NUMBER TEN

The First Savings Bank in the United States

was started in 1816, just 103 years ago. Today there are Ten Billion dollars in Savings in 27,062 banks of the nation.

This is the fund which shelters, clothes and feeds us, pays wages, builds cities, extends railroads, equips industries and maintains government.

Ten billions is not all the country's capital but it is the capital from which drafts are made for new developments in your home town, in your state and nation.

From these stupendous figures you can judge what thrift has done in just one century, but there is much greater work for thrift to do. Help yourself by becoming independent. Help the country and Holland by helping yourself.

HOLLAND BOYS GET NOTICE IN ANN ARBOR PAPERS

The Michigan Daily an Ann Arbor paper of U. of M. gives Willis Diekema oldest son of G. J. Diekema a send-off that is very flattering. The editor of the paper has the following.

In spite of the fact that one of the disappointing features of the war was the failure of American aeroplanes to appear on the fighting front of France aviators from the University of Michigan upheld the glory of their alma mater, as well as did the fighting men in other branches of the service.

Among the most prominent of the air fighters was Capt. Willis A. Diekema, '14, who was one of the first American aces on the front. Captain Diekema after engaging in a score of air fights, during his first month on the front, received the almost incredible recognition for a novice, of six officially accredited victories over the German champions. He received official credit for three in one day. Since that time, his record has almost doubled but for several of the latter, he has not received confirmation, due to the fact that the enemy planes were descended so far on the other side of the lines. While in college, Captain Diekema was known as the composer of "A Model Daughter," one of the best Union operas ever presented by the Michigan thespians. His "Friar Song" was long sung by the old Friar society, and when that organization disbanded, the song was adopted by the Toastmasters, and is sung at all of their meetings.

Captain Diekema was several times decorated by the French and carries also the American military decorations for bravery and courage.

Another Holland man who has made a good record in France is listed in another University of Michigan publication. This is Lieut. Mayo Hadden, who returned to this country last week arriving at his home in Holland a week ago today.

"Fiji War Cry" a publication of the Phi Gamma Delta of the University, Mr. Hadden receives the following notice this week:

"Bro. Mayo Hadden, with seven German airplanes to his credit, is listed among America's 'Aces.' Bro. Hadden graduated from the Engineering College here with the class of '15."

LOSES EYE IN CURIOUS ACCIDENT

A curious accident happened at the pig-skin department of the North Side tannery Friday through which the victim will probably lose the sight of one of his eyes. While Gerrit Bronkhorst was oiling one of the bearings the tip of the oil can was violently dashed by the machinery into one of his eyes demolishing it, it is believed.

The injured man was rushed to Holland hospital where he was attended by Dr. Leenhouts. The full extent of the injury cannot yet be determined but it is expected the injured man will retain the eyeball altho he will probably lose the sight from it.

MATTERS ARE ADJUSTED AT OFFICE OF LOCAL ATTORNEYS

The sudden death of George E. Kollen, one of the law partners of the firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate caused a readjustment to take place. The attorneys who will now take up all legal matters for the firm are the Hon. G. J. Diekema, Daniel Ten Cate and Clarence Lokker. The offices in the First State Bank block are so arranged that the law partners had easy access to one another's rooms which is often necessary when in consultation.

In the future the office formerly occupied by the late Mr. Kollen will be the future office of Mr. Diekema. Mr. Ten Cate will be found in the office vacated by Mr. Diekema and Mr. Lokker will hold forth in Attorney's Ten Cate's former office.

This arrangement was considered the most convenient and in this way the junior partners could more readily confer with the older senior partner whose office is stationed between the two younger attorneys.

The firm name will remain as heretofore, Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF STEALING LUMBER

Elmer Purdy and John Grooters were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Bouwman and Honkes on the charge of stealing lumber from Mike Bos and Derk Dirke, all the parties involved live on the north side of Black lake.

The deputies state that the lumber was found in the barn of Grooters but Grooters stated he does not know how it got there.

The truth of the statements will no doubt come out at the trial to be held Wednesday morning at the city hall. Justice Robinson issued the warrant Daniel Ten Cate of the firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate is the attorney for the accused pair, while Prosecutor Miles is taking up the matter for the state.

EQUIP BUILDING FOR AUTO SERVICE

The Van Raalte building at the corner of River and Ninth has been overhauled during the winter and it has been put into shape for the Auto Supply Co. which is now located in it. Arthur Kronmeyer started this company in a small way at 11 East Eighth street being the only exclusive auto accessories firm in the city. Later it expanded and moved into the Van Raalte building.

Mr. Kronmeyer has added a battery repair service and will repair all makes of batteries. He will continue to do vulcanizing and will carry a full line of tires and accessories. The place has been equipped with new equipment during the winter. The company will also be the distributor in Ottawa county of the "Prest-o-lite."

MARCH JURY IS CHOSEN FOR COURT DUTY

Sheriff Dornbos, County Clerk Slater, Justices of the Peace Dickinson and Wachs, have drawn the panel of jurors for the March term of the circuit court, and notification to those selected is being served by the officers. The jurors will report here for service on March 24, but the March term of Circuit Court will open a week earlier on March 17.

County Clerk Orrie Slater is now engaged in compiling the calendar for the March term, and while the business does not promise to be exceptionally heavy there are a number of cases to be disposed of. The criminal calendar offers no sensations as yet, altho there are a number of cases to be disposed of.

The November term of the court rather fizzled out. Because of the abandonment of the November session on account of the flu throughout the county some of the cases scheduled for that term, were shifted to the January term, but most of them were either settled out of court or put over term by agreement of the attorneys. The jury worked but a few days on cases which were up for completion. The March jury promises to work harder.

The following panel was drawn to serve in the March term:—

Albert Potgieter, Allendale Twp.; L. Vollink, Blendon; Bert Crozier, Chester; Wm. Easterly, Crookery; John Boer, Georgetown; August Hoerich, Grand Haven; John Geertz, Holland; Frank J. Strick, Jamestown; Clifton Dennis, Olive; Bram Witteveen, Park; Harm J. Sietsema, Polkton; Arthur Brems, Robinson; Albert Temis, Spr. Lake; Jake Kishman, Tallmadge; Glenn Luther, Wright; Eli Elenga, Zeeland; John Palmer, Grand Haven; First Ward; Charles Reihl, Grand Haven, Second Ward; Tony Vander Zalm, Grand Haven, Third Ward; Hio Dornbos, Grand Haven, Fourth Ward; H. J. Donker, Grand Haven, Fifth Ward; A. B. Kammeraad, Holland, First Ward; Tyler Van Landegend, Holland, Second ward; John Vandersluis, Holland, Third Ward.

WESTERN STATE NORMAL PULLS ROUGH STUFF ON H. H. S.

The game between the Holland high school and the Western State Normal was as rough as the weather outside proved to be Friday.

It was apparent from the first that the Holland aggregation had it over the Kazoo's when baskets were made at will by the High boys.

The score in the first half stood 28 Holland, Kahmazoo 4.

In the second half the teachers in embryo got to playing dirty ball and the Holland lads would stand for nothing of this kind and gave them an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. Boyd at least got one tooth, judging from his eye. The final score stood 44 to 12 with Irving, Knutson and Boyd starring thruout the game.

CONVICT IN FISH CASE AT GRAND HAVEN

After an all-day hearing in Justice Wachs' court Thursday the jury in the fish shipping case against A. Abenga last night returned a verdict of conviction. The question as to the law forbidding the shipment of fish was threshed out before the jury by the attorneys in the case several other complaints are said to hinge on the case tried out Thursday.

PLANS FOR A MEMORIAL BUILDING SHAPING THEMSELVES

According to the tentative plans the proposed Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial that is to be erected in Zeeland, will serve two main purposes:

1. As a Memorial to the Soldiers' and Sailors from the local community who have given their lives and to those who have rendered great service and made great sacrifices for the general welfare of the country.

2. As a Community Center to afford headquarters and a meeting place for such community agencies as Booster Club, Red Cross, War Veterans' Societies, Local charities, Farm bureau, Civic organizations, Women's clubs, Boy Scouts, Literary societies, Musical societies.

Numerous suggestions and recommendations have been made to the committee by interested citizens, and among these suggestions are the following:

That the Liberty Building must have an auditorium for public meetings and entertainments, and a memorial hall with engrossed records of all the veterans of the Civil war, Spanish-American war, and the great world war just closing.

That a reading room be provided and that a public library be included. That space should be set aside for the exhibit of local industries and resources.

That a Farmers' Rest Room be included in the plans, with perhaps a restaurant in connection, or a community kitchen and dining room.

That the building be so arranged that a part of it can be used for a gymnasium, and if possible a swimming pool in the basement.

That the building include suitable quarters for the City Council and city officers, and that space be provided for the city Fire Department.

That rooms be provided for the city bands, firemen's meetings, farmers' meetings, etc.

H. S. STUDENTS GIVEN LESSONS IN SALESMANSHIP

The following talk was written by one of the high school boys for his lesson in salesmanship on Thursday. He is working for the Junior play.

"Good evening, Mr. Jones. How are you feeling? Are the chickens laying very well lately? Mine are doing fine. I stopped in this evening to tell you about the play the Juniors of High school are giving. I know you will be interested."

"The high school has supported every war activity and every play thus far has been for the benefit of some war move."

"Now the Junior play is for the purpose of giving the students some experience in going before the public. This you know is very essential in the business world. The name of the play is 'The Camouflage of Shirely.' It's a new play, full of life and pep. It's scenes are at an Atlantic resort town Shirely is a lively, spirited, loyal, American Girl. The play is interesting and you will find much enjoyment in seeing it."

"Every Junior is going to have a part so you see all are prodding by the experience. It is to be given March 13th in the H. S. auditorium, and the money taken in is going for equipment for the English department."

"Now if you are interested and intend to go let me know and I will secure your tickets for you. Remember you are giving to a good cause for which you will never regret. Come and help boost the High School. The tickets are 15 cents."

BORE A TORCH IN FREMONT CAMPAIGN

Saugatuck Commercial-Record—Henry Bird, now of Salmon, Idaho, who is well known to old-time residents in this section, is here on a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Bird was in business here for many years following the civil war, but even those who knew him in those days find it some what difficult to reconcile the fact with his present rather youthful appearance and activity.

Although eight years younger than his friend, William White, Mr. Bird claims to antedate the latter by four years in the matter of political activity. Not only was he a member of the Lincoln Wide-Awakes, but belonging to a marching club in 1856, during the campaign of Fremont, the first Republican presidential candidate. Mr. Bird writes as follows:

"Editor Commercial-Record: William White was in the store the other day bragging that he was the only 'Wide-Awake' left in this part of the country. I was a Lincoln wide-awake in 1860 at Wheaton, Illinois, and carried on an automaton 'Ball Splitter' through several Chicago torch light parades."

"But I can go him four years better—I was a Fremont 'Wide-Awake' in 1856 and have the badge yet that we wore then. You can see them by calling at Bird's Drug store in Saugatuck any time that you wish. Henry Bird."

Alderman Frank Brieve has returned from Chicago, Joliet and Michigan City on a business trip.

BETTER SIGNAL AND LIGHTS ARE ASKED AT HARBOR

Ludington, Mich., harbor is to have a new fog signal station and other aids to navigation costing $50,000 under terms of a bill favorably reported to the house by Congressman Frank E. Doremus. The location of the present fog signal station subjects vessels to danger of striking the breakwater. Ludington harbor is said to be inadequately lighted especially in view of its important commerce and car ferries. It is proposed to establish a main light on the outer end of the north breakwater with fog signal apparatus, consisting of electrically-driven signal. Quarters for keepers will also be erected adjacent to the light, because it is considered unsafe to cross the harbor during the winter when the ice is broken up by the car ferries.

RECEPTION HELD FOR RETURNED SOLDIER

A reception was held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Slagh, College avenue, in honor of their son, Gerald E. Slagh, who recently returned from France. The house was decorated with flags and the program was of a patriotic nature. Refreshments were served by Gertrude Wafke, Dora Smith, Ella Brink and Dorothy Slagh. Those present were: Misses Helen Thompson, Imogene Dykema, Dorothy Doan, Cornelia Bauman, Gertrude Tiesenga, Anna Van Putten, Laura Lemmen, Minnie Vander Elst, Geneva Van Lente, Sena De Haan, Florence Moore, Meers, Ernest Van Lente, Rudolph Brink, Henry Luidens, George Luidens, Anthony D. Meengs, Bertal Slagh, Gerrit Mayskens, Anthony H. Meengs, John H. Meengs, Maurice Steggers, Gerald Slagh.

MARK THE DATE ON THE CALENDAR

Thursday March 13, is the third annual Dollar day and on that day hundreds of eager buyers will be rushing toward the downtown retail district.

The continuous strain on father's pocketbook for the past four or five years has rather cooled the enthusiasm with which he formerly assailed mother's bargain hunting habit, and he long since has begun to look forward to Holland's Dollar day as an event of which he should take advantage.

And the live Holland retail merchants who carry on these Dollar days are with him this year as never before. Merchants are set for a jolly homecoming which will stimulate the retail trade and start it on its way to a successful spring and summer reconstruction business.

HAMILTON IS SADDENED BECAUSE OF SOLDIER'S DEATH IN GERMANY

The Hamilton correspondent sends in the following item from Gibson: Hamilton people were again saddened to hear of the death of Levi Buscher, one of the Benheim boys who died in Germany. Mr. Buscher was well known in Hamilton as he spent several years doing carpenter work for H. Kuite. He has given to us the example of true manhood—an inspiration to our boys, as well as to all who know him and learned to love him. His life, though short, has fulfilled its purpose, leaving footprints on the sands of time that will never be effaced.

Holland Boy Wins First Prize in Contest

In "The American Boy" magazine for March appears a brief article on Tennyson's poem, "Ballad of the Revenge" by Stanley Huyser, of this city, aged 17. Mr. Huyser's article won five dollars and first prize in a contest put on by this magazine in which boys were asked to give the reasons why they had been charmed by a book or poem they had read. Mr. Huyser's contribution, winning 1st prize, is printed at the head of the list. It reads as follows:

I am glad that Dr. Braisted included some poems in his list of books, because I always consider myself one among those "cured" of the prejudices against poetry. "The Ballad of the Revenge," is one of Tennyson's stirring battle poems. By no means does it tell about "love-making and man-curing and smoothly brushed hair."

The story is of Sir Richard Grenville, who with sixty wounded and only one hundred able-bodied men aboard a little English ship, opposed 53 Spanish galleons. For a day and a night the battle rages. Sir Richard is wounded twice; forty of his crew are killed, and half of the rest wounded; most of the sick men have died; and the crippled fleet of Spanish galleons surround the little ship not daring to attack. But the English, for the sake of their families and their country, surrender. The Revenge, manned by a Spanish crew, and "longing for her own," goes down in a gale off the Spanish coast.

Tennyson, here, is not telling a fanciful tale. He is portraying a spirit that still beats in the hearts of men. It was the spirit of the British at Ypres, when at odds of ten to one, they held back the Hun. It was the spirit of America, when, practically defenseless, she declared war on the mightiest fighting machine ever organized.

The lesson this poem teaches me—you will find a lesson in every book you read—is the words of Sir Richard in the midst of the battle—"Fight on!"

City Attorney Charles McBride was in Grand Rapids on law business Monday.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS

Although the year's series of meetings of the Woman's Literary club will not come to an end until June 4 the annual business meeting is to be held Tuesday, the officers for the following year always being elected some time before the close of the year. At this business meeting, Mrs. W. J. Olive, the president, will give a report of the meeting of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs, held in Battle Creek recently and to which Mrs. Olive was sent as the local club's delegate. A piano solo will be given by John Lloyd Kollen.

The present officers of the club are: President, Mrs. W. J. Olive; First Vice President Mrs. Harry Harrison; Second Vice President, Mrs. J. C. Post; Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. M. McLean; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. J. Blekkink; treasurer, Mrs. A. Diekema.

HAS SMALLEST CREW IN ITS WHOLE HISTORY

The United States Coast Guard at Macatawa is operating at present with the smallest crew in the history of the station. There are at present only four men in the crew, and Captain Van Weelden has no information at the present time as to when the normal complement of life savers will again be on his list.

The shortage in the crew is due to the fact that three of the members, Landman, Anderson and Deto were transferred to the Atlantic Coast a month or two ago to help out there with the extra winter work and they have not yet been transferred back to the local station. And one other member of the crew, Harold Driy, has decided to leave the coast guard service and to go into another line of business. No successor has yet been appointed to take Mr. Driy's place, and for the time being his mates on the crew will have to get along without a man in his place.

Tony Vander Bie, another member who had been transferred for the winter months, has been sent back to the local station. Vander Bie spent the winter months as a member of the coast crew at Grand Haven.

Since opening the station Friday night at midnight, Capt. Van Weelden and his four helpers have been getting things in shape for the summer's work. As yet, their opportunity for life saving is limited as the channel is frozen over, which would prevent the men to get out into the lake with the boats. But the patrol on the coast has been established and in case of emergency in Lake Michigan much aid could be extended.

Mrs. Jacob Van Weelden of Macatawa, was a Grand Rapids visitor Monday.

DOES HOLLAND WANT DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME?

As a war time measure, congress last year passed a law, embodying the clause that from the last Saturday in month of March, until the last Saturday in the month of October, all the clocks in the nation should be set back one hour and thereby bring about an economy that would aid in the conservation of fuel for our allies and incidentally bring about a saving of artificial light to home consumers.

No doubt a great deal of fuel was saved because of this measure and it is also said that consumers did save at least ten per cent and more in the lighting bills during the summer months, owing to the law.

Of course it is doubtful whether these economies were so directly that of by the Holland people even the this was in the main the reason why congress inaugurated this conservation measure.

It can safely be said that Holland is practically unanimous for the earlier rising hour in the summer time, in fact it was with reluctance that a majority of our folks turned the hands of the clock back again in October. They had to abide by the inevitable, however, and do as the Romans do, or else get themselves into an endless untimely mixup. It can be safely stated that Holland citizens rather enjoyed that hour of earlier rising, but if indications count for anything, they relish those long summer evenings, with the sun sinking in the west at 9 o'clock, instead of 8 o'clock, even better.

Scores of men from the local shops might have been seen most any evening with bait and fishing rod, going to Black Lake and putting in at least three hours of day light fishing, which in itself is a healthful recreation after several hours of hard indoor toil at the factory. These men besides receiving a well deserved rest, incidentally aided in providing their family table with a luxury which cost them nothing.

The younger shop boys might be seen playing a full nine-inning game of baseball after the supper hour. In fact, last summer several contests between factory teams were pulled off because these men were given the chance by virtue of the extra hour of daylight, available in the evening.

The tired business man too could close his store at 5 o'clock, (now 6) and still have nearly four hours of daylight left in which to putter in the garden or to take a ride to the resorts with his family and a well filled lunch basket, thus enjoying himself to the fullest while the sun was still well up in the heavens.

We might mention scores of other reasons why Holland is for the "early to bed, and early to rise" schedule of time and would like to have it continue in peace as well as war times. It seems however that congress is thinking otherwise and there is some chance of having the law repealed, now that the war is over.

This seems a senseless proceeding, for if the law stands for economy in war times, why not continue the saving in peace time and thru the economy help in part to pay the tremendous price that the war has cost us? It is of course useless to go back to last summer's schedule unless this schedule is universally adopted, by every community in fact by the entire nation. A partial adoption would bring about no end of confusion because of the various assortments of times used in different communities.

It seems that the Victory club, the organization now taking a live interest in Holland should also take up this matter of time, as soon as possible. These men should get in touch with Congressman Mapes, Senators Newberry and Townsend quickly, asking them to use their influence in Congress to prevent the repeal of this law of economy.

TUG ROBBINS III BRINGS IN GREAT TROUT FROM THEIR NETS

Lifting her nets in Lake Michigan Saturday the fishing tug Robbins III, of Grand Haven, snared the champion trout of the season. The crew of the tug found a monster trout which weighed twenty-one pounds in the nets. The fish was brought in and was shipped. While the size is unusual for catches on the local fishing grounds fish of this weight are said to be more common at the northern end of the lake.

OBJECT IS TO EVANGELIZE THE WORLD

Six four-minute speakers, each spoke four minutes at the Centenary meeting held at the M. E. church last Sunday evening.

All the Methodist churches in the United States are very active in this great drive that has recently been launched.

As one speaker put it, the object of this Centenary movement is to put method back into methodism.

The Methodist church is mobilizing all the spiritual forces of the church and through these forces they have mapped out a definite program that will have, as its ultimate aim the evangelizing of the world during this present generation.

Another speaker said the "Christian church has for years been marking time, but now we have the orders Forward, March! and are massing our forces, both young and old, rich and poor, men and women, instructing them to do their duty for God and man.

"We are impressing upon this great concourse of workers that if ever duty called them, that time is now. We are making them realize in a more concrete way the Master's purpose for His church."

At Sunday night's meeting First Lieutenant Chaplain, O. G. Ragan, who has done valiant service in France during the war, gave a forceful talk relating to the work in hand. He is general secretary of the four minute men in the state of Michigan, with headquarters at Detroit. It will be remembered that he was the assistant of the great evangelist, Honeywell, who created such an upheaval along religious lines for good in Muskegon, when the "Sawdust City" was the most so-called wide open city in the state.

The six four-minute speakers who spoke, besides Mr. Ragan, are Harry Harrington, Prosecutor Fred T. Miles, Dr. R. M. Waltz, Thomas Ollinger, Robert Evans and Spriggs TeBoller.

All of these men have been delegated to speak along centenary lines at every gathering where this is possible, and altho raw recruits at first these volunteers have developed into excellent extemporaneous speakers.

MISSIONARY ARRIVES IN SAN FRANCISCO

Mrs. H. C. Warnshuis received a telegram Tuesday morning from her son, Rev. John H. Warnshuis, missionary in China, stating that he and Mrs. Warnshuis and daughter had arrived safely in San Francisco. They will reach here late Friday evening.

TESTS ARE MADE IN GROWING OF SUGAR BEETS

Three years ago the agricultural department of the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad in co-operation with the bureau of plant industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, inaugurated a series of sugar beet growing experiments and during the seasons of 1916-17-18 over one hundred farmers each year, in different parts of Northwestern Michigan, co-operated. Previous to this beets were being grown in Charlevoix and Missaukee counties.

The results of the three years' experimental and demonstration work shows that the quality of the beets grown in Western Michigan exceeds any other section in the United States. The average sugar in juice of the beets for each of the three years was 17.5%, 19% and 18.7% respectively. Analysis of the beets, each season, has been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Last year the agricultural department of the railroad, the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Company, county agricultural agents, chambers of commerce farmers' organizations, and others, co-operated in conducting 33 meetings at as many points in Western Michigan to discuss the sugar beet proposition. The sugar company followed up by having its field agents make personal canvass for commercial acreage. Five hundred and seventy-seven farmers contracted acreage in 1918. Some of the growers were disappointed in the crops owing to various causes; among them, injuries from grasshoppers, abnormal windstorms in early June; inexperience with the crop, and planting in poor soil.

Seventy-nine carloads of this commercial acreage of beets were shipped to the factories at Holland and at St. Louis. Also, some of the growers had crops of such merit as to warrant the beets being selected and shipped for seed production purposes. All of the 79 carloads tested from 14.9% to 19.2% sugar in beet. The average of all cars was 17.1%. Some of the individual crops analyzed above 20%. The average quality of beets delivered to the fifteen factories in operation in central and lower Michigan was 13.46% and this was the highest average in the United States the past year. Thus the average of all cars shipped out of Western Michigan was 3.46% higher than any other United States average.

W. P. Hartman, agricultural and industrial agent, G. R. & I. R'y, commenting on the commercial and the experimental crops, the future outlook of the crop and the promise of a new industry says:

"It is now an established fact that the soil and climatic conditions of Western Michigan are adapted to the successful production of sugar beets, as regards both quality and tonnage. The analysis by the government and by factories determines the former, and reports from the growers prove the latter. Management of the soils and of the crop are the factors making for success or failure. Soils so light, or depleted in fertility, as to produce less than an average yield of potatoes will not produce a satisfactory tonnage of beets. In other words as pointed out in a recent bulletin of the U. S. Department of Agriculture: 'Any fertile soil capable of producing crops of other kinds, will, if handled, produce good sugar beets.'—Michigan Investor.

John Van Vyven and C. St. Clair of the Meyers Music House were in Grand Rapids on business Tuesday.

CONGRESSMAN FROM THIS DISTRICT FOR GOOD ROADS PLAN

Congressman Carl E. Mapes, who represents the Fifth District of Michigan in Congress here and who was elected for a fourth term, last fall by the biggest majority ever given a congressman in his district, is an unqualified inductor of the proposal to amend the constitution this spring to provide the machinery for a comprehensive system of State market highways.

"Michigan would reap great benefit from a comprehensive system of good roads," said Mr. Mapes. "They would have a direct effect upon food prices to the consumer and still leave a bigger margin of profit for the farmer. They will increase property valuations in every community and they should be a big factor in helping to solve the problem for the unemployed during the period of reconstruction.

"From what I hear from Michigan, only those who do not understand the issue are disposed to hesitate over a favorable vote on April 7. The farmer is a busy man. He has little time to delve deeply into governmental issues and analyze them. I have no doubt when he understands he is not voting $50,000,000 in bonds at the April election, but merely ratifying an amendment to the constitution which will permit the people themselves, thru their representatives in the legislature to use the state's credit from time to time to build the road and make available the Federal aid of at least $80,000,000, he will go cheerfully to the polls and vote 'Yes.'"

"I am informed from Lansing that Highway Commissioner F. F. Rogers, whose administration of the affairs of the State Highway department has been held up by the federal authorities as an example for other states, is authority for the statement that 'not more than $5,000,000 can or will be used the first year and that the program will be spread over a period of at least ten years.

"The cost of this work will be spread over a period of some 30 years so that not only may Michigan farmers have the use of the roads while paying for them, but their children may bear their share of the cost and perhaps their children's children. Besides under the program of Federal Aid being worked out here in Congress, the United States is going to put a lot of money into those states which show their progressiveness by matching Uncle Sam's offering, dollar for dollar."

SPEEDER IS INDIG-

NANT WITH THE LAW

Roy Walters owns a little "road house" which he calls a "Cornelian." It is one of these funny little animals in the form of a car, built close to the ground.

Walters has been in considerable trouble before with this one-eyed thing on wheels.

Whatever the looks of Cornelian may be, she is still there with the speed, at least so says speed cop Bonetkoe who pulled Walters up with a round turn going at 25 miles on 8th street.

The young man was brought before Justice Robinson carrying an air of great disgust. With elevated eyebrows, he spoke to the Judge stating that he was disgusted with this procedure, with the law, and with things in general. He said he wasn't going to monkey around like this any longer.

The judge halted him in his conversation and said, "I am going to give you something that you can really feel disgusted about," and he handed the young man a fine of $25 and the elevated eyebrows came down to the natural level.

SECOND LESSON

ON SALESMENSHIP

Good morning, Mr. J. Cold weather we're having lately isn't it. I have come to tell you about a play which is to be given by the Juniors up at the high school. I know that you are interested in all activities of the high school and so if I can interest you in this I feel that you will boost and help to make it a success.

The high school has not given any plays of this sort since the war began. Before that time the people always supported high school productions beautifully and since that time high school students have supported the Liberty Loan campaign and Thrift Stamp drives. As the school has grown considerably and very few improvements have been procured during the war the Juniors have decided to give this play and get practice in acting before the public; they will use the money for some improvements in the English department.

The name of the play is "The Camouflage of Shirely". It is full of pep and humorous and will hold the interest of the audience. It will well worth your while to come and see it Thursday evening, March 13.

If you should care to go with your wife and family I can furnish you with tickets; they are 15c apiece. Your money is going to a good cause and it will surely be worth your time and money to come and see this play; at the same time you are boosting for Holland High school.

ARRESTED FOR NOT SHELTERING AND FEEDING HORSES

Harry Estelle of West Olive was brought in by Deputy Sheriff Bouwman on complaint signed by Humane Agent Eugene Randolph of Grand Rapids. The complaint set forth that Estelle left his horses to shift in the field all winter without shelter and that for the last ten days the horses had not had a thing to eat other than what they foraged for themselves in the snow covered field.

Estelle pleaded guilty but stated he never put his horses up in winter because the animals did not want to go in, preferring to live outdoors. He said the horses were of the western type that never see the inside of a barn.

Estelle stated that he was compelled to come to Holland because of a sick wife and had been taking care of her for ten days not being able to get back to the farm. He stated that he left the horses in charge of a neighbor who apparently did not take care of them, stating that the animals were so wild they could not be chased into the barn so that he could give them food. The judge gave Estelle a lecture and then suspended sentence on the promise that he would go to the farm immediately and take proper care of the horses. This the man promised to do.

MARCH SURELY COMES IN LIKE A FIERCE LION

The warm spring rains of Friday morning, and the gentle breeze from the south was suddenly turned into a blast from the west causing the temperature to drop 26 degrees within three hours. At four o'clock the temperature registered 44 at the water station, and at seven o'clock in the evening the thermometer indicated 18 degrees above zero.

The gentle breeze at 3 o'clock was suddenly lashed into a veritable hurricane at 4 o'clock.

Ice cutters were busy on Pine Creek bay cutting ice for the Holland Amine Co. when the wind struck and soon the colony of fish shanties were blown in every direction and the fishermen present were trying to hold some of them down in order to prevent them from coming to grief.

At 6 o'clock the storm was so severe that it blew one of the employees of the Cappon-Bertsch tannery into Black river. The man was going home to supper on a bicycle and as he was approaching the bridge the wind swept the man and wheel over the embankment.

It was also reported that the blower from the Holland Shoe Co. was blown off, altho but little damage was done.

Altho the crew of the life saving station resumed their duties at midnight nothing unusual was reported to have happened on the big lake, aside from the fact that the sea was running very high.

Many hats were sent sailing down Eighth street Friday afternoon, and wrecked umbrellas were common on the business streets.

Although Saturday morning the wind and cold had somewhat abated it can be truly said that March marched in like a lion.

HARD TO GET JURY IN A GRAND HAVEN CASE

Accusations of political motives and frequent upsets in the general tranquility of the court Friday marked the opening of the hearing in the case against G. T. Vanden Berg in Justice Wach's court at Grand Haven. Up to noon the hearing had not been able to get under way due to the difficulty in securing a jury. Many of the men called to serve were discharged and others were challenged by the attorneys. The case drew many spectators but up to noon all of the time was taken up in the attempt to get six men to try the case.

LEFT BED AND BOARD, BUT HUSBY MUST PAY

The Grand Rapids papers have the following article, in which one of the principals, Mr. Trompen, is well known in this city. The item follows:

"Oscar D. Cooper didn't insert an advertisement that he would not be responsible for any debts incurred by his wife soon enough to evade responsibility for a debt of $31.85 which she incurred with J. N. Trompen & Co. opined Justice Loucks and he gave the dry goods company a verdict, for that amount. The advertisement appeared in the noon edition of a Grand Rapids paper. The last article in the bill was purchased by Mrs. Cooper at 11 that morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Good were Grand store is in New York City on important business for ten days.

Isaac De Pagter, of Grand Rapids, aged 94 years, died Thursday. He was a charter member of the Holland Old Settlers' association and was well known in this city.

TELLS ABOUT DARK SPOTS IN HOLLAND

The W. C. T. U. at their meeting Friday noon, at the home of Mrs. N. Pralaken, considered the needs of their home town. Henry Geerling's address on "The Dark Spots in Holland," was enthusiastically received. In opening, he said, "We are all proud of our city, it is as clean a city as will be found anywhere. Holland has very few spots. One danger, he said, was neglect of home life. We are apt to mix in too many things. Father should not let mother attend to all of the children's training. We can better neglect some outside matters than our children. Another thing that needs guarding is the matter of public health. There are many children in our city who do not get proper care, tho the city nurse is doing excellent work. Each child should have good care so that it can begin the race of life without handicaps. Another thing we should see that no bad housing situation develops in our city. And lastly, the saloon is still a dark spot and we should not cease our vigilance while one is left. He soundly rapped the easy going person who will not take the trouble to vote on election days. Those should be disfranchised and banished. He urged the union to carry on all their lines of work with courage and enthusiasm and thus help to leave a clean world for our children to inherit.

The union voted to raise their allotment to the Jubilee fund by giving various entertainments. This is a national fund to be used in reconstruction work.

Mrs. S. M. Zwemer of Cairo, Egypt, briefly told of the great progress in purity work being accomplished there to safeguard the soldiers. This movement, she said, will react on every country in the world.

Miss Janet Pralaken, sang "Our Country's Flag," accompanied by Mrs. Oudemool. The committee who served tea were Mrs. Blekkink, Mrs. Pessink, Mrs. Van Ark and Mrs. Steketee.

Who Benefits By High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high.

Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

Feed Your Family Healthy Nutritious Food

If you want to avoid doctor bills, illness, inefficiency and all the disagreeable things that go with them.

Medical Science says most ailments are traceable either directly or indirectly to improper eating.

It is an undisputed fact that most people eat too much and not properly balanced food.

Sour pickles and sweet milk are a poor combination to put into a healthy stomach to say nothing of a sensitive one, but that combination has nothing on sour, soggy, indigestible bread and heavy, sticky pastries when it comes to destroying health.

Look well to the flour you use when baking for flour is really the foundation of cookery, and the use of good flour will prove just as gratifying as the use of poor flour will be disappointing.

One thing is certain, if you always insist on having

Lily White

"The flour the best cooks use"

on hand, you will always be in a position to serve a healthy, nutritious, palatable meal.

Only the very choicest wheat is used in the manufacture of LILY WHITE.

This wheat is all cleaned three times, scoured three times, and actually washed once before going onto the rolls for the first break.

The result is a perfectly pure, clean flour.

That is not all. Flour must be more than pure and clean to bake good biscuits and breads. It must be properly ground.

Every woman knows it is necessary to have the pieces of potato of equal size to insure thoroughly uniform cooking.

The same principle applies to flour. The granulation must be absolutely uniform to insure uniformity in baking and without this uniformity good baking results are impossible.

Why take chances when you can get LILY WHITE FLOUR and be positively assured of having the very best.

GRAND HAVEN CLAIMS A VERY BRAVE MAN

Grand Haven Tribune—

Somewhat less than a half century ago George McCarthy was born in Grand Haven where he spent his boyhood. There are many who will remember the light-hearted, happy natured Irish lad who led his youthful comrades in the innocent pranks of boyhood in the old town. When the time came he made his choice of his life's work. He gave himself to the church and at last received the holy orders of priesthood. He followed a profession of devotion and mercy, but when his country called him he did just what those who knew him best, were sure he would do. He entered the services of the country. His record in the great war, over there, is not surprising to his friends.

His parish was in Harvey, Ill., but for many years he has considered Chicago as his home. Last January he was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Grand Haven club in Chicago where he gave one of the finest addresses ever delivered before the club. He was glad to be with his friends from the old home town again, and those who heard him are not surprised that he has distinguished himself when the time came.

The Chicago Tribune tells his story as follows:
Prominent among the wounded of France on the Manchuria, was Capt. G. T. McCarthy, "the fighting padre," of the Seventh Division.

Back in Harvey, Ill., Capt. McCarthy is the Rev. Father McCarthy, pastor of the Ascension Catholic church. He has been wounded twice and wears the church War Cross, a new decoration awarded chaplains of the A. E. F., regardless of their denomination. Bishop Brent, Episcopalian, and ranking chaplain of the army, bestowed the badge of honor upon Capt. McCarthy.

Ten days after the armistice was signed word came to Capt. McCarthy that 200 children and 160 old women had been left starving by the Germans in Gorzy, a town the other side of Metz.

A whole truck load of good American chow—corned beef, hardtack, prunes, white bread, condensed milk and other edibles—was rustled up by the chaplain and taken to Gorzy.

"It was pitiful to see these women and children. The Germans, in their retreat had stripped the town of what little food there had been. The people were in a bad shape. They wept with joy when we gave them food," he said.

Capt. McCarthy was sent to the Polyclinic hospital for further treatment for his wounds and the gassing, and will go back to his pastorate in Illinois as soon as he is discharged.

DOLLAR DAY IN HOL- LAND WILL BE BAR- GAIN DAY FOR ALL

Old Sol and the weatherman have signed an agreement with the Holland Merchants and patrons and the papers are safely locked up in the vaults of the local banks. By the terms of the agreement, the finest weather that can be had for any money will be given to Holland for Dollar Day so that not a person, however timid or infirm, but can be down town and get in line for some of the biggest bargains that have ever been put on sale since Holland had a village president.

The window shoppers will be visibly astonished at the array of merchandise that can be had for one "bone" on Dollar Day. Show windows all over the city will bear the card "Take Advantage of Our Dollar Day Bargains" and behind all this will be articles of all degrees of splendor and value—all marked $1. The window trimmers of the various stores will vie with one another to array their bargains most attractively and the result will be a feast for the eyes of persons who have been ground under the heel of old man Hi-Costo Living.

There will be bargains in the clothing stores which will be the most spectacular of any ever offered. At the Shoe stores—there will be shoes marked for this sale less the price of one "iron man." Good substantial shoes, Mackinaws, dresses, umbrellas, gloves, etc.—at prices unheard of during the war or post-war days.

The progressive grocery stores of the city, too, have arranged irresistible groups of eatables for the dollar shoppers, which should fill the pantry shelves of this city to overflowing during the coming several weeks. Such staples as prunes, raisins, coffee, soap, canned tomatoes, beans, peas, corn, etc., all have been combined to form the biggest dollar's worth of groceries to be had since President Wilson said, "let there be war."

People who are looking for frills such as tooth paste, safety razors, talcum powders, gravy ladles and toilet water and stomach medicine and bird seed and floor polish and petticoats, "an everything"—can fill their baskets at most any store where Dollar Day signs are displayed and it will not set them back as much as they thought it would—owing to Dollar Day Bargains.

While there are thousands and then some of good bargains to be had, there is every indication that when the stores open on Dollar Day morning it will keep the Holland merchants and their clerks on the trot most of the day. Women shoppers will do well to leave the baby with the oldest daughter so as to be able to get near the various bargain counters without any risk of losing the heir of the family jewels. Someone is going to be lucky in grabbing off the best dollar's worth in this city—and as Ben Franklin or Shakespeare or someone else said, "The early bird has a full stomach." A word to the wise should be sufficient when Dollar Day rolls around—March 13—in Holland.

WILL BUILD TRACTOR GARAGE IN HOLLAND

The first tractor garage in the city is to be erected by H. P. Zwemer & Son in the near future on the Zwemer property on East Eighth street. The garage is to be the home of the Cleveland line of tractors. The Zwemer firm has signed a contract with that firm which makes them the agents for this line in this territory.

The building will be 44x60 feet. It will be of concrete construction, with a plate glass front and it will be two stories. The cost will be between $4,000 and $5,000.

TELLS ABOUT THE WAR OF 1871

Frank Kramp, of Koline, Berrien county, was in the city Monday while on his way from Grand Rapids to his home, and stopped off to chat about the war and about his own experiences in an earlier war. Mr. Kramp was born in the city of Metz when Alsace-Lorraine were still under French control. His uncle and brother fought in the Franco-Prussian war of 1871 in the French army, and Mr. Kramp saw the first battle of that war in which the Germans bested the French. He watched it all day. Soon after the war he emigrated to America.

Mr. Kramp told of how the victorious Germans occupied Alsace-Lorraine at that time, and his story was a good deal like tales which the American boys send home now of how the victorious Americans are occupying German territory now. The conquerors were very friendly, he declared, and the boys and girls of Metz had a fine time with them in the way of singing songs and holding out-of-doors concerts.

FRED KAMFERBEEK SERIOUSLY HURT

Fred Kamferbeek, for many years chief of police of Holland, was seriously injured Friday morning when the sleeve of his shirt was caught in the cog-wheel of one of the printing presses at the De Pree Chemical Co.

The left arm was pulled between the cogs and the muscles near the shoulder are badly mangled as a result. Mr. Kamferbeek will be laid up for some time to come and is now at his home resting.

Dr. R. H. Nichols was immediately called after the accident had occurred and finds that while the fleshy part of the member is considerably chewed up there are no bones broken.

Mr. Kamferbeek has been a local printer for more than 35 years. He is now a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

MRS. T. VANDER PLOEG HAS 104 DESCENDANTS

Mrs. T. Vander Ploeg of Holland, who celebrated her 91st birthday has a list of 104 descendants. Among them are seven children, 48 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. This represents five generations.

HAVE GOOD TIME IN HONOR OF VICTORY

Holland's social functions are not all held in the homes, lodges, churches, and club rooms.

The young lady indoor base ball rooters who have faithfully supported the De Pree Chemical team in winning the city championship, most delightfully entertained said team and scorer last Saturday evening at the offices of the factory which were arranged for the occasion.

The festivities began at 8 o'clock by tripping the light fantastic to the music furnished by the Victrola. Progressive cards was next on the program and at 10:30 the guests were served a most elaborate three course lunch, which in the opinion of all present could not be surpassed. The table was decorated with carnations and minute balls and bats. Dancing was resumed for a short period and the party disbanded at midnight. The young ladies responsible for the festivity were the Misses Emmink, Roseboom, Sue and Margie Van Dort, Van den Brink and Exo. The Chemicals believe they have a team of state championship caliber and are arranging with the City Champs of Grand Rapids for a series.

JANITOR WANTED BOY TO LISTEN TO MINISTER

LAD PREFERRED TO READ THE BIBLE; WAS PUNISHED BY JANITOR

Sanitor Is Struck on Head By the Boy; Arrest Follows.

Gordan Brouwer, a lad of 16 years, apparently is a studious bible reader. While the minister of the Sixth Reformed church was earnestly discussing religious topics, the janitor, Peter Berghuis was also having an earnest discussion in the rear of the church, with a young lad, named Gordan Brouwer, who has just reached the age of sweet sixteen.

The way the story goes, and there are always two sides to a story, Brouwer claims that he was diligently reading his bible, when the janitor spied him doing so.

Said the janitor: "Brouwer, stop reading and listen to the minister." The lad looked up in surprise, and pointed to his bible.

Janitor: "I don't care, listen to the minister, I say."

The janitor proceeded to lower a window or two and doing other duties devolving upon janitors generally, then returned to the rear seat where he found Gordan again earnestly reading.

This angered the janitor to such an extent that he took the good book from Gordan's hands and slapped it down on the seat beside him, saying, "I want you to listen to what the minister has to say."

No doubt the janitor thought that this ended the episode, but apparently Gordan had been reading the book of Genesis, which relates to the story of "Cain and Abel," for after the services he found himself a club and proceeded to use it unceremoniously upon the head of said Mr. Berghuis.

The janitor did not take kindly to these caresses and swore out a warrant before Justice Van Schelven. The judge however, was unable to take the case because of the lad's tender years.

The matter has been referred to Probate Judge Danhof, of the Ottawa County Juvenile Court.

The "Prayer Day Committee" sends the following communication for publication:

"The Committee of Prayer Day observance hereby would call the public attention to the fact that Wednesday, March 12, has been designated as the day when we will assemble in our various churches and places of worship to petition the Giver of all good things for material blessings as well as spiritual, so that we and our families may receive God's blessings.

Let it be really a prayer day for all of us. Let our schools and Hope college close, as usual, and the owners of factories, shops, and stores are hereby requested to close their various establishments in order that all people may have an opportunity to observe this day.

PARK TOWNSHIP HAS CONTESTING CANDIDATES

CAUCUS TO BE HELD SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Good Roads Will No Doubt Be Discussed at the Caucus

Although the caucus is only a few days off, there will not be very many contests in Park township, and while there are nine contestants for treasurer, in Holland Township, Ed Witterdink, also having cast his hat into the ring, Park township only has one candidate for treasurer, namely Nicholas Stielstra, who is asking for a second term.

George E. Heneveld, the present supervisor may have opposition in the person of Braam Witteveen.

Mr. D. H. Christophel the present clerk will have no opposition unless Clyde Kent might see fit to go into the race.

There are two justices of the peace to be elected, one for one term, and one to elected, one for one term, and one to fill vacancy. The two candidates mentioned are William Helmink, and Dr. Preston Scott.

Fred Van Wieren has no opposition for highway commissioner.

The caucus is to be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Park Township hall at Waukazoo.

No doubt at that time the proposed bonding of Park township for $20,000 to be expended for good roads near the resorts, will also be discussed.

Surely these resorts which pay the bulk of the taxes are entitled to some consideration.

In the past the policy seems to have been "all take and no give." The Park township farmers in the first place begin to realize what good roads mean to them, in the second place what the Holland resorts have meant to them, and in the third place, they see the justice in giving a little back in the way of public improvements to those who have contributed the most in taxes from year to year, and have practically received none of the benefits.

JOHN VAN ZANTEN DISPOSES OF INTEREST TO MRS. HOWE

By a deal made through L. W. Wilson, Hotel Bristol, has been sold to Mrs. Howe of Muskegon who will take possession in the near future. This hotel has been conducted for the past three and a half years by John Van Zanten, but he has now sold out his interest and will enter some other line.

Mrs. Howe also runs an European hotel in Muskegon, which business she will continue to operate while at the same time running the place here. She will take possession about March 20.

DR. R. M. WALTZ IS ELECTED SCOUT MASTER

Holland has upward of 200 boy scouts, but it seemed that a few of the boys were dropping out for lack of scout masters, in fact such men as could keep the boys interested.

Fourteen of the boys had dropped out, but at a meeting held Tuesday night, stated that they would sign and take a live interest if Dr. Waltz of this city would be their scout-master.

Immediately an auxiliary organization was perfected with a membership of 36. Dr. Waltz, Carl Bowen, and Thomas N. Robinson and other leaders in the scout movement are co-operating and are endeavoring to develop this great work to the best of their ability.

Due to the increasing amount of tardiness it has been deemed necessary to deduct 50 per cent from the daily marks of each tardy individual until a reform is noticeable.

LANDWEHR HAS A NEW SCHEME FOR DOLLAR DAY

A CHECK THREE FEET LONG WILL PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART

Will Show What 'a Dollar Spent At Home Will Really Do

A. H. Landwehr, manager of the Holland Furnace Co. has an interest in other things besides his "Warm Friends" furnace. He also takes a live interest in Holland, Michigan.

The editor of this paper asked Mr. Landwehr to help put some pep into dollar day, on Thursday, March 13.

Mr. Landwehr said, "Not alone will we try to make it a peppy day, but we will give you some advertising besides. The manager of the Furnace Company got his brain busy and thought out the following scheme.

What is a dollar worth in Holland? In order to find this out Mr. Landwehr has instructed the printer to print a large check, the fac-simile, which will be found on page eleven of this issue.

This check for one dollar is endorsed by the Holland Furnace Company.

On the opposite side of this check, which is three feet long, and one foot wide, will be found several dotted lines. These dotted lines are to receive endorsements.

How are these endorsements going to be secured?

Here you have it. At 7 o'clock a. m. on Dollar Day, Mr. Landwehr is going to take that check to some merchant in this town, and buy for it a one dollar bargain selected from one of the advertisements appearing in the local press.

He buys this bargain with the check, requesting this merchant to do the same, and take the check to a fellow merchant, and also buy a dollar bargain with the check, with the understanding that the next merchant does the same.

After Mr. Landwehr has endorsed the check over to the first merchant, the first merchant will endorse it over to a second, who in turn will go over to another merchant, buy a dollar's worth of bargains, and endorse the check over to him for payment. And so the check will go from merchant to merchant. It may be deposited in the local banks, who knows, the banker may then get a dollar's worth of socks, and the clothier may get a bottle of perfume for his wife, and the druggist may get a shovel or a rake at a hardware store, and so the check will travel.

The endorsements on the back of the check will denote how many one dollar purchases this single dollar has paid for in a single day. It will also denote to some extent the popularity of some of the merchants, as no doubt the same checks will be handled by some merchants more than once during Dollar day.

This method will simply demonstrate what a dollar will do for a town if left in town.

Your dollar spent out of town, is another town is working just as hard for the other town, as Mr. Landwehr's dollar day check is going to work for Holland. It is going to show conclusively what a dollar spent at home will do for your city.

It is going to demonstrate what we have lost within recent years because of the many dollars that have taken wings from Holland to parts unknown. It is going to bring forcibly to our attention that the wings of those dollars should be clipped with the scissors of town pride.

Now, Mr. Merchant, when you get that check, don't nail it down like a miser who is of no good to the community.

Make the dollar work by making sensible investments in dollar day bargains, that are worth every penny asked for them.

Now if Mr. Landwehr should go to Dick Borer, and buy a necktie for a dollar, Dick, you run down to John Vandershuis and get a bungalow apron; and John when you get hold of that check make tracks to Nies' hardware, and get a fish pole only two steps for you; Ray, step into Jake Lokker's and get some of those dollar socks, and be quick about it; Jake, cut out the coffee this morning, and go to De Vries & Dornbos and get a large oil mop.

This is just about the way the story is going to go. After the day is done and the check is put to rest for the night the endorsements on the back will show to what extent this dollar has been working, what it has purchased, and the total amount of such purchases. The facts will all be published immediately after dollar day.

Holland's future looks bright, all indications point that way. Some of Holland's new developments, and recent activities have already been published, but a great deal more can be chronicled within the very near future. Many plans are now in the making which publicity might hinder, rather than help.

One fact however can be published far and wide, and that is, that a dollar spent at home works for your home town, while a dollar spent away from home, works for some other man's town.

Watch for the check.

It has long been the custom for the representative of Hope at the inter-collegiate oratorical series to deliver his or her oration at the high school. Miss Bell's oration was an appeal to the people to aid in reconstructive work in France.

STANTON WINS EASILY IN PRIMARY RACE

HOLLAND MAN DEFEATS H. H.
SEVEY AT THE POLLS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Holland Was Strong For Stanton; Vote
In City Less Than Twenty-Five Per Cent

Nelson R. Stanton of this city appears to have won quite easily in the school primary that was held, through-out Ottawa County Wednesday for the nomination of a county commissioner of schools. As usual some of the townships are slow to report, but in those who have reported, Mr. Stanton is far ahead of his opponent H. H. Sevey of Wright.

The city of Holland gave Mr. Stanton an overwhelming majority, although less than 25 per cent of the registered vote came out to take part in the election. In Holland the vote stood very nearly fourteen to one in favor of Mr.

Nelson R. Stanton

Stanton. The Holland man received a total of 735 votes, while Mr. Sevey polled only 53 votes here.

The votes by wards was as follows:

	Stanton	Sevey
First Ward	151	7
Second Ward	44	5
Third Ward	181	8
Fourth Ward	173	9
Fifth Ward	143	11
Sixth Ward	43	13

In the city of Grand Haven the race was more nearly even, as might have been expected. Mr. Sevey was from the north end of the county and his normal strength was in that section. But even in Grand Haven Mr. Stanton had a safe lead over his rival. Stanton polling a total of 799 votes and Sevey, 576. The vote by wards there was as follows:

	Stanton	Sevey
First Ward	128	119
Second Ward	200	163
Third Ward	196	139
Fourth Ward	161	110
Fifth Ward	114	47

Polkton township, the home of Mr. Sevey, gave the candidate from the north end of the county a handsome endorsement. His vote there stood 311, while Mr. Stanton polled 43.

In Holland township Stanton received 51 votes and Sevey 12. Zeeland city gave Stanton 78 and Sevey 27. In Park township Stanton polled 10 votes and Sevey three. In Jamestown Stanton's vote was 47 and Sevey's one. In Zeeland township the vote stood: Stanton 32 and Sevey 10.

Grand Haven Township—Stanton 3, Sevey 3; Spring Lake—Stanton 17, Sevey 26; Olive 1st Pr.—Stanton 19; Sevey 10; Olive 2nd Pr.—Stanton 8, Sevey 2; Georgetown, Stanton 16, Sevey 7.

SMALLEST MONTH WAS THE MOST PECULIAR

FEBRUARY CAME OUT WITH VERY WARM WEATHER

The recent month of February was one of the most remarkable Februaries in this region in many years. In years past there have been many warmer months but it is doubtful if this section ever had a February before where the lowest temperature of the month was but ten above zero. Strangely enough that low mark was recorded on the next to the last day the 27th. The normal for February was 28 degrees. This has been exceeded twice in recent years—in February, 1915, when it was 30 and in February, 1911, when it was 29.

The warmest February was that of 1882 when the normal was 36 degrees. The coldest February was in 1875, when a mark of 12 degrees was reached.

The total precipitation last month was 2.94 inches. This was exceeded in 1909 when the precipitation was 3.13 inches.

There was but one clear day in February, 8 partly cloudy and 19 cloudy days.

MICHIGAN WOMEN SERIOUS ABOUT RIGHT TO VOTE

Certainly women take their political duties seriously. No sooner was the vote extended to Michigan women than spontaneously, church circles, women's clubs, literary societies and all kindred organizations took up the study of how to vote, and the principles underlying political methods. Suffrage headquarters became an information center, to which a stream of inquiries by mail and by phone came incessantly. In several instances men have urged women to become candidates for certain state offices, but the number of women who have accepted is relatively small.

LIQUOR CASES AGAINST HOLLAND MEN DISMISSED

A large number of Holland men are breathing easier since the recent supreme court decision relative to the liquor law. This finding of the higher court annulled the charges against several Holland men.

The following men who were arrested on charges of violating the prohibition law were dismissed Monday by Judge O. S. Cross of the Ottawa county circuit court under the ruling of the Supreme court: Leonard Duinker, John Vander Heide, Fred Doyle, Peter Smith, Gerry Koning, Gile Vester and Jacob Kuite. With the exception of Duinker, who is serving time in Inonia all the men were out under bonds.

TO URGE MEN TO KEEP UP INSURANCE

W. J. Olive has signed an agreement proposed to him by his Insurance Co. whereby he will become a volunteer worker in a "Keep Up Your Insurance Policy" campaign among returned soldiers. The workers in this campaign will do all they can to encourage the soldiers to keep up their payments in the government insurance that they took out during the war, and to help them convert the policies into other government policies as soon as the department shall have made the necessary arrangements.

This movement on the part of the insurance companies and insurance agents is worthy of note because the work naturally conflicts with the financial interests of the companies and the agents. The work is being engaged in for patriotic reasons.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN FOR COMING YEAR

The annual election of officers was held at the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. J. Olive, Mrs. Harry Harrington, vice-president, took the chair. After the reading of the by-laws by the secretary, Mrs. C. M. McLean, the club proceeded to ballot and the following officers were re-elected:

Mrs. W. J. Olive, president;
Mrs. Harrington, 1st vice-president;
Mrs. J. C. Post, 2nd vice-president;
Mrs. C. M. McLean, Recording Sec.
Mrs. E. J. Blekkink, Cor. Secretary;
Mrs. A. Diekema, Treasurer.
Mrs. G. E. Kollen, Mrs. W. G. Winter, and Mrs. Aldworth were re-elected as directors.

The club members were given their choice of the following three general subjects for next year's program:—"English Classics—Miscellaneous," "Politics—a n d Miscellaneous," and "Current History, Literature and Art," of which the last named was chosen.

During the counting of the ballots, John Lloyd Kollen gave a piano solo "A Norwegian Dance," which was very much enjoyed, and Mrs. Harrington gave a humorous reading from "Adams' Diary," by Mark Twain.

LOCAL COLLEGE IN STATE CONTEST

Hope College orators in the Michigan oratorical contest, together with Prof. J. B. Nykerk of the English department and Mrs. Durfee, dean of women and a delegation of students, leave Thursday for Ypsilanti where the contest will be held in Peace Auditorium on Friday, March 7. Albion, Alma, Adrian, Hillsdale, Hope, Ypsilanti, Normal, Kalamazoo and Olivet College will participate. Hope has won the last four consecutive state men's contests. In the lady's department the local school took a first, two seconds and a fourth. Twice the Hope contestant won in the interstate, one second in the Eastern Division, and one first in the National contest in 1916. Hope's success is largely due to the efforts of Prof. Nykerk.

The Hope orators are Miss Helen Bell of Grand Haven, with the oration "The Golden Spire," and Roscoe M. Giles of Skaneateles, N. Y., with the oration, "The New World." The Ladies Contest will be held in the afternoon, and the men's takes place in the evening.

OFFICER OF WISCONSIN TO BE THE HISTORIAN

HISTORY OF OLD THIRTY-SECOND IS NOW BEING WRITTEN

Information from officers and men of the 32nd division, now with the army of occupation in Germany, is to the effect that a complete history of that organization is to be written. A Wisconsin officer of the division has written the adjutant general of his home state, asking him to confer with the Michigan authorities with a view of joint handling of the financial end of the work. The suggestion has been made that a copy of the history is given each member of the division. The plan is subject to the approval of the war department. Part of the 32nd division helped develop the cantonment at Camp Custer and will have a place, therefore, in the history of the camp, now being prepared also.

Posters are out announcing the basketball game between the Hope College championship team and the Kalamazoo Normals on Friday night of this week. The teachers have lost but two games this season one to M. A. C. by six points and one to Hope by three points at Kalamazoo. Coach Spaulding promises a strong battle for the local champs. In a curtain raiser the Froshmen will meet the Juniors for the inter-class championship.

FEW CONTESTS SCHEDULED FOR CITY ELECTION

That the election in Holland the coming April will be comparatively tame was shown Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the petitions for the various candidates for public office in Holland were all in at the office of the city clerk. The time limit expired at 4 o'clock and most of the candidates had their petitions in some time before that.

City Clerk Richard Overweg will have no opposition for re-election. Mr. Overweg was the only one who filed petitions for the office and hence his nomination is assured at the city primary March 18 and is equivalent to an election.

The same thing was true of the city treasurer. Gerrit Appledorn was the only aspirant for this position, which he has filled the past two years and he will therefore almost certainly fill the position for another term.

For the office of city assessor there are two in the race, the present incumbent, C. W. Nibbelink, and J. J. Van der Meer.

Petitions were filed for two members of the board of supervisors, the retiring members being Henry Vander Warf and Simon Kleyn. For this office petitions were filed for Mr. Kleyn and Mr. Vander Warf.

For Justice of the Peace petitions were filed for Wm. Brusse.

One member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners will be elected this spring, Dr. M. J. Cook being the retiring member. Petitions were filed for J. J. Rutgers.

There will also be few contests on for the council positions, and most of the present aldermen will be returned to their seats without opposition.

In the first ward, Ald. Peter Prins was the only one for whom petitions were filed, no one in the ward apparently caring to try conclusions with this veteran official at the spring primary and election.

In the second ward there were two seats to be filled, Ald. Brieve's term having expired and Ald. Smeenge holding the seat by council appointment, necessitating an election. Petitions have been filed for both and also for Herman G. Vanden Brink, who will run against Smeenge for the one year term.

In the third ward petitions were filed for Nick Kammeraad, former alderman, who will make the race for the seat of Ald. Congleton, whose term expires. But since Mr. Kammeraad has no opposition, it will be some race.

In the fourth ward Ald. Wm. Lawrence has it all his own way since he is the only one who is running for the position, which means nomination and election.

The fifth ward seems to be the only one in the city where there will be a contest on primary day. In that ward petitions have been filed for the present incumbent, Chas. Dykstra and for William Poppe.

In the sixth ward Ald. VanderList is the only one for whom petitions were filed.

For the office of constable petitions were filed for the following:

First ward, no candidate; second ward Egbert Beekman; third ward, Gerrit Van Haften; fourth ward, Rufus Cramer; fifth ward, Wm. H. Dalman and Bert Streur; sixth ward, no candidate.

BOARD CAME VERY NEAR BEING WITHOUT CANDIDATES

Apparently there is no great desire on the part of local people to become members of the board of public works. There were two vacancies to be filled by election this year to take the places of E. P. Stephan and J. B. Mulder, both of whom had resigned. Mr. Stephan's term of office would have expired anyway, but Mr. Mulder's would not.

Until the very last minute of filing the petitions Tuesday afternoon it looked as if there would be no candidates and as if the office would go begging for want of material. Petitions however have been filed now for Henry Winter and Frank Congleton. Neither of these men was anxious to stand for nomination, but they looked upon it as a patriotic duty not to let such an important office go by default.

A few years ago there was a great clamor in Holland to make the office of members of board of public works elective instead of appointive. Before that the members had been appointed as is still the case with several of the boards in the city government. The claim was made that the people should have the right to initiate the steps for the securing of the kind of membership they desired. But the experience this year seems to show that there is not any great scramble for this office and that the people are not keen to serve.

The board of public works is without doubt the most important board in the city, from a financial point of view at least. It handles many thousands of dollars each year and it makes decisions at almost every meeting that affect the well being of thousands of people.

The March term of Ottawa county circuit court will begin March 17. One week later the jury will appear. The calendar is a heavy one but with the dismissal of the liquor cases there are only six criminal cases. Seven divorce cases are on the calendar.

PIONEER WOMAN JURY CHOSEN IN CASE TUESDAY

Here's Holland's first woman jury chosen Tuesday in a slander case that developed out of a neighborhood quarrel:

Anna C. Aldworth
Elizabeth Drew
Jeannette Mulder
Elizabeth Fell
Margaret Olive Helen Wing.

These six jury-women "tried and true" took their seats in the jury box Tuesday forenoon in the court room in the city hall in the presence of one of the largest crowds that ever assembled to listen to a mere justice case. The case itself was almost lost sight of by the spectators because of their interest in the six women who serve as the pioneers in Holland's woman jurydom.

At the time of going to press the case was still in full swing and the jury-women had had no opportunity to show the people what kind of a conclusion they can arrive at in accordance with the law and the evidence of a court case. But they listened most attentively to the arguments of the prosecutor and of the counsel for the defense and the spectators in the court room felt certain that they were likely to come to quite as just a conclusion as six men in their places would have done.

The audience in the court room was composed of men and women both, more women being present than is usually the case in justice court.

A curious incident of the case was the fact that a little six-year-old boy, William Baldwin, who was supposed to have chased the chicken in dispute, was called upon to testify. But the youthful witness has the making of a financier in him. He refused to testify unless he were given a penny. The court finally yielded, gave him his penny, and the boy testified in good shape.

HOLLAND'S FIRST WOMAN JURY SAYS "GUILTY"

Holland's first woman jury covered itself with glory Tuesday in the estimation of some of the officials who took part in the slander trial as well as in the opinion of many of the spectators by the way they decided the case that was up before them for decision. The jury, after deliberating on the case in the jury room for some time, looking at the situation from all angles came back with a verdict of guilty. According to some members of the jury, they were unanimous in this decision almost from the start, but did not take a formal vote until the evidence had been fully discussed so that no reasonable doubt could be left in the minds of the jurymen as to the verdict.

Margaret Olive was elected foreman—no, fore-woman—of the jury by the other members of the jury and it was she who announced the verdict to the court.

Justice Robinson, after the jury had announced that in their opinion Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore was guilty of slander in the case brought against her by Mrs. Mamie O'Connor, fined Mrs. Gilmore $50 and costs, the costs making the bill come up to $61.45. Justice Robinson declared that in finding her this amount, he was taking into consideration the seriousness of the offense which could be given a blow at at every opportunity. A person's reputation is a precious thing, he declared and must be protected against irresponsible slander in every possible way.

According to those who witnessed the case, the trial was clean and clear-cut in every respect. There was a marked absence of personalities and it seemed clear that all those who took part in the trial kept in mind the character of the jury sitting in the case.

SEE GOOD TOUR- IST SEASON PROS- PECTS FOR '19

Hugh J. Gray, secretary of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, is receiving inquiries from those who want pleasant places to spend the summer. One inquiry this week was from a Virginia man who is planning to bring a party of eight in two cars and not only did he want to know about the routes but he inquired as to a good location for a fruit farm upon which he could spend his summers. The present indications are that automobile touring will be in larger volume this season than ever before and it is probable that, like the Virginians, many more will be prospecting for locations either for summer homes or for farming properties. The prospects are favorable for an unusually early opening of the tourist season.

The season of navigation on the lakes also will open early. The matter of having a line of boats from Chicago to Mackinac dock at east shore points, Holland, Ludington and Portage, it is believed will be decided at an early date, with a schedule probably of one boat each way each week.

Corp. Louis Dalman of Fort Sill, Okla., is spending a ten days' furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dalman, 121 West 18th St. Mr. Dalman is in the quartermaster's department.

The Young Men's Bible Class of Maple Ave. church surprised Henry Houtman Monday evening. It was in the nature of a farewell party. Games were played and prizes were won by Leonard Steketee, Henry Huizenga, Henry Maas, S. Houtman. Dainty refreshments were served.

SEVERAL FROM HOLLAND CITY ARE ELECTED

The twenty-fourth annual banquet of the Michigan society of the Sons of the Revolution was held in this city Saturday evening.

It was one of the best attended and successful gatherings ever held by the society. This was due largely to the presence of the wives and daughters of the members, who lent brilliancy to the occasion.

The society was welcomed by Mayor Nicodemus Bosch, in a pleasing and cordial address. The response was by Irving Andrew Dean of Grand Rapids, president of the state society.

An interesting paper on "Lafayette, the God-father of American Independence" was read by President Dean, who presided at the banquet.

This was followed by a program, one of the principal features being the presentation to Holland chapter of a large silk American flag, with bullion fringe, cord tassels and pole surmounted by an eagle, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dean, in honor and memory of Mrs. Dean's brother, the late David Wolcott Kendall, one of the founders of the Michigan society, and its vice president until his death, a few years ago.

The speech of acceptance was by Charles Hamilton McBride, regent of Holland chapter. A fine talk was given by Lieutenant Hoyt Garrod Post, who received his release from the government service the day before the meeting.

The regular business meeting followed.

The reports of the treasurer, David Edwin Keyes and the secretary, Dr. Almond Tanner Godfrey, were satisfactory.

The very complete report of Charles Merrill Ayer, delegate to the general society meeting at Philadelphia, was interesting and described visits to points of historical interest in that vicinity. Several eulogies were delivered by Mayor Nicodemus Bosch and others of the late David Wolcott Kendall and Arthur Baxter Cotton, valued members of the society, also four-minute talks were given by Lieut. Hoyt Garrod Post, Mrs. Irving Andrew Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Keyes and George Albert Davis of Grand Rapids; Dr. Byron Benjamin Godfrey, Raymond Monroe Bosworth, Simon Lincoln Henkle, Dr. J. O. Scott, Dr. George Wyatt Van Verst, Mayor and Mrs. Nicodemus Bosch, Mrs. Charles Hamilton McBride and Frank James Congleton of Holland.

Mr. Congleton is worthy master of Unity Masonic lodge, whose fine, spacious rooms were tendered for the society's use.

The following officers were elected: President—Irving Andrew Dean, of Grand Rapids.

Vice President—Ernest Andrew Burdette Fisher, Grand Rapids.

Secretary—Lieut. Hoyt Garrod Post, Holland.

Treasurer—David Edwin Keyes, of Grand Rapids.

Letter from Jim Van Ry

Himeback, Germany, 1-29-19

Dear Folks—

Just received two letters from you and one from brother Van and Tony and Ralph, so you see I must get busy and answer them all, the mail comes in right on time altho it took just 22 days to get here. I think that is fine service going such a long ways. Am glad to note you are all well and I feel the same except for a slight cold which keeps me coughing during the night. The weather here is most always damp and chilly and not very cold and that of course makes it very unhealthy. I have moved again to this town and as luck would have it our sergeant secured a nice soft bed in a nice clean little home for my comrade and myself. At night we usually sit by the warm stove with the German people and talk about the war and other incidents. Just think two young men who live in our house have fought against our division on two of the fronts. I have been on Chateau Thierry and the Argonne Forest and got out alive—don't understand how he ever survived after telling his experiences. I am writing this in the Y. M. C. A. room and every inch of space is occupied, always jammed full. I happened to be lucky today. They received a supply of goods from the states, and so I bought soap candy, cookies, jam, gum and a towel, a package to each man is all that one can buy.

They organized a basketball team from our company and I am listed as one on the team. This is a great sport and the beauty of it is I don't have to drill and stand any formations, that tickles me immensely, also have a chance to travel to different towns in Germany to play other companies. I was given a day leave to Coblenze the other day and sure enjoyed myself in a very large town and all kinds of scenery, forts and old castles and ancient buildings; ate my meals at a swell dining hall, fixed up especially for the American soldiers with a ten piece orchestra. I had cake and pie and even ice cream, so you can imagine what a glorious time I experienced.

Tell Tony I enjoyed his letter and only wished I could be there to help take inventory, that beats drilling, believe me. I always like to hear about the store, it brings back old times again. I would write him but this letter gives all the news and there's no use writing it all twice. I had another picture taken of myself, just coming off from the drill field. You can notice I have gained considerable physically and almost changed entirely. You will probably be surprised.

I have a picture for all the sisters and brothers and will save them till I get home. Dan Van Woerkom is sure lucky to get back so soon; well he deserves it and I hope I will be back to talk over experiences soon which will be a grand meeting.

I have several card books and views of the surrounding country which I will bring back so you will all have a chance to see this country, Germany. We get paid in German money and I just wish you could see the strange money, it reminds one of soap wrappers and one thing that the German people can't understand is that the American soldier always has so many marks in money to spend, you see we receive eight marks to an American dollar and one or two marks buys almost a store out so you see German coin goes a long ways out here. I received a letter from Ralph and he said he is now in the town where our regiment the 126th was once billeted and he speaks of the deep mud in that town just the way it was when we were there. The place is called Champ-litte, France; from here our regiment and division went to Alsace Lorraine front; that was the first front we had ever been on. Well I have several other letters to write, so will close for this time and save some news for the next letter. Hoping this reaches you all in good health and hoping to see you all soon, which I hope is not far off, I remain with love and kisses for you all.

Your loving son,

Jim Van Ry.

Dear Mother—

Just received your letter dated the 17th of December. I just finished a letter to brother and seeing that you have sent me such nice paper I thought I had better write you a few lines. It is just 4 o'clock. Will have to light a candle. It doesn't give a very good light but that is what all the people use around here. This is not a very big place. Just a little country place, one small store.

All the boys are living in with the German people. Of course we have their dining room to sleep in. Yesterday we helped the man kill one of his pigs. He sure was a nice fat one about 300 pounds and this morning the lady brought us in some butter milk. They do have it very hard. They have to give most of their stuff away to the German government and they only keep a little bit for themselves. You can't buy a thing. I sure will be glad when they get ready to send us back home. This is a very lonesome place, I just got back from the hospital the other day and I sure do feel fine and dandy. Well rested and no more cooties. It was quite a trial to get rid of them. Just before I left the hospital I had a bath and all nice and clean cloth. I feel nice and clean, too. I was glad to hear that you are all in good health. We are having nice weather. Here the ground is covered with snow and it is a dry cold. Just got back from supper. We have supper at 4:30 o'clock. We had steak, potato and bean broil. We are six years ahead of your time, so you must be just about getting dinner ready—I wish I was there and could have dinner with you, but will have to wait a little while. It sure was too bad that brother Neil lost his little boy, he was a nice little boy. We haven't had very much of that sickness over here. There is a lot of boys here with colds. We all got that in winter time. It won't be long until we have summer with us again. Received a letter from Dick, was quite surprised to hear that he was at work in Detroit. I was thinking that he would come over to France and take me back. Bert was glad to hear that he had changed his mind. Well, good night for this time and take good care of yourself. With love to all, your son,

William Romeyn.

Dear Folks at Home—

I will write to you again tonight to let you know I am well and hope the same of you.

Well this is the beginning of a new month again. I hope the end will find me back in the states again even if I am home by that time. There were 34 men who came over here from Camp Crane with us that went home today. Things begin to look pretty good for us soon.

We loaded a boat today with about 2,000 wounded and the few medicals. I helped carry one on who had his arms shot off and has his leg slightly hurt. He was from Chicago. He said he got wounded on the first of November. He told me there was one lieutenant in the hospital he came from who got his leg shot off just one hour before the armistice was signed. Some hard luck wasn't it. I just came in from off the dock. There was a large boat just come in. I suppose we will load that about Monday or Tuesday. Gee I like to see them come in for the faster we load them the sooner we go home. I wish there was one to load every other day. They sure are pretty coming in all lit up.

Well I think I'll be getting in home most any time between now and the first of April. That is only 2 months more and it will soon go by. If any and everything goes alright both over here and over there during this month I'll be satisfied. You know February was always our bad month. Let us hope it isn't this year. I hope it is our good one. Give all the neighbors my best regards.

You asked me if we were getting what we wanted to eat? We get all we want and have a good place to stay so don't worry about me but take good care of yourselves. The next time you write to Helen tell her to remember her brother is over in France and that he would like to hear from her. I haven't heard from her direct since I left the states. Well I guess I have told you all for this time, so good night. Love and best wishes to all.

LETTER FROM SOLDIER

U. S. S. America,
Brooklyn Navy Yard, N. Y.

February 17, 1919

Dear Mother and All—

Well I guess it is about time that I was answering your letter because we will soon be off for the deep old ocean—yes, mother at last we are down to business again and it has all happened so suddenly. We weren't going to be ready until the first of March and now here we are pulling out Friday morning at 10 o'clock. I am glad enough to go tho it will mean a lot of hard work on the way back; well I am feeling fine so I am ready to go. I expect we will be one of the ships to bring back the 27th division that is the way it looks to me; they are New York troops but have been doing duty in Germany with the Division that Bill is in.

It will be nice traveling on the ocean now with all the light on and lots of air but they say it is a little stormy now days. I suppose I'll be getting seasick all over again since I haven't been to sea for so long. Just think it is four months and over since we went down and it is that long ago already since I was over to see you all. Well just so you stay well it isn't so bad, then I don't worry about you. This is bad weather for sickness and there seems to be plenty of it all around; ye have quite a little on the ship, tho nothing serious.

I had a letter from Ed today and see they are well and getting along as good as ever. What do you think of my typewritten letters it saves a lot of time for me as I can write faster this way than by hand.

The ship looks just like new; all painted up and repaired. I wish you could see a ship like this once it sure would be interesting for you, and then to look around New York and ride on the subways, etc., you would be scared wouldn't you, to go about a mile a minute under ground; well that is the way those express trains go and that is all I ride on because you can make faster time and time is money in New York.

I don't know when I will get out of the navy but maybe after two trips to France, well if I can get out next fall I will be satisfied because maybe by that time work will be settled and then too Bill ought to be back and then I am willing to get my release, but I am not in any hurry as long as Bill is in the army. I suppose Van Tongeren's are glad to have Chester back again; they were sure lonely without him. And Bill and Bad are both home, that is fine too. I saw Mill here a couple of times; you know it seemed very good, too.

Say hello to Pa and all the others. I'll do my best to find out something about Bill in France. Take care of your self. You will see it in the paper enough to see that you are all well and troops, yet that is what we are expected to carry every nook and corner has a bunk in it. We don't expect to carry any more cargo, just mail and soldiers.

With love to all, as ever, Son and Brother,

Clarence Roanyn.

Letter from Martin Rotman

Russia, Dec. 28, 1918

Now I have a chance to write again. I just arrived from a long trip made by sleigh which was 160 miles. We left our company on Monday and arrived here on Thursday. We had plenty of clothes on so we did not get very cold. I am over here to go to a machine gun school. A gun that will shoot 500 shots in one minute and forty seconds. It will take me four weeks to finish this course. I met Henry Meeuwse a week before I left the company. It sure seemed good to see him again after not seeing him for 4 months. I am feeling fine. How is the weather over there. They say we are having a mild winter over here. The coldest day it was here was 31 below zero, but we are dressed for it. I have a pair of boots size 12 and am wearing four pairs of heavy socks. When it gets colder I will put on another pair. There is not much snow over here. Father and mother I wish to thank you for your most beautiful and welcome letters. Mother I could not help but read those few Dutch lines over a half a dozen times as they seemed so good to me. They just got in some mail again when I left but I did not get mine so now I won't get any mail for quite a while for all my mail will go to the company, but some of the fellows here got mail and said that the "Spanish Flu" was in the states. Hope you are all well. It is around here too, as I had it when I first came to this country. Thank the Lord that the war is over on the Western Front and hope it will soon be over here too. I suppose some of the boys are starting to come home now from France.

regards and love to all.

WHAT? THE CAMOUFLAGE OF SHIRLEY, JUNIOR PLAY, THURSDAY, MARCH 13

Who are the Juniors? They are 50 boys and girls of Holland High school who are to appear in the drama "The Camouflage of Shirley," to be staged in the H. S. Auditorium, Thursday, March 13.

Everyone in the city will find a friend in this group.

An important role in the play will be taken by Harvey DeWeerd. He is a lively young fellow with a tendency toward optimism and a heart set upon being the successor of Paderewski, both as a pianist and a democratic leader. He desires to be versatile so he is studying to take the part of a spy in the play.

George Irving felt that he couldn't forgo basketball for theatricals but by dint of much persuasion and a desire for a reputation as an all round star, he consented to study into the "wee sma' hours" and put in his time after school trying to acquire the air of a slacker (!). Stanley Cheff will appear in the part of a young officer—Lieutenant Wayne—off for France tomorrow. His part will be supported by the work of Benjamin Lemmen,
"just back from the honeymoon" and Julius Belt, who is convinced that everyone except himself has gone crazy.

Two girls who have crossed the lake from Beechwood to practice are Mabel Van Dyke and Beatrice Rooks. Each has an interesting part to play and a distinct personality to present.

Mildred Slagh will show you in the role of a little French maid that she has as much pluck as a wideawake
American girl. (To be Continued.)

WANTS DOMINIE TO TO SAVE SOULS ONLY

NEWS READER OBJECTS TO REV. JOHN VANDER MEULEN'S 8-HOUR ATTITUDE

Editor of the News:—

Dear Sir:—In your edition of Feb.
27th, you have printed an extract from the sermon of the Rev. John Vander Meulen.

Now can you tell me how a minister of the gospel is doing his duty by preaching on the eight hour law.

I always supposed a minister's duty was to save souls and not try to save Dollars for the men who have as much as they need.

Did the Rev. Vander Meulen ever belong to the laboring class of people?

I don't believe he ever did if so, he surely ought not to say what he did.

I'm not kicking on my job or my employers for I have as good as their is in the city, but how much time have to better myself?

I have to be at work at seven in the morning, quit at six and by the time I get home, eat my supper and read the newspaper it is time to go to bed. Where is my time for physical or mutual betterment?

If the Rev. Vander Meulen would ask some of the laboring class what they wanted the eight hour law for I think he would find that the most of them will put the extra time to improving themselves and not to being a detriment to society.

I am not a Bolshevik, nor a crank,
just one of the common laboring class that wants a couple of more hours a day to improve myself mentally as well as spiritually.

So I say three cheers for the eight-hour law and may the Rev. John Vander Meulen confine his sermons to the saving of souls and leave the laboring class alone, and let the rich take care of their own Dollars.

ALBERT SLAGH SMOKES FIRST CIGAR IN RUSSIA

HOLLAND BOY DOING GUARD DUTY IN FRONT LINE TRENCH

A very interesting letter from Albert
Slagh of Holland is found below:
Somewhere in Russia,
Dec. 29th, 1918

Dear Folks, brothers:—

Just a few lines letting you know that I am still in the land of the living enjoying good health.

We are having lots of snow now days, although it is not so very cold at present.

I received a pair of socks from the "Red Cross" containing some candy, raisins, dates, candy, cigarettes, and some nuts; that was more than I had expected in this far off country we are in and I also received a bunch of mail Xmas day, there isn't anything
I like better or makes me happier than to receive a bunch of mail.

I am at present at the front lines doing guard duty, but do not worry about me, I am taking good care of myself. Jacob S. Meeuwssen is staying with me right at my side, which makes it so much pleasanter, all the boys are feeling good.

I smoked my first cigar since landing on this side of the pond and a pipe of "Bull Durham," it seems so funny to smoke a cigar again, they are quite a "luxury here."

Must close, wishing you all the best of health. I remain your loving son and brother,

Pvt. Albert Slagh,
A. Northern Russia Ex. Forces,
Co. D. 339th Infantry.

WANT RIGHT TO SPEAR SUCKERS IN BLACK RIVER

STATE LEGISLATURE IS ASKED TO PASS BILL FOR OTTAWA AND ALLEGAN COUNTIES

Is Introduced By Representative Kooy-ers; Supported By Other Solons of Two Counties

Time was when the boys and young men of Ottawa and Allegan counties had plenty of fun in the spring of the year spearing "suckers" in Black river which runs through both counties. In March and April, after the annual spring "high water" had subsided, the boys would go to the stream with lantern and spear in the evening to spear the fish lying on the shallow bottoms.

But their sport has been considerably interfered with of late years by the game and fish laws. So a large delegation from Ottawa and Allegan counties sent a petition to Representative Kooyers to give them the right to spear "suckers" during March and April.

Mr. Kooyers has introduced a bill to that effect and he has secured the support for it of Representative Averill of Ottawa and Representative Masters and Leland of Allegan county. The bill reads as follows:

"To permit the spearing of suckers,
Red Horse and Carp from the first day of March to the first day of May in each year in the rivers and streams of Ottawa and Allegan counties except Bear Creek, Mann Creek and Sand Creek.

"The People of the State of Michigan enact:—

"Sec. 1. Hereafter it shall be lawful to take Suckers, Red Horse and Carp by means of a spear, by the aid of a jack or other artificial light, from and including the first day of March to and including the first day of May of each year in the rivers and streams of Ottawa and Allegan counties except Bear Creek, Man Creek and Sand Creek.

"Sec. 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

On last Saturday morning a most distressing accident happened in East Saugatuck. Mr. Gerrit De Weert, who owns a farm there was chopping wood near his home. He was picked up and taken to his home and medical aid summoned, but despite all skill, died on Sunday night.

VITAL STATISTICS FOR MONTH ARE TOPSY TURVY

Again during the month of December, as was the case for November, the death rate in Holland and throughout Ottawa county was higher than the birth rate. This fact is brought out by the "Bulletin of Vital Statistics" issued by the department of state Wednesday. December is the last month for which the figures have been tabulated.

November was the first month in many years that the number of deaths exceeded the number of births. Before that time the ratio was usually about three births to two deaths in Holland, and often the ratio was more greatly in favor of the births than that. The margin of births over deaths in this city was so constant a phenomenon that the fact stood out and frequently caused comment in other parts of the state. In comparing it with the figures in the city of Alleghen for instance, it was usually found that in Alleghen the number of births hardly more than equalled the number of the deaths and sometimes dropped below that.

But the curious fact about the record for December is that while in Holland the deaths are more in number than the births for that month, in Alleghen the birth and death ratio remains normal. In Holland there were 17 births and 47 deaths; in Alleghen there were five births and five deaths.

The comparison between Ottawa County and Alleghen County is still more curious. In Ottawa the deaths far exceed the births, while in Alleghen county it was the other way about. In Ottawa there were 69 births during the month and 96 deaths, while in Alleghen county there were 62 births and only 47 deaths. In the city of Grand Haven there were eight births and 14 deaths.

The reason for these abnormal conditions is of course the "flu" epidemic. It would seem that Alleghen Co. and Alleghen city were not hit hard.

MORE QUILTS ARE SENT TO HEADQUARTERS

THIRTY-SEVEN OF THEM WILL GO TO THE BELGIAN RELIEF

The Ottawa County Red Cross has sent another box of quilts to headquarters for Belgian relief. There were 37 quilts in the box, each quilt being valued at three dollars. The local Red Cross still has some material that will be made into quilts for future shipment.

Superintendent E. E. Fell was a Grand Rapids visitor Wednesday. Miss Bernice Benjamin was a Grand Rapids visitor Wednesday.

FISHERMEN IN SMALL CRAFT BROUGHT IN

Capt. G. B. Lofberk, superintendent of the Eleventh U. S. Coast Guard district, received notice last night that the Milwaukee fishing boat which was believed to have foundered in Friday night's gale, and for which the Macatawa Coast Guard crew has been on the lookout, had been found by the Milwaukee coast guard crew and towed safely in Milwaukee harbor.

The recovery of the craft, with her two-man crew of Milwaukee fishermen is one of the miracles of the lakes. Surviving one of the worst gales of the winter the small craft drifted about Lake Michigan from Friday until Monday afternoon, when the tug was found by the Milwaukee coast guards about 35 miles southeast of Milwaukee. Joseph Budish and George Costigan, who comprised the crew, were alive but both of them had suffered greatly from exposure.

The gasoline fishing tug, Anton, one of the Jones Island fleet at Milwaukee, left port Friday morning. During the day one of the most terrific gales of the season came up suddenly and swept over the lake, no doubt carrying the little 40-foot craft far out into the lake.

Whether the machinery became disabled or not is not known but is evident that something went wrong, as the boat which lived thru the gale, was not able to get back into port when the gale subsided.

Since Saturday morning when the inquiry was received on this side of the lake the coast guards along the lake have been on the lookout for the wreckage. No trace of the missing craft was found, and it was generally believed that she had foundered in the gale carrying down the two men in her crew. The news of her safety and of the rescue of the men, was almost unbelievable.

WANTS CHILDREN TO CONTINUE GARDEN ACTIVITIES

R. L. Nye, regional director of the United States School Garden army for Michigan and Wisconsin, was in Holland Tuesday in the interest of this movement. He explained that this movement differed from the club work carried out in many cities last year, mainly in bringing it more completely under school management, and in placing less emphasis on reports, stories, etc. and more emphasis on having all children enlisted and doing some garden work. "A garden for every child; every child in a garden" is the garden army slogan.

Explaining further this work, Mr. Nye said: "Every city child should be taught how to grow the ordinary food and flowering plants of the small home garden. During the past two years much stress has been laid on city gardening because of the need for increasing the food supply, and as a result many thousands of tons of food have been produced on plots of ground that would otherwise have lain idle, and no small amount of this by children who would otherwise have been idle."

"Last year a children's organization called the United States School Garden army of the U. S. Bureau of Education thru the efforts of Secretary of the Interior Land and Commissioner Clayton and enthusiastically back by President Wilson. This organization has in view the promotion of gardening as a part of the school program, encouraging school instruction in the subject and forming the pupils into companies, officered by a captain and lieutenants from their number, with an adult supervisor for each company, as a means of aiding in the directing of the home work during vacation months. It is expected by the school garden army directors that four million children will be enlisted in the garden army this year."

LARGE AUDIENCE AT FROEBEL P-T MEETING

In spite of the storm and the fact that the snow was a foot deep on the sidewalks, about 125 people came out to listen to the program of the meeting of the Froebel P-T club Tuesday evening. And a most entertaining program was given. Fred Beewkes gave a talk on boy scouting. Supt. E. E. Fell told about the state teachers' convention that is coming to Holland May 1 and 2. Henry Geerlings addressed the club on "The Boy in the Home" and A. H. Landwehr talked on "Co-operation." Two solos were given by Miss Evelyn De Vries and Miss Sarah Lacey and Miss Dorothy Stroop played a piano duet. The first graders sang. The next meeting of the club will be in charge of the teachers.

ENGAGEMENT OF RETURNED SOLDIER IS ANNOUNCED

An engagement which is of interest to many Grand Rapids and Holland residents is that of Miss Ruth Norris, daughter of Luther W. P. Norris of New York City and Elmer Farms, Carmel, N. Y., to Hoyt Garrod Post of Holland, Mich., which recently was announced. Mr. Post, until a short time ago was a lieutenant in the quartermaster's department, U. S. A.—G. R. Press.

Hon. G. J. Diekema was in Alleghen as legal business Wednesday. Peter Plum took the interurban for Grand Rapids Wednesday.

TELLS OF EFFECT OF THE WAR ON INDUSTRY

Giving a picture made up of light and shadow, with the light greatly predominating, Arthur Vischer presented the story of the effect of the war on industry to the members of the Social Progress Club Tuesday evening when that organization met at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Wynand Wichers. While not ignoring the difficulties and the darker side of the situation, Mr. Vischer was distinctly optimistic as to the future of industry and as to how it will emerge out of problems that the war has brought to the front.

Mr. Vischer traced the effect of the war on various classes of industry, showing that the war was the salvation of some, while on the other hand it was the ruin of others. Such industries as the dye industries in the U. S. were "made" by the war and there is a bright future for this line as well as many other lines. Some industries were hampered by the war but have a good chance to get on top again.

Similarly, the war has had various results as to labor. Some classes of labor were distinctly benefited by the war, while in other cases the benefit was not so marked.

The writer of the paper gave a clear-out exposition of how the world conditions brought out by the war are likely to affect industry in the future.

On its part, he declared, industry must not be narrow and selfish but must look upon itself as being in trust for humanity. It must work out its plans with the interest of all society in mind. If this spirit gets the upper-hand, he declared, the serious problems that now confront the world are more than likely to be solved in the right way.

WANTS 200 FANS TO ATTEND GAME

Coach C. E. Drew is trying to induce two hundred people in Holland who are interested in the basketball career of the Holland high school team to go to Grand Rapids next Tuesday evening to see Holland high defeat the quintet of Grand Rapids Central High.

Arrangements have been made whereby the interurban company will furnish four special cars for the rooters, provided there are fifty people for each car. The rates will not be reduced but the cars will be run to suit the passengers so that there will not have to be any waiting. Fans who wish to take advantage of this can call Mr. Drew at 1329 or 1184.

CASE DISMISSED AGAINST TWO MEN

The case of Elmer Pury and John Groeters, which was to have been tried in justice court in the city hall Wednesday, came to an abrupt end when the prosecutor agreed to a dismissal of the case. The attorney for the respondent, D. Ten Cate satisfied the prosecutor and the court that there was no evidence against the men who had been charged with stealing lumber. They were therefore exonerated of the charge and the trial did not come off as scheduled.

PVT. TEUNIS BAKER IS PHOTOED WITH PRESIDENT WILSON

PVT. "TEUN." BAKER '20, GETS SALUTE FROM PRESIDENT, SMILE FROM MRS. WILSON

"I'd Rather Be Over Here As a Private Doing My Bit Than Be In the States As a Major, Trying To Become a Colonel."

Private Teunis Baker, '20, the absent member of the famous Prins-Baker quartet of Hope College, was recently photographed by Signal Corps movie men alongside of President Wilson, while on a sight-seeing trip in Paris. He got a salute from the President and a smile from Mrs. Wilson. "Teun" who is now at Evacuation Hospital No. 15, A. E. F., says in a letter to his parents, "I rather be over here as a private doing my bit than be in the States as a major, trying to become a Colonel."

This letter which was printed in the Passaic (N. J.) Daily Herald, reads as follows:

"Back in the Army once more. Got back here yesterday and am feeling fine, only it's a little hard to get started back to work. It was also mighty hard to leave. Nice. I was hoping they would make me stay a few weeks longer but nothing doing. When it came to leave nobody tried to stop me. Had a very quiet day the last day. Wrote letters most of the time. I also sent home a package of postcards which I hope you will keep for me. They are pictures of all the places I visited and after many years when I look at them they will bring back many pleasant memories, so do not lose them. We left Nice about noon and arrived in Marseilles about midnight. We missed the midnight express to Paris and the next train left at twelve the next day so we had a good long wait before us. The worst part of it was we were not allowed to go into the city. My friend and I found a first-class coach on a side-track so we climbed in and went to sleep on the cushions. We were awakened in the morning by some women who came around to clean the coach. We washed at a drinking fountain and then looked around for something to eat. The only place to eat was in the city. There was a high wall around the station.

"Everything in France has a wall around it—houses, chicken coops, monasteries, backyards, and this station also had a wall around it. However we found a low place and climbed over. We went into a restaurant and had a breakfast of eggs, bread and coffee and a banana. Got back to the station three hours ahead of time. That's only way you can be sure of a seat in a train over here. Nothing unusual happened on the way to Paris. Arriving there we cleaned up and had breakfast and then did some shopping. After dinner we went to the building where they are holding the peace conference in hopes of getting a glimpse of the President.

"Well, we had more luck than we had hoped for. We arrived at the building early and met a soldier who had been taking moving pictures of the battles up at the front during the war, and now he was taking movies of the peace conference. He said we could get a good look at the President if he would make believe we were his assistants. He took us to the entrance of the building and set up his machine, and began taking pictures of the members of the conference as they arrived.

"The first to come was the Japanese representative, Viscount Chinda. Then Mr. Balfour, of England, arrived. After him came another Jap, Count Matsui. A few minutes later the Frenchman, Mr. Pichon, and his wife, came along. They stood on the steps a few minutes to allow the movie man to get a good picture of them. The next to arrive was Clemenceau, the great Frenchman. So far they had all arrived in their autos. The movie man needed another film just then, so he sent me across the driveway to get a roll. Just as I got there he turned the machine toward me and began turning the crank. I didn't know why at first but I turned around and there right behind me was Mr. Wilson and his wife. He was only a few feet away and so I came to attention, and saluted. He returned the salute and Mrs. Wilson gave me a pleasant little smile."

"She got into an auto with the French President's wife, who had been waiting for her, and as she passed me she smiled again. The President then passed on into the building. Meanwhile the movie man had taken a picture of the whole thing. A little later Lloyd George and his son drove up in a machine. After that came the aide de camp to the Arabian prince, then Secretary Lansing, and finally Baron Sonino, of Italy. Mr. Balfour came out of the building just then and the newspaper reporters questioned him a while and our friend took some more movies of him. By that time it was 3 o'clock and time for the meeting to begin, so we left. It certainly was a treat to have the privilege of seeing the greatest men living today all in one afternoon.

"We walked back to our hotel and saw many interesting sights along the way. Many of Paris' streets are lined with captured German guns, tanks, etc. We left Paris about 8 o'clock and arrived in Bar Le Duc about 1 a. m. the next morning. From there to Verdun we had to either ride a freight train, catch a truck or ambulance going our way, or take a narrow gauge railroad, which is a railroad a little larger than the one I used to play with when I was a kid and which doesn't run much faster. The passenger coaches have no lights or heat in them and about half of their windows are broken. That was the first thing leaving Bar Le Duc so we took it.

"After crawling along for five long hours, the towers of Verdun came into sight and, as the train passed the hospital, we jumped off, even though it was going full speed. We arrived just in time for dinner and with memories of the wonderful meals we had been getting at Nice, we sat down at the table and ate a hearty meal of stew, beans and canned tomatoes. You can imagine how I enjoyed it. Hal Hal But it was a good start to remind me that I would have to buckle down, get to work, and not mind the rain and the mud.

"If I had gone back home without making this trip I certainly would have had a wrong impression of this great country. I would always remember it as a dismal, rainy country but now I know that the flowers are in bloom even in January. I realize now that I can't judge France from the ruin and desolation we are living in up here.

"I hear several of the fellows have received promotions and commissions, but, in spite of that, I'd rather be over here as a private doing my bit than be in the states as a major, trying to be a colonel. I enlisted to give service, not to become an officer.

WHAT PART OF ROAD COST DOES FARMER PAY.

According to the official figures in the records of the State Tax Commission offices at Lansing, the farm property of Michigan represents about 37 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the state.

Unless Michigan can have funds available to meet the dollar-for-dollar Federal Aid to be distributed by Uncle Sam to promote highway construction and maintenance, the farmer will have to bear his 37 per cent of the expense.

But if the Good Road amendment is ratified at the polls, April 7, the people will have authority, through their representatives in the legislature, to use the state's credit to meet any offer the United States government may make and, since Federal aid will care for half of the cost, the farmer will pay only a little more than 18 per cent of the Good Roads investment.

HE WOULD AVOID APOLOGIES FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

GOOD ROADS EARLE, ALSO TELLS WHY HE WILL VOTE FOR THE AMENDMENT APRIL 7.

Horatio S. Earle, popularly known in Michigan as "Good Roads" Earle, who has been spreading the doctrine of permanent highways for more than fifteen years and in whose honor a monument has been reared at the junction of the eastern and western branches of the Dixie Highway in Michigan, says he is tired of carrying his title into the cities of the east and the west and then offering an apology for the highways of his own state.

HORATIO S. EARLE

Known throughout the United States as the Father of Michigan's Good Roads.

"Good Roads Earle," indeed!" he exclaimed. "Why, many a time I have felt ashamed when introduced under that title to speak of good roads before an audience, which, as I only too well knew, included men who had seen and sneered at Michigan roads. If this constitutional Amendment goes through, and it certainly must, if we are to hold up our heads in Michigan, I will not be forced to apologize when I speak in Boston, New York, Chicago or San Francisco."

"That's one reason why I shall vote for the highway Amendment. But there are a lot of other and better reasons, all of which come right home to every Michigan citizen. And so I will cast my ballot for the Amendment because—

"By so doing, I vote to accept a dollar from the United States Government for each dollar that Michigan appropriated for trunk line roads."

"I want the roads as soon as possible."

"If we bond for the money, the income will pay his part as well as we who are here now."

"The cost of the trunk line roads will be spread upon the entire state and nation, making it possible for localities to build farm-to-market roads, or tributary roads, with their own money, aided by the State reward."

"I want to see Michigan as good or better than any state in the Union and roads will develop the state."

"If we get good trunk line roads, we will attract best-of-all summer resort states resorted from all over the country, who will leave a profit each year in the state of more than this bond Amendment makes possible for the Legislature to appropriate."

"When the figures are studied, I can see that it will be no burden upon the tax payers of the State."

"The United States rewards us if we build this road system; and, if we do not, the reward goes to other states that do."

Both Parties Indorse.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties in state convention at Lansing, have indorsed the amendment to the constitution which will start the machinery for financing a state-wide system of main market roads leading to every community. Each party made this issue one of the planks of its platform.

RED CROSS GIFTS $400,000,000

War Council on Retirement Announces Cash and Supplies Contributed.

WORKERS WILL "CARRY ON."

Five Big Societies in World Wide Plan. H. P. Davison Heads International American Red Cross Commission. Dr. Livingston Farrand Permanent Leader of Peace Organization.

Washington.—(Special.)—Henry P. Davison as chairman issues the following statement on behalf of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"To the American People:

"The War Council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, at their request and by vote of the Central Committee, ceased at midnight, February 28.

"Immediately the armistice was signed the War Council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross Commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the Central Committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

"Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the War Council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belongs, and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

"During the past nearly twenty-one months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

"The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

"Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

"When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 500,000 members. Today, as the result of the recent Christmas membership Roll Call, there are upwards of 17,000,000 full paid members outside of the members of the Junior Red Cross, numbering perhaps 9,000,000 school children additional.

"The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our army and navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work Surgeon General Ireland of the U. S. Army recently said: 'The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done, but could not do itself.'

"The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the Allied World was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our Army of Occupation in Germany was followed with Medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army Canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice. "As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

"The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of eighteen men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

"Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross Commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

"The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

"The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium and even in France having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale. The needs of these peoples are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

"An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to co-ordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

"A commission has just reached Poland with doctors and nurses, medical supplies, and food for sick children and invalids. An American Red Cross Commission has also been appointed to aid in relieving the suffering of Russian prisoners still confined in German prison camps.

"An important commission is still working in Palestine. Through the war special co-operation has been given to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Commission, which was the only agency able to carry relief in the interior of Turkish dominions.

Red Cross Will Continue.

"Red Cross effort is thus far flung. It will continue to be so. But the movement represented by this work has likewise assumed an intimate place in the daily life of our people at home. The army of workers which has been recruited and trained during the war must not be demobilized. All our experience in the war shows clearly that there is an unlimited field for service of the kind which can be performed with peculiar effectiveness by the Red Cross. What its future tasks may be it is yet impossible to forecast. We know that so long as there is an American army in the field the Red Cross will have a special function to perform.

"Nothing could be of greater importance to the American Red Cross than the plans just set in motion by the five great Red Cross societies of the world to develop a program of extended activities in the interest of humanity. The conception involves not alone efforts to relieve human suffering, but to prevent it; not alone a movement by the people of an individual nation, but an attempt to arouse all people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of their fellow beings throughout the world. It is a program both ideal and practical. Ideal in that its supreme aim is nothing less than veritable "Peace on earth good will to men," and practical in that it seeks to take means and measures which are actually available and make them effective in meeting without delay the crisis which is daily recurrent in the lives of all peoples.

"For accomplishing its mission in the years of peace which must lie ahead of us the Red Cross will require the ablest possible leadership, and must enjoy the continued support, sympathy, and participation in its work of the whole American people. It is particularly fortunate that such a man as Dr. Livingston Farrand should have been selected as the permanent head of the organization. The unstinted fashion in which all our people gave of themselves throughout the war is the best assurance that our Red Cross will continue to receive that co-operation which will make its work a source of pride and inspiration to every American."

Mr. Davison, as chairman of the International Commission of the American Red Cross, has undertaken to represent the American Red Cross in the preparation of the program for extended Red Cross activities, and will spend the next several months in Europe in consultation with other Red Cross societies for that purpose.

THE WAR COUNCIL OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

W. E. Reynolds of Tacoma, Wash., delivered an address at Odd Fellows Hall Wednesday night on the subject "Shall Brains or Muscle Rule?" He declared that neither should rule, but that they should rule together. "Man must understand and conquer the social forces just as he has understood and conquered the natural forces," he said. "When his opinions will bring action, action will bring progress, and progress will bring happiness."

Kooyers Says Proposed Measure Is "Dog-gone" Bill

A dog bill designed to protect the sheep of the state against dogs is up for consideration in the state house of representatives, and Representative G. W. Kooyers writes that it is a "dog-gone bill."

This does not mean however that Mr. Kooyers is opposed to the bill in question, because he further on says:

"a dog-gone bill if it goes through, that is, a lot of dogs will be gone." The bill is of rather general interest since it would materially affect the dog population of Holland and every other town in the state. Here are the two main sections of the bill as proposed for passage:

"An person may kill any dog which he sees in the act of pursuing, worrying or wound any live stock or attacking human beings, and there shall be no liability on such persons in damages or otherwise, for such killing. Any dog, that enters any field or enclosure unaccompanied by his owner or his owner's agent, shall constitute a private nuisance and the owner or tenant of such field or other enclosure, or their agent or servant may kill such dog while it is in the field or other enclosure without liability or responsibility of any nature for such killing."

The owner of every dog at all times between sunset of each day and sunrise of the following day, either confine said dog within an enclosure from which it cannot escape or firmly secure it by means of a chain or other device so that it cannot stray beyond the premises upon which it is secured, unless said dog is under the reasonable control of some person."

MAN SERVING TIME FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION RELEASED

On order from the Ottawa circuit court was issued today for the release of Lendert Duinkert from the State reformatory at Ionia. Duinkert is serving time there for violation of the state prohibition law which has been since knocked out by the State Supreme Court.

FALLING TIMBER FRACTURES LEG OF WORKING MAN

William Crow, employed at the Grand Trunk roundhouse at Grand Haven, was badly injured there Tuesday morning when a heavy timber fell across his left leg fracturing it between the knee and the ankle. The injured man was taken to his home, 514 Elliot street where he was given medical aid at once. It will be some time before he will be able to be out again.

CHANCE FOR TWO MEN AT GRAND HAVEN STATION

The U. S. Coast Guard station at Grand Haven offers a chance for two men, who wish to enlist in the service. The pay in the coast guard service is good and the work is not unpleasant. The opening in the stations along the coasts of Lake Michigan should prove attractive to men returning from army service, who desire to remain in open air employment.

Tony Van Zantwick and Louis Peterson, have resigned from the U. S. Coast guard service at that port.

SOMETHING DOING AMONGST THE DAIRYMEN OF ZEELAND.

The dairymen of Zeeland and vicinity are requested to gather at Wyngarden's Hall, on Tuesday, March 18, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. This gathering promises to be of unusual interest to those farmers who are milk producers.

Several speakers will be on the program. The sender of this notice is rather vague as to the giving of details, it however would do no harm to find out what the meeting is all about.

One dollar! why, you'll be surprised at the extent of its purchasing power during this day, for every article really represents a big saving. We have made extraordinary efforts to give unusual values in many departments of our big store. Goods advertised for this day are not sold primarily for profit, but rather as a "get acquainted" proposition. It is our object to have as many people as possible visit our store on Dollar Day, so that they will have a good opportunity to inspect our splendid line of new Spring merchandise in our various departments.

Dollar Day is a big event—a helpful event—that is characterized for its unequalled value-giving, because it offers economies that overshadow those of any other occasion.
