Approves Traffic Sign Amendment

A Traffic and Safety Commission recommendation for the city attorney to prepare an ordinance amendment to allow the city manager to designate lanes at certain intersections as "right turn only" or "left turn only" was adopted by City Council Wednesday night.

There was some discussion among Council members on the effectiveness of such rules. Councilman John Van Eerden felt that southbound traffic on River Ave. at the Pine Ave. junction at Windmill Park might be allowed to proceed south from the right lane instead of turning, but others pointed out that such procedure could hold up a long line prepared to turn right on the arrow signal.

Morris Peerbolt felt that many such turn lanes are inadequately signed and felt there should be more overhead signs at such lanes.

Council also adopted another Traffic and Safety Commission recommendation calling for the city attorney to prepare an opinion on limitations on designating certain streets as truck routes and subsequent enforcement thereof.

Council approved a city manager's recommendation to hire the services of Dwight D. Ferris, certified public accountant, to perform the post audit for the fiscal period ending June 30, 1966, at a cost of $5,335.

A letter from the law firm of Law, Fallon, Weathers and Richardson, attorneys for the Charles R. Sligh Co., concerning a question of boundary lines between Kollen Park and the Sligh property was referred to the city manager.

Council acknowledged with thanks the following gifts for Holland Hospital: a mattress valued at $40 from Holland Wire Products, Inc., and 23 subscriptions to the Holland Evening Sentinel valued at $538.20 from merchants and business places in the city.

A letter from Park township board requesting $3,000 from the city for further improvements and operation of Park Township Airport was referred to the city manager for later consideration by Council.

Following a public hearing at which no objections were given, Council vacated an alley lying between 19th and 20th St., running east of Columbia Ave. to the railroad track.

Tabled from last meeting was an option to purchase property at 46 West Eighth St. for parking development. It was approved unanimously.

Letters acknowledging Council action on Senate Bill 705 which would put public utilities under jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission were read from Sens. R. J. Huber and C. J. O'Brien and Reps. James F. Farnsworth and Melvin De Stigter.

A letter from the downtown merchants' division of the Holland Chamber of Commerce expressed appreciation for Council action in authorizing a parking survey for downtown Holland.

A financial report for the Holland American Legion Band for the year ended Dec. 31 including a proposed budget for the coming year was referred to the city manager for budget consideration.

Council approved a service agreement with the Insurance Audit and Inspection Co. for insurance services for the year beginning March 9 at an annual fee of $400.

A communication from Local 515M, Building Service Employees International Union (AFL-CIO) was referred to the personnel officer. The letter listed six proposals covering wage increases, hospitalization, life insurance, vacations, sick pay and union dues deduction.

Claims against the city by Harold Zoerhof, 927 Columbia Ave., and the Rev. Gilbert Haan, 625 West 20th St., were referred to the city attorney.

Mayor Nelson Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted two hours and 20 minutes. All Councilmen were present except Donald Oosterbaan. The invocation was given by the Rev. John J. Kenbeck, retired Dregthe minister.

Council Gets Sum for Swan At Windmill

A gift of $100 from John De Wilde of Holland to buy a white swan or swans for Windmill Island was accepted by City Council Wednesday night.

City Manager Herb Holt said a pair of swans costs approximately $150 and the subject would be considered carefully by the Windmill Island committee before action is taken.

Swans at Windmill Island would be a natural since the name of the windmill is De Zwaan or "The Swan." Plans also call for a wildlife sanctuary in the 150-acre development.

Holt said swans on the large pond to the right as one approaches Windmill Island would be the logical place but he pointed to the need of some protective shelter for swans.

He said swans are hardy and can survive in a natural habitat but if the pond freezes, swans could be at the mercy of dogs. Moreover, he said swans are not friendly and have been known to attack small children and consequently should be kept in isolated areas.

Because of the desired isolation, Holt said the larger pond near the entrance was preferable to the small pond near the windmill, the home of several duck families.

Holland Woman Injured When Two Cars Collide

Mary Lou Schurman, 20, of 889 Lincoln Ave. was treated at Holland Hospital for a laceration of the left leg and bruises of the head and released following a two-car accident on River Ave. at 18th St. at 2:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Holland police said the car she was driving collided with a car driven by Bruce A. Driesenga, 20, of 349 Maple Ave.

Driesenga received a ticket for failing to yield the right of way.

Wide Range of Subjects Occupies City Council

Subjects covering a wide range of activities occupied City Council for almost 2½ hours Wednesday night.

A good share of the discussion dealt with functions of Windmill Island, the Holland Planning Commission in zoning matters, and whether serious study should be given to extending Ottawa Ave. south of 40th St.

Although close to 30 persons were present in connection with a recommendation of the Planning Commission to rezone six acres at the northwest corner of Plasmann Ave. and 32nd St. from A-O residential to B-1 apartment, there was limited discussion since Council favored a suggestion of Al Slenk who said he represented 25 families in Sandy Subdivision in that area that the matter be referred back to the Planning Commission for further study, plus a hearing with residents of the area.

Speaking briefly for the other side was Dave Vande Vusse, one of the developers planning apartments in the area.

Also recommended by the Planning Commission was rezoning a parcel of land approximately four acres at the northeast corner of Eighth St. and Waverly Rd. from A-O residential and agricultural to C-1 neighborhood commercial. The city attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary ordinance for Council consideration.

Council voted down a request of the Windmill Committee to purchase a new pickup truck for Windmill Island to replace one that was a total loss in a recent accident, the funds to come from the contingent fund of the general fund. But Council, in a subsequent action, approved an offer of R. E. Barber to provide a truck for $1,182, charged to the Windmill account.

The initial question was raised by Richard Smith who felt using money from the general fund involved tax money. Mayor Bosman said the Windmill Island truck is part of the city car pool just like vehicles in other departments. The city manager explained that the city's fleet insurance does not include collision insurance. Henry Steffens said Windmill Island is as much

Illinois Firm Has Low Bid In Bond Sale

City Council Wednesday night approved the low bid of Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago in the sale of $3 million Holland City Hospital Bonds to finance a new addition to the local hospital.

The Chicago bid, lowest of seven presented, calls for a total net interest of $2,040,028.33 which over the 27-year span lists an average interest rate of 3.7901 per cent. Several associates are listed in the Harris Trust bid.

Council's unanimous vote followed a recommendation by James Pollock, financial consultant in the hospital bond sale. Pollock said copies of the bond prospectus had been made available to 55 cities in 27 states and that a number had prepared their own condensed versions for distributions.

He said today's bond market is bad for sellers, but he felt the country is in a period which will see still higher interest rates.

John Van Dyke, president of the Hospital Board, told Council that the board is prepared to go ahead with the building program. "We have all the faith in the world in Mr. Pollock and his judgment," he said.

Clarence Becker, another member of the Hospital Board, said the city's decision to vote general obligation bonds for the hospital project instead of issuing revenue bonds helped keep interest rates down. He pointed to a news item in Wednesday's publication quoting a 5.85 per cent interest rate for a city with a AA rating.

Charles Moon of Detroit, representing the law firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, said Holland city in voting general obligation bonds, had provided the city with the cheapest way of obtaining funds for the building program. He said Oakland county only the day before had sold county general obligation bonds at 3.92 and 3.95 per cent. "The Harris Trust bid of 3.79 per cent is a very favorable rate," he said.

Interest rates in the other bids ranged from 3.82 per cent to 3.90 per cent.

Police Cite Driver

Ronald D. Lemmen, 27, of route 2 was cited by Holland police for failing to yield the right of way after the car he was driving collided with a truck driven by Glen Verecke, 31, of 266 West 23rd St. at Lincoln Ave. and Ninth St. at 1:31 p.m. Wednesday.

Charge Youth With Assault

Billy Pate, 18, of 301 West 21st St. pleaded innocent at his arraignment in Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of assaulting an officer.

Pate's trial was set for March 1. Bond was set at $200.

Pate is charged with assaulting an officer during a scuffle behind the Star restaurant, 19 East Eighth St., about 11:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Pate sustained cuts on the top of his head in the scuffle. He was treated at Holland Hospital and released to police custody.

The police were called to the scene when Pate kept a girl from going to her car in the parking lot behind the restaurant.

A patrolman went out to talk to Pate, and the youth started scuffling with the officer. A second patrolman came to the aid of the first officer.

Surviving are the wife; a son, Kenneth P. Cherven of Woodstock, N.J.; several stepchildren and grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. John Vande Wege of Holland and Mrs. Julia Eigelsbach of Chicago, and a brother, Jack Cherven of Chicago.

Considerable discussion followed a question of Earl Vander Ploeg in the audience, asking what Council planned to do with an area south of 40th St. and west of Ottawa Ave. Upshot was that Council referred the question to the Planning Commission for further study.

City Manager Holt pointed out that the original master plan of the city called for Ottawa Ave. to be extended southward from 32nd St. and to connect at some point with Washington Ave. near the bypass. More recent developments brought a decision to extend Ottawa Ave. south to 40th St. to provide access to the new Christian High School. This road plus 40th St. east to Washington Ave. was approved as a major road.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt said he anticipates political pressures in case this route is made a truck route and he questioned truck routes in residential areas.

City Attorney Cunningham pointed out that all decisions on zoning or truck routes are made by Council, that the Planning Commission only studies and recommends. Council also makes decisions on major and minor streets, he said.

It was pointed out that if Council does not extend Ottawa Ave. as a major street, such street development costs are paid by the developer. Vander Ploeg had said future plans of the area under question hinge on Council's plans. He said it would make a difference if the area is developed as residential or as commercial or industrial property.

Junked Car Ordinance Is Passed

A new ordinance governing dismantled or inoperable motor vehicles on private premises in Holland was passed by City Council Wednesday night.

The term "inoperable motor vehicle" is defined as any motor vehicle which by reason of dismantling, disrepair, or other cause is incapable of being propelled under its own power.

According to the ordinance, such vehicles must be removed within 10 days after receiving notice from an enforcing officer. This does not apply to any vehicle parked or stored within a wholly enclosed garage or other wholly enclosed structure.

The ordinance also covers cases of cars left on private property without the consent of the owner, such as tenants leaving a dismantled car on landlord's property. In such cases, the premise owner or lessee may notify the enforcing officer in writing that such a vehicle is on said premises without consent and may authorize the officer to remove the vehicle.

Takes Over His Post On April 4

Chief Jacob Van Hoff Will be Consultant For Next Two Years

City Manager Herb Holt today announced the appointment of Leslie Van Beveren of Holland as chief of police, effective April 4.

Van Beveren, 35, who has been with the local department about three years, will succeed Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, who will mark his 39th year with the local police department on April 4.

He will be retained as a consultant with the department for two years. Van Hoff has served as police chief here more than 25 years.

Van Beveren and Grand Haven Police Chief Richard Klempe had been recommended for the local position by the International Association of Chiefs of Police after a battery of written tests and oral interviews for 13 applicants. Klempe, 41, has been with the Grand Haven police department for 19 years.

In naming Van Beveren, Holt said Holland was most fortunate in having two such outstanding men to choose from. "It was an extremely difficult decision to make between two well qualified candidates, one a midcareer professional of proven ability and the other at the outset of his professional career but with more formal education and greater potential."

"Both men rated exceptionally high in tests by the panel of top police administrators who did the screening. In this situation the fact that Van Beveren is here and highly regarded by the department and the people of Holland was in his favor," Holt said.

Holt added that salary arrangements had not been fully resolved.

Van Beveren, a native of Chicago, started work as a special policeman with the local department in the spring of 1963. He became the department's first juvenile officer in December, 1964, when the position was created by City Council.

He is a 1948 graduate of Lindbloom High School in Chicago and spent four years with the U.S. Marine Corps, including service in Mediterranean and Caribbean areas. In 1952 he took a position as administrator in the engineering department of General Motors in LaGrange, Ill., and was employed there for eight years.

He attended Chicago Teachers College for one semester in 1960 and then entered Hope College in February, 1961, graduating in June, 1964, with an A.B. degree.

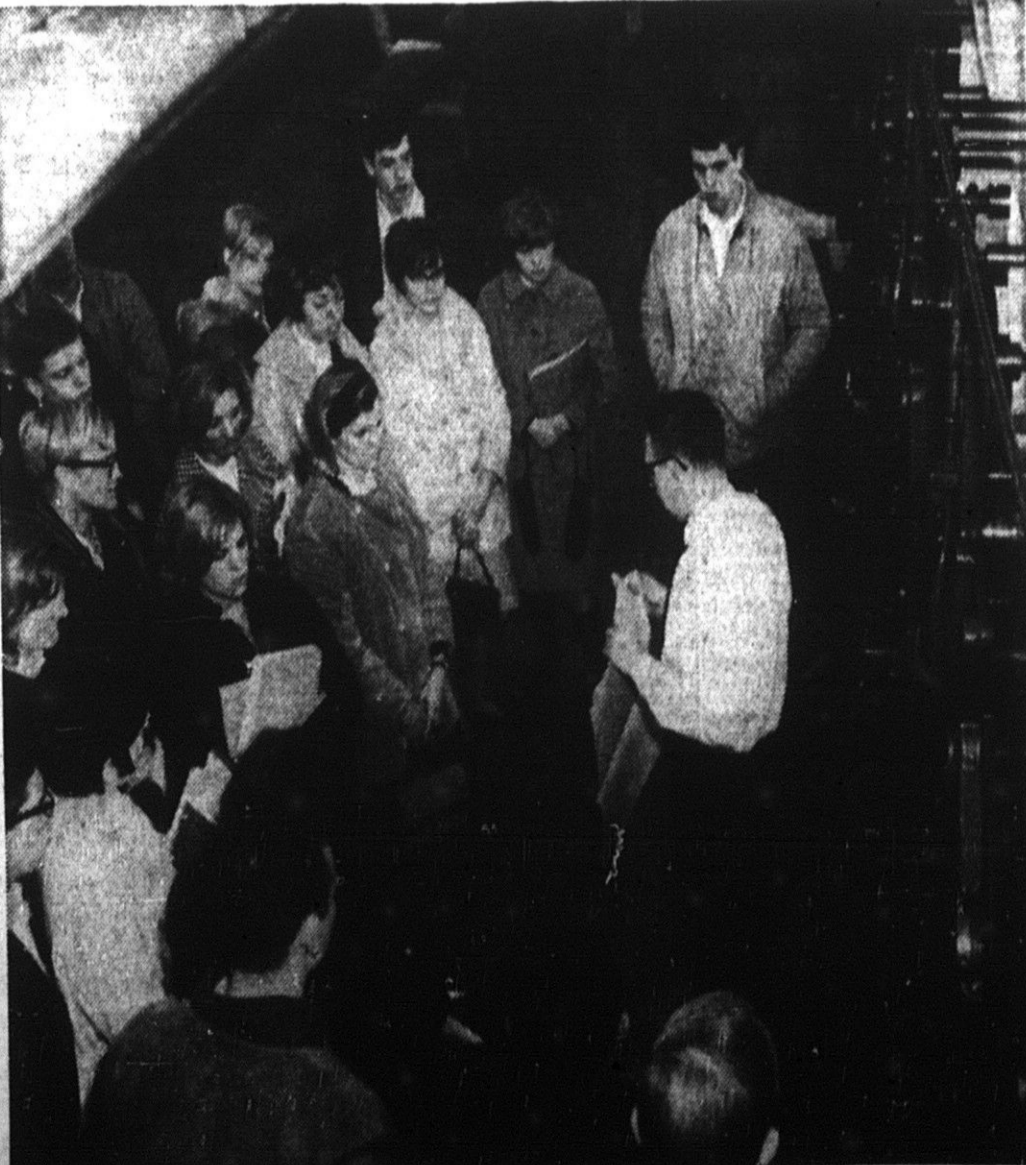

He is married and has three children aged 12, 9 and 7. Mrs. Van Beveren is the former Carol Staat.

The explosion occurred as Todd lit a cigarette while working in an excavation, apparently igniting fumes from a butane gas heater. West was at the top of the hole, looking down, when the explosion sent a sheet of flame into his face.

Dutch Lose 95-85; Pete Scores 39

MUSKEGON — Muskegon Heights' basketball team, displaying uncanny quickness and excellent rebounding, defeated Holland, 95-85 in the battle for first place in the LMAC and Valley Coast Conference in the L. C. Walker Sports Arena.

A crowd of 3,000 fans, more than half from Holland, were on hand to watch the Tigers win their 12th game in 13 starts and their seventh in eight LMAC games.

The setback dropped Holland to second in the LMAC with a 6-2 record and 9-4 overall. In the Valley Coast Conference the win gave the Tigers the title with an 8-0 record. Holland is tied for second with Godwin with 5-2 marks.

Two fine individual performances were turned in as Holland senior Larry Pete and Muskegon Heights' David Day had a personal scoring duel.

Pete won the duel with a tremendous 39-point effort. The total was the highest number of points scored by an LMAC player this season, erasing the mark of 37 scored against Grand Haven, Jan. 28 by teammate Mike Lawson.

Pete, who hit most of his baskets on outside jumpers, had 14 of 25 from the floor and added 11 free throws in 11 tries. The 6'2" Pete's previous high was 35 against Traverse City, Dec. 17.

Coach Don Piersma praised Pete's play but he couldn't say enough for 6' Day's play. He called it one of the finest individual efforts he had ever seen as Day succeeded in sneaking through the Holland defense to get shots. He made 31 points and several of his baskets were made on second shots. "He has the savvy to know where the ball is all the time," Piersma said.

Piersma said they tried man-for-man and zone defenses on Day but the clever player managed to spring loose, get inside and make the basket. Piersma said 10 of his baskets were "dog shots."

Muskegon Heights took a 26-22 first period lead but Holland, behind Pete's 13-point second quarter effort, tied the score at half, 47-47. The game was tied six times and the halftime deadlock was the final tie.

The Tigers jumped out in the third quarter and Holland played catch up, getting behind by 10 but cutting the margin to six, 64-52 at the period's close.

The winners had a fourth period surge and moved ahead by 18 points midway but Holland managed to cut the margin to ten at the game's end. Day had 11 points in the fourth period and Pete closed out with 13.

Muskegon Heights outrebounded Holland, 48-29. Day grabbed 13. Lawson got 12 rebounds for the losers. Holland did some fine free throw shooting, getting 23 of 27, on halves of 15 of 17 and eight of 10. The winners made 15 of 25.

Holland hit 43 per cent on 31 of 73 with quarters of 9-19, 7-18, 6-15 and 9-19 from the floor while the Tigers had 40 of 102 shots for 39 per cent and periods of 10-24, 9-24, 10-25 and 11-29.

Piersma pointed out that the Heights often was able to get second, third and sometimes four shots at the hoop resulting in the 102 tries.

"We underestimated how strong they were," Piersma said, "and they taught us what this game was all about." "We thought our man-for-man defense would stop them but it failed to neutralize the game," Piersma said.

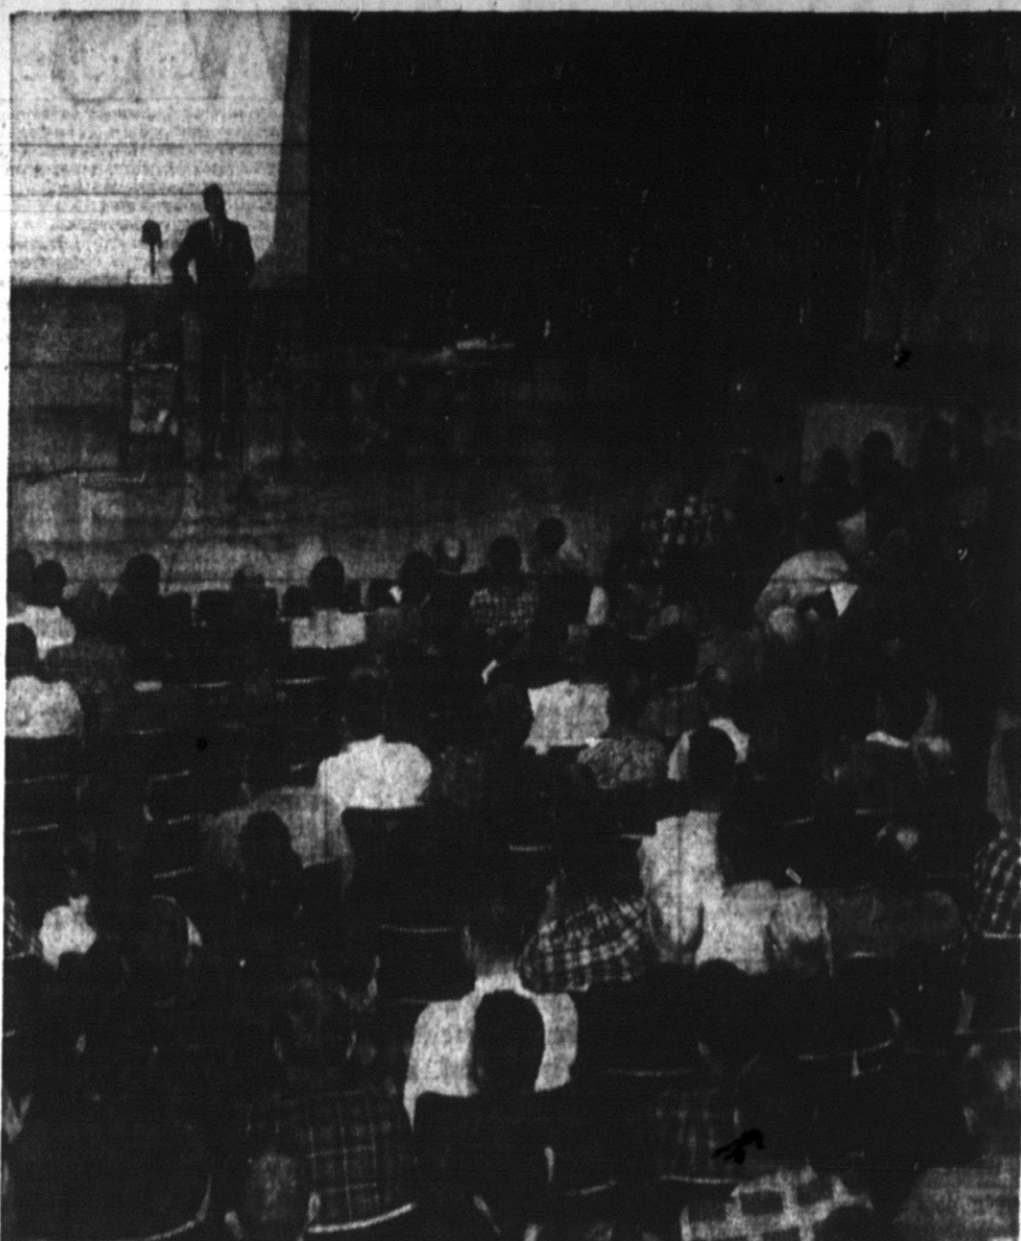

"They are really tough and if they keep going they are going to be like Benton Harbor's team of last year," Piersma said.

Houston followed Day with 23 and Art Davis had 19. Lawson got 18 and Steve Millard added 11. Lawson forgot his size 14 shoes and used reserve team member Randy Bobeldyke's size 13 shoes.

DEER SITUATION DISCUSSED—David Arnold of Lansing (at microphone) explains the deer situation in Michigan to a group of more than 600 Holland area sportsmen Thursday night in the Holland High School Auditorium. William Laycock and Arnold represented the Conservation Department at the meeting along with

Conservation officers Harold Bowditch of Grand Rapids and Gene Coulson of Allegan. The meeting was arranged by the Holland Fish and Game Club in cooperation with State Sen. Harold Volkema of Holland. The graph behind Arnold is one of the many used to illustrate the deer situation in the state. (Sentinel photo)

600 Sportsmen Attend Meeting

More than 600 Michigan deer hunters heard about Michigan's deer herd situation while attending a meeting in the Holland High School auditorium Thursday night and were told the deer will be back and the future is optimistic.

Game biologist David Arnold of Lansing and William Laycock, field representative for the Lower Peninsula spoke to the group. Both are Conservation Department employees. The meeting lasted almost three hours.

The Holland Fish and Game Club arranged the meeting through the cooperation of State Sen. Harold Volkema of Holland.

Arnold said he was confident the deer are not gone, illustrating with other seasons when the kill was down, but went back up. He said the 63,000 buck kill last year was about average and noted the record recent year kill of 86,000 in 1964.

He explained how the Department arrives at its statistics, reporting deer are counted at the Mackinac Bridge and at a row of counting stations along M-20.

The game biologist was sure the deer will be back noting that "we haven't shot all the does and hunters always take twice as many males as females and we have adequate portion for breeding."

Arnold said he was aware that Michigan doesn't have as many deer as in the postwar years but he felt that the present deer herd is not decreasing.

Laycock interjected that if the game department was allowed to manage the deer herd, "Michigan will have a better herd 10 years from now."

Arnold reported the game department met with the Conservation Commission Thursday afternoon and presented detailed plans of what they can do in the future.

Commenting on deer hunting accidents, Arnold said the trend is downward and was lower in 1965. "It isn't true that it's more dangerous to hunt antlerless deer," Arnold said.

He noted an increase of 150,000 hunters in the last three years, said the percentage of hunters bagging deer will be lower.

Arnold felt the core of the problem pertained to the food available. He thought the thing to do was to harvest the deer so they will come out of the deer yards. He said the Department is hoping for a mild winter because this will help prevent a deer death by starvation.

Many of the comments Arnold and Laycock made were given during the question and answer session. As to why permit quotas were raised in areas having severe winter losses, Arnold said this wasn't done.

Some questions contradicted statistics released by the Conservation Department and county information. Arnold admitted former surveys were incorrect but felt better methods were being used at present. He said an audit will be used to check the surveys.

As for deer being smaller, Laycock noted experimental herds have shown this not a problem. He said hunters don't find the bones of dead deer in the fall in answer to a question of what happens to the bones because the bones are found in the spring and not during the fall hunting season. Department personnel is in the field making deer spring surveys, Laycock said.

Arnold said the Department's income would be the same in answer to a query of whether the elimination of a doe season for three years would put the Department in financial difficulty.

Allegan County conservation officer Gene Coulson said he didn't think deer crossing signs on the highway on M-89 would prevent any highway deer kills. He reported little crop damage in the county.

Ottawa County conservation officer Harold Bowditch reported seeing 10 to 30 deer feeding on blueberry buds Tuesday. He said his crop damage reports have been in Grand Haven, Robinson and Crocker townships.

Laycock reported Department research hasn't found any deterrent to keep deer from eating the crops. He also reported the money from the licenses goes to the fish and game protective fund and this fund is also used for administration funds.

Five persons raised hands when asked how many had been contacted by the Department to participate in the deer hunting post card survey. Arnold said they sent out about 25,000 cards.

Arnold said the Department is "not in cahoots" with the pulp and timber industries and the industries don't exert pressure to cut timber. He felt that with more wood cut, the deer would be better off.

He reported a deer needs about four pounds of food a day to survive but thought stopgap measures are ineffective.

Arnold said the Department has not requested a boost in the hunting license and feel the hunter is paying enough.

Commenting on the deer herd in Allegan and Ottawa county, Arnold said "we'd like to have that problem in the north. Deer have increased 14 per cent in the two areas and he thought because of good food, healthy deer and good reproduction.

One hunter suggested a three-year moratorium on doe and let the Department have control.

Hunters were asked to tell where they were hunting, for how long and the deer conditions. Areas mentioned were Grand Traverse, Presque Isle, Allegan Lake, Lake Superior watershed, Lake Gogebic, Tamarack Lake, Missaukee County, Baraga County, Fort Custer, Roscommon County and Ottawa County. Most of the group said the number of deer seen was down but a few reported seeing more deer.

Vern Edwards was chairman and served as master of ceremonies. His committee was Rus Bouws, Lewey Michmerhuizen and Ray Kemme, Guy Teed, longtime Allegan conservation leader, spoke briefly and Volkema gave closing remarks, praising the conduct at the meeting.

Michmerhuizen gave the invocation, quoting from the Hunter's Prayer which appears in a log cabin at Hartwick Pines. Troop 49, sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose, presented the colors and Martin Hardenburg sang the National Anthem.

Among the special guests introduced were Reps. James

Farnsworth of Otsego and Mel De Stigter of Hudsonville plus other Conservation Department employees and Harold Door and Ernie Phillips, Tulip City Rod and Gun Club officers.

Hope Plans To Step Up Its Recruiting

In an effort to step up its recruiting of potential Hope College athletes, the Hope alumni H club is planning a meeting on Saturday, Feb. 19 with 25 members of the alumni H club, athletic director Gordon Brewer said today.

The meeting will be held prior to the Hope-Alma basketball game and will involve H club alumni for a 50-mile radius including Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo.

Purpose of the meeting is to set up the mechanics of how to go about getting athletes and have these people agree to contact high school athletes in their communities and interest them in Hope College, Brewer said.

In selecting the 25 persons, Brewer said for the most part the alumni H club tried to stay away from people now actively engaged in coaching or counseling.

William Poppink, superintendent of schools at Muskegon Reeths-Puffer, is president of the alumni H club and worked out arrangements for the meeting with the Hope athletic staff.

Names of potential athletes will be channeled through the athletic director and it is hoped that through this method, Western Michigan can be thoroughly covered.

Hope is not giving any athletic grants, Brewer said. Academic scholarships will be given if the students qualify. Plans will be worked out to have information data on each boy.

Holland Area Deer Hunters Give Opinions

Holland area deer hunters favor no doe season for three years, having the same opening day in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas on Nov. 15 and having the Conservation Department listen more to the wishes of the hunter.

These opinions were brought out in the deer hunters ballot conducted Thursday night at the deer meeting in the Holland High School auditorium and announced today by meeting chairman Vern Edwards.

Hunters balloted on the four questions during the meeting and the ballots will be delivered to the Conservation Department, Edwards said.

The questions were divided into four sections with three questions in each section and hunters were asked to check one choice in each section.

Edwards said ballots were thrown out where hunters had made more than one choice or had included suggestions.

The questions and the number of votes included in the first section: 1. No doe season for a minimum of one year (26), two years (61), and three years (152). 2. Doe season in needed areas but generally in much less area than in 1965 (93) and, 3. Doe season much the same as before (30).

In the second section: 1. Opening day in Upper Peninsula one week earlier than in Lower (29). 2. Opening day in Upper and Lower on the same day (352) and, 3. Separate openings with separate licenses (15).

In the third section: 1. Opening day on the 15th of November (190). 2. Opening day on Saturday nearest to Nov. 15 (73). 3. Opening day on Nov. 15 unless it falls on Sunday, then the previous day (130).

In the fourth section: 1. I believe the Conservation Department is doing its best in deer management (96). 2. I believe the Conservation Department should listen more to the wishes of the hunters (148). 3. I believe the Conservation Department is mainly interested in selling more licenses to get more money (138).

The meeting was arranged here by the Holland Fish and Game Club and the club also prepared the ballot and tabulated results. Members of Edwards committee were Russ Bouws, Lewey Michmerhuizen and Ray Kemme.

Chix Sink 45 Free Throws In 71 Tries

Zeeland's basketball team entered the contest as underdogs Friday night but when it was all over, they had set a season's scoring mark of 85 points to defeat West Ottawa, 85-59, before 1,000 fans in the West Ottawa gym.

West Ottawa just couldn't seem to do anything right and were charged with 43 fouls. Zeeland had 71 attempts from the charity stripe, scoring 45.

The Panthers had 33 tries and made 17, while the Panthers made 21 to Zeeland's 20 in field goals.

The losers took plenty of shots in the game, 77, 23 more than Zeeland, but were very inaccurate, as they hit on only 21 for a cold 27 per cent. Zeeland shot 54 times and made 20, for 37 per cent.

Pivotman Dave Costello led the Chix in their scoring spree as he dumped in eight field goals and 10 free throws for 26 points, while forward Dennis Boeve added 21 to Zeeland's total, making five baskets and 11 free throws.

Substitute guard Bill Henson led the Panthers with a low 11 points, three baskets and five free tosses. He was followed by Dale Boeve with five buckets.

Throughout the game Coach Jack Bonham juggled his lineup in an attempt to come up with a scoring combination, thus ending up using his entire bench without finding a clicking crew.

Zeeland opened quickly with two baskets by Costello and Boeve, before Panther Randy De Pree hit on a jumper.

The Chix pushed their lead to 7-4, but with 5:17 left in the first period the Panthers tied it up, 7-7.

Then Zeeland began to pull away, and by the end of the period they held a 20-14 lead, including 10 free throws. West Ottawa attempted 18 shots in that period but hit on only six while the Chix tried 11 and made five.

In the second quarter Zeeland continued to pull away outscoring the Panthers 23-17, getting 13 free throws. The Panthers again took 18 shots and made four.

For the first three minutes of the second quarter, the only points the Panthers made were four from the free throw line, until Dave De Jonge scored a basket and the Panthers trailed 30-20. At halftime Zeeland held a 43-31 lead.

West Ottawa lost the game not only at the free throw line, but also under the boards. Zeeland outgained and outscored the Panthers time and again. By halftime Zeeland had outrebounded the Panthers 27-11.

In the second half West Ottawa improved in this department, getting 21 rebounds, but with big Boeve leading the Chix with 16 rebounds and Costello pulling down 11, Zeeland amassed 39 rebounds for the second half. In the game, the Chix led in rebounds, 66-32.

In the third period West Ottawa came to life as they managed to steal the ball and score three times in a row and cut a 16 point deficit down to eight, 53-45, with 2:08 left in the frame. But this was as close as Zeeland allowed the Panthers to come.

By the end of the period, the Chix outscored the Panthers 23-16, to lead 66-47. Zeeland made seven out of 14 while the Panthers made seven out of 19.

In the final quarter both teams were cold from the floor, with Zeeland hitting three baskets out of 14 attempts, and West Ottawa only four of 18. But in this period the clock was stopped so often for free throws, it was difficult for either team to warm up. The Chix made 13 free tosses to the Panthers four in the final quarter.

East Saugatuck Christian Reformed Church

Historic East Saugatuck Church to Be Torn Down

The East Saugatuck Christian Reformed Church will soon be only a memory.

The church building which dates back to 1872 is slated to be razed the first week in March. Construction of a new $200,000 church will begin March 15 and is scheduled for completion next October.

The East Saugatuck congregation was established March 1, 1869, as a daughter church of Graafschap Christian Reformed Church. The first building was destroyed by a forest fire on Oct. 9, 1871, a day after the big Chicago fire. Holland city was almost completely destroyed the same day fire swept the East Saugatuck church.

The present building was begun Jan. 10, 1872, with financial assistance from Classis Holland, Christian Reformed Church, and other individual churches. The building was enlarged in 1882 and the tower was built in 1889. In 1917 the chapel on the east end was added.

The final service in the building will be held Feb. 27. A public service of Thanksgiving is planned Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. to which all former members are invited. A former pastor, the Rev. Simon Vroom, will address the gathering.

The congregation numbers approximately 150 families, many of them direct descendants of charter members of the church. The church operates the Saugatuck Christian Reformed Chapel where Clarence Disselkoen is evangelist and supports the Rev. Edward Meyer as missionary in Tres Arroyos, Argentina, South America.

The present pastor, the Rev. John H. Bergsma, has been with the East Saugatuck Church since 1960.

The church plans a public auction Wednesday, March 2, at 7 p.m. to dispose of miscellaneous articles and equipment.

Fire Damages Gas Station

A gasoline fire did extensive damage to two automobiles, several racks of tires, other automotive equipment and the interior of the Heights Standard Service Station, 755 East Eighth St., Friday.

The blaze started when employees of the firm were taking a gasoline tank off a 1964 model car belonging to Ronald Lubbers, 4757 40th St. Some gasoline spilled from the tank onto a service light and started the blaze.

Two employees of the firm who were working in the garage ran outside. Neither was injured.

Holland firemen brought the fire under control in about 45 minutes.

The other car, a 1959 model, belonged to George Boerigter of 118 Cambridge Ave.

No overall estimate of the damage has been determined. Junior Langejans, manager of the station, said $3,000 worth of tires was probably destroyed in the blaze. There was also extensive smoke damage to the office of the station.

Concert Pianist Thrills Crowd in Civic Center

An attentive audience gathered in Civic Center Thursday night for a piano concert in the Community Concert series by Theodore Lettvin, Cleveland artist who gave an outstanding performance of works by such well known composers as Brahms, Beethoven, Chopin, Mozart, Schubert and Prokofiev. Playing on a special grand piano brought to Holland by the Baldwin Co., Lettvin's performance highlighted a number of rather stormy compositions, the type which could go well with full-sized symphony orchestras.

As a pianist, Lettvin throws himself wholly into his music. Holland's audience Thursday night was fully in accord with the performing artist, experiencing much of the emotion the pianist put into his music.

But he proved he had the light touch too, as shown capably in two Mozart selections after the intermission. They were a pleasant contrast to the more vigorous works in his first half of the program.

His final scheduled selection, Prokofiev's "Toccata, opus 11," electrified the audience with its ultra-modern tunes and dissonances, a constant pounding of a single bass note which proved pleasant, not nerve wracking.

One encore, Virgil Thompson's "Ragtime Bass" was a

Young Calvinist Member Named To New Post

The appointment of Don Larsen as special projects secretary treasurer of the Holland Young Calvinist League was announced at the league's delegate board meeting Thursday evening at the Montello Park Christian Reformed Church. In other business of the short meeting, it was announced that the request for membership by the society of the Spanish Christian Reformed Church had been granted, and they were welcomed into the league.

Delegates were also reminded of the mother-daughter banquet to be held Feb. 24, and the league spring banquet on March 23, both at the West Ottawa cafeterium.

The next delegate board meeting will be held March 10 at the Niekerk Christian Reformed Church.

Rev. Kilgren Gives Talk at Rotary Meeting

"The Other Side of the Ministry" was the topic of the Rev. Hilding Kilgren in his address to his fellow members of Holland Rotary Club at their regular meeting Thursday noon.

Minister at First Methodist Church, Rev. Kilgren stressed the counsel and guidance activities of today's dedicated clergyman in rendering a meaningful service to his church and community.

"Preaching a sermon has become almost incidental," he said. "It is the call for help from individuals and families, most of them not members of our particular church, that demands most of our time and effort."

In preparing himself for effective service in this aspect of the ministry the clergyman develops personal qualities and abilities that business and industry compete for, the speaker said.

Rev. Kilgren said there is a shortage of 60,000 ministers at present in the U. S. Despite this, he said, the ministry should not be considered as a career by any person unless the compulsion is so irresistible that it precludes any other choice.

A. E. Hildebrand was program chairman. Rev. Kilgren was introduced by the Rev. William C. Warner.

Spring Lake Lists School Building Plans

SPRING LAKE—Plans for a long range $1,100,000 building program in the enlarged Spring Lake school district were explained Thursday night at a PTA meeting by the Board of Education, Jerry Whiting, president.

March 22 had been set by the Board as the date for a bond issue election and the three-phase program was aired at a town hall type meeting at the PTA session.

Immediate financing of a $500,000 program that includes an addition to the junior-senior high school building on Hammond Street and remodeling of other buildings is the first phase of the program as outlined by the board.

Extension of the present five mill "pay-as-we-go" plan for an additional six years would finance other improvements and additions. The third proposal at the March 22 election will be to approve an additional two mills for school operations for three years. The entire six-year building plan can be financed under the present levy for building purposes.

A new high school gym, library, language labs and industrial arts shops would get priority in the remodeling program. The six-year plan would finance nine new high school classroom areas, new grade school classrooms and land for a new grade school, a swimming pool near the new gym, two new tennis courts and a football and track field layout with stands on property south of the present junior - senior high building.

The present gym, built in 1958 for junior high purposes, is too small for the present full K-12 program and the high school team must play football games on Saturday nights at Grand Haven's stadium. The high school has a track team but no field and must practice in the halls.

Need for Road Restrictions Are Explained

GRAND HAVEN — William Osner, engineer-manager of the Ottawa County Road Commission, Saturday explained the necessity for imposing weight restrictions on county roads each spring. The restrictions went into effect at 6 a.m. Saturday.

Today's action is unusually early, and is caused by rains and warm weather the past week which caused thawing of the top several inches of the road surfaces.

Osner explained that the frost below this layer retains the moisture of the thaw and makes road beds soft and unstable. On gravel roads, this is easily seen.

Not so apparent is the condition that exists under black-top and concrete pavements. Normal loads would crack and break up roads, and restrictions are imposed to eliminate or reduce such damage.

Osner expects more frost will stabilize road surfaces. When these freezes occur, weight restrictions will be lifted by the commission.

Views From The Campus

Dr. Jerry Mohrig, assistant professor of chemistry at Hope College, joined the Hope faculty in 1964 and is director of its undergraduate research program. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1967 from the University of Michigan and his Ph. D. degree in 1963 from the University of Colorado. He has written articles for the Journal of the American Chemical Society. Editor's note.)

By Dr. Jerry Mohrig

Last year billions of dollars were spent on scientific research in the United States. Scientists are working on a tremendous variety of things ranging from the structure of atoms, to birth defects, to better film for your camera. Research and the technological advances it helps to achieve are felt in all our lives.

Hope College is also involved in scientific research. Why? We are concerned with knowledge and learning. Does research play a part in this educational process? I want to answer this question with a resounding yes.

The research I am talking about is not aimed at any specific goal, except that of finding new knowledge. It is the exciting search into the unknown. It involves the satisfaction of discovering a better way of understanding the vast complexity of nature. It is the active business of science.

Certainly the educational process is not limited to the classroom alone. Only by applying the knowledge learned in the classroom to real problems will the student fully understand what he has studied; in this endeavor we are all students. New viewpoints are found by actively and carefully examining the facts. The scientist does this by going into the laboratory just as the historian does it by going into the library.

The great value of research as a part of the education of scientists lies in the fact that it is an active searching for knowledge, in which the depth and thoroughness of the search and the individuality of thought necessary for success are soon apparent. When the student has the necessary background of facts and ideas, a meaningful conversation can take place between him and the teacher. The student will see his part in the scientific tradition, and the teacher will be actively learning and developing his scholarship.

The teacher and the student, working together on a problem to which neither know the answer, both learn from the search. Research improves teaching by aiding the professional development of the teacher thereby improving his morale and self-confidence. His use in the classroom of knowledge of current scientific developments, gained from carrying on a research program, will also make him a better teacher.

For over 100 years advanced training in the sciences has taken the form of an apprenticeship of a student with a master; a research apprenticeship in which both ask questions and seek answers. It was much later that the value of research was recognized in science education in the undergraduate curriculum. One of the early examples of this recognition was at Hope College where Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl included undergraduate research as an important part of the education of many future chemists. We are carrying on this tradition.

Last year, the National Science Foundation awarded the Chemistry Department a $10,500 grant to set up an Undergraduate Research Participation Program. In this program we now have five outstanding students working on research projects. They work part-time during the school year and full-time during the summer months. Each student receives a stipend of $1,000 during the year so that he does not need other part-time employment during this time. Each of these junior and senior students works with a different faculty member on a different research project. Many chemistry majors also carry out senior research projects during the academic year as part of their regular program. We would like to give every student the chance to carry out a research project

Dutchmen Hand Adrian 82-73 Loss

Hope College's basketball team didn't play well here Saturday night but a late game rally helped push them to an 82-73 win over Adrian before 2,300 fans in the Civic Center.

The victory was Hope's seventh in 8 MIAA starts and kept the Flying Dutchmen right on the heels of league-leading Calvin. The Knights defeated Albion, 82-65 Saturday for its eighth MIAA win in nine starts. "It's nice to win when you don't play well," Coach Russ De Vette said after watching his club blow a 12-point lead, fall behind and then come to life with a late-game surge that again got them a 12-point bulge before settling for the nine-point win.

Hope didn't trail in the first half, (the game was tied 6-6) and with nine minutes left in the first half, the winners were in front, 26-14.

But Adrian chipped away at the lead and with 3:13 left were within two, 30-28. A basket (Cal Beltman) and two free throws each (Roy Anker and Floyd Brady) helped Hope take a 36-31 halftime lead.

But Adrian battled back and gained the lead for the first time, 43-42 with 15:16 to play. The lead changed twice before a 49-49 tie with 11:36 remaining.

Three more lead exchanges and seven ties occurred in the next five minutes before Brady sank two free throws to give Hope a 65-63 lead with 5:52 to play. Hope didn't trail again.

Adrian got within two twice (67-65 and 69-67) but then Hope went to work. The winners scored 10 straight points in a minute-and-a-half and pushed the game out of reach.

Anker started the rally with two free throws and a layup. Brady added two free tosses and Jim Klein maneuvered free under the basket for another two-pointer. Capt. Clare Van Wieren concluded the rally with a turnaround jumper and made the score, 79-67.

During the rally Anker, who had been ill with the flu this week and was rested a few times, and Klein worked hard on the defensive boards. Brady, who had missed three straight free throws early in the second half, made his last four straight.

Van Wieren led Hope with 22 on 11 baskets in 24 tries. Chuck Stille, 6' Adrian senior, hit 12, 11 from outside in 23 tries, to lead the losers with 24.

He picked up his fourth foul with eight minutes to play and the score tied 56-56 and returned with four minutes left and made his only layup of the game to pull Adrian within two, 69-67.

De Vette thought Hope's overall defense was adequate. The Hope coach said he decided to let Stille shoot from outside, choosing not to upset the zone pattern by coming out to get him, but rather to bother the rest of the Adrian players.

The Hope coach pointed to his team's double figure scoring as "very encouraging." Brady had 18 while Potter hit 13, including five of 10 from the floor, while Anker and Gary Rypma each had 10. Replacements Beltman and Klein had five and four to please De Vette.

Hope hit 59 per cent of its shots in the second half on 17 of 29 and finished with a 44 per cent game mark as they sank 15

Dutchmen Score Eighth MIAA Victory

OLIVET — Hope College's basketball team turned in some fine free throw shooting here Wednesday night and avenged its lone MIAA loss this season with a 64-59 win over Olivet before 400 fans in McKay gym.

The Comets upset Hope 91-87 in Holland Jan. 5 and were fired up again for another possible defeat. But the Flying Dutchmen too, were determined to avenge the setback.

The victory was Hope's eighth in nine MIAA games. Calvin leads with a 9-1 record. Hope, 12-7 overall, hosts Alma Saturday.

In the first game, Hope lost the contest at the free throw line where they made 13 of 30. But Wednesday it was a different story as they sank 18 of 23, six of seven in the first half and 12 of 16 in the second half.

The Flying Dutchmen are sixth in free throw shooting statistics in the MIAA (59 per cent) and Wednesday's performance was 77 per cent. Clare Van Wieren made eight of 10, Roy Anker, three of three, and Floyd Brady, six of nine. Gary Rypma made the other point.

Where Hope led in field goals in the first game, Olivet scored 27 to Hope's 23 Wednesday.

Hope had 23 of 71 for 33 per cent on halves of 11 of 39 and 12 of 32. Olivet had 27 of 68 for 39 per cent, including 14 of 34 in the second half.

Hope's zone defense didn't commit fouls and Olivet got only 13 tries, making five. They didn't get a one-and-one in the first half and only one in the second half, which they missed.

Coach Russ De Vette got 20-point performances from Van Wieren and Brady and 677 center Roy Anker scored 19, 17 in the first half.

It was Anker's best showing this season. As Olivet tried to tie up Van Wieren and Brady, Anker got free and hit eight baskets in 13 tries. Rypma also did a good job of seeing Anker and fired the ball to the big senior. All of Anker's baskets were in the first half.

Anker grabbed 12 of Hope's 44 rebounds. Van Wieren had eight and Brady, seven. Olivet got 33 rebounds. Anker fouled out with 4:13 to play and this was Olivet's only one-and-one chance.

Hope took an early lead but Olivet came back and went in front, 20-18. The teams were tied at 24-all before Olivet again pushed ahead and led 31-28 at the half.

Brady scored the first two baskets of the second half to put Hope in front, 32-31. They were never again behind.

Hope had leads of one to seven points the rest of the game. The biggest margin was 50-43 on a Van Wieren basket. With 2:29 left, Jim Everett's long shot put the Comets within two, 57-55.

Bill Potter hit a layup with 1:15 left but Walt (Buzz) Luttrell responded to again put the Comets within two, 59-57 with 53 seconds left.

Van Wieren made two free throws with 23 seconds to play but again Luttrell hit a field goal to make it 61-59 with 16 seconds left. Brady added a free throw at :11 and Van Wieren was fouled at the buzzer and made two more for the five-point win.

Jim Klein, Dave Utzinger and Brady all missed the first shot on one-and-one situations in the last three minutes. Cal Beltman also saw reserve action.

Luttrell, Allegan junior, led the losers with 13 while Everett and Marty LaPorte, each had 10.
