CITY AND VICINITY.

The Pickaninies will beat Winants Chapel tomorrow night.

Roy Nichols of this city and Mary Saunders of Montcalm county were married by Justice Pagelson at the county clerk's office last Saturday morning.

Judge Russell in the Muskegon circuit court last Saturday sentenced Peter Ruster, convicted of the larceny of a sum of money from Henry Verhoeks in Grand Haven, to the prison at Jackson for not less than four years nor more than five.

Holland is badly beating Grand Haven in the way of marriages thus far this year. So far this year Holland has had 27 residents interested in local marriage licenses, while this city has had but two. Nearly every little country town in the county has Grand Haven beaten.—G. H. Tribune.

The stockholders of the Holland Furniture company at its annual meeting elected members of the board of directors as follows: R. Veneklassen, J. Veneklassen, J. G. Van Putten, J. A. VanderVeen, A. Knoolhuizen, W. TenHagen, D. E. VanderVeen. The board organized as follows: President, J. A. VanderVeen; vice president, R. Veneklassen; secretary, treasurer and general manager, J. G. Van Putten.

C. E. Kelly, commercial school, has issued notices and programs for the Ottawa county Inspiration Institute to be held in Winants chapel this city March 3, 4 and 5. The institute conductor will be Prof. F. A. Barbour, of Ypsilanti, the instructor, will be Prof. Lewis Alger of the U. of M., and the local committee will be Supt. J. Clark, and C. E. Kelly. All sessions will be free and everybody is invited to attend.

As president of the ministerial alliance of Webb city, who have in charge a lecture and entertainment course of which your Pickaninie and Concert Company was the second attraction, I write to say I have never known any company here to receive such universal and unstinted praise. We felt like we wanted each performer to occupy the entire program.—C. B. Boving, Pastor Brady Church, Webb City, Mo., Dec. 12.

The Michigan State Horticultural society has been carrying on some investigations as to the most popular commercial apples in this state and the consensus of the opinion of over 400 leading growers has been obtained by Secretary Basset, which shows the following varieties in the lead: Duchess, Baldwin, Northern Spy, Grimes Golden, Hubbardson, Wagner, Stark. Michigan is rapidly regaining its old time reputation as the producer of fine apples, thorough spraying, cultivation, pruning and fertilizing, accomplishing this desirable result.

Though the opening of spring navigation is somewhat distant the Graham & Morton Transportation company has already given out that it will open offices up town in Grand Rapids and will keep two men on the street in an effort to capture a large proportion of the Grand Rapids passenger trade to Chicago. Double daily service will be given. The Puritan will leave Holland every night and Chicago every morning. The fine steamer City of Milwaukee, thoroughly rebuilt with an upper cabin added, giving her 120 staterooms, doubling her former capacity for night passengers, will leave Chicago every night and Holland every morning, and will make rates as low as any other line.

In a letter to the sporting editor of The Post, Niel Ball, the clever pitcher and all around player of the Holland Independents and the Toledo American association teams last season, states that he has signed to pitch and play second base for the Cedar Rapids team of the Three I league. He says he was not retained by the Toledo team under his contract and that he was asked to sign there, but with such a cut in salary that he could not see it that way. The report that he had signed with Owosso's professional team he says got out through his recommending several players to the Owosso team owners. He is wintering in Holland where he is the idol of the baseball fans and regarded as the greatest player in the state, a belief not far out of the way.—G. B. Post.

Theological student James Wayer has accepted the call to the Ebenezer church.

Benjamin Sterken has moved his family from Grand Rapids to this city.

Services will be held in the German Lutheran church every evening during Lent.

Miss Nellie De Ryke of Allegan and Elmer Fuller were united in marriage by Justice Devries at his office in this city Tuesday.

The board of building inspectors has served official notice upon the H. J. Helz Co., the Holland City State bank, A. C. Block and H. Boone, to equip their buildings with adequate fire escapes within ten days.

At the meeting of the Western Social Conference held in this city Prof. J. W. Beardslee was re-elected president, Rev. Matthew Kolyn, vice-president, and Rev. J. Karsten, secretary and treasurer.

Relatives in this city received word Tuesday of the death of Mrs. H. Wolcott of Berthelm. Mrs. Wolcott was the daughter of K. DeWitt of this city and a sister of Mrs. P. Van denTak, Mrs. A. VanPutten, Mrs. H. Kamper and H. DeWitt. Her age was 50 years.

The death of Mrs. Henry Lubbers occurred last Tuesday evening at her home in Graafschap at the age of 56 years from the results of a severe attack of grip. She leaves a husband and twelve children. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Graafschap Reformed church, Rev. W. De Groot officiating.

The death of Mrs. M. D. Kok occurred last Friday evening at the home of her son, Wm. De Kok, 241 West Eleventh street, after an illness of two months. Mrs. De Kok had been a resident of this country for fifty years, coming here from the Netherlands. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the house, Rev. D. R. Drukker officiating.

Services at Miss Churchford's gospel meeting in the Times building will be conducted next Sunday evening by the Hope College Y. M. C. A., and the college quartette will furnish music. Interest in these meetings does not diminish in the least and congregation that tax the capacity of the hall to the limit are a matter of frequent occurrence.

The Republican state central committee at a meeting held in Grand Rapids Wednesday presided over by Hon. G. J. Diekmann, chairman of the state central committee, fixed Wednesday, May 18, as the date of the republican state convention, to elect delegates to the Chicago convention, and to elect a new state central committee. Senator Julius Caesar Burrows will be the temporary chairman.

Gerrit Kool, of New Richmond, who it will be remembered created somewhat of a sensation about two years ago by disappearing from a farm in Laketown where he was employed by the late John C. Post and James Purdy, was found by his relatives last week at Yale near Port Huron. He was on his death bed and passed away soon after his whereabouts was discovered, and his remains were brought to New Richmond Saturday night for burial. Kool whose age was 30 years left his home in Laketown in 1902, went to Saugatuck, drew nearly $200 from the bank and came to this city on an electric car. Then he dropped as completely from public sight as if the earth had swallowed him and nothing was heard from him until last week when his father received a message from Yale informing him that his son was there and was dying.

The story which has gone around several times this winter to the effect that Lake Michigan was frozen clear across is a hoax. No doubt there has been solid ice across the head of the lake on several occasions this winter when northerly winds have piled the ice in that direction in large quantities, but off Ludington and thereabouts there has not been a time when there was not at least fifteen or twenty miles of open water. This is not saying, however, that the ice conditions have been at all favorable, for the lake is well filled with ice, and not only is navigation seriously impeded but the running of the boats under these conditions is exceedingly dangerous and costly. The only wonder is that serious disasters have not resulted. A week ago the conditions were considered bad enough to warrant running the Pere Marquette car ferries in pairs in order that one boat might help the other in case they became stalled. This policy was only carried out for a couple of trips.—Ludington Record.

Seventy-two days without the sounding of a fire alarm is one of the things of which Grand Haven can boast.

The latest report of the Michigan State Horticultural society has been received by the News and those desiring copies can receive same by calling at the News office.

On account of the coal famine in Farmville some of the residents of that place have been compelled to remove their coal stoves and substitute wood stoves.

The new padded cell at the county jail is being finished by Fred Gronewelt. The walls have been covered with matched hard wood lumber and it will be impossible for a violent person to hurt himself in the cell.

William Jennings Bryan has been booked by the Hope College lecture course committee for an extra number and will deliver an address at Winants Chapel Tuesday evening, March 8. A crowded house will undoubtedly greet the peerless leader from Nebraska.

The number of pounds of milk sold in the different townships of the county last year was as follows: Allendale 3,341,550; Blenden 549,072; Chester 1,008,350; Crookery 870,900; Georgetown 4,590,100; Grand Haven 937,440; Holland 2,048,385; Jamestown 8,792,200; Olive 4,443,743; Polkton 4,444,875; Robinson 204,414; Tallmaize 2,105,000; Wright 3,208,098; Zeeland 6,929,430.

The Grand Haven city council has named George D. Sanford, Daniel C. Wachs, and John McCook as a committee to investigate the Burnham Glove company's affairs. Since the failure of the company there have been rumors among the councilmen touching certain methods employed in bringing the institution to Grand Haven and the council proposes a thorough investigation.

There was a small freight wreck near Zeeland last Monday night. The freight was doubling up the hill just west of Zeeland, and the engine, on returning for the second section, slipped on the rails and crashed into the front end. Two cars were smashed and the wrecking crew which was summoned from this city found it necessary to burn them to get them out of the way.

Grand Rapids Post: Ex-Mayor O'Brien of Grand Haven was here yesterday attending the festivities of the Knights of Columbus, and he left in the evening for his home. Relative to the report that he is a candidate for the senatorial nomination in his district he said: "I have been asked several times to get into the field and shall probably do so. The only drawback I have to encounter is my business, and if I can arrange that satisfactorily I shall be in the field."

A petition to have canceled the contract for carrying the mail between Holland and Saugatuck, held by the Grand Rapids, Holland & Lake Michigan Interurban, has been forwarded to Washington. The petition has 80 signatures. It asks that the old star route between New Richmond and Saugatuck be re-established. The contract was let to the Interurban a month ago. Its line became blocked by the snow and the mail has been carried by stage, one trip a day being made from Holland to Saugatuck. If conditions were normal this winter the mail service would be better on the Interurban than it would be by way of the Pere Marquette, but the winter has been far from normal and the Interurban has suffered thereby.

NEIGHBORING TOWNS

Chicago and Laketown.

Editor Holland City News: Your Laketown correspondent is again journeying for the winter in the great city, having come just before the holidays. When we left Laketown the roads were blocked with snow and we learn since that aside from a slight January thaw, there has been a succession of blizzards, breaking the record, equalling so far the winter of 1879 and 1880, when there were 100 consecutive days of good sleighing in western Michigan.

On this side of the lake we have had good sleighing but not as much snow and cold weather. The people are very fortunate to have no difficulty to get fuel—providing they have the money. Now and then we hear of sad cases of destitution, but generally the public are ready and willing to relieve the needy through the many charitable associations.

The great catastrophe, the burning of the Iroquois theatre cast a deep gloom over this city, when it is usually given over to the holiday festivities. It was indeed a pathetic sight to see 34 teachers desks draped in mourning, while probably 100 more desks vacant on account of the students who were victims of the fire. Now comes the day reckoning as to who is to blame as reported by the grand jury, who arraigned and bound over to the courts the heads of the several departments. This will be followed by a long list of damages suits ere long. The Chicago misfortune has caused a great revolution in the management and safety of theatres and public halls the world over. Although it is like locking the door after the horse is stolen yet no doubt there will be great good gained from it in the future.

Chicago is often referred to as the "wicked city" and no doubt has much to answer for—yet she has much to her credit. Here you can find the best people in the world or the lowest as you can in other cities. When you consider the rapid growth and its immense size—nearly two millions of souls brought together from every nation under the sun, it is not to be wondered at that we find there are opportunities for graft and corruption in the various departments in the city government.

To offset this and to look after the best interests of the city, we have a body of the most disinterested and patriotic citizens called the municipal league that scrutinize every candidate, be he republican, democrat or populist, who presents himself at the caucus or the election for the suffrage of the people. In a large city it is not easy for the average voter to know the character of the candidate and it is here where the municipal league can get in its work to point out the unworthy candidate.

Notwithstanding the great amount of corruption and graft going on as alleged in the municipality, the taxes are lower than in most cities especially the smaller ones, perhaps that may be accounted for on the trust idea. The city has grown by the absorption of a number of other cities, ranging in population from ten to one hundred thousand, doing away with their local city governments and consolidating all into one central government which reduces the expenses very materially. And again another reason may be adduced: the immense business interests and commerce concentrated here, that yield a great sum on a low percentage of taxation might still be lower if the multi-millionaires would honestly give in their property to the board of assessors. The plan here, is to place all real estate and personal property at its full value and then divide it by five for taxation purposes, thus a five thousand dollar house would be valued at one thousand.

The Climax Came Peacefully and While He Was Unconscious—All the Members of the Family Were Present with Two Exceptions—President Notified—Sorrow in Cleveland.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Marcus A. Hanna, United States senator from Ohio, and one of the foremost citizens in American public life, died yesterday evening in his apartments at the Arlington hotel at 6:40 p. m. of typhoid fever, after an illness of two weeks. He passed away peacefully and without pain, after being unconscious since three a. m., at which time the first of a series of sinking spells came on, from the last of which he never rallied. During the last hours life was kept in his body only by the use of the most powerful stimulants. President Roosevelt was immediately notified by Postmaster General Payne of Senator Hanna's death.

Family Present.

All the members of the family, with one or two exceptions, were at the bedside when the end came. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Miss Phelps, H. M. Hanna and Mr. Dover.

MARCUS A. HANNA.

Mrs. Senator Hanna was not at the bedside when the end came. She had been ill with a severe headache, and a short time before had been given a narcotic and she then went to bed. Drs. Osler and Carter and two nurses were at the bedside when the end came.

WEATHER CHECKS TRADE.

Expansion of Business Held Back by the Cold Spell—Baltimore Fire Also Has an Effect.

New York, Feb. 12.—Bradstreet's says: "Cold weather is still a bar to expansion in spring trade throughout the west, but southern distribution continues notably active and signs of life are found in leading eastern markets. The Baltimore disaster and the beginning of hostilities in the far east, though affecting speculative markets to some extent, have as yet not had notable results on trade outside of sections immediately concerned, though some of the present great strength of prices of most commodities may be attributed to the latter development. Trade and industrial operations betray effects of conservatism some time ago predicted, but it is yet too early to measure the possible extent to which the season's turn over will contrast with the exceptionally large business done in all lines one year ago."

DEFENDS AMERICA.

William Remond Protests Against Remark Made by Member of British Parliament.

London, Feb. 17.—William Remond caused a scene in the house of commons on Tuesday during the discussion on the subject of Chinese labor in the Transvaal. H. J. C. Cusack (conservative) made a reference to the effect that Irish labor was responsible for corruption in New York, whereupon Mr. Remond exclaimed excitedly: "You have no right to insult America. I will not allow it." The speaker called Mr. Remond to order and other members protested, but still Mr. Remond continued repeating his exclamation, and added: "In America at least they don't appoint a chancellor of the exchequer who is unfit for his post." The speaker again intervened and Mr. Remond finally subsided with the remark: "America seems to get on all right."

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12.—Miss Hulda Nelson, a young woman school teacher of Fort Dodge, in a moment of insanity, brained her mother with a hatchet while the latter was sleeping, and then jumped into a cistern, drowning herself. The young woman was about 26 years of age. She had been teaching in the Wankonsa school at Fort Dodge and had to relinquish school work on account of ill health. After braining her mother the young woman tied three flatirons about her own neck and then took the fatal leap to the bottom of the cistern.

PAY FOR CANAL IS ALL ARRANGED

Secretary Shaw Confers with Bankers Regarding Payment of Millions to Panama Company.

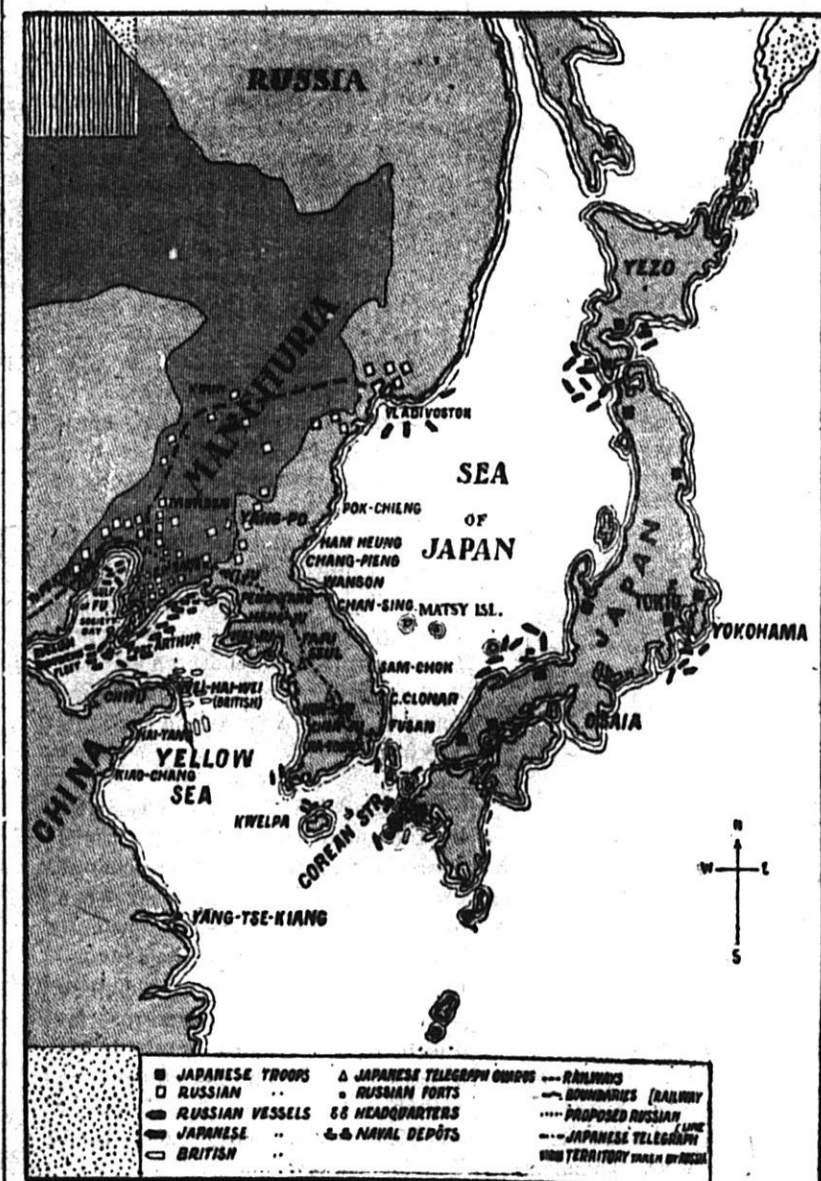

The Money Market Will Not Be Disturbed—No Call to Be Made Until Treaty Is Ratified—Minister Buchanan Reports Matters in Good Shape.

Washington, Feb. 12.—President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw have taken up the question of arranging for the payment of the $40,000,000 for the property of the Panama Canal company and the $10,000,000 to the republic of Panama when the treaty is ratified. The president is also considering the personnel of the commission which will have charge of the construction of the great waterway.

Issuance of Bonds.

Attorney General Knox has under consideration the Spooner act of the last congress, with a view to determining whether it affords the president ample authority to provide for the issuance of bonds to raise the money immediately needed and to appoint the commission. If it should be decided that the Spooner act does not confer that authority, no doubt is expressed.

SEAT OF THE RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR.

that congress will enact promptly the necessary legislation.

Payments Arranged.

Secretary Shaw returned from New York, where he held conferences at the sub-treasury with bankers who are to participate in the Panama canal payment. Secretary Shaw said that there would be no disturbance of the money market on account of the financing of the canal payment. No call will be made on the banks until the treaty is ratified, and this is expected within a few days.

After the conference with Secretary Shaw the banks sent $12,000,000 in bonds to the sub-treasury, which will be pledged temporarily to secure deposits made with them of government funds by out-of-town banks. These funds will be held only a few days, but the additional deposits of collateral have to be made in accordance with the law.

One Point Made Clear.

The secretary made clear the point that the banks would not be compelled to lose the use of the money through the transfer to the sub-treasury. He said that warrants for the payments would be drawn on the sub-treasury in New York, and that the demand for the withdrawals from the banks would be made simultaneously with the presentation of the warrants for payment.

Our Patience Nearly Exhausted.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Minister Powell has cabled the state department that American property interests in San Domingo are suffering heavily as a result of the insurrection. This is true of the property near the city of San Domingo and in the lines of the revolution. The patience of the state department is being severely tested by these continued reports, and some action may be taken in the near future.

Topeka Suffers by Fire.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 15.—Fire destroyed the Parkhurst-Davis Mercantile company's building and stock, at First and Kansas avenue; the Sells building adjoining, occupied by the McCormick Harvester company and W. I. Schick as a store room for mattresses and some smaller property. Total loss estimated at $400,000.

Defaulter Sentenced.

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 15.—William A. McCowan, the defaulting secretary of the University of California, has been sentenced to serve six years and 11 months in San Quentin prison.

CONGRESS KEEPS BUSY.

Daily Summary of Work Done in Senate and House by the Lawmakers of the Nation.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The major portion of the time of the senate yesterday was occupied in discussing the Panama treaty. In the house the Connell-Howell contested election case from the Tenth Pennsylvania district was decided in favor of Mr. McConnell (rep.), who was promptly sworn in and took his seat.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The senate yesterday further discussed the Panama treaty and finally decided to vote on the measure on ore before the 23d. The house concurred in the senate amendment to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill authorizing a loan of $4,600,000 by the government to the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate yesterday listened to the reading by Senator Carmack of a speech prepared by Senator Morgan in opposition to the president's policy with reference to an isthmian canal, and also considered the bill appropriating $200,000 to ex-Queen Lilioukalani of Hawaii. No action was taken. In the house Speaker Cannon asked for and received unanimous consent to pass private pension bills without reading. In this way he broke all previous records in the dispatch of private pension bills. Under his guidance 320 of these measures of relief were passed by the house in 155 minutes.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate yesterday agreed to vote on the ratification of the Panama canal treaty on Physician's Statement.

Dr. E. P. Carter, of Cleveland, one of the attending physicians, made the following statement regarding Mr. Hanna's illness:

"Senator Hanna died quietly at 23 minutes of seven this evening after a most superb fight against a very virulent attack of typhoid fever. The senator had not been well for some weeks, but had been confined to his bed only during the past 15 days. From the early course of the disease there was no evidence as to the intense severity of the infection and the outlook at first seemed bright."

"The change for the worse came early yesterday morning and was followed by a gradual failure of his strength, which already had been overtaken by the severity of the disease. His wonderful recuperative power was such that, though the end had been expected at almost any time during the early hours of yesterday morning, he clung tenaciously to life until last evening, when he succumbed."

President Notified.

Gathered in the office room where Senator Hanna so often had occupied a desk dictating campaign correspondence at this time were Postmaster General Payne, who is also associated with Mr. Hanna as vice president of the national republican committee; Gov. Herrick, of Ohio; Congressman Charles F. Dick, of Ohio, and a host of others associated with Mr. Hanna politically and personally. When the death was announced Postmaster General Payne rang the telephone and the white house responding to his call, he said: "Senator Hanna has just passed away," thus conveying the news to President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Sketch of His Career.

Mr. Hanna was born in New Lisbon, O., September 24, 1837, and received a common school education in the town of his birth. When he removed to Cleveland in 1852 he attended the Western Reserve college, and later he entered the employ of a grocery house as an invoice clerk. His subsequent success in business was rapid, if not marvelous. He became a partner in the grocery firm, engaged in various other enterprises, became the head of the coal and iron firm of M. A. Hanna & Co., a director in the Globe Ship Manufacturing company, president of the Union national bank, president of the Cleveland City Railroad company, owner of street car lines, and for a time was the principal owner of the Cleveland Herald.

Mr. Hanna first became prominent in politics in 1880, but his national career did not begin until four years later.

Estate Worth $3,000,000.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 16.—The estate of Senator Hanna is estimated at $3,000,000, and it may be greater than that. He had interests to a large extent in iron, coal and shipping, the firm of M. A. Hanna & Co. being one of the most powerful on the lakes. He was a director of several Cleveland banks, a large stockholder in the Cleveland Street Railway company and owned stock in several steam roads, notably the Pennsylvania.

To give too much time to the selection of a Piano; this time could better be spent in selecting a dealer. It should not be hard to size him up by the very appearance of things; for instance, if he be disposed to depreciate his competitor, its pretty strong evidence he hasn't much to offer for himself. One may well have reason to be suspicious of a dealer who promises very much more than is promised by other dealers in a like business. Select the dealer right and the good piano follows. Marcus A. Hanna
One of the greatest men in the United States was Marcus A. Hanna, and the news of his death comes as a severe blow to the country. Mark Hanna was of the greatest because no other touched life in more different points than he.

Long before he entered politics he touched business with the wand of success, gaining eminence in mining enterprises, steamship lines, iron and steel, and various other industries. To politics he brought the same business methods, the same integrity, the same genius for organized effort that had gained for him eminence in the business world, and politics responded to his efforts with the largest possible measure of success. In the face of rebuffs that would have disheartened a less determined soul he persisted in his design to make Wm. McKinley president, and did not think of accepting anything short of achievement. Bitter indeed was the warfare waged against him in the early stages of his political career. The wrong construction was placed upon his motives. He was accused of everything that savors of the despicable and unworthy in politics and was mercilessly vilified by those of the opposite party. But he lived long enough to see the tide turn in his favor, to be accepted at his true worth and to be hailed as a conservative but progressive friend of all that is best in the science of government. He will be sorely missed in the arena of politics. And as politics will miss him so will the men interested in labor movements. As in politics so in labor circles he was first greeted with suspicion, and treated with contempt. But he lived long enough to prove that he was labor's greatest friend and it will be difficult to fill his place in times when a mediator is needed between labor and capital.

Mark Hanna so lived that men in all walks of life are willing to accept him as the model idea of success in each branch, resolved that men in all walks of life feel that by his death they have lost a dear friend and a conscientious helper. The respect paid to his memory will be great and enduring. He was the friend of men in general and of no class in particular and the world long remembers a good friend.

Attend The High School Entertainment

Not often does the students of the Holland High school enter the field for the patronage of the public. They seldom go out of the beaten track of their routine work, and when they do they should receive attention.

Tomorrow night they will make a little venture from the ordinary. They will present to the public at Winants chapel May Parker's Pickaninies in a decidedly good entertainment, and the public should see to it that their effort is accorded patronage liberal enough to suggest appreciation. The young people of the high school have labored faithfully to make a success of their undertaking. Through no fault of theirs an incident has arisen that embarrasses their chances for financial success. They have been forced to give the entertainment on Saturday night. As Saturday night is a busy night people may not feel like going to the chapel. But in view of the efforts of the students, an extra effort should be made by the public to attend. Forget that it is Saturday night. Think only that it is the night of the High school entertainment, think that the high school seldom bothers you by an appeal to your patronage, remember that the entertainment is very good, the cause worthy and you will find yourself at the chapel. Best of all you will be glad that you are there.

The War Is On.

It's exciting, this enthusiastic Japanese-Russian embargo between Junius S. Stearns and Fred M. Warner. Both have lost all sight of other contestants and have pitted themselves "the one against the other" for the highest honors at present within the gift of the people of the state of Michigan and the favor of the republican party.

Warner came out with a proclamation in which superior among other principles he advocated a conservative primary election law. Stearns followed with an ultimatum that advocated the limit in the primary election plan. He wants the direct voting idea to prevail from governor to poundmaster.

Incidentally there are other points of difference between the two distinguished and ambitious gentlemen. These points in controversy can be settled in but one way. They can be settled by the republicans in convention assembled. The settlement will not be long delayed and it is hoped that out of it all benefit will accrue to the people.

Farmers Hear Reports Concerning Increase In Price of Beets.

There was a strong sentiment at the meeting of the Farmer's club held in DeGrandwet hall last Monday afternoon that the Holland Sugar company should pay for sugar beets on the $5 per ton basis. The meeting was called to listen to the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to solicit acreage but the full results of the work of this committee could not be obtained as on account of the inclemency of the weather half of the members of the committee could not be present. However, enough were present to indicate that if the price is increased at least 96 acres more will be given to sugar beet raising in 1904 than in 1903. The reports from the school districts represented showed the following increase.

Average at $4.50 in '03	Prospective acreage at $5
Dist. 4, Olive tp.....	23
Dist. 4, Holland tp.....	104.5
Dist. 8, Zealand tp.....	38.5
Dist. 11, Holland tp.....	44.5
Dist. 2, Elm re tp.....	69.5
Dist. 13, Holland tp.....	28.5
Dist. 9, Holland tp.....	1.5
Dist. 3, Holland tp.....	14
Dist. 10, Frac. Holland	16
	313.5
	409.5

It was decided that solicitations for acreage at $5 per ton be continued and that another meeting be held February 27 to hear the reports and to make further plans.

President Durr was chairman of the meeting and Geo. H. Souter was secretary.

General Items

The W. O. T. U. is making all sorts of endeavors to stamp out cigarette smoking among the students of the U. of M., even going so far as to make an attempt to induce the keepers of boarding houses to refuse admittance to students who use the "cotton nail." A petition was also circulated among the Ann Arbor merchants asking them to refuse to sell any more tobacco to students, but the petition received no signers.

It was a Vanderbilt young man and woman. They sat holding each other's hands by the dim flickering light of the fireplace, and wishing to give him a hint that if he didn't declare himself she might take the lead and make the proposal herself, she timidly said, "Sleep year!" and he blushed as she sheepishly replied: "O, Lord! not I've got to go home, so I can get up early and feed the cows."—Gaylord Herald.

The fruit growers about Fennville have an association and last year at the end of the season it was found that the treasury contained a surplus of $900 over expenses and it was decided to expend that amount in road improvement. This and similar methods have been practiced for several years, so that the roads in that vicinity are some of the best in the state.

Lake and Marine

Death of John Van Landegend.

In the death of John Van Landegend, who passed away at the family home, 119 West Eleventh street, last Tuesday evening, Holland loses one of its best known and most highly respected citizens as well as one of the fast disappearing band of old residents. Mr. Van Landegend had been afflicted with asthma for some years and when to this affliction was added dropsy a short time ago it was seen by friends and relatives that the end would not long be delayed.

Mr. Van Landegend was born in the Netherlands sixty-nine years ago and came to America in 1846, locating at first in Albany, N. Y., then at Kalamazoo and later in Holland, where he settled in 1867. He at once identified himself closely with the municipal and business affairs of this city and remained an active member of the community until his death. His first business venture was in hardware, engaging in it in a frame building on the site now occupied by Van Ark's furniture store. He was one of the financial sufferers of the fire of 1871, and again lost his property by fire a few years later. He afterward built the three-story brick block now on the site and continued in the hardware business until he sold out to Kanters & Sons. This was the first three-story brick building erected in Holland. Then he engaged in the plumbing business on West Eighth street, continuing it until it was turned over to his sons, who are still in the business at the old stand. At one time he was also associated with A. B. Bosman in the hardware business at Hamilton.

In municipal affairs Mr. Van Landegend was an important factor. He was mayor from 1875 to 1877 and represented his ward in the council from 1869 to 1873, being elected on the republican ticket. He then retired from the council but was re-elected in 1874 and served one more term. He labored faithfully in his official capacity for everything that conduced to the progress of Holland. He served as a member of the committee on streets and crosswalks when the preliminary steps were taken for the improvement of Eighth, Ninth and River streets and it was during his term as mayor that the initial steps were taken for the improvement of Centennial Park.

Mr. Van Landegend is survived by a widow, four sons, Tyler, George and John of this city, Edward, who is teaching school at Jensen, and two daughters, Mrs. Benjamin A. Mulder and Miss Martha Van Landegend of this city.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the house Rev. S. Van der Werf officiating. Opportunity to view the remains was given this forenoon and a large number of friends called to pay their last tribute of respect.

Those from out of the city who are here to attend the funeral are his brothers Conell Van Landegend of Detroit, and Peter Van Landegend of Kalamazoo, and Mr. and Mrs. G. LaBarbe, of Roseland, Ill. John Ogge, of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Trompen, of Grand Rapids. The pall bearers are A. B. Bosman, P. Dogger, J. Schafener, I. Marsilje, M. Jansen, P. Gunst.

In the February number of Pearson's Magazine an interesting history of Michigan appears in a series of articles entitled "The Story of the State" by David S. Barry. Albertus C. Van Raalte, of the Dutch Reformed church, founded the village of Holland, in Ottawa county, located Hope college there, built other schools and churches, and continued to increase in numbers and wealth, until today the total number of Hollanders in the state is about 31,000 or nearly one third of the total Holland population of the United States. The boy went to the Star restaurant to tell Mr. Belcher, the proprietor, to telephone for Mrs. Allison, and Mr. Belcher sent him for Dr. B. B. Godfrey. On the doctors arrival he saw that the sufferer was beyond medical aid and death came in a few minutes. Deceased was 58 years old and had been a member of the Nineteenth Michigan regiment. A Matter of Years

By H. L. MARRINER.

(Copyright, 1905, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

HIS sister, who disliked Kate Murdoch for reasons best known to herself, was continually saying spiteful little things about "girls who raised generations of young men," which is generally considered to be about as biting a thing as one young woman can say about another.

But this made no difference to poor Dick, except to make him rather more stubborn, and to make him more frequently dream of Kate's blue eyes and sweet face, and to make him try with greater diligence, but poorer success, to forget that she was 25 years of age while he was barely past 20, and that she had been in society before he had gone into long trousers.

He used to remember with a hot resentment how she had in reality literally trained him. How one night when they were in the garden together, and the moon was soft and bright, he had given her a white rose, and if she hadn't suggested the pretty speech that should have gone with it, she came so close to it it didn't make much difference.

Then when he was trying with all the awkwardness of an 18-year-old boy to learn to dance, it was Kate who had shown him the step when his sister and the others had given him up as a dress-destroying calf. And when the other boys, who had paid more attention to dancing school and less to the making of a living, had openly sneered at the efforts of his spectacular feat.

He was grateful to Kate for all this, of course, but still, sweet as she had been, there was a natural air of the veteran about her which he resented, realizing with burning ears how raw by comparison had been the material she had to work upon.

These were the sort of things Dick thought upon as he sat alone in his room—one large and one small, over Burton's grocery store.

The family had left weeks before for Florida to spend the cold months, their household goods had been stored and only Dick was left. Left because he was trying with might and main to obtain a better position upon the staff of the Argus-Leader.

There were no racks with guns in them, no tapestries in Dick's apartments. There was a pipe or so with a heap of old magazines on the littered table, a confused carpet of old newspapers on the floor, and on a mean little stove a battered coffee pot still sputtered. On a chair stood the dishes which represented a hurried meal, sent in by a nearby restaurant, and hurried because there was nothing to linger over.

In the stove soft coal smoked dis-

"WHERE DID YOU COME FROM?"

mally or sputtered, according to the quality of the tiny lump it contained, sometimes sending out from a tarry bubble a thin, hissing jet of nauseous gas.

The bed was unmade and the sheets were yellowed from bad laundering. Dick, hunched in a deep chair, looked about at his surroundings with disgust. It seemed a shame that a man of 21, possessed of enough sense to hold a position worthy at corporation figures of $30 per week should live like a pig.

He slammed the jarring stove door on the smoke, took up his hat, overcoat and pipe, and with a last look at the untidy room, went out. Anything, he felt, was better than this—even unneeded work at the office.

Call on Kate! Not much. Not when for two months he had tried to show her that he didn't really need another guardian.

Not a guardian two or three years older at that.

He clattered down the uncarpeted stairs, and at the snowy sidewalk, dazzled by the glare, almost collided with a young woman, apologizing blindly for his clumsiness.

"Why, Dick Wortham!" Dick pulled himself together and stared half understanding into a face he knew, a sweet face with laughing blue eyes, smiling on him over the furs, and before he knew it a little snugly-gloved hand was in his and he was wringing it hard.

"Kate Murdoch!" he almost shouted. "Speaking of angels—Here, step under the awning out of the snow and let me look at you."

"Where did you come from?" demanded the girl, noting with observant eyes that Dick needed a shave badly.

"From upstairs," answered Dick, the light going out of his face. "It's an awful hole, Kate. Wish you could see it."

"Oh, let me see it!" she exclaimed, impulsively. The thought almost took her breath away. Dick stared at her. He bit his lip hard.

"See here, Kate," he said. "I don't mean to hurt you—you know, but—oh, behave—you know what I mean. I can't do it, that's all."

"Now, Dick," she said, coaxingly. "Nobody will ever know. I'll just peep in. Didn't we agree I was to be your mother?"

"Not this trip," said Dick, with cheerfulness rising at the sense of duty done, as it will in men at times. "Mother or not, you're going home, young lady, and I'm going to take you. Come on."

"I believe you're ashamed of your new home," rallied the girl. "Anyway if you don't care to take me it don't make any difference." The furs were given a suggestive shrug. Dick had swung beside her and they were walking along the white sidewalk.

"Dick!"

"Well," answered Dick, briefly. "It's awful, I know, but, Dick, I won't go in, truly I won't. Anyway, you're a newspaper man, and it's like an artist's studio."

"Yes," said Dick, "and living room and kitchen and bedroom. See here, Kate." He stopped and pawed the hard snow. "You know just as well as you're standing there I'd do anything on earth for you. You know it. But that—See here—I think too much of you to let you do it."

The girl drew her wrap about her and silently they resumed their trudging. Dick taking the rough snow and the girl daintily treading the beaten path. Suddenly she stopped again.

"Dick," she said, "if I get Walter to go with us will it be all right?" They had reached the house by this time. Dick considered.

"Well," he said, with a sigh. "I guess even a nine-year-old brother will do. Get him and come along. But I'll tell you now, Kate, you'll never speak to me again after you see that place."

"Walter didn't want to go much. It was cold; besides, wonderful to relate, he had his lessons to get. A quarter? Well, yes, he didn't mind going so very much."

"Dick Wortham!" exclaimed the girl. "Aren't you ashamed—to bribe him?"

"Well," said Dick, spreading his cold hands before the fire, "you wanted to go. And you can't go unless he does."

Even the chaperonage of Walter did not make Dick feel comfortable as they ascended the bleak stairs. He felt like a sneak and said as much—in a whisper.

"How dark it is," said Kate. "I can almost feel the bats and mice."

Dick, looking apprehensively at the bottom of the stairway, mentally blessed the janitor for forgetting to light the gas, and resolved to tip him. He did not breathe easy until the stout door had closed behind the three.

"Oh, Dick!" said the girl. "That was all. Walter had discovered in the curtained alcove certain things of interest."

"Oh, you poor, poor boy," she said, softly. "How badly you do need a mother."

"I don't," said Dick, making a savage effort to keep his eyes dry in the face of the exposure. "I need you, Kate—you. Am I a baby, that I need—"

"Hush," said the girl, her eyes full of tears, pointing to the figure of Walter revealed in the swaying of the curtain. "After that?" And in a few minutes as they waited for a car Dick fancied he could still feel the swift touch of the warm fur on his face, as her head was pressed against his shoulder. He wanted to let loose the old college yell, and said so.

"Do it," said Kate, radiant. "I feel that way, too."

"Say, that was bully," commented Walter, approvingly.

The policeman on the opposite corner started, then he shrugged his fat shoulders. "Everybody's looney 'bout Crismus time," he commented, sagely.

A Little Advice.

You may be extremely clever—Educated, and all that. But, remember, you should never need to buy a larger hat.

If you've made a class oration, If in the debates you've led With the greatest approbation, Don't you let it swell your head.

If, in one thing or another, You've achieved a great success, Don't let your elation smother All the sense that you possess. Don't go walking with your nose up And a proud and lofty tread That is apt to trip your toes up, Don't you let it swell your head.

If you've made a lot of money, Hold yourself a trifle down. Fortune's smile is bright and sunny, But she has been known to frown. People are disposed to flatter, But don't swallow all that's said, If you've prospered, that's no matter, Don't you let it swell your head. —Chicago Daily News.

The Chance.

No man is born too late To turn his back to hate; We may not all be great Or rich or wise.

The chances may be few For winning fame, but who Succeeds by gaining through Ungrateful eyes? Mankind has never had Less cause for being glad Than we possess; Ne'er has the world before Encouraged kindness more Or had such gifts in store For cheerfulness. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Question of Price.

A demonstrator in domestic science at Lincoln, Ill., has proved that macaroni is cheaper than oysters. So, for that matter, says the Peoria Herald-Transcript, is baked hay.

The Daughter of Prof. Reno of Elwood, Ind.

RESTORED TO HEALTH BY VINOL Mrs. Reno's Letter and Advice to Mothers. Published by Request of Mr. DePree.

Mrs. Reno says: "Our daughter Marion was troubled with indigestion; she became fretful, could not sleep at night, lost flesh, and we feared that we should lose her. We tried different doctors, and many kinds of medicines, with no apparent success. Until we tried Vinol. Two bottles cured our little daughter; she can eat anything, sleeps well and has gained flesh. We think it is the best medicine in the world for children. I advise every mother who has an ailing child to try Vinol. I know nothing equals it, and it tastes so good there is no trouble in getting children to take it."

A reporter of the City News asked Mr. DePree of this town who is selling so much Vinol, regarding it. Mr. DePree assured the writer that this is only one of a great many such cases that are constantly coming to his attention where Vinol has actually MARION RENO saved the lives of children when all else had failed.

"You know, of course," said Mr. DePree. "Vinol is not a patent medicine, and it contains all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with out the nauseating taste. It is delicious to take and will make rich, pure, red blood, sound flesh, and muscle tissue, and create strength and health more surely and quickly than anything we have ever sold in our store."

"In the strongest manner we unhesitatingly endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs, colds and build up the convalescent, or will return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it. I just wish every mother in Holland who has a sick, puny or ailing child would try Vinol on our guarantee." Con DePree, Druggist.

The Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of Perry F. Powers, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan, praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the March term of this Court, to be held at Grand Haven in the County of Ottawa, State of Michigan, on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1904, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof, acting as register in chancery, their objections thereto, on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, and the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Ottawa, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the same shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or if no person will pay the full amount charged, and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Philip Padgham, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Ottawa County this 21st day of January, A. D. 1904.

PHILIP PADGHAM,

Confermed,
FRED F. McEACHRON, Dep. Register.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa in Chancery:

The petition of Perry F. Powers, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all the lands in said county of Ottawa, upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of act 200 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1890 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1893, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.

Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being now due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated January 15, 1904.

PERRY F. POWERS,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.

Plenty of Proof Right Here in Holland

Claim is one thing, proof another. Columbus claimed the world was round. Did people believe it? Not until he proved it. Unproven claims have made the people skeptics. Every claim made for the "Little Conqueror" is proven. Proven in Holland by local experience. Here is one case from the many we have.

Mrs. F. Andree, of 243 West 13th street says: "For a year or more I had a constant aching pain through my limbs to the side and also a soreness of the stomach. I could hardly stoop to lift anything without suffering severely. I did not rest comfortably at night and became so lame and sore from lying in one position that in the morning I arose feeling tired and unrefreshed. I was bothered a great deal with headache, spells of dizziness, and the kidney secretions became affected, were irregular, too frequent and unnatural. I doctored a great deal and took many kinds of medicine, but without getting better. I believe I would still be suffering if I had not heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from J. O. Doesburg's drug store. I felt better after taking a few doses and continued their use until cured."

FORT BLOWN UP; GARRISON KILLED

Russian Land Batteries at Port Arthur Said to Have Been Accidentally Destroyed.

TWO MORE WARSHIPS ARE TORPEDOED BY THE JAPANESE

Corean Port of Wiju Opened to Commerce of the World—Heavy Storm Saves Russians from Attack—Japanese Troops Embark—Alexieff Issues an Appeal.

Tientsin, Feb. 17.—According to reports received here the land battery of the Russian fortifications on Golden Hill, at Port Arthur, has been blown up. The explosion, which absolutely destroyed the fort, is described as an accident. The Golden Hill fort was damaged by Japanese guns during the bombardment of Port Arthur. It is not known how the explosion occurred or what caused it. No details of the disaster are obtainable at the present time, but it is believed that all the Russian troops in the battery at the time of the explosion were either killed or badly mangled. Black powder has been used in all the fortifications on Golden Hill.

Russian Ships Torpedoed.

London, Feb. 17.—A dispatch to the St. James' Gazette from Kobe, Japan, in reporting the Japanese naval attack on Port Arthur February 14, says the Russian guardship in the harbor and another Russian warship, lying outside the harbor, were torpedoed, and that the Japanese retired without sustaining any injury.

Corean Port Opened.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Mr. Allen, the American minister at Seoul, cables the state department that Wiju has been declared open to the commerce of the world by the Corean government.

May Recall Count Cassini.

London, Feb. 17.—In a dispatch from Vienna, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle repeats the rumor to the effect that Count Cassini, Russian ambassador at Washington, is to be recalled for failure to keep his government properly informed of the state of feeling in the United States.

Storm Saves Russians.

Tokio, Feb. 17.—A heavy storm spared the Russians from a desperate torpedo attack at Port Arthur on the morning of Sunday, the 14th inst. During the preceding night the vessels of the Japanese flotilla of torpedo craft were parted by the force of the blinding snowstorm so that only two of the larger destroyers succeeded in forcing their way through the fierce gale to Port Arthur. When they arrived there they attacked separately and the officers of one of them are confident that they succeeded in torpedoing a Russian warship. The destroyer Asagiri, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Ishikawa, arrived off Port Arthur about three o'clock in the morning and was met with a sharp fire from the fortress and Russian ships acting as scouts. The Asagiri discharged several torpedoes at a big warship, but the result is unknown. A cannonade was opened upon the scouting vessels and maintained until they withdrew. The destroyer Heyatari, Lieutenant Commander Takenouchi, arrived two hours after the Asagiri and ran up close to the mouth of the harbor, where she found two warships, names unknown. She fired a torpedo at one and the torpedo exploded.

Admiral Togo, in reporting the attack, says, although the results are unknown, he feels sure the moral effect upon the enemy will be excellent. Commander Nagai commanded the entire torpedo flotilla. The number of the craft in the flotilla and the point of their departure are concealed.

Japanese Troops Embark.

Paris, Feb. 17.—An official dispatch received here from Tokio announces that one of the most important movements of Japanese troops yet made occurred Wednesday. One of the main branches of the army, consisting of three divisions and including a division of guards, went on board transports. The previous landings of Japanese forces in Corea and elsewhere are said to have been small compared with this simultaneous sailing of three divisions, aggregating approximately an army of 30,000 to 50,000 men. The Japanese authorities, it is added, had taken every precaution to prevent information from going out concerning the embarkation and the destination of this army. It is believed, but this is not sure, that the destination of this force is a point near the mouth of the Yalu river or a spot on the Liao-Tung peninsula, flanking Port Arthur.

Another official dispatch says a Japanese transport has been sighted off a town south of the mouth of the Yalu river. This, it is added, is not connected with the embarkation of the three divisions referred to in these dispatches Wednesday, but is considered to be a confirmation of the reports that the town off which the transport was seen is to be one of the bases of the land operations of the Japanese.

Japan Concentrating Troops.

Port Arthur, Feb. 17.—The reports that the Japanese have concentrated about 60,000 troops at Wonsan (on the east coast of Corea), with the object of entering Manchuria, are confirmed.

Troops are arriving here continuously and the mobilization of the forces is making excellent progress. The fortress is now thoroughly prepared to withstand a siege and is regarded as inaccessible.

ACQUIESCENCE OF RUSSIA EXPECTED

Czar to Make Favorable Reply to Hay's Note Regarding Integrity of China.

WILL ASK CERTAIN RESERVATIONS TO SAFEGUARD EXISTING INTERESTS

Favorable Reception of Note by European Countries Causes Her to Adhere in Principle—No Permission Yet Given for Military Attacks to Join the Army.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—Russia's reply to Secretary Hay's note on China probably will be made in a few days. It will acquiesce in principle, but with certain reservations regarding Chinese administrative control over the region in Manchuria leased to Russia or covered by the Chinese Eastern railroad, in order to safeguard existing Russian interests. When the note was first dispatched to the powers the authorities here undoubtedly were disposed to view it with suspicion, and therefore its reception by the other cabinets was awaited with keen interest. As the Russian authorities have obtained the views of the European chancellors and have seen the friendly reception given to the note, even by Russia's ally, the fear that it might contain a hidden pitfall for Russia began to disappear. The Russian authorities have now been made acquainted with the replies of the remaining powers, including that of Japan, and it has now practically been decided to give adherence in principle. Russia explained that she was as anxious as other powers to prevent disorders in China and to preserve its integrity, but that owing to Russia's special interests in Manchuria, difficulties are presented. Her railroad must be protected, and Russia will make a reservation on this point. The government does not desire her position in this respect to be misunderstood hereafter, and for this reason her words will be explicit and not equivocal.

Russia has not yet given permission for any military attacks to join the Russian army in the field. Requests have been received from all the powers, including the United States, and it is understood that Viceroy Alexieff, to whom the question was referred, would prefer that foreign attacks should not join in the Russian field operations until March, explaining that owing to the unexpected suddenness of the outbreak of hostilities it is difficult to make arrangements for their comfortable accommodation, especially during the severe weather until that time.

THE OHIO SENATORSHIP.

Leaders Making an Effort to Prevent Contest for Successor to the Late Senator Hanna.

Columbus, O., Feb. 17.—The republican leaders are making strenuous effort to prevent a contest over the election of a successor to the late Senator Hanna and strong influence will be brought to bear on Gov. Herrick to this end. Events are moving rapidly, however, and despite the desire to keep the senatorial succession in the background for the present the lines are already practically drawn. The active political adherents of the late Senator Hanna in Toledo, Cleveland and Columbus are outspoken for the selection of Gen. Charles Dick. The friends of Senator Foraker are lining up for Gov. Herrick, whose election to the senate would place Lieut. Gov. Warren S. Harding, a Foraker man, at the head of the party in the state. The Hanna men have not decided what to do in the event of Gov. Herrick being a candidate. They may support him. Some of them talk of continuing to support Dick in that event, and if he should not be strong enough, to line up for Secretary of War Taft. The reported candidacy of George B. Cox would complicate matters. They, however, profess to believe that Herrick will not be a candidate. A Hanna leader declared to be true the report that Senator Hanna shortly before his death expressed the desire that he should be succeeded by Gen. Dick. This request from the dying senator will weigh strongly with a large number of the members of the legislature.

Nothing has been heard of the captain and the other men since they quit the schooner.

Turkish forces subsequently attacked the insurgents' main position at Babajoshi, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

Alexieff Issues an Order.

The text of the order of the day issued to the Russian troops by Viceroy Alexieff Tuesday follows:

"A heroic army and fleet have been entrusted to me by his majesty, the emperor, and now, when the eyes of the czar of Russia and of the world are upon us, we must remember that it is our sacred duty to protect the czar and the fatherland. Russia is great and powerful, and if our foe is strong this must give us additional strength and power to fight him. The spirit of the Russian soldiers and sailors is high. Our army and navy know many renowned names which must in this hour serve as an example to us. Our God, who has always upheld the cause that is just, is doing so now. Let us unite for the coming struggle; let every man be of tranquil mind in order the better to fulfill his duty, trusting in the help of the Almighty, and let every man perform his task, remembering that prayer to God and service to the emperor are never wasted."

"Long live the emperor and the fatherland! God be with us! Hurrah!"

POTATO CULTIVATION.

The Methods by Which Germany Has Obtained Pre-eminence.

From the report of United States Consul General Mason of Berlin come some interesting facts in regard to scientific potato culture in that country. Among other things he says:

Potato cultivation, like all farming on a large scale in Germany, is based on an exact knowledge of the soil. This includes not only the elements which it contains, but its underlying strata, exposure, elevation and surroundings, whether shaded by adjacent woodlands or buildings, and especially its susceptibility to natural efficient drainage. There is no careless, hit or miss guesswork as to what the soil may lack or what it contains. The agricultural and technical schools of Germany have trained an army of practical chemists, expert in the analysis of soils and familiar with the elemental requirements of every plant known to German husbandry. The effective value of every kind of fertilizer, its influence on crops planted in sand, clay or loam and the efficiency of clover, lucern and other growths when plowed in to enrich soils in nitrogen are accurately known.

Although the potato will grow in every arable field in Germany, from the upper hill slopes to the moorlands of the valleys and seacoast, there is a wide variation, both as to quantity and quality, in the product of the different localities. Poor, light, gravelly soils yield small and few potatoes, and in dry seasons fall altogether. Heavy, tough, cold clays are likewise unfavorable. The ideal potato land is warm, permeable, loamy sand or a light moorland, well drained, clean and rich from the vegetable decay of past ages. Soils containing large proportions of sand produce potatoes of the best flavor and with highest percentage of starch. So marked are these characteristic effects that in every potato market of Germany the potatoes of certain communes are known and rated at the head of the list because the soils of those districts have demonstrated their superior fitness for potato culture. A potato field should be open, fully exposed to sun and wind, not shaded or obstructed by trees and, above all, free from clay substrata which hold water and make a wet subsoil. Crops grown on land with these defects may in some seasons be large, but they rot easily and are always deficient in starch and of inferior flavor. In Germany the red and so called "blue skinned" potatoes are found to do better than the white in damp locations or where the land is excluded from free action of sun and wind.

In the preparation of land for potato planting the first requisite is deep, thorough plowing. In view of the many centuries during which the fields of Germany have been cultivated and the generally high standard of intelligence among farmers here an American is surprised to note that in many wheat, rye and oat fields the plow does not cut more than six or seven inches in depth. But for potatoes this superficial scratching of the earth will not suffice. Every additional inch of depth broken adds a tangible percentage to the yield, and on the best farms subsoil plowing attains a depth of twelve to fifteen inches. Small tracts are worked with the spade, and instances are given where the potato crop has been doubled by working the soil two spade lengths in depth. This deep, careful preparation of the land is always completed in autumn and the upturned earth left exposed to the action of frost and thawing during the winter.

Careful experiment has shown that a given piece of land prepared in autumn yields one-third more potatoes than if treated in precisely the same manner in spring immediately before planting time. Having been deeply plowed and thoroughly harrowed in autumn, the frost penetrates readily, the action of the air upon the various elements of the soil is enhanced, it dries out quickly in spring and with the first warm days is ready for planting. It is then plowed again, usually to a depth of five or six inches, with a broad, shallow plow drawn by one horse, and in every third furrow the potatoes are dropped and are covered by the furrow slice next turned in. This quick, easy method of planting with the plow is practicable only in light, loose soils that have been thoroughly prepared. In heavy clay soils holes five or six inches deep are made in rows with the hoe or spade, the potatoes dropped therein and covered with the hoe.

Safety With the Lantern.

It is not safe to hang a lantern on a common nail, as many people do. An American Agriculturist correspondent suggests having some hooks made and putting them up in the barn and stable to hang the lantern on. Then it will not get knocked off. The lantern will not unhook by being hit with anything. Three-eighths inch round iron, sharpened on one end and bent as shown in the illustration, answers the purpose.

One Thing and Another.

The market is calling for smooth, fleshy cattle these days, and the big boned, old fashioned kind are not wanted, even if they have been made fat, says National Stockman.

Director Smith of the Michigan experiment station recommends the use of the roller on sandy soils.

For winter forage sorghum, corn and millets are recommended for the South Dakota farmer and stockman.

Alfalfa, which is a soil replenisher, should take the place of timothy, which is relatively a soil robber.

Devices for increasing the keeping property of milk are outlined in bulletin No. 26, recently issued by H. W. Conn of the Connecticut experiment station. According to the bulletin aeration does not remove bacteria from milk, but, on the contrary, exposes it to contamination from the air. This work, therefore, should always be done in a clean room not connected with the stable. Better results are obtained by clean milking and immediate bottling and cooling than by aeration, provided the milk is kept clean and the cooling is thorough.

The washing milk pails and pans receive on an ordinary farm, in which one small lot of boiling water serves for washing several milk pails, does not clean them. In fact, it always leaves large numbers of bacteria, especially in the cracks, ready to mix with the next lot of milk drawn into the pail. If possible these utensils should be steamed daily.

The amount of dirt and filth which gets into milk from the cow is surprising and is one of the chief causes of the rapid spoiling of milk. Experiments have shown that covered pails keep 98 per cent of this dirt out of the milk. On this account good dairymen are beginning to use special pails.

A West Texas Ration.

"My milk cows average about 800 pounds live weight, and I want to know how much cottonseed meal and hulls to feed for the best returns in milk and butter; have sorghum hay," writes a western Texas farmer to Farm and Ranch of Dallas, to which the editor of that paper makes answer as follows:

"Your milk herd will give a large flow of milk of good butter content if fed six pounds of cottonseed meal, ten pounds of hulls and eight to ten pounds of sorghum hay daily. In some cases the cows fed upon this ration do not relish the sorghum hay, and in that event it is advisable to reduce the sorghum hay some four pounds and substitute two pounds of corn chops or Kaffir corn chops in its stead. The cottonseed meal will cause the butter to be hard in cold weather because of the large amount fed, but beyond this there is no objection to its liberal use in the ration."

is so arranged as to not only milk the cows automatically, but also incloses the milk in an air tight receptacle as long as it is in the proximity of the animal. This is accomplished by a reservoir suspended overhead and connected with the teat cups by a short section of hose. By means of a vacuum created in the pipe to which the reservoir is attached the milk is drawn from the teats and deposited in the receptacle, whence it can be removed to the creamery for further treatment before being placed on sale.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Best Keeper.

Professor McKay, after scoring the butter at the recent Iowa convention, was asked to pick out a tub of good butter for Governor Cummins, something that would keep. In the language of Professor McKay, "the writer did not pick the first nor the second tub nor the third, fourth or fifth, yet the tub selected would undoubtedly rank first if the butter were kept a few weeks. It was high in salt, probably containing 3 to 3½ per cent, and had a perfect flavor, but not pronounced owing to the excessive amount of salt used. This grade of butter possesses great commercial value." It strikes us that butter-makers might do well to get away from the clean, mild, sweet flavor which has become so popular in recent years and make a little flatter butter containing a proper amount of properly incorporated salt to give it keeping quality.—Creamery Journal.

To Keep Refrigerators Dry.

A good many of the new, expensive refrigerators are getting mildewed this winter, caused by the absence of circulation now the butter-makers do not ice them. These refrigerators are too good to be spoiled in this way, but the dampness which fills them every time the door to the creamery is opened is sure to make them moldy, as there is nothing to absorb the moisture. Whenever one of the doors in the ice chamber leads out to the open air this door should be left open. If all the doors open to the creamery, as is the case at a good many places, the refrigerator should be kept well supplied with ice in order to keep up the circulation of air. It should not be much work to keep the chamber filled with ice, and it is labor well repaid. A good white-washing will help some, and a barrel of lime kept in the refrigerator all the time may also prove beneficial, but ice is a sure cure.—Dairy Record.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N.Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W.C.T.U., tells how she recovered from a serious illness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of all my troubles. My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."—MRS. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 105, Lillydale, N. Y.

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are continually writing letters of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham, until she has hundreds of thousands of letters from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Here is another letter which proves conclusively that there is no other medicine to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
