Prison Terms Given 2 Local 17-Year-Olds

Judge Smith Lectures
Borgman and Holtrust
As Sentence Is Given

Grand Haven, Feb. 24 (Special)—Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith gave a stinging rebuke as he sentenced two 17-year-old Holland youths to prison terms today. Sentenced to serve 18 months to five years in Southern Michigan prison at Jackson were Henry Holtrust, of 359 River Ave., and Dale Borgman, route 2, Holland. They had pleaded guilty Feb. 11 to a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle, but since that time both confessed several breaking and entering cases.

"This community needs protection against you two boys," Judge Smith said. "We will have to give the sheriff and police departments a rest; you've been keeping them pretty busy. You are evidently not afraid of the law, not afraid of the court, not afraid of jail and not afraid of the prospect of prison. There is nothing for the court to do but send you away."

Holtrust married Arlene De Geus of Zeeland in a ceremony in Grand Haven Wednesday.

Jay LaVerne Hamburg, 18, Raymond Cobb, 19, and Welland Weaver, 19, all of Holland, who previously pleaded guilty to nighttime breaking and entering, involving entrance of the Fred Dirks barn on route 4, were placed on probation for two years. Conditions are that they keep fully employed, refrain from use of intoxicants, stay out of pool rooms, observe a midnight curfew, pay $5 a week in savings account, pay $5 a month costs, and pay $50 costs. They also must attend church once a Sunday with their families.

"We want you to live in your homes and earn the respect of the community," the judge told the trio.

Howard M. Newland and Marvin Conklin, 19, Hudsonville, and George Barendse, Jr., Grand Rapids, charged with larceny from an automobile, were sentenced to pay $25 costs each or serve 30 days in the county jail. They were alleged to have taken a battery from a pickup truck owned by Herbert Schut last Jan. 24. Schut asked that the boys be given consideration.

Norman Taylor, 21, of 75 East Ninth St., Holland, charged with nighttime breaking and entering of the Do Drop Inn, changed his plea to "not guilty" after the court informed him of his rights of trial by jury and that an attorney would be appointed to defend him. Taylor said he did not break into the Inn but entered it later. He informed the court that his companion, Dennis Kimber, 20, Holland, also charged with the break-in, had purchased liquor and beer with an unemployment check, and the two had consumed the intoxicants in the basement of a Holland pool room.

"If we hadn't been drinking, I wouldn't have gone into the place," Taylor said.

Admitted to Holland hospital Wednesday were Janice Thomas, 480 Pine Ave., (discharged same day); Melvin Arthur Vandewater, 248 East 12th St. (discharged same day); Henry J. Motion Denied

Grand Haven, Feb. 24 (Special)—In an opinion filed in Circuit Court today, a motion made by defense counsel Monday to dismiss a charge of negligent homicide against Albert Elzerman, 49, Grand Rapids, was denied. The charge arose out of a fatal accident in Georgetown township last Dec. 14 resulting in the death of Benjamin De Windt, 47.

Ice Shanty Menace

Conservation officers of the Holland area today warned fishermen that it is against the law to leave ice shanties on private property. Officers checked the Big Bayou and Waukazoo areas after a complaint and found many shanties that were blocking entrances to cottages and other property. According to the complaint, 52 shanties are on private property in this area.

Hoax Falls Apart On Investigation

The Holland Chamber of Commerce was given credit for an assist Wednesday afternoon for the arrest of Elmer McGary, 33, of route 1, Three Rivers.

Bob Horner, owner of the Mooring, called the Chamber and McGary and two other men came to his house and McGary posed as an inspector from the state health department. The trio wanted to clean his septic tank and charge him accordingly.

The Chamber, after checking, called police and Deputy Jim Flint took the three men into custody. Ray Johnson, of Burr Oak, and Frederick Julien of Vicksburg, were released after questioning.

The state health department and county prosecutor were called for advice and McGary was charged with impersonating an officer of the board of health.

He was arraigned in Holland's municipal court Wednesday afternoon and waived examination. He was sentenced to pay $50 fine or serve 30 days when arraigned in Circuit Court this morning.

Lions Club Hears Sen. Vandenberg

State Sen. William Vandenberg presented an interesting picture on "A Bit of Inside Michigan," at the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Lions club Tuesday. He spoke about taxation, its increases and the amount it takes today to operate the state.

Vandenberg said there are 191 lobbyists today against 132 members of the legislature and each one is trying to obtain something. He said the budget was just under three hundred million dollars which he termed "an enormous" amount.

The speaker said each city should do more to promote and finance some of its own projects thus eliminating the terrific burden on the state.

Guests were George Schutmaat, Dan Vanderwerf, James Bagladi, Carl Nies and William Vandenberg, Jr.

It was announced that the annual basketball banquet for school basketball teams will be held March 23 in Hope church parish hall. Bill Orwick, of the University of Michigan, will be the speaker.

President Russell Vander Poel presided at the meeting and Malcolm Mackay led group singing. The program was in charge of Preston Manting, who introduced the speaker.

Newsman Attend Automobile Clinic

A behind-the-scenes clinic illustrating developments and research in the auto industry was held at Grand Rapids Wednesday night by General Motors corporation for newspaper and radio representatives of Western Michigan.

Lyle A. Walsh, manager of the GM engineering staff, detailed the engineering evolution of the car from the day of its infancy to the modern streamlined versions, and told of the exhaustive safety tests conducted before the finished product reaches the market.

Walsh said the use of automatic transmissions will grow and expand through the industry.

He declared that styling of automobiles must not be "too far ahead of the market." For example, he cited that styling must conform to various standardizations and parts in design.

"Trends in car styling are evolutionary and not revolutionary," he said.

Dr. Charles T. Black, game management specialist, accompanied by Barrett, showed scenes of every section of the state and explained what the state conservation department is doing to reclaim wasteland, to maintain good hunting, to purify streams and to develop recreation areas for public use.

Body Recovered From Macatawa Near Light Plant

Tragedy Witnessed By Two Companions; Boys Had Gone Fishing

A fishing expedition ended in death for a Holland boy Friday afternoon.

Jerry Westenbroek, 7, of 515 West 22nd St., was drowned when he fell into Lake Macatawa near the Third St. power plant outlet 150 feet off shore.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Westenbroek, 515 West 22nd. The drowning occurred at 3:30 p.m. and the body was recovered at 5:35 p.m. in about 12 feet of water by Officer Leonard Stokette, Gustav Nynas and Chief Dean Miller of the Coast Guard, who were operating from a boat.

Officers trucked a boat to the open water near the hole where the boy fell through and after dragging and cracking ice, finally found the body.

According to reports, the boy had gone fishing with Billie Van Duinen, 7, and Bob Van Duinen, 9. The two youths saw their buddy fall through the ice and went to Harrington's Coal yard to summon help.

Dragging operations began 15 minutes after the boy went through the ice.

Officers said the boy fell through spongy ice, weakened by 50-degree temperatures. Not far from the scene the discharge of warm water from the power plant keeps the water open the year around. The boy was wearing buckle overshoes and a mackinaw. The weak ice hampered rescue operations.

Classes had been dismissed at Montello park Friday afternoon and the boys had taken advantage of the holiday to plan the fishing expedition.

The boy's father, a trucker, was located at New Buffalo while en route to Chicago and was informed of the tragedy.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water said the death was accidental and no inquest will be held.

Jerry was a pupil at Montello Park school. He was born May 7, 1941.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Westenbroek, a brother, Allan Wayne, and the grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Motow of Holland.

Speaker Advocates Return Of Flying Tigers in China

Speaking on the subject, "China in Relation to Ourselves," Dean E. Smith, a businessman who has spent many years in China, told Hope college students Tuesday that pouring American money into Europe while leaving the flank uncovered in the Far East is like pouring water into a wicker basket.

"Assistance to Europe is futile without an adequate policy in Asia," he said. He added the situation in China is not hopeless. He advocated a meeting of the best informed people on the true China situation and an investigation of these motives which led to the rise of communism in China.

He advocated a revival of the Flying Tigers in China, believing that they could achieve the desired result in disrupting the effectiveness of the Communists. "It would sow dissension among corrupt ranks through the spirit of the populace in the territory the Communists occupy," he said.

Exchangites Hear About Boys, State

Members of the Holland Exchange club learned Monday how some of the boys of Michigan learn much about the government of the state as six boys from the high school described their experiences at Wolverine Boys' State. The local club pays the expenses for at least one boy each year to this unique experiment in state government and politics. Boys' State is sponsored by the American Legion.

The six boys sent from Holland were Don Lubbers, Bill Filkins, Ray Metzger, Bill Brink, Warren Sinke and Paul Schure. Each spoke on a different phase of the work carried on in the camp at East Lansing. They were each assigned to a political party and as good party members worked strenuously for the success of the party in county organization, in state conventions and in elections.

After elections were over then practice in county and state offices and commissions was given. From some of the accounts given by these boys it seemed as if some duly elected officers might borrow a few pages from the boys' book with profit. Since Boys' State emphasized the duty of each citizen to vote, the message given the Exchange club was a timely one. The boys all agreed that they had a lot of fun, but along with the fun went a great deal of serious thinking.

At the beginning of the program Don Van Ry sang two solos, "Bluebird of Happiness" and a Negro spiritual, "By and By." His father, Franklin Van Ry was his accompanist.

Rex Chapman introduced Preston Kools of the Christian high school as Junior Exchangite for the day. Other visitors included Robert Fralick of the senior class of Hope college and Carl Nies, manager of the Kresge store.

Hope Cage Team Smothers Albion In Second Half

Thrilling First Half Sees Dutch Trailing; 44 Points Second Half

After a nip-and-tuck first half Saturday night, Hope college's cage team pumped 44 points through the net in the second half to bury the Albion Britons under a 75-59 score.

The win shoved the Dutch up into a three-way tie with Kalamazoo and Alma for third place in MIAA standings and widened the gap between league-leading Hillsdale and second-place Albion.

There was never more than four points difference between the teams during the first half and the score was deadlocked six times. Albion kept Hope under wraps with a close defense that didn't give way for too many "open" shots.

Hope's shooting in that first half was erratic while the Britons, led by Forward Dick Berry and his corner shots, kept the strings waving enough to keep a one-two-three point lead most of the half. Albion quit the first half with a one-point 32-31 lead.

Hope slowly inched ahead in the last half and at the end of ten minutes held a 49-45 lead. Then came a 26-point avalanche by the locals which carried them to a 20-point lead just before the game ended.

Paul Muyskens played his best game of the season as pivotman for the Dutch. The lanky center not only held Albion's high-scoring Vincent Sigren to a lone field goal for the evening, but counted 14 points—mostly on tip-ins.

With Bill "Moose" Holwerda and Muyskens under the boards, Albion had to play second fiddle most of the second half as far as rebounds go.

Hope's biggest asset during that high-powered second half was its follow-in ability. Sometimes it would take as many as five and six tips, but the oval eventually found its mark.

One of the larger crowds of the season at the Armory witnessed an outstanding performance of teamwork by the Dutch in scoring. Herk Buter was high with 17, Bud Van De Wege had 16, Nick Yonker and Muyskens 14. Big "Moose" counted seven and Jon Bremer, playing a reserve role, hit for six.

Dick Allen, with four out of seven field goals in the first half, led Albion with 14 for the evening and Lou Back racked up 10. Downtown Nash defeated the Hope freshmen 50-38. Nash led throughout the game. Louie Van Dyke had 19 points for the winners while Ken Hulst paced Hope with 15.

Reckless Driver Gets Jail Sentence, Fine

Robert Smith, 35, of Allegan, was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Allegan county jail and must pay $25 fine plus $10 costs or serve an additional 25 days in jail.

Smith was arraigned in Allegan municipal court on a reckless driving charge. The count came after a wild chase Thursday night that ended in the City of Allegan and began on M-40, near the Lincoln Ave. intersection south of Holland city limits.

Allegan city police, Holland police, state police and sheriff's officers combined to make the arrest. Smith was taken into custody after his car went into a ditch.

According to officers, the chase reached speeds of 85-90 miles per hour.

Two of Ottawa Named to State Central Group

D. Bruce M. Raymond of Holland and Anna Van Horsen of Grand Haven were chosen as Ottawa county representatives on the Republican State Central committee at the party's annual convention in Grand Rapids Saturday.

Other committee members from the 5th district are Dr. Willard Ver Meulen and Mrs. Ella D. Koeze of Grand Rapids. Fourth district, which takes in Allegan county, has the following members: Ann Ferris, Allegan; Blanche Kehoe, Sturgis; Edson Root, Jr., Bangor; Eldon Stankey, St. Joseph.

Owen J. Cleary, former Liquor Control commission chairman and wartime state troops commander, was named party chairman in a harmonious GOP convention. He told central committee members the party faces a tough job to rebuild and eradicate complacency, but he predicted election of spring vote candidates as a stepping stone to a return to full power in 1950.

Dissident party elements failed to raise a hand Saturday. Former Atty. Gen. Eugene F. Black, a stormy petrel of ex-Gov. Sigler's administration and self-asserted candidate for governor in 1950, remained in the background.

Young Republicans, who earlier had demanded more voice in party affairs, were quiet. Sigler, who didn't deign to attend the convention after his defeat last fall which he blamed on weak support of party leaders, wasn't even mentioned once from the platform.

The April 4 election slate was chosen with a minimum of controversy. It includes:

Supreme court justices—Arthur E. Moore, Pontiac, and Charles W. Rigney, Sandusky; University regents—Alfred B. Connable, Kalamazoo, and Mrs. Vera Balts, Grosse Pointe; highway commissioner—Charles M. Ziegler, superintendent of public instruction—Lee M. Thurston, Lansing; board of education—Stephen S. Nisbet, Fremont; and board of agriculture—W. G. Armstrong, Niles, and Sara Van Hoosen Jones, Rochester.

All are incumbents except the two candidates for supreme court seats.

Cleary became chairman without opposition when his chief rival, Harry F. Smith, Kalamazoo, withdrew to accept a lesser post as party secretary. Mrs. Mary Streit, Detroit, won a four-way race for the vice chairmanship.

The party platform followed traditional Republican lines but leaned toward new liberalism in urging fair employment practices legislation, broader workmen's compensation laws, higher old age assistance and welfare grants, and end of federal rent controls. Oddly enough, the party statement included no roundhouse swings at Democratic Governor Williams as had been expected.

Reckless Driver Gets Jail Sentence, Fine

Robert Smith, 35, of Allegan, was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Allegan county jail and must pay $25 fine plus $10 costs or serve an additional 25 days in jail.

Smith was arraigned in Allegan municipal court on a reckless driving charge. The count came after a wild chase Thursday night that ended in the City of Allegan and began on M-40, near the Lincoln Ave. intersection south of Holland city limits.

Allegan city police, Holland police, state police and sheriff's officers combined to make the arrest. Smith was taken into custody after his car went into a ditch.

According to officers, the chase reached speeds of 85-90 miles per hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maentz, West 12th St., entertained a group of their Allegan friends following the Allegan-Holland Christian High basketball game Thursday night. A buffet supper was served to 22 guests.

SELLING COUNTRIES

DOWN THE RIVER

Along comes a public lecturer
with appearances in several Michigan cities who accuses America of having "sold China down the river."
His idea was that we should have poured our billions into China during the war and after it just as we poured our money and goods into Russia. Well, as to the latter country, are we quite as sure today as we were before 1945 that we were wise? If we had done for China what we did for Stalin's government, is there the slightest assurance that that unhappy country would be any better off today than it is?

All such lecturers appear to make the unwarranted assumption that China would have built up a central government in accordance with the American idea of democracy. There is much evidence to suggest that American billions would in large part have gone into the pockets of people who had much less right to them than had the American taxpayers. A system so corrupt that it was out of control has no reason for reproaching
America that it did not do more.
If anyone sold China down the river, it is China itself.

What applies to China applies to some other countries. There is a disposition on the part of some idealists to reproach this country for not pouring uncounted millions into Greece and Turkey and all sorts of other lands. But there is evidence that in any of those countries American dollars are being used to keep people in easy circumstances who do not deserve it.
There is no reason why America
should continue to pour the hard-earned wealth of hard-working American citizens into lands controlled by governments that think more of making life easy for its own members than of fighting the common enemy. There is a lot of sentimental talk about foreign aid that deserves to be labeled for what it is.

It would seem to be in order for American citizens who go about lecturing to look at the situation from the angle of America, not from the point of view of foreign countries. Almost invariably it is the other way round; it is taken for granted that America is always wrong and the other country always right. We could do with fewer lecturers of that type, and we could use a few more who are Americans first and propagandists for other nations next.

The Standards of the Kingdom

Matthew 5:1-12

By Henry Geerlings

The beatitudes hold a unique place. They are the words of Jesus as He began the Sermon on the Mount. They are comforting words and their value has been so appreciated that they stand as something to be memorized and often repeated by His followers.

They had a special meaning when He spoke them. His hearers saw in them a new way of approaching life. Religion was set forth as a practical matter for routine living. Jesus aimed at the inner blessings which believers should enjoy, and declared the means of obtaining them.

He dealt with human relationship and showed what He considered the ideal standard for it.
Conduct was of much concern to Jesus, for how believers acted was to Him the index of what they really were. He laid down specific methods for dealing with offenders. In fact, the way to be blessed is to live up to the directions which He gives.

Jesus took His disciples away from the crowd and quietly withdrew to a high hill near Capernaum. In the attitude of a teacher He sat and talked to them. He set before them certain rewards which each of them certainly desired, and showed them how to prepare themselves to receive these rewards. Each reward was a blessing and for each blessing He prescribed a way for securing it.

The were largely inner blessings. The attitude of humility was necessary for a place in the kingdom. The proud, the self-righteous, the one who depended on his external righteousness was not promised the kingdom. This blessing was not purchasable
for money or merited by works.

It was for those who walked humbly before God. The comfort they craved was peace of soul as they thought of the holiness of God
and of their own sins.

Such mourning leads to repentance and repentance is the acknowledgement of needed help from God.

Too much stress was being put on establishing Israel again in Jerusalem by a military victory.
But Jesus promised a place in the earth for those who meekly followed the will of God. Not by might nor by power but by God's help would the earth be possessed.

Jews longed to be righteous before God and strove to acquire this winning righteousness by rites and ceremonies, but Jesus denounced this and promised satisfying righteousness through faith in Himself, who alone was the righteousness that can stand before God.

His mercy was craved but it was not promised except to those who practiced mercy toward their fellows. The desire to see God was strong, but Jesus said that before the desire could be satisfied the heart must be pure. Attitude of heart rather than conformity to rules opens the way
for us to see God.

Jesus, heralded as the bringer
of peace, practiced peace-making.
To be called sons of God, men follow His example. Trying to live so as to receive these rewards would bring them into persecutions, but even in these they were to rejoice, for just as others had attained through suffering so would they. Jesus did not hide the fact of suffering for His sake, but He also made known the rewards of such suffering.

He said things about the believer's treatment of enemies that are hard to accept and practice.
His words are timely, not only for personal relations but also for national relations. The natural impulse is revenge, get even, give as we get, Jesus prescribed love and prayer as the way with enemies. Enmity cannot last where love rules, and whoever prays for an enemy will be less active in fighting Him.

God makes no discrimination
when He bestows His blessings.
His love impels Him to be generous. It is not hard to love those who love us, but to love enemies is a real trial. Natural impulses are to be controlled by the believer in Christ, at least when it comes to dealing with those who are against us, even with our persecutors.

Forgiveness is a fruit of love. It is a beautiful fruit but it does not grow without much special care.
It takes constant watching to keep ourselves from falling into the ways of vengeance. The example of Jesus helps the Christian in reaching up to the high standard of loving enemies and praying for them.

Jesus expects His followers to be known by their conduct. It is by what they do, by how they live, that they show their relation to Him. They are to be above the publicans who love where it will be profitable. They are not to be snobbish, refusing to salute non-believers. They are to seek to show their love for others in the same degree of broadness that God uses. Hatred and jealousy and prejudice are to be put aside and Christian love is to abound.

United Nations Topic
At Meeting of AAUW

In an informal talk before members of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, Thursday night in the home of Miss Lida Rogers, Miss Ethel Louise Knox of Grand Rapids gave intimate glimpses of her stay in New York City last summer when she was a frequent visitor at Lake Success. While studying at New York university, Miss Knox attended many sessions of the United Nations organization.

The United Nations is in no way a world government, Miss Knox said. It is rather a "large group of nations trying to work out their problems together."

Miss Knox feels that the UN has a big job to do. In addition to describing the top personalities
associated with the organization,
she told about the physical setup
of UN and with a film strip outlined the scope of its activities.

The speaker, explaining the difficulties in getting at the true facts, told how the veto power operates only in the security council and then only in certain instances.
Although Russia has tried to block all moves, the speaker feels the UN will not fail even if there eventually comes a break with Russia. The solution to a difficult situation involves patience, determination and skill in reaching the Russian people with the truth, she said.

Miss Bernice Bishop presided at the business meeting. Miss Marion Shackson, education chairman, announced plans for a "career day"
at Holland high school in which the co-operation of AAUW is sought.

Miss Katherine Post reported that 121 volumes were collected for the University of Warsaw.
The books were packed and sent through the co-operation of Mrs.
Vincent Martineau.

A nominating committee to submit a report at the March meeting was appointed. Serving will be Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen, chairman, Mrs. Robert Notier and Miss Metta Ross. A president and secretary will be elected, also three members of a scholarship board.

Other projects and tentative plans were discussed by Mrs. Robert Notier, arts chairman and Mrs.
Preston Shaffer, legislative chairman.

Mrs. Robert Horner was chairman of the social committee.

Peter Kromann appeared before the branch to talk about the city charter revision.

Political Parade

Sentinel personnel experienced the usual merry-mad telephone onslaught in Monday's primaries,
although the hello girls said people seemed to ask more intelligent questions than has sometimes been the case. Most persons requested information on a single issue or office, which kept calls short and to the point. Nobody kept track of the calls, but there were several hundred.

Monday's total vote in Holland city was 2,460 which is regarded as a fair vote for a primary. Last year's lively primary attracted an all-time high primary vote of about 3,800. In other years when competition was light, total vote has slumped under 1,500. Vote by wards follows: first, 229; second, 452; third, 533; fourth, 338; fifth, 454; sixth, 454. Third ward with opposition in races for two aldermen, one a two-year term and the other a one-year, attracted the highest vote. Usually second and sixth wards top the list.

Election board workers in the first ward dealt with the lightest vote and consequently were the first to report in at City Clerk Clarence Greengood's office shortly after 10 p.m. The last ward came in after midnight.

The weather was believed responsible for the "fair" vote cast Monday. Throughout the day, it remained dark but towards evening a light rain fell and continued until after midnight.

Many persons were amazed at the 7 to 1 majority in the charter revision issue. Many had expected it to pass by a much smaller majority.

Just what will be done about a city attorney for Holland will be determined later. Peter Boter who did not seek re-election received 72 write-in votes and Vernon Ten Cate received 62. Gerald Van Wyke received 39 and Clarence Lokker 30. Louis Stemphly, who lives outside Holland and therefore ineligible, received 5.

Good Farm Lease
Helps Management

With the approach of March first—traditional moving time on the farm, the Michigan State college farm management department is advising consideration of farm leases.

Good leases furnish a written record of what the parties agree upon at the time the agreement is made. They protect the interest of the tenant or landlord in case of the death of either party.

A good lease also helps encourage better farm management

Holland Christian Defeats Allegan In Rugged Game

Locals Stage Comeback In Fourth Quarter; Kool High Scorer

Showing a spectacular "drive" in the final half, a gallant Holland Christian quintet subdued a potent Allegan high club at the Armory Thursday night by a 41-38 count. It was clearly Christian's tremendous work on the backboards against a rugged Allegan crew which paid off in a victory. The defeat was Allegan's third in 17 starts this season.

Allegan led three quarters of the contest, although the Hollanders managed to keep within striking distance. With the score 34-31 going into the final period, Coach Arthur Tuls' club staged a rally to notch the victory. While surging themselves, a tight Holland defense failed to allow a single Allegan tally for seven minutes of the final quarter.

Although the entire Maroon club played excellent ball, much of the credit for the win should go to Butts Kool, Pete Holstege and Norm Unema—the Dutch's rugged front line. Holstege turned in one of the best games of his career while netting nine tallies. Kool was again a "bear" on the backboards, in addition to leading the offense of both clubs with 17 points.

It wasn't hard to see why Coach Ken Otis' crew won 14 games this season. They are a smooth well functioning ball club, with plenty of scoring ability. Ralph Boe, rugged Tiger center, is one of the best pivots seen on the local court this season.

After taking a 1-0 lead in the early stages, the Tulsians seemed content to trail by five points. Allegan was definitely "on" in the first half, scoring most of their points from out court. The score at the end of the first period was 12-7 in favor of the invaders.

Both clubs showed scoring bursts in the second quarter, but the Allegan long shot artists continued to keep the losers out in front. Christian couldn't get within five points for any length of time. Butts Kool bore the brunt of the attack with 12 points during the first half. Allegan led 25-20 at the intermission.

Allegan gained its biggest lead of the game immediately at the start of the second half, moving out in front, 28-20. Christian then made its bid to score seven straight tallies to pull within one point. But the determined Tigers came right back to take a 34-29 margin a few minutes later. Holstege's basket just before the quarter ended made the score 34-31—and an inspired Christian crew was on the move.

Within a couple of minutes, the Dutch had passed the Alleganders and led 37-34 with three minutes remaining. Four more tallies gave the Maroons a 41-34 lead with one minute left. Choosing to shoot many foul shots in the final seconds, the Dutch refused to stall with the seven point lead. Allegan was able to net two quick baskets in the final minute to pull within three points.

The contest was clearly one of Christian's best to date, and served further warning that the Dutch may be tough to beat in succeeding clashes.

Each side committed 17 personal with Allegan losing Taylor and Boe in the final stages by the

Dealer Attends Dodge Preview

Sam Dagen, president of Ottawa Auto Sales, Inc., recently returned from Detroit where he attended a dealer preview of the completely new-style Dodge cars, the first models of which will be displayed in his showroom at 21 West Seventh St. on Friday. Mr. Dagen was accompanied by Ira Antles, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

Dagen said that although detailed information of the appearance and many engineering and mechanical improvements introduced in the new Dodge could not be revealed prior to the public showing, there are certain general facts concerning the comfort-engineering story behind the new Dodge styling that can be disclosed at this time.

"The primary considerations that influenced the design of the new Dodge were Army statistics which showed that the GI's of World War II were taller, bigger and more active than their predecessors of World War I," Dagen said. "As a result, it was apparent that more passenger room, not less, was required in the modern automobile to comfortably accommodate our physically larger generation."

Holland citizens are invited to Ottawa Auto Sales on Friday to see the new 1949 Dodge.

five foul route. The Tigers cashed in on 10 out of 21 charity tosses while the Dutch hit on only five out of 19.

Kool was high for both clubs with 17 while Hunt passed the losers with eight markers.

In a preliminary encounter, the Christian reserves avenged an early season defeat by stopping the Allegan seconds 28-23. Christian held a narrow margin throughout the tilt after leading 16-14 at halftime. The Bowman brothers, Ralph and Ben shared scoring honors for the Dutch with eight apiece. Stegamon and Wells each had eight for Allegan.

Dutch Lambast Benton Harbor By 62-37 Score

Invaders Swept Aside In Brilliant Drive; Ron Appledorn Stars

Holland high's Dutchmen rose up and smote the Tigers from Benton Harbor by smacking 62 to 37 count Friday night at the Armory. The Tigers had come to Holland nursing a mathematical chance of wearing the Southwestern conference basketball crown, but after the Dutch got through with them any such aspirations had been sent glimmering.

Holland sank the first basket shortly after the game started and never relinquished the lead throughout the contest. The best the Harborites could do was pull to within one point midway of the first quarter.

The quarter scores tell the story: 11-7; 25-18; 42-24 and 62-37.

The game was rough, but fouls were not too frequent. Malcolm Mackay's charges executed a pincer movement. While striking with power that kept their own score mounting, they guarded the Tigers so closely that the invaders had no chance to get set for their shots. The Tigers had less than half a dozen unguarded shots all evening.

Ron Appledorn played the best game of his career. He was high point man for the game with 13 markers. But his floor play was outstanding. He sparked the attack and was a mainstay on defense. And Ken Van Wieren looked like money from home. He scored 10 points in his own right, but his under the basket play kept many a Harbor attack from producing results. The floor work of Ken Schippers is worthy of mention, too. The slightly built athlete handled the ball well and aided in setting up a number of scoring plays. And Tom Hildebrand made a quickie hero of himself. He was in the game but a few minutes, yet he managed to score seven tallies in bing bing fashion.

Long Tom Vander Kuy used his height to advantage under the basket and contributed to the onslaught until he tired before half time and was relieved. After a rest, he came back to the game in the second half and racked up six points.

Mackay used 12 men in various combinations, and each team looked good. Bill Perio also substituted freely, but he couldn't find a key to the solution. An out of town scout said, "I don't believe there is a team in the state that could have whipped the Dutchmen tonight." A full house of fans would agree.

And to make the sweep complete Holland high reserves whipped Benton Harbor 44 to 37. Roger Eggers was high with 21 points and Willard Kramer scored 10 for Holland. In an afternoon game, Holland's 8th graders won a contest from the Christian school 8th graders by a 38 to 8 count.

Legislators Critical Of Hospital Delegation

From Our Washington Bureau
Washington, Feb. 24 — Three Michigan congressmen have charged Michigan veterans "have been discriminated against" to "a shocking degree."

Reps. Gerald Ford, Charles Potter, and Albert Engel, Republicans and all war veterans, request the veteran's administration reinstate two proposed hospitals, one in Detroit and the other in Grand Rapids, eliminated from the building program in a recent curtailment order of the hospitalization board.

The three Michiganders assert Michigan, 7th in war veteran population, ranks last on the list of 23 top states in veteran hospital bed capacity.

Another Early Red Cross Contribution Received

Another early contribution for Red Cross in Ottawa county was received here from Rep. Jerry Ford in Washington, D. C.

Ford wrote Campaign Director W. A. Butler he was making a contribution to Ottawa county, in proportion to his contribution for Kent county.

"I think the Red Cross does a wonderful job and should be perpetuated by the voluntary contributions of the citizens throughout the United States. There may have been instances where proper service was not rendered but that was the exception, rather than the rule," Ford wrote.

The first official contribution was received last week from State Rep. Henry Geerlings of Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hamberg (Louwsma photo)

An arch decorated with pink and white gladioli and banked with ferns was the setting for the marriage of Miss Sophie Geenen and James Hamberg Monday night in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Geenen, 65 West 16th St. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Hamberg, 299 West 18th St.

The Rev. William Van Peursem read the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Van Peursem played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Howard Slenk who sang "Because" and "Through the Years."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, leg o'mutton sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a net heart-shaped bonnet. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Miss Marie Geenen attended her sister as bridesmaid. She wore an aqua taffeta gown with matching mitts and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Edwin Bareman assisted the groom as best man.

An informal reception followed the exchange of vows. Adrian Geenen, brother of the bride, was master of ceremonies and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Ringewold were in charge of the gift room.

Guests were served by the Misses Ruth Prins, Mary Geenen and Johanna Goodyke.

During the reception Miss Helen Van Vels gave a reading, "Setting the Hen," and Mr. Slenk, accompanied by Mrs. Van Peursem, sang "My Hero."

Mr. and Mrs. Hamberg left on a southern wedding trip which will include two weeks in Florida. For traveling the bride wore a navy blue suit and a Valentine corsage of red roses. They will live at 299 West 18th St., upon their return.

The couple are alumni of Holland Christian high school.

Volley From Ambush

PEOPLE ARE always leaving things in public places, and the post office is no exception.

Employees have been keeping a woman's hat since last Christmas. Somebody left it in the lobby and didn't call for it. Eight or nine pairs of gloves have been left during the last few weeks.

Ald. John H. Van Dyke looked right lonely at the meeting of Common Council last Wednesday. His sidekick for the last two years—Raymond Holwerda—was missing.

Holwerda resigned at the previous meeting of council in order that he might be eligible as a candidate for the charter revision commission.

The Board of Education received a pat on the back at its last meeting.

It came in the form of a letter from Dr. F. E. De Weese who complimented the board for its "usual display of good judgment" in denying a request of Holland high council to install candy machines in the cloak rooms.

Dr. De Weese wrote there is no question but that too many sweets are injurious to the teeth.

Supt. C. C. Crawford pointed out, incidentally, that Zeeland high school more than a year ago abandoned candy machines after a brief trial.

Lots of people don't understand why banks close on such days as Lincoln's birthday.

This little story from Postmaster Harry Kramer might give some light.

He said he had made a $600 church deposit on such a day just as the bank holiday was impending back in 1933. Because it was illegal to take such a deposit, the church was reimbursed with the full amount immediately after the banks reopened.

That's a lucky technicality!

Did you ever see five deer run across the road at one time?

Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Ridder, route 1, West Olive, witnessed such a sight while returning home from church last Sunday night.

They described it as "a pretty sight."

What does a psychiatrist do in case of an emergency?

Dr. Charles M. Toy, director of the West Michigan Children's Center at Muskegon, gave a new twist when he told this story at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors in Holland Thursday night.

He said he was preparing his annual report while in the Detroit Leland hotel when a terrific commotion occurred outside. He saw fire trucks of all kinds, and firemen rushing into the hotel. He didn't smell any smoke, but he grabbed his coat with his billfold, his notes for the annual report, and left everything else behind.

That's the answer—his money and his speech!

Being a congressman isn't exactly as glamorous as one might commonly think from the popular ideas expressed in novels and motion pictures.

So says Rep. Jerry Ford of Michigan's fifth district, newcomer in Washington.

"I can say with complete honesty that in the majority, representatives in Congress are hard-working, sincere and earnest men. True, there is a certain amount of lost motion, and occasionally the lighter side comes up and everyone has a good laugh. Being a congressman, however, is not a 40-hour week proposition," the new congressman says.

Incidentally, the Barber Shoppers of America had their day in Congress last week. Stepping forward with pitch-pipes, the SPBSQSA undertook the task of finding a peace-time song that will take the place of Irving Berlin's famous "Any Bonds Today?" The Treasury department is conducting the campaign and 26,000 harmonizers are scratching their heads and biting their pencils in an effort to produce a song to help the new savings bond program along. President Truman has invited a Congressional quartet to introduce the song when it is chosen.

Jerry Ford laments he will be unable to volunteer his efforts. He writes, "Unfortunately, your congressman couldn't carry a tune in the well known basket. More power to the barbershoppers. Their voices are raised in a worthy cause."

W. A. Cobb, retired railroad man living at 244 College Ave., sustains the argument Judge Cornelius vander Meulen and Ben Wiersma had a few weeks ago on the coldest weather Holland ever experienced.

Ben had mentioned 47 below on that memorable day in February, 1899, but the judge said 43 below.

Cobb said they were both right. And he ought to know because he was keeping the official records for Holland. The station in those days was located at Waverly and Cobb was employed by the Chicago and West Michigan Railway, a company which eventually ended up as the Chesapeake and Ohio line.

Cobb said the minimum temperature for that 24-hour period was -47, but that at 7 a.m. (the time the judge must have walked to get breakfast,) it had risen to -43.

Cobb believes this all took place on a Sunday. The previous day the minimum was -36. The -47 record was the low point of a long siege of increasingly colder weather.

And that record hasn't been surpassed, before or since, Cobb believes.

Enthusiastic Kickoff Starts Red Cross Drive

More than 125 volunteer workers gathered in the Warm Friend tavern Friday night for an enthusiastic kickoff meeting launching the 1949 Red Cross roll call in Ottawa county.

Although the campaign opens officially March 1, W. A. Butler, county campaign chairman, urged volunteers to start as early as possible and have the canvass well under way by March 1.

It was definitely decided today that there will be no industrial canvass among employees in local firms. Management will be contacted for contributions, and employees will make their contributions for the most part in the home canvass. There will be no industrial solicitation in Grand Haven or Zeeland, it was decided earlier. Business, professional and school canvasses will be held in Holland as usual.

The Rev. William C. Warner, county Red Cross chairman, introduced township chairman, who in turn introduced their workers.

To Mrs. N. J. Danhof of Zeeland went credit for receiving the first contribution of the year. She received a $25 donation from a Zeeland before he left for Florida in January.

Mrs. J. De Weerd of Hudsonville, who has directed the canvass in Georgetown township for 15 years, reported having collected some $600 so far. She started work early in the township in order to have the campaign well under way before she leaves for a winter vacation in Florida.

Butler reported 100 per cent solicitation among Sentinel employees.

To Mrs. John Van Dam, directing the campaign in Holland township, went recognition for having the largest corps of workers present. More than 25 from that township were present.

A question period yielded answers concerning Red Cross functions, quotas, breakdowns, and canvassing methods. Some criticisms were voiced and several stories of humanitarian service in Ottawa county were cited.

Ottawa county quota is $28,666 of which $21,250 is retained by the Ottawa chapter and $7,416 for national needs. Holland city's quota is $9,975.77; Zeeland city, $1,375.97; Grand Haven city, $6,306.52. Township quotas in the immediate Holland area are Holland township, $1,203.97; Park, $687.98; Blendon, $429.99; Georgetown, $1,375.97; Jamestown, $1,031.98; Olive, $343.99; Port Sheldon, $86.

Butler said the Wolverine Advertising Co. is donating four 24-sheet billboard posters in Holland for the Red Cross drive. The Brouwer Furniture Co. will have a Red Cross display next week.

SELDOM is there trouble on your telephone line nowadays. But sometimes it does happen! An extra-heavy gale or sleet storm . . . a flood, fire or explosion may temporarily disrupt telephone service for a great many people at one time.

When such serious trouble develops, word is flashed to Michigan Bell "emergency headquarters" in Detroit. Within a matter of minutes, this room becomes a beehive of activity.

At their posts around the table, a General Working Committee assembles and begins a battle against time. Simultaneously, emergency committees in the stricken area swing into action. The object—to knit into one swift-moving team the telephone crews that will restore service at the earliest possible moment.

In rapid-fire succession, telephone calls begin to come in. Reports from the scene give a minute-by-minute account of developments.

Practically the instant the need for men or supplies becomes apparent, the Committeemen arrange to have them dispatched to the trouble spot.

If damages are such that Long Distance calls will have to be rerouted, the Committee works directly with the proper department to establish temporary circuits promptly. If structures and equipment are demolished, the Committee teams up with the engineers to start immediate plans for rebuilding.

No matter how long the emergency may last, the Committee stays right on the job. For these expert trouble-shooters can "be everywhere at once" by telephone . . . saving precious minutes . . . assuring the utmost efficiency in the use of manpower, materials and time.

This is another behind-the-scenes way in which Michigan Bell strives to provide and maintain for you the best possible telephone service at all times.

GR South Defeats Christian Quintet; Game Is Rugged

Second Half Marred By Frequent Fouls; Five Trojans Benched

Grand Rapids South high school took its 14th straight victory of the season at the Holland Armory Tuesday night, but the win was anything but glorious. A "heads up" Holland Christian quintet gave the invading Trojans one of their worst scares of the year before bowing by a 37-32 score. An overflow crowd witnessed the contest.

The tilt was the roughest played on the local court this year, with Coach Gall Patterson's crew "dishing out" the major share. Several times the crowd was in an uproar as many of the Trojan fouls were deliberate. Evidence of the style of play used by the Grand Rapids lads was the fact that four members of the squad were benched from the contest for too many personal fouls. A fifth was ejected for rough play.

A total of 13 fouls were called against the Maroons, compared with 29 for South. Coach Arthur Tuls' lads stole the show in the first half by taking all the "race" out of South's racehorse basketball. Christian refused to play fast ball and deliberately slowed the contest—sometimes almost to a walk. In addition the Dutchmen had the Trojans worried by taking the major share of the rebounds. South, however, held a terrific height advantage on the Dutch. Much of the credit must go to Holland's forward wall composed of Butts Kool, Norm Unema and Pete Holstege.

The Dutchmen's inability to hit from the foul line definitely cost them the victory. They connected on only 14 out of 34 attempts, although South fared little better with one out of 13. Practically all of Holland's scoring in the second half came from the foul lanes. Every time a Maroon player would move in for a layup shot, he was immediately fouled to keep the local baskets at a minimum.

Holland sprinted to an early 9-2 lead before the Southmen managed to hit the hoop. Christian managed to lead 9-8 at the first quarter mark. Forward Rod White paced the winners' attack in the second period to give them an 18-16 lead at halftime.

South put its rough tactics to good use in the second half, while managing to lengthen its margin to 26-19 at the third quarter mark. Danny West, Negro speedster who made his first appearance at the start of the second half, sparked the attack. He left soon after on five personals.

The final period was anything but sharp, with most of the time being spent on the Maroon foul line. The best South could do was to keep to the five point margin until the final whistle. Four more South players were sent from the tilt during the final stages of the last period.

Butts Kool paced the local offense with 10 points, followed by Unema and Glenn Petroelje with eight apiece. Classy Rod White led the winners with 16 tallies. White exhibited a spectacular one handed shot for most of his points.

In a reserve contest, the South seconds managed to eke out a 37-35 decision over Coach John Ham's little Maroons in a close tussle. Christian trailed by two points at each of the quarters. Ralph Bouwman paced the Holland club with 14 while Freeman was high for Grand Rapids with 13.

Debate and Discussion Mark Program at Club

Four Hope college students presented a formal debate before members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon on the pertinent subject, "Resolved: That the federal government should equalize educational opportunities by means of annual grants to tax supported schools."

Mrs. Harry Harter, debating coach at the college, introduced the teams. Speaking for the affirmative were Harvey Moes and Dave Coleman, and for the negative, Dennis Shoemaker and Floyd Gouloze.

Defining tax supported schools as public elementary and secondary schools, the affirmative speakers set forth the need for federal aid, and sought to prove that the plan is practical. The negative speakers believed that various states can handle educational problems and pointed out the dangers of federal control.

Mrs. John K. Winter presided at the meeting. Earlier in the afternoon the Public Affairs group sponsored an interesting discussion entitled "Let's Look at Ourselves," a symposium on Holland's recreational program for various age levels. Mrs. Milton Johnston presided.

Introduction to the discussion was presented by Mrs. A. E. Hilbrand, a member of the club who has recently moved to Holland. Speaking for the high school age was Mrs. James K. Ward, with Bill Filkins giving the student's point of view. Opportunities for post-high school young people were set forth by Mrs. Francis Drake, and Miss Mary Houtman, college student, replied. Mrs. George Bequette told about the Newcomers' club, with Mrs. Keith Miller representing that organization. Conclusions of the discussion were given by Mrs. Robert Horner.

A report on the Netherlands orphan adopted last year by the Public Affairs committee was given by Mrs. Stuart Padnos. Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Morris Reed, Mrs. Morrie Rider and Mrs. Lucien Raven, with Mrs. Arthur Yost as general chairman. Patriotic decorations were used on the coffee table. Misses Rena Blyma and Iva Stanton poured.

Pure Oils Trip Calvin B Team

The Pure Oil cage team of Holland rallied late in the game Tuesday night to come out on the long end of a 40-30 score against the Calvin college "B" team. The game was a preliminary to the Calvin-Grand Rapids JC contest.

That final score gives scant indication of the tempo of the game. The Oilers had to fight back from behind a 14-10 deficit late in the second quarter.

Holland's team went on to boast a 19-18 lead at halftime. Soon after the third canto opened, the count was knotted at 20 points apiece before the locals went out front 29-22. The Knights rallied to make the score 29-28 before the Oilers pumped in six points to ice the contest.

Vern Beelen paced the Oiler scoring with six field goals and two free throws for 14 points while Gene Schrotenboer had nine. Van Erden was high for Calvin with eight.

Tuesday's game marked the final appearance of the Pure Oils for the season. Their record is 11 wins against nine defeats.

They played many strong independent teams from this area including the potent Creston Bodies of Grand Rapids and the 1900 Corporation of St. Joseph.

Conditions Stipulated In Morals Case Dismissal

Grand Haven, Feb. 23 (Special)—Clarence Vander Ploeg, 24, of 236 West 19th St., arraigned in Circuit Court Monday afternoon on a morals charge, pleaded guilty and, upon his promise "to immediately, without delay, present himself to an institution for a course of treatment which may serve to help him in his present trouble" was released.

Another condition of his release was that he cannot be discharged from any institution without first notifying the prosecuting attorney of Ottawa county, as the court said it felt the public and the neighborhood should be protected. Vander Ploeg will be required to return for disposition of his case at a later date.

The charge against Vander Ploeg allegedly took place in Park township last Nov. 22, and involved a 14 year old boy.

He said work done by The Sentinel and other agencies substantially reduced traffic in the clerk's office.

Senior High Play Hailed As First Night Success

A capacity audience of 595 persons, the largest to attend an opening night in three years, witnessed the first performance of the Holland high school senior play, "You Can't Take It With You," in the high school auditorium Monday night. The three-act play, under the direction of Miss Ruby Calvert, was one of the most amusing plays presented by the senior class in its 34-year history.

Don Lubbers, as Martin Vanderhof, nearly "stole the show." As the oldest member of the hilarious family, he lives a simple, happy life. His wise, but somewhat "different" philosophies of life, exasperated the family from about as much trouble as it got them into. In contrast with the quiet humor of Grandpa Vanderhof, Benjamin Geerds, as Boris Kolenkoff, the Russian dancing teacher, provided many laughs for the audience with his boisterous and outspoken manner.

Mary Sandy, as the flippancy mother of the Sycamore family and her husband Paul, played by Lincoln Avery, were also good in their roles. Berdean Young, as Essie Sycamore, provided diversion by practicing her dancing lessons at all hours of the day. Essie's husband, Ed, is played by Bernard Plomp. Mr. De Pinna, the somewhat eccentric houseguest of the family, is played by Donald Cranmer. Also lending an air of comedy to the play are Rhea, the colored cook of the family, played by Verna Tanis, and Donald, her boy friend, played by Bob Burrows.

In contrast with the rest of the Sycamore family, is Alice, their daughter, played by Margo Marcotte, "different" from the rest, but beloved by all. Bob Lemmen plays Tony Kirby, the boy with whom Alice is in love. Tony's wealthy and sophisticated parents, played by Carol Reimink and Dale De Witt add to the mix-up of the story.

Making brief, but effective appearances in the play are Bob Schneider as Henderson, from the income tax bureau, Eunice Demberger, a sultry actress, Ruby Nyenhuis, the Russian dutchess and Elmer Teusink, Henry Van Houten and George Walters, as the three G-men.

The mood of the play was accentuated by the stage settings and lighting, and also emphasized the personalities of the family group.

More than 800 persons crowded into the Holland high school auditorium Tuesday night for the second performance of the senior play, "You Can't Take It With You."

The comedy, which is proving to be a popular attraction, went off smoothly under the direction of Miss Ruby Calvert of the school faculty. The large cast have their lines and business well in hand, and the laughs were frequent.

Other performances will be given tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. Doors are opened at 7 p.m.

Circuit Judge Assesses $200 for Drunk Driving

Grand Haven, Feb. 24 (Special)—A fine of $100 and costs of $100 were levied Monday against Harry Martyniuk, 56, route 1, Fruitport, who pleaded guilty Jan. 31 to a charge of drunk driving, second offense.

In announcing the sentence, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith said he would recommend to the secretary of state that Martyniuk's operator's license be suspended for one year.

Patrick J. Collins, 17, of the Dredge Haines, was assessed $75 fine and $4.45 costs in Justice George Hoffer's court Saturday on a reckless driving charge. Collins was arrested Friday after allegedly running a stop sign. About a month ago he paid $50 fine and $4.45 costs on a similar charge.

Tom Wilson, 26, route 2, Spring Lake, arrested by police early Monday on a disorderly count, was sentenced by Hoffer to pay $20 fine and $5.35 costs, after he allegedly threw beer bottles out of a car.

Enthusiastic Fans

Sidney Lankester of route 4, reported to police Tuesday night that a group of Grand Rapids basketball fans broke two windows in the car he was driving and denied a fender when he stopped on East Eighth St. The incident occurred after the Holland Christian-South game. Police radioed Zeeland to head off the car and the youth went to identify the guilty parties. However, it was the wrong car.

March of Dimes Response Lauded

Collections of $5,835 in the Holland area was reported by Campaign Chairman Wilbur A. Cobb to Verne Dagen, chairman of the Ottawa county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The money was contributed in the annual March of Dimes.

"In view of local conditions, we feel this is a good response even though the money collected will be far less than we will be forced to spend to support polo activities of the county," Cobb said.

The fund is $416 less than last year's collections and considerably short of the quota of $8,500, Cobb said.

The Holland Kiwanis club sponsors the drive in the Holland area. This is one of the outstanding contributions to community welfare of any Holland service clubs, sponsors claim.

Cobb said the size of the sponsoring club made it impossible to make personal contacts for funds, and that anyone who has not contributed and would like to do so can still mail a contribution.

"Frankly, we need every dollar we can find to meet our obligations to polo victims of Ottawa county," Cobb said.

Many See Second Play Performance

More than 800 persons crowded into the Holland high school auditorium Tuesday night for the second performance of the senior play, "You Can't Take It With You."

The comedy, which is proving to be a popular attraction, went off smoothly under the direction of Miss Ruby Calvert of the school faculty. The large cast have their lines and business well in hand, and the laughs were frequent.

Other performances will be given tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. Doors are opened at 7 p.m.

This will be the first time in many years that there will be no industrial solicitation. Plans are being made to contact each firm for its own contribution but this does not take in factory solicitation.

Business and professional canvassers, school and college solicitation and city employees solicitation will carry on as usual.

Grand Haven and Zeeland decided early in the season that there would be no industrial solicitation. Decision in Holland followed the kickoff dinner Friday.

News of Interest to Western Michigan Farm Operators

Farmers Hard Hit In Recent Drop Of Food Prices

MSC Economist Says Farm Income Lower, Buying Costs Are Up

Widespread drops in commodity prices in recent weeks are tending to put the farmer in the squeeze between high costs of things he buys and lower income from things he sells. Arthur Mauch, Michigan State college agricultural economist, believes that it is time that all people—rural and urban alike—face some of the misrepresented and misunderstood ideas about food costs.

Price, he cites, is a relative figure. How high or how low the real cost of an item depends entirely upon the amount of labor or goods you must sell to purchase this item.

Mauch says if the price paid for labor by the farmer in the dairy business is three times what it was before the war and he is paying for it with milk which is only twice the pre-war figure, his labor cost is high.

On the other hand, if the laborer is paying twice as much for his quart of milk as he did in 1939 he may think it is high. But if his wages are three times as much, the cost of this food product is really lower considering what he gets for his labor.

The economist points to the fact that the cost of food from June through September of 1948 took only 30 per cent of the total net income in the United States. In the pre-war period from 1935 to 1939 the cost of food amounted to 23 per cent of the total net income. Since September commodity prices and food prices have dropped, but net income has continued high. This would make today's situation even more favorable for these purchasing food.

"The big reduction in the cost of living is in food. That's what the farmer has to sell. For that reason he is hit at both ends. What he has to sell is bringing less. Since he produces much of his own food, he is not gaining in the savings made by those who buy all of their food," the economist explained.

Religions Join In Special Week

This is "Brotherhood Week" throughout the United States. Public relations media throughout the country will be trying to bring individuals just a little bit closer this week.

Sponsored by the national conference of Christians and Jews, the week is set aside to promote justice, understanding and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

It is aimed at erasing forever prejudices which twist religious, business, social and political relations—and destroy Democracy, sponsors say.

The idea for Brotherhood Week stemmed from former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker, S. Parkes Cadman and others back in 1928.

Their idea, and the idea of the special week ever since, was to make it possible for every man to be judged on his merits as a man—and not his religion.

Veterinarian Gives Swine Disease Advice

Answers to questions about swine disease were given this week by Dr. B. J. Killham, extension veterinarian at Michigan State college.

Swine enteritis is blamed for many losses in pork production. Dr. Killham says it is not a single disease but covers a dozen different infections and disorders. Veterinary diagnosis, herd survey and study of feeding and management is usually necessary in order to check a suspected outbreak.

To prevent losses, the veterinarian urges that farmers isolate newly-purchased swine for at least three weeks until they are known to be free of disease. Internal and external parasites should be controlled and watering and feeding equipment kept clean.

Local Grower to Appear at Event

Ed Miskotten, local vegetable grower, is scheduled to appear on the program of the annual Michigan Vegetable Institute at Michigan State college on Tuesday and Wednesday. The event is sponsored by the Michigan Vegetable council and Michigan State college to provide an opportunity for all Michigan vegetable growers to meet once a year to tackle mutual problems.

Jack Rose, vegetable extension specialist at the college, said the problems uppermost in the minds of growers are cutting costs and better marketing. The first day of the institute will be devoted to production efficiency and the second to marketing problems. The program on Tuesday includes three grower panels discussing methods of increasing efficiency and reducing costs. The program Wednesday includes similar panels on vegetable marketing.

Miskotten has been selected as one of the outstanding growers in the state to serve on a panel the first day.

The program also includes several out-of-state speakers. On Tuesday evening, Dr. Irving Woodin, Michigan State college alumnus and general manager of the California Fruit Exchange, will describe methods of marketing perishable produce on the west coast.

On the program during the first day will be Alfred Foote, Cleveland vegetable grower and machinery specialist, and Joe Robson, Robson Seed farms, Hall, N. Y. The featured speaker the second day will be Gordon Lumpkin, vice president of the Atlantic Commission Co., Detroit, who will discuss grower-retailer relationships.

Hopper Peril Menaces State

Michigan farmers may have a grasshopper problem to face this summer according to advice from Michigan State college entomologists.

Surveys recently completed show that outbreaks of the pests may occur in a number of localities. Areas in the northern part of the lower peninsula are expected to be most seriously affected with some areas of localized trouble in southern counties.

At the present time, indications are that the grasshopper infestation will arrive as predicted. However, unfavorable weather during their hatching next spring, or parasites and disease may come to the rescue of farmers. It's too early now to start the fight, entomologists declare.

If these natural control factors fail, every available weapon that can be used against them will be brought into the fight, report the entomologists. County agricultural agents have information available concerning control of grasshoppers.

Potatoes Source Of Vitamin C

Potatoes, since they are eaten so frequently, may be considered an important source of vitamin C in the daily diet, says Mary E. Bullis, home extension agent.

Vitamin C helps prevent fatigue and also helps to maintain strong muscles and sound teeth. Since this vitamin is not stored in the body it needs to be eaten daily. Lack of vitamin C for too long a time causes a disease known as scurvy.

To get the most vitamin C from potatoes they should be cooked in their jackets. The second best method of cooking, according to recent studies, is baking.

The average American has cut down on his potato eating since grandfather's day. This may be due to the kind of work done or because he thinks of potatoes as "fattening food."

Nutritionists advise those who wish to reduce to eat less food but a good variety. For that reason potatoes should appear at least once a day in a reducing diet.

First gas well drilled in the U.S. was at Fredonia, N.Y., in 1824.

Caution Is Required In Home Butchering

Home butchering is profitable on the farm and many rural people are now replenishing their lockers, jars, and pantries.

But unless due caution is used home butchering can be dangerous. George Amundson, agricultural engineer at Michigan State college provides a few simple rules to reduce accidents.

One of the greatest causes of injuries is slippery footing. Ice should be removed from the spot where butchering is to be done and ashes sprinkled on the ground. If the job is done indoors, sawdust, or crushed rock salt will improve the footing. Keep fat and meat trimmings off the floor.

Equipment, too, should be used with care. All knives should be kept in a suitable place when not in use. Hoisting equipment should be checked. A tamper should be used to force meat into the grinder.

Children should be kept away from butchering operations, the specialist concludes, and extreme care used with scalding water.

Price Outlook For Hogs Good

Profits in hog production are expected to be well above average for the first nine months of 1949. Four factors are likely to affect hog prices this year, according to a farming magazine.

First, the general demand situation is expected to remain about as strong in 1949 as in 1928. Second, the fall pig crop of 1948 is estimated at eight per cent greater than the previous fall crop.

Third, because of favorable feeding ratios, hogs are likely to be fed to heavier - than - normal weights. Fewer sows are expected to be marketed, however, with expanding hog production. It seems likely that heavy hogs will not be subject to unusual price discounts.

Fourth, a probable increase of 10 to 15 per cent in the spring farrow of 1949 likely will result in larger numbers of hogs reaching market next fall.

With these factors in mind, it is reasonable for the hog raiser to expect about normal seasonal price variations until next fall when a greater-than-normal seasonal decline is likely.

Farm Animals Also Suffer from Allergies

Animals, like people, suffer from allergies of various types. Some dogs are unable to tolerate salmon, horse meat, or wheat products, and nearly all species of domestic animals are susceptible to allergic skin diseases. Occasionally, animals get an allergic reaction from drugs, such as penicillin.

Most cases of allergy in the large farm animals are traceable to grazing on certain kinds of pastures, including sweet clover, buckwheat, and sudan grass, followed by exposure to bright sunlight. This condition usually is called photosensitization.

Hays Is Named Head of Dairy Extension Project

James G. Hays, extension dairyman with the Michigan State college extension service since 1922, has been named as leader of the dairy extension project.

A graduate of MSC, Hays operated a farm near Howell until joining the MSC extension staff. Except for a period from 1943 to 1947 when he aided with the emergency farm labor program, he has been a dairy specialist.

Extension service director, C. V. Ballard, announced that Hays replaces A. C. Baltzer, who will devote his entire time to the program of the Michigan Artificial Breeders' Co-operative.
