Experts Suggest 4-Point Program

Labeling it a blueprint for community action, Automobile Club of Michigan Wednesday recommended a four-point program for improvement of local traffic conditions to city officials and civic leaders.

The program was contained in a 105-page report of a $7,500, five-week survey conducted by Auto Club researchers last summer at the request of the City Council. Presented by Charles I. Wixson, Auto Club traffic research supervisor, at a dinner meeting in the Warm Friend Tavern, it called for:

1. Installing adequate signs and signals and removing parking at critical areas of 13 high-accident intersections to eliminate hazardous conditions and improve traffic flow.

2. Increasing the strength of the police department to 32 to 34 officers with three especially trained for full-time traffic duty.

Improving the major street system by establishing two pairs of one-way streets and adopting an official policy, covering construction, maintenance, traffic control devices and parking, to meet transportation requirements.

4. Inaugurating a community-wide information and safety education program to point out accident causes and corrective measures.

"The traffic problem in Holland is home-grown for the most part," Wixson stated. "An analysis of the 625 accidents in the city from June 1, 1956 to May 31, 1957, showed that more than 75 per cent of drivers involved live in the Holland area. Nearly half have been driving for more than 11 years and are between the ages of 26 and 65."

He called for a community-wide education program involving both public officials and civic organizations to point out bad driving and pedestrian practices leading to accidents and to explain proper methods of correcting the problem.

The Auto Club accident analysis showed that the most hazardous traffic months in Holland came in the non-tourist season with more than 26 per cent of all accidents coming in January and December. Saturday and Friday were the most dangerous days with the most accident-prone hour between noon and 1 p.m. Wixson said 70 per cent of accidents occurred between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. with 50 per cent coming between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Failure to yield right-of-way was the most frequent violation noted.

He pointed out that Holland drivers apparently use extra caution to overcome inclement weather but became careless during clear weather when pavements are dry and visibility good. Records showed 80 per cent of accidents occurred during the latter time. He warned that special training and regulation should be given to the high number of bicycle and motor scooter riders in the city. Accidents involving these vehicles represent only five per cent of the total but are usually the most severe, he added.

"Holland police are doing a good job in traffic under present conditions," the Auto Club official stated. "They could do an outstanding job with adequate and properly trained personnel. We recommend increasing the force to 32 or 34 officers with three especially trained for full-time traffic work."

This figure is in line with that recommended in a formula devised nationally by the President's Highway Safety Conference and with consideration for local conditions, he said. The formula calls for two officers for every 1,000 residents including a traffic section of two officers per 10,000 population.

Wixson said that less than a third of the 1,213 drivers involved in the year's accidents were cited for traffic violations and recommended that accident investigation procedures be reviewed and officers given additional training if necessary.

The report cited eight high-accident locations in the downtown business district including 8th St. at Pine Ave., River, Central, College and Columbia Aves.; River Ave. at Seventh St. and 10th St., and Central Ave., at 10th St. Five dangerous intersections noted outside the downtown area were River at 17th St. and 15th St.; Pine at River Ave. and 17th St., and Harrison Ave. at 16th St.

Corrective measures recommended included the removal of curb parking on intersection approaches with the principal parking-ban coming on the west side of River Ave. from Eighth St. to 12th St. to accommodate heavy southbound movement and to relieve congestion. New traffic signals to be installed in line with State Highway Department standards were called for at Pine Ave. at Eighth St. and Pine at River Aves. Present signals at River and Seventh St. and River Ave. at 15th St. should be modernized to meet standards and a three-phase signal installed at River Ave. and Eighth St. to provide special north to east and west to south right-turn movements, the report stated.

While not in need of traffic signals at the present time, the intersections of Central Ave. at 10th St. and Harrison Ave. at 16th St. should be posted as four-way stops, Wixson said and also recommended oversized stop signs on Pine Ave. at 17th St. to protect cross-town traffic. The intersection at Eighth St. and College Ave. should be opened up by rounding off the north corners to ease turning movements, he added.

In answer to an invitation published in The Sentinel, the Club received requests from residents to examine conditions in the Lincoln School area and at the State-College-24th intersection. Recommendations for employment of an adult crossing guard and improved signing in the school area have been turned over to Richard Franklin, Auto Club's local school safety consultant, for discussion with school officials, Wixson reported.

The second location has been improved recently by the city but there is a need for a removal of some parking on the east side of College and for added signing, he said.

"The general pattern of the city's major street system conforms with the recommendations made by Scott Bagby, Holland planning consultant, in 1953 and appears adequate for present needs and the immediate future with some alterations," the traffic specialist stated.

Recommendations for improvement included the establishment of Sixth St. westbound and Seventh St. eastbound as one-way streets between Columbia and River Aves. to ease through truck traffic and reduce turning movements at the Seventh St. and River Ave. intersection. The designation of 16th St. and 17th St. as one-way streets in the near future would relieve the need to continue 22nd St. as a through street beyond Michigan Ave. for some time, Wixson said. The possible designation of 24th St. as a major cross-town thoroughfare should also be carefully studied, he added.

He warned that, unless designated major streets are maintained to handle traffic volumes, excessive use of residential streets as alternate routes would result. He said the city should adopt an official policy calling for the highest construction standards for moving traffic on streets with at least 11-foot lanes and with extra space allotted for curb parking where permitted.

Other points that should be covered in the policy, he said, include annual inspections, regular resurfacing and programs and the installation of traffic control devices in accordance with recognized warrants and standards.

"Holland is rapidly approaching the time when traffic signals on Eighth St. and River Ave. should be interconnected and supervised by a master controller, he stated. "Both streets are trunk line routes and local officials should consult the State Highway Department on the matter."

An inventory of Holland stop signs by Auto Club researchers found 54 of 263 failing to meet standards. The report recommended that yellow signs presently in use be replaced by the new standard red, reflectorized version. Many of the yield signs in the city are below standard while others are being used improperly, Wixson said.

Angle parking presents a hazard to pedestrians on the sidewalk and to moving traffic and decreases the amount of travelled right-of-way, he stated and recommended that it be prohibited and the areas converted to parallel parking.

"In many areas of the downtown district, there are no curbs at the intersection permitting vehicles making right turns to actually drive over the sidewalks," he said. "Curbs of the proper design should be installed at all such intersections and painted yellow to aid turning movements. The city should also develop a set of design standards for commercial driveways to control traffic onto major streets. Curb cuts should only be permitted upon submission of the design to the city engineer for approval."

The Auto Club executive praised Holland officials and merchants for their cooperative efforts in providing city drivers with adequate parking. He pointed out that a business district must take care of the need of the short-time, average-time and the all-day parker.

A special parking study conducted as part of the survey showed that the 500 metered spaces in the central business district for short-time parkers were used for less than one-hour at a time. The report recommended that two-hour meter along 9th between College and River and along College between 7th and 9th be changed to one-hour to fill the apparent demand.

"The parking situation in Holland is in excellent condition at this time and the city is to be congratulated for the unique leasing arrangement worked out with property owners to provide adequate off-street space," Wixson stated. "As long as funds are provided to replace areas lost through expired leases and new commercial developments are required to provide off-street space to meet their needs, the economic status of the downtown area will not suffer from a parking shortage."

Police to Seek New Members

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, in discussing the traffic research report presented to the city Wednesday night by the Automobile Club of Michigan, said today that he approves the recommendations included in the study.

One of the suggestions concerns the addition of several men to the Holland police force, which now numbers 20 men. Chief Van Hoff said he will ask for authority to hire several new men when the new budget is worked out in July.

The 105-page report also recommended that two pairs of one-way streets be provided. Sixth and Seventh Sts. and 16th and 17th Sts. were suggested, although Chief Van Hoff said that some feel that Seventh and Ninth Sts. would serve better than Sixth and Seventh Sts. to carry off surplus traffic from the main streets.

Members of the city council and service clubs also attended the dinner meeting at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Local Youth Recaptured After Flight

David Essenburg Found Hiding in Friend's Closet By Deputies, Police

A prisoner on his way to Jackson Prison Thursday night broke away from his captors here and, handcuffed, made a successful escape amidst pursuing gunfire. His freedom was short-lived.

The prisoner, David L. Essenburg, 18, of 412 West 20th St., made his escape at 8:32 p.m. At 1:10 a.m. Friday, he was recaptured, hiding in a closet in the home of a friend.

Essenburg Wednesday was sentenced by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith to serve 18 months to five years in Jackson Prison for violation of probation.

The violations consisted of driving while his license was revoked and reckless driving. He was arrested Monday after eluding Holland police for a week.

Thursday night Essenburg was being transferred from the Ottawa County Jail to the Holland city jail on the first leg of his trip to Jackson. He was escorted by Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek and Vanderbeek's 18-year-old son, Jim.

As the three left the car at the police station, Essenburg suddenly broke away and raced through the parking lot behind the police station and down Seventh St.

Sheriff Vanderbeek said he fired four shots, first into the air and then shooting at Essenburg's feet.

Nearly all Holland police, both on duty and off duty were immediately called to the search. Police reserves were also called out.

Police followed his tracks through the swamp to Lake Macatawa and west in the ice to the Montello Park area, where several youths reported seeing the fugitive running through a field.

The search went on until police received a tip Essenburg was hiding in the home of a friend on 21st St. near Homestead Ave. Officers converged on the scene and took him into custody. His handcuffs had been removed. Officers said they had been chopped apart and the locks picked.

Ottawa County Deputy Leonard Ver Schure early Friday morning took Essenburg to Jackson. They arrived at the prison without further incident.

Snow Removers Creating Hazard

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said today that privately-operated jeeps with snow plows, hired to clear out driveways in the city, have been pushing the snow out into the street or onto other people's property.

Besides being inconsiderate of other persons, Chief Van Hoff said this practice violates a city ordinance governing these matters.

The city ordinance declares it a misdemeanor to deposit snow or ice on another's property, on the sidewalk or roadway, particularly in such quantity as might create a traffic hazard.

With permission from the street department, the chief said, surplus snow may be placed in the middle of the street where the snow loader can pick it up. Permission must be obtained in advance, he said.

Saugatuck Driver Injured in Collision

Jacob Rozema, 42, of route 1, East Saugatuck, was treated at Holland Hospital for lacerations of the face and scalp received in an accident this morning at 10:40 a.m. at the intersection of M-21 and US-31.

Ottawa County deputies said Rozema was headed east on M-21 and a semi-trailer truck driven by Theodore J. Renkema, 24, of route 4, Holland, was going south on US-31 when they met in the intersection. Deputies estimated the damage to Rozema's 1955 model at $700 and the damage to the semi at $100.

Probate Court Rules in Consumers Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Probate Court Judge Frederick T. Miles this afternoon ruled that his court has jurisdiction in the Consumers Power Co. case.

The company is seeking to condemn property in Port Sheldon in connection with the construction of a power plant there.

Miles then appointed Earnest C. Brooks, Randall M. Dekker, and Peter Hamm as commissioners and set the date of the first meeting for Feb. 20 at 8:30 a.m.

Dies in California

Word was received in Holland Monday of the death of Mrs. Cornelius Rooks, about 85, of Los Angeles, Calif., which occurred Feb. 4 in Artesia, Calif. The family left Holland about 1915 for California. Mrs. Rooks is survived by the husband, a son, Albert C., and a daughter, Mrs. Leona Boerman; a sister, Mrs. Albert Timmer of California, several grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Hamilton Board Favors Consolidation

HAMILTON (Special) — The Hamilton Board of Education has signed a resolution for consolidating 15 school districts in Hamilton area.

The 15 districts considering consolidation are Hamilton, Beeline, Russcher, Sandy View, Highland, Pioneer, Sunnyside, West View, Valley View, Brookside, McClure, River Road, Col. Elmwood, and Beechwood at Overisel. These districts lie in Fillmore, Heath, Overisel, Laketown and Manlius townships in Allegan county.

The Hamilton board also has received notice from the Holland Board of Education that no ninth grade students from Hamilton district will be admitted next year.

The Hamilton board also adopted a new policy requiring a child to be five years old on or before Sept. 1 to enroll for the fall semester.

Ambassador Applications Available

Candidates for Community Ambassador for the coming summer may obtain applications at either the Holland Chamber of Commerce or Hope College.

Applicants must be from Holland area in the age range of 18 to 30. Deadline for filing applications is Feb. 25 with Dr. Donald F. Brown in his office in the Hope Library building or the Chamber of Commerce office in the Warm Friend Tavern.

It was pointed out that teachers in the Holland area coming within the age range are eligible to apply.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors, Dr. Brown was reelected president. Mrs. Henry Steffens was renamed secretary and John Fonger was elected treasurer. Directors are working on a set of by-laws for the Holland organization which is the oldest Community Ambassador organization in Michigan.

In the past, Holland has sent a Community Ambassador annually to such places as Germany, Austria, Spain, Chile and Yugoslavia.

Hungry Vandals Invade Harrington School

A group of evidently hungry vandals entered the Harrington School Wednesday night and ate their fill in the school kitchen.

Ottawa County deputies said nothing apparently was taken from the building, but 10 half-pint bottles of milk were drained, a number of sandwiches and half a cake were eaten and a giant can of tomato soup was heated up and partially eaten.

Deputies said entrance was gained by taking a pane of glass from a door on the west side of the building. The glass was carefully replaced afterward, the deputies said, but a couple of the mouldings were not. Deputies indicated that "four or five" juveniles would be questioned today.

Driver is Ticketed

August Kampen, 56, of 315 West 19th St., was ticketed by Holland police for failure to yield the right of way to through traffic as the result of an accident this morning at 6:08 a.m. on Central Ave. just north of Seventh St. Police said Kampen, making a wide left turn, collided with a car driven by Ann Van Ingen, 40, of 325 West 14th St., headed north on Central Ave. Kampen's 1941 model was damaged in excess of its value, police said, and reported that damage to Miss Van Ingen's car was minor.

Youth Bound Over

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Marvin Downs, 17, Nunica, was bound over to Circuit Court at an examination on a rape charge before Justice Lawrence De Witt this morning. He appeared in Circuit Court this noon and at his request the court appointed Harry Lieffers of Grand Haven at county expense to be his lawyer. The arraignment in higher court was set Feb. 21. The alleged offense which involves a 14-year-old Spring Lake township girl occurred last Dec. 14. Two other young men are involved.

Ticketed in Accident

Benjamin Voss, 74, of 302 East 24th St., was ticketed by Holland police for failure to yield the right of way and for driving with his rear vision obscured following an accident Tuesday at 2:16 p.m. on Columbia Ave. just south of 15th St. Police said he backed out of a parking space into the path of a car driven by Miss Florence Hildebrand, 47, of 62 West 11th St. Damage was estimated by police at $175 to Miss Hildebrand's 1953 model and at $50 to Voss' 1951 model.

Parked Car Damaged

Charles A. Hunt, 37, of 6013 48th Ave., told Ottawa County deputies that his 1950 model car, parked on 48th Ave., a half mile south of Port Sheldon Rd., was struck by another vehicle sometime Monday. No one witnessed the accident, he said. Deputies estimated the damage at $50.

COLLIDES WITH SNOW PLOW — Nellis De Witte, 39, of Grandville, the driver of the semi pictured above, leaped from his truck as it careened out of control after colliding with a parked snow plow Wednesday on US-31 just south of Eighth St. Nellis told Ottawa County deputies the truck went out of control when he hit the brakes and turned a complete circle before striking the snow plow, then turned another circle down the highway before jackknifing in the ditch. The driver of the snow plow, Donald E. Meengs, 34, of route 2, Zeeland, was not injured. (Sentinel photo)

Italian Instrumentalists Greeted With Enthusiasm

One of the most attentive and responsive audiences ever to attend a concert in Holland filled Civic Center Thursday night for a program by the Virtuosi Di Roma, an ensemble of soloists directed by Renato Fasano currently touring America presenting programs of rarely heard musical masterpieces. The 14-man ensemble performed from a stage placed in front of the main stage, an innovation which improved acoustics tremendously.

To the musician it was an evening of the best of soul-satisfying music. And the person unskilled in the intricacies of counterpoint was vastly impressed by the performance which denoted perfection at every point.

Fourteen musicians, each of them a virtuoso in his own right, make up the ensemble which plays as a chamber orchestra in perfect proportion. Particularly popular with the Holland audience was Renato Zanfini, oboist, in the Valentin Concerto in C Major. Another enthusiastic favorite was the violin and oboe duet.

Thursday's program listed two Vivaldi concertos, a Corelli concerto, the Valentin concerto and a Rossini sonata.

The ensemble graciously complied with an encore, something rarely done by European musicians. The encore was another arrangement of a movement of the Rossini sonata, revised from a manuscript in the Library of Congress dated 1804 when Rossini was 12 years old.

After the concert, the musicians, few of whom could communicate in the English language, expressed their pleasure over the attentiveness and enthusiastic response of the audience.

Thursday's concert also provided the opportunity for members to renew their memberships at tables in the lobby during intermission. The membership drive, scheduled to end Feb. 15, got off to a fine start.

Sara Dixon Has Party On 17th Birthday

Sara Dixon celebrated her 17th birthday anniversary Saturday with a party given for her at the home of Mrs. Fern Dixon, 188 West 13th St.

Games were played and refreshments were served. A Japanese-Hawaiian theme was used. Activities included a scavenger hunt.

Guests invited were Miss Dixon, Inez Roder, Joyce Pedersen, Rose Wolrding, Judy Weaver, Donna Zeerip, Melva Rowan, Joyce Atwood, Clarice Jean Elferdink, Ruth Gerritsen, Ann De Jongh, Jane Van Tatenhove, Linda Vandenberg, Sandie Van Langevelde, Lois Van Dyke, Cherry Van Spyker, Elvira Ruhlig, Sue Warner, Linda Gadziemski and Barbara Renick.

Woman Slightly Injured In Two-Car Accident

Mrs. Henrietta Van Zanden, 52, of 144 Clover, was treated at Holland Hospital for a bruised upper lip and an injury to her neck and released following a two-car accident Monday at 6:42 p.m. at the corner of 30th St. and Van Raalte Ave.

Mrs. Van Zanden was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Jack 52, headed south on Van Raalte Ave. The other driver, Earl R. Borlace, 37, of 334 West 31st St., going west on 30th St., was ticketed by Holland police for failure to yield the right of way. Police estimated the damage to Borlace's 1957 model at $400, and the damage to Van Zanden's 1950 model at $250.

Restrictions On Parking Imposed

Parking restrictions in residential areas were imposed Wednesday in Holland, made necessary by the ever-growing deposits of snow.

The orders:

- No parking on the north side of any east-west street
- No parking on the east side of any north-south avenue.

In those areas where parking already is restricted in residential areas, the signs.

The move was made at a conference in the city engineer's office Wednesday attended by Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, City Manager Herb Holt, City Engineer Laverne Serne, Public Safety Director Garth Newman, Assistant Engineer William Layman and Street Supervisor Henry Terpstra.

The group chose to restrict parking on the north and east sides because all city hydrants are placed on those sides of the street, and the arrangement would generally allow easiest access.

The committee designated the restrictions as effective Thursday, Feb. 13, but sought the cooperation of the motoring public to observe the rules immediately. There has been growing concern of narrowing thoroughfares on Ninth St., at Hope College and near some schools.

These restrictions will be particularly in effect on Sunday when traffic tie-ups are anticipated at local churches.

Police will give individual study to problems in commercial areas. Parking restrictions will remain effective until lifted by the officials. The city code provides for restrictions in emergency measures.

Holland Youth Injured When Struck By Car

Alan Brinkman, 15, of 800 West 24th St., was treated at Holland Hospital for bruises and an injured left shoulder received when he was struck by a car at 12:28 p.m. today on Pine Ave. at 13th St.

Holland police said the car was driven by Kenneth Dee Hewitt, 17, of 272 East 11th St.; headed south on Pine Ave. Hewitt told police he swerved to avoid a car which started across Pine Ave. from 13th St., and then struck Brinkman, the third of three youths crossing the street in front of him. Police are continuing their investigation.

Two Cars Collide

Cars driven by John Leugs, 58, of 25 East 20th St., and Harvey Kortman, 22, of 592 Graafschap Rd., collided Tuesday at 11:50 p.m. at the corner of 16th and Columbia Ave. Holland police, investigating the accident, estimated the damage to Kortman's 1952 model at $400 and the damage to Leugs' 1941 model at $350.

Meeting Rescheduled

Maplewood School cancelled its meeting Wednesday night for discussion of school problems because of weather conditions and have rescheduled the meeting Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m.

4 Injured In Accident Near Douglas

Hospital Lists Two In Serious Condition; Both Cars Demolished

Two women were killed and four persons were injured, one critically, in a two-car head-on collision at 3:45 p.m. Friday four miles south of Saugatuck on US-31.

Mrs. Ruth Dunshee, 65, of Hammond, Ind., was pronounced dead on arrival at Douglas Hospital. The body has been removed to the Nibbelink-Notier Funeral Home.

Mrs. Grace Ross, 55, of St. Joseph, died at 7:05 a.m. Saturday at Holland Hospital. Hospital officials said death was caused by internal injuries.

Mrs. Grace Van Natter, 71, of Grimshaw, Alberta, Canada, is reported in critical condition Saturday at Holland Hospital with multiple fractures of the left arm and a fractured pelvis.

Howard Dunshee, 65, driver of one of the cars and husband of the dead woman, is listed in fair condition at Holland Hospital Saturday with facial lacerations and possible rib fractures.

Mrs. Clara Johnson, 57, of McBain, Mich., suffered a fractured right arm and is reported in good condition at Holland Hospital.

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Belle Baker, 56, of St. Joseph, was taken to St. Joseph Memorial Hospital. State police said she was in fair condition with facial cuts and possible internal injuries.

According to state police, the Dunshee car was headed north on US-31 when it went into a skid on snowy, slippery pavement. The car crossed the road, police said, and collided head-on with the Baker car, headed south.

Mrs. Van Natter and Mrs. Johnson were passengers in the Dunshee car, according to state police, and Mrs. Ross was riding with Mrs. Baker.

State police said both cars were damaged in excess of their value. Police continued their investigation.

Mrs. Ross' body was taken to the Dykstra Funeral Home from where it will be removed to the Day Funeral Home at St. Joseph later today.

Group Discusses Service Activities

A potluck supper and chairman meeting of supporting services was held at the Red Cross Monday evening with Mrs. Floyd Ketchum, chairman of volunteers, in charge.

The guest of the evening was Miss Corinne Otto, Red Cross Field Representative, from Kalamazoo who explained to the new chairman the duties of the services each represented and to answer all questions.

Chairmen attending were Mrs. D. Gebrard, Gray Ladies; Miss Mary Lou Van Dyke, nursing services, Mrs. A. Christenson, Nurses Aide; Mrs. David Gordon, canteen; Mrs. Ernest Wagnory, co-chairman of recognition; Mrs. Gladys H. Aldrich, executive secretary of Red Cross.

Miss Otto explained that the volunteers in the 10 services are called into action in case of a natural disaster. In case of an enemy caused disaster, the Red Cross Volunteers work under the direction of Civil Defense. A very significant service is canteen. Volunteers are trained in planning, preparing and serving food. They are responsible for emergency feeding, following a natural disaster. They also serve blood donors on Blood Bank Day.

Mrs. Gordon will interview and accept application for a class of 20 to take the canteen service course. Mrs. Ketchum and Mrs. Wagnory are making plans for a chapter recognition ceremony.

Valentine Dance to Be Held at Moose Home

The Academy of Friendship Committee of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 1010, will sponsor a Valentine Dance on Friday at Moose Home. Co-workers, members of the Loyal Order and guests are invited to attend the Sweethearts dance. There also will be entertainment.

Each year the Academy of Friendship Committee contributes to the Scholarship Fund at Mooseheart. The committee is composed of co-workers who have proved their worth to the Women of the Moose according to records on file in office of Grand Recorder Zola Kenney at Mooseheart.

The next regular committee meeting will be a p.m. lunch on Feb. 26 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Rummel, 181 West 22nd St. A spaghetti supper is scheduled at 6 p.m. that same night at Moose Home sponsored by Bea Johnson and her ritual committee.

Cars Collide on M-21

Cars driven by Marcia Ann Hovling, 19, of Grand Rapids, and Phyllis A. De Jonge, 22, of Grand Rapids, collided Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. on M-21 just west of Fairview Rd. Ottawa County deputies estimated the damage to the Hovling 1953 car at $125 and the damage to the De Jonge 1953 model at $

Hope Takes Top Honors In Contest

Hope College walked off with top honors in the Michigan Peace Speech Association contest on Hope campus Friday by winning two first places, a second and a third. The top honors went to two women from New Jersey and two men from Michigan.

Marianne Hageman, senior, from Millstone, N. J., placed first in the women's oratory finals. Ronald Chandler, sophomore from Holland, placed first in the men's oratory finals. Second place in the women's extempore speaking went to Carolyn Kleiber, freshman from Harbuck Heights, N. J., and third place in the men's extempore speaking was taken by James Stevens, junior from Hart, a last minute substitute for George Worden, winner of last year's state and national oratory who was taken ill shortly before the contest.

Another Holland student, Warren J. Boer, a sophomore at Calvin College, won top place in the men's extempore contest for his speech on "Atoms for Peace." He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Boer of 575 Lawndale Ct.

"The Wisdom of the Cl." was the title of the speech that won Miss Hageman top honors. She is a psychology speech major at Hope College.

"The Quest for Peace," was the title of Ronald Chandler's speech that placed him first in the men's contest. In high school, Chandler was forensics winner three years in succession. He is majoring in history at Hope.

Carolyn Kleiber, second place winner, is majoring in speech and hopes to become a teacher of speech when she graduates from Hope.

James Stevens is an English major at Hope. The contest was sponsored by the Michigan Interscholastic Speech League, and the Knights of Pythias who offer the prizes for the four events. This is the 11th year that the Knights of Pythias has offered the prizes.

General director of the contest was Dr. Albert Becker of Western Michigan University. Dr. Schrier, head of the department of speech at Hope College was in charge of local arrangements. Dr. Schrier, who coached the Hope contestants to victory, has helped win many top honors for Hope in speech and oratory in the past.

William Bosma Feted At Surprise Party

Boydhood friends of William M. Bosma gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terpstra, route 2, Saturday night to honor Mr. Bosma on his 47th birthday. Old friendships were renewed and old times reminisced.

An autographed billfold was presented to the guest of honor. Mr. Bosma was also given an album of all the homes which he, as a carpenter, has built in the past 10 years. A two-course lunch featuring a decorated birthday cake was served.

Maroons Come From Behind In 4th Period

Holland Christian's Maroons used a familiar pattern to down the Portage Mustangs 45-38 on the Civic Center court, Friday night before 1,900 fans. Once again the Dutch fought back from a third period deficit to pour it on in the final quarter to take its hardest win of the season.

The Dutch were far from sharp in taking their 12th win against a lone setback. Portage, meanwhile was a steamed up ball club and was within seven minutes of ringing in an upset. The Mustangs have now dropped four games in 11 starts, twice to the Dutch and another two to Allegan. The Allegan Tigers, whose only defeat in 11 starts was to the Maroons, will come here Tuesday to battle the locals.

It was obvious from the opening whistle that Coach Eddie Graut's Mustangs hadn't come to Holland to absorb another 79-36 shellacking administered by the Dutch earlier this season. Paced by a pair of rugged rebounders, 6' 3" George Minor and 6' 5" Bill Meyer, the Mustangs were a tough ball club against the Dutch. The rest of the quint were alert and outscrapped the Maroons for three quarters.

Shootingwise the Hollanders had a real bad night, particularly in the first half, while Portage was getting fewer shots, but hitting well. In the first half the Maroons connected on only seven out of 35 tries for a 20 per cent mark, while the losers hit on 11 out of 25 for 44 per cent. Christian's six for 12 in the final quarter boosted their overall shooting to 17 out of 61 for 28 per cent. The Mustangs ended up 16 out of 46 for 35 per cent.

Cal Klaasen, who didn't play the first quarter, did a great job on the boards for the Maroons as did Jim Hulst and Warren Otte, although Otte spent a good part of the first half on the bench with fouls. Tuls used three reserves, including two sophomores, much of the second quarter.

Portage opened with a flurry and moved out to a 6-0 mark. The Dutch collected their first basket on a one handed by Jim Meurer. The Mustangs continued to move and held a 12-3 lead at one stage in the period. Portage used a zone defense, but saw it riddled on many occasions by good Maroon passing, but only a few baskets. Christian had pulled up to a 12-7 deficit at the quarter.

The Dutch still trailed during the second quarter but kept within striking distance with some good outcourt shooting by Klaasen. Midway in the period the Mustangs led 17-13. The two clubs played on even terms until the final half minute when Guard Eddie Walker dumped in two swishers to give the Mustangs a 25-18 lead at halftime.

After the invaders scored the first basket of the second half, the Maroons shook themselves out of their lethargy and started to play an aggressive defense. Slowly but surely, the Dutch crept up on the Mustangs to narrow the gap to three points repeatedly, but still trailing and still missing good shots at the quarter, 31-28.

Coach Art Tuls' quint, now thoroughly aroused, grabbed the lead on two quick fast break baskets by Guard Dan Bos to take a 32-31 margin, their first of the game, with about seven minutes left. Although the losers managed to knot the count at 33-33, their balloon seemed to burst as the Dutch applied the pressure. Christian raced to a 41-34 margin and was not in trouble after that.

At the foul line, the Dutch connected on 11 out of 20 tries while Portage hit on just six out of 18. Bos paced the Holland attack with 10 points, followed by Hulst with nine and Meurer with eight. Mickey Macdonald led the Portage club with 11 points.

According to Carl Walter Jr., president of the school board, no immediate plans have been made.

Hope JVs Nip Beverage Five

The Hope JVs handed Holland Beverage its first loss of the current basketball season Saturday night, 85-84, but it took an overtime to do it in the preliminary game Saturday in Civic Center.

The regulation game ended 81-81 as Bob Creelins of the Beverage dumped a basket with two seconds remaining to send the game into an overtime.

Don Boyink made two free shots and Ben Vanden Bos made a basket for Hope in the overtime while Bob (Shorty) Van Dyke sank the Beverage tallies.

Hope led throughout the game and worked the margin to 52-34 at halftime. But then with the Beverage getting under the basket scoring from Van Dyke along with aggressive defense, they whittled the 18-point spread down steadily and caught Hope just at the horn.

The Beverage outscored the winners 47-29 in the second half. Shorty Van Dyke led both teams with 30 points while Bill Vanderbilt had 24 for Hope.

Other Hope scorers were: Boyink, 17; Doug Japinga, 14; Bob Hilbelink, 11; Jerry Hill, 7; Dick Bakker, 6; Dan Rutsema, 4 and Mike Blough, 2.

Fuzz Bauman followed Van Dyke with 18 while Zeke Piersma had 14. Dell Koop pumped 9, Creelins, 8 and Lou Van Dyke, 4.

A total of 41 exhibits will be included in this year's show, displaying the latest ideas on home planning. Designs of homes and individual rooms will be exhibited.

All of the available space in the Civic Center will be put to use. A model home is planned for one area.

Unselfish Wish Comes True for Holland Girl

A Holland youngster's dream came true this week because of a 15-year-old girl's unselfish wish.

Six-year-old D. J. Oosterbaan, who contracted an incurable illness (leukemia) last summer, boarded a plane with his family Monday for the land of all present-day children's dreams — Disneyland.

And the wonderfully unselfish girl who has made it all possible is Ruth Zwemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zwemer, 260 East Ninth St. D. J., who is now getting around in a wheelchair, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Oosterbaan, 276 Washington Blvd. Ruth, who is a driver education student of Mr. Oosterbaan at Holland High School, Friday night was one of two winners in a nationwide television contest in which she named a "magic word" to make her stated big wish come true. A 50-word letter wishing for a Disneyland trip for her teacher's illness had made her one of five finalists in the Truth or Consequences contest. During Friday night's telecast, she was called at her home to name the magic word "lucky," and her wish was granted.

The Oosterbaans were then notified that arrangements are being completed and the family, including daughter Cheryl, 11, left from Grand Rapids airport at 4:11 p.m. Monday for California. Their local physician had already been contacted about the trip.

In Hollywood, a limousine will take them to the Hollywood Knickerbocker hotel, headquarters for their visit. The week will include at least two days at Disneyland plus visits to movie sets and television programs. They will return home next Saturday.

Ruth, who wrote her entry letter, unknown to the Oosterbaans or even to any of her friends, won the children's division of the big wish contest and receives only a model car as her prize. But winning for D. J., she said, was the thrill of a lifetime.

Man Sentenced For Drunk Driving

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Leonard Mulder, 41, of 4691 Butternut Dr., Holland, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail Friday when he appeared for sentence after pleading guilty Jan. 20 to a charge of drunk driving, third offense.

Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith did not place Mulder on probation and did not assess costs, feeling that the family could not afford it and probation is worthless.

The court reviewed Mulder's record on drunk driving, listing three previous offenses before the current offense which occurred last Dec. 13 in Holland. "In reality, this is really your fourth offense, and the court has not been able to impress upon you the necessity of altering your manner of driving," the judge said.

Authority Given to Sell Notes for New Building

The finance committee of Christ Memorial Church was given authority to issue and sell $120,000 in promissory notes for a new educational building and its furnishings at a congregational meeting held at Montello Park School Friday evening.

Members of the committee are Lester Pool, chairman, Harold Scholten, Eugene Vande Vusse and Dr. M. H. Hamelin.

Kammeraad and Stroop have been obtained as architects for the new structure which will be built on property on 24th St. and Graafschap Rd. which has been purchased by the congregation.

In charge of the meeting Friday evening was the Rev. Edwin Mulder, pastor of the church.

Two Zeeland Drivers Collide in Hudsonville

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Two Zeeland residents were involved in an accident on M-21 in Hudsonville at 8:50 p.m. Friday. The cars, both going west, were driven by Richard Nies, 76, of 58 West Cherry St., and Lester Hoogland, 28, of 303 West Central Ave., Zeeland.

State police said a car in front of the Nies 1955 car turned left from the right lane without signaling. Nies applied his brakes and slid to the left and Hoogland also applied the brakes on his 1955 car, sliding to the left. The car to blame for the crash continued on, police said.

Damage to the Nies car was estimated at $425 and to Hoogland's convertible at $350. No ticket was issued.

Dutch Cagers

In keeping with Foreign Missions Month, the group saw slides on China which were narrated by Mrs. Alden Shoemaker. A social time followed.

The monthly meeting of the Fellowship Guild, was held Tuesday evening at Fourth Reformed Church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Alyda Visscher. Two solos were sung by Mrs. George Moes and a birthday poem was read by Mrs. Visscher.

Speaker for the evening was Miss Alys Alderink, missionary to South America, who told of her work among the Indians and showed costumes worn by the natives.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Tea and Fashion Show

Mothers will be honored at a tea and style show this Saturday, Feb. 15 at 2 p.m. in the Civic Center by Jean Teens, Horizonettes and Horizon Club girls.

The tea and style show for Mothers is an annual event. Each group will invite an honored guest, usually a woman who has been a community leader. The newest spring styles, including bathing suits from Jean's, Westrates and Sears, will be modeled.

The public may watch the style show from the balcony. Models under the direction of Mrs. Henry Smith, chairman, will be Mary Van Haltsma, Kay Gushen, Jan Veedor, Gayle Steketee, Marilyn Smeenge, Mary Van Zanten, Cecelia Skutnik, Carol Alofs, Melanie Johnson, Bobbie Bush, Mrs. Henry Visscher, Mrs. Dewey Mishoe, Mrs. Ronald Boeve, Mrs. William Pluin, Roberta Wise, Lois Haworth, Linda Raven, Karen Ende, Brenda Smith, Martha Wright, Karen Mokma, Ruth Zuerink, Virginia Drnek, and Mrs. William Miller.

Mary Emma Young will do the narration with Kathy Weidenhamer as organist. The organ will be provided by Fred Meyer. Styles for Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club members will be modeled by Barbara Van Tatenhove, Barbara Blewes and Sara Vander Poel, respectively.

A group of Lincoln School Blue Birds will present the playlet "What Blue Bird Means." A group of Horizon girls will form a quartet for singing. As a special treat, the Horizon girls who performed the Can Can dance at the Dads and Daughters supper and square dance last week will repeat the performance. The girls have been trained by Mrs. William De Jong.

Mrs. Dale Klomparsen is general chairman for the tea and show. She has many assistants from the various groups. Decorations in the spring motif will be made by Karen Vanover Werp's Jean Teens, Mrs. Henry Visscher's Horizonettes and Mrs. Edward Brondyke's Horizon group.

Stage handling will be by the Jean Teens of Mrs. Clare Walker and Mrs. George Piers. Mrs. Nick Vukin's Jean Teens will take care of the ramp. Refreshments include arrangements for punch, Miss Carol Harrington's group and groups of Mrs. Will Scott, Mrs. Norman Japinga, Mrs. Gerald Rocks and Mrs. Mike Van Ort. Seventh grade Jean Teens will make the cookies.

Little Maroons Take Portage

Holland Christian's reserve squad turned in one of its best performances of the season, Friday night by downing a strong Portage second team, 65-64. The win was Christian's 10th against three defeats. The only other loss suffered by Portage was an overtime defeat in 11 starts.

The Hollanders played heads up ball throughout and moved away from a 6-6 tie in the opening minutes to hold the lead from then on. At the first quarter the Little Maroons led 14-8. Christian really moved in the second period to outscore the visitors 24-12 to take a 38-20 halftime lead.

Both clubs played on even terms throughout the third period with Portage closing the gap by one point to 51-34 at the period's end. The Dutch again held the upper hand in the final eight minutes to coast to the victory.

Balanced scoring was the feature of the Maroon attack with four boys scoring in double figures. Frank Visser led with 15, followed by Henry Sterken with 14, Ben Bonselar with 12, Allen Diselken with 10, Ed De Vries with six, Ken Walters with four and Jim Smit with four. Ken Schuring led Portage with 14.

Missionary Society Installs New Officers

The Women's Missionary Society of Calvary Reformed Church met Wednesday night at the church.

Installation of new officers was led by Mrs. H. Plakke. Those elected were Mrs. Kliek Nieboer, president; Mrs. William Oonk, vice president; Mrs. Preston Van Zoeren, secretary; Mrs. Randall Marlink, treasurer, and Mrs. Orwin Cook, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Rona Slager sang two solos. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. James Slager.

In keeping with Foreign Missions Month, the group saw slides on China which were narrated by Mrs. Alden Shoemaker. A social time followed.

Miss Alderink Speaks At Missionary Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Fellowship Guild, was held Tuesday evening at Fourth Reformed Church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Alyda Visscher. Two solos were sung by Mrs. George Moes and a birthday poem was read by Mrs. Visscher.

Speaker for the evening was Miss Alys Alderink, missionary to South America, who told of her work among the Indians and showed costumes worn by the natives.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Hubert Newhouse. Hostesses were Mrs. Bernard Hill, Mrs. Ben Molenaar, Mrs. Newhouse and Mrs. Howard Phillips.

Holland Fails To Get Shots In 4th Period

MUSKEGON (Special) — Holland High's basketball team forgot the object of the game here Friday night, especially in the fourth quarter, and lost to Muskegon, 54-44 for their 11th loss in 12 starts this season before 1,700 fans in Central Campus gym.

The object of making baskets seemed to leave the Dutch, who were in the game for three periods, in the final eight minutes and Holland tried only seven shots.

Of the seven they hit only one, a long one-hander in the final 12 seconds by Jack Hulst. This shot was hit over a Muskegon zone that had been fairly effective throughout the game.

But despite their lack of basket attempts the Dutch were able to stick with the Big Reds as they were accurate at the free throw line and sank nine of 11 in the last quarter.

Ron Dorgelo on two occasions in the last period pulled Holland within three points. He sank two charity tosses with 4:21 to go and cut the Big Reds margin to 43-40 with 1:46 remaining he made the score, 45-42.

Then a Muskegon spurt of seven straight points, five on free shots, as Holland began to foul trying to get the ball, put the game out of reach.

Neither team was hitting in the game and the rebounding was about even. But where Muskegon took 68 pops, Holland tried only 46 times. This is the fewest number of attempts the Dutch have had all season.

Holland made 13 baskets for a 28 per cent mark for the game while the Big Reds sank 18 and ended with an even poorer 26 per cent.

The Dutch had shooting trouble in the first quarter and attempted only eight shots, making two, but they had cashed in on seven Muskegon fouls for five points and led 9-5 at the period's close.

Muskegon, starting four players for the first time because mid-year graduation took a quartet of regulars, fired 21 times in the first period but made only one basket.

Although bothered by frequent bad passes in the second quarter, Holland did have its best offense of the night and hit five of 15.

The Dutch were leading 21-17 with two minutes to go in the half when Dave Bowen, the lone first semester regular, and Dick Cahill collaborated for seven straight points and put the Big Reds ahead at halftime, 24-21. Muskegon had a 7-15 second period field goal mark.

Ted Walters, forced to sit out the second quarter because of three fouls, returned in the third period and sank six points as Holland hit five for 16. The winners connected on six of 18 and led 39-33 at the canto's finish.

Muskegon made four baskets in 14 tries and seven free shots in the final quarter. Both teams made 18 free shots. Holland had 18 of 25 attempts and Muskegon, 18 of 32.

The Big Reds committed seven fouls in the first quarter and next committed one each in the next two periods before being charged nine times in the last quarter. Holland committed 23 fouls, eight in the last quarter, and lost Dorgelo and Gene Boerman on five personals. Muskegon's Gene Visscher made his fifth also in the fourth period.

Bowen led Muskegon with 17 points and Cahill followed with 16. Muskegon now has a 7-4 record. Ted Walters paced Holland with 11 while Clayton Rice picked up nine, Ron Dorgelo, eight, including six of eight free shots and Gary Gibbons, six, including four straight free throws.

Holland entertains unbeaten Benton Harbor next Thursday night in Civic Center.

Road Commission Meets

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Bids were received at the Ottawa County Road Commission meeting Thursday on the following supply of materials: weed spray, calcium chloride, scraper blades, gasoline, asphalt and tar. These bids were referred to the engineering department for tabulation and recommendation at their next regular meeting which will be on Feb. 20.

ZEELAND (Special) — "The Soviet Union was first to launch a satellite and still is ahead in the satellite field, but in the overall missile program we are at least equal to them. We are ahead of them in the intermediate range 1,500 miles and also the short-range missiles. They may be ahead in the intercontinental ballistics missiles."

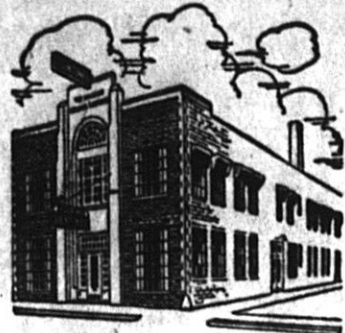

So said U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter of Michigan at the eighth annual Lincoln Day banquet of the Ottawa County Republicans Friday night at Van Raalte's in Zeeland.

Speaking on the subject, "Our American Heritage," Sen. Potter said the Republican party has carried out Lincoln's principle of the rights and dignity of the individual citizen whereas the Democratic party has constantly been herding people into groups, degrading the individual as the common man ... and no man is common.

Sen. Potter also said parents must insist on greater scholastic attainment in their children's education if the younger generation is to meet the needs of the day.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Today marks the day of his birth and there will be thousands of articles both news, editorials, advertisements and word of mouth utterances concerning the man. The name Lincoln today no doubt receives as much or more news coverage as before the death of the great emancipator, our Civil War President.

Millions of people have memorized the famous Gettysburg address. We have printed it many times and found that there two or three different versions in the minds of many people. Carl Sandburg of Michigan and Illinois has written several books and many articles about Lincoln and Lincoln Land.

Millions of people from all over the world have been to Lincoln Land and have also had the pleasure of viewing the Lincoln Memorial at Washington, D. C.

Lincoln had a full life from the time of his boyhood. Many of the authors including Max Lerner, wrote glowingly about Lincoln touching on the Senate debates, the draft riots, the freeing of the slaves, the activities during the Civil War, the great Gettysburg address with the immortal words, "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it will never forget what they did here."

Today the memory of Lincoln lives on. This helps our great country and the younger people all around us. With so many people writing and reading about Lincoln he remains in the memory of all our people.

This, we think, is all to the good.

Dr. Branders Dies in Hospital

Dr. Peter Branders, 63, of 267 West 17th St., died unexpectedly in Holland Hospital at 4:20 p.m. Monday. He had been a patient since last Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. Branders came to Holland from Chicago four years ago. Dr. Branders was a salesman of pharmaceutical products. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Willard G. Leenhouts post No. 6, American Legion.

Surviving are the wife, Hettie; a sister, Mrs. Sophie Peterson of Homewood, Ill.

The Preaching Ministry
Of the Church
Rom. 10:14-17; Ephes. 3:7-19
by C. P. Dams
(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Church of Christ U. S. A. and used by permission.)

Our lesson text is taken from the two greatest epistles of Paul—the epistle to the Romans and the Epistle to the Ephesians. The subject of the lesson is most important—preaching the gospel. Last week we considered teaching. Both teaching and preaching are important.

I. God entrusted the gospel to the Church. What is the gospel? It is the good news that Christ has done something for man's temporal and eternal welfare which he could not do for himself. It is the business of the Church to tell and herald this good news—that God can save men through Christ. All people need salvation. In order to obtain salvation a man must know how to secure it.

It is essential for man first to know his need of salvation and then to try to get it. If he is told that God will give him salvation through Christ then a man must believe it first—he must have faith. Preaching is telling men about the Christ who saves. Through preaching faith is gained and through faith, salvation.

Who is able to preach? Paul says a man must be sent in order to preach. A preacher is a herald and a herald is not self-appointed nor does he give his own message. Now a message is either accepted or rejected. The gospel has been accepted and refused. Isaiah the prophet said in a complaining manner, "Lord who hath believed our report?" Jesus met with unbelief, Paul's preaching was rejected by some, and all through the centuries the gospel has met with refusals.

II. The gospel is for all mankind. Paul is an example to all preachers and Christian workers. If ever a man magnified his office it was Paul. He preached to Jew and Gentile knowing that both needed the gospel. It took the early church a little while to realize that the gospel is for all races but Paul saw this immediately after his conversion and preached a universal gospel. He knew that it was God's eternal purpose to present the gospel to all mankind. And he was sure that God has chosen him to preach this gospel which set forth "the unsearchable riches of Christ."

Paul was amazed at the honor bestowed upon him seeing that he was "less than the least of all saints," that is believers. Paul thought much of the gospel but little of himself. So wonderful was the gospel that he was willing to suffer for it—he was in prison when he wrote his epistle to the Ephesians.

III. The gospel strengthens God's people. Humility and boldness can go together in a Christian. As Paul looked at himself he had no confidence but as he considered Jesus he manifested boldness and confidence. Paul preached in season and out of season and prayed much for his converts and sought spiritual riches and strength for them. As he noted the lives of the believers and the many pressures to which they were subject he prayed that they might be "strengthened with might by the Spirit in the inner man." In our day there are many people who are carrying heavy loads and a large number are troubled by problems and perplexities.

They all have one great need—salvation. And after they have obtained salvation then they need to become stronger and stronger within and build up resources which shall keep them standing in times of storm and stress. Many people are concerned about the outer man—Paul was concerned about the inner man.

Montello Park Mothers Club Holds Meeting

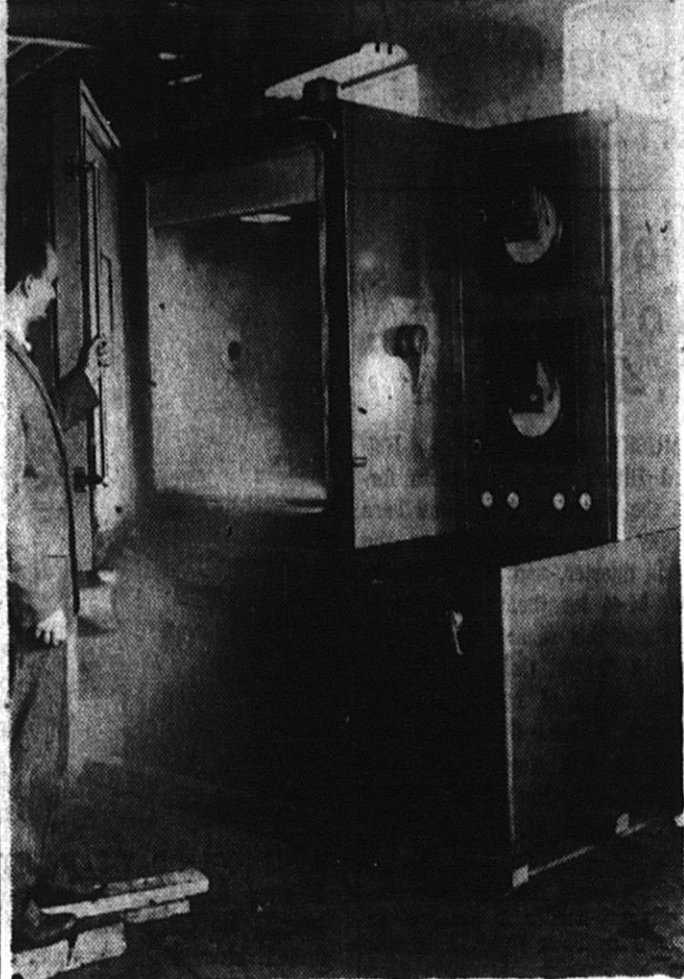

The Montello Park Mothers Club met Monday evening in the school gym. Mrs. Lillian Meyer was in charge of devotions, using the theme "Love in the Family."

Mrs. Georgianna Garvelink, president, conducted the business meeting. Plans were completed for a fair to be held in the school gym Friday, March 7. The theme will be "Montello Merry-Go-Round." A film entitled "Fears of Our Children" was shown.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Frieda Kruid, Mrs. Helen Bosma and Mrs. Clara Brown.

He's 99 Today!

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. — John Pol, the dean of Grand Haven's bachelors and the city's oldest resident, Monday marked his 99th birthday. There will be no celebration since Pol prefers to spend the day at his home where he lives alone. Pol, native of the Netherlands, has lived in Grand Haven for 90 years.

125 DEGREES BELOW IN THERE — Conrad, Inc., of Holland, is presently engaged in making testing chambers for American scientific research in which great variations of temperature can be achieved. The testing chambers are used to "flight test" missile equipment in simulated atmospheric and outer space conditions. Above, a Conrad official checks a testing chamber in which the temperature has been sent down to 100 degrees below zero.

Holland Can Claim Lowest Temperatures in State Now

For some time now such towns as Pellston, Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie have had the dubious honor of claiming the lowest temperatures in the state.

Sometimes, even in the nation, places like Fargo, N.D., or International Falls, Minn., are squeezing the mercury down to around 40 below.

Yesterday the temperature dropped to 125 degrees below zero in Holland, Mich. And Holland just went calmly on about its business.

Because part of Holland's business is manufacturing equipment that can achieve such extreme temperatures.

Is the winter weather getting you down? Would you like to have things a little warmer? The Conrad company here can also create temperatures up to 600 degrees above zero.

The need for testing chambers capable of achieving these widely varied and rapid changes of temperature arose with the entry of our nation into outer space research. They are designed for development work on aeronautical and guided missile parts.

The testing chambers, used throughout the country for simulating flight pressures and temperatures, enable engineers to develop and "flight test" automatic controls and equipment on the ground, where it can be observed.

The extremely cold temperatures simulate the conditions out in space, where there is almost no air and no heat.

The 600-degree temperature creates the heat conditions which will affect missile parts as they re-enter the earth's atmosphere at great speeds.

Conrad, Inc., a subsidiary of Crampton Manufacturing Co., also manufactures a test chamber which can produce vacuum conditions equivalent to 250,000 feet altitude.

It is quite possible that equipment used in the Redstone and Jupiter C missiles, which hurled the American satellite "Explorer" into space, was tested on Conrad, Inc. equipment made here in Holland.

And next summer, when Death Valley, Calif., starts talking about how hot it is down there, just remember that Holland, Mich. probably has a temperature of 500 degrees.

Book Reviewer Describes Antarctic Expedition

With the current cold wave and snowstorms serving as a setting, the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon heard a stimulating review of Rear Admiral George Dufek's book, "Operation Deep Freeze," by Mrs. Edward Donovan, librarian at Holland High School.

But Mrs. Donovan hastened to assure the large group of club members that Tuesday's snowstorm could hardly be compared to the howling blizzards and whiteouts of the Antarctic where Adm. Dufek's valiant Seabee crews of the U.S. Navy spent 18 months establishing bases for U.S. scientists for use during the International Geophysical Year now in progress.

It was Adm. Dufek's assignment to plan the entire Antarctic expedition and personally command the task force. For this task he was well fitted, having accompanied Adm. Richard E. Byrd on previous expeditions to the Antarctic.

Mrs. Donovan vividly described the intensive planning and training of the hand-picked personnel, the gathering of 264,000 separate items from safety pins to tractors needed for the operation, the logistics in packing supplies and the movements of ships and planes, the intricate landing operations, the tense arrival of the first plane, and the busy schedule of hard-working men.

The current geophysical year study is the third such IGY in history. The first Polar Year was held in 1882 and concerned mainly the earth's magnetism. Fifty years later in 1932, the second Polar Year was held with emphasis on radio communication. Because of scientific advances, leaders felt they should not wait 50 years for the next study so scheduled the IGY 25 years later in 1957.

Sixty-seven nations are cooperating in IGY, studying land masses, ocean floors, the layers above the atmosphere and many other subjects. Eleven nations including the U.S. are in the Antarctic studying weather, glaciers, winds, storms, and many other subjects whose value cannot be assessed today.

Adm. Dufek's men found the biggest problem in the long polar winter was adjusting to the limitations of mobility, and Adm. Dufek himself did not spend the long six-month winter nights in the Antarctic which has temperatures down to 80 below zero.

Mrs. Donovan spoke briefly of Holland's Chaplain Peter Bol, whom Adm. Dufek praised highly, and called attention to his tragic death in a plane crash some 10 days ago.

One of the greatest threats of the continent at the bottom of the world was the crevasses which sometimes cover a 40-mile hollow. Other threats were the swirling whiteouts, the sunblindness and a frostbite. Adm. Dufek's most prized possession on the return trip was four new electronic crevasse detectors which had been perfected in the meantime by the Navy. Of course, the mail bags were pretty important too.

Adm. Dufek regards the building of a station at the South Pole the greatest triumph of the entire operation. It was Oct. 31, 1956, that his plane landed on the pole for the first time. It was a "summer" day with temperatures at 56 below zero and the visit lasted 49 minutes. After that, nearly all supplies were dropped by parachute and only about three additional plane landings were made. Currently there are nine U.S. scientists at the Pole and 18 Navy men. Head scientist there is Dr. Paul Siple, 49, the Eagle Scout who accompanied Adm. Byrd to the pole in the 1928 expedition.

Scientists are reluctant to put a price tag on their efforts in Antarctica, but their study on weather alone should be of inestimable value, and Dufek quoted scientists that the day may come when not only will weather be predicted accurately but man will actually control the weather.

Mrs. Clarence J. Becker, club president, presided. She announced a meeting of the Public Affairs committee for next Tuesday at 1 p.m. at which time Municipal Judge Cornelius van der Meulen will describe the functions and administration of Holland's Municipal Court.

League Announces Final Payment on Pledge

At a meeting of the Junior Welfare League Tuesday evening an announcement was made of the final payment of the League's pledge to the Holland Hospital Fund Drive. The final payment was made following the Candy Cane Ball held last December.

Ottawa County deputies, investigating the accident, estimated the damage to Hillard's 1953 model at $250 and said there was no damage to the 1954 semi.

9th Graders Welcome on Annexation

School Board Studies New Policies to Solve Existing Problems

The Board of Education adopted a cooperative attitude at its monthly meeting Monday night toward inquiries of four school districts adjoining Holland regarding annexation to Holland city.

Without qualification, the board promised that ninth graders will be accepted in city schools next September from those sections which annex to the city.

But on the issues of school consolidation, school annexation or disannexing of tag ends, the board felt these involved legal questions which should be studied in each case before final policies could be adopted.

In any case, so long as political annexation is accomplished the secondary students would be welcome in public schools and the fine points of school district consolidation or annexation would be met later.

A committee of Wendell A. Miles, Bernard Arendshorst, Dr. Lester J. Kuypers and Supt. Walter Scott is drafting a resolution on school board policies, one which does not adhere to the previous deadline of March 1 for annexation.

Under political annexation, each school district will retain its board and will pay tuition and provide transportation under the same arrangements as today. These districts would operate their local schools just as in the past. Their properties would be assessed for Holland city taxes but not for Holland public school taxes.

Wendell Miles pointed to possible difficulties in a consolidation program which would require a public vote to share the debt. It also would involve mass resignations of all school boards involved and would depend on a new board for the total district to be appointed by the County Board of Education. If Allegan county should be involved, the move would involve two county boards.

Miles said the Holland board was willing to go into mass oblivion for the betterment of 12 districts, but there would be serious question whether such sacrifices should be made for only a few districts. In case consolidation is not effected, the Holland board would always be willing to accept annexation of school districts by resolution, the board generally agreed. This would effect only those areas which have annexed politically.

With specific questions on the two Apple Ave. families living in Allegan county, the board felt sympathetic and generally cooperative on continuing to receive the children on tuition should Apple Ave. district annex politically, but felt a legal study should be made before final policies are adopted. These subjects will be discussed at an informal meeting two weeks hence.

While the board felt sympathetic in the Apple Ave. case, it was pointed out that virtually every district currently studying political annexation has tag-end complications which would have to be dealt with.

Even without non-residents entering the ninth grade next year, Holland High School's enrollment will not decrease. In fact, enrollment in the high school grades will be over 1,400 next year, compared with 1,100 this year. This is due to the present large ninth grade of 550 students entering the high school in September with only 270 seniors graduating next June. The difference is a net gain of 280 students. All present facilities including Third Church, the Bosman store and the Farm House will be used just as this year.

Seventh graders, all resident pupils, will be kept in Jefferson and Washington schools.

A communication from Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Yntema whose two children were enrolled in the public schools prior to the non-resident elementary pupil policy in 1953 asked the board how the new policies would affect the two children. The board checked policies and in view of the fact that these are the only non-resident students in elementary schools, the board voted that they should be allowed to continue their education on a tuition basis.

Scouts Observe Family Night

The annual family potluck climaxed by Court of Honor highlighted a meeting of Troop 10 of First Methodist Church Monday evening in observance of Scout Week. Approximately 100 attended.

Invocation was given by Frank Ten Have and after the meal Bernard Shashagay, troop committee chairman, introduced the Scout leaders and families. Each patrol furnished a skit for entertainment.

Two films were shown featuring scouting and camping at Camp Shawandosee and Camp Ottawa, the latter taken and shown by Tim Fox. Otto Dressel was in charge of the Court of Honor, assisted by Troop Committeemen Russ Semer and Ten Have and Troop Scribe Jerry Bolles and Senior Patrol Leader Mike Longstreet.

Awards were pinned on by Scoutmaster Alfred Kane and Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Zeh.

BURIED — This car in the back yard of a house on East 16th St. is well buried under the 16 inches of snow that covers Holland. Many drivers found they had to shovel their autos out before starting to work Monday. City streets are generally clear but slippery.

SPRING AROUND CORNER — Despite the blizzard in the Holland area Monday, spring and tulips aren't too far in the future and John Woltring, wooden shoe carver, is busy at work at the Holland Wooden Shoe factory. Stocks of the shoes are in the background in preparation for Holland's famed Tulip Festival, May 14-17. Last year some 15,000 pairs of shoes made here were sold. This photograph was transmitted on the nationwide United Press Unifax machine. This photograph was also transmitted overseas to The Netherlands.

(United Press telephoto)

Ten Have who is in charge of troop advancement presented Michael Longstreet with the Life Award which was pinned on by his mother. He also received the following merit badges: scholarship; swimming, life saving, cooking, public health, nature, first aid and forestry.

The evening closed with the Scoutmasters Benediction.

Mrs. Linn Entertains Holland Area Librarians

Crash Victims Said Improving

Mrs. Grace Van Natter, 71, of Grimshaw, Alberta, Canada, one of four persons injured Friday at 3:45 p.m. in a head-on collision south of Sougatuck on US-31, was listed in fair condition Monday at Holland Hospital, although hospital officials said her case is still serious.

Two persons, Mrs. Ruth Dunshee, of Hammond, Ind., and Mrs. Grace Ross, of St. Joseph, died as the result of injuries received in the crash.

Howard Dunshee, 65, driver of one of the cars, is reported in improved condition at Holland Hospital. Dunshee received facial lacerations and rib injuries, and hospital officials said he would undergo further x-rays.

Mrs. Clara Johnson, 57, of McBain, Mich., who suffered a fractured right arm in the accident, is reported in good condition at the hospital.

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Belle Baker of St. Joseph, was taken to St. Joseph Memorial Hospital with facial cuts and possible internal injuries.

Damage Minor in Mishap

Cars driven by Henry Rozeboom, 43, of 599 Butternut Dr., and Jimmy E. Lipe, 17, of route 4, Holland, collided Monday at 8 a.m. on River Ave just north of Lakewood Blvd. Ottawa County deputies investigated and said damage to the two cars was minor.

On Jan. 13 the Palsy Walsy Blue Birds with our leaders, Mrs. I. Meyer and Mrs. J. Mokma went to Ottawa Beach and climbed on the ice bergs. We took pictures there. The treat by Tammie Meyer was eaten on the beach. On the way home we went through the woods and followed animal tracks in the snow. We chased a rabbit out. We sang songs on the way up and back. Susan Walker, scribe.

On Jan. 28 the Winsome Blue Birds of Harrington School were shown through the local A & P store. The manager's wife, Mrs. John Dittmar, showed us how the stock was unloaded from trucks and sent to the basement for storage on a conveyor belt. We saw how meat was weighed and the correct price figured and went in the meat cooler. While watching a clerk stamping prices on merchandise, we all had our hands stamped $45. We were all checked out and received a package of dessert. Nine members were present. Linda Jeseik, scribe.

On Jan. 27 the Smiling Blue Birds made Tote Bags. We put wall paper around an oatmeal box. Then we put yarn in two holes that were in the Tote Bag. Mary Percival, scribe.

The singing Blue Birds of Longfellow School met Jan. 28 at the home of our leader, Mrs. Beebe. We made bluebirds out of felt. Dawn Van Ark and Barbara Geuder treated.

On Feb. 3 the Palsy Walsy Blue Birds met at Mrs. J. Mokma with our leader, Mrs. J. Meyer. We made Blue Birds for Lincoln School fun night Feb. 11, and worked on scrap books. Our treat was from Patty Van Voorst. We learned the "hoky poky". Susan Walker, scribe.

On Jan. 28 the Cheerful Blue Birds of Waukazoo met at Mrs. Robert's house. We sewed for our dolls and elected new officers.

The 4th grade Blue Birds of Van Raalte School had their meeting at Judy Schripsema's house on Jan. 21. We made scouting pad holders out of tuna fish cans. Jacky Brown treated with candy bars. On Jan. 28 we held our meeting at the home of Judy Schripsema. We made yarn dolls with yarn and sequins. Peggy DeWitt treated. Marcia Mulder, scribe.

The Happy-Go-Lucky Blue Birds of Lakeview School met at Mrs. Unger's house on Feb. 3. We made waste paper baskets. To make them, we covered large tin cans with wallpaper samples. Mrs. Unger treated us with fudge and cookies. Jane Windisch picked a new scribe. June Wurmstedt, scribe.

The Early Blue Birds of Washington School met at Mrs. Tidd's house on Feb. 3. We made puppets out of little cloth bags and stuffed them with old nylons. Dora Jacobs, treated.

On Feb. 3 the Flying Blue Birds of Beechwood School met at the home of Mrs. Brand. We made and decorated cupcakes. New officers were elected as follows: Nancy Den Uyl, president; Joyce Tenching, treasurer; Nancy Raak, scribe. Candy Scott treated us with marshmallow crispies treats. We sang "God Bless America", and were then dismissed. Nancy Raak, scribe.

On Jan. 14 the Brown Eye-Susan Blue Birds of the Montello Park School had their meeting at Jane Vander Velde's home. The meeting was opened by the leader. We had election of officers as follows: President, Mary Jo Shashagay; vice president, Luann Garvelink; secretary, Karen Halstead; treasurer, Laurie Verburg. The girls all said their Blue Bird Wish. We played games and lunch was served by Mrs. Vander Velde. Mrs. Bakker our leader. The Montello Park School Blue Birds met in their Blue Bird room in school, on Jan. 21. The leader opened the meeting with a story and prayer. Roll call was taken with two absent. Dues were collected by the treasurer. We made candle holders for our parents.

The Bright-eyed Blue Birds of Beechwood took a trip to the Howard Miller Furniture Co. of Zeeland on Jan. 28. We saw how furniture was made and were given samples of all the different types of wood they use. We especially liked the upholstery department and Mrs. Brown, our guide, gave us samples of material to take home. We again met on Feb. 4 at the home of our leader. We sang a new song that was written by Carol Beekman. A report on children of other lands was given by Linda Maichele. She told us all about the Eskimos. We made book-marks out of some leather given to us by the furniture factory. Before leaving we were told how to make a crystal garden. Mrs. Long gave us all the material and solution so that we could go home and make our own garden and watch it grow each day. That night several girls called our leader to say that the colors were already forming and the garden was beginning to grow. Jackie McBride, scribe.

The Busy Blue Birds of Van Raalte School held their Feb. 4 meeting at Judy Schripsema's house. We made valentine bracelets out of felt and sequins. Marcia Mulder treated, Linda Rissalada, scribe.

The Good Luck Blue Birds of Jefferson School went to the Swift ice cream Co. They showed us how they make paddle pops and ice cream. Linda Visscher treated. Paula Freisel, scribe.

The Chummy Blue Birds of St. Francis had their regular meeting on Feb. 3. We answered roll call to the name of a famous woman. We then elected new officers as follows: President, Gloria Rutledge; vice president, Joan Donnelly; secretary, Joan Hudzik and Marilyn Munro, treasurer. We made little dollars out of clothes

Maplewood Church Scene of Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Clare Drooger

(Holland Illustrative photo)

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Viola Jean Housenga and Warren Clare Drooger in a double ring ceremony performed Jan. 25 in Maplewood Reformed Church.

The rites were read at 4 p.m. by the Rev. Abraham Rynbrandt.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Housenga, 559 College Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Drooger Sr., 90 East 29th St.

The church was decorated with palms, Oregon ferns, seven branch candelabra and bouquets of white stock and snapdragons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of delustered satin, featuring a Sabrina neckline with marked inserts of alencon lace with seed pearls and long sleeves which tapered to points at the wrists. The dropped torso softly gathered the skirt into a chapel length train. The fingertip veil of silk bridal illusion was held in place by a tiarra trimmed with sequins and pearls. She carried a white pearl studded Bible with a white orchid tinted red.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was the groom's sister, Mrs. Robert Schoon. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Willard Penna and Miss Phyllis Vliem. They were attired in ruby red gowns of chantilly lace over taffeta with scoop neckline trimmed with satin. The dresses featured a crushed cummerbund of satin with a bustle bow in back. They wore matching pearl crowns with short red veils as headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations centered with a red carnation.

Faith Schoon, miniature bride, wore a gown fashioned like the bride's and carried a small

Hope Winners

Miss Marianne Hageman

Ronald Chandler

Two Hope College students, Miss Marianne Hageman, senior, from Millstone, N.J., and Ronald Chandler, sophomore, from Holland, were winners of first places in the Michigan Peace Speech Association contest held last Friday on the Hope campus.

Miss Hageman placed first in the women's oratory finals with her speech, "The Wisdom of the Heart." Chandler spoke on "The Quest for Peace."

The contest was sponsored by the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League, and the Knights of Pythias who offer the prizes for the four events.

Ganges

"The Bread of Life" is the theme of the World Day of Prayer Services which will be observed on Friday, Feb. 21. The services at Ganges will be held at the Ganges Baptist Church at 2 p.m. with the Ganges Methodist Church as joint sponsors. A special Children's Service will be held. All in the community are invited to attend. Mrs. Edwin Ensfield and Mrs. Gladys Chapman are in charge of arrangements.

The Lakeshore Farm Bureau Discussion Group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reimink Friday evening, Feb. 14 at 8. The topic for discussion will be on Civil Defense.

Schools in the community were closed on Friday, Feb. 7 as the teachers attended Teachers Institute in Allegan. A number were also closed the first of the week due to the severe weather and snow blocked roads.

The Ganges Community Grange met Friday evening at the hall. Following the lodge and business session a social time was enjoyed. A co-operative lunch followed at the conclusion of the evening.

The Mothers Club of the Fruitland School was scheduled to meet at the school house on Monday evening.

About 40 were in attendance at the Family Night Supper held Wednesday evening at the Ganges Baptist Church. The slides on Mexico shown by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dekker were much enjoyed. A short worship service was given by the Baptist Youth Fellowship, who sponsored the affair for the benefit of the Share Our Surplus program. A total of $19.75 was taken in for the project.

Craig and Sharon Ensfield, Ruthanna Alexander, Karen Margot, Sandra Adkins, David Harrington and Billy Trapp attended a Mid-winter Methodist Youth Fellowship Institute at the Peace Temple in Benton Harbor from Friday through Sunday of last week.

A number from here attended a pink and blue shower at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Carlson in Fennville Saturday evening, Feb. 8. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Richard Crane. Mrs. Robert Crane was co-hostess for the affair.

The Methodist Mens Club will entertain their wives at the church on Thursday evening, Feb. 13 with a 6:30 co-operative supper followed by a program. Dr. Henry Bast of the Western Seminary of Holland will be the guest speaker. Guests for the occasion will be the Men's Club of the Simpson Methodist of Kalamazoo and their wives.

Dr. Lee Hutchins of Washington D. C. was a guest from Monday until Wednesday in the home of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hutchins of this place. On March 1, Dr. Hutchins will leave for Costa Rica and Central America on a special assignment for the American Research Cocoa Association. He expected to be gone for some time.

The J. U. G. club will meet on Friday, Feb. 14 at 4 p.m. with Mrs. Nettie Lynch at the Clark home south of Glenn.

Two More Areas Vote to Annex

By a vote of 57 to 14, Van Raalte school parents east of the city voted Tuesday night to proceed with plans to annex politically to the city of Holland, as the best solution to the crucial school problems facing Van Raalte district and several other districts surrounding Holland.

The meeting was called by the Van Raalte PTA to discuss solutions to school problems. President William G. Oonk explained the study which had been carried on by the districts along with Federal, Apple Ave. and Maplewood districts on establishing a ninth grade for the four districts.

He said this plan was abandoned because of practical difficulties. Whichever district would take the ninth graders would have to eliminate kindergarten and transport some students in other grades.

Just where the boundary should be drawn for annexation was not determined, and Van Raalte leaders will confer with officials of Holland City and the Holland Board of Education in determining the boundary. A considerable section of the Van Raalte district is farmland, and the boundary itself is somewhat erratic.

Active in the move to promote annexation thus far are Oonk, Vice President Lester Van Ry, Jack Barkel and Gene Davidson. New committees to work out boundaries, legal details, drawing up petitions and promoting the program will be appointed from a list of volunteers.

Tuesday's meeting was held in the Van Raalte rural school on East 16th St. A school for lower elementary grades also is operated in Holland Heights.

Residents of the Montello Park school district Tuesday night voted to circulate a petition for annexation to Holland of the part of the district which lies in Holland township. The move came after an advisory committee appointed Feb. 4 presented its report on the possibilities of annexation to Holland.

The motion was approved by a huge majority of the 150 residents attending the meeting in the Montello Park School gym Tuesday evening. Clare Walker, co-chairman of the advisory committee, and William Rooks, president of the PTA, conducted the meeting and answered questions.

The committee reported that there are three possible answers to the question of where the Montello Park eighth graders will attend school in the fall. The existing alternatives would be to annex politically to the city of Holland and attend Holland High School, hold ninth grade classes in the Montello Park School or go to Saugatuck High School.

It was explained that the section of the school district which is in Holland township would have to be annexed before there can be any action on the part of the district which is in Park township. The latter section would remain a part of the Montello Park school district until that part of the district in Holland township could have school consolidation with the city.

The committee pointed out that if next year's ninth graders were to attend Saugatuck High School, it would be on a temporary one-year basis. They could transfer to Holland High School if the Montello Park school district would later be annexed to the city.

Other residents suggested consolidating with the other school districts adjoining Holland, and building a high school outside the city, but the majority of those present seemed to feel that the cost of such a solution would not make it feasible. It was estimated that under such a plan, the taxes would be about $35 or $40 more than if the district were paying city taxes.

If the students were to attend ninth grade classes in the present Montello Park School, it would necessitate the closing of the kindergarten in order to provide enough classrooms. The advisory committee said that the Holland Board of Education would offer some assistance with the secondary curriculum.

A Citizen's Action Committee was nominated to promote annexation with the city of Holland. Frank Meyer and Clare Walker were named co-chairmen, with Evert Hart as treasurer, and Mrs. Russell Tague as secretary. Other members of the group are Ray Sprick, Don Cudworth, Abe Severson, Mrs. Chester Kramer, Bill Topp, Mrs. Ed Kruid, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Baker, Mrs. Charles Lohman, Leon Kraai, Ed Nyland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taber, Art Bleeker and William Rooks.

Miss Marlene Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall, entertained several of her friends at a sliding party on Saturday afternoon. Refreshments were served by her mother following the sliding. She was assisted by Mrs. Eugene Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mosier have returned to their home in Glenn having spent several weeks in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Weed and Miss Marie Stehle were last Wednesday evening guests in the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Weed and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nye and son Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nye and Kerry were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark of Allegan, the occasion being in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Clark. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Russel Jesiek and family of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hathaway of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark and daughter, Kim, of Allegan.

Jona Sue is the name of the daughter born on Friday Feb. 7 to Mr. and Mrs. John Flores of Chicago. Jona Sue is the granddaughter of Mrs. Bertha Plummer of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hamlin left last Monday for a trip to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Manders of Kalamazoo spent the weekend at their cottage on the lake shore.

A number from this vicinity are attending special meetings being held this week at the First Baptist Church in South Haven. Rev. Robert Briggs is bringing the message each evening. Wednesday evening has been designated as special guest night for Ganges and the B. Y. F. are planning to attend.

Supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nienhuis on Saturday were, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grotenhuis and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grotenhuis and their families of Holland.

Miss Janice Hirdes was in charge of the Christian Endeavor meeting held Sunday afternoon in the chapel.

The Golden Chain Choir will rehearse next Sunday instead of the past Sunday as scheduled.

The choir sang "Speed Away" in the Sunday morning worship service in the Reformed church. The pastor's subject was "Conflict Between the Gods." The evening subject was "From Scarlet To Snow." The Men's Quartet furnished the special music.

Collide at Intersection — Cars driven by Odie David, 45, of 922 144th Ave., and Norman L. Wuerfel, 19, of route 2, Zeeland, collided Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the corner of Lakewood Blvd. and River Ave. Ottawa County deputies said damage to the two cars was minor.

Cold Wave To Continue

The worst cold wave of the season continued unabated Wednesday, and residents once more turned to their shovels to help displace another 10 inches which fell during the last 24 hours.

Depth of the snow on the level measured 23 1/2 inches Wednesday, according to Weather Observer Charles Steketee at Hope College. His records revealed a low of 8 degrees Wednesday and 9.7 more inches of snow. A total of 6.6 inches fell before 5 p.m. Tuesday and 3.1 inches since.

An estimated 23 schools in outlying districts remained closed. Local radio stations continued their public service announcements Wednesday, alerting various districts of plans of the day. Slowly but surely, side roads were being opened in this snow belt, and continued snowfalls were getting to be an old story.

So far, no relief was in sight. The weather bureau which had predicted a moderating trend about Friday and Saturday, revised its forecast and said no relief is expected until early next week. Temperatures will average about 14 degrees below normal until Sunday or Monday.

Mayor Honors Boy Scouts

Mayor Robert Visscher of Holland, in observance of the 48th anniversary of Boy Scouting has issued a proclamation setting aside Feb. 17-18 as Boy Scout Week.

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, February 8, 1958, is the 48th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, chartered by the Congress of the United States as a program for all the boys of America; and

WHEREAS, the Boy Scout program has affected the lives of over 27,500,000 American boys and men since 1910; and now has an active enrollment of 4,700,000 of whom 1,350 are active in our Grand Valley district; and

WHEREAS, the movement through its four year program, "Onward for God and My Country," is training more of our youth in character and qualities of good citizenship; and

WHEREAS, the Boy Scouts of America marks this 48th anniversary by launching a year long Safety Good Turn at the suggestion of President Eisenhower with the avowed purpose of saving the basic resources of our nation — its people.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ROBERT VISSCHER, Mayor of the City of Holland, in the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of February 7 to 13 as BOY SCOUT WEEK and do urge our citizens to support the unselfish, patriotic service being rendered to our community by the volunteer leaders, who give generously of their time, their efforts, and their energy to the benefit of the youth of our city and to cooperate in all possible ways with their worthy Safety Good Turn in 1958.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the seal of the City of Holland to be affixed this eighth day of February, 1958.

(Signed)
ROBERT VISSCHER
Mayor

Plans Completed For Senior Play Opening Monday

Final arrangements are being made for the presentation of the Holland High School Senior Play, "Father of the Bride," Feb. 17-20 at 8 p.m. in the Holland High School Auditorium.

Under Jim Fitch, posters have been distributed to various stores and businesses in the Holland area, and programs are near completion. Posters were designed by Lois Haworth, printed under the direction of Jim Collins, and distributed by a committee headed by Judy Poll. Calvin Rose is program designer, Jan Vanden Bos is in charge of program composition, and printing was done under the direction of Kraig Hilbink.

Four Senior girls, Pat Vander Beek, Mary Wood, Suzanne De Pree and Linda Raven were chosen to speak at various clubs and organizations in the area on behalf of the play. Bob Bush is handling the photography for the play, and Bob Madison is overall publicity chairman.

Committees have also been named for seating and intermission duty on the nights of the actual production. Musical arrangements during intermission will feature Ed Kuiper's band on two of the nights, and recorded music, selected by Sharon Delke on the alternate nights.

Acting as ushers on the main floor will be Roger Smeenge, Sandy Ter Haar, Laura Ten Kuyt, Elsie Spykerman, Gayle Sparks, Jim Van Dyke, Bruce Meurer, Al Teusink, Myra Oetman, Rochelle De Vries, Delores De Weerd, Bob Baker, Marlene Blok, Tom Buis, Arlene Bronson, Bonnie De Neff, Brenda Bos, Johnnie Garcia, Ruth Ann Burd, Carol Amburg, Dennis Heerspink, Margaret Fredericks, Hil Wolters and Beverly Ver Hoef.

Balcony ushers will be Judy Van Til, Mary Van Raalte, Ellen Scott, Pat Lugten, Bonnie Miller, Karen Kruid, Beverly Killian, Norma Houtman, Charles Large, Mary Wilson, Larry Baker and Karen Ende.

Honor Guests
Named by Girls

Holland women who will be honored guests of Camp Fire Girls at their annual Mother-Daughter tea on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center have been selected by the various groups.

These well-known civic-minded women include Mrs. Robert Visscher, Mrs. William De Longe, Mrs. Edward Damson, Mrs. Harold Schaap, Mrs. Albert Timmer, Miss Fannie Bultman, Mrs. Dale Shearer, Mrs. Lawrence Timmer, Mrs. G. W. Haworth, Mrs. Joe Lang, Mrs. Emily Le Roux, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Ray Klomparsen, Mrs. John Mrok and Mrs. Ties Pruis.

Feature of the tea will be a fashion show with Camp Fire Girls modeling the newest spring styles including the new chemise look being supplied by Alexanders, Westraes, Jeanes and Sears.

Miss Roy Klomparsen is general chairman for the event. The public is invited to watch the style show from the balcony. The show precedes the tea.

Dutch Paintings Unveiled At van de Mortel Reception

Two Dutch paintings, "Landscape With Brook and Trees" by Gorter and "Mother and Two Children" by Neuhuis, were unveiled at ceremonies Tuesday afternoon in Netherlands Museum at a reception honoring Dr. J.B.V.M.J. van de Mortel, Netherlands consul general at Chicago who is being transferred to Antwerp, Belgium.

The paintings were the gift of A. P. Bersohn of New York City who gave the paintings to the Greater Holland Community Foundation in trust for the museum where they will be permanently displayed.

Marvin C. Lindeman, vice president of the foundation, accepted the paintings and presented them to Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen of the Museum's Board of Governors.

In accepting the paintings, Lindeman conveyed the city's thanks and appreciation to the donor. He said, "In this gift we see not only a possession of considerable financial worth, but a gift of enduring beauty and great edification which shall at all times and in many ways perpetuate our community's gratitude for the generosity and thoughtfulness shown us by the donor."

Also speaking at the afternoon ceremonies were W. A. Lambooy, Netherlands trade commissioner from Chicago, Mayor Robert Visscher of Holland, and Edmund (Ted) Booth of Grand Rapids who represented Mayor Paul Goebel.

Booth presented Dr. van de Mortel with a key to the city of Grand Rapids in memory of his visits to that city.

Willard C. Wichers, head of the Netherlands Information Service, made the introductory remarks. Punch was served from the Dutch kitchen on the second floor of the museum.

In the evening, Hope College President Irwin J. Lubbers was host to about 100 guests of Western Michigan at a dinner in Durfee hall honoring Dr. van de Mortel, whose numerous visits to Holland during the 12 years he was assigned to Chicago are remembered well by his many friends here.

Mayor Visscher presented the honor guest with a scroll and read the resolution passed by City Council last Wednesday honoring Dr. van de Mortel. Jack Plewes of the Chamber of Commerce presented van de Mortel with a citation of public service. Mayor Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids also brought greetings. Guests were present from Holland, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Zeeland and Kalamazoo.

Friends may meet the family at the Dykstra Funeral Home in Saugatuck from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday and requiem mass will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Douglas. The Rev. William Hoogterp will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Couple Married In Benton Harbor

Dr. and Mrs. Henry J. Masselink of 621 Lawndale Ct. announce the marriage of their daughter, Greta Jean, to Ward J. De Young of Glenwood, Ia., son of Dr. and Mrs. Ward A. De Young of Glenwood, which took place Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church at Benton Harbor.

The Rev. Ellis Marshburn read the rites, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Owens of Holland attended the couple.

The bride wore a winter white sheath dress, a white hat and a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible, a gift received from her maternal grandparents when she was 10 years old.

The newlyweds are residing at 176 1/2 East 14th St.

On Feb. 21 the bride's parents will hold open house at their home for the couple.

The bride is employed as secretary at Bradford Paper Co. and her husband is a senior at Hope College.

Semi, Snow Plow Collide on US-31

A semi-trailer truck and a county snow plow were extensively damaged Wednesday at 9:35 a.m. in a collision on US-31 just south of Eighth St.

Nellis De Witte, 39, of Grandville, the driver of the semi, told Ottawa County deputies he was headed north when he saw a truck ahead of him and hit the brakes. The truck and trailer turned completely around on the snowy pavement. De Witte said, before crashing into the large snow plow, parked on the shoulder.

At this point, De Witte jumped from the truck, which turned another complete circle before jackknifing off the road. Neither De Witte nor the operator of the snow plow, Donald E. Meengs, 34, of route 2, Zeeland, was injured. Deputies estimated the damage to the snow plow at $2,000 and said the 1955 semi cab was damaged in excess of its value. De Witte was ticketed by deputies for excessive speed.

Court House Painting Contract Is Awarded

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The buildings and grounds committee of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon awarded a contract for painting the ground floor of the court house to Mercury Drive Paint Store operated by Robert Brosseit in Grand Haven township.

Brosseit's bid of $1,000 was the lowest of 11 bids received, ranging up to $3,470. About 13 rooms are to be painted on the ground floor.

Plane Hauled From Drifts

After six hours of hard work, the twin-engine Aero Commander which cracked up on landing at the Holland Airport Monday night was dug out of the snow drifts and hauled to the hangar late Tuesday night.

Workmen with shovels dug out all the snow around and under the plane before a caterpillar tractor pulled it away, according to Herman Windolph, co-pilot of the plane on Monday.

Windolph said it has been determined that a faulty landing gear linkage caused the accident, which, according to Windolph, might have been fatal to all four persons aboard had the landing occurred on a dry field, with no cushioning snow banks.

The plane will be repaired here just enough to fly it to Pontiac, Windolph said, where it will undergo complete repairs.

Also aboard the plane were the pilot, M. A. Renner, and two passengers, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stewart, all of Holland.

Boulevard Pole
Falls Onto Car

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — One of Grand Haven's new light poles on Beacon Blvd. was knocked over and landed on top of a car in a crash at 1:41 p.m. Tuesday.

The accident occurred as Peter H. Bol, 43, of 503 Ohio St., Grand Haven, attempted to make a left turn. A car following him, driven by Delore Percy Crane, 28, Muskegon, had been attempting to pass him but pulled to the right, lost control and hit the pole which fell onto the Bol car. The latter car was damaged on the roof and damage to the other car was confined to the left front fender. City police issued no tickets.

At 8:25 p.m. Tuesday, two cars collided on M-21 just east of the bypass in Holland township. Fred Van Dam, 20, of 330 East 24th St., stopped for an intersection but was unable to see because of snow piled up at the corner. He moved into the right lane and applied his brakes when he saw a car approaching. His car slid into one driven by Christine Wilson, route 3, Hudsonville. State police charged Van Dam with making an unsafe start from a stopped position and Mrs. Wilson with excessive speeds for conditions.

John Van Der Veer Dies After Illness

ZEELAND (Special) — John Van Der Veer, 89, of Oakland, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Geib, Wednesday following a lingering illness.

His wife died about one year ago. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Henry Wolters of Otsego and Mrs. Geib of Oakland; two sons, Harm of Oakland and Walter of Holland; 13 grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren and three great, great grandchildren; one brother, Leonard of Zeeland; three sisters, Mrs. Jane Timmer, Mrs. Lena Redder, both of Drenthe and Mrs. John Masselink of Holland; one sister-in-law, Mrs. Kate Van Der Veer of Drenthe.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Oakland Christian Reformed Church, with the Rev. H. J. Kuizema officiating. Relatives will meet in the church basement at 1:45 p.m. Burial will be in Bentheim Cemetery. The body is at the Yntema Funeral Home.

Dutch Trounce Alma, 95-62; Benes Hits 26

Hope College's basketball team romped to an easy 95-62 victory over Alma College in Civic Center Saturday night before 2,350 fans.

The win was the eighth straight for the Dutch in MIAA action and the 12th in 13 starts this season to give Hope the best record of any Michigan team.

Paul Benes, although he played only 21 minutes of the game, racked up 26 points to take over first place in the MIAA individual scoring derby.

The 6'11" center now has 169 points in eight league games for an average of 21 points. Jim

Paul Benes
... first in scoring race

(Jellybean) Reynolds of Hillsdale, who took over the lead Friday night with 32 against Calvin, is in second spot with 165 points in eight contests for a 20 plus average.

Tom Newhof, Calvin's 6'9" senior center, also has 169 points to tie Benes. But Newhof has played in nine games and his average is 18.7 per tilt.

Benes picked up most of his baskets on tips as the Scots couldn't have anyone capable of rebounding with him or his 6'5" backboard caddy, Ray Ritsma.

Ritsma led the Hope rebounders with 13, 11 in the first half, and followed Benes in the scoring with 19 points. Ritsma now has 143 points in eight MIAA games for fourth spot behind Adrian's Leon Harper with 161.

Benes fired 17 times in the game and connected on 10, including six of 10 in the first half. Ritsma made eight of 14 shots, seven in the first half.

Coach Russ De Vette pulled Benes at 6:22 in the first half when he drew his third personal. Tall Paul started the second half and played seven minutes before retiring. Ritsma and the other first stringers headed for the bench soon after and De Vette played with reserves for the final 12 minutes.

Alma, smashed by ineptitude and injury, was never in the game. Four starters were sidelined last week, three for "book troubles" and George Carter because of an injury.

Warren Vander Hill hit a basket in the first minute, Benes followed with a free toss and Captain Dwayne Teusink plunked a one-hander to give Hope five points with two minutes gone.

The Scots scored on a one-hander by Dwayne Cantrell and the three-point difference was the closest the Scots came.

Hope built the margin to 26-17 at the 10-minute mark and increased it to 50-26 at halftime. Benes and Ritsma each had 15 at halftime. They were helped by good floor play by Darrell Beernink, Teusink and Jun Buursma who got the ball into them.

Benes left with the score 74-36 and his replacement, Wayne Vriesman tallied a quick bucket to make the margin 40 points, 76-36 for the biggest spread of the game.

Light-footed Vriesman took over the scoring duties and added three straight baskets to push Hope's lead to 82-45 at the final 10-minute mark.

Vriesman, who made seven baskets, dumped his fifth one of the second half at the start of the final 10-minute stretch and then gave way to John Hood.

Although the Scots, led by George Arrick, who was high point man with 15, outscored the Dutch reserves, 17-11 in the final 10 minutes, De Vette was pleased with their play. It was the longest workout the Hope bench has received this season.

Hope was able to get off 104 shots and made 39 for 38 percent. The Dutch had halves of 23 and 17 of 51 while Alma made 23 of 90 for 26 percent on halves of 10-39 and 13-51.

The Dutch made 17 of 29 free shots while Alma sank 16 of 21. The Scots have a 2-7 MIAA mark and 7-10 overall record.

Police Ticket Both Drivers in Accident

Holland police ticketed both drivers involved in an accident Monday at 4:43 p.m. on Central Ave. half a block north of 19th St. The cars were driven by Jack C. DeRoos, 17, of 567 Central Ave., and William Wierda, 40, of 9 West 19th St.

Both drivers were headed north on Central Ave., police said, and Wierda was making a left turn into an alley when the accident occurred. Police ticketed DeRoos for driving too fast for road conditions and ticketed Wierda for giving no signal. Police said damage to the two cars was minor.

Two Explorers Get Eagles

Kenneth Vinstra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vinstra, route 2 and Jack Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Alexander, 141 East 31st St., received Eagle awards Monday night in a court of honor at First Reformed Church.

Both are members of Explorer Post 2006. After the boys received the award, they in turn presented necklaces with miniature Eagle badges to their mothers.

Larry Wade, district chairman, told the responsibilities of an Eagle recipient and Amos Beeson, representing the district advancement committee, read a letter of congratulations from Dr. Arthur Shuck, Chief Scout Executive. Ben Mulder arranged the Eagle ceremony.

Tenderfoot through first class awards were presented in the court of honor. Chester Raak was the toastmaster and Elmore Van Lente led group singing.

The three patrols performed stunts and skills. More than 100 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers and their parents attended the banquet.

2-Car Crash Injures Four

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Four persons were injured in a two car accident on US-16 in Crocker township at 11:30 a.m. Monday. Cars involved were driven by George Bishop, 34, Muskegon, and John Vogel, Grand Rapids. According to State Police, the Bishop car started to slide and was struck broadside by the Vogel car.

Bishop suffered a fractured left leg and abrasions. His wife, Annabelle, 33, received abrasions and bruises, and his stepdaughter, Robin Fox, 3, received a fractured left leg. All were taken to Hackley Hospital in Muskegon by ambulances.

Vogel, who suffered a broken left leg and a possible hip fracture, was taken to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Both 1954 cars were demolished.

Windolph said the party had left from the Lima, Ohio, airport in the afternoon and flown in by way of Grand Rapids. Over the Grand Rapids airport they were notified that the winds were blowing at 10 knots and, assuming the conditions would be no worse at Holland, they flew on.

The runways had been plowed out during the afternoon, Windolph said, but the snowstorm and drifting snow made landing conditions difficult.

Windolph said Renner brought the plane in at 120 miles an hour, with a strong crosswind blowing. They had touched down and rolled about a hundred feet, according to Windolph, when a strong gust of wind blinded the pilot with a wall of snow.

The plane was moving at about 100 miles an hour, he said, as the left wheel hit a snowbank and the craft spun off into the deep drifts.

Windolph credits the deep snow with preventing the plane from flipping over and possibly bursting into flame. The left landing gear, the nose wheel and the right wing were damaged.

Witnesses immediately rushed to the scene and two engines from the Park Township Fire Department were summoned.

Windolph said that upon inspection Tuesday, a linkage was found broken in the left landing gear, which may have caused the crack-up if it was broken when the plane landed. This will not be known until further investigation is completed, he said.

Couple Marks 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandy of 599 West 32nd St. marked their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday. The event was celebrated with a family dinner Saturday evening. Mr. Sandy was born in Fremont. Mrs. Sandy's parents were Dutch pioneers who after their marriage settled at the site of the present homestead.

Their children are Mrs. E. R. Wolfert of Benton Harbor, the Rev. L. R. Sandy of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Henry Sandy, Mrs. Theodore Knoll, Clyde Sandy, Neil Sandy, Leon Sandy and Mrs. Chester Skeetee, all of Holland. There are 20 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy are members of First Reformed Church of Central Park.

Four Escape Injury in Plane Crash Here

A two-engine plane cracked up in deep snow drifts at the Holland Airport as it landed Monday night at 8:30 p.m. in a blinding snowstorm, but none of the four persons aboard were injured.

Herman J. Windolph, co-pilot of the plane owned by the Holland Die Casting Co., estimated the damage to the $100,000 plane today at around $30,000.

The 1957 Aero Commander was piloted by Marion A. "Tony" Renner, and carried as passengers Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stewart, all of Holland.

Windolph said the party had left from the Lima, Ohio, airport in the afternoon and flown in by way of Grand Rapids. Over the Grand Rapids airport they were notified that the winds were blowing at 10 knots and, assuming the conditions would be no worse at Holland, they flew on.

Carroll Gets Prison Term For Assault

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Thomas Carroll, 31, of Burke Ave., Holland, who pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to a felonious assault charge in Circuit Court, was sentenced Friday to serve 18 months to four years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

The alleged offense occurred in Holland Dec. 21 when Carroll struck Police Officer Robert Van Vuren with the microphone of the police cruiser after Van Vuren had surprised him in the act of trying to enter a factory.

Carroll appeared before the court today in handcuffs. He said he did not remember assaulting the officer and appeared sorry for what he had done. Judge Raymond L. Smith said he felt compassion when Carroll appeared contrite but a review of Carroll's record did not indicate leniency.

Theron L. Morris, 22, of 177 East Sixth St., Holland, pleaded guilty to a charge of removing mortgaged property from the state, and will return for sentence Feb. 21. He was released on his own recognizance. Morris allegedly took a 1951 car to California last July which carried a chattel mortgage of $265.05 in favor of Peoples State Bank.

Walter N. Wyrick, West Olive, was restored his operator's license on a limited basis for business purposes only. He may also use the car to go to church and to get groceries but for no other purposes. He lost his driving privileges Jan. 13 when he pleaded guilty to drunk driving. In seeking restoration of his license, he claimed he needs the car to carry on his business as a poultry dealer.

Marvin Benedict, 18, Grand Rapids, who pleaded guilty Jan. 27 to a rape charge, was put on probation three years. Conditions are that there be no drinking, observe a midnight curfew and pay $150 costs on a monthly basis. The alleged offense involved a 13-year-old girl in Wright township about Feb. 15, 1956.

Lyle F. Vincent, 19, Marne, who pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent liberties, was put on probation for three years. The judge ordered $50 costs added to what Vincent still owes on previous probation orders. He must observe a midnight curfew and refrain from drinking. The alleged offense involved a 12-year-old girl in Tallmadge township on or about June 15, 1955.

High School Students Prepare Behavior Code for Teenagers

A group of Holland High School and Christian High School students are cooperating in the development of a "Youth Code" for teenagers. An important meeting of these students and their adult advisors was held Feb. 5 at the home of Jane Schaftenaar.

The Holland Youth Code had its beginning when the boys and girls felt that they were unduly being labeled "juvenile delinquents" or "mixed-up teenagers".

Parents too, have expressed concern over the standards of conduct of children and in particular their own.

School and community people are hopeful that by getting together on the aims and goals of youth in social behavior it will help eliminate some of the difficulties that exist. The feelings of the teenagers themselves have led them to seek adult help in writing out a code as other communities have successfully done.

The idea of a code is really a simple one. The ideals and standards of behavior which are accepted by the community are put in writing so that both parents and teenagers may know what is expected. Codes came into common practice in cities in the United States shortly after World War II.

Because of some of the problems presented by teenage behavior, ways of putting youth on their honor to do the right thing at the right time was considered important. And it appears that the people who are most appreciative are the youth themselves.

There are always a certain number of delinquent youth and the code will do little to help them. There are many teenagers who may be on the verge of delinquent acts or in constant disagreement with their parents for whom the code becomes a common meeting ground for solving problems.

These codes have been called many things as "The Teenagers Constitution", the "Bill of Rights", etc. Some states (Minnesota is the notable example) have adopted codes which the state legislatures have endorsed. The number of organizations which endorse the code as well as its acceptance by teenagers make a code successful.

The Holland group has met three times prior to the Feb. 5 meeting. Their main concern thus far has been identifying the problems they feel teenagers have and could use help in solving. They have asked adults to talk with them. Among these adults have been a minister, juvenile officer and many parents. School people meet with them regularly.

The Holland group has its own organization and conducts its own meetings. They hope to spend a few more meetings on problem areas before they begin to actually write a preliminary draft of a code. This preliminary draft will then be discussed in high schools. Horizon groups, and more formally with parent and community groups.

If changes are indicated, they will be made. If both teenagers and community feel that the code has merit, it will be adopted as such and made available to every parent and teenager in the community.

Advisors are Mrs. Carol Onthank, Jay Formosa, Eugene Scholten, Miss Anne Selles, and Raymond Holwerda.

Three players just missed the honor, De Vette said in describing the classroom activity of his unbeaten MIAA leaders.

Captain Dwayne Teusink, senior, leads the list with 2 As and 4 Bs. Sophomore Warren Vander Hill follows with 4 Bs, an A and a C while junior Darrell Beernink has 5 Bs and an A. Beernink is a transfer from Northwestern Junior College in Orange City, Iowa.

Teusink, Vander Hill and Beernink are first stringers.

Junior Wayne Vriesman, a transfer from Muskegon Community College, had marks of 3 As and 2 Bs while sophomore John Kleinhekel recorded 1 A and 4 Bs.

Roland Schut, another sophomore, had 2 As and 4 Bs to round out the honored list.

Juniors John Hood and Jim Buursma and senior Jack Kempker just missed the B average.

Players must have at least a C average to play basketball in the MIAA. De Vette reported that the other four members of the squad, Ray Ritsma, Paul Benes, Daryl Siedentop and Robert Thomson all were over a C average.</

League Projects Benefit Holland

GIFT TO CHILD PATIENTS — The new pediatrics playroom at Holland Hospital was given and furnished by the Junior Welfare League pledge of $2,300 for the playroom and two new nurseries. The League also furnished the other nursery. The child patients love their own playroom as is evidenced here by Janice Zylman, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Zylman, 236 West 23rd St.; Rodney Dannenberg, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dannenberg, 187 East 25th St., and Nella Stam, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Stam, 156 West 17th St.

GIFT TO PRESTATIE HUIS — The gift of a new fence was made to Prestatie Huis in March 1957 by the Junior Welfare League. Mrs. James Brooks, (left) and Mrs. Lawrence

Green are shown examining the fence with Miss Mary Rhoades, (right), director of Prestatie Huis. The League also provides cookies and fruit juice for the children every day.

GIFT TO LIBRARY — Children's books, purchased by the Junior Welfare League were presented in 1955 to Mrs. Hazel Hayes, (left) librarian at the Holland Public Library by Mrs. William Venhuizen and Mrs. Paul

Winchester of the League. The initial gift was $300 which purchased 125 new books and many replacements. Each year the League contributes for children's books and also has given records.

Teens Against Polio Give Funds to March of Dimes

Bruce Van Leuwen, Chairman of the Holland High School Teens Against Polio (TAP) Committee presented a check to the March of Dimes Fund during an assembly Thursday morning. Don Beck, accepting the check on behalf of the Holland Inter-Club Committee, commended the TAP group for the enthusiastic participation in this year's campaign.

The Holland High Letter Man's Club conducted a car-wash on Saturday, Feb. 1 to raise funds. Among those participating in this activity were Jack Scully, Ron Kuylers, Russ Prins, Jim Boyd, Bruce Van Leuwen, Keith Bosch, Vern Bronkema, Jan Nienhuis, Hubby Harrington, Ron Dorgelo, Garry Gibbons, Bob Teal, Tom Buis and Joe Howard. They used a building on Seventh Street which was donated by a local filling station proprietor.

On Saturday evening the TAP's sponsored the Sweater Dance held in the Armory, with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes Campaign. The queen, Garnet Harrington and King, Keith Bosch were selected by student vote. They were crowned by Connie Veele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Veele. Connie, a recent polio patient, was presented with a birthday cake and present in honor of her sixth birthday.

Among those assisting in dance arrangements were Ralph Houston, Ruth Smith, Luanne Klomprens, Bruce Van Leuwen, Russ Prins, Bob Brent, Jack Scully, Janice Harbin, Keith Bosch, Eddie Rakes and Mary Kuiper. Al Kruswyk's orchestra furnished the music.

Christian High School TAP activities were coordinated by Paul Weener, President of the Student Council. Their activities included canister collections during several recent basketball games.

OES Chapter Meets For Regular Session

Star of Bethlehem Chapter No. 40, OES, held a regular meeting Thursday evening with Miss Verne Olmstead presiding. Reports were given and invitations to Friendship Nights read.

The Worthy Matron told of the Worthy Gr-d Matrons' project and appointed committees. A card party is being planned for March 20 and the chapter voted to change the April meeting to the second Thursday because of church services.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Van Sloten and committee. Decorations followed a Valentine motif.

Well in advance of their newest project, "Follies of 1958," members of the Junior Welfare League met recently to plan advance publicity and advertising and discuss the Follies with Sentinel Publisher, W. A. Butler.

So that the public may know some of the many community services in which the League participates, the chairmen outlined them.

The Candy Cane Ball, given annually, raised $2,300 on the League's pledge of building and furnishing the pediatrics playroom and the two nurseries at Holland Hospital. They also completely furnished the other nursery.

All school children are invited to attend a play at the Civic Center every year, free of charge. Hundreds of children are entertained at a Kiddie Carnival every year. This year, the new members put on a successful Silver Skates carnival.

Milk is provided for needy children in any public school. Glasses and eye examinations are provided for needy children in the area. Layettes are furnished for new babies in needy families. The League also has a standing fund for clothing for needy children.

At Christmas time, the League gives $100 for food baskets for needy families. They also maintain a free bed at the hospital for unwed mothers. The Red Cross benefits every year with a contribution from the League.

During the polio drive, League members start the kick-off project every year. For the past two years they sold the blue crutches and participated in the Mothers March. They are also active members of the Holland Hospital Auxiliary.

Money has been given to Prestatie Huis for the purchase of a new fence, educational equipment for the playyard, cookies and fruit juice for the children every day. The League also is a contributing member of the Child Guidance Clinic. Another project is the Lela Smith Memorial gift of diabetic equipment to the hospital.

In an educational way, money is contributed every year for children's books or records or any other need of the Holland Public Library. The League supports two representatives every year to "Volunteer Girls State, one from Holland High and one from Christian High.

In order to continue with their worthwhile projects, the Junior Welfare League will present "Follies of 1958" on March 29 at the Civic Center.

A talent hunt is now underway with about 80 more adults, men and women, needed to fill out the cast. A Talent Party will be held at the Warm Friend Tavern on March 10 to select members for the chorus and solo parts.

Another contest to promote the Follies will be inaugurated next week in which the service clubs in the Holland area will cooperate.

Zeeland

"The New Decor" will be discussed at the Zeeland Literary Club Tuesday afternoon when Esther Nykamp of Nykamp Interiors of Holland presents ideas on the new trend in home decoration. Mrs. Nykamp, the former Esther Brink of East Saugatuck, is a graduate of Hope College and has done advanced work in art and correlated subjects at the University of Michigan. She has also studied at Northwestern University; Academy of Art in Chicago and Taylor Art School in Saugatuck. Besides working with furnishing and interior decoration, Mrs. Nykamp has been interested in creative art, especially oils and water colors. She has been established in interior decorating for eight years, coming to Holland from Lansing where her work included many fine homes and sorority houses. Mrs. Nykamp will suggest color combinations and use fabrics and accessories in presenting her program. Harley Brown, a student at Hope College, will entertain with a vocal solo. He studies voice under Mrs. Baughman.

Zeeland's second annual choir festival was held Sunday at 9 p.m. at the First Christian Reformed Church. Five Zeeland church choirs participated in the annual event. They are First Reformed, North Street Christian Reformed, First Christian Reformed, Second Reformed and Third Christian Reformed. The young married couples organizations of the churches sponsored the festival. The program included one number by each individual choir and two selections by all of the choirs combined under the direction of Kenneth Louis. Accompanying the choirs were Miss Thelma Huizenga at the organ and Mrs. E. J. De Pree at the piano. Proceeds of the free will offering go to the Children's Retreat at Cutlerville.

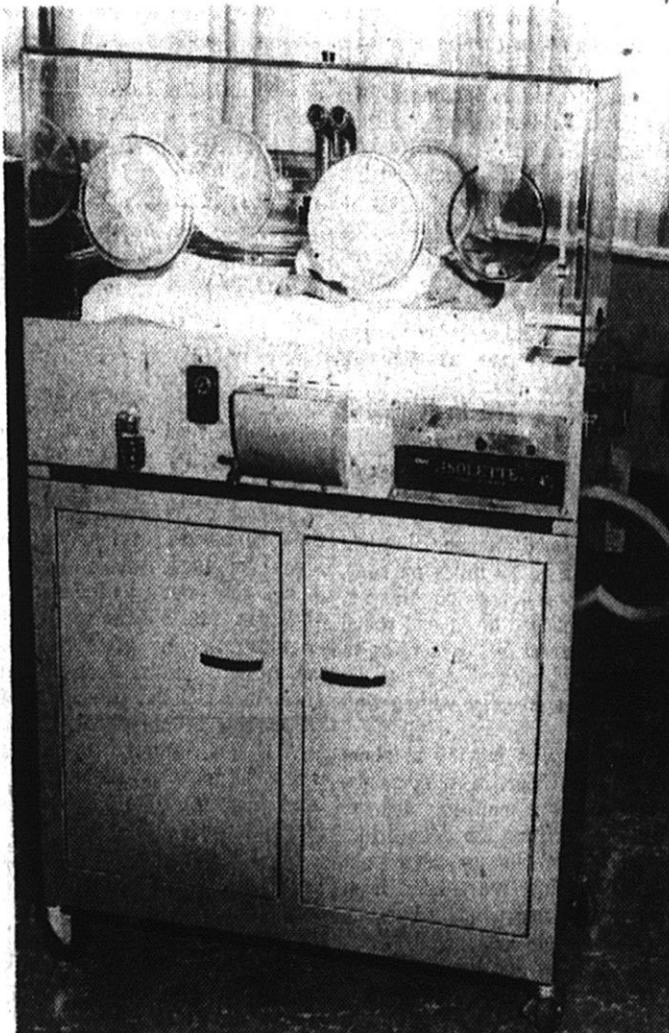

A meeting of the Lincoln Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will be held tonight. Attending parents and interested persons will have an opportunity to visit classrooms from 7 to 8 p.m. before the main session begins in the auditorium. Guest speaker will be Dr. Paul Fried of Hope College. His topic will be "America in Germany Since 1945." The sixth grade mothers, with Mrs. Roger Prince as chairman, will be in charge of refreshments following the meeting.

The City Cemetery Committee has announced the recent purchase of a 30 acre parcel of land on the northeast corner of the city. The new area, located on Roosevelt Road, about six-tenths of a mile from town, was purchased in view of the fact that the city's present cemetery will serve only about 5 more years before burial space is used up, a spokes-
