Free Showing Of Flood Films Planned Friday

Latest official government films picturing conditions in flood torn Netherlands will be shown free of charge beginning at 7 p.m. Friday night in the Woman's Literary clubhouse.

The showing, part of the Holland Emergency Flood Relief committee activities, will run continuously throughout the evening. Donations will be accepted at the door with all proceeds going to aid flood victims. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Ward H. Wheaton, president of the Newcomer's club.

Thursday night, The Christian High Alumni Dramatics group will stage a benefit performance of the play, "Go Ahead" at the Woman's Literary clubhouse. No admission charge will be made but play-goers will be asked to donate to the relief fund.

Chairman William Boer announced that Dan Vander Werf, Inter-Club council president, has been appointed to head a committee to contact business and professional groups.

Boer was warm in his praise for the block mothers who had again donated their time for a worthy cause. He said that virtually 100 per cent of the women that canvassed homes during the polo drive have signed up to conduct a similar drive for the Holland flood fund.

The canvass will get under way Saturday and continue through part of the following week.

Boy Scouts of the Methodist church will distribute posters throughout the city calling attention to the drive. The Scouts will be directed by Field Executive Jud Leonard and Scoutmaster Al Kane.

State Director Judge Cornelius vander Meulen said that four churches in Zeeland collected $2,100 Sunday.

Exchangites Hear Food Inspector

Hunter Herring, supervisor of marketing research for the Department of Agriculture, spoke to members of the Exchange club at their luncheon meeting Monday at the Warm Friend Tavern, on "Food Inspection in Michigan."

Describing that work as a form of police work, he said that some 100 laws and penal codes must be applied and enforced by the Bureau of Markets and Enforcement.

An inspector enters food-handling establishments unannounced and has learned to "stop, look, listen and smell," to gain his information in the first few minutes. If a place is found to be unsanitary, the operator is given a definite period in which to clean up. Last year there were 774 prosecutions of those who failed to comply, and all were convicted, he said.

The speaker cited statistics on inspections of food samples, measuring devices, packed items checked for weight and weighing of truckloads of coal. He emphasized that all food laws are based on honesty and cleanliness entirely, and that a business with a reputation for these is seldom inspected. Questionable establishments are visited frequently, he said.

For all this work which safeguards our food supply, we each pay annually less than it cost to park a car downtown for one hour and the entire cost of the Department of Agriculture is less than the price of a quart of milk, he said.

Preceding the program, President William Aldrich gave special recognition to Boy Scout leaders visiting the club, including Dr. M. Eugene Osterhaven of the Chippewa council and Al Walters and J. R. Bennett of troop 7.

Optimists See Film On Scout Canoe Trip

A film on a Canadian canoe trip taken by a group of Boy Scouts was shown by Herman Brandmiller, Grand Rapids Scout leader, at the Optimist club meeting Monday night at the Eten House.

Ray Vusse, Bob Longstreet and Frank Culver, Scout leaders, were guests of the club. Each one told of his work with Scouts and Cub Scouts. It was announced that the name of the Tulip Town Boys choir has been changed to "Holland Optimist Boys choir." Mrs. Jeanette Kremer is choir director. Rehearsals are held each week at Hope church.

Bill Venhuizen, president, conducted the business meeting.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of A/3c Paul J. Sikkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Van Dyke of 144 West 17th St., and Miss Glenda C. Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards of Albuquerque, N. M.

The couple were married in Bernadillo, N. M., on Jan. 9 by the Rev. Arthur Juamilo.

The newlyweds now are living at Suisun, Calif., near Travis Air Force base where the groom is stationed.

City-Wide Relief Drive Set For This Saturday

Saturday, Feb. 21 was the date set for the kickoff of a city-wide drive to solicit funds for Netherlands flood relief by the Holland Emergency flood relief committee.

The campaign will include a block by block canvass and solicitation of local industries and professional groups, Chairman William Boer said.

The Christian High Alumni Dramatics group will jump the gun by a few days, and stage a benefit performance of the play "Go Ahead" Thursday night at the Woman's Literary clubhouse. All proceeds will go to the local relief organization.

Mayor Harry Harrington released the following statement in advance of the drive.

"A great catastrophe has overtaken the people of the lowlands across the sea. The Netherlands has especially been hard hit. It is important and fitting that we render assistance and financial help to our neighbors, relatives and friends in this their hour of need by donating to the Holland Emergency Flood Relief Committee."

"We appeal to you to send in your contribution now to help these stricken people. Please make checks payable to Holland Flood Relief, Inc., and mail to Don Thomas, treasurer, care of First National Bank, Holland."

State Relief director Judge Cornelius vander Meulen said he received two checks in the mail today from opposite sides of the United States. One was from a former Holland resident, L. Y. DeVries, now living in Seattle, Wash., and the other was from Penny Farms, Fla.

He said that to date Flint has mailed two checks to the Netherlands, one for $4,100 and the other for $1,200.

In Holland, the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church has collected $1,125.43 and Sixth Reformed church $200. Other churches now are taking up collections or will do so next Sunday.

Netherlands Information Service Director Willard C. Wichers said reports from Sheboygan, Wis., indicate that community is going all out.

He said by noon Monday donations had passed the $5,400 mark. This figure included contributions from churches, schools and one donation of $1,250 from the owner of an industrial plant.

Wichers said the Sheboygan Netherlands Reformed church had received $200 from a congregation of 25 families.

A letter from the chairman said the entire town had "combined a solid front in their campaign. The success of the drive was due to the united efforts of churches of all denominations, organizations, industries, business and professional people working together toward one goal."

Council Okays Paving Program

A nine-point paving program for 1953 was approved by City Council Wednesday night following a public hearing which yielded one written communication asking to withhold paving of a single block and a protest from several persons living in that block who were anxious to have the road paved.

The over-all program includes nine separate projects at a cost exceeding $100,000. The city assessor was directed to prepare the special assessment rolls of said improvements and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids on the paving, said bids to be in by 3 p.m. Wednesday, March 18, and tabulated for Council at its meeting that evening at 7:30 p.m.

The projects follow: East Fifth St., Columbia east 495 feet; West 11th St., Van Raalte west 360 feet; West 18th St., Harrison to Cleveland; East 20th St., Columbia to C and O tracks; West 25th St., Maple to Van Raalte; West 28th St., Washington to Michigan; College Ave., 27th to 28th; Harrison Ave., 12th to 15th; Harrison, 18th to 19th; Washington Ave., 20th to 32nd Sts. The latter project includes widening paving and resurfacing.

The block objected to in the public hearing was 25th St. between Washington and Van Raalte. The six persons signing the communication requested that paving in that block be deferred this year. Five others in the block agreed that paving should be deferred this year. Five others at council meeting with James Mooi as spokesman. Among other things he pointed out that the proposed new high school building will appear at the head of this street.

A petition requesting the closing of an alley between 16th and 17th Sts. running from Columbia Ave. east to the railroad tracks was referred to the planning commission.

Mayor Harry Harrington presided at the meeting which lasted just under one hour. Councilman Anthony Nienhuis gave the invocation.

Crowd Expected At Civic Friday For Tripleheader

Ticket sales for the Holland Christian-sponsored Dutch relief basketball tripleheader to be staged Friday night at the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium were "brisk," according to Raymond Holwerda, Christian athletic director.

Holwerda said he was in contact with Grand Rapids officials Wednesday and they also reported that the duets were going fast.

In addition to the local high school, the tickets are also on sale at Grand Rapids Christian and Calvin college. Each of the three schools have been allowed whole blocks of seats for their respective cheering sections, Holwerda reported. He said, however, there were still tickets available at the three schools.

Local officials have been informed that the Civic Auditorium has arranged its seating to accommodate a crowd of 5,300 people which is almost capacity. Earlier this season, Holland and Grand Rapids Christian played before 5,000 fans.

The local athletic director says he hopes to run the three games on a strict time schedule with the reserve squads of the two Christian schools meeting at 6:30 p.m.

The feature game between the two varsities will get started immediately after the reserve clash, and the Calvin college-Detroit Tech affair will follow in the nightcap.

Holwerda said interest in the game is great with people expressing willingness to contribute even though they cannot attend the game. One Dutch woman who resides here asked if she could get hold of a team picture of the Holland Christian quintet since she wanted to send it to a Netherlands newspaper for publication.

Farm Bureau Hits All-Time Record

HAMILTON (Special)—An all-time record of $5,810,000 in sales for 1952 was reported at the Hamilton Farm Bureau which convened today at 1 p.m. in the Hamilton Community hall.

Of this total, $138,000 will be returned in savings to approximately 1,100 members of the bureau. Manager Andrew G. Lohman explained. These returns in credit and cash will be processed within the next couple of months.

Since the bureau was organized in 1920, total sales up to the beginning of 1953 passed the $52,000,000 mark. Of the amount $793,000 has been paid in interest and savings.

Actual investment of the farmers in cash back in 1952 was $13,820 and since then all improvements have been made out of the so-called savings of the organization. Known as Hamilton's biggest business, the bureau currently employs 149 persons.

The bureau deals primarily with poultry, eggs and feed but operates several other enterprises as well. Stockholders were informed at today's meeting that the board is considering building another bulk feed plant for handling feed ingredients in bulk. Major development in 1952 was a bulk feed plant.

Today's speaker was H. H. Alp of Chicago, director of the Commodities Department of the American Farm Bureau federation. His subject dealt with farm bureau operations and poultry.

$2,500 Bond Forfeited As Man Fails to Appear

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Bond of $2,500 was forfeited in Circuit Court Tuesday when Anthony Harris, 33, Chicago, failed to appear for trial on a charge of larceny of $170 from Don's Standard Station last April 3.

When Harris failed to appear, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith adjudged him in contempt of court. Harris' bondsman was ordered to produce the man, but the bondsman was not present either. In fact, the only representative on the defendant present was his attorney, John Shepherd of White Cloud.

Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles told the court he had received a telegram from Harris to the effect he would not be in court today, but the prosecutor said the message did not include a satisfactory excuse. The telegram was read into the record.

The mishap occurred shortly after 9 a.m., according to South Haven State police who investigated, when a car driven by Paul Dechene, 57, Chicago, went out of control as he passed another vehicle. The Dechene car rolled over several times before coming to a halt.

Paul O. Dechene, 29, son of the driver, received a fractured back and left shoulder and is listed in critical condition at Holland hospital. The father was treated for shoulder and back injuries at the hospital and released.

State Police judged the 1953 model Dechene car a total loss.

Federal School Sewer Request Finally Okayed

City Council Wednesday night granted permission to Federal school to connect with the city sewer system, subject to approval by the Hart and Cooley Co., onto whose sewer line the school expects to connect.

The action followed many weeks consideration of the request, the vote being 6 to 1 in favor of allowing the school the privilege of using city facilities. Councilman John Belmont cast the dissenting vote. Councilwoman Bernice Bishop was absent. Motion favoring the action was made by Councilman Raymond Holwerda.

Earlier, City Clerk Clarence Greengood read a letter from George Copeland, vice president and general manager of Hart and Cooley, stating the firm's willingness to allow the school to connect with its sewer line, provided investigation proves such connection would not be detrimental to the firm's sewage system.

The letter added to plans or details had been received as to how the school proposes to make the connection or the amount of sewage to be discharged by the school. On receipt of such data, the firm will investigate and if no adverse effects are shown, the company will grant permission to the school.

The request was submitted several weeks ago when the school pointed out it would not be able to include certain shower room facilities in the proposed gymnasium unless city facilities could be used because the area there is too low for other drainage.

George H. Rendleman, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, was asked whether he thought facilities would be adequate. He replied the industrial firm has a 10-inch pipe and he believed it adequate to handle the additional load.

In other business, Council denied a request on the application of W. E. Anderson of Muskegon to rezone the east 185 feet on the northwest corner of River and 13th St. for a service station. This action was taken on the unanimous recommendation of the Holland Planning commission that the property be maintained under the present zoning. The block currently is zoned as residential.

The Planning commission also submitted a copy of provisions and recommendations which should be included in the parking ordinance which deals with off-street parking in commercial as well as residential areas. The recommendations were drawn up in reply to a letter from Stanley Boven and Adrian G. Buys requesting an ordinance to be enacted governing the construction, landscaping and maintenance of parking lots in class A residential districts. The material was referred to the city manager and city attorney for drafting into an ordinance.

City Manager H. C. McClintock was given authority to advertise for bids on tearing down the house and garages at 122 and 130 Columbia Ave.

Council also approved the city manager's recommendation to hire the Hilton Concrete Co. of Pentwater to remove portions of concrete foundations on the south side of the tannery lot for a price of $375. McClintock explained city labor will do the digging at the installations and will handle the refuse later. He explained certain installations had to be removed so that the ground could be leveled for landscaping and parking areas for the new recreational center. Some years back, Council had investigated into removing the installations and estimates at that time were between $3,000 and $4,000.

Tulip Time Office Busy With Plans for Festival

The much-discussed school situation was the highlight of the February Van Raalte PTA meeting Tuesday evening at the school. Walter W. Scott, superintendent of schools; Jay De Konig, school board president; Mrs. Kenneth De Pree and Vernon Ten Cate, school board members, and Edward Donovan of the executive committee were present to discuss school planning problems with the group.

Mr. Scott giving the background of the building program, listed reasons why the board favors another location rather than the present Van Raalte site for the new building. "Looking at the entire school situation," he said, "within five to seven years there will be 2,000 pupils in the grade schools. The school board and Planning commission feel that there should be five rather than four elementary schools to cope with this situation."

Mr. Donovan explained that the situation is being handled to the best interests of people not only in the Van Raalte area but in the entire city. Mr. Ten Cate delved into the financial problem confronting the people of Holland, as expanding school areas on all sides further complicate the building program. He said, "We will not be able to discard the present Van Raalte school. It will be remodeled, and in time, a fifth building will be constructed in this section of town."

The meeting later was opened to general discussion.

President Ellsworth Ruddick presided at the business session. George Minnema gave the opening prayer. Miss Mae Whitmer explained the function of the school safety program. The entire group took part in a program entitled "March of Safety," an excellent skit portraying safety in action. They sang "Cross of Green" and "Stop, Look and Listen."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ivan Wheaton and her committee, Mrs. W. Hietje and Mrs. M. Veldhoff.

Auto Mishap Seriously Injures Chicago Man

An automobile accident on US-31 near the Star-Lite drive-in this morning resulted in serious injuries to one Chicago man and bruises and back injuries to the other occupant of the car.

The mishap occurred shortly after 9 a.m., according to South Haven State police who investigated, when a car driven by Paul Dechene, 57, Chicago, went out of control as he passed another vehicle. The Dechene car rolled over several times before coming to a halt.

He Remembers Train Wreck 48 Years Ago

Valentine's day held special significance for 87-year-old William Prince of 321 Columbia Ave.

Just 48 years ago Feb. 14, he was in a railroad wreck near Holland. It was nine below zero and two trains collided head-on. Prince said one of his legs was scalded. A companion lost a hand.

Today's sunny weather was a sharp contrast to the nine below temperature in 1905. That's what reminded Prince of the wreck.

Tulip Time Manager Larry Wade tries on a Dutch costume just for atmosphere as he processes some of the mail in the Tulip Time office. Housing inquiries occupy most of the routine mail, but considerable work has been done for the Tulip Time program. Festival dates this year are May 13 to 16, and the commission plans a program bigger and better than ever. (Sentinel photo)

Tulip Time Office Busy With Plans for Festival

The wheels that make Tulip Time festivals operate in Holland, Mich., are beginning to turn.

Tulip Time Manager Larry Wade spends almost every day in his office in Chamber of Commerce headquarters answering mail and working on plans for the four-day festival which opens here May 13.

Most of the incoming mail these days is requests for housing during the festival, and Tulip Time is operating a housing bureau similar to the last few years.

Wade says there is a notable trend toward group visits. These usually are garden clubs, home economics clubs and other women's groups. If the group travels in its own bus and has its own driver, the women are usually put up in out-of-town resort hotels. If they arrive on a chartered bus and do not have transportation during the visit, the women are put up in one section of the town. The Tulip Time office also makes arrangements for eating arrangements, and more and more churches and clubs are catering to groups of this type.

Festival program plans also are progressing, and the Tulip Time commission hopes to have programs ready for distribution soon.

In addition to the regular features such as parades, klompen dancing, flower show, band review, variety program, the Holland schools and Hope college are co-operating in putting on several musical programs.

Hope college is scheduled to present a concert Wednesday night in Hope Memorial chapel. Holland high school musical organizations will present programs of music and narration Wednesday and Thursday nights in the high school auditorium. Plans also are under way for some 300 elementary pupils to participate in a program of music and games Friday evening in the high school. This program, which Miss Margaret Van Vyven expects to present in March or April for local consumption, will be a free attraction for Tulip Time visitors.

Wade said Miss Joyce Keller is busy at work lining up the klompen dance for high school girls, and practices will begin in earnest fairly soon. Plans are under way to continue the Dutch Fantasies in the Woman's Literary club. Henry Vanden Bosch is lining up the Dutch singers and Phil Osterhouse is lining up dancers.

Sid Jarvis has been making new boats and carving new figures for replacements as well as new units in the yard of Little Netherlands, one of the most popular permanent attractions for Tulip Time visitors.

Harold J. Karsten is working on plans for the big band review and the Saturday night varieties. The Holland Tulip Garden club already has announced plans for the garden show in Holland Armory with Mrs. Edgar Landwehr as chairman. The ever popular costume show also is scheduled to be presented again this year.

Although there are no festival attractions on Sunday, Manager Wade said programs will include a list of local churches and their locations with the invitation to Tulip Time visitors to attend the church of their choice. The Hope college orchestra plans to present a vesper program at 4 p.m. that day in the chapel with Anthony Koolker as soloist.

New Travel Host School Planned By Chamber Group

Plans for a Travel Host school for all persons dealing with tourists coming to Holland were revealed by C. C. Wood, chairman of the Tourist and Resort committee, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

Wood said all details have not been worked out, but the school will be in the form of a panel discussion in which all persons dealing with tourists will be informed on what the area has to offer the visitor. Attendance will be open to any one in the area.

Plans also were made to sponsor another hobby show in co-operation with the Netherlands Museum, probably in March. The show will be sponsored by the Community Service committee of which Henry Ter Haar is chairman.

Chairman Earl F. Price of the membership committee reported 30 new members have been signed up in the current membership campaign. The board made a special commendation to Hans Suzenaar for outstanding work.

On request of Chairman Clarence Greengood of the safety committee, the Chamber in co-operation with the city will become a member of the National Safety Council, and the Chamber committee enlarged so that a safety program is developed to cover the scope of city safety.

Chamber directors also voted to support the Community Ambassador plan for another year.

Letters of appreciation were read from the Mothers Club of Beechwood school, Coopersville, Grange and Spring Lake PTA for Chamber support in the Farm-to-Prosper contests.

Charles Cooper's committee on highways and transportation has received a letter from F. J. Halliday stating that the directional sign an eighth of a mile south of Holland is definitely wrong and a correction will be made at once. The highway commission had been notified by the Chamber that the sign pointed in the wrong direction.

Letter Reveals Tragedy in Flood

A letter describing rescue and tragedy in the Netherlands flood has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brieve of 141 West 21st St. The letter, dated Feb. 6, came from Mr. Brieve's aunt, Mrs. Johannes Brieve of Krullingen, province of Zeeland.

She wrote that she and her husband were miraculously rescued, but that their oldest daughter, a widow, was drowned when her home was engulfed within 10 minutes after the flood waters descended on them. At least 60 were drowned of the 5,000 population of the town, she wrote, and most homes were destroyed.

Mrs. Brieve and her husband were rescued and taken to their daughter's home in Hilversum near Amsterdam. Although their home was completely destroyed, Mrs. Brieve said they managed to save a few linens and her large Zeeland cap, an extremely important item to women of that province.

This couple had spent a year in Holland about 22 years ago, with their brother, Frank Brieve, Sr., and many here remember them. In August of 1930, Mrs. Frank Brieve—then Miss Joan Vander Werf—visited these people in their country. The woman who was drowned in the flood met her at the train. She was dressed in native costume, which is the usual garb of the Zeeland women. Uninfluenced by any tourist promotion or other reasons, these women simply prefer their historic costumes.

City Officials Compile Budget for Coming Year

City department heads were deep in budget problems Monday. The officials have until Friday to turn in their requests for expected expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953.

Once the requests are in, City Manager Harold C. McClintock and Auditor John Fonger will sit down with the various department heads and determine the final budget to be submitted to the city council by April 1.

The city fathers have until the first council meeting in May to adopt a final budget. Last year's budget totaled $2,120,038.45. This included city departments, hospital, library and the Board of Public Works.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brookhouse of 129 East 20th St. and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Weller of route 6.

Mrs. Victor Kleinhessel was pianist for the ceremony and accompanied Ray Ter Beek, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The gowns featured cap sleeves and full skirts of unpressed pleats, accented with velvet sashes. They carried bouquets of tulips and daffodils and wore matching floral headpieces.

The bride gown and both attendants' gowns were made by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. LeRoy Brookhouse.

Day of Prayer Set for Friday

One more great ecumenical Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday, Feb. 20, beginning in the Tonga islands and circling the globe in 114 countries.

Church bells across the country will call thousands to prayer. Calls to prayer will be distributed in hospitals and hotels and at railway and bus stations. Radio, television and newspapers will highlight the day which many mayors and governors will have proclaimed a Day of Prayer.

Hundreds of church women have been serving on inter-denominational committees to prepare for the 18,000 observances in the United States. The planning committee for Holland and vicinity has also arranged for the local observance.

Mrs. James Weyer, chairman of the planning committee, will give a radio message locally at 9 a.m. The public service will take place in Third Reformed church beginning at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Christian Walvoord presiding. Intercessions will be led by women from the various churches.

The speaker will be Dr. Jacob Prins, minister of evangelism of the Reformed church. The theme of the day is "Walk as Children of Light."

Such women's prayer services have been held in Holland for about 20 years.

Dog Found With Missing Child

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The three-year-old daughter of a state police trooper gave her parents and neighbors—and just possibly herself—quite a scare Saturday afternoon when she was missing from her home for 4 1/2 hours.

Little Janice Ver Burg was found stuck in the mud near Grand river after a long search in which her parents, Trooper and Mrs. David Ver Burg, were joined by other state police, sheriff's officers, Spring Lake officers and neighbors.

At 3:30 p.m. Police Chief Dick Livingston of Spring Lake found the child stuck fast in the mud near Grand river a good six blocks from her home. The faithful family dog, also missing for the period, was with the child.

Janice was taken to Municipal hospital for treatment of exposure, and returned home Sunday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Aman of 289 West 23rd St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Korreck, Sr., of Grand Rapids.

In the wedding party were Mrs. Louis Somers of Indianapolis, Ind., who assisted as matron of honor, and Mrs. Larry Chudahy of Muskegon, bridesmaid. The groom and his attendants, Fred Korreck, as best man and Raymond Korreck, groomsmen, are triplet brothers.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white satin and nylon featuring a lace-trimmed bodice with illusion neckline and a full skirt of nylon georgette over satin, with a chapel length train. A Juliet cap held in place her veil of nylon tulle and she carried a white prayer book with white orchids and streamers. Her only jewelry was the groom's gift, a strand of pearls and pearl earrings.

The matron of honor wore a gown of dusty rose lace over taffeta and the bridesmaid, an identical gown in green. They wore matching caps and carried contrasting bouquets.

A wedding breakfast was served to 45 guests at the Warm Friend Tavern after the ceremony. There were 125 guests at the afternoon reception in the Tulip room of the hotel. During his first campaign for the house, Lincoln attended a church service in a village some distance from his home town. The minister, trying to get the congregation to hit the sawdust trail, proposed that all those who wanted to go to heaven stand up.

Even those who were dozing leaped to their feet—all but one. Then the minister called on those who wanted to go to the other place to stand up. No one stood.

"I notice," the minister remarked, "that our friend from Springfield did not stand on either proposition. I wonder if he would mind telling us where he does want to go."

Untangling his long legs, Lincoln rose and turned to the congregation. "I don't mind telling you good folks, and the preacher," he drawled, "that I want to go to Congress."

Any photographer with any experience at all will tell you that photographing anything white is a tough job. An engraver, too, always has more trouble with the white areas. And you've all read that TV stars are always wearing pink or blue—never white. Even Holland klompen dancers wore blue caps when they appeared on Godfrey's program last year.

Consequently, when a photographer shoots a picture of a person in bed, those white sheets (and we're not boosting any bleach or detergent) present some problems. The subject often look like they've just spent two weeks in the Florida sunshine.

Holland hospital has solved the problem. Director Fred Burd after listening to the lament of a Sentinel photographer went downtown and got some nice peach-colored sheets and pillow cases just for such an occasion.

Lincoln's birthday has come and gone, and with it a new host of stories about the great man.

One we particularly enjoyed was titled "Middle Ground" and came from the Philadelphia Inquirer. It was told by Rep Thomas J. Lane (D, Mass.).

During his first campaign for the house, Lincoln attended a church service in a village some distance from his home town. The minister, trying to get the congregation to hit the sawdust trail, proposed that all those who wanted to go to heaven stand up.

Dutch Chalk Up Victory No. 11 In Easy Fashion

After building up a comfortable margin during the first half, the Holland high school basketball team romped over an inexperienced Muskegon squad 62-49 Friday night at the Armory.

The easy victory was the 11th in 12 games for the Dutchmen, and marked their final appearance before a home crowd this season. Three more games remain on the slate, but all are away from home, starting next Friday night at Benton Harbor.

Coach Fred Weiss substituted freely Friday night, with all 13 varsity squad members seeing frequent action. Coach Tom McShan-nock of Muskegon also substituted freely, but for different reasons.

Holland was the taller ball club, but still had to fight for rebounds against the muscular Big Reds. The chief fault of the Muskegon club seemed to be a lack of know-how concerning the tricks of the basketball trade.

This lack of mookie apparently is due to the inexperience of most of the squad members, who were pressed into varsity roles last week after mid-year graduation riddled the Muskegon starting lineup. At any rate, the Big Reds are doomed to one of their worst seasons of the past few years, with a current 3-9 mark.

The two teams traded points for the opening minutes of play, with Muskegon leading 10-7 about midway in the first period. Then Holland dumped in eight straight points to establish a 15-10 lead, and went on to lead at the whistle 21-14. Dean Vander Wal, under par with a bad cold, dumped in 10 points in the period.

Action in the second quarter slowed down, with Holland still managing to outscore the Big Reds 14-7 for a halftime edge of 35-21. Coach Weiss pressed 12 men into action before the intermission.

The pattern of play remained consistent in the third stanza, with Holland once more outscoring the visitors 15-11 to hold a 50-32 lead at the end of the period. The Dutch reached their biggest bulge of the game in this quarter, holding a 19-point edge at one point.

Muskegon fought back in the last period and outscored Holland 17-12 in the period. The period was marred by frequent jump balls and foul shots. Muskegon narrowed the count to nine points at one stage, but the Dutchmen were in complete command throughout.

Vander Wal once more led the Holland scoring with 18 points. He fell below his 20-point average, but actually played less than half the game. Vander Wal left the bench midway in the third period, and went home to care for his cold.

Ron Israels was next in line with 14 points in the evenly divided scoring, shared by seven Dutch players. Ken Armstrong played a good game off the boards, while the entire Dutch effort seemed to be sharper much of the time.

Forward Phil Berdinski paced the Reds with 14 points, while Ron Knop scored 13 and Leland David 10.

Holland hit on an even one third in field goal tries, collecting on 24 of 72 attempts. The Dutch missed 15 of 29 free throw tries, while Muskegon hit 11 of 24 charity tosses.

Record Now Even For Reserve Team

The Holland high school reserve basketball team owned an even-up 6-6 record for the season today after turning back Muskegon Reserves 45-38 Friday night at the Armory.

Holland went ahead 14-7 during the first quarter, hung on to a 21-19 halftime lead and then stayed in front the rest of the way, leading at the third quarter whistle 36-28.

Forward Jim Vande Wege paced the attack with 22 points, the highest single player total for the Dutch Reserves this season. Bill Sandahl scored six, Chuck Gouloze five, Hank Visscher and Terry Gentry three each, Bob Saunders and Duane Teusink two each, and Gerald Boeve and Phil Boersma one each.

Alex Kota with 11 and Carl Lindstrom with 10 led Muskegon.

Holland outscored Muskegon in field goals 14-9, but the visitors held a 20-17 edge in free throws.

Speaker Urges Ottawa GOPs to Continue Work

Rep. John William Byrnes cautioned Ottawa county Republicans Thursday night of the razor-thin GOP margin in the 83rd Congress and said "you must start campaigning as of tonight."

The Wisconsin congressman spoke to 230 Republicans gathered at Durfee hall on Hope college campus for the third annual Lincoln Day banquet sponsored by Young Republican club of Ottawa county.

Byrnes cited the fact that there are 48 Republicans to 47 Democrats and one Independent in the Senate and in the House the count is 221 Republicans to 212 Democrats, one Independent and one vacancy.

"A shift of five members from the Republican to the Democratic side in 1954 and we'll lose the House to the Democrats," Byrnes said. "We've got to make ground and we can't spare an inch."

"It's okay to celebrate and we should, but don't forget the battle around the corner," he said. "We've got to start now."

Coupled with his "keep working" request, Byrnes pointed up the rapid-fire changes in Washington in just the first 23 days of the new Republican administration.

He specifically cited the statements made on the Korean situation by Gen. James Van Fleet and the fact that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen have warned Europeans that the MSA program under President Eisenhower must mean "mutual."

He also cited Mr. Eisenhower's order denaturalizing Formosa and the new administration's freeze on hiring, construction and unauthorized appropriations.

However, Byrnes said the corruption, etc., inherited by the new regime "isn't going to evaporate overnight, but will take day in and day out effort."

"Nobody is going to rest on the oars, I assure you," he said. Dr. Warren Weststrate presented the speaker a pair of engraved wooden shoes and a table made in a Holland furniture factory.

Rep. Byrnes was introduced by Miss Eleanor Duffy, Young Republican national committee woman.

Kenneth Scripsma chairman of the Ottawa county Young Republican club, opened the program with a welcome note and the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Dr. M. Eugene Osterhaven gave the invocation and Nick Pool provided piano selections during dinner.

Riemer Van Til was master of ceremonies and introduced special guests, including Mrs. A. Hubbell Loomis of Grand Rapids, State Senate Secretary Fred I. Chase, representatives of state officers, Sen. Clyde Geerlings and county officers.

A special guest was Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid, who spoke briefly.

Paul Kranendonk accompanied by Arlene Ritsma sang two selections. Sen. Geerlings led a group song.

Buc Eighth Graders Top Holland Again

Faced again with a tight, pressing defense, the Holland eighth graders bowed for the second time this season to Grand Haven 32-21 in a basketball game played on the Bucs' court Friday afternoon.

Grand Haven took a 21-10 halftime lead and was never threatened after that. The little Dutch used a pressing defense the second half and held the winners to 11 points, the same as Holland's second half output.

For the winners Leitzke with 10 and Ralya with eight points shared scoring honors. Center Les Overway again led the Dutch scoring, this time with 10 points.

Holland will be idle next week and will return to action Feb. 27 when the Zeeland eighth graders invade the Senior high gym. A preliminary between the seventh grade teams of the two schools will be played.

Improved Zeeland Quintet Defeats Cedar Springs

ZEELAND (Special)—An improved-looking Zeeland high school basketball team walked all over Cedar Springs in a Ken-New-Wa league game here Friday night to score an easy 64-36 victory.

With nine players entering the scoring column, Zeeland experienced no trouble at all as the Cedar Springs defense seemed to crumble. The Red Flannels appeared confused all through the game, and a lot of their shots even missed the backboard.

Zeeland, on the other hand, showed a vastly improved brand of ball, with sharp passing featuring the Chix' attack. Substitutes played almost the entire second half, and more than held even with the losers.

The victory for the Chix kept them in the running for Ken-New-Wa title honors, with a record of seven wins, three losses in league play. Now Coach Joe Newell's cagers must depend on either Fremont or Cedar Springs to knock league-leading Coopersville off its top rung.

Zeeland closes out its season next week, with two games scheduled. The Chix travel to Comstock Park Tuesday, and entertain Hudsonville Friday. Then the Chix wait until district tournament play at Holland starting March 4.

The home team established a 17-11 first period lead against Cedar Springs, and never experienced trouble after that. The Chix led the decision in the second period, outscoring the Flannels 21-4 for a halftime 38-15 lead. Zeeland again outpointed the visitors in the third stanza 17-9 but fell behind in the last period 12-9.

Allen Kraai was top man for the Chix with 21 points, although the scoring was fairly evenly distributed. Del Komejan had 10, Jason Redder and Dave Kuylers eight each, George Schipper five, Ron Wetherbee and Harve Berens four each, John Vanden Bosch and Jim Wyngarden two each.

Center Towns was tops for Cedar Springs with 14.

In the preliminary, Coach Mel Bouma's reserves marched to their 10th win in 12 games by stomping Cedar Springs 72-45. Zeeland again led all the way, with a 40-24 halftime edge.

Art Klampf with 16, Don Schout with 15 and Eugene De Jonge with 14 paced the attack. Mr. Towns led the losers with 18.

Drivers Honored At Safety Dinner

Seven drivers for the Standard Grocery company were honored Thursday night at a dinner in the Hub restaurant in Zeeland for completing one or more years of accident free driving.

Lou Lavy, safety director of an insurance company, presented the safety awards and pointed out that the grocery company has had an enviable safe driving record during 1932.

R. H. Muller, of Standard Grocery, was presented a bronze emblem by Lavy to be attached to the plaque given the company last year, in honor of many years of safe and meritorious driving.

The company has compiled a record equalled by few fleet owners in the state, Lavy said. Out of a total of 10 semi-truck trailer drivers, seven won safety awards, one missed because of a minor accident and the other two were not eligible.

Receiving the awards were Arthur Slenk, five years; Peter Post, four years; John Hoezee, three years; Bernard Ten Harmel, two years; Ralph Waldyke, two years; Jacob Jonker, two years, and George Schippers, one year.

Speaker Discusses Mackinaw Bridge

Speaking before the Holland Rotary club Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern, Lawrence A. Rubin traced the developments on the proposed bridge at the Straits of Mackinac. Rubin is secretary of the Mackinaw Bridge Authority.

Though there is no documentary evidence, the speaker speculated that as far back as Hiawatha there was discussion concerning a bridge across the Straits. The earliest documentary proof was found on a department store wrapping in the year 1884. In 1920 a floating tunnel was proposed and a New York engineer engaged to advise as to its feasibility and to submit estimates on construction. The Mackinaw Strait Bridge Authority organized in 1933 was abolished in 1947, only to be reactivated three years later as "Mackinaw Bridge Authority."

At the time of its inception the legislature did not give authority to proceed beyond investigation of its practicability. Traffic experts were summoned to conduct a survey of people crossing the Straits and of residents within a distance of 400 miles to determine the amount of use and to predict any increase expected in subsequent years.

All the ramifications of the project were given time and study, including consideration of ice, wind, current and geological factors. Though application was made to the RFC for a loan and a grant, after thorough investigation it since has been decided to finance it privately, he said.

Accepting report of the Authority the legislature passed a bill in 1952 providing for construction of the proposed bridge. Work on what will be the second longest bridge in the world is to begin in the spring, Rubin said. The total over water span will be four miles with a total bridge span of five miles. At the towers, which will ascend better than 500 feet into the air, the bridge will be 131 feet above water; 148 feet above water at the center of the crossing. Rubin said the $7 million dollar project should be ready for use in November of 1956.

Following his presentation, Rubin answered questions asked by his audience.

Robert MacArthur of Douglas was a visiting Rotarian.

RULER OF CITIES

The late John N. Edy was a professional city administrator.
This is not the same as a professional politician, that we all are more or less familiar with. Edy paid no attention to politics, but concentrated on such practical matters as paving, garbage and rubbish collections, crime prevention and relations with public utilities. He seemed to resemble some of the old-time Dutch and German burghmesters, their efficiency in governing a small town or city brought them invitations to manage larger towns and cities.

Edy had a career that took him to several states. He served as city manager of Berkeley, Calif., California, Dallas, Texas, Toledo, Ohio,
Flint, Michigan, and Houston,
Texas, where he died a few years ago.

Once as shrewd and friendly an observer of America as James Bryce, the British ambassador, called city government the dark spot in the United States. City government has according to our opinion progressed far beyond that in a great many places.
There is much that remains to be done, but our observation leads us to believe that most cities are making progress over the last half century.

If there is credit to be handed out then perhaps at least some of the credit should go to city-managers and better city charters. Such charters made the services of the Edys possible.

We in Holland are operating under our new city charter and from all indications it seems to be working out.

We still have all the problems of cities over the country. Most of our problems can be solved with long range planning and foresight.
Let's all take an interest in our community, there are many jobs that need doing. We want to call your attention to the fact that there will be a spring election in April and there are a number of important jobs to be filled. Let's start now studying government affairs. Remember we have a budget to balance in the State and Nation. If you have ideas write us 300 words. You want your taxes reduced after we balance the budget, don't you?

Vander Jagt Wins
All MISL Contests

Guy Vander Jagt won his last
first place in Michigan Intercollegiate Speech league competition Saturday when he won the men's oratory division at Alma college.
Vander Jagt has now won every MISL contest open to him during his four years at Hope. Besides, he has brought national honors in various phases of speech work to the local college.

Speaking on his trip to Germany
last summer as Holland's Community Ambassador, Vander Jagt entitled his winning oration "Born Report." In it he told of three lessons he learned about war: Its physical destruction, its corruption of the human personality and its utter futility as a means of solving problems.

A Hope college freshman, Penny Ramaker of West Bend, Wis., won third place in women's extemporaneous speaking.

How Jesus Answered Questions

Matthew 22:15-22, 34-40

By Henry Geerlings

Methodist Bishop Hughes, in his autobiography, tells the story of a very poor family who one day found a beautiful casket full of ancient gold coins. Because the casket had strange characters painted on its lid and sides, the family
with total disregard for the monetary value in the content of the casket, began to discuss the origin of the container.

Heated arguments and violent quarrels ensued as they wrangled
over the possible date of the making of the casket, and as to whether or not it was made of gold or an alloy. Finally one member of the family, a little more practical than the very poor, he thought it best to conduct these discussions,
which were of secondary importance, after their immediate physical needs had been met by means of the gold coin. Whereupon, reason and common sense prevailed,
and they appropriated the coins,
allowing their question concerning the quality and value of the strange and beautiful casket to be answered at a later time.

Too often we, like this family or like the Pharisees and Sadducees of the first century, are so concerned over detailed questionings about the Christian gospel, that we fail to make use of the limitless blessings that are at hand by virtue of the gospel. Many of our arguments on religious matters, which are inclined to cause us to become involved in endless discussions on fine points in theology, might be answered in the same way as the wise member of the family answered his argumentative fellow members. We are in spiritual poverty, and as such, we had better appropriate our Christ-given spiritual blessings rather than spend all our time in continuous discussion concerning lesser matters.

In our lesson today, three sorts of people approach Jesus with questions—the Pharisees, a self-righteous, literalistic, unimaginative class of people, who thought everybody else was wrong. The Herod-ians were opportunists, people who adhered to the wicked Herod, because he was in power. The Sadducees were the free thinkers, assuming a rather superior intellectual position. They came to Jesus to entangle Him in His talk. Their purpose was not to convince, nor to discover truth, but to confuse.
The Pharisees claimed to be the Puritans among the Jews. They were the ultraorthodox who believed in keeping all the Law of Moses and also all of the oral tradition, which was supposed to have been passed down from Moses by word of mouth to their elders. They were very intolerant of the Romans and longed for the day when they should be able to shake off Roman bondage.

The Herodians were just the opposite. They were friends of Herod, the ruler of the Jews, who held his office by the appointment of Caesar. They enjoyed the luxuries and indulgences of the followers of Herod and had little or no use for the Law. Ordinarily these two parties had nothing to do with each other, but now they had a common hated against Jesus and combined
their efforts to defeat Him.

The question was very cleverly framed. They asked whether the Jews should pay the taxes demanded by the Roman government. Of course the taxes had to be paid,
but it always greatly irked the Jews to do so. They never agreed that it was right. If Jesus said so He could not be a loyal Jew, much less the Messiah. But if He said it was wrong, then the Herodians would accuse Him of rebelling against the government. In either case He would find Himself in great difficulty. But they were greatly mistaken.

The other question was concerned with the chief commandment of the Law. It was presented after the Sadducees had gone down in defeat with His answer to their question about the resurrection.
The Pharisees were determined to find something they could use against Him among their own people, although the plot to incriminate Him before the Romans had failed him up as an impostor.

An expert in the Law was put forward to ask about the great commandment. This was a matter about which there was much disputation among Jewish leaders. It seems as if the Pharisees thought that they would at least succeed in arousing very bitter opposition against Jesus by getting Him to commit Himself on this question.
But the wisdom of man, is always foolishness with God. Neither the Herodians, nor the Sadducees, nor the Pharisees, nor any combination of any of them could entangle
the Lord in His speech.

Jesus well knew the scheme that was back of the question about the tribute. We cannot help but think that He thoroughly enjoyed the humor of the situation by the method He took of answering them. He simply asked them to show Him a coin such as they were commonly using. As long as they were under the dominion of Caesar they were to contribute to his support.

Jesus also had the right answer to the second question asked by the lawyer. The answer was more than the questioner looked for. Jesus did not distinguish between the many rulings and regulations which the rabbi had made, but pointed to the first table of the Law with its provisions regarding man's relation and obligation to God. He should be loved with all the heart and with all the soul, and with all the mind.

The Pharisees had failed in the one as much as in the other. They adhered punctiliously to the letter of the Law in its outward observances but neglected faith and love toward God and in their treatment of others who did not agree with them.

dent of the De Vries & Dornbos
Co. died Thursday at about 7 p.m.
in St. Anthony's hospital in St.
Petersburg, Fla., where he and his wife spent the winters.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs.
William Dornbos, he worked for the Van Putten Grocery store of Holland as a boy and later associated himself with the A. H. Meyer Music Co.

About the year 1915 he pur-

of De Vries & Dornbos Co. purchased the old Rink property
now occupied by French Pastry
and Main Auto Co.

In 1925 they purchased the property where the furniture business is now located. The property then consisted of two three-story buildings. The building was completely remodeled including a new store front and two stories were added.

Active in church affairs Mr.
Dornbos was a member of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church; served in the consistory
for several years, was a Sunday school teacher and choir director.
Before his association with Fourteenth Street church, he was organist at Central Avenue Christian Reformed church.

Mr. Dornbos was active in civic affairs until about four and one-half years ago when he suffered a heart attack. He continued as president of the local furniture store until the time of his death.
He was president of the Michigan
Buyers Syndicate of which the De Vries & Dornbos Co. is a member and also was active in the local merchants association for many years.

Mr. Dornbos is survived by the wife, Martha; two daughters, Mrs.
Lorain Bauman of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Harold Colenbrander of Ann Arbor; one son, Gerald of Holland; six grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Egbert Baraman of Holland, one brother, Marinus Dornbos, of Holland and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Dornbos.

Princess Maria Anna Laurentia Theresa von Schwarzenberg Wildschut of Zeeland looks fondly at the picture of her young child who she left in Detroit Friday when she started for Paris to join her husband. The pretty 27-year-old mother created state-wide interest when she abandoned her formidable title to become just plain Mrs. Jack Wildschut by becoming naturalized in Detroit Jan.
27. Receiving her title from her father who was a prince of Schwar-zenberg in Austria, she met and married Jack Wildschut of Zeeland in Paris where he is stationed as a manager of the Western Branch Exchange for the State department. The Wildschuts returned to Zeeland to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Yella Wildschut, in November and he returned to Paris after the Christmas holidays.

tee of the association. Melvin S.

Geerlings, president of the Zeeland board of education, left Saturday for Atlantic City, N. J., to Administrators to be held through

at the Willow Run airport and flew to Atlantic City.

The annual essay contest sponsored by the American Legion

Women of the Second Reformed church enjoyed a "Patriotic Tea" held in the Fellowship hall on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 12. The tea was sponsored by the Ladies Aid society. Mrs. G. J. Van Hoven, president, opened the meeting and Mrs. Lena Janssen conducted the devotional service after the singing of "America." Mrs. John Kleinhekel sang a spiritual "Nobody Knows" and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home." She was accompanied by Mrs. G. J. Van Hoven. Isaac Van Dyke read the "Gettysburg Address" by Lincoln in its original form. Mrs.
Ford Berghorst read patriotic articles including "Washington and Lincoln" by McKinley and Lincoln anecdotes. Mrs. Donald De Bruyn briefly reviewed "The Man Without a Country" by Edward Everett Hale as it appeared in the Atlantic Monthly in 1863. She also told about Philip Nolan. The program closed with the reading of
"America for Me" by Henry Van Dyke. After the program members of Group 1 served refreshments. Mrs. Ford Berghorst and Mrs. Willard Berghorst poured.
The room was appropriately decorated with pictures of Washington, Lincoln and Eisenhower.

The melodrama, spiced with
mounting tension, a bit of hysteria
and at least one good blood-curd-
ling scream, provided this year's
cast with plenty of opportunities
for well-paced action and the
eventual so-called happy ending.
Elaine Botsin in the heavy role of the domineering Victoria Van Bret carried most of the weight of the plot. It was she who made all the decisions, gave all the orders and decided the destiny of everyone involved—until somebody got the courage to fight.
And that drove Victoria to even greater straits.

The curtain opened on the wedding of Victoria's young half-brother Rip to the lovely Anne Darrow, a match Victoria did not approve because she felt Anne was not deserving of a Van Bret. The Household servants were played by Sally Danson, Albert

Meyer, Jill Crawford and Kenneth Brummel.

All action took place in a six-month period around the turn of the century in the second-floor
living room of the Van Bret mansion on Fifth Ave. in New York City. The set was beautifully designed with paneled walls, framed paintings, sliding doors, heavy draperies which hadn't been changed for 50 years, and the ominous hidden panel or so-called "Double Door" known only to the ruthless Victoria Van Bret
and her unhappy sister.

The audience was unusually attentive to between-act music provided by the high school orchestra
symphonette, conducted by Arthur
C. Hills.

Kramer-Hindert
Rites Performed

Miss Joan Teresa Hindert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Hindert, 233 Lakewood Blvd., became the bride of Pvt.
Willard Angus Kramer, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Gerald Kramer, 79 West 12th St., Saturday afternoon.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William C.
Warner in the rectory of Grace Episcopal church in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a navy blue suit
with navy and white accessories and a red rose corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gamsco, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, attended the couple. Mrs. Gamsco wore a navy blue suit with beige accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 35 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kramer. Spring flowers were used throughout the rooms.

Out-of-town guests included
Miss Gertrude Kramer, aunt of the groom, New York City; Mr.
and Mrs. Paul Rogers and Attorney and Mrs. M. Hindert of Kalamazoo. Mrs. Rogers is a sister and Mr. Hindert is a brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warner of Lansing were also guests.

Both Pvt. and Mrs. Kramer are Holland high school graduates. He attended Hope college for two years before entering the service in September, 1952. Mrs.

pany.

Couple Wed in Saugatuck Church

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Wilson

The marriage of Miss Naomi Jones of Saugatuck and Steven Wilson of Lansing was performed Saturday evening, Feb. 7, at Saugatuck Congregational church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones of Saugatuck and the groom is the son of Mr.
and Mrs. Frank Wilson of San Benito, Texas.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. E. May-croft before the altar decorated with white carnations. Martin Hardenberg of Holland was soloist and Warren Carr was organist for the rites.

Given in marriage by her father,
the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white Venice lace over petal pink chiffon, topped with a fitted jacket with peplum and pearl and rhinestone trim. She wore a white straw cloche hat with pearl trim and carried a colonial bou-quet of pale pink roses.

Mrs. James Schepers of Holland was matron of honor. She chose a silk shantung dress of blue gray trimmed with rhinestones and a small pink feathered hat. Her colonial bouquet was of deep pink roses.

Lauren Taylor assisted the groom
as best man.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Texas and Mexico. For going away, Mrs. Wilson wore a boxy style suit of wheat shade with matching hat and gloves and rust color accessories.

Mr. Wilson is employed by the government in Lansing. Mrs. Wilson has been employed at the Allen shops in Holland and Saugatuck.

The three-act melodrama "Double Door" proved to be an agreeable contrast to the usual teen-age comedy fare in its first presentation in Holland high school Monday night, sponsored by the senior class.

The auditorium was filled but not crowded, since senior playgoers in Holland traditionally prefer a later performance in the belief that a first-night shakedown is somewhat comparable to an out-of-town opening for professional players. That belief, however, was mistaken Monday night
since Director Ruby Calvert had her cast up to the peak of performance. There was little or no prompting and the cast again demonstrated what weeks of hard work on the part of director and students can accomplish.

The melodrama, spiced with
mounting tension, a bit of hysteria
and at least one good blood-curd-
ling scream, provided this year's
cast with plenty of opportunities
for well-paced action and the
eventual so-called happy ending.

County Chairman Gets Check for Local Polio Drive

This week Bill Aldrich and his co-workers from Holland city, Park and Holland townships turned over a check for $22,871 to Verne Dagen, chairman of the Ottawa county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The money represents collections in this area for the 1953 March of Dimes campaign and is $7,871 more than the assigned goal of $15,000.

Dagen expressed his thanks to Aldrich, the Inter-Club council and member service clubs that made the drive such a "tremendous success."

At the same time, it was announced that proceeds from the Chad Guild play to be presented Feb. 19 at the Women's Literary club will now be earmarked for the Holland Committee for Netherlands Relief.

Originally the play was scheduled for January, but because one of the leading actors was ill at the time, it was postponed. Admission was to be by donation only and proceeds were to go to the polio drive.

However, because the polio drive was such a success, the sponsors decided to divert proceeds to the Netherlands Relief fund.

William Boer, local chairman of the Netherlands Relief fund drive, "enthusiastically endorses" this response.

The play is titled "Go Ahead." The three-act comedy centers around two Jewish gentlemen, Jacob Stieglitz and Maurice Koppler.

Romantic interest runs high between Dr. David Stieglitz and Zorah Koppler. Both proud fathers have entirely different plans for their children. These plans do not include a possible marriage between the two, but in the end true love conquers.

Heading the cast is George Knoll as Jacob Stieglitz, Kenneth Bosman as Dr. David Stieglitz, Leonard Kraker as Maurice Koppler, Betty Jonker as Rebecca Koppler, Norma Bosman as Zorah Koppler, Carol Roberts as Mrs. Blau, Agnes Vander Ploeg as Mrs. Mary Malone, Eleanor Hoogland as Helen Strauss, Harold Branderhorst as Leo Van Vriesen, and Anita Branderhorst as Daffie.

John Bouwer is business manager and Alfred Hietbrink is director.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, as special events sponsor for projects to raise funds for the polio drive, is going to carry on with promotion of the play and turn the proceeds over to the Netherlands Relief fund.

Waste Paper Drive Will Benefit School

The North Holland Farm Bureau is staging a waste paper drive Feb. 27 for the benefit of Olive Center school which was destroyed by fire Jan. 23.

All persons living in the area of North Holland, Crisp and Olive Center are asked to bring their stocks of waste paper either to the North Holland store or the Olive Center town hall on Friday, Feb. 27.

Classes were resumed this week in the town hall after a two weeks' layoff. The town hall chimney was repaired in the meantime and other improvements made for the temporary headquarters.

Zeeland to Spend About $103,000

ZEELAND (Special)—A budget calling for an estimated expenditure of $103,000 was approved by City Council at its regular meeting Monday night. The budget sets a taxation limit of $52,000. This is only slightly more than the present interim budget which limits taxation to $17,000 for four months.

Upon motion by Councilman Peter Staal, Jr., council also took final action on the ordinance necessary for presenting the $285,000 bond issue for the new water system to the Michigan Finance Commission. The commission must now review the proceedings and approve the issue. Council must set a date for sale of the bonds.

Appointment of Willard Ten Have of Zeeland, as part-time police officer was approved upon motion of Councilman Frank Hoogland. The move, recommended by Police Chief Jim Flint and Mayor Bloemendaal, set no limit on hours.

Councilman Ray Schaap moved to appropriate $50 to the police department for the purchase of equipment. Council approved unanimously.

Dutch Fall Apart In Last Quarter As Hornets Rally

KALAMAZOO (Special) — A golden opportunity for an undisputed MIAA basketball title slipped away from Hope college in the last six minutes of a crucial game at Tredway gym here Tuesday night as the Dutch wilted and the Kalamazoo college Hornets walked off the floor with an 87-76 victory.

It was a heart-breaking loss for the locals who were ahead by a somewhat "comfortable" seven points going into the final quarter. But the tide soon changed and the Hornets took over in every department to take the precious victory.

However, Hope still clings to a half-game lead by virtue of having played one more game than Kalamazoo. Hope's record now is 9-2 while Kalamazoo is close behind with 8-2.

Here's a brief resume of those last minutes: The score was 66 for Hope and 64 for the Hornets with just over six minutes to go when Hornet center Manny Glasser arched a sweeping hook shot through the net. Seconds later Dave Moran, Holland high school product last year got the ball, shoveled a neat pass to Glasser, who in turn came out with another hook shot to put the Hornets ahead with a little more than five minutes to go.

From there on it was an all Kalamazoo show as Hope lost control of the boards completely and couldn't hit from any angle. Stormen hit four field goals in the last five minutes to pace the Hornets.

During the final stanza Kalamazoo hit on 13 out of 21 shots, including five field goals by forward John Stormen and four close-in buckets by Glasser. Hope on the other hand was able to hit just four of 18 tries at the basket. During the quarter the home team outscored the Dutch 32-14.

Before that fourth quarter it was a dandy game as far as Hope rosters — of which there were many — were concerned. Although the score was deadlocked nine times in the first three quarters Hope led 21-20 at the end of the first quarter, was behind by a scant 39-37 at halftime, and enjoyed a 62-55 bulge at the end of the third quarter.

After a brief lapse early in the game, Hope's forward wall managed to get more than their share of the rebounds for the first three quarters. And that fact meant a lot — as was seen in the closing minutes when the Dutch couldn't get anything near the boards.

Big Bob Hendrickson paced the Dutch in the first quarter with eight points and the locals made eight out of 21 field goal tries to nine out of 25 for the Hornets. Kalamazoo came back with eight out of 23 to six out of 31 in the field goal department in the second half and outscored the Dutch 10-16 to lead at intermission 39-37.

Forward Bob Visser's five field goals in the third quarter led the way for Hope to outscore the home team 25-16 in a big third quarter. During the time, Hope made 11 out of 23 field goal tries to a mere five out of 19 for Kalamazoo.

But then came that fourth quarter and the downfall for Hope. Moran, playing a reserve role, was outstanding under the boards and contributed a valuable five points during the Hornet onslaught.

High man for both sides was Stormen with 24. He was followed by teammate Glasser with 20 and Bob Hendrickson of Hope, also with 20.

For the evening Hope made 18 out of 27 free throws while Kalamazoo made 17 out of 26. Only five personal fouls were assessed against the Dutch during the entire first half.

In field goals, Kalamazoo made 35 out of 88 for a good 39.7 per cent while Hope made 29 out of 93 for 31.1 per cent.

The Dutch play their final MIAA game of the season at Hillsdale Saturday.

Construction Begins On New Sanitary Sewer

Construction of a sanitary sewer on a portion of 32nd St. was expected to get underway today, City Manager Harold C. McClintock said Monday.

The proposed sewer will extend between College Ave. on 32nd St. east to approximately 400 feet east of Columbia Ave. and on College Ave. from 31st to 32nd Sts.

The city street department is doing the work.

Holland's No. 1 young baseball fan, Roxie Kramer (left), talks over prospects for the coming season with pitcher George Zuverink, who just last week was sold by the Cleveland Indians to Indianapolis. Roxie is one of Zuverink's staunchest supporters. The two are shown discussing Birdie Tebbets, whose picture they hold between them. Tebbets will be Zuverink's manager at Indianapolis.

Sale of Zuverink Okay With His No. 1 Rooter

The recent sale of pitcher George Zuverink from Cleveland to Indianapolis has the approval of Roy (Roxie) Kramer, one of Zuverink's most ardent fans.

Young Roxie, a ninth grader at Holland high school, has followed George's career closely since the Holland hurler entered organized baseball. Consequently, Roxie has been a staunch Cleveland fan for the past few seasons.

But what if Zuverink is sold to some other major league club? "Why if George goes to the Browns or Athletics or some other team," Roxie explains, "I'll start rooting for them."

Roxie has about 150 autographed pictures of big league stars in his huge baseball collection at his home, 152 East 19th St. He sends the photos to the players, who return them signed. And most baseball stars seem to be very cooperative, from the looks of the Kramer collection.

Zuverink started to receive mail from his young Holland admirer three years ago, when George was pitching for San Diego in the Pacific Coast League. Since then, the two conduct regular summer correspondence.

Zuverink still is highly pleased with the transaction that freed him from the direct ownership of the parent Cleveland club. Although the Indians own the Indianapolis franchise, George has been advised that Manager Birdie Tebbets and the rest of the Indianapolis staff will have complete charge of his future.

The lanky right hander has started working out once in a while in the Armory. He plans to report to Daytona Beach, Fla., in about a month.

Grandstanding...

Hope college basketball coach John Visser was called to Grand Rapids late Tuesday afternoon by the serious illness of his father.

At the last minute former coach Russ DeVette, who recently was discharged from the Marines, was called on to take the team to Kalamazoo.

Dave Moran, son of Recreation Director Joe Moran and a member of the great Holland high school team of last season, is a freshman at Kalamazoo college this year and is a member of the varsity basketball squad.

Well folks around K-college are still chuckling about the way Dave slept right through the important Adrian-Kalamazoo game at Kalamazoo last Saturday.

It seems Dave is waiting tables at Wells hall on K-campus and had to work the evening meal Saturday. Coach Dob Grow didn't think too much of the fact that Dave didn't show up early to suit up because he knew there was a banquet that night at Wells hall and thought maybe Dave got tied up.

However, he became worried about toward game time and sent a manager to Dave's dorm. Evidently the manager didn't look in Dave's room because there the former Holland high lad was fast asleep.

Dave slept right through the game and didn't wake up until about 10 p.m.

Tuesday's game at Tredway gym between Hope and Kalamazoo drew the largest crowd of the season at that school. Officials estimated 1,700 persons crammed into the place, including a loud-chattering section of Hope college students.

Hope couldn't beat the percentages Tuesday night. Not since 1945-46 has Hope been able to take both games in one season from Coach Dob Grow's outfit. Hope won earlier at the Armory 104-92 but couldn't turn the trick Tuesday night.

In the long Hope-Kalamazoo basketball series, Kazoo now has a 37-35 edge in victories.

Star Hope guard Ron Bos, who has been out of service in recent games with an injured knee, appeared in the lineup toward the end of the third quarter Tuesday night against Kazoo and quickly swished two shots from the edge of the foul circle — his favorites. Ron added two more in the fourth quarter but retired late in the game. His game knee still isn't up to par, but he seemed to spark the Hope squad when he entered the game.

Saugatuck Quint Defeats Fennville In Al-Van Contest

SAUGATUCK (Special) — The Saugatuck Indians took to the warpath and downed a scrappy Fennville basketball squad 54-42 in an Al-Van league game before a packed house here at the high school gym Tuesday night.

Really up for this one, the Indians cut down their arch rivals with a steady stream of close-in and out-court shots. Piling up a comfortable 16-9 lead at the end of the first quarter they closed out the half leading 28-23.

In the third quarter the Saugatuck squad limited the Blackhawks to five points while picking up 15. Almost five minutes of the third frame was past before Fennville was able to sink one.

Controlling both backboards most of the way, Coach Harley Henderson's cagers were never in serious trouble. Playing a fast moving race-horse game the Indians threw up a tight defense, intercepted passes, broke up the Hawk's floor plans and generally made Fennville play their brand of ball.

The Indians were out to avenge an earlier defeat by this same squad which saw Saugatuck go down to defeat in the last minute, and avenge it they did.

Accompanied by the throb of the cheerleaders, Indian tom-toms, a capacity crowd buoyed up the team whenever it lagged, which was seldom.

Scoring for the Saugatuck team was evenly divided with four members accounting for all but four points of the total. Top man for both squads was Ralph Troutman with 15 followed closely by teammates Kim Greene with 13, Howard Schultz 12, and Bill Bale 10. Dick Kosiarek had three, and Jim Clough one to round out the scoring.

For Fennville, Larry Morse was high with 11 points followed by Norm Sanford with nine. Also breaking into the scoring column were Rod Galbreath and Ray Smith with five each. Skip Bale, Punk Coxford and Clark Hutchinson got four each and Greg Crippin one.

In the reserve game, Fennville defeated a smaller Saugatuck squad 34-24. Glen Gooden was high with 12 for Saugatuck and Bob Thompson carried the scoring honors for Fennville with eight.

Finding good timber difficult to obtain, the New Mexican Indians built in adobe mud some of the most original and effective architecture in America.

Zeeland Defeated At Comstock Park In League Counter

ZEELAND (Special) — Coach Duane Rosendahl's Comstock Park basketball squad got revenge for an earlier defeat and boosted its standing in the Ken-New-Wa basketball league by forging a close 49-45 victory over the Zeeland Chix in a game played at Comstock Tuesday night.

The loss dropped the Chix to third place with a 7-4 record in league play and virtually eliminated them from a crack at the title. Zeeland was a half-game ahead of Comstock in second place going into Tuesday's game.

Hampered somewhat by a small floor, Zeeland never quite got its fast break moving as Comstock threw up a pressing man-to-man defense. Coupled with the tight defense Comstock's out-court accuracy helped make the difference.

Coach Joe Newell's squad closes out league play with a game against Hudsonville Friday night at Zeeland. Then onto the district tournament in Holland beginning March 4.

Never behind more than a few points, except for a six-point spread at half-time, the Chix couldn't seem to close the gap to go ahead.

A total of 28 fouls were called during the game. Comstock was called 15 times and Zeeland 13. The Chix have come out on the short end of four league games, all away.

Allen Kraai was high for the Chix with 15 points with Dave Kuylers counting for 12. Right up there was Del Komejan with nine. John Vande Bosch had four, Ron Weatherbee, two, Alvin Meyers, two, and Jase Redder, one.

Four Comstock players ended up with identical scores, 11 each. They were Don Wier, Vern Brewer, Ted Cowles, P. DeJonge. Ed Kelly had five to account for the rest of the total.

The reserve game was a different story with Zeeland on the long end of a 41-33 score. Art Klamp was high with 18 points for Zeeland and Roberts was tops for Comstock with 17.

Combined Study Groups Gathered in Local Church

Sixty members of the Catholic Women's club met Monday evening in the school auditorium of St. Francis De Sales church for a regular meeting of the combined Study Groups.

Chairman, Mrs. William Fisher, presided at the business session and welcomed new members into the club. She also spoke regarding the 15th annual convention of the MCCW to be held in Grand Rapids on May 4 in the Civic auditorium.

Minutes of the previous meeting together with report of the recent card party were read by secretary, Mrs. John Zych and the financial report was presented by Mrs. Joseph Fabiano, treasurer.

It was suggested by Mrs. John Bagladi, Jr., that the club make it possible for all members to receive the Christopher News Notes of Father James Keller, which at the present time is being furnished to more than 750,000 readers. The business meeting was concluded with a review of purposes, policies and activities of the Catholic Women's club of Holland by Mrs. John Zych.

Group recitation of the rosary was entered into for the intention of their pastor, the Rev. J. M. Westdorp, who was recently confined to St. Mary's hospital. Mrs. Irvin Heyniger, program chairman, arranged a technicolor film, entitled "Soldiers in Christ's Army." This interesting film depicted the life of a student in a seminary — from the time he enters until he is ordained a priest.

Hostesses for the occasion were members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help study group.

Point Production Shatters Record Set on Jan. 17

For the second time this season the Hope college basketball team shattered the MIAA team scoring record by running roughshod over Albion college 114-86 at the Armory on Saturday night.

The 114 point total bypasses the former record of 111 points set at the Armory by the same Hope team Jan. 17 against Hillsdale. And Saturday's total point production of 200 points fell just two short of tying the 202 total point record for the MIAA, also set that night of Jan. 17.

A peek at a few figures gives a good insight into the reason for the high point total. Hope made 50 out of 110 shots at the basket for a 45.5 per cent and an amazing 14 out of 17 free throws. Albion on the other hand made 34 out of 91 shots from the floor and 18 out of 30 free throws.

It was one of the smoothest performances of the season for the Dutch, paced by John Brannock with 29 points and Jerry Jacobson with 24 points. Coach John Visser's team was sharp and alert as they outtraced the fast-breaking Britons and repeatedly pushed in tip-ins and all kinds of shots close under the basket.

The rebounding work of Brannock, Bob Visser and Jim Hendrickson coupled with the set-up play of John Adams and Jacobson's unusually aggressive play told the story of the Hope success.

Albion broke away for slight leads early in the game but midway through the quarter Hope spurted out front 18-12 and 20-14 before Albion came back to make it just two points difference in Hope's favor, 27-25, at the end of the first quarter. Both sides made 11 field goals.

In the second quarter, two tip-ins and a jump shot by Brannock helped move the Dutch out front, 40-28 and that's where the rout started. During the period Hope made 12 field goals to a mere five for the Britons to lead 53-39 at the intermission. Both teams set a furious pace during that second quarter.

Jacobson's "almost automatic" shots from side court paced a Dutch spurt early in the third quarter and the score climbed to 70-48 and on up to 74-52. During this time, Albion's passes repeatedly went awry and Hope's alert defense was quick to cash in. During the period Hope made 13 field goals to nine for Albion.

Two foul shots by Brannock with six minutes left in the game boosted the score to 100-66 and from there on Coach Visser used his subs freely, leaving one tall man in for rebound work. It took some fifty shooting by substitute Alden Klomparsen in the last few minutes to boost the score from 108 to 114. He sank three buckets.

In summing up the game, one cannot overlook the outstanding performance of Albion's Cedric Dempsey, who carded 27 points and showed the fans some nice sweeping hook shots from all angles. He also gave a good account of himself in the rebounding department along with Doe Roe, who ended with 23 points.

Public Affairs Group Has City Planning Discussion

An enlightening discussion on city planning highlighted a meeting of the public affairs group of the Woman's Literary club preceding the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. About 55 were present.

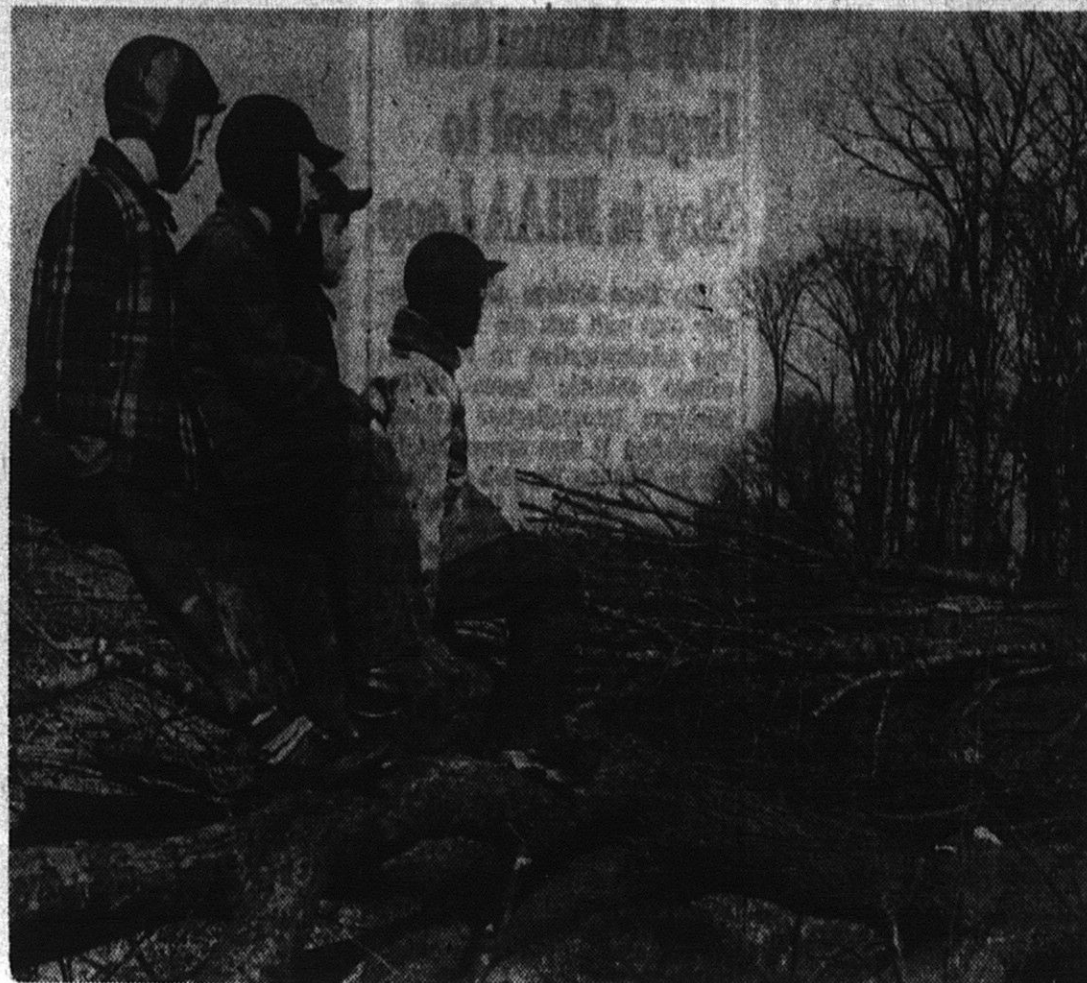

Marvin C. Lindeman, chairman of the Holland Planning commission, outlined future plans for the area on the basis of three years of study by the commission. He explained plans for schools, residential development, and the eventual clearing away of dwellings north of Eighth St. for light industry development. He also told how the commission has been working with the Board of Education in school plans and said the entire study is to keep first things first and avoid mistakes in the future.

He said Eighth St. should be preserved as the commercial center of the city, and to that end advocated more off-street parking. He also said residential development tends naturally south of the city to 48th St. and some consideration would have to be given eventually to facilities in that area.

Mrs. A. C. Yost, a co-chairman of the committee, presided. Dessert was served by Mrs. James K. Ward and Mrs. Clyde Geerlings.

Attention was called to the next public affairs meeting March 10 with Woodrow W. Hunter of the University of Michigan talking on geriatrics, or the problems of advancing age.

The sea lily is actually an animal with feathery arms which make it look like a flower.

These four boys sitting on one of the larger branches of a felled tree are looking at the great swath of trees felled in Kooyers' woods southeast of Holland to make room for the new US-31 right-of-way which will by-pass Holland on the east. Left to right are Steve Penna, Bruce Jacobs, Billy Jacobs and Steve Steggerda. The Jacobs boys are grandchildren of the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kooyers. The woods is located just south of 32nd St. about a half mile from the railroad overpass now under construction.

Part of Kooyers Woods Cut Down for Highway

Long-time residents who regard Kooyers woods southeast of Holland with sentimental attachment because of childhood picnics, will feel a few heart tugs at the thought of changes in that area.

But as the wheels of progress turn, sentiment takes its blows in a world of reality. Part of the well-known woods must make way for the modern highway which will soon by-pass Holland on the east. Fortunately, only about a third of the woods must be removed, and people who regard the place with fond memories are hopeful that the state will put up a few roadside tables or perhaps establish a roadside park there after the highway is completed.

The property has been in the Kooyers family more than 100 years. Frank Kooyers, present owner, said his grandparents who came with early Dutch colonists in 1847 obtained the property, then all woods, from the Indians. At least, that's what old abstracts reveal. As time went on, the land was cleared, but the family always kept the woods. Children flocked there at the first sign of spring to pick flowers. During the summers, it was the most popular spot for picnics. Two creeks that meandered through the area provided the most wonderful opportunity to go wading. In the old days, Ebenezer church always staged its Sunday school picnics there. That was before the modern automobile took everybody to Lake Michigan for picnics.

The woods lies south of 32nd St. in Fillmore township about a quarter mile from the road. The Kooyers family always kept a convenient path and gate through the pasture so that youngsters would not have to climb fences.

Work started before the first of the year, and so far all the trees have been felled. About 75 trees have to be removed for the new right of way. Kooyers woods was typical western Michigan woods. It had some virgin timber with trunks 24 feet in diameter. It was mostly hardwood with some elm, beech, oak and a few maples.

Today all the trees are lying on the ground. They will be cleaned up later in the season when the weather is warmer.

Famous Shaw Musicians To Perform in Holland

The Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra, nationally famous group of 50 musicians, will be heard at Hope Memorial chapel on Wednesday, March 11, at 8:30 p.m., it was announced today by Prof. Morret-Rider of the Hope college music faculty.

Robert Shaw, who has been acclaimed by music critics as "with-out equal in the choral field today" and "master of every nuance that can be coaxed out of a chorus," got his start in choral conducting at Pomona college, California, where he was studying theology. While a student at Pomona the director of the glee club took his sabbatical vacation. As a temporary measure Shaw was drafted to lead the club. He did such a good job at it that he was awarded an assistantship for the rest of his collegiate career.

When he was a junior, Fred Waring came West to make a movie, "Varsity Show," which was filmed on the Pomona college campus. The college glee club had a small bit in the film. Waring was so impressed that he told young Shaw if he ever came to New York a job would be waiting for him. In 1938, he took Waring at his word and assumed direction of the Waring Glee club, which soon became an outstanding feature of the five-nights-weekly Waring show.

In his spare time, Shaw led amateur singing groups in concerts of sacred music on the radio and in performance in New York. In November of 1941 he organized the now-famous collegiate chorale.

This collegiate chorale has sung its own concerts at Carnegie Hall,

Robert Shaw

Town Hall and the New York City Center. It has appeared in choral works conducted by Arturo Toscanini, Leopold Stokowski, Serge Koussevitsky and other conductors. Soon after the formation of the chorale, Shaw branched out as an orchestral conductor. In 1943 he was named outstanding American-born Conductor of the Year by the National Association of American Composers and Conductors.

In 1944 Shaw was guest conductor of the CBS Symphony. Since that time he has conducted the NBC Symphony, the ABC Symphony, the Boston Symphony orchestra and the Philadelphia orchestra.

Following discharge from the Navy, he was appointed choral director for the Berkshire Music center at Tanglewood, Mass. In 1946 he was appointed director of choral activities at Juilliard School of Music, a position he still holds.

Outstanding Travelogue Shows Life in Australia

A spectacular panorama of Australia was unfolded for members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon when Winifred Walker presented her extraordinary travelogue film, "Home to Australia."

A native of Australia herself, Mrs. Walker packed her film and narration with a variety of information and interesting highlights of life in the land "Down Under." Mrs. Walker made the 27,000-mile trip to visit her mother and other members of her family, who were introduced in the film. In her introductory remarks, Mrs. Walker told the little-known fact that Australia is much the same size and shape as the United States, but because of lack of rain and the stretches of rugged terrain, the population is only eight million. She presented a brief history of the continent and described the Aborigines as the most primitive people on the globe.

Her beautiful pictures, which covered an amazing amount of subject matter, easily explained to club members why Mrs. Walker has been named "America's ace cinematographer." With her camera she has captured all the beauty of Australia's wonderful beaches, its desert lands and rugged cliffs, the meticulously planned cities with red-roofed homes, modern business buildings and fabulous universities.

Throughout her film is a generous sprinkling of the unusual bird and animal life on the continent—the famous kangaroos, the precious koala bears, the duck-billed platypus, parrots and many others. One of the colorful climaxes was an exhibition of the secret Corroboree, ceremonial dance of the Aborigines. The white-painted natives create a weird picture in their brilliant costumes as they dance with picturesque symbols made of feathers, wood or carving.

Another highlight of the trip was Mrs. Walker's delightful dramatization of "Waltzing Matilda."

All the principle cities of Australia were visited—Canberra, the capital, with air views and close-ups of federal offices and embassies; Melbourne, with its bustling street scenes and lovely gardens; the queen city, Adelaide; Alice Springs, where the audience met the "Opal King" and saw breathtaking samples of his opal collection; Brisbane and its university well-known to many Americans as GI's. A visit to tiny Heron Island, on the Great Barrier Reef, afforded colorful shots of starfish, bright corals and many colorful denizens of the sea.

Woman's club members shall certainly recall Mrs. Walker's program as one of the finest of the year. She captivated her audience, not only with her extraordinary pictures, but with her own charm, her wit and sense of beauty.

Following the scheduled program, Willard C. Wichers of the Netherlands Information Service showed a short film on the flood conditions in the Netherlands.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Garrett Vander Borgh, president, a slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Carl Harrington of the nominating committee. These will be voted on at the March 3 meeting.

Letters From the Netherlands Tell Effects of Worst Storm in History

The plight of people in the Netherlands suffering from the effects of the worst storm in modern history was forcibly portrayed in letters received in Holland this week from relatives in the Netherlands.

Mrs. John Harthorn, route 1, received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Marine de Hamer, in which she said the household goods had floated away. She said she was rescued by soldiers in boats and was still in bed recovering from shock. She added that the help America had given was wonderful.

Included in the letter was a clipping containing a radio message in Dutch by Queen Juliana a week ago Sunday. In it, the queen reviewed the suffering and called upon her people to take heart.

Mrs. Gerrit Lucas, of 2 East Seventh St., received two letters this week, one from a niece, Mrs. Lena Smit, in The Hague, and the other from a cousin of Mr. Lucas, Mrs. Ten Broek, in Enschede. Neither family was directly affected by the floods but the writers described the terrible storm and the destruction.

Mrs. Smit wrote she had received the package and money Mrs. Lucas had sent and was most grateful. Mrs. Lucas mailed the letter and parcel Feb. 9 and they were delivered in the Netherlands Feb. 12. The answer was received here Feb. 16. Mrs. Smit said the storm was terrible in The Hague but much worse in Zeeland, Walcheren and north of The Hague near the North Sea.

"We had good help from America and the papers are full of it.

And a lot of U. S. soldiers helped. All the countries around here helped. My 13-year-old daughter Marne has been busy at Red Cross headquarters making sand bags. Now we are preparing against the Feb. 16 high tides and then the spring floods," Mrs. Smit wrote.

Mrs. Ten Broeke wrote from Enschede that the storm was terrible and everything was gone, mostly in Zeeland and Walcheren. She said the destruction was much like the war, but there are so many dead. "I'll never forget it," she wrote.

"America has done a lot for the Netherlands and the soldiers too. You just can't understand it until you see it for yourself. We've had collections in churches and factories. The storm was so bad that some of the waves took families and homes right into the sea. Amsterdam has had no real trouble. It is mostly toward Rotterdam, Dordrecht and along the coast to Zeeland and the Island of Yessels."

Police Emphasize Safety Program

Law enforcement agencies throughout the United States are getting behind the national traffic safety campaign and in Michigan the campaign is being sponsored by the state safety commission in co-operation with municipal, county and state police along with other safety organizations.

"You can't go wrong if you follow the advice given in the theme of the new national traffic safety campaign, 'Know and Obey the Traffic Laws,'" according to Sgt. Carl Kamhout, commander of the Grand Haven state police post.

"That's the title selected by the National Safety Council and a good one it is," Kamhout said. "And the campaign slogan fits right in, 'Don't Learn Traffic Rules by Accident!'"

"Just knowing the traffic rules isn't enough," Kamhout said. "You have to obey them. Even the unintentional and thoughtless violator causes just as bad a smashup as does the deliberate, reckless driver. And seven out of every 10 fatal accidents are the result of violations of one or more drivers."

"Last year 49,000 persons were killed or injured on Michigan streets and highways. That's equal to the population of a good sized city. There were 165,000 accidents."

Both Holland Cage Teams in Second Places in Ratings

DETROIT — The four State high school basketball champions of last year are all high among the leaders in the weekly United Press prep ratings Feb. 13 and give strong indications that dethroning them won't be an easy task.

Highland Park, the Class A titlist, has climbed to fourth spot among the large schools. Detroit St. Andrew is fifth in Class B, St. Louis fifth in Class C and Fowler fifth in Class D.

There were major shakeups in both of the higher classes.

Lansing Sexton, the only unbeaten team in the Class A ranks, shook loose from a first place tie with Flint Northern to grab the top spot alone.

Flint Northern, which suffered two successive setbacks, fell to eighth place.

Holland, a semi-finalist last year, is second in Class A with Kalamazoo, winner of three state titles in the last four years, in third place.

Saginaw Arthur Hill trails Highland Park in fifth place. It was Arthur Hill that Highland Park defeated for the state crown at East Lansing last March.

East Detroit is sixth, Grosse Pointe seventh, Hamtramck ninth and Dearborn Fordson 10th.

Three Rivers lost to East Lansing and relinquished its grip on first place in Class B. Alpena Catholic Central, winner of 13 straight starts, now heads the list.

Holland Christian is second, Ludington third, Three Rivers fourth, River Rouge sixth, Saginaw St. Andrew seventh, Ishpeming eighth, Cass City ninth and Inkster holds down the final berth.

Muskegon St. Mary and Detroit All Saints retained the leads in Classes C and D, respectively.

B League Nears End of Schedule

Final games before a double elimination tournament will be played Thursday night in the B league basketball schedule. Details of the tournament are being worked out and will be announced toward the end of this week.

In games Thursday night, Kopper Kettle will play the undefeated Rockets at 6 p.m.; Snafus vs. Seven-Up at 6:30; Independents vs. All-Americans at 7:40; Yellow Dogs vs. Chris-Craft at 8:30 and Baker Furniture vs. Knights at 9:20. The Knights will play Chris-Craft in a game postponed from Feb. 5 after the 9:20 affair.

In games last week Independents defeated Snafus 41-35, Dozeman and Langejans each had 11 for the winners and Mulder had 15 for Snafus. The Rockets kept their unbeaten record by disposing of the Knights 50-36. Siderius and Dykema had 14 for the Rockets and Slag with 13 and Heydorn with 14 paced the Knights.

Nuismer with eight points paced the Yellow Dogs to a narrow 28-27 win over Seven-Up. Bort had 11 for the losers. Baker Furniture defeated Chris-Craft 39-21. Koning had 20 for the winners and Weymeyer had nine for the losers.

Here's an outdoor view of the big pavilion on the Holland Furnace Co. grounds where heavyweights boxing champion Rocky Marciano will train for his April 10 return bout with Jersey Joe Walcott. Marciano will arrive in Holland and begin boxing Feb. 23. A ring and room for close to 3,000 spectators will be provided in the pavilion.

Rocky Marciano (right), heavyweights boxing champion, flexed some strong muscles which helped dethrone Jersey Joe Walcott when he visited Holland last November to appear at a gathering of Holland Furnace Co. salesmen. Left to right are E. H. Moss, Manager Al Weill, Edgar Landwehr and Marciano. The champ will train at the Holland Furnace Co. grounds for his return match with Jersey Joe April 10 in Chicago.

Heavyweight Champion Will Train in Holland

Rocky Marciano, heavyweight champion of the world, is coming to Holland to train for his April 10 re-match in Chicago with ex-champ Jersey Joe Walcott. Holland Furnace Co. officials announced Saturday.

Marciano will arrive in Holland Feb. 23 and will begin training that day at the Holland Furnace Co. grounds located about seven miles northwest of the city.

A ring will be set up in the large auditorium which can accommodate up to 3,000 spectators, according to E. H. Moss, public relations director at Holland Furnace. Several trailers will be brought in to serve as headquarters and living space.

Moss said the picnic grounds will be completely set up to accommodate sportswriters who are expected to come here in large numbers. Special cables will be laid for teletypes, telephones and other accommodations necessary to the speedy transmission of news. Two floors of the Warm Friend Tavern have been tentatively set aside for accommodating visiting newsmen.

Holland was one of three sites considered by Marciano and his manager, Al Weill. Others were Grossingers in New York and Tam O'Shanter Country Club in Chicago. One reason Holland was chosen was the rolling terrain which offers excellent opportunity for roadwork.

"Rocky expects to do a lot of exercising running up and down the sand dunes near the camp," Moss said.

The champion and his party of six sparring partners, a private chef, trainer Charley Goldman and Manager Weill will live at the camp. Schedules when the camp will be open to the public will be announced later.

Marciano and Weill first visited Holland last November when Marciano made a personal appearance at a meeting of furnace company salesmen. Sometime later P. T. Cheff, president of Holland Furnace, approached his longtime friend Weill with the invitation to train in Holland.

Rocky Marciano's name went on big time records Oct. 26, 1951, when he defeated Joe Louis in a technical knockout in the eighth round in a non-champion bout at Madison Square Garden in New York. The swarthy Italian, at that time 27 years old, won his 38th consecutive victory. For Louis, it was his third defeat in his 17-year professional career.

Last year, Marciano won the heavyweight championship when he stopped Walcott in the 13th round of their first fight. During his visit here last November, Marciano said the Walcott fight was the toughest he ever had.

Hope College B Team Nips Economy in Prelim

It took a late-game spurt for the Hope college B team to defeat Economy IGA of the City league, 89-85 in a basketball game at the Armory Saturday night played as a prelim to the Hope-Albion contest.

There wasn't much difference on the scoreboard between the teams at any time during the game. It was well-played by both sides. Economy held a 44-37 halftime edge.

Schultz and Klomparsen paced the winners with 24 and 21 points respectively while Paul Fortney had 26 for Economy and Dale Van Dorpe had 15.

Holland City Manager Gets Association Post

ANN ARBOR — Holland City Manager H. C. McClintock was elected fourth vice president of the Michigan chapter of the International City Managers' association at its annual mid-winter meeting Thursday at the University of Michigan.

Howard Kramer, city manager of Traverse City, was named president.

The meeting, scheduled as part of the annual management clinic at the university Feb. 11 to 13, was sponsored by the university institute of public administration.

There also will be punching bags and other equipment for the champ's training schedule. Marciano also will do a lot of roadwork throughout the area, including up and down some of the sand dunes.

Grandstanding...

Dateline HOLLAND, Mich., is going to be splattered far and wide by newspapers, radio sportscasters and probably on television screens between now and the time heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano steps into the ring at Chicago Stadium April 10 for his return bout with Jersey Joe Walcott.

Sports reporters all over the United States and many foreign countries will visit Holland between Feb. 23 and fight time to get a glimpse of the popular champion and see just how he's doing. It is expected the wire services—Associated Press, United Press and International News Service—will be represented a good deal of the time. And the big metropolitans will be represented most of the time along with thousands of other papers from time to time.

Holland Furnace Co. announced that the London Express is sending a man and a Paris newspaper, too. On top of that there will be at least one newsmen from a South American country.

A special press headquarters will be established at the Furnace company picnic grounds where the camp will train and wires and cables will be strung down to the Warm Friend Tavern where there will be set-up of typewriters, teletypes, telephones and all the other necessary equipment for newspaper and radio coverage.

It is expected they will use almost 100 rooms at the Tavern.

A Furnace company announcement said International Boxing Club officials have confided that this is going to be the biggest heavyweight fight—or any other for that matter—of all time, including the colorful Jack Dempsey era. They're going all out.

IBC officials said that Marciano is extremely popular throughout the nation and in foreign countries. And he's a proven puncher that packs knockout wallops in both fists. The rugged white champion will be fighting another proven boxer who can start the birds singing with just one punch. Nobody knows better than Rocky and so it's going to be all work for the champ at his Holland camp.

Harry Wismer, noted radio sportscaster, will originate at least one of his programs from the camp.

The champ will follow a definite schedule that is being arranged right now. It will include boxing three and maybe four days a week and the other days will be devoted to punching the bags, etc. A definite itinerary will be released later.

The champion and his party of six sparring partners, a private chef, trainer Charley Goldman and Manager Weill will live at the camp. They will be quartered in a cottage on the grounds and in three or four "luxurious" tandem-wheeled trailers that will be moved to the scene.

Getting sparring partners for a heavyweight champion isn't an easy matter. Most of those in the Marciano camp are being secured in Chicago. But it's not easy. While at Crossingers recently the champ knocked out four in one day.

A couple of reasons for selecting Holland are that it offers some rugged terrain for the champ who will do a lot of running up and down the sand dunes and along the roads. Another factor is that Holland offers a "rugged climate."

The fee for watching Marciano train will be $1 per person and children will be admitted free. The Furnace Co. grounds offer ample parking space and from 2,500 to 3,000 persons at one time will be able to watch the champ work out in the ring which will be set up inside the pavilion.

Hope Alumni Club Urges School to Stay in MIAA Loop

The Hope College Alumni Varsity club will ask the Hope college administration to keep the college athletic teams in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic association it was announced today by William Poppink of Grand Rapids, president of the club of 300 former Hope athletes.

Poppink said that the action was taken by the club's board of directors meeting Saturday on the campus.

"We believe," Poppink said, "that Hope should remain in the MIAA because it is a good league with one of the oldest traditions in the United States."

According to Dr. Robert Powers, board member from Saginaw and a former All MIAA football award winner, the league is the oldest west of the Allegheny Mts. and is superseded only by the Ivy league in the country.

Hope officials have been considering an invitation to join in a new league including DePauw university, Carroll, Beloit, Washburn and Lake Forest colleges. Albion college also has been asked to leave the MIAA in favor of the new league.

The director of the Hope Alumni Varsity Club also went on record as urging that an invitation be extended to Calvin college by Michigan league, making an eight member association. The MIAA now includes Adrian, Alma, Albion, Hope, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo and Olivet colleges.

Bob Bentley, in charge of public relations for IBC, will work out all the angles and he is expected to arrive in Holland soon to map details.

Wesley Ramey one-time lightweight contender from Grand Rapids, has been named to manage the camp. Ramey will supervise the myriad details at the campsite.

Both Walcott and Marciano will be in Chicago for the formal ceremony of signing their names to the fight contract and then the Marciano party will come to Holland. It has been definitely established that Marciano will box—possibly eight rounds—on Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Furnace Co. grounds.

Story of Williamsburg Related by DAR Speaker

Miles Baskett of Holland described the "Restoration of Williamsburg" to Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Maibelle Geiger.

Mr. Baskett's talk was based on material published by the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Baskett began the story of Williamsburg in 1699 when the capital of Virginia was moved there from Jamestown. Francis Nicholson was governor and he laid out the streets, naming the main street Gloucester, after the Duke of Gloucester, and two of the cross streets Francis and Nicholson. William and Mary college was already at one end of the street and the capital at the other end, with the governor's palace nearby. With the Revolution, the capital was moved to Richmond and as years passed, original buildings were destroyed.

The speaker told how 28 years ago, Dr. W. A. Goodwin, an Episcopal rector, desired to restore Williamsburg to its colonial glory. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., became interested in the project and supplied the funds. To date, 85 new buildings have been built and 350 rebuilt. The entire two blocks were erected with shops and post office. Older residents were given life tenure without payment of taxes or rent. Although modern conveniences are included in the houses, they are concealed as much as possible to give the appearance of colonial living.

Much research was done to make the restoration as accurate as possible, Mr. Baskett said. In the restored gardens, only trees and plants growing in Virginia in colonial days are included. Already, $30 million has been spent and it is planned to spend $15 million more. The restoration has succeeded in giving the American people a deeper interest in the life and customs of colonial days, the speaker said.

Preceding the program, Mrs. C. C. Wood, chaplain, led devotions. Mrs. R. F. Keeler who presided announced the Washington Birthday dinner to be held at the Eten House Feb. 23 for the Sons of Revolution and the DAR members. At that time a film, "Williamsburg Restored," will be shown.

Mrs. Wood reported on the Americanization work and Mrs. Milton Hinga announced that two new groups of Junior American citizens have been organized in Washington school. Mrs. O. S. Cross and Miss Lida Rogers were elected delegates and Mrs. William Vandenberg, alternate, to the National Congress in Washington. Mrs. Hinga and Miss Rogers were elected delegates and Miss Geiger, alternate, to the state convention at Saginaw.

The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Harold McLean, Mrs. John Mikula, Mrs. William Vandenberg, Mrs. John Kramer and Mrs. Edward Sooter.
