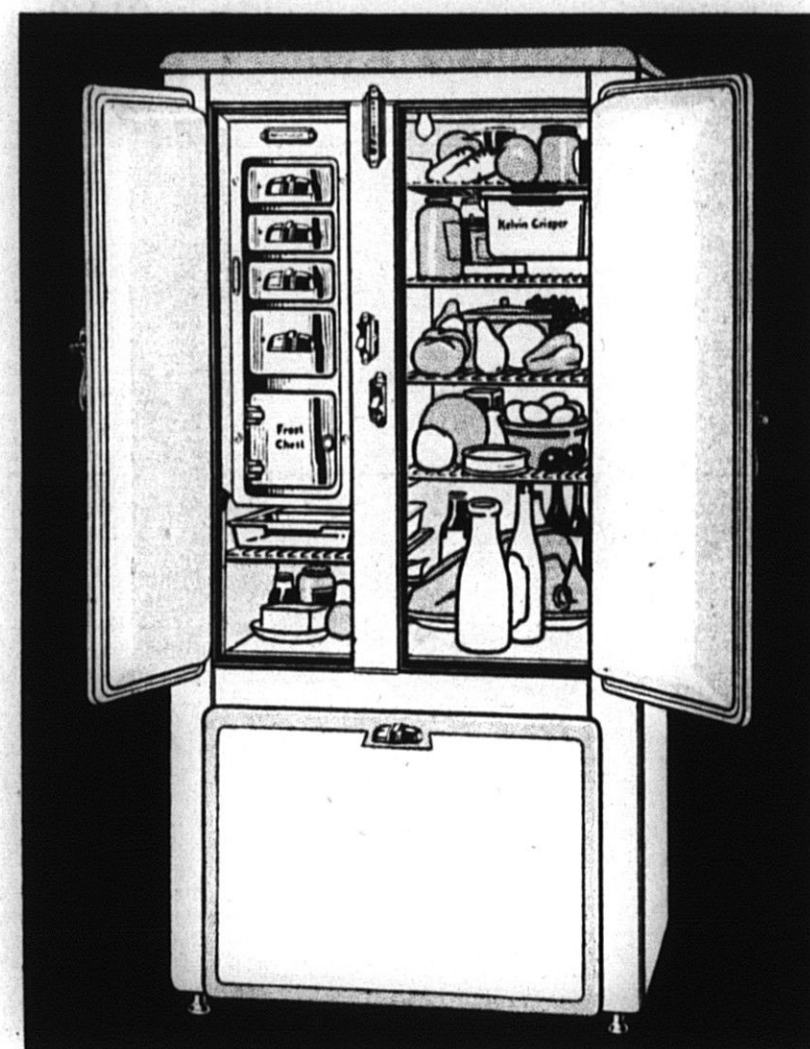

"Food spoilage alone, over a period of time, would account for a great part of the cost of a Kelvinator. Waste of food, due to inadequate refrigeration, actually costs the average family many dollars during the year.

"Kelvinator owners save money by buying in quantity and enjoying the advantage of lower prices because they can keep all kinds of food indefinitely—especially in the Kelvinator Frost Chest, where below freezing temperatures are constantly maintained automatically.

"It costs so little to operate a Kelvinator that the amount will hardly affect your budget. The difference between this cost and your former cost of refrigeration amounts to considerable, and as the years roll by, will more than equal the total cost of your Kelvinator. It is a fact that a Kelvinator pays for itself.

"With the small down payment and the long easy terms on which you can buy a Kelvinator, it is downright extravagance not to own one. The ReDisCo Monthly Budget Plan makes it possible for every one to own the Kelvinator Model which best suits their requirements.

"Come in and let me show you, in black and white, why it is real economy to own a Kelvinator."

Lesson for February 15

JESUS THE FRIEND OF SINNERS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus and Those Who Do Wrong.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus and Those Who Do Wrong.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of Sinners.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Transforming Sinners.

I. A Penitent Woman's Act of Love (vs. 37, 38).

1. The place (vs. 37). It was in the home of Simon, the Pharisee, while Jesus was sitting at meat. When she knew of Christ's visit to this home, she came to lay upon him her affections.

2. The act (vs. 38). She washed Jesus' feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. Through some means she had heard of the pardoning grace of Jesus Christ and God had opened her heart to receive Jesus as her personal Savior.

3. Who she was (vs. 37). Her name is not given. There is no good ground for assuming that she was Mary Magdalene. The implication is that she was of a notoriously bad character. Though known to the public as a bad woman, something had happened which transformed her. She was a saved sinner because she believed on Jesus Christ.

II. The Pharisee's Displeasure (vs. 40).

Simon felt scandalized by such a happening at his table. He was a respectable man. For Jesus to tolerate such familiarity on the part of a woman of such evil reputation greatly perplexed him. Though he believed in Jesus enough to invite him to dine with him, he questioned within himself as to whether, after all, he was not mistaken. He reasoned if Jesus were a real prophet, he would have known the character of this woman and would have either withdrawn his feet from her or thrust her back with them; or if he knew her character, his tolerance of such familiarity proved that he was not a good man.

III. Jesus Teaches the Pharisee (vs. 40-50).

He taught him by means of the parable of a creditor and two debtors. It is to be noted that Jesus made it very clear that he not only knew the woman but knew Simon also.

1. The common debt (vs. 41).

The woman was a sinner—so was Simon, though he was not the same kind of a sinner that she was. There were two debtors, though the one owed ten times as much as the other. This is still representative of all sinners. The Bible declares all to be sinners, yet recognizes degrees of guilt. Full credit ought to be given to the man who is honest, virtuous, generous, and kind, yet such a life will not secure entrance into heaven. Much harm has been done by even evangelical preachers through failure to recognize the essential differences in human character. On the other hand, the Savior's words are a severe rebuke to the respectable Pharisees who are sitting in judgment against sinners of a coarser type.

2. The common insolvency (vs. 42).

"And when he had nothing to pay," Jesus freely granted the difference in the degree of the woman's sins and those of the Pharisee, but drove home to him the fact that they were both debtors and that they were both unable to pay (Rom. 3:23). As sinners we may quit our sinning and hate our debts but that does not make satisfaction for the sins of the past. What we have done is irrevocable—it has passed from our reach. Every transgression shall require a just recompense of reward (Heb. 9:22). We must come to our Redeemer, the Almighty God, and acknowledge our insolvency and accept the kindness of Jesus Christ who bore our sins in his own body on the tree (1 Pet. 2:24).

3. The relation of forgiveness and love (vs. 43-50).

Simon's reluctant answer to Jesus' question showed that he got the point of Jesus' teaching. In order to make his teaching concrete, Jesus turned to the woman, calling Simon's attention to what she had done. Simon had lavished upon him her affections and gifts. The measure of one's love is determined by the measure of the apprehension of sins forgiven. The one most forgiven will love most. Frequently the worst sinners make the best saints.
