Scientific Data Plays Big Part In Fire Control

Functions of law enforcement and fire protection for the Michigan conservation department in 11 southwest Michigan counties were described by Edward Clock of Plainwell, district supervisor, at the sixth of a series of conservation lectures Tuesday night in Longfellow school.

Speaking on the topic of "The Obligation of the Community Toward Our Natural Resources," Clock outlined preventive measures for fire protection in which scientific data is used to a great degree in "pre-suppression" programs.

With most fires caused by carelessness, the speaker pointed to educational campaigns each year through newspapers, magazines, radio and television and through such meetings as the series staged in Holland.

"The people of Ottawa county are much more fire conscious than they were 20 years ago," he said, pointing particularly to the large stands of Christmas trees on land previously regarded as worthless. With people, particularly farmers, conscious of fire dangers, many local programs for fire control have been organized, and when fire is controlled in early stages, the work of two men with proper equipment often equals what used to require the combined efforts of 60 to 70 men. The state program covers private lands as well as state-owned lands.

He quoted some interesting statistics. Michigan has 62 million acres, 36 million in land and 26 million on water. There are 175 conservation officers, each covering a theoretical 1/3 million acres. There are 120 full-time fire officers and 150 fire towers. The first fire tower in the state was a wooden structure built in 1912 and the first steel tower was erected in 1913. Most fire towers are 100 feet high, but some are 150 feet high.

Sound films demonstrated the work of the tower man, how fires are spotted, location determined through cross check with other stations nearby and how fire fighting units are alerted through an efficient communications system. Scientific equipment used in determining burning conditions were effectively pictured. Another film on the disastrous Maine fires a few years ago also was shown.

A demonstration of gun safety was given by Gerrit Huizenga of the Chick-Owa club of Zeeland, and musical entertainment was provided by the Chick-Owa Corn Borens, a novelty quartet.

Neal De Waard, presiding officer, announced that Norman Billings of the Michigan Water Resources commission will appear next week. The series, free for the public, is sponsored by the Adult Education program and the Fish and Game club, in co-operation with the Michigan Conservation commission.

All Kinds of Projects Listed for City Hospital

There isn't any project too big or too small that cannot be adopted by groups in the newly organized Holland City Hospital Auxiliary, a review of possibilities at the hospital revealed today.

The auxiliary is in the process of launching a city-wide program which will utilize efforts of many groups on any level. Some groups will engage in volunteer service such as bandage rolling, sewing or performing certain tasks in the hospital such as reception and operating the book wagon.

Others will adopt small projects such as providing thermos water pitchers for rooms or individual thermos coffee servers. Larger groups wanting more ambitious projects can find a variety of equipment which the hospital has listed as needs. Anything done on a volunteer level or by generous persons helps the hospital considerably in the total program and helps reduce hospital costs, a certain amount of which is cared for by taxpayers.

Mrs. Raymond H. Fehring is temporary president of the auxiliary and Gertrude Steketee is vice president. Mrs. Carl Cook is secretary; Mrs. A. W. Tahaney, treasurer, and Mrs. Peter Van Dornen, Jr., is chairman of the by-laws committee.

New Conservation Rules Causing Confusion Among Some Sportsmen

New provisions in conservation laws affecting dip-netting and spearing on Ottawa county streams have caused some confusion among local sportsmen, Conservation Officer Elmer Boerman explained today.

Concerning dip-netting, the new rules push the opening date back one month from March 1 to April 1. The new section reads that dip-nets may be used from April 1 through May 31 in the Lower Peninsula, and during the month of May in the Upper Peninsula. Most regulations for dip-netting are the same as in previous years.

Spearing may be done by bow and arrow this year under a new regulation. The law specifies the season from April 1 to May 31 in the Lower Peninsula and during May in the Upper Peninsula. Spears or bow and arrow may be used without use of jack or artificial light in non-trout streams not otherwise closed to spearing.

Comedy Quartet Slated for Parade In City March 14

The Mountain Boys of Racine, Wis., top comedy quartet, will appear at the sixth annual Parade of Quartets in Holland theater Friday, March 14, along with other top-notch organizations in the field of barbershop quartet harmony.

The boys say the quartet was formed by accident, through an accident and still is an accident in view of the fact the group has been together almost 10 years and hasn't improved one bit.

"Any resemblance between ours and any other quartet is purely coincidental since the only thing we have in common is that we have four men and sometimes people doubt that too," Spokesman Jack Schulz says.

Members are Hilton "Ole" Hanson, tenor; Jack Schulz, lead; Ed Harn, baritone, and Carl Iverson, base. The quartet appeared on 16 parades in the 1949-50 season and 17 last season. Some appearances had to be cancelled early this season because of illness of one member.

There will be two performances of the local parade, one at 7 p.m. and the other at 9:15 p.m. Other quartets appearing will be the Schmitt Brothers of Two Rivers, Wis., international champions; the Four Fathers of Muskegon; the Hollandaires, ladies' quartet of Holland; the Extension Chords of Grand Rapids, and the Four Stars of Holland. The Grand Rapids chapter chorus of 52 voices also will appear.

Current attraction at the city greenhouses these days is a rare plant called a Nun's orchid given Park Supt. Dick Smullenburg last summer by Mrs. Arthur A. Vischer who obtained the plant in St. Petersburg, Fla., three years ago. Mrs. Vischer had no success in making the plant bloom and gave it to Smullenburg. It has been in bloom five or six weeks and will last another three weeks, Smullenburg says. It's a strange type which grows well in soil whereas orchids grow in moss and roots. The blooms are mostly tan with bluish and ivory contrasting tones. The plant stands 18 to 20 inches tall. (Sentinel photo)

Workmen Friday were prepared to move a second structure from the small village of Agnew after the century-old Immanuel Lutheran church was safely moved to its new location on M-50 less than a mile away.

The house being readied for moving Friday contained some materials used in the first building erected in Agnew almost a century ago by John Dean. The remodeled structure is now occupied by Mrs. Edna Regelin, resident of Agnew for 32 years. The building previously had served as a town store, post office and church.

Otherwise, life in Agnew continued at its own calm pace, contrary to reports from some calamity howlers that the village was being moved bodily off the map.

Actually, only 10 structures are slated to be moved to make room for the new highway, and very few of the 102 residents of the Ottawa county village are affected. Some will have to travel a bit farther to the store and to church, but there will always be an Agnew as far as the residents of Agnew are concerned. The greater share of the 102 residents live across the track anyway.

The Rev. E. M. Ruhlig, pastor of Zion Lutheran church of Holland and Immanuel Lutheran church of Agnew shed some further light on moving operations of the church. He said the church received $800 from state highway commission, out of which they paid $500 for a new site on M-50. The state assumes all costs of moving, pays for a new foundation, provides structural repairs and electrical connections. The $300 balance for the church will care for cleaning and redecorating.

It was only about five years ago that the century-old building which was dismantled and erected on the site 40 years ago was wired for electricity. Previously the church was lighted with kerosene lamps. Central chandeliers had long arms with individual lamps. There were bracket lamps at the side with shiny reflectors.

The church also uses an old pewter communion cup believed to be about 100 years old.

Rev. Ruhlig said the church selected the site on M-50 because more residential building is taking place there than in Agnew proper. The Ruhligs have been serving the Agnew church since coming to Holland in November, 1950.

Holland Seconds Take Eighth Win

Grand Rapids (Special) — A commanding 33-18 halftime lead provided enough slope to allow the Holland high reserve basketball squad to coast downhill during the second half and still come out on top of Grand Rapids Central here Tuesday night 55-48.

The victory was the eighth of the season for the Junior Dutch against six defeats. Seven of those wins have come in Holland's last eight games.

The victory for Coach Bob Connel and his crew actually came from the free throw line. Central hit more field goals 22-21, but Holland was more accurate from the free throw line, collecting on 13 of 18 attempts compared to only four out of 20 for the Junior Hilltoppers.

Ron Israels and Dick Plagenhoef accounted for most of Holland's scoring. Israels collected 23 and Plagenhoef 19. Mark Mulder and Bob Van Dyke had four each Paul Mack and Carroll Nienhuis two each and Bill Sandahl one. Towering Bob Tazzalar, demoted from the varsity squad, hit 15 for Central.

Although there was the constant threat of a St. Joe rally, actually the Maroons took the win with comparative ease. After the opening minute of the game, the losers trailed by 10 and 12 points and never came closer than four. At one point in the final quarter, the Dutch held a 14-point lead.

After the Bears scored the first basket, the Maroons moved out to 10-point lead midway in the quarter. By the end of the period they still led 14-6.

St. Joe threatened in the second quarter but couldn't close the gap against the methodical Maroons. At halftime the Tulsmen were on top 27-20.

Leading 30-26 in the third quarter, the Dutch went on an eight-point scoring spie to hold a convincing 38-26 margin at the end of the period. The fourth quarter found the locals content to match baskets with the Bears and both clubs hit with consistency.

At the foul lane, the Dutch hit on 12 out of 16 tries while St. Joe connected on seven of 15. Kok led all scorers with 20 markers. He was followed by Diekema with 13. Dwight Riemersma paced the St. Joe attack with 13 tallies.

Deliberate Maroon Offense Trips Up Defending Champs

St. Joseph (Special) — Holland Christian's basketball squad rose to the heights Tuesday night by knocking the state's leading class B quintet from the ranks of the unbeaten with a 52-41 decision over St. Joseph on the Bears' home court. The loss for St. Joe also snapped a 24-game winning streak held by the defending state champions.

Coming into their own with a spectacular display of ball handling and all around finesse, the Maroons outplayed the Bears in every department. Masterminded by Coach Art Tuls, the Dutchmen played strict percentage basketball and had the fast break conscious St. Joe club bewildered and off balance all night.

Christian used a rotary offense the entire game and literally tantalized the Bears out of the tilt. The ball handling of the Maroons' outcourt men, Merle Van Dyke, Tony Diekema and Dave Schreur, was almost flawless as they took advantage of practically every situation set up by the control type offense.

Defensively the Maroons had no peer Tuesday night. St. Joe came into the game against the Dutch with a 42 per cent shooting average and a 65 point per game average for the season. The locals, with great individual and team effort, managed to hold the Bears to their lowest total this season.

The story of the game was not the fact that the Bears weren't hitting, but rather that they couldn't crack the defense for shots. Actually St. Joe hit for a respectable 34 per cent, but they were only able to take 49 shots at the hoop.

It would be an injustice to single out any one Maroon player for particular praise since the entire club functioned as a well geared machine. However, fine rebounding and 20 point scoring by Jim Kok, Dutch center, cannot go unmentioned. Neither can the floor game played by Van Dyke or the defensive performances turned in by Diekema and Van Dyke.

Although there was the constant threat of a St. Joe rally, actually the Maroons took the win with comparative ease. After the opening minute of the game, the losers trailed by 10 and 12 points and never came closer than four. At one point in the final quarter, the Dutch held a 14-point lead.

Western Theological Seminary Chorus and Director Roger Rietberg

Local Seminary Chorus Schedules Appearances in Several Churches

Western Theological Seminary chorus has prepared a series of programs, to be presented in various churches of the Reformed denomination. Brief trips have been planned for appearances in various cities.

The Seminary chorus will sing at Third Reformed church of Holland, the evening of March 16.

Roger Rietberg, director of music at Third church, is director of the chorus which includes 26 seminary students. Mrs. Lloyd Menning is accompanist. The group rehearses each week and now is engaged in preparation for public appearances.

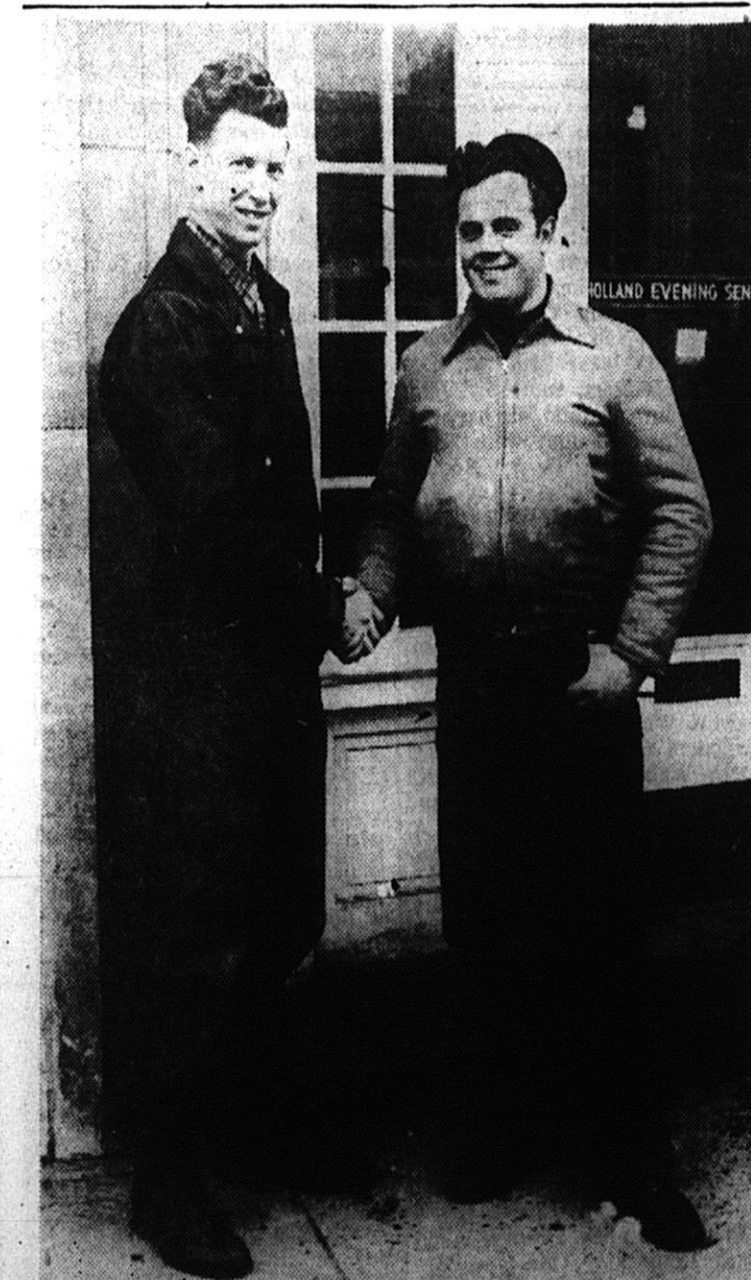

School work prevents any extended journeys, according to the director, and because the seminary schedule does not include a spring vacation, it is difficult to plan more than week-end trips. Several chorus members also belong to a group of seminarians who accept preaching assignments in vacant churches, further complicating definite plans.

Pat O'Malley (right) and Pfc. Henry "Red" Rozeboom shake hands as they renew a rather vague acquaintance after a weird chain of events. Rozeboom, who is visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rue, route 2, North Holland, is on furlough and first met O'Malley a few days previously in the Grand Rapids bus station. O'Malley, who recently was discharged from the service, is from Laredo, Tex., and was en route to visit an aunt in Muskegon, when he ran into Rozeboom. After one of those casual remarks such as "If you ever get to Holland, look me up," O'Malley did. He came to The Sentinel office, but couldn't remember Rozeboom's name. However, he provided a vivid description, such as he's in the Air Force, home on a 20-day furlough, and just got here the other day. Well one thing led to another and Sentinel employees finally were able to track down just who O'Malley was referring to. About a half-hour later O'Malley was talking to Rozeboom on the telephone and soon after the men met again in person. (Sentinel photo)

Allegan (Special)—Carl Goodwin and sons, Allegan contractors were low bidders on grading and drainage structures for a mile and a half of US-31, relocated, from the St. Joseph river in Benton Harbor, north to Rocky Gap road.

A spokesman for the Allegan firm said state highway officials believe the project calls for the largest earth moving job ever let in Michigan. Their bid totaled $477,360.40.

The state has purchased a big sand dune, nearly 40 acres in area, which will provide more than a million cubic yards of fill for the project. The dune is located about a mile from the job.

The project is in preparation for pavement and extension of the relocation of US-31 from St. Joseph north, by-passing Benton Harbor over the Blossom Time bridge. The job also calls for grading and drainage for an interchange at the Jean Clock road.

Official completion date for the job is Dec. 31, 1952, but officials of the contracting firm believe the project will take at least 17 months.

GRANDSTANDING...

Going out of the Armory Tuesday night, the subject on most fan's tongues was Ron Bos. His individual scoring total of 36 points was something to behold.

"It was the greatest demonstration of offensive basketball that I've ever seen," said veteran coach and present athletic director Bud Hinga. Coach John Visser added a quick "I agree."

Visser also went down the line on his other players after the game as he paced the locker room floor congratulating his great team—his first.

"Bremer is the best defensive rebounder that I've ever seen at Hope college," the former player and first-year coach said. "And Jacobson played one of the most superb floor games that I've ever seen."

Holland high's victory over Grand Rapids Central Tuesday night was scored over a fast and scrappy team. The two biggest drawbacks against Coach Chuck Smith's Hilltoppers proved to be lack of height and inaccuracy on outcourt shots.

But the game was an important one for Holland to win. The Dutch bounced back from a sickening 64-46 defeat to Muskegon Friday, and seemed to play a different brand of ball than they have used during the past six weeks. Although looking better, Holland still is a long way off the form it showed early in the season. That early season form established the fact that the Dutch are capable of better things, and local fans will be satisfied with nothing less.

Anyway, the improved team play is a start toward tournament time.

Central's Jack Spearman contributed the most amazing shot of the game as the final seconds ticked away. The slight Hilltopper let fly with a two-handed shot from approximately 15 feet back of the midcourt line as time ran out, and the ball swished through the nets without touching the rim. The game-ending buzzer sounded while the ball was in flight. Spearman appeared to be the most surprised man on the floor when his desperation shot went in.

The packed house of rabid basketball fans who watched Tuesday night at Holland Christian dumped top-ranked St. Joseph were stunned at the outcome of the game. They couldn't believe that their all-conquering cage heroes actually had lost—especially on their home floor.

There were plenty of tears among the St. Joe partisans. And not only students but adults, too, whipped out handkerchiefs. Bear Coach Ray Haack paid fine tribute to Christian, but saw a silver lining in the outcome.

Haack commented that the defeat probably will do his boys good for tournament play.

Old-line Christian observers characterized the Maroon ball-handling as the best ever produced by a local Christian team. The best adjective for the winners' game would be "methodical." And one of the keys to success is the fact that Holland refused to play the St. Joe style of ball, instead making the Bears come around to the Christian style.

"SUPER-WATCHDOG BUREAU"

Senator McClellan, an Arkansas Democrat, is moving heaven and earth for what he calls a "super-watchdog bureau." He has introduced a bill that would create a house-estate committee whose business it would be to eye and analyze all proposed appropriations of all departments and bureaus before they have been placed in an appropriation bill. The plan is not to look at appropriations once a year when the general appropriation bill is up for consideration but to make government spending a year-round activity.

The idea is good. Also, it is encouraging that it comes from a senator Democrat, because if it is to have any chance of success it would have to get the cooperation of the party in power and of the administration. The system would have to curb spending at the grassroots level before the departments and bureaus have had a chance to get their blueprints accepted and their appropriations regarded as "necessary."

But though the Arkansas Democrat doubtless means well, don't expect a fiscal utopia to result even if this bill passes the house and senate and is not vetoed by the president. The question always is who would investigate and hold down the spending proclivities of the "super-watchdog bureau"? Presumably it would be manned by party politicians. For a while they would doubtless feel themselves under the scrutiny of the American people and would make some effort to put the brakes on spending. But in due time the same thing would happen that usually takes place: the people would come to believe that now everything was being taken care of and they would not have to worry any more about excessive government spending.

When that happened, we would be back at the old stand. Or rather, we would be a little worse off. Because we would have added yet one more bureau with what McClellan calls "a staff of investigators to make year-round studies of government spending." Those investigators would of course have to be paid fat salaries, and as a result another straw would be piled on the patient camel's back.

Does that sound too cynical? Well, bitter experience has shown that it is all too close to the realities of things. In any event, even if the "super-watchdog bureau" is established, the people can't afford to let it take the place of their own watchfulness. Nothing can take the place of that. We the people must keep on kicking and protesting. In reality we are the only ones who can be efficient super-watchdogs. Why not write us 300 words if you have ideas about economy in government.

Beaverdam Home Damaged by Fire

Beaverdam—The Claude Hoffman home located about a mile east of Beaverdam was badly damaged by fire Monday night, causing damage of $5,000 or more.

Zeeland Fire Chief John Van Eden said the blaze may have been caused from an overheated chimney or faulty wiring. The house was well ablaze when the firemen arrived. Worst damage was a wing housing the kitchen, although the entire house was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water.

Aiding the Zeeland firemen was the Blendon-Olive township tanker which made the run from Borculo. Firemen were on the scene about three hours.

One fireman, Nick Cook of Zeeland, received a broken nose when a timber fell while he was fighting the blaze from the outside. He was treated by a physician.

The weather was cold Monday night for fighting a fire, but the wind was favorable, blowing away from the barn and other buildings.

Barnabas

Acts 4:36, 37; 9:26, 27; Acts 11:19-26; 13:1-3

By Henry Geerlings

Barnabas was one of the early disciples of Christ. The history itself, for the most part, is that of the apostle Paul, and Barnabas is a prominent figure because of his effort in behalf of Paul and his association with the apostle. All this is very interesting and affords a profitable study.

Barnabas is noted for his generosity to Paul. The first occasion was on the visit which Paul paid to Jerusalem after his conversion. The disciples in this city cold shouldered him. There was every excuse for their suspicion. He was the most active and bitter of their persecutors. When he left Jerusalem it was to go to Damascus with power and authority from the Jewish priests to make what havoc he could among the Christians in that Eastern city.

That the original persecutor should in the interval have become a believer was more than they could credit. They thought that his attempt to join them was just a ruse in order to discover their secrets, and denounce them to the authorities.

It does not require great exercises of the imagination to realize that the primitive church by its suspicion and coldness ran a great risk of losing Paul. In our day coldness and aloofness have chilled the ardor of many a young disciple. These are people outside the church just because they have not been kindly received by the people inside the church.

Imagine Paul's feelings on coming to Jerusalem and finding himself frozen out by Christians there after that tremendous experience on the way to Damascus. But Barnabas came to the rescue. He introduced Paul to the apostles and rehearsed his story to them and secured for him a welcome.

Barnabas was generous in the matter of money. He was one of those who set the example of selling their goods for the benefit of the church. Among those simple peasants, fishermen and other working folk who constituted the early church he was a man of property, and, in this respect, socially above the majority of the brotherhood. But this he ceased to be, putting himself on a level with the rest, and henceforth having to maintain himself entirely by the labor of his hands.

Of course it is possible to make too much of this one act of generosity. Church history abounds with instances of people who gave up everything and took poverty as their bride. St. Francis abandoned his home and all he possessed and devoted his whole life to follow in the footsteps of Christ. Not less noble is the life of such a man as Crossley, who, though a prosperous manufacturer chose to spend a simple life among his own work people, devoting himself and his large business profits to the good of his fellow man. But, while there is no reason to exaggerate the importance of this one act of Barnabas it is interesting as exhibiting at the very first the leading trait of his character—his abounding generosity.

Barnabas was generous in his judgment of people. He believed the best of everybody. He believed in Paul, believed in his sincerity in spite of his bad record in the matter of persecution. He had faith in those people at Antioch—in their conversion and acceptance with God—though they had not submitted to the Jewish rule. And by this generosity of spirit he saved many for the church. There never was such an encourager and helper as Barnabas. He was so generous that he had no room for envy in his heart. When he went for Paul to Tarsus, and brought him back with him to Antioch, he knew quite well what he was doing. He knew that to bring Paul in would mean that he would have to take second place.

Barnabas was generous toward the weak. He was the companion of Paul on his first missionary tour. He stood by him in his great fight for gentile freedom. He and Barnabas quarreled. It came about on account of John Mark. He had been his attendant in the first missionary journey but he left them at a critical point. Luke does not tell us why. When they were preparing for their second journey, Barnabas wanted again to take Mark, but Paul did not want to take the risk. And over John Mark these two friends who had been so much to one another quarreled and parted.

Evidently the church at Antioch was on the side of Paul in this quarrel. Paul stands for strict justice. Barnabas once again stands for generosity. And we feel that in pleading for a second chance Barnabas was just giving expression to the mind of Christ. He was nearer Christ than Paul was. He was generous enough to believe that a failure might become a success, and a coward a brave and steadfast man. And so, even at the cost of parting with Paul, he was resolved that Mark should have his second chance.

Yes, and the second chance saved him. Paul acknowledged it. In one of his last letters that came from his hand, he writes to Timothy like this—Take Mark, and bring him with you, for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ten Cate and sons, Fred and Cecil, and Mr. and Mrs. Casey Wieling, all of Holland, motored to Nashville, Tenn., last week-end to visit Pfc. Bernard Ten Cate who is stationed at Seward Air Force base.

A loaded truck moved too close to the soft edge of the ditch it was trying to fill at the Padnos Metal Co. Monday afternoon and the loaded back end of the truck sank into the muddy waterhole. The rack of the truck and the back end became mired in the sink-hole, pushing the front end of the vehicle almost straight up in the air. The above photo, showing the bulldozer trying to pull the truck out, was taken during the middle part of salvage operations. Finally a crane was appropriated, hooked onto the rear of the truck and lifted it straight up. Then the bulldozer pulled the loaded truck out onto solid ground. The driver then got into the cab and drove off, none the worse for wear. The truck is owned by West Shore Construction Co. of Zeeland. (Sentinel photo)

Rev. Redeker Accepts Call

Grand Haven (Special) — The Rev. Russell Redeker, pastor of Spring Lake Reformed church since February, 1942, announced to his congregation Sunday that he has accepted a call to Third Reformed church of Pella, Iowa. The church has 350 families and has a large and strong youth program, due largely to students at Central college in Pella of which Rev. Redeker is a graduate.

Rev. Redeker is chairman of the financial drive for the new building at Western Theological seminary in Holland. Date of his leaving Spring Lake will depend on arrangements made in this program.

There are about 175 families in his present church, which has grown considerably during his pastorate. A mortgage on the church building, completed in 1938, was burned in 1945 and a new parsonage, built in 1949, is almost debt-free.

At present, Rev. Redeker is president of the Tri-Cities Community Chest, vice president of the Ministerial association, chairman of the church extension committee of Classis Muskegon, chairman of the Chicago Synod expansion committee and serves on several other boards of the Reformed church. He has been prominent in youth work of the Reformed church and was Temple Time speaker for eight months.

Dutchmen Finish MIAA Schedule With 9-1 Record

Using superior height to its best advantage, Hope college wound up its MIAA basketball season at the Armory Saturday night by subduing a scrappy Hillsdale college quintet 87-72.

The victory in the final league game of the campaign brought Hope's MIAA championship mark to nine victories and a single defeat. For the Dales, the league slate ended with two wins and eight losses.

A capacity crowd turned out Saturday to watch the Dutchmen scamper past Hillsdale. But Hope found the going pretty rough most of the way.

A cold Dutch attack, coupled with outcourt accuracy by Dale guards Merv Holbeck and Dave Hinkle, found the local club on the short end of a 17-13 count as the first quarter ended. Hope took two minutes to score its first point on a free throw by Junior Bremer, and four minutes of the first stanza were gone before Bremer connected on a long shot for Hope's first bucket.

Hillsdale lengthened its lead to 20-15 as the second quarter started before Hope went ahead on eight quick points, counted on tip-ins by Bob Visser and Bob Hendrickson, and long shots by Bremer and Visser. The Dales came right back, however, to knot the count at 29-all with 3 1/2 minutes to play in the half, but Hope pulled out to hold a narrow 37-35 margin at the intermission.

Hendrickson paced a Dutch attack that netted 24 points in the third stanza, with the freshman center hitting exactly half of Hope's total. Hillsdale maintained a steady pace, but fell behind 61-53 at the third buzzer.

The home team kept the scoring pace pretty torrid by adding 26 more points in the final stanza, with seven players breaking into the scoring column. The Dales produced their best singles period output with 19 markers, but it wasn't enough to head the champion Dutchmen.

Although nearing the 90-point mark once again, Hope had a comparatively poor average of 29 per cent accuracy on field goal attempts. Hillsdale was just a step behind at 26 1/2 per cent, but the secret was that Hope's height advantage and good backboard play gave the winners 129 shots at the bucket compared with only 106 for the Dales.

The Dutch attack once more featured well-rounded scoring, with Visser leading the way with 21 points to nose out Ron Bos and Hendrickson for individual honors. The latter two each had 20 points.

Shifty forward Tom Walsh paced the Dales attack with 21 points, while Hinkle connected for 20 and Holbeck for 17. Most of the guards' points came on long two-handed shots from outcourt.

In a preliminary game, Coach Jack Schouten's junior varsity quintet bowed before Allen Radio of the Holland city league 56-43. Center Bob Van Dyke scored 12 points for Allen, and guard Bill Rink was high for the losers with 10. Allen led at half time 32-19.

Ministers' Circle Hears Mennenga

The Ministers' Social circle of the classis of Holland observed its annual guest day Monday afternoon in Trinity Reformed church.

Representatives of Western Theological seminary were Dr. and Mrs. John R. Mulder, Dr. and Mrs. George Mennenga and Dr. and Mrs. Lester J. Kuyper. From Hope college came the Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp, Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Prins, the Rev. Henry E. Schoon and Mrs. Irwin J. Lubbers. The Rev. Gerrit Rezelman of Adams, Neb., also was present.

The vice president, the Rev. John den Ouden of Zeeland, presided during the program. Devotions were in charge of the Rev. C. G. Reynen and the Rev. Peter Muyskens. Special prayers were offered for Dr. William Gouloze who has gone to Mayo clinic for treatment.

The main speaker was Dr. George Mennenga, a member of the board of foreign missions of the Reformed Church in America. He gave a report of the recent meeting held in February in Hackensack, N. J. Dr. Mennenga voiced appreciation for the leadership and personnel of the board and spoke of the congenial spirit amidst discussion of grave issues.

Two key persons were missing, Dr. Luman J. Shafer who has gone "back to his first love" as a missionary in Japan and Dr. F. M. Potter who has undergone a serious operation. Dr. Mennenga classed the two men as great international Christian statesmen who were always thinking of the total program of the church.

The budget of the board for 1952 is $736,000, proving the tremendous outreach of the church. The candidate committee reported 21 new appointments to foreign fields. Five are short-term missionaries. This is the largest number ever appointed at a single board meeting.

The speaker also touched on the situation of the China missionaries who are now serving among the Amoy speaking Chinese in the Philippines. He closed with a plea for more intercession for the work today. The closing prayer was offered by the Rev. Christian Walvoord.

Hosts and hostesses were Rev. and Mrs. Muyskens, Rev. and Mrs. Reynen, Rev. and Mrs. den Cuden and the Rev. and Mrs. James Wayner.

License plate headaches? Picture yourself in the position of Charles Cooper of Holland Motor Express Co., who made out a check for $33,040 for 237 truck-trailer license plates. Cooper, shown making the largest single license plate purchase in Ottawa county from Al Dyk, Holland License bureau manager, commented that this year's license cost has increased about 40 per cent over last year, and "raised our total outlay from $20,000 to $33,040." Just a note for housewives who find the cost of meat a cause for worry: Cooper's license plates sell at the rate of $132 per pound. (Sentinel photo)

Saturday Deadline To Buy Licenses And Pay Tax Bills

The Holland license bureau was an active place Monday as the final week of activity Monday

March 1 deadline for putting 1952 automobile license plates into use.

Bureau Manager Al Dyk estimated that about 4,500 more plates—mostly for passenger cars—remain to be sold this week. Already the bureau has processed about 14,000 applications.

Dyk commented that there are more auto registrations this year than last, and the total number of licenses issued by the Holland bureau this year likely will reach 19,000.

The bureau, located at 89 West Eighth St. in Holland, will be open from 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. for the rest of the week.

Other essential payments also must be made before March 1, according to a check of other governmental offices.

Holland township Treasurer John H. Maat and city Treasurer Alden J. Stoner have reminded residents that taxes must be paid by Saturday. After March 1, the rolls are closed and tax books sent to the county treasury in Grand Haven.

Stoner reported that of the $188,812 original tax roll in the city, about $12,500 remains to be paid.

So far, the city has issued 500 dog licenses, with about 300 more to be issued to bring the 1952 total up to last year's figure. Dog licenses also fall due on March 1 in the townships.

Zeeland Assured Of Second Place In Tri-County Loop

Plainwell (Special) — It took a second-half flurry led by substitute center Alan Kraai Friday night to give Zeeland high's basketball team a 55-36 victory over Plainwell that assured the Chix of second place in the final Tri-County league standings.

Zeeland now has an overall season record of 10 wins against five setbacks going into the big one next week against league-leading Allegan at Allegan. However, the Chix can't overtake Allegan at this time, but they'll be trying to upset Coach Ken Otis' undefeated wagon.

Friday's game was one of those nip-and-tuck affairs for the first two quarters with Zeeland just ahead most of the way. At the end of the first quarter the count stood at 12-11 in Zeeland's favor and a spurt just before the half made it 23-16.

Then came the big third and fourth quarters during which Zeeland racked up a comfortable lead. Kraai was the big gun as he tipped in several rebounds for points and ended the evening tied for high-scoring honors.

Zeeland's passing all evening was shoddy, Coach Joe Newell said after the game.

Glenn Schrotenboer split scoring honors with Kraai. Each had 18. Other Zeeland scorers were: Del Komejan, 11; Roger Smallegan, 2; Milt Lubbers, 4; Howard Geerlings, 6; Dave Kuyers, 2; John Vanden Bosch, 2; and Bill Tibbitts, 2.

Ted Earle was high for Plainwell with 11. Plainwell won the second team game 47-35. Frank Dionese with 16, led Zeeland, and Van Lente paced the winners with 19. Zeeland trailed 23-15 at halftime.

Doctor in Crash En Route Hospital

Two cars were damaged in a crash at 11 p.m. Friday on US-31 about three-quarters of a mile south of the city limits. A 1941 model driven north on US-31 by Duane Carlson, 18, of 138 West 22nd St., was hit in the rear by a 49 model driven by Dr. C. C. Corkill of Saugatuck. No one was injured. The Carlson car was damaged to the extent of about $200 and the Corkill car about $300.

Deputies Henry Bouwman and Andrew Vander Vliet investigated.

Dr. Corkill was headed for Holland hospital to attend a patient. Ruth Tag Miller, who had been seriously injured in a head-on crash on US-31 near Saugatuck early Monday morning, Miss Miller had been transferred from Douglas Community hospital to Holland hospital. X-rays revealed she has a fractured pelvis and other injuries.

The three young men in the other car have all been discharged, one to Percy Jones and the others to their homes. Two were Air Force men, Marvin Cooper, 20, Grand Rapids, and Roger Hoekstra, 19, of Cicero, Ill. The third was 18-year-old Thomas Cooper of Grand Rapids who had driven to Chicago to pick up the two who had come home on furlough. All three were seriously injured with lacerations and bruises and Marvin Cooper received a leg fracture.

Arrested After Crash

Grand Haven (Special) — State police issued Anthony Virgo, 22, South Haven, a summons for failure to signal for a right turn after being involved in an accident at 1 p.m. Friday on US-16 at Crocker-Flats in Crocker township. Virgo, traveling east, was straddling the center line when he came to the intersection of the county road, and while attempting to make a right turn, was struck in the right side by a car driven by Leonard Stewart, 29, Muskegon Heights, traveling in the same direction.

Two Cars Collide

Cars driven by Selby Miller, 68, East Grand Rapids salesman, and Donald F. McMullen, 35, Rockford, collided at 2:45 p.m. Thursday at 17th and College. Miller was driving east on 17th and McMullen north on College. McMullen received a ticket for imprudent speed from city police. Both cars were damaged.

Muskegon Youths Fined For Larceny From Cars

Grand Haven (Special) — Norman C. Knauf, Francis E. Butts and Claire H. Loyselle, all 18-year-old Muskegon youths, were arraigned before Justice George V. Hoffer Saturday afternoon on a charge of larceny from automobiles and each was sentenced to pay $25 fine, $6.55 costs and serve five days in the county jail. If the fines and costs are not paid they will serve 30 days.

The three were picked up by city police about 4 a.m. Saturday morning while in their car, and it was found they had a large box filled with aerials and other ornaments taken off cars which were parked in two used car lots on Beech Tree street at the east end of the city.

GRANDSTANDING...

By Dick Millman
The Albion college school paper started fooling around with figures the other day and came up with the proved "fact" that Albion could swamp the University of Keneucky on the basketball floor.

Here's the way the story figures:

Albion defeated Michigan Normal, Normal defeated Central Michigan, Central downed the University of Michigan, the Wolverines tripped up Michigan State, State in turn defeated Notre Dame, Notre Dame turned back Wisconsin, the Badgers tripped St. Louis, and St. Louis defeated Kentucky.

Therefore, Albion on the form sheet is better than Kentucky. And the combined point spread amounted to a 97-point bulge for Albion.

If we carry this a step further, Hope defeated Albion by six points, so the Dutchmen could swamp the Wildcats—the number one team in the nation—by 103 points.

Or at any rate, if you believe enough in statistics that would be the result.

Hope Coach John Visser, also recognized as one of the top basketball officials in this part of the state, has won the assignment of officiating at the Class A and C regional tournaments at Western Michigan gym in Kalamazoo in March. Holland high will be one of the A teams in this meet.

And another Holland referee, Harvey Butler, has been assigned to work the class C and D district tournaments at Tredway gym in Kalamazoo.

The Holland City Basketball league scoring race ended up with Dale Van Dorpe of Washington Square in first place with 143 points. Bob Van Dyke of Allen Radio was a step behind with 137 and Bill Kramer of Fox wound up in third spot with 130 points.

Here are the rest of the top 10 city loop scorers:

Ken Bauman, Kole, 118; Bob

Altena, Square, 114; Ken Schippers, Fox, 112; Ken De Waard, Pete's, 112; Gene Nyenhuis, Kole, 104; Lou Van Dyke, Allen, 101; Paul Fortney, Allen, 98.

Just notes:
Coach Carroll Norlin's ninth grade cage team has won three games this season, and in each victory the opposing team made exactly 26 points. The wins were over Benton Harbor, Grand Haven and Grand Rapids Catholic... Lou McMurray, star center on the Muskegon Heights basketball squad, has a "little" brother coming up in the Heights' basketball system who stands six-three. Kid brother Jim has been playing on the Heights' junior high team...

The margin by which Muskegon defeated Holland last week might have been four points narrower if two quarters had been just a second or so shorter. Bob Fairfield, driving Big Red guard, let fly with two long-distance desperation shots to just beat the buzzer by a hair at the end of both the second and third quarters and both were good... When Hope defeated Albion two weeks ago 93-91, it was the first time in history that a team had scored more than 85 points against the Britons, or more than 76 on the Albion floor... Jay Handlan, Washington and Lee forward who appeared with the Generals against Hope on New Year's Eve, is the fifth player in major league history to score more than 1,900 points in his career. Handlan dumped in 40 points against Richmond last week to boost his four-year total to 1,915 points, with four games left to play. Others who have hit the charmed circle are Jim Lacy, Loyola of Baltimore, 2,199; Chet Giermak, William and Mary, 2,146; Sam Ranzino, North Carolina State, 1,965; and Tony Lavelli, Yale, 1,964. Against Hope, Handlan scored 21 points. Grand Haven has signed St. Joe and Niles high school to fill its basketball schedule next season. The Bucs will play another New Year's Day afternoon contest in 1953 against Holland Christian.

Another group was organized by the Holland City Hospital Auxiliary Thursday at the home of Mrs. William G. Winter, Sr., 46 East 12th St. Mrs. William Olive was named chairman.

As chairman, Mrs. Olive will represent the group on the executive committee. Mrs. J. J. Brower will represent the group on the constitution and by-laws committee.

Mrs. Raymond Fehring, temporary president of the auxiliary, explained the set-up of the hospital needs and helped organize the group. After the organization meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Included in the new Thursday branch are the Mesdames Winter, Olive, Brower, George W. Van Verst, J. J. Riemersma, Nicodemus Bosch, John Bosman, Arthur Vischer, C. M. Selby, L. W. Schoon, E. Vander Meulen, W. C. Kools, Charles E. Drew, W. M. Tappan, John Vander Broek, W. L. Eaton, Edwin P. Dodge, John E. Telling and Miss Martha Sherwood.

Big Red Seconds Bow to Dutchmen

Muskegon (Special) — The Holland high reserve basketball squad closed out the Southwest conference season in winning fashion here Friday night by coming from behind to defeat the Muskegon Reserves 48-40.

The victory gives Coach Bob Connell's charges undisputed possession of second place in the final loop standings. Holland's win, plus Benton Harbor's loss to Muskegon Heights, broke a two-way tie for second place. Kalamazoo already had won the league trophy.

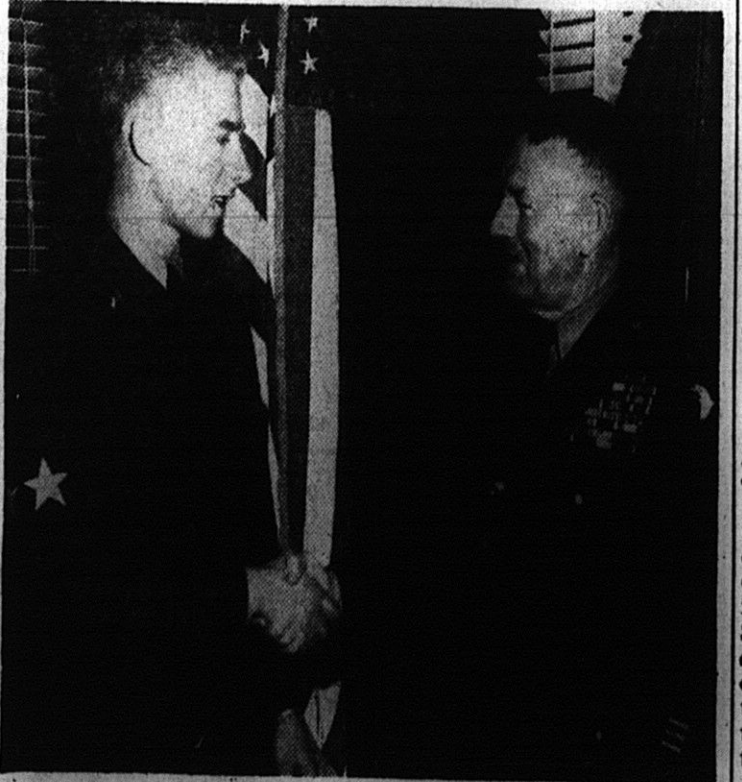

A big third period provided the winning impetus for the Junior Dutchmen. The score was tied 12-12 at the first whistle, and Muskegon forged ahead at halftime 20-17. But Holland outscored the Little Reds 18-9 in the third period, and followed suit 13-11 in the final stanza to salt away the triumph.

The game turned into almost an individual scoring duel, with Ron Knop of Muskegon copping top honors with 24 points. Bob Van Dyke almost matched his output with 20 points for the Dutch. Other Holland scorers were Paul Beukema with nine, Ron Israels eight, Dick Plagenhoef six and Bill Sandahl five.

The win gave Holland a 6-4 won-lost conference mark, and brings the overall season's mark to seven wins and six losses.

Bos Breaks Team Mark by Scoring 36-Point Total

Ah—sweet revenge. That's what Hope college students are relishing today with a free day that originally was called to celebrate winning the MIAA championship. However, Tuesday night's 93-67 shellacking of Calvin by the Dutch cagers at the Armory turned the whole affair into a double-barreled deal.

For it was the same Calvin team that socked the Dutch with a humiliating 85-43 defeat Jan. 12 in Grand Rapids.

A majority of the plaudits for Tuesday night's victory must go to Ron Bos, the versatile Hope guard, who shattered all Hope college scoring records with a 36-point total. His amazing feat, made with 14 field goals and eight free throws, breaks the individual scoring record at the local college.

Bos was at his greatest of the season and had spectators on both sides of the fence agog at his point-making spree. Twenty-two of his points came in the first half on eight field goals and six free throws. He added 4 field goals in the third quarter and one free throw and two more field goals and a free toss in the final canto before he bowed out to well-deserved standing ovation by Hope rosters.

Tuesday's game opened rather slowly with Hope lagging behind 4-1, then 6-5 and 11-7. However the Dutch shook their lethargy and went to work with a torrid fast break and that was the last time they were really threatened during the game.

Score at end of the first quarter was 24-18 in the locals' favor and it soared to 46-30 at half-time. The third quarter ended with the Dutch on the long end of a 71-44 count.

Biggest lead the locals had was 27 points as the horns ended the third period.

Besides Bos' amazing display of scoring, the locals can credit their victory to the aggressive rebound work of steady Jun Bremer and freshman Bob Hendrickson, along with Jerry Jacobson, who triggered a fast break that simply wilted the slower Calvin team.

Time after time, Bremer, Hendrickson or Jacobson would snatch the ball off the Calvin board and have it down the floor to Bos or Bob Visser with such split-second passing that they caught the Calvinites three-on-two.

And Bos always was in the middle to either pass off to Jacobson on one side or Visser on the other. It was a gaudy display of the fast break at about its best.

One of the big factors for the local collegians was the free throw line. Hope flipped in 19 out of 30 tries while the Knights connected on just five out of 15. In the field goal department, the Dutch connected on 37 out of 112 tries for 33 per cent while Calvin made good 31 out of 105 for a 29 per cent accuracy.

Behind Bos in the scoring department came Jacobson with 18 points on eight field goals and two free throws.

This is the architect's conception of the new Grace Episcopal church to be built on lots fronting on Michigan Ave. between Cherry and 24th Sts. The proposed church will cost approximately $175,000 and will seat at least 300. It will be of English Gothic style.

Grace Episcopal Church Planning New Structure

Preliminary plans for the construction of a new church have been made by Grace Episcopal church following a prolonged period of rapid parish growth.

The vestry of Grace church followed the directive from the congregation at the annual parish meeting in January. Preliminary drawings have been made and plans for the financial campaign and a timetable of the actual building operations will be announced soon.

The proposed new church, an English Gothic sandstone structure to cost approximately $175,000, will be erected on the church-owned lots fronting on Michigan Ave. between Cherry St. and 24th St. These and two adjacent lots on Elmdale Ct. were donated by Mrs. P. T. Cheif a few years ago.

Last week the church acquired the corner lot at Cherry St. and Michigan Ave., bringing the total to seven lots and giving the church an unbroken block of five lots on Michigan Ave.

The new church will have a seating capacity of 300 in the nave or body of the church and about 35 in the chancel. On the main floor, in addition to the church proper, will be parish house accommodations. These will be a sacristy, multi-purpose rooms for the use of the rector, vestry, guild, men's groups, young people, church school and other gatherings.

Beneath the church, an undercroft will provide a large community room with portable stage and accommodation for parish dinners and meetings, choir and acolytes' room, kitchen and storage space. Off-street parking for more than 30 cars will be provided by the parking lot extending from Elmdale Ct. to the east side of the new building.

During the last 10 years the congregation has grown almost 150 per cent and annual contributions have increased more than 400 per cent.

The congregation has purchased a rectory. The membership now exceeds 400. The Rev. William C. Warner is rector.

Lunching Crowd Enjoys Big Kingfish Dr. van der Velde Sends From Florida

It all started when the crowd of men who customarily eat lunch at the front table in Mary Jane cafeteria decided it would be nice if an absent member vacationing in Florida would provide red snapper for lunch.

And so a letter, signed by the entire group, went to Henry Oosting, local realtor, down in the sunny south. But somehow, Oosting's luck didn't come through and he returned without fish.

But when Dr. Otto van der Velde went to Florida later for a vacation, he had better luck and sent the crowd back home a huge kingfish, 36 inches long and weighing 113 pounds.

Bruce van Leuwen was delegated to prepare invitations which he did more than adequately—poetry in electrotape on fancy stationery.

With such ado, Oosting prepared his own defense through more poetry (and the same fancy typewriter) stating fish was only bait and if people thought his face slightly red, it really was the tan instead. And to prove he was a real guy, he promised dessert in the future in the form of lime pie.

By that time poetry had become rife and yet a third effusion in verse gave rise to an answer, collecting all loose ends and reminding Hank that while they forgave his failure to produce the red snapper, he probably won't forget it for a long time.

The lunching crowd is something of an institution. At first, the men gathered around a large table, and at one time were dubbed "Knights of the Round Table." Now, more often they are called the City Fathers.

Miss Louise De Kleine, accompanied by Mrs. De Waard of Drenthe, sang three solos, "It Is No Secret," "His Eye Is on the Sparrow" and "Wonderful Jesus."

Closing prayer was given by the Rev. C. G. Reynen.

Woman's Club Speaker Gives Facts About Food

"Good nutrition is the best preventive medicine," Miss Adelia Beeuwkes of Ann Arbor told members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon in a talk on "Food Facts."

"The body is nourished only through the foods you eat," she said in warning her listeners against the false diets and so-called "medicinal cures" for obesity which are so widely advertised today.

In a frank discussion of the overweight individual problems Miss Beeuwkes said that most people under tension eat either too little or too much and often get into serious trouble. She showed slides to illustrate trends of modern advertising and exposed the false claims of many well advertised "cures" for overweight.

As associate professor of public health nutrition in the University of Michigan school of public health, Miss Beeuwkes is well versed in the trends of modern diets. The creation of food is a miracle and pills and capsules cannot take its place, she said.

In these days when most women take too little exercise and burn up fewer calories, they must be willing to make adjustments in eating habits, said the speaker, as she outlined the base essentials of nutrition.

She recommended a new book, "Food Becomes You," by Ruth Leveton and suggested that anyone in doubt about an advertised weight-lossing drug or formula should write the American Medical association bureau of investigation, 535 North Dearborn St., Chicago.

"Proper eating is up to the individual, and no-one can decide if it is worth it but you, yourself," she said.

Mrs. Garret Vander Borgh presided and explained the functions of the new Holland City Hospital Auxiliary. Several working groups have already been organized and more are needed, according to Mrs. R. H. Fehring who heads the auxiliary. The club hospital committee, in existence for many years, is continuing its sewing for the hospital under the new setup.

Next week the club will hear a program on Mozart by Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson of East Lansing, and there will be election of officers.

Accountants Hear Insurance Expert

C. H. Quiter, assistant manager of the Grand Rapids office of Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of Holland chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants Tuesday evening in the Centennial room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

The group witnessed a film on insurance entitled "A Search for Security," presented by the Insurance Institute of America.

The film depicted the Presbyterian church of Philadelphia as the first in America to inaugurate an insurance plan and showed the progress through the years by the creation of plans so versatile as to include every type and every need.

Quiter discussed the new Social Security law as it affects the employee and the self-employed. Twice in life, individuals are a liability, in infancy and in old age, creating the need for assistance at a time when the earning power is at its minimum, he said. The object of tax on self-employment income is to exact contributions from the self-employed who become eligible to benefits under the Social Security act. No particular class of individuals is exempt. In computing tax, however, the income received for certain services is exempt.

James Townsend, attorney with the law firm of Ten Cate & Ten Cate, conducted the second in a series of five study groups on "Legal Papers."

The Public Relations dinner meeting of the chapter is scheduled for April. All members were urged to invite their employers to this meeting.

Big Reds Trounce Dutch in Final Southwestern Tilt

Muskegon (Special) — A near-perfect Muskegon high school basketball machine ruined any hopes Holland high school held of ending its last season in the Southwestern conference on top of the heap here Friday night when the Big Reds drubbed the Dutchmen 64-46.

The victory for Coach Tom McShannock's outfit pushed Muskegon into a final first place tie with Kalamazoo, which defeated Grand Haven Friday 64-47. Both have league marks of eight wins and two losses. Holland winds up in third spot with seven wins and three losses.

The Muskegon triumph was built largely on the drive-in ability of two stocky Big Reds—Don Rademaker and Bob Fairfield. Both boys either skirted Dutch defenses or drove right through them all evening to rack up a combined total of 38 points—20 for Rademaker and 18 for Fairfield.

The cut-in "shoot only when close" style of ball used by the Big Reds worked superbly against Holland. In fact, five of the eight buckets Muskegon scored in the first quarter were of the lay-up variety.

Holland meanwhile was generally on the cold side. The Dutch held almost even in the first quarter, fell off in the second stanza scoring two buckets, came back strongly in the third period, and fell off again in the final canto.

For the evening, Coach Fred Weiss' boys hit on only 22 per cent of their field goal attempts, collecting on 17 of 75 shots from the floor. In addition, all around floor play was ragged, but this was due in part to Muskegon's effective defensive play.

Fairfield started Muskegon off on the winning track in the opening quarter by sinking the first two buckets of the game, both on driving plays. Holland rallied to hold even through the quarter, led at one point 10-8, and slipped back to a 14-17 deficit at the whistle.

The second stanza saw Muskegon outscore the Dutch 18-8, as the Holland offense grew "stone cold dead in the market." The visitors racked up only two baskets during the eight minutes—one a tip-in by Tom Maentz and the other a long shot by Dean Vander Wal. Muskegon led at the half 35-22.

The breath of renewed life flickered in the Dutch performance in the third quarter, and with Maentz and Frank Van Dyke leading the scoring way Holland pulled up to stay within striking distance. A desperation shot by Fairfield at the third whistle gave Muskegon its final two-points to build a 48-36 cushion.

For the first half of the final period, Dutch teamwork that featured a couple of sharp passes by Van Dyke and Gordon Hulst kept Holland in contention. With four minutes to play, Fairfield and Rademaker turned on the steam and built Muskegon's lead to 19 points. The two buckets that completely broke the Dutch seemed to be when the Big Reds tallied four points in quick succession by men alone under the basket.

Maentz and Van Dyke accounted for the lion's share of Holland scoring. Maentz counted 17 and Van Dyke 15 to rack up all but 14 of the Dutch markers. The back line fell down noticeably for Holland with only two free throws scored by the four Dutch guards who saw action.

One good Holland feature was the way Maentz shackled Earl Morrall, third high scorer in the conference, with a tight defensive job. Morrall scored only one basket all evening.

The game, played before a packed house at spacious Central auditorium, winds up conference action in the Southwestern for Holland, which leaves the loop in June. Two more games remain on the Dutch schedule before regional tournament play begins in March.

Grand Rapids Central is the opponent next Tuesday, with Ottawa Hills closing the schedule on March 4.

Work Safely With Livestock

Grand Haven (Special) — A 60-cent investment in a pair of rubber gloves to wear when handling newly-born pigs and calves is cheap insurance for farmers against the danger of undulant fever, L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, said today.

He says that several Michigan farmers have run up good-sized hospital and doctor bills when they were sick with undulant fever. They traced the disease to handling young pigs or calves whose mothers had brucellosis. Often it takes years to completely recover from undulant fever.

The county agent also warned that it's much safer to call your veterinarian to treat a cow which has not been cleaned properly after calving instead of trying to do the work yourself.

Often the reason for the trouble is that the cow has brucellosis. In this case it's better to let someone do the job who has had experience in protecting himself against the disease.

The Holland high eighth grade basketball team closed its season Friday with a smashing 67-7 victory over the Marne eighth graders.

Fourteen players saw action for the Little Dutch and all hit the scoring column. The regulars played only the first quarter and half of the final period and Coach Jack Rombouts used his reserves most of the game.

Marne had lots of trouble finding the hoop and Holland took a 33-2 halftime lead after leading 24-2 at the first quarter. Tom Overbeek led the winners with 18 points, and Ryan scored six of Marne's seven points.

The Junior Dutchmen thus ended their season with 10 wins and no losses, and claimed sole possession of the Ottawa County Junior High league championship.

Miss De Vries, Sgt. Brower Wed

Sgt. and Mrs. L. Dole Brower

Wedding vows were spoken on Friday evening, Feb. 15, by Miss Norma De Vries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus L. De Vries, 500 Michigan Ave., and Sgt. L. Dale Brower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Brower, 255 West 18th St.

The Valentine ceremony was performed in Trinity Reformed church by the Rev. Henry Ten Clay of Grandville. Palms, ferns, candelabra and baskets of red carnations formed a setting for the double ring rites. White bows and red flowers decorated the pews. Organist was Elwood Berkomas of Niles, cousin of the bride. The Rev. John Hains, pastor of Trinity church, was soloist. He sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. Harold Brink, the groom's sister, who was matron of honor, and Mrs. Herman Slager bridesmaid. Earl Newell assisted the groom as best man. Ushers were Harold Brink and Clarence Brower, the groom's cousin.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white nylon net and Chantilly lace over satin. Style features were the fitted lace bodice with nylon net yoke trimmed with lace and the long sleeves with nylon ruffles at the pointed wrists. A lace peplum accented the full net skirt which ended in a slight train. A white satin macpad held her fingertip veil and she carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations and hyacinths centered with red carnations. Her only jewelry was a pair of heart-shaped earrings, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Brink wore a red taffeta gown featuring a two-tiered peplum and a white nylon tulle stole. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white taffeta with a red nylon tulle stole. Both wore matching macpads and carried heart-shaped bouquets of red carnations outlined with white hyacinths. Their pearl chokers were gifts of the bride.

After the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the Trinity parish house. The bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Trapp of Grand Haven were master and mistress of ceremonies. Punch was served by Mrs. Ron Schipper of Holland and Mrs. Marvin Ver Schure of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Jim Miller of Holland and Mrs. Vern Schipper of Lansing arranged the gifts. Dinner music for the reception was provided by Miss Marcia Bouwa, pianist, and Miss Dorothy Kaasboek, who was in charge of the guest book. Toasts were given by Rev. Hains and Rev. Ten Clay.

The newlyweds left on a southern wedding trip. For going away the bride wore a gray suit, red and black check coat with black velvet trim, red accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Sgt. Brower, a Holland high school graduate, is stationed with the U.S. Army at Camp McCoy, Wis. Before entering service he was employed at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The bride, a graduate of Holland high, attended Hope college and now is employed at Peoples State bank. She will live with her parents while her husband is in service.

The groom's parents entertained the bridal party after the rehearsal on Thursday evening.

AAUW Program Features 'Art of Middle Europe'

Art by the masters of Europe from the early 1300's to the moderns of the 20th century was seen Thursday evening by members of Holland branch, American Association of University Women. The art reproductions were shown by Richard Yonkers, director of the Grand Rapids art gallery, who presented a "slide lecture" on "Art of Middle Europe."

Mr. Yonkers, a student of Cranbrook, who recently returned from Europe where he visited most of the famous art museums, pointed out characteristics of painters in each period from the early Italian and early Flemish through the Renaissance, Baroque, Rococo, Romantic, impressionistic and modern periods. He explained the transitions from one period to the next and showed how one period grew out of another.

He especially emphasized Giotto, who is credited with giving "space" to art; the famous van Eyck brothers of the Netherlands, who are said to have invented oil painting; the master Rembrandt, who introduced a new method of lighting, and Cezanne, "the father of modern painting," who gave us color. In modern painting, Mr. Yonkers said, emphasis is placed on the pattern of the picture rather than representation as in earlier paintings.

Mrs. Wilma Reed, who is chairman of the AAUW Art Study group, introduced the speaker.

During the business session at which Mrs. Henry Steffens presided, announcement was made by Mrs. Preston Luidens, secretary of the biennial regional AAUW conference, to be held in April at Grand Rapids. Mrs. Steffens announced appointment of Mrs. Stanley Boven, chairman, Miss Clara Reverts and Miss Jantina Holleman as the nominating committee.

Members of the hostess committee, Mrs. Leon Hopkins, chairman, served refreshments from an attractive table decorated to commemorate George Washington's birthday.
