Caravan Departs After Maneuver At Tunnel Park

'Saboteurs' Captured In Special Problem on Lake Michigan Shore

The traveling caravan of the 728th military police battalion consisting of 300 enlisted men and 12 officers left Holland on Friday afternoon for Benton Harbor after participating in a maneuver at Tunnel park.

In this particular problem the soldiers captured simulated parachute troops who were to have landed on the high hill just south of the tunnel. The caravan left the army about 8:30 a.m. and detrucked at about a mile east of Lakewood school where the commanding officer called the officers together for instructions. A change of plans resulted in the detrucking at this point instead of at the US-31 junction. Officers had made a reconnaissance trip earlier in the morning.

Co. D marched west on Lakewood Blvd. straight to the lake front and approached the objective from the north. Co. C turned left at the school and made its way to the lake front approaching the objective from the south. Both companies were about three-quarters of a mile from the hill. At assembly areas near the objective both companies deployed out as skirmishers sending zeros ahead to investigate. Zero hour was 11:30 a.m. and both companies stormed the objective and captured the saboteurs. It took about two hours in all to complete the problem. One platoon remained in reserve not far from the school. About 200 persons witnessed the maneuver.

A mess truck provided coffee and sandwiches after the "victory." Then the men marched back to the trucks and continued on their way to Benton Harbor.

Reveille sounded at 6:30 a.m. in the army and breakfast was served shortly afterward. The kitchen mess squad left around 11 a.m. for Benton Harbor after completing work here. Major Henry Rowan said the army was left in excellent condition and that the men were well behaved in the army. He said people generally were well satisfied with the conduct of the group. The major thanked all persons who took part in entertaining the visitors.

The city of Holland was host to the army officers at a special dinner in the Warm Friend tavern Thursday night. City officials present were Mayor Geerlings, E. P. Stephan, City Atty. Vernon D. Ten Cate and Dr. Wynand Wichers. Mayor Geerlings spoke briefly and Dr. Wichers gave the invocation. About 25 were present. The USO sponsored a dance for enlisted men Thursday night in the tulip room of the tavern. Coffee and doughnuts were provided in the afternoon at USO headquarters and also by a mobile canteen of the Salvation army stationed outside the army.

Hundreds of Holland citizens swarmed to the army Thursday night to inspect guns, ammunition and other army equipment and soldiers on hand were quick to explain the many types on display. Other soldiers explained the vehicles of the caravan which were parked outside.

Of special interest in the army exhibits were the signal corps radio 610, a hook-up somewhat similar to radios in police cars, and the signal corps radio 284 which is both a receiver and transmitter, dealing in both code and voice. Enlisted men explained that the former has to a large extent replaced the walkie-talkie which was used extensively during the army maneuvers conducted here last August by the 792nd M. P. battalion.

The kitchen display with its modern ranges, huge kettles and long handled utensils attracted many visitors. C. rations for meals on the field also were displayed. The individual tin cans looked somewhat unappetizing in their cold state, but soldiers quickly explained that the food tastes better if they find time to heat it on the field. Portions of the beans, stew and meat mixtures are adequate for a hungry soldier, it was said.

At 8:15 p.m. a drill team gave a demonstration of close order drill formations, manual of arms and silent drill. In a special skit two men did a complete silent "monkey" drill switching rifles back and forth without losing count.

The battalion came to Holland from Grand Rapids and had just completed a maneuver at Johnson park in Grandville. From here they will go to Benton Harbor and then return to their home camp near Detroit.

Lt. Col. Victor L. Colson of Grand Haven, in command of the entire 628th M. P. battalion, arrived in Holland Thursday night and remained today to view the maneuver. He was formerly commanding officer of Co. F, Michigan national guard unit in Grand Haven. Lt. Harry R. Scott is commanding officer of the traveling group. Capt. Harold L. Harvey, military police plans and training officer of district No. 1, Detroit area, arranged the winter operational maneuver which took the caravan to five Michigan cities last week.

Home After Air Service in Africa

Home after eight months of service in the North African theater, Lt. Charles "Chuck" Zoet of the army air corps is spending a 20-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Zoet of Zeeland and his wife, the former Virginia Ewing of Byron Center, a senior at Hope college.

As pilot of a large PBY "flying boat," Lt. Zoet was not in actual aerial combat but was engaged in sea-air rescue work picking up air crews of ships shot down over the Mediterranean. Modest about his Air Medal with oak leaf cluster, he grins and says, "Aw, that's nothing, 'most everyone gets one of these."

Only one crackup broke the "monotony" of his flying experiences, Lt. Zoet said. No one was injured and the plane taxied about 150 miles back to its base with a damaged wing. The "flying boats" carry a seven-man crew.

Also given only casual mention was the fact that the North African base at which Lt. Zoet was stationed underwent six bombing attacks.

Tall and trim and wearing what he jokingly calls a "Casablanca tan," Lt. Zoet says he is "crazy about flying" and would like to return to action as a member of a fighter squadron. He will report to Atlantic City, N. J. for further orders upon expiration of his leave.

Africa was described as a "dirty place" by the army flyer who says, "It's so good to get back, you can smell you're in the States again." Natives, he said, came into little contact with military personnel and army men "stuck to our own rations, because native food was considered contaminated." Buildings are made of clay or tile and are cool inside.

He also viewed the Carthage ruins, old amphitheatres and remnants of ancient buildings left of the Roman rule in North Africa. As souvenirs of his travels, Lt. Zoet brought a beautiful, soft, camel skin folder with hand-tooled decorations done by the natives; a purse, bracelets, a colorful scarf and a gold platter.

During his stay in Africa he said men were entertained by boxing exhibitions and the appearance of several movie stars. Red Cross shows were presented frequently and they enjoyed their own "officers' club."

Native women kept their faces veiled, said Lt. Zoet who came home with the humorous remark, "French women certainly have the American girls all beat when it comes to hats." For the most part, he said, but their headgear far surpasses the crazy gadgets women here put on and call hats.

Lt. Zoet attended Hope college 2 1/2 years prior to his enlistment in the army air corps. He was commissioned a second lieutenant and received his pilot's wings at Stockton, Calif., March 10 1943. Following additional training with navy flyers at Pensacola, Fla., he left the United States for Africa in June.

Large Number of Local Cadets to Be Sworn in at C.R.

Holland CAP Squadron Active in Recruiting Youths for Reserve

Between 30 to 40 youths of this area who have qualified as aviation cadets will be included in approximately 300 to be sworn in at a public enlistment ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Grand Rapids armory. The local group was recruited for the army air corps through the efforts of the Holland squadron of the civil air patrol.

This function climaxes the applicants' first steps in becoming a part of the air cadet enlisted reserve. They have been instructed to report at the armory between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. for processing and fingerprinting. Weather permitting, a display of air activity will be given at the airport in the afternoon.

Gov. Harry F. Kelly has been invited to attend the night ceremonies along with mayors and prominent officials of various cities in this area. Major Louis M. Eek, air liaison officer of the sixth service command, will represent General Aund.

Major Harry C. Olsen, president of the aviation cadet board in Detroit, will conduct the swearing-in ceremony and present the tiny lapel wings which identify the youths as members of the cadet reserve. Music will be furnished by the Michigan state troops band under the direction of Band Master George Pearl. An appropriate sound film also will be shown.

All CAP units in Western Michigan as well as the general public are invited to attend the swearing-in ceremonies. The event is planned in Grand Rapids to eliminate the lengthy trip and personal expenses incurred by the 17-year-old qualified cadets who ordinarily are required to report to Detroit, and also to allow the parents and friends to witness the ceremony.

Comdr. Charles R. Sligh is commanding officer of the Holland squadron which has been active in the cadet recruitment program.

Panel Will Be in Form of Shield

The Beechwood community will soon display a service panel in the shape of a large shield. This was decided at a meeting in the school Tuesday night that attracted many residents.

Approximately 100 men and women of the school district are in the service, and residents who have members of their family in any branch of the service or any discharged veterans are asked to submit clearly printed names to the school. C. Plakke and James Van Nul will serve as the committee in charge.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Rutgers, 112 East 22nd St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cleo May Rutgers, to Aviation Cadet William Venhuizen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Venhuizen, 50 East 21st St. Miss Rutgers is a junior at Western Michigan college, Kalamazoo, and Cadet Venhuizen is stationed at Maxwell field, Ala., where he is taking his basic flight training. No plans have been made for the wedding.

One of the officers gave a bushy-haired native a new steel penny and the native gave the officer four stalks of bananas, each four feet tall. Another officer offered a 50-cent piece and received only a medium sized stalk in return. Still another officer offered a $5 bill and the native refused it outright at first but after persuasion took the money and gave the officer a very small cluster of bananas.

Rep. Miles Moving Family to Detroit

Atty. Nelson A. Miles of Holland who has served Ottawa county as its representative in the state legislature for the past eight years, will move his family Friday to Detroit where he is serving as labor relations attorney and general house attorney for the Holly Carburator Co. which operates several defense plants.

Miles has been connected with the firm since last June 1, and increased responsibilities have made it necessary for the family to move there. They have located a home in Birmingham which is about 15 miles from the Detroit office.

Miles will continue to maintain his law office here which he opened in 1932 and plans to return here after the war. He will be in Holland frequently, he said.

Miles said he does not expect to be a candidate for reelection in the fall election. Any disposition of his present status as representative for Ottawa county will be left to the county committee. The legislature will not meet before election unless a special session is called. Meanwhile the local representative is functioning as a member of three or four important committees in the legislature.

The state primaries this year will be held in July instead of September to accommodate the soldier vote, Miles said.

The Miles home at 57 West 21st St. has been sold to Mayor-Elect Elmer Schepers.

Miles was born in Dorset township, Allegan county, son of a Methodist minister. He was gradu-

Man Waives Examination On Non-Support Charge

Grand Haven, March 2 (Special)—Wallace De Haan, 18, 414 Monroe St., was arraigned before Justice George V. Hoffer Wednesday afternoon on a charge of non-support upon complaint of his wife, Caroline. De Haan waived examination and was bound over to the present term of circuit court. He furnished bond of $500.

Fred McDougall, 58, 417 Elliott St., pleaded guilty Wednesday afternoon in Justice Peter Ver Duin's court to a charge of simple larceny and paid $40 fine and $4.90 costs. City police allege that McDougall took a purse containing $12.21 belonging to Irene Roossien off a bench at the Dornbos Fish house where Miss Roossien is employed.

Soldier Is Home From Aleutians

Pvt. Evert De Graaf, Here for 13 Days, Was With 'Hap' Risselada

Pvt. Evert De Graaf arrived in Holland Wednesday afternoon to spend 13 days here of a 20-day furlough after seeing service for many months in the Aleutians and the Alaskan peninsula. He is staying with his sister, Mrs. Harold Brower, 117 East 14th St.

De Graaf who entered the service in June, 1941, arrived in the Aleutians just a year later after receiving training with the infantry at Fort Lewis, Wash. Camp Wolters, Tex., and Camp Robinson, Ark. The only other Holland soldier he knew there was Pfc. Harold (Hap) Risselada who arrived in Holland on furlough about three weeks ago, his first in almost three years of service. De Graaf said he also met one other soldier from Holland by the name of Eilers, but that was some time ago.

De Graaf sports two campaign ribbons, one denoting service before Pearl Harbor and the other designating service in a Pacific theater of war against the Japanese.

From here, De Graaf will go to Camp White, Ore. He does not expect to be sent back to the Aleutians. He was in Holland on furlough for 15 days about 18 months ago, he said.

The Aleutians, numbering perhaps 100, extend in a semi-circle from the Alaskan peninsula to a point which is only 700 miles from the Japanese Kurile islands and 1,300 miles from Japan proper. The islands in themselves are of no value but make strategic military bases. The temperature ranged from 25 below to 60 above through the year. The long days in summer and the long nights in winter are a constant source of bewilderment to soldiers arriving there.

The couple left on a short wedding trip and will be at home after March 4 at 947 Columbia Ave., corner of 38th St. Mr. Van Den Bosch is employed at Continental Motor Works, Muskegon, and Mrs. Van Den Bosch has been employed at the Star Sandwich shop.

Local Youth May Be Held by Nazis

Mrs. Etta Schultema, route 5, who was notified Jan. 24 that her son, Staff Sgt. Edward Schultema, a tail gunner on a bomber, was missing over Germany, has been notified of the possibility that her son has been taken prisoner by the Germans.

She received the following telegram from the war department: "The name of Staff Sgt. Edward Schultema has been mentioned in an enemy broadcast as a prisoner in German hands. The purpose of such broadcasts is to gain listeners for the enemy propaganda which they contain; but the army is checking the accuracy of this information and will advise you as soon as possible."

The following day Mrs. Schultema received four letters from persons in different parts of the United States who had heard the broadcast by short wave.

Staff Sgt. Schultema was inducted into service Oct. 20, 1941, and received his basic training at Camp Wolters, Tex. Later he was transferred to Fort Dix, N. J., and then to Camp Edwards, Mass., before going overseas.

Mayor, Others Celebrate Leap Year Anniversaries

Mayor Henry Geerlings led the parade of at least 17 local persons who were born on "leap year" day Tuesday.

Actually 76 years old, he is celebrating his 18th anniversary. The mayor and others who were born before the turn of the century skipped an anniversary in 1900 when no leap year day was included in the calendar.

Four years ago when the mayor celebrated his 17th anniversary, he was guest of honor at a testimonial dinner in the Warm Friend tavern sponsored by Holland State bank where he was employed as commercial bookkeeper. Two years later he resigned after serving 49 years and 11 months. He is completing his fourth consecutive two-year term as mayor.

Mayor Geerlings who has served on the board of education for 45 years, was honored Monday afternoon by 116 public school teachers who attended a party in his honor in the music room at Holland high school. A skit "George and Martha Washington" was presented by a group of the teachers of junior high. Feature of the refreshments was a huge decorated birthday cake with 18 candles. The mayor cut the first piece, and all were served the confection. Misses Joan Vander Werf and Adelaide Dykhuizen were in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Miss Nick Hofstee, 158 West 14th St., also is marking her 18th anniversary. Celebration of her anniversary began Sunday afternoon when 14 guests called. Her daughter, Mrs. Louis Haight, and her family of Saugatuck, came here Tuesday afternoon for further celebration. Dr. Leslie Hofstee, a son of Madison, Wis., had hoped to come but was unable to spare the time since he had spent a day and a half attending a convention in Chicago the latter part of last week. He marked his birthday anniversary Monday.

Mardella Scheerhorn, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scheerhorn, 99 East 16th St., is celebrating her first anniversary. She was born just four years ago on the rarest of all days.

Helene Marilyn Danhof, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Danhof of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, celebrated her third anniversary with a party Tuesday. Even though she has had only three anniversaries in her 12 years of existence, Helene nevertheless has had a party every year.

Who Said This Was a 'Hot' Winter?

Although residents in this locality generally believe the winter season this year has been much milder than usual, the average temperature during the past five months has been only a half degree warmer than the corresponding period a year ago, Chief Weather Observer Bert L. Smith pointed out today.

Smith ascribes the general impressions of "much warmer weather" to the lack of storms and the light snowfall this winter. The average temperature for the past five months (through Feb. 24) has been 36.7 degrees compared with 36.2 degrees for the corresponding period a year ago. The precipitation was 7.89 inches compared with 16.59 inches in 1942-43 and the snowfall the past five months measured 28 inches, compared with 83½ inches a year ago.

Holland's all-time January maximum temperature of 63 degrees on Jan. 26, failed to change the season's average to any great extent, Mr. Smith said.

Maximum temperatures for the past five months were as follows: October, 82; November, 60; December, 52; January, 63; February, 43. Minimum temperatures were 29 in October, 18 in November, two below in December, 10 in January and three below in February. Average temperature was 50.8 in October, 39.6 in November, 28.6 in December, 31.1 in January and 33.4 in February. Precipitation amounted to 1.28 inches in October, 2.30 in November, 1.05 in December, 1.64 in January and 1.62 in February. There was no snow in October, 5½ inches in November, 9½ inches in December, two inches in January and 11 inches in February.

For the corresponding period in 1942-43, the maximum temperatures were 76 in October, 68 in November, 38 in December, 37 in January and 53 in February. Minimum temperatures were 31 in October, 22 in November, three below in December, five below in January and three below in February. Average temperatures were 51.3 in October, 41.2 in November, 27 in December, 21.8 in January, 27.5 in February. Precipitation was 3.92 inches in October, 4.70 inches in November, 3.61 in December, 2.40 in January and 1.96 inches in February. There was no snow in October, eight inches in November, 27 inches in December, 36½ in January and 14 inches in February.

According to statistics released by H. N. Wills in charge of the state weather bureau at East Lansing under the U.S. department of commerce, Michigan's mean temperature for 1943 was 43.6 which is 1.8 degrees lower than in 1942 and 1.4 degrees below the average mean temperature. Last year was the coldest year since 1929 and the eighth coldest on record. The highest temperature was 100 at Wayne on June 25 and the lowest was 45 below zero at Fife lake March 3.

The state average for precipitation for 1943 was 32.4 inches, which is 2.93 inches less than the record total for 1942 but 1.58 inches above normal. May and June were well above normal while December was the third driest of any record. The greatest total was 48.98 inches at Benton Harbor and the lightest rainfall was 21.9 inches at L'Ance. The year's snowfall was 78.6 inches which is 1.1 inches more than in 1942 and 37 per cent more than normal.

Spring Air Co. Plans Addition

Three applications for building permits amounting to $3,725 were filed with City Clerk Oscar Peterson last week, an increase of $3,650 over the previous week's unusually low total of $75 which represented one application.

The bulk of the week's total is taken up by the Spring Air Co. which has been granted a "provisional" permit to build an addition to its factory at 12 West Fourth St. The addition will measure 18 by 54 feet of concrete blocks at a cost of $3,400.

Due to the scarcity of materials, the addition cannot be erected in entire conformity with the building code of Holland, and plant officials have agreed within a reasonable time after the termination of the war to dismantle the building or have it remodeled to conform to the code. Dyke and Vanden Brink are the contractors.

Other applications follow. Frank Underwood, 233 West Ninth St., single garage attached to house, 14 by 24 feet, $200; James Hamer and self, contractors.

Nick Kolan, 125 West 29th St., remodel basement to add two additional rooms, $125; self, contractor.

Give Liberally to War Fund Drive, Geerlings Urges

Need Fund for Service Men; Campaign Will Open on Wednesday

With Ottawa county's Red Cross forces having launched the war fund drive yesterday for $60,500 as part of the national quota of $200,000,000, Mayor Henry Geerlings today called for liberal contributions from everyone.

He said: "No doubt we are all alive to the urgent necessities of this mighty organization. Men and women throughout this entire nation are giving a large share of their time and are contributing liberally to raise a large and needed War Fund. It is today more than ever the people's Red Cross. Everybody is in it. Everybody gives. Everybody works for it. There is no organization anywhere which has made such a strong and stirring appeal to the American people.

"Thousands of volunteers are busy making surgical dressings. They are turning them out by the millions every day and these dressings are being used wherever our boys are on the battle fronts. The fighting men and women know how much is being accomplished and they appreciate all that is being done for them. We on the home front want to give them everything they need while they are giving themselves that we may continue to enjoy the blessings of liberty and freedom.

"This organization has been a going concern for some 60 years. It has contributed in every way to bring supplies and cheer to thousands of our wounded in Europe and the Far East. It is prepared to offer assistance and relief to war sufferers without delay. A supply department is ready to make purchases and arrange shipping. Relations built up over the years with government departments and agencies makes it possible for the Red Cross to be on hand when the need arises. A broad network of some ten thousand chapters throughout the nation forms a permanent channel through which those wishing to aid war sufferers can direct their affairs. Today the Red Cross is prepared to cope with any situation."

Jesus Urges His Disciples to Watch
Mark 13:3-10, 31-37

By Henry Geerlings

It can be said that Jesus through all His ministry was urging certain matters on His disciples. One time it might be quiet reflection and meditation, and again it might be haste and urgent activity, and again it might be the performance of duties in unseen places, and still again fruitful labors in conspicuous places.

It can be said that the lives of these men were varied. It does not appear that theirs was a monotonous role. They ran the entire gamut of spiritual responsibilities. There was nothing too humble and nothing too conspicuous for them to do. When Jesus sent them on errands that were destined not to reach the light of publicity, they went about their labors with the will to be faithful. It was in that realm that they achieved.

We are given abundant proof that they were faithful in little things. They were willing to be hewers of wood and drawers of water, if these were their assigned tasks. We know some of the things that went on in the more secret places of their lives, and we may rest assured that there was much of this same sort of faithfulness that never saw the light of day.
There is not much publicity and blasts of trumpets in watching.
But here was their test.

The Mount of Olives was a familiar spot to Jesus. It presented a magnificent view of the buildings which the Jews had erected as the center of their religious life and worship. It seems strange to have the name of Andrew added here to the names of the three who were with their Master alone on many occasions. They were the four fishermen.

We can understand how every word Jesus spoke concerning the destruction of the temple and the holy city would be of deep concern to every one of them. Here the religious life of the Jewish people was fed and nourished, and these people, unfaithful though they had been, were eager to know the future of these sacred institutions.
Through all time men have been eager to know the time, the place, and the manner of the divine operations.

There is the clear hint in this lesson that Jesus said very much more than is reported to us. Of course, that is true through all the gospels. Matthew's account of these matters is much more complete than that of Mark, though the latter gives us a good gist of it. There seem to be four words that form the keynote of these discourses, and they are, beware, watch, endure and pray. We could tarry with them a long time. Who of us does not know the danger of forcing a specific interpretation on the unfilled predictions of Jesus?

It sometimes seems that the stranger the prediction, the more people there are to accept it as a part of their creed.

We are wise if we do not attach too great importance to the parts of our Lord's discourse which are simply not understandable in the light we have at the present time.
We had better put them aside until the day when larger light breaks, as it most surely will.
There have always been wars and rumors of wars, and the predictions which generally accompanied them have for the most part gone unfulfilled. We better stay with what is clear, build on that, and we will be better and happier persons.
These simple words of Jesus have been the basis of many wild theories. There are some things that are best left in the hands of the Master himself. They are safer that way.

Our Lord would have us see the value of taking heed to ourselves, that is, of taking care of our lives
so that we do not run into unnecessary peril. Worldliness and sin and anxiety and fear are threatening to overwhelm us and we are to see to it that by the grace of God this does not happen to us. We may preach to others and be castaways ourselves. Here is where the necessity of watching comes in. It is possible for us to labor for the lives of others that our own lives go to ruin.
We are to have both the outward and the inward look.

It was not a bright prospect the early Christians looked forward to.
The ecclesiastical powers were against them, though that was to their credit. The stand they were to take was a perilous one, but it would serve to propagate the gospel. The blood of the martyrs did become the seed of the church, and because they refused to give an inch, they planted the church on enduring foundations.

Whatever shred of reason and common sense we can hold on to in wartime is all to the good.

Holland
In 1913

Tomorrow evening it is likely that the road roller question will again come up for discussion because of a warning council and mayor,
began a story in the Tuesday,
June 3, issue of the Holland
Daily Sentinel published in 1913.
With but seven votes required to carry the resolution over the mayor's veto and with six already sure, an attempt will undoubtedly be made to carry the measure.

Before a crowded house in Carnegie gymnasium the senior class of Hope college last night presented Arnold Bennett's "Miles-stones." Miss Delia Ossewaarde of Zeeland and Lambertus Hekhus of Zeeland were particularly good in the difficult leading roles of Rose Sibley and John Rhead.

This morning at 8 a.m. in St.
Mark's Pro-Cathedral, Grand Rapids, occurred the wedding of Miss Georgia Wetmore to Rev.
Jacob Julius Steffens, both of this city. The bride was attended by the Misses Elva Van Putten, Hazel Van Landeged and Florence Kruizenga of Holland. Miss Rose Whelan of Holland assisted by Master Friedman Bronk of Grand Rapids carried a basket of bride's roses.

At a mass meeting held in the Zeeland High school assembly room a decision was made to have a student council which will have all literary, athletic and other school events under its control. Officers will be elected and each class will have a class representative.

Miss Hendrine E. Hospers of Ontario, N.Y., a member of the senior class of Hope college has been given her credentials to the South Japan mission as a representative of the Reformed church.
Miss Hospers will graduate from Hope college this month and expects to leave for the orient in September. Besides Miss Hospers
there are five other volunteers to the foreign field in the class of 1913 at Hope. These are Miss Minnie Beld of Zeeland, Miss Helen De Maagd of Coopersville, Berent T. Vander Woude, George
G. Pennevel and Alexander Van Brankhorst of Holland.

Three 250 horse power boilers are being installed in a separate building on the west side of the vinegar department of the Heinz Pickle company plant in this city, according to a story in the Wednesday, June 4 issue. Formerly five one-horse power boilers were used but these are not satisfactory as they did not give steam enough. The new building will be used exclusively for the furnace room and will be large and roomy and built entirely of cement blocks so as to match the other buildings.

Misses Dorothy and Sara Helene Trompen of Hope college left yesterday afternoon for their home in Grand Rapids. Next Tuesday in company with their parents they will leave for New York whence they will sail on the 12th for an extended trip through Europe. They will first touch at Gibraltar and then make a short stop at Algiers. From Algiers they will sail to Naples

cross the channel and visit points of interest in England and Scotland.

Miss Verna Schultz of the senior class has been awarded a

Schultz was appointed alternate with Albert Lampen of the 1911

circumstances at the University, Hope will be allowed to send two students this year so Miss

The Park board of the city of Holland made its annual trip of inspection today for the purpose of making estimates for the coming budget and figuring on proposed improvements. Centennial park was found to be in excellent condition and outside of the cost of upkeep little will be needed.
Prospect Park came in for the largest share of attention and the members of the board are glad to announce that after 15 years of effort they have succeeded in obtaining the necessary ground and making the necessary changes to include in Prospect Park all the property bounded on the north by 22nd street, the south by 24th St. and the east by Columbia avenue and the west by

of the fire department team or brushing too close to the horses

way to Limbert's factory the fire team was freighted by a reck-

machine so near to the fire wagon that the sides were brushed and the horses shied into a side street.

A pleasant outing was furnished the "hello" girls of the state line
office of Grand Rapids by Manager Orr of the Citizens' telephone exchange assisted by Anna Astra and Mabel Allen last Sunday. The Grand Rapids girls came down on the train to Ottawa Beach and were met there by the Holland entertainers. The pleasure yacht Glady took them to Saugatuck and the day was passed in a pleasant manner at Bald Head Park.

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

LENTEN meal planning continues to be aided by an abundance of fresh vegetables and a fair supply of fruits.

Three important vegetables, all notable for their body-building qualities, as well as for their vitamin and mineral content, namely, potatoes, cabbage and spinach, are now in over-supply, and the U. S. Service for Home-Makers recommends that meal planners give liberal attention to recipes employing these useful vegetables, in order to help in preventing spoilage.

Pleasant salads may grace Lenten menus for there are ample supplies of lettuce, escarole, citrus fruits and avocados. Asparagus will soon make its appearance, and the outlook is for more peas. Tomatoes are scarce, and those who like onion seasonings will have to continue to rely largely for the present on green onions, scallions, shallots and chives.

For the meat course, pork and its processed products are still the most available items. Beef, lamb and veal are in short supply and poultry very difficult to find.

Available food items and current prices have been taken into account in the preparation of the following menus, offered as Sunday dinner
suggestions:

No. 1
Hot Bortsch
Fried Salt Pork, Milk Gravy
Boiled Potatoes

ALMANAC&lt;/

Report to the Nation:

When the 4th War Loan Ended— Our Fighting Men Kept Firing!

News that the 4th War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 has been reached and passed will cheer American boys from Italy to the Marshalls. But they will hear the news not only over sputtering radios but over the din of battle.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. And that means that our War Bond buying must go on unabated, too.

To the millions who bought extra War Bonds in this drive, all America gives thanks.

To the 5,000,000 and more volunteer workers who contributed their time and abilities to help make the drive a success, your Government and your fighting men give thanks.

To the thousands of patriotic newspapers, magazines, radio stations and networks, members of the motion picture industry, the outdoor industry, advertisers and agencies, retail stores, banks, post offices, credit unions, building and loan associations, labor unions, fraternal organizations and farm credit associations, the Nation gives thanks.

Once again Americans have proved their determination to "back the attack" to the full.

But the attack goes on

Look at Italy. When the 4th War Loan drive ended at midnight February 15, the drive on Rome was still going on. American boys were still crouching in water-filled foxholes—clinging with bitter and bloody tenacity to a beachhead the Germans were equally determined to take back. Thus on the same midnight that witnessed the end of the 4th War Loan drive, the hands of the clock met like shears to snip the lives of scores of American boys engaged in the March on Rome. And the fight goes on.

Look at Japan. At the same hour that saw the end of the 4th War Loan, the "March of Death" that shocked all America to a realization of Jap brutality to American prisoners of war—that march was still going on.

To liberate those heroes of Bataan and Corregidor before it is "too late," other American boys stormed and took the Marshalls on the road to Tokyo.

But that March to Tokyo—still 2,000 miles away—that march goes on.

And we on the home front

—can we afford to stop now that the 4th War Loan is history, while our all-important job of supplying and financing this costliest war of all time still goes on? We have won a home front battle here, yes.

But just as our boys continue even more vigorously once they have established a beachhead, so we must continue to build on the success we have already achieved.

Our job goes on

The Bonds we bought last week and the week before are today's exploding bombs and shells, and spent bullets can never be used again. We must provide for tomorrow, too. The need for new guns, planes, ships and tanks still goes on.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. So while all of those on the home front who have bought Bonds and have worked so hard to make the 4th War Loan drive a success have earned the Nation's thanks, none of us can afford to forget that our home front job, including Bond buying, also still goes on!

Christian Takes Early Lead, Sinks Zeeland, 28 to 19

Wingarden Chalks Up 13 Points Against His Home Town Cagers

Gaining a 13-point lead midway in the second quarter, the Holland Christian high school basketball team took an easy triumph over Zeeland, 28-19, in the local armory Friday night.

The game was an unexpected soft touch for the Maroons who were looking forward to a highly keyed Chick outfit in their last regular game of the season.

For the Maroons it was Wingarden, Wingarden, Wingarden. He chalked up 13 points against his home town five and was all over the floor, giving the Chicks more trouble than they could hope to handle.

On the average the CHS cagers were playing below par basketball but Coach Herman (Fuzz) Van Faasen had little to worry about as the Zeelanders did little in an offensive way.

The Maroons led 10-2 at the end of the first quarter and Lefty Wingarden accounted for 8 of the 10 points. They advanced their lead to 17-6 at the half with Wingarden again pacing the attack with 3 points.

At the end of the third quarter, Christian led, 21-10, and in the final frame Van Faasen started shooting in subs and the Chicks pulled up their total points to 19 as Christian ended with 28.

Future Navy Flyer Rates High in Physical Fitness

Leroy "Krunch" Koranda, naval aviation cadet now stationed at Mount Pleasant for V-5 training, tops the list of newcomers for physical fitness, according to Lt. (jg) Thomas A. Blake, athletic officer who recently compiled physical fitness marks for the men.

Koranda, remembered in Holland as a Hope college student and swimming instructor at Castle park, resides in Grand Rapids. He scored 92 points in a rigid stepping exercise in which 60 is standard and anything over 90 denotes excellent condition. At Hope "Krunch" or "Bud", as he is better known, played baseball, football and basketball and served for a time as assistant physical education instructor. He is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 174 pounds.

During his career at Hope, Koranda and his companion, Miss Elsie Parsons, once hiked on foot to Grand Rapids "for a lark," spent some time at the Koranda home and returned to Holland by auto.

Michigan Bell in the Second Year of War

A Report to the People of Michigan

THERE is no such thing as an "easy" war. In the second full year of World War II, Michigan Bell, in common with others, has encountered many difficulties. In meeting them we have done our best to avoid dislocations in our service to the public. But our first concern has been that every war need should be met.

Shortages of materials and labor continued to challenge all the resources of the organization. It was necessary to rearrange and stretch the existing telephone facilities to make them give a much greater volume of service than that for which they were designed.

Facts about the size of that task, and figures showing how Michigan Bell has fared financially, are presented here in statistical comparison with 1942 and also with 1939, which was the last year before the war substantially affected the American economy.

COMPARATIVE VIEW • PEACE AND WAR

*Excludes in each year wages for construction activities.

MICHIGAN BELL, in 1943, did a lot more business at a little less profit than in 1939 and earned about the same rate of return as in 1942.

Material shortages caused by war prevented expansion of facilities to meet adequately the immense increase in the volume of calls and in the demand for service installations. Long Distance connections to some points were a little slower, although most calls got through promptly. Some who want telephones now have to wait longer to get them, and in some localities no new installations can be made except for military needs, or for the public safety.

We express our appreciation to the public for its understanding and for limiting its use of Long Distance on war-busy circuits.

Club Speaker Tells of Affairs in Washington

Deploing the greed and confusion and lack of democracy in the Washington of today, Mrs. Caroline Judkins Longyear of Lansing, popular commentator on current affairs, gave members of the Woman's Literary club an analytical picture of the nation's capital in "this fateful year of 1944," Tuesday afternoon in the local club house. Her subject was "Affairs in Washington."

Mrs. Longyear stated that she felt the prevalent worry and apprehension during her recent visit to the capital, today the whole domestic program of President Roosevelt is under fire, and congress faces the greatest challenge to its statesmanship after closing the last session in defeat before the pressure groups, she declared. Congress is not representing the people, and there is need for strong leadership.

"I believe that if congress and the president would get together, they could end the confusion on the home front," she said. "If the president would strip his economic policies of political influences and if congress would listen to the people instead of to pressure groups, domestic difficulties would iron out."

The speaker scored the labor policy of the administration, and declared that the labor cauldron is boiling in Washington at the present time. President Roosevelt has kept the control over labor in his own hands, and his policy is now known in the capital as "The Labor Mess." Congress now wants a deal dealing with strike regulations, she said.

There is danger in the increasing concentration of power in the federal government, Mrs. Longyear believes, and as state functions gradually decrease, there is danger of their losing that most vital function, the control of elections.

Another important topic in Washington is the "liquidation of the New Deal," which the speaker described as "one of the smoothest political actions in history." Feeling the trend of the times, President Roosevelt repudiated his former policies, seeking the support of the conservatives, she said.

Mrs. Longyear also talked about the subsidy question, and blamed the administration and congress for not placing an overall freeze on prices and wages when war was declared. She described this failure as one of the greatest blunders of the administration. The battle against subsidies was a long and hard siege, which congress has lost, she said.

Congress will support the president for the prosecution of the war, but not for his domestic policies, the speaker stated. She also discussed the probabilities of the elections this year, offering as her opinion that since a negative campaign failed to defeat Mr. Roosevelt in former campaigns, Republicans, to win, must have a constructive platform. She predicted a barely Democratic senate, and a Republican house.

In a frank and startling conclusion to her lecture, Mrs. Longyear called the whole political scene "disgraceful," and intimated that politics "may enter into the prosecution of the war." She predicted that two new political parties will develop after the war, one led by the conservatives, the other by the liberals.

"We may be the richest nation in the world, but our government is inept and ineffective," she declared. "Democracy is not ineffective in itself, but it is failing through lack of individual responsibility and initiative."

Mrs. John R. Dethmers presided at the meeting, stating with regret that the club is losing an active and interested member in the moving from the city of Mrs. Nelson Miles.

Prayer Day Observance Attracts Many in City

An audience of 650 women gathered in Trinity church Friday afternoon in observance of the annual World Day of Prayer service, stressing the need of meditation and intercession in times like the present. The litany opening the service was composed of united prayer and praise, and the organ music by Mrs. Henry Masselink created an atmosphere of worship.

Three short talks were given to center thought about the gifts brought by the Wise Men to the infant Christ. Mrs. George A. Moores explained the symbolism of myrrh as the sympathy of womankind for her sorrowing neighbors. Mrs. James Slager, taking the symbol of frankincense, pleaded for hearts willing to ease the suffering of mankind. Mrs. Nick Verhey presented gold, refined by fire, as the most precious of gifts and lauded the spirit of sacrifice in families dedicated to patriotic efforts.

Dr. H. A. Poppen, as a living example of the theme of the meeting, stated that "if the world ever needed intercessors, this is the time." He gave instances in his experience in China of "hands defiled with blood, lips speaking lies, none speaking in justice, and suffering that beggars description."

The talk was replete with stories of "evil days," and of the courage of Christians in dire need and under persecution. He posited that God has sent suffering because of sin, because He wants to "awaken our sympathy for others, and because we need to be burdened for the world in the grip of evil."

The speaker pleaded for a "united front among Christians, a compassion like that of the Christ, and stewardship of all of life." His involuntary outburst, "O God, let America suffer," gripped all hearts.

The offering amounted to more than $200 and will be apportioned to the four causes presented by Mrs. G. Vander Borgh; namely, Christian literature for women and children in mission fields, union Christian colleges in other lands, migrants and sharecroppers, and Indian students in U. S. government schools.

Mrs. H. D. Terkeurst presided at the meeting. Mrs. Stuart Ludlow sang, "I Thought the Lord and He Heard Me," as answer to the many prayers that were offered. Pvt. Stan Meyers, jovial master of ceremonies for the local ASTP unit's all-soldier production, "Hope for the Best," is putting his cast through nightly rehearsals in Carnegie mess hall on the Hope college campus prior to the premiere performance scheduled for March 10 in Holland theatre.

War bonds with the complimentary tickets to the "GI extravaganza" will go on sale at Peoples State bank, Holland State bank and Ottawa County Building and Loan association this afternoon. Some enterprising student-soldiers have already received promises of war bond sales from interested citizens anxious to see Hope's soldiers "in action."

Parts of the cast squeeze in practice time between study hours and busy workday schedules. Plans are progressing nicely and coordination of all the acts into a fast-moving frolicsome show is now under way.

Highlight of the show will be the appearance of 13 "glamorous GIs" as a group of pert chorus girls. Other interesting features of the musical comedy are musical impersonations, magician acts, slapstick drama and good-natured banter. A seven-piece soldier orchestra organized by Pvt. "Snooky" Barnes furnishes musical accompaniment for some of the acts.

Supply Sgt. Albert Gorchoff is the commanding power who directs the show and puts the dough-boy actors through their paces. Original art work on publicity posters depicting a "Sad Sack" Hope trainee snoring in class were done by Pvt. Ernest Black, publicity chairman for the event.
