Holland Banks Are Again Open For Business

ARE FOLLOWING GOVERNOR'S ORDERS COVERING NEW
BANKING RULES

The two Holland banks, which together with every other banking institution in the state, were forced into a bank holiday because of a sudden defection in a group of Detroit banks, are again open for business. The Holland banks were not aware that a holiday would be declared at the time and it was not necessary as far as this city and county are concerned for none of them are connected or in any way affiliated with the group in question, not even remotely, and the order came as a great surprise. However, Governor Comstock's

BANKING SITUATION EXPLAINED FULLY

1—For the present, under the proclamation of our governor, all banks in Michigan are restricted in payment of moneys in the commercial department. In view of this proclamation the banks of Holland will allow withdrawals up to 10 per cent of commercial balances as of February 13, 1933. For necessary purposes as outlined in the governor's proclamation this restriction will be in effect until the Michigan legislature will have enacted new legislation pertaining to Michigan banks.

2—All moneys deposited in both commercial and savings departments from today, February 23, on will be kept in a separate trust fund. This trust fund will be maintained 100 per cent in cash—in other words not one dollar of this fund will be loaned on mortgages or notes. This means that you can deposit any amount of money whether large or small on one day and draw it out in full the next day, or any succeeding day, or even on the same day if you wish.

mandates were followed out to the letter and the banks in this city are again open as well as in Zeeland and Grand Haven with restrictions, of course, which are also ordered by the governor.

Holland banks, however, have gone most of the other banks of the state one better. Restrictions on commercial deposits in nearly every city in the state are kept at 5 per cent. Holland banks have made the restriction 10 per cent. In an interview with Cashier Vander Meulen of the First State Bank, he stated that "we are simply following the governor's orders, first in closing and then in opening again. We are following the restrictions up to the extent of his proclamation. However, in commercial we are a little more liberal it appears than in most banking houses. Later proclamations soon may ease up matters, some, but we are giving just as much service as is possible under the governor's direction."

Otto P. Kramer of the Holland City State Bank stated that the bank was following strictly the orders given by Governor Comstock which have been followed since the bank holiday has been declared. He stated that 10 per cent withdrawal on commercial accounts were permissible, which were more liberal than withdrawals allowed by a vast majority of the banks in the state.

There are some things, however, well to know.

Both banks cannot honor checks dated before February 23. These checks must be reissued. Both banks accept local checks only on their own banks, respectively, for collection, because that is the only way a check can be kept on whether the depositor overdraws on the 10 per cent basis.

The restriction on savings, which were to have been modified on the Holland banks, it is stated, has been made impossible by virtue of the holiday and state bank restrictions and the moratorium still continues on the payment of these. New commercial deposits are kept in a trust fund and can be drawn upon at will to the limit. These are not invested but are kept in trust for the person or persons who make these deposits.

ZEELAND LITERARY CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The Zeeland Literary club will hold its next meeting on Tuesday afternoon, February 28, at 3:30 o'clock in the club room. Dr. Albertus Pieters of Western Theological seminary at Holland will address the club on the topic "Science and the Bible." Dr. Pieters is a recognized authority on scientific and religious subjects and this meeting is anticipated with pleasure. Guest Day will be observed and everybody interested is invited to be present at the meeting. Music will be furnished by Mrs. Gerrit Huisenga and Miss Margery Keppel will be hostess.

HOLLAND SHOWS FINE SPIRIT

Although it was well known that the bank holiday was to be over this Thursday morning, citizens of Holland and vicinity showed no undue excitement over the matter. There was little or no business tip to 9 o'clock. After that period those vitally interested, together with the inquisitive ones, brought about a Saturday-night usual gathering. Thursday afternoon is bank half holiday in this city, but the heads of both institutions decided to remain open this week to give patrons all necessary information.

Holland has shown a fine spirit through these troublesome times and underneath there was a loyalty that cannot be mistaken. The men connected with our local banking institutions have spent night and day earnestly considering the problems which have confronted them since this bank holiday was declared. In a measure their restrictions have been more liberal than anywhere else and that in itself shows an element of fairness to depositors.

If Holland shows the friendly patience that has been dominant the past two weeks without doubt the restrictions now in vogue will soon be far less drastic. It is needless to disguise the fact that restrictions are put on to strengthen our banking structure throughout the state. We believe that Holland is showing just the spirit necessary to bring this about.

Dr. Westrate Receives Medal For Bravery

SHOWS SILVER STAR WHICH HE IS PERMITTED TO WEAR
BY ORDER OF THE PRESIDENT

Dr. William Westrate of Holland who when the World War broke out was a finished interne at Youngstown, Ohio, but really enlisted from Holland and assigned to the Fourth division, 58th infantry, and wounded while actively working in the field behind the lines during the Vesle River and the Argonne drives of three days and three nights, has received his honor medal from Washington, which in reality came in three parts, and can be separated to be worn on occasions and functions where these badges are appropriate. The silver star and the embellishments that go with a badge of that kind are beautiful and colorful. According to an act of congress approved July 9, 1918, the several citations, which Dr. Westrate merited, entitles him by direction of the president, to wear this silver star.

The general order which Dr. Westrate proudly carries, as coming from W. H. Cledenin, acting chief of staff, from headquarters of the Fourth division on board the U. S. S. Mt. Vernon, points out that on August 5, 1918, and September 28 of that same year, Mr. Westrate showed bravery almost to a fault. When troops had been ordered to take shelter the order states, he continued to give first aid under heavy fire at a great personal risk where the soldiers fell, and that on September 28 he suffered a serious wound from a fragment of a high explosive shell while attending his duties on the field.

It is for these acts of bravery that Dr. Westrate of Holland is privileged to wear this honor badge.

PLAN ON TWO TICKETS THIS SPRING

Many residents of Zeeland township now believe there should be a change in the political set-up of the township, especially when there are a large number of contenders for political office. They apparently believe there should be an opportunity of choice beside the annual one-party caucus as has been the custom in the past.

Consequently a group organized this week and selected Martin D. Wyngaarden, M. Den Herder and John Freriks as the Citizens' committee to call out a caucus to nominate candidates for township offices at the spring election, which caucus will probably be held on Monday, March 6. Thus far no one has announced himself a candidate for any office on this ticket.

CITY CANDIDATES HAVE FILED THEIR PETITIONS

All city candidates who are to run in the primaries on March 6 have filed their petitions. At least two men have no opposition, both faithful servants. They are Oscar Petersen for city clerk, and Nick Sprietsma for treasurer. There are plenty candidates for the other offices. The official list is found on page 3 of this section, showing the different men running for office.

Gerrit Vander Hill of 117 Fairbanks avenue, a Pere Marquette brakeman, is confined to Holland hospital as the result of an accident recently when he fell from a box car while switching in Zeeland.

Schoon Filled Unique Place In Local Affairs

WERE MARRIED A HALF CENTURY AGO

Being married a half century is a long period of time but Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schoon were privileged Monday to see that day and to be surrounded with friends and relatives at their home on West Sixteenth street during the afternoon and evening.

The Schoon family were pioneers of the early days. As a lad Peter was a sailor on one of the schooners that left this port and Holland had many of them. Holland harbor was a veritable forest of masts in the earlier days and Peter Schoon enjoyed the visiting to the docks of Holland as a kid to see the unloading of bark, lumber, stove bolts and provisions of all kinds for the colony. He started out as a cabin boy and sailed through the roughest weather, even the blow that sank the Albatross fifty-three years ago off what was formerly known as Aplena beach, now Lakewood farm.

After his sailing days were over Mr. Schoon became a tanner. His father and his elder brother, Louis, were tanners at the C. A. P. B. Bertsch Leather company for many years. Later they started a small tannery of their own tucked away at the foot of Seventh street in the big swamp. The father and the two brothers knew every phase of the tanning business, and Schoon's leather was looked upon as a No. 1 product although the output naturally was very small.

In later years, a decade ago, Mr. Schoon went in altogether to a different vocation, being identified with the Holland Risk company.

Mr. Schoon was identified in the earlier days with the old Dr. Gee band, one of the first band organizations of yesteryear. He was a member in the first drum corps that your editor knows of, being a snare drummer of unusual talent.

Peter Schoon as well as his estimable wife, have always been much beloved by friends and neighbors for they were ever willing and ready to help when necessity called.

They were married by Rev. E. Bos, pastor of the old Colonial church, now the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church. Mr. Schoon has lived in Holland for seventy-one years, this being his birthplace. Mrs. Schoon, however, was born in The Netherlands seventy years ago in the Province of Drenthe, her name being Miss Jenne Ratering. She arrived in Holland in '67.

Mr. Schoon was a charter member of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church. Today, however, he is a member of Trinity Reformed church. He has been a Sunday school teacher continuously for thirty-seven years and for twenty-three years he served as consistory member. Today he is teaching the young married men's class at Trinity church.

One daughter and two sons were born to this union. Mrs. John R. Mulder of Holland, John of Holland township, and James of Grand Rapids.

Louis Schoon, the partner brother, passed on thirteen years ago. A sister and a brother of Mrs. Schoon are both living in Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schoon, who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday, were guests of honor at a fellowship supper on Friday evening held by members of the Women's Bible class of Trinity Reformed church and their husbands in the church at 6 o'clock. About 125 were present. The room was beautifully decorated in yellow and white. While a wedding march was being played the honored guests entered the room and were seated under an arch. Prayer was offered by Sam Paer. After the supper Mrs. John Vande Pool, president of the class, introduced Peter Huyser, teacher of the class, who was toastmaster. The following program was presented:

A toast on "Why Are We Here?" by Rev. H. D. Ter Keurst; presentation of a basket of flowers to Mr. and Mrs. Schoon, who responded with brief talks; duet, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," by Mr. and Mrs. C. Trapp; reading by Mrs. M. Bade; group singing led by Herman Cook; toasts by Rev. John R. Mulder and Peter Van Donselaar; clarinet solo by Roger Stroop, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Stroop; toast by George Schurman; selection, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by a quartet composed of Mrs. Katherine Essenburg, Mrs. Mary Vanden Berg, Mr. Cook and Peter Oosting.

Following the singing of a Dutch Psalm by the group, John Oonk closed with prayer.

The program was arranged by Mrs. G. Kooyers, and the supper was in charge of Mrs. H. Vander Linde and her committee.

A meeting of the Taxpayers' League was held Wednesday evening. It was decided to forward a request to the city clerk that the question of whether eastern standard time or central standard time should be used here in winter be submitted to a vote in the spring election. Harry F. Wetter, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke at the meeting.

A large truck which serves Mark Stores, Inc., took fire Wednesday evening about two miles south of Holland on M-40. Loss was estimated at about $3,000. The fire spread rapidly and ignited a portion of a rail fence several hundred feet distant.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mildred Harrington of Fillmore shot a large white owl last Tuesday, that measured 55 inches from tip to tip of his wings.

Next Tuesday our local hunters will indulge in another hunting match with Jim Huntley and Charlie Odell as captains on the sides. The "game" will be counted at the City Hotel at 7 o'clock P. M. after the hunt and then Landlord Williams will use some of the contents of the several game bags for a succulent repast. The annual event is looked forward to with interest. Note: The outcome next week; it is interesting.

Grand Haven even 50 years ago was favored with large harbor appropriations. Holland received $6,000, Grand Haven $25,000, Saugatuck $4,000.

The News was mistaken in the location of the Van Putten Butter Tub factory, stating it was where the Donnelly-Kelly Glass Co. is now located. The fact is the factory moved there later but the item referred to 50 years ago was when the shop was located in the old Pluggers mills, which answered the purpose of a flour mill and before that time as a saw mill. For many years a log boom extended from the West Michigan Furniture Co., the site of Pluggers Mill, to what is now Scott Luggers' docks and let us say a fine place to catch sunfish. Those big broad kind with yellow bellies. The factory later moved to the Donnelly-Kelly site.

Seventeen new holders have been added to the list of Hope Reformed church since Rev. T. Walker Jones became pastor. Note: The renting of pews in all Holland churches in the early days was a great event. There was a great deal of competition as to who would get the best pews. In some churches lots were drawn and in others the bidding prices counted and the pews for the year were auctioned off as it were. Today every church has free pews, as it should be.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Wm. Bourton, dealer in second-hand goods, on East Eighth street, was flimflammed out of $5.00 by the old game, last Saturday. A dapper young man said he wanted to send money to a sick mother at Benton Harbor, for which he offered $4.75 in change. He was given the five, which he put in an envelope and when he could rake up no more than $4.45, he returned the envelope to Bourton with apologies but as usual it was minus the $5.00 when the envelope was opened afterward.

Miss Josie Volkens was wed to Frank E. Adams at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Bomers, 81 West 16th street, Rev. E. J. Bekking officiating.

Charlie Floyd, of the Holland Interurban, is getting his finger in the pie and is mixing in Grand Rapids affairs. He suggested that the interurbans of Grand Rapids have a joint depot and that the site of the interurban station now owned by the Holland-Grand Rapids Interurban be used by the city for a convention hall. That it was an admirable spot for such a building. Note: Well, the Holland man's suggestion came true 25 years later, for the new convention hall at Grand Rapids covers the spot where the old interurban station stood.

PLUGGERS' MILL

THE LAMP-LIT HOUR

Ralph Schepers, R. R. 6

The ages through, Wisconsin sent
Her winds and waves, that they be spent
On Michigan's resounding shore;
Through all the day the wild waves boomed—
Through all the day the white caps loomed,
At intervals from days of yore.

But when at eve the wind died down,
And shadows deep of blue and brown
Enshrouded all the line of Dunes;
The Redman heard, in mystery wrapped,
As gentle waves the shore-line lapped,
The soft sweet rhythms of olden Runes.

And so it is in Radio day:
As great bands play, WTMJ
Sends deep diapasons, booming in;
But when the lamp-lit hour draws nigh—
An Evening Hymn—a Lullabye—
Blend with the harp and violin.

State Exchange May Meet Here This Summer

CORNELIUS VANDER MEULEN IS THE GUEST SPEAKER AT WARM FRIEND TAVERN
LUNCHEON.

The Holland Exchange club observed Washington's birthday on Wednesday at noon at its regular meeting at Warm Friend Tavern through a fine address by Cornelius Vander Meulen on George Washington.

He spoke on the topic, "Washington's Spirit of High Adventure," illustrating this spirit of noble adventure as, for instance, when he was sent to the French commandant to ask his surrender, his crossing of the Delaware and subsequent signal victories and, best of all, at Valley Forge. When General Howe in the dark period of our war for independence, offered amnesty to all Americans who would return in their allegiance to Great Britain, and congress showed a lukewarm, listless spirit in arranging for the proper recruiting and paying the army, the speaker said that George Washington pledged his own private fortune to guarantee pay to the soldiers.

Today, the speaker continued, billboards warn us "Safety First." Such was not Washington's spirit but rather "Go out and do things, counting not the cost." So also the pioneer, as Dr. Van Raalte, looked not for personal safety or comfort, but went out to conquer and did things.

Mr. Vander Meulen claimed prosperity should soon come back, giving as his reasons that there is a general shortage in inventory in all businesses and because of the immense amount of idle cash lying in the vaults of our banks awaiting for investments. He said we need some more faith in the stability of our government and institutions and Washington's high adventurous faith.

Mr. Allen of the Holland Furniture company spoke briefly on the new Boosters' movement. Also, it was moved that the club indicate its interest in the efforts now being put forth by the common council of the city, through William Vandenberg, to get our sugar plant to reopen.

President "Bud" Hinga appointed a committee to co-operate where possible with Alderman "Bill." This consists of Andrew Klompars as chairman, with Albert Van Zoeren, Albert Kleis and Alex Van Zanten.

Dr. Westrate presented a tentative plan for taking care of Summer Frolic and business meeting of the state Exchange clubs if Holland should be host in June. A meeting of the board of directors has been called for next Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. in Dr. Westrate's office to consider this matter thoroughly. If feasible in the estimation of the board, a formal invitation will then be sent to the state clubs to meet in Holland.

NINETY-TWO RURAL LETTER CARRIERS ENJOY BANQUET AT ZEELAND

Ninety-two rural carriers were present at the Washington birthday banquet held Wednesday by the rural letter carriers and ladies' auxiliaries of Ottawa and adjoining counties in the First Reformed church at Zeeland. Seven counties were represented, including Ottawa, Allegan and Kent.

A social hour was held from 4 to 6 o'clock and at 6 o'clock a banquet was served by the ladies of the church.

Harold Laug, Ottawa county president, was toastmaster for the evening. Several musical selections were rendered by Herman C. Cook of Holland. Rev. J. Van Peursem of Zeeland gave the address of welcome. A male quartet of Zeeland entertained with a selection, after which Mrs. Simon De Boer of Holland gave two readings.

A ballad was sung by Mrs. J. Van Peursem and Miss Stall of Zeeland, after which the male quartet favored with another selection. Gerrit Rutgers of Holland introduced the speaker, Rev. Henry Ter Keurst, pastor of Trinity Reformed church of Holland, who spoke on George Washington. A short talk was given by the state secretary, Gala Maxwell, of Clio.

W. Claver, postmaster at Zeeland; A. J. Westerve, postmaster of Holland, and Assistant Postmaster J. Greengood, also of this city, were then introduced and each spoke briefly. Guy Landon of Cass City, ex-state president, sang a vocal solo. Three monologues were given by William Hietje of Zeeland.

The main speaker for the evening was John Dolfin, Jr., of Muskegon, who had a very interesting address. Mr. Dolfin was presented with a pair of wooden shoes, perfect fit, from the Ottawa county carriers and auxiliary.

CIVIC ORCHESTRA PRESENTS CONCERT

More than 300 people attended the mid-season concert presented by the Holland Civic orchestra in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

The concert, which was under the direction of Eugene F. Heeter, was featured by Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte, soloist, who sang "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly." Officers of the organization are Mr. Karsten, president; Adrian Kansen, vice-president; Mrs. J. D. French, secretary and treasurer; Edna Mool, librarian.

TRUST FUND

All new moneys placed in the local banks are converted into a Trust Fund. Our understanding of this is that every dollar placed in our local banks from this day on is absolutely safe-guarded in a Federal Reserve bank to be used at will by the depositor. While these funds draw no interest there can be no depreciation for they are not invested but are safeguarded as a government fund would be.

In short it is like a "kid's" savings bank. If the youngster has 100 pennies in his iron bank those 100 pennies will remain there until the "kid" takes them out. In other words your dollars will be stored away until you need them and when you need them they will be available. This program will remain in vogue indefinitely and applies not only to Holland but to the entire state.

Republicans Meet At County Seat And Elect

MR. MCEACHRON WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE G. O. P.
MEET

Holland was represented with a full delegation at the convention held at Grand Haven Tuesday afternoon and delegates nominated are pledged to George M. Clark of Bad Axe; John S. McDonald, Grand Rapids; Grover C. Dillman of Bangor and Webster H. Pearce of Mt. Pleasant for their respective state offices to the state convention at Grand Rapids to be held in the new Civic hall Tuesday of next week.

Fred McEachron, former state representative, was a pointed chairman, and William Wilde secretary. The chairman urged unified support of the above named offices and the convention, at his suggestion, granted him the power to appoint Hugh Lillie of this city as delegate-at-large to the state convention, and Ben Mulder, Holland, as an alternate-at-large.

It was rather a speechless convention, the only speaker to be heard being Mr. Archie Vander Wall of Holland.

Mr. Vander Wall spoke briefly, paying a tribute to the "forgotten man," the taxpayer, who with true courage of the pioneer is facing the present-day conditions, he said. He urged unity in party ranks that the Grand Old Party again take its place in the governmental agencies of this nation.

The delegates named and the resolution adopted follow:

The delegates from this vicinity: Hugh E. Lillie, Grand Haven, delegate at large; Ben Mulder, Holland, alternate at large. Olive, Crocker and Robinson—Hunter Hering, Coopersville, route No. 3, delegate; Albert H. Stegenga, Holland, route No. 10, alternate. Park, Port Sheldon—Leonard Van Regenmortel, Macatawa Park, delegate; R. W. Tardiff, Holland, route No. 4, alternate.

Zeeland City and Zeeland Township—John R. Dethmers, Zeeland, delegate; Fred Klumper, Zeeland, delegate; Ben C. Van Loo, Zeeland, alternate; Joe De Hoo, Zeeland, alternate.

Holland Township—Dick Plagemars, Holland, route No. 3, delegate; Paul Schilleman, Holland, route No. 3, alternate.

Holland City—First ward, Winfield Burggraaf, Holland, delegate; Henry prince, Holland, alternate. Second and Fifth wards, Archie Vander Wal, Holland and Abel Postma, Holland, delegates; Alex Van Zanten and Art Drinkwater, Holland, alternates. Third ward, E. P. Stephan, Holland, delegate; Adrian Kammeraad, Holland, alternate. Fourth ward, Henry Pelgrim, Holland, delegate; Vernon Ten Cate, Holland, alternate. Sixth ward, Elbert Parsons, Holland, delegate; Raymond L. Smith, Holland, alternate.

Holland-Zeeland Man Is Writer On Education

GRADUATE FROM HOPE GOES TO INDIA, MARRIES HOLLAND GIRL

Dr. Chris A. De Young, a Hope College graduate, formerly from Zeeland, has recently written a book, which has been published by the School of Education, Northwestern University, under the title, "Budgetary Practices in Public School Administration." Mr. De Young is well known in this vicinity as he was superintendent of the schools at Zeeland for several years. Mrs. De Young was formerly Miss Marion Van Dreeer, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Van Dreeer, 123 East Tenth St.

Dr. De Young's book is a timely one in the field of public school finance, a subject which he teaches at Northwestern University. In the introduction to the book which was reviewed by Dr. J. W. Twente of the University of Kansas, Dr. Twente says: "The suggested forms for collecting budget data and the standards for accepted procedures will be helpful to a superintendent of schools and his board of education. The materials here presented are a distinct contribution to the literature in the business management of school systems."

The American School Board Journal, a leading monthly magazine in the field of school administration, devotes half a page to a review of Mr. De Young's book. In the issue of February, 1933, the editor of the Journal says: "The volume entitled 'Budgetary Practices in Public School Administration,' recently written by Dr. Chris A. De Young, and published by Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., constitutes a timely and instructive document."

The Holland City News files show that Mr. De Young entered Hope College as the valedictorian from Zeeland High School, and that he was the first male student to receive his A. B. degree from Hope College, with the honors, Summa Cum Laude. While at Hope he was active in school affairs. He was president of the Senior Class and of the Student Council, and was editor of the Hope College Anchor. He was also at one time employed by the Holland City News and the Sentinel.

Following his graduation from Hope College, Mr. De Young left for India where he was principal of Hope High School for four years. While there he served as an assistant examiner in English for the University of Madras, and was appointed by the Governor of Madras as a member of the Elementary Educational Council of Chittoor.

Upon his return from India, Mr. De Young became superintendent of schools at Hudsonville for a few years, after which he went to Zeeland as the superintendent. While at Zeeland, he completed his work for the degree of Master of Arts at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. At the June commencement exercises last year, Mr. De Young received his Ph. D. degree at Northwestern University and was made a full time member of the staff in the School of Education.

Mrs. De Young, who also graduated from Hope College with honors, formerly taught in Holland High School and in the French Department at Hope.

EARLY SUNDAY FIRE AROUSES NEIGHBORS

MOTHER AWAKENS CHILDREN WHO ESCAPE SCANTILY
ATTIRED

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Meeuwse narrowly escaped with their lives early last Sunday morning when fire broke out in their home while the family was asleep. The fire had gained considerable headway when Mrs. Meeuwse was awakened by the flames and she hastily roused her husband and children, all of whom managed to escape with little more than their night clothing. All the members of the family, including Mr. and Mrs. Meeuwse, Lavina, Dennis, Marvin and Geneva, were able to grab only what clothing lay handy before escaping from the oncoming flames and smoke in the darkness because the electric light service was already destroyed.

The fire is thought to have originated from defective electric wiring in the basement directly below the pantry in the northwest corner of the main part of the residence. The flames apparently crawled up through the pantry wall to the attic which became a roaring furnace, quickly breaking through the roof in several places.

Miss Lavina displayed a great presence of mind by making her way through the dark rooms and stifling smoke to the telephone to give the alarm.

The damage to the residence will probably exceed $2,500 covered by $1,500 insurance. The contents were insured for $500 but the loss has not been announced.—Zeeland Record.

Rev. J. De Haan, pastor of Broadway Avenue Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids, will give an address on "State Aid for Christian Schools," at the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church Thursday evening, March 2. Rev. De Haan is a former pastor of Ninth Street church. This lecture is being sponsored by the Monica Aid society.

THE HIGHWAY DOLLAR

Perhaps no dollar of public money for relief of the unemployed worker is being spent to better advantage than that of the state highway department. In this manner thousands of workers are being furnished with part time employment, which enables them to retain their self respect by not becoming objects of charity.

The $8,000,000 winter relief program recommended by State Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman, has received the endorsement of Governor Comstock and work is already under way. Funds for this relief measure will be procured through RFC financing.

Backed by years of experience, Commissioner Dillman is giving his personal attention to this winter program, which is especially vital at a time when labor is being confronted with the worst unemployment situation in the history of the nation. One healthy sign in connection with this huge undertaking is the fact that the cost of administration has been reduced to a minimum. The highway dollar set aside for relief is being expended for that purpose and no other. It is a welcome departure from some of the relief measures we have observed in the past.

Merely a Strange Interlude

Many people with bank accounts had a peculiar sensation when they discovered, Tuesday morning, that all the available money they had was what was in their pockets. It was a sensation, however, that thousands of Americans have felt for two or three years, ever since employment diminished and jobs became scarce.

Well, it is an experience we shall live to look back upon and no doubt to grin over. It is reported that when someone asked the Abbe Sleyes what he did during the French Revolution, he replied: "I lived through it." That was no small achievement for a Frenchman in public life in those days.

We shall live through the period of closed banks; most of us will survive even the depression, unless we are untimely cut off by accident or disease. There is but one thing to do—be patient, and wait.

The affairs of the banks are in the hands of the only people who can iron them out; the Nation itself is co-operating. This is merely a strange interlude.—Detroit News.

PRAYER DAY WILL BE OBSERVED MARCH 3

The annual World Day of Prayer will be observed March 3 when Christian women the world over gather in their places of worship and unite their prayers in a common cause to God.

The program for that day entitled "Follow Thou Me," was prepared by Mrs. C. C. Chen, a Christian Chinese woman. Two short addresses will be given on "Intercession for our Nation" and "Intercession for the World," each to be followed by a season of prayer.

The women of Holland are invited to unite in a fellowship of prayer next Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the Methodist church on West Tenth street. This meeting must not be confused with the women's meeting for Lepers on Prayer Day. Dr. Wynand Wehlers will speak on "Intercession of Foreign Nations" and Dr. Henry Beets of Grand Rapids will give an address on "Intercession for the World."

LITERARY CLUB MEETING

Martin, Mrs. William Tappan and Mrs. J. P. Oggel, presented a slate of officers to be voted upon at the meeting March 7. The names submitted were: Mrs. C. M. McLean, president; Mrs. J. D. French, vice president; Mrs. C. H. McBride, second vice president; Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, recording secretary; Mrs. J. J. Good, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Marsilje, treasurer.

The program consisted of an open forum in charge of Mrs. French. Those who spoke were Miss Katherine Post, Miss Metta Ross, Mrs. J. P. Garlaugh and Mrs. Sears McLean.

Richard Keeler entertained with three violin solos, accompanied by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Keeler.

HOLLAND CHEST FUND
REPORTED EXHAUSTED

Dr. A. Leenhouts, chairman of the Holland Community chest, announced today that funds of the chest are exhausted and that unless financial support is received the specialized clothing relief program of the organization will have to be discontinued.

He pointed out that the response this year was rather limited. Only 376 pledges, representing $3,240, were received. By purchasing clothing in large quantities the chest rendered aid with shoes and clothing which if furnished in the regular way would have cost at least $12,000, Dr. Leenhouts stated. The need for clothing, however, is still urgent, he said.

Society Notes

A meeting of the Erutha Rebekah lodge will be held tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock. Following the business session pedro and 500 will be played. Mrs. M. J. Keller and her committee will entertain. Refreshments will be served.

They have been residents of Holland for forty-three years, prior to which they lived in Grand Rapids for seven years. Eleven children were born to them, nine of whom are living. They have twenty-six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Blok celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last November.

Spelling of "Hare-Brained"

The original and correct form of the word is "hare-brained." It means flighty, skittish or reckless and refers to the characteristics of a hare. "Mad as a March hare" had a somewhat similar origin. A wild, heedless, foolish, volatile or giddy person is said to be hare-brained because he has or shows no more brains or sense than a hare or rabbit. The word is sometimes incorrectly written "hair-brained," even by reputable writers, and that spelling, which began to occur before the year 1800, has led many to seek a different origin of the term.

Unfeminine Occupations

The census bureau lists many occupations in which it is unusual for women to be employed. Some of these are: Blacksmith, baggage man, boiler-maker, brakeman, butcher, conductor on the railroad, cooper, electrician, locomotive engineer or fireman, freeman in the fire department, forester, garbage man, hostler, pilot, plumber, railway mail clerk, stone mason, street cleaner and tinsmith.

Several criminal cases from the northern part of the county came up and some of the defendants pleaded guilty and were sentenced by the judge. The jury will be called on Monday, February 27, for the regular term. Due to the large number who pleaded guilty today there will be few cases on the criminal calendar.

To Conjure With

The expression, "a name to conjure with," harks back to the time when conjurers claimed to perform their tricks by uttering some "name of power," such as Solomon.

Cosmic Rays and Heredity

Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago, in conducting a world-wide series of tests, found about 15 per cent more cosmic rays in temperate than in tropic zones. But nowhere has science found enough cosmic rays to be a really big factor in heredity. They are fewer than the radium rays naturally in the air and much less than the radium rays everywhere emanating from the earth.

Scientists have speculated, however, as to whether there may have been periods in the remote past when cosmic rays fell more thickly. Both this speculation and the possibility that long ago there was more radium have been pointed out as interesting guesses upon the origins of new species of animals and plants many millions of years ago.

Character Revealed in

Great Men's Portraits

Those interested in character reading from faces know that the qualities indicated by one feature may totally contradict those shown by another. The following story illustrates this.

The famous artist, John Sargent, painted Joseph Pulitzer. All went well till the fourth sitting. Pulitzer had been calm and amiable till then but unfortunately his temper was greatly ruffled by the sudden appearance in the studio of a man whom he detested.

"A look of fury and impatience entirely changed the face of the subject, and Sargent contemplated the scene with keen interest, while making a dab or two upon the canvas." The result of that unlucky contretemps was registered in the completed portrait. The dual nature of the sitter was clearly indicated. "Hide with a sheet of paper one-half of the face and you have a benevolent, middle-aged gentleman. Observe now the other half, and you have the malevolent, sinister, and cruel expression of a Mephisto." If we apply that test to some present-day portraits we might be disagreeably startled by the result!

Edison's Wonder Work
When Edison entered the jungle of earth's elemental forces, the carbon arc-light of Sir Humphrey Davy and Faraday was sending its first uncertain blue flashes across the world's night. It sputtered like a short circuit and sometimes behaved as temperamental as lightning.

The night of the world, except for this crude device, was lighted by tallow, oil and gas. All of earth's illuminants, compared with sunlight, were no more than a burning match. —Exchange.

HOPE COLLEGE NEWS

Two Victories
Awarded Hope's
Debating TeamsHOPE MEN DEFEAT ADRIAN
AND ALMA COLLEGE
FRIDAY, FEB. 17

Two more colleges have fallen before the convincing logic of the Hope debaters during the last week. On Friday afternoon, February 17, the affirmative team defeated Adrian College and in the evening the negative team overcame Alma's affirmative team.

Chris Walvoord and Ralph Dan of represented Hope in the Adrian debate. The contest was held at Adrian before the high school student body. Professor Riley, head of the Speech department at the University of Michigan, served as critic judge and named Hope as an easy winner. Through this victory, both members of Hope's team earned their proficiency degrees in the Phi Kappa Delta, having scored three victories.

Joe Esther and Harold De Windt were the local debaters to participate in the evening debate with Alma College. The debate was held in the local campus in Winans Chapel. After a close debate, Mr. Rogers, superintendent of the Zee- and schools, decided that Hope had done the better debating. With this victory Hope now has three league wins, and two defeats.

Next week Thursday Hope is scheduled to meet the negative team of Crane Junior College of Chicago. On Friday Hope is to have a dual debate with Calvin College, the affirmative team debating at Hope, and the negative team debating at Grand Rapids.

The following Friday the Detroit College of Technology will send a negative team to Holland to engage with the local affirmative team. The teams to represent Hope in these contests have not yet been named, but will be announced at the next meeting of the squad, Thursday, February 23.

Student Volunteers

A stirring message about Mexico was brought to the Student Volunteers last Friday at 4 P.M. by Rev. James Martin of the Third Reformed church of this city.

In his message he told why Mexico was different from the United States. He based his thoughts on the mission work of the Reformed church in Mexico. The various states of Mexico are divided between the various denominations.

That denomination and no other then is responsible for the evangelization of their territory. The Reformed church has one state equal in size to our states of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. For all this territory there are only two missionaries to carry on the work. Mexico is weighed down by three burdens, political tyranny, religious suppression, and the burden of sin. He concluded by saying that it was the task of our church to remove the last burden.

Mr. Abraham Naoum was in charge of the song service and devotions.

Divinity Guild

The Divinity Guild met last Thursday afternoon, February 16, at 4:15 o'clock. Following the song service, the scripture lesson was read by Mr. John Chamberlain, and a circle of sentence prayers was offered by the group. Mr. John Cotts gave a piano solo as special music. The rest of the meeting was given over to the speaker, Rev. S. C. Netting, president of the Western Theological seminary. His address, "The Call to the Present Day Ministry," was very inspirational. The meeting was closed with prayer by Professor Paul E. Hinkamp.

The Guild is planning some very interesting meetings in the near future with the hope that a greater interest may be aroused among its members. The next meeting will be held March 2.

TEACHERS RETAIN HOLD ON CHAMPIONSHIP IN STATE
BY VICTORY

Last Thursday evening, Hope entertained the best basketball team in the state of Michigan and were decisively beaten 56-31. The Orange and Blue opened the scoring with a foul shot, but Western soon opened a slashing attack which sent them far into the lead.

The half ended with the Quintet from the celerity city holding a 24-5 lead. After the intermission things were a lot different. "Buck" Reed, Western coach, substituting frequently, Hope began to gain scoring power. The Orange and Blue were outscored only 32-26 in the latter half.

The Western scoring was evenly divided, ten of the twelve men who played, scoring at least once from the field. Perigo, giant center, was high point man with eleven points. Korstanje and Tyse looked good for Hope, "Dough" scoring four times from the field and adding two counters from the free throw line while "Jim" garnered seven points.

The Hope Frosh were defeated in a preliminary game by Western Frosh after a hard fought battle, 38-29.

Moreland and Ward were outstanding for the Western green-clads while Timmer, with twelve points, and Cook were Orange and Blue stars.

BLUE AND WHITE WIDENS
LEAD AFTER EXCITING
FIRST HALF

Last Tuesday Hope journeyed to Hilldale and met defeat at the hands of the Blue and White, 34-20. By their victory the Dales practically clinched third place in the Conference.

The first half of the game proved to be very interesting, the lead changing hands several times. For the first twenty minutes it was a nip and tuck battle, the half ending 15-13 in favor of the Blue and White.

The second half was an entirely different story, for Hilldale, led by Stanich, outscored the Orange and Blue 19 to 7. Immediately following the intermission, the Dales secured a substantial lead. Coach Hinga substituted frequently in an effort to stop the Dales' attack, but his attempts were all in vain.

Stanich was high point man for the Blue and White, scoring seven times from the field and three times from the charity stripe.

Steffens was high point man for the Orange and Blue with seven points while Van Zanden and Korstanje played nice floor games.

KNICKERBOCKERS AND FRATERNALS ARE VICTORS

Knickebocker and Fraternal took their interfrat basketball games at Carnegie gym Monday night, while the Seminary in a non-league game defeated the Addisons. The Knicks, with the Cosmos forming the opposition, won 18 to 12, and the Frater-Emersonian score was 18 to 13.

Herm Van Ark led the Knicks to an 11 to 0 lead for the first quarter. This was increased to 16 and 2 at half time. The Cosmos put on a last-half rally which whittled the lead to 17 and 9, with eight minutes to play, but was 6 points short when the final whistle blew.

The Emersonians gave the Frater a scare, but did not have the punch to break into the victory column. After trailing, 12 to 4, at the end of the first half they came up to within 2 points of the leaders during the third quarter, but dropped back to the short end of an 18 to 13 final. Jappinga and Veltman led their respective teams with 6 points each.

Seminary's basketball team gave the Addisons a 48-to-13 drubbing. After taking a 24-to-6 lead in the first half the preministers continued at that same basis the second half. Muyskens and Hoffman shone for the Seminary. Hicks and Heersma were outstanding for the Addisons.

PRES. WICHERS' HOME IS THE SCENE OF MUCH FACULTY
FUN

Monday, the thirteenth, found the members of Hope College faculty in the proper mood to celebrate St. Valentine's Day. The party commenced with a delicious supper at Trinity Reformed church. Halves of hearts were sold as tickets to this supper, and since none of our faculty members are half-hearted, the game of matching hearts was indulged in until everyone had found his partner. Incidentally, and ironically enough, Prof. Winter and Mrs. Schouten got together on the eating proposition. The tables were decorated in true Valentine style. Mr. and Mrs. Snow had to leave before the pie was made as served, but perhaps being Snows they didn't need it.

After our "profs" and instructors had justified themselves in regard to eating, the party adjourned to the home of President Wichers. There they were all given names and had to discover their identity by means of the question and answer method. Much to his surprise and concern, Dr. Nykerk found that he had been dubbed Jimmie Walker. President Wichers turned out to be Romeo, and Miss Boyd, Queen Wilhelmina.

Then everyone settled down to a serious and perplexing snow of jig-saw puzzling. Mr. Snow drew a puzzle in which a woman was involved in some tapestry, and he simply wouldn't go home until he had gotten her straightened out. This made matters rather complicated, because Prof. McLean could not go home without his table. This is a very small world after all.

Mrs. Hinkamp was chairman of the committee in charge of the party, and she was assisted by Mrs. Wichers, Mrs. Hinga, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Dykhuizen, and Miss Ross as the faculty representatives.

We're glad to hear that our faculty enjoyed themselves, and to discover that so many of our faculty members are endowed with extraordinary agile minds.

Seniors Choose
Speakers For Commencement

A meeting of the Senior Class was held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Professor Hinkamp's room in the chapel.

The main interest of the meeting was in the election of the representatives of the senior class at commencement exercises. Miss Louise Kieft, an eminent debator, was chosen the speaker for the women, and Harold de Windt, well-known orator and speaker, as representing the men.

The greater part of the meeting centered in the senior class play which is to be given in the latter part of April. "Little Women" is the play that has been chosen by the committee consisting of Jean Herman, chairman, Arloa Van Peursen, Helen Johnson and Bruce Pearson. With Miss Payne as director, the Senior Class is assured that this play which has been staged so very successfully in various parts of Michigan, will prove to be an epochal affair.

To insure a future meeting, Bill Meengs was placed in charge of plans for a party to be discussed in greater detail at a later date.

Sophomores Elect
Class Officers

On Wednesday afternoon, February 15, the Sophomore class met to elect officers for the second semester. Howard Voskuil of Cedar Grove, Wis., came in time to hear the applause for his election to the office of president. Kenneth Karsten of Holland is the new vice president. The secretary, Miss Dorothea Van Saun, is also a local student. The financial matters of the class will be in charge of Miss Sarah Sterken of Grand Rapids, and Lloyd Coster of Montello Park.

Mr. Irving is spending three weeks in Michigan visiting the student organizations upon the various campuses and is being brought to Hope college at the expense of the campus Y. M. C. A.

The schedule for the guest of the day includes a meeting with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet this afternoon at 4:30, an address this evening at 7 o'clock at the regular Y. M. C. ANNIVERSARY OF DEATH

Last week was known to the world of music as "Wagner Week." It marked the fiftyth year since the death of the great composer. In line with the idea of giving special consideration to Wagner's works, Mr. Snow played several of his compositions during the regular Chapel Services.

The only deviation from this plan was on Wednesday morning when

REV. A. LUIDENS, REV. B. ROTTSCHAER, AND DR. KUIZENGA SPEAK

During the past two weeks three of the Hope College alumni have returned to address the student body during chapel services.

On Wednesday morning, February 9th, Rev. Anthony Luidens, an alumnus of 1912 and now pastor of the Brighton Reformed church in Rochester, after conducting scripture reading and prayer, delivered an interesting address. Rev. Luidens used the illustration of Jesus healing the blind man, in comparison with life. Life itself is a growing experience of a growing insight. The lesson to be learned is that we should open our eyes to see the world of God and of man and its harmony.

Dr. Kuizenga, an alumnus and formerly a faculty member of Hope College, now a professor in the Theological Seminary at Princeton, led devotions and addressed the faculty and student body on Thursday morning, February 10th. Dr. Kuizenga spoke of the halo of the everyday or the commonplace, the halo of fellowship with God, and the halo of our own consecration. By being faithful in everyday tasks, Dr. Kuizenga concluded, one grips the everlasting verities of God, for the tasks are the means by which God may reveal Himself to us.

The chapel exercises were opened Wednesday morning, February 16th, with a piano solo, "Scherzo," by Mendelssohn, played by Miss Tase. Devotions were led, and a brief address given by Rev. Bernard Rottschaefer, an alumnus of 1906, and now a missionary to India.

Rev. Rottschaefer spoke of India as being a land of contradiction and being filled with contrast upon contrast. He said that only religion will solve the problems of social disability in India. Rev. Rottschaefer concluded his talk with the thought that each student should try to be worthy of Hope College by accepting the best of Christian training through the best of Christian character.

After the address President Wichers, who was celebrating a birthday, was pleasantly surprised by the chapel choir, who sang the well known verse, "Happy Birthday to You."

LOIS DE PREE LEADS WITH TALK ON "TIME FOR LIVING"

"Instead of wasting time finding time for living, we should spend time taking time for living," said Miss Lois De Pree, who spoke on the subject "Finding Time for Living" at a joint Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. meeting February 14.

The meeting was in charge of the girls' organization, differing from the customary way, with the Y.W. president, Miss Julia Walvoord, presiding. Miss Lois Kettel read the Scripture. Music was in charge of the Y.M. organization: John Muijenberg played "Oh Dry Those Tears," and "The End of a Perfect Day."

Last night the meeting was led by Miss Alyce Mansen who talked on "Stories of Hymns."

HISTORIC GRAND HAVEN AND OTTAWA COUNTY

WHAT

Grand Haven Herald Says: GRAND HAVEN'S HISTORY. Leo C. Lillie's "Historic Grand Haven and Ottawa County" is just off the presses. It is an extensive volume which will call for more complete review; but first casual scrutiny invites commendation. Mr. Lillie has given Grand Haven something of which it should be proud. He has taken the rich romance and tradition of the lower Grand river valley and woven it into an interesting and comprehensive story of western Michigan's history.

Providing a background for his story, the author first surveys the whole story of the discovery and settlement of North America from the era of the Norsemen down through the British and French excursions into the Lake regions. From this beginning, Mr. Lillie plunges with a confident pen and understanding knowledge into the local history of his own community. Its beginning as the headquarters for the 20 trading posts of the American Fur company, its growth through the early pioneering years when Rev. William M. Ferry of French ancestry and the Scotchman, Robert Stuart, were leaders, and its prosperity as a lumber town, lake port and industrial center follow.

From the pioneering period of the first Ferry down to the present is a period of nearly 100 years. Saw mills and shingle mills followed the trading posts. Sailing schooners succeeded the Indian canoes. And then, finally, the lumber industries gave way to the present sound prosperity of Grand Haven with steamships pushing the last of the schooners into oblivion.

Mr. Lillie has omitted no detail of romance or value. He has labored with care and has produced a well-written book that has an interest not only for Grand Haven, but for all western Michigan. Grand Rapids may note with regret that it has nothing in its libraries comparable to the Lillie Book.

WHAT

Dr. George N. Fuller, Secretary Michigan Historical Commission Says:

DEAR MR. LILLIE: I have read your volume "Historic Grand Haven and Ottawa County" and find it most interesting and well executed. You have brought together a vast amount of knowledge not otherwise accessible in so compact a form, and you have given commendable attention to careful selection of illustrations. This volume ought to be in every public library of the state and in every home in Ottawa County that can afford to have it.

Very respectfully yours, G. N. FULLER, Secretary, Michigan Historical Commission.

COMMUNICATION

Holland, Mich.

Holland City News, Dear Editor:

Will you kindly give space in your first edition to the following, as I have written it, or as you may wish to rewrite it?

I am receiving many letters from Ottawa county protesting against a sales tax, and strongly advising me to vote against any new method of raising taxes in addition to the $15 per thousand real estate tax.

I am expressing my opinion (and I am sure the opinions of the vast majority of my constituents), by stating, that not one creation of new or additional taxes should be as much as thought of until every state department, and institution and activity has been readjusted to the lowest possible level, without jeopardizing the necessary and essential parts of the state government.

In addition to the matters directly affecting the state, all other governmental units, such as counties, cities, villages and townships must be allowed to make readjustments by amending the state laws, which now in many cases are a barrier.

We are facing an extreme emergency and we should all be warned to effect reductions ranging from 33 1/3 per cent to 50 per cent, plus elimination of everything that is nonessential, or we will very soon fall into the pit of financial destruction.

You may be sure that I will not support any new tax until every effort has been made to reduce all governmental costs to somewhere near the ability of the taxpayer to pay. If it is then absolutely necessary to raise additional finances some system can be put into effect.

It is also my intention to give business, labor and the farmer an opportunity to express themselves at meetings before a final passage is attempted by the legislature. I appreciate letters from my constituents and they will receive a reply just as soon as possible. Write me at Lansing about any problems you may have regarding legislation.

I assure you that I will serve to the best of my ability and for the best interest of my constituents and the state.

I am your representative in the state legislature,
EDWARD BROUWER.

SIXTH REFORMED CHURCH PLAY TO BE REPEATED

The five-act missionary play, "The Honorable Mrs. Ling's Conversion," will be presented for the third time tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock, in Sixth Reformed church. The play was given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and the church was filled to capacity at both presentations.

Because of the large number of requests and the fact that many were turned away the play will be repeated this evening.

The play, which is being given under the auspices of the League for Service, was directed by Mrs. Ernest Penna.

Those participating in the play are Miss Bertha Bosma, Miss Genevieve Ter Haar, Miss Joan Knoll, Miss Kathryn Witt, Miss Alma Vanderbeek, Miss Cornelia Van Voorst, Miss Helen Shank, Bernard Vanderbeek, Leonard Fought, James Barkel, Herbert Vanderploeg, Myra Jane Lemmen, Margaret White and Daniel Elston.

Pelican's Big Appetite

It is interesting to see a flock of pelicans on the wing. They usually fly in single file, and when the leader starts or stops flapping his wings the others follow with mechanical precision.

From three to five white chalk-incrusted eggs are laid by the pelican on its crude, bulky nest. Usually not more than two birds are raised. When the chick breaks shell it is black skinned and the long bill already is noticeable. Within a few weeks the bird is downy white and his faint squawking is brought about by a desire for more fish daily. When he is only three weeks old he must have several pounds of fish daily. And when the young pelican reaches his fifth week he displays a ravenous appetite.—Anthony V. Ragusin, in the New York Herald Tribune.

Distinctive Titles of

Which Cities Are Proud

Pavia, Italy, is called the City of a Hundred Towers, and the name is self-explanatory as is many others. Philadelphia is the City of Brotherly Love; Brooklyn, the City of Churches; New Haven, Conn., the City of Elms. Cairo, Egypt, is the City of Victory, and Limerick, Ireland, the City of the Violated Treaty, so-called because of the frequent infringements of the "Treaty of Limerick" treaty concluded in that city back in 1601.

Medina, Arabia, the city to which Mohammed fled from Mecca in 622, is often spoken of as the City of the Prophet; Calcutta, India, as the City of Palaces.

Back again in the United States, Raleigh, N. C. is referred to as the City of Oaks, and Detroit, the City of Straits, so named from its geographical situation. There are many others, too numerous to mention here, but one more, the National Capital, Washington, is the City of Magnificent Distances on account of its wide avenues and fine vistas.

HEAD OF KROGER CO.

PLEDGES SUPPORT IN PRESENT EMERGENCY

Albert H. Morrill, president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company, has telegraphed Governor Comstock a message of confidence in his management of the banking situation, assuring him that the Kroger company will continue to pay cash to its employees and to those from whom it buys in Michigan.

His message to the governor follows:

"In view of the uneasiness that has been caused by the Michigan bank moratorium, the Kroger company sends you this message of confidence in you and the wisdom of your action and offers its full moral support. Kroger will continue to pay cash to its employees and to those from whom it buys in Michigan. Kroger does 20 per cent of its business and spends $40,000,000 annually for Michigan products and pays annually nearly $5,250,000 to its 3,400 employees in Michigan. It, therefore, is an intimate part of your civic and social life. It wishes to go along with the people of Michigan, sharing their burdens as well as their joys.

"These are times which try men's souls and require courage, strength and determination. But the use of these qualities as you have used them means ultimate stability and prosperity. Every member of the Kroger organization in and out of Michigan stands shoulder to shoulder with the constructive forces which you are leading in Michigan's political, social and civic life."

INDIA and Its Peoples

By Capt. L. R. Cloud Robinson

Baluchistan

THE southern portion of the northwest frontier of India comprises a great tract of territory known as Baluchistan, which forms a rough square bounded by Sindh on the east, Afghanistan on the north and Persia and the Arabian sea on the west and south respectively.

Mr. D. S. de Bray rather aptly describes the physical characteristics of this country as "a chaotic jumble of mud-colored mountains for all the world like a herd of titanic camels." Outside the monsoon area the annual rainfall amounts to only nine inches; consequently, although the land is extraordinarily fertile, productivity is stunted.

The peoples of Baluchistan fit appropriately enough into the somewhat rough setting which nature has provided. Their occupations are simple—chiefly agriculture, camel-driving and stock-raising—and the standard of their civilization is primitive. Made up in the main of Baluchis, Brahuis and Afghans, they are picturesque in appearance and manly in bearing. Trouble is liable to descend upon them at any time from the north where the borderland is infested by wild and lawless tribes; but inter-tribal warfare may be said to be a part of their existence, and their attitude towards their northern neighbors is and has always been one of thinly veiled antagonism, which may at any moment break out into open hostility.

A British officer once asked a party of these borderland tribesmen what their attitude would be in the event of war between Great Britain and Russia. The native replied: "We would just sit up here on our mountain tops watching you both fight, until we saw one of either of you utterly defeated; then we would come down and loot the vanquished until the last mule God is great! What a time that would be for us!" It would indeed for their favorite pastime is raiding and thieving.

The Pashtu-speaking men of the hills of Baluchistan and the northwest frontier are particularly selfish, treacherous, vindictive and cruel. Women without noses are rather common in tribal territory—results of marital jealousy and vindictiveness. The roll of Englishmen who have lost their lives through the treachery of these people is a long one.

CROCODILE BREATHES WHILE PREY DROWNS

The breathing mechanism of the alligator is located so high on its head that this creature can breathe unrestrainedly while holding an animal under the water in its jaws until it drowns. The same is true of the crocodile. Their eyes being similarly located both the alligator and the crocodile can approach their prey almost unnoticed by keeping the rest of their bodies submerged.

Dr. and Mrs. William Weststrate entertained a group of friends at their home on State street Monday evening, the occasion being Dr. Weststrate's birthday. Five tables of bridge were in play. First prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. Geerds and Joe Geerds, while second prizes went to Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren and Everett Spaulding. Dainty refreshments were served. Twenty guests were present.

Elimination of Contestants will be Held at C.S.T.C.

WINNERS OF THE FIRST CONTEST WILL COMPETE IN DETROIT

A few more days and Hope's outstanding orators will battle to secure new laurels for the college. On Friday, March 3, Henry Kuizenga and Vera Holle will travel to Mt. Pleasant and represent Hope in the eliminations of the state oratorical contest.

In the eliminations Hope will meet representatives from Kalamazoo College, Alma, Calvin, Central State, and Michigan State. The women's contest will be held in the afternoon at the First Congregational Church, while the men's combat will take place in the evening. In this contest three men and three women will be selected to oppose the winners of a similar elimination in the state finals to be held one week later.

Vera Holle, Cedar Grove, Wisconsin, is the woman orator to speak under the banner of Hope College. With the unusual ability to compose a good oration, and with the needed voice and speaking manner with which to present her ideas, Miss Holle should be able to give her opponents plenty of competition.

Henry Kuizenga, a local student, will represent Hope in the masculine division of the contest. While in Hope High school, Henry won the County Sunday School Oratorical Contest and during his freshman year in college he was one of the outstanding debaters. Henry's platform appearance, his excellent voice qualities, and his special ability to present his ideas clearly should make him a strong contender for first place. The subject of Mr. Kuizenga's oration is "The Patriot Polestar," or Practical Idealism.

In the near future each orator will deliver his oration in chapel. Then, once again an orator will seek to add to Hope's reputation as a school of born orators. During the past years, Dr. J. B. Nykerk has captured many state championships both in the men's and in the women's division. Last year Harold De Windt and Marie Verduin represented Hope, and both made a good showing. So here's to our orators, we wish you success! Let's go, Hope!

The finals of the Poetry Speaking Contest were held in Dr. Nykerk's room last Thursday afternoon. Of the numerous delightful speakers, all equally effective, Miss Ruth Ver Hey and Elkie Meyer were chosen as Hope's representatives to the Michigan Intercollegiate Poetry Reading Contest. Being a new event in Hope's activities last Thursday's meeting had the added zest of being novel as well as being inspiring and uplifting in character.

The speakers at first showed timidity, but before the last rendition was over, they had released their best efforts in interpretation and expression.

The program was arranged in two groups consisting of two poems in each group:

A. "The Bugle Song" by Alfred Lord Tennyson.
"The World is too much with us" by William Wordsworth.

B. John Milton's "Sonnet on his Blindness."
"My Last Dutchess" by Robert Browning.

Margaret Dregman was the first one to speak. Her serious expression, coupled with clear enunciation did much to make her readings clear and significant. In the second group she attained her height in "My Last Dutchess," which was accurately rendered.

Nella De Haan followed with a somewhat lighter effect on both numbers of the first group. She also was more effective in her presentation of the second group, giving "My Last Dutchess" in a very intelligible manner.

Ruth Ver Hey, the third speaker, was at once at ease and gave a fine rendition in vibrant tones of the first group. But "My Last Dutchess" seemed to be most near her ability in interpretation and the duplicating of Browning's admirable poem was her outstanding selection.

The male group of speakers, led by Harri Zegerius, were less timid and seemed to give an equal degree of expression to their interpretations. Mr. Zegerius gave good expression of his interpretation of the first and a better manifestation of the second.

Elkie Meyer, one of the winners, in deep resonant tones treated each number with equal effectiveness. With deep spiritual meaning he rendered Milton's "Sonnet," but in contrast, with a remarkable change of mood, he turned "The Last Dutchess" into a true portrait as viewed by an egotistical and arrogant duke revealing the worth of his soul.

Sherwood Price, second speaker, displayed fine feeling and good inflection on his first group and duplicated his efforts in his second group. It was not difficult to see that Sherwood deeply appreciated each number he rendered.

Before the winners were announced, each of the judges were asked to say a few words. Dr. Tudor Lanisus, of Grand Rapids Junior College, briefly commented on the merits of the speakers and gave the essential necessities of a good reader, i.e., a well modulated voice ably expressing the thought behind a poem. Dr. Lanisus threw a pun at the Michigan manner of accentuating the "r's" in various words. He asked, "Why can you not close the barn door to prevent it from squeaking?" Closing his talk, he gave a beautiful rendition of a portion of Tennyson's immortal "Guinevere." Dr. Lanisus is the head of the department of English at Grand Rapids Junior College, and has studied annually at Cambridge, England. Miss Evelyn Metz, a Hope graduate, residing in Holland, and Mr. Dwight Packard also of Junior College, added a few words to Dr. Lanisus' talk.

The winners of the contest are Ruth Ver Hey and Elkie Meyer, taking first place, and they are to act as Hope's representatives at Ypsilanti. Second place goes to Margaret Dregman and Sherwood Price, who will probably accompany the winners as alternates. The final contest of the M. O. P. R. contest will be staged on February 24, at 2 P.M., and 8 P.M. Three women and three men will be chosen to speak in the evening. The directors of all the colleges represented will also act as judges. The opening event will be held at the Roosevelt High School Auditorium, one block from McKenny Hall where the afternoon meeting of thirteen colleges will have been held. Holland City's Municipal Plant

Allegan Gazette—Holland is to be congratulated. It owns and operates, and has done so many years, its own light and power plant. Such a plant can be made a most valuable asset to a city. The able manner in which the city administration and board of public works have managed the business make it an outstanding example of successful operation of such plants.

A dispatch to the daily papers under date of Jan. 5 last thus tells the story:

Holland's municipal light and power plant has paid dividends in decreased taxes to owners of property at an average annual rate of $2.74 per $1,000 assessed valuation since 1923, according to a tabulated report issued by the board of public works.

Total amount contributed by the board in nine years was $576,538.34, including $32,975 to be paid Feb. 1. This amount with the exception of $183,970.46 used in the construction of the municipal hospital, was used to reduce the city's bonded indebtedness.

In the last year a reduction of about ten per cent in electric light rates was made, and improvements at the plant within recent years cover an expenditure of more than $300,000, paid out of the income. Gross profits in the electric department since 1894 approximate $2,000,000.

County Democrats After School and Road Commission

In a lengthy resolution the Ottawa county Democrats in convention at Grand Haven, presided over by Attorney Charles Misner, praised Roosevelt, congratulated Gov. Comstock's courageous judgment for his bank ruling, praised Louis J. Vandenburg of Holland for his long, faithful service to the Democratic party, endorsing him as the Fifth District member of the state central committee.

They also endorsed George C. Caball of Zeeland as member of the State Board of Agriculture. They specifically lay stress upon two matters, namely the road commission and were against adding taxes for our schools. The resolution has the following on these two questions:

"Whereas the people of the State of Michigan voted a constitutional amendment strictly limiting the tax which might be raised from real estate, and in so doing clearly expressed themselves as favoring lowered taxes; and whereas certain educational associations, unmindful of such expression of the people, are sponsoring a state-wide distribution of petitions, and urging their approval, calling upon the legislature for additional taxes to be levied almost at random, therefore, we earnestly urge our State Convention when assembled next week to adopt a resolution condemning such or any action so clearly contrary to the expressed will of the people.

"We urge the incoming Board of Supervisors of Ottawa county to resume the powers conferred upon them by the constitution and the statutes and select their own officers and committees and transact their business without the advice and consent of the Ottawa County Road Commission."

The delegates from this vicinity to the convention are Louis Vandenberg, Ernest C. Brooks, John Dykema, Ed Michmerschuijzen, John Damstra, Fred Kamferbeek from Holland, Nick Hoffman, Holland township, William Wentzel, Zeeland. Alternates: From Holland are Harry Kramer, Tony Van den Berg, Bert Haling, Bartal Slag and Fritz Jonkman of Holland, Sally Nash of Port Sheldon, Ben Gelders, Holland township, John Poest of Zeeland township, Ben Kampas of Zeeland City.

Sally Nash, by the way, is the woman who carried Port Sheldon for Roosevelt last November and her name was so publicized throughout the state press.

Charles E. Misner, county chairman, addressed the meeting, calling attention to the methods of selecting the delegates by caucus and urging unity in the county organization that greater achievements be made in Democratic strength. Ottawa county, Republican stronghold for many years, is being watched with interest by Democratic leaders of the state, he said. He told of his close associations with state circles and assured Ottawa county Democrats that their interests were being taken care of.

The Wide Awake Sunday school class of Sixth Reformed church met Friday evening at the home of Miss Mildred Oosterbaan on Holland route 3. YIELD OF FISH FOR 10 YEARS; LAKE MICHIGAN SECOND

The fish yield of the Great Lakes for the 10 years between 1921 and 1931 has totaled in the neighborhood of half a million tons, the United States Bureau of Fisheries reports. Actual figures issued by the bureau for the period, covering the five Great Lakes and including Lake of the Woods, Rainy Lake and Namakan Lake, show a yield of 989,478,000 pounds of commercial fish or 494,736 tons, exclusive of a considerable catch from the Detroit river, St. Clair river and Lake St. Clair.

The catch of commercial fish in 1931, the last year for which a report has been made covering all the Great Lakes, was 91,727,000 pounds; in 1930, 94,948,000 pounds, and in the previous year 85,389,000 pounds. Between 1918 and 1928 it ran from 69,000,000 to 92,000,000 pounds.

The annual catch from Lake Erie runs almost twice as high as from any other of the five Great Lakes; Lake Michigan holds second place in this respect.

Headlines of Yester-Year

Feb. 14, 1918

A young lady, well known in Holland, came to the home of a local pastor from her home in West Olive and told a weird story of a new form of heat that gave the pastor and his family visions of a rapid solution of the fuel problem. According to the young woman's story her father heated bricks to use them as foot-warmers in the sleigh, before making a trip to this city. But the bricks took fire and were put into the kitchen stove. They gave so much heat that they not only heated the room but were hot enough so that the day's ironing could be done with the heat thus secured. Then the bricks were taken out and thrown into a snow bank to extinguish the flame. And after all that they were still used as foot-warmers on the trip to Holland. Most wonderful of all, the bricks came out of their fiery ordeal intact.

Though properly enthusiastic, the local pastor remarked dryly, at the conclusion of the story, "But, my dear girl, you must remember you are now in what is supposed to be a Christian family."

And then came the second installment of the tale, as it were. The bricks had been lying for many months near the West Olive oil tanks and were saturated with oil. The young lady had discovered no new brand of fuel, but it is a fact that oil soaked bricks can supply a great deal of heat.

Blizzards and Birds

February blizzards sweeping through Michigan have probably taken a heavy toll of ground feeding birds—pheasants, quail and game chickens, according to the Game Division of the Conservation Department which is again urging all of those interested in the birds in their locality have sufficient food. So far this winter birds have been especially fortunate the Division said. Little snow combined with the fact that low prices of grain have resulted in the farmers leaving considerable corn in the fields have provided a large source of food. The February blizzards, however, covered much of the available food.

CODFISH LAYS 3,000,000 EGGS

The common codfish, which spawns at this time of the year, normally deposits in the neighborhood of 3,000,000 eggs. By far the greater number of these never hatch, however. Instead they are eaten by other sea creatures.

MARCH BREEDING SEASON FOR THE LEOPARD FROG

Next month is the normal breeding season for the leopard frog, which is one of the first to come out from hibernation in the spring in Michigan. During unusually warm weather for the time of year these frogs have been known to appear as early as February 22.

Members of the Past Matrons' club of the Star of Bethlehem chapter No. 40, Order of Eastern Star, entertained their husbands and guests at a dinner last week, Thursday evening, at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Duren, 24 East Fourteenth street. Preceding the dinner a short business session was held and the "Happy Birthday" song was sung in honor of Mrs. Kathryn Van Duren, who celebrated her eighty-first birthday anniversary on February 2. Twenty-two guests were present.

Mr. Albert Kaechele has been promoted by the Holland Furnace company, in whose employ he has been the past several years in Allegan, to their agency in Sturgis. He will assume his new position about the first of March. Mr. Kaechele regrets leaving Allegan, having found highly agreeable conditions here; and Allegan people are quite as loth to have him go.—Allegan Gazette.

Trout Whales Are Found In Lake Michigan

RAINBOWS AND BROOKS AT-TAIN EXTRA SIZE WHEN THEY MOVE FROM STREAMS TO GREAT LAKES

The recently expressed opinion of Dr. Carl L. Hubbs, director of the Michigan Institute for Fisheries Research that rainbow trout if not taken in the streams when small will move out into the Great Lakes and thus be removed from the trout fisherman's reach, reflects a habit of trout that live in streams flowing into Great Lakes waters, according to the fish division of the conservation department.

Few rainbow trout weighing more than 5 or 6 pounds are ever taken from even the best populated rainbow trout streams in Michigan, while the same species, known in the Great Lakes waters as "steel-heads" will often grow to become 15 to 18 pounds in weight. As these fish grow, the fish division says, they seek more water and more food and will move downstream to the mouth, going into the Great Lakes or the larger inland lakes. While they lose much of the beautiful coloration that covered them in the streams and while they lose much of their game qualities in the more sluggish waters, they often grow to enormous size.

The largest rainbows found in streams emptying into the Great Lakes are probably fish which came up the river to spawn and have not yet returned to the "big water."

A similar situation is true with brook trout and brown trout, the fish division said, although neither of these species are as migratory as the rainbow. Found in the Great Lakes, they are generally not far from the mouth of the streams, but they will average a larger size than those found in the streams, many brook trout taken from the Great Lakes, averaging 5 and 7 pounds in weight.

NOT MUCH ICE FISHING

More than one month of the two-month open season for spearing fish through the ice has passed and the season has been one of great disappointment. Ice conditions have been everything but satisfactory due to the mild days of January. In a number of instances thin ice and strong off-shore winds have caused fishermen to lose their shanties and fishing equipment. In some cases fishermen have been swept out to open water on ice floes, breaking away from shore, necessitating heroic rescue measures. It has been years since Michigan has experienced conditions similar to the past month and unless ice-making weather sets in and stays awhile the spear might just as well be put away.

FUR-BUYERS SOAKED

The maximum sentence permitted under conservation law cases, a fine of $100, was assessed against each of two Chicago men, convicted in Hillsdale county of buying furs in Michigan without the necessary fur-buyer's license. The two men were Irving Gold and Charles Geller, and in addition to paying their fines each paid court costs of $17.72.

MORE SUGAR BEET MEETINGS

Mr. William C. Vandenberg of the Holland Chamber of Commerce who has charge of securing beet acreages for the reopening of the Holland Sugar Beet plant, and A. D. Morley, county agricultural agent of Allegan county, have planned a series of meetings for Allegan county farmers as follows:

Friday, February 24, at 1 p. m., Hopkins City office.

Monday, February 27, at 1 p. m., Martin Elevator, Martin.

Thursday, March 2, at 1 p. m., H. S. auditorium, Fennville.

Monday, March 6, at 1 p. m., Wayland Town hall, Wayland.

Mr. Vandenberg will have contracts with him and will discuss the proposition with the growers. It is believed that sugar beets grown in the right kind of soil and properly cared for will return the farmer more cash than most grain crops this year.

All people who have beet land or have grown beets before should be interested in attending these meetings.

MOURNING CLOAK LIVES ON SAP

The mourning cloak, that sturdy butterfly that comes forth from its winter's hibernation in a woodpile or similarly protected spot very early in the spring, will feed upon the exuding sap of trees before the flowers come. The same butterfly lingers longer after the most of the flowers are gone in the fall, and then it finds the juices of decaying fruits such as apples to its liking.

The board reported having made another survey of property owners on River avenue and those immediately adjacent thereto, and found that the amount of footage represented by those opposing the change was in excess of those favoring the change. The board also gave in their report several reasons why they were opposed to recommending any change at this time. It was moved by Alderman Kleis, seconded by Hyma,

That the action of the appeal board be sustained.

Alderman Jonkman objected and went into detail in explaining the various parcels of land that abutted on River avenue and stated that there was a majority in favor of a reclassification. Mr. Jonkman called upon the city attorney for a ruling in regard to what property owners should have a voice in the matter, that is, if those whose property did not abut upon River avenue should be considered. The city attorney stated that zoning is a city-wide proposition and all are more or less interested in such matters and not only those whose property is subject to change. The attorney further stated that there were two ways of going about making a change in the ordinance: One upon recommendation from the appeal board, and the other upon motion from the council for a change, but in either case it would be necessary to hold a public hearing before any change could be effected. After some further discussion on the matter, a substitute motion was offered by Alderman Jonkman, seconded by Habing,

That the council recommend a public hearing to determine whether the district in question should be rezoned.

A yea and nay vote resulted as follows:

Ayes—Aldermen Prins, Woltman, Steffens, Habing, Huyser and Jonkman—6.

Nays—Aldermen Kleis, Brieve, Hyma, Van Zoeren, Veltman and Van Lente—6.

The mayor decided to sustain the appeal board and voted "no" so the proposition for a hearing was lost.

Clerk presented communication from the hospital board informing the common council of a bequest of $8,000 left to the hospital board by the late Maggie P. Hummer.

Accepted and clerk was instructed to make necessary entries in city records.

What To See In Jamaica

Going to Market With Hand-Made Baskets.

AS ONE approaches Jamaica from the United States his ship rounds South East point, the eastern extremity of the island, and turns its nose westward. On it sails past Port Morant and Yallahs bay, with as fair a palm-studded plain off the starboard rail as you could ever wish to see, guarded in the background by the splendor of the Blue mountains, rising to an ultimate height of nearly a mile and half above the strand.

Then heaves in sight the historic Palisades, that narrow spit which separates Kingston harbor from the Caribbean sea and beyond which lies the capital city of the British West Indies.

As you round the head of the Palisades you view what you may of Port Royal, that vanished city of "battle, murder and sudden death"—well known to us in song and story of pieces of eight, of golden doubloons, and pearls of price plundered from his Spanish majesty's citizens of the New World who followed in the wake of the Great Admiral.

Port Royal is, in good truth, not much to look at today. Port Charles, the coast defense of Kingston, stands there, with its inscription that gives instant pause to visiting feet: "In this place dwelt Horatio Nelson. You who read the footprints, remember his glory." There, also, is the paved platform over which the future hero of Trafalgar so impatiently paced to and fro while, spyglass in hand, he watched with tired young eyes for the dreaded French fleet that was expected to attack Port Royal in 1770.

Once the City of Gold.

Before 1692 Port Royal was the City of Gold. In the words of Henderson: "Bearded seamen, bronzed and weather-stained, but decked with priceless jewelry and the finest silks of the Orient, swaggered along its quays and gambled with the heavy gold coins whose value no one cared to estimate. The drinking shops were filled with cups of gold and silver, embellished with flashing gems torn from half a hundred cathedrals. Each house was a treasure store. The place was a gilded haze, and mammoth held sovereign rings their ears with the costliest gems. Dagger thrusts were as common as brawls, and the body of a murdered man would remain in a dancing room until the dancing was over. Gold and precious stones were cheap, but life was cheaper. And every man in that crowd of pirates lived beneath the shadow of the gallows."

This was not to go on forever, for these pirates counted without the law of compensation and retribution. On June 7, 1692, with the council of the island in session, a tremendous earthquake shook Port Royal "from turret to foundation stone." In the council minutes describing the catastrophe it is reported that "in the space of two minutes all of the churches, the dwelling houses, and sugar works of the whole island were thrown down; two-thirds of Port Royal swallowed up by the sea; all its forts and fortifications demolished, and a great part of its inhabitants miserably either 'knocked on the head or drowned.'"

A brief sail takes one's ship from old Port Royal to the dock at Kingston, the Jamaican capital, born of Port Royal's misfortune. For after the second great earthquake at Port Royal in 1692, followed by disasters of fire and hurricane, its people, fearing further revolt of Mother Earth, moved to the mainland and established a Kingston, with its great harbor, nine miles long and about two miles broad.

Kingston is the center of island activity from the standpoint of both government and business. The streets are clean, well ordered, and dotted with traffic officers, for even in this Garden of Eden the fiery gasoline steed races its way about. The shops are many and varied, and those catering to the white trade have excellent qualities of merchandise, home-grown as well as imported, from England. There is no bargaining in these emporiums, for the prices are fixed and fair and you are waited upon by grave-miened colored clerks who have all the suavity and dignity of a Regent street draper. It is a different story, however, in the cheaper stores, for in this stratum bargaining seems to be the natural order.

Visitors in foreign climes usually feel it necessary to visit the market place; why, no one really knows, but here it is worth while. The market women are a cheery lot, and while displaying their small stock of really tropical products—pepper pods, cocoa, sour sops, breadfruit, mango, pimento, and "Jackass rope," as native tobacco is termed, together with a score of fruits and vegetables unknown except by name to the Northern visitor—they carry on a cross-fire of good humor. They can spot a Yankee with the eye of a sharpshooter, and will smilingly assert that they "love America" and that you would "look most handsome in one of the fine Jipijapa straw hats."

All sorts of strange things are offered here, from a shark's backbone strung on metal and turned down until it is fashioned into a cane, lace bar whips—the butt and long-plaited lash made from one piece of wood—to dagger-work fans, coolie bangles and fern albums, and few visitors can long resist the salesmanship of the native Jamaican in her own market.

A Ride into the Suburban Region.

The duty of seeing the market over, it is a joy to step into a "buggy," as the horse-drawn taxi is locally known, and ride out into the suburban area, where the odors of tropical fruits and flowers and the songs of brightly colored birds are welcome after the turmoil of the marts of trade, and if interested in human nature one can learn much of the humble life of the island by encouraging his Jehu to talk. He is generally willing if you don't make fun of him or his island home.

We pass the lordly Myrtlebank hotel, fronting on the beautiful harbor, with its tropical architecture, its enticing gardens, shade, and creature comforts—both liquid and solid—and presently are driving up South Camp road. What lovely little villas and bungalows, each with its own rose-embowered gate and its own winsome name! Far ahead rises Blue mountain peak, back of you the azure Caribbean, to your right a broad marine plain, and to your left the white and green capital city.

The sunshine is hot, but the doctor comes valiantly to your relief. Don't know the doctor? Well, every Jamaican loves him. For he is the fresh wind that blows from the sea to the Blue mountains every day—a sort of perpetual electric fan, whose breezes temper the white sunshine. At night the undertaker takes the doctor's place—a cooling wind from the mountain. But the undertaker deserves no such inglorious name.

One does not drive around the environs of Kingston very long without noticing that most of the inhabitants are negroes. Even then he is hardly prepared for the statement that of the 800,000 inhabitants of the island only 15,000 are white people.

Both statistically and socially the negroes are subdivided into blacks and "colored," the former being of pure negro blood and the latter having an admixture of white blood.

Of the nonwhites 100,000 are of mixed blood and 600,000 are of native African descent. The former hold the minor white-collar jobs in the island because most of them have a better education and appearance than their ebony brethren.

Yet, for all the disproportion of nonwhites, the white population governs. The British have very cleverly solved the situation which once threatened to overturn things in the island. They let the negroes have a certain representation in the legislative council, but rest the final control in the hands of the whites so thoroughly that British rule is never menaced.

County of Ottawa

The Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa in Chancery.
In the matter of the petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the petition of the Auditor General of the State of Michigan praying for a decree in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.
It is ordered that said petition will be brought on for hearing and decree at the February term of this Court, to be held at Grand Haven, Mich., in the County of Ottawa, State of Michigan, on the 26th day of February, A. D. 1933, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a decree will be taken and entered as prayed for in said petition. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said decree the lands described in said petition for which a decree of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such decree, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the County of Ottawa, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the decree shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if, on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. Fred T. Miles, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Ottawa County this 6th day of December, A. D. 1932.

ANNA VAN HORSSEN, Deputy Clerk.
FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.
STATE OF MICHIGAN

To the Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa in Chancery:

The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands heretofore set forth and marked "Schedule A," contains a description of all lands in said County of Ottawa upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows to the Court that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 266 of the Public Acts of 1893, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for taxes of 1890 or prior years were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 266 of the Public Acts of 1891, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1890 or of any prior year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been heretofore sold for said delinquent taxes and the sale or sales so made have been set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as set forth in said "Schedule A," are a valid lien on the several parcels of lands described in said schedule.
Your petitioner further shows that the said taxes on the said described lands have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same being unpaid due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.
And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated December 5, 1932.

ORAMEL B. FULLER,
Auditor General of the State of Michigan,
for and in behalf of said State.

SCHEDULE A

A list of the lands referred to as included in "Schedule A" is on file in the office of the County Clerk and subject to public inspection.

Sing Sing prison has so many tamed birds that an imprisoned architect is now supervising the construction of a circular birdhouse of stucco and wood to cost for 10 cents. The birds belong to the institution and there are a good many singers and handsome ones among them. There are several parrots. The birdhouse is nearly forty feet in diameter and provision will be made to accommodate 1,000 birds.

"Herd Habit" Strong in Minds of All Russians

The Russian's proneness to regimentation is a mental habit, arising from centuries of living less in a society than in a cultural herd; it is undoubtedly one cause for his emotional acceptance of the Soviet regime.

I saw a pretty symbol of this trait, one evening at the opera in Moscow, says Waldo Frank, writing in the New Republic. During the entrance, the audience (workers, students, petty officials) went into the foyer. Quite unconsciously, they fell into line and began to circle round and round the large hall in order!

Because of these inherent Russian traits, the intellectuals and the intellectual arts of the U. S. S. R. are in a peculiarly dangerous position under a proletarian dictatorship which encourages (and makes effective) the habits of the masses.

Really Had Told Truth
A Chinese gardener sold a horse to a farmer, and during the transaction he repeatedly said: "Horse no look well, but plenty pull."

It was subsequently discovered that the animal was blind, and, incensed at being taken in by a Chinese, the purchaser took John to court.

"Did you know the horse was blind?" asked the magistrate.

"Oh, yeh, I know long tam," John replied.

"Then why didn't you tell him so?" the magistrate demanded.

"I tell him plenty tam horse no look well."

That being admitted, the case was dismissed.

City of Venice Unique

Venice is at the head of the Adriatic sea, between the mountains and the sea. The whole of the plain has been formed by the debris swept down from the Alps by rivers. In the process of time some of these banks, as in the case of Venice, raised themselves above the level of the water and became the true shore line, while beyond them lay large lagoons formed down by the rivers and partly by the salt water tide which found its way in at the channels of the river mouths. On a group of these mud banks about the middle of the lagoon stands the city of Venice. The soil is an oozy mud which can only be made suitable for erecting buildings by the artificial means of pile-driving.

Sunny Dispositions

A sunny disposition is a gift from God. There are many whose minds are filled with gloomy thoughts, and who look on the dark side of everything. Such people cannot radiate sunshine until they fill their minds with the brighter, happier thoughts. This is not an easy matter, for when gloomy thoughts receive encouragement to remain, it is hard to displace them with more cheerful ones. If we go persistently to work to cultivate a sunny disposition, our efforts will at length be rewarded, and we shall be the possessors of a bright, sunny and cheerfulness scarcely distinguishable from that bestowed as a natural gift.—A. L. Griggs.

Monkeys Are Mimics

The monkey always has been a notorious mimic. Since first becoming acquainted with man, his favorite diversion has been the imitation of human actions and mannerisms. The very expression "aping a person" has come to mean mimicking him. The dog has been called man's truest friend, but the monkey is his best imitator. The movie producers have capitalized upon the propensity of the ape and have filmed pictures with all-simian casts. Every character has been a chimpanzee, or a monkey actor has been a chimpanzee, or an orang-outang.

Hope Five Beats Kazoo by 42-30 Score At Home

In the Holland Armory, February 10th, Coach Hinga's quintet defeated Kalamazoo College by the score of 42 to 30. This is the first defeat Hope has handed to Hinga's Alma Mater either in football or basketball since Hinga has coached at Hope.

Korstanje, center of Hope, started the scoring by sinking a field goal from the foul line district. During the first half both teams were playing tip-top basketball, making their passes snappy, and their shots accurate. At the end of the first half the score was 21 to 9, with Hope coming out on the top.

Kriekard, Warner, and Hachadarian, captain of the Celery city's team, started the scoring which enabled this team to get off at a better pace. Coach Hinga substituted freely, giving the new boys of his team a chance to prove their worth. Tyse and Boven both proved assets to the local team. Captain Dalman proved to be a good scoring power in this game. Steffens remained to sink his corner shots. Semancy of the visiting five, proved his worth by his speedy and well placed passes. This game gave the Holland fans a treat and it fulfilled Hinga's wish, that he might defeat the college from which he graduated.

First "Medal of Honor"
The first Congressional medal of honor was awarded to Capt. Thomas Truxton on March 26, 1800. On March 17 in that year Mr. Parker observed in the house of representatives that information had been received of a very gallant action having occurred between a frigate of the United States of 38 guns, commanded by Commodore Truxton, and a French vessel of 52 guns. He stated that it was not usual to grant emoluments on account of any past gallant action to our officers, but that it was common and consistent to grant approbation. He also stated that in other countries monuments were erected in cases of this kind. As already indicated, congress approved of his suggestions and the medal was awarded.

Cousinly Relationship
If one starts out right, the reckoning of cousin relationship is really quite simple. A cousin is one collateral relative by descent from a common ancestor, but not a brother or sister. Children of brothers and sisters are first cousins to one another. The children of first cousins are second cousins to one another; children of second cousins are third cousins to one another, and so on. The child of one's first cousin is a first cousin once removed; the grandchild of one's first cousin is a first cousin twice removed, and so on. And vice versa, the cousin of one's father or mother is a first cousin once removed, etc.
