Distinguished Service Cross To Sgt. Lambers

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky.—The nation's second highest decoration for heroism, the Distinguished Service Cross, was presented Thursday to Staff Sergeant Paul R. Lambers, Holland, Mich., at a ceremony during the weekly graduation of the men of U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Campbell, Ky.

The presentation was made by Brigadier General John S. Lekson, commander of the training center.

Sgt. Lambers, 26, is the son of Mrs. Jeanette Lambers, 986 Graafschap Rd., and the late Herman Lambers. He was graduated from Holland High School and Calvin College.

His decorations include the Purple Heart, Bronze Star, National Defense Service Ribbon and Vietnam Campaign Ribbons. He returned home from Vietnam on Oct. 22, 1968 and after a leave at home went to Ft. Campbell.

On Aug. 19, 1968, Sergeant Lambers was sleeping peacefully as anyone can sleep in a combat area in Vietnam. Sergeant Lambers was awakened shortly after midnight and told that about a half dozen enemy soldiers had been seen outside the platoon perimeter. A call to company headquarters brought the order to fire on the hostile force.

Sergeant Lambers' platoon of Company A, 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry, 2nd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division opened fire and in his own words, "within about five seconds all hell broke loose." The platoon leader was seriously wounded during the initial volley, and Sergeant Lambers took charge.

The enemy, a combined Vietnamese-Viet Cong battalion-sized force, broke through the perimeter, Sergeant Lambers repaired a malfunctioning 90 mm recoilless rifle and directed the crew to fire four canister rounds at point blank range.

"The enemy," Sergeant Lambers said, "were really scared of the recoilless rifle fire." Four-deuce (4.2 mm mortar) illumination had been called in and we could see Charlie (the Viet Cong) running from the recoilless fire."

The recoilless rifle was destroyed by enemy rocket-propelled grenades, so Sergeant Lambers armed with three hand grenades, held them as long as possible, and then threw them at the throng of Communist soldiers who had massed in front of his position. The resulting airbursts killed five and dispersed the others. He pursued the enemy as they moved to another section of the perimeter, again tossing three hand grenades as they were about to explode, killed four more of the enemy.

Braving the deadly enemy fire, Sergeant Lambers maneuvered to the side of a fallen comrade, carried him to the command post, and administered first aid. According to Sergeant Lambers, the men he helped is now doing very well.

During the five hour battle, Sergeant Lambers moved throughout the battle area directing artillery fire, engaging the enemy with rifle fire and grenades, distributing ammunition to other members of the platoon, and giving aid to his wounded comrades. At dawn, the soundly beaten North

New Site Chosen For City Complex

A new site for Holland's proposed government complex was approved by Holland Planning Commission at a regular meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The new site is the block immediately south of Civic Center. It lies between Ninth and 10th Sts. and between Pine and Maple Aves.

City Council met with opposition on its first proposal to expand government services west of the City Hall site and west of Herrick Public Library. At that point, site selection was turned over to the Planning Commission for study.

The Planning Commission and its consultant, John Paul Jones Associates of Grand Rapids, studied several sites during the last few months. A complete report of the consultants was submitted Wednesday listing criteria for selection. Six sites including the City Hall area were studied.

The Planning Commission's recommendation will be submitted to City Council at its meeting March 5. The next step probably will be an informal hearing called by the Planning Commission.

Three separate bond issues to erect a central police station, a central fire station with a suburban station, and a park department warehouse were removed from the ballot last fall. They will not appear on the spring ballot.

In its recommendation to Council, the Planning Commission recommends that the entire complex be considered at one time, with all City Hall facilities eventually on the new site.

Included in the complex is a building for the Board of Public Works which also would house the street department, treasurer's office and the Department of Environmental Health. Guy E. Bell, BPW superintendent and a member of the Planning Commission, said the BPW has been setting aside funds for the building, and expects to have $200,000 by the end of next year.

Other sites considered by the Planning Commission for the city complex were the block south of Centennial Park, part of the block west of Civic Center, part of the block between Seventh and Eighth St. west of the police station, part of a block between Eighth and Ninth St. some distance west of Columbia Ave., and an area north of Eighth St. across from Civic Center.

Attending Wednesday's meeting were Chairman Ron Kobes, L. B. Lamb Jr., Mayor Nelson Bosman, Willard C. Wichers, Guy Bell, Carl Marcus and City Manager Herb Holt.

Over $3,000 Taken From Station Safe

VRIESLAND — Over $3,000 in cash and checks was taken from a safe and a quantity of miscellaneous items was stolen when the Vriesland Service Station at 64th Ave. and Byron Rd. was broken into early today.

Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said the bottom of the floor safe was broken out with tools taken from the gas station work bench and a total of $3,140.26 was taken. About $700 of the amount was in checks.

The safe was located in a back storeroom. Deputies discovered the break-in at the station in Zeeland township while on routine patrol at 4:45 a.m. today. It is speculated the building was entered around 2 a.m.

A showcase in the front of the gas station was also rifled and an undetermined amount of gum of various brands was taken along with 21 pairs of men's and children's gloves valued at $14.97 and 14 cartons of various brands of cigarettes valued at $49.50.

Entry was made by breaking a hole in the glass of a rear window and unlocking the window.

Deputies reported a fuel oil tank blocking another window foiled an initial attempt to get in.

Renovation Slated For Voorhees Hall

The 62-year-old Voorhees residence hall on the campus of Hope College will be vacated of its 98 women students for the remainder of the school year, college President Calvin A. Vander Werf said Saturday.

The residence hall was the scene of a small electrical fire Thursday morning. Damage was minor, but college officials felt that for the welfare of Voorhees residents, the hall should be vacated as a dormitory until complete renovation is effected.

At a meeting of the college Board of Trustees in January, planning for the exact timetable for future work was made an item of business for the Executive Committee meeting to be held on Hope's campus March 3.

Voorhees residents will be housed in college-owned cottages, the Alumni House, and permits college officials said, in other residence halls as space The building will be vacated by March 1.

The building, a gift of the Ralph W. Voorhees family, was completed in 1907 at a cost of $40,183. The capacity of the building is 110 women.

A dining hall, which since has been converted into offices, had a capacity of 180. Voorhees also houses the department of geology and some faculty offices.

The 1907 senior class dinner was the first formal function held in the building. At the time, there were so few women on campus that they each could occupy a room alone and still not nearly utilize all the rooms.

The college was fearful that in a sense they had a White Elephant on their hands. They finally decided to open the first floor of the dorm to unmarried faculty members.

One of the members of the faculty that took advantage of the opportunity was Dr. John Nykerk, who taught at Hope for 50 years. He was chairman of the English and music departments.

For this fact he was in Ripley's "Believe it or Not." He was the brunt of many jokes, the bachelor that lived in the hen house.

EARLY ARRIVALS—Before the doors are opened on the third Tuesday of the month the people line up behind the Holland Branch of the Ottawa County Building to receive food stuffs given out by the county through the United States Department of Agriculture's surplus commodities program. Over 4,000 families in Ottawa County take advantage of the program. (Sentinel photo)

Many in County Fed By USDA

In a nation like the United States where prosperity is many times thought to be universal, it is hard for some to realize that hunger and poverty are not evils of past times or foreign lands, but a problem of the man next door.

In Ottawa county alone in 1967, 4,888 families were certified eligible for the United States Department of Agriculture's USDA program of surplus commodity distribution. Of this number 3800 families or 13,865 people took advantage of the program.

Although no exact figures are available at this time for 1968, Larry Hildore, Director of the Ottawa County Department of Social Services, reports that the number of families using the program increased by about 10 per cent in 1968. In plain figures about one in every five persons in the county is eligible for welfare.

The question now is what makes a person eligible for the government food stuffs. Hildore explained that the USDA is responsible for setting up the standards which the county must follow.

The standards are graduated according to family size and income. For example, a single person, to be eligible for the program, can not make more than $125 per month. A family of four, the average family in the program is 4.5, is allowed an income of $265 per month, but their liquid assets can not amount to more than $1,000.

The government considers liquid assets to be practically all personal property and affects other than clothing and the family shelter. The schedule is adjusted similarly for different sizes up to a family of 13 who are allowed an income of $575 per month and holdings valued at $1,800.

The county is responsible for the storage and distribution of the surplus and also pays a small amount to the government for the food. For example, the county buys butter from the government for four cents per pound, but should the butter be lost, stolen, or for some other reason not distributed through the program the county is billed for the butter at 65 cents per pound.

Obviously the county must keep exacting records on the distribution of every article. In an audit of the 1968 program, Hildore related the county could not account for four pounds of beans, an enviable record when the thousands of pounds of food processed is considered.

In charge of the distribution for the county's three distribution centers is John Oonk of Holland and his staff. On the third Tuesday of each month they open the surplus commodities warehouse behind the Holland branch of the Ottawa County Building.

On the following Wednesday

the group travels to Grand Haven to handle the distribution at the County Building there, and on Friday they are at Community Haven in Eastmanville. The Holland warehouse is open throughout the month for handling special emergency cases.

The variety of food received is good but intended only to be a supplement rather than a complete subsistence. Hildore said. The program is meant to fill gaps in the limited income of many and to aid those on public assistance who must live on a $25 per person per month allowance, a figure established in 1961 and hardly realistic today, Hildore said.

The participants receive varying amounts of such staples as cheese, flour, canned meat, butter or margarine, condensed or powdered milk, peanut butter, beans, peas, and lard. The menu is livened up a bit with powdered potatoes, juices, and dried fruit.

Commenting on the food stamp program, which is replacing the monthly surplus distribution in many areas including neighboring Allegan county, Hildore showed preference for the present system. He pointed out the fact that many of the people using the program have too much pride to "tell the world that they're poor" by going to a bank to buy stamps and then to a public store to use them as they would have to do with the stamp program. He also mentioned that the program made many limitations on what the people could buy. He felt that the present program was doing more good and reaching more people.

In mild defense of the stamp program he mentioned the major argument against the surplus commodities program was that many felt that the food used was not really surplus.

3-Car Crash Under Investigation

Holland police are investigating a three-car accident that occurred at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday at South Shore Dr. and Graafschap Rd.

Police reported a car headed east on South Shore Dr., driven by Barbara Ruth De Koster, 37, of 557 Grove Ave., collided with a car headed west on South Shore Dr. driven by Danny Armstrong, 17, of 569 Myrtle Ave., causing the Armstrong vehicle to hit a car driven by Delynn Moeller, 47, of 625 Lugers Rd. The Moeller car was northbound on Graafschap and had stopped for the stop sign, police said.

Donald Burch, 17, of 32 East 19th St., a passenger in the De Koster vehicle, was taken to Holland Hospital and released after treatment of minor injuries.

The fire was spotted at 12:30 a.m. by a neighbor.

West Ottawa Clicks In 80-66 Win

West Ottawa's basketball team jumped off to an early lead and was never behind as they crushed Wyoming 80-66 before a home court crowd Friday night.

The win closed out the Panthers league season with a 10-2 mark, good for second place in the OK League Red division.

Friday night's game had many stars for West Ottawa as well as for the Vikings. Les Sommermaand, the Panthers leading scorer all season long, scored 26 points in the first three quarters before sitting out the final period.

Lynn Loncki was outstanding on offense, hitting on numerous turn around jumpers, and was devastating on defense, controlling the boards and stopping many Viking drive-in shots.

Jim Visser was the playmaker for the Panthers and Mark Scheerhorn was his old steady self, scoring 16 points. Together, these four players scored a total of 69 of West Ottawa's 80 points.

"The team played well together on offense," commented coach Jack Bonham as the Panthers were hitting the open man for easy shots. "They threw a 1-3-1 zone defense at us and we broke it with good outside shooting. The boys adjusted well from their man to man to a zone defense."

The game opened with West Ottawa scoring the first six points. Sommermaand led the Panthers with 10 first quarter points as they raced to a 22-9 first quarter margin. Making 61 per cent of their shots, West Ottawa made 11 of 18 attempts.

Meanwhile, the Vikings were held to only 10 shots as they made three for 30 per cent.

The Panthers cooled off in the second quarter as they made only six field goals, four by Sommermaand. Yet they maintained their 13 point margin, leading at the half, 38-25.

In the first half, West Ottawa held a slim margin on the boards, hauling down 24 rebounds to Wyoming's 20. The second half was a different story however, as the Panthers pulled down 30 caroms to the Viking's meager 11.

Scheerhorn paced the Panthers in the half with 12 points and Sommermaand and Loncki each chipped in eight. Dan Tripp came off the bench to do a good job on the boards as the entire team saw action.

For the entire contest, West Ottawa made 45 per cent of its shots compared to Wyoming's 39 per cent.

Scoring honors in the game went to Wyoming's Bob Baker who ripped the nets for 28 points. The only other Viking to hit double figures was Miller with 16 points, 14 coming in the last quarter.

Community College Need Told to Rotary

Points to remember in considering the establishment of a community college were reviewed Thursday for Holland Rotary Club by a prominent Michigan educator.

Dr. Donald F. Fink, president of Montcalm Junior College, pointed out that the community college should be constituted and located to respond to the needs of the immediate society it serves.

"If the area needs people trained in vocational and technical skills, the citizens who support the community college are in a position to see that the proper instructional courses are provided," he said.

At Montcalm, approximately 400 of 700 students are taking vocational-technical courses, said Dr. Fink. Included are a number of high school students who might otherwise have become drop-outs because of the lack of adequate training at their schools.

At the same time he urged that the academic courses of higher education not be overlooked in organizing the community college curriculum. Many students in such colleges do go on to earn their academic degrees, he pointed out, and they should not be slighted. He added that the community college often attracts capable young people who would not consider attending larger and more remote institutions, and their aspirations should be encouraged in every way possible.

The Holland area, he said, is only one of two locations in the lower peninsula that have current approval by state educational authorities as sites for community colleges. The other location is the thumb area.

Dr. Fink pointed out four major problems in planning a community college. They are the make-up of the board of trustees, the college site, the educational objectives of the college, and adequate financing. He invited Rotary Club members and all other interested citizens to visit Montcalm for consultation with his staff in seeking solutions to these problems.

The speaker was introduced by C. J. Steketee, substituting for William Holland. Junior P-tarians for February were announced as Len Loncke, West Ottawa High School; Bruce Klaasen, Holland Christian; and Gary Lound, Holland High.

AFTER ALL THESE YEARS

Can you remember the day
when there wasn't a Hershey Chocolate Bar? We doubt it. The word "Hershey" has become somewhat of a household word for a good bit of candy. And the company has carried on a successful business for many,
many years.

But there is probably one thing you didn't know and it almost seems a sacrilege for us to discuss it, but it's true.
The Hershey Chocolate Co. has never advertised its products,
not in a newspaper, magazine,
radio or television. The product was simply put on display and it had to sell itself. And it did, but the end has come.

The Hershey Co. has decided to expand into other areas and to begin to advertise. It has been a long time in coming,
but an old name will now begin to appear in advertising. We could probably go on and do a little moralizing along the notions of a better mouse trap, or an old Ben Franklin saying about having such a fine product that people will search you out, but we won't.

America has grown through the medium of advertising. New products are constantly called to the attention of the consumer, and soon they become a part of life, even a necessity. Thousands of people owe their livelihood to the fact that advertising brought into being a whole new industry, or developed a market for a new product by an old company.

This time it is an old company
joining the world of advertising.
And we can expect that in the future its list of products will grow, through advertising.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, March 2
Jesus Foretells His Suffering
Mark 8:27-37
By C. P. Dame

Who is Jesus? This question is still asked. Various answers are given. This lesson contains the correct answer. Jesus is God's Son, whom God sent into this world to save, by His death and resurrection, sinners.

I. Jesus asked His disciples two important questions. The names of some towns and communities mentioned in the New Testament in connection with the life and ministry of Jesus are worth remembering. With His disciples Jesus went "to the villages of Caesarea Philippi" for a talk with them.
Jesus was the most talked about man in the country. Jesus asked the disciples, "Whom do men say that I am?" He was called variously.

He was called the carpenter,
a prophet, a healer and looked upon as a worker of miracles.
Some unkind things were also said — He was called a blasphemer, in league with the devil, a lawbreaker, and a friend of publicans and sinners.
Today He is called the Galil-ean, the Teacher, the Reformer, the Master.

The disciples said that some
said He was John the Baptist,
others He was Elias, others
one of the prophets. Most people ranked Him high—but not high enough. Some people are like that today. Inadequate ideas of Jesus will not do.

To the personal question,
"But whom say ye that I am?"
Peter the spokesman said,
"Thou art the Christ"—that is to say that Jesus is the Messiah foretold in the Old Testament. This answer of Peter separated him from the religious leaders and the crowds
who followed Jesus.

II. Jesus approved the answer of Peter. He did not say anything new in his confession.
Andrew called Jesus the Messiah. Philip likewise, and others like the healed blind man and the woman of Samaria professed His Messiahship. However they did not yet understand the kind of a Messiah
Jesus was and that is why
Jesus began to teach His disciples about His coming death
and resurrection.

Jesus told His disciples not to tell people about His Messiahship for they were not ready to receive this truth.
Peter in rebuking Jesus showed that he had the wrong idea of the Messiah who is portrayed in Isaiah 53. The quick rebuke Peter got from Jesus silenced him. Satan used Peter to tempt Jesus to avoid the cross. Good people may become Satan's tools.

III. Discipleship ever costs.
"And Jesus called to Him the multitude with His disciples" because He had something to say about discipleship. It is not a cheap affair. Study His words carefully. "If any man would"
—if a man has a desire to follow Jesus he must take three steps. First, he must deny himself, say no to self,
say this again and again. Next,
he must "take up his cross"
—suffer, sacrifice if needs be for Christ and the sake of the gospel and then, "follow me"
—keep on following Jesus.

We gain by losing. Self-preservation fails. Caution and concern for self result in loss of life while self-sacrifice leads to life—this teaching was not popular in the time of Jesus and it is not popular now. This teaching many believe—do you?

DYKSTRA SOARS—Hope College guard Tom Dykstra drives through a bevy of Calvin College basketball players in the Civic Center Saturday night. Hope handed the Knights their first MIAA loss of the season, 71-61 before a jam packed crowd. Despite the loss Calvin was assured of a tie for the league crown while the victory upped Hope's record to 5-6.

Style of Play Accounts For 71-61 Win

The setting:
The Calvin Knight's powerful basketball team, already assured of a tie for the MIAA championship invaded the Holland Civic Center to meet its old basketball rival Hope College.

Calvin came into the game
with a perfect 9-0 league mark and a 15-3 season record which included 13 consecutive victories.

Hope College's unpredictable basketball team, a shoot and run outfit since the beginning of the season, young and inexperienced, sporting a 4-6 league mark and a 9-10 season leguer was the opposition.

Only Wednesday Hope had been subjected to a 99-88 loss
by lowly Adrian, at the time 0-9 in the league and 1-16 for the year.

But the sun broke through the clouds and shone brightly
for Hope here Saturday night
as the Flying Dutchmen, utilizing a brilliant game plan that had been practiced only two days, scored the upset of the 1968-69 MIAA season, convincingly dumping Calvin, 71-61.

If they were the underdogs the Flying Dutchmen weren't aware of it as they exploded from the opening tipoff to amasse a 15-5 lead with 15:28 remaining. Hope hit six of its first 12 shots while Calvin could connect on only two of seven.

Senior center Bruce Van Huis, playing his last home game, led the way scoring five points and grabbing a like number of rebounds.

Undaunted Calvin came back to lead 32-31 with 2:06 remaining, before Tom Dykstra hit a 33-32 haltime margin.

The Flying Dutchmen, for the first time all season, employed a set up, deliberate style of offense as they made no attempt to run and shoot with the Knights.

Hope, after connecting on half of its first dozen shots, concluded the half with a 31 per cent shooting mark (11-36) while Calvin shot 41 per cent (15-37).
Each team grabbed 24 caroms.
Van Huis leading both teams with 10 while Bill De Horn and Ed Wiers each had six for Calvin.

Hope cashed in at the free throw line making 11 of 12 compared to Calvin's two of four.

The Knights, out to justify their title stature, scored the first two points of the second half to take their second, and last, lead of the game.

With Hope leading 50-47 the Knights attempted a running game against the tired Hope five but Dykstra, catching up with three straight Calvin breakaways, thwarted the Knight efforts.

Hope then rattled off seven consecutive points, four by Van Huis, to establish a 57-47 margin with 4:14 remaining.

Shinabarger (4) and Dykstra
(2) converted six straight tosses
to insure victory.

Everyone of the Hope starters, Van Huis, Dykstra, Snoop, Shinabarger and Ken Hendrix, deserve a tip of the hat for the perfected method with which they executed the deliberate style of offense.

Dykstra, who quarterbacked
the Hope team effort with cool methodical sureness, and who led the Flying Dutchmen in scoring with 21 points; including 11 of 12 free throws should be the recipient of a special fedora for his play.

But the apex of honors goes to one who never touched the ball — Hope coach Russ De Vette for his contrivance of the only possible method for a Hope victory over the 1968-69 Calvin squad.

Following Dykstra's 21 points, Shinabarger netted 20 on seven buckets and six of seven free throws, Van Huis 12, Hendrix, 10 and Snoop, eight.

Mickey Phelps paced the Knights with 14 while De Horn added 13 and Del Willink, 10.

The Flying Dutchmen shot 36
per cent from the floor (23-64)
in contrast to Calvin's 34 per cent (24-70).

Accuracy at the charity stripe
was instrumental as Hope hit 25 of 31 and Calvin, allowed only 19 attempts, made 13.

The Knights held a small edge
on the boards, 49-45, led by De Horn with 12 and Ed Wiers, 10.
Van Huis paced Hope with 15
in his best effort of the season
while guard Shinabarger had eight and Hendrix and Snoop, seven.

De Vette called the Hope performance "a great team effort"
which it undoubtedly was, and Calvin coach Don Vroom told the story of the game, "it was no fluke."

No one curled his lip at the Flying Dutchmen Saturday.

Branch kept going straight on puties said Reimink's car hit the en by Van Nui. Edwards was a passenger in the Darby car.

Deputies cited Reimink for failing to stop in an assured

Second Half Surge Attains 83-61 Win

The East Grand Rapids Pioneers saw their 10 game winning streak rudely broken in the Civic Center Tuesday night, as a scrappy band of Holland Christian Maroons upended the Pioneers 83-61.

The game was much closer than the final score would indicate, as the Maroons broke away from a 44-44 tie, the 17th of the game, with a Dick Frens basket with 2:40 remaining in the third period. After trailing 44-42, Christian outscored the Pioneers 22-2 to break the game
open.

In the first quarter the teams traded basket for basket, with the score tied five times, including 15-15 at the period's close. Steve Baker, coming off the bench, scored the Maroons'
last three baskets of the quarter.

The second quarter was practically a repeat of the first, as the game was tied at 17, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31 and 33-33 at the intermission. The Maroons connected on all 10 of their free throw attempts in the quarter,
while the Pioneers were eight-
for-eight at the charity stripe.
East held a 21-17 lead for the biggest point spread of the first half, while Christian twice held three point leads.

Chris Collins, the Pioneers' center, scored two quick buckets to open the second half, but Bruce Klaasen and Bob Haven retaliated to again knot the score at 37-37. Jim Rowland was successful on a three-point play
for East, followed about a minute later with a like situation
for the Maroons Steve Vander Ploeg, for a 40-40 tie. Chris Armstrong and Frens traded baskets, before sophomore Mark McAleenan gave the Pioneers
their last lead of the game, 44-42.

Haven connected on two charity tosses with 3:08 left, to tie the count. Frens then hit his go-ahead bucket, followed by two free throws by Vander Ploeg, who made 10 in a row
in the game, Baker connected on a foul shot, Klaasen a basket and Bob Wiersma two free throws. Meanwhile the Pioneers were held to two points from the charity stripe, and the quarter ended with the Maroons in front, 54-46.

Racking up the first 10 points
of the fourth quarter, Christian wrapped the game up. Art Tuls hit two free throws with the quarter only four seconds old.
Frens connected on a two-pointer, Vander Ploeg a pair of foul shots and a bucket, followed by a basket by Baker. This gave Christian a 64-46 lead with a little more than five minutes left in the game.

Baker and Vander Ploeg,
playing in reserve roles, turned in what was probably their best games of the season, as they picked up the slack of some of the starters who were having an off night. Both ended with 16 points, with Baker having 10
in the first half and Vander Ploeg 14 in the second half.

Frens, starting for the second game in a row, led the winners with 17. Klaasen also made it into double figures with 10. Collins, with 17, and McAleenan
with 12, were the only Pioneers scoring in double figures.

Christian made 27 baskets in 80 attempts for 33 per cent.
They had quarters of 7-16, 4-16, 7-21 and 9-27. East took 59 shots, making 21 for 35 per cent, on quarters of 6-13, 5-16, 5-15 and 5-15. At the charity stripe the Maroons made 29 of 40, including 18 of 21 through the first three quarters. East had 24 tries from the foul lane and made 19.

Christian held a 41-31 edge in rebouncing, as the Pioneers missed their rugged forward Dave Smith, who sat out the game with a leg infection.

'Kook' Among Few Graduates Of Leader Dogs For Blind

Mr. and Mrs. Murray C. Chambers of 2064 South Shore Dr., have received a letter of appreciation for their donation of a Labrador Weimaraner dog to the Leader Dogs for the Blind school in Rochester, Mich., through the Holland Lions Club last June.

The two-year-old dog, "Kook," underwent six months of individual training and an additional two months of training with his master, Louis McGill, of Michigan.

The first six months was a rigorous training program and the last a program designed to train the prospective masters and match up personalities of both dog and man.

This is the first dog the Chambers have donated. In the letter of thanks from Harold L. Pocklington, executive of Leader Dogs for the Blind, he stated, "You can be justifiably proud of 'Kook' for as you know not more than 30 per cent of all dogs accepted actually complete leader dog training. One more deserving blind person has been placed back in the mainstream of life—because of your generosity."

Musical Ends Successful Run For Theatre Group

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," ended its five performances Saturday night with a standing ovation from the packed house in the Holland High Auditorium. Applause was spontaneous and generous throughout the evening for all the major characters and also for several who nearly stole the show by merely walking on and off. Nancy Norling and Nona Penna as the scrub ladies were the scene stealers. Joan Smallenburg as Miss Jones also made a big hit.

The leading role of Finch deserves special comment for the tremendous pages of dialogue that Alan Wilson had to learn as well as his deftness in handling the role.

Holland Community Theatre audiences have become accustomed to the fine directing of Barbara Greenwood and her selection of topnotch talent in the various roles.

Doing their customary excellent performances were Mike Lucas, Chester Oonk, Gordon Cunningham, Phil Kimberly, Don Cranmer and others as executives and Ruth Burkholder, a natural for the "super" secretary.

Supporting roles especially noteworthy were Jane Grellin as Smitty, Susan Van Koeveering as Rosemary and Tim Liggett as Frump, the boss's nephew and stool pigeon.

Junior executives and secretaries in their chorus roles showed exceptional talent. It is the backbone of a musical and they certainly deserve special mention.

Posthumous Awards For Holland Soldier

In ceremonies in Grand Rapids on last Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyer, 129 Aniline Ave., received posthumous awards for their son Sgt. Terry Meyer. Sgt. Meyer was killed in action in Vietnam on Aug. 13, 1968.

The awards were for bravery beyond the call of duty. Specifically his courage on Aug. 13 was cited. For this he earned the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster. On that day

Sgt. Meyer was serving as squad leader on night patrol. His group was subject to heavy attack by the Viet Cong. With complete disregard for his personal safety, he and his men put forth a heavy volume of suppressive fire on the advancing enemy. It was this action that broke the momentum of the Viet Cong, the citation said.

At this time Sgt. Meyer was mortally wounded. His courage and determination significantly contributed to the defeat of the Viet Cong. For his aggressiveness and bravery he was awarded the Bronze Star.

Other honors presented last Wednesday were the Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal, National Defence Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Ribbon, Vietnam Service Medal, Combat Infantryman's Badge, Expert Rifle Badge with machine gun bars, and the Marksman's Badge with automatic rifle bar.

3rd Quarter Spurt Earns 11th Victory

GRANDVILLE — In a game marred by 38 turnovers and 54 personal fouls, Holland High School's basketball team was able to overcome a rough Grandville five to win its 11th VCC game in 11 starts here Friday night, 71-61.

Holland's bench strength, headed by Tom Pete, Dick Boeve and Fritz Steininger, was instrumental in the victory along with the fine board work and scoring of Dave Gosselaar and Max Glupker.

Glupker and Gosselaar staked the Dutch to a 15-12 first quarter margin in the free wheeling ballgame.

With the game tied 12-12, Holland scored eight straight points to take a lead they never relinquished.

The Dutch held a 28-23 half-time margin as both teams had trouble finding the hoop.

Holland hit nine of 34 shots in the half for 27 per cent while Grandville connected on nine of 26 for 35 per cent.

From the charity stripe the Dutch hit 10 of 19 and Grandville a poor five of 13.

Holland controlled the boards holding a 33-20 spread. Gosselaar led with 10 and Glupker added nine.

Holland broke the game open in the third quarter, the only well played quarter of the game.

Doing some nice running and continuing board domination the Dutch scored 24 points in the period to lead 52-37 entering the final stanza.

The fourth quarter was nearly a free for all as a total of 24 free throws were attempted, 15 by Grandville. Holland had difficulty penetrating the Bulldogs' 1-3-1 zone defense and only the domination of the boards enabled the Dutch to tally some easy baskets.

For the game Holland shot 39 per cent hitting 28 of 73 attempts compared to Grandville's 37 per cent (20-55).

Gosselaar paced Holland's board domination (68-43) grabbing 22 rebounds while Glupker added 13 and center Rick Zwerling, nine.

The Dutch connected on 17 of 34 free throws in the game while the Bulldogs, on the strength of fourth quarter charity shooting (12-15) ended with 19 of 33.

Holland, now 11-3 for the year, hosts Mona Shores Friday and a win would earn the Dutch a share of the VCC crown for the second year in a row.

Supervisor Recount Not Recountable

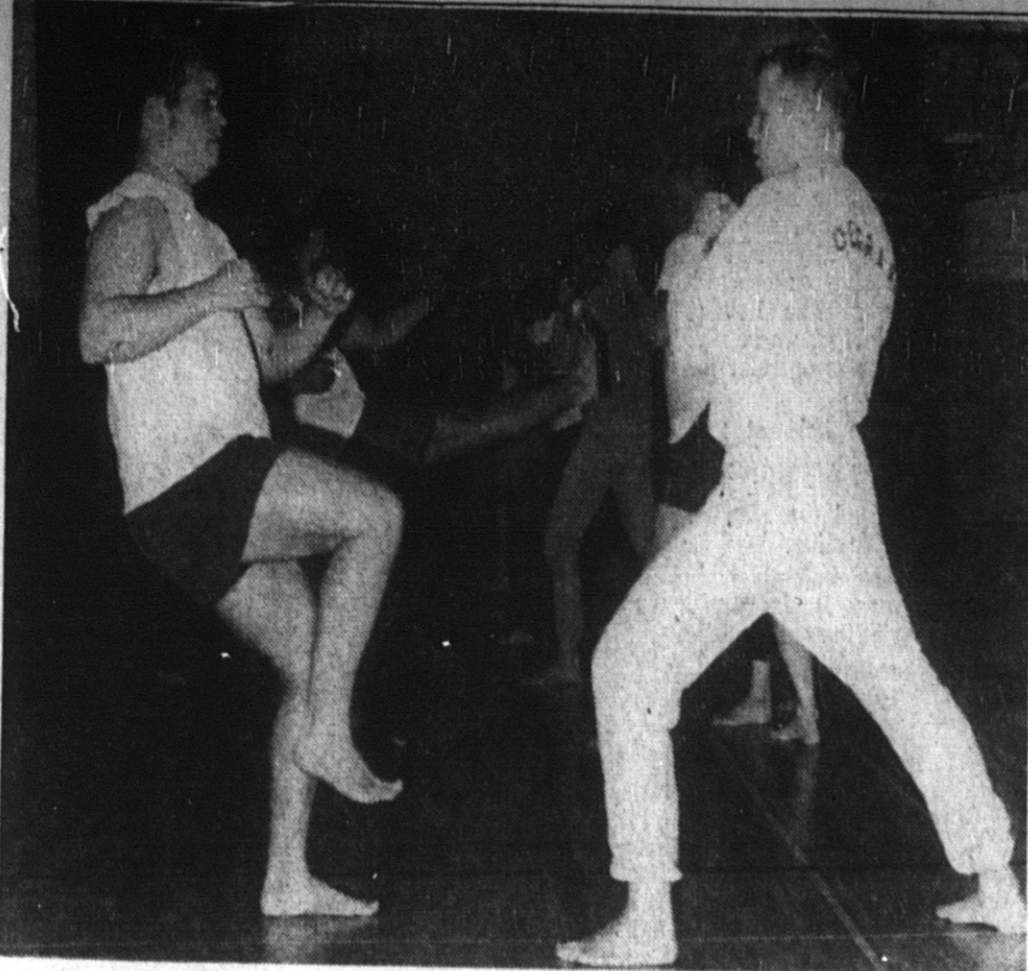

GRAND HAVEN — The recount of votes for supervisors in district 4 at the Nov. 5 election, asked by Thomas Garzelloni, now of Spring Lake, was completed by the county canvassing board Thursday and County Clerk Harris Nieuwma reported the board has ruled that district totals are not recountable.

The board, headed by Mrs. Joan Danhof of Zeeland, chairman, will draft a letter to the presiding judge in the Ottawa-Allegan circuit and Prosecutor James Bussard, asking for an opinion on the recount.

Garzelloni, a Democrat and unsuccessful candidate for county supervisor from district 4, including parts of Crockery and Spring Lake township, asked for the recount, which started on Feb. 4. Witnesses ordered to appear on that date were not notified and the recount was adjourned until Thursday.

Garzelloni claimed that there was a mix-up in the machines Nov. 5 in the Crockery polling place and during half the day voters in his district could not vote for him. Later, he claims, the strips in the machines were switched illegally.

The canvassing board met all day Thursday and decided to draft a report on the effort to recount the votes and submit it to Circuit Court. Mrs. Mary Garzelloni, wife of Thomas, reported Thursday that they will ask the state elections commissioner to investigate the case. Garzelloni, who now lives outside district 4, is not interested in the final tabulation but wishes to have the irregularities in the voting at the Crockery precinct aired, he said.

Dutch Absorb 14th Loss In 16 Outings

EAST GRAND RAPIDS — Holland's swimming team absorbed its fourteenth defeat of the season, sinking 80-25 to the East Grand Rapids Pioneers Thursday evening in the East Natorium.

The Dutch were paced by captain Mike Landis with first and second place wins in the sprints.

Opening the meet in second place was Holland's medley relay team composed of Don Clark, Dave Holt, Fred Bertsch, and Eric Marsh.

Continuing the points for places, Kevin Kuipers tallied third spot in the 200-yard freestyle.

Things looked much brighter for the local tankers as Landis snatched first place out of the hands of his opponents on a judges' decision in the 50 yard freestyle. Landis turned in a 25.4 clocking while East's Viet Edson turned in times of 25.2 and 25.3 respectively.

Points went the Dutch way with Mark Keen in second position in the individual medley competition.

Coming off the boards in third place for the Dutch, Dave De Ridder turned in a fine performance, but was outclassed by the more experienced Pioneers.

In the specialty swims, Jim Bradford added third place points in the butterfly, while Clark chalked up third place points in the backstroke. Breast-stroker Holt recorded third place in his specialty.

Landis returned in the 100 yard freestyle to add second place points, again on a judges' decision in his favor.

Distance man Marsh registered third place in the 400 yard freestyle.

The remaining Dutch points were registered in the final event of the meet, the freestyle relay, with Keen, De Ridder, Kuipers, and Bradford turning in the second place clocking.

Coach Bob Andree commented: "The boys knew they didn't have a chance, and knowing that just didn't turn in their best performance."

The Dutch are now 2-14 in dual meet competition, and will travel to Hudsonville to face the Eagles in an attempt at a repeat performance of their earlier win this season Thursday at 7 p.m.

Area Law Enforcers Train In Self-Defense Methods

Law enforcement officers today are faced with a dilemma. At the same time that attacks on officers are increasing, there is growing public outcry against police brutality.

The solution in many people's minds is a "middle ground" of physical arrests. This involves skillful self-defense and arrest techniques without using undue force.

A total of 55 Ottawa County area officers are taking an eight-week course to learn such techniques. Holland police and reserves, Zeeland police and reserves, and Ottawa County sheriff's deputies and reserves spend two hours every Wednesday night learning the techniques (mostly Karate) at the Holland Armory. Grand Haven, Spring Lake and Grand Haven State Police as well as Ottawa County sheriff's deputies and reserves take the course earlier Wednesday at a Spring Lake gym.

Because of a general lack of training time for the departments involved the participants take the program on their own time and generally at their own expense.

File Court Suit Seeking $125,000

GRAND HAVEN—A damage suit, in which Richard B. Borr of Holland, administrator of the estate of his daughter, Judith Lynn Borr, deceased, seeks a judgment of $125,000, was filed Friday in Ottawa Circuit Court.

A jury trial is requested. Named defendants in the suit are John Griep of Holland, father of Eileen Griep, driver of a car involved in an accident Jan. 30, 1968, at Agnew, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. Miss Griep and Miss Borr were both killed in the accident.

Plaintiff claims Miss Borr was a passenger in a 1963 car, owned by Griep and driven by Eileen Griep. The car, headed east on Lake Michigan Dr. near US-31 in Grand Haven township, was struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio train. The suit includes three counts. The judgment is sought from either the two defendants jointly, from Griep or from the railway.

Miss Griep and Miss Borr had attended a program at Grand Valley State College the night of Jan. 30, 1968, and were returning to Holland, after stopping at a gas station, located west of the tracks near the US - 31 intersection. The plaintiff claims that the railway was negligent in not having the crossing properly marked. Railroad crossing markers and stop signs are located at the crossing and flashers and gates have been ordered erected since the accident occurred.

In another suit started Friday, William Beebe and Kathleen Beebe of Sand Lake, Mich., seek $25,000 judgment from Lenard and Terry Greenland, Hudsonville, the result of a traffic accident in Georgetown township on 48th Ave. April 28, 1968.

Plaintiffs claim that Terry Greenland was driving a 1963 car, owned by Lenard Greenland, which was involved in an accident with a 1962 car, in which Kathleen Beebe was a passenger. Miss Beebe was injured in the accident.

Hudsonville opened the scoring in the game on a basket by center Ross Phillips. The Panthers came right back on a bucket by Lynn Loncki and the lead see-sawed back and forth for the remainder of much of the first half. The score was tied or changed hands 13 times in the half, seven times in the first quarter and six times in the second.

At the end of the opening period, West Ottawa held a slim margin, 17-16. Loncki chipped in eight points to lead the Panthers while Hudsonville's Phillips had seven.

The second quarter saw both teams substitute freely. Midway through the quarter, Dan Tripp, playing forward, hit for two points that put West Ottawa ahead for good, 27-25. Tripp went on to score two more baskets to lead the Panthers with six points in the period.

In the second half, the Panthers gained some control of the boards outrebounding Hudsonville, 23-19. "Loncki did a good job on the boards for us," commented Coach Jack Bonham as the big center also took scoring honors with 24 points.

"Opening the Work at Emo," an illustrated address, was presented by the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Swart to the members of the Hope Church Guild for Christian Service at the monthly luncheon meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors.

The talk and slides chronicled the beginning of a new missionary venture to a tribe in the remote area of southwestern Ethiopia, a people differing in race, culture and religion from the Ethiopians, and hitherto untouched by civilization, western education and the Christian gospel.

The Swarts are missionaries of The Reformed Church in America, and previously labored in the Sudan.

Failure At Foul Line Brings Loss

GRAND RAPIDS — Miserable free throw shooting betrayed what was otherwise Holland Christian's best basketball effort of the season Friday night.

The Maroons missed ten of 15 foul shots including nine in the second half as they lost 60-59 to East Christian, the third-ranked Class B team in the state.

A screeching 2,400 persons jammed into the Panther gym saw East Christian's Dean Deppe break a 57-57 tie with a three-point play with just over a minute left to win the game. The slender guard drove in from the left, sank his lay-up, and followed with the winning free throw.

The Maroons couldn't make up the deficit after that against the stalling Panthers. Holland Christian's Art Tuls canned a jump shot with 12 seconds left to bring his team within one point. East Christian continued to stall, and the visitors fouled Deppe with three seconds left. He missed his free throw, but the buzzer droned before the Holland team could get the ball down court for a final shot.

Both teams looked sharp in the spine chiller which was tied 15 times. Holland Christian led 49-47 going into the final quarter as it made up for less accurate shooting by outshooting and outrebounding the Panthers. The Maroons blew a 55-52 lead midway through the final quarter. They missed several long shots, and East Christian's other starting guard, Dave Vander Kodde, flung in two straight jump shots. Deppe added a free throw, and the Panthers led 57-55. With about 2½ minutes remaining Holland Christian's Dan Brower finally rammed through a rebound on the third try from the field for his team. The score remained deadlocked at 57 each until Deppe wrapped it up with his three-point play.

While the Maroons floundered at the foul line, the winners sparked. They put in their first eight charity tosses, and ended the evening making 10 of 12 for 83 per cent.

The Maroons took an 18-14 first quarter advantage as they outrebounded and outshot their opponents. The Panthers made only four field goals in the opening quarter, but stayed in the game with six free throws.

Vander Kodde sank a long jumper with three seconds remaining in the half to put his team ahead 34-32 at the intermission. The score was tied four times in the second period. The Maroons got only one free throw attempt in the first half, and missed it.

The score was deadlocked another five times in the second half, and he was stymied by fouls in the fourth. He finally fouled out with 1:22 left in the game, but it was too late to be of much help to Holland Christian.

Vander Kodde and Deppe took up the scoring slack in the second half. Vander Kodde finished with 16 points, 10 in the second half, and his backcourt mate had 12, seven of them in the second half.

Tuls and Bruce Klaassen paced Holland Christian's scoring with 13 and 12 respectively.

The Maroons' front line of center, Brower, and forwards, Bob Haven and Dick Frens, did a good job of crashing the backboards. They outrebounded East Christian 39-26. It was the first game Frens has started.

East Christians record is now 13-3.

Local Printer Was Unbeaten Wrestler

Cyrus Vande Luyster, 65, co-owner of the Old News Printery, has been a printer for 50 years this month, but sometimes he thinks of another career he might have pursued — professional wrestling.

"Grappler Cy" as the soft-spoken Vande Luyster was known in the early 1920's was never defeated in more than 30 matches in the west Michigan area (Some of the matches ended in draws). Wrestling at between 145 and 150 pounds, he usually found himself up against larger, stronger opponents. Cy made up for that with scientific wrestling, speed, agility and a wiry toughness.

The match that really made him well-known in the Holland area was against George Ver Hoef in the old Wolverine Garage, Auto-Top Inc., 221 River Ave. on April 26, 1922. The April 27 Holland City News described the bout as "interesting" and "one that proved to be a surprise to all present."

"When these two men entered the ring," the article continues, Cy weighing 145 and Ver Hoef at 160, the crowd looked upon the Zeeland boy — rather dubiously." In addition to his tall, slight build Vande Luyster was only 18 years old at the time.

"A few minutes of wrestling, however, made the fans pick up their ears and chairs were hitched closer to ringside for the Zeeland lad was showing some real science at wrestling."

Ver Hoef got Cy in headlocks at the beginning of the match and Vande Luyster had to do some clever maneuvering to get free. After 17½ minutes of grappling, Cy finally pinned Ver Hoef with a body scissors and half nelson. Cy took the second and decisive fall in six minutes when Ver Hoef's thumb was sprained as Cy freed himself from a severe toe hold. The large crowd of 600 in the garage were "simply elated and gave the Zeeland boy his just due praise."

Abe Hedlund, a Swedish strong man who resided in Holland, gave the young Vande Luyster personal instruction in weight lifting and wrestling. Vande Luyster credits him with teaching him many of the tricks of the trade he later employed so successfully. Cy went against his coach in a match at Jenison Park in August, 1.12. Although they grappled for half an hour, neither man was able to pin the other. The City News of Aug. 31 reported that "but for his agility and strong neck the Zeeland Man (Cy) would have had a bad half hour."

"Grappler Cy's longest bout was a 1½ hour draw with Dan Thompson, one of the best SHOWS SKILL—"Grappler Cy" Vande Luyster shows the strength, skill and agility which made him a top-notch wrestler in the early 1920s. Vande Luyster (in long tights) throws his heavier opponent over a shoulder, puts on a leg scissors, and struggles for position in these four photos.

middleweight wrestlers in Michigan, in Hastings. The bout was halted at midnight because of a city curfew.

Although he looked miscast for the role, the 6'1", 150-pound Vande Luyster also did a strong man act. His partner at the printing firm, Herman Bos, remembers Cy picking him up using only one arm. Bos also weighed about 150 then. Vande Luyster also pushed the rear end of a Model-T Ford off the ground with his chest.

Although he probably could have gone far as a professional, Vande Luyster finally decided to retire after about two years in the ring. "I thought the Lord had other plans for my future," he explained. Vande Luyster found that he could devote more time to his church, First Reformed of Zeeland, if he wasn't traveling on the road. He has been an elder in the church's consistory for 25 years.

After he married his wife, Charlotte, he settled down to a life of family, church and the printing trade.

Vande Luyster and Bos purchased the Old News Printery in 1939. Before that Vande Luyster worked for the Holland City News and the Zeeland Record. Today, Vande Luyster still keeps in shape from time to time with weights. He admits, however, that his weight is now closer to 180 pounds than his wrestling weight. Dressed in his printer's apron, one might never guess that he is an undefeated wrestler.

Grand Haven City Council Okays Mall

GRAND HAVEN — The long-studied Downtown Shoppers' Mall project involving two blocks on Washington Ave., the city's main street, will be a reality next summer.

Mayor William Creason reported Monday after a City Council meeting that the mall will be developed this summer and it is hoped that the work will be completed in time for the Coast Guard festival the first week in August.

Large trees will be planted in the middle of the two main downtown blocks, from First St. east to Third St. There will also be flowers, other plants, grass, decorative smaller trees, shrubbery and hedges.

Through traffic will be ended for the 100 and 200 blocks but there will be 15 or 20-minute parking at the ends of the blocks. Ten-space parking areas are planned at the block ends for a total of 40 parking spaces.

At a public hearing Monday night in the council chamber at city hall, 50 persons were present and there were no objections from property owners, who will be paying the bill. Several citizens, who were there for other hearings, objected and said that the people should vote on the change.

After an hour-long hearing, Council voted 5 to 0 to authorize completion of final plans and specifications and to have City Manager D. D. Tammen advertise for bids as soon as possible.

Johnson, Johnson and Roy, landscape architects from Ann Arbor who have designed many malls, sent a representative, E. J. Holman, who said the street would be closed to through traffic but there would be enough open areas to permit passage of parades and emergency vehicles such as police cruisers, ambulances and fire trucks. Final plans will be presented to downtown merchants for their approval before bids are asked.

Councilmen praised the work of the committee from the Downtown, Unlimited, Inc., who sponsored the improvement. Security First Bank and Trust Co. is building a large new bank on Washington.

Relatives Located After 57 Years

Two women of York, Pa., have just found they have 1,000 relatives in Michigan.

The gettoy begins at the crossroads in Fillmore township in 1902 when Helen Timmer married Harry Bailey, a shoe specialist, and they moved to Wisconsin. She visited Holland in 1906.

In 1911 Mrs. Bailey and two of her four children died of scarlet fever. The two surviving daughters, Dorothea, 2, and Lillian, 5, were taken by an aunt to a grandfather somewhere in Pennsylvania, and at this point contact was lost with relatives in Holland area.

While doing research work on the Timmer family, Ed Prins found the name of the city where the children had gone many years ago. After four months of correspondence, Prins found the two girls now 60 and 62, were still alive and living in York, Pa.

Unfolding the story, he learned that Dorothea and Lillian Bailey had been adopted by an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. B. Waiter Miller.

Not knowing his cousins lived there, Gerrit Arends set up a block plant for Dunn Manufacturing Co. in New York in 1923. Coincidentally, the aunt and uncle had come to the Tulip Time festival in Holland a number of times, unaware of the more than 500 Timmer relatives in the area.

The girls have an uncle, Albert A. Timmer, who is 94, living on Paw Paw Dr. He is a brother of their mother. An aunt, Mrs. John Timmer, 86, died recently.

A reunion is looked to in the spring, and a lot of questions no doubt will be answered.

Prins is working on the Timmer family tree which in 1969 will show over 1,000 relatives of the Bailey girls in Michigan. They are now Mrs. Richard S. Bryant of Mt. Wolf, Pa., and Mrs. Kenneth A. Roth of York, Pa.

MSU's Dr. T. Baldwin Tells of AAUW Media

Suggestions on how to influence a most powerful mass media — television, were made to members of the Holland Branch of the American Association of University Women at their meeting Thursday in Durfee Hall, Hope College.

Dr. Thomas L. Baldwin, associate professor of the radio-television communications department at Michigan State University, told several ways influence was brought to bear.

He told about a Chicago TV station being charged with staging a pot party; a young man held a bandage to his head and pretended great pain as long as the cameras were on him at the Democratic convention; there is no parental guide with tv; a high school student has watched more than 3,000 hours by the time he graduates; the ghetto youngster sees more tv and believes it as true to life.

Dr. Baldwin pointed out that both the viewer and the newsman must test some assumptions by which tv is used. Many viewers are unaware that news reporters use extreme situations which make good shows and are not necessarily representative, merely attracting a large audience.

Viewers, he said, think that seeing is believing, but the camera distorts facts and by its very presence changes events as people react to it. Television news is a good supplement if a person reads, but is often misleading in its brevity.

As to the political effects of television, Dr. Baldwin said that politicians value it as a more personal contact with the public and all have tv personnel on their staffs. He told the AAUW how the president can control the camera by his actions and how he can distract viewers in undesirable news.

The speaker told how television influences children in learning English, extending experiences and teaching social values. Most of this learning is accidental since there is seldom a follow up with discussion. Dr. Baldwin said the biggest influence television has on children is how their parents handle it.

Dr. Baldwin emphasized that stations are anxious for public reaction and are sensitive to any contact. He said it is everyone's duty to know what a station has promised on its three-year license and check on it.

Mrs. James White reminded members of the Print Fair at the Civic Center on March 21 and 22. Mrs. Arthur Rose was chairman of the social committee and was assisted by Mrs. Fred Bertsch, Mrs. John De Haan and Mrs. James Stepp.
