All Is Set For Holland Game Club Banquet

ENDEAVORS MADE TO BRING GOVERNOR BRUCKER TO CITY NEXT TUESDAY

The program has been practically arranged for the annual banquet of the Holland Fish and Game Club to be held this year at the Holland Armory. Heretofore the spread was given at the Masonic Temple, however this year, because of the tremendous crowd to come, the large armory was substituted.

Efforts are still being made to have Governor Brucker attend but this is very doubtful considering that the legislature is now in session.

However, George R. Hogarth, of Lansing, director of state conservation, will be here as the principal speaker. It is expected that he will be greeted by more than 600 guests, at least covers have been prepared for that many.

Mr. Wynand Wichers, president-elect of Hope college, has been slated for toastmaster and Andrew Klomprens, president of the club, will preside. Representative Fred F. McEachron and State Senator Gordon Van Eenennaam will be on the program, as well as Attorney Thomas N. Robinson, the first president of the club.

The Colonial Orchestra has been secured to furnish the music during the banquet and a committee with Henry Vander Schel, chairman, will put up some surprising decorations.

The drive for membership is in full swing and it is hoped to reach last year's total of 1,000. Already 100 new members have joined during the week.

The Holland Game Club had its inception a little over eight years ago and it is about the most popular club and the largest of its kind in Michigan. It sure is a democratic club for men in all walks of life, fraternizes and forms a closer fellowship than in possibly any other kind of organization. The things that the Holland Game club stands for brings that about.

At the banquet table will be found teachers and preachers, labor and capital, merchant and manufacturer, store-keeper and clerk, all having a good time fostering one common cause.

The first object in view was game conservation and the applying of the law on willful violators. The next was to educate members, telling them of the importance of conserving wild life, if we are to hunt or to fish in the future. Then the club went on record as fostering proper legislation for game preservation, and by the same token condemn legislation that is burdensome and foolish such as fishing for speckle-bass in "dog-days" and charging a $1 license to local residents if they want to go out for a day's fishing in our own lakes. Of course, this measure has not passed yet and it is doubtful whether it will. Thanks to the efforts of the local Game Club—it may be possible for us to fish for speckle-bass in April or May instead of during the season when these are unfit for food.

Anyway it is examples like these when the local Game Club steps in to help or hinder legislation according to the merit or demerit of such legislation.

The real step towards conservation was the building of two large fish rearing ponds on the Zeeland-Holland road that will eventually stock Black Lake and its tributaries with the finest kind of fish. These rearing ponds are built with the money derived from carp fishing and the local club has a real worthwhile piece of property and a small park and what is more at least a quarter of a million fingerling fish are transferred yearly to local waters, benefiting not only Holland, but our tourist population as well.

The annual dues of the organization is $1.00 a year. The officers of the Holland Game Club are the following: Andrew Klomprens, president; Joe Rhea, vice-president; C. VanDyke, treasurer and Jake Lievens, secretary.

Directors are Henry Geerts, William Glum, W. L. Eaton, Samuel Althuis, Henry VanderSchel and C. Klansen.

Remember the banquet will take place at the Armory next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

JOHN VERHOEKS EXPIRES WITH CASK CONTAINING TWO HENS IN HIS GRASP

A burlap bag imprisoning two live chickens was in the grasp of John Ver Hoeke, of Grand Haven, 70 years old, when he was found dead Saturday in the rear of a chicken coop belonging to Gerrit Verhoeke, who claims no relationship to the old man, identified the chickens as his property and neighbors testified to have heard a commotion in the chicken house on Friday night while Verhoeke was away from his home.

The body was discovered by Verhoeke late Saturday afternoon, about 15 feet north of the coop. The officers were called and they immediately released the two fat hens, which seemed no worse for their confinement. There were no signs of struggle or foul play and Coroner Van Zantwick pronounced the death due to natural causes. It is supposed the man had a heart attack. He has lived for a number of years in a small house on South Ferry street about three quarters of a mile from the home of Gerrit Verhoeke.

WILL TALK OF WORK AMONG THE LEPERS

Mrs. Lee Huizenga, a former missionary to China, will give an address regarding work among the lepers at 8 o'clock, Thursday night at Fifth Reformed church, Grand Rapids. She will illustrate the talk with a film showing life among the lepers.

A group of young women from Ninth Street Christian Reformed church of Holland will present an appropriate play and furnish the music.

HOLLAND FISH TO BE SEEN AT THE WORLD FAIR

The Holland Fish and Game Club has been active in a great many ways but during the winter carp fishing the Michigan Conservation department, at the earnest request of the Chicago World's Fair Commission, supplied the large Shadd aquarium with ten pickered and muskelluges. The Shadd aquarium is a gift to the city of Chicago, costing three million dollars and will be one of the show places on the lake front in 1933 during the World's Fair.

Chairman Klomprens states that the largest "Musky" weighed over 35 pounds. These were caught in nets, immediately placed in tanks and these Black Lake fish are now at Chicago.

The local club also furnished nearly a thousand pounds of fish to poor families of Holland during the nesting season.

FALSE ALARM TURNED IN FROM EROEBEL SCHOOL

At 3:30 this afternoon both fire departments were called out for an alarm turned in from Eroebel school. The trucks made record runs but found that the alarm was false, turned in by some kids. The Holland City News has the names of these chaps but will withhold them until further development.

INSURANCE MAN BUYS OUT AGENCY

Anthony Koiman, who represents the Aetna Affiliated Insurance Companies at Zeeland, has also taken over the insurance business formerly conducted by Marine Kooyers in that city. The new company he represents is the County Fire Insurance Company of Philadelphia, a standard old line organization incorporated in 1892.

OLD FRIEND OF THE LATE MR. G. J. DIEKEMA, DIES

The Detroit papers this week chronicled the fact that John Fitzgibbon of the Detroit News had passed away at the age of 71 years. He was an intimate friend of the late Minister Diekema and was a right hand man when "Diek" was speaker of the house many years ago.

It was at Mr. Diekema's request that Mr. Fitzgibbon came to Holland during our semi-centennial celebration in 1897, remaining for three days sending not only his own paper but the Associated Press all the stories that such a celebration brings.

He has been writing many things about Mr. Diekema in his State Capitol "Gossip Column" which have appeared in the Holland City News from time to time. He held down a reporter's desk at the state capital building under twelve Michigan governors and covered all their campaign activities.

Fitzgibbon wrote all his copy long-hand shunning the typewriter. He was correspondent in Cuba and the Philippines during the Spanish American war. He reported the great Chicago Democratic convention when William Jennings Bryan made his famous "cross of gold" speech and later accompanied Bryan on his Michigan tour as presidential nominee.

At that time Mr. Bryan visited Holland, speaking from a West Michigan Furniture van decorated with flags and was introduced by the late George P. Hummer, who was a great admirer of the advocate of "sixteen to one."

Rural School Furthest Away Is Fifty Miles

OTTAWA SCHOOL COMMISSIONER APPEARS TO BE VERY BUSY MAN

From a report compiled by Mr. Gerrit Groenewoud of Holland school commissioner of Ottawa county, a man in that position is destined to be very busy. He must visit approximately 225 different teachers, giving them instructions. The rural schools are scattered over an area of 165 miles. The school furthest away from Holland is Chester No. 8 which means a run by automobile from here of 50 miles. 6000 papers are examined during a year, 1200 of which are taken care of by the commissioner. The commissioner must fill out 1200 certificates, issue 500 diplomas, write 125 postal cards, 2766 letters and must take care of 4,999 pieces of mail in all classes.

He is delegated to distribute by the State all Michigan manuals, school laws, fire prevention pamphlets, forest-reserve reading matter, etc.

This is only part of the work. Presiding over meetings, such as the institute in Holland last week, making out long reports, covering all the districts in the county and hundreds of other detailed items are included. Altogether during the past year, 178 rural reports had to be made out.

When not on the road, the office of the County School Commissioner in Holland is a very busy place. The total number of calls for information and instruction during 1930 was 1,094.

Altogether Mr. Groenewoud acts in a supervisory capacity over 181 teachers. It is the only supervisor that these teachers receive. The census of the rural and village schools as compiled at the School Commissioner's office is 9647 as of June 1st, 1930. A total of $166,000 in primary money is received from the state or $17.20 per child of school age.

These are a few of the figures given in the report and these are interesting and enlightening, showing that the man in charge of this job has no easy task and plenty of hard work during the course of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood have moved from 335 College avenue to 105 West Nineteenth St.

Schubert Club Is Coming To Holland

OLDEST MEMBER HAS SUNG
FOR 48 YEARS

The celebrated Schubert Club of Grand Rapids, composed largely of Hollanders, a club that has been in existence for 48 years, is coming to Holland, Thursday evening, March 5, and is to give a concert at the High School auditorium under the auspices of the teachers of the public schools.

In the personnel of this organization there are many singers who are well known in this city. One is B. A. Beneker, a tenor, who has been with the club for 48 years and is 73 years old but his voice is still as clear as a bell and Dr. W. Kline, a former Zeeland resident, and Dr. Wm. Veenboer, well known throughout all Ottawa County, and our own Martin Dykema, who goes once a week for practice. J. Francis Campbell, some years ago musical director at Hope College, is one of the big bass singers. Harold Tower, pianist and organist of state-wide reputation, is accompanist.

So in the list of 60 there will be found a large number of business and traveling men who are intimately acquainted in this city.

The Schubert Club puts over some wonderful concerts for practically every member is a Grand Rapids artist and it is quite a coincidence that a vast majority are men of Holland extraction such as Steketee, Veneklaasens, Westerveld, Kriekard, Van Hartesveldt, Meeter, Van der Vries and a score of others.

Holland will be privileged to hear this nationally known male chorus sing at the High school next Thursday. The revenues go for meritorious purposes for the pupils of both Holland High and Grand Rapids schools. The club receives not a penny for coming. The men connected are mostly well-to-do, but the revenues are diverted into channels that tend to the uplift of youth.

Grand Rapids has always been back of their chorus 100 per cent. It is the leading organization of that city and Holland's music lovers are destined to hear a program of real merit.

WHO ARE THOSE VIR- GINIA PARK INJUNS?

Under the able direction of S. H. Houtman, local postman, a 3-act comedy drama "Arizona Cowboy" will be presented by the Virginia Park Community Club players at their clubhouse, Thursday and Friday at 7:45, March 5 and 6. The cast of characters follows:

Cast: — Ed. Munson, Miss Elyea, Gerrit Nyboer, Peter Van Houw, Mrs. Van Houw, J. Kroonmeyer, Mrs. Berkompas, Edna Berkompas, Dick Nieuwma, Mrs. Ed. Munson, Rudy Funt and S. H. Houtman. The play promises to be an old time Wild West "Thriller," showing the life of "Cimarron" days with plenty of action and an abundance of Comedy, Cowboys, Indians, etc.

We are wondering who these Virginia Park "Injuns" will be. We'll see the show at Virginia Park club house next week Thursday and Friday, and find out.

CHURCH OF ZEELAND GETS BACK OF THE COMMUNITY CHEST

Zeeland Record: — The first annual community drive to be staged in Zeeland will be put on here during the last three days of the second week in March, following Prayer Day. The dates are March 12, 13 and 14.

The purpose of this drive is to establish a community chest and take care of all the philanthropic requirements of this city at one time. Accordingly, all the several organizations have determined their needs and are cooperating in raising the entire sum at one time. The total sum as estimated is placed at $2,600. Of this sum the local hospital is listed for $1,500; the Red Cross for $250; the Salvation Army for $400; and various local charities at $500.

Contributions are asked to be voluntarily made, and for the convenience of the public a committee, composed of Rev. H. E. Oostendorp and Mrs. L. Kieft, will have charge of a booth at the local post office on these three days, where the contributions will be received. On Saturday evening your contributions will be received at the office of the Gas Company.

Mrs. Bernard Visschers and daughter, Deloras Jean, are visiting relatives in Madison, Wis.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. R. Van Zwailenburg, one of the best stock-raisers of Drenthe, Mich., sold five two-year-old oxen, weighing 4,645 pounds, also a cow, weighing 1,215 pounds live weight. For the six animals he received the handsome sum of $199.90. They were taken to the Grand Rapids market. This is another illustration that to raise good beaves pays well.

No particular interesting news from the Transvaal, seat of war between the Boers and the English. A big battle seems to be imminent.

From 1848 to Jan. 1, 1881, California turned out in gold and silver, $2,139,258,000.

About two o'clock on Sunday afternoon, the dwelling house of Mr. G. J. Koers, at Graafschap, Mich., was burned down. Except the beds and bedding, all the contents were destroyed. There was no insurance.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. G. J. Kollen, president of Hope College, received from the students of Hope a beautiful gold medal with diamond setting. The reverse side of the medal bears the following inscription: "To President Kollen, by his students of 1906." The presentation was made by John C. Hoekje of the Junior class.

In what may be well termed Hope College's best oratorical contest, held in Winant's Chapel last Friday evening, A. Judson Kolyn of the Senior class, whose home is in Grand Rapids, won first place, John Douma of the same class, won second and Miss Mae L. Brusse, Junior class, won third place.

Following were the contestants and their subjects:

Bernard Rotschaefer, senior, on "Christianity and the Individual," Judson Kolyn, senior, "The Great Peacemaker."

WELLS TO BE SUNK IN ALLEGAN'S PARK

Allegans' water supply is to be greatly augmented by new wells sunk in Pingree park. Three 6-inch pipes deliver 1,600 gallons per minute into a reservoir 12 feet in diameter by 8 feet in depth. Water from the reservoir will be boosted into the water mains by a 750-gallon pump, yet to be installed. The new wells are designed as an auxiliary supply in the heavy use of water for sprinkling in the summer, when it has been necessary to impose restrictions in the past.

RETURN OF WIDE BEACHES AT HOLLAND RESORT

Owners of resort property on the Lake Michigan front at the Holland resorts are pleased over the return of wide beaches, due to lower lake levels. The unusual high water stage in past seasons undermined the hills in many sections, causing the bluffs to crumble and threatening destruction of summer homes. Beaches in some spots were obliterated and many trees toppled into the lake. In some instances cottages were moved back to insure their safety. The obliterated beaches now have been restored to a width of between 50 and 100 feet.

Lake Michigan holds very little ice. The channel in Holland harbor is open and the ice in Black Lake has been termed unsafe and in some places is gone. An early resumption of navigation is anticipated.

Superintendent E. E. Fell, Principals J. J. Riemersma and Miss Minnie K. Smith, Miss Lavina Cappon and Miss Hawkes attended the annual meeting of the National Education association held in Detroit. Mrs. Maybelle McKervey of Detroit is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Hofstee, West Fourteenth street.

Edgar Landwehr and Adrian Van Putten are spending a ten-day vacation in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

John C. Hoekje, superintendent of the Grand Haven schools, is attending the national convention of superintendents of schools in Detroit this week.

Ben Van Loo and Ben Van Eenennaam of Zeeland have purchased two light six Fleetwood Paiges from "Dad" Karsten of Zeeland.

A kitchen shower was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Ter Vree in honor of Miss Johanna Volker. Many useful gifts were received and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Topp, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. A. Kleis, Mrs. T. Ter Vree, Mrs. G. Kampen, Mrs. Bontekoe, Mrs. H. Kampen and Mrs. Steggerda.

Henry Van Munster, Alpina Rd., died at the age of forty-two years, after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia. Funeral was held in the Fourth Reformed church, Rev. Broekstra officiating.

About fifty geese were seen flying north over Holland, Tuesday. Contractor Smeenge saw one flock.

ANNUAL DAY OF PRAYER FOR CROPS IS MARCH 11

—Wednesday, March 11, has been set as the date for the annual day of prayer for crops by the Christian Reformed Church in America, according to the official call by Rev. Henry Beets, stated clerk of the denomination's Synod.

Rev. Thomas E. Welmers of Hope college has issued a similar call to Reformed churches connected with the Particular Synod of Chicago.

RELEASES BOY ARRESTED AFTER LAMONT FATALITY

Sheriff Cornelius Steketee Thursday released Joseph Rypma, 15, of Coopersville, who had been held at Grand Haven since Monday afternoon in connection with the death of Miss Mary VanderSijgel, 27, who was killed Sunday night by a hit-and-run driver a mile west of Lamont. The sheriff said he had found no evidence to justify holding the boy longer.

HOLLAND MAY HAVE TO MAKE ICE FOR SAUGATUCK

Prospects for an ice harvest in Douglas and Saugatuck are very slim. The channel of the Kalamazoo river at these places is open and much of Kalamazoo lake is open. The ice in the bayous is gone in many places. Our neighboring towns may have to come to Holland for artificial ice the coming summer unless there is a "big freeze" before long. The local ice companies have discontinued harvesting from Black Lake and now all ice is made by machine and ice houses are a thing of the past here. Ice harvesting was quite an event on Black Lake no so long ago.

A meeting of the Holland Merchants' association will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 in the city hall. C. Vander Meulen will be the speaker.

Judge Miles Sends Local Man To County Jail

HOLLAND JURY WOMAN DE-
CIDEDS AGAINST GERRIT
MOOLENGRAFF

Moolengraf was Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapons;
Jury Dismissed Wednesday

The conviction of Gerrit Moolengraf of Holland, charged with carrying concealed weapons, marked the first case of John R. Dethmers, newly-seated prosecuting attorney and the only case on the criminal calendar of the February term of the Ottawa county circuit court.

The case was drawn to some length following a short examination, by the failure of the jury to reach a decision. The case was debated by the jury from 2:15 p. m. Tuesday until 5:00 p. m. when Judge Fred T. Miles adjourned the body to meet Wednesday morning at 9 a. m. Another hour was necessary before the guilty verdict was announced.

Moolengraf testified to carrying a concealed weapon on Feb. 1 when seeking the cause of a disturbance near his residence. He accidentally shot off the gun and the bullet is said to have glanced off and hit the heel of a bystander. The gun was registered but Moolengraf admitted he did not have a permit.

The case was peculiar in that there was but one witness, the defendant, and only three questions were asked by the prosecutor in the cross examination. Arguments and objections between the opposing attorneys Carl Hoffman and Dethmers furnished the chief interest for a courtroom filled with people many from Holland, where the case has attracted considerable interest.

Moolengraf, who claimed he did not know he was violating the law when he carried a pistol and shot it while trying to protect a business played as a watchman, must spend 30 days in the county jail, pay a fine of $25 and costs of $10, in default of which the jail sentence is extended to 60 days. The sentence will begin March 2, declared Judge Fred T. Miles, to give the man an opportunity of attending to some matters of business.

There was one woman on the jury, Mrs. Hattie Hoeland of Holland.

The case of VersalCornel charged with statutory rape in Justice C. E. Burr's court, was dismissed following several examination dates in which the plaintiff failed to produce sufficient evidence.

The case of the Wright Milling Co., of Grand Rapids vs. Peter Koiman of Grand Haven was settled by the attorneys out of court. The case against Patrick Glynn, deceased, to set aside a will, was dismissed as there was no appearance on the opposing side.

Belle Tollefson, Grand Haven, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law; Jack Zwiers of Holland pleaded guilty to tapping a gas main in that city; William Johnson of Holland, pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of an automobile. Other cases to come up are the Grand View Gardens, Zeeland vs. Holland Memorial; Scott vs. Bontekoe; Hale vs. McLean; Brimmons vs. Dan Poppe; Weststrate vs. Maatman; Flikkema vs. Kraker; Scholte vs. Weed.

Man Who Made Model of Solomon's Temple Dies

An Ottawa county man who was living alone in a little cottage in Perryburg died a few weeks ago and took her first two years of color. There is nothing unusual about that but there is about this man's art as a wood craftsman. The man was James Stover who learned his wood carving in the old days in a Grand Rapids furniture shop when hand carving was the only method available through which to embellish furniture.

Being of an ingenious nature as well as a skilled craftsman, Stover designed a replica of King Solomon's Temple which had 300 moving figures in it. This was to have been shown at the World's Fair in 1893 at Chicago. Trouble with his associates later led to its being abandoned, but it was one of the "big disappointments" of the man's life. It is not known where the mechanism is now.

HOLLAND TO FORM SEA SCOUT CREWS

Plans are being sponsored for the organization of one or more Sea Scout crews of boys from 15 to 18 years of age at a meeting called for Wednesday evening in Froebel school. Prof. E. Paul McLean of Hope college, C. L. Beach, W. L. Eaton and Rex Chapman will be present to explain details of organization.

A Sea Scout day will be observed May 2 with various contests in Kollen Memorial park at which Sea Scouts from other councils will be present.

PROF. LAMPEN MAKES STAR GAZERS

Prof. Albert Lampen of Hope College has been engaged to lecture on the stars at Bethany Reformed church, Muskegon. Mr. Leonard Riedyk of that city witnessed this exhibition at Holland sometime ago and immediately church an open day. J. Oliver Lampen, the son, will be in charge of the star picture slides. Mr. Lampen and his constellation of stars has made many in Holland become "star-gazers," including members of the Exchange, Lions and Rotary Clubs. The Rotarians are especially well groomed for a whirl through the heavens, it is said.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Hoogstraaten, 166 West Ninth St., Tuesday a daughter. The father of Mr. Hoogstraaten, who has just returned from a three months' visit to his old home in the Netherlands, had just returned by boat in time to congratulate his children on the new arrival.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE LITTLE TOWN OF GLENN?

The little village of Glenn — no, it isn't even a village — but it is located between Douglas and Ganges of U.S. 31. A beautiful place, but this winter there seems to be something wrong with it, for practically the entire population is falling down and is breaking some part of their anatomy. They say there is too much ice in Glenn, anyway the record for the last two weeks runs like this:—

Mrs. Ira Bushnell fell and is suffering from a fractured skull. Mrs. Wolfgang fell the same day and has two broken ribs. Mrs. Ed Jennings sustained a broken hip, Mrs. Dick suffered a broken arm, Mrs. Ralph Shumway, Jr., also has a broken arm. Mrs. Kortkamp, mother-in-law of a pastor, broke her hip during Christmas week, and is now out on crutches.

GEORGE GETZ, SR. AND JR., OFF FOR PANAMA

George Getz, Sr. and Jr., left Holland early in the week for a six weeks' ocean voyage, leaving New York for Havana, Cuba. From Cuba they will sail to Hayti, then to and through the Panama Canal where the Atlantic and the Pacific fleets are staging a sham battle. They will finally land in San Francisco, go on a sight-seeing trip through California, returning about April 1st.

ZERO HOUR FOR AUTO LICENSES IS SATURDAY

Even though a two months' extension had been given, there is still several in lower Ottawa County who have been lagging in securing their license plates and 1930 license plates on automobiles in this city are quite common but will not be after Saturday of this week. The last day of grace is Saturday and until the Holland City State bank closes Saturday night where the bureau is located.

Mr. Al Joldersma, in charge states that he has no instruction to extend the time as the News goes to press. If such an extension is contemplated at the eleventh hour, we do not know about it.

Chief Van Ry states that he will make no extension unless requested by Secretary of State. You may be sure that the local police will be watchful next Monday.

From Holland a trifle over 6,500 license plates have been sold. The supply on hand is 9,000 but that is supposed to carry over for all stragglers and for any new cars that may be sold during the coming year.

GIRLS SHORT, HOLLAND CHRISTIAN HIGHS FOR- FEIT GAME AT ZEELAND

Zeeland Record: — Due to a misfortune, the Holland Christian High School girls' team was forced to forfeit to the Zeeland sextette in the game played on the local floor two weeks ago. Coach Mayskens of Holland Christian had failed to bring a sufficient number of girls along, and when two were lost by fouls he had only four girls left on the floor.

In the first half, however, when both teams had their full quota of six players, the score stood at 11-11, and it looked like a close fight to the finish. After three and one-half minutes of playing with four girls, Coach Mayskens found it too great a strain on his girls and was forced to call it a forfeit.

It is no feather in our hat that this was a game to our credit, but the Zeeland girls showed a great deal of sportsmanship in the locker room after the game which is worth more than victory.

MORE FREE INCOME TAX RETURNS

The Holland City State bank officials announce that their institution has engaged the services of Mr. Wheeler of the prominent accounting firm of Lawrence Scudler & Co. and he will be at the local bank beginning today, Friday and also on Friday, March 6 and 13 in order to render assistance in preparing income tax returns. These services are given without charge.

ORATORICAL CONTEST HELD AT HOLLAND HIGH SCHOOL

An oratorical contest was held at Holland High school Thursday afternoon to determine who will represent Holland High school at the third annual oratorical contest in religious education conducted by the Ottawa County Sunday School association was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the high school.

The topic under discussion was the "Value of the Bible in the Development of Christian Character."

Speakers were Miss Marjorie Vanden Berge, Miss Barbara Evans, Miss Anna Buursma, Miss Helen Goebink, Ralph Martinus and Herman Van Ark.

Donald Voorhorst was chairman at the affair.

Judges were Rev. James M. Martin, Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp and Mrs. V. V. Hartman. Miss Hanna G. Hoekje, Bible teacher, was in charge of the divisional contest.

Winner of first place was to be awarded $10. Second prize was $5. The winner will be entered in the county contest which will be held March 17 at the First Reformed church here. Prof. Egbert Winger, of Hope College, is in charge of the county contest.

SUPERINTENDENT OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS IS IMPROVING

Mr. Poy Champion, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, who was stricken Monday night while downtown and was taken home by friends and Mrs. Champion, who was with him, is very much improved. It is expected that he will be out again in the course of a week barring any set-backs.

Van Duren's Orchestra will play for the Albion College Spring party to be given in March.

Making Living Harder

In one of his recent copyrighted articles, Calvin Coolidge said: "What a refreshing spectacle it would be if a little band of office-holders would announce they were ready to risk defeat by resisting . . . unsound proposals. The whole country would rally to their support."

Every candidate seeking office shouts to the high heavens that he is in favor of tax economy and efficiency in government. How many of these candidates, after they have been elected, have any record of even attempting to carry out their pre-election promises? There seems to be some charm about office-holding which converts an otherwise prudent business man into a wastrel when it comes to the distribution of tax-payers' funds. Increasing tax burdens are the curse of this nation.

State legislators and members of Congress are all figuring new ways to get more taxes from an already over-taxed people. When business has found it necessary to use every known method of efficiency and economy and has been steadily reducing the prices of its products to the public, tax spenders go merrily on demanding more money from the people to pay for pet political schemes which, once established, demand still more money to pay for more public officials to operate them.

The advice of Calvin Coolidge to the public and to public servants is indeed timely and present or prospective office-holders can afford to heed the warning that the people and business wish less taxation and less legislation which discourages industry and makes it harder for a tax-weary and legislation-weary people to get jobs and earn a living.

Despite High Finance
Ladies Hear About Russia
Two Engineers
Beautiful Women

Los Angeles.—In spite of objections from highest financial authority, including Secretary Mellon, the senate and house approves overwhelmingly the bill to let veterans borrow one-half the value of their war certificates. If they borrow one-half, Uncle Sam will have to pay out more than $1,500,000,000, and high finance says that will be ruinous.

As a rule, "big money," which means ability, should receive respectful attention, as does the captain of a ship. But high finance is sometimes mistaken. Big bankers are the financial reserve system would ruin the country, because it kept a few men from controlling all the money. They were wrong. Without the federal reserve this country would have had a black panic long ago. They may be wrong in their idea that handing a billion dollars to those that need it, and earned it, will ruin us now.

American lady patriots listening here for three hours are assured that Russia threatens our institutions, and this land is practically the last refuge of good government, as opposed to Red Russian ideas. Doctor Patmore of California went to Russia, "foiled the secret police," went just wherever he pleased, and saw things behind the scenes that Americans less intelligent never see." He saw young girls standing in bread lines "with babies born illegitimately under this Soviet system." He saw "wild children, offspring of free love, sanctioned by the Soviet system, roaming around until they were killed as pests by villagers and their bodies buried."

In his introduction to the writings of George Washington prepared for next year's two hundredth anniversary, President Hoover says Washington's engineering ability has never been fully appreciated.

Washington's methods were surprisingly modern.

He reclaimed the Dismal swamp in Virginia, was adviser and engineer on the Potomac and James River canal and first to advise a combined highway and waterway from the Atlantic coast to the Ohio river.

The President describes his predecessor as "the most potent human intellectual force in the ornament of American intellect."

George Washington was the first engineer to occupy the White House. President Hoover is the second.

Hermosillo, Capital of Sonora, Mex.—The Indian word hermosillo means "little beauty," and his excellency, Francisco Elias, governor of this state, says it applies to the city and to each woman in it. On the streets, in stores, or at work in government offices, you see beautiful young girls. There is not a bobbed head or a shaved neck among them. Their dark hair falls naturally curly, loose on their shoulders and necks. Sometimes fastened with a ribbon. Their eyelids are lowered demurely, but when a young rancher from California asks one of them a question and she raises her eyes, his carefully prepared Spanish words are driven from his mind.

This is a beautiful old city, one of the most important and progressive in Mexico. The soil is so fertile that even with dry-farming of wheat it yields ninety bushels of crop for one bushel of sown seed. A soil expert sent by the British government to seek land for corn growing reported that the area west of Hermosillo has the fertility of the Nile valley.

The state and federal governments concentrate on three things—education of children, building good roads, finding employment for the idle—while waiting for the new schools. Governor Elias leases the biggest private houses available, turning them into schools. Six hundred children go to school in one such building. 300 in another. Americans discuss an international highway from Canada, through Mexico to the Panama canal, and perhaps on to Tierra del Fuego. That is pleasant talk. But in the meanwhile Governor Elias has gigantic machines scattered between Hermosillo and Nogales, 175 miles and will have that road finished in a year or less. If he can get more modern road machinery. Giant tractors and grading machines could be seen at work on the new highway south recently, hundreds of men with stump pullers and blasting material working ahead of the road machinery.

All that equipment is bought in the United States. Mexico is a good customer and a good friend of this country.

Doctor McGeehee, chemist at Emory university, Atlanta, says copper and iron in milk will correct anemic conditions because those two metals, "taken in metalized milk, regenerate hemoglobin."

For a long time doctors have known that red blood corpuscles, consisting chiefly of iron, contain also a trace of copper.

This was long thought to be more or less accidental and unimportant. Now it is known to be necessary. Every plumber can tell the doctors what active results ensue when you put copper and iron together, as in attaching brass pipes to an iron furnace.

Young Fish Poacher
Angles in Fish Hatchery

For a fish hatchery overseer to catch someone in the act of trying to catch one of the institution's prize exhibition trout from a hatchery pond is enough provocation for anger, but for the poacher to calmly ask the overseer to help him "land the big one," would be a little beyond human endurance.

Claud Lydell, overseer of the Lydell Hatchery at Crockston Park, was walking around the grounds when he saw unwarranted spilling in the pond in which he retained exhibition fish. Circling around the edge of the pond Lydell saw a long line extending into the water. At one end was a huge, splashing fish. At the other end and near a clump of bushes was a boy.

"Hey," the boy called to Lydell, "will you help me land him?" He's a whopper."

IRRIGATION STARTED IN ALLEGAN COUNTY FOR BERRY PATCHES

The practicability of pumping water for irrigation of strawberries will this season be tested by George E. Bale. He has secured some acreage just south of Hutchins lake, near Pennville and plans to put in a pumping station at the lake. It is thought that a cheaply constructed dam on the Mann creek could furnish irrigation for a considerable acreage along its banks, specially for cranberries, the soil being of an acid character.

WHEN A QUEEN DIES

If the queen in a colony of bees dies in the winter or early spring, as sometimes happens, a frame or two of brood may be added to the queenless colony, not only to increase its strength but to provide young brood from which the bees can rear a queen. Unless the colony is quite strong, any queen it may rear probably will not be of much value in building up the colony for the honeyflow. It is better to unite a weak, queenless colony with another that is queen-right, caging the queen in the hive a day or two to prevent her being killed. Both colonies should be smoked vigorously while being united; or the weak, queenless colony may be set on top of the queen-right one with a sheet of newspaper between, which the bees will soon eat away, uniting themselves gradually. Beekeepers in the North often buy queens from southern breeders in early spring. This is better than having the queenless colony rear one, as it is important that much brood be reared at this season.

HOLLAND TEACHER HEARS
THAT YOUNG FOLKS ARE NOT AS BAD AS PICTURED

The annual South Ottawa Teachers Institute, an institution of long standing, held sessions in Holland High School auditorium Friday morning and afternoon, and was attended by a large number of teachers from Holland and Zeeland and lower Ottawa county rural schools. It was a holiday for the pupils but teachers on the other hand were supposed to attend sessions and at least 300 did.

A speaker who attracted special attention was Dr. William G. Spencer, president of Hillsdale College. Dr. Spencer handled his subject without gloves and a new light was thrown upon "flaming youth."

Ottawa County School Commissioner, Gerrit Groenewoud of Holland was in charge of the deliberations and called upon Superintendent E. E. Fell to introduce the president of Hillsdale. Dr. Spencer dealt with the well worn subject, "Modern Youth," but handled his ideas with such originality and intimate association with youth, that he brought many new ideas and suggestions to those who daily are called upon to meet the problems of modern life and youth.

Dr. Spencer believes that inherent youth is no different today than it has ever been but he does recognize that adults are not always capable of understanding the youth's reaction to the mechanical age today. He agrees there are serious problems today, but is certain they never will be arrived at satisfactorily by decrying the youth and their actions.

Dr. Spencer cited many examples of the same conditions which existed 200 years ago and read excerpts showing the youth of that day, "your and my great grandmothers," as going to everlasting perdition, because of their seeming frivolities.

Commercial greed is a reason for some of the cry against youth. When a corset man sees thousands of dollars slipping away from his business because girls will no longer be bound by the stays and warped styles of other days, he is very apt to say youth is slipping down a wrong path. So it is with the hosiery men, who believed the silk stocking age pointed to destruction of youthful morals, as he saw his cotton stocking left on the shelf for the more attractive wares. And thus each new change has been met with this same old cry. But youth has managed to climb out and each new generation soon becomes the adult age of the next.

In the afternoon president Spencer spoke on the contributions of higher educational institutions to the development of the nation. He showed the tremendous growth of college and high school training, although the last is comparatively new for in 1860, he said, there were only 40 free high schools in this country.

The secondary schools were developed largely through Horace Mann, he said. He traced the influence of education in the various crises of the political history of the country. He showed the effect upon the tremendous immigration there were 1,540,570 admitted to the United States. He pointed out the effects of education in the mechanical age of today, and cited the growth of technical schools, forestry schools, agricultural schools as examples with the modern trend.

He stressed the shift of population from rural to urban and the great impetus given to Junior High Schools and the urban universities that are springing up over the country.

In conclusion he urged the teachers to keep before the students the ideal of continuing education in some of the various branches of education to which he had referred and showed the ease with which students now could gain this training against the hardships of former days.

Another address given was by Dr. Ernest Burnham from Western State Teachers' College. Mr. Burnham's discourse dealt largely with a review of his personal experiences covering a period of 50 years as an educator. The speaker was in a reminiscent turn of mind and his resume on education way back and that of present day methods were interesting indeed and such a difference!

The speaker was introduced by Prof. Egbert Winter of Hope College.

The program for the morning was as follows:

Indian State

WHILE stationed in Lahore, in the Punjab, I journeyed to a famous Indian state to act as best man to the British resident, an official who acts as the diplomatic link between the government of India and the ruler of the state.

I shall never forget the unexpected ceremony with which I was received as I alighted from the train on my arrival. Three elephants with gorgeous trappings faced the station entrance as I emerged, and with one accord made a most profound bow in my direction. I instinctively returned their salutation, hardly noticing, I regret to say, my friend's secretary or a representative of the maharaja, who were standing on one side ready to greet me. Mounted on these imposing steeds, we rode in state to the guest house, greeted on all sides by signs of the traditional respect which is accorded British officials and officers in India.

The guest house proved to be a miniature palace, luxuriously furnished and equipped with every modern convenience. I was given a room which the resident Indian caretaker informed me with awe was once occupied by Lord Kitchener, commander in chief in India at the same time as Lord Curzon was viceroy.

I spent four fascinating days in this Indian state and witnessed my friend's marriage amidst a display of much oriental pomp and ceremony.

One of the maharaja's hobbies was that of collecting automobiles. He himself showed me with the enthusiasm and pride of a boy the most elaborate and beautiful, equipped garage I have ever seen, in which were displayed 78 automobiles of every make and description, products of the leading manufacturers throughout the world.

I also experienced a day's wild boar hunting from an elephant. A party of ten took part in the sport. One sits on a howdah or chair made to fit the elephant's back, with a rest in front and a box to hold his rifle ammunition. An attendant or sun bearer sits on a seat behind the mahout or driver reclines on the elephant's neck with his legs dangling behind the creature's big ears, and holding the angus or driving iron with which he guides the elephant.

The Sweet Potato

THE sweet potato is one of the most widely dispersed of vegetables, being raised for food in places as far separated as Japan and Virginia, in China, and the islands of the South seas, and in South America and the southern United States.

Novels tell of sweet potatoes growing wild in the South sea islands, but there is no flimsy scientific evidence that they grew there in an original wild state, rather than escaping from cultivation to find friendly climate and soil in the fields and woods.

Many botanists have set the sweet potato down as a plant of American origin, due, in part, to the fact that of 15 varieties of the genus batatas, of which it is a member, 11 are found in America alone, while the other four are found both in America and in the Old world.

The geographer, Humboldt, quoted another authority as saying that Christopher Columbus, when he sailed for the first time before Queen Isabella, offered her sweet potatoes among the fruits and products of the New world which he brought back with him. Oviedo, who wrote in the sixteenth century, had seen the sweet potato cultivated by the natives of Santo Domingo and had himself introduced it into cultivation at Avila, Spain. Early writers said also that it was from Spanish America that the sweet potato was taken to Manila and other eastern islands, whence it spread into the Malay archipelago and the South seas.

It is also an argument on the side of those who see an American origin for this useful plant that no Greek, Roman or Arab name for it has come down to us from ancient history.

But there are also potent arguments that it was known long ago in the Orient. Breitschneider, the German scientist, discovered references to it in a book published in China as long ago as the Second or Third century of the Christian era. And there is about as much authority for saying that it was a native of Tahiti and other South sea regions as for the claim that it was introduced there by the Spanish.

The old argument that the plant would have been spread throughout the civilized world much sooner than it was, had it been a native of Asia, gives added support to the claim for American origin, as does the fact that its principal spread in Asia and Europe has come since the discovery of America.

As yet the true sweet potato has not been found in an undoubted wild state on the American continent. Yet its cultivation in Virginia and the southern part of North America began very soon after that region began trading with South and Central America.

Chatter and the traffic light brought the bus and the limousine to a standstill side by side. At eyes from the bus were directed at the very swanky car, with its very correctly uniformed negro chauffeur and at the beautifully dressed woman, obviously conscious of the luxury of her surroundings, who was seated in the car.

But luck was not with the lady, for, just before the light changed, a terrible voice from the bus, a very distinct young treble voice, said, "Mother, is that lady in the big car mad at her husband? Why don't she sit in front with him?"—New York Sun.

Want Folks to Eat an Apple Each Day is Plan

APPLE GROWERS TURN TO ADS TO RESTORE FRUIT TO FAVOR

Michigan fruit growers are to have a part in a movement to check the decline in the consumption of apples. Dr. H. E. Barnard, of Indianapolis, chairman of President Hoover's National Child Welfare Committee and director of the National Apple Institute, announced here this week following a conference with Dr. V. R. Gardner, head of the horticulture department at Michigan State College.

Dr. Barnard laid before Dr. Gardner and other specialists a tentative draft of the institute's program to "put the luscious apple back on the tables of American homes, back in the lunch boxes and in the pockets of school children."

The institute proposed to inaugurate a national advertising campaign to popularize the "king of fruits" and make the public apple-minded.

"It is time apple growers and shippers were doing something to promote the sale and consumption of their fruit," explained Dr. Barnard. "Apples are being pushed out of the tables by other highly advertised fruits. Growers of other fruits are telling mothers their children will be bow-legged and knock-kneed if they do not eat oranges and grapefruit. Consumers are being told little or nothing about the apple, the king of fruits. No one is telling them to eat an apple a day to keep the doctor away. No one seems to be interested in promoting the sale of our fruit."

"Is it any wonder that the per capita consumption of apples in the United States has fallen from 107 pounds in 1899 to 41 pounds in 1927, the last year for which the Department of Commerce has compiled statistics. While the unadorned apple has been going begging, the consumption of the advertised orange and grapefruit has steadily increased. The per capita consumption of the orange has risen from seven pounds in 1899 to 21 pounds in 1926 while the advertised grapefruit has climbed from less than one pound per capita to almost six pounds."

Dr. Barnard explained the National Apple Institute is being organized on much the same plan as the National Honey Institute and National Pie Bakers Institute have operated in recent years. Dr. Barnard directed both of these organizations.

Fruit growers believe that the saying "An Apple a Day, Keeps the Doctor Away" still holds good and this can be impressed upon the mind of the people thru the right kind of advertising campaign.

Grand Rapids Catholic Central scored a 27 to 16 victory over Holland, taking the lead in the second quarter and holding it until the finish. The victors played brilliantly, romping through the local defense time and again for field goals.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 4 all and then Catholic stepped out in the second quarter to obtain a lead of 16 to 6 before the half ended. The Blue and White eagles continued at their fast pace in the third quarter and held a 23 to 11 advantage when it ended.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for March 1 JESUS SENDING FORTH MISSIONARIES

GOLDEN TEXT—Therefore said he unto them, the harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:1-22. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Helpers. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Trying Out His Helpers. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helpers of Jesus. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Missionary Task.

The sending forth of the seventy was for a special time and purpose. The missionary enterprise today has much in common with that of that day, but there are certain essential differences which should be recognized.

1. The Seventy Sent Forth (vv. 1 and 2).

1. Appointed by the Lord (v. 1). They went forth not merely because of an inner urge but because of personal and direct appointment. Only those should go forth as missionaries who are appointed by the Lord.

2. Sent two by two (v. 1). The purpose of this was that they might mutually help, counsel, and support each other.

3. The reason for their appointment (v. 2). It was the greatness of the harvest and the fewness of the laborers. The enormous task of missions is the supreme challenge of the missionary.

4. The force back of missions (v. 2). The disciples were instructed to pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers. Prayer indited by the Holy Spirit has been back of every missionary enterprise.

II. The Seventy Instructed (vv. 3-10).

1. As to the source of their commission (v. 3). "I send you." Everything depends upon the authority of the commission. No missionary should go forth without the consciousness of being sent by the Lord.

2. As to the dangers confronting them (v. 3). Missionaries thrust forth by the Lord will be exposed to deadly peril. They will be as lambs surrounded by hungry wolves.

3. As to their support (v. 4). Being sent forth by the Lord, they were to look to him to provide for their need.

4. As to the speed of their mission (v. 4). So urgent was the need of the speedy evangelization of the Jewish territory that the distraction of social intercourse were to be omitted.

5. As to behavior in homes where received (vv. 5, 6).

a. Offer the peace of the gospel (vv. 5, 6). This is to be done regardless as to whether it will be received or not. There is a reflex blessing in preaching the gospel.

b. Do not shift quarters (vv. 7, 8). Missionaries should remain in the home where they have been received, content with what is given them. They should not demand better food and more comfortable quarters than are commonly provided.

c. Heal the sick (v. 9). These disciples were given power to heal the sick. The ministers of Christ should seek to give relief to those in distress and use every opportunity to proclaim the gospel message.

6. The awful fate of those who reject Christ's message (vv. 10, 11). Their case is more hopeless than that of Sodom. Those who reject Christ's message will reject Christ and reject the Heavenly Father who sent him.

III. The Return of the Seventy (vv. 17-24).

1. Their report (v. 17). They were highly excited. They found that they could not only heal the sick, but cast out demons also. It is easy even in Christian service to be spoiled by our successes.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 18-24). (a) He told them that it was no surprise to him (vv. 18 and 19). With prophetic eye, he saw their success as indicating that time when the world would be thrown (John 12:31). By virtue of his mighty triumph over Satan, he assures them that they need have no fear of what should befall them. (b) Real cause for rejoicing (v. 20). He promptly rebuked them, telling them that their chief joy should be because of their heavenly relation, not because of these "miraculous gifts." (c) Jesus' exhortation (vv. 21, 22). The consciousness that soon the victory would be won because God had committed all things unto him and that only as men received him could they know the Father caused him to rejoice in what was being accomplished. (d) Congratulates the disciples (vv. 23, 24). He assured them that they were sharing privileges which had been denied to many of the prophets and kings.

It has been conclusively shown that Bob-White quail are rendered practically immune from the ravages of predators when they are well fed on corn. The increased vitality enables the quail to escape attack. One example shows that of 106 quail fed corn in Michigan last winter, 103 came through the desperate season in fine condition; one of the lost birds was known to have been taken by an owl; the fate of the other two was unknown.

Charles Wynne of Allegan was arrested by Undersheriff Charles Hitchcock while in the act of taking gasoline from a tank owned by the Cook Oil Co. near the New York Central depot. Arraigned before Justice Fidos E. Fish Thursday, he pleaded guilty and a fine and costs of $14.15 were imposed. Unable to pay he was remanded to 30 days in jail.

ZEELAND PAPER IS HAPPY OVER DETHMERS' FIRST WINNING

Zeeland Record: — Prosecutor John R. Dethmers of Zeeland was wearing his best smile Wednesday afternoon while walking Zeeland's streets, and upon investigation we found the cause to have been winning his first criminal case as prosecutor, in circuit court Monday. His opposing lawyer for the defense was Attorney Carl Hoffman, John's opponent at the primaries last summer.

The case was the People vs. Gerit Molegraaf of Holland and the charge was carrying concealed weapons. The case was the outgrowth of a little fracas Molegraaf got into several weeks ago when he attempted to drive a bunch of young fellows from crowding in front of a place of business where he was employed. Because the gang did not obey his commands he whipped out a gun and fired it aiming at the sidewalk near himself. The bullet glanced off the concrete walk, striking one bystander on the heel of his shoe before speeding away. The jury was out several hours before finding the respondent guilty.

TWO $50,000 ARTIFICIAL ICE PLANTS TO BE BUILT AT GRAND HAVEN

Two artificial ice plants will be built within a few weeks to serve the communities of Grand Haven, Spring Lake and environs, according to plans of the ice men, Tony Verplank of the Spring Lake Ice & Coal Co. and Carl Lindgren, of the Natural Ice Co. The estimated cost of each one is near $50,000.

The dealers have arrived at this solution of the ice situation which has developed this year through crop failure. It seems certain there will be no appreciable quantity of ice, during the winter of 1931.

Mr. Verplank already has plans and he expects to turn the first shovel of dirt next Monday. The plant will be erected on his property adjacent to the gas station and coal yards. It will be 40 by 80 feet, one story, of brick and concrete construction with a capacity of between 25 and 35 tons per day.

Mr. Lindgren, who has not arrived as definitely in his plans, said today that he would build a plant about the same size, probably on property adjacent to his office on Seventh Street, Grand Haven.

The growing use of artificial ice even in localities where dame nature can be relied upon is another factor in determining the ice dealers to meet the situation this year.

Holland has had its artificial ice plants for a number of years.

Word has been received that Rev. Martin Bruins of Milwaukee, Wis., died in a tragic manner in that city. Death was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning. He had been working on his motor in the garage and did not notice it when the wind blew the door shut. Firemen tried for two hours to resuscitate him without success. Rev. Bruins was graduated from Hope college in 1895.

CROOKED DRIVER ESCAPES WHEN LOCAL OFFICER CALLS UP COUNTY SHERIFF

Officer Fred Bosma of Zeeland barely missed making another clean arrest on last week Saturday night but his man got away in the fracas, deserting a lot of plunder he had gathered and was presumably lugging to Chicago.

Mr. Bosma was notified that a car had been wrecked on the Zeeland-Holland road near "Boone's Bridge" containing a large amount of clothing and other goods. When he arrived on the scene he found that the driver had met in a head-on collision with Quirinus De Vries wrecking the car very badly, also severely damaging the car of Mr. De Vries. Evidently he had made the turn, cutting in on the opposite lane too closely. He first came in contact with the rear fender of another car which caused him to swerve directly in front of the De Vries car approaching.

The driver of the wrecked car had already summoned a wrecking crew from the Ford garage in Holland who was working when Bosma arrived, but refused to take the wreck to Zeeland, towing it to Holland.

The man seemed innocent to all appearances, answering Bosma's questioning politely and readily and the fact that the goods were all old or partly worn, some of them hardly worth taking, indicated he was on the square. He stuck by the wreck as though he meant to reclaim it, until Bosma called the sheriff's office when he suddenly disappeared from the garage and could not be located.

The car had been stolen from Frank Stolte of Lansing, whose home had also been looted. The loot is made up of a jewel box filled with necklaces, pins and rings, a carpet sweeper, twelve dresses and a number of overcoats, rugs, neck furs and the like. The items were held by Frank Van Ry, chief of police.

Holland and Grand Haven officers were soon on the job, Sunday, when the car in question, containing a quantity of clothing, was thought might be a lead to information regarding the robberies of the Style Shop at Grand Haven and the Rose Cloak Shop at Holland, pulled off last week.

The articles bore no resemblance to any of the merchandise stolen from the Grand Haven or Holland shops. It is thought by the officers that the driver was a "fence" and was taking the articles to Chicago for disposition.

The man is described as being about 40 years old, short and heavy set. He wore a grey hat.

CITY ASSESSOR

Every citizen of Holland knows that many if not most of the improvements that have placed this city in a position of prominence in Michigan, were counseled and initiated during his administration of city affairs.

He is eminently qualified to fill this office with credit and will ably represent Holland and Ottawa County on the Board of Supervisors.

It is a privilege to be able to go to the polls on Monday, March 3rd, and cast your ballot for E. P. Stephan as your city assessor.

You are no doubt mindful that . . .

He was instrumental in building our Baseball Park.

He made possible the Boulevard Lighting System.

He is the father of our paved street system.

He made Holland's new Armory a fact.

He routed the Hobo Graft system thus saving the county thousands.

He fostered the eight hour day in our Electric Light plant, supplanting the twelve hour day in vogue.

He settled the vexing Holland Gas problem, through which the fifth and sixth wards were enabled to secure gas.

He would be an able representative from Holland on the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors.

Tells of Trip From Holland to Dark Africa

MISS BREEN, MISSIONARY, SAW MANY THINGS OF INTEREST IN MAKING JOURNEY

Missionary in Africa

Wukari, Nigeria, Africa. It is 8:20 (quite late) raining outside so Johanna and I are sitting at the dining room table with a lamp and lantern for light. We have plenty of other company, for there are moths, mosquitoes galore, three lizards crawling on the wall and once in awhile a bat flies around. Our compound is just on the outskirts of the native town. It is a place of 3,000 inhabitants, a real native town. We walked through it several times, all round mud huts with grass roofs, nothing in sight but mats and pots. The town is like a Chinese puzzle with all its winding paths. The natives sit outside, mostly JUST SIT. But some are spinning, spreading out farm produce and so forth. Then there is the native market the widest street. It's one big mass of stuff for sale, and everybody yelling. Barbers sit outside with a big knife shaving; a man sits on a fire roasting meat. I am all eyes when we go thru. Most of the natives bow, and say, "Sanu, Sanu, Baturiya." It is a very heathen town. On clear, moonlight nights we can hear the tom-toms, the dance songs and noise of the dance. They still have the old spirit worship. Really it makes your heart heavy to hear it all. Last Friday we heard a crier, and wondered what it was all about. Then they came to our gates and we saw by all the pomp and attendants that it was the chief. He is steeped in spirit worship, yet he came to greet us. I would have liked a picture of it all. He bowed and greeted Miss Veenstra as the governor and then did the same to me, welcoming me as the new Baturiya.

(Later writing)

Donga, Nigeria. A storm is beginning, and drove us in to close up the house. The storm takes a while coming and all of a sudden, the wind comes a terrific gale followed by the rain. We did have some regular tornadoes while in Wukari. We hope it will rain, for it has been so hot today. When it's hot it's different from heat at home, for its humid besides and one feels clammy all over.

I wish you could have seen us when we left Wukari. We had everything packed and were on the hands waiting for the truck, for when the government men were over for tea they promised to have the government truck take us, but even the last day we didn't know if we could go. We were told the bridges were washed away, but imagine, they had a man go in the morning to see if it was possible, then in the afternoon we went. While we were waiting for word, there came the chief with all the noise and attendants. When the truck came, his men put our loads on the truck and the parade started. First the crier announcing the procession. Then the drummer, then his attendants followed by His Majesty, and then poor we, and behind us our own boys, and half of the native town. I wish you could have seen us. They took us to the big palaver tree, and got out some chairs, and then while the chief and we sat down, the people all bowed, and gave some kind of grunts as they passed before us.

After this farewell ceremony, we got on the truck with the truck driver. Another man and our loads and native boys were in the back. They had never been in a truck before and they thought we went terribly fast at 25 miles an hour. They had the time of their lives. The truck took us to the side of the river, where some of the Donga Christians were waiting us. Then we had to cross in a big native canoe, very much different from our canoes. They can hold twenty people easily. So now we are in Donga. We have a fine house here, much better than the one in Wukari.

I must tell you about our presents. The first day we received a goat, seven fowls, thirty-four eggs, some corn and some sweet potatoes. We asked the man to take the goat back until later, as one is supposed to pay back for presents received here. The market place, as I told you before, is next to our compound so we see native life as it is. They have their games and dances there at night. Oh these drums! It is so monotonous and tiresome. The government man came for tea while at Donga, and he told the chief they might not keep it up so late at night or he would put them all at road work.

BREEDERS BOOST RABBIT MEAT AS CHICKEN'S RIVAL

This organization proposes to interest all meat markets in the sale of rabbit meat, and to encourage restaurants in serving rabbit dishes to their patrons. This program was formulated at a meeting of the association, where the success of last week's midwinter rabbit show was discussed.

During the last year the association has been actively boosting the rabbit industry, and its leaders reported this week that the consumptive demand for rabbit meat has increased greatly.

CAR SKIDS OFF ROAD AND TURNS OVER NUMBER OF TIMES ON US-31

A motorist, whose name was not learned but who is believed to live in Holland, had a narrow escape this morning, two miles north of Holland on US-31, when his sedan skidded off the road and turned over a number of times before it finally came to a standstill right side up. The driver was cut about the head and bruised but was able to get out of the car unaided. Eric Anderson of Spring Lake, who was a witness to the accident, said the car plowed into the road for 100 feet, and said he marvelled that the driver was not killed. — Grand Haven Tribune.

A car driven by Martin Diekema Friday morning was practically demolished when it skidded on the highway about one mile north of Holland, it was reported today. The car went into the ditch and turned over three times, it was said. Mr. Diekema escaped uninjured.

Luther Kelley, a laborer advanced for that position, has decided he will not be a candidate for mayor at the Republican caucus in March. He states he will devote his time to the re-nomination of Mayor J. F. Mosier.

HOCUS POCUS

Blind Ottawa Girl is Helen Keller Type

TEACHER DID NOT KNOW PUPIL COULD NOT SEE UNTIL GIVEN "EXAMS"

A very unusual case of a blind girl who formerly lived and was educated in the Ottawa County has come to light in Grand Rapids.

Blind from infancy, Miss Jennette Maris, social service director at East Congregational church at Grand Rapids has tended to the needs of more than 300 families whose wants are outside the work done by the regular relief organizations.

Miss Maris, who always has lived in western Michigan, was graduated from Coopersville High school and took her first two years of college work in Junior college in Grand Rapids. She then attended the University of Michigan where she specialized in psychology and social service. From the university she was awarded her degree.

A large part of the church's service has been furnishing needed clothing. The wardrobe, where the clothing is stored, is some distance from Miss Maris' office and down a flight of stairs, but the girl goes easily to and from Office and wardrobe and finds what she needs among the piles of clothing, all sorted in sizes and materials, without difficulty.

Her system of records is as complete as that of any other social secretary. She types quickly and accurately. All her reports are typed and Braille duplicates attached so they are equally accessible for her own use or that of a sighted worker.

One of the amusing recollections of Miss Maris' college days is that she frequently enrolled and recited in class and wrote her papers throughout the term without her instructor ever discovering he had a blind student in his class until at examination time when she had her usual request to use her typewriter for the tests.

First chorus, Miss Ruth Van Dyke, Miss Ruth Hosper, Miss Iva Klerk, Miss Lois De Pree, Miss Marion Den Herder chorus, Miss Laurena Hollebrands, Miss Elizabeth Arendhorst, Miss Velda Blair, Miss Esther Boughter, Miss Evelyn Lambert, and Miss Henrietta Lambert.

MUSKEGON CHRONICLE TELLS ABOUT HOLLAND-HEIGHTS GAME

Muskegon Chronicle—The Muskegon Heights Tigers snatched a victory from the fire here Friday night, beating Holland High school 22 to 20 in a thrilling overtime game after trailing the Wooden Shoes throughout the entire contest.

When the Tigers came on the floor at the opening of the second half, an almost impossible task faced them. The score was 10 to 1 in favor of the visitors. That meant that in addition to holding down an aggregation which had gone on a scoring spree in the opening stanzas, they had to score two points for everyone made by their opponents.

And they did it. Few games played here this year have packed as many thrills in the closing minutes. Three minutes of the final whistle and the Tigers were still behind 15 to 18. Turner came thru with a basket but Slighter of Holland matched it a few seconds later with a long tom. Again it seemed hopeless. Then Steve Skodak, standing almost in the middle of the floor, propelled the ball basketward. Carrying but little arc, the ball traveled straight for the basket, barely cleared the front of the ring and fell through. The score now was Holland 20, Heights 19.

In a hard skirmish under the Heights basket, Slighter, Holland's star forward, committed a double foul and Fred Cruikshank made one of the two shots to tie the game.

Officials then got together and decided on a three minute overtime. The players went back to their positions and the melee was resumed. Both teams were fighting for advantage when Capt. Turner of the Tigers got into the clear and shot a goal which was to be the margin of victory. The Heights then got some pretty stalling tactics managed to keep it away from Holland until the whistle gave them victory. Coach Hinga's proteges were heart-broken over the defeat. They had held the Tigers scoreless during the first 14 minutes of the game. At the same time, they had scored 10 points themselves thru aggressive and spectacular play. Then that second half opened, and point by point they saw their lead cut down until the final whistle blew on a tie score.

WOULD STANDARDIZE "NO HUNTING" SIGNS

Detroit Times: — To nail up a "no hunting" sign and enjoy a profitable day of competition in the woods or along a fishing stream, when the woods and waters are state property, is a practice that has occurred too often on the western side of the state to pass without official cognizance, according to the Holland, Mich., Fish and Game Club.

The commission will ask the State Legislature to make such an offense a misdemeanor and will also ask some uniform and official sign be adopted to give a semblance of legality to them.

Capt. Turner for the Heights and Slighter for Holland were the high point scorers. In the opening minutes both Slighter and Onk slipped through the baskets, pretty one-hand, overhead shots.

The Heights Reserves defeated Holland Reserves 19 to 14 in the preliminary game, with Davis starring for the winners.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN DEFEATS G. R., 29-15

Holland Christian high school won its 15th victory of the season here Thursday night, triumphing over Grand Rapids Christian, 29 to 15, after holding a comfortable margin throughout the game. Van Raasen and Brat of Holland scored 13 points each, while Breene and DeVries of Grand Rapids made 6 each.

Holland Christian, a class C team has lost only one game this season, although playing against many class B schools. In the preliminary game the Holland Christian girls defeated Grand Rapids Christian girls, 24 to 7.

HOPE COLLEGE WINS FROM ALBION, 36-31

Hope College basketball team won its third straight M. I. A. A. victory at Holland, defeating Albion college, 36 to 31. At half time Hope had a 19 to 16 advantage. Spoelstra with 17 points and Slighter with 12 were the leading scorers for Hope, while Renklewitz with 15, led for Albion. Rice was the outstanding star of the visiting quintet. In a preliminary game, Albion freshmen defeated Hope freshmen, 30 to 27.

It is reported that the big Campa farm of several thousand acres, near Fennville, will not be run by its owners the A. M. Todd Co. of Kalamazoo, this year, but will be rented out in small tracts. Even the big farms, it appears, run by experts under most modern methods, do not seem to show a profit.

PIANO PUPILS PRESENT PROGRAM SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The following musical program was given Sunday afternoon at the studio of Gerard Hanchett, local pianist.

"Trumpet Piece," by Jensen and "Minuet" by Jensen by Craig Trueblood; "Moonlover" by Hueter Eleanor Trueblood; "Marche Militaire," duet by Streabog by Ruth and "Polonaise" by Bach by Ruth Eleanor and Craig Trueblood; "No. 8 from the 50 studies," by Heller by Theresa Weller; "L'Arbesque," and "Inquietude," both from Burgmuller Op. 100 by Theodora Schumacher; "The Swallow" by Burgmuller Op. 100 and "The Funeral March of a Marionette," by Gounod by Marjorie Bender; "Sylphs" by Burgmuller Op. 100 and "Grace" by Burgmuller Op. 100 by Beulah Weatherhold; "Op. 30 No. 3 from Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words," by Theresa Weller. Miss Weller also played two of the Bach "Two-part Inventions," No. 8 in F Major and No. 14 in B flat major. "Opis 30 No. 3 from Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words," by Beulah Weatherhold; "Scarf Dance," by Chaminate and "Avalanche," by Heller by Theresa Weller.

Ned Shaw, one of Holland's young violinists, played "Meditation" from Massenet's "Thais," "Largo" from Handel's "Xerxes" and "Sonatine" by Schubert. Mrs. Shaw accompanied her son at the piano. The young violinist is a student of Professor Perry P. Weid.

The highlight of the program was reached when Professor Weid played "Sonata for Violin and Piano" of Beethoven Op. 24 in F Major. This sonata is in four movements: "Allegro," "Adagio," "Scherzo" and "Rondo." Professor Weid is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and has spent several years in Europe under the late Pedagoge Waldemar Meyer. His sympathetic understanding of Beethoven impressed his listeners forcibly. The jollity of the "Allegro" was evident and in fitting contrast with the sombre, serious atmosphere of the "Adagio." The graceful "Scherzo" was followed by the closing movement, "Rondo" which was brilliantly executed.

Mr. Hanchett showed his skill as a pianist when he accompanied Professor Weid at the piano.

Groenewoud Qualified For Renomination As School Commissioner

Zeeland Record—Gerrit G. Groenewoud of Holland, but formerly of this community, is a candidate for renomination for County Commissioner of Schools on the Republican ticket this spring. Having worked wholeheartedly and unflinchingly for the welfare of the rural and village schools, Mr. Groenewoud has succeeded in making a record of accomplishments of which he may well feel proud. Fearing lest he should get into a "rut" and having a vision of the endless fields of opportunities for doing "service" he has brought about several changes and much constructive work for the benefit of rural education.

Among the accomplishments as County Superintendent of Rural and Village Schools are the following pertaining to Ottawa County: Eleven new schools have been built, and twenty-eight have been extensively remodeled; brought about the organization of fifty rural P.T.A.'s; school news is now being sent in by teachers and children and published by the newspapers of the county; a "Uniform Child Account" has been introduced; a larger number of students have entered high schools from the rural districts than ever before; teachers have been encouraged to attend school consequently a large percentage of the teachers now hold life certificates.

Mr. Groenewoud was the first Commissioner of Ottawa County to publish "County Course of Study" for the rural schools; to recommend a list of "Text Books" to obtain a uniformity of material; to report to the school Boards of visits and observations made; have county wide "Spelling Contests"; bring about Children's Day at the Holland and Marne fairs; have rural exhibits at these fairs; have all county seventh and eighth grade examinations conducted in rural schools by rural teachers; have "graduating exercises" for the eighth grade graduates; hold school officers meetings in two sections; hold county teachers institutes in two sections; hold regular set together meetings of teachers in the fall; send out "Monthly Circular Letters" to the teachers; visit every teacher every year.

By securing regular attendance by conducting state examinations in rural schools by rural teachers, and by considering the recommendations of the teachers, the schools during his administration have been relieved of the larger boys and girls. This has greatly reduced irregular attendance, truancy and overcrowded conditions; and the problem of discipline so prevalent in our rural schools.

At present Mr. Groenewoud is president of the Ottawa County P. T. A. Council; chairman of the committee on Rural Scouting; and vice-chairman of the Fourth District of the Michigan Education Association.

Mr. Groenewoud very keenly feels that he owes his success to the good will and splendid cooperation of the teachers, the board members and patrons. He has by mail, by making public addresses and by personal contacts been able to lead for higher ideals and to secure better things for the children, and the response has been wonderful.

Mr. Groenewoud feels that he has carried out a program of work as ex. He has by mail, by making public addresses and by personal contacts been able to lead for higher ideals and to secure better things for the children, and the response has been wonderful.

Mr. Groenewoud is well known here by a large number of our people having been a resident of Zeeland township for many years before accepting his present duties and his friends are pleased with the success he has made as county commissioner of schools. The liberal vote he will receive here from his friends at the primary election on March 2nd will be greatly appreciated by him.
