and Maat is completing his cardiology training. Licensing allows the paramedics to administer drugs, give intravenous (IV) solutions, defibulate and perform other advanced practices under phoned directions of physicians.

men are technically classified and licensed by the state as EMT-Cs, (emergency medical technicians - cardiology.) Paramedic units at Dykstra's and Notier-Ver Lee-Langland Funeral Homes are awaiting a grant which will provide direct communication with local hospitals.

Saving Lives Not Routine... Yet

Paramedics: Dramatic New Reality in Holland

By Ann Hungerford

They are young, enthusiastic, competent, and they save lives. Not routinely or nonchalantly... not yet.

Laymen call them "paramedics." The state classifies them as EMT-Cs (emergency medical technicians - cardiology.) They are licensed and working in Holland much to the relief of several residents whose lives they are credited with saving since Jan. 1.

A few weeks ago wastebaskets in the paramedic residence quarters of Dykstra and Notier - Ver Lee - Langland chapels brimmed with syringes, bizarre evidence of the paramedics' dedication to life saving techniques.

The EMT-Cs had been practicing starting IV's on each other as well as finding veins to draw blood. There is no substitute for practice and experience, they believe, and sore arms are only a small price to pay when striving for perfection.

Six young men have completed the year-long Grand Valley State Colleges course including Dale Wiersma, 19, Randy Kleinheksel, 28, Tim Dokter, 26, Gene Koopman, 27, and Dave Sova, 20, all with Dykstra's and Steve Stegeman, 23, working with Notier's.

Craig Kleinheksel and Brian Cote of Dykstra's and Bill Van Horn and Chuck Maat of NVL are completing their cardiology training.

In addition six young men from NVL have successfully completed their advanced EMT training and most will seek cardiology training when the limited classes open for enrollment.

Their confidence, though not marred with cockiness, is overwhelming. They have been exceedingly well trained and by May expect an EMT-C will be riding on each ambulance run in Holland qualifying the local services to be state licensed as life support systems.

Not miracle men, they quote enormously high percentages of DOA's (deaths on arrival) prior to using the new equipment, and now modestly herald the number of persons saved through use of the equipment.

But the equipment would be of little value if the paramedics were not adequately trained in its use.

Paramedics at NVL stress the value of psychology in their work explaining that even broken fingers or ankles are traumatic to patients and first aid care is still a basic responsibility.

Randy Kleinheksel, a graduate of Michigan's first paramedics class, explains the new philosophy of ambulance operation: "It used to be load and transport. Now it's stabilize and transport."

Paramedics from both services describe the anxiety of police officers and others at the rescue scene who have been conditioned to whisk the injured to hospitals with no regard for current conditions.

"We had to spend 15 minutes at the scene defibulating (the electric shock device used to start the heart beating again) and administering to a patient and people at the scene didn't understand he might have died if we had ignored his condition," Steve Stegeman said.

A more sophisticated approach to psychology also explains why sirens are rarely used to deliver patients to hospitals. "Sirens increase the patients anxiety and that's what we want to cut down on. We want to explain what is happening to them and develop a rapport," Stegeman said.

Opinions among local paramedics of the popular television show depicting two Los Angeles paramedics range from "I never watch it," to "it's overly dramatic," to "it helps people understand how important on-the-scene care is."

Dale Wiersma admitted that despite their efforts to decide en route who will carry what equipment to the patient, the scenario is never really as perfect or orderly as portrayed on television. "It takes a great deal of experience and practice."

But they continue to read EKG's, defibulate, perform intubations (tube down the throat) and consistently are being credited with saves by local physicians.

Stegeman displays an EKG of a "man who is walking around downtown today." Suffering from cardiac arrest (heart stopping), the man's EKG reads as a straight line.

"We defibulated him at this point," Stegeman says. The line becomes a jagged ridge. The rhythm looks good to the uninformed eye but Stegeman continues, "Here we had to administer a drug." The rhythm pattern changes again. The man's heart functions steadily.

Their course on reading EKG's is equivalent to training received by physicians including use of the same textbooks, one a lengthy exercise book in reading EKG's.

A few of the paramedics admit that skepticism on the part of registered nurses and physicians existed in the beginning but has recently decreased due primarily to the number of saves.

One emergency room nurse accompanied an ambulance crew on a cardiac arrest run and returned with the confessed knowledge that things are indeed tougher "in the field" than in the security of a well equipped emergency room.

Though paramedics have been given approval from Zeeland Hospital to administer cardiac drugs, local restrictions on drug use have yet to be defined and untangled.

If this reporter's EKG ever looks more like a Penn Central railroad track than a linear depiction of the Austrian Alps, we'd certainly want a paramedic in our corner rather than a siren screaming scramble to the hospital.

"Stabilize and transport" is a comforting new reality in the community.

West Ottawa Approves Millage Date

April 12 was approved by the West Ottawa Board of Education as the district's next millage election date. The action was taken at the regular monthly session Monday night.

In selecting the April rather than June date the board recognized the feasibility of delaying the millage date to a later time if necessary.

In other action June Reimink, director of instruction, presented the results of the Michigan Assessment testing given to fourth and seventh graders in October, 1975.

Results showed that the district's fourth grade students scored higher than the state average on the 30 math objectives and the 19 reading objectives.

The district's seventh graders scored higher than the state average on 35 of the 40 math objectives and the same as the state average on one of the math objectives. The seventh grade students were higher than the state average on 19 of the 20 reading objectives.

Mrs. Reimink informed the board in an informal presentation that the goal of assessment testing is the utilization of the results as a "teacher's aid."

Supt. Brad Henson reported that the state aid formula will be changed since Gov. William Milliken and members of the state House have formally recognized the error in the formula.

Henson reported that to gain maximum state aid the district should levy an additional 1.155 mills. The board will discuss the assessment potential at a workshop meeting scheduled in March.

The board also approved the bid of De Nooyer Chevrolet for a small bus for $8,356.01 to replace a bus damaged recently in an accident.

Board President Ed Haltenhoff and Wes Waldron volunteered to attend the Ottawa Area Intermediate District budget hearing slated for Feb. 26.

Henson read a letter from the office of the State Supt. of Schools which noted that the district had satisfactorily complied with the law regarding the submission of a career education plan. A more in depth proposal is being completed by a committee of 15 faculty and administrators.

Business Manager Gordon Scheerhorn told the board that 90 applications for director of buildings and grounds had been received and that eight including three staff members were being interviewed.

Asst. Supt. Peter Roon reported that West Ottawa was denied funding for the paperback book program since the district is too high in state equalized valuation to participate.

The board declined to comment on the status of the Jerry Kissman situation pending a grievance procedure in process. Kissman was suspended as basketball coach on Jan. 23.

Ottawa And Allegan Are Turned Down

LANSING (UPI) — Ten Michigan counties that sustained weather-related crop damage last summer have been declared disaster areas by the U.S. Agriculture Department, making farmers eligible for low-interest loans.

Gov. William G. Milliken's office was notified Thursday that farmers are eligible for government assistance in Bay, Berrien, Clinton, Eaton, Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Macomb, Mecosta, Oceana and Van Buren counties.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz turned down requests for disaster designation from seven other counties — Antrim, Allegan, Kent, Lenawee, Ottawa, Sanilac and Washtenaw. But the counties may still be assisted on a case by case basis by the state director of the Federal Housing Authority, Calvin C. Lutz.

Milliken said Lutz told him the 17 affected farmers in Antrim County will be eligible for assistance. Lutz is authorized to evaluate instances of isolated damage to 25 or fewer farmers per county and approve assistance for them without going through Washington.

The counties declared disaster areas experienced crop losses last year due to excessive rainfall, high winds, hail, drought, frost and high temperatures — in addition to flooding in some cases.

VOLUNTEER DEMONSTRATES LOVE

Day Care Center Marks 10 Years

by Paul Van Kolken
A mother of three young children gives the love and companionship needed by a child . . . a 25-year-old single man likes to make young children happy and a woman with grown children sees the youngsters as her grandchildren.

All are volunteers working with youngsters in the Holland Day Care Center which is observing its 10th anniversary this month with an open house Sunday.

"The center could not operate without the volunteers," said Mrs. Delbert Michel, director of the volunteer services for the center.

"They become involved with the children but more than that they provide services and assistance we could not pay for."

To qualify for federal grants, which are used to fund the program, at least 5,460 hours of volunteer time are necessary each year and they are used in the classroom and dining room. But others are needed to wash sheets and blankets, to repair bibs and sheets, to repair toys and to assist with special trips and parties.

The Day Care Centers in Hope Reformed church and Third Reformed church have 86 children enrolled this year, and a staff of 26 on a full time and part time basis.

The centers draw their support from federal funds, local churches United Way and sale of Christmas cards and other community campaigns.

"This is not a baby sitting service," emphasized Dorothy Cecil, director of the centers. She has been in charge of the program since 1966 when the centers moved from funding by the Michigan Migrant Opportunity to Head Start funding.

Paulette Young has been a parent volunteer at the Day Care Center and now is a part time worker but still volunteers additional time. Her children, now 4, 5, and 9, had attended the centers.

Mrs. Young works on a one-to-one basis with one child who has had an emotional or physical disruption in the family.

"I spent time with the girl to give her the love and affection her mother is physically unable to do," she said. "We spent time together at the center or alone on walks. I have become her special friend."

"It gives you a sense of helping another human being and you get an insight into the problems of another person," she added.

Mrs. Young, who is taking night courses in the high school to learn Spanish and short hand a typing skills, said she intends to enroll at Grand Valley State College for child development classes and hopes to come back to the Day Care Center as a staff member.

Dutch Team Will Be In Capable Hands of Former A's Manager

Al Dark Is A Christian All the Way

By Leo Martonosi

The youngsters of the Wooden Shoe baseball team making the trip to The Netherlands this summer, will be in extra good care in the hands of Alvin Dark, former baseball manager of the world champion Oakland A's.

The evening with Dark Saturday in Hope College's Phelps Hall was a huge success as more than 350 persons were on hand.

Dark, a great Christian, headlined the program. Rev. William C. Hillegonds, the college chaplain, was the master of ceremonies. Ross Nykamp, team captain of the Wooden Shoe team, led in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Anne Tokarz, mother of one of the players sang "God Bless America" and "My Tribute" (one of Dark's favorite solos).

The Rev. Earl Webb, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Dark gave a challenging testimony at the church Sunday.

Mayor Lou Hallacy presented Dark with a traditional pair of wooden shoes.

Dan Van Ommen, general manager and coach of the team, gave an emotional introduction of the players, making the trip to The Netherlands. It was announced at the gathering that Van Ommen, was appointed to the National Baseball Federation.

Todd Hoogland, one of the players from Zeeland spoke on "What the Trip means to Us."

Dark signed an orange baseball presented to him by Steve Van Tongeren to make the trip to The Netherlands official.

Jon Verheul entertained at the piano during the dessert. The colorful Hillegonds read a letter from Jim Kaat and telegram from Rep. Guy VanderJagt.

Van Ommen, who introduced Dark, would love to become a big league manager one day. He mentioned his faith in God and being a major league manager. More important, that of being a Christian big league manager.

Said Dark, "It's a privilege to be connected with these fine group of players. I have six children and know what to expect from you guys, since I probably did the same thing when I was your age."

"The main reason I accepted the decision to make the trip was because of the last verse of Matthew which says go into all the world and teach all nations in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost."

"I plan to take the opportunity while I'm in Holland to talk in some churches. I wouldn't think of going to a foreign country without speaking on Jesus Christ. I won't be preaching but I'll be telling you what Jesus Christ means to me."

Two weeks ago was a big day in the life of the Darks, as their 17-year-old son was saved. "It's really a miracle on how God works in life," he said.

Dark was raised in a Christian home but never really studied the Bible until 1971.

He ranked God first, his family second and his job third. Dark even told that to his demanding boss at Oakland — Charlie Finley.

"One time after he found out where he stood, he asked me if he had moved up the ladder," Dark commented.

"I rededicated my life in 1971," he continued. "We'll go to The Netherlands and try to win every game. But you will also understand what it is to be born again Christian."

Dark added, "At Oakland, I tried to save the players and Charlie Finley too." "Although, I didn't go around the clubhouse waving the Bible. In my two years at Oakland, 14 ball players were saved."

"Jim Kaat is a born again Christian but he'll throw the ball right here (pointing to his throat)," stated Dark. However, Reggie Jackson and all of us respected him because of his Christian stand."

Of the A's mentioned by Dark as being Christians were Sal Bando, Jackson, Angel Mangual and Felipe Alou.

"I just hated to tell Mangual that we had to release him last September when we picked up Cesar Tovar but I knew it had to be done," offered Dark.

Mangual's comment to him was this, "Don't worry about me being released, I'm in the Lord's hands."

"Reggie Jackson felt like a new creature when he became a born again Christian explained Dark. "He's not only respected as a player but as a Christian."

Bando, who has had many outstanding seasons for Oakland, was struggling along with a .185 batting average when he went to Dark and said, "I've enjoyed this season more than any other and that's because of my personal relationship with Jesus Christ."

"The players last year tried harder than any group I've ever

GIVES TESTIMONY — Alvin Dark, (left) former manager of the Oakland A's, was presented with a pair of wooden shoes Saturday evening by Mayor Lou Hallacy. been associated with," said Dark. "I didn't try to talk any ball players into turning to my faith. It's through God's blood that we're saved."

"In order to be saved again, we must accept Jesus Christ as our savior. We're all sinners and the wages of sin — is death. You can't work your way to heaven." Only through the faith in Jesus Christ can we be saved.

Dark doesn't call himself a preacher but he was firing verses out of the Bible at all times.

He concluded, "if you are not saved, you can be here tonight sitting in your seat."

The program ended on that note with Dark praying for us all. And you could be sure that all of the players parents that were present, had a great feeling inside of them, knowing that their children will be associated with this great Christian, Al Dark.

Dark knows baseball but more important, who is No. 1 at all times, the almighty Lord.

WHEN NOBODY KNOWS

We are ready to grant that New York City is a large metropolis with a host of problems, but we have some difficulty with its continuing problem of finding out where it stands financially.

Mayor Abraham Beame has now come up with a figure in excess of $1 billion as the new deficit. This is 40 per cent higher than the official figure adopted in October, less than five months ago. And this means that the projections for trimming the budget in the two years ahead must be revised drastically.

There is something radically wrong with a system that can't get its official financial picture under control. And outside sources, people who know the business of accounting, have already described the situation as a mess.

What is of interest to all of us is that the federal government is now a part of this attempt to trace the deficit figures from an accounting system that seems to be so bad that no figures have much in the way of validity.

Ultimately the federal government, which of course means the taxes you and I send out to Washington, will be sucked into this mealworm and billions more may well be lost with little or no way to even account for the total. This is precisely the reason why cynicism has become so much of the voter's attitude toward his government. We must insist on manageable financial situations. It is imperative.

One-County Status Aim For Holland

At the close of a two-hour meeting, one of the longest in several months for City Council, Mayor Lou Hallacy Tuesday night posed a proposal that the city attorney be given 60 days to seek alternatives to placing the city of Holland in one county.

Council passed the motion, there was no discussion. The question is an interesting one because Holland has been beset with problems ever since its borders were extended into Allegan county in the late 50s. Problems have become more complicated in recent years, but this appears to be the first time official action is sought.

The meeting opened with a special ceremony in which William Smolenski of the American Automobile Association presented a two-year achievement pedestrian safety citation for no pedestrian deaths as reported in the AAA Pedestrian Safety inventories. Mayor Hallacy accepted the plaque.

Council held its second hearing on community development and housing needs in Holland in connection with an application for second year funding under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. There were no responses but City Manager Terry Hofmeyer introduced two HUD representatives who have been assisting with the guidelines for development of the Holland program.

A bid of Elzinga & Volkens for $3,700 for repairing the chimney on City Hall was approved. It was the only proposal received.

Low bid of Houting and Meusen Wrecking Co. of $2,100 was approved for demolition of two city-owned dwellings, 54 West 12th St. and 183 East 10th St., the 12th St. house, costing $1,150 for demolition, will be charged to Herrick Public Library and the 10th St. house for $950 will be charged to the Lincoln Park project.

A city manager inspection of railroad crossings revealed 12 as in need of immediate attention. The office was instructed to request immediate repairs from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. and if there is no progress in 60 days to request the Michigan Public Service Commission to inspect the crossings and determine improvements. It was pointed out that any MPSC decision is mandatory and could involve more than routine maintenance.

Another city manager report on a study of existing liquor licenses in the city revealed no objection to renewal of licenses, except for a recommendation that a pool table be removed in one bar.

Council approved a proposed agreement with the Holland Downtown Development Corp. stipulating that the corporation will pay the city $21,000 in semi-annual payments for free two-hour parking and free long-term storage in certain offstreet parking lots within the Central Business Districts. Funds collected will be credited to parking system revenues.

Permission was granted Jacobus's Refuse Service Co. to increase its residential refuse service rate from $3 to $3.50 per month for weekly collection. The last increase was in July, 1974, and operators said since that time direct cost increases up to 40 per cent in some cases have been experienced in regard to gasoline, diesel fuels, etc. It was stated there are no current plans for additional increases for the new license year beginning in July.

In a 4-4 vote, Council rejected purchase of a Kohler tractor and blade for $1,085 for snow

Council approved a request of David Holkeboer of Brookside Ave. to connect to city water. His home is outside the original special assessment district.

The city manager announced that Gov. William Milliken had appointed Alfredo Gonzales of Holland to the Commission on Spanish-Speaking Affairs, and Council joined in extending congratulations on this significant new appointment.

A resolution was adopted approving an updated urban systems map for the Holland-Zeeland Federal Urban Aid System in order for the area to continue to be eligible for urban aid funds. The revised map had been reviewed by the local policy committee consisting of a representative of each governmental unit in Holland-Zeeland and the Ottawa and Allegan County Road Commissions.

Purchase of a hydraulic hammer from Miller Equipment Co. for $1,267.69 and four snowplow hitch attachments from Greengate Equipment Co. for $1,692 were approved.

Council approved an application from Timothy De Ridder, doing business as Pin Ball City, for a pool table license at 1097 South Washington Ave.

A letter from the student council of Thomas Jefferson School relative to its request last year for a sidewalk on Washington Ave. between school and Meadowlans was filed. The city manager said a meeting is scheduled in March to study all sidewalk requests.

The Library Board submitted its proposed budget, together with a report of the status of the Herrick Public Library State Aid Fund. It was referred to the city manager for later consideration by Council.

Claims against the city from Petro Guerra, Mrs. Florence Bosch, Donald Oetman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kodra and David Evink were referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney.

Mayor Hallacy commended three long-suffering Boy Scouts who sat through the entire two-hour meeting observing Council operations for their merit badges.

The opening invocation was given by the Rev. Tom Early of Calvary Cathedral.

PALS Program Holds Bowling Tournament

Big and Little Brothers in the Ottawa County PALS Program recently held a bowling tournament in the Holland Bowling Center. Highest single game score went to Ric Newton of Grand Haven with 126 in the ten and over age group and Osmar Vazquez of Holland with a score of 93 in the under ten group.

John Rolph, director of the PALS program, noted that "boys in the program, despite popular opinions, are neither juvenile delinquents nor suffering from deep seated emotional problems. However, one characteristic, that all boys in the program share is that they live in fatherless homes. Fatherless homes can be caused by divorce, separation, desertion, death or incarceration."

Big brothers are volunteers who meet with their little brothers each week on a one-to-one basis, doing things they both enjoy. Activities may be of at least three types, educational, recreational or work oriented. The boys range in age from six to 16.

Group activities such as canoe trips, picnics or the recent bowling tournament take place approximately five times each year.

Presently more big brothers are needed for the program. Many boys in the Holland-Zeeland area have been placed on the waiting list. Persons interested in the program may contact Rolph at Hope College. The PALS program is part of the Child and Family Services of Michigan, Inc., a United Way agency.

Chix Cagers Show Balanced Attack

ZEELAND — The Zeeland Chix never gave the Knights of Kenowa Hills the opportunity to get their basketball offense clicking Friday night as the Chix notched at least 20 points each quarter to win going away, 85-50.

Zeeland jumped to a quick 10-2 lead after the Knights canned the first two points. It was the most balanced scoring attack of the year for the Chix, as everyone played and all but one player on the roster scored.

The victory kept the Chix tied for first place in the O-K White Division with Forest Hills Northern. Northern routed South Christian, 80-61 Friday night. Both teams are 10-2 in the loop.

Kenowa hit on only 27 per cent of its shots compared to 47 for Coach Norm Schut's crew.

Dave Janssen led the way with 16 points and 10 rebounds. Doug Wabeke followed with 14 and eight assists. Jeff Jungling mustered 13 points while Larry Kortering helped out on the boards with 10 caroms. The Chix had a 50-39 edge in team rebounds.

Zeeland's man-to-man defense held the high scoring Veldheer brothers to just 22 points. Jim Veldheer led his team with 14 while brother Don was held to eight.

"The depth and consistency of our bench was most encouraging tonight," said Schut. "The boys all had a great week of practice and deserved the opportunity in this game."

Holland Wins 3rd Straight From Maroons

By Leo Martonosi

How do you stop a lighted stick of dynamite from exploding when you know it can go off at any time.

Holland basketball Coach Don Piersma had the answer for that Friday evening in Civic Center in the hands of senior forward Dave Van Wylen.

Van Wylen may not be a scoring whiz but when it comes to playing tenacious defense, he has to rank with the best in the state.

The son of the Hope College president couldn't have played it any tougher on Christian's explosive Dave Van Langevelde, as the Dutch defeated their city rivals from Christian, 54-42.

The 6'4" Van Wylen held Christian's leading scorer to only six points and scored eight himself. Van Langevelde carried a torrid 20.4 average into the tilt.

Dave's job on Van Langevelde was definitely one of the keys to our victory," said a jubilant Piersma.

Christian was definitely in the ball game in the first half as the score stood 17-16 in favor of Holland at the first period break and 31-all at the half.

Mark Van Dyke and Joel Vogelzang put Christian ahead at the outset 4-0 with baskets. Dan Molenaar canned a fielder for Holland's first points at the 6:17 mark.

Holland took its first lead of the evening 9-8 on Todd De Young's high pass to Dennis Lawson for two points. The Dutch opened the margin to 17-14 before Christian closed the gap to one point at the horn on Ken De Jonge's fielder.

Steve Van Tongeren, who came off the bench for Holland and De Jonge were the highlights of the second quarter. The two were trading buckets like lovers do valentines at this time of the year.

Van Tongeren swished his first four shots from the court to give his club a 31-29 advantage after Christian was on top, 29-25. Tom Zoerhoff tied the count at the half with a two-point.

The referees ruled that time expired on Van Tongeren's left-handed tip at the buzzer.

While Holland was five of six from the charity lane at the half, the Maroons were only one of seven.

Both teams exhibited sharp defense in the second half. However, the Dutch also were able to find the hoop and Christian wasn't.

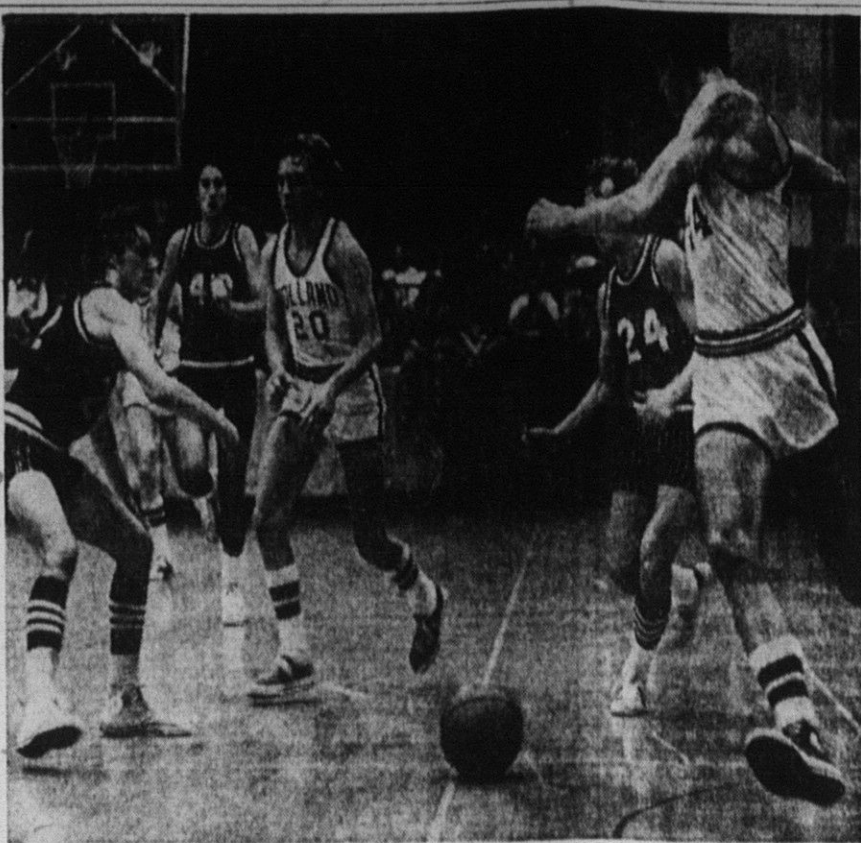

Christian connected on only 16 per cent of its tries in the third period and found themselves trailing at the gun, 43-38. The Maroons went even colder in the final eight minutes, as they made only two of 26 attempts from the court for eight per cent.

Doug Vogelzang's basket cut Holland's lead to 45-42 but that turned out to be the last time the Maroons scored. When D. Vogelzang tallied, there were four minutes and 33 seconds left in the game.

Lawson sparked the Dutch in the second half with 10 of his team high 14 points. Molenaar had 11 of his 13 total in the first 16 minutes. Christian's rugged zone defense did an outstanding job of holding stand-out Loren Schrottenboer to nine points. Schrottenboer had been scoring at a 20.1 clip.

Van Tongeren added a career high nine while De Jonge was the lone Maroon to reach double figures with 14. J. Vogelzang had eight.

Holland ended with a 48 per cent shooting percentage from the floor (21 of 43) compared

All 3 Panther Teams Lose

By Roger Kuiken

KENTWOOD — It had to be a long bus ride home for West Ottawa basketball teams Friday evening as all three teams, the freshmen, the reserves and the varsity were soundly beaten by the Falcons of Kentwood.

The game got started rather late and if that wasn't bad enough, it was further prolonged by many fouls. When it finally ended, Kentwood picked up its seventh win of the season, downing the Panthers 76-62.

The game was completely controlled by the Falcons as they jumped off to a 23-10 first quarter lead, then put it away out of reach by halftime, 49-22. The big lead for Kentwood enabled coach Dick Friberg to play his entire team in the second half.

West Ottawa was in trouble in the second period as Jack Barrett and Jim White were both in serious foul trouble with three each. In the first period West Ottawa could not find the range shooting only 18 per cent but shot an unbelievable 86 per cent in the second period but only shot seven times and made six of them.

The Falcons pressed hard all night and some nice driving by Jim Hawkins enabled them to have the big first half lead. Kentwood, not one of the leagues powerhouses by any means, are now 7-11 overall and 5-7 in the Big Red.

West Ottawa had only four turnovers in the first period but the constant press took its toll in the second quarter as the Panthers had 15 by half-time. White was good on the boards as usual, but had to hold back somewhat because of fouls. White along with Marty Klein were West Ottawa's leading scorers with 14 points each. Rick Westrate had eight and John VandenBrink six.

Actually the last period turned out the best for the Panthers as they scored 23 points, shooting twice as much as any other quarter. Turnovers were even at 21 each in the game. Overall West Ottawa shot 35 per cent to the Falcons 38 per cent.

Don Batendorp was the leading scorer for the Falcons with 17 points. Although Kentwood's record isn't spectacular, they did manage to upset Holland High.

Earlier in the season, the Falcons beat West Ottawa 67-56. Overall, the Panthers are 2-14 for the year with only four games remaining on the schedule, one of them being tonight at home against Spring Lake.

The West Ottawa freshmen team got beat by Kentwood, 83-30. Jay Culver was high for the Panthers with six points. The reserves were also beaten by Kentwood, 71-53. The overall record for the little Panthers stands at 3-13.

West Ottawa (62) — Hallenhoff, 3-6; Klein, 5-11; White, 5-14; Vanden Brink, 3-17; Barrett, 2-0-4; Vander Ploeg, 1-3-5; Westrate, 3-2-8; Van Dyke, 0-2-2; Laarman, 1-0-2. Totals 62-83.

Kentwood (76) — Hawkins, 3-3-9; Shauble, 3-0-6; Zinkle, 5-5-15; Leek, 2-0-4; Batendorp, 5-17; Terstra, 2-0-6; Abel, 0-2-2; Cunningham, 1-0-2; Cheerink, 0-2-2; Hammond, 2-2-6; Simon, 2-0-4; Stanley, 0-1-1; Stevstra, 1-0-2. Totals 76-62.

Colonial Era Costume Duplicated

ZEELAND — a costume typical of the type of clothing worn by women in the colonial period has been duplicated by a Holland woman as part of Zeeland's Bicentennial Costume Contest.

Mrs. Leo Bougie of 20 West 34th St., spent hours of research to make every detail of the costume as authentic as possible. The basic pattern was traced from an official bicentennial pattern last October and details of construction and fitting were gleaned from resource books on costume borrowed from libraries and from talking with costume makers at Hope College.

The costume will be entered in the contest and will be shown Thursday at the Zeeland High School auditorium as part of a fashion show kicking off the Zeeland Bicentennial celebration.

Six parts are included in the costume. They are the bodice (undergarment); Farthingale (undergarment, hip-padding); pettiskirt (complete with board to stiffen and flatten the bodice); dress with divided skirt; bonnet and shawl.

Mrs. Bougie used 16 yards of material in the pettiskirt and dress, providing warmth and a huge pocket to carry such essentials as fan and head scratcher.

The dress was originally intended to be worn by Mrs. Paul Van Kolken of Holland adding authenticity and color to her book reviews of "The Women of '76" and "Founding Mothers." She is secretary of the Holland Bicentennial Commission.

Officials of the Zeeland Bicentennial celebration said registration forms and entry blanks for the costume contest will be available at the costume show Thursday in the Zeeland High School.

Lakers Overwhelm Panthers

By Ted Bertrand
The West Ottawa Panthers fought valiantly before going down to powerful Spring Lake 66-44 at the West Ottawa gym here Saturday night.

The Panthers ran into a buzz-saw against the Lakers, a team that was ranked eighth in the state going into the game. The Lakers are a team that area powerhouse, Grand Haven, had to come from behind to beat.

The Panthers refused to give up the ghost, and hung on aggressively until the end.

Spring Lake started things off with a couple of free throws, and quickly moved out to an early 6-0 lead. The Panthers got into some quick foul trouble as Jim White picked up four fouls before the quarter was half over.

The Lakers took advantage of Panther turnovers to move an overwhelming 25-4 first period lead. Turnovers have plagued the Panthers all year, but this was counterbalanced with some beautiful assists by Randy Vanderploeg. The Panthers connected on 13 per cent of their shots as opposed to 48 per cent for Spring Lake.

Thanks to some nice offensive rebounding by Rick Westrate and Marty Klein, the Panthers started to move the ball against the huge Laker line. As the second quarter unfolded Clark Laarman took advantage of a technical foul to close the gap to 32-13.

West Ottawa's zone defense held on tenaciously as Spring Lake's shooting fell to 19 per cent in the second stanza for a halftime average of 32 per cent. The Lakers' overwhelming power allowed them to coast to a 42-17 lead.

The Panthers shot 32 per cent in the third quarter, and managed to outscore the Lakers 15-1. However, fancy ball handling and aggressive play by Laker guard Calvin Mohrhardt kept the lead at 54-32 going into the final stanza.

Try as they might the Panthers could not stop Spring Lake from dominating the boards.

but Barrett managed to slip in several inside baskets. Playing aggressively, White fouled out with a little more than five minutes remaining; Spring Lake coasted on to win 64-14.

The Panthers finished the game with 24 per cent shooting accuracy as opposed to 28 per cent for Spring Lake. From the charity stripe, West Ottawa canned 12 out of 26 for 46 per cent, while Spring Lake hit on 74 per cent of their efforts. Twenty-nine Panther turnovers hurt their total game effort.

Barrett led all scoring for West Ottawa with 18 points, followed by Vanderploeg with 10. Spring Lake was led by Paul Vander Muelen with 18 and Brian Burnside added 15 points. ## A Great Christian

If most of us were fired, we would be upset but not Al Dark. But most of us aren't like the former manager of the world series champion Oakland A's.

In a press conference Saturday evening before the dessert program, Dark said he didn't hold anything against this certain writer that probably cost him his job.

"Everything is in the good hands of the Lord," stated Dark.

In case you missed it, while Dark was giving a talk in a church last fall, he mentioned to the audience that if Charlie Finley didn't accept Jesus Christ as his personal savior, that he would go to hell.

"In the newspaper, it came out in big headlines that Charlie is going to hell," Dark said.

Finley never did tell Dark why he wasn't rehired but most people are sure it was because of that article.

"The funny thing, is I only saw that writer one other time," added Dark.

Some people couldn't work hand and hand with Finley but that was never the problem with Dark.

"I didn't mind him calling me on the telephone," he commented. "After all, that doesn't mean you do everything he says. And he is the boss."

"Finley is one of the hardest workers in baseball. He'll do anything there is to win. He's a typical baseball fan," Dark commented.

Dark, who completely turned his life over to the Lord in 1971, feels that baseball needs some kind of reserve clause to survive.

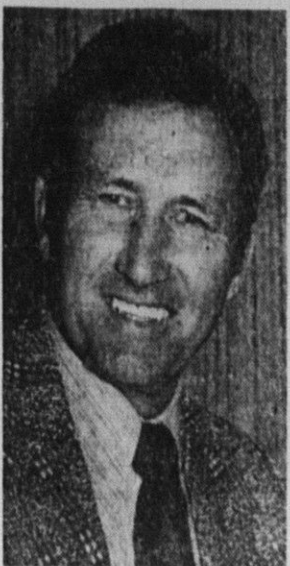

He said that expansion will dilute the talent and he would like to see a designated pinch-runner for the designated-hitter.

Dark feels that players today are just as hungry as the players in the past.

"All the Oakland A's want to win," offered Dark. "They have so much pride in what they do. They just want to be the best."

Dark admitted losing Catfish Hunter to the New York Yankees really hurt the A's.

"We could get by with three top starters but when we lost

Al Dark
... not upset with Finley

Catfish, we had to change the style of our club," he explained. Dark was an all-American football player in college and is also a top notch golfer. He has won the golf tournament for baseball players.

What cities do the players best like to play in?

"New York is probably the first place because once you're there, everyone knows about you," Dark replied. "Boston is a great place to play as are Los Angeles and Anaheim. It was nice to play baseball for the Cubs since you always played in the afternoon. And I've never heard anything bad about Detroit."

Charlie Finley is a rough, tough Irishman, who will do anything to win. While Finley will do anything to bring a pennant back to Oakland, it's just unfortunate that Alvin Dark won't be calling the shots.

But then again, Finley was only No. 3 on Dark's list. (God is first and family second.) Just maybe, just maybe, Charlie will come around and be saved. And even though Dark's no longer with the A's, you can be sure that no one would be more pleased than he. Dark is that kind of man.

Maroons Are Now 7-10 For Season

By Rich Walters

Holland Christian's basketball team dropped its third straight game Tuesday night, all to Class A schools, when Portage Northern defeated them in the Civic Center, 62-60. The loss left the Maroons with a 7-10 season record, ending their hopes for a winning mark during the regular season, as they have only three games left before the District Tournament begins.

For the third consecutive game, it was a bad third quarter that hurt the Maroons, who held a 33-28 halftime lead, but were outscored 18-9 in the period to fall behind, 46-42. In both the Grand Haven and Holland games, Christian was tied at halftime, only to be outplayed 20-12 and 12-7 respectively in the third stanzas.

The game was a thriller, as the teams stayed together. The lead changed hands eight times in the game, the last being the winning bucket and free throw by George Chang with 15 seconds left. The score was tied five times, including 58-53 with 1:12 left, and the largest lead was seven points, which Northern enjoyed twice in the first quarter and Christian three times in the third period.

Statistics bear out the evenness of the teams, as Portage took one more shot than Christian, 58-57 and connected on that shot for a 25-24 edge in field goals. At the charity stripe each team made 12. Christian on 20 attempts and the Huskies on 17 tries. Rebounds were even at 29 for each team, turnovers were 20 against Northern and 18 on Christian, and Portage was called for 21 personal fouls compared to 19 for the Maroons.

Portage took a 20-13 first quarter lead as five players tallied four points for them. Christian came back in the second period with 20 points, half of them by Dave Van Langevelde, for a 33-28 lead at the half.

The Maroons upped the margin to 39-32 at the 4:50 mark of the third period, then scored only three more points, as the Huskies marched to a 46-42 advantage after three periods.

Christian knotted the score, then fell back 51-46, before rolling up eight straight points, for a 54-51 edge. With 1:28 left Tom Zoerhoff made it 58-55. Four free throws put the Huskies up by one. Joe Vogelzang regained the lead for the Maroons with 1:03 left. The score remained 60-59 until Chang's three points turned the tide.

Van Langevelde scored 22 points, to lead both teams, while Vogelzang and Ken De Jonge each potted 10. Chan led the Huskies with 17, of which 13 came in the second half. John Van Arendonk added 14 and John Rath 13.

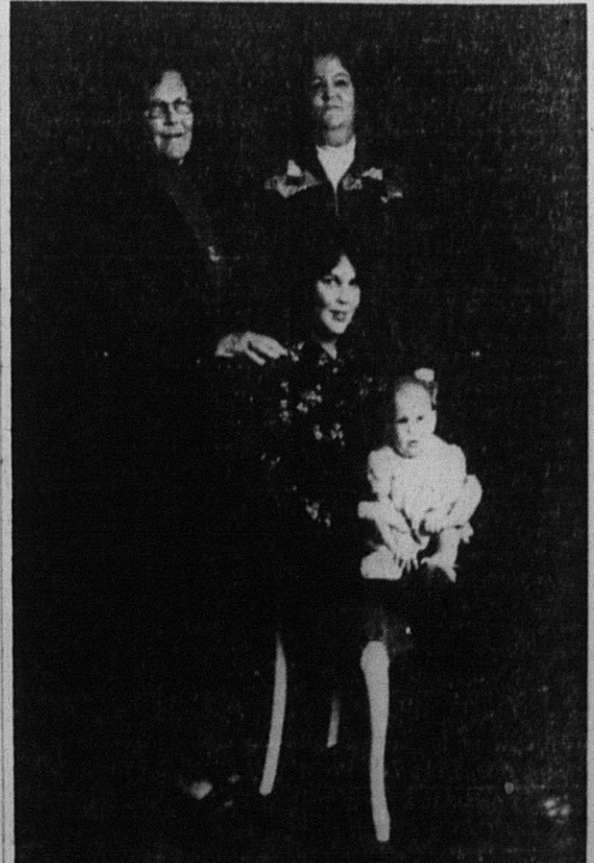

The varsity game was the second heartbreaker the Maroons lost Tuesday. The reserves went down to defeat, 54-53, in a cliffhanger. Christian led 12-11 at the quarter, Northern was up 27-26 at the half, and the teams were at a 40-40 stand-off as the third quarter ended.

Craig Wierda with 15 and Greg Thomassen with 14 led the scoring for the Maroons. Mike Ross tallied 14 for Portage Northern.

Holland Christian (60) — Van Langevelde, 8-6-22; Van Dyke, 3-2-8; Vogelzang, 4-2-10; Zoerhoff, 3-2-8; De Jonge, 5-0-10; De Vogelzang, 1-0-2; Boeve, 1-0-2. Totals 24-12-60. ## Area Study Begun For Water Quality

An area wide water quality management planning agency, created under federal water pollution control acts, is beginning to look at problems and goals in the Greater Holland Area.

Formed under Section 208 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act amendments, and referred to as Section 208, the regional planning is being conducted by the West Michigan Shoreline Regional Development Commission.

The act seeks elimination of polluted discharges into navigable waters by 1985 and establishes an interim goal for water quality safe for recreation and protection of fish and wildlife by 1983.

Under the act, state and local governments must not only develop a plan but the approved plan must make the commitment to finance projects developed in the plan.

Council Gets Results Of Surveys

ZEELAND — City Council, meeting for the first time in its remodeled council chambers on the second floor, reviewed results of two surveys on sanitary sewer and street improvements.

Of those contacted in the southwest section of the city, 20 per cent responded and 94 per cent said they were pleased with the project.

In a survey in the southeast area of the city, to determine possible need for sewer and street improvements, only 24 per cent responded and 48 per cent wanted sewer improvements only. The remainder were divided evenly between full street and sewer improvements and no improvements at all.

A public hearing was set March 8 at 7:30 p.m. on the necessity of the project in the southeast area.

Council approved installation of flag poles in both Hoogland Park and Lawrence Ave. Park. The bicentennial commission will provide bicentennial flags for the poles.

A request from public school officials to place a banner across Main Ave downtown was approved. The banner would promote the March 29 school bond election.

An amendment to the disorderly ordinance was approved which provides for regulation of non-students loitering in public of parochial school buildings.

Council passed a resolution congratulating former Zeeland resident Willard De Pree named U. S. Ambassador to Mozambique, Africa.

A group of high school students from Zeeland who would be among 30 singers of the Blue Lake Fine Arts camp touring Europe this summer attended the council meeting and requested financial assistance which was referred to the public relations committee.

The students would be visiting Kapelle, The Netherlands, Zeeland's sister-city.

Hope Gets Revenge In Big Way Against Foe

Van Pernis Is Hot From The Floor

By Leo Martonosi

Dan Van Pernis was hotter than August in Miami in the Civic Center Wednesday night.

Van Pernis, a senior, hit on seven straight shots in the second half en route to a game high 22 total as the Hope College Flying Dutchmen roared past the Aquinas Tommies, 86-67 in non-league play.

Hope's win snapped a five-game losing streak and gives Coach Russ DeVette's squad a 9-10 season mark. The Tommies are now 10-12.

Aquinas blew the Dutchmen off the floor on their own court back on Dec. 10, 106-78 and DeVette's cagers were determined that it wasn't going to happen again.

"Our guys were ready tonight," beamed DeVette after the tilt. "We didn't give them the fast break like in the first meeting."

DeVette was pleased with the performance of his bench, especially Van Pernis, Kevin Clark, Wayne Van Dyke, Wes Vandee Streek and Jeff Waterstone. The five replaced the Dutchmen starters early in the second half with Aquinas leading, 48-45.

Van Pernis poured in 10 of Hope's next 12 points as the Dutchmen grabbed a stunning 60-33 margin.

Two technical free throws by Waterstone increased Hope's lead to 74-60 with time running out in the game.

A nice pass from Clark to Dwayne Boyce closed out the scoring at the buzzer.

Ex-Zeeland flash, Tom Kragt, a freshman, and junior center Ed Schiesser kept the Tommies close in the first half with 10 and 14 points respectively.

Several of Kragt's teammates at Zeeland last year, were on hand to watch Aquinas leading scorer in action, Kragt, a deadly outside shooter, matched his season average of 18 points.

Schiesser dropped in 21.

Jim Holwerda followed Van Pernis with 15 markers. Waterstone added 10, including six-of-six free throws.

Both teams hit on over 50 percent of their shots from the field. The Dutchmen only had 11 turnovers and Aquinas 20.

Assistant Coach Glenn Van Wieren credited the victory to DeVette's coaching genius.

FOUNDATION DAY — South Side Christian School collected more than 24,000 pennies, weighing 140 pounds on Foundation Day, joining in the continent-wide drive to support the Christian School Education Foundation, which develops curriculum materials. (Left to right) Danny Maat, Rick Klaasen, Julie Vander Ark, Danny Mannes and Rodney Genzink, students at the school are carrying part of the penny collection into Peoples State Bank. Classes of Miss Gert De Jong and Mrs. Karen Lucas were tops with more than $35 each, collected.

"Aquinas wanted to get us out of the zone when they were ahead by a few points in the second half (53-49) and stalled, said Van Wieren. "Even though it might have looked like we jumped out of it, we didn't and capitalized on their mistakes for buckets. DeVette's game plan worked just beautifully."

The Tommies turnovers and Van Pernis' brilliant shooting proved to be Aquinas downfall. The West Ottawa pep band performed during the contest.

Hope will visit Adrian Saturday.

Hope (85) — Holwerda, 6-3-15; Riksen, 4-0-8; Boyce, 4-0-3; Ryan, 2-0-4; Peterson, 3-0-6; Clark, 2-3-7; Van Pernis, 10-2-22; Vandee Streek, 2-0-4; Vander Hyde, 1-0-2; Waterstone, 2-4-10. Totals: 36-14-58.

Aquinas (67) — Wiseman, 2-0-4; Schiesser, 8-5-21; Kragt, 9-0-18; Weber, 4-3-11; McGowan, 2-0-4; Majewski, 2-0-4; Ezell, 1-3-3. Totals: 23-11-67.

Reports on Conferences Aired for School Board

Reports on conferences and seminars by the three women members of the Holland Board of Education highlighted the monthly meeting of the school board Monday night in the administration building on Apple Ave.

Mrs. Deanna De Pree, a member of Michigan's federal legislative committee, spoke of attending a conference in Washington, D.C., Jan. 25-28 designed to explain tentative plans on education of the federal government as well as providing input to the legislators. Of a possible attendance of 435, 390 were present for a briefing on the broad field of finance, and the resulting fiscal problems.

Mrs. De Pree said of the vast income of some $300 billion, $171 billion are transfer payments to states, and of this amount about $40 billion is for food stamps. There was considerable interest in extending revenue sharing funds to education, and Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, whose 9th Michigan district includes Holland, was particularly responsive to this proposal. Mrs. De Pree said President Ford also favors this type of aid to education.

Mrs. Katherine MacKenzie reported on an administrator conference of the Michigan Association of School Boards in Lansing Feb. 7 attended by 1,000 persons. This conference dealt mainly with finances, the outlook of the legislature in proposed payments, the CETA program, federal legislation and revenue sharing. She said some leaders were hopeful CETA would be renewed for three years.

Mrs. Marilyn Feininger reported on an MASB seminar on passing millage and bond issues some three weeks ago in Midland. In competing for the public dollar, school boards must keep communications on finances alive at all times, she said.

As for setting up a successful millage election, she listed eight points: analyzing the total program, determine needs, map strategy, organize supporters, chart the calendar year, finance, communications, and a final evaluation.

Two staff appointments were approved. Arlene Penrose, a 1966 graduate of Port State University with one year's experience, health coordinator, and Linda Wattles, a 1971 graduate of Albion College with three years' experience, as school social worker. The former fills one of the positions held by Myles Runk who retired last month. Ms. Wattles is hired for the 1976-77 school year but will start part-time in April. She is bilingual.

The board approved a proposed revision of the Holland High School Business department for the 1976-77 school year at a cost not to exceed $7,900. Mrs. Joyce Bertrand explained the program which calls for an integrated office situation and a learn-by-doing concept. Similar programs have been instituted in Hamilton, Zeeland and Jenison. A workshop on the system was held in East Lansing recently.

Accepted as information were a budget study schedule and tentative budget guidelines for the 1976-77 budget as drawn up by Business Manager Lee Van Aelst. The proposed schedule lists primary analysis and goals developed by the board and administration by Feb. 20, determination of tax levy next month, study with principals, etc., by April 30, first presentation to the board by May 14, and approval of preliminary budget by June 30. Public hearing and adoption of the final budget depends on state aid, state executive cutbacks, etc.

The board approved a recommendation to purchase three 66-passenger buses for the 1976-77 school year at a cost of $15,679.05 per unit. The breakdown lists bodies from Allied Truck Equipment Co. for $6,058, chassis from Vandenberg Motors at $8,433.71 plus options of a automatic transmission, radial tires and tilt hood from Vandenberg bringing total to $9,621.05.

The three new buses will replace three units of the fleet which will be nine and 10 years old.

Mrs. De Pree, board treasurer, was appointed delegate to attend the annual budget hearing of the Ottawa Area Intermediate School District Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. in Grand Haven.

President Charles Bradford presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and a quarter. Bradford gave the invocation. All members were present.

Powder Puff Derby Talk Delights Literary Club

A slide presentation with taped narration of her 1972 participation in the Powder Puff Derby highlighted a talk on "Joy of Flying" by Mary R. Creason of Grand Haven Tuesday afternoon before the Holland Woman's Literary Club.

Mrs. Creason, who has been flying since 1943, told the club it had always been her ambition to fly in the Powder Puff derby for women, something fulfilled in 1972 when she and her copilot Phyllis Thompson, flying Tar No. 8, flew from the San Francisco Bay Area to New Jersey, finishing No. 64 in a field of 94.

She participated again in 1973, ranking 46th at the finish in Acapulco, Mexico. She was present at the finish in 1975 in Boyne-City, Mich., where she was conducting a flight school. Derbies for women will terminate with the 1976 event, she said.

Her slides took her audience on an exciting flight from San Francisco over the high Sierras, Lake Tahoe and a stop at Winnemucca, Utah, then over Yellowstone, across the Nebraska plains to Sioux City, Ia., crossing the Mississippi River to Moline, Ind., and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Creason, whose dentist husband served as mayor of Grand Haven for 10 years, explained that Powder Puff derbies fly only in daylight hours with authorized stops at night. All planes have strict handicaps.

When Tar No. 8 approached the Harrisburg, Pa., airport, she found runways submerged in four feet of water, the result of Hurricane Agnes. Her slides included scenes of the gala awards banquet. She said 168 women pilots were involved in the race ranging from 17 to 70 years of age, and with experience ranging from 50 to 20,000 hours. The three top spots were won by three California teams, all members of the California Grandmothers' Club.

During a question period, Mrs. Creason said to the experienced pilot, flying is easier than high-way travel. She spoke of some difficulties experienced by women in a male-dominated field, but reported progress in overcoming prejudices and doubt. As one of her flight pupils said: "Most of my teachers at school are women, why not a lady flight instructor?"

She said it takes about a year of preparation for Powder Puff Derby participation, a year involving considerable expense necessitating sponsors. Although she owns four planes in connection with her flight training school at Muskegon Airport, the plane she flew in the derby was a rental.

Mrs. Robert Kuiper, club president, presided and Mrs. James Fitch introduced the speaker.

No Contest! Holland 81, Sailors 38

MUSKEGON — The Mona Shores Sailors owned the "port" but the Holland High Dutch basketball team definitely owned the sea as they sank the hapless Sailors, 81-38 here Tuesday night.

It wasn't much of a contest, as the Dutch were in complete control all the way. Holland is now 14-4 for the season compared to Mona's 2-16 record.

Coach Don Piersma of the Dutch, even had the substitutes in the ball game in the first eight minutes. And the likes of Chuck Bobeldyk, Steve DeVette and Tom Borgman didn't let him down.

Bobeldyk, along with regulars Todd De Young and Dennis Lawson, each mustered four points during that span as the Dutch were out front, 16-8.

Loren Schrotenboer came to life in the second period as he dropped in nine of his 13 points to pace Holland to a commanding 41-16 halftime lead.

The fast Dutch were running like the Wolverines of Michigan, as they poured in 18 and 24 points in the final two quarters compared to only 10 and 12 totals for the Sailors.

Lawson, Bill Borgman and Steve Van Tongeren paced the Dutch in the second half with 12, eight and eight markers in that order.

With time running out in the game, Frank Petersen stole the ball and drove in for a basket. Petersen's bucket was his first but it showed Holland's fine balance, as everyone that played scored.

Senior forward Jay Peters injured his knee in the pre-game warmups and will be probably out for the season, according to Piersma.

"It was just great to let everyone see a lot of action," said Piersma. "Our substitutes did a nice job."

Lawson paced the Dutch with 23 points. Center Steve Best led Mona with 10 markers.

Veteran Mona Shores Coach Howie Clark, has had many fine teams but this isn't the year of the Sailor in Muskegon.

"Hey, you guys can play with anyone," offered the likeable Clark, as this writer entered the Sailor dressing room after the game.

In Clark's behalf, Mona's top scorer — Mike Patton missed the game because of the flu. Patton carried a torrid 23.2 figure but he would have had to double his average for the Sailors to beat the mighty Dutch.

Mona's reserve team upset Coach Don Johnson's five, 67-59. Holland led at the half, 36-32.

Kevin Beerthuis threw in 16 points, Del Dozman 14 and David Cyrus 11 for the Dutch, now 12-6 for the season.

Holland will journey to Battle Creek Lakeview Friday.
