Holland Man Acquitted In Circuit Court

JAMES SINKE CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED DEFRAUDING
INSURANCE COMPANY

James Sinke of Holland was acquitted by a jury at 8 o'clock Wednesday night after a deliberation of one hour.

The case against Sinke was based on an attempt to collect $225 as theft insurance on a Chevrolet car which it was claimed by the people was not stolen and that an attempt was made to defraud.

The prosecutor, Clarence L. Lokker, in his opening statement to the jury declared he would try to prove that Sinke had persuaded his friend Frank Nelson Hand, to take his automobile away from Holland and then report it as stolen to the insurance companies.

Hand took the stand as the first witness and told of his acquaintance with Sinke, when they were both serving a sentence in Ionia. They were "buddies," he said, on a road job during the summer months. After Sinke got out of work in a garage in Holland, he looked up his friend and asked for the loan of his car to make a trip to Bridgman, where, he testified, his parents were living and he expected to get work.

Sinke was on the stand and denied he knew the whereabouts of the car until after he had made a report to the insurance company. At this interesting point court was adjourned for the noon recess.

The insurance money was not paid but the case was tried on Sinke's attempt to secure the $225 for which it was insured for fire and theft only.

Albert Darwell, Richard K. Coy and Ralph Hayden were called to the stand. Helen Young testified that she had made out the loss report for Sinke and sent it to the adjuster, William Moders, Henry Geering, Russell Barton and Milo De Vries all testified as to the good reputation Sinke had in Holland lately.

Sinke stoutly denied any intent to defraud and the decision of "not guilty" by the jury indicates that they believe him.

Prosecutor Lokker appeared for the people while Hoffman and Hoffman were attorneys for Sinke. Judge Fred T. Miles presided in the case.

POLLS OPEN UNTIL EIGHT O'CLOCK MONDAY

Remember, next Monday the polling places will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening, giving voters three hours more time on primary day than is usually the case. The mayor and common council felt that under this new method ample time should be given voters. The company installing machines are letting Holland try them out.

ZEELAND BABY CHICKS SALES EXCEED LAST YEAR

Shipments of baby chicks from the Zeeland postoffice so far this season have exceeded last season and are expected to show steady increases during March, April and May. Hatcherymen are very much pleased with the service and assistance rendered by railroad officials in protecting their shipments.

He became quite ill about six months ago but recovered sufficiently to be around again until the last few weeks when he failed quite rapidly.

Last Friday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mulder, were called to his side because of his grave condition and they have been with him since. They expect to return home early next week.

SAMPLE OF VOTING MACHINE BALLOT IN THIS ISSUE

On page 4 of section 2 will be found a sample ballot or rather a diagram of a ballot as this will be voted on the new voting machines given a try-out in this city next Monday. Pictures of the machines, how to enter the booth, how to pull the little levers and the names of the candidates as they will appear upon the machine are shown. It is a complete instruction ballot, telling you how to vote that way.

Voters wishing a little preparation before entering the polling booth should turn to page 4, section 2, of this issue of the News.

It is also well to remind you that next Monday the polls will be open from 7 in the morning until 8 in the evening, giving voters ample time to try out the voting machines without becoming nervous about it. This gives the voters three hours more on primary day, March 3.

Goat Conclave Brings Us 300 Warm Frienders

HOLLAND FURNACE CO. IS RESPONSIBLE FOR LARGE
DELEGATION COMING
HERE

All Local Heads Have Been On Their Toes Entertaining Branch
Managers

At least 300 men connected with the Holland Furnace Co. have been here since Saturday attending the Goat Conclave, a large organization comprising the tremendous Holland Furnace Co. family of branch managers, advertising men and local officials.

This Order of Goats was organized some years ago and when business is not discussed having to do with Warm Friend's products, "riding the goat" is surely an attribute coinciding with this two-horned creature, emblematic of the Order.

That the goats were to be found in Holland, as well as on "Bill" Eaton's farm at Waukazoo, has been evident at Warm Friend Tavern.

ern, where more than 300 have been corralled. In the center of the lobby the original goat stands high on a pedestal and all that is lacking is the sign, "Book Beer—good for the blood and spring fever." But hush! That is speaking in retrospect and the "Warm Friend associates" needed no "book" to become exuberant, for the enthusiasm created by the heads of the Holland Furnace Co. filled the 300 with plenty of pep to start out on a new year's business.

The "Goat Getters" were enthusiastically received in Holland by our citizens. The Masonic Temple and the Holland Theatre and Warm Friend Hall at the Tavern were thrown open to them for convention sessions and for committee work. The delegates were exceedingly pleased that everything was so centrally located and everyone was so willing to help in making their Conclave a success. Landlord and Mrs. Leland also came in for unstinting praise.

On Tuesday evening, a day before the wind-up, half of the Armory's seating capacity was purchased so delegates could enjoy the Wolgast-Myska boxing match and that night the big hall was crowded to capacity.

The Holland City News helped compile and print a daily bulletin of four pages, gotten out at night in time for the next morning and each delegate found these printed daily bulletins in the door of his room when he awoke. It was called the "Goat Conclave News" and it was replete with Holland Furnace accomplishments of the past and predictions of what the future might bring. For instance, here is one prophecy:

"Within a very few years the Holland Furnace Co. will be doing a business of better than $50,000,000 a year," says Ed Connell, former Hoosier division manager, and close friend of the organization.

"Nothing in the world can stop us," asserts Ed. "We have an undiminished fine product, its principle is right and the buying public knows it. Vaporators are definitely established as the right way to heat a home."

"Our sales organization is the finest in the world and its leaders second to none. Today the average age of our factory and field executives is 41 as compared to 51 in many other large corporations."

"Our men are making money and they are pushed ahead just as soon as they prove themselves fitted for added responsibility. If I were 26 or 27 years old today I would join the Holland organization and guarantee to be worth a fortune in a few years."

Here you have another—Advertising Manager Arthur Wrieden's outline of Holland's advertising policy for 1930 brought down the house Tuesday afternoon. Speaking before a lovely lighted village Mr. Wrieden promised a substantially increased advertising appropriation which provides for 13 two-color pages in the Saturday Evening Post, in addition to direct-mail and newspaper publicity.

"The Holland story of healthful warmth and comfort is now stepped up to include air-conditioning," said Mr. Wrieden. "We have planned a well-balanced program for 1930

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

John Dwell of Holland has invented a valuable contrivance for the carrying of eggs and has sold a part of this patent to a Grand Haven firm who are now building a factory there for manufacturing that will employ 50 persons. The machinery is already on the grounds. The News has devoted considerable space to pointing out the value of the hen on the farm. These suggestions have been followed out in many cases. We feel that there will be a future for poultry and possibly also for an egg carrying outfit. Note: Time has proven that there is a wonderful future for poultry here but the Grand Haven egg carrying factory is no more.

The propeller "New Era" is receiving an over-hauling at the shipyard as well as the schooner "Mary." The barge "Apprentice Boy" is having a new deck put on at Grand Haven. The "Maggie Dall" beached last fall is being rebuilt.

Forty ship carpenters are being employed at the Kirby ship yard at Grand Haven and 25 at the Anderson yards at Holland. Note: Grand Haven and Holland harbors were alive with small crafts in the early days. Today four large steamers do it all.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

John R. Bouws of Graafschap has accepted a position as salesman in the new Fair Store in Holland.

Capt. Austin Harrington, Wm. H. Orr and P. K. Colby, who cruised from Holland via Mississippi to Florida, have reached St. Petersburg. Rough weather in the Gulf makes slow progress.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eastman—a son.

The C. & W. M. will put a flag station at Waukazoo so passengers going can signal an on-coming train. Note: This was when the local railroad ran from Holland via Waverly to Ottawa Beach. Those were real resort excursion days. The new scenic highway recently laid to the Oval at Ottawa Beach was over the right-of-way of the old C. & W. M. now Pere Mar-that will certainly result in greater volume if you key men in the field follow through.

"I want to thank you managers for eliminating branch expenditures in advertising. We at the factory feel that everyone's best interests are served by central direction of the advertising appropriation."

"The Saturday Evening Post," said Mr. Wrieden, "is one of the greatest advertising mediums in the world. It reaches 3,000,000 families a week, or 36,000,000 families a year. The copy for this magazine has been most carefully prepared. Every word has been weighed. The text may not appeal to all members of the organization but we are confident it will help you sell more Vaporators."

Charles Bennett next spoke on Holland's 1930 direct-mail program. "I am a direct-mail enthusiast," said Mr. Bennett. "Direct-mail bridges the gap between our product and the consumer. A piece of direct advertising is almost as important to the layman as a telegram is to you.

"Thanks to Mr. Wrieden our direct-mail appropriation has been increased this year. You men must remember that advertising doesn't sell—it builds acceptance. Direct-mail is the final span in the advertising bridge. It breaks down resistance like a letter of introduction—puts the prospect in a friendly mood—carries no competitive message and singles out known prospects."

"This year our direct advertising features electrically controlled heating cooling and air-conditioning. It talks our language and the prospect's. Send in good lists and follow them up."

Lou Maxon, head of our advertising agency, next mounted the platform and introduced the magazine and newspaper advertising 1930.

And here is what John P. Kolla says in the Conclave News:—Ably combining business with humor, J. P. Kolla put over a most interesting and valuable address Tuesday afternoon. Taking as his subject, "Observations of Our Branches," Mr. Kolla complimented the managers on their fine business judgment.

"I visited more than 100 branches during 1929," said Mr. Kolla. "And it did me a lot of good. The factories are now organized to a point that I can leave without fear and I plan to spend more time in the branches next year if you wish." Prolonged applause greeted this announcement.

Mr. Kolla then traced the history of the company from the time in 1906 when he was first instructed to build a Holland furnace. "In those days," he said, "I used to stand at the dock or wait at the train until Mr. A. H. Landwehr got quite. As many as six excursions were run in to Ottawa Beach on a single Sunday. Thousands of passengers availed themselves of these 50c rates as prevailed at that time.

Peter Zalsman, age 78, a former Holland resident, died at Dolton near Muskegon. He was in his cutter when death overtook him and he fell from the sleigh when aid came. This is the father of Peter, Fred and John F. Zalsman of Holland. Note: He at one time was proprietor of a large hotel located near where the Holland Theatre is. It was destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stephan, of Holland, left for Washington, D.C. and will take in the inaugural of President Roosevelt. Chief Justice Fuller will administer the oath of office.

Nelson R. Stanton, county school commissioner won in Holland by a majority of 553 and in Ottawa county by 573. His opponent was Mr. Blanchard of Coopersville.

Cornelius R. Wierenga and Miss Dorothy H. Pieters will represent Holland college in the state oratorical contest to be held at Alma Mar. 5. A few weeks later the News reports that Wierenga won first place and Miss Pieters fourth place. There was a parade through the principal streets with Miss Pieters and Mr. Wierenga being drawn in an Orange and Blue bedecked carriage with the students as motive power.

At Central and Eighth streets: Diekema, Van der Sluis, Nykerk, Prof. Raap, Minor Stegenga, Milton Hoffman and others entered the carriage for two minute talks causing the spectators and ex-claiming the possibilities and future prospects.

The death of Caroline Rand Poole occurred at the home of her son, Mr. George Poole on Macatawa Park drive. She was 91 years old. Internment took place in Boston.

Geo. Getz and Engbert Gold who have their summer homes north-west of Holland, were made honorary members of the Holland Chamber of Commerce by a unanimous vote. It was considered that both these men have shown an intense interest in Holland and vicinity and Holland in turn, in this manner, in a measure wishes to show its appreciation.

GOAT CONCLAVE COMES TO CLOSE; MEN SCATTER FROM COAST TO COAST

After a very delightful four days in Holland the "Warm Friend" Goat Conclave comes to an end and 300 spirited "goat getters" left for their respective homes scattered from coast to coast. The dinner at Warm Friend Tavern was the close, when Charles Landwehr, Edgar Landwehr and Charles Groth were the principal speakers. Rather an interesting piece of news developed when Mr. Landwehr announced that the total amount of Holland Furnace sales for 1929 was $21,000,000 and they expected to add four more million this year.

THIEVES BREAK INTO OFFICES OF JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

The office of Justice C. E. Burr of Grand Haven was entered sometime during the night but no signs of value were taken and but little disturbance evident among the papers or about the room. Entrance was made through a door leading from the Miller Studio. A heavy safe and steel filing cabinet in front of the door had been moved when the door was unlocked and swung into the room.

The safe had money in it but no signs of tampering with it were evident. The docket were on the desk, in the same position as they were when the judge left on Tuesday evening. The key, which was in the lock was dangling, showing it had been pushed through from the other side.

The officers made investigations, but as there was no loss reported, they did not take finger prints. There were no signs of marauders in the Miller Studio. Mr. Burr is at a loss to understand why anyone should have taken the trouble to enter his office, as the only loss he found was two old magazines. A chair, usually placed in front of another door leading from the studio to the Burr office was moved, indicating both doors had been tried. A Yale lock secures the front door but the upper part of the door is glass.

Journey of two Holland boys, bound for New York, was ended Tuesday by Capt. Simon Steckle of the Pere Marquette police department, who took them into custody and turned them over to Detective Frank Bielecki of the local police department.

The youths were taken to juvenile home awaiting arrival of their parents to return them to Holland. The boys were Charles Dahlman and Bernard VanDerLune, both 15. They told officers they left home Tuesday morning and expected to go to New York.

Probate Judge Denies Court Petitioners

FINDS NO NEED FOR HOL-LAND TOWNSHIP MAN TO HAVE A GUARDIAN

A petition filed by Henry Van Dyke of Holland township that a guardian be appointed for his aged father, Arend Van Dyke, was denied by Judge Danhof in a hearing before that court, which was held in the court room at Grand Haven with quite a number from this vicinity present.

From the evidence introduced by the plaintiff, there was not sufficient proof of the incompetency of Arend Van Dyke, who although 79 years old is hale and hearty and possessed of his faculties, the judge decided.

A letter from two sons in Washington, successful farmers, was read in which they stated their father was well cared for and in their opinion was not in need of a guardian.

Attorney J. N. Clark of Zeeland for the plaintiff, admitted to the court, that from the testimony, the need for a guardian was not apparent. Carl Hoffman, attorney for the defendant, allowed Clark's statement to stand without further argument.

It was claimed by the plaintiff, that undue pressure was being brought to bear on the aged father by two bachelor brothers, Huelte and Gerrit Van Dyke of Holland township with whom the father and his wife live, and that he was doing away with his property and funds for their benefit at the expense of himself. The older Van Dyke took the stand and testified he was well pleased with his wishes. He admitted he had made a will but changed it frequently. Van Dyke is a successful farmer who has some means.

HOLLAND MAN NEARLY CRISSES GIRL OF NINE

Monday Miss Lois Shippea age nine had a narrow escape from being crushed to death while playing on Main street, Zeeland. The little Miss was playing with her brother and aimlessly ran across the street in the path of a car driven by Peter Nienhuis of Holland, R. R. 8, receiving painful bruises and a cut over the left eye.

Mr. Nienhuis, accompanied by a young lady, was on his way to Grand Rapids and had just crossed the Church st. intersection when he saw the girl running into his path. He applied the brakes but could not avoid hitting the girl. However, he stopped within a few feet and found the girl crawling out from under his car. After being hit by the bumper, she had fallen to the pavement, the car passing over her and stopping before she was clear.

She was picked up and carried into the office of Dr. J. Masselink where the doctor gave all possible aid.

Officer Fred Bosma, who was on duty at the time, declares that the mishap was purely accidental and that no blame should be placed against Mr. Nienhuis.

Grand Haven Having Real Election Scrap

HOLLAND'S LIGHT PLANT IS BEING FAVORABLY
MENTIONED

Grand Haven's political pot is boiling over, and one of the real fights is whether their municipal light plant will be sold to a public service company for approximately a million and a half dollars, or whether Grand Haven will continue to conduct a municipal plant, as Holland is doing.

On the one hand a great deal of money will find its way into the city treasury if they sell, however, at least $200,000.00 will have to be spent if the city is to continue, and thus take care of the new business in sight.

Candidates are working their campaigns on this light plant issue, and one alderman candidate by the name of N. F. Yonkman devotes a quarter page in the Grand Haven Tribune to making accusations that sound like Chicago politics in which he talks about facing a brick wall behind which an invisible government controls.

He says he has been approached by fixers, and in the Grand Haven Tribune makes many delicate declarations, considering Grand Haven where, as a rule, politics are rather clean. He talks about a rubber stamp government and how the invisible government turns thumbs down if candidates do not follow their bidding.

These seem rather bold statements to make, but politics is sometimes run that way and accusations fly higher and thither until the heat of the battle is over, when the voter finds that things aren't so bad after all.

The real meat in Yonkman's advertisement that is rather interesting to Holland is the following statement:

"If the sale of the light plant is voted down, I would like to see a Board of Public Works, of five members, elected by the people, to manage the affairs of the light plant, water works, and future sewage disposal plant. But I would insist that they be elected, as they are in

KNOW WHAT TAX IS DUE?—NEITHER DO THE FRENCH

Americans grumbling over making out income tax returns may take comfort in considering the task confronting a conscientious Frenchman.

First, he is expected to digest a 36-page supplement of the Journal official consisting of 96 columns, which was issued by order of parliament last year, codifying the income tax laws and the amendments thereto.

Next, he must study another supplement of 24 columns published to correct errors in the foregoing, and after that a third supplement of six columns, only recently put out which corrects the corrections.

If he trusts only to the 96 columns of the first text he will go wrong in 427 places.

HIGHEST PEAK OF ENROLLMENT WITH NEW SEMESTER

Sixty-three 10-1 Pupils Enter From Junior High and Eleven Pupils Return for Final Term

At the end of the first week of the second semester of Holland High the enrollment has reached 603, of which 306 are girls and 298 boys. The number of seniors to graduate in June will approximate 155. Sixty-three 10-1 pupils are occupying the freshman rows in the front of the assembly room. Students who left school number twelve, while eleven have entered the upper classes.

No new teachers have been engaged, and practically no changes in the schedule are recorded, except for combining of classes and offering regular second semester electives.

Students who have entered school include Gordon Korstanje and Muriel De Vries, seniors; John Hilbenk, 12-1; Wallace Cobb and Arthur van Looyengood, 11-2; Bernice Underwood, Mick Varano, Denton Norlin, and Raymond Hilben, 11-1; and Gerald Kemper and Mineard Klokert, 10-2.

The Business and Professional Women's club of Allegan has received a number of entrants from young women who would like to be Miss Allegan in the blossom year festivities at Benton Harbor. Rev. M. J. Duven, former pastor of Vriesland Reformed church, now of Westfield, N. D., has received his third call from the Reformed church in Pella, Neb. He is a graduate of Hope College and the local Seminary.

The Century club met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLean. A letter, written by Mrs. G. J. Diekmann, one of the members, was read at this meeting by Mrs. William J. Olive. The letter was very interesting, telling of their social life in the Netherlands and their visits with Queen Wilhelmina. An account was given of the final session of the reparations conference, which Mr. and Mrs. Diekmann attended. The music was furnished by Mrs. Arvid Vischer, who sang the following selections: "Called Away," Bassett; "The Whip-poor-will," Bassett; "Your Song from Paradise," Brown; "It is Spring, Dear Heart," Ashford; and "Take Joy Home," Bassett. Mrs. Vischer was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Snow.

As was stated in the last issue of the Anchor, the Business Staff is now in the beginning of a stiff competition, the prize being a loving cup. Several new members have been added to the staff, among them being Ruth Geerlings, Clarence Becker, and William Clough. These people, with the three already working, will join in the race for the six-inch silver trophy to be awarded toward the close of the semester. Solicitors of ads report that the Anchor is finding a ready market for its ad-space among the Holland Merchants. This group of local, home-owned enterprises has always been kind in its reception of the college paper.

Who would have believed that Rose Whelan published a weekly newspaper in California! And when I use the term "published," I use it advisedly, for she was editor, head reporter, social editor, dramatic critic, advertising manager and solicitor, copy reader and make-up expert of the "El Sereno News."

It seems this was rather a one woman paper. Rose wrote the editorials, and read proof. She gave many of the downtown Los Angeles theatres and concert artists publicity and received in return press tickets. With "dummy" in hand she went out to sell the advertising and ended up very often by writing the ads.

The News was of regular newspaper size having eight twenty-one inch columns of twelve "ems" and from four to eight pages. It had a circulation of 5000, a subscription list of 2000, the rest advertising distribution.

Rose is still very much interested in newspapers, as evidenced by the appearance of her name on the Anchor staff. Her experience as told here again evidences a hopefulness ability to do things for herself.

Big Corporation Useful On Crime's Highway Worrying the Burglar Education and Money

The General Electric company has perfected a device to transport electric power over longer distances at less expense. The invention, called a "thyristor," is described as a modified vacuum tube, adapted to power transmission uses.

Some time science will "hook up" the world's great power stations of North America, Niagara, those in the Rocky mountains, on the Columbia river, Brazil, with other great stations in Africa and all over the world, as radio stations are now hooked up.

Then will come wireless transmission of power, so that airplanes will be able to "pick up power" at various points in their journey, instead of carrying tons of fuel.

The research work done by such institutions as General Electric, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil, etc., will give back to the public in increased prosperity a hundred dollars for every one that those big corporations have ever received.

This country is traveling rapidly on the road that leads to thoroughly organized crime and complete contempt for law.

A United States grand jury reports that officials supposed to suppress the sale of drugs are organizing on a "racket" basis, misrepresenting their activities to get more money from the government.

Some of them are alleged to be narcotic addicts. The charge is made that the big men in the business can "buy their way out," if they get in trouble.

In the seven months past criminals and others have purchased three times as many pistols as were sold altogether in the twelve months of 1928. A big demand for killing machines.

Mr. Louis Pierson of New York's Irving Trust company delights in annoying burglars. He built, far underground, below his new fifty-story building, a safety vault lined with toughest steel, thick as the ancient walls of Jerusalem. It is the biggest vault in the world except those of our Reserve bank and the Bank of England.

Now he surrounds his steel walls with a thick layer of water, so that the poor burglar, even if he did break through the heavy steel, would have to do his work in a diving suit, most awkward for handling dynamite and drills.

Henry Ford, planning to spend one hundred millions educating young people on his own lines, making them "fit into life," teaching every one a trade, wants no advice.

He is right. No one knows better than he how to prepare boys for useful work. But Mr. Ford spoke hastily when he said he wanted no advice on education from those that never earned or saved a dollar.

The world's greatest educators have not been money makers or savers. Aristotle, who taught Philip's son, Alexander, made no fortune for himself. Alexander, conqueror of the world, spent collecting specimens for Aristotle, greatest naturalist and philosopher of the world, more than the total fortune left him by King Phillip.

Pestalozzi, Froebel, none of the great teachers, was a money maker. Ford himself is rich only as a by-product of his mechanical genius, and through no plans of his own.

Conrad Hubert, who changed his name from Horowitz, made many millions, left $100,000 to useful charities, left $1,000,000 to his brother.

The brother, who sticks to his old-fashioned name, Horowitz, has been a humble court interpreter and he says he will now devote his time to German opera and charity.

Why did the rich brother wait until he was dead to give a million dollars to his mother's other son?

Many of us forget the proverb often quoted by Nathan Straus: "What you give in health is gold, what you give in sickness is silver, and what you give after death is lead."

Automobile makers will spend $15,000,000 scrapping old cars to clear the way for new cars and moderate the second-hand car nuisance.

R. H. Grant, vice president of General Motors, one of the best salesmen in America, is chairman of the scrapping committee.

Perhaps Mr. Grant could find a way to ship those old cars, knocked down, to foreign countries—China, Africa, anywhere. Ten million old cars scattered over the earth would soon create an appetite for ten million new cars, just as the little car creates a demand for a larger car.

An expert says that in nine years from the end of 1920 to the end of 1929, stocks were going up 66 per cent of the time, and going down 34 per cent.

The difficulty is to pick out the time when they are going up.

Two $50,000 speed boats, each carrying three Liberty motors, with 38 knots speed, will help hunt rum runners in New York waters.

Sudden Attack Causes Death of Martha Prakken

POPULAR HOLLAND BUSINESS WOMAN DIES OF APOPLEXY

A very popular Holland business woman passed away Friday night following a stroke of apoplexy a few days before. Miss Prakken had been subjected to attacks before, this being the third during recent years. She never rallied from the last, however, remaining unconscious for three days and until death came.

Miss Prakken entered the business world as stenographer some 32 years ago when the late Geo. E. Kollen entered the law business with offices in the old Vander Veen building. When Mr. Kollen entered the offices of the Hon. G. J. Diekmann as a law partner, Miss Prakken took a position in the law offices of the late P. H. McBride and Son and for a number of years remained with attorney Charles McBride until the Ottawa County abstract office was organized in this city some 17 years ago when she was named the secretary. The organization first did business in McBride block but later was moved to the city hall for the convenience of the public. The owners of this enterprise for a long time have been Miss Prakken, Charles McBride and Otto P. Kramer.

Miss Prakken was a much beloved woman, taking an intense interest in Holland affairs. As a member of Third Reformed church since early girlhood she has always found happiness in helping in every way to advance religious work in this congregation.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, one-thirty o'clock from the home and at two o'clock from the Third Reformed church. Rev. James M. Martin officiating. Interment was in the Pilgrim Home cemetery.

The pallbearers included one brother and five nephews. They were William Prakken of Detroit, and his two sons, Lawrence and Richard, Paul and Mark Brouwer of Grand Rapids, and Nicholas Prakken of Kalamazoo.

The survivors are two sisters, Miss Jennie Prakken of Holland, with whom she had made her home at 71 West 13th street, and Mrs. J. G. Brouwer of Grand Rapids. Also two brothers, William Prakken, principal of Highland Park high school, and John Prakken, secretary of the Bush and Lane company at Seattle, Wash.

DRIVING WITH ONE LIGHT LEADS TO PRISON TERM

Joseph W. Hutton of Hammond, Ind., who was arrested the night of Feb. 17 at Grand Haven on a charge of transporting liquor when state police were attracted to his car because it had only one light, was sentenced to Jackson prison Monday.

Judge Fred T. Miles sentenced him to 18 months and fined him $500 and $25 costs. If the fine and costs are not paid within 18 months Hutton must serve an additional year in prison.

Charles Bronson of Holland was ordered to pay $138 back alimony by Thursday or go to the Ionia reformatory for more than one year. Capt. Arie Vos of Holland was ordered to pay $240 back alimony by Thursday or be sent to Jackson for not more than one year.

Escapes Court But Could Not Escape Death

SUSPECT THAT CHURCHMAN TOOK HIS OWN LIFE; CRUSHED BY TRAIN

An investigation seeking to determine whether Lindon A. Wyatt, Baptist Sunday school teacher of Otsego, ended his life or met death accidentally in an effort to escape prison, is being made. He was killed by a train on the New York central tracks at Allegan.

Wyatt, 33-year-old father of six children was charged with a statutory offense against an 11-year-old girl of Allegan County. He waived preliminary examination and was lodged in jail. During the day he called Sheriff Guy Teed and told him he wished to plead guilty. Teed took him to the courthouse, but as the sheriff stepped into another room to call Judge Fred T. Miles, Wyatt fled to his death.

No one witnessed his death, so it is not known whether he hurled himself under the train or fell from it while trying to escape.

It is stated that officers unshackled the man as he was being led before Judge Miles who was being called from the adjoining room. As the officer's back was turned, Wyatt bolted through the court house doors; down the stone steps and disappeared toward the railroad yards; apparently the man ran down the railroad tracks, for he had gone about two miles when a north-bound passenger train struck and crushed him.

The man is a printer and had also been prominent in church work in Otsego.

The examination for Edward Velthof of East Saugatuck, the driver of the car that struck and killed Miss Lena Ver Lieere on the road near East Saugatuck Feb. 16th, has been postponed for about two weeks. The examination had been originally scheduled for Monday.

Goat Conclave Brings Us 300 Warm Friends

News has to say about the Warm Friend sales school:

"The large percentage of Holland Sales School graduates who are attending the Goat Conclave conclusively proves the value of sales educational work. Fifteen graduates of the 1929 school, 10 from the classes of 1928, and 16 graduates of 1926 are here as goat-winning branch managers.

"Holland's training course has undergone constant improvement until today it has arrived at a stage of comparative perfection."

Of course every session of a convention must have an opening number and we clip this from the Conclave News about Edgar Landwehr:

Cheers and applause greeted salesman E. G. Landwehr as he took the platform to deliver the first address Tuesday morning.

"The rough stuff is now over, said Ed, 'now let's get down to work. We are mighty proud of the record you men made during 1929.'"

"It is a matter of record that Holland is the only household heating concern to make progress last year. The next twelve months are certain to be big ones. Money will be plentiful and prospects more eager to buy."

Let's rest, relax, and absorb the remaining days of the Conclave. You'll learn a lot that will help you put over an even greater record next year."

A fitting tribute is given in the Conclave News to a most worthy man, who has been one of the heads of the Holland Furnace Co. for nearly 20 years. The reprint of this tribute, which follows, is self-explanatory.

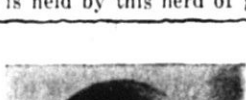

A TRIBUTE

CHARLES LANDWEHR

Men of Holland hereby express their thanks and appreciation to Charles Landwehr who has rendered us such sterling service—who has earned and held—and will hold forever—the confidence of our entire organization. We respect and recognize his enthusiasm—his earnestness—his ability—his accomplishment—his untiring devotion to Holland and to our individual successes—we pay this brief tribute to him as an executive and as a man.

The Holland Sales Organization. Here is one that denotes the esteem in which Mr. Edgar Landwehr is held by this herd of goats.

EDGAR LANDWEHR

It appears that Edgar was well remembered, according to the following item in the Goat Getter bulletin:

"Edgar Landwehr is today possessor of a magnificent new office furnished in the most luxurious style by a well-known Chicago decorator. It is the gift of Holland division managers—a token of their high regard for him."

"The new furniture was moved in—the rugs laid and drapes hung last Friday night without Ed's knowledge. His surprise when he stepped into his office at Holland Saturday morning can well be imagined."

The office furniture and supplies purchased by the Holland division managers was done through Jake Fris, genial head and proprietor of the Fris Book Store and Newsstand.

Rather an interesting picture is shown of Mr. Charles Landwehr of yesterday. The editor of the Goat Conclave News accounts for the appearance of the picture in the following manner:

REPORTER RISKS DEATH TO STEAL FAMILY ALBUM

"Bravely facing untold danger a reporter for the Goat Conclave News stole the Landwehr family photograph album. Here is a likeness' of Charlie at a tender age, displaying a luxuriant growth of hair.

Both pictures were taken when our sterling leader was a lad of 20 or thereabouts. The derby, we fear, was about to take wing and leave."

The following is taken from the A. H. Landwehr page of the Warm Friend under the caption, "Work."

The head of this big organization is dearly loved, not only by the entire Warm Friend family, but by every citizen of Holland. The following article is indicative of the Landwehr spirit that has been so dominant in this great man. It has spelled success for a great organization that believes in fair play for all:

"The difference between work and play is a difference of attitude. It is the common lot of man to have to work. Whether we like it or not, most of us have got to put in about forty or fifty hours of effort each week, the alternative being to fall back on charity. It seems quite the wisest course, since it is a question of mental attitude, to make a fine thing of our work. A man must travel along the economic road. He can either go with a sprightly step, singing as he goes, or he can be dragged. It is not quite worthy of the dignity of man to be dragged—anywhere. A man is fortunate if he loves work, if he is born with the love of it and keeps his love of it by choosing a profession or occupation which suits him, by keeping fresh ideals and his imagination, his ambition and his affections. There is no law in nature that work should be comfortable. Work is an important thing, whether it is comfortable or not, for work is a fine thing. There is no make-believe about that. It is the only road to health of mind and body. It is the only way by which a man can fulfill his highest function—that of being of service to his fellowmen. If he does not hold this as a matter of pleasure, the alternative is to hold it as a matter of principle.

A wise man has said that success comes through hard work, and the elements of success are 10 per cent inspiration and 90 per cent perspiration—and we think we can all agree that there is no other formula.

A young man, just out of college, sought the service of a hard-headed and successful business man. "Tell me, please, how I should go about getting a start in the great game of business," "Sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," was the laconic reply.

Hoover Talks To Men's Glee Club

The Anchor made special arrangements with the Men's Glee Club during their tour through the eastern states to keep the campus informed of their progress. Today there arrived a telegram bearing the details of their reception by President of the United States, Herbert C. Hoover. The club has for several months been tremulously anticipating this cherished occasion, which has now happily occurred. The Anchor is the first paper in Michigan to carry this story to the public! It is only through the efforts of influential friends of the college at the capital that this visit was possible. A picture was taken of the event. The boys sang for Senators LaFollette, Norris, Borah, and Johnson in the senate chamber, Lincoln Memorial, Washington on Saturday. They visited Mt. Vernon, the Smithsonian Institution.

HAMILTON

Two weeks ago it was stated in these items that Dr. M. Hoff was called to Hospers, Iowa on account of the death of his mother. This was an error and we are glad to correct it. motored to Grand Rapids last week to attend the play "Always in Trouble," given by students of the MacLachlan Business College. In this play one of Hamilton's young men, Merton Dangremont, played one of the leading parts.

J. H. Maatman was in Holland last week visiting his children, Mr. and Mrs. Marinus De Fouw.

Henry Schutmaat was on the sick list last week.

State and county trucks have been kept busy the past week hauling sand and gravel to fill up the many holes resulting from spring break-ups. They succeeded in keeping the roads open to traffic, but several bad spots make travel rather unpleasant. Two heavy showers Monday night seem to have helped rather than hurt the roads. All side roads, having been covered by heavy drifts during the greater part of the winter, are in good shape. All signs point to an early spring in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Mrs. H. Veen in the Overisel Christian Reformed church. Mrs. Veen is the mother of Garret Veen of this village.

A regular meeting of the PTA was held in the high school last week Tuesday evening. A program of readings, songs and dialogues was given by the high school students.

The faculty advisors are Miss Lena Jablonski, Miss Verhage and Mr. Wm. Vande Weter. It interestingly tells of several Junior high activities and show up well for the students.

The Zeeland Travel club listened to an interesting stereoscopic lecture on "France" on February 3. The lecture was given by Mrs. C. A. De Jonge. Pictures were shown showing the dress of the French, their beautiful cathedrals and other buildings. The club learned that the French decorated their cathedrals with gargoyles, which also served as escapes for the French articles seen were coins, paper currency, newspapers and dolls. The French newspapers contain no advertisements and are different, in this respect, from American papers.

The second thought is the invitation of Jesus—How can a yoke a sacrifice for Christ be come light? All men are invited to come to the next meeting, which calls at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

The Valentine box supplied quantities of valentines and the several little people who came to the party were not forgotten.

The Valentine party at Gibson school is an annual affair and even a greater interest was shown this year as evidenced by the number of women who attended. The efforts of both the teacher and pupils in putting on the program was appreciated. An hour's sleighride had been arranged for but had to be omitted as the snow had disappeared.

A very delightful Valentine party was given at Gibson school on Friday afternoon by the Gibson P.T.A. During the early part of the afternoon the pupils played various games and when the older people arrived they were entertained by the pupils, who had arranged a fine program. A health playette was given by seventeen pupils, a group of boys entertained with songs, some of the children gave recitations and everyone did their part in some way. At the close of the program a special committee, Mesdames Ebbsen, Hemwall, Wilner, Biorck, Hall and Lillian and Maud Sundin served coffee, cookies and jello with an abundance of whipped cream to the children and later coffee and cake to the older folks.

GIBSON
By Mrs. Geo. McAllister

Mrs. Violet Alexander gave a very pretty birthday party for June and Jack McCormick at their home on the afternoon of February 22nd.

The dining room with decorations of red, white and blue was a delight to both June and Jack and their guests. Covers were laid for fourteen. The place cards were little hatchets from Japan and the red, white and blue nut cups were in form of tulips and red candy cherries were substituted for the usual nut meats. A large cake formed the center decoration, it was covered with white frosting and along the sides were red and blue flowers while over the top spread the American flag made of frosting, with the stars and stripes in original colors of Our Flag. The napkins corresponded to the general scheme and red, white and blue hats were provided for all. Those present were: Edith and George Wilner, Lenart Hemwall, Josephine and John Boyce, Bernice Bauhahn, Edward Nemeth, June and Harry Sundin, Darbe Jane and Tempest Alexander and Junior, Jack and June McCormick.

Refreshments were bananas covered with ice cream, topped with both chocolate and pineapple sauce and nut meats, cookies, cake and cup cakes covered with white frosting and red cherries. The cup cakes came from the children's aunt, Mrs. Wm. Metzgar of Grand Rapids. Thanks is due Roy Hemwall who assisted in many ways and acted as chauffeur bringing the several little guests, Mrs. Geo. McAllister, a near neighbor, was also present and reports that the children had a very pleasant afternoon playing games. The guests sang, "Happy birthday to you," before leaving. Many pretty gifts were received.

During the past week the Program and Refreshment Committees of Gibson Parent-Teacher Association met at the home of Mrs. Edith Hemwall and arranged for "Ladies Night" which will be on Friday evening, March 7th at school house. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Hemwall and Mrs. Hall. Those present were Mesdames Biorck, Bransberger, Brooks, Ebbsen, Valkema, McAllister and Lillian and Maud Sundin. Mrs. Geo. Valkema is chairman of Refreshment Committee and Mrs. Jean Hall of Program.

Alvin Bauhahn in honor of his birthday on Saturday evening, February 22nd. About twenty-five neighbors and friends gathered in the Bauhahn dining room while the immediate family together with the married children were enjoying a radio program in the living room. One of the daughters told Mr. Bauhahn that a neighbor was waiting in the dining room to speak to him and as he entered it all were assured that the surprise was a complete success. Refreshments were brought consisting of cake, sandwiches, pickles, a large bowl of apple sauce and a mammoth birthday cake, decorated with white frosting and the American flag in original colors was a work of art in frosting.

A social evening was enjoyed by all and many happy returns and good wishes were given Mr. Bauhahn.

WE THINK WE HAVE HAD A WINTER, BUT—

A subscriber from Zeeland came in this week and stated that this winter couldn't hold a candle to one of 25 years ago. He stated that his uncle, J. Boes, made 133 trips by bob-sled loaded down with brick from the Veneklassen place, which was drawn north to Bass river. The trip took just a day, and no trips were made on Sundays. How many days of snow over 133, according to the trips made, the gentleman could not say.

Winter started the 12th day of November and the ground was clear the 15th of April, the man said.

ALBERT STOLL, JR., DESCRIBES THE ROAD OF DEATH FOR DEER

(By ALBERT STOLL, JR.)

There is a 25-mile stretch of splendid gravel highway in the Upper Peninsula running west from Seney to Shingleton in Schoolcraft County. It divides a wilderness country without a parallel as a habitat of wild deer. It is rather unusual for a motorist to travel this highway in the morning or at twilight or night without seeing a deer cross the road or browsing along the highway. This bit of highway has become quite famous with tourists just for this reason yet conservation officials are inclined to call it a death trap.

During the summer months of 1929 between 40 and 50 deer were killed by motorists traveling this road and most of the accidents took place at night. The highway has been treated with calcium chloride to keep the dust down and this has proven an attraction for deer which are constantly seeking some saline mixture to satisfy their craving for salt. Venturing on to the road at night they are more than likely to become confused by the glare of headlights and before the motorist has a chance to stop there is one less deer and a damaged automobile. Several serious accidents have occurred at this point. "As the number of deer and automobiles increases each year this difficulty is becoming increasingly serious," say the state officials and beginning this year this stretch of road will be marked every five miles with a sign reading "Slow, Deer in the Road." It is hoped that this will slow down traffic, giving the animals a chance to escape and avoid accidents.

It is unfortunate that this same plan cannot be used in protecting the lives of many of our smaller game birds and animals that lose their lives under speeding automobiles, but their size and slight chance of injuring either the driver or the car prevents this. Bumping a full grown deer is quite another matter, however.—Detroit Times.

Ottawa Courts Find Man Guilty of Extortion

CASE ORIGINATED IN HOLLAND, MANY WITNESSES FROM HERE TESTIFY

Ray Schipper of Detroit was found guilty of extortion following a two-day trial in Ottawa County Circuit Court before Judge Miles. The complaining witness was Gerrit Deweerdt of Holland, who alleged Schipper sought $500 or he would expose him in an alleged scandal which Schipper claimed Deweerdt was involved while attending Hope college several years ago.

Schipper denied the charge, admitting he asked Deweerdt for $50 in payment of a bet made on the results of the 1926 football game between Grand Haven and Holland. The jury recommended leniency.

A stay of sentence for 20 days will be made to make a motion for a new trial. Schipper, who is 29, is married and has a 13-month-old child.

The defense rested at noon Tuesday with the state calling in three rebuttal witnesses which ran the testimony over to the afternoon session. The lawyers are expected to argue their sides this afternoon with the case getting to the jury by night.

Gerrit Deweerdt of Holland, chief complaint witness, under the questioning of prosecuting attorney, Clarence Lokker, told of paying Schipper $20 on $50 which Schipper claimed or he would expose him in an abortion case which Schipper claimed Deweerdt was responsible for while attending Hope College a few years ago.

Deweerdt further told of going to his employer, Nicodemus Bosch, general manager of the Western Machine and Tool Works of Holland, with the story and he immediately took steps with the Holland police to have Schipper watched. A trap was set at the Warm Friends Tavern which Schipper evaded, he continued, but they got him later when the officers recognized him in his automobile.

Schipper is alleged to have attempted to get away but the streets were icy, the car skidded, and the officer was knocked down. He jumped up and shot through the roof of Schipper's car, and Schipper halted. The respondent denied the story, telling the jury the money from Deweerdt was an old bet which they had made over a Grand Haven-Holland football game in 1926. Schipper admitted he had collected $20 and was in Holland on Dec. 16 and the days following, to get the remaining $30.

Mrs. Schipper, with great self possession, told of driving to Holland on Dec. 16 with her husband and baby. She admitted her husband met a man on the corner of Fourteenth and Central Avenues, but did not know what for. She failed to remember the conversation with the prosecutor, following the arrest, in regard to driving to Muskegon and then to Holland on that night.

Jerome Lester McLachlin, who gave his business as chief pilot and general manager of the Universal Air Service of Detroit, testified that talking with Mrs. Schipper at that same corner. He said it was over a slight collision which he thought had occurred a few minutes previous and which he wanted settled before he drove on to Detroit. He claimed not to have known the Schippers but was solicitous over the baby, who he thought was crying from the effects of the bump. He overheard the conversation between Schipper when Deweerdt said, "I can't raise the money." Schipper replied, "What, you can't raise $30?"

Two Chairmen Resign, Third Accepts Place

C. Dornbos Will Be Able Head of Holland Merchants Association

Mr. Jacob Lokker, pioneer clothing merchant, was named president of the Holland Merchants association Friday, succeeding Benjamin A. Mulder, resigned. Mr. Lokker makes an able presiding officer and knows the problems of the present day merchant. He also is well acquainted with the Merchants Credit Bureau and these organizations are closely allied. Mr. Mulder on the other hand, not being a merchant in that sense felt that a mistake had been made in selecting him, not knowing their problems first hand. He also feels that he already has much to do in newspaper work which carries with it many civic duties, in fact a great deal more work than is wise for one person to take. He found that he could not possibly give this added place the attention it deserves and surely in Mr. Lokker the merchants have found the right man for the place.

It later developed that Mr. Lokker also could not serve as chairman since M. Jav Vande Bunte of the same firm had already been named secretary of the organization and Mr. Lokker felt that two men serving at the same time was asking too much.

The executive committee then called a special meeting of the association Monday at the city hall, when the matter was brought up and a nominating committee was appointed, who submitted to following names to be voted on: Fred Beuwkes, C. Dornbos, Kenneth De Free, Andrew Du Mez, John G. Rutgers.

Some eighty-odd votes were cast and Mr. Dornbos of De Vries and Dornbos Furniture Co. was named. Mr. Dornbos has all the qualities of an energetic and able executive. Several members were in favor of starting an "anti-chain store" campaign, beginning with a public meeting where a speaker who knows his subject well would be asked to give a discourse relative to the inroads made by "chain stores" into the field of the independent merchants.

Both Mr. W. H. Caslow of radio fame at Grand Rapids and Mr. Chindbloom, also of that city, were suggested for a future meeting. It has been left to the executive committee, however, to go into the matter fully and decide all details pertaining to such a meeting.

No vote was taken, but there was no objection raised when it was announced that in the future no chain store memberships would be solicited. A similar action was taken by the Holland Merchants' Service Bureau some time ago.

As to conducting a dollar day sale it appears that there was considerable opposition on the part of many merchants, some stating that generally these sales were hurried along so fast that proper preparation was out of the question. If one is to be held this spring no doubt it will be after Easter business and before the resort season.

The proposal of the City Sign company to erect three lighted sign boards on the trunk lines asking loyalty to home owned stores was endorsed by the association, but it will be left up to the members to contribute personally as they wish, those backing to movement getting a small duplicate of the sign to put on their store windows.

There was much talk of raising a large campaign fund of several thousand dollars among the merchants effected and with these funds secure speakers and radio service expounding the baneful results of "chain store" competition. Mr. Norman Cobb believes that the campaign should be long and effective. The matter was left to the executive committee for further consideration.

The annual vote on closing for Prayer Day, an old Holland custom, ended in a compromise that business houses should close only for the morning and in the afternoon.

A treat was furnished by Jacob Lokker, who passed the cigars, while cookies were given by Frank Brieve and Jack Knoll and Ben Lievense furnished coffee for the crowd.

The next regular meeting will be held on March 10.

Mrs. P. De Haan was pleasantly surprised at her home on West 18th street last Friday evening, the occasion being her seventy-second birthday anniversary. Her nine children and ten grandchildren were present. Mrs. De Haan was presented with a beautiful gift.

Games were played and refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Vander Poel, Earl Vander Poel, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boerma, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Guy, Dora Vander Poel, and Henry Tyse.

Mrs. Harry Prins entertained with a party at her home last week Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Preston Manning. Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Harry Prins, Mrs. Jack Brunsell, Mrs. B. Maatman, and Mrs. Preston Manning. A dainty three course luncheon was served. Those present were Mrs. John Prins, Mrs. Henry Tuls, Mrs. Jack Brunsell, Mrs. B. Maatman, Mrs. Jim Pierce, Mrs. Burt Prins, Mrs. John Brunsell, Miss Esther Fossen, Miss Geraldine Tuls and Mrs. Harry Prins.

The Postal Telegraph company has moved to its new quarters in part of the building occupied by the K. and B. Hat Shop.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN OPENS VOICE STUDIO AT GRAVE'S PLACE

J. Jans Helder, singing teacher of Grand Rapids, has reopened his studio in Holland at 54 Graves Place. Mr. Helder, who spent his boyhood in Holland, left this city for the west years ago, and returned to Michigan as a vocalist and teacher of singing. His many friends assisted him in building up a musical organization known as "The Wagner Chorus." This chorus, according to criticism from reliable sources, was the equal of any in the state. Mr. Helder organized choruses of a similar nature in Battle Creek and Charlotte. Mr. Helder received most of his musical training in California. He studied voice with Courtland Cooper and Car Voelcker of Chicago and Oscar Saenger of New York. For the past 15 years Mr. Helder has directed the music at Trinity Community Church, Grand Rapids, which supports one of the largest choirs in that city.

MUSKRATS ARE DYING. IS REPORT

A dry fall which dried up shallow marshes and ponds, followed by a quick, hard freeze-up, is taking its toll of muskrats and the game division of the department of conservation of Michigan has received several reports of muskrats dying from exposure and starvation.

In many places muskrats are being reported living in old cellars and haystacks and their signs are frequently seen where they have been feeding in hay fields or corn shocks.

The susceptibility of muskrats to cold winds and the ease with which they are taken by wild predators such as owls, cats and dogs when they are forced above ground, causes much loss.

Carp fishing operations in Black lake virtually have been suspended for the season, according to announcement Thursday by Deputy Game Warden Peter A. Lievense. The last haul this week netted about 900 pounds. Figures tabulated by Lievense show that 21,727 pounds of carp and 4,125 pounds of sheepshead were lifted in the nets operated by George Bender. The sheepshead were marketed in Chicago and the carp in New York and Chicago.

Suckers caught in the net were distributed among Holland's poor by City Inspector Henry Bosch, permission having been granted by the state conservation department.

The winter village on Black lake is nearing the end. Most of the fish shanties have been taken off the ice. The channel at Holland harbor is open from the end of the breakwater to Ottawa Beach. Icebergs still are found along the shore. A field of ice runs into Lake Michigan as far as the eye can see, but the coastguard conjectures that with a strong east wind the ice flows will be driven into the lake. Early navigation is predicted.

ALLEGAN BLAZE BREAKS UP FIREMEN'S EUCHE PARTY; LOSS $2,000

Although a blaze in John Robinson hospital Thursday evening gave Allegan firemen a stubborn battle for some little time, it was not necessary to remove any of the six patients from the building. The loss was estimated at approximately $2,000, covered by insurance. Incidentally the firemen's euchre party, which was in progress when the blaze was reported, had to be postponed until March 20. In less than five minutes 14 city fire fighters were on the scene with 900 feet of hose and three chemicals. At no time were any of the patients endangered.

The cream of American speakers and entertainers have been at Atlantic City all week to participate in this program. The list includes Hon. Ruth Bryan Owen, representative of the Fourth Congressional District of Florida; William J. Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education; Charles F. Zettering, president of the General Motors Research Corporation; Ray L. Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior; John H. Finely, Editor of the New York Times; James E. West, Chief Executive of the Boy Scouts of America; and Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Vanden Brink Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Harling, who is a Missionary in Africa. Mrs. Vanden Brink was assisted by Mrs. Frank Kooyers. H. J. Heinz Co. Heads Stage a Fine Banquet

LOCAL PLANT GIVES ANNUAL DINNER TO EMPLOYEES

Friday night was a gala evening for the officials and employees of the H. J. Heinz company's Holland plant. A banquet was staged in the Masonic Temple banquet hall and the company has made this an annual institution, this being the third to be given.

The speakers of the evening were J. A. Hoover, who has been with the company quarter of a century, and former mayor Henry Geerlings of Holland was the guest speaker. Mr. Joel St. John was toastmaster of the evening and he in a fitting manner first introduced Mr. Hoover, who gave a cordial welcome talk and told of the close knit relationship that existed between the employees and the employers of the local firm. He spoke of the loyalty that has always been dominant, the ambitions of the workers, the courage that they displayed and the wonderful co-operation that was always given. He stated that he believed that these four attributes were very necessary in a good employee and he believed that this was generally the case in the H. J. Heinz company's Holland family. He said that such employees were bound to succeed and could not help but to advance in their work and hold the esteem of their fellow employees and the officials of the company as well.

Former mayor Geerlings, when introduced, told how Holland appreciated this great company who have made their "57 varieties" known the world over. He said that through the H. J. Heinz company Holland had been widely advertised as it had been through other Holland enterprises. Mr. Geerlings stated that we are all scholars in life's school, that our best lessons are learned through experience and those lessons most deeply rooted come through the hard knocks and the adversities that many of us must endure. He stated that this school of experience is not associated with a graduation day or with the passing out of a diploma and is devoid of any vacation periods. He stated that a man has much to do with his own making. He can be a rascal, he can be an unpleasant individual or he can be an amiable and a helpful person in the community. Man must not be selfish. If he were the only being on earth he could enjoy his very own but he is part of a great society and for that reason there are certain things that he must respect, there are certain laws that he must obey and he must have consideration for his fellowmen. Success is not always measured in terms of dollars and cents. A man who fills a position with that alone in view and is not interested in what he creates in that position is missing the great joy in life. The worker must have vision in life and fit himself in such a manner that others will realize that he is a man capable to discharge his duties. He should be imbued with a spirit of real service that after all counts and deserves reward, the speaker said in closing.

After the speaking program a clever skit was put on by the employees of the H. J. Heinz company in which a radio station broadcasting from H-J-H, the initials of the company, played an important part. There were clever take-offs on many of the guests present purporting to come from abroad. Many of the employees listened to familiar voices of their associates at the local plant and this radio program was replete with speaking and singing and funny stunts. It was a pleasing wind-up to a very pleasant evening. Before opening the banquet, which by the way, was a wonderful spread, Mr. Sherwood Price pronounced the invocation. The banquet period was interspersed with orchestra music from the Kasten Orchestra and the Majestic Minstrels also gave one of their pleasing minstrel programs. The decorations were in keeping with an occasion of that kind and the food served by the Masonic ladies' was far excellence.

Two bee meetings will be held in Allegan county on Wednesday, March 5th, one at the farm of Merrill Hampton, 2 miles east and 2 1/2 miles south of Glenn, Ganges township at 10:00 a. m. the other at the Fennville High School at 1:30 p. m.

Due to the proven value of bees in the growing of fruits, these meetings should be of as much interest to fruit growers as to the bee keepers in the county.

Mr. Kramer, specialist from Michigan State College who will have charge of the meeting conducted meetings in Allegan county during 1929.

KNICKERBOCKER HOUSE, OLD HOLLAND HOSPITAL, IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

The annex of the Knickerbocker House, formerly the old Holland City Hospital, at Twelfth Street and Central Avenue was damaged considerably by fire early Friday morning. Both fire departments were summoned at about 5 o'clock and it took them nearly an hour to gain control of the blaze which had crept along one of the walls to the second floor. Chief Blom stated that through defective wiring on one of the switch boxes in the basement had caused the fire, causing $2,000 damages.

Paul Brouwer, junior at Hope College, was aroused by the smoke in his room. He awakened Joe Harms and Fred Wyngarden and then called the fire departments.

The fire ate a hole about six feet in diameter from the basement through the room formerly used for the baby clinic and clear to the roof. The main part of the building was not damaged.

The city owns the building and the society has been renting it.

ALLEGAN TO PASS ON NEW ELECTRIC BOND

In order to meet requirements of the federal engineer, who is examining the proposed municipal hydro-electric project, the Allegan city council at a special meeting voted to submit at the April election a $245,000 additional bond issue. It was explained that this amount would be levied on the utility itself and not on the taxpayers and that it might not be necessary to use this sum in addition to the $440,000 bond issue already approved.

HOLLAND HIGH WINS FROM KAZOO

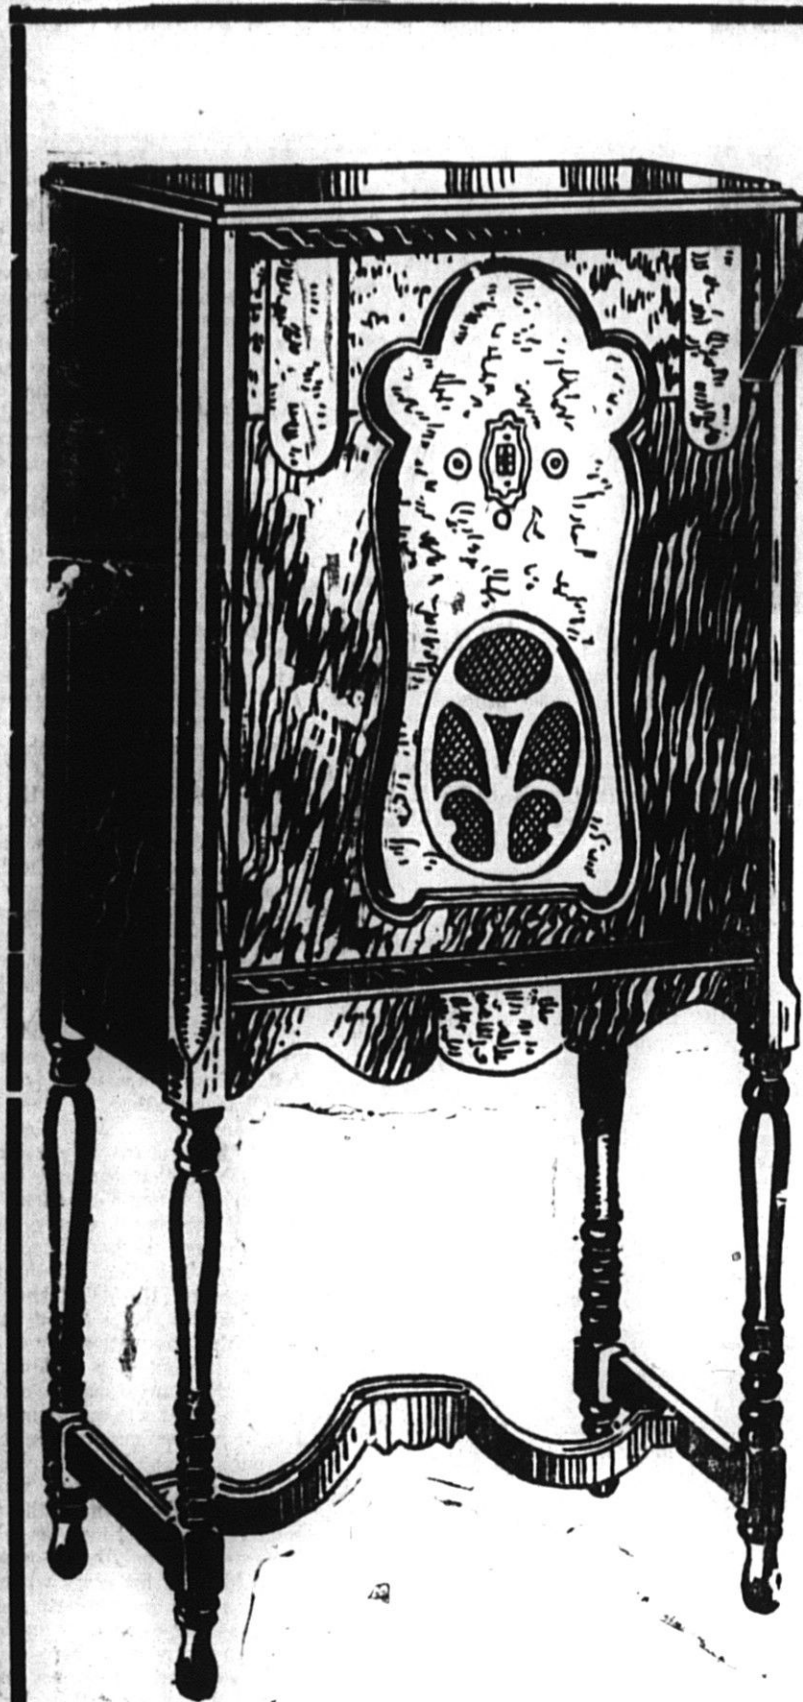

Holland high won a tight defensive struggle from Western State high in Kalamazoo last week, 18 to 10. The game was devoid of thrills, and both teams appeared off form in basket shooting. Bonnett and Dalman, the latter a newcomer to the squad, starred for Holland, while Stewart, scored eight points, featured for the visitors. Holland led, 7 to 2, at the half.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boersma have moved to Grand Rapids where they will make their future home.

POULTRY, BEEKEEPING, AND PRUNING AND GRAFTING DUE FOR MEETINGS IN OTTAWA COUNTY

Beekeepers' winter meetings will be held March 4 with Mr. Kremer from the State College taking on spring management, prevention of swarming, marketing and organization at the County Infirmary at 9 a.m., and Zeeland City Hall at 1:30 p.m. Regular meetings will be held each month this summer at demonstration apiaries located at Grandview Poultry Farm, Zeeland, County Infirmary, Eastmanville and J. R. Gilbert, Conklin. Beekeeping as an industry has grown rapidly in Ottawa County since losses from disease through inspection has been effectively lowered.

Pruning and grafting demonstrations have been arranged for March at the orchards of Herbert C. Reister, Conklin, at 9 a.m., John Atkins, Allendale at 1 p.m., and Walter Van Dam, Forest Grove at 3:30. Don Hootman, who formerly had charge of the Graham Experimental Station, will conduct the meetings. H. F. Moxley, livestock specialist from State College, will meet with Ottawa County swine breeders to discuss feeding and management of swine for more profit. Meetings will be held March 6 at Chester Town Hall at 1:30 p.m., and on March 7 Allendale Town Hall at 9:30, and Jamestown Y. M. C. A. at 1:30.

The largest poultry school ever held in the county will be held in Zeeland March first under the auspices of the Zeeland Merchants' Association, Zeeland hatcheries and agricultural agent Milham, when a thousand or more poultrymen are expected to attend. The school will be held at the High School starting at 9:30 sharp with lectures by J. A. Hannah and Dr. H. J. Staff, both from the State College and R. L. Gulliver from the A. M. Smith Co. at Eaton Rapids, and talks by M. L. Noon, president Michigan State Farm Bureau, and Mr. Caslow, "Main Street Crusader" and agricultural agent Milham.

Merchants are providing the lunch at noon. As this is the day many poultrymen bring hatching eggs to Zeeland, merchants feel they are presenting a real program for the poultrymen. The second school will be held on March 22nd.

Subjects to be covered by the specialists, some of them illustrated, are: Magnitude of the Poultry Industry and Breeding to make profits possible; poultry house construction, production and care of good eggs and quality poultry meat, roup, pox, bronchitis, poultry hygiene and sanitation.

Brother of Probate Judge Danhof Dies Suddenly In His Office

John J. Danhof, sr., age 71, died unexpectedly Sunday morning at his home at Grand Haven.

Mr. Danhof was in his office until 6 o'clock Saturday night. He dined with his family and retired at his usual time. The family was awakened at 12 o'clock and called a doctor, but Mr. Danhof never regained consciousness.

Mr. Danhof was the oldest fire insurance agent in the state in point of service, he having started more than 45 years ago in Grand Haven. Born in Grand Haven Oct. 24, 1859, the son of John J. and Renske Danhof, who came to this city from The Netherlands in 1854, he obtained his education in the public schools and at Hope college.

By close attention to his business and with unflinching honesty and fair dealing he built up the largest agency in Grand Haven and neighborhood.

In the early days he was secretary of the Grand Haven Gas Co. and of the Grand Haven Lumber Co. He was supervisor for several terms and alderman for two terms.

Mr. Danhof was an active member of Second Reformed church and was an officer for many years.

He always worked for the betterment and advancement of the city and helped financially to locate several of the city's industries.

Surviving are the widow Anna Danhof, whom he married 47 years ago; one son, John J., jr., Detroit; three daughters, Rose and Edith of Grand Haven and Mrs. Merle Storr of Grand Rapids; three brothers, Probate Judge James J. Danhof of Grand Haven, Peter J. Danhof, attorney of Grand Rapids, and Henry J. Danhof, Detroit; one sister, Mrs. Walter F. Mercer of Grand Rapids and four grandchildren.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING IN HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

The library has started its spring housecleaning at an early date. When the shelves were first built, the librarian wished to keep one section of books for English fiction, another for American fiction, and a third for American history; so that some of the other books were sadly out of order.

During the past week the librarian has had to make more room for new books, and has gone over each section in the library, placing those books that were out of order into the right places. This makes it easier to use the Dewey decimal system and card catalog. The general clean-up has uncovered many things. There is a year and a half of duplicate National Geographic magazines that are being clipped for bulletin board material, and there were found not a few books no one seemed to know the library did not contain. These will be properly cataloged.

Fifteen Years of Service

Award of a beautiful bronze plaque has been made to Chas. Van Zylsen, proprietor of the Holland Vulcanizing Co., by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., of Akron, in recognition of the local business man's 15 years of friendly relations with the Ohio Company.

The plaque was accompanied by a letter from P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Co., expressing his appreciation of Mr. Chas. Van Zylsen's loyal representation of his concern as one of its dealers.

The name of Mr. Chas. Van Zylsen and the Goodyear Co., both appear in upraised letters upon the bottom of the plaque. Various vehicles of transportation, including the private automobile, bus, truck, railroad train, steamboat, airplane and Zeppelin, are portrayed in bas-relief.

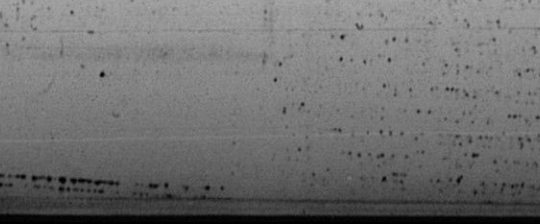

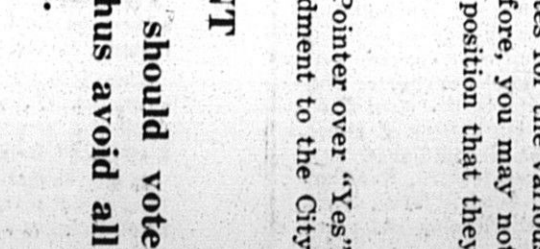

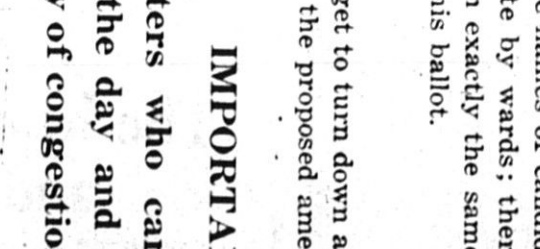

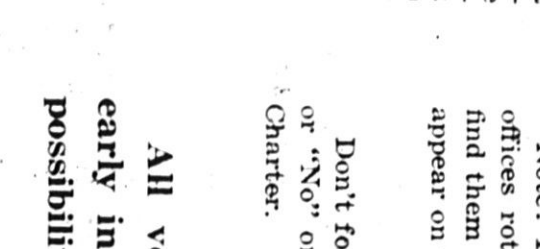

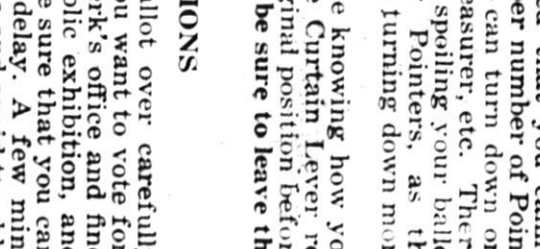

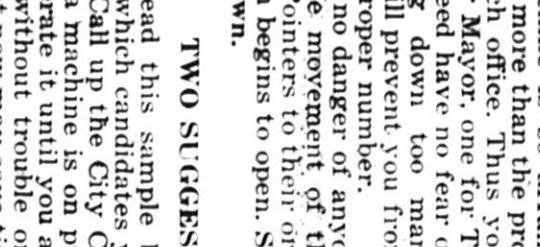

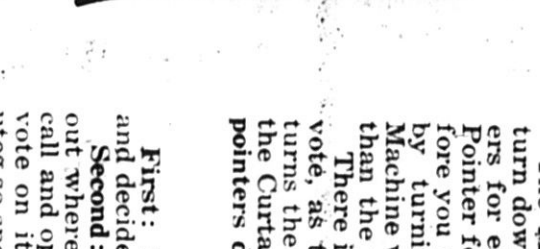

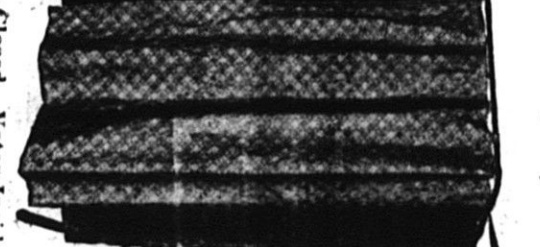

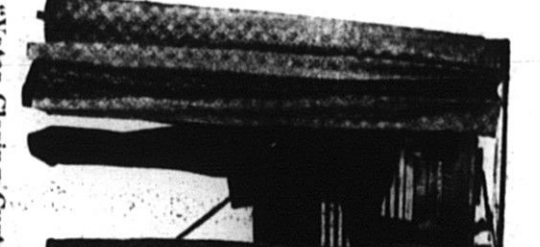

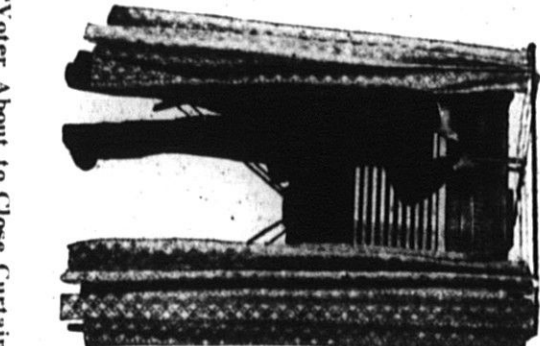

In the background looms the main plant of Goodyear's home factory at Akron and the huge Zeppelin factory and dock which was completed recently on Akron's Municipal airport.

In the center foreground appears a Goodyear All-Weather Tread auto tire which encircles the flag of the Goodyear Co.

The picture symbolizes the advancement of transportation facilities being stimulated by the co-operative efforts of the vast Goodyear organization and Mr. Chas. Van Zylsen, its local representative.

Mr. Chas. Van Zylsen plans to hang the beautiful plaque in a conspicuous place in his store so that his many patrons and friends may inspect it.

Leave the Pointers down in their voting position, swing the Handle of the Curtain Lever to the Left as far as it will go, and leave it there. (This will register your vote, return the Pointers to their first position, after which it will open the Curtain.)

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

As no votes are registered until the Curtain Lever is moved to open the Curtain you can make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the Right.

The Machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of Pointers for each office. NEARLY $1,000 FOR ONE
FOX SKIN

Allegan Gazette—Managers of the Allegan River Fox company were surprised and rejoiced Monday when they received a telegram from New York city that a silver-black fox skin they had consigned for sale by a dealer in that city had sold for $760. The telegram added "This is the high price of this sale to date."

The company has had a most prosperous season. The increase was the greatest of any year of the company's business and the animals have kept in good health and development. They have more than 300 pelts to market, but, said Mr. W. G. Fry, "no more like that one." Black fox pelts, however, sell at high prices, usually for $100 or far up from that rate. Many fox companies started in Michigan and failed but good management has enabled this Allegan company to survive and increase.

Soon will be held the company's annual election which may be a lively one for some Kalamazoo stockholders are trying to gain control. They were foiled last year but manifest determination to prevail. The Allegan members feel that success for the Kalamazoo lot would mean disaster to the company.

By the time that skin is cured and manufactured, somebody will pay for it anywhere between $1,500 and $2,000.

BOY WANTED TO BE A ROBINSON CRUSOE BUT GOT JAIL

Alfred Nyquist, a 17 year old lad of Muskegon, whose idea of life is to be a Robinson Crusoe and live on an island, is in the county jail awaiting disposition of his case. It is charged that he and another boy entered a cottage at Bear Lake near Muskegon recently and stole several articles. Nyquist was on probation for robbery at the time he is alleged to have entered the Bear Lake cottage, having been sentenced only Dec. 2 in the Circuit court after pleading guilty to breaking and entering the Johnson drug store, in the "Saw Dust City," and stealing a shotgun from the window.

Nyquist was arrested by the police late in November on Strawberry Island in Muskegon Lake, where he was living the life of a Robinson Crusoe. Nyquist differed from the Robinson Crusoe of fiction in that he made trips to the mainland to obtain things he wanted. In addition to the shotgun, phonograph records stolen from a Washington avenue home, were found in his shack on his Crusoe island.

Knightly Armor

The weight of Gothic armor of the fifteenth century varies considerably. For example, a specimen in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, weighs 49 pounds, one in Paris weighs 43 and a third one in Vienna weighs 85. A complete suit of armor which belonged to Henry VIII of England and which is now in the Tower of London, weighs 94 pounds.

There is also in the Tower of London at present a suit of armor for jousting that weighs 160 pounds. This, however, was a special defense worn for a brief period in the military sport of the time.

His Handicap

A certain doctor advised a rather corpulent patient to take up golf as a healthy exercise.

After a few weeks his patient returned and asked whether he could not take up some other game. "But," protested the doctor, "there's no other game under the sun than golf."

"I can quite believe it," replied the corpulent one. "But it's no use my trying to play the wretched game. If I put the club over my head where I can see it, I can't hit it and when I put it where I can hit it I can't see it, so what am I going to do?"

South Haven Man Solves Tree Mystery

EXPERT IN HORTICULTURE
LEARNS WHY FRUIT TREE
GROWS VARIETY OF FRUIT

The mysterious failure of many nursery trees to come true to name has been solved by Roy E. Gibson of South Haven.

For a decade Gibson has been trailing clues supplied by Michigan fruit growers. Now he says he has apprehended the guilty—the transitional tree. Such a tree, he explained, is one in which the cell structure or growing tissue is mixed. It is capable of innumerable combinations of mixed tissue factors or of developing bud mutations from them, depending on the tissue formation in the trunk, branch or limb where each bud originates.

Gibson picked up his first clew on the fruit farm of A. G. Spencer, near Kibbie, Van Buren County, during the summer of 1920. His attention was called to a "bud sport." From that day Gibson has searched for new clues. Growers gave him evidence as he traveled over the state. The trees themselves told him much, he said.

"As we live with trees and record their messages," Gibson added, "they not only tell us of their differences but reveal to us the cause. The Creator has left definite clues, finger prints of nature, pointing the way."

In 10 years Gibson has studied thousands of "finger prints of nature" and he has reached certain definite conclusions on why fruit trees frequently do not come true to name. One is that all buds on a tree may look alike but each is different, and if grafted upon seedlings in the nursery row, each will grow into a tree which may vary in many respects from each other. Buds of mixed cell tissues will show the greatest variations in the mature tree, Gibson stated.

The bud expert has observed trees which produced as many as six different types of fruit of the same variety. Some produce red apples, green apples, striped apples, half red and half green apples, solid red apples, irregularly shaped apples, small apples and large apples. In a few cases Gibson has found these variations on one branch.

In a number of places he has observed green and yellow Bartlett pears on the same tree, and in a few orchards he has found trees bearing russet, Bartlett and green Bartletts. In each of these trees he has found half green pears and half russet or yellow pears. Close examination of the bark of the limbs has shown that the bud producing these variations in fruit had emerged from a point where the different cell tissues have formed a union.

Many growers and some scientists have questioned the accuracy of Gibson's findings, but only a trip into one or more orchards where transitional trees have been marked is necessary to convince those who doubt.

The transitional characteristics in fruit trees will continue to crop out in nursery stock so long as nurseries fail to carefully select the parent trees from which buds are cut for grafting purposes, Gibson said. A few nurseries have recognized this fact and are cutting buds only from those trees which are known to be typical of the variety and are considered relatively free of transitional tendencies.

Gibson said the nurseries probably never will obtain 100 per cent control over the transitional trait in trees as the great variation in buds is certain to crop out in the propagation of trees in the nursery row. But the percentage of this type of stock can be greatly reduced, he declared, by the careful selection and marking of so-called "parent trees" from which to cut buds for grafting purposes.

Lesson for March 2

JESUS TEACHING ABOUT HIMSELF

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 11:2-12:50

GOLDEN TEXT—Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus, the Friend of All

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Great Helper

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Who Jesus Was

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Lord's Testimony Concerning Himself

I. How the Kingdom Was Revealed (ch. 11).

In showing the attitude of heart of the people, four classes of heart are described.

1. The perplexed hearers, like John the Baptist (vv. 2-11).

John believed that Jesus was the Christ (v. 2), but was somewhat perplexed as to the manner of the establishment of the kingdom. The Baptist had in his preaching mainly emphasized the line of prophecy which made the King to be a mighty conqueror (Matt. 23:10-12). He said that the axe is laid unto the root of the tree and that there was to be a separation of the chaff from the wheat and a burning of the chaff. John saw Christ as the one who would remove the sins of the people by the shedding of His blood (John 1:29), but he failed to see the interval between the time of His suffering and the time of His triumph.

2. Violent hearers (vv. 12-19).

They were willing to believe the kingdom according to their own way, but were unwilling to conform to its laws. They seized it with violent hands. They would not repent when called upon to do so when called upon by Christ (vv. 17-19).

3. The stout-hearted unbelievers (vv. 20-24).

In Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum, Christ had done most of His mighty works, but the people deliberately set their hearts against Him and His message. Tyre and Sidon were noted with immoral practices and idolatry, but they will be more tolerably dealt with in the Day of Judgment than will those who willfully reject Christ Jesus.

4. Hearers who are babes in spirit (vv. 25-30).

There were those among the people who heard Jesus with childlike faith. They believed that Jesus was the Messiah and opened their hearts to receive Him.

The Antagonism to Jesus (ch. 12).

In chapter 11 we saw the shameful indifference of the Jews to their King. In this chapter we see the positive and bitter antagonism manifesting itself against him. The immediate occasion was Christ's relation to the Sabbath (vv. 1-8).

1. The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath (vv. 1-8).

The hungry disciples were plucking corn on the Sabbath. With this the Pharisees found fault. To their chagrin Christ replied, and showed that God's purpose in instituting the Sabbath was to serve man's highest interests and to contribute to his happiness.

(1) He is greater than their greatest king, David (vv. 3, 4). (2) He is greater than their sacrifice and priesthood (v. 5). (3) He is greater than the temple (v. 6). The temple, with its gorgeous rites and ceremonies, was but typical of Himself. (4) He is greater than the Sabbath (v. 9), for He is the very Lord of the Sabbath.

2. Healing the withered hand (vv. 9-14).

In order that they might accuse Him, they asked, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath day?" Jesus' reply was both a question and a declaration.

3. The unpardonable sin (vv. 22-32).

The occasion of their blasphemy against the Holy Spirit was the casting out of the demon. In this act Christ displayed His power to cast out demons. The effect of this miracle was twofold: (1) Upon the multitude. They were amazed, and cried out, "Is not this the son of David?" (2) Upon the Pharisees. When they heard what the people were saying, their anger and satanic malice were aroused. They said He was casting out demons by the prince of the demons. With unanswerable logic, He met their accusations and demanded decision. He charged them upon their own awful guilt. They had attributed the work of the Holy Spirit to the devil. This Christ calls the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost for which there is no pardon.

Old-Time "Horne" Book Hard to Find Today

Not a book in form, though on in name, the "Horne" book, says Mentor Magazine, was made of a thin piece of wood usually four or five inches long and two inches wide, with a sheet of paper placed upon one side. Printed on this at the top was the alphabet in large and small letters. Below were the simple syllables, such as ab, eh, ih, oh, uh and other vowel and consonant combinations. Then followed the Lord's prayer, never omitted from any of the early text books.

To the colonists, avid for a religious life, the appearance of this primer was far more important than any educational device whatsoever.

Over the whole printed page was a thin sheet of transparent yellowish horn. Both the paper and the horn were fastened to the board by a narrow strip of metal held down by little tacks, a simple and primitive process. Mrs. Earle, that charming chronicler of colonial times, tells of finding crosses at the two upper corners of the page. Hence to read a horn book was often called reading a "cross cross row."

Today a horn book is rare. The mystery is not in their absence so much as in their complete disappearance. Surely in those days of large families there must have been a plentiful supply of "those little instruments in instruction."

Moon's Movements

The naval observatory says that the moon does not revolve in the plane of the earth's equator, but in a plane inclined to the plane of the equator at an angle that varies approximately from 18 to 29 degrees. In any month the moon may be seen at least 18 degrees south of the celestial equator, and after two weeks at least 18 degrees north of the celestial equator. In some years, as 1913 for instance, the moon may be seen nearly 29 degrees south of the celestial equator. The moon's rapid northerly progress occurs about one week later than its farthest south, and about one week earlier than its farthest north.

Not in Kokomo

Little five-year-old Marcia of Kokomo, whose family is not noted for early rising, was visiting her grandparents in the country. Awoke one early one morning, she looked out an east window to see the sky all resplendent in the most gorgeous colors.

"What is that, grandma?" she inquired.

On being told that it was the dawn, she reflected a moment, then said: "We don't have any dawn in Kokomo."—Indianapolis News

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

By T. E. STEWARD
WNU Service

Flax

FLAX is a plant useful to man which has been under cultivation for practically as long as even the crudest type of civilization has been in existence. Of two principal varieties, one an annual and the other a perennial, the former is believed to have been brought out of the Caucasus by the Aryans when they first found their way into Europe. It is probably a native of the region south of the Caspian and the district that is now southern Europe by the Finns, a Turanian people who invaded Europe from Asia. Annual flax grows with particular vigor on the shores of the Baltic.

The perennial type of flax, "linum angustifolium," was cultivated in northern Italy and Switzerland before the first representatives of the Aryans, whom we usually mean when we say the white race, came from southern Asia into Europe. Seeds and seed capsules found in the very ancient remains of these tribes show them to have made considerable use of flax. Later, as the annual type of flax, "linum usitatissimum," or "most useful," came to be known, it was substituted for the ancient form. The perennial flax may be found growing wild at many places in those countries that surround the Mediterranean sea, including northern Africa, Italy and Spain.

People of practically all the civilizations studied in ancient history knew and used one of the forms of flax. Egyptian monarchs wore robes woven from it and were wrapped in it when their bodies were mummified.

The extreme remoteness of the first use of flax in prehistoric times is shown by the fact that all the ancient peoples, Celtic, Finnish, Italian, and others, have names of their own for it. In the case of plants spread from one people to another it is usually possible to see the similarity in names adopted by one tongue from another.

Scientists consider it conservative to assume that flax in its different forms has been in cultivation for at least 5,000 years. Although the perennial flax was grown in Europe earlier than the annual variety, the latter is probably the older inasmuch as it was grown and used by eastern civilizations that were older than any in Europe. The common annual flax is thus a plant of Asia, coming from the region in which common belief is accustomed to place the Garden of Eden.

Pointed Question

Before the women's golf championship was played, a certain course was for some days infested by practicing ladies. This gave much disgust to an old gentleman who went out daily to have his hand-dred up.

One morning, discovering that places were booked for two hours ahead by women players, he observed loudly and for the benefit of a crowd of the other sex, "Simply disgusting. I shall join a club for gentlemen only."

A bright young thing standing near gave him a smile and observed, "What makes you think you'd be eligible?"—London Tit-Bits.
