COUNCIL VOTES BUYING OF LOTS FOR PUBLIC USE

Van Ark Given Authority to Bid in Property at Land Auction

Solons Also Will Ask Land Board to Delay Sale of Another Site

To be used for public purposes, two pieces of property, located on the east side of Maple Ave. between 21st and 22nd Sts., are to be purchased by the city of Holland when they are offered for auction by the state land board at the scavenger sale now under way in Grand Haven.

Common council, meeting in special session at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson, adopted a report of its special committee to buy these two pieces of property and then passed a resolution, authorizing City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark to bid in this property, described as lots 25 and 26, Te Roller's first addition to the city of Holland.

Van Ark said the lots would be placed on auction Monday by the county treasurer. In accepting the special committee's report, council instructed Van Ark to bid up to $150 which represents the approximate amount of delinquent taxes on the two lots, most of which will be returned to the city.

A second resolution was passed in which the state land board will be asked to withhold from sale for one year a piece of property, located on the south side of 17th St., just east of Cleveland Ave., which is owned by Mrs. Charles Knutson.

Peterson informed council that Mrs. Knutson presented such a request to him. Delinquent taxes, he said, total between $17 and $18 while bidding would have to start at $37.50 or 25 per cent of its assessed valuation in 1938 which was $150.

City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker explained to council that the request to withhold, the property sale would have to come from council. Motion to pass this resolution was made by Ald. Ben Steffens, second by Ald. Henry Ketel. In reporting on behalf of the special committee, composed of Steffens, Ketel and Ald. Bruce Raymond, Steffens told council that the two pieces of property adjoin the city tennis courts "that we believe would be advisable for the city to acquire."

"It is the opinion of the city attorney and your committee that the city has no authority to purchase any property unless it can be legitimately used for municipal purposes," Steffens reported.

In other business considered by council, Ald. Martin Oudemool inquired about recent "rumors" involving the police department. Mayor Henry Geerlings reported he had met recently with the police and fire board about the matter, resulting in the board and police chief, signing a statement, denying any "misunderstanding."

Lokker reported that he and the mayor could assure council there was nothing of a serious nature that would necessitate council asking for a report on the matter from the police and fire board.

The oath of office of Henry A. Geerds, who was named by council last week to the police and fire board, succeeding Cornelius Stekette, who resigned, was accepted and filed to enable Geerds to take office when the board meets in regular session Monday.

Grand Haven, Feb. 15 (Special)—Holland city property which was confiscated by the state for non-payment of taxes prior to 1935 went on the auction block this forenoon at the scavenger sale which is being held in the supervisors' room by County Treasurer Fred H. Den Herder.

Vande Bunte, William Saunders, Peter Boer, George Albers, Robert Kouw, Peter Brusse, Gerrit Lemmen, Henry Kleis, Henry Oosting, John Arendshorst, Lucius Raven, Rudolph Brink, H. Boone and Frank Pfeifer.

There was considerable bidding as various pieces of property were offered for sale.

BANQUET DATE IS SET BY CLUB

Outdoor Group Will Hold Event March 21 With New Program

Thursday, March 21, has been set as the date for the annual banquet of the Holland Fish and Game club which will be held in Holland armory, according to announcement today by Jacob Lievens, who is serving his sixth year as club president.

The annual banquet has been an outstanding event in the activities of the club for many years and approximately 600 persons attend each gathering.

"Annual banquets have a tendency to slide into a rut and follow the same formula for entertainment from year to year but the board of directors is determined that the 1940 fish and game club banquet will be different," Mr. Lievens said.

The toastmaster of previous years is to be replaced by a master of ceremonies. No "main speaker" will be listed on the program.

The Holland American Legion band has been asked to entertain and its director, Eugene F. Heeter, has been advised that he will be given wide latitude in this part of the program. New "stunts" will be welcome. Mr. Heeter also will direct the community singing.

Mr. Heeter has been pledged to obtain the support of "Yocum" Woldring and Harm Van Ark when leading the large audience in the new swing version of the "Man on the Flying Trapeze."

Mr. Lievens has made the following assignments in the search for new means of entertainment to complete the program. Chief of Police Ira A. Antles is to round up vocal talent with the understanding that colored singers will be preferred.

Justice John Galien has promised to obtain a few vaudeville numbers. Ted Wyma is on the trial of the latest and best moving pictures available.

S. H. Houtman, chairman of the entertainment committee, is negotiating with northern Michigan's well known wit and entertainer, Ernest Sharpe, better known as "Newaygo Newt" for a 20-minute talk.

Approximately 30 members attended the meeting Tuesday. Motion pictures on pneumonia, a travelogue on Europe and Tulip Time were shown.

After discussion of the organization's participation in the 1940 Tulip festival, it was decided that the Jaycees would sponsor the activities of the Dutch Hospital-ity club and conduct the sale of poster stamps and programs.

GOP IN ALLEGAN TOLD POINTS ON STATE'S SAFETY

Kelly Says Security Will Hinge on Republican President, Peace

Praises Vandenberg and Says He Will Go to White House

Allegan, Mich., Feb. 15—Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly told 400 Allegan county Republicans at the annual Lincoln day banquet here Wednesday night that Michigan will be secure if this country keeps out of war, if industrial peace is attained and if a Republican president is elected in 1940.

"The cost of prosecuting war would strain our already stupendous national debt to the breaking point," Kelly declared. "Should our boys march again to European conflict they would march back, even though victorious, to lost democracy."

Accusing President Roosevelt of apathy in restraining the forces and cliques which in the past 10 years have promoted hatred rough this country and "set American against American," Kelly characterized the present administration as "the first in this country's history to attack the basic constitution of American democracy."

Although he pictured Michigan as mortgaged by previous administrations, Kelly prophesied security for the state in the "pay as you go" policy which he said the present administration is pursuing. He declared that the only menace to security lies in national relationships.

He lauded Sen. Arthur Vandenberg as "the man of the hour," who will go to the White House "pre-pledged to a single term and to strengthening of American ideals of democracy and government."

Frank M. Sparks, editor of The Grand Rapids Herald, was toastmaster at the banquet.

Introduced at the banquet by the Allegan County Republican Chairman, John F. Stockdale were State Sen. Earl Burhans of Paw Paw; State Rep. Arthur Odell of Trowbridge township, Allegan county; State Rep. Nelson Miles of Ottawa county; Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles and Allegan county Republican political leaders.

Kelly was cheered loudly by the crowd when he referred to the presidential candidacy of Vandenberg.

Davis to determine his mental condition and the existence of any mental disease or defect which would affect his criminal responsibility.

"After careful physical and mental examination we, the undersigned, are of the opinion that Neil Koopman was sane on Jan. 16, 1940, when he shot his father. We believe that he was sane at that time and is now," the report read.

The report also was signed by Charles F. Wogg, executive secretary of the Michigan state hospital commission. Koopman was examined in compliance with a state law, adopted by the 1939 legislature, which provides for examination of any person who is arrested on a murder charge.

Koopman is charged with first degree murder. Prosecutor Elbert Parsons said today he did not know when Koopman's case would be brought up in circuit court. The February term opens Feb. 19.

Koopman confessed he killed his father in the Northside grocery at Holland last Jan. 16 as a climax to a quarrel over money matters. It was at first thought Mr. Koopman had died of a heart attack and it was not until 24 hours later that it was discovered he had been murdered.

Move to Petition Council for Second Public Nurse

Needs Presented by Health Unit of Literary Club at Round Table

Results of a recent investigation into the need for an additional public health nurse, as made by the Civic Health committee of the Women's Literary club, were presented Monday night at a round table in the club house attended by representatives of various civic and service groups of the city, and a number of interested citizens.

Explaining that at present the city of Holland has one nurse for both school and city duties, and that she of necessity spends most of her time in the schools in contact with the 3,900 school children, Mrs. Ervin Hanson, in setting forth the findings of the club committee, stated that it is the belief of the club that this is inadequate public nursing service for a city the size of Holland.

Holland has, at present, one nurse for a population of 15,000, plus; Grand Rapids has approximately 50 nurses for 169,000, plus; and Grand Haven has one public health nurse per 8,000 population, she brought out.

"Englewood, N. J., an ideal example of adequate nursing service, has a population of 17,805 with a staff of 12 nurses. Our proposal would offer Holland one nurse per 7,000 to 8,000 population," she said.

"We believe an additional nurse is needed, primarily, in pre-natal, post-natal, and public health education work," Mrs. Hanson stated, showing that of 265 babies born in Holland in 1939, 92 were born at home, and of those born in the hospital, many mothers went home within the first week, some on the third or fourth day.

"The public health nurse could teach these mothers proper health hygiene and encourage them to seek the frequent care of their physicians, lessening greatly the risk of maternal and infant mortality. Ottawa county has dropped from first to third place in low infant mortality in the past year," she said.

In post-natal service the public health nurse would teach these mothers the necessity of proper home nursing to prevent infection and the vital need for medical attention, thereby insuring the health of Holland's mothers. Proper medical attention will help to prevent the possible occurrence of future cancerous conditions and radical pelvic surgery, it was explained.

"In health education work there is an unlimited field for the public health nurse. In addition to a high standard of nursing, she in many ways aids the family situations. In the absence of disease she encourages medical care for the correction of defects or for the discovery of incipient disease. In case of illness she is equipped to demonstrate nursing care which the family can easily carry out, thus lightening the anxiety and burden which illness always brings. She stresses the importance of early diagnosis and treatment. The public health nurse, in visiting homes can help to control the spread of communicable diseases. She teaches the importance of immunization. One important part of her duties is recording. This careful recording of each service rendered prohibits repetition and saves many dollars for the individual and the city."

"Two public health nurses cannot begin to do bedside nursing in so large a community, but they can teach our people to care for themselves. We believe the additional benefit to the health of our citizens warrants the additional expense," Mrs. Hanson declared.

The present nurse's salary is $2,200 a year, excluding car and gasoline, which she pays herself. It was suggested that the present method of financing, in which the city pays half of the nurse's salary, and the board of education, half, could be continued, with one nurse devoting herself to school nursing activities, and an additional nurse to public health nursing.

"Conditions point to constant increase for the need of public health nursing due to the inevitable growth of Holland," Mrs. Hanson said.

Mrs. Willard Wichers, co-chairman with Mrs. Hanson in the investigation, presided at the meeting. Several of those present commented on the proposition, and various questions were raised.

At the conclusion of the discussion petitions were distributed to the representatives of the various groups. It is the plan of the committee to present these petitions to common council at its regular meeting Feb. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahan Hurt in Indiana Mischap Fatal to Her Mother

Former Zeeland Man and Mother-in-Law Die in Mason Accident

Two relatives of Holland residents were fatally injured in two automobile accidents which occurred over the week-end.

A woman was killed near Michigan City, Ind. A man was killed near Mason.

Mrs. George Berry, 52, of Milwaukee, Wis., mother of Mrs. J. Thomas Mahan, 90 West 11th St., died Saturday night at 9:15 p.m. in Clinch hospital, Michigan City, of internal injuries which she received earlier in the day in an accident involving a car driven by her son-in-law, J. Thomas Mahan, 39, Holland attorney, and an auto transport truck, driven by Floyd D. Clapp, 43, 126 Ford Ave., Highland park, Mich.

In the other automobile accident, John Slagh, 45, former Zeeland resident and brother of Mrs. Gerrit Veurink of Holland, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Howard Moore, 70, of Mason were killed Friday at 4:30 p.m. near Mason.

The accident in which Mrs. Berry was killed occurred on US-20, two miles southwest of Michigan city. Mr. Mahan suffered head injuries and was still confined in Clinch hospital, Michigan City. Although Mrs. Mahan was released from the hospital after receiving treatment for bruises, she remained in Michigan City over the week-end.

Funeral services for Mrs. Berry were held at 9 a.m. from St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, with the Rev. John M. Westdorp officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Berry was riding with Mrs. Mahan in an automobile, driven by her son-in-law, J. Thomas Mahan. The group left Holland about 11 a.m. Saturday to spend the week-end in Chicago.

Mr. Mahan was still confined in Clinch hospital at Michigan City due to a concussion of the brain. His physician expects to give him a x-ray examination later in the week.

It is expected that Mr. Mahan, a Holland attorney, will be confined in the hospital for at least two weeks. He is conscious and when Mrs. Mahan, her brother, Lloyd Berry, and Mr. Mahan's brother, Leo Mahan, left there Monday afternoon, his condition was improved.

According to Indiana state police, Mr. Mahan reported he was driving his car in a westerly direction on the highway when his car skidded on the icy pavement into the path of the oncoming auto transport truck. Mr. Clapp was not injured, according to reports from Michigan city.

Mrs. Berry was reported to be a saleswoman for a large Milwaukee, Wis., firm.

She was born in Grand Rapids Jan. 31, 1888, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill. She was married in Grand Rapids 34 years ago to the late George A. Berry.

Survivors are the son, Lloyd Berry, and the daughter, Mrs. Mahan, of Holland; and two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Mills and Mrs. George Constantine, of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Slagh was well known in Holland having been employed in the Lievens garage here several years ago. After the World war, he operated the Zeeland City garage in partnership with William Lamer. Fourteen years ago he moved to Mason and became affiliated with the Hall-Slagh agency.

The crash occurred Friday when the car which Mr. Slagh was driving skidded on the ice, hit a snowbank, rebounded and crashed into a large semi-trailer truck. A piece of steel was embedded in Mr. Slagh's head and both his lungs were badly punctured. Mrs. Moore suffered a large shock on the head and her chest was crushed. They were taken to a hospital in Mason where Mr. Slagh lived four hours and Mrs. Moore three hours. Mr. Slagh was unconscious during the time, but Mrs. Moore was conscious. They were the only occupants of the car.

Mr. Slagh had a rather spectacular war record with the 128th Infantry. On one occasion his gas mask was shot from his head and he was gassed.

He was born in North Holland and attended school there. Later the family moved to Zeeland where where Mr. Slagh married.

Surviving him are the widow; two children, Howard, 16, and Audrey, 14; two sisters, Mrs. Veurink of Holland and Mrs. A. A. Van Hoven of Zeeland, and two brothers, Jake Slagh of Borculo and Bert Slagh of Decatur.

Guesses on Population of City Range Up to 18,500

Accuracy of Estimates to Be Learned at End of U.S. Census

"How big is Holland city?"

With the federal government scheduled to take its decennial census during 1940. The News has completed a guessing game to determine who among those well acquainted with the city will have made the nearest estimate on Holland's official 1940 population.

The winner, who will receive only recognition of being the best guesser, will not be known, of course, until the federal census has been completed and the results have been announced.

Each person questioned was presented with Holland's population figures of 1930, 1920, and 1910 and then asked:

"How big is Holland?"

In each instance, they presented estimates to indicate that Holland has grown since 1930 when the government took its last decennial census. And a majority of them were of the opinion that Holland would show a much larger increase in 1940 over 1930 if those persons residing in the area surrounding Holland could be included with the population figures of the city.

From Holland post office, The News learned that Holland's official population in 1930 was 14,347. For 1920, the population was 12,183 and the 1910 population was 10,490. Thus, in a period of 20 years, the city has grown on an average of approximately 2,000 persons every 10 years.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson had figures that show the city's population in 1894 was 6,577 and 3,945 in 1890. From 1890 until 1930, a period of 40 years, Holland showed a growth in population of 10,402 persons.

Regarding the 1940 population, estimates varied from 14,497 to 13,500. The general guess was that the city's population might be somewhere in the 16,000's.

Mayor Henry Geertling said that a guess of 16,000 would be as good as any.

Police Chief Ira A. Antles estimated the city's population at 16,790, stating that he had seen a considerable growth in the city during the past 10 years.

Clarence Jalving, cashier of the Peoples State bank and president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, presented an estimate of 16,000 but stated there had been a much greater increase in local suburbs as a result of extensive building.

Henry S. Maents, president of the Holland State bank, said Holland's actual growth has been outside the corporate limits during the past decade but his estimate on the city's population was 17,000.

Postmaster Louis J. Vanderburg submitted the highest figures when he estimated the city's 1940 population at 18,500.

The lowest figure came from John A. Swets, superintendent of Holland Christian schools, who gave an estimate of 14,497 persons.

E. E. Fell, superintendent of Holland public schools, was next for the lowest estimate with his guess of 14,550.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, offered a prediction of 16,000 residents in Holland city.

John Grevenoged, assistant postmaster, predicted the city's population would be about 15,100.

City Clerk Peterson offered a guess of 16,250 after comparing the figures of the 1930, 1920 and 1910 census.

City Treasurer Henry J. Beckfort estimated the population at 16,575.

City Engineer Jacob Zuidema thought carefully and then gave 15,600 as his figure.

City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark presented an estimate of 16,650.

Miss Dora Schermer, local librarian, considered 15,657 a good guess.

Charles Vos, assistant superintendent for the board of public works, offered a guess of 16,500.

E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, presented a guess of 15,389.

Head of State Unit Talks at Meeting of Local Exchange Club

McDonald Says System Is Developing and Needs Improvements

Harry A. McDonald, president of the H. A. McDonald Creamery Co. of Detroit and chairman of the Michigan unemployment compensation commission, presented arguments for the continuance of unemployment insurance as a function of state government at the regular meeting of the Holland Exchange club in the Warm Friend tavern Monday noon.

In introducing his subject, Mr. McDonald said, "You probably don't know much about unemployment insurance, and I will approach the subject with that thought in mind." He stated that Michigan's commission was set up in 1936 by an act of the legislature, which was amended in 1937 and 1939, and that the commission must keep records of the money taken in and disbursed, settle disputed cases and "take adequate steps toward reducing unemployment in the state."

In quoting statistics on the work of the commission, he pointed out that there are 16,000 employers who, under the act, must pay for the insurance. These employers hire eight or more employees for a period of more than 20 weeks out of a calendar year. The number of employers who are possible recipients of benefits under the system total 1,399,000 in the state.

Since its organization the commission has collected a total of $132,964,211 and has paid out over 79 million dollars in benefits to more than 400,000 recipients.

"Unemployment insurance is not generally accepted as a good institution," he stated, "but it has been accepted in foreign countries for many years. A number of years ago most of us didn't carry the number of other types of insurance so that we will have continuity of income. Unemployment insurance is merely a continuation of this trend toward a continuous income."

He then pointed out that one of the principal errors that must be corrected in the system is that some employers pay in for years and never have a claim, while others, that do not have to pay premiums, are allowed to have claims.

Another serious problem is the one that allows a worker to have compensation if he cannot get "suitable employment." He illustrated that in some cases a man may think that he never has "suitable employment."

In conclusion, he reminded the club that the system is still being developed, and that many improvements are still needed in it. He stated that one of the greatest hindrances of the system is the petty chiseler, both employer and employee.

Music for the program was provided by a Negro quartet from the Boys' Agricultural school in Moshelle, Miss. They sang four songs.

Three new members of the club, George W. Ranger, George Schuman and Peter Kroman, were introduced by George Pelgrim. Guests at the meeting were W. H. Boer, William Wagenaar and Jack Barendse.

COMMON COUNCIL

Holland, Mich., Feb. 13, 1940
The Common Council met in special session pursuant to call by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Geerlings, Aids, Kleis, Drinkwater, Kalkman, Oudendool, Steffens, Ketel, Smith, Mooi, and the Clerk.

The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called to hear a report from the special committee appointed at the last Council meeting to look into the matter of acquiring property for the City that is to be sold by the State Land Office Board. He then called upon Ald. Steffens, Chairman of the Committee, to make a report.

Ald. Steffens reported that his committee had met with the City Assessor and City Attorney and gone into this matter very carefully. Since the law provides that cities may not purchase any property except for municipal use, it was the recommendation of their committee that only two parcels be purchased which are on Maple Ave. adjoining the tennis courts.

Committee further stated that the delinquent taxes on these two lots are approximately $150.00, and recommended that the City Assessor be instructed and directed to bid in these lots at a price up to this amount.

Adopted.
Committee then presented a resolution authorizing the City Assessor to purchase these lots.

Clerk reported having received a request from Mrs. Hans Knutson on behalf of the Charles Knutson Estate asking the City to pass a resolution withholding a certain piece of property on West 17th St. from sale inasmuch as it is their wish to pay the taxes in full on this particular lot.

On motion of Ald. Steffens, Adopted and Clerk instructed to forward this resolution to the State Land Office Board at Grand Haven.

Clerk presented oath of office of Henry A. Geerds, as a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

Accepted and filed.

City Engineer Zuidema reported having received a request from John G. Vander Vliet at 66 East 25th St. for a sewer in front of his property. City Engineer reported that Mr. Vander Vliet is now using a septic tank which is out of order and rather than put in another septic tank, desired to connect with the sanitary sewer if one were made available for him.

City Engineer further reported that in order to run this sewer in front of his property, the possible cost would be in the neighborhood of $220.00, and of this amount, the property owner could only be expected to pay about $60.00 which would leave a cos. to the City of approximately $160.00.

After a brief discussion on the matter, it was moved by Ald. Mooi, 2nd by Smith, that the City Engineer be instructed to proceed with the laying of this sewer. Adopted unanimously.

Adopted.

Oscar Peterson, City Clerk.

ACCURACY

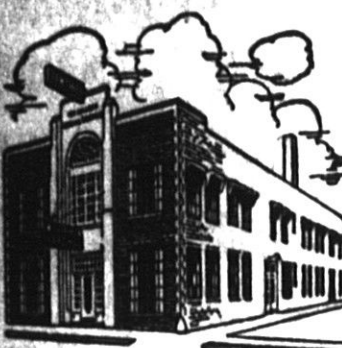

There are several factors of vital importance in maintaining the high quality of Michigan's telephone service. One is the experienced skill of the Western Electric Company, manufacturing department of the Bell System. Another is the constant research of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Of even greater importance is the highly trained group of Michigan men and women who assume a personal responsibility in seeing that every telephone message you make goes . . . swiftly and dependably . . . straight to the mark.

STILL A WAR OF NERVES

When England and France finally declared war on that fateful third of September the people of France and of the British empire breathed a sigh of something like relief. "Anything is better than a war of nerves," they declared.

But to the world's astonishment the fact is beginning to emerge that this strangest of all wars is still a war of nerves—with the added inconvenience that it is also a war of physical suffering for millions. After five months of war it is beginning to look as if the side with the best nerves will finally emerge the winner.

The developing pattern of the war has been described in broadcasts and in news reports. The hope of the Allies was at the start that the German morale would not be able to stand up under the strain of hunger. That was the reason for the scattering of leaflets by plane over Germany during the early weeks. The Allies counted on the breakdown of the nerves of the enemy. The admission is now freely made that that hope has been abandoned; the nerves of the enemy show no sign of cracking.

Then the war pattern became one of watchful waiting—the so-called Liddell Hart pattern of standing on the defensive and letting the enemy waste force against a defensive wall. Again, the hope was that in that vain effort the nerves of the enemy would be weakened and would presently crack. But the Germans apparently decided they could play the same game. In any event, there are as yet no signs that the German nerves are weakened more than the nerves of the Allies. Faith in the war of defense is rapidly weakening. At any rate there is no sign as yet that the Allies are winning the war of nerves by standing pat; advocates of a face-about policy, with the Allies taking the offensive, are rapidly increasing. The newest war of nerves is as hard on one side as on the other.

Which side will best be able to stand the strain? Not the strain of long casualty lists, of death and destruction—human beings are so constituted that they can stand an enormous amount of actual suffering. Rather the strain of fearing the coming of death or destruction. The war of nerves is harder on average people than the war of actual sacrifices. There is a certain exhilaration in the actual moment of danger that serves as a kind of compensation, waiting for danger constitutes the real test of nerves.

That is the test confronting the warring people of Europe on a large scale.

Return to Religion

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek has said: "The word of men as embodied in international documents appears to be fast becoming without bond, without standing, without worth. If civilization is now to be saved we must recover that unselfish devotion and fervor which characterized medieval crusaders. We must regain power and stand unflinchingly for those high principles upon which democracy was originally formed so that the liberty of men and the sanctity of human rights shall not disappear from the earth. Without religion no state can long endure. That now should be clear enough. If religious principles governed all treaty makers there would be no treaty breakers. If religious feeling beat in the hearts of would-be destroyers there would be no destruction."

The church is the institution founded to inculcate religious principles in the lives of individuals and nations. Why not accept the invitation to go to church next Sunday?

Good Citizens and Good Neighbors
Matthew 22: 15-22; 34-40

By Henry Geerlings

Jesus knew there was an active revolt against Him. Much plotting was going on in secret. The rulers, political and ecclesiastical, saw that something had to be done if they were to save their prestige. They were desperate enough to do almost anything. True they did not try to preserve assemblance of obedience to the forms of the Jewish law, but as to real ethical standards they trampled them under their feet.

The first group to try their skill against Him were the Pharisees. They were the strictest of the Jewish sects. There was a time when they were the saviors of the nation in matters spiritual, but now they had become dead formalists. They were punctilious in the observance of ceremonies and traditions. They defended the old Testament and its rabbinical interpretations. But they were no more in love with Jesus than were the other Jewish parties. They conceived the notion that the best way to entrap Him was to submit a question of the nature of which was such that no matter what answer He gave He would lay Himself open to censure and arrest.

Not wishing to show their hands, they prompted a few of their disciples to put the question to Him, hoping for better success through this veiled hypocrisy. To reinforce the assault the Herodians joined the Pharisees, though there was no real sympathy between the two parties. The Herodians believed in the Roman dominion, and supported it, though they also believed that the best national government for the Jews would be under the regime of the Herods.

In order to make a good impression this delegation prefaced their question with a bit of studied flattery. They hoped to deceive Him by piously commending Him for His impartiality and by pretending to believe that they recognized Him as the true representative of God. They acted as though they were His diligent students. How would they have felt if they had known He was penetrating to the last thought in their souls?

Feeling they had made a good impression they asked Him whether it was lawful to pay tribute to Caesar. That was a century-old question, and agitated the minds of all, regardless of party. The Jews were subject to the Roman dominion. They believed that this was contrary to the will of God, and they quoted Old Testament passages to prove it.

They could not hide their wickedness from Him. Their question was a fair one, had it been asked in the right spirit. But He saw through their hypocrisy. He disarmed them by letting them know at the outset that they had not deceived Him with their craftiness. He was conscious of being put to the test. He asked for a coin. It was a silver coin worth about seventeen cents and used in the payment of tribute. He examined it. It had the portrait and the name of the emperor stamped upon it. The question He asked them made them acknowledge that they used the money of the Roman government and thereby recognized the authority of that government. In fact Jesus did not have to answer the question they asked Him. He made them answer it. If they accepted the good offices of the government they could not escape the conclusion that they were under obligation to help maintain that government.

If the Pharisees needed to be convinced of the legality of paying tribute to Rome, the Herodians and the Sadducees needed to be reminded of the obligation of recognizing the authority of God. They were far more concerned about material and political matters than they were about the service they owed the divine ruler. Church and state are not mutually exclusive. They are inclusive. We are not to be Christians and citizens at one and the same time. There was no inconsistency between paying tribute to Caesar and paying supreme allegiance to God. God stands first, and under Him all rulers exercise authority. At this answer the critics were silent. They marvelled at the wisdom of Jesus and went away defeated.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

The vessel from this port that was beached near Saugatuck harbor in a heavy gale this fall was taken off and towed up the Kalamazoo River to Saugatuck for repairs in the shipyard there. Note: This schooner was owned by Capt. Rike Schaddelee, a pioneer ship captain here.

The hair of all the presidents from Washington to Pierce is preserved in the Patent office in Washington. Washington's is pure white, and fine in texture. Jefferson's is a mixture of white and auburn and rather coarse, as also is the hair of "Old Hickory." The custom of preserving the Presidential locks was abandoned in President Buchanan's time.

Note: Had this preservation continued, the presidents to follow had plenty of hair and to spare: Wilson, Hoover, Harding, Coolidge, and the two Roosevelts all had the high forehead but plenty of hair to go with it. Had William Jennings Bryan succeeded to be president, the story might have been different.

The new Lyceum opera house will stage its first minstrel troupe. The cast represent all ex-slaves direct from the Southland. They will picture Southern slave life before the Civil war, with a plantation background. Note: This is in reality the opening of the only house of public entertainment since Kenyon's Hall was burned which was located on the site of the McBride block.

Lyceum Hall was located on the block recently occupied by the City Mission on East Eighth St. The selling of the tickets for the first shows was in the hands of Lane Kanter, confectioner and book merchant; Derk Meengs, druggist on River St. and Joslin and Breyman, jewelers on Main and Market streets, now Eighth St. and Central Ave.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

According to a tabulated statement, the liquor licenses permitted in Ottawa County number 29, and the money collected amounted to $11,600, $500 from each, with $65.00 for a brewer's license. There were 11 saloons in Grand Haven, 5 in Holland, one in Konklon, one in Lisbon, one in Berlin (now Marne) name changed during the war, one at Jenison, three at Coopersville, one at Nunica, and one in the village of Zeeland. The only brewery was at Holland conducted by the late Anton Seif.

Extremely bad roads have kept the farmers from coming to town to trade, and even Saturdays business was poor because of road conditions.

The new Hope Anchor staff has been selected and are composed of the following: Editor in Chief, Jerry Winter, Associate Editor, O. S. Flanagan, Philip Soulen, John Vander Meulen, James Sterenberg, Henry Luidens, Managers, Gerrit H. Albers, Arthur Van Duren, and W. Te Winkel.

Holland jurors drawn for circuit court: C. P. Becker, and Matthew Noter, F. Plasmann and R. Boonstra, Holland township; L. M. Clark, Henry Zuers, Jamestown; J. Bransen, Olive, J. Barendse, Zeeland.

The A. C. Van Raalte G. A. R. elected the following officers: Commander, Ben Van Raalte; senior vice commander, Derk Miedema; junior vice commander, James Fairbanks, quartermaster, William H. Finch, Sergeant, Dr. William Van Putten; Chaplain, D. H. Clark; officer of the day, John Kramer; officer of the guard, William Blom.

West Olive has just organized a sportsmen's club, and the main object is to forbid hunters from hunting on farms in that vicinity during the quail season, and only members are allowed to hunt on those farms.

The fee of 10 cents per hunt is charged during the season. Dr. William Bruinsman is president, Frank Johnson, vice-president, John Rudder, secretary, Henry Yonker, treasurer. Note: This game club has long since passed out, and what is more, there is no longer a quail season. Shooting quail has been forbidden in Michigan.

ties on the coon hunt. Hunting muskrats in the e counties is also going on, but these are plentiful and the pelts are not so high.

The Virginia Park Community club is putting on one of its popular "home talent," and this time it will be "Roxey." The part of Hawkins will be taken by Al Brinkman. Mrs. Al. Berkopms will take the part of the dutiful wife Maria. Sipp Houtman of the local postoffice is directing the show. "Roxey," the title role, will be performed by Mrs. William Appledorn. If all the world loves a lover, William Appledorn will appeal to every member of the audience as Rubie Jordan. Others in the cast are Gerrit Nyboer, Gerrit Nevenzel, Gerrit Rutgers, Marjorie Nevenzel, Louis Mulder, Gerrit Hooker, Deon Winstrom, Al Wiegier, Gary TerBeek, and others.

Matthew Noter, much beloved citizen, passed away at his home on West Twelfth St. at the age of 83 years. Note: For many years Mr. Noter was a merchant in a general store in Graafschap. Then he came to Holland and went into the mercantile business and also of the Holland Crystal Creamery now conducted by Swift and company. Under the firm name of Noter and Ver Schure, they built one of the buildings that today comprise the Lokker-Rutgers clothing Co., which was later enlarged into a double store. He was a member of Company I 25th Michigan Infantry, and was a member of the A. C. Van Raalte post G. A. R. He also formed a partnership under the name Noter, Van Ark, and Winter on West Eighth St. He also became undertaker with his son Peter, which partnership was discontinued, and the son entered into partnership with James Nibbelink, an old established firm here.

The rural postoffices discontinued in Ottawa County are New Groningen, Noordelo, North Holland, Crisp, Olive Center, Ottawa Station, Ventura, and Port Sheldon; and in Allegan County, May, East Holland, Gibson, and Graafschap. This means that 12 postmasters will be without jobs because of this extended free rural delivery.

James De Young, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, is entertaining his brother, who he has not seen in 35 years. The boys followed the advice of Horace Greeley, and went west. Samuel went to Montana and became a rancher and the bringing of a carload of cattle to Chicago made it possible for him to come to Holland and see his brother "Jim."

HOLD PARLEY ON M-21 WORK

State Road Department Is Not Able to Provide Right-of-Way

State Rep. Nelson A. Miles of Holland, was in Grand Rapids Friday to attend a conference with Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, regarding the rebuilding of M-21 into a divided-lane highway between Grand Rapids and Holland.

Mr. Van Wagoner informed the committee which conferred with him that work may start this year if the committee of Kent and Ottawa county men interested in the project secure necessary right-of-way.

Other members of the committee in addition to Mr. Miles were Attorney William R. McCaslin of Grand Rapids, J. John Pope of Grandville; William Vander Laan of Hudsonville and George Caball of Zeeland.

Van Wagoner, in putting it up to the committee to take steps to secure right-of-way for the proposed new highway, explained the state this year also has a big rebuilding job to do on US-16 and cannot afford to purchase right-of-way. If the necessary land can be secured, however, Van Wagoner said, the state probably can do at least one section of the new M-21 in 1940.

Proposal is to rebuild M-21 into a divided lane highway 22 feet wide on each side.

MAGICIAN SMART BUT POLICE PROVE THEY'RE SMARTER

The hand may be quicker than the eye but W. A. Young, 23-year-old magician from Milwaukee, Wis., failed to "outsmart" local police officials and Young today realized that one "trick" had cost him $38.99.

Young appeared in Holland Wednesday, Feb. 7 to display his bag of tricks. One trick not on the program, police said, was his failure to pay a $9.34 bill at the Warm Friend tavern before he left Holland.

A charge was filed against Young and he was arrested in Niles Friday by Niles police. After being notified of his arrest, Police Chief Ira A. Antles dispatched Police Officers Ernest Bear and Harvey Murray to Niles to return the magician to Holland.

However, when the officers arrived in Niles they found Young did not care to return to Holland but was willing to plead guilty and "pay off." Young made two long distance telephone calls to Justice of Peace Raymond L. Smith which resulted in a settlement of the case. The justice authorized the two local police officers to return here with a penalty fee of $37.29.

The $37.29 which Young paid the officers was divided as follows: $9.34 for the hotel bill, $24.80 for mileage of the officers—82 miles at 30 cents per mile, and $3.25 justice court fees. In addition, Young also had to pay $1.70 for two telephone calls of 85 cents each, making a grand total of $38.99 which his "trick" cost him.

AUTOS CRASH AGAINST PUMP

Three Cars in Series of Skids; Other Mishaps Occur Here

What to do with a gasoline pump in front of the Harrington Coal Co., 233 West Eighth St., has become a problem for those associated with the company.

One day last week an automobile, driven by a Saugatuck driver, skidded on the ice and crashed into the pump. The pump was repaired. Then about 12:30 a.m. Monday a car driven on Eighth St. by Joel St. John, route 1, Holland, skidded and crashed into the pump with such force that resulting damage will necessitate replacement of the pump.

Then again this morning a third car skidded on the ice and across the location where the pump formerly stood.

Two other automobile accidents were reported to local police.

Mrs. Johanna Rusticus, 37, 206 West Ninth St., suffered a bruise on her right leg, and ankle in a crash Saturday about 5:45 p.m. on College Ave. Mrs. Rusticus had parked her car parallel with the curb. As a truck, driven by Deane Murray, 28, 136 West 13th St., was passing, Mrs. Rusticus opened the door on the driver's side and the truck rack caught the open door. Mary Rusticus, 206 West Ninth St., was listed as a witness.

An accident at 2:30 a.m. Monday at Eighth St. and River Ave. involved a truck driven by Howard Moore, 23, of Benton Harbor, and an automobile driven by Louis Marcus, 34, route 4, Holland.

Local police reported that Moore, driving east on Eighth St. stopped at River Ave. and started through the intersection, although he reported he saw headlights of the approaching car but thought he had time to clear the intersection.

Marcus, according to police, admitted driving his car between 40 and 45 miles per hour south on River Ave. and was ordered to report to police headquarters at 5 p.m. today.

Special Police Rance Overbeek and Leonard Steketee were listed as witnesses.

Van Raalte Reached Site of Holland 93 Years Ago

Anniversary of Founding Feted Recently With London Visit

Friday set another milestone in the history of the settlement of Holland and western Michigan by people of Netherlands blood and brings this area one year nearer to the centennial anniversary.

On Feb. 9, ninety-three years ago a sturdy band of Dutch pioneers consisting of seven men and one woman, led by the Rev. A. C. Van Raalte reached the spot which had been selected for their future homes. After a fervent prayer, the colonists felled the first tree.

Each morning the determined pioneers shouldered their tools and trudged through the deep, hard-crusted snow to the spot selected for the erection of their first cabins. All day long they labored at a strange task with crude tools until they had built two log cabins—10 by 30 feet—the first homes in the settlement of Holland.

Soon the women and children, left behind in Allegan, joined them and the 60 Hollanders lived in these crowded quarters until spring arrived. Thus, were laid the foundations of the present prosperous city.

Some three years ago a group of citizens of Holland and the surrounding territory, realizing the necessity of keeping alive the memory and traditions of the pioneers, decided on definite action.

In January, 1937, a meeting was called of people representing the adjacent communities in western Michigan and 91 men and women, all of them direct descendants of the early pioneers, responded. As the result, Feb. 9 of each year was designated as the commemoration day. The group unanimously voted to establish in Holland a museum as a shrine to the memory of the pioneers.

At the first celebration meeting in 1937 the organization of the Netherlands Pioneer and Historical foundation was completed to perpetrate the memory of the pioneers and their accomplishments in colonizing so large a part of midwestern America and to arrange memorial celebrations at such times and places as are deemed suitable.

The society is devoted to fostering and promoting a museum for collection and preservation of records, objects, mementoes, books, maps, portraits and documents pertaining to these portions of western Michigan and pioneers from The Netherlands.

Three celebration meetings, the 90th, 91st and 92nd, have been held and the one this year was held in advance of Feb. 9. The first two took place in Hope Memorial chapel. In 1937, Dr. Samuel Zwemer was principal speaker and Prof. Albert Hyma of the University of Michigan, spoke in 1938.

The third or 92nd anniversary meeting was held in Holland high school auditorium and consisted of motion pictures about various parts of The Netherlands.

As the program for the 93rd anniversary, the recent meetings honoring Dr. Alexander Loudon, Netherlands Minister to the United States, were arranged by the committee in charge.

LOCAL DRIVER FOUND GUILTY

Grand Haven, Feb. 15 (Special)

—Bastion Bouman 31, 54 West 29th St., Holland, was found guilty of a charge of reckless driving by a jury in the court of Justice George V. Hoffer, last Thursday afternoon, after 40 minutes of deliberation. Bouman was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $23.85, or serve 60 days in the county jail.

His bond of $75 has been continued until Feb. 15, to enable Bouman to pay the fine and costs or file notice of appeal to circuit court.

The charge grew out of an accident on US-31 within the Grand Haven city limits at 2:30 a.m. on Jan. 11 when, it is alleged, Bouman knocked down two mail boxes and a light pole on the highway.

Bouman, who took the witness stand, stated he was coming from Muskegon and thought he was outside the city limits but later learned he was within the city limits.

He also stated weather conditions were unfavorable and one had to be alert to keep from skidding. Bouman, who is a truck driver, stated he was in the habit of keeping as close to the right side of the road as possible and realized too late that a collision would occur.

He claimed he was driving between 30 and 40 miles an hour, but it was alleged that the mail boxes Bouman knocked down were fastened to a 4 x 12 post. On cross-examination, Bouman admitted he had missed another telephone pole and he also stated he did not see the mail boxes on the side of the road.

The arrest was made by Grand Haven city police after Holland officers were notified to be on the watch for the car involved in the accident. After Bouman arrived home he was notified by Holland officers to appear in Grand Haven and the arrest was made by City Officer Clarence Van Tol.

Melvin Hertz, garage mechanic, was called as a witness for the defense. He testified as to the condition of the car.

Officer Van Tol and Ferdinand Kinkema and Chief of Police Lawrence DeWitt, who investigated the accident, were witness for the prosecution.

Members of the jury were Tom Rutter, Orville Beers, Henry Boyink, Roland Moll, Menno J. Smith and Hilbrand Bol of Grand Haven.

Westminster Choir was Founded for Worship

The world wide success of the Westminster choir, which will be heard here Feb. 21 in Hope Memorial chapel, is based upon an idea advanced by its conductor, Dr. John Finley Williamson.

"Worship," says Dr. Williamson, "is something that you do, not something that is done for you. It is something in which you must participate, in which you must bear a full part, if it is to mean much of anything to you. There you have the secret," he says, "why hundreds of churches have died or are dying."

The Westminster choir, which preceded the Westminster church of Dayton, O. It did something more than merely sing to the congregation. Kindled by its energy, precision and glorious tone, the congregation found itself supplementing the choir and taking part in the service.

Ten years ago the Westminster church choir became the Westminster choir school, and the tremendous talent of Mr. Williamson turned from the training of members in one remarkable choir to the education and training of leaders who could spread a new type of worshipful music throughout the churches of America.

APOLOGY FROM ALD. KALKMAN

Retracts Statement Made Against Louis Dalman at Council Meet

Cornelius Kalkman, Sr., second ward alderman, Friday signed a public statement in which he apologized to Louis B. Dalman, assistant city engineer, "for having repeated any inference of infamous and degrading conduct on his part" at the Wednesday, Feb. 7, common council meeting when Kalkman attacked the operations of the street department.

The statement was signed by the alderman following a conference on Friday in the office of Justice Raymond L. Smith, with those involved being present.

The statement was in reference to Kalkman's remark at the meeting that Lincoln Ave. residents had asked him why one of the city engineer's cars was parked on that avenue during forenoon hours.

Kalkman stated Friday that he was only repeating what had been told him, but he refused to divulge "at this time" the names of the persons who, he said, told him that City Engineer's Car No. 2 was being parked on Lincoln Ave. He said he wanted to maintain "harmony" in the neighborhood and he felt that if this information were revealed it would cause "more trouble."

Following the conference, City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker, who was present, said other persons appeared with Kalkman and offered apologies to Dalman for having caused stories to be circulated. This was done in the presence of Smith and Lokker, the city attorney said.

Kalkman's signed statement follows:

"I hereby wish to apologize to Louis B. Dalman for having repeated any inferences of infamous and degrading conduct on his part and to hereby retract any accusation of such a nature.

"I make this retraction voluntarily and for the purpose of clearing said Louis B. Dalman and any one else that might be involved and for the further purpose of suppressing any further circulation of said inferences.

"It is my desire to protect the good name of any and every respectable citizen and maintain good order and good decorum in the city of Holland."

(Signed) C. Kalkman, Sr.

Factors for Preservation of Democracy Told Club

G.R. Man States American Plan Not of Horse and Buggy Type

Ralph A. Colorado of Grand Rapids, world traveler and lecturer, was guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon in the Warm Drink tavern on Feb. 8 and spoke on "Do We Believe in Democracy?"

He presented the Rotarians with historical facts in an attempt to prove that only by cooperating, by banishing racial hatred, by preserving the rights of the individual, his freedom of endeavor, his right to worship as he sees fit, his opportunity for advancement and all the other human rights that make for happiness and progress, and by avoiding any idea or philosophy that is based on hatred, "can we hope to preserve our Democracy."

He started with the beginning of the modern revolutionary movements in 1776, and showed that with only slight variation, all the "isms" of today are based on the three principles of the French Revolution — no property, no church and no family.

Describing the French Revolution as "a race to see who was going to kill who first," Mr. Colorado said that despite all the suffering and bloodshed, the pendulum had swung back and France was under even greater discipline in a few years.

"Any form of government bears within itself the seeds of its own destruction," he stated. This fact has been proved in France and Spain and will be proved in Russia, he prophesied, "as human beings cannot live under a dictatorship form of government."

He urged continuance of the American system and insisted that that system did not belong to the horse-and-buggy days.

He emphasized the fact that in America a system has been developed which is the envy of the world and that in no other country do the people live as happily as here.

Mr. Colorado was born in Puerto Rico. He received an early education at home with one year in a finishing school in Hamburg, Germany, in 1912. He attended Cornell university and was graduated from Georgetown university.

He was special agent in the department of justice and when the United States joined the allies in 1917, he asked for and obtained a transfer to the navy for special work in Spain where he was also attached to the United States embassy.

Dutch Fishermen Forced to Break Ice to Set Nets

By Sarah Williams Bosman

Amsterdam, Jan. 20 (delayed by mail)—Just when we thought the winter had gone, it returned, stronger than ever, with a snowstorm reminiscent of a northern winter in America. Under its snow-eiderdown Amsterdam was truly a story-book town, and the farm across the road from us—for we have moved to the fringe of the city—could have been a Christmas card etching. Four inches of snow had fallen, drifting to several times that in places. The snow lay 20 inches deep about Arnhem. We even spoke of the Limburg Alps. Everywhere sports enthusiasts donned their ski costumes and tried to imagine they were in St. Moritz.

The snow was swept from the Amsterdam canals leaving the ice free for skating. It was doubtful though if the course for the long-awaited Eleven Cities race could be cleaned and the race become a reality.

Delivery boys could not ride their bicycles because of the snow and had to make their rounds on foot. Our milkman had two helpers behind his push cart which customarily he pushes alone. The ice meant cold work for the fishermen, too, who make their living on the Zuider zee. Chopping holes in the ice, they set their nets, returning later and chopped the holes afresh in order to remove the nets.

Lighthouses have been damaged by the shifting ice which has thrown up great ice barriers along the shore. Three passenger and freight boats which tried to resume the Amsterdam-De Lemmer service were caught in the ice. The "Friesland," largest of the three with a capacity of 700 passengers, was crushed and rendered worthless. Marken, Urk and other places cut off from the mainland must get their supplies by plane or by ice-sledge.

Because of the war there is to be no Mardi Gras carnival in Limburg this year. It is forbidden to go masked or costumed in streets or restaurants, to hold processions or to make music on the road, and the cafes must close at twelve o'clock.

Steps have been taken to protect the great Dom church in Utrecht from possible war damage. A concrete roof has been constructed under the one already existing and the old domes have been walled up.

Brown beans may be bought again in limited amounts, one ration ticket entitling the holder to purchase one-half pound of brown beans, navy beans or dried peas during a specified three-week period.

When, on Jan. 14, word went out that no further furloughs were to be given the troops, we accepted the fact calmly, without that feeling of panic we all felt in November. Situated as Holland is between warring nations, her neutrality will be in danger so long as the war lasts, but the Dutch have steady nerves and we are getting used to scares.

C. of C. Banquet Speaker Much in Demand for Engagements

W. J. Cameron, who will deliver the principal address at the annual Holland Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday, Feb. 23, in Holland armory, is a nationally-known figure.

"In securing Mr. Cameron as the speaker, the Chamber of Commerce is giving the people of Holland and vicinity an opportunity to see and hear the most interesting and forceful platform speaker of our present day and age," E. F. Stephan, secretary-manager, said today.

"Holland is indeed fortunate to obtain a nationally-known character as Mr. Cameron to visit our city. No doubt our Tulip Time festival publicly influenced him to come and see our unique city."

For 18 years Mr. Cameron was associated with the Detroit News, first as a reporter and then as an editorial writer. Many of his editorials have been widely reprinted, quoted in congress, and copied in the Congressional Record.

Since 1918, he has been associated with a Detroit motor firm.

He is constantly besieged with invitations to address banquets, conventions or other formal gatherings in numerous cities of the United States and Canada. He also has spoken from many influential pulpits.

Tickets for the banquet already are on sale and Mr. Stephan is urging that reservations be made before Feb. 20. The banquet is not only for members of the organization but also is open to the public, Mr. Stephan said.

GOP DAY TALKS LEND STRENGTH TO VANDENBERG

Governors of Minnesota,
Pennsylvania Praise
Him in G.R.

James in Attack on New Deal Says Powers of States Fade

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 15.—Support of two governors lent strength Monday to a spreading campaign to win the Republican presidential nomination for Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

In his home town for a daylong program climaxed by a Lincoln day dinner at which he was toastmaster, Vandenberg heard praise of Govs. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania and a report from his close friend, Howard C. Lawrence, that young Republicans throughout the nation were being acquainted with the senator's qualifications. Lawrence, a former Michigan state treasurer, is directing the movement intended to give the presidential nomination to Vandenberg.

Vandenberg talked only briefly before introducing Stassen and James, the principal speaker.

"We are tired of patent medicines that never cure and of promises that are never kept," he said. "We must save America by returning to solvency and sanity."

Vandenberg, in closing the meeting urged all fifth district voters to vote Feb. 19.

Stassen, in an address devoted largely to review of his administration's achievements in Minnesota, called Vandenberg one of a "number of (Republican) stalwart leaders who would ably and honorably preside on Pennsylvania Ave."

James predicted that if Vandenberg won the party nomination Republicans would carry the national election this year, a sentiment Vandenberg likewise expressed of James, a dark horse possibility for the nomination.

Lawrence said he anticipated that Michigan delegates to the Republican national convention would be pledged to Vandenberg, and that all convention delegates would "know something personal" about Michigan's senior senator.

To that end, young party members of the state were sent out to tour the country.

Donald W. Hornbeck, president of the National Federation of Young Republicans, was one of 3,000 persons present at the rally.

Governor Dickinson, who attended the dinner with other Republican state elective officials, also lent support to Vandenberg's candidacy.

James, accusing the Democratic administration of continuing in office by creating fear, said "the time has come to put a fence around the sovereignty of national administrations."

He said the New Deal had deprived states of power which it centralized in Washington and had attempted to "chain" the states by extension of bureaucratic authority, and with distribution of relief funds.

Two doors were removed from their hinges and two desks were pried open in the high school, police believed that youngsters were responsible for the breakins. Janitors discovered the breakins about 5:30 a.m. today.

Where Auto Plunged Through Ice of Lake Macatawa

After two days of continuous work, rescuers on Saturday at 12:30 p.m. removed the automobile of Peter Stygstra, route 4, Holland, from the bottom of Pine Creek bay of Lake Macatawa. The automobile broke through the ice and sank in 14 feet of water Thursday while Mr. Stygstra was pulling a fish shanty to a new location.

In the above picture, the kneeling man is measuring the depth of the hole made by the car. Mr. Stygstra is standing behind him. Roy Duchane, stepson of Mr. Stygstra who was walking behind the car cut the towing rope with his knife to prevent the shanty (at left) from being pulled into the water as the car sank. The two men standing near the dogs are Ralph Woldring (left) and "Yocum" Woldring. Coast Guard Capt. Charles Bontekoe and Surfman Forrest Flaughner are the two men wearing officers' caps. Using tackle blocks, rope and a large grapple hook which was attached to the car, the workers were successful in dragging the car into about three feet of water. Planks were placed in the water as a runway for the car. A preliminary investigation of the car this afternoon disclosed that the two front headlights and the grill had been torn loose from the car by the grappling hook which the coast guardsmen to the right is holding.

After being pulled from the lake, the car was towed to a garage. Captain Bontekoe repeated a warning that motorists should not drive their cars on the ice.

Coach John Tuls used all his men at the armory Friday night when Christian swamped Flint St. Mary, 39-23. The locals were never threatened in this, one of their least exciting frays.

The Christian crowd lost interest in the game as the locals built up a 21-8 lead at the half, but interest was revived somewhat when the invaders came back after the half to outscore Holland, 9-5.

The reserves added another to their string of victories by a 27-21 win over the Fruitport varsity. The locals trailed at the first quarter 8-4 but rallied to win the half 15-10 and never relinquished their lead although the losers were very much in the game at the finish.

Wyoming Park came within two buckets of upsetting Holland Christian in the armory Tuesday night in the locals' last home game. Although outscored by four points in the second half, Christian won 27-24.

Holland hammered out 10-3 and 15-8 leads in the first half, but Wyoming came back strong to outpoint Holland 9-6 and 7-6 and it was only the half margin that saved Christian from a possible loss. The Swanson men came within one bucket of tying late in the third quarter.

The Christian reserves trailed all the way to bow 27-17 before the Wyoming Park reserves. The visitors led the half, 14-11, and allowed Holland only one free throw in the third quarter. De Kraker rang up 15 points for the winners followed by Shay's eight. Piers' five led the locals.

Has Complete Outfit for Fishing on Ice

Fishing through the ice of Lake Macatawa is one of the most popular winter sports among Holland residents. While some are fortunate enough to own shanties, others choose to sit in the open to fish.

Brink is seen "spudding" a hole in the ice with his "spudder" while Guy Schaftner sits nearby waiting for the fish to bite on either of the two lines he is holding. A stove, placed on a sled, provides heat to keep Mr. Schaftner warm while the umbrella to his left serves as a wind breaker.

Mr. Schaftner also has a seat rigged up on the sled upon which he sits while a board on the ice serves as a place for his feet to insulate them from the ice.

Notice the large number of shanties in the background.

In keeping with the banquet theme, "Christ Calls," Rev. Kuypers, professor at Western Theological seminary, presented a challenge to young people to come through with everything they have. "Christ calls amidst the confusion of many calls in this world," he said. "Hitler calls, Mussolini calls, Stalin calls, and men follow their call to arms. The other predominating call in this world is to throw ourselves into the useless clutches of the world. When Christ calls, He wants us to come through with everything. He calls for complete surrender because that is the only thing that gives satisfaction. Christ wants our all because through that everything we have may be used for Him. He calls for the red blood of youth."

Arrangements for the banquet were made by a committee composed of Miss Luella Nykerk, Miss Peg Van Kampen, Gerald Van Dyke, Nelson Kleinhekel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klomprens, Miss Mildred Borr, Miss Williamson and Don Lam.

County Seat Victory Is Its First of Season in Prep Loop

Grand Haven on its own floor upset Holland high, 31-19, Friday night, jumping ahead 15-12 at the half but despite their loss, the locals did not lose their second place position in the league.

Muskegon Heights and Muskegon remained deadlocked for first place and Kalamazoo and Benton Harbor are still tied for third place. On their home floor, the Heights Tigers took a 38-33 win over Kalamazoo. The Redmonds led all the way for a never-threatened 26-18 victory at Benton Harbor, including a 13-9 lead at the half.

Holland still had hopes of rallying in the final stanza and trailed 25-18, at one time before the winners dumped in three goals to clinch their first—and probably last—conference victory this year.

Day of Prayer Is Observed Here

According to annual custom, the first Friday in Lent was kept as a day of prayer by the women of Holland as they gathered in the Salvation Army citadel Friday afternoon. A capacity audience followed the thought of the four speakers and the prayers of the women who took part in the service.

Speaking on the subject, "Realization of God," Mrs. Nicholas Gosselin of First Reformed church pleaded with women to open their hearts to Christ, not as guest but as Master, feeling that women owed much to the manifestation of God as Father.

Mrs. Peter Slenk, speaker from the Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church, stressed the need of confidence in God's power and denial of one's own. She, too, felt that this message was meant especially for women, since they are prone to feel their weakness.

The third speaker, Mrs. Harry Harrington of the First Methodist church, believed that strength came from prayer to God and leaning hard on Him.

Telling her audience that the program of the Day of Prayer in China was not unlike that here in America, Miss Nettie R. De Jong, returned missionary from Changteh, Hunan, China, gave word pictures of the power of prayer in concrete instances that had come under her own observation.

The chairman was Mrs. Henry Van Dyke of Fourth church and the women were welcomed by the Envoy Genevieve Shafar of the Salvation Army. Special music was presented by the children's chorus and string group with Eleanor and Jimmie Slag singing solo parts and by Mrs. Jean Rowan, accompanied by her son.

The offering received reached $42.33, which was to be divided among the migrant work in the United States, the Union Christian colleges in the orient, Indian students in U. S. government schools, and the publication of Christian literature in foreign lands, all of which are projects of united Christian service.

Mrs. George E. Kollen, with a committee of women representing churches and religious work in the community, had charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

Starting that it is impossible to separate geography from history, or homes from gardens, Mrs. Jennings told of the early history of Virginia, leading from the account of its early struggles to the flowering of Williamsburg, and its later decadence. The speaker described many of the beautiful old homes of Virginia and their accompanying gardens, and told of the "garden pilgrimages" which are now aiding in the rehabilitation of many regions.

Past Matrons Celebrate Birthday Anniversary

The Past Matrons' club of Star of Bethlehem chapter No. 40 met in Masonic hall on Feb. 8 for a one-o'clock luncheon and observance of its 16th anniversary Feb. 14, 1924.

A constitution and by-laws, officially adopted June, 1924, were framed by a committee. Mrs. Minnie Oosting, Mrs. Edna Bertsch and Mrs. Lucille Tyner. The object of the constitution is to give advice and assistance to the ever-changing group of new officers and to aid in carrying out the benevolent work of the order.

There were 12 charter members and this number has been increased to a membership of 28 at the present time. Four charter members have died. They were Mrs. Alice Purdy, Mrs. Mary Huling, Mrs. Amelia McNabb and Mrs. Edna Bertsch.

At the luncheon Thursday, colored candles formed a centerpiece for each small table, while a large birthday cake in pink and white was placed on a separate table. This cake was cut and served to the guests by Mrs. Daisy Van Duren who is the oldest living past matron of the chapter.

After the luncheon, a program was announced by the president, Claudia Thomson. Mrs. Lucille Tyner gave a resume of the work of the past 16 years and judging from this report, the club has been a beneficial auxiliary to the chapter.

Mrs. Abbie Ming, in a delightful little ceremony, initiated the junior past matron, Mrs. Mary Hansen, into the club.

Next month, the annual meeting will be held March 14 at the home of Mrs. Daisy Van Duren at which time new officers will be elected.

'Mocking Bird' Whistle Is Facing Replacement

Works Board Finds It Can Not Be Operated at New Plant

After being in service for many years, the "mocking bird" whistle, now located at the Fifth St. power plant, faces replacement and in its place will be a more modern signal to summon members of the volunteer fire department to fires, inform citizens of the time of day and to notify all persons "under 16 years of age" that it's time for them to be off Holland streets.

This was indicated by action taken by common council last week when it referred a communication from the board of police and fire commissioners for consideration. Completion of the new municipal power plant makes it necessary for the police and fire board to arrange for a new fire siren, the letter stated.

Regarding the replacement of the "mocking bird" with possibly a modern siren, operated either by electricity or compressed air, "preferably compressed air," the works board, in its communication to council, reported that the new power plant will have a steam pressure higher than that of the present plant.

"It will not be feasible to place this old signal at the new plant as the cost of reducing valve and whistle would be excessive. It is, therefore, recommended that the board of police and fire commissioners be advised of this situation so they may make provision in the budget for a fire siren to be
