Local Furniture Man Passes 80th Birthday

JAS. A. BROUWER HAS BEEN CLOSELY IDENTIFIED WITH ENTERPRISE, EDUCATIONAL AND RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS.

As a Youth He Walked Eight Miles to and from the Church.

Undoubtedly one of the most respected and highly esteemed men in this city, namely James A. Brouwer, celebrated his eightieth birthday Tuesday, at his home at 54 East Twelfth street, surrounded by his children and intimate relatives. The pioneer merchant who has spent 62 years in the business harness and is still "going strong," experienced a happy day when his four score years was commemorated by his loved ones.

Mr. Brouwer was born in Holland in 1854 on what was then known as Main and Cedar streets, now College avenue and Eighth street. His parents came from The Netherlands in 1848, arriving a year and a half after Dr. Van Raalte had settled at the head of Black lake.

The Brouwers built their first home on the above named location, the house later being burned when a cluster of stores were swept away, together with this dwelling. On the ashes another home was built, which a few years later was again burned in the fire of '71. The news has repeatedly given the story of how fire swept into the city from the burning woods during an intensely dry fall, the third blaze starting back of the Third church, sweeping on, checked by public square, now Centennial park, sweeping on through River street and Main street, burning out at the swamps to the north and stopping at a small house where the Holland theater now stands. Thus, the second home belonging to the Brouwer family, was burned.

Later a cottage was built on the same spot by James A. Brouwer, and when the family grew up Mr. Brouwer built a pretentious home on East Ninth street near College avenue. Later he built the stone structure where Mrs. Brouwer and he spent many happy years until she passed away recently.

Mr. Brouwer was an untiring worker in his church and is even until this day. He relates that as a lad he walked with his parents from their home on the Grand church on the hill, a distance of eight miles, forth and back. He also remembers a little church built by the wife of an innkeeper who conducted a tavern and a grocery on the site of the First State bank. This was a Mrs. Knoll and these were the days when liquor was sold like syrup alongside of the cracker and sauer kraut barrels. Mr. Brouwer and his parents also attended this little church. This church was located on the home site of the late "Case" Vinke.

Later Mr. Brouwer became identified with what is now the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church. The present consistory building was built up from a wing of the old Union school, partially burned 55 years ago, shortly after which the big Central school was built, now Foebel. From this humble beginning one of the largest churches in the city was erected and during that time Mr. Brouwer has had much to do with the upbuilding of that congregation. When the preaching in the Dutch language hampered in bringing religion to the children, Mr. Brouwer and his family became affiliated with the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church.

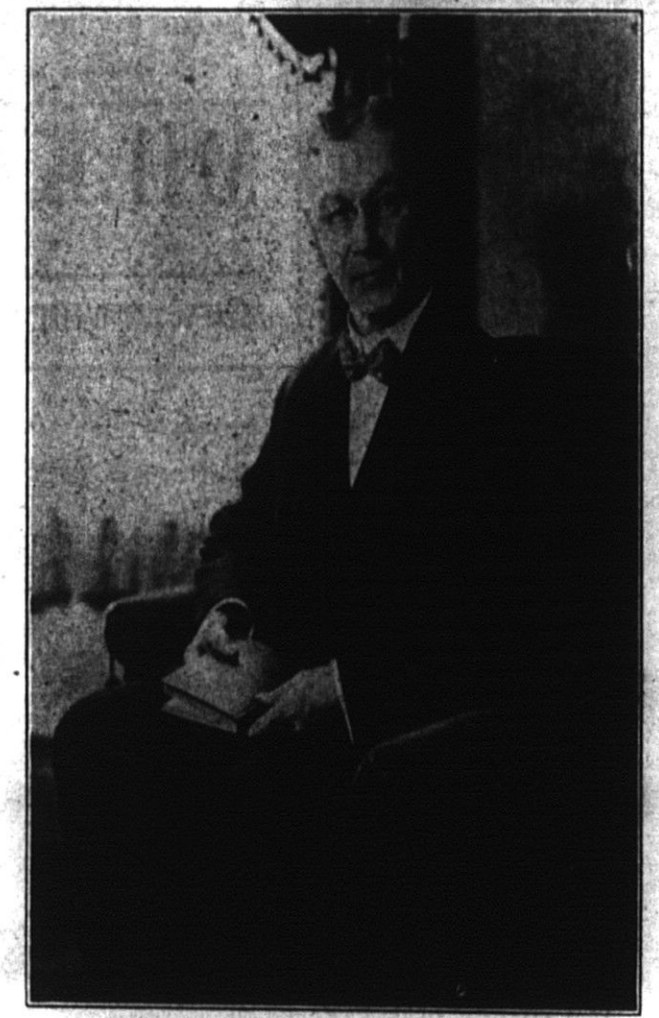

Coming back to the burning of their home in '71 the family was left homeless and resided with Mr. and Mrs. Sakkers. Mr. Sakkers being a builder of furniture, and here is where young Mr. Brouwer learned the intricacies of cabinet making and artistic furniture.

These were the days of solid black walnut and I believe Mother Mulder still has one of those beautiful mirrors but solid, heavy drawers with two little ones at the top for trinkets. Being well equipped to enter the furniture business, Mr. Brouwer began his career at 18. In July, 1872, he became affiliated with Meyer, Dykhuys & Company. In January, 1873, the name of the firm was changed to H. Meyer & Company. Mr. Brouwer being the silent partner. In 1881 another change took place and the firm name became Meyer, Brouwer & Company. Albert H. Meyer, now celebrated music store man, buying an interest in the firm of which his father was the head. Their rather small store of 19x40 feet became inadequate to accommodate the trade, and 30 feet was added to the rear, with a store room to the west. In 1890 there was a dissolution in business, Mr. Meyer and son taking over the music and sewing machine department and Mr. Brouwer continuing in the sale of furniture and wall paper. Meyers moved across the street in what is now the John Y. Huizenga building.

Mr. Brouwer also utilized the second floor of what was known as the Elferdink building as a show room, the Elferdinks conducting a shoe store on what was then River street. The Elferdink property was purchased in 1893 and in 1899 Mr. Brouwer erected the stone structure at 212-214 River avenue, this brick building then having a 40-foot front by 76 feet deep. The building of this store was rather a unique undertaking for those times. The brick building was erected within 60 days after the start was made. The furniture was moved in one day to the Hunley building, what is now the Colonial theater. On the evening of that day the old building had been razed and the next day excavation started for the new structure, and two months afterwards moving back to the new store began.

This already large furniture company took over another building to the south known as the Van Dyke building on the corner of Ninth and River, once used as a hardware store by Van Dyke & Company.

FORMER MAYOR STEPHAN LOOKS AFTER CLOSED BANKS

The United States government has appointed a committee in Ottawa county having to do with the liquidation of deposits in closed banks in this county. In each county a banker, a farmer and a business man is appointed on that committee. Mr. Stephan is the business man, D. H. Rymer is the farmer and Frank Scholten of Spring Lake is the banker.

Mr. Stephan has been getting a great many of these positions, "labors of love," accepted for patriotic reasons, but whether there is any remuneration here Mr. Stephan did not know.

Muskrat Trapping Season Successful

One Michigan fur buyer reported the purchase of 88,000 muskrat pelts taken in the state during the fall of 1933 as compared with a purchase of but 45,000 pelts in 1932. This, the Department of Conservation cites as one of the indications that the 1933 trapping season was one of the most successful, if not the most successful, experienced in Michigan for three years.

Higher prices paid for furs, particularly muskrat pelts, are thought to have been responsible for the large number of trappers in the field and to have stimulated the latter to work harder than usual. Another favorable influence was the ideal trapping conditions that prevailed until near the end of the trapping season.

ZEELAND'S NEW CITY HALL

(Courtesy Zeeland Record)

Our neighbor, Zeeland, is planning a regular jubilee lasting three days when their city hall is dedicated with a program Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. In behalf of the citizens of Zeeland the mayor and common council have extended an invitation to Holland city fathers, city officials and newspaper men.

At last night's council meeting Mayor Bosch and all the aldermen present accepted the invitation with a "whoop."

The invitation from Zeeland follows:

Mr. Mayor and Members of the Common Council, Holland, Michigan: Gentlemen: Zeeland's new city hall, a building of which every citizen is justly proud, will be dedicated on February 28, and March 1 and 2.

The first day will be devoted to our friends from the surrounding community; the second will bring former and present residents of our city together, and the third day the city will be host to the citizens and officials of our neighboring cities and villages.

On the third day the city hall will be open for inspection by the citizens of your city or village, and in the evening the committee has planned a get-together smoker for the officials of the municipalities of our county.

You are cordially invited to be with us at this smoker and hope that you will be able to arrange to spend this evening with us in a spirit of good fellowship.

Sincerely,
JOHN H. DE PREE,
Mayor.
G. J. VAN HOVEN,
Clerk.

Zeeland has quite a pretentious city hall that will take care of all the city offices as well as a place for the fire trucks. There is a commodious council room and everything is up to the minute, even the lighting arrangements.

The program will start off with a bang at exactly 12 o'clock Wednesday noon, February 28, Every rural resident in this vicinity is invited to pile his family into his automobile and be on hand at the city hall. He is also asked to tell

UNCOMMON BIRDS SEEN IN MICHIGAN THIS WINTER

PINE AND EVENING GROS-BEAKS ARE RARE TREAT FOR NATURE LOVERS

"More winter birds are visiting Southern Michigan during January and February than we have seen for several years," reports Dr. Josselyn Van Tyne, ornithologist for the University of Michigan Museum at Ann Arbor.

Among the uncommon birds reported this month is the pine grosbeak, which was seen north of Lansing, and also near Toledo. While this bird visits the Upper Peninsula rather regularly every winter, it does not come south of Lansing more than once in a dozen years. Usually it prefers regions where conifers are abundant, since much of its food consists of buds of pine, spruce and tamarack.

"The first real flight of evening grosbeaks we have seen since 1930," is the manner in which Dr. Van Tyne describes the numerous reports of these birds. Ornithology classes at Michigan State College, East Lansing, were first to notice their presence, and this discovery was reported on the "Fields and Streams of Michigan" page of the Detroit Free Press on Jan. 7. Since then, several reports have been received of the birds being seen near Detroit. More recently, Mrs. R. T. Ford, of Alto, and Charles Corbin, of Grand Rapids, both in Kent county, have seen evening grosbeaks.

Snowy owls and rough legged hawks have been seen as far south as Ann Arbor. The hawks were observed by Dr. Van Tyne, Harry Hann and R. E. Olsen, of Ann Arbor, report seeing a red breasted nuthatch—one of the most variable birds we have with respect to winter residence. In the summer it is a common resident in the northern part of the state, where it nests in tamarack swamps and hemlock forests.

Redpolls have been seen as far south as Toledo this winter, which is rather uncommon for that bird.

Private Folks Can't Plant or Transfer Fish

Transfer of fish from one lake or stream to another, releasing unused bait into public waters or unauthorized planting of any species of fish in any waters under the jurisdiction of the state is now illegal in Michigan, the Conservation Department is warning.

The last session of the state legislature included in its general fishing laws a provision that no fish might be placed in any waters without a specific permit from the Conservation Department except when furnished by the state or federal government. So far, it was reported, no permits have been applied for.

The law was adopted to prevent introduction and spread of undesirable species. Unthinkingly, persons having a surplus of live bait which often includes noxious or undesirable species, dump them when they are through fishing.

In the past goldfish, carp, dogfish and other so-called noxious fish have been placed in waters where they were not previously observed, it was said, to the detriment of game fish.

The law likewise will prohibit the transfer of any species of fish from one water for introduction in another such as smelt taken in spawning runs. People enthusiastic over a certain species often like to bring them closer home and subsequently attempt their introduction without knowledge of the limiting factors favoring the establishment or their effect on other species already present.

Anton Seif, Holland's pioneer brewer before the eighteenth amendment, is critically ill at his home on West Tenth street at the age of 89. The brewery of Mr. Seif was located on Tenth street and Maple avenue.

It does not visit the southern parts of Michigan so often as the northern, and its presence in the southern counties is a real treat to bird lovers.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Nine hundred and fifty-seven dollars has been subscribed to the fund for the re-establishment of theological instruction at Hope College. Note: The Western Theological Seminary is the outgrowth of this college department and is now an institution aside but closely allied with Hope College.

Our butchers have formed a combination and the prices of Porterhouse steaks will be 15 cents per pound instead of 10 cents per pound.

Wires are being put up for the telephone line between Allegan and the outside world. A new exchange is also being established in Holland.

There was a skating contest at the roller skating rink and one event in particular was a challenge between John J. Coppon and John Doesburg for the most "graceful skating." The audience voted and the honors went to Mr. Coppon by a very narrow margin. Both young men are fine skaters. There was a similar contest the night before but the judges could not decide until the evening following when T. M. Clark was chosen.

The "Star Temperance Society" of young folks completed its organization last Monday evening. The following were named officers: President, Austin Harrington; vice-president, Miss Anna M. Osborne; Secretary, Miss Anna M. Osborne; Treasurer, Miss Ursula Harrington; Secretary, Zenas W. George; chaplain, Rev. T. T. George of M. E. church; marshal, Frank Walsh; deputy marshal, Charles Osborn; executive committee, Wesley Cronkright, Gunder Anderson, Miss Hannah Peterson; literary committee, Miss S. A. Smith, Mrs. A. M. Osborne, and Henry Cronkright.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The annual fancy dress party of the Woman's League of U. of M. at Ann Arbor at which no mere man is ever admitted, took place Monday evening. It was in the nature of a Valentine ball and the grand march was led by Miss Katherine Post of Holland as "Queen of Hearts" and Miss Lona Tinkham of Ann Arbor as "Forget-Me-Not." The feature of the evening was a Maypole dance in which the ribbons were wound by co-eds masquerading as fairies.

John Beintema, a local fireman, sustained a fractured shoulder blade while trying to board a truck on its way to a fire in the Arend Visser home "on the hill." The loss by fire to the Visser home is nearly $5,000.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rutgers—Sunday—a daughter.

Miss Alyda Ver Schure, age 36, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dingenis Verschure, 151 W. 12th St. She taught for several years in the Laketown school. The cause of her death was typhoid. The funeral was held from Third Reformed Church, Rev. E. J. Blekkink officiating.

Molenaar and DeGoede have moved into their new store at 46 East 8th St.

In about a month Lincoln will be in every pocket. The government is making pennies with the emancipator's head in them. Note:

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Through the persistent efforts of Deputy Sheriff Sam Leonard and Health Officer A. Leenhouts the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Harkema, 168 West 10th St., was thoroughly scrubbed and the furniture, what there was of it, buried. The place was a sight to behold and would compare favorably with a hog's pen. "Cleanliness next to Godliness"—was not. Note: This Harkema family with one son was the most unusual family Holland has ever known. A volume could be written about them—not a very pretty story. But the trio have long since passed—so let it pass.

Henry Wordhuis of Holland, who was going to drive to East Saugatuck on business, had his feet badly scorched. He put a foot warmer in the buggy, which set fire to his clothing. Wordhuis formerly owned the "Hub Grocery" on River St. He will recover.

Henry Schrotenhoer of Fillmore sold his farm of 60 acres to G. and W. Alofs for $5,580. Note: Sixty acres for that sum must be some farm.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Eleven arrests were made by Chief Van Ry's men for riding "bikes" on sidewalks. The names are all given, some rather prominent. The police intend to stop riding sidewalk wheel riding when they get their feet on the pedals. Besides giving them a bad scare, make them dodge "seven different ways." Note—Since Holland is 100 per cent paved there are no violations along these lines. No arrests have been made because wheelsmen carried no lights. This was for their own safety and necessary with the advent of the motorcar.

Ex-Mayor John VanderSluis was agreed surprised at a Third Reformed church congregational social. The faithful choir director was presented with a purse of $102. He had been director for more than a score of years. Ex-Mayor Henry Geerlings made the presentation when he drew from his pocket an envelope well filled with money. "Van" suggested that the purse be divided with the members of the chorus, but the members absolutely refused such a program. When making his "thank you" talk the director was noticeably affected.

Lieut. Raymond Vischer has returned from war service. He has been in New York a greater part of the time, serving as directed by the war department, after leaving Washington, D. C. He will continue his law practice in Holland. Sgt. John Bremer of Holland is not over with war duties. He has been assigned to the Army of Occupation on the Rhine. A letter states that he has not received a letter from "Home" in some time. In his letter he writes, "I am living in the parlor of a nice German home. These people treat us better than did the French." The column letter is very interesting, telling of the bravery of his pals, mostly forgetting his part in the conflict.

Hon. Joe B. Hadden, former state senator, elected on the "Bully Moose" ticket, the party of "Teddy R." took in the Lincoln banquet as a regular Republican again.

"Old Tar" Passes After Many A Lake Voyage

HOLLAND MAN ONCE SAVED PAL BY TYING UP RUDDER OF BOAT

Word has been received in Holland that John Woltman, for many years a lake captain, died in Chicago where he had lived for twenty years, working in a shipyard. Old timers will remember that Mr. Tom Woltman formerly lived on the Lake Shore, and had three sons, Harm, John and Jake. John passing away last Saturday.

John was the owner and captain for some time of the two-masted schooner "Little Wonder," in the lumber trade most of the time plying between northern ports and Holland.

The "Little Wonder" was first owned by Captain Al Bolhuis and Joe Fixter. Joe formerly conducted a large stove mill covering a quarter of a block on the present site of the Scott-Lugers Lumber company and the ship generally run in the slip there.

It is reported that Woltman once saved a man, a deck hand, while the "Wonder" was leaving South Chicago—a fellow by the name of Harry Klaveringa. Both men sailed the schooner, and they were the only men aboard. A brisk breeze had blown up during the night and Harry fell overboard. There wasn't much sea kicking up at that time so Woltman tied the wheel "hard on," "luffed" the schooner in the wind, untied the yawl at the stern, and leaving the ship sail by itself in circles, Captain Woltman sculled the boat to the man who had been swimming about in hopes that some aid would soon reach him.

Woltman sailed with Captain "Baas" Van Ry, father of Frank Van Ry, on the R. Kanters, a large two-masted schooner sailing from this port, when former Chief Van Ry was mate.

Harm Woltman, the brother of John Woltman, at one time owned the schooner "McGregor" and the father, Tom, owned the "Mary" and the "Antahrus," sailing from this port in the very early days.

That was in the days when the head of the bay appeared like a veritable forest of masts.

Some idea can be formed of the "windjammer" days from the picture on this page.

Mr. Woltman was a cousin of the late Sheriff Woltman and also of Dr. W. E. Winter, Prof. Egbert Winter and Henry Winter, all of Holland. Mrs. George Hunter and Mrs. Hub Boone are also cousins.

H. J. HEINZ COMPANY TAKING PICKLE CONTRACTS

Mr. J. A. Hoover of the H. J. Heinz Co. said that the company is now taking pickle contracts for delivery to the Holland plant. Farmers may secure contracts and seed by calling at the Holland factory office.

WANT GAME FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

The crack Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. team of Grand Rapids has an open date on Saturday night and would like to play some good team in Holland this week, Saturday evening. Call up the firm in Grand Rapids, asking for Mr. Stuart, and reversing the charges.

RUSSELL RUTGERS MOVES TO VANDER VEEN BUILDING

Russell Rutgers, custom tailor, who had the misfortune of being burned out on College avenue, has moved to the second floor of the Vander Veen building on River avenue and Eighth street, where he will conduct his tailoring.

The rooms have a celebrated history. It is here where the late Hon. G. J. Diekema, minister to The Netherlands, started his law practice. It is here where George E. Kollen, prominent attorney, began practicing law.

Your editor as a lad of 20 conducted the Holland City News in that building for one year—that was 42 years ago. The following year the News moved in the next building which was under construction and has been there ever since. Isaac Kouw conducted real estate and insurance in those quarters for years.

That site was the headquarters for the first locksmith and hardware store and continued to be used for that purpose until the Corner hardware moved on River avenue a year ago.

VACATION IN SCHOOL

Institute meetings will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Sessions in Holland will be in the high school auditorium.

Vacation in Holland public and rural schools for three days—Friday, Saturday, and Sunday so that teachers can attend institute.

I AM NOT A CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR

I wish to thank these friends for their thoughtfulness, however, I must at this time decline the honor or they have endeavored to bestow upon me.

Thank you,
E. P. STEPHAN.

LOCAL EMPLOYEES OF H. J. HEINZ CO. GATHER

In the neighborhood of 325 employees of the Holland plant of the H. J. Heinz Co. are dining tonight at the Masonic temple. The occasion is a spread honoring the "57 club." The dinner started at 6:30 this evening and the place was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

J. R. Bechtel of the home office at Pittsburgh is slated to give the main address of the evening.

Mr. J. A. Hoover is scheduled to give the address of welcome. An excellent menu has been provided and a program of 18 numbers is being given this evening. Undoubtedly it will be a substantial affair for that is the way the H. J. Heinz Company and its employees do things.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISSIONARIES IN AFRICA

Mr. and Mrs. J. Breen, 245 West Fifteenth street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nelle Breen, to Edgar H. Smith of London, England.

Mr. Smith, like Miss Breen, is a missionary in Africa, working under the Sudan United Mission board.

Aldermen Have New Slant On Proposed Dock

SINCE KLEIN NEDERLAND IS DEAD, MAKE MUNICIPAL DOCK LIVE

The council by their action recently killed off any chance of having the River bottoms transformed into a Klein Nederland. Therefore, the aldermen unanimously passed last evening, a resolution by the ways and means committee that may give new life to our municipal dock project.

WHEREAS, pursuant to instruction, our municipal dock committee was authorized to select a suitable dock site and prepare tentative plans and an estimate of a dock suited to our needs, with the understanding that the project would be financed by PWA and/or CWA funds, and

WHEREAS, your committee has been advised that CWA funds will not be available for such a project and your committee has been advised that the state advisory board has instructions from Washington to accept no further applications for PWA loans, and

WHEREAS, we have on file at Washington, application for a PWA loan for the Black River flats reclamation project at the estimated cost of $350,000, while the estimated cost of the proposed municipal dock is $250,000, exclusive of land which the city now owns, and this council has, by resolution, declined to proceed with the Black River flats reclamation project because of certain preliminary costs and other reasons, now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the city clerk be and is hereby authorized to request the public works administration for the withdrawal of the Black River flats reclamation project application and to urge the public works administration to permit the substitution of the municipal dock project, and that it be given the order of priority held by the application that is being withdrawn, and that a copy of this resolution, together with necessary plans, be submitted to the United States engineer's office at Milwaukee with the request that a permit be granted for the construction of this project, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that an application for a self-liquidating loan for the municipal dock project be prepared, with all possible haste and filed with the public works administration, with the understanding that it be not a general obligation of the city.

BERT HAHN,
PETER HUYSER,
NEIL DE COOK.

Mrs. Sears R. McLean of 274 Maple avenue, Holland, who is charged with exceeding the speed limit in Zeeland, will appear before Justice M. Barne Saturday for trial. Mrs. McLean is said to have pleaded not guilty and will contest the charge.

Mrs. Lillian Van Eyck, Mrs. A. Van Raalte, Mrs. Agnes G. Callan and Mrs. Rose Kramer have returned from Chicago.

Holland Is Not Ready For A Police Judge

PETITION ASKS COUNCIL TO RELIEVE THEM FROM TAX PENALTIES

Holland Is to Fight Tax Judgment of Judge Vanderwerp.

Last night's council meeting was a very interesting one, the mayor and common council working together harmoniously and constructively. Many matters came up that are of grave importance to the city. City Attorney Lokker explained the decision of Judge Vanderwerp of Muskegon, where, he states that Holland must pay the $40,000, state taxes collected by the city treasurer that became impounded funds. The details of the suit are found in a column article elsewhere in this paper.

Anyway the city attorney and the mayor and common council were surely not satisfied with that decision. The matter is to be taken up to the supreme court. City Attorney Lokker and Attorney Elbern Parsons have been ably handling this case and both Mr. Lokker and Mr. Parsons appeared before the council and explained why this should be taken up.

Mr. Parsons, who was given the floor, said that with all due respect to Judge Vanderwerp, he advises that the case be carried up for the reason that there has been no decision by a supreme court anywhere. The matter is to be taken up to the supreme court. City Attorney Lokker and Attorney Elbern Parsons have been ably handling this case and both Mr. Lokker and Mr. Parsons appeared before the council and explained why this should be taken up.

Mr. Parsons stated that such money might be lost through earthquake, through fire or by public enemy. The city treasurer might have taken the money to Grand Haven, be waylaid and killed and the money stolen and in that case Holland would not be responsible. The treasurer took supposedly the safest course through a draft on the bank, 3 days before this bank was closed. Therefore, the attorneys, the mayor and common council, the city satisfied and as the mayor put it "we are entitled to a better break and we want to thank Mr. Parsons and Mr. Lokker for their thorough explanations."

The following communication was sent to the common council and signed by 57 taxpayers, which is self-explanatory:

"It is now the practice of the city treasurer to charge a 4 per centum collection fee and a 4 per centum interest rate on unpaid summer tax when it is recharged on the fall tax roll. All of which is according to the city charter."

"The financial condition of the Holland taxpayers for the past several years has been such that they would not only commend but also demand a reduction in the fees and interest as now provided."

Mayor Bosch and several of the aldermen, including Alderman Kleis, felt that the taxpayers should be given every consideration. City Attorney Lokker, however, pointed out that it would mean a special election to change the charter since time limit had expired on the April election. He stated that it would be doubtful whether the legislature would change the penalty tax since it was governed by a charter and state law. He did advise that the reduction be made through a resolution by the common council as a temporary change until times get better. Some taxpayers could object to that, Mr. Lokker stated, but it is doubtful whether anyone would.

Anyway there is plenty time between now and next tax time in August to go into the matter thoroughly. Mr. Lokker and the ways and means committee, of which Alderman Van Zoeren is chairman, will look into the matter.

The matter of a police judge in place of justices of the peace came up again. Mr. Lokker pointed out that this also would mean a change of charter but he said this was no time to make the change since a good judge to handle all the cases, elected for a 6-year term, would have to be paid $5,500 at least, and that all the fees of all the justices of the peace during a year did not amount to $1,000.

The police board some time ago felt that a municipal judge right at the city hall would be a handy thing, but Mr. Lokker stated that cities in Michigan that have them are sorry they have for not only is it more costly, but four justices are easier to find in that one judge.

Alderman Van Zoeren of the ways and means committee believed the matter ought to be dropped since it was impractical.

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Huyser opens meeting with prayer.

Alderman Drinkwater brought up white ants again. He had a collection of them in a glass and all the members of the common council viewed the menagerie. These are supposed to emanate from the ice houses at the foot of Sixteenth street. Mayor Bosch stated that we had not a jolt of the whole matter but the thing might be more serious than we thought and will bear the closest scrutiny. The white ants were secured by Elmer Skipper, 268 West Sixteenth street.

The mayor suggested that the white ants be sent to Lansing for analization. We might try them on the legislators—it might hurry some constructive legislation.

Drive a Safe Car

Nearly 75 per cent of motor cars on roads today have defects which increase hazards of driving, according to figures of 42 state motor vehicle inspection campaigns covering 22,702,000 cars, analyzed by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

In explaining the survey, John J. Hall, Director of the Street and Highway Safety Division of the National Bureau, points out that no structural defects were discovered in the cars, but that three-fourths were found lacking either in adequate brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, rear vision mirrors or safety tires. Worst of all was the condition of brakes—nearly 40 per cent being unsafe.

Obviously the condition calls for correction. No matter how safely a motorist drives, if his brakes fail, if his vision is obscured, if his lights do not show the road ahead, he is exposed to an accident every time he operates his car. It is not wise to belittle any of the hazards involved. In a hazardous chain of circumstances a defective windshield wiper can be just as dangerous as a loose wheel. Drivers who have formed a habit of overhauling their automobiles periodically are rarely responsible for accidents, said Mr. Hall.

Careless drivers, on the other hand, often pay a price for neglect that would meet necessary repair bills many times over, and if a few judgments are rendered against them, the bill will total the full price of several good automobiles.

Some states have found that the best method of insuring safe automobile mechanical condition is by means of compulsory inspection laws. They are supported in their view by safety organizations of nationwide reputation. Such laws have operated not only to improve individual car safety, but to increase employment and to stimulate business. In any event, the moral of this story is: Drive a safe car.

Good workmen usually equip themselves with good materials. So with good cooks: women who use I-H flour are real cooks whose bread, biscuits and cakes are of the finest quality.

COMSTOCK COMMITTEE

TO HOLLAND—SPEAKING DINNER AND DANCE

Governor William A. Comstock has accepted the invitation of the young Democrats of Ottawa county to be their guest and the principal speaker at their dinner dance which is to be held in the Masonic temple on Monday, March 5, at 6:30 p. m. Among others who have accepted the invitation to attend are Attorney-General Patrick O'Brien, James Mogan, head of the sales tax department of the State of Michigan, and M. Thomas Ward, first assistant attorney-general of the State of Michigan.

The music for the dance, which will be held after the banquet, will be furnished by Herb Van Duren's orchestra. The tickets are selling at 75 cents, which will include the dinner and the dance. The committee in charge under Clair McNaughton, have been working very hard and no doubt this affair will be one of the biggest events ever to be staged in Holland by the Democrats. Already 200 tickets have been sold in Kent county alone. This dinner-dance is the celebration of the first birthday of the New Deal and is open to all.

As to Self-Starters

(Allegan Gazette)

Announcement by Secretary of State Fitzgerald that he is a candidate for the next Republican nomination for governor caused no surprise because the fact has long been understood. Mr. Fitzgerald is a capable man and a first-class official during some years; but he also has been an active opponent of the primary election law. One of the main objections such opponents make is that this law gives opportunities for "self-starters" for office. Mr. Fitzgerald, however, is just one more self-starter and so has been practically every candidate for any office from the time elections first were held. That disgraces to them nor injury to the public service. They save the people from running about in search of candidates and from drafting them. To establish such a condition would be to make a worse state than we now have. A multiplicity of candidates gives the people a better chance to pick the right sort of nominee. It also relieves candidates from bashfulness which is a bad handicap for any man. Mr. Fitzgerald has started himself and has a good start. It is not to his detriment that he discovered himself. He knows better than does anyone else whether he is fit for the job.

NO MORE NICKELS

AT VAN VLECK

In the massive cellars of Van Vleck Hall Joe Esther was elected house president to the campaign slogan of "No more nickels." Gerit Rientjes was the choice for vice-president, and John Buteyen for committeeman. Deon Dekker was appointed treasurer by the chief executive. The new organization will include monthly dues and social activities.

"No more nickels at Van Vleck." Why? The new administration has installed a dorm telephone. The number is 4841.

REV. DURYEA IS

CHAPEL SPEAKER

The Rev. Mr. Duryea, secretary of the board of education and young people's work of the Reformed Church, spoke at the regular chapel service yesterday morning. Among other things he stressed the value of young people finding their own view and not following patterns set by older people.

GOV. COMSTOCK TO SPEAK

AT LOCAL DINNER

Governor William A. Comstock will be the principle speaker at a dinner-dance program to be put on by the young Democrats of Ottawa county in the Masonic temple on March 5.

Others who have been slated to speak are Attorney General Patrick O'Brien, James Mogan and Thomas Ward, assistant attorney general.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by a dance. The music will be furnished by Herb Van Duren and his orchestra.

Continue to Serve

American Legion

Regular meeting, February 28. Don't forget your button. It will cost a dime to leave it at home from now on.

The American Legion-Boy Scout clothes drive is on; gather your old garments together and hand them over to the boys that call at the door.

Now that the state park subject has been brought up we may look for that report of the work done there last season. Ben and Heinie have no other alibi and we trust the report is fully compiled by now.

No word has been heard from the program committee for the 28th and hopes are running high. Westra, Miller and Bosch are responsible.

The Junior Welfare league will sponsor a dance in Warm Friend Tavern this Friday evening. Music will be furnished by Tommy Thomas and his "Harlem Night Hawks" of Grand Rapids. Miss Gertrude Smeenge is dance chairman.

The annual winter meeting of the League for Service Union of the Holland classes of the Reformed churches will be held this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Sixth Reformed church. Mrs. John Dykstra of Grand Rapids will speak. Special musical numbers will also be presented. New officers will be installed. A social hour will follow and refreshments will be served.

Members of the board of education were guests at the February meeting of the Van Raalte school Parent-Teacher association held Tuesday evening. Group singing was led by John Vander Sluis and prayer was offered. Fred Beuwkes read a paper on "The New School and the P.T.A." by Dr. Henderson of the University of Michigan. Henry Geerlings spoke on the question "What is Patriotism?" Musical selections were rendered by a brass quartet composed of Holland High school students. "Homings" was sung by Miss Helene Van Kersen, after which Mrs. Nina Daugherty entertained with two readings.

The Hope Biology Club held its regular monthly meeting January 25. A student program consisting of the following papers was presented: "The Function of the Adrenal and Pituitary Glands," by Preston Van Kolken; "The Place of Women in Science," by Annette Bouma; and a review of A. E. Wiggam's book, "The New Decalogue of Science," by Richard Van Dorp.

President: J. M. Vander Meulen
Vice President: George Douma
Secretary: Vera Damstra
Treasurers: (Muriel Chard) John Buteyn

Gerrit H. Beneker, nationally recognized painter of industrial subjects, spoke at the chapel exercise on Wednesday morning, January 24. In his lecture, Mr. Beneker presented art as being mostly realized in the commonplace things of the world. He claimed that no preacher can preach, no teacher can teach, and no artist can paint until he understands humanity. A real piece of art, he said, is one at which a person can not only look, but through which he can also see.

Mr. Beneker, known as "the preacher with his paints," has for many years been an exponent of the combination of art and labor. He was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1882. Working in a furniture factory, he earned his tuition to study art and entered the Art Institute of Chicago in 1901.

In the main go over the 2-hour time limit, found Leo Donaghy, state welterweight champ from Flint, Michigan, meeting a tough looking South American by the name of Gorilla Page. Donaghy, favorite with local fans, gained the first fall in 16 minutes with a full Nelson and a spin. He came back after the rest period of 10 minutes and repeated the hold in 26 minutes to take two straight from the bad man of the South.

John Worth of Grand Rapids, Michigan, refereed the evening's bill. Promoter Conroy announced that he will have Benny Wilson, Ft. Worth, Texas, meeting Vern Clark of Omaha, Nebraska, in the opener of Monday's match.

The Holland Christian schools will also be closed today, Friday, so the teachers will be able to attend the Ottawa county institute which will be held at Holland High school.

The Holland public schools are closed today, Friday, to allow the teachers to attend the annual Ottawa county teachers' institute which is being held in Holland High school. The institute was held on Thursday in Grand Haven. The speakers will be Maj. Norman A. Imrie of Culver Military academy; Dr. Manley Ellis of Western State Teachers' college, and Dr. M. F. Pittman of Michigan State normal college.

First Robin

Reports of Michigan's "first robin" have started to come in. He has been seen in the outlying districts of Detroit as well as in the villages and towns far removed from the city. Undoubtedly our "first robin" have been with us all winter for it is not unusual for a number of them to forego their fall migration for the hospitality of the winter feeding shelf of the North. —Detroit News.

COLOMA MAN NEW AGENT OF THIS COUNTY

COMMITTEE NAMES ARNOLD FOR AGRICULTURAL POST AT MEETING HERE

The office of Ottawa county agricultural agent will be taken over by Leo Arnold of Coloma, Mich., Feb. 21, 1934, it was decided by the agricultural committee of the board of supervisors at a meeting at the court house in Grand Haven.

Mr. Arnold is a graduate of Michigan State college at East Lansing and for the past several years has been poultry specialist for the Michigan State college extension department. His home is in Coloma, near Benton Harbor. The agriculture committee of the board is not usually given the power for like action, but in this case it was voted to allow the committee to pick the successor to the position held by C. P. Milham until the office was abandoned last year. The appointment of Mr. Arnold must be approved at Lansing and then at Washington, but it is not likely that it will be disallowed.

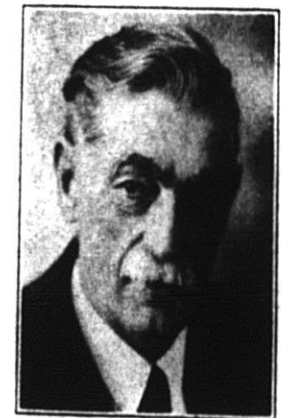

Harm Plagemeier of Georgetown is chairman of the farm committee of the board of supervisors. The reinstatement of the farm department in this county came after a spirited debate in an all-day session of the county board. The final vote on reinstatement was 21 for and 4 against. The maximum amount to be paid to the office is $1,500 to cover office space, supplies, a stenographer and traveling expenses for the agent. The salary of $2,100 will be paid from state and federal funds. The committee yesterday conferred with H. R. Hootman of the state college and Mr. R. Arnold was decided upon.

Miss Josephine Johnson, the Misses Gertrude and Janet Ten Brink, Miss Sena Overbeek and William Van Nul were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brouwer Tuesday evening.

John Van Wieren of 80 West Twentieth street, who is employed by the Lakeside Ice company, is confined to Holland hospital as the result of a broken leg received in a fall on the ice.

COMMUNICATION

The following communication was sent in, coming from the old gentleman, Peter Prins, for many years alderman of the First ward: "I take great pride in again filing the petitions for the re-nomination of our mayor, Nicodemus Bosch. "Mayor Bosch has worked unceasingly and untiringly during the last two years for the economic security and safety of the city of Holland. I sincerely hope the citizens of our city will endorse his administration by again electing him our mayor at the polls." PETER PRINS.

COUNCIL NOTES

Mrs. C. A. Quigley asked for a license to sell beer in her restaurant. City Attorney Lokker pointed out that he thought it was for the liquor commissioner to decide rather than the common council under the new liquor law. Anyway, the ways and means committee will investigate.

The council gave approval for the erection of three electric wooden signs at the various entrances to the city, as requested by the board of public works. Approval also was given for changing the site for the proposed warehouse to be erected by the board of public works as a CWA project. The new site is located near the Fifth street power station.

The common council rooms will be equipped with heat blowers that will warm up the council room in five minutes with one pound of steam while now it requires 5 pounds of steam and hard firing to keep a temperature of 60 degrees. Aldermen Habing and Thompson brought the matter up but they did not say the temperature was low when the council was not meeting. Plenty high at any time, however, and intervals. Any way it is a good move and will require some CWA labor and the change will cost only $130, which will bring considerable saving in the coal consumption annually.

Bernice Vischer Snyder, 7 West Eighth street, asked the common council to establish an information bureau for labor exchange and to facilitate the placing of idle men into paying jobs with herself as manager. Nothing was done about the matter.

Police Commissioner Huizenga asked the council to rescind their action of not allowing the department to buy a new car. The Ford they have has gone 106,000 miles and is constantly in the repair shop. Alderman Van Zoeren, who had this matter in charge, said the only reason the Ford was not purchased was that the police fund had been overdrawn and there were no funds and he felt that it should wait until August. Taxes came in or buy it on "tick" with an August date. City Attorney Lokker stated we could not expect to keep up our efficiency and our night cruising about the city for protection with a worn-out car. It was then decided to have Mr. Lokker and the ways and means committee to go into this thing further to find a remedy.

A meeting soon will be called of the various boards of the city to consider which projects will be of greatest benefit to the city and which can be rushed to completion before the CWA is to be terminated.

Council authorized various departments of the city to take 10 per cent or more out of bills owed by the city to persons delinquent in their taxes as a means of collecting delinquent taxes. This plan was submitted by Alderman A. Van Zoeren.

Efforts to obtain CWA funds for the improvement of Lincoln avenue between Sixteenth and Thirty-fourth streets, were approved by the council. The project, estimated to cost $12,000, will be undertaken by the county and the City of Holland, Lincoln avenue being the township line. The city's share would be about $2,000, but it is a much needed improvement.

OLDEST RESIDENT PASSES AWAY ON WEDNESDAY NOON

John Zwiers, one of the oldest residents of this community, passed away at his home one mile east of this city, Wednesday noon at the age of 92 years. He had been a resident of this place for 75 years and for more than 50 years lived on the place where he died.

He is survived by his widow; four sons, Gerrit and Jacob Zwiers of this city; Charles Zwiers who resides on a farm near the old homestead; John Zwiers at the parental home, and two daughters, Mrs. John Vanden Heuvel of Wayland and Mrs. Bert Helmantel of Byron Center; also seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the home and 2 o'clock at the First Christian Reformed church, Rev. William Kie officiating. Burial will be made in Zeeland cemetery.

MISS SUE WIGLEY SPEAKS AT WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB MEETING

Members of the Woman's Literary club were privileged to hear Miss Sue Wigley of Chicago at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Her subject was "Forward Planning."

Miss Wigley stated that a home could not be conducted like a business because a business is a producing agent and a home is a consuming agent, whose accomplishment cannot be recorded on the pages of a ledger. Miss Wigley illustrated her talk with stories of her own life in the hill country of Alabama.

Other nominations were made from the floor and the following names were placed on the ballot to be voted upon in two weeks: President, Mrs. J. D. French; first vice president, Mrs. C. K. Van Duren; second vice president, Mrs. C. H. McBride; recording secretary, Mrs. John Good; corresponding secretary, Miss Myra Ten Cate; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Beauwies; directors (three to be elected), Mrs. C. McLean, Mrs. George Schuiling, Miss Metta Ross, Mrs. William C. Vandenberg, Mrs. Thomas Marsilje, Mrs. H. D. Ter Keurst, Mrs. John Olt.

Mrs. George E. Kollen will read Clemence Dane's "Wild December" at next Tuesday's meeting.

The following directors were re-elected at the annual business meeting of the stockholders of the Federal Baking company: Dick Miles, Merrick Hanchett, Henry P. Kleis and Tom White, all of Holland, and John Welling of Zeeland. The officers re-elected were Mr. Miles, president; Mr. Welling, vice president; Mr. Hanchett, secretary and manager; and Mr. Kleis, treasurer. It was pointed out that during the thirteen years of existence the Federal company has paid $300,000 into the city of Holland in wages, operating expenses and other costs.

Local Furniture Man Passes 80th Birthday

Srietsma. Later it was occupied by the Kraker Plumbing company and the Bell Telephone company. The purchasing of this building brought another remodeling program which threw the a third of the frontage on that block. The purchase of the Van Dyke block occurred in 1924.

In 1917 a great change took place when the name became the Jas. A. Brouwer Company, Inc. Mr. James A. Brouwer became the president, William J. Brouwer, a son, Fred Beauwies, secretary and treasurer. With the advice of the old head, augmented by the energies of the younger members of the firm, the Jas. A. Brouwer Company became one of the leading furniture houses in western Michigan.

Mr. Brouwer also took an intense interest in the education of our young folks. In 1894 he was elected as member of the school board and served on the board of education the greater part of a time until he voluntarily retired a year ago. He, with others, was instrumental in bringing industry to Holland, promoting and lending his financial assistance to the building or bringing these here.

Mr. Brouwer was also closely identified with one of our Holland banks, namely the Holland City State bank, of which he was a director until a short time ago.

As we have stated before Mr. Brouwer was intensely interested in religious work. Religion meant much to him and he not only lived his religion on the Sabbath, but through the struggles of the week. For thirty years he served as deacon in the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church and from his youth devoted his time to Sunday school teaching and even at the age of 80 he is still called upon to expound the Scripture to those younger than he. Now being affiliated with the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church he still carries on as elder and also as an instructor in the Sunday school.

When William Brouwer, the son, was asked whether his father had any hobbies, he stated nothing in particular outside of work, although he liked horses, having had two of them in the earlier days. He also liked a nice garden and enjoyed driving a car. He began auto driving in 1912, first using an electric buggy with high wheels. He still drives an old electric, purchased in 1925. The veteran furniture man seems to be partial to electricity and might have been an electrician had destiny pointed that way, although his career started even before Edison became a prominent inventor.

Mr. Brouwer took great delight in riding a bicycle. He did a great deal of it, going to and from his work and going about the city on business. He was reminded that Francis Karr had one of the first wheels if not the first in Holland. It was one of those tall boys with a big wheel in front and one climbed upon in step-ladder fashion. The late John J. Cappon followed a model plated one and Cornelius Vander Hove was the best trick rider. The local millwright still lives on Pine avenue. John Cappon was the first man to introduce a safety pneumatic tire wheel in Holland—Mr. Brouwer followed soon afterward.

Anyway all this is deserving of a fitting celebration and that is why the reunion with his family consisting of his five children with their wives and husbands, Rev. and Mrs. William Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Oude, Dr. and Mrs. H. Meeter, all of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brouwer of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brouwer of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. J. De Jonge of Grand Rapids, and Miss Anna Nordhouse of Holland, took place. Mrs. J. De Jonge is the only surviving sister of Mr. Brouwer.

The editor wishes to add something more to this resume relating to the life of Mr. Brouwer. Mr. Brouwer typifies that characteristic so dominant in the lives of our pioneers. He took his work seriously, even as a boy. He took his religion seriously as he grew up to manhood, and continued that earnest seriousness even now in the evening of his life. He lived what he preached. Religion meant a seven-day-a-week religion. Those same qualifications are dominant in his sterling honesty, his dealings with others, his philanthropic tendencies which were unadvised. He took a deep interest in civic welfare, helping where help was needed, in such projects as were beneficial to all. Mr. Brouwer was modest and self-effacing, but even that cloak could not hide the wonderful characteristics of this man of four score who is still carrying on in all the endeavors he holds dear.

One of the beautiful spots in the life of Mr. Brouwer is his home environments. He taught his family those things he believed in. He disciplined with love and in return he received the love, respect and obedience of that family. The gathering of Tuesday night is indicative of all these qualifications just mentioned.

It is our sincere wish that Mr. Brouwer may be spared to this community for some time longer. His type of manhood, exemplifying the sturdy quality of yesterday, stand out to advantage in this mad rush of self and selfishness.

HOLLAND TOWNSHIP CANDIDATES FILE PETITIONS

A non-partisan ballot has been placed in the field by Holland township and there will only be one ballot at the primaries with the following officers and candidates.

Treasurer—Jacob Oosterbaan. Highway Commissioner—Mantus Laarman, Peter Kuylers and William Venhuizen.

Justice of the Peace—John P. Kleis, George Tubergen and Charles K. Van Duren.

Attorney Daniel Ten Cate has returned from Chicago where he attended court.

RUSSIAN VIOLINIST PRESENTS CONCERT HERE

Approximately 1,100 people attended the concert in Hope Memorial chapel Wednesday evening given by Michael Press, famous Russian violinist, who appeared with the Holland Symphony orchestra. He was accompanied by Mr. Aron Black.

Mr. Press, who is also a noted conductor and composer, is professor of violin at Michigan State college.

The concert opened with von Suppe's Pique d'Amore Overture. Mr. Press then played the brilliant Tartin-Kreisler sonata, Le Trill du Diable. This was followed by the Concerto Allegro Moderato of Tschai-kowsky.

A silver collection was taken during the intermission to help defray expenses. Mr. Press then continued with Aria, Schumann-Press; Bird as a Prophet, Schumann-Auer; Souvenir Russe, Lisserise-Press; Flight (Caprice), Paul Kochanski. This number was dedicated to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

The final number on the program was "From the Western World" by Antonin Dvorak. The Holland Symphony orchestra, which is a civic enterprise, deserves great credit for bringing a man of such international prominence in the musical world to this city.

AGNEW

Ferdinand Behm celebrated his eightieth birthday Tuesday. Those from out of town calling on him during the day were Rev. and Mrs. Schumaker and daughter and son of Holland, Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Grand Haven.

Jack Olsen, Edward Sheehan and Thomas Rosendahl were in Grand Haven Saturday.

Mrs. Dick Miles of Central Park visited Mrs. Thomas Rosendahl last Monday.

Mrs. Peter Bowman of Harlem called on Mrs. Thomas Rosendahl last Thursday.

CENTRAL PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rosendahl of Agnew were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miles last Sunday. This is Mrs. Rosendahl's first visit here since her accident several weeks ago.

Mrs. Fred S. Bertsch and sons, Charles and Fred, Jr., and Herbert Davis spent the week-end in Chicago with Mrs. Bertsch's mother.

A much appreciated addition to the church decorations Sunday was a beautiful bouquet of straw flowers sent by Mrs. Albert Timmer.

The Jewels Sunday school class met Wednesday evening after catechism at the home of Grace Teusink, the newly-elected president. The usual business session was held, after which a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry Teusink.

Discusses Law Enforcement And Crime Wave

LAWYERS HEAR HOW TO PREVENT WAVE OF CRIME

Judge Willis B. Perkins of Grand Rapids in an address before the Ottawa County Bar Association held at the Warm Friend Tavern at Holland Thursday on the subject "Enforcement of the Criminal Law," declared that in 90 per cent of all cases in which the criminals are apprehended convictions result. The judge declared that the weakness in enforcement of the criminal laws is in the apprehension of the criminal. He declared that the charge that under the present procedure that presumption of innocence and the fact that the criminal is not compelled to testify has little to do with conviction.

The speaker stated that the investigation of convictions under the criminal law was really new, that it had only been actively promoted during the last six months. In his talk he quoted from an investigation which has been made by a committee of the Grand Rapids Bar Association. These are some of the matters that have been given thorough study: The thorough organization of the criminal law; the fact that merchants and manufacturers of one state pay tribute to the racketeers of other states.

Organization of criminals has not only become statewide but nationwide. Today, it is claimed that 400,000 men and women are numbered in the nation's criminals.

The federal expenditure to investigate and prosecute crime reaches annually $52,000,000; state $51,000,000; city, $247,000,000; individuals, $100,000,000 and the losses to victims of crime was recently estimated in the North American Review from eleven to eighteen billion dollars annually. These startling figures should arouse the public as every cent of this money must be paid by the taxpayer.

The two most often mentioned remedies suggested are: one to improve the courts, another to improve the organization of enforcement officers. Although in an occasional city the courts have been found lacking the judge said the fact that convictions are obtained in 90 per cent of the cases indicted shows that this is not the main lack in criminal law enforcement. He said that some of the things that we are to consider is that the sheriff is practically limited to county lines, the police to city lines and constables to township lines whereas crimes are an interstate matter. The whole question, he declared, resolves itself into how far the federal government can go without infringing upon state authorities. The whole matter must be kept within the interstate provisions of the constitution. Judge Perkins stated that Judge Marshall once defined interstate commerce as the dealing in articles between states but that this definition has become greatly extended by court interpretations and now includes food, transportation, the transmission of intelligence by radio, telegraph, use of mails and many other matters.

Not Apprehended The conclusion then of the whole cause is the whole apprehension of criminals and the speaker prophesied that this will result in an evolution and co-ordination of the present scheme of the apprehension of criminals.

One of the drawbacks of the present plan is the jealousy existing between different departments for credit in the arrest. The judge stated that congress has already appointed a committee headed by Sen. Copeland of New York, of which committee Sen. Vandenberg is a member, who is making a study of the situation from the federal standpoint and in his opinion this committee will recommend that when a criminal crosses a state line that this in itself will constitute a crime.

Judge Perkins stated that publicity and band wagon tactics will not catch a criminal and he believes that the federal law enforcement body can do much more than is being done by local units in apprehending the criminal. He stated that much was needed in the matter of co-ordinating county, state and local organizations to make them effective. In answer to a question, the judge stated that he felt that it was a necessity to change the laws and take away from the sheriff the criminal part of his work and to build up a stronger state enforcement unit.

The bar association had as its guests at this meeting the sheriff and deputy sheriff of the county, the chiefs of police of Grand Haven, Holland and Zeeland and representatives of the newspapers from Holland, Grand Haven and the Grand Rapids Herald.

The local association is taking up the topics suggested by the American Bar Association and the state association for discussion. These topics include the enforcement of criminal law, legal education and admission to the bar, illegal practice of the law and the selection and tenure of office of state judges.

Louis H. Osterhouse, president of the association, presided at the meeting. Newspapermen present at the invitation of Attorney Leo Lillie and in behalf of the bar association were Mr. McCall of the Grand Haven Tribune, Don French of the Sentinel and Ben Mulder of the Holland City News.

"SUGAR BEET" ASKING FOR CONTRACTS

The Lake Shore Sugar Company began contracting sugar beets for 1934 campaign Monday February 19. The field men for the plant are T. W. Van Haltsma of Vriesland, Martin Leenhouts of Zeeland, Glen Densmore of Woodlun and Warren Hagley of Galien. Due to the satisfactory results last season the growers and the company will again use the participating contract whereby each share equally in the returns from the sale of sugar and other products made from the beets.

WILL RE-OPEN AG AGENCY OFFICE IN COURT HOUSE

L. R. Arnold, newly-appointed agricultural agent for Ottawa county, was expected in Grand Haven yesterday to open up the county office in the court house. The department which has been discontinued for the past two years, will reopen in the drain commissioners office temporarily, and Miss Ethel Smith, the former secretary, has been hired as the secretary.

It is expected the office will eventually be located in new quarters to be established in the section of the court house formerly used for the heating apparatus. The work is expected to be done under CWA. The rooms formerly occupied by the agricultural office have been absorbed by the health unit.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN AGAIN TOPS GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids Press—Grand Rapids Christian High school suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of the Holland Christian basketball team by a 22 to 18 score in Holland Armory gym Friday night. The game was rather close in scoring throughout; Holland maintaining a slight edge from the beginning. Grand Rapids rallied in the final period to within one point of the leaders. Hendrickson missed three free throws at this point and Zwieter then put the game on ice for Holland with a goal and free throw. In spite of the loss of two regulars at the end of the first semester Grand Rapids was a greater threat to the Dutchmen in this game than in the first meeting when they suffered a 19 to 14 defeat. Visser led the Holland attack and scored high with 10 points. Bysma led for Grand Rapids with 9.

"LADIES OF JURY" IS DRAMA CLASS PLAY

Promises to Be One of Best, Most Humorous Ever Presented Here

The drama class of Hope College is presenting a comedy this year entitled "Ladies of the Jury," by Frederic Ballard. It is a most humorous sketch of the trial of a Mrs. Gordon, who is accused of having murdered her husband. Mrs. Gordon, Cornelia Stryker, has as her defense attorney Marc Brouwer, whose heated arguments with President Luidens, the prosecutor, is a source of much merriment. The judge, Carl Zieckler, is naturally much upset by the antics of these two.

The action in the second and third acts takes place in the jury room. The first ballot comes in with eleven voting guilty, and one voting not guilty, and for three days and two nights. Mrs. Crane, Margaret Stryker, uses her influence to finally sway the jury. Many laughs are engendered in these scenes by the wit of Mrs. Crane crossed with that of the foreman of the jury, Sherwood Price. To add to the enjoyment of the play, three love affairs develop among the jurors.

All in all, "Ladies of the Jury" gives promise of being one of the best comedies presented at Hope College in a long time. It is to be given on the evenings of the eighth and ninth of March.

An estimated damage of $50 was caused by fire to the roof of the home of Fay C. Waters, 78 W. 8th St. The house is located across the street from Fire House No. 1 Station. The fire is believed to have started from sparks from the chimney.

O-ri-on (By Ralph Schepers)

The brightest of the constellations that seem to circle round our globe. Was seen by many ancient nations. And mentioned in the book of Job. This mighty mirror has been hunting for us through the starry void. The dog-star at his heels, and vanishing. The three bright jewels in his belt. And what is it the Great Orion is seeking in the realms up there? Is it the goat, the bull, the lion, Or Ursa Major, the great bear?

In summer time through all the ages His hunting field is near the sun. Then for a time the dog-star rages And dog-day hunting can't be fun. Then when the world in its rotations Brings him and day again in sight, We see his brightest constellation Upon the coldest, starry night.

His search seems futile, but there's ample Proof that he pursues the game. To be for us a fine example Of perseverance in one's aim. Though disappointments trail one ever And try to take away our zeal, Let nothing stop our high endeavor Keep on and on, keep up the quest.

Increase Shown at County Infirmary In Allegan County

Despite CWA work and the large amount of money it has put into circulation in Allegan county, poor relief at the county infirmary went to a high peak this winter and has taken a material increase since last fall and winter, county officials reported.

At the present time and through most of the past winter months the total number of inmates at the county infirmary has averaged 90. Last fall the average was 75 and last winter it was 83. It is expected that a decrease will be noted in number of inmates this spring, but it is not believed that the total will drop to less than 75 or 80, indications at present being that only a few will leave the infirmary with the arrival of warmer weather.

County officials reported that the normal average at the infirmary is from sixty to sixty-five persons, but that total has been far exceeded for the past three or four years. Most of the persons at the infirmary are elderly and practically all of them have gone there because they are too old to hold jobs of any sort. Many of them have been dangerously ill when taken to the infirmary, but the number of deaths there has been slight.

FORMER HOLLAND RESIDENT DIES IN HURON, S. D.

Mrs. B. Van Heuvelen, nee Carrie De Feyter, was born August 28th, 1878, in Holland, Mich. She attended the public schools there and graduated from the high school in 1897 and from the Normal school at Ypsilanti in 1899. She taught in the grade schools in Holland three years and then married Rev. B. Van Heuvelen in 1902. Five children were born to her, who all live to mourn her loss.

She died Sunday morning, Feb. 11th, 1934. A funeral service was held in the Presbyterian church in Huron, South Dakota, where the family had lived nearly 13 years. Then the body was shipped to Holland for burial. There a host of relatives and friends gathered in Nibbelink & Notier's parlors for a memorial of one whom they had known for many years. At this service Dr. Nettinga, an old time friend of the family, officiated. At this service, beside the relatives and friends in Holland and vicinity, were the husband and five children and son-in-law and grand-daughter from Huron, South Dakota, and a sister, Mrs. A. Wubben, from Forreston, Illinois. The family feels very thankful to all those who have tried to comfort us in our sorrow. We must say you have done what you could.

Born-To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Systma, 238 Washington Blvd., on Feb. 13, a daughter, Jacquelin Maria; to Mr. and Mrs. George Louwma of E. 16th St., on Feb. 14, a son.

Miss Marie Schumacher, who is employed at the Nichols Beauty salon, attended the American Beauty Exposition held in Detroit, last week.

Zero Weather Delays Judge in Allegan County

(Allegan Gazette)

Thursday, Feb. 8, at 9 o'clock A. M. was the time set for hearing closing testimony in the case of Myron B. Moore vs. Charles L. Gibson et al. The parties and attorneys arrived on time, but the usually punctual judge did not appear. As the time drew near to 10, there were fears that a black cow crossing his path was as bad an omen as a black cat. Just as it was suggested that the court reporter might be sent out with a keg of brandy a la St. Bernard, his Honor bustled in with a tale of a car reluctant to take the road in the fourteen below zero temperature. Soon the flow of details was started again. The black cow was back with a whole herd of others, but Judge Miles kept his experienced eye on the black cow and she brought bad luck to someone. As the testimony closed his Honor paid his respects to Mr. Gibson. Calling his attention to testimony indicating a violation of the court order against taking anything from the farm, he announced that whatever the decision in the case, the court would enforce its order. He further declared that he was satisfied that Gibson had endeavored to deceive the court in the matter of the black cow, but the court was not to be so easily deceived. With these pleasant farewells he took the case under consideration, subject to the filing of further documentary evidence and briefs of evidence relied on. The plaintiff fixed his claim at $14,618.44 and so all of the black cow for the present.

NETHERLANDS STAMP FOR WORLD CUP USE

A stamp beauty in the way of a surcharge has appeared from the Netherlands. Lettered in gold, six of the current postage have been overprinted for special use on behalf of the international court of justice. Having an official classification, they are available for mail use to members and officials of the court only. Those obtainable by collectors bear a precancel of the regular postmark, although having one and one-half, two and one-half, seven and one-half, twelve and one-half, fifteen and 30 cents.

Vander Meulen and Verhey to Represent Hope in Contest March 2

Hope Memorial Chapel will be the scene of this year's contest of the Western division of the Michigan Oratorical League, which is to be held on March 2. Mr. John Vander Meulen will be Hope's male representative inasmuch as he won first place in the Raven contest held last spring. He has entitled his oration "Set of the Sall." Miss Ruth Ver Hey, Hope's entrant in the women's division, will speak on "Beauty is to Kill."

Promotion of oratory in colleges by means of elimination contests is the primary purpose of the League. Winners of the sectional contests are privileged to enter the State meet. The champions of each State compete in the final national contest.

The Michigan Oratorical League is now entering its forty-seventh year of competition. It promotes one of the oldest kinds of intercollegiate rivalry. Victory in a contest of this type is held by many to be the paramount attainment of a college career.

Michigan's League is divided into two sections. Included in the first, which will meet at Albion this spring are Adrian, Albion, Battle Creek, Hillsdale, Michigan State Normal, Olivet, and Wayne colleges. The second division, which will meet here, comprises the following colleges: Alma, Calvin, Central State Teachers', Kalamazoo, Michigan State, and Western State Teachers'.

Finalists in Michigan will meet at Hillsdale on March 9. This contest has attracted the attention of the best orators in the State and presents an array of the most talented young men and women speakers in the state.

Miss Full Moon During February

Although we may look for moonlit evenings during the last few days of this month, there will be no full moon in February. This rather rare occurrence, according to James Stokley, astronomer, is because the moon is full just at the end of January and the time between any phase and the same phase again is about 29 days. "The moon takes about 28 days to make one circuit about the earth," this authority tells us, "but during that time the sun has moved eastward a little among the stars, and so the moon has to go that much farther to catch up to it. Full moon happens when the sun and moon are on opposite sides of the earth and we can see all of the is in line with the sun, we can see none of the bright part, but a few days later the young crescent is visible in the western evening twilight."

CHIEF SEES HIS COTTAGE BURN

(Grand Haven Tribune)

Chief Edward Boomgaard, head of the local fire department, saw his cottage on Mihouso bayou burn to the ground last night at 8 o'clock and could not raise a hand as the local department is not allowed to make runs out of the city. The cottage was occupied by Gerit Knoll and family. They were not at home at the time. Mrs. Knoll and three children were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wierenga, Wallace street, when the chimney on the Wierenga home caught fire and the department was called.

It was then that Chief Boomgaard told Mrs. Knoll of the destruction of her home and all of its contents. It is believed that the fire at the Knoll home originated from a stove. Paul Bloeker, who lives nearby, saw the first start but was powerless to cope with it. The loss to the cottage was estimated at $1,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The Knolls lost their furniture and clothing. It was not known whether insurance was carried by them. Mr. Knoll is a local painter, and the family is well known here.

TUBERCULIN TEST ON 4033

A complete report has been received of all X-rays of the chest taken following the tuberculin testing survey. Of 4,033 individuals who received the tuberculin test $19,242 positively. Of this number 785 were given an X-ray of the chest. In 674 the X-ray was pronounced negative. There were 83 X-ray films which showed a healed childhood type of tuberculosis. In these cases an active infection had occurred in the lymph glands of the lung and have completely healed. There were 25 children whose X-ray showed a healing, suspicious, or definitely active type of childhood tuberculosis. This group will have to be carefully watched and re-rayed. With the exception of those cases who are showing definite symptoms, which may be true in one or two cases, these children can be taken care of at home.

There were two cases of definite lung tuberculosis found. In one case a child was attending school and had an active case of lung tuberculosis. This child has already been placed in a sanatorium for treatment. There were other cases which showed bone abnormalities and also suspicious heart lesions. These cases have been reported to the physicians designated as the family physician by the child at the time of the X-ray.

This extensive survey was made possible through the assistance given the health department by the Michigan Tuberculosis association, and the Rockefeller Foundation through services of Dr. Joseph D. Aronson of Phipps Institute. It is expected that the tuberculin testing and X-raying of positive reactions will be continued as a part of the health department program.

HUGE CATCH MADE OF NOXIOUS FISH

Over 500,000 pounds of noxious fish were removed from Michigan waters during 1933, chiefly Lake St. Clair, Kalamazoo river and Black Lake, although noxious fish were taken from 19 additional lakes by conservation officers in charge of spearing parties.

People working under contract took 263,152 pounds of carp and 6,410 pounds of other fish from Lake St. Clair. About 340,000 pounds were taken from Lake St. Clair. In addition to carp, garpike, dogfish and bullheads were taken.

FRANK STANSBURY, 72, DIES AT BROTHER'S HOME

Frank Stansbury, 72, died early Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Owen, 11 North River avenue, following a long illness.

Mr. Stansbury was born on the lake shore in Park township on March 10, 1861. He was employed as driver of the team of the local fire department for 17 years. Trucks came into service about 15 years ago. He is a member of Odd Fellow lodge No. 192, Holland City camp, I.O.O.F., No. 79, and Rebekah lodge No. 27.

Surviving are two brothers, William Stansbury of Holland, and Mr. Owen, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed Stansbury of Chicago, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Dykstra funeral home, Rev. C. W. Meredith, pastor of Wesleyan Methodist church, officiating. Burial took place in Vanden Berg cemetery in Park township. The Odd Fellows lodge was in charge of services at the grave. Members of the lodges to which Mr. Stansbury belonged attended the service in a body.

Ottawa Awarded $19,875 Judgment Against Holland

CITY MUST PAY COUNTY FOR TAXES IN CLOSED BANK, COURT DECIDES.

Judge John Vanderwerf entered a judgment in circuit court at Grand Haven in favor of Ottawa county against the city of Holland through the failure of the Peoples State bank of Holland. The suit was for $40,000, and under the judgment the county is entitled to recover $19,875, plus costs of the suit, the difference, $20,125, representing delinquent tax money collected by the county treasurer since the default and admittedly owing the city of Holland.

The delinquent tax money was withheld by the county treasurer on instructions from the board of supervisors to offset the amount due the county from the city of Holland. The $40,000 represented state and county taxes collected by the Holland city treasurer, Nicholas Spritama, from Dec. 1, 1931, to Jan. 10, 1932, which was deposited in the Peoples State bank of Holland.

A check was drawn on the account Jan. 9, 1932, and a draft for the money payable to John H. Den Herder, county treasurer, was secured from the Old Kent bank of Grand Rapids and mailed to him. On Monday, Jan. 11, the Peoples State bank did not open and the draft was returned. The opinion stated: "It is my conclusion that plaintiff is entitled to recover the amount claimed, but that under the pleadings and the law, the amount it owed to defendant at the time of commencement of the suit should be deducted." Judge Vanderwerf also held that any action for recovery of the money, either against the treasurer or the bank or other parties, lies with the city, defendant in the suit.

PROBLEMS OF CHILDHOOD TO BE STUDIED IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

The county child study group will meet again on March 1 and 2 to continue the study of children's problems. Mr. A. D. Morley, county agricultural agent, who has arranged with the extension division of Michigan State college for this series of lessons, has announced that Mrs. Lynde will meet with one group in the afternoon at Hamilton Community hall on March 2 at 2 p. m. for general discussion and to have individual conferences with parents over their particular problems. A similar plan will be used when she meets with a group at Fennville High school on March 2 at 7:30 p. m. Some of the problems to be considered at these meetings will have to do with school grades, annoying children, adolescents who do not agree with their parents, and teaching children the habit of getting ready on time. All parents in Allegan county are invited to these meetings.

EXTENSION SERVICE COUNTY AGENT WORK

The county has been divided into eight districts with one committeeman in each district qualified to help you make out your papers. The districts with committeemen in this vicinity follows: District No. 5—Saugatuck, Laketown, Manlius and Fillmore townships; W. J. Van Den Belt, Holland committeeman. District No. 6—Overisel and Salem townships; Henry Ripterink, Overisel committeeman. District No. 7—Dorr and Leighton townships; William Klunder, Moline committeeman.

No contracts can be taken care of at the office in Allegan due to lack of room and help.

In addition to the sign-up points listed on the enclosure we will sign and check papers at the city hall in Otsego on Monday, February 26, beginning at 9 a. m., fast time.

A. D. MORLEY, County Agricultural Agent.

New Editor

Murray K. Rogers of Paducah, Kentucky, was elected editor of the OTTAWA COUNTY NEWS for the year 1934 at the annual election held in the Memorial Chapel January 29. The other candidates for the office were Ralph Danhof and Sherwood Price, both former members of the staff.

Ship No. 11 of Coopersville captured the flagship banner at the annual jamboree of the Ottawa county council, attended by more than 300 scouts. The trophy was presented by Chester L. Beach, commodore of the Ottawa council.

Mrs. John Grissen of Holland route 2 fractured her arm recently when she fell on the ice.

More than 3,000 giant wolves, 2,000 saber-toothed tigers, 60 giant ground sloths, and mammoths, mastodons, lions, camels, tapirs, short-faced bears, bison, peccaries, and many other mammals and a great variety of birds, have already been dug out of the asphalt pits of Rancho la Brea within the city limits of Los Angeles, Calif. These pits of asphalt, accumulated from escaping oil, have proved the most spectacular source of fossils in North America.

Animals that in recent years have been retrieved from this sticky substance by eager explorers of long ago were caught there during the Ice Age in the same manner as flies are caught on sticky fly paper. Instead of remaining on the surface, however, they were slowly sucked into the asphalt masses which held the secret of their existence for many thousands of years.

Blood Bros. Machine company of Allegan report a very substantial increase in their business. Orders were received recently for 3,500 universal joints from automobile manufacturers. Recent special orders have necessitated overtime work in some of the departments. At present there are forty men employed in the machine department.

Do Not Stomp Around Boats

"Shout all you want while fishing; but don't stomp around on the bottom of the boat." This is the advice of Prof. Harry Bateman, of the California Institute of Technology.

Prof. Bateman, who has just completed a series of experiments on fishes to test their hearing, states that fishes possess some kind of hearing apparatus, but at best that is very poor. They probably do not hear sounds made in the air above the water at all, but if a diaphragm is placed between the air and the water and made to vibrate, or a bell is struck under water, the fish will respond.

So the noise made by stomping around on the bottom of a boat would be likely to give nearby fish alarm, while any amount of shouting above the water probably would not even attract their attention.

EVERY TOWN IN U. S. TO HAVE ROOF SIGNS

The United States Department of Commerce undertakes to have roofs in every American city and town painted with its name and directions to nearest airport. Civil works heads will help on this mammoth painting job for the benefit of the expanding air traffic. Of the 16,598 incorporated cities and towns only 2,000 now have proper markings. But all this attention to the taxi drivers is clamoring. They need the help of somebody with enough authority to get a number painted on every front door.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS ARE BARRED FROM HIGHWAYS

Automobiles owned by those convicted of drunk driving are practically barred from Michigan highways for three years, records of the Department of State show. There never has been a time in Michigan's history when the penalty for this offense has been so great.

Since the financial responsibility law became effective Oct. 17, 1933, a total of 471 persons have either pleaded guilty or been found guilty of drunk driving. In each instance the driver and the vehicle he was using and others he may own come under the provisions of the new law. Of this number only 32 have been able to provide proof of ability to meet future accident claims. Under the operators' license law, the drunk drivers lose the right to drive for one year, unless the license is ordered restored by order of circuit court. But unless the drunk driver is able to show financial responsibility, the license plates and the certificate of title of the automobile used are held by the Department of State for three years. The records show that drunk drivers are finding it almost impossible to furnish this proof.

PEARS WERE IMPORTED FROM THE OLD WORLD

The cultivated pears so popular in this country are imports from the old world. The best of these have been developed from species that originally grew wild in Europe. A species imported from China, while less fine in flavor, has an advantage so far as southern orchardists are concerned. For it will grow farther south than will the European species.

SAUGATUCK BANK TO OPEN; WILL PAY 50%

Reopening of the Fruit Growers State Bank of Saugatuck, which has been approved in Allegan circuit court, at a hearing held early last week, is to take place as soon as the national banking department has passed upon reports of the condition of the affairs of the bank. As soon as the institution opens again for business, Lemuel J. Brady, cashier, announces that 50 per cent of deposits will be paid. At the hearing Monday Mr. Brady, Walter A. Kirby of the state's attorney general's office and Henry S. Maentz, state banking department, were present and submitted their reports to the court.

Snakes Attack Feet and Legs

From 60 to 90 per cent of the persons bitten by poisonous snakes in the United States receive their wounds on their legs or feet, according to the Bureau of Biological Survey. This is fortunate in view of the fact that snake bites on the head or upper part of the body have been proved much more dangerous.

This is possibly one reason why the mortality rate for children bitten by poisonous snakes is practically double that for adults. In the case of very small children, particularly, the poisonous fangs are quite likely to penetrate the skin of the face or elsewhere on the upper part of the body.

Henry Vining was in charge of devotions, after which the following program, arranged by Garry Ter Beek and L. W. White, was presented. A violin solo by Ned Shaw, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Carl Shaw, after which Bud Van Lier entered with several accordion solos. Selections were sung by the Christian Endeavor quartet of Sixth Reformed church, composed of Ed Scheerhorn, Raymond Van Voort, Bernard Vanderbeek and Arthur De Waard. Lewis Verborg is the accompanist. Henry Geerlings, secretary of the board of education, addressed the group on the life of Lincoln. Albert Kleis also spoke briefly. Frank Harmsen presided at the business session. New officers will be elected at next month's meeting. Refreshments were served by fathers of children of the third grade, taught by Miss Jane Kirkhoff. About 150 people attended the meeting.

Publish Sugar Essays of Local School Pupils

As has been stated before, the Holland City News will print from week to week all prize-winning beet sugar essays. Last week we printed the essay of Peter Veltman of Holland High school. This week we print one of Miss Matilda Plantinga, who won second prize in Christian High school.

Next week we will print the essay of Miss Bettie Chapman, who won second prize in the junior class of Holland High school.

Miss Plantinga won $3 in class and Miss Chapman received 10 pounds of Holland-made sugar.

WHY BEET SUGAR?

(By Mathilda Plantinga)

There are a great number of good reasons why we should use beet sugar rather than cane sugar in our community but all of these reasons may, perhaps, for the sake of convenience, be grouped into two general classes. There are, firstly, various practical considerations and the thrifty housewife has to take into account, but, secondly, there are also larger economic issues at stake.

Let us begin with the former. It is obvious that when the efficient housewife does her shopping, she must, in the case of foods, take into account three factors; namely, economy, wholesomeness and appeal to the taste. It must be noticed that the first of these factors, economy, is not in all cases identical with initial price for one must also bear in mind that one product "goes farther" than another.

Now it has been proved by careful experimentation on the part of scientists that beet sugar is in no way inferior to cane sugar. The two are identical in practically all their properties. They are equally wholesome and identical in taste. This scientific fact is supported by the practical experience of housewives. In fact many people at various times have been using beet and cane sugar interchangeably and have failed to detect the fact.

In point of fact, beet sugar retails at a slightly lower price than does cane sugar while there is no difference in their economy of use. It is sometimes objected that beet sugar is to be used to the exclusion of cane to any great extent the increased demand for the former would cause it to rise sharply in price. But surely this is no valid objection for two reasons.

Rise in price usually follows increase in demand because this increase in demand tends to cause shortage in the supply. But in the case of beet sugar this need not be feared. The growers of sugar beets and the manufacturers of beet sugar are in position to supply a larger demand than is likely to arise in the near future. In the second place, increased demand for beet sugar is not likely to cause it to rise in price to any great extent because it will always have to compete with its rival, cane sugar. The one tendency counterbalances the other.

We may say then that as far as the practical considerations which the housewife has to take into consideration, are concerned, cane and beet sugar stand on an equal footing. Hence though we have so far assigned no reason to prefer beet sugar to cane sugar, we have shown that there is also no ground, on the basis of these considerations, to prefer cane sugar to beet and have thus removed the imaginary objections which some people have had to the use of beet sugar.

Coming now to the larger economic issues we can readily see that the choice of beet sugar is certain to benefit our community due to two factors. The sugar beet is grown in our own state and the sugar is also manufactured there, and even more specifically, it is manufactured in our own city. The use of beet sugar then will contribute to the economic welfare of our state by stimulating both of its main industries, agriculture and manufacturing. In this increased prosperity of our state, our community, in a narrower sense, is sure to share.

Not only will our community benefit thus indirectly but it will also directly share in the benefits brought about by the stimulation of the beet sugar industry. The increased earnings of those employed in our local factory increases their purchasing power. They, in return, are enabled to give work to others, such as carpenters, painters and similar craftsmen. Consequently trade is stimulated and merchants also can, because of their increased profits, contribute to the solution of the unemployment problem. So we see that the general economic welfare of a city can be increased by coming of one factory.

The only objection that might be urged against this argument is that from a larger economic point of view the stimulation of the beet sugar industry might prove detrimental rather than beneficial to us. For the improvement of the beet sugar industry means the decline of its rival, the cane sugar industry, and if it could be proved that the latter is more essential to the general welfare of the nation than the former it would seem more wise in the end to patronize the cane rather than the beet sugar industry. But this cannot be proved to be a fact and need not enter into our practical considerations. For our own community the beet sugar industry is more important.

The advantages resulting from a prosperous sugar beet factory in our city are well worth striving for, yet they might seem to some to be somewhat selfish motives. Yet when we consider our duty as citizens of the United States we will find that they are not selfish motives.

Our duty to our country is twofold—to give our country spiritual or moral wealth and to do all in our power to increase the economic welfare of it. Still we are not all able to carry out great plans of social and moral reform. Neither is it required of us. Our duty is to see that the spirit in our own homes is such as would promote national prosperity. If each one, if each city did its part in its own circle naturally the whole country would be raised to a higher moral level.

As with spiritual wealth we cannot all expect to carry out great plans of national recovery. We must start in our own homes, in our own city and state, from center

JACK LEENHOUTS DIES WHILE IN MILWAUKEE

(Grand Haven Tribune) Word was received at Grand Haven Monday of the death of Jack Leenhouts of Milwaukee, at his home there early Sunday morning. Mr. Leenhouts had been in Grand Haven about a week ago, the guest of his nieces, Miss Mary and Miss Nellie Groeters. He was not feeling well then and had a severe cold.

The deceased was a well-known contractor in Milwaukee and built a large electric auditorium, Cudahy flats and several other large buildings. He was married here about three years ago to Mrs. Anna Dumke, a resident at Grand Haven for many years. No particulars were learned concerning the last illness of the deceased, nor were any arrangements for the funeral mentioned.

HOPE TOSSESS DEFEAT HILLSDALE IN LATE RALLY

Hope college staged a second-half rally to come from behind and steal a heart-breaker from the Hillsdale basketball team at Hillsdale Tuesday night, 28 to 26, in the last few minutes of play.

Hillsdale led at the half, 19 to 10. As the second period got under way, Steffens twice caught the Dales flat-footed and sank 2 field goals in as many minutes. The Dales' defense sagged, and with 4 minutes to go, Nykerk brought Hope abreast of Hillsdale with a shot that gave his team a 26-to-25 lead.

Frank Stanich pocketed a free throw to tie the score again, and it remained that way until, with one minute to go, Korstanje made a short shot from under the basket and put Hope 2 points ahead. The Dutch defense held, and the game ended without further scoring. The victory placed Hope in second place for the M.I.A. title, just behind Kalamazoo.

HAMILTON HERD AGAIN HIGH IN MILK PRODUCTION

The high herd for January, 1934, goes to Henry Overbeek, Hamilton, whose six registered Holsteins produced an average of 1,633 pounds of milk and 52.05 pounds of butterfat, a three times milker. The second high herd goes to R. D. Braver, Hopkins, whose 18 registered Holsteins produced an average of 1,120 pounds of milk and 40.60 pounds of butterfat.

Seventeen herds, comprised of 225 cows, were tested. Twenty-four of the total were dry. Twenty-three produced over 50 pounds of butterfat and 34 over 1,250 pounds of milk. The average for the whole association was 809 pounds of milk and 31.72 pounds of butterfat.

The figures for returns for one dollar expended for feed—$1.70. Feed cost per one pound fat, 16 cents. Feed cost per 100 pounds milk, 63 cents.

GENERAL MEADE IS BACK IN GRAND HAVEN PORT

(Grand Haven Tribune) The sandusker, General Meade, which has been in dry dock at Manitowoc for the past several weeks, returned Sunday to the Grand Haven port where she will complete the remaining repairs during the winter layup. The ship was employed in dredging up until early this year on account of the favorable weather.

She is not expected to go out again before spring unless an emergency should arise.

MOST OF SCHOOL SCRIP IN HOLLAND REDEEMED

The $53,500 worth of scrip issued by the local board of education last spring and distributed to employees of the schools has been redeemed by the board since November with the exception of $15,000, it was revealed today. It is the belief of the board that most of this will be retained until interest can be collected. Interest on the issue is due on March 1 at 2 1/2 per cent. The board believes a $40,000 issue will be sufficient for the school needs this year.

Oldest Holland Woman Was 102 Sunday

Mrs. Marie Kuhlman, oldest resident of Ottawa county, celebrated her 102nd birthday anniversary in Holland Sunday at the home of her grandson, William Kuhlman, of East Twenty-eighth street. Mrs. Kuhlman was born in Germany in 1832 and was nearly 40 when she came to this country. She has lived in this vicinity ever since her arrival in America, spending the last few years at the Eastmanville home for the aged.

Two years ago, when she reached the century mark, hundreds of friends called on her at the home of her grandson and Earnest Brooks, mayor of Holland at that time, spoke in honor of the occasion. The chamber of commerce and many admirers showered her with gifts and garlands.

Last year she received a congratulatory telegram from Comstock. Her favorite song, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," is sung annually over several radio stations in honor of her anniversary.

HOLLAND MAN PLACED ON PROBATION FOR LARCENY OF CIGARETTES

James Smeenge, Holland, was placed on three years' probation and made to pay costs of $50 for the larceny of a quantity of cigarettes from the Bos Tobacco Company at Holland. He has been confined in the county jail for several weeks awaiting sentence, which was meted out by Judge Fred T. Miles.

We must start with the little things. One beet sugar factory is very insignificant when compared with the many other and larger factories in the country, but it can be an aid to our country if we do our part.

If, in our cities, we reduce the number of those who require financial aid, we reduce the amount of money required to support them. By increasing wealth by these methods we make it possible to use the money thus saved for other purposes.

All this can be obtained by the efforts of every individual city and community. Let us do our part by boosting the Lake Shore Sugar Company in our city. Let's do our part. Let's be loyal boosters!

EDWARD BROUWER TALKS TO PRESBYTERIAN GROUP ON FRIDAY EVENING

(Grand Haven Tribune) Rep. Edward Brouwer of this district spoke before the Men's Club of the Presbyterian church Friday evening at the church house on the past and future state legislation, pointing to the reasons why he voted against the $30,000,000 public works program which was recently defeated on two occasions at Lansing.

He is not in favor of the bill, which Gov. William A. Comstock says will be revived again, because the vast sum of money will be concentrated in certain sections of the state for public buildings. He believes some measure of the kind should be put through but should be one in which the money could be diverted to all sections of the state similar to the CWA program. He also believes that $30,000,000 is far in excess of the needs. He recommends that between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000 be raised.

He believes that matter should be left to a vote of the people. He does not favor a revision of the state constitution, as proposed by Gov. Comstock. He stated that there was already a provision in the laws of this state giving the legislature power to change certain laws, if necessary, and he thinks the governing bodies themselves are capable of making adjustments for improvements in state law.

He spoke of the school situation and quoted long lists of figures to show what had been done to relieve the school situation and how the state was laboring to adjust finances under the new property tax laws.

Dinner was served at 7:00 p. m., followed by the address.

FORMS HOLDING WALLS AT CITY HALL BURNED

Grand Haven Tribune — Fire started in some of the wooden forms at the city hall construction work early this morning, which was put out in a short time with some water and chemicals. The fire started from some of the cylinders filled with coke which are being used to keep the temperature of the concrete above freezing. There was no damage reported.

HOLLAND MARKS 87TH BIRTHDAY; FOUNDED 1857

Eighty-seven years ago, Feb. 9, Dr. A. C. Van Raalte and his party arrived at the present site of Holland, founding a city which has developed into the largest in Ottawa county and is one of the gateways to western Michigan. Founded by Dr. Van Raalte Feb. 9, 1847, the city was incorporated in 1867.

Four years later the city was almost destroyed by fire, involving a loss approximating $1,000,000. One of the few remaining monuments of pioneer days is Ninth Street Christian Reformed church, dedicated by Dr. Van Raalte in 1856.

The colonists soon rebuilt their homes and works, however, and a new city arose from the ruins that has commanded a national reputation for efficiency in city government. Holland has continued to grow until at present it numbers well over 15,000.

PROMOTION OF SON; REMINDER OF "DAD"

Word has just been received in Allegan that Joseph Thew, who has been an ensign in the navy, has been appointed first lieutenant and is with the naval fleet stationed off California. Thew's father was the late Judge Charles Thew of Allegan probate court. The father was well known in Holland and many years ago received his education here. He was an intimate friend of George Hunt, who was ticket agent of the C. and W. M. Railroad here and is still with the Pere Marquette, Mr. Thew and Mr. Hunt in those days were considered the most immaculate dressers in Holland.

Barthold broke loose for a field goal shortly after the intermission, starting his teammates on a scoring spree that netted 20 points in the final period. Coach Gene Thomas' squad controlled the ball most of the time during the second half and displayed a smooth passing attack to keep a clean conference record and hang up their 10th straight victory this season.

Coach "Jerry" Breen's boys were obviously unmoved by Kalamazoo's smooth offense and shot wild throughout the game. De Groot with six points led the Breenmen in scoring and turned in a neat defensive game.

The Holland high reserves won, 21-16, over the seconds of Kalamazoo Central in the preliminary game.

MAYOR OF HOLLAND LIKES JOB; WILL RUN AGAIN

(Grand Rapids Press) Mayor Nicodemus Bosch entered the mayoralty race Thursday and in so doing duplicated the three-cornered race of two years ago when Bosch defeated Albert P. Kleis and Sears R. McLean for the office.

Bosch first was elected mayor in 1912 and held the office consecutively four years. He served two years in 1918-19 and at the expiration of his present term will have served the city as chief executive eight years.

DUTCH FALL TO KALAMAZOO

The Kalamazoo Central eagles scored a 29-11 triumph over the Holland high quintet in a Southwestern Michigan conference game here Friday. Both teams experienced difficulty in finding the loop during the first quarter and were held to a single free throw apiece, scored by De Groot and Thomas. The teams opened up before the end of the half, when the visitors were ahead, 9-6. Kalamazoo clinched a tie for first place in the conference standing.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

IT'S INCONVENIENT AND EMBARRASSING FOR BOTH

Repeated requests to use a neighbor's telephone soon prove embarrassing and inconvenient for both persons. The "borrower" has to leave her house, even in bad weather, to use the telephone. The accommodating neighbor is interrupted in her work or rest. And sometimes she even is asked to deliver a telephone message!

You can have your own telephone at a cost of only a few cents a day! It will pay its way in the convenience and protection it provides for the entire family. Any Telephone Business Office will furnish complete information, and take your order.

ZEELAND

(To late for last week.)

Mrs. John Post, 24, passed away Sunday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dykstra of West McKinley street, Zeeland, following a prolonged illness. Surviving besides the parents are her husband; three brothers, Edward and Arie Dykstra of California; four sisters, Mrs. Ed Dykstra of Byron Center, Mrs. Andrew Wierenga of California, Mrs. Gertrude Holgers of Castle Park and Mrs. Evelyn Dykstra of Zeeland. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the parents. Rev. William Kok, pastor of First Christian Reformed church, officiated. Burial took place in Zeeland cemetery.

Zeeland's third annual egg show will be held in the new city hall March 22 to 24. Because of lack of space the feature was not promoted in the last two years. It is sponsored by the Retailers' association, in co-operation with hatcherymen. Already a number of applications for exhibit and commercial space have been received. Henry J. Matter is chairman of the arrangements committee. David VanOmmen is secretary and M. J. Weersing, treasurer. George Caball and Jacob Geerlings represent the poultrymen. The three-day show will have features at each evening session. The two judges, J. A. Davidson, field manager of the Michigan Poultry Improvement association, and Prof. A. J. Moore, poultry specialist at Michigan State college, will be the speakers at the Thursday evening meeting. Forest Grove orchestra also will entertain. On Friday evening, the Zeeland High school orchestra will play and Otto Pino, head of the agriculture department in the local schools, will discuss farm topics. Saturday evening prizes will be awarded the winners and the eggs will be auctioned off. There will be a concert by the local American Legion band. A short program will also be given. Cash prizes will be awarded the two merchants of the city who have the best window displays during egg week. The committee in charge is comprised of H. J. Matter, David VanOmmen, George Caball, Jacob Geerlings, Harry Derks, J. H. Veneklaas, Angus DeKruif and Jack Bonstra. The show will be divided into three classes, farmers, hatcherymen and students.

Folkert Wierda of 129 North Elm street, Zeeland, was injured when he fell from a scaffold in the Zeeland high school gymnasium to the hardwood floor below. Wierda, a painter, was employed on a CWA project of redecorating the building. He was taken to Zeeland hospital, where authorities reported that he had suffered a fractured right ankle and hand and had received body bruises. Aside from his fractures the man is much improved.

Announcement of the marriage of Adolph Siekman of Zeeland and Mrs. Minnie Peterson of Lombard, Ind., were received by friends and relatives this week. Rev. Arnold C. Cook of Gary, Ind., performed the marriage ceremony. Mr. Siekman has always lived in this community and they are making their home on Mr. Siekman's farm, one mile north of Zeeland on Fairview road.

Next Tuesday, February 20, is open house night at P. T. A. At this time parents will be given the opportunity to meet the teachers in their rooms. The teachers are desirous of meeting a great many parents. A short program consisting of music by the Zeeland men's Glee club and an oration by the high school orator, and a brief business meeting in the high school assembly room at 7:45 will precede the open house.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Wiersma celebrated their fourth marriage anniversary Wednesday by receiving a newcomer into their family group. The newcomer is a little tiny girl, named Wanda Lou and will be a permanent resident at the home for several years. She was born at the local hospital Wednesday morning.

The W. C. T. U. did not hold their regular meeting Friday as scheduled in order to give the members an opportunity to attend the service in Forest Grove in observance of the World Day of Prayer for Missions. The meeting will be held on Friday, February 23, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Vande Water, 240 East Main street. Mrs. A. Pieters of Holland, who has spent many years in Japan doing missionary work, will address the meeting.

Prayer Day for world missions was observed at the Free Methodist church in Zeeland, Friday, February 16.

Arend Styrfelt celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary at his home on East Cherry street, Friday, in a quiet way. He received the congratulations of his children, grandchildren, and many friends, and wishes for many happy returns of the day. Mr. Styrfelt is still in possession of all his faculties, is in good health and able to be about the streets.

Prof. Arthur Evans, instructor at the University of Michigan, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Wells, at their home on North Elm street recently.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vries and family visited in Holland with Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Warming in honor of Mr. Warming's birthday.

Mrs. Hietje Van Dyke was most pleasantly surprised at the home of her children, Mr. and Mrs. James Westenbroek on West Central avenue, the occasion being her sixtieth birthday anniversary. The party was composed of Mrs. Dena Van Dyke and Mrs. Henry Palmboos of Holland; Mrs. Henry Poest, Mrs. Albert Poest, Mrs. Joe Vande Vande, Mrs. Arie Van Dyke and Mrs. James Westenbroek.

Martin J. De Haan and Miss Josephine De Haan of Zeeland and Dr. and Mrs. William Reus of Jamestown left a few days ago on a pleasure trip to Florida.

Dr. John Koppel, veterinarian, has been retained by the public health department to become the first meat inspector under the new abattoir ordinance. He will start his duties Thursday. He has been a meat inspector for 20 years, 7 of them with the state department. His home is in Zeeland.

On last Tuesday, February 20, Mrs. O. Holkeboer expects to celebrate her eightieth birthday anniversary at her home on South Maple street. She was at home all day to receive friends and relatives honoring the event. Mrs. Holkeboer is a life-long resident of this community and before moving here to spend her declining years she lived on a farm one-half mile north of Mead Johnson company. She is still active and in excellent health.

OVERSEEL

The Rapid River Valley boys and Lugten from Hamilton will present an old-time musical program in the Community hall Thursday evening, February 22, at 7:45 p. m. The Lugten trio is composed of Harold, Julius and James Lugten, well known old-time guitar, guitar and mouth organ players. The program will also include selections by the Royal Hawaiians and the Yodeling Farmer, which is taken by Arthur Hoffman. Other numbers will be humorous selections by Mr. Harry Poll of Hamilton, who is his own composer, and selections on the banjo and Jew's harp by Hans Tubergen of East Saugatuck. Everyone is invited to attend this performance. The price of admission for adults is 20 cents and children, 10 cents.

Local News

Mrs. Sam Plagenhoef was in charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Metropolitan club, its auxiliary and friends held Monday evening in Royal Neighborhood hall on West Eighth street. The following program was presented: Selections by the Happy Harmonizers composed of Jerald Sagers, Henry Tien, Clarence Elders, Benjamin Eiferdink, Gradaus Geurink and Stanley Rutgers; Miss Wilma Vande Bunte and Miss Agnes Tyse enacted a musical skit, after which Miss Ruth Ver Hey gave a reading. Songs were sung by a quartet composed of Henry Topp, Corniel Topp, Garry Ter Beck and Garry De Weerd. Edward Vander Brink also sang with guitar accompaniment. After the program bunco was played by the group. First prizes were awarded to Miss Vande Bunte and Dick Van Kolken, while consolation awards went to Mrs. George Wiersma and Sam Plagenhoef. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Simon De Boer, Mrs. Paul Michiels and Mrs. Ruth Cramer.

The miscellaneous program to be given in the First Christian Reformed church of this city, on Thursday evening, February 15, sponsored by the Holland League of Young Men's societies, has been postponed indefinitely, due to unforeseen circumstances. The committee on arrangements is working on future dates, so watch the Record for further announcements.—Zeeland Record.

HOLLAND'S BANKS INCLUDED

The anniversary today of Michigan's financial holiday of 1933 brought a statement from Rudolph E. Reichert, state banking commissioner of that era, that the banking situation is on its soundest basis in years.

"It is my opinion that the banking situation is at present on a sounder basis than it has been for many years, and with federal deposit insurance in full force in the state, I believe that the banking business will do its part in the recovery program."

Reichert's final inventory estimated losses by Michigan depositors in their banks at less than 10 per cent.

The three Holland banks all report substantial increases in deposits during the last six weeks. In some instances as high as $2,000 a day have been deposited in a single bank. This is evident that confidence is returning and augmented with a government guarantee our financial structure will soon be normal again.

Mr. Roy E. Bedell of the school of assembly service, in addition to his lecture on Lincoln, gave a highly creditable impersonation of the Great Liberator in the chapel service of Monday, February 19.

For several years Mr. Bedell has been a recognized authority on the First American, and his lifelong study, and acquaintance with the few people who remember Lincoln, or have some of his letters in their possession added interesting sincerity to his talk.

Among other things, Mr. Bedell stated that contrary to popular notion, Lincoln did not tell unwholesome stories, his father was not a drunkard, and he was not undevoted to his wife. Frequent humorous anecdotes as well as Mr. Bedell's undoubted sincerity, did much to lend additional interest to his interpretations. That he deeply impressed the students may be deduced from the fact that there was an absolute silence when he finished the immortal "Gettysburg Address," which was only broken by the storm of applause.

Elkie Meyer was elected president of the Divinity Guild at a meeting held January 17. Maurice Snyder was the choice for vice-president and John Chamberlain secretary and treasurer. Meyer replaces Franklin Dietz as Guild president.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE
THIS week sees the beginning of Lent and its changed food habits. For many people it means more fish, more eggs, cheese and vegetables and less meat and less sweets. There will be ample supplies of fresh, salt, smoked and canned fish, and fish is delicious if well and not over-cooked and well seasoned.

Fortunately this is the egg season with eggs fresh, plentiful and inexpensive. They should be used freely as ever the lowest priced group is really fresh. Cheese is abundant and gives a lot of food in exchange for its cost. Dried peas and beans are also good Lenten foods.

Fresh vegetables and fruits continue plentiful with little change in price except for strawberries whose ripening has been slowed by cold. The Quaker Maid offers the following dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Noodles au gratin with bacon
New Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Dutch Apple Cake
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Baked Pot. Roll Mashed Potatoes
Glazed Carrot
Bread and Butter
Orange Cream Tapioca
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Grapefruit
Baked Ham Covered Sweet Potatoes
Green Peas
Suet and Raisin Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Banana Cream Pie
Coffee Milk

Pickle Contracts
We are now prepared to contract for pickles for delivery to our Holland plant this season.

You may secure your contract and seed by calling at our factory office on Thursday, Feb. 22 between 9 A. M. and 4 P. M.
