Commission Will Study Shopping Complex Plans

The Holland Planning Commission has taken under study requests for rezoning from the 324 Corporation which plans an extensive development encompassing an office building, condominium and shopping center between 24 and 32nd Sts. west of US-31 bypass.

Requests involve zoning to the appropriate classifications including C-2 commercial and B-1 apartments. Corporation representatives presented plans, plot plans, types of building, architecture motifs and a model of the proposed development. The zoning subcommittee has referred the requests to various department heads of the city with instructions to report back.

The commission also scheduled a public hearing at 5 p.m. March 18 on a site for HAZAH housing development for middle income families. The 15-acre site is on Graafschap Rd. south of 32nd St. adjoining Graafschap cemetery.

The commission is studying an amendment to the building ordinance which would require a complete set of plans before action is taken on multiple housing and some other types of complexes.

The city attorney has been instructed to draft an ordinance amendment on plan requirements.

Deputies said a shot fired at the minister's home on Franklin St. broke a window and put holes in draperies before the slug hit an interior wall. No one was injured in the incident which occurred over the weekend.

Deputies said small holes were found in windows at the Rose Park Color Hut, 622 Burton Dr., and at Marty's Gulf Station, 252 North River Ave.

Local Restaurants Score Well in Area Spot Check

Holland can well be proud of the sanitation and cleanliness records of its restaurants and other food preparation establishments, results of a spot check by public health services have revealed.

In 1968 a new state law put food preparation establishments under the Michigan State Health Department and the U.S. Public Health Service, which in turn delegated inspection tasks to local health departments operating such programs.

At the end of the first license period last May 1, two survey officers made spot checks based on federal and state standards. In the case of Holland, 27 food establishments were visited out of approximately 55 licensed places. Each visit involved a check of 118 items on the standard form on sanitation, food preparation, equipment, plumbing, etc. Each item has a demerit factor of 1 to 6 points.

Holland's score was listed as an average 36, which was the second lowest in the 17 areas where checks have been in progress. Only Washtenaw county was lower with 31. High demerits ran in the low 80's. It was estimated the 17 areas in Michigan constituted one-third to one-half of the inspection checks in the state so far.

Roger M. Stroh, head of the Department of Environmental Health in Holland, said the low score was indicative of the co-operation received from local food operators in setting up good programs in Holland.

"With a little more effort, the score could be even better," Stroh said.

For the last 1½ years, Al Reinink of the Department of Environmental Health, had taken charge of restaurant inspection.

The spot checks in Holland were conducted by Reinink and Dave Hodgson of the Michigan Department of Health.

Restaurant inspection in Holland has for years been geared to standards of the U.S. Department of Public Health and the Michigan Department of Health. It is a year-round function and during the Tulip Time festival the inspection is enlarged to include temporary food establishments.

Stroh said food inspection is increasingly important in the country since more people "eat out" in America than ever before in the history of mankind. Food service in America, he says, ranks third or fourth in volume, following the automotive trade and the steel industry. It is closely associated with the rapid growth of tourism all over America.

She was cited for failure to yield the right of way after the car she was driving collided with one operated by Patti Sue Bruursema, 17, of 732 136th St. The impact forced the McBarnes auto into a truck driven by Robert H. Butler, 35, of 10 East 15th St.

The McBarnes auto was southbound on College Ave. while the Bruursema car was heading east on Seventh St. and Butler was stopped northbound on College Ave. for the stop sign.

Hope Star Tallies 51 In Triumph

ALBION — Hope College's outstanding sophomore guard Dan Shinabarger rewrote the MIAA basketball book here Saturday night by pouring in 51 points, as the Flying Dutchmen shot down Albion, 125-104.

Shinabarger's onslaught set an MIAA game and Hope College scoring record. The old league record was held by Alma's Bud Acton's 48 counters in the 1964 season while Floyd Brady's 44 points in the 1968 season was Hope's former scoring mark in one contest.

The Dutchmen also broke the MIAA record for the most points scored by two teams held by Olivet which defeated Alma, 113-101 in the 1964-65 season. Hope's 125 points is the highest ever scored by the Dutchmen in regulation time.

Shinabarger also broke Warren Vander Hill's total of 18 set in 1960.

The ex-Holland High standout threw in 33 of his record breaking performance in the second half as he teamed with another former Dutch player, Dave Gosselar to score 50 of Hope's 71 points in the half. Gosselar added 17 of his 19 points in the second half.

Shinabarger tossed in 14 of 17 shots in the second half for a torrid 22 per cent and eight of 15 in the first half to finish the evening by hitting on 22 of 35 shots for a blistering 62 per cent.

Hope was in for a rough night in the early going as Albion held the Dutchmen to a 54-54 score at the half and raced out to a six-point margin, 65-59 at 15:00 before Shinabarger dropped in three straight baskets to tie the contest.

From then on, it was all Hope, as they slowly pulled away from Albion to win going away, 125-104.

"Never in my life have I seen such a terrific job of shooting," Coach DeVette said. "I was pleased to see the players set up Dan time after time with screen shots."

Shinabarger received scoring support from Gosselar who tallied 19 and Dana Snop and Ken Hendrix who scored 11 points each.

Dave Rabillard was high for Albion with 28 points. Mike Wilson and Rick Ziem added 19 points apiece for the Britons while Jay Brown and reserve center Harry Turney pumped in 12 and 13 points respectively.

The victory gives the Dutchmen a 5-6 league record and 10-11 overall while the Britons slipped to 5-5 in the loop.

The Day Care Center's concern is with preschool children.

Elementary and junior high children are reached through the Higher Horizon program. Mrs. George Wise and Mrs. Sally Rodriguez explained how "big brothers and sisters" help expose the boys and girls to wider horizons educationally and in the community. Any adult may volunteer to work with this group.

Junior League Follies Plays to Packed House

The Junior Welfare League Follies, "Shades of the Seventies" was the place to go Saturday night when the Civic Center was packed for the one-night amateur night program.

The show was patterned slightly after a "laugh-in" with cameo spots done in front of the curtain while the scenes were being set up. Norma Hillbrands in a showgirl costume provoked the director, Chris Goodyear, into several hilarious spots.

Showing definite stage presence in her comedy routines was Geri Bagladi who was especially effective in "Aint She Sweet" and the bits where she started to sing and was dragged behind the curtain by two huskies.

Musical director Norman Lam provided real musical bridges between numbers to keep it moving. He and his group deserve special praise for improvising since the music for the show was mislaid to California.

Brian Ward showed unusual talent in his singing of "Born Free." Wendell Watts sang the number one hit tune "Rain Keeps Falling" with Barbara Appledorn providing the dance routine background.

A real delight to the large audience was the performance of the past presidents of League when they performed the number "Shed a Little Tear" for the girls in the rear. In the group were Betty Becker, Fran Becker, Muncie Boeve, Betty Boven, Julie Carey, Jesse Dalman, Kay Mac Kenzie, Pat Mass, Donna Prins, Althea Rafenaud, Dorothy Van Putten, Cleo Venhuizen, Mollie Vollink and Dottie Winchester. Several were unable to be in the show Saturday night, but they all rehearsed to the end.

The group from Hope College, the jazz combo and singer Suzanne Guthrie proved a real hit. Jim De Groot, Rudy Howard and Michael Oonk were in the group. Marc Vanden Bosch was a good master of ceremonies. Pat Boeve was excellent in her numbers.

All the singers and dancers both male and female did a commendable job in the numbers they performed. Marty Hardenberg came through in "Impossible Dream." Sunny Boeve opened the show with her rendition "Stairway to Paradise."

At the proper moment in the show, Sunny Boeve introduced the "Shadiest Characters in Town," the 10 candidates from the service clubs and announced the winner was VFWs Ed Barnes, who led the contest all the way. His supporters donated $370. Runnerup was Rotary's Ned McLaughlin, $225, Elks' Ted Bos, $175.

Coming from behind was Optimists' John Vander Broek with $164; Moose's Bill Grabolski, $78; Lions' Harris Pieper, $62; Exchange Club's Les Van Beuren, $36.75; Jaycees' Don Hann, $36.41; Kiwanis' Avery Baker, $28.59 and Shermers' Roger Parrott, $5.63. The total collected was $1,175.

In a production of this size, it is almost impossible to mention each and every number, but soloists are singled out for special mention, including Judy Zylman, Del Van Dyke, Barbara Appledorn, Ted Boeve and Vern Schipper.

At the end of the show Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Linn received bouquets of long stemmed red roses.

A party for the cast followed at Point West when the director was presented with a pair of wooden shoes for himself and his daughter and also a portrait of himself created by Ed Brolin.

Total attendance was 2,100 and the net profit was $7,650 which goes to League's charity projects, specifically this year Higher Horizons.

Act Liberalizes Exemptions For Persons Over 65

Persons over 65 with income $6,000 a year or less are eligible for property tax exemptions under an act passed recently by the state legislature.

City Assessor Robert Nienhuis received confirmation today on the liberalizing act which Gov. William Milliken has signed into law. Persons over 65 with income limited to $6,000 per year may claim the exemption regardless of the value of his taxable property. Previously, the income limitation was $5,000 and the equalized valuation of all property owned could not exceed $10,000 in equalized valuation.

Since the new legislation makes many more property owners eligible, the assessor suggests they call soon at his office on the second floor of City Hall to fill out forms.

Deadline for filing exemptions is set by law as the final day of meetings of the Board of Review. Nienhuis believes that date this year will be March 13.

Veterans also are reminded of this deadline in filing for exemptions for veterans.

UNCLE SAM COUNTS CENSUS '70

This is the title of the 50-page booklet we received from the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. The booklet gives interesting historical data on past censuses and tells how questions are chosen and how the information that emerges is put to use.

It illustrates the many requirements for complete, accurate information and spells out the safeguards which protect the anonymity of citizens and preserve the secrecy of their replies.

We are calling this to your attention so that if you want more information, you can secure a copy by writing the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20540, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office, for 35 cents. If you wish 100 or more copies, the cost is $2.50 per copy.

One of the questions is "Do you have a flush toilet?"

Questions about basement facilities can provide the basis for development of a bomb shelter program. Questions about automobiles furnish data for highway departments in estimating needs for roads, rest areas and parking and will aid in the war on air pollution. Battery-powered radios will indicate how many homes can receive emergency messages during power blackout and will aid Civil Defense officials.

We will be able to do a good, efficient job of the census if everyone will cooperate and fill in the questionnaire they will receive. If you would like the complete details, why not order one of the booklets?

We have been advised that Kent, Ottawa and Muskegon counties will be handled through the district office on the fourth floor of the Helmer Building, Grand Rapids. The enumerator must follow the questionnaire by telephone or personal call.

The cooperation of everyone will facilitate the taking of the 1970 census.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, March 1
God Calls a New People
Matthew 18:10-20
By C. P. Dame

Jesus was always concerned about the lost, least and the last. This lesson teaches us how concerned Jesus was and we who are His disciples should reveal a similar concern.

I. Taking heed is a Christian duty. "Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones"—who are they? They are the little children or the new converts. Jesus was interested in both. The angels too are concerned about both groups. It is the duty of angels to minister and one of their tasks is to care for children. God shows special concern about those who are apt to be ignored. God's people should do likewise.

II. Seeking the lost is Godlike. Jesus told the story of a shepherd who lost one sheep and he left the ninety-nine which were safe to seek the one that wandered away. Sheep are silly, thoughtless, ignorant and prone to wander off. Some people are like sheep. They go here and there but know not where.

Today there are the lost on college campuses, in cities and communities which make appeals to the young. Many are aimless, restless and rebellious. They need God but they do not realize it. Anything that is lost should be in a purse or pocket. Man is lost—he is far from God and hence in the wrong place.

God seeks the lost. The shepherd of the one lost sheep left the ninety and nine and found the lost one and "rejoiceth more of that sheep than of the ninety and nine which went not astray." Jesus revealed God in His seeking the lost of every kind. The church ought to manifest the spirit of Christ in its attitude to the wayward and the restless of our times.

III. Settling disputes should be done in the Christian way. If one person offends another the offended should approach the offender and point out to him his fault. If this fails then the offended should take two or three witnesses along and try to restore right relationship. If this fails then the offended person should tell the matter to the church and if the hardened brother continues his wrong attitude then he would be to the offended "as an heathen man and a publican." The offender has made himself an outsider.

IV. Preaching has two results—some hear and accept the gospel and some reject it. Jesus gave power to the church to present the gospel and thus to open the doors of heaven to those who believe and to tell those who refuse the message that they will face heaven's closed door.

Jesus said, "Again I say to you, if two of you agree on earth about anything they ask, it will be done for them by my Father in heaven." Do not misunderstand these words—they do not mean that you get anything you ask for. Selfish prayers God discounts. God knows what is best for us and hence it is Christlike to say, "They will be done."

Note the encouraging fact stated in the words, "I am in the midst of them." Jesus is present in a small congregation or prayer meeting as well as in the large. Numbers are not important with Jesus. Jesus is ever present—with the few and with the many.

Name Wilson Scholar At Hope College

Four Hope College seniors have been honored by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as among the best future college teachers on the continent.

Receiving the highest honor of being a Woodrow Wilson Designate were Mary Luckey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Luckey of Columbia, Mo.; Robert Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bates of Chicago, Ill.; and Charles Lieder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lieder of Dearborn.

Anne Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Larsen of New York City, received honorable mention recognition.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation presented designate recognition to 1,153 students from colleges and universities in the United States and Canada while another 1,152 students received honorable mention honors. More than 12,000 college seniors were originally nominated.

Miss Luckey and Lieder are chemistry majors; Bates is majoring in biology; and Miss Larsen is a French major.

A list of the Designates will be sent to all graduate school deans with recommendation that the schools provide winners with graduate fellowships. In past years, a majority of Wilson Designates secured grants from their chosen graduate schools. The Wilson Foundation backs up its recommendation by reserving 150 Woodrow Wilson fellowships for those Designates who fail to receive funds from schools of their choice.

Funds for Wilson fellowships and study awards have been provided by the Ford Foundation, the Charles E. Merrill Trust, and the Avalon and Old Dominion Foundations.

All Designates have been through a rigorous screening that began with nomination last fall by their undergraduate colleges. About one-fifth of the nominees were invited to personal interviews conducted by professors on 15 regional selection committees, each of which appointed a number of Designates from its region proportional to bachelor's degrees awarded in that region.

Dr. Leslie Beach, chairman of the Hope psychology department, served on the Regional Screening Committee for the states of Michigan and Ohio.

Dr. John Hollenbach, chairman of the Hope English department is the college representative to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

VANDE WATER RETIRES—Fire Capt. Teno Vande Water, 63, retires Friday after serving 41 years on the Holland Fire Department at Engine House 2, both as volunteer and full time fireman. Vande Water's father, Bert, was a member of the department 33 years before he died and Vande Water's brother, Melvin, continues as a member of Company 2.

Fire Captain Ends 41-Year Career

The "fire bell" that has been a part of Teno Vande Water's life since he can remember goes still Friday when Capt. Vande Water retires from the Holland Fire Department, ending 41 years of service.

"I remember growing up with a fire bell in the house," recalls Vande Water whose father was a 33-year veteran of the department before his death.

"Father was a member of the department and from the start about all we can remember is a fire bell and dad jumping on a bicycle and going to a fire." As a boy young Teno remembers foot-racing the fire fighting equipment to fires, often arriving ahead of the equipment and volunteers.

Now the 70-year fire fighting history that began with Bert Vande Water passes from son Teno, fire captain for the past 20 years, to another son, Melvin E. Vande Water, a 33-year veteran of firefighting in Holland. None of the younger generation Vande Waters has yet entered the field to provide a continuation of the tradition.

Like his father, Teno joined the department as a volunteer at Number 2 station house and spent his career there. For ten years, Bert and Teno worked the fires together.

In the early days as a full-time fireman, Teno drove an open cockpit White ladder truck to the fire scene and was responsible for getting the first hoses on the ground.

"Many times I wasn't sure whether the wagon would make it to the fire ... we had troubles with the brake system," Teno recalls. But, while acknowledging some "close calls," Teno said he never had an accident with the vehicle.

In 1939 the old truck was replaced by the present-day ladder vehicle still housed at Company 2.

Vande Water, whose wit and ruggedness belie his 63 years, speaks with an almost casual and deliberate forgetfulness of the fires he has fought with men from the department the past four decades.

Asked about the one fire that stands out most in his mind, the father of four recalled "a small house fire about 25 years ago on College Ave. between 15th and 16th Sts."

Further prodding revealed it was about noon — the firemen were sitting down for dinner at the station — when the call came in that day in the spring.

"I keep remembering that within five minutes I was at dinner, at the fire and at the hospital," said Vande Water with a chuckle.

The firefighter entered a second floor apartment where the fire originated when a gasoline fired stove exploded.

"The next thing I knew I was in the yard. My hands and face were burned."

Declining hospitalization, Vande Water spent three or four weeks at home under treatment before returning to his post at the fire house.

Occupants of the house had escaped injury.

Now that the fire bell is quieting, Teno says he is looking to travel with his wife, Marian. The youngest of their children, daughter Kenlyn, is a high school senior. Two other daughters, married, are Bonnie (Mrs. David L. Vander Kooi) and Fonda (Mrs. William Marlink). The couple also has a son Terry, and three grandsons and a granddaughter.

Members of Vande Water's platoon at Company 2 include, besides his brother Melvin, Ralph Jones, Milo Nivison, John Otting, Robert Stille, Paul Van Loo and John Du Mez.

Last week, Teno was honored with a retirement party and nearly all the regulars and volunteers at Company 2 were there to say farewell.

Now Melvin, a 33-year veteran of the department, remains at number 2 station to carry on the Vande Water tradition.

Two Held As Stolen Car Is Recovered

GRAND HAVEN — State Police here report two 17-year-olds are in custody in Lebanon, Mo., following the alleged theft of a 1970 car belonging to Paul Steenwyk, 5550 Chicago Dr., Hudsonville, which was taken from his garage between midnight and 6 a.m. Sunday.

Michigan State Police were advised at 1 a.m. Monday that the stolen car had been picked up in Lebanon and was in running condition. Lebanon is about 500 miles southwest of this area.

Being held by Lebanon authorities are William Chippeway of Plainwell and Larry Meyer, an escapee from Boys Training School in Lansing to be returned to Ottawa county.

Steenwyk has made arrangements to pick up his car which reportedly had less than 1,000 miles on the speedometer. Steenwyk reported to State Police here at 6:30 a.m. Sunday that the car had been taken from his garage. He had put the car in the garage shortly before midnight Saturday.

Entrance to the Steenwyk garage was made through an unlocked garage door. The keys to the automobile were also in the ignition, authorities said.

When they answered the call to the Steenwyk residence, officers recovered a 1963 4-door reported stolen out of Walker on Feb. 21. It was out of gas.

The Steenwyk car was evidently stolen after an unsuccessful attempt to siphon gas from it, officers speculated, and while trying to drive away the 1963 car, it became stuck in the snow.

A supplemental report by State Police revealed that the 1963 car belongs to Joan Whitcomb of Grand Rapids. It was turned over to Walker police after recovery.

The young man, identified by Holland Hospital as Paul Uzel, 20, of Florida, was "wet and cold" when taken to the hospital where he was examined and warmed up before being released.

The Holland Coast Guard, using a 16-foot aluminum skiff, was assisted by Conservation Department officers from the State Park in the rescue.

The Coast Guard said the young man apparently fell through thin ice in the channel off the north pier but managed to climb onto an ice floe before slipping into the water again. He was taken from the water about 1 p.m. Saturday.

Christian Hangs On to Beat Bears

Maroons Play Poorest Game In Triumph

ST. JOSEPH — Holland Christian's basketball team, suffering an obvious letdown following its loss to Muskegon Christian Friday, nearly became the victim of a major upset Tuesday, before downing the St. Joseph Bears, 67-62.

The performance by the Maroons was perhaps their poorest of the season, as floor violations were numerous, and play was lackadaisical, something which could be very costly to them in the upcoming District tournament.

Christian survived a horrendous first quarter, in which nothing went right for them. St. Joseph took a 4-0 lead in the first minute of play and stayed ahead the entire quarter. Center Mike White pumped in four baskets for the Bears as they held a 19-11 lead at the quarter.

The Bears took a 22-12 lead at the 7:35 mark of the second quarter, before the Maroons fought back, scoring 14 consecutive points, for a 26-22 lead. This stretch was the only time in the game Christian showed its ability. Ron Scholten tallied nine points in this spurt, along with three by John Dykstra and two by Phil Tuls. Tuls and Jerry De Groot gave the Maroons their largest lead of the game, 30-24, before the Bears came back to take a 36-35 edge at halftime, on Mike Knuth's basket at the buzzer.

The second half was nip and tuck all the way, with neither team able to go more than three points ahead until Phil De Jonge's basket with nine seconds left in the game, gave the Maroons their five-point win.

At one point in the third quarter Christian went from a 44-41 deficit to a 47-44 lead, and appeared on their way, only to see St. Joseph knot the count at the end of the quarter, 47-47.

The Bears took a 56-53 lead with 5:23 remaining in the game. This proved to be the final time they led, as Scholten and Tuls hit baskets and De Groot a charity toss, for a 58-56 Christian margin with 3:50 left. St. Joseph did manage to tie the game at 58-58, 60-60 and 62-62. De Groot then scored the winning basket with 1:09 left, followed by a charity toss by De Jonge with 0:22 left, and De Jonge's final bucket with nine seconds to play.

The game was tied nine times, and the lead changed hands 13 times.

For the night Christian shot 40 per cent, on 24 baskets in 59 attempts. The fourth quarter was their best when they made eight of 10 for 80 per cent. The Bears were 24 of 73 for 32 per cent in the game.

Scholten paced the scoring with 16 points, followed by De Groot with 15, Dick Frens with 11 and Tuls with 10. Tim Polen was high for St. Joseph with 14. Dan Brege added 12 and White ended with 10.

The Maroons, with a 14-3 record, will close out the regular season Friday when they host the Allegan Tigers at the Civic Center.

Holland Christian's reserve team also won, 48-40 over the St. Joseph seconds. The Maroons led at each quarter stop, 18-6, 26-19 and 33-31.

Leading the team in scoring was Dan Plasman with 20 points. Steve Vogelzang helped with 12. Dennis Kugle, with 10, was high for the Bears.

We had the honor of chatting with Dan Van Ommen recently, 1965 graduate of Zeeland High and presently associate scout for the Kansas City Royals of the American League and Recreation Consultant for Youth Recreation for the U.S. government.

His position as Recreation Consultant involves much travel throughout the United States to communities starting Recreation programs.

The 23-year-old Van Ommen has been employed for the past seven years by the Zeeland City Recreation Department. Dan attended Grand Valley State College for three years and received his degree from North Carolina State University in 1969.

Van Ommen has been a scout for the Royals since last November and would like someday to become a full-time scout for Kansas City.

We asked him, if there were any players that he is scouting in the Holland area for the Royals and he responded by saying, "Max Glupker of Holland High and Dan Tripp, Greg Van Wieren, Les Zomermaand and Rod Berkompas of West Ottawa seem to be the top high school players around this area."

Glupker, is a shortstop for the Dutch besides being a standout quarterback in football and a high scoring forward in basketball. Tripp and Zomermaand are pitchers for the strong West Ottawa nine while both Van Wieren and Berkompas are outfielders.

Van Ommen also stated that the scouts are interested in Steve Moordyk, Northview's talented junior quarterback. "He's only a junior but he shows

Holt Appointed St. Petersburg City Manager

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — H. Herbert Holt, who left Holland, Mich., Dec. 1 to become interim city manager of this city after spending 15 years as city manager of Holland, has been appointed city manager of St. Petersburg to serve indefinitely at the pleasure of City Council.

The action was taken by City Council Thursday on recommendation of the job screening committee. Holt's salary will be $2,500 a month or $30,000 a year. The four-month interim period set by the St. Petersburg City Council expires March 15. Mayor Don Spicer said the committee will continue to interview applicants for the post, some of whom may not have applied for the job.

Holt in a speech here Tuesday said he hopes to set up a new approach to environmental health in St. Petersburg based largely on the successful program in Holland, Mich., covering both the physical and mental approaches.

Mrs. L. P. Smith Succumbs at 61

GRAND RAPIDS—Mrs. Clara J. Smith, 61, of 1718 Summit, Holland, wife of Lawrence P. Smith, died late Tuesday night at Butterworth Hospital following heart surgery she had on Monday.

Mrs. Smith was born in Holland and had lived there all of her life. She was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church, the Altar and Rosary Society and also worked with the Senior Citizens of St. Francis Church.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Martha Ann Smith at home; two sisters, Mrs. J. M. (Luberta) Boshka of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Peter (Julia) Nagelkirk of Zeeland; one brother, Lawrence J. Overbeek of Holland; her step-mother, Mrs. J. W. Overbeek of Holland.

lots of promise," Van Ommen said.

When Van Ommen or any other Kansas City Scout, in looking for a high school or Junior college prospect, look first for the all around player according to his size, second, arm, third, speed and fourth, hitting. "An outfielder has to hit or he's not going to make it in most cases," Van Ommen added.

The ex-Zeeland graduate feels that the Royals have an excellent chance of being in the thick of the pennant race in the Western Division if Minnesota "falls flat on its face."

Van Ommen, also informed us that the Kansas City Royals have the first Baseball Academy in Sarasota, Fla. "We are looking for high school graduates that have played little or no baseball at all. The first thing we are interested in is their speed in the 60-yard dash," Van Ommen stated. "They have to run it in at least 6.9 seconds, have a strong throwing arm and good reflexes. We are also looking for track stars."

The Royals college is fully accredited according to Van Ommen and will have 25 teachers on their staff. "As of now, we are only going to have 50 students for 25 teachers, with at least five of them being baseball coaches," said Van Ommen.

The first class is scheduled for August and will run to June, 1971. "The Royals will conduct a tryout camp throughout the United States in preparation to fill the needs for the school. We plan on holding a tryout sometime in July in Grand Rapids," Van Ommen continued.

Van Ommen is currently working in Florida for one to two months as a Recreation Consultant to the city of St. Petersburg and will be setting up Recreation programs and scouting high school and junior college players for the Royals.

"My goal is to become a full-time scout in the major leagues and maybe someday even become a major league coach," concluded Van Ommen.

We wish you all the luck in the world in your goal Dan and if you keep up the determination that you have shown us, it will be only a matter of time, that your dreams will be fulfilled.

Warriors Upset Maroons

MUSKEGON — The Muskegon Christian Warriors survived a desperate last quarter rally by Holland Christian's basketball team Friday night to hang on for a 60-54 win.

The Maroons trailed by 16 points going into the fourth quarter, and by 14 points with 4:10 left in the game. Holding the Warriors without a field goal in the fourth quarter Christian narrowed the margin to four points, 58-54 with 1:15 remaining, but couldn't quite pull the game out.

The Warriors completely outplayed the Maroons for three quarters, and nearly turned the game into a rout, leading by as much as 18 points near the end of the third quarter. Muskegon defended Christian well, not letting them get their fast break going, and forcing the Maroons to take low percentage shots.

Never trailing in the game the Warriors raced to a 21-10 lead at the quarter, hitting on nine out of 19 shots, while Phil De Jonge scored Christian's only two baskets out of 13 attempts. De Jonge scored six points in the quarter, as did Tom Vander Laan and Gord Van Woerkom of Muskegon.

Larry De Young, playing an excellent game running the Warriors' attack, made the score 24-12, before the Maroons started to come back. Baskets by De Jonge and Ron Scholten, plus a pair of charity tosses by Scholten made it 24-19. The Warriors, led by Vander Laan's three buckets, again stretched the margin to 11 at halftime, 35-24. Scholten had half of the 14 points Christian scored in the second quarter. Vander Laan again had six for Muskegon Christian.

The third quarter was one of frustration for Elmer Ribbens and his team as the Maroons could connect on only three of 17 shots while the Warriors were successful on eight of 14.

After Christian came within nine, 39-30, Dan Brink, Vander Laan and De Young each scored, again putting the Warriors up by 15 midway in the third period, and they went on to a 52-36 advantage at the quarter's end.

With the score 56-42 and 4:10 left to play, the Maroons suddenly came to life as Scholten hit two free throws, then a basket, De Jonge two free throws, Jerry De Groot and Dick Frens each a bucket, and Christian was in contention, trailing 56-51 with 2:48 left. Vander Laan hit a pair from the free throw lane, then Frens notched a two-pointer and Denny Bos a free throw, making the score 58-54 with 1:15 left. With 0:42 showing on the clock, Brink iced the contest scoring twice from the charity stripe.

The win was well earned by the Warriors, who were determined to knock off the high-flying Maroons, and they did just that, thus keeping their perfect home court record intact.

For the game Christian hit on 17 of 64 shots for a cold 26 per cent. Muskegon made good on 22 of 57 for 39 per cent, which included zero for nine in the fourth quarter. Christian outrebounded the much taller Warriors 39-33, as Frens led with 14.

Scholten led the Maroons in scoring with 18 points, while De Jonge, playing a fine all-around game, came up with 15 and Frens had 12. Vander Laan paced the Warriors with 22 and De Young added 11.

Christian, whose record dropped to 13-3, travels to St. Joseph next week Tuesday.

Muskegon Christian's reserve team defeated the Maroons' reserves 78-75. Holland Christian led at the quarters 27-18, 42-32 and 56-55. Randy Wolhuis led the winners with 20 points, followed closely by Gord Wagonmaker with 18 and Ron Loree with 17. Ray Schrotenboer's 22 points paced the Maroons and Tom Klaasen came through with 20. Also in double figures were Dan Plasman with 15 and Steve Vogelzang with 10.

Name Max Glupker To All-State Memo

Michigan High School All-State Memo No. 7:

Mike Pieske, Pete Nickerson and John Nametz are gearing up for the annual All-State voting. The trio are making their second appearance on the Michigan All-State Memo, the seventh of the season put out by United Press International.

Also spotlighted this week are Max Glupker of Holland; Bob Serra of Walled Lake Central; Joe Bechard of Troy; Detroit County Day's Mike Page, and Keith Russell of Lawton.

Pieske, a 6-foot-4 forward leading Frankenthuth to a perfect season, had 52 points for a new school record last Tuesday night and put in 32 in half a game Friday. Frankenthuth is making a strong bid for a Class C state title this season, already having clinched the Thumb B title for the second straight season.

Nickerson, a 6-foot-1 forward, boosted his season point total to 338 points for tough undefeated Kingsley. He had 30 points and 22 rebounds in a Friday win, then added 13 points in a victory over Manistee Catholic Saturday night. Kingsley is a Class D school.

Nametz dropped in 44 points and plucked off 28 rebounds, plus making five assists, with his 6-foot-8 frame for St. Louis, which has only lost once this season. The senior center now has 1,037 points in his career for the Class B school.

Glupker was another to get 40 points in a 113-56 Holland romp. The 6-foot-1 senior forward is averaging 22.8 points per game, and is the Valley Coast conference's leading scorer.

ior guard but he had 47 points for Walled Lake Central. It will boost his 25-point average.

Troy coach Jack Acton had to have mixed emotions while watching his 5-foot-10 star guard Bechard. The junior hit 17 of 26 field goal attempts and 10 of 11 free throws for 44 points, only two shy of Acton's school record.

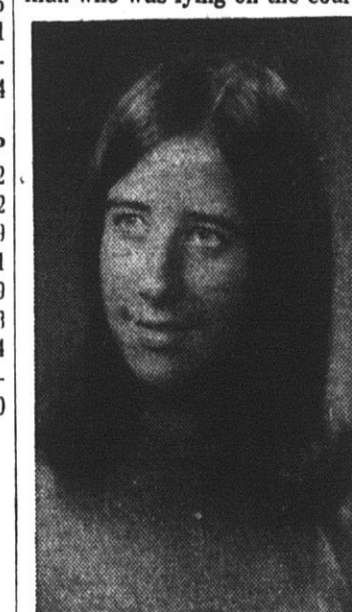

Page is another good junior. The 6-foot-1 guard didn't hurt his 31-point average any by swishing 13 of 22 shots and 13 of 19 free throws for 39 points in another Detroit County Day win.

The lone sophomore to be spotlighted this week is Russell. The 6-footer hasn't had too much of an average until lately. But he showed something for the future Friday night with 32 points.

REMOVE DAMAGED POLE—The antics of an overzealous woodpecker have resulted in the removal of a 60-foot power transmission pole behind the James M. Grooms residence, 4106 Beeline Rd. Grooms has been watching the bird for the past two years and reports that each spring he fights the other birds away in order to maintain occupancy of the pole which carries 46,000 volts of electricity. The woodpecker's hole has weakened the pole to the point that it could break off. Drilled about 12 feet from the top of the pole at a point where the hole is 10 inches in diameter, the hole has a three-inch diameter at the entrance, spreads to six inches inside and extends about 11 inches down. Consumers Power Co. remove the pole Wednesday. They reported it took six men about six hours to complete the replacement. Inset at left is a closeup of the hole indicated by black arrow on the picture. (Russ Hopkins' photos)

Glupker Gets 40 as Dutch Romp, 113-56

Phenomenal, is the best way to describe the way Holland High's basketball team played Friday evening in the Field-house.

With Max Glupker sinking 40 points and Jim Helmink adding 20, the Dutch smashed Grandville, 113-56 before a packed house for their eighth victory of the season and sixth in the VCC.

The victory lifts Holland's record to 6-5 in the league and 8-7 overall while the Bulldogs are 2-9 in the loop and like a dime store, 5-10 for the season. Holland hit on its first seven shots in the final period and closed the period by hitting on 18 of 22 shots for a terrific 82 per cent. This kind of shooting is what Coach Don Piersma has been looking for all season and the Dutch sure gave him an early birthday present.

For the game, Holland hit on 42 of 71 attempts for a blistering 61 percentage. Grandville was 20 of 76 for an icy 26 per cent.

In the final quarter, the Dutch tallied 42 points which must be some kind of record, to only 11 for the hapless Bulldogs.

Holland just couldn't miss in the final period which was played mostly by reserves. With Glupker hitting three buckets and Tom DeVries, Ken De Boer and Helmink adding one each at the outset of the period, it was only a matter of time before the Dutch would hit the century mark in scoring.

Steve Ver Beek tallied the 101st point for the Dutch on a jump shot from the corner which was also Ver Beek's first basket of the season. The score came with 2:28 left in the game.

Senior guard Ted Boeve, dribbled behind his back to set up two of his long jumpers to increase Holland's advantage to 109-56 with time running out.

Ryan Woodall and senior Kirk Beerthuis also tallied buckets for the Dutch in the final stanza as Piersma could not hold down his charged up team.

The game was actually decided in the early moments when Holland raced out to a commanding 19-7 lead with only four minutes gone in the foul marked first eight minutes.

Holland upped its margin to a 30-11 score at the conclusion of the first period as Glupker found the range for 16 of his game and career high 40 markers.

With Helmink, De Boer, Fritz Steinger and Ray Munson feeding Glupker in hopes he could break the school scoring mark, the standout senior for Holland, who was playing his last home game scored 10 more points in the second period to give him 26 at the intermission. Helmink chipped in with 10.

Grandville picked up the tempo in the third period as they outscored the Dutch, 22-21 but the Bulldogs must have felt like Jimmy Ellis after the beating he took from Joe Frazier, as the Dutch continued to add to their instrumental lead in the final quarter.

"I was real pleased with our zone press and especially the way Glupker and Helmink put the ball in the hoop," Piersma said. "I just hope we can keep up the shooting."

DeVries, Holland's slick moving pivot-man heped out in the scoring department for the Dutch with 14 points.

Grandville was led in scoring by reserve Bruce McKenny's 15 points. Bill Anderson and Denny Zondervan tallied 11 and 10 respectively for the Bulldogs.

A jubilant Glupker said after the victory in the wild Dutch lockerroom, "I'm sure glad to see us back on the winning track and I would like to thank all the fellows for whatever success I had tonight." The happy Dutch players tore down the net after the victory and placed it on Glupker's head while he was in the shower.

Coach Ken Bauman's reserves held off the little Bulldogs, 73-68 as Jim Lorence and Dave Brownson led the charge with 22 and 20 points respectively.

Zomermaand, Loncki Lead West Ottawa

KENTWOOD — The West Ottawa Panthers won its sixth straight basketball game of the season Friday night by outplaying the Kentwood Falcons, 60-50, to move its seasons mark to 12-3.

Cold shooting proved to be Kentwood's downfall as they managed to hit on only 17 of 67 attempts for a poor 25 per cent. The Panthers, on the other hand, took only 56 shots and made 23 for a respectable 41 per cent.

Play opened in the first quarter with the Falcons mounting a 9-2 lead as a result of good shooting and rebounding.

Both clubs played even in the second quarter as the zone defense dominated play. The best West Ottawa could do was to knot the contest a 15 - all as Lynn Loncki began to find the hoop.

The Panthers however managed to close the gap to three points, 11-8, as the low scoring first quarter concluded.

Kentwood quickly regained the lead and held a two point advantage 27-25, at half.

Although West Ottawa outscored Kentwood in field goals, 11-9, the Falcons hit on nine of ten free throws which made the difference.

Les Zomermaand led all first half scorers with nine markers with Loncki contributing eight. Kentwood's Gilpin made five charity tosses and a field goal for seven points.

The Panthers held a considerable edge in shooting accuracy in the first half as they connected for 41 per cent compared to the Falcons frigid 25 per cent from the field.

The third quarter was all West Ottawa with the Panthers outscoring Kentwood 22-11.

The Panthers controlled both offensive and defensive boards and were able to build up an eight point lead, 47-39, at the conclusion of third quarter play. Kentwood's defense toughened as the final quarter of play started.

The Falcons whittled the Panthers lead to just two points, 51-49, as West Ottawa committed numerous mistakes.

The Panthers bounced right back with two quick buckets to take a 55-49 lead. With time running out, the only course the Falcons could take was to foul the Panthers in hopes of getting possession of the ball. This proved disastrous for Kentwood as the Panthers came through with some clutch free throw shooting to ice the ball game.

Zomermaand took game scoring honors with 18 markers. Loncki wasn't far behind as he contributed 16 points and 11 rebounds to the Panthers cause. Greg Van Wieren also pulled down 11 caroms as he played his best all around game of the season.

Big Greg Den Boer led the Falcons attack with 16 points followed by Mike Harris with 14.

The Panthers held a deciding edge in total rebounds for the contest with 41 while the Falcons managed 32 rebounds.

Coach Jack Bonham heralded the fine play of senior guard Dave Vork and forward Van Wieren.

The Panthers will be vying for a share of the O-K league Red Division title next Friday night when they travel to Rogers.

The West Ottawa reserve team, coached by Neil Menke, lost a tough one to Kentwood 77-75 as they dropped to a 9-6 overall record.

Pat Allen scored 20 points and teammate Ron Holstine had 18 for the Panthers.

Sandy Meek

1922 singing with a pianist named Harry Sosnik in Chicago.

The son of a Canadian minister, Sandy traveled with his father on Sundays and sang solos in the churches where his father preached. During the early days of World War I, he produced shows for the Red Cross and aided in war bond drives in Northern Manitoba.

He went to Chicago in 1921 and enrolled at Valparaiso University to study voice, drama and the saxophone. Later he joined a Chautauqua company.

In 1924, he and Sosnik produced 27 programs a week on various Chicago stations. Sandy later became program director for programs on WBBM and Sosnik was musical director and the two worked 18 air hours a week for the sponsor on WBBM.

Sandy was an invited singer on almost every radio station opening in Chicago. Sosnik went to form his own orchestra and Sandy later went to Gary where he built up WJKS which later moved to Chicago and became WIND.

He also worked at KPO in San Francisco and at KFXM in San Bernardino. In 1924, he became program director of WOOD in Grand Rapids until 1950. While there he gave such famous broadcasters as Mike Wallace, George Stone and Franklyn Ferguson their starts in radio.

He also supervised radio programs for the visits of two presidents, Franklin Roosevelt in 1936 and Harry Truman in the 1940s.

Sandy came to Holland in 1950 and stayed until 1964. During that time WHTC moved into new broadcast facilities, increased its daytime power and added FM to better serve its listeners.

Essay Winners Are Exchange Club Guests

Special guests at Monday's Holland Exchange Club luncheon were the winners of the posters and essay contests on crime prevention. These contestants were from the area schools.

For some years the club has sponsored these contests. The National Exchange club has sponsored the Crime Prevention Week movement. The entrants in this year's contest entered material of high quality.

The advance sale of tickets for the Home Show has started. They may be obtained from any member of the Exchange Club. Those who plan to visit the show are reminded that the pre-sale tickets are sold for less than the tickets at the door after the show is open.

Exchangeite Bill DeRoos showed colored pictures taken of the South Sea Islands on a recent tour. Of special interest were those of the primitive tribes found living in the jungle areas of some of the islands. In some, sea shells are the currency used by the natives and a man's wealth is determined by the shells he owns. In these areas all conversation had to be done through a native interpreter.

Miss Linda Holland, maid of honor, and the Misses Patricia Meyers, sister of the groom, and Patricia Busman, bridesmaids, were attired in floor-length sapphire blue velvet gowns trimmed with pink flowers and olive green ribbon and wore matching rose headpieces. Miss Joni Postmus, flower girl, was attired similarly.

Garden Club Panel Discusses Pollution

"This Beleaguered Holland" was the topic for the general meeting of the Holland Branch of the American Association of University Women Thursday evening in Durllee Hall.

The Conservation Study Group of the Holland Garden Club consisting of seven women presented an informative and thought-provoking program.

Mrs. Donald Kingsley served as moderator for the panel which was selected by the University of Michigan to make a special pilot study on the subject of pollution. The women made hundreds of field trips and conducted many interviews to gather their information. Mrs. Kingsley said there are four basic pollution problems. They are human over-population, environmental pollution, inadequate conservation, and nuclear holocaust.

Mrs. Stephen Sanger presented a geological history of Michigan and traced the formation of minerals and rocks from 3 1/2 billion years ago to the present time. She used a chart with samples of rocks through every age.

Mrs. Vern Schipper explained the geological history of soil and used a chart to show how soil forms profiles. She told of their visit to the dump, or disposable center, and explained the formation of it.

Mrs. John J. Brower exhibited a map showing the watershed, which covers 170 square miles, from Zeeland to Lake Michigan and found many different types of pollution — aesthetic, organic, chemical, air, thermal and physical. Mrs. Brower pointed these out on the map.

She said 20 tons of pollutants go into turbid Lake Macatawa every day. There are 63 stations around the lake where water samples are taken regularly. She explained why Lake Michigan has a slow current and said refuse deposited in the lake at Indiana takes 100 years to reach the straits.

Mrs. Leonard, Dick stated that a primary sewage treatment plant is inefficient and that a secondary treatment plant is needed. She explained the advantages of a new kind of plant — a land disposal system — over a secondary treatment plant. Under the new system the waste doesn't go into the lake; 100 percent of the virus is removed; it is effective for 80 years; land is available now; cost would be less; and it is state approved.

HONORARY DUTCHMAN — Mayor Pro Tem Morris Peerbolt (left) presents a pair of wooden shoes, Holland's traditional gesture of welcome to distinguished guests, to Col. Frank Borman, commander of the Apollo 8 mission which orbited the moon in December, 1968. "We hear you are leaving the space program and will keep your feet on the ground. Here are your bedroom slippers," Peerbolt quipped. Borman was in Holland Thursday to receive an honorary degree from Hope College. (Sentinel photo)

Sidelights On Borman's Visit

While Col. Frank Borman's address at the special convocation at Hope College Thursday was less than 10 minutes, he covered a great many other subjects at a press conference preceding the convocation.

On Congress cutting space funds, he was confident that the strong NASA leadership will eventually obtain sufficient funds. "We can continue for two years but after that we'll need help. The space program is necessary to this country, not only in exploration and in solving problems. It would be disastrous to cripple the space program."

After eight years in space, Col. Borman is leaving the space program next summer to join a nonprofit foundation headed by H. Ross Perot, the Texas millionaire industrialist who became frontpage news last Christmas in his attempts to deliver Christmas gifts to prisoners and others in North Vietnam.

Aim of the new program known as "American Horizons" is to produce television programs in prime time presenting fair and unbiased facts on a variety of subjects, allowing impartial arguments on both sides. Col. Borman said a pilot program could be the question of legalizing marijuana, allowing listeners at the end to draw their own conclusions. "TV today has loads of action but not one great idea prospect for the betterment of society," he said.

Students of Lincoln School which adjoins the campus formed an honor guard for Col. Borman as he and others in the convocation procession left Graves Hall for Dimmet Memorial Chapel. It was snowing at the time. Later, as Col. Borman rose to deliver his brief address, sunshine broke through the rose window of the auditorium.

Col. Borman has no political ambitions. He was surprised to learn that James A. McDevitt was being considered for the Republican nomination of U.S. senator in Michigan.

Col. Borman was inclined to discount the controversy which surrounded the Bible reading aboard Apollo 8 on Christmas Eve in 1968. He said one case brought by Madelyn Murray O'Hair had been thrown out of U.S. District Court. Petitions supporting the astronaut's stand brought over 5,000,000 signatures.

While at first he appeared critical of the mass media in playing up charges by Mrs. O'Hair and her cohorts, Col. Borman later qualified his words to say a free press is the greatest assurance for a free society and is an extremely important function in America.

Col. Borman grew up in Tucson, Ariz., under conditions which now might be regarded as below average economic background. "But if we were poor, we didn't know it," he said.

For the last nine months, Col. Borman has been engaged in space station study. He said two contracts have been let for specifications for such a space station which would be an international laboratory. He will continue in this study until he leaves the space program in the summer.

Astronauts receive many requests for speeches and private appearances. Col. Borman estimates they accept one in 80.

Yes, he was flattered to be selected the class hero of Hope College sophomores, and he thoroughly enjoyed having breakfast with what he called the "brightest students and prettiest girls around." He added most colleges are not so radical as "instant history" would have us believe.

Col. Borman foresees putting a man on Mars and possibly leaving the solar system. He said the Mars mission might involve a 600-day round trip with 40 days on Mars. Of course, if more rapid transportation is developed, it could be a great deal shorter.

"We have used the sea for 5,000 years before we really recognized sea power. We have had air power for 32 years and space eight years. If we abandon the space program now, it would be catastrophic," Col. Borman said.

Col. Borman has two children, aged 16 and 18. "Do they hang on your every words like these young people here today?" He answered with a resounding "No!"

U.S. Rep. Guy Vander Jagt had a confession to make while presenting his good friend Frank Borman for the honorary degree. Back in his high school days, Guy had declined to join a discussion group on what he regarded a waste of time. The subject: "Will man ever reach the moon?" Now, Guy is a member of the House Science and Astronautic committee.

There may be a hint of Dutch blood in Col. Borman, but he said so far as he knows his forebears came from Luxembourg. He was happy to be an honorary Dutchman with his wooden shoes, presented by Mayor Pro Tem Morris Peerbolt at the press conference.

Col. Borman accompanied Tom Renner who heads the public relations at Hope College, to Holland Hospital Wednesday night to visit ailing President Calvin A. Vander Werf, who entered last Saturday with virus pneumonia and pleurisy.

Dr. Vander Werf said, "I feel just as University of Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler did when he spent this year's Rose Bowl game in the hospital."

Col. Borman left Holland at 12:30 p.m. from Park Township Airport on a Piper Apache of Burgess Aviation Inc., piloted by Dennis Adams of Holland. The plane was scheduled to land at Chicago's O'Hare Field and Borman was scheduled to take a commercial plane to Los Angeles. He was scheduled to speak tonight in San Diego.

Holland High Students Hear Drug Panel

A panel discussion featuring Richard Gilmore and three staff members of "Project Rehab" was the main event on the Holland High School campus Thursday.

Gilmore, an ex-drug user, is director of "Project Rehab," centered in Grand Rapids. The program began two years ago when a heroin addict came to Dr. Bill Koistera of Grand Rapids and asked for help. The project has since grown rapidly.

With Gilmore were three former drug users. Mark Rusch, 17, related his experiences with acid and opium and explained he began taking drugs at the age of 13 but has had nothing since July, 1969, and Marion Bates, 19, told of his use of hallucinatory drugs such as amphetamines and LSD.

The last speaker was George Rodriguez, a heroin addict, who began using dope at the age of 12, beginning with marijuana. The next step was heroin, "snorting" it, which is inhaling the substance through the nose, and eventually shooting it into his system. From heroin he progressed to cocaine and finally to the original "speed" ball, a combination of cocaine and heroin, a deadly duo.

Rodriguez continued, explaining the trouble in finding and keeping a job. He also told of the great expense in supporting a habit such as his and the variety of ways and tasks a person would resort to to obtain the necessary funds.

The group remained on the campus for the remainder of the day, speaking to interested students in the commons area and in a few classes.

Types of drugs were categorized with the effects of the drugs and the kind of addiction, either physical, emotional or both, being stressed.

The assembly was sponsored by the Student Council with Mayor Dave Daubenspeck introducing the speakers.
