Council Informed Of Developments On School Front

Collective Thinking On Space Problems Better Than One Board

City Council was brought up to date on developments on the area school study Wednesday night by Dr. Bryon Hansford of Michigan State University who is coordinating the study for Holland area on possibilities of reorganizing.

Dr. Hansford said planning the next few years will have a vital effect on education in this area for the next 50 years and said it was extremely important to ascertain all the facts before making any decisions.

"A system organized 100 years ago is not necessarily the best one to meet the needs of today. It is significant that within four years of the founding of a new colony called Holland in 1847 that a college was set up, and it is very evident that people here have great faith and abiding value in education."

He said the arrangement whereby Holland has been caring for outside high school students through tuition charges has been mutually beneficial, but problems arise when new buildings are needed. He explained that the aim today is to have a school district which provides training from kindergarten through 12th grade, a program virtually impossible for the small school district.

He said Holland city has no desire to "gobble up" small districts but is anxious to cooperate in a thorough study which eventually should produce recommendations for the best interests of the entire area. "The mass mind decision is more important than a decision by any single board of education, and when it finally is made it must be the decision of the people. We are only here to guide you," he emphasized.

Dr. Hansford was introduced by Alvin J. Cook, member of the Board of Education, who pointed out it is the desire of the board to keep Council informed on all developments. He said currently 57 percent of the high school students come from outside the city. Twenty-seven of the 41 sending districts in the area have united in the study and have appointed 27 members to the committee, augmented by 20 from the city. There is a seven-member steering committee, four from rural areas and three from the city.

In other business, Council approved a resolution proposed by City Attorney James E. Townsend supporting the so-called Virginia plan whereby city boundaries could be changed by judicial procedure instead of the existing complicated annexation procedure. He plan is incorporated in Senate Bill 1172. Copies will be sent to State Sen. Clyde H. Gerding, Rep. George Van Beursem and others. Council a year ago drafted a similar resolution.

Townsend also announced that the House had passed a bill allowing county-wide appraisals and it has been referred to the Senate committee on taxation.

A communication from the Planning Commission discouraged vacating the alley between 19th and 20th Sts. running from Van Raalte to Harrison except for the next 250 feet, until further information could be obtained. The commission reiterated that it recommends vacating full alleys rather than portions. A communication from Egbert Israel objecting to closing the particular alley was referred to the commission.

The Library board submitted its budget for the 1956-57 fiscal year as required by charter. It was filed with the city manager for later consideration.

A public hearing was set March 7 for Paul Baker who requested a variance in the fire district Ordinance to permit the extension of a store building at 288 West 19th St. Council okayed an application of Herman Berens to move a three-story garage from the southwest corner of Maple and 12th St. to a location outside the city, using 12th St. and Washington Ave. as the route.

Councilman John Van Eerden reported progress on a display case for the exhibition room of Civic Center in which products manufactured in Holland can be displayed. Plans call for a case 20 feet long to be placed near the south wall.

Allegan Seeking Approval of Two Bond Proposals

ALLEGAN (Special) — Applications will be filed this week seeking Michigan Municipal Finance Commission approval for two revenue bond issues, totaling $780,000, to finance expansion of Allegan's municipal power facilities and a City Manager P. H. Beauvais 140 - stall - off-street parking lot. The parking lot project will cost approximately $140,000. $80,000 of which will be raised through bonds and the remainder will be taken from the parking meter fund. Land purchases and legal work already has been paid for out of the fund into which all parking meter revenue has gone over since the meters were installed six years ago.

The parking lot, construction of which is expected to get underway this summer, will be "Plan A" of the two - part project first outlined by the city last year. It will extend from a point west of the Brooks Garage on Hubbard St. approximately 600 feet along the Kalamazoo river to the rear of the DeLano Service Co. plant on Brady St. The river bank will be filled with from three to 14 feet of dirt, to provide a parking area averaging 110 feet in depth.

Vehicle entrance to the lot will be on Hubbard St. between the Brooks Garage and the Menninga building. Pedestrian exit will be between Van Melle's studio and the Allegan Dairy bar, near the intersection of Locust and Hubbard Sts.

The second phase of the parking project, known as plan "B" would extend the parking area west to the rear of the Griswold Memorial building and would provide space for an estimated 135 cars at a cost of $40,000. Action on this portion of the plan will be postponed until the need arises.

Principal items included in the city's power plant expansion program are construction of an addition to the diesel plant and installation of two new diesel generators. The $700,000 revenue bond issue, permission for which is being sought this week, includes $100,000 in refund bonds to eliminate all the callable bonds outstanding against the electrical department. This would leave only $48,000 in bonds from previous issues. The new bond issue would be set up on a 30-year basis with all bonds callable during the final 10 - year period, Beauvais said.

Scott Reports On Many Phases In School System

Educational Progress Report Is Highlight Of Monthly Meeting

A report on educational progress in the Holland school system by Supt. Walter W. Scott highlighted the monthly meeting of the Board of Education Monday night in the board's administration building.

The superintendent's oral report covered such subjects as architects for the proposed new high school, progress in the Holland area school study, teachers' salaries and the need for consideration of recognizing merit, also the necessity of the school system to do more for mentally retarded and orthopedic cases as well as considering the superior students.

He said interviews with representatives of six architectural firms had been completed and the buildings and grounds committee is now undergoing a thorough study. No decision is forthcoming immediately.

He reported that 20 persons from the city have been added to the 27 representatives from sending districts in the Holland area school study. This committee of 47 has been divided into seven subcommittees and given special assignments. Dr. Bryon Hansford of Michigan State University, who is coordinating the study will be in Holland Wednesday and will meet with several groups including City Council.

Scott had no recommendation to make on teachers' salaries for the coming year but he said the board should begin to plan on salaries starting at $5,000 in the next five to 10 years. He said many school systems are going to a $4,000 minimum this year, and while he had no recommendations he felt the board should plan on a $25,000 increase the coming year. He pointed out that the board did not achieve the salary schedule it adopted last year. Current minimum is $3,400.

He pointed out that Holland has always been fortunate in attracting high calibre teachers and that turnover is fairly low. However, he said the city must play fair in a highly competitive market and keep teachers happy, satisfied and enthusiastic about their jobs. He also emphasized the need of working out some scheme on merit and said the professional problems committee of the teachers' club has been working on such a report.

As for meeting the needs of mentally retarded and orthopedic children, he said moves are under way on the state level to compensate school systems on a more equitable basis. Very little has been done locally for the superior scholars, but certain studies are under way. He said psychological tests have shown that many children in the local system test far above their grade levels.

In other business, the board approved hiring two new teachers, Mrs. Marjorie Prins to teach third grade at Longfellow school beginning the second semester, and Conrad T. Eckstrom of Red Wing, Minn., to teach physical education in the upper elementary grades, also to coach seventh grade football and other sports.

Mrs. Prins has an A. B. degree from Hope College and has had two years of teaching experience besides several years as a substitute in the Holland public schools. Eckstrom attended the University of Minnesota two years and received A.B. and M.A. degrees from University of Iowa. He is married and has two children. He has had two years' teaching experience.

Claims and accounts for the month totaled $90,230.56 of which $73,492 was for teachers' salaries. President James Hallan presided at the meeting which adjourned at 9:25 p.m. All members were present with the exception of Dr. Lester J. Kuyper. Alvin J. Cook gave the invocation and Mrs. John K. Winter served as acting secretary in the absence of Dr. Kuyper.

18-Year-Old Boy Saves Brother's And Sister's Lives

Puts Ladder Against Burning Home After Jumping to Ground

Eighteen-year-old Junior Shoulders is credited with saving the lives of his 12-year-old sister, Judy, and a younger brother Monday night in a fire that completely destroyed the Odell Shoulders home.

The house is located on 65th St., just off the Laketown Park Road. Mr. and Mrs. Shoulders awoke at 2:30 a.m. to find their house in flames. Unable to reach their children, they escaped from their ground floor bedroom through a window.

Meanwhile, Junior Shoulders jumped from the window of an upstairs bedroom where the other children were sleeping. He then got a ladder from the other side of the house and helped the two younger children to safety.

"The family escaped with only the night clothes they were wearing."

According to Graafschap Fire Chief Dave Schripsema, the department equipment was on duty until 4:30 a.m. Tuesday, but the two story frame house was a total loss. It was partly covered by insurance.

The family car, parked near the house, was pushed to safety. Several other buildings on the property were not damaged. It is thought the fire started near a coal stove in the living room.

The Shoulders family has lived in the Holland area since a fire destroyed their home in Ganges several years ago. It is reported they are now staying with relatives in Douglas.

City Council Asks M-40 Relocation At the East Limits

Assessments Out In Parking Lot Development Here

Expenditures From Parking Meter Fund Reviewed at Meeting

Holland won't have a special assessment district for developing parking lots after all, City Council decided Wednesday night by a vote of 5 to 2.

Two weeks ago Council took under advisement a program proposed by City Manager Herb Holt whereby the cost of paving and developing two parking areas on West Ninth St. would be assessed property owners in the immediate area. One area of three home sites acquired through condemnation proceedings lies just east of River Ave. and the other, a single home site, is just west of the Krouwer Furniture store.

City Attorney James E. Townsend prepared a legal opinion in which some question was cast on the method of assessment. In effect, it also seriously questioned double recovery (in view of having parking meters on the lots) indicating the double program was inconsistent.

Councilman Raymond Holwerda, who felt strongly that the people who benefit most from such an improvement should share in its cost, moved that the matter be referred back to the city manager for further study, but a substitute motion by Councilman Robert J. Kouw to finance the improvement estimated at $12,734 out of the parking meter fund carried 5 to 2. Mr. Holwerda and Councilman Laverne Rudolph dissenting.

Holwerda defended his stand with what some persons regarded as a fine show of oratory, believing that the time had come for persons benefitting to share the cost in view of limited and depleted parking meter funds. He pointed out that many merchants elsewhere had gone through considerable expense to develop their own parking areas and he felt that it was well in order to institute some program whereby some revenue should come from the persons who profit most.

Rudolph pointed out that the city had spent about $100,000 on parking lots this year, an expenditure which would take until 1958 to make up in parking meter funds. "If this need for more parking area continues, we'll have to find other means of getting more lots," he said.

W. A. Butler, Sentinel publisher who would be in the assessment district of one of the lots, said, "We built our own parking lot and everybody uses it, particularly the shoppers on Friday night. Let's take another look at the situation and operate our program under the parking meter ordinance."

At one point, Holwerda in summing up his points with a fine flair of oratory, said, "I may be outnumbered, but that is the way I feel."

From the sixth ward corner, Kouw quipped, "You may be outnumbered but not outtalked." There was a ripple of laughter in the audience.

Proposal Would Require Just One Grade Separation

Councilmen Favor Keeping Present M-21 For Inter-City Travel

City Council Wednesday night drafted a resolution calling for a relocation of M-40 which would be virtually in line with Fairbanks Ave. at the east limits of the city. The resolution will be sent to the State Highway Department.

Action came on recommendation of the Planning Commission which pointed out that the proposed location would eliminate heavy traffic from residential areas on State St. and provide an excellent truck route for the eastern section of the city. Moreover, it would require only one grade separation over the US-31 bypass in the vicinity of 40th St. A previous plan proposed by the State Highway Department would call for a grade separation for the railway. The new proposal would keep the highway east of the tracks.

Starting at a point on existing M-40 in Fillmore township about 1 1/2 miles southeast of the city limits, the highway could continue the angular route about a half mile and then proceed straight north to connect with Fairbanks Ave. at 16th St. The resolution further suggests a properly designed curve near the Eighth St. junction on M-21 including modern treatment of the intersection as previously indicated opposite page 105 of the master plan for Holland.

The relocation resolution was introduced by Councilman Laverne Rudolph who also briefed Council on developments on improvements on M-21 between Holland and Zeeland, target of considerable controversial comment the last couple of weeks.

On Rudolph's motion, Council voted to send a letter to the highway department asking that serious consideration be given to requests previously submitted calling for a change in design which would keep the new dual highway separate from the present M-21. Present plans call for the dual highway to connect with the present M-21 for 2,000 feet in the vicinity of Black river bridge. A swing of the dual highway to the southwest to connect with US-31 by-pass just north of Eighth St. is not contemplated for a few years. When this construction gets under way, area persons would like to have a bridge constructed at the third bridge, and have present M-21 maintained as a service road between Holland and Zeeland.

Rudolph outlined developments, quoting dates and details of several gatherings with particular reference to a session in Lansing Jan. 30 which he attended along with Mayor Robert De Bruyn of Zeeland, Walter Vander Haar of Holland township and Planner Scott Bagby. He said his interests in the meeting were primarily for the M-40 relocation but considerable discussion was held on M-21 problems.

"I feel that the group that went to Lansing was most sincere in its concern on the M-21, and Holland certainly should cooperate with the township and Zeeland city to insist on the best safety program possible for highway design,"

Zeeland Cagers Set Scoring Mark In League Win Over Hudsonville

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Zeeland High's basketball team set a new school and Ken - New - Wa league record here Tuesday night by walloping Hudsonville, 97-46 before a capacity crowd of 500 fans in Hudsonville gym.

The winners took the opening tip and went down and scored and continued the pace until the final whistle. The Chix made 60 percent of their shots in the first half and ended with an average well above 50 percent.

Zeeland led at the end of the first quarter, 27-13 and at halftime, 48-21. The third period score was 23-32.

Besides turning in the lopsided victory, Zeeland became the first team to stop Roland Schut, the Ken - New - Wa league's leading scorer. Schut, who is averaging 30.9 points a game, was held to just one basket and four free tosses.

Chix Coach Mel Bouma used a four - man zone against the Eagles with the fifth man working a man-for-man on Schut.

Jim Kaat worked on Schut in first and fourth quarters and Tom Bos drew the assignment in the second and third periods.

Carl Wissink returned to his shooting form and pumped through 21 points and Art Klamt followed with 20. Wendell Borink led the Eagles with 13 points. It was the first time in 13 Hudsonville starts that Schut was not high point man.

Zeeland remains in second place in the league with an 8-1 record and Hudsonville now has a 3-6 conference mark. The Chix overall record is 11-3 and the Eagles have 7-6.

The Zeeland reserves won their 12th game in 14 starts with a 65-53 win over the Hudsonville seconds. The chix led at the periods, 16-13; 28-23 and 54-36.

Max De Jonge was high for Zeeland with 26 and Dave Van Peursum had 15. Heezee had 26 for the Eagles.

Seven - year - old Bobby Brolin had quite a thrill the other day when the mail man delivered a personal letter from Jay N. "Ding" Darling, considered one of the world's greatest cartoonists.

Bobby's father, Ed, who knows Ding, has always sent Christmas cards and last December he included a few of his son's drawings. And so it was a thrill for Bobby's dad to have a personal letter too, praising his son's artistic ability. Among other things Ding said, "If I had drawn that well at 15, I would be sitting among the immortals." (Which he is, of course.)

Ding spends his winters on his private island Captiva off the coast of Florida. Besides being one of the country's leading political cartoonists for more than 50 years, Ding also has long been America's chief exponent of the preservation of wildlife. He is a close personal friend of former President Herbert Hoover and recently wrote the book, "As Ding Saw Hoover."

Incidentally, last year Bobby won a blue ribbon award in the six-to-12 year division in art at the Youth Achievement show.

Clara L. Jesiek, of 448 North Division, has cause to be grateful for a telephone call which interrupted an afternoon nap Feb. 5. It seems she had accidentally turned on a burner while cleaning her gas range. She smelled the gas when the telephone rang. "It could have been a long nap," she said.

That nasty sleet storm two weeks ago certainly took its toll in tumbles — many of them serious. From the period Jan. 28 through Feb. 6, a total of 36 persons were admitted to Holland Hospital for x-rays, and most of them were fractures. Only a few victims, usually broken legs, remained in the hospital and all others were sent home after treatment.

Most of the falls occurred the first weekend. It is generally believed this is only a small percentage of the persons who actually sprained and nursed their hurts without professional aid.

Harold J. Karsten, chairman of Tulp Time band reviews for many years, has received inquiries from a lot of bandmasters about the band review this year. He already has sent brochures in the mail, and has designated March 19 for the band review deadline this year. Deadline for parade participation will be later.

Karsten said it always is a problem to hold bands down in the parade, and for several years, festival authorities have had to decline offers from several bands. For Tulp Time, leaders try to keep parades under 1½ hours.

William Stephan, son of the late E. P. Stephan who served Holland as mayor and Chamber of Commerce secretary, has found an old book containing many clippings from years back. Included in the "find" was a semi-centennial supplement of the Holland Daily Sentinel. No date was listed, but the four-page supplement must have been published during the 50th anniversary in 1897.

Another old newspaper has come to light, this time a copy of the Muskegon Daily Chronicle dated Aug. 21, 1907. The name of Charles A. French appears in the masthead as general manager. In the late 1920's, French purchased the Holland Sentinel and operated it some 20 years as publisher - editor. He died Jan. 17, 1948, at the age of 94.

Dutch Hand Calvin First MIAA Defeat With 89-73 Win

Hope College's cagers ripped a sheet out of a script they had seen a month ago, reversed it, but continued to use the same formula with the result being an 89-73 trouncing of Calvin College before an overflow 2,700 fans in Civic Center Tuesday night.

The Calvin defeat was the first in MIAA play this season after 10 straight wins and prevented the Knights from snagging a share of the MIAA crown at the present time. The loss left the Knights with a 10-1 conference record and kept Hope in the runnerup spot with a 8-2 mark.

It also marked the fifth straight year the teams have split games.

The Dutch, primed to the highest peak of the season, came out in the second half and began to pulverize the hoop to the surprise of both sides who were thinking of the nip-and-tuck first half.

A quick thought by the throng took them back to Jan. 12 when the Calvin five, holding a slim halftime lead, came back in the second half like a new team and completely dominated play in sending the Dutch down to their first MIAA defeat, 85-57.

Hope was holding a 35-32 halftime lead and from all indications it would go right down to the wire that way.

But Hope's Jun Buursma, a former Holland Christian player, had other ideas as the second half started.

Buursma who hadn't shot more than a couple of times in the first half, opened the second half with an outcourt basket and quickly followed it with another 25 seconds later. He then added a foul shot and after Paul Benes made a basket, added a lay-up and the Dutch were on the way.

Benes, who returned to the form expected of the big fellow, added another free toss and a basket and the Dutch had a 47-32 point lead with the second half not three minutes old.

The basket parade continued as the Dutch pushed the count to 20 points and then Whitey Riemersma sank a push shot to send the score to 59-37, for 22 points, the biggest margin of the game.

But it wasn't over by a long shot. Although Hope dominated play, the Knights, who realized their first MIAA defeat was staring them in the face, retaliated and with eight minutes to go were breathing mighty hard down Hope's neck.

Tom Newhof, a Calvin's 6'8" center, playing a nice ball game, broke wide open in the closing minutes and tossed seven buckets through the hoop in the last 10 minutes.

His efforts pushed the Knights to a 10-point deficit, the closest Calvin came in the second half.

In the first half Hope took a 10-2 lead but the Knights feeling out the basket came back and got within three points, 21-18 at the 10-minute mark.

A sudden spurt, with Tony Diekema putting in the key basket sent the Knights ahead 26-23 for the first time in the game with 8:30 to go. Hope came back and Benes tied the score at 27-all at 4:35 after the teams had battled back and fourth, missing quite a few shots.

Riemersma pushed through a bucket that put the Dutch ahead and the locals stayed out front until halftime.

Calvin, although staging the fine comeback, had the same trouble Hope experienced in Civic Auditorium. The second "big" man didn't come through in the plans.

Coach Barney Steen had counted on 6'6" Jim Kok but the slender forward got just one bucket and

Calvin came in the second half.

Club Given Keen Insight Into Problems of City

Members of the Woman's Literary Club received a keen insight into some of the problems on urban growth in an address by City Manager Herb Holt Tuesday afternoon.

Recognizing that Holland is a naturally united community culturally, economically and through church and school activities, City Manager Holt described problems that exist in city and township government created mainly by artificial boundaries.

"Legal boundaries of the city of Holland no longer are actual boundaries," Holt said. "Actually, Holland has 3.1 square miles, 2.84 in land and .26 covered by water."

Holland's boundaries were established in 1893 by the state legislature, and if any of those state leaders would fly over Holland today they would not be able to recognize such boundaries.

Then the city manager launched into a series of illustrations—problems that are a constant threat to the unity of this community.

"For instance, Holland city maintains a fire department with 13 fulltime men and 20 volunteers and four pieces of equipment costing taxpayers $70,000 a year. A house catches fire south of 32nd St. and the excited housewife calls the city fire department. It's difficult to explain she should call the township department because maybe she tried and couldn't get through. Maybe she called both and both respond and the city department may be first on the scene. That doesn't make for good feeling between departments."

Holt did not attempt to answer this problem but he added that so far Holland city has not refused to put a fire out across the line.

As for schools, he said present facilities inside Holland were adequate for city needs but more than 50 percent of the enrollment in the upper grades come from outside. "The city benefits from these outsiders because it allows an adequate enrollment for a high school program, but the question arises on whether the city should bond itself for 3½ to 4 million dollars for a new high school."

He added that school leaders in the greater Holland area are off to a good start in organizing to study the needs.

"Sewage facilities are just barely adequate for the city, yet should a sanitation crisis occur outside, it won't do the city any good. Yet who is to make the initiative in laying a new million-dollar distribution system, or pay for a new 1.3 million-dollar plant?"

"The city already has taken the initiative for providing a new water supply and has bonded its house for 2.7 million dollars. Now there is the problem of distribution in the townships. Who will be responsible for this move? Water is a critical commodity these days and an adequate supply will attract new industry and new job opportunities. This poses the problem of housing, possibly a low-cost housing project and certainly the need to tighten up of our own building codes."

"On police protection, Holland operates a department of 17 fulltime policemen in an area less than three square miles, while two fulltime deputies serve a large area outside. No wonder you sometimes see policemen outside the limits for emergencies, traffic, and the like."

Other departments mentioned were the hospital in which townships have assumed their share in raising funds for the new addition, ice rinks, Civic Center, harbor authority, and municipal court which serves far more than the city.

Holt avoided the word "annexation" because of political connotations and the great difficulty under existing laws of effecting such changes in boundaries. But he called attention to a new bill now before legislature similar to laws in the state of Virginia, which provide a procedure by law of setting new boundary lines. In this case, both sides present their findings in court, and determination is made after full study by the court.

"If you think the Virginia plan has merit, get behind it. Get in touch with your state representative and senator and tell them how you feel about it."

Holt declined to say where he thought new boundaries should be but he believed urban characteristics should determine such a choice. He said outside residential service areas have been well defined by the city Planning Commission.

The program was sponsored by the public affairs group of the club and the chairman, Mrs. Alvin D. Bos, president, presided.

Riemersma grabbed off the high honors for the Dutch with 26, tied with Newhof of Calvin. Riemersma, playing again at guard has really worked into the new post and now gives Coach John Visser scoring punch at the guards. Hal Molenaar ripped through 15 points from the other guard and Bob Ritsma also came through with strong board work and some timely baskets.

In summing up the game Coach Visser called the contest another "tremendous team effort and the best this season." He was especially complimentary to his two co-captains Riemersma and Molenaar for their control of the Hope offense with outcourt shooting allowing Benes more freedom to swing around under the basket.

Hope hit on 37 out of 87 shots for 43 percent while the Knights had 28 out of 91 for 31 percent. The Dutch hit 14 out of 44 in the first half and 23 out of 43 in the second half. Calvin had 14 out of 42 in the opening half and 14 out of 49 in the final two periods.

Large Audience Greet 'Time Out for Ginger'

The enthusiasm of a proud father in describing the touchdown play of his football - playing teenage daughter was matched by the enthusiasm of a first night audience which filled Holland High School Monday evening for the opening performance of the senior play, "Time Out for Ginger."

The three-act comedy by Ronald Alexander attracted a total of 407, the largest first night audience since 1952 when 447 attended. Starring in the lead was Linda Streu, the 14-year-old daughter, Ginger, whose one aim was to be equal to boys. Co-starring were Joan Roos and Charles Lemmen who played the difficult roles of Mr. and Mrs. Carol, the parents. Mr. Carol caused complications in the home as well as in school and business when he presented a speech before high school students in which he said that "no one should be forced to do anything he doesn't want to do," and later allowed his daughter to play on the football team.

Joan Carol, 18-year-old daughter, played by Nicaea Farabee, and Jeannie Carol, 16-year-old daughter played by Marcia Bouws, agree in part and a petition is started to abolish gym for girls. More complication is brought about when the maid Lizzie, played by Dawn Poppen, agrees with Ginger and encourages her in her desire for equality.

Supporting roles were ably played by Bill Kraai as Eddie Davis, friend of Joan Carol; Stuart Post as Tommy Green, friend of Ginger; Calvin Prins as Mr. Wilson, school principal, and Bill Hill as Ed Hoffman, president of the bank and Mr. Carol's boss.

The audience was especially enthusiastic over the return of a comedy production to the local high school stage, which was indicated in the applause and hilarity during the course of the evening. Directing the performance was Robert Chard of the school faculty.

Behind the scene action was carried out by Karen Damson, stage manager, and her crew, Gretchen Boyd, Lyn Gordon, Dick Den Uyl, Terry Beck and Tom Cady. Others on the production staff are Barbara Emmick, assistant to the director; Bob Van Wieren, lighting manager; Kay Ten Brink and Ann Marie Kleis, costumes; Harriet Slag, Carol Nieuwma and Linda Hamelin, makeup and Jane Hohlmann, Ellen Fend and Joan Carlson, properties.

Ervin Hanson is business manager, Sidney Woudstra, stage construction manager and Edward Damson, ticket manager.

Two-Hour Fire Damages Cafe

GRAND HAVEN (Special) - Fire believed to have been caused by combustion in a kitchen heater caused about $8,000 damage to Allen's Cafe at 8 North Seventh St., Monday night. The fire department responded at 10:05 p.m. after a call from the Black Angus which adjoins the building.

Firemen chipped several holes in the roof to put through three lines of hose and worked until midnight to extinguish the blaze. They were hampered by a faulty hydrant which had been broken but not detected nearby, and the men laid hose to another hydrant a block away. Since this hydrant was across the tracks, service was disconnected for a time to let a passenger train from Holland through.

The kitchen, and its contents were completely destroyed and counters, booths and other equipment in the main restaurant were badly scorched. Loss of contents is covered by insurance. The building is owned by Mrs. George Weber, Sr., of Grand Haven.

Company Reports Record Earnings

Clark Equipment Company's President George Spatta Monday announced record 1955 earnings of $9,500,000 and a proposed two-for-one stock split in a speech before the Boston Security Analysts Society in Boston.

Spatta is a director of Holland Furnace Co. and P. T. Cheff, president of Holland Furnace Co., is a director of Clark Equipment.

Earnings for 1955, which were almost 70 percent greater than 1954, were equivalent to $8.45 a share of common stock compared with $5.02 for the previous year. Stockholders will vote at the annual meeting April 27 on the proposed two-for-one common stock split.

Effective date of the proposed split probably will be May 15. Directors also will propose at the annual meeting that the number of authorized shares of common stock be increased from the present 1,500,000 to five million.

Gross sales in 1955 amounted to $150,700,000, a new all-time high and about a fifty percent gain from the previous year.

Directors voted the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents per share of common stock payable March 14 to holders of record Feb. 24. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share of preferred stock was voted payable March 15 to holders of record Feb. 24.

Under the stock split plan it will be recommended that the company's charter be amended to change par value of common stock from $20 per share to $15 per share and that shareholders receive two shares of new stock in exchange for each present share of common held.

Hope Stops Alma Five Easily, 86-69

Dutch Look Ahead To Calvin; Keep Second in MIAA

Hope College's cagers, playing spasmodic basketball that saw complete switches from a smooth-running outfit to a spattering-ragged looking unit, didn't have much trouble subduing Alma College, 86-69 in Civic Center Saturday night before 1,200 fans.

The win leaves the Dutch alone in second place in the MIAA with a 7-2 record and keeps the Scots one step out of the league basement with a 2-8 mark.

Coach John Visser hopes the kinks that appeared Saturday will be washed out today and the Dutch will be at their best to battle the unbeaten Calvin College Knights here Tuesday night. A Calvin victory would assure the Knights of at least a share of the conference title.

Hope and Alma played on about even terms for the first seven minutes of the game and then the Dutch began to pull away, working to a 28-18 advantage at the 10-minute mark.

Visser substituted early in the first half and gave his entire nine-man team a thorough workout.

The reserves held up their end of the game and aided in pushing the Dutch to a 48-35 margin at halftime.

Whitey Riemersma, who led the Hope scorers with 19 tallies, paced another Dutch push in the early part of the second half. Riemersma scored four baskets and aided by Jun Buursma's three, moved the Dutch to a 70-44 lead near the midway mark for the biggest margin of the game.

The Scots, who didn't get consistent scoring from any of three "big" scorers on the club, did manage to rally their forces briefly and pulled through with six straight points to make the score 70-52 at the 10-minute mark.

Alma got two more rallies of five points each while the Dutch got one bucket to come within 11-points but never seriously threatened.

Paul Benes, who got three fouls on him early in the game and was on the bench for most of the contest, got back into the game in the closing stages and potted seven of his 13 points and supplied the final points to give Hope the 17-point victory margin.

Hope hit on 20 out of 52 shots in the final half for a 37 per cent average for the game.

The Scots were shade under this mark, with 27 buckets in 75 attempts for 36 per cent.

George Carter, who had scored 34 points against the Dutch earlier, was held to 11 points and Bud Miller, the big gun against Calvin last week with 26, ended with seven points, five in the closing minutes.

Ron Lude paced the Scots with 19 points but played little in the second half.

Dave Woodcock led Visser's reserve group and turned in a fine game. His passing, shooting and rebounding were high points. He carded 12 points. Woodcock was one of the members of the unit Visser sent in midway in the first half and although none of the group measured over 5'10", the unit had little trouble controlling play and maintaining a lead.

Allegan Residents Will Have Swimming Beach

ALLEGAN (Special) — An adequate swimming beach for the Allegan area — a long — felt need for the community — will become a reality this summer, largely through the efforts of the Allegan Improvement Association.

James Pettapiece, president of the organization, revealed Thursday that negotiations had been completed with the forestry division of the Conservation Department for permission to use state owned land on the southwest side of Littlejohn Lake, three miles west of Allegan.

Local contractors, including Carl Goodwin and Sons, Dewey Huit and Son and Ben Waanders, have agreed to furnish men and equipment without cost to remove muck and marl from the site and replace it with hundreds of yards of sand. It is planned to take sand from a hill west of the site, an operation which will also provide a level parking area for an unlimited number of cars.

Pettapiece indicated that L. Olmstead, of the Forestry division, had agreed to issue the Allegan organization an annual use permit for the land. Ed Brandeberry, area soil conservation expert, and Paul Schroeder, Allegan State Forest manager, made test drillings and laid out the beach area in preparation for work to get underway as soon as weather permits.

The beach will be approximately 200 feet long, making it one of the largest public beaches on an inland lake in Allegan county. Plans call for a large, shallow area, two to three feet in depth, for younger children and for use in the Community Council's summer swimming program. The diving platform, located at the old public beach — now private — on the north side of the lake, will be moved to the new site, and toilet facilities will be erected.

The beach will be the association's second major recreational project for the community. Two years ago, it underwrote the expense of a ski and toboggan run, complete with lights and a rope return, which is now being operated by the Community Council.

Christian Seconds Take 13th Victory

ALLEGAN (Special) — Holland Christian's Little Moons pulled away here in the second quarter Friday night to defeat the Allegan reserve squad, 53-40. The win gave the locals a 13-1 mark for season play.

Both clubs played on even terms throughout the first period before Christian's Jerry Altene swished one from beyond the 10 second line as the horns sounded to give the Dutch a 12-10, first quarter lead. The Dutch rolled in the second quarter to outscore the Little and quarter to outscore the Little time margin.

The Moons managed to keep a safe distance in the third stanza to lead 41-25 going into the final period. Allegan outscored the locals 15-12 in the last period but didn't threaten the Dutch.

Christian got some balance in their scoring with Cal Klaasen high with 14, followed by Jim Kool with 13, Altena with 12, Dan Bos, Bob Klingenberg and Warren Otte with four apiece and Jim Meurer with two. Hunter paced Allegan

Supervisors Hear Plans of Ottawa Humane Society

Kalamazoo Official Explains Operation And Relates Costs

Several members of the Board of Supervisors gathered in the Warm Friend Tavern Friday afternoon with persons interested in organizing a humane society for Ottawa County and heard Walter Kelly, president of the Kalamazoo Humane Society, explain operations and organization of that group.

Also present was Douglas Culmer of Flint, head of the state Humane Federation, who had appeared at the first meeting of the local group Jan. 6. The society since has been incorporated with Mrs. John Van Dam, Jerry Helder and Mrs. P.T. Cheff as incorporators.

Aims of the society as set forth to the supervisors are to put the society into operation and build an adequate animal shelter, preferably on some highway north of Holland. The Kalamazoo organization today represents an investment of some $60,000 but this work was done slowly and the shelter itself cost $30,000 when it was erected a few years ago.

According to Kelly, the Kalamazoo Board of Supervisors annually appropriates $4,000 towards operations of the shelter and also pays the salaries of three dog wardens throughout the county. Expenses of operating the shelter amount to $26,000 to $28,000 a year. These operations are financed through society memberships, fees, some boarding care and other services. Contributions form a large part of the program, and a campaign is held each November.

Kelly told supervisors that good control by a well organized humane society reduces livestock loss considerably. Last year the Kalamazoo shelter handled 4,372 dogs of which 1,562 were redeemed or adopted into new homes and 2,719 disposed of. Cats handled that year totaled 2,392. The society also picks up all dead animals killed on highways. Dog census in Kalamazoo county runs about 16,000.

Good supervision of the dog problem results in better sales of dog licenses since no dog may leave the shelter unless it has a current license.

The county group was told to present its story and request for funds at the next session of the board in April. Appropriations cannot be considered until October. About 30 persons attended Friday's meeting. Oscar Vanden Dooren presided.

SHAKE UP IT—Dr. Ralph Ten Have, director of the Ottawa County Health Department, (left), is greeted by State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Some of the girls showed their symbolgrams.

The first Air Explorer Scout in Western Michigan to be awarded an Eagle Scout badge is believed to be Martin Van Dyke, Jr., of Troop 30.

Van Dyke was given his Eagle badge Monday at court of honor in Harrington School with seven other Chippewa district scouts. The air explorer post of Troop 30 is the only one in the Chippewa District at the present time. A total of 11 Scouts are members of the group with a few of the lads also belonging to Holland's Ground Observer Corps.

Van Dyke has been in Scouting for 2½ years and was Troop Quartermaster and patrol leader. He has completed 23 merit badges such as life saving, first aid, surveying, transportation, electricity, fireman'ship, scholarship, soil management, stamp collecting and cooking.

His chief hobbies are stamp collecting and model railroads and his setup is described as one of the finest in the area. A student at Holland High, Van Dyke's sports interests are bowling, archery and swimming.

Van Dyke hopes to pursue an engineering and science course in college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Dyke of Virginia Park.

Dr. Bosch Speaks At Rotary Meeting

Dr. Leon A. Bosch, associate dean of the School of Commerce and director of graduate business study at Northwestern University, was guest speaker for Rotary Club at its noon luncheon Thursday.

He is a former Holland man. Speaking of "Executives Too, Go to College," Dr. Bosch explained why mature business executives are sent to colleges by their firms. Two major wars, the depression and government regulations, have made business much more complex than it was 25 years ago, he said. Consequently executives were developed who specialized in one field of business only. But the art of management demanded more than this. Social, economic and political changes in the nation and the world have forced management to broaden its horizon, he said.

According to Dr. Bosch, three basic facts govern the thinking of modern management. First, the business must be perpetuated; second, it must be a good place to work, and third, a good place to live and work.

Dr. Bosch stated that the University does not presume to teach these executives. It merely provides the environment for them to discuss their problems with each other. The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Henry Steffens.

Present at the meeting were four international students from Hope College representing the Netherlands, China, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

Scouts Bob Parkes and Art Oostling also were guests. The latter spoke on Scouting.

Books In Brief

BAND OF ANGELS by Robert Penn Warren. Against a Civil War background, Warren pens an amazing story of a young woman, Mary, who is part Negro, part white. After her father's funeral, she becomes a slave; her experiences as such seem somewhat fantastic at times. She is constantly haunted by the desire to be free—a feeling which does not leave her even when she becomes a freed woman. Most of the book is pervaded by a feeling of deep—South lousiness, taking you through the war and well into its aftermath, accompanied by the country's general unpreparedness in dealing with the freed Negro and his problems. Mainly it tries to answer the question: "When is one free?"

VISIONS RISE AND CHANGE by Pierre Van Paasen. (Non-Fiction) This is a study of religion in the Soviet, starting with its religious persecution to an evident let-up since Stalin's death. The author tells how the government subtly introduced the Gregorian calendar to shatter the established custom of observing Sunday as a day of rest. This measure kept the peasants and workers from worshipping on the Lord's Day. Pews emptied fast. Then came the final blow—an attack on the God-idea itself; the method used was education, no repression. In a surprise ending, Van Paasen concludes an important book which is both informative and stimulating.

MARJORIE MORNINGSTAR by Herman Wouk. Rich in Jewish culture and family—life portrayals, this story centers around Marjorie Morgenstern who chooses the stage as her goal for attaining a place in American culture. Religious training and conventional respectability seem to restrain her through her maze of romantic entanglements. If this is a case for chastity, the heroine certainly tests precariously on the brink of a sappy pool of unchaste overtures. Although the book is quite tedious, Wouk's colorings of the older generation are warm and inspiring and seem more important than the cold glittering superficiality of the younger generation that inspired this book.

UNDER THE GREENWOOD TREE by Thomas Hardy. Since vanishing ways of life sometimes seem difficult to relinquish, one may read with profit and enjoyment this Hardy novel written in the latter part of the nineteenth century. In a quaint rustic setting in Wessex County, England, the urban impact on rural life is symbolically portrayed. At that time custom said "the quire with its stringed accompaniment is the only music" that's fitting for leading the congregation. Replacing this choir of men and boys by an isolated organist marked the first blow at customs that were considered irreplaceable. The motherly attitude of the villagers to Thomas Leaf, a retarded lad, is warmly and sympathetically done.

THE TOKEN—by Samuel Shalabarger. Those who like legends of knightly honor and noble love will want to read this last of his novels. The story, in medieval France, tells of Blanche, daughter of Lord Stephen, who marries Count Raoul who thinks of love "as wine soon poured." What then remains? That, says Lord Stephen, depends on the recipient of such a Maytime love. For some, it would mean nothing; for others, nobility and steadfastness. Brother Francis reassures Blanche thus, "Life is like a great organ from which God draws music and each man must play his note true."

CATEGORY
DUTCH SECTION: Among the 1,329 volumes of Dutch books are many that have been translated from the English. ## Holland Reserves Drop Slow Game

Holland's reserve team had a real cold night and lost to the Benton Harbor seconds, 37-32 in Civic Center Friday. The Dutch had the shots but couldn't put the ball through the basket.

The locals took 61 shots and made 10, for the poorest shooting average of the season. Holland made three out of the first four shots and then missed 21 straight.

The winners took an 18-14 lead at the end of the first quarter and pushed the margin to 27-16 at half-time as Holland couldn't buy a bucket.

Things didn't get any better in the third period and the Tigers led a 33-21 advantage. The Dutch began to counter in the final quarter and were threatening as time ran out.

Gary Gibbons led Holland with 14. Other scorers were: Larry Alderink, 2; Clay Rice, 6; B. Tornovich, 4; Gene Boerman, 4 and Dale Dames, 2. Wightman and Biggart had 11 and nine for the winners.

Holland now has a 4-7 season's mark.

Richard Oggel, 60, Dies in Grand Rapids

Richard Oggel, 60, of 157 East 26th St., died Tuesday at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids where he had been since Sunday. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Oggel was born in Holland and educated in local schools. He was a member of Hope Reformed Church and a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. J. P. Oggel, with whom he lived; one brother, Dr. M. V. Oggel, pastor of Community Church of Glen Rock, N.J., and an aunt, Mrs. F. J. Ellenburg, of East Lansing.

Passenger Hurt
GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Cars driven by Eugene L. Murphy, 27, of the U.S. Coast Guard cutter, Woodbine, and Lorenzo Hilderbrandt of Fruitport collided at 4:50 p.m. Friday at Sixth and Elliott Sts. The Hilderbrandt car slid into the rear of the Murphy car causing it to tip over on the left side. Mrs. Betty Murphy, 27, wife of the driver, was taken to Municipal Hospital in an ambulance and was to have x-rays today. Both cars were badly damaged. City police are investigating.

While the bald eagle prefers fish as food, the golden eagle's staple diet consists of rodents.

Dutch Hold Lead At Half But Sag In Closing Stages

Holland High's cagers ran out of gas in Civic Center Friday night losing to Benton Harbor 79-66, for their 10th straight loss in 11 tries this season.

For a while, it looked as though this was the long awaited night and possibly the Dutch would catch the fire so sadly lacking most of the season.

Holland was driving in and showing aggressive play under both backboards and making a fine percentage of shots. In fact the Dutch made a good showing offensively throughout, making 27 of 55 shots for almost 41 percent but lacked the physical push to keep them in the contest.

Often in the final half especially, the tiring Dutch saw the extra couple inches of size on a few of the Benton Harbor men payoff and result in the basket. On several occasions, the Tigers, with Jim Reynolds 6'3", Leroy Goff 6'4", and Chester Walker 6'4", controlling play, were able to bat the ball back and forth out of Holland's reach and finally sink the bucket.

The Tigers had 80 shots at the hoop and made just 27 for 34 percent. The winners could also have been a little guilty of looking past Holland for the game, with Kalamazoo Central tonight. Benton Harbor won the first meeting of the two, 63-61.

Benton Harbor, with Goff hitting on jump shots, took a 10-4 lead with about three minutes played in the first quarter. But Holland came back and tied the score and began the first half rat-race.

Dick Vander Yacht sank a long shot to knot the count with 3:33 left in the quarter. Unrattled, Goff kept the Tigers in the driver's seat jumping ahead again by four. Holland again tied but the Tigers shot to a 22-16 first quarter margin.

Holland, hitting on five out of 16 shots in the first quarter, really came to life in the second period and completely surprised the Tigers with their aggressiveness.

The Dutch sank eight of 17 in the period and with 42 seconds remaining came up and snatched the lead on a Sherri Shaffer shot. John Kleinheksel added a basket and the Dutch led 37-35 a half-time. Shaffer was the scoring gun of the drive with 10 points.

In the next period, Holland began to sag and the alert Tigers took advantage of it. The Dutch only got 10 shots at the hoop but made four of them.

A few times Holland got the ball into the Tiger forecourt and continued to pass rather than shooting up and then lost the ball.

Big Reynolds, who had been held to nine points in the first half including two field goals by guard Bill Japiga, began to break away and set up plays and score for the Tigers in the second half. Japiga's defensive job took its toll and he picked up his fourth personal in the third period. He fouled out at 5:26 of the final frame.

Holland fell behind five points at the 3:25 mark and ended six points down 56-50 at the end of the third period.

Reynolds and Walker got going in the fourth quarter and soon had a shot to a 12-point lead and then midway in the period had worked the count to 73-54, for the biggest margin of the game. The Dutch made another slight spurt, led by Shaffer, and narrowed the final score slightly. Holland did succeed in making six out of 12 shots in the final period.

Reynolds ended with 24 points for top honors and Goff had 18, including five baskets in the first quarter. Walker, a sub forward, had 14.

Shaffer led Holland with 19 and Kleinheksel followed with 13 and Vander Yacht with 12.

Holland plays at Grand Haven next week. The 66-points was the highest made by the Dutch this season.

Next Civic Concert Will Star Violin-Piano Duo

Holland Civic Music Association will present The Rabinofs, violin-piano duo, in a concert at Civic Center next Tuesday evening, Feb. 21. The internationally famous artists will be presenting the fifth concert in the Civic Music Association's first series here.

Benno and Sylvia Rabinof are currently making their 12th nationwide concert tour. The celebrated violinist and his distinguished pianist-wife recently returned from a brilliant tour of the European continent with a triumphant side trip to Israel where they played in recital, on radio and with orchestra. The European tour was such a success that the Rabinofs have been invited by the International Exchange program of ANTA to tour the Near East.

Mr. Rabinof began his brilliant career under the guidance of the famous teacher Leopold Auer when he made his debut in Carnegie Hall at the age of 19 with the New York Philharmonic. Since that time he has won fame both here and abroad. He has appeared as soloist with leading symphony orchestras in the U. S., Canada and Europe and has made regular radio appearances over the national networks.

Sylvia Rabinof, before her New York debut in Town Hall, enjoyed a successful career of her own in Paris and Switzerland as a concert soloist. She is also a composer, with a children's operetta and a suite for chamber orchestra among her works. She is a rarity among musicians in that she accompanies her husband on the piano entirely from memory.

Christian High Debaters Lose

Holland Christian debaters bowed out of the regional debate tourney Tuesday, when they were defeated by Jackson High, the eventual tourney winners at Kalamazoo. The regional tournament and the finals are sponsored by the Michigan High School Forensic Association.

Jackson's affirmative team defeated the local negative duo made up of Rich Hertel and Larry Dykstra. The Jackson debaters were Ed Johnson and Richard Hill.

In opening round debates of the single elimination tourney, while Christian was bowing to Jackson, East Grand Rapids defeated Grand Rapids, Ottawa Hills and Battle Creek Lakeview defeated Muskegon. Jackson drew a second round bye, while East Grand Rapids defeated Lakeview.

Then in the finals, Jackson won the crown from East Grand Rapids to qualify for the state quarter-final round. An indication of the caliber of the Jackson debaters is that the same two boys who took a decision on Christian on the affirmative side of the question, won the championship by debating the negative side of the same question.

It was the first defeat of the season for the Holland Christian negative debaters. Hero Bratt is the Holland Christian debate coach.

Judges for the debates Tuesday were Professors Fred Alexander, B. J. Knittel and Deldee Herman.

Steffens Market took over undisputed first place in C League Recreation basketball play and Wooden Shoe topped Baker's Market to knot up the B league in Monday action in Civic Center.

Road Employees To Cast Vote on Social Security

GRAND HAVEN — The Ottawa County Road Commission has approved a request from its employees to coordinate their retirement system with Social Security benefits, and balloting among the employees as required by law will be held soon.

At a meeting Feb. 9, the commission okayed a heating system to be installed in the new repair shop addition to the Zeeland garage scheduled for construction next summer.

The commission accepted bids from two companies bidding for steel tubular piling to be used for proposed bridge construction in 1955 and 1957. Both bids were accepted in order to insure the delivery of material so that the county's bridge program would not be curtailed by the apparent future steel shortage.

A request from the Georgetown township board to install a railroad crossing in section 13 was referred to engineers for processing.

Chamber Exposes 'Shady' Practice

W. H. Vande Water, secretary-manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, today warned Holland area residents against any "get-rich-quick" schemes in the chinchilla buying and raising industry.

Such trickery is being foisted on many in the United States, according to a recent bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local chamber is affiliated, according to Vande Water.

"Those considering the raising of chinchillas for profit," Vande Water said, "should understand that the ultimate success of chinchilla farming as a sound business venture must rest upon (1) the production of pelts of quality suitable for use in the fur market, (2) the acceptability of chinchilla fur in the world of fashion, and (3) the acceptability of chinchilla by the public. They should also realize that the raising of any fur bearing animal as a business venture is a speculation which requires knowledge of the animal and its characteristics, breeding, diseases, pelting, marketing, etc."

Allegan Controls Play Throughout To Take Easy Win

ALLEGAN (Special)—A red hot Allegan basketball squad cashed in on accurate foul shooting in the second half here Friday night to outlast the Holland Christian Maroons, 72-64. The loss was Christian's fifth against nine wins, while the Allegan club has now won 10 and dropped two.

Hitting for 36 foul shots in 43 tries, 22 coming in the second half, Coach George Van Wageningen's Tigers staved off a tremendous comeback by the locals. The foul line wasn't the only place where the Allegan club was hot, however. Taking every advantage of their small gym, the Tigers hit a phenomenal 18 for 35 from the field for a 51 per cent average for the game. The Dutch meanwhile connected for 23 out of 68 tries from the field for a 34 per cent average. The locals had only 29 tries from the foul lane and made good on 18.

At one point early in the third quarter, the Dutch trailed by as much as 19 points. Then Coach Art Tuls changed the Maroon strategy and called for an all court press which bothered the strictly set-up, Allegan club tremendously. The Dutch took over the tempo of the game and by the end of the quarter had narrowed the gap to just nine points. Tuls kept inserting new players all quarter long to keep the pressure on the Tigers. However fouls did take their toll with Christian committing 33 compared with Allegan's 19 in the game.

Still behind but on the upgrade as the final period began, the Dutch received a serious blow both for chances of victory and perhaps for some time to come. Warren Boer, who was the Dutch's high scorer with 15 markers, intercepted a pass in the backcourt and was hit driving in for a layup. He received a bad cut on the finger as he fell. He was treated on the spot by an Allegan physician, and was immediately removed to the physician's office where x-rays were taken and a splint was put on. Results of the x-rays were not available until today.

The Dutch hung on valiantly in the last five minutes but were already playing without the services of both Dave Vander Hill and Ned Joldersma who had fouled out. Vander Hill, bothered by fouls all night, played less than a half of the contest, and scored four points. Allegan, playing flashy set-up basketball caught the Maroons napping often in the first quarter. Coupling their smooth play with an eight for 12 shooting average, the Tigers raced to a 24-14 first quarter margin.

The Maroons managed to keep pace in the second quarter with their best shooting of the game, but still couldn't close the gap against the victory hungry Tigers. By halftime the Dutch trailed 40-28.

The winners piled up a 51-32 lead early in the third quarter before the Maroons started to outscore and outfight the Allegan crew. Basked by basket the Dutch narrowed the count to 56-47 going into the final quarter.

Holland trailed 60-53 when Boer received his injury, and the Dutch missed his pressing tactics in the back court badly in the final five minutes. Allegan took just two shots in the final quarter but hit on 14 free throws.

One encouraging note in the Maroon defeat was the play of Harvey Westendorp who not only turned in a fine defensive game, but also hit for 10 points with some good outcourt shooting.

Bud Ingalsbee who fouled out in the final quarter for Allegan led his club with 17. Following Boer with 15 was Christian's Herm Tuls with 11.

Christian entertains Grand Rapids Christian on the Civic court next Friday.

Rep. Hosmer Cites Economic Gains Under Present Republican Regime

ZEELAND (Special) — Paying tribute to Abraham Lincoln as the first great Republican President of the United States, U. S. Rep. Craig Hosmer of California addressed the sixth annual Lincoln Day Banquet in City Hall here Friday night, sponsored by the Young Republican Club of Ottawa County.

"In his humbleness, Lincoln never left a suitable quotation for use in all the unforeseen Lincoln Day banquets held each year, yet he laid the groundwork for a great political party," Hosmer said.

Then he launched into the current situation in Washington and predicted a nation-wide victory for the Republican party next November to be attained by: 1. Work and dedication, 2. Attaining and maintaining solidarity among Republicans, 3. A growing realization by the public that they "like Ike" because of what he does.

"What Ike is doing is carrying out the Republican party's program and philosophy," Hosmer said. Hosmer said one of the sources of strength of the Republican Party is that it has never compromised on moral issues. However, he said that both citizenship and party membership "involves a responsibility to adjust one's personal opinions to the generally acceptable course of progress."

He said that in a "government by the people" every citizen has his own opinions on every political issue but that "each must give a little" so that a common course can be adopted on which the nation can proceed toward its goal.

He defined the goals of government as "simply to bring to its citizens peace, prosperity and freedom."

"Today's prosperity is not a happy accident, but is based firmly on Republican policies. This peace-time prosperity resulted because inflation has been curbed, deflation has been curbed, and initiative and expansion have been encouraged," he said.

He added that farmers were not getting their fair share of the country's prosperity but that President Eisenhower has the best experts working on it and will come up with the answer.

"Simple logic tells you you can't solve the farm problem by going back to the New Deal policies which created it."

He called for a second term for the American boys who did not die in Korea because the shooting war was stopped by Republican policies. He called for another term for the millions of American wage earners who have made the great est gains in the history of labor, and for another term for the small businessmen and white collar workers whose taxes have been lowered and whose savings have been protected against inflation. He said there must be another term for the 16 million Negro citizens who have experienced the greatest gains in civil rights in any three-year period of American history.

Yvonne R. De Jong, chairman of the Young Republican Club welcomed the guests. Senator Clyde Geerlings led the singing of the national anthem and Rep. George Van Peursem served as master of ceremonies. Music was provided by the Hollandaires, with dinner music by Bill Zeerip, pianist. The speaker was introduced by U.S.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr. The Rev. Harold Englund gave the invocation.

Distinguished guests introduced were John R. Feikens, chairman of the Republican State Central committee; John D. Martin, former auditor general; Charles Ziegler of the Michigan State Highway department; Mrs. Rae C. Hooker, national committee woman; Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles, District Attorney Wendell Miles, Assistant Attorney Robert Danhof and Ottawa Republican Chairman Carl Andreasen.

Also introduced were officers of the Young Republicans, and county officials. At the conclusion of the banquet, Rep. Hosmer was presented with an electric clock and the traditional pair of wooden shoes.

Identical gowns of deep purple Italian velvet were worn by the bride's attendants. Style features were scooped necklines with fitted bodices and full circle skirts of ballerina-length. Their headresses were bands of matching velveteen. They carried large pink mums with streamers of pink pompons.
