Council Will Buy Land

By a vote of 5 to 3, City Council voted Wednesday night to exercise an option to purchase property at 67 West 13th St., at a cost of $8,100 to be used for parking area for Herrick Public Library.

The property adjoins a city-owned lot on the east. Council also is awaiting condemnation action against property immediately west of the library. The three lots together would provide parking area for 60 cars.

Action came after a communication from the library board asking immediate action toward allying traffic and parking problems in the 13th St. block. Hero Bratt of the board was present at the Council meeting and reiterated the need for prompt action.

Council set March 17 at 7:30 p.m. for a public hearing on an application of Scotts, Inc., requesting a variance from the requirements of the fire district ordinance to permit construction of an addition to its present building located at 611 Ottawa Ave.

Council approved a request from Holland Cab Co. establishing fares as follows: 45 cents for the first 4 miles, 10 cents for each additional 4 miles, and $3 an hour for waiting time.

Council approved a city manager's recommendation to instruct the city attorney to prepare a resolution for Council's consideration in the request of Harold Knudson to annex his property at 1096 West 32nd St. from Laketown township to Holland city. Letters from school districts involved indicated that the districts are in agreement with the proposed transfer. The new resolution is to be adopted jointly by the city and township to accomplish political annexation.

Claims against the city were filed on behalf of Lloyd E. Lawton, 90 East 35th St.; Julius Gal, 538 East 40th St.; William Vogelzang, 879 Central Ave.; and Eugene Vande Vusse, 831 Bertsch Dr.

A request from American Legion post No. 6 requesting $750 from the city to help pay for the July 4 celebration was referred to the city manager for study and report.

A letter from HEDCOR requesting $2,500 to be included in the city budget to help continue the ongoing program of HEDCOR was referred to the city manager for study and report. The budget had included similar allocations the last two years.

The resignation of Donald H. Hann as deputy city attorney, effective March 12, was accepted with regret. Hann, who is joining another law firm in the city, expressed appreciation for the experience and friendly associations with city leaders, and commended the honesty and integrity of the police department for its scrupulous protection of the innocent as well as its work in bringing the guilty to justice. City Attorney Gordon Cunningham said he would have a recommendation for a deputy city attorney late in April.

Library gifts of $20 were accepted in memory of Peter Van Domelen and $15 in memory of Mrs. Arend Bosman.

Council approved a number of purchases on bids. Neenah Foundry was low bidder for 95 manhole covers and rings and 200 manhole steps for $2,837.50. Two bids had been entered.

Council Tables Action On Windmill Closing

City Council Wednesday night tabled action on Sunday operations at Windmill Island Recreational Facility.

Motion to table was made by Councilman Eugene Vande Vusse who said a city election is scheduled a month hence and it is possible that 50 per cent of council personnel could be changed. In view of this, he felt any action taken now could be changed a month later. His motion was seconded by Councilman John Van Eerden.

Earlier, Councilman Morris Peerbolt moved that a resolution restricting Windmill Island operations on a Monday-through-Saturday basis be adopted, seconded by Councilman Richard W. Smith.

After the tabling motion, Peerbolt asked that Council rules be suspended to discuss the motion, but a vote on this request failed to carry. All were voice votes, not roll call votes. And Council adjourned abruptly. It was 8:45 p.m.

Earlier in the evening under communications and petitions, letters from the consistories of 14 city and area churches opposing Sunday operations at the windmill were read, and petitions protesting Sunday operations bearing 1,959 signatures were presented.

The letters came from consistories of Central Avenue Christian Reformed, Holland Heights Christian Reformed, Maranatha Christian Reformed, Montello Park Christian Reformed, Park Christian Reformed, Prospect Park Christian Reformed, Ninth Street Christian Reformed, Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed, Graafschap Christian Reformed, Bethel Reformed, Sixth Reformed, Calvary Reformed, Central Park Reformed and Fourth Reformed.

Letters on the same subject also were read from Pastor Bailey of Wesleyan Methodist Church; Gilbert Van Wyne, 87 East 23rd St.; Thomas Smeenge, 364 West 21st St.; and J. Phillips, 119 East 20th St.

A letter from the elders of Trinity Reformed Church endorsed a proposition that Windmill Island be open on Sundays provided there would be no fees or admissions charged and that the facilities be used to give expression to the Christian faith of the community.

A letter from Hugh A. Koops, 54 East 15th St., suggested that the grounds be open to the public free of charge on Sunday. He also commented on what appeared to be deterioration in community life in Holland and suggested a Human Relations Commission be established in the city. The letter was referred to the city manager for study and report.

Late in the meeting under communications from the audience, Art Wyma, 64 West 48th St., read a detailed message, starting out with thanking Council and the Windmill Committee for their efforts in establishing the windmill project and commenting on the character of Holland, its distinctive culture and spiritual heritage.

He made many allusions to the expressions given in the church letters and the petitions and asked that this spiritual heritage be protected by not operating Windmill Island on Sunday.

Mrs. William Weststrate, 55 West 14th St., concerned with the tax dollar, referred to the controversy on Sunday closing as a "hot potato" and "rather than put some councilman up for reelection on the spot" asked some specific questions of City Manager Herb Holt on Windmill Island finances.

Her questions pertained mainly to finances and possible public vote in case revenues would not be sufficient to meet the bonds and she asked whether the project would revert to the bonding company. Holt said he was not familiar with all the legal ramifications, but felt bond holders would have such an option. He explained that bond payments had been capitalized for the first 18 months and that regular obligations would not be met until the second full year of operations. This, he said, was standard procedure.

Councilman Peerbolt referred to the bond booklet explaining the Windmill Island project, quoting many figures of Dr. Frank Suggitt's review on tourism potential, etc. These figures, Peerbolt said, were based on a six-day-a-week operation.

There were 41 persons in the audience, a good share of them interested in the windmill program. Mayor Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and a quarter. All Councilmen were present with the exception of Donald D. Oosterbaan. The invocation was given by the Rev. Kenneth Stickney of South Shore Baptist Church.

Zeeland Okays Middle School, Millage Boost

ZEELAND — Voters approved a $990,000 bond issue for the Middle School by a narrow 473 to 429 margin Tuesday.

Also approved in the special school elections was the proposal for an additional two mills for five years for school operating expenses. The margin in the millage proposal was 509 to 401.

A total of 942 votes were cast in the elections. There are between 3,500 to 4,000 registered voters in the Zeeland school district.

Superintendent of Schools Julius Schipper said that architects will now go ahead with drawing plans for the school. School officials hope construction will begin on the building this summer. The scheduled date for completion is August, 1966.

Schipper said the plan for the school will be based on preliminary drawings which called for a building with six units radiating from a central section.

The building will accommodate 600 sixth, seventh and eighth graders, and will be built on an 18-acre site near the Roosevelt Elementary School. Bonds for the school will be retired by 1982.

The additional two mills will bring Zeeland's operating millage to 12.82. The extra millage will be added on to tax bills beginning this summer.

The additional two mills on equalized valuation amounts to about $4.40 for each $1,000 assessed valuation, or an increase of about $15.48 a year for the average home assessed at $3,000.

Formal Gardens Other Plantings Set for Island

Plans for gardens and landscaping on Windmill Island were outlined to City Council Wednesday night by Jaap de Blecourt, landscape gardener for the project which will be open for Tulip Time this year May 12 through 15.

De Blecourt, who formerly supervised the gardens at Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, displayed Windmill Island sketches showing his plans for tulip beds, subsequent planting of annuals, judicious use of existing trees, planting of ornamental shrubs and trees, tulip trees, rhododendron and magnolia, as well as plans for an extensive rose garden, formal gardens, tree-lined river roads, and even an herb garden.

All this will take time, de Blecourt said. The visitor this spring will see the windmill, imported here from Vinkel, the Netherlands, and will visit the posthouse which will serve as an information and reception center.

There will be tulip fields on the island and also at the posthouse which will be between the parking area and the 36-acre island on which the windmill stands. There will be paths, bridges and a service road. After the tulips have bloomed, 62,000 annuals will be planted.

A picnic area will be ready for use at the opening of Windmill Island, but it will be fall before de Blecourt's gardeners will be planting the first of many trees and shrubs which may be years in the developing.

De Blecourt's plans call for screening a service drive along the river bend on the island. Black River which curves in a semi-circle around the island is close to 180 feet wide. A canal has been dredged and dikes built to make this an island. In time, there will be boat rides on the canals for visitors.

Sketches list Chinese maiden-hair trees, cedars, lilac trees of many varieties and colors, weeping willows, weeping birch, sycamores, ornamental apple trees, mountain ash, horse chestnut trees, Lombardy poplars, linden trees and white ash. Other planned varieties list locust, dark red maples, sugar maples, poplars.

Besides tulips, hyacinths and daffodils, there will eventually be a rose garden with beds 100 feet long and 30 feet wide, and a formal garden 300 feet square, centered by one of the small windmills brought here by William (Diek) Medendorp, representative of the Dutch Windmill Society who is supervising restoration of Windmill De Zwaan in Holland.

Also to be built later will be a Frisian farm home and barn. Plans call for the pond off Sixth St. to be left in a natural state although it will be cleared of stones and branches. Another small pond also will be made on the island itself.

The sketch shows the toll gate just north of Seventh St. on the extension of Lincoln Ave. Placement of the toll booth in this location gives the operator control of the railroad spur crossing in that locality, and would not have cars waiting on the tracks as would be the case if the toll booth were set closer to the windmill development. Earlier in the meeting Council approved an agreement with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. in which the city will assume all costs for any safety devices which might be ordered by the Public Service Commission.

De Blecourt was introduced by City Manager Herb Holt who later introduced Medendorp to Council. Medendorp said he was pleased with the gardening plans and informed Council that the windmill restoration is "coming good."

Cooperation Sought for Clinics

Efforts are being made to line up donors in churches for Red Cross blood clinics which are scheduled eight times a year in Holland.

Similar clinics are held in other communities in Ottawa and Allegan counties in the same program whereby blood is made available to people who need it free of charge, aside from hospital service charges.

Letters to area churches have been sent by Mrs. L. W. Lamb Jr. who is assisting in recruiting not only donors but in trying to set up a recruiting chairman in each church. It is suggested that the needs of the area could be met if each church provided five regular donors at each clinic.

Already some early responses have been received. Among the volunteer donors are Kenneth Mokma, Adrian Geenen, Stanley Kleis, Cornelius Dykstra, Bernard Velthuis, Martin Spielhauer, Charles Francis, James Brewer, Harvey De Ridder, David Beckstorf, Warren Bonzelaar, Melvin Witteveen and Kenneth Knoll.

The next donor clinic is scheduled Thursday, March 11, from noon to 6 p.m. in Holland Armory. This is a change from the usual meeting place of Civic Center.

Letters seeking cooperation in lining up donors and asking that each church appoint a lay person as recruiter have been sent to the following churches: Faith Christian Reformed, Sixteenth Street, Bethany, Maranatha, Montello Park, Prospect Park, Maple Avenue, Calvary, Ninth Street, Holland Heights, Fourteenth Street, Harderwyk, Central Avenue, East Saugatuck, Overisel, West Olive, Zeeland Bethel, Zeeland North Street, Park Graafschap, South Olive, First Zeeland, Calvin and Pine Creek.

First Reformed, Hope, Fourth, Sixth, Christ Memorial, Maplewood, Third, Bethel, Calvary Reformed, Trinity, Central Park, Rose Park, Beechwood, Overisel, Ebenezer, Hamilton Haven, North Holland, First Zeeland, Faith Reformed.

Other churches and organizations receiving letters were Salvation Army, Wesleyan Methodist, Berean Church, First Methodist, St. Francis de Sales, First Presbyterian, Grace Episcopal, Assembly of God, First Baptist, Immanuel Baptist, Seventh Day Adventist, Zion Lutheran, City Mission, Christian Counseling Service, YMCA, Free Methodist Zeeland, New Apostolic, Zeeland First Baptist.

Some of these churches lie within areas which have their own donor clinics. The county Red Cross headquarters is not suggesting that such donors come to Holland but does recommend a lay chairman in each church to aid in their own area programs.

About 250 donors are being sought for the March 11 clinic in Holland. A record response of 314 units of blood resulted from a clinic two days before Christmas but only 92 units were taken at the January clinic.

Donors are taken from the age bracket of 18 to 59 but those under 21 who are not married must have parental permission. Persons who have had malaria, anemia or hepatitis are restricted. Donors may not be under 110 pounds.

Driver Escapes Injury

Dennis J. Numikoski, 21, of 252 West 10th St., escaped injury when the car he was driving skidded off South Shore Dr. near 160th Ave. and struck a utility pole. De Vette Comments on Championship Team

Before Hope College played at Adrian in its MIAA opener last Dec. 9, Coach Russ De Vette gave each member of his team a ticket order blank.

He didn't expect them to pay their way into the games but the order blank contained the list of Hope's MIAA championships. He told each player to write in the numbers "64-65" and "put it someplace in your room where you'll always see it."

Hope had just lost its first two games but De Vette told his team at Adrian, "We think we can do it but we must start tonight." Hope stopped Adrian, coming from behind to do so, and was the only MIAA team to beat Adrian at Dutchman.

The Flying Dutchmen found some rocky road ahead and from the Adrian win to the Calvin loss on Jan. 13, Hope had a 3-2 MIAA mark and after that every game became a "must" game.

Hope didn't drop another league game and ended with a 10-2 record. De Vette won his seventh championship in nine years. It was Hope's 15th MIAA crown.

Looking at the season, De Vette thought his team was fortunate to have fine balance between rebounding and shooting. "If we shot poorly we always outrebounded our opponents, especially early in the season when we weren't shooting well."

De Vette said before the season that if Hope was to be a contender, the club must im-

Diamond Springs

A Christian Youth Crusaders group was organized in January and Sunday in the Sunday School hour 12 fourth, fifth and sixth grade children received Christian Youth Crusader scarves which means that they have completed their membership requirements. This group meets each Wednesday from 4 to 5:15 p.m. Mrs. Louis W. Ames is director and Mrs. Randall Spray and Rev. Ames are assisting.

The pastor brought a message on the subject, "What is Revival?" during the morning service. John De Young sang "Until Then."

The Wesleyan Youth enjoyed a glimpse into a book "Mission to the Head Hunters," an account of work among the Indians of Ecuador. The book review was presented by Mrs. Harvey Immink, president of the Missionary Society.

The pastor preached in the evening from the subject, "Jesus Was Missing!" Miss Julie Krause and Miss Nancy Wake-man sang a duet, "I Believe in Miracles."

World Day of Prayer services for churches of the Hamilton area will be held at the church Friday at 2 p.m.

Two Cars Collide

Good Neighbor Policy Practiced in Holland

"Hands across the border"

sonds like an old cliché, but one Holland family, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Teall of 280 West 17th St., and their daughter, Francie, find it a stimulating experience. Staying with them for seven months is 15-year-old Celina Ribeiro of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, under the Youth for Understanding program.

Celina and Francis, who is also 15, are students at E.E. Fell Junior High School. A special treat for Celina last week was a visit from her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thomaz Ribeiro, who have six children at home.

Also visiting here at the Tealls was a cousin, Helena Ribeiro, 16, also an exchange student in Pontiac. Another cousin, Lina Ribeiro, 18, sister of Helena, is under the same program in Plymouth.

The Ribeiros are a closely knit family in many ways. Mrs. Ursula Ribeiro and her sister married brothers and the cousins are actually more like sisters and brothers. Mr. Ribeiro has been in this country many times on business as well as in Europe. He took his daughter and niece with him to Milwaukee on business and they are together in Ann Arbor for several days before the parents return to Brazil by plane.

Celina Ribeiro is fluent in several languages—Portuguese, Spanish, French, Italian and English. Her stay with the Tealls came about after Francie brought home a questionnaire which her parents filled out saying they would take a student from Mexico for two months. There were more boys than girls coming, so the Tealls lost out. However, when the call came from Ann Arbor saying a girl from Brazil was available, they decided to invite her.

The Tealls' son, Bob Teall, who was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis and played football for Navy is home on leave this week. He has been assigned to the Marine Corps and will be leaving soon for Korea. Another son, Gary Teall attended Hope College and is presently going to Grand Rapids Junior College.

The Tealls feel the Youth for Understanding program is a wonderful way to make neighbors "good" neighbors. They thoroughly enjoyed the visit from Celina's parents. Mr. Ribeiro toured the Heinz plant here on Monday with Mr. Teall.

Lecture Is Scheduled On German Paintings

Delbert Michel of the Hope College art department will discuss the historical significance of the German expressionist painting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Carley Room of Van Zoeren Library.

An exhibit of German expressionist painting will be on display through March 22 and the library is open from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The public lecture concerns paintings by H.M. Pechstein and Karl Schmidt-Rottluff. The paintings are on loan from the Grand Rapids Art Museum collection.

An informal reception in the Van Zoeren room will be held following the lecture giving the public and additional opportunity to study German expressionism.

sive player and Anker was better defensively, the Hope coach felt, "and both came along so well in their weaknesses."

"It was great the way they assumed their roles with no malice toward each other," De Vette said. "Roy was greatly improved over last year and Potter is the best offensive tipper we've ever had."

The Hope coach felt Chris Buys had one of the most difficult jobs on the club. "Starting with the Kalamazoo game he was told he wasn't going to be a regular anymore and he had to make the change."

"He complimented the team and came through as a sub," De Vette said, as he recalled Buys' showing in the Adrian, Kalamazoo and Concordia games in the Civic Center.

"Some players have to warm up but Chris could go in and start right away. He was hot shot and always right with it." Buys missed the final Kalamazoo game because of a twisted ankle received in a pre-game drill before the Calvin game.

De Vette concluded with credit to the bench. "We haven't had a squad in a long time that had as much equal ability," he said, "and our practices were rougher and tougher."

As for next year, De Vette has all of his team back with the exception of co-captain Dean Overman, the lone senior on the club.

"It will be fun next year," De Vette quipped.

Jane Elizabeth Hohmann became the bride of Charles Alan Krahmer in a nuptial mass in St. Gabriel's Monastery in Boston, Mass., Saturday. The Rev. Bonaventure Moccia, C.P., performed the ceremony before the altar which was arranged with bouquets of white lilies and yellow snapdragons.

The bell-shaped skirt had a shaped midriff which was accented with Alencon lace appliques and seed pearls on the skirt. An orange blossom crown held her shoulder-length veil in place. A cascade of tulips, white roses and hyacinths formed her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Thomas B. Coppe of Boston, sister of the bride, attended her as matron of honor. Her azalea linen gown was fashioned with a circlet neckline, short sleeves and empire waistline. A shirred A-line skirt was accented at the waistline with bows in front and at the back. Her bouquet was a cascade of elegant pink miniature carnations with hyacinths. Her headpiece matched the bouquet.

Ray Crow of Weybridge, Vt., brother-in-law of the groom was best man. Ushers were William Bissell of Cheshire, Conn., William Rawlins of Framingham, Mass., and Homer Yeannakis of Maplewood, N. J.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Country Room at the Somerset Hotel in Boston. Bouquets of spring flowers were used at the tables.

Mr. Krahmer was graduated from Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., and is a systems analyst for Honeywell, Inc., at Wellesley, Mass.

Accountants Hear Robberson

Thomas C. Robberson, manager of the Grand Rapids office of Dun and Bradstreet, addressed the Holland Chapter of American Society of Women Accountants Tuesday evening on "What's Behind a Credit Report."

"Credit," Mr. Robberson said, "has its origin in business and is primarily used to finance the removal of goods. In Europe land ownership was the basis of capital, but the opening of the Western hemisphere brought a new market for goods and necessitated a credit system."

Dun and Bradstreet maintains current files on business firms throughout the United States, 56 European countries and seven Latin American countries. These files are reviewed twice a year to check on business operations. In his conclusion, Robberson said the three C's for credit are character, capacity and capital.

On Feb. 11 members of the Holland Chapter toured radio station WJBL and Western Theological Seminary offices, class rooms, chapel and library.

West Ottawa Wins, 80-61 Over Chix

ZEELAND — West Ottawa's basketball team won its second conference game of the season with an 80-61 victory over Zeeland here Friday night before 1,000 fans at the Zeeland gym.

The Panthers turned a close and exciting game into a victory as they outscored the Chix 32-16 in the final stanza. The Panthers won the game at the foul line as they hit on 23-37.

Paul Busscher and Bruce Van Huis led the way at the charity line with 9-11 and 7-10 respectively. The Panthers made 16 foul shots in the final quarter as compared to two for the Chix.

Lloyd Schout hit a long set shot to start the scoring as the Chix built up a 17-12 first quarter lead. Mark Engle, Zeeland's junior guard, was a big factor in the first quarter as he hit on three of four from the top of the key to pick up six of his eight points in the first quarter. Bob Essink, faking and driving the Panther defense, picked up seven points in the quarter.

The Panthers, led by Busscher and Dave Farabee came back strong in the second quarter. After the Chix had built up a six point, 20-14, lead with 4:58 left in the half, Farabee hit a long jump shot to cut the lead to four points. However the Chix led by Schout, continued to hit and led 26-18 before the Panthers started to close the gap.

Busscher hit two foul shots while Farabee and Visser each added a basket to cut the Chix lead to four points 26-24. Busscher then hit from the baseline making it 26-28 with 2:24 left in the half and he tied the score at 31-31 with 54 seconds remaining. Farabee and Dale Boeve added baskets to give the Panthers a 35-32 half time lead.

The Panthers outscored the Chix 23-15 in the second quarter. Good foul shooting added their cause as they hit seven of seven. Schout had nine points for the Chix while Busscher had eight for the Panthers in the quarter.

West Ottawa kept a slim lead in the third quarter as both teams scored 13 points. Dave Vizithum scored three straight baskets in the quarter on driving layups before he picked up his fourth foul and Coach Jack Bonham decided to save him for later in the game.

The Chix were within one point early in the quarter but the Panthers built up a 41-34 lead. The Chix, aided by seven points from the charity line, narrowed the lead to three points 48-45 at the end of the quarter.

Early in the fourth quarter the Chix tied the score 48-48 as Essink hit a basket and was fouled for a three point play. Busscher hit and the Panthers went ahead 50-48 but Schout tied it up 50-50.

With 6:21 left in the game Zeeland went ahead 52-50 on another basket by Schout. Vizithum tied the score and Farabee put the Panthers ahead to stay 54-52 at the five minute mark. From this point on the Panthers outscored the Chix 30-9 as they built up their 19-point victory margin. The Panthers made good use of the charity line in the fourth quarter as they hit on 16-21 from the foul line.

The Chix lost Dave Costello in the third quarter and Essink in the fourth quarter on fouls.

Zeeland had quarters of 8-18, 4-11, 5-16, 7-18 for 38 per cent from the floor while the Panthers scored only two more baskets from the floor as they had quarters of 4-13, 8-14, 6-16, 8-14 for 45 per cent. The Chix made 13-19 from the foul line.

Rebounding played an important part in the game as the Panthers were able to pull down 47 rebounds while the Chix had 39. Van Huis was the big man for the Panthers as he got 19 rebounds. Schout led the Chix in this department with 16.

Schout led the scoring for both teams with 27 points. He had 10-21 from the floor and 7-9 from the foul line for a fine performance. He was followed by Essink with 13.

The Panthers received balanced scoring as they had five men in double figures. Van Huis led the Panthers with 23 points hitting 8-20 from the floor and 7-10 from the foul line. He was followed by Farabee and Busscher with 15 points each while Vizithum had 12 and Visser 10.

Plead Guilty To Reduced Charges

ALLEGAN — Latest in a long series of events following the 1960 murder of aged Pullman farmer Byron Hassett, took place this week in Allegan Circuit Court.

Appearing before Judge Raymond L. Smith — who last week had ordered their 10-25 year second degree murder convictions set aside — were Patrick Cochran, 22, South Haven and Tony Huminsky, 21, Chicago, who have already served four years in Ionia State Reformatory.

Arraigned on lesser charges of robbery and assault Thursday, both men pleaded guilty and waived reading of information. Judge Smith set March 31 for sentencing. The two youths are presently free on $5,000 bonds.

A third man, Nicholas, 22, brother of Tony Huminsky, is seriously ill and on medical parole at University Hospital, Ann Arbor. He has as yet been unable to appear to answer the reduced charges.

Harold Ball, 23, remains in Ionia Reformatory where, last summer, he confessed to a prison psychiatrist that he alone had administered the fatal blows to Hassett. Lie detector tests given Ball following his confession have since been termed "inconclusive" by Allegan prosecutor Ervin Andrews.

Also arraigned before Judge Smith Thursday were five teenage boys charged with breaking and entering.

Pleading guilty to forced entry of the Log Cabin restaurant, Allegan, and the theft of around $300, were Tom Nunley, 17, William Randall, 17, Nelson Terry, 17, and George Herts, 19, all of Otsego and Dan Butler, 17, Allegan.

All five are confined in the Allegan county jail in lieu of $500 bond each. They will be sentenced March 31 in Allegan Circuit Court.

Muskegon Falls, 73-54 To Holland

MUSKEGON — Closing out its best regular season in thirteen years, Holland High's basketball team whipped Muskegon, 73-54 here Friday night for its 12th win in 16 games before 1,500 fans in the Central Campus gym.

The victory gave the Dutch undisputed second place in the LMCA with a 7-3 record as Muskegon Heights lost to conference champion Benton Harbor. Muskegon is 5-11 and 3-7 in the LMCA.

Holland never trailed in the game and although Muskegon threatened a few times the Dutch maintained complete control throughout.

If the Big Reds did get up any momentum, Holland countered with free throws. The Dutch again spent most of the night at the free throw line and actually won the game at the line.

Holland tossed 54 free ones and cashed in on 31. It was the second straight game the Dutch had shot more than 50 free shots. Against Muskegon Mona Shores Holland shot 53 times and sank 34.

As examples of free throw shooting, twice late in the third quarter Muskegon pulled within seven, only to have Holland (Cal Belkman and Steve Millard) each hit a pair and push the cushion to nine.

Holland made only 21 baskets in the game while the Big Reds connected 20 times. Holland's shooting was 36 per cent with 21 of 59 on periods of 8-18; 5-16; 3-8 and 5-17.

In the third quarter when Holland made only three baskets, they picked up 11 free throws to match Muskegon's 17-point output, its best quarter.

Muskegon had trouble hitting and tried 90 times. They ended with 22 per cent on quarters of 4-23; 5-17; 7-27 and 4-18. At the free throw line, the losers had 14 of 22.

Four Muskegon players fouled out and the Dutch lost big Mike Lawson. The 6'10" center played less than a quarter. He started and played six minutes in the first quarter. He picked up three fouls and was rested.

In the second half, he played seven seconds of the third period before getting his fourth and he returned for 13 seconds of the fourth before committing his fifth. He made five points, all freethrows.

But this was a break for 6'5" senior Brian Kleinjans to see his first heavy service. And he responded with 10 points, six on free throws and he grabbed 12 of Holland's 55 rebounds. The losers got 49 rebounds.

Millard got Holland off on the right foot as he sank four first period field goals and pushed the Dutch to a 16-6 lead with three minutes to play. Holland continued to a 20-11 first quarter edge.

Randy Johnson stole the ball twice to score and tallied off a fast break in a minute during the second quarter to be the big part of a 10-point rally that gave Holland a 33-16 bulge with three minutes to go in the half. The Big Reds countered and cut the margin to 35-26 at half.

Muskegon came within seven, 46-39 with two minutes left in the third quarter but Holland's free throw shooting managed to hold a 52-43 third quarter margin.

Fouls told in the final period and the Dutch got 11 more points on free throws. Three quick baskets at the quarter's start one each by Kleinjans, John Leenhouts and Millard broke Muskegon and Holland had a 58-43 bulge. From then on, Holland had 17 to 21-point spreads.

Millard led Holland with 20, including six baskets in 13 tries while Belkman had 13 and Kleinjans, 10. Coach Don Piers-

Zeeland Again Talks Swim Pool

ZEELAND — Civic leaders again are talking about possibilities of a swimming pool for Zeeland.

Proposed plans call for underwriting or selling bonds of $40,000 to cover costs of the pool. These bonds would be non-interest bearing and sold to local civic minded individuals or organizations. Bonds would be retired from a fund setup consisting of a part of each admission fee.

Suggested admission fee would be 25 cents for children and possibly a higher fee for adult evening swimming. Proposed size would be 40 by 75 feet for the swimming area plus a diving area 30 by 35 feet. The pool would be in a T-shape.

The pool should be so constructed that a plastic dome could cover the swimming area for year-round use if the demand was such and the finances adequate.

The east end of Lawrence St. Park has been suggested as a possible location. Huizenga Park was tentatively ruled out because of crossing the divided highway.

Laborers in the Kingdom
Matthew 20:1-16
By C. P. Dame

The parable which comprises the lesson text tells about employers, employees, a labor bureau, labor contracts, wages, rates of pay and a wage dispute. These terms are familiar to us all. The Lord wants workers—this is the truth the parable teaches.

I. The Lord looks for workers. On the first Sunday in Lent we will study the Parable of the Laborers in the Vineyard which is found only in Matthew's gospel. The owner of a vineyard went out early in the morning to get workers to harvest his crop of grapes. The Jewish working day was from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. We are glad that things have changed. In those days men who were looking for work stood in the market place and there those in need of workers would also come.

Jesus portrays a man, owner of a vineyard, hiring men at 6 a.m. for a penny a day. At nine o'clock, three hours later he hired some more and at noon and at three o'clock and at five, an hour before quitting time, he hired more. To the last group he said, "Why stand ye here all day idle?" They answered, "Because no man hath hired us." The first group of workers were promised a definite sum, but the others were told by the owner that he would give them whatsoever is right.

The employer represents the Lord. He needs and seeks workers. The devil too is busy in the market-place of the world to find workers. Wise indeed are the people who respond to the Lord's call and reject Satan's offers.

II. Christ always rewards His workers. Do not look upon this parable as an economic tract full of suggestions how to run a business or deal with labor. When the day ended all the workers got paid according to the law which says, "The wages of a hired servant shall not remain with you all night until morning" (Leviticus 19:13b). Those hired first got paid first—a penny and to the surprise of all, the others received a penny also.

When those who had worked all day saw that those who worked much shorter got the same as they, then they grumbled. They should have rejoiced. The employer answered the spokesman that he had kept his promise. "Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?"

The employer gave three arguments—he had acted justly for he paid what he had promised; besides, he could use his money as he pleased, and he had been generous and therefore gave more than some earned. Christ has His own standards. He does not give just so much. Those who work for the Lord discover that He is most generous. Remember this—all the rewards we receive are ours due to God's grace.

Johnson Says Conservation Everyone's Duty

The greatest problem in conservation facing Michigan today, according to Carl T. Johnson, is not water, soil, or forests—it's people.

"Officials and supporters of our conservation program agree we'll never really solve our problems until people realize that conservation is everyone's business," said Johnson, Grand Rapids insurance executive and a member of the Michigan Conservation Commission, in his appearance before Holland Rotary Club at the Warm Friend Hotel Thursday noon.

Johnson Says Conservation Everyone's Duty

The greatest problem in conservation facing Michigan today, according to Carl T. Johnson, is not water, soil, or forests—it's people.

"Officials and supporters of our conservation program agree we'll never really solve our problems until people realize that conservation is everyone's business," said Johnson, Grand Rapids insurance executive and a member of the Michigan Conservation Commission, in his appearance before Holland Rotary Club at the Warm Friend Hotel Thursday noon.

Conservation, he pointed out, is not something just for the hunter and fisherman. "Our farm lands, our forests, our rivers, and our lakes have a vital influence on our lives. History shows that people who neglected or squandered their natural resources ultimately went into eclipse."

Johnson traced the rise of communism in China back to the failure, hundreds of years ago, of the Chinese to adopt land reforms. Hunger and deprivation followed, he said, with the police state of communism taking over everything the natural consequences.

Michigan residents have much in their state to be proud of, he said. "We are the third largest landowners in the nation, topped only by the federal government and Minnesota. We have 20,000 miles of trout streams and 11,000 lakes. Every resident of Michigan is within 85 miles of one of the Great Lakes and their superb beaches." He urged all citizens to join in the conservation movement to preserve these and other natural resources.

Johnson added his criticisms to those of Rachel Carson, author of "Silent Spring," for the indiscriminate use of insecticides, pesticides, and fungicides. "The fall-out from these is as deadly as a nuclear blast," he said. He cited instances where birds, fish, and other wild life is being wiped out by these agents. He recognized the need of insect and fungus control, but called for more careful compounding and application of such preparations.

Johnson was introduced by Charles Cooper. President Roger Rietberg announced that next week's program will feature an illustrated talk by the Rev. William C. Warner.

Workmen's Compensation Bill Blasted

Present workmen's compensation legislation under consideration by the Michigan Legislature will put industry at a big disadvantage, George Van Porseum said Tuesday.

Van Porseum, a former state representative from the Holland area and currently employed by the Michigan Manufacturer's Assn., spoke before 135 persons at the Chamber of Commerce early bird breakfast in the Hotel Warm Friend.

Van Porseum said that the bill could increase the cost of workmen's compensation by 60 per cent.

The bill would allow compensation for two-thirds of a disabled workman's weekly wage up to $90 or $100. The bill would also do away with a 500-week limitation on benefits, would adjust the benefits to the yearly rise in the cost of living and would increase the burden on the employer in many ways, Van Porseum said.

Van Porseum said that the increased cost of workmen's compensation would put Michigan's industry in a disadvantageous position in relation to surrounding states. He pointed out that none of the nearby states have anything near a $100 weekly benefit.

The former legislator said that the situation from his standpoint looks quite bad. The bill before the legislature is favored by the Democratic party which has a large majority in both houses. He added, however, that citizens might be able to do something about it by writing the governor and their representatives.

The speaker outlined some of the history of workmen's compensation in Michigan. He said that when the law was passed in 1912 it took away an employer's defenses against liability suits for injuries on the job, but at the same time limited the liability on the employer.

The present bill arose from a study made by a commission authorized by Governor Romney. The commission was authorized to look into the tremendous rise in costs and little change in benefits in the program in the last few years, Van Porseum said.

Van Porseum said that he thought that the conclusions reached by a special legislative study group in another study this summer would be more equitable for both industry and labor. The legislative committee was headed by former state representative Riemer Van Til.

YOUNG ARTISTS AT WORK — Smock-covered children at individual easels dabbled in art at the Fine Arts Festival sponsored by the Junior Welfare League Saturday morning in the Civic Center. From 9:30 until 12:30 the almost overflow crowd of 1,000 children plus parents and League members had the time of their life as this photo taken during the middle of the morning shows. Even the stage of the Civic was utilized for part of the program. Other features were tables for colleges and game tables.

Children Overflow Civic For League Art Festival

Approximately 1,000 children flocked to the Holland Civic Center on Saturday for the Fine Arts Festival sponsored by the Junior Welfare League for students in kindergarten through grade 3.

Mrs. Jack Miller and Mrs. Roger Doolittle served as co-chairmen of the festival with Donald Rohlok of the Holland Public Schools serving as consultant.

Three different groups of art activity were offered and each one provided a different type of art experience.

The easel painting was set up to enable 72 students to paint at a time and the easels had a steady turn over of young artists. Each child was furnished with paper, paint, brush and smock but they supplied the art work.

The collage tables were furnished with enough equipment to keep approximately 200 students busy at one time. They made their collages with net, yarn, wallpaper, toothpicks, wood chips, and many other household articles that they had never associated with art projects before.

The games section was separated into four different groups, etch-a-sketch, line design, texture design and vision box. The line design was an entirely new aspect of art to the students. They placed golf tees in a peg board and then strung different colored yarn loops between these pegs to form a design.

The most common remark of the children when it was 12:30 and time to go home was "we sure did have fun."

Dutch Have 16-6 Record For Season

KALAMAZOO — Climaxing a fine season against a team that had a part in "starting it," Hope College's basketball team stopped Kalamazoo College, 102-91 here Saturday afternoon before 1,000 fans in Tredway gym.

It was the 10th MIAA win in 12 starts for the league champions who succeeded in sweeping the second half of MIAA and finishing the season with seven straight wins.

The 102-point total also put the Flying Dutchmen over the century mark for the fifth straight game and gave Hope a 16-6 record, certainly a fine climax to a season which really didn't get started until mid-January.

Kalamazoo's defeat in Holland, Jan. 16 is the spot where the Flying Dutchmen began to roll. Coach Russ De Vette, after the 85-81 Hope win, had called this game a "must" win.

And that it was. Four days earlier Hope sank to its low point in an 87-64 trouncing at Calvin. But the Kalamazoo win put the Flying Dutchmen on the road uphill. Prior to that win,

Final MIAA Standings	W	L
Hope	10	2
Calvin	8	4
Aubion	7	5
Adrian	7	5
Kalamazoo	6	6
Olivet	4	8
Alma	0	12

Hope had a 5-5 mark.

In the last 12 games, Hope was to lose only one, a 74-71 game at Concordia, selected to play in the NCAA Great Lakes regional tourney. So Kalamazoo "started" what Hope "finished" Saturday. And finish it they did. They never looked better with split-second passing, perfect feeds, a strong zone defense and phenomenal shooting.

Hope never trailed and gave no inkling of a letup after clinching the MIAA crown in the 104-102 double overtime win over Calvin. The game was tied three times in the opening minutes and then the winners opened seven to 10-point leads and increased the bulge to 13, 48-35 at half.

Floyd Brady and Carl Walters led the first half assault. Brady got six baskets underneath and added four free throws. Walters bombed from out five times and added a pair of free shots.

The winners continued the surge in the second half and this time it was Clare Van Wieren's turn to get into the act. He hit five baskets in 10 minutes and one of his field goals, a rebound shot, gave Hope a 68-44 lead, its biggest margin. Brady picked up four baskets during the same period.

Bill Potter led the final game drive with five baskets and Van Wieren added three more two-pointers as Hope kept 17 to 22-point leads. The winners reached 98 with 3:31 to play but it took a minute before Potter's tip gave Hope 100.

Dean Overman, Hope's lone senior, closed his career making the final baskets with 29 seconds to play. In the last three minutes, the Hornets outscored Hope, 13-4.

Hope made 56 per cent of its shots with 42 of 74, including 20 of 35 in the first half. The Hornets made 36 of 81 for 44 per cent and had 16 of 40 in the first half. At the free throw line, Hope made 18 of 37 and Kalamazoo, 19 of 26.

Brady, who hit 10 of 14 basket tries, led Hope with 29 for his season's high while Van Wieren, had 10 of 18 and made 23. Potter had eight of 12 and 16 points and Walters, who again engineered Hope's floor game, hit six of 11 and ended with 16. Don Kronmeyer, who started his first game against Kalamazoo Jan. 16, had 11 as he sank five of 14. Jim Peters led the losers with 25.

Hope won the rebounding, 49-42 as Van Wieren grabbed 14 and Brady had 11. Potter and Kronmeyer each got eight. Jack Barkenbus, Lorin Sanderson and Oeters each had 10 for the Hornets.

Kalamazoo, 6-6 in the MIAA and 10-9, close the season Monday at Lake Forest.

WINGED HORSE — The "Pegasus", built by Warren Veurink and Jack Florence of Holland, is a $36,000 modified Mustang "2 plus 2". The car sports a completely reworked top, rear deck and front grille assembly. Black vinyl trim and imported French headlights mounted in rectangular frames add to the car's unique appearance. The interior features two "stiletto" bucket seats. Ford Motor Co. stylists complimented the designers for its distinctive design.

BRAND-NEW BIRD — This $40,000 Thunderbird may be a preview of things to come. An "idea car" built by two Holland customizers, Warren Veurink and Jack Florence, it will be shown at auto shows around the country to test public reaction to its unique features. Rectangular headlights, vertical grille bars and a landau top without rear quarter windows highlight the exterior. Special bucket seats were constructed for the interior.

Holland Customizers Build Plush Thunderbird, Mustang

Like to have a $40,000 Ford Thunderbird with modified grille, roof, rear deck and equipped with stereophonic radio? Or maybe a $36,000 customized two-seat Mustang with a 14-carat gold paint job?

Unfortunately or fortunately, as the case may be, the cars are not for sale. Built by Jack Florence and Warren Veurink of Holland, the Thunderbird belongs to the Ford Motor Co., and the Mustang is owned by an Ohio custom car enthusiast. Neither is interested in selling.

Veurink, owner of Holland Auto Trim Service, 479 Columbia Ave., and Florence, proprietor of Fostoria Styling, East 19th St., remodeled the 1965 Thunderbird late last year from plans drawn up by Ford. It is an "idea car," a prototype embodying features as yet not incorporated in production models.

Several prototypes are constructed every year by each auto manufacturer. In order to avoid tying up its styling shops, however, Ford confines itself to drawing up the plans.

Private firms build the actual models. Veurink said Ford had been working with shops on the West Coast until recently, when they began shifting much of the work to Michigan. He added that the Chrysler Corporation, which has many of its prototypes built in Italy, is also considering moving their work to Michigan. General Motors, he said, does nearly all of their own building.

The biggest "idea" on the Thunderbird is the rebuilt, vinyl-covered landau top. The rear glass area was reconstructed and the rear quarter windows were removed. New, rectangular headlights and vertical grille bars altered the front of the car, while the rear was modified by unique bumpers, taillights and deck lid.

Veurink altered the interior, building four individual bucket seats and a new console. New door trim and a rear speaker for the stereophonic radio were added.

The car, like other prototypes, will be displayed at major auto shows throughout the U.S. to test public reaction to its design. Those new features that are approved by the public will be considered for future standard models.

The two designers' most recent project is a 1965 Mustang "2 plus 2" which they planned and customized for a Cincinnati man early this year. Called the "Pegasus" after the winged horse of Greek mythology, the car has been extensively modified inside and out.

Florence altered the car's profile by lowering the body four inches and building a complete new top and rear deck. The front grille was simplified and extended, while rectangular headlights were added. Black vinyl was attached to the rocker panels and the trim area around the doors and the rear grille to contrast with the car's gold-fleck surface. Three weeks of work, 40 coats of lacquer and five pounds of chipped 14-carat gold went into the $1,200 paint job.

Two high, long, "stiletto" bucket seats were designed and constructed by Veurink. The dashboard was enlarged and the upholstery was done in black and gold to match the car's exterior. Moutton was used to replace the original carpeting.

Veurink is currently working on nine Ford and three Mercury bucket and bench seats for use in 1966 and 1967 prototype models. Some of the seats, he said, only need hand-made covers, while others need special contour work with extra foam rubber.

Foot Doctors Seek Practice

FLINT (UPI) — A group of foot doctors here are stumping for permission to practice their profession in municipally owned Hurley Hospital.

Dr. R. Roderick Abbott, former director of medical training at the hospital, explained that the hospital is reluctant to let other than medical doctors practice at the facility for fear it would jeopardize the hospital's medical training accreditation.

Dr. William E. Dehart, spokesman for nine licensed Genesee County foot doctors, said foot patients now must go to Detroit for hospitalization. Dehart said the Genesee County Osteopathic Association also is seeking permission to practice at Hurley.

"The question is should the people of Flint have the freedom to choose the physician they want to treat them in a hospital which is operated with their tax money and is dependent upon them for support," said Dehart.

He said other hospitals have foot doctors (podiatrists) on their staffs.

Dehart appeared before the Flint Charter Commission subcommittee Tuesday to plead his case.

Views From The Campus

Dr. Edward Brand, Associate Professor of English, has been a member of the Hope College faculty since 1946. Prior to coming to Hope he was a high school principal, and later superintendent in Plymouth, Iowa.

He has also taught English and Speech at Ellsworth Jr. College in Iowa Falls, Iowa, later becoming dean of that institution from 1942 to 1946.

Dr. Brand received his A.B. degree from Central College, M.A. degree from the State University of Iowa and earned his doctorate at the University of Denver.

He is a member of Pi Kappa Delta and Alpha Psi Omega honorary fraternities.

By Dr. Edward Brand While the thermometer stubbornly insists on remaining in the teens we are turning our attention to the Hope College summer session program.

The real concern of the writer is to alert the citizens of the greater Holland community to the offerings of the program.

We believe Hope is a community college. Its geographical area is inseparably associated with College Ave., Graves Place Tenth St., and Columbia Ave. It is affected by the community, and the community is affected by its presence.

Because of the many inquiries by telephone and mail, we welcome the opportunity to answer through this column the many real and anticipated questions.

The opening date of the summer session is June 21 and registration will take place beginning at 8:00 a.m. Following registration, abbreviated class periods will be held. No cumulative routine is required to enroll for one or two courses.

Monday through Friday one period per day from 8:00 to 9:25 is spent in the classroom for three semester hours' credit. If the student chooses to take six hours credit, he will attend an additional class period from 10:00 to 11:25 daily. Because of the concentrated study in the eight-week language program, double class periods, one in the morning from 8:00 to 9:25 and another in the afternoon from 1:00 to 2:25, must be attended.

Courses may be taken with or without credit. When taken on the audit basis, the cost is half that of the regular tuition cost, $29.50 per semester hour.

The proposed program in art includes painting, using either oil or water media.

Biological sciences include Animal Biology studies and an advanced course in Ornithology. Courses in Accounting (no prerequisite) and Principles of Economics are offered in Business Administration. The Education Department will give the course in History and Philosophy of Education.

In English there are the Shakespearean comedies, the American novel, the Survey of English Literature (from the French Revolution to contemporary), and World Literature. Additional courses include the Languages for eight weeks, the equivalent of one full year of first or second year German or Spanish, plus American History (since 1865), Russian History, College Algebra, Plane Trigonometry and Fundamentals of Mathematics. Additional courses are listed in the brochure available March 15.

The summer session attracts many of the regularly enrolled students who wish to accelerate their college programs. Because of a change in vocational plans some students find it necessary to enroll for required courses toward the new major.

Students from the Holland community attending universities and technical schools often find it convenient to pursue courses during the summer residence in the city. Teachers in public and private schools who need additional college credits required by certification laws find Hope College a stimulating center for obtaining those credits.

A special group of recent high school graduates is invited to the campus for the experience of doing work on the college level. It is most encouraging to report that some of these students have done so well in the following year that they have made the Dean's list.

Several institutes and student programs keep the campus stirring. Dr. Paul Fried has developed a five-week summer program for 35 visiting Japanese students beginning on July 12. The Reverend Gordon Van Wyk, Professor of American History at Meiji Gakuin University in Tokyo, Japan, has been appointed the Director of the program for these overseas students.

The success of last summer's National School Orchestra Association conference under the direction of Dr. Morrette Rider met with such enthusiasm that Hope College has been selected as the site for the Conference in 1965 to be held from August 8 to 13.

Anyone who has graduated from an accredited high school or has attained adult status may apply for admission. In past years only two percent of the community's 30,000 inhabitants have taken advantage of the program. It is hoped more of you will join in this intellectual experience.

Genealogy Topic At Quester Meet

"Genealogical Research" was the program topic presented to the Jane Stoketee Chapter of Questers on Wednesday by Mrs. Richard F. Keeler. She told how one's genealogical research can be an interesting tracing of one's descent from a very early ancestor; either for sentimental reasons, or just based on curiosity concerning the historical past, early customs and present day antiques.

The legal right to inheritance of property may develop from genealogical study as may the right to membership in various historical societies, she said.

Mrs. Keeler suggested starting with recent ancestors, and progressing to earlier ones by the use of old family records, letters, documents, church records, government records of land grants, births, marriages and deaths.

Libraries have many histories of towns with names of settlers, war records, tombstone records and old newspapers on microfilm.

Preceding Mrs. Keeler's informative talk, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clarence Hopkins, and plans were made for as many members as possible to attend the national convention of Questers.

Members of the group who will serve as hostesses at the convention luncheon on May 5 will be Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Fred T. Coleman, Mrs. John LaBarge and Mrs. Frank E. Working.

Racing Homer Club Trophies Given

Trophies were awarded recently for winners of the junior and senior divisions of the Holland Racing Homer club.

A trophy is awarded in the 110 and 155-mile races to junior members only and the club trophies start with the 210-mile from Indianapolis, Ind.

Besides working for a first place finish and a trophy in each race, the club also has a point system. The first bird gets 10 points, the second nine until the first 10 places are filled.

The loft which wins the largest total points during the series of races wins a loft trophy.

This year the loft trophies were won by the late Paul Veele and Reed Sloothaak in the old bird series and Ervin (Pete) Bouwens and Sloothaak in the young bird series.

Each year the club has flown a "special race" from Indianapolis, Ind. Each member purchases special numbered bands for this race. The bands must be placed on the young squabs before they are 10 days old or the band won't slip over their leg. Only these young birds can participate in this race.

Last year Phil Kammeraad won this race. There is a traveling trophy with this race and a member must win it three consecutive years to retire it.

The club has made a special effort to encourage boys to join. Special trophies, due and loft trophies have been set up so that the boys are competing against each other as well as among the men.

Club officials are seeking more members and have issued an invitation, especially to youngsters, to join. Persons interested may contact Phil Kammeraad.

The race season begins May 8 with a race from Warsaw, Ind.

Bids Submitted For School Wing

GRAND HAVEN — Four construction firms, including Stephenson Construction Co. of Zeeland, submitted bids Wednesday night at a special meeting of the Spring Lake Board of Education for construction of a five-room addition to Jeffers elementary school, serving the east part of the district.

J. W. Blouw of Grandville, Erhardt Construction and Lenger Construction, Grand Rapids, were the other bidders. The bids are being tabulated by the architect and the contract will be awarded at the next board meeting March 4.

The Jeffers addition is another step in the five-year program of construction adopted by the school district several years ago, when it voted to develop a full 12-year school program. Stephenson recently completed an addition to the junior-senior high building in the village.

Church Women Council Plans Prayer Service

Plans for the annual World Day of Prayer service to be held Friday, March 5, were discussed at a meeting of the Holland Area Council of United Church Women executive board and board managers of United Church Women in Calvary Reformed Church Monday afternoon.

The prayer service will be held at 2 p.m. in Trinity Reformed Church and will highlight Dr. William Brownson, Jr., assistant professor of preaching at Western Theological Seminary, as the speaker. Special music will be provided by Ellis Julien of Hope college.

In other business Monday evening Council president Mrs. James Mooi called for renewed enthusiasm in the functions of the United Church Women. The Council represents 13 churches in the Holland area. One of its main projects is the Migrant Ministry program which operates during the summer.

Mrs. Don Lievense, chairman of Family Service, (Helping Hands) reported on the work being done by local church women. They have gone into homes where there is a need for cooking, child care and care for the aged and also have been working at the City Mission sorting and distributing clothes. Mrs. Lievense said there is a need for living room furniture and single beds either to donate or for loan until June. Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Lievense or Mrs. James Brooks.

Devotions were led by Mrs. H. Maatman. Dessert was served.

Family Fashion Show Planned At West Ottawa

West Ottawa Band Boosters are planning a family fashion show on March 25. The event will take place in the West Ottawa High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Nelson Lucas, Band Booster president, has named Mrs. James Mooi as general chairman for the show. She will be assisted by Mrs. Donald Heerspink, Mrs. Robert Longstreet, Mrs. Steven Kuna, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. Donald Ladewig and Mrs. Russell Bennett.

Latest spring fashions for the entire family will be shown. Models will be selected from parents, faculty and children of the area. Local merchants will cooperate by furnishing wardrobes for all ages.

A gay, spring background, fitting to the season, and appropriate musical arrangements are planned to tie the band, the season, the family and fashion into the "Family Fashion Symphony."

Members of the West Ottawa Band, the Band Boosters and others will be in charge of tickets. They will also be available at the door.

Cigar bands were first used in Cuba to protect the delicate fingers of aristocratic Spanish ladies who secretly took up smoking.

Brinks Holdup Due to Snow

BYRON CENTER — When a Brinks armored truck carrying $250,000 disappears there is cause for alarm.

There was considerable worry at First Michigan Bank and Trust Co. in Zeeland Thursday afternoon when a Brinks truck, bound for Zeeland from Byron Center, failed to show up at the Zeeland bank.

Due at the bank at 3 p.m., the truck was nearly two hours overdue when bank officials called the Ottawa County Sheriff's office at 4:58 p.m.

The sheriff's office dispatched a car down Byron Rd., the road linking Zeeland and Byron Center. A mile inside Kent County, deputies located the missing Brinks truck — stuck in a ditch.

Ottawa County deputies radioed the Kent County Sheriff's office and by the time the Kent County car arrived at the scene, the Brinks drivers had dug themselves out of the ditch and returned to Grand Rapids, figuring it was too late to get to the Zeeland bank before it closed.

'No Cause' Verdict Given in Damage Suit

GRAND HAVEN — "No cause for action" was the opinion of Judge Raymond L. Smith in Ottawa Circuit court Thursday, in a damage suit, in which Donald Vokal, Spring Lake, sought to recover $10,000 damages from Leonard Peck, also of Spring Lake.

The plaintiff started suit July 27, 1964, seeking a judgment for damages and injuries he claimed he sustained in a traffic accident March 16, 1964. Mr. Vokal claimed he was a rider in a car driven by the defendant which struck a utility pole.

'Holland's Future Rosy' Panel Tells Century Club

A rosy future is predicted for Holland because of its heritage, its rapid rate of growth, and the high competency of its leadership.

Suggesting that rose-colored glasses are fitting because of these three important factors, Marvin C. Lindeman, moderator of the panel discussion for Century Club at the William Arendshorst home Monday evening, directed specific questions to prove his premise to Willard C. Wichers, Roscoe Giles, and Donald C. Ihrman.

Directing his first question to Wichers, he asked him about the implications of Project Windmill for "Holland Tomorrow."

Wichers, whose role in the acquisition of De Zwaan is well known, traced the 300-year history of the mill, saying that as a symbol of our tradition it could become the greatest attraction for tourism in the western part of the state. Tourism, he said, is now a major phase of Michigan's economy. The orderly development of Project Windmill will turn a waste-land into a place of beauty, will make a tremendous impact on the welfare of the town in terms of urban renewal, revitalized Tulip Time, and increased purchasing power of the whole community. "If we neglect to dream and try," he said, "we lose the past and are dead for the future."

Lindeman asked Roscoe Giles three questions: As HEDCOR manager, what about Holland's economic future? As Tulip Time manager, what is the value of this annual event? As Chamber of Commerce specialist, how does our chamber rate as a force for a better tomorrow?

Speaking to these points Giles cited the coming of Beechnut as an example of what is happening today and is apt to happen in the future if conditions remain favorable. The coming of just one plant has increased the number of households in the area by 350.

There are more cars, more retail establishments to serve the increased population, more sales, bank deposits will grow by $800,000. This is only a measure of the confections plant; the baby-food plant will double these figures. Railroad facilities will be strengthened as well as truck transportation. More women will be employed. This industry is stable, has no peaks or valleys of employment. It is located in the industrial park area which is served by good transportation facilities, no crowding or variances are required to accommodate future growth.

Speaking of the vitality of Tulip Time, apathy is probably over-emphasized. He recommended, however, two things: a core fund and a professional approach to management. To preserve a high caliber festival, a subsidy of $10,000-$12,000, either from the city or from people who benefit directly from its operation would give the Tulip Time management freedom to send out Klompen dancers for advertising purposes and to round out the program in many other ways. Professional management could coordinate and correlate the activities of Windmill Project, the museum, and Tulip Time.

The present Chamber of Commerce, said Giles, is in a favorable position to serve the community. "Business can't buy a Chamber of Commerce, it must be a Chamber of Commerce." With bulletins, radio programs, early-bird breakfasts, 10 standing committees involving 90 people, increased office personnel, career-day conferences, industrial consultations and program evaluations, the Chamber is "on the move" toward a better tomorrow.

Calling on Donald Ihrman, Lindeman asked him, as an education enthusiast with many tomorrows ahead of him, how Holland's picture stacks up?

Ihrman said that with this year's budget exceeding 2 million dollars, with 4,700 students enrolled in the public schools, with 200 people in the teaching staff, 42 in the service staff, education is Holland's most prominent growth industry.

He spoke of the elementary program as the "meat and potatoes," the Junior High level as exploratory, the High school, with its block system geared to the needs of the individual student, as the foundation of Holland's future.

Saying that we meet the Conant formula for a comprehensive school, the graduating class this year (the 82nd) will have 349 students — 55 per cent of them will seek college entrance, 45 per cent will enter the labor market.

The need to provide vocational education for this large group of young people is a real challenge. Cooperating with West Ottawa, Zeeland, Hamilton and Saugatuck educators, he said, solutions are now being sought. The climate between the public and private schools in the area has been improved, he thinks, by the formation of the interschool council which is studying our common goals in education.

Mrs. Bruce G. van Leuwen, club president, conducted a short question and answer period following the set program. She also thanked the Arendshorst family for opening their lovely home to the club, welcomed the members and guests, announced the continued support of the Community Ambassador program, and called on Bernard Arendshorst, chairman of the nominating committee to present the slate for the coming year.

Arendshorst, serving with Mrs. V. D. Ten Cate and J. D. Plewes, stated that next year's officers would be: Dr. M. L. Rider, president; Mrs. J. A. Stryker, vice president; Mrs. C. J. Becker, secretary; Mrs. H. J. Karsten, treasurer; Board members, M. C. Lindeman and Carl Harrington.

Leslie Clark, student-violinist from Hope College, opened the program.

Miss Clark's playing of the Siciliana and Allegro movements of Johann Sebastian Bach's First Sonata for unaccompanied violin was proof positive that Holland's future is rosy indeed.

Zeeland

The local oratorical contest was held in Zeeland High School last Friday. Mary Kroll placed first and Barbara Smallegan was second. These girls will represent Zeeland at the district contest in Grandville the first part of April.

The following girls participated by delivering their own orations which included: "Let's Get Involved," Tonia Deur; "On Slender Strings," Mary Kroll; "Are We Worth Saving," Carol Lanning; and "The Road Not Taken," Barbara Smallegan.

The Rev. John Hains of Faith Reformed Church and Mrs. Sharon Benes of the high school English department were the judges.

Next week Thursday morning 14 sophomores will give their declamations to a group of high school students. Any interested parents are invited to hear the declamations.

The annual stockholders meeting of the Zeeland Farmers Cooperative, Inc., was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Zeeland City Hall.

Opening devotions at the meeting were in charge of the Rev. James De Jonge, pastor of the Haven Christian Reformed Church.

The manager's report for the past fiscal year indicated that sales for 1964 were the highest in the Cooperative's history, totaling $1,271,997.12. The manager's report told of the installation of two new grain silos during 1964, with a total capacity of 24,000 bushels. These silos were a big help to the Cooperative's operation, in that they were filled with stored wheat of local farmers, according to Mrs. Vander Molen.

Other new installations during 1964 included the addition of liquid nitrogen to the products handled by the cooperative, along with aqua ammonia fertilizer.

A new 1,800 gallon bulk fuel delivery truck has been added to the Co-op's tank truck operation.

The speaker for the occasion was Walter Wightman, former president of the Michigan Farm Bureau organization, whose topic was "What Lies in the Future for Agriculture."

County Agent Richard Machiele also took part in the day's program. Business for the day included the election of two directors for a term of three years. Those reelected were John Hirdes and Gerald Poest.

The remaining members of the board included chairman, Jacob De Vries; vice president, Lester Sprick; secretary, Earl Mulder; Frank Assink and John E. Hirdes.

The meeting was closed with the awarding of prizes and the serving of lunch by women of the Beaverdam Reformed Church.

Eighteen out of a staff of 25 teachers at Zeeland Christian School are taking courses this semester.

Taking a Calvin College course in modern math are Miss Kraai, kindergarten; Miss Vander Meer, first grade; Miss De Roo and Miss Lam, second grade; Mrs. Essenburg, third grade; Miss Broekhuis and Miss Kootsier, fourth grade; Mrs. Hoogstrate and Mr. Doornbus from the Junior High.

A neighborhood coffee, honoring Miss Gracia Boersma of Wyoming was given at the home of Mrs. Dena Yntema last Monday morning. Assisting as hostess was her daughter, Mrs. James Heuvelhorst.

Others attending were Mrs. Dora Schrotenboer, Mrs. Herman Ten Harsel, Mrs. Melvin Boonstra, Mrs. Joe Waldyke, Mrs. Ed Van Rhee, Mrs. Jerry Boersma and Mrs. Larry Van Haisma. Those not able to attend were Mrs. Bill Wetherbee and Mrs. Roger Kroodsmas.

Prizes were given and a gift presented to Miss Boersma. Miss Boersma and David Van Haisma plan to be married in the Beverly Christian Reformed Church on March 5.

The Rev. J. M. Dykstra, a retired minister, and a former pastor of North Street Christian Reformed Church for 10 years, will serve as a supply pastor in a Christian Reformed Church in Brook, Alberta, Canada. Thursday he will speak at Momenca, Ill., at the dedication of a new church where he was a former pastor; then will go to Roseland First Christian Re-

George Bosworth Gives Scholarship to Hope

Will parttime college and professional baseball spoil Hope College's Joe Bosworth?

Hope administrators doubt it here as evidenced by the Bosworth Scholarship, recently presented to Calvin Vander Werf, Hope president.

This ultimate expression of thanks, by a young man who received a scholarship himself for his education, will be a continuous program to support the needs of another talented scholar-athlete in the years to come.

Bosworth, Hope pitching star, student, and Olympics performer, signed his Kansas City Athletics bonus contract along with three of his teammates who played on the U.S. team in Japan. Dick Joyce pitcher from Holy Cross, Ken Suarez, Florida State catcher, and Chuck Dobson, pitching star of the University of Kansas. The four stars signed bonus contracts totaling $150,000.

"It is my intention to complete my AB degree. 'I'll study in the fall and play baseball the balance of the year,' Bosworth stated. Chuck Finlay, Kansas City Athletics owner, encouraged Joe to complete his education and his bonus funds provide the means.

Bosworth won all-MIAA honors last spring in leading Hope College to the MIAA championship. Bosworth completed his sophomore year.

He was a member of the 20-member U.S. amateur baseball federation team that played in Japan during the Olympics. The team also toured Korea and the Philippines.

From Palos Heights, Ill., the 20-year-old Bosworth signed the bonus contract with the A's Dec. 23, 1964 for an estimated $35,000.

We have received a new handbook from the U.S.D.A. Forest Service entitled "The Timber Owner and his Federal Income Tax." This might be of interest to some of our readers. The booklet is free for the asking from the U.S.D.A. Forest Service, Washington, D.C. — just ask for Agricultural Handbook No. 274.

We noted in our column some time back that the Cattle Feeders Day had been changed from an August date to an April date. Now word has come from Hugh Henderson, Animal Husbandry Dept., M.S.U., that the event is back at the original date. The Cattle Feeder Day is scheduled for Aug. 12. Mr. Henderson says the research cattle will have been on feed long enough by the Aug. 12 date.

We have received a publication for the Michigan Vegetable Council regarding its reorganization, and in looking it over we see the Council has been doing much good thinking about what is needed in the field of quality vegetable production. We would urge all vegetable growers to become members of the Council. The membership fee for growers can be sent direct to the Michigan Vegetable Council, Inc., Box 72, East Lansing, Michigan. I note with interest that there are two people from Ottawa County on the Executive Board of this Council: Robert De Bruyn, Sr., of Zeeland is the secretary-treasurer, and Ted Bosgraaf of Hudsonville is a member of the board of directors. We feel the only way to approach the problems facing the vegetable grower is to face them cooperatively. Why not join today?

There will be a pickle growers meeting for Ottawa County growers on March 12. This meeting has been set up by Don Hearl, County Extension Director for Muskegon County, and is an area meeting.
