Prayer Day to be Outstanding Day in Holland

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S SOCIETIES WILL ALSO MEET IN THIS CITY

Mrs. C. V. R. Gilmore, Daughter of City Founder Founders Organization

The Annual Day of Prayer in Holland has been fittingly observed for a number of years. It is an institution that among the Hollanders harks back to pioneer days. The observance of the day goes beyond nationalities now, and people in all walks of life so inclined, set this day aside as a time for prayer.

Next week, Wednesday a large number of the churches will observe Prayer Day as usual. There is, however, also an outstanding feature set for the Day of Prayer, next Wednesday, namely the 12th annual praise service of the Federation of Women's Societies of Holland.

Dr. C. J. Stauffacher

eration of Women's Societies of the churches of Holland. This meeting is to be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, at 2 o'clock, Wednesday, and the public is cordially invited.

At that time Dr. C. J. Stauffacher of Inhamane, Portuguese E. Africa, a man of great energy and untiring effort, will be the speaker. Associated with him on the platform will be his estimable wife and co-worker.

Mr. Stauffacher is a medical missionary in Africa and not only brings the word of God to the natives he comes in contact with, but also finds time to minister to the lepers in that territory, and there are many.

Some years ago, Mr. Stauffacher states, and before aid came, the lepers were driven into the jungles, in order to segregate them from the natives who were well. It was a harsh thing to do, and the doctor felt that some change should be wrought and he made a special trip to this country in behalf of these unfortunate, speaking of the terrible conditions under which 20,000 lepers had to be cared for, or rather uncared for.

We are indeed pleased to relate that the first step taken to alleviate this situation, was made by the Federation of Women's Societies of Holland, who pledged to take care of twenty lepers at $30 each per year. Then followed the collecting of $1200 with which to build the first stone home for lepers. Fourteen hundred dollars was raised for which the doctor purchased a 500 acre estate, the owner of which had died. This estate contained a residence suited for the purpose, and this first leper hospital was christened the Christine Van Raalte Gilmore Home, in honor of the beloved president and founder of the Federation of Women's Societies of the Church of Holland.

Mrs. Gilmore, the daughter of the founder of this city, on Dec. 18, 1919, took the initial step to organize this Federation of Women's Societies who are to meet on Prayer Day. It was on that date, 12 years ago, that at the invitation of Mrs. Gilmore, 24 women, representing nearly all the churches in this city, met at her home to consider the possibility and advisability of bringing into being this Federation of Women's Societies with inter-church relationship.

Immediately the women assembled saw the great good that a society of this kind would bring about, and a fitting motto was immediately chosen, "Workers Together With God."

Mrs. Gilmore acted as temporary chairman. After an explanation of the purpose and object, it was unanimously voted to organize the "Federation of Women's Societies of the Churches of Holland." Mrs. C. V. R. Gilmore was elected president; Mrs. Gertrude J. Boer (Mrs. William Stuart), secretary; and Mrs. A. E. McClellan, treasurer.

An invitation from the women of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church to hold the first meeting in that church on the Day of Prayer for Crops, March 10, 1920, was accepted. Four hundred women gathered in this old historic church, praising God and thanking Him for the privilege of being united in the bonds of Christian fellowship.

Inspiring meetings were held each year, and as early as 1923 this organization manifested a special interest in the work for lepers.

Since the founding of this organization Mrs. Gilmore has been either active or honorary president. Her duties were later taken up by Mrs. Gertrude Boer Stuart, who resigned, last year, when she left this city to make her home in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Cornelius J. Dregman was then unanimously named president and will be the presiding officer next week Wednesday.

Other officers are: 1st vice-president, Mrs. Clarence De Graaf; second vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Williams.

City Assessor Battle Surprise of Election

VAN ARK GOES OVER WITH TREMENDOUS MAJORITY

Vote in City Light, 2,814 Cast Out of 6,000 Registered Voters

"Old man Apathy" took possession of Holland on election day when only 2,814 voters out of more than 6,000 registered names on the poll books took the trouble to exercise their God-given right of franchise. No doubt the usual wall of dissatisfaction from the stay-at-homes will be heard objecting to the order of things.

Anyway the big surprise was the battle for City Assessor, Peter Van Ark, the present incumbent, running off with the prize by a majority of 740. Mr. Van Ark's total vote in the city was 1,755, Chris Nibbelink, 597; Abe Stephan, 229; and John Galien, 189.

The showing made by Mr. Van Ark is especially remarkable for the reason that he was running against strong opponents. Mr. Nibbelink, it is known, is one of the most able assessors of property in Ottawa County and Mr. Stephan has been very prominent in public life, and as everyone knows, has done a great deal for the city in a civic way, that brought no financial return. Galien, although not so well known, also had many staunch supporters among his friends. The showing made by Mr. Van Ark, who had served but one term, is very gratifying to his many friends.

The second battle was for supervisor with six candidates in the field. In this case there was no choice at the primaries and four names will have to go back on the ballot to be voted for at the April election. Archie Vander Wall and Henry J. Dykhuus, not having received enough votes to qualify are eliminated. Henry J. Luideus, formerly of the First State Bank, John De Koeper, Peter G. Damstra, present incumbent and August Kasten will try conclusions again at the April election. In this vote, Peter Damstra stood high with 1,122. Henry Luideus was next with 1,115. John J. De Koeper received 894, August Kasten, 742; Archie Vander Wall, 619; Henry J. Dykhuus, 339.

There was also a small contest on for members of the police board, between two printer friends, namely, Ed. Brouwer and Anthony Groeneweld. Both have been side pals for a number of years, but were "friendly enemies" for this particular job. "Ed" was winner, receiving 1455 votes while "Tony" received 1,018.

Other offices in Holland were not contested. Our able City Clerk, Oscar Peterson, received 2,388 votes. Our accommodating City Treasurer, Nick Sprietsma, received 2,482 votes; our Justice of the Peace, (Continued on page two)

MANY SEEKING CITY OFFICE AT ZEELAND

More Republican office seekers than ever before in evidence at Zeeland are making application to be placed on the ticket for the March 11 caucus.

There are seven aspirants for the city clerk's office and three for treasurer. The office of mayor has had no applicants and the incumbent, J. H. Moake, has made no assertion in regard to his candidacy. There will be two in the field for city assessor. Other officers each have at least two candidates.

The Citizens ticket will not have as many in the field for the various offices although it is believed the clerk and treasurer posts will be contested.

For nearly 35 years Mrs. Van Ark was active in church work and taught a Sunday school class in the Third Reformed church, covering most of this period. Mrs. Van Ark was generally found where help was needed and especially as this relates to the young folks.

Building character in early youth was the aim of this most lovable woman and surely much was accomplished along these lines through the avenues she utilized for this purpose. The funeral of Mrs. Van Ark was held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, when there was a prayer service for the immediate family and intimate friends and at 2 o'clock for the general public in the Third Reformed church, a denomination with which she had been so long identified. Dr. E. J. Blekink, a former pastor, and Rev. James Martin, the pastor, officiated at these services.

Interment took place in the family plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery. At the home, church and the graves, thoughtful friends and loved ones had placed many silent tributes of beautiful garlands, for flowers had played an important part in her life.

Mrs. Van Ark was 53 years old and is survived by her husband, Henry Van Ark, and four children: Carroll Van Ark, of Glen Ridge, N. J.; Gordon H. Van Ark who is attending Columbia University; Miss Isabelle and Miss Edna Van Ark at home.

To Represent Hope in M. O. L. Contest

Alice Boter

ORATORS COMPETE IN SECTIONAL CONTESTS AT ALMA FRIDAY

Yesterday morning Miss Alice Boter and Mr. Gerald Huenink, representatives of Hope College in the Michigan Oratorical League contests, delivered their orations before the student body during chapel hour. Miss Boter's powerful oration, "Carbon Copies," was given with consummate skill, ease of expression, and naturalness of gesture.

"Canons or Canons" was the title of Mr. Huenink's oration, a vigorous denunciation of war. It, too, was delivered with impelling force, and characterized by keen sharpness of convincing thought.

On Friday of this week, these two fine orators will travel to Alma College where the preliminary contests will take place at Mt. Pleasant on Friday, March 13.

ONE OF HOLLAND'S LEADING WOMEN AND CIVIC WORKER PASSES ON

The host of friends of Mrs. Henry Van Ark were shocked Monday to hear of her death, which occurred at her home, 751 Central Avenue.

It was understood that she was very ill but added complications suddenly brought a turn in the illness, that proved fatal to this estimable woman. Mrs. Van Ark was an untiring civic worker.

She was born in Fillmore just southeast of this city and came to Holland as a young girl. After her marriage to Mr. Henry Van Ark, she not only became active in church work but prominent in the club life of this city.

She became associated with the Woman's Literary Club in 1904 and remained active in that organization till 1929. She was elected as president of the Holland W. C. T. U. from 1920 to 1926.

Under her regime, the membership doubled, becoming the largest woman's organization in Western Michigan.

This union also became broader in scope putting on civic programs and school essay work, which feature was originated by her. Mrs. Van Ark also gained some prominence as a writer of poetry and many of her contributions were published and not a few were set to music by Grand Rapids artists and later were broadcasted. In 1927 Mrs. Van Ark joined the Schribblers Club of Grand Rapids, the membership of which is solely composed of writers and authors.

For nearly 35 years Mrs. Van Ark was active in church work and taught a Sunday school class in the Third Reformed church, covering most of this period. Mrs. Van Ark was generally found where help was needed and especially as this relates to the young folks.

Council Asks A Ten Percent Cut In City Wages

MANY NEW GAS STATIONS ARE GIVEN PERMITS TO OPEN

Drastic Changes Are to Be Made In Traffic Ordinance, Is Plan

Wednesday night's meeting of the Common Council was a very important one and is destined to bring a great deal of discussion on the street.

One matter to come up was a straight cut of 10 percent in wages of all the employees of the City of Holland, including the officials and teachers of our public schools. Many of the aldermen felt that since there is so much want and so little employment outside of these circles, those who are getting wages as high as during prosperous times and who because of the stressful period are making even more because of the fall in prices of all living commodities, should be called upon to carry part of the burden through the lowering of taxes.

Some of the aldermen felt that should be made on big salaries only. Others thought all should be affected even the aldermen and mayor with their $50 and $100 a year salaries. How it could affect teachers with signed yearly contracts was not made plain. Anyway a conference with the different boards will be held before anything is done. The committee to handle this matter is named in this column in the official proceedings.

Several prospective new gasoline stations were permitted and the necessary equipment installed. It appears that the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, together with the ordinance committee are planning some drastic changes in the traffic ordinance very soon.

The Council will also submit to a vote of the people a change in the charter at the April election—a matter that should be given the fullest consideration for it is a very necessary change.

These are only a few of the important matters to come up. There are many more as reported by City Clerk Peterson as found below:

Zeeland May go Non-Partisan if Voters Say so

ALL MUNICIPAL OFFICES TO BE TAKEN OUT OF PARTY POLITICS

It appears that Zeeland will make a wholesale raid on its charter and put up several amendments to be voted on at the April election. Thus far six changes are being considered and one of unusual importance is making the selection of city officials a non-partisan affair the same as prevails in Holland and in other cities. Relative to this change in city government the Zeeland Record says as follows:

"The first charter change listed is an amendment to Chapter 3 of the charter and concerns itself with Elections, Registration and the nomination of candidates for office. The purpose is to take the matter of local government out of party politics. This is a very commendable purpose and this amendment deserves the support of every loyal citizen of this city."

"It provides that the city clerk shall give notice of two independent caucuses, to be held at different times for the placing in nomination candidates for the several city offices. These nominations shall be made not less than twenty-five days before the election when they are to be voted upon; of which caucuses ten days notice shall be given. It also provides that no person shall vote at more than one caucus."

"It may be readily understood that nominations at two independent caucuses will give a fair contest between candidates upon their supposed merits, independent of their predominant influences. In the past the word 'Republican' at the head of the ticket has caused many voters to mark their ballot in its favor irrespective of the candidates gracing its list."

"It is becoming a more difficult matter to select qualified men for the offices of mayor and aldermen as the work increases and becomes more responsible from year to year. In the past the caucus has been the determining factor in the choice of these officers, no matter how scantily attended or how deficient in quality and ability."

"The placing in nomination of two independent tickets, minus the pulling headline, will double the choice from which the public may choose upon the merits of the candidates."

STORES CLOSE HALF-DAY WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11TH

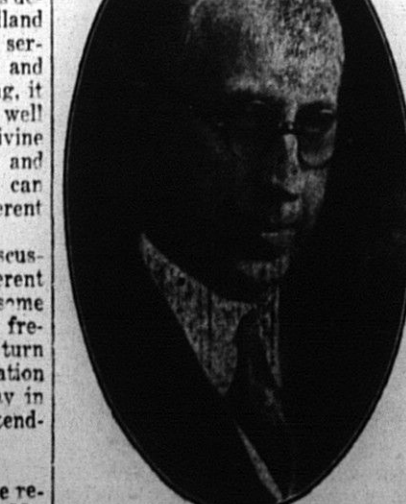

The Holland Merchants Association went on record as favoring the closing of the stores next week on Wednesday, March 11th, until one o'clock in the afternoon in order to observe the Day of Prayer properly.

Heretofore the whole day was devoted to observe this old Holland institution, but since all church services are held in the morning and in some instances in the evening, it will enable the proprietors as well as the sales force to attend divine services without interference and after these services patrons can again be served in the different places of business.

There was considerable discussion on this matter from different members of the association, some stating that it has been rather frequent for quite a number to turn the day into a day of recreation rather than to observe the day in the cause for which it was intended.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Lanting have returned from Chicago where Mr. Lanting had a speaking engagement at the Moody Bible Institute. They also visited the Noon Day meetings being held at the Loop in Chicago, and the Rader Tabernacle.

of Her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina and has for its objective a continuation of the work of the Dutch Pilgrim Fathers committee 1620-1920.

DR. JOHN B. NYKERK, DEAN OF HOPE COLLEGE

A BIBLICAL FISHERMAN

The following was given by an exhilarant sportsman, Clyde Edwards from Scranton, Pa., who was a guest at the Game Club banquet Tuesday night. He stated that he belonged to a similar club in the east. He sat with the Holland Furnace crowd at the festive board and between bites he dished up this allegory showing that fishermen are very much alike, no matter where they come from:

PARABLE
Behold the bold fisherman—
He ariseth at the song of the bird
He disturbeth the whole household
He goeth forth laden with gear
And his mouth is filled with boastsings
Far into the night he returneth
His breath smelleth of strong drink
And the truth is not in him.

A Few Fish Tales

Judge James A. Danhof and County Clerk Wm. Wilds of Grand Haven took in the fish banquet on Tuesday night.

Good-natured "Andy Klomp" was the biggest presiding officer at a fish banquet up to this time, but even Andy had to use a megaphone on that noisy crowd.

DeVries & Dornbos Furniture Co. folks made the members go "Turkish" presenting each with a colorful fez and tasse. Well there were plenty of "Turks" present.

Jake Fris, the bookman, deposited a small pocket memorandum at each cover, presumably so the fishermen could jot down the limit. Yocum's Place supplied the necessary "pot-leads" to make the entries.

The Holland Chevrolet Sales Corporation had plenty of noise makers at every cover. "Mac" says these jim-cracks might be noisy, but that the new "Chevy" was a wonder for quiet.

"Dixie Gas" furnished enough balloons to lift the army. There sure was a colorful display of aeronautic trappings that brought zest to the occasion in more ways than one. Thanks, "Bill" and "Vaudie."

Speaker Attorney Robinson was declared by Toastmaster Wichers to be the conservator of the human race. Tom can be called papa now for the ninth time—yes, one son and eight daughters.

Toastmaster Wichers' take-off on Representative Fred McEachron: "Fred is a heavy sleeper by the way, and his wife having heard some noises called, 'Fred, there are burglars in the house.' Fred lazily rubbed his eyes and drawlingly said, 'No, ma, there may be some in the senate, but none in the house.'"

George Washington may be the "first in war, first in peace, and first in the heart of his countrymen," but Senator Van Eenennaam says he was not first in everything. Write the senator at Muskegon for the proper answer.

The banquet hall was thrown in darkness. The National Guards sent a fusillade of blank machine gun shots from the turret above. Holland members calmly held their seats, but the Detroit and Chicago guests arose in agitation—Was it the "purple gang" or Al Capone?

Part of the decorations were large and strong across the Army. These nets were filled with balloons but what were they pointed to as the builders of our two fish rearing ponds.

Another decoration rather unique were speed boats with all fishing trappings with long strings of fish hanging over the sides. Back of the speaker's table the wall was banked with flowers, ferns and potted plants with a large American flag overhead, and the word "Welcome" conspicuously displayed.

The heads of the Conservation department were present. Besides Mr. Hogarth there was Ed Heyer, fish education division, who also brought the fish display to the Holland fair; Ray E. Cotton, secretary of the commission, and P. S. Lovejoy, head of the game division. Everyone of them expressed surprise that there was such a large game club in existence.

Stokette Van Huis, local printers, generously donated the programs for the evening.

Fifty Holland Furnace Company salesmen held down a table all by themselves. They sure were treated like warm friends and were perfectly at home even though they came from Maine to California. They put on a special program of singing of their own.

Motto of the Members of the Holland Fish and Game club: "True sportsmanship demands fair, square and courteous treatment towards all, whether at home or in the wild; a true love for the out-of-doors, and a keen desire to protect and replenish our woods, water and wild life."

It is a pleasure to see present Brother H. Ten Brook, head of the Isaac Walton League, who invited the club to participate in their deliberations at Grand Rapids. He stated that both clubs had a mutual proposition. Ten Brook has summered at Macatawa Park for 35 years.

Chairman Klomprens stated that the State Highway Department had donated a used gravel pit located near the fish ponds and the club would receive an ample supply of water from this for the new "shiner" pond. The "shiners" are used to feed the fingerlings.

Ex-Mayor Nichodemus Bosch in a whisper introduced a clever traveling monologue artist at the banquet. The man was clever and Nick was given a vote of thanks for bringing him forward.

Local Game Club Banquet Largest in History

MR. HOGARTH TELLS OF THE WORKINGS OF HIS CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT

Attorney Robinson, First President of the Club, Reviews Club's History

At least 650 guests were crowded into the Holland Armory to participate in the ninth annual banquet given by the Holland Fish and Game Club Tuesday evening. It was a happy crowd that milled about in colorful dress in the way of headgear. The waiters were arrayed in toppers, red, white and blue such as Uncle Sam is often pictured in. It was a case of Uncle Sam serving the "Turks" for the guests each wore a fez and it was a veritable sea of heads bobbing about in rather a colorful aspect.

Newly elected president, Andrew Klomprens had some difficulty in quieting the noisy folks and often called for silence before the speaking program would begin. In opening the program, Mr. Klomprens gave a short resume of why the Holland Game Club had been successful. He pointed out that the fish rearing ponds had been built and that the club now was in possession of a property worth at least $16,000 with no obligations to pay; that it had supplied the local waters annually with a quarter of a million of game fingerling fish from the rearing ponds; that they were establishing a park along side of these ponds, were planting trees and were beautifying the landscape and were preparing to build a third pond in which to raise "shiners."

He praised the wonderful work done by Maurice Kuite, conservation officer, who had been on the job one hundred percent. He pointed out, now that Holland has rearing ponds, the fish situation has been taken care of and the next thought must be given to the hunter. He suggested that the local Game Club co-operate with the Allegan Game Club and through the Conservation department throw open thousands of acres of land commonly known as the "Oak Grubs" around Hamlet, Oakungville and other places in Allegan county, worthless for agriculture, but wonderful for hunting, and set this land aside as a shooting ground. He said the land could, no doubt, be leased for a very reasonable figure. There are also a few spots of this kind in Ottawa county that might be utilized.

Mr. Klomprens stated further that hunters should not abuse the privilege of hunting on other people's property which irritates the farmer and he should by all means ask permission to hunt and while hunting, not mistake a cow for a rabbit or a duck for a pheasant. He said the rights of the farmers should be maintained.

In conclusion, Mr. Klomprens said: "The accomplishments of this game club during the past 9 years were made possible only because everyone got back of it unselfishly and that 100%."

"I have never seen such willingness to help whether it be working with the nets, staging a banquet, work on committees, helping the conservation officer, or going to Lansing for conference—all in behalf of a common cause."

After thanking the different banquet committees and reading the names of those in charge, President Klomprens proceeded to introduce Mr. Wynand Wichers, president-elect of Hope College, who kept his audience in a roar of laughter, telling fish stories and giving take-offs on the different speakers. He first introduced State Representative Fred McEachron, who said how exceedingly pleased he was to be a guest at these annual banquets. He stated that

Three cheers were given in behalf of the new president of Hope College and Charles Gross added a "tiger." "Andy Klomp" was also given a cheer.

Gov. Brucker wired he couldn't come. He was too busy with matters of state.

Baked ham was served at a fish banquet. At least ham is not part of the anatomy of the finny tribe. But then you ever heard of a hog fish? Fish hog, yes!

This winter 24 tons of carp were taken from Black Lake by the carp fishers and these sold for 6c a lb. or $120 a ton.

This year $600 was spent for labor by the Holland Game Club, said President Klomprens and 1,000 lbs. of fish were distributed to the poor. Well that helps that much.

At least one game bird came in for much discussion at the fish banquet namely the stork. He must have been game to bring nine to the home of the club's first president.

Information printed on the banquet program: Trap shooting each week during season at the fish pond. Special groups by appointment. The club maintains Fish Refuges in Black Lake for protection of the spawning game fish. Twenty Volunteer Conservation Officers in the club. 250 Game Fish fingerlings released annually in the public waters of this vicinity. Rearing ponds are financed largely by the sale of carp and other noxious fish taken from Black Lake under the supervision of the Michigan Conservation Department.

The Boy Scouts of America

Two boys, not scouts, who appeared before Judge Collingwood recently, arrested for holding up and robbing a service station, said to the Judge: "You'll never understand us, Judge, until you know the kick we get out of this."

The land has been settled, the bears have been killed, the Indians are no longer on the warpath. Modern youth is living in an age of luxury. Telephones, automobiles, radios, movies. He has a tremendous amount of spare time on his hands, he has barrels of surplus energy in his make-up. Unless he is given a safe and sane outlet for this dynamite there is going to be an explosion.

The Boy Scout organization offers a spare time program that fits the boy's needs. It appeals to his love of adventure. It provides a constructive "kick." It hooks up the things every real boy loves to do: hike, camp, swim, wear a uniform, and win medals for achievement, with the finest code of ethics ever written for boys which says that he shall be trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent. The boy lives up to these laws, because they are part of the game. In doing so he develops into fine manhood and citizenship. He becomes the sort of chap that you will want to put in charge of your business when you step out.

Last month The Boy Scouts of America observed its twenty-first birthday in which scouts from Holland, Zeeland, Allegan, Grand Haven, in fact Ottawa and Allegan Counties took part. From coast to coast over half a million scouts stood at attention and renewed this oath:

"On my honor I will do my best. To do my duty to God and my Country and Obey the Scout Law. To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

The Boy Scout Movement builds character in boys and gives them a good time while it is doing it. It does not aim to reform; its purpose is to form habits and ideals correctly in the first place. It deserves the support of every thinking man. There is a place for you to serve in your community as scoutmaster, committeeman, councilman, or in some other capacity. Are you doing your part?

Hope to Meet Alma in Final M.I.A.A. Game

Friday night at the armory court, the Hope college five will engage in its final M.I.A.A. conference game with Alma as the opponent. As Alma won the first game by a 44 to 43 score, the return battle should be as exciting with thrills and good basketball as the Kalamazoo encounter.

Hope and Alma have one thing in common, in that both schools have defeated Kalamazoo this season for the Hornets' only setbacks. Alma conquered Kalamazoo by a 32 to 26 score at Alma two weeks ago, after Hope had triumphed 31 to 28 at Kalamazoo.

Alma has a smooth team this year under the able leadership of Captain Carl Gussin, for two years an all-conference guard. Gussin is one of the highest scorers in the league, and he is assisted by a number of other stars in Brown, Sharpe and Dean, forwards; Borton, center; and Crawford, guard. Hillsdale trimmed Alma last week by four points, but Gussin was unable to play because of attack of influenza.

Our basketballers are prepared to give their best in the way of basketball ability toward beating Alma. The game will be a close one, and the fellows must have the support of the student body.

This lineup will probably start against Alma: Slighter and Dalman, forwards; Spoelstra, center; and Capt. Becker and Cupery, guards.

A Dangerous Embargo
Four Things You Need
A Big Copper Mine
Real Divining Rod

Los Angeles.—A gasoline price war holds public interest for the moment here. Standard Oil of California's cut of 2 cents, made to meet erratic price cutting, will be followed by deeper cuts by other companies. The oil situation is bad, and an elimination process will gradually weed out weaker sisters. Then consumers that have been buying gas too cheap will even up matters by paying too much.

The antiquated Sherman act preventing common sense business arrangements makes conditions worse. Some American companies demand an embargo on oil from foreign countries. Powerful companies that own inexhaustible subterranean "lakes of oil" in Venezuela and elsewhere oppose the embargo.

They want to bring in their cheap foreign oil. They are protecting this country's interests, perhaps without knowing or caring. An embargo would hasten the exhaustion of American wells, putting consumers and the mother industry at the mercy of foreign well owners. What that would mean the country learned when Britain controlled rubber and regulated the price.

If you have four things, intelligence, energy, money and interest in the welfare of others, you can do good work. Mrs. Greenway of Tucson, Ariz., has the four. She started a furniture factory, for ex-service men not sick enough for a hospital but needing recuperation in a perfect climate. That did much good. Then she built and is running a Tucson hotel, made up of separate bungalows, all furniture made by the service men, and all for sale to guests. Just at present the place is packed, but try to go there anyhow, if you go to Tucson. If you do not go you make a big mistake.

Such a woman as Mrs. Greenway, finding a way to help men injured in their country's service, working hard, with no profit, and little thanks for herself, should be at least praised. Mr. "Pepper," Tucson's king of all newsmen, assures you that Mrs. Greenway is "an incomparable lady," putting the accent on "incomparable" on the ante-penultimate syllable, "par." "She gave me," says he, "two tickets for the opera that cost at least $5 apiece. It was called 'The Walkers,' and say, you never heard that kind of music in your life."

This endorsement of his Walker, would gratify Wagner.

If you own copper stocks, you are engaged by proxy in an interesting, changing business and might learn about it by visiting the Cananea Copper mine, a little south of the Mexican border, near Douglas, Ariz. That mine had stock selling at $5 a share. Copper, running as high as 40 per cent was found and the stock jumped to $200 a share. Now the Anaconda Copper company owns it.

Cananea in normal times pays the Southern Pacific railroad a freight bill of $1,000,000 a year. Mr. Weed, manager of the mine, a blue-eyed, young American from the Michigan School of Mines, with his forehead leaning out above his eyes, learned the real business working in a mine after graduating. He continues learning the business by running one of the greatest mines on earth.

Aimless speculation and fruitless effort often lead to scientific accomplishment. Chemistry is the successor to alchemy, seeking to change inferior metals to gold. And now the old divining rod, with credulity as its only asset, may be replaced by a "rod" that really locates what you seek.

A needle, called the Hotchkiss super dip, described before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, takes advantage of the fact that certain deposits disturb the earth's normal magnetic lines. In the hands of a prospector, knowing geology, that new divining rod is expected to reveal deposits of gold and other precious substances. You are not advised to invest in any such contrivance just yet, but you might speculate in this: What would be the effect of the world's gold standard nations if it became suddenly possible to multiply the gold supply ten or a thousand, at little cost?

Scientists say typhus fever is spread by fleas that bite rats, then humans. Recalling that Rocky Mountain fever, spread by ticks, was conquered by "tick-juice inoculation," the scientists suggest that a similar remedy for typhus may be made of the rat-biting flea. Ground-up fleas as a medicine would not be pleasing.

Human beings and their governments should have the energy to eliminate rats. Then fleas could not bite them. Similarly, they should wipe out crocodiles, that supply the death germs of sleeping sickness to the tsetse fly.

Impossible? Suppose each rat contained a gold dollar and each crocodile a $10 bill, how long would they last?

Turkey, seeking to uncover the faces and also the legs of her women, starts a competition for "the most beautiful pair of legs in an Turkey."

There is a purpose, in Turkey, seeking to abolish leg-swallowing skirts.

the Peace, Sam Miller, 1980; member of the Board of Public Works, Jim McLean, 1985.

The aldermanic election was tame in most wards. Albert Kleis, in the first ward, had no opposition. He received 369 votes. Andrew Hyma, in the third, fared as well with 381 votes. Ben Steffens, in the fourth ward, with 472 votes to his credit was also unopposed as was Benjamin F. Veltman of the sixth ward who had 342 votes.

In the second ward, things were a little different, Frank Brieve, Sr., the "cookie-king" is still king of the ward, winning by more than a two to one vote. The vote stood as follows: George Moomey, 13; Simon De Groot, 57; Frank Brieve, 147.

In the fifth ward, there was a battle royal between five candidates for alderman, Abel Jostma, local contractor, and present alderman, receiving the most votes, and Peter Huyser, for many years a school teacher, came in second. The vote stood as follows: Joe Geerts, 101; Abel Postma, 208; Peter Huyser, 143; Nick Jonker, 67; Frank Lieveense, 118. This vote indicates that the names of Postma and Huyser will have to go back on the ballot for the April election.

We are also electing constables and we sometimes wonder the reason why. Anyway Sam Plaggenhoef was named in the first ward, Egbert Beekman in the second ward, John Vandenberg in the third ward and Albert Van Huis in the sixth ward. None of these candidates had opposition.

However, there was a real scrap for this office in the fourth ward where Heinie Huyppers, with 189 votes, was defeated by Peter Roos, with 281 votes. In the fifth ward, Peter Lieveense won handsily with 348 votes over Louis Kolean, who had 278 votes.

In the battle for County School Commissioner, Gerrit Groenewoud had a real walk-over over R. P. Leestma. Mr. Groenewoud, who is now serving, received 1,967 votes in the city while Leestma received 720 votes. Both are Holland men. Returns from the county indicate that Groenewoud is elected by a very large majority.

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

By T. E. STEWARD

Tea

TEA grows wild in abundance in the mountainous region that separates China from India. It also is found in Ceylon and other parts of the Flowery Kingdom. Records show that it has been known in China for more than 4,000 years, so little doubt remains that it came into cultivation in that land, where it is also native. From there its cultivation spread, little by little, probably reaching India earlier than to Japan.

A Japanese legend relates that a priest who came to China from India about 519 A. D., having come to sleep at a time when he wished to remain awake for the purpose of praying, was so angry with himself that he cut off his eyelids and hung them on a bush. From this bush sprang the tea shrub, with its qualities of sleep prevention.

This legend, however, has as little truth with respect to the time of tea's discovery as it has with the "origin of species," for the Chinese book, "Pensiao," a compendium of knowledge, mentions tea as far back as 2700 B. C. Other books written 300 to 600 B. C. also reveal a full knowledge of the plant and of the drink made from steeping its leaves.

Although tea-growing is today one of the major agricultural industries of India and Ceylon, and tea probably spread into those countries from China before it reached Japan, it is not of very ancient cultivation in the Indian peninsula, as there is no word for tea in the Sanskrit, or ancient Indian language.

Up to the middle of the Eighteenth century tea was little known in western Europe and was one of the delicacies brought from the Spice Islands of the Far East by the trading fleets of Holland, Portugal, France and England. Of the plant which produced it almost nothing was known, and the great Swedish botanist, Linnaeus, writing of it, said there were two principal varieties, the green tea and the black. Today it is known, however, that the same plant, generally speaking, produces all teas, the difference in color being due to different processes of curing and manufacture, and to the different places from which the leaves are plucked.

Brazil is the country in the Western hemisphere where tea growing has been introduced most successfully.

Holland Township Election Proves Rather Exciting

Holland township election was rather exciting with four contests. Charles Eilanders for clerk, with 316 votes won over Jake Oosterbaan with 227 votes. John Eilander, a son of Charlie, winning for treasurer with 410 votes over John Vander Ploeg with 129 votes. Dick Plaggenars won for the Board of Review with 319 votes over John V. Huizenga with 107 and Egbert Boone with 104.

Albert Hyma for supervisor, Peter Kuysers for highway commissioner and Paul Schellema for Justice of the Peace were unopposed, each having 543 votes.

The following constables who were unopposed were elected: Sid Tjalma, Joe E. Karlux, Milo Oosterbaan and P. Cook. Gerrit Groenewoud won with a handsome majority for school commissioner over Leestma. His vote was 379 over Leestma's 157.

The following overseers were elected: John Geerts, District No. 1; Manus Laarmann, District No. 2; Gerrit H. Ter Beek, District No. 3; and Albert Kapenga, District No. 4.

LITERARY CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Jay DenHerder, president; Mrs. George Kollen, second vice-president; Mrs. J. D. French, recording secretary; Mrs. F. M. Lieveense, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas Marslie, treasurer and Mrs. George Van De Riet, Mrs. Edward Voemans and Mrs. J. J. Brower, directors.

The Dorian Society of Hope college entertained with a clever one-act play entitled "The Turn of a Hair." Mrs. W. Curtis Snow and Mrs. Harold Karsten furnished the music for the afternoon.

Walter Studley of Ganges township will leave soon to assist Mr. Simonds in setting out the trees.

MEMORY FAILS. FOX PELT LOST

While hunting cottontail rabbits near Coopersville, Ottawa county, a sportsman saw a handsome silver-black fox scurrying for cover ahead of his hound. For the life of him he couldn't remember whether black fox were on the open list or not, and in the short moment he had to decide what to do, he played safe and allowed the fox to dash past. Now he's sorry he hasn't the fox pelt.

CARRYING LOADED RIFLES IN DEER SEASON CAUSED MOST OF ARRESTS

Carrying loaded rifles in automobiles and carrying rifles in deer season before the opening of the season are the two deer laws most generally violated by hunters preceding and during 15 days open deer season, according to the Conservation Department.

In a report issued today by the law enforcement division, listing the convictions for conservation law violations during November, of scores of various laws violated, 78 convictions were listed for carrying rifles or guns loaded with buckshot in closed areas, and 59 convictions were listed for carrying loaded guns in automobiles.

The approach and opening of the various trapping seasons brought a long list of violators. The muskrat trapping laws headed the list of this class of laws violated. The Department's report shows 43 men during November for trapping without licenses. Fifty-five convictions are listed for trapping rats out of season.

Among the less numerous convictions for violations of various deer laws were: headlighting deer, 7; illegal killing or possession of doe, 25; illegal possession of venison other than doe, 28; killing or possession of fawn, 7. Eight convictions are listed for illegal possession of partridge.

Seth A. Caldwell, South Bend, Indiana, received the most severe penalty of any of the 622 violators convicted. Convicted of perjury to obtain a resident deer license, Caldwell paid a fine and costs totalling $100.

With competent leadership, paid and voluntary, and with ample resources supplied not only by the people who live in the immediate community but by others also living in various parts of the city, this adaptation, too long delayed, can be achieved.

The state supreme court of Michigan ruled that persons who by their own acts weaken their physical condition sufficiently to put them to sleep at the wheel of an automobile may correctly be charged with negligent homicide when fatal accidents results. The conviction of Maurice Robinson of Allegan was affirmed. On May 18, 1929, John Harold was fatally injured while riding with Robinson. The latter admitted he had been up all night and had consumed some beer before starting to drive from Muskegon to Allegan. He went to sleep, drove on the wrong side of the road and a crash resulted. The court held that while the fact that a driver went to sleep does not necessarily constitute negligence, when he deliberately operates a car when he has no sleep and has otherwise impaired his faculties, the act of going to sleep constitutes negligence.

E. S. Gale, a resident of Holland the greater part of his life, has obtained a book containing a complete record of his ancestry from 1640, when Richard Gale settled in Watertown, Mass., until 1860. Gale and his sister, Mrs. Catherine Shepperd of Brewerton, N.Y., are the only survivors of nine generations of American ancestry. Gale will be 80 years of age March 4.

WOMAN DIES FROM INJURIES SUSTAINED IN A FALL

Miss Minnie Roest, aged 67, died Monday at Holland hospital from injuries sustained in a fall several days ago. Miss Roest lived alone at the old family homestead, 42 W. Ninth street. She came from an old pioneer family, John Roest, Sr., being one of the leading citizens in the early day. He not only was mayor of this city, but was state senator and held a county office and many other positions of trust. He was one of the early Holland harbor builders and often was the storm center in politics. He was the founder of "De Grondwet," now owned by Mrs. L. Mulder.

She is survived by one brother, Robert Roest of Los Angeles, California, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Roest. Also several nieces and nephews survive.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nibbelink-Notier Funeral Home. Dr. T. W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Holland Township cemetery.

Mrs. K. Hoffman, aged 88 years, ten months, twenty-seven days, died unexpectedly at her home in this village on Friday. She was apparently in good health for her age. Left to mourn her departure are six children.

FOREST GROVE

Last Wednesday evening, the Western Seminary team of Holland played a game of basketball against local players. The local team was drafted from the ranks. The preachers won a very hotly contested game by a score of 25 to 24, after two periods of overtime.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Hofsteen and son Joe of Holland were guests at the home of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. John Overzet, last week Thursday evening.

Prospects of colder weather are setting at rest an anxiety fruit growers in the Fennville fruit section may have had concerning premature bursting of fruit buds. One of the conditions that has helped the fruit buds through the mild weather of this winter has been the absence of moisture in the buds, owing to a dry fall and little precipitation this winter. Peach buds, which are especially sensitive, were said to be in excellent shape.

Merchants And Police Are To Co-operate

PLANS FOR PARKING THIS SUMMER ARE DISCUSSED; VANDER MEULEN SPEAKS

Rather a zealous merchants meeting was held in the city hall Monday night when many matters of importance came up. The recent robberies in Holland no doubt brought up some police discussion which went from store protection to night parking in the downtown districts.

Merchants for some time have been peeved at the way cars have been parked on Saturday nights, many motorists coming downtown as early as 6:30 and stay parked until after 10 o'clock without a move thus preventing real shoppers from coming near their places of business.

The police board and the merchants favored to extend the parking limit Saturday nights from 6 till 9 o'clock, however, not to make a change the rest of the week when stores are not open for business. The merchants have a real kick coming on this condition and no doubt they will get relief.

The merchants also asked for more police protection at night and Dave Vanderschel, a member of the police board, stated that arrangements were already being made to put on a special night man to protect the business district and this man, it is expected, will be Peter Lievensse, for some time deputy sheriff.

Mr. Vanderschel pointed out that the merchants should also co-operate and keep their alleys clean for in many instances it is hard work for a man to go through them because of the labyrinth of boxes and other "trucks" on which clothes were torn and soiled. A suggestion was also made to put more lights in the alleys so officers could see and furthermore lights keep away burglars.

Mr. Vanderschel also mapped out the new traffic method to be adopted. All streets will be properly marked off and the traffic lanes will be defined. This new diagram has been approved by the police board and seemed very satisfactory to the merchants present.

The merchants also demanded that heavy truck and trailer traffic be kept off of River and Eighth streets, that these heavy trucks be not parked on the public streets at night as now occurs. The tannery site was referred to as a suitable place for public parking of these heavy trucks and other vehicles as well.

Jake Lokker, chairman of the road committee, told the members of the Merchants Association what a special committee had done on road work outside of Holland. First that headway was being made on the resurfacing of the Saugatuck-Hamilton-Allegan road is being taken up with the state highway department and progress was made in that direction, and third, that enough shoulders be put on the Holland-Grand Haven road to get a road bed of 40 feet and while the Zeeland-Holland road grading and bridge work for a 10-foot road a 20-foot road is all that is possible, at least this year.

Dick Boter, president of the Chamber of Commerce who is also a member of the association, took part in a great deal of the discussion as did other members of the association. Chairman C. Dornbos then introduced Cornelius Vander Meulen, of the First State Bank, who gave one of his convincing half-hour talks.

Mr. Vander Meulen stated that making profits was the least beneficial to the building of civilization, but rather that development of personality and character were the fundamentals in sustaining our civilization.

Mr. Vander Meulen stated that inquisitiveness rather than acquisitiveness have been the attributes that make for progress. The desire to make profits has not produced the world's wealth to any great degree. It has rather been the curiosity to find out about the facts of nature and life which has resulted in the great advances in material prosperity and the betterment of living standards.

There have been times as in the middle ages, Mr. Vander Meulen said, when this period of curiosity was stifled by both church and state, but then, too, the world was at a standstill. Then came men like Galileo and Columbus and Newton whose curiosity overcame their fears, and the wheels of progress were started again. The curiosity resulted in the discovery of facts which you call modern science. These secrets of nature have been revealed often times by men who in nowise could be credited with business sense. They were not at all interested in profits, however, their contributions to knowledge placed at the disposal of the industrial and business world brought power such as the ancient world never dreamed of. In fact the world today has more power than it knows how to control. If the business world knew how to control the power at its disposal, there would be no depression now. To have control of its power is a present day problem of business as a whole.

In closing the speaker suggested that the individual business man, in order to be successful, must likewise gain control of his own business in the three main departments, namely sales, purchases and operating expenses.

The next meeting of the Association will be held Monday, April 6th. At that time Louis F. Allan, in charge of the training of salesmen for the Holland Furnace Co., will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "The Customers' Viewpoint." At this meeting all the salesmen and women of Holland will be invited by the merchants to listen to this talk.

The membership committee in reporting, stated that 109 members were now on the list of the association and the hope was to pass the 140 mark which existed last year.

Mr. Robinson continued, "When such a showing in strength was made, Holland had very little trouble with outside game wardens and today, unlike ten years ago, there is a spirit of co-operation between Lansing and Holland. There is no 'passing the buck' but the Holland Game Club knows today that when Lansing says 'no' there are good reasons therefore and respect and co-operate with George Hogarth and his department.

"Time was that we might not catch calico bass, but if there was a big enough howl from the Holland Game Club, the Lansing department would re-christen them over night and call them strawberry bass. Well, strawberries were reasonable for hook and line in Black Lake at any time."

In conclusion, Mr. Robinson said: "I am not endeavoring to draw a parallel between the department of yesterday and the department of today. Now we have a 'man of the hour' in Mr. Hogarth. He is firm, but just. He is a true conservationist. Hours of the day from early morning until late at night and he is doing a grand work in terms of conservation.

"You see that net? It means nothing unless there are willing hands to pull it. It means nothing unless their efforts are backed by the officials of a live game club who receive the co-operation of a large membership. We have been in existence for nine years. What we have been acquiring through dint of hard work, unselfish efforts, a pulling together. This organization is the out-growth that supplied a great need in this community and through it all we have received the fullest co-operation of the conservation department."

"You see on this net the banner 'Holland.' Here it is only a decoration but I want to tell you that it was the Holland spirit that made this possible. The same spirit that made our municipal light plant, our sewage disposal plant, our system of public parks and our endless number of civic enterprises possible."

ZEELAND HATCHERYMEN SHARE BURDEN OF CARING FOR SUFFERERS

Although wagonloads of clothing are not leaving Zeeland for the drought region in Arkansas, Zeeland is doing its part to aid through the product which has made this section famous.

Local hatcherymen are shipping thousands of baby chicks to the sufferers. The free chicks are going out of the local postoffice daily to replace the fowls that had to be killed in order that those wanting in the drought area might have something to eat.

George Caball, superintendent of Grandview Poultry Farm, is in charge of the shipments.—G. R. Press.

Exchange Club Hears of Tulips, Lawns & Gardens

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER FAILS TO SHOW UP, SUBSTITUTE QUICKLY SECURED

The subject scheduled by the Program Committee for discussion at the regular meeting on Wednesday noon was "Advertising" but at the last moment notice was received that Mr. E. L. Triflett of the National Advertising Co. of Detroit, could not be present to be a speaker to the Holland Exchange Club. The committee then appealed to Mr. C. A. Gross, the efficient secretary of our Chamber of Commerce, and he took care of matters and obtained a substitute who more than filled the bill.

Mr. John Dethmers, the county prosecuting attorney was present as a guest as he is a member of the Zeeland Exchange Club. A visitor of unusual interest to the Holland club was Mr. J. E. Laramy of the Michigan Lithographing Co. of Grand Rapids, Michigan, a native son of the Grand Rapids Exchange Club. He was one of the two men who about eleven years ago came over from Grand Rapids to organize the Holland club. He is also state president of Travelers' Protective Association and hopes to organize a post here in the near future. Mr. A. D. Carrell of Brown & Carrell Ins. Agency, Grand Rapids, Michigan, was also present. He is the state secretary of the T. P. Association.

Mr. Gene Heeter, the chorister, brought a double quartet from the Holland High school, who sang well three selections. He called the attention of the members present to the fine program to be presented on Thursday evening by the Grand Rapids Schubert club. Alderman Frank Brieve, Sr., was welcomed by the president, Prof. P. E. Hinkamp, as the newest member.

Mr. Gross, in introducing the speaker, spoke of the wonderful advertising Holland is receiving due to its Tulip week. He read a part of a reprint of a radio broadcast from Jacksonville, Florida, extolling the beauty and progressiveness of Holland in putting on this Tulip Festival. Our city is being advertised in a very happy way through this. He introduced as our speaker, Prof. C. E. Wildon, Dept. of Horticulture, M. S. C. Lansing, who spoke on the subject, "Better Lawns." He was scheduled to address the Holland Lawn Club on the same subject in the afternoon and graciously consented to speak at noon to the Exchange club.

Mr. Wildon said that the greatest cooperative organization in the world today is the Florist Telegraph Delivery. So efficiently does it work that flowers ordered and paid for in Holland can be delivered in India or almost any other part of the world. Care of lawns is just another feature to make our homes beautiful and cities attractive. He was given close attention showing that people in Holland are interested in having good lawns as so many own their own homes.

Mr. Hogarth gave a detailed statement of the cost of running the different departments and it sure was a "pretty penny" but worth it if the state is going to maintain its forests, its streams, its game, its fish and its natural beauty.

He spoke at some length upon the road-tax which might and might not be passed and also spoke of the injustice that was brought upon the people to have the state carry all the expense of preventing forest fires while the owners of these forests paid not a penny for the protection and they were the most directly benefitted. It appears that there is a bill being considered, changing all of this.

In conclusion, Mr. Hogarth said, "I do wish to state that our staff at Lansing have a great feeling for the Holland club due largely to the officers of your organization. In all our activities, we have met on one common ground. All have used common sense in ironing out vexing questions that often come up in matters of this kind. And I want to say further that no club has given us better co-operation for the good of conservation than has the Holland Fish and Game Club."

Local Game Club Banquet Largest in History

Black Lake had been his fishing grounds for years and though he lived in Hudsonville, he felt that he was part of this community. He stated that he had never failed to respond to handle legislative game matters that would benefit an organization of this kind for according to the roster it was a people's organization composed of men in all walks of life.

Senator Van Eenennaam was next introduced and he let loose a flood of rare stories that brought a great deal of merriment. He spoke of prospective game legislation that would include Black Lake as a water where speckle-bass could be caught in May rather than during "dog-days" and that without doubt the perch limit would be raised from 25 to 50, taking into consideration all sizes caught. He stated that he would be glad to help and follow out any suggestion of merit that the club might propose.

Mr. Wichers next introduced attorney Thomas N. Robinson, who gave a review of how the club was first started. He said the first thought of a club was the ruthless fishing of carp by the killing of a great many small fish. Following this controversy, there was the perch question. Neighboring conservation officers from Grand Rapids left their beaten paths to nose in on our lakes and brought their complaints constantly to the conservation department. Foolish arrests were made.

Committees went to Lansing, pointing out that Black Lake was connected with Lake Michigan waters and the perch limit did not apply. The head of the Conservation department agreed and told the boys to go home and fish accordingly. Before they got back there seemed to be a reversal of opinion and the outside game wardens were ready to arrest. It brought such bitterness in Holland that a game club was organized to take affairs in their own hands and immediately the club grew to unusual proportions and the conservation department at Lansing recognized that they had a real club to deal with of 500, and later 700 and now 1,000.

Mr. Robinson continued, "When such a showing in strength was made, Holland had very little trouble with outside game wardens and today, unlike ten years ago, there is a spirit of co-operation between Lansing and Holland. There is no 'passing the buck' but the Holland Game Club knows today that when Lansing says 'no' there are good reasons therefore and respect and co-operate with George Hogarth and his department.

He is firm, but just. He is a true conservationist. Hours of the day from early morning until late at night and he is doing a grand work in terms of conservation.

Tells of Trip From Holland to Dark Africa

MISS BREEN, MISSIONARY SAW MANY THINGS OF IN-TEREST IN MAKING
JOURNEY

Missionary in Africa

Rafin, Kada,

Nigeria, Africa

Miss Veenstra and I just got up and had our tea. We're on "trek" toward home. We're all anxious to get there even our native boys. Our stay in Donga was so nice, and surely the Lord did much there through Miss Veenstra. It was just like a revival. Just think, twelve made confession of sin they had committed, one had made confession of faith, and two, who had been "backsliders" for years, came and asked to be restored in fellowship. In the afternoon we had communion. It was truly a blessed Sunday.

Agro, the native evangelist from Kwambai, came as he couldn't wait to see Miss Veenstra and the new Batwriya. He is full of zeal for the word. He preaches and teaches at Kwambai. After we are home at Lupwa for a week we intend to pack up and go to Kwambai for a few weeks, as Miss Veenstra and I are the only white workers in all these four stations.

Yesterday we packed and went over things in general and greeted all those who came to say "Sanu!" and tell how sorry they were we were going. Yesterday great swarms of locusts came and utterly destroyed some farms. We didn't see them, but they say it was just black with them on the other side of the river. The natives went down to the river and beat drums, yelled, etc., to keep the locusts away. One day they had a great big Mohammedan oblation service to ask Allah to protect them.

We arose at 4:30 this morning and finished putting loads together and getting the carriers off. The boys left at 6 o'clock and we at 6:30. A whole group from the church went with us to the river, where we were crossing with us in the native canoe. We sat in the middle on chairs. Because of the abundance of rain there was quite a stream in the swamp, so they took us as far as possible, then we got out. Many of the bridges had broken, so they had put branches across. One of the men went first, and we put our hands on his shoulders and thus got across. By that time it was 7:30 and we started on our bicycles, it being my first long stretch, ten miles. By 9 o'clock we were nicely settled in our mud hut awaiting the loads.

Later—Chen-Chenji.

Now we're at the second stop, 14 miles farther. After writing we had our evening meal and took a walk. It was such a beautiful sunset after a cloudy day.

The native evangelist and our native boys had a service at the chief's door. We were in bed by 9:30, however, and up again at 4:30. After getting things packed and the men off, we started at 6:15. We stopped at two villages along the way to preach. Tomorrow we start a little earlier and go twenty miles to Takum. Here comes the boys with our camp beds, so we can rest.

Takum—Saturday Night.

Just another edition. Now we're at Takum. We went to the chief's compound and held an outdoor meeting Thursday night. About 120 came. Agro, the native evangelist, preached in the Juskum language. On Friday we arose at 4 o'clock, called the boys, who pulled down the beds and packed them. Then we called the carriers. About 5 o'clock they were ready to start. We started at 5:15. It was still dark, so the boys pushed our cycles until dawn. The road was pretty bad at first. About 6 o'clock we got on our bicycles. We stopped along the way and had our devotions. We were very glad to have the native evangelist with us as several times there were very bad bridges, just some limbs across. Then he would first take his bicycle across, then ours, then we would put our hands on his shoulder and go across.

Many places we get off and walk up, as one got so tired when cycling up a steep hill. Some of the way was grand with a nice wide road and a coast down hill. Each time we stopped at a village we'd hold a meeting. We had some beautiful rides in the early morning.

Before reaching Takum we had to climb a steep mountain pass. They carried our bicycles while we walked, as the path was all sharp rocks. We surely were glad to see Miss Veenstra's Takum home at 9:30. Then we had breakfast and rested. In the afternoon the men came with the loads. The church people came too, for they all wanted to greet Miss Veenstra. They acted as if she had been on furlough. They were so glad to see her. Then they turned to me, as I'm the object of curiosity here. One man from Lupwa couldn't wait until Monday, but came eight miles to see the new Batwriya.

GRAND HAVEN P.M. STATION ROBBED AGAIN

The Pere Marquette warehouse at Grand Haven, located in the north end of the station, was broken into some time after midnight and $120 worth of cigarettes stolen. The theft was reported to the county officers by the agent, Harry DeMarise, upon opening up the warehouse this morning. Entrance was made by breaking a window and then opening the door and carrying out the heavy cartons. It was estimated about 100 small cartons were in one large container. There were other cartons in the warehouse and other valuable merchandise which was untouched. This is the fourth robbery to be pulled at the station within a year, and a number of minor cigarette robberies have been reported. Marvin Den Herder and C. Dilley, Pere Marquette detective, are investigating.

LONG-LOST ALLEGAN WILL SENT THROUGH MAIL, BUT BY WHOM?

Several months ago the estate of George D. Haight of Allegan was settled in circuit court when suit was brought to collect for the care of her father by Mrs. Irving Fox. Mrs. Fox said she knew there was a will compensating her for her services and also knew the will stipulated that Mrs. Harry Jewett of Allegan, who lived in the Haight home many years, was bequeathed $300, but the will could not be found.

A few days ago the lost will came through the mails to Mrs. Fox. There was no indication who sent it. Mrs. Fox wonders who held the will while the estate was being probated and the will will be offered for probate and Mrs. Jewett doubtless will receive her bequest.

Dr. Dimment on Parish House Dedication Program

Central Reformed church, Grand Rapids, will open its new $65,000 parish house this month in a series of meetings beginning with a parish night Wednesday evening, March 18, when the Central Reformed congregation will have a chance to inspect the new building.

After the tour of inspection the congregation will assemble in the new Fellowship hall, which is the old church basement remodeled, for a praise service led by Dr. John A. Dykstra, pastor of the church.

A community night will be held the following evening, March 19; pastors of the other churches of the city will be invited to visit the parish house and the building will be thrown open for inspection. Dr. E. A. Dimment, retiring president of Hope college, will be heard during this program.

The parish house is a three-floor structure and tower, according to architecture and material with the main church building. On the first floor are the rooms for the intermediate department of the church school and the men's parlor.

On the second floor is the women's parlor, class rooms, and junior department assembly room. The primary department of the church school is accommodated on the third floor of the building, where an assembly room and class rooms with suitable furnishings are provided for the youngest members of the church school. In the tower is one of the most attractive rooms in the building, the pastor's study, which is lighted from all four sides, a fireplace and book shelves add to the beauty and comfort of the room. Fireplaces have been generously provided in the building. Both the women's parlor and the men's parlor have fireplaces and the junior assembly room is provided with one also.

Floors in the parish house match up with the levels in the church. The first ground floor of the parish house is joined by a corridor with the remodeled basement of the church which contains the new assembly hall, "Fellowship hall." This hall is equipped with a modern stage. The church kitchens in the basement have also been remodeled.

The second floor connects by a corridor with the first or auditorium floor of the church.

ALLEGAN COUNTY MAN DIES IN BOAT EXPLOSION

Word was received telling of the death of Jesse W. Wise, living at Gobles, Allegan county, who was spending the winter in Florida. Wise with his wife was a passenger on a pleasure boat several weeks ago. Gasoline on the boat exploded and several persons were killed. Wise was said to be the last to leave the boat, he having helped everyone else off. After several weeks of suffering the unfortunate man died of his burns. Mr. and Mrs. Wise have been spending their winters in Florida for several years. The Wises lived on a farm south of Gobles.

JESSIE EDGE, WRIGHT TOWNSHIP, SHIP, ADMITS SETTING FIRE TO PURDY BARN

Admitting his guilt to setting fire to a barn belonging to F. C. Purdy of Wright township Dec. 28, 1930, Jessie Edge of Wright township was arraigned in justice court, bound over to circuit court, and there pleaded guilty to the charge of arson on Wednesday night. He will be sentenced in a few days by Judge Fred T. Miles. The extreme penalty is 20 years in state's prison.

Edge was brought to the county jail on Wednesday morning by the county officers where State Fire Marshal Mertens questioned the man. He denied the charge but later broke down and confessed he had set fire to the barn in revenge for some grievances, which he claimed to have had against Purdy. Edge was taking care of the Purdy farm while the owner was at Mayo Brothers Hospital in Rochester, Minn., for treatment.

Beside losing the barn and contents several head of cattle were burned.

Real Contest in Park Township for Supervisor

There was a large vote out in Park Township Monday with the newly adopted primary system of voting. George Heneveld, supervisor for many years, had a real battle with George Straight, Straight winning in the first precinct at Waukazo by 119 votes against 90 votes. But that is Straight's precinct. The tables were turned, however, in the second precinct on the south shore of Black Lake, where George Heneveld lives. There Heneveld received 212 votes and Straight 77 votes. In the two precincts Heneveld won over Straight by a majority of 106. Well, anyway, George won.

The only fellow contestant was Fred Van Wieren over Thalen by six to one vote. Van Wieren received 237 and Thalen 40 votes in the second precinct and Van Wieren 154 and Thalen 55 in the first precinct.

Arthur Witteveen for clerk, Dick Nieuwma for treasurer, Nick Stielstra for Justice of the Peace, Peter Dykman for Board of Review, were unopposed.

And just think of it, "Jack" Vander Veen is now a constable of Park. His fellow constables elected are: Otto Wagner, Ray Tardiff and Albert Kuipers. Jake Waterway was also a candidate but his 9 votes were flooded by the others.

For Overseer, district number one, Albert Timmer was named; for Overseer, district number two, Oscar Witteveen was elected; for Overseer, district number three, Ed. Kammeraad was elected.

For county school commissioner, Groenewoud won easily. In precinct number one, Groenewoud received 112, Leestma 67; in precinct number two, Groenewoud 196, Leestma 73, or a majority of 168 for Groenewoud.

FLOATING FISH SHANTIES MUSKOGEE LAKE MENACE

Floating fish shanties again are proving a menace to pleasure boating on Muskegon lake, due to the rapid ice breakup which prevented fishermen from taking the shacks to shore in time. Officials of Muskegon Lake Yacht club have suggested some legislation or ordinance should be designed to eliminate this annual situation.

One suggestion is that fishermen be bonded for $25 at the start of the season, to raise a fund to assure clearance of the lake for summer craft. Last year the club members spent considerable time clearing the lake of half-submerged fish shanties and this spring the work will be even more difficult, with more of the structures unclaimed.

The Ford Motor company of the Netherlands today signed a contract with the municipality of Amsterdam for the purchase of 40 acres in the western part of Amsterdam harbor for $350,000. The construction of a new plant, it was said, will be begun as soon as the municipal council ratifies the sale. Soon we will see "Dutch Lizzies."

Seven stitches had to be taken in the scalp of Lowell Piefenthal to close a severe wound suffered Sunday when he drove into a ditch at Wetmore corners, four miles north of Allegan, to avoid a collision with a car driven by Walter Haas of Miner lake. Piefenthal's car turned over and he lost several teeth. A young woman companion escaped injury. Piefenthal was treated at Emergency hospital here.

The Allegan Gazette prints a picture of Eugene Heeter, Holland American Legion band director, and also tells in a half-column article how wonderful our band really is. The Holland organization is to give a concert in Allegan.

Business men of Nunice, Ottawa county, have organized a fire squad and purchased necessary equipment for fighting fire. W. H. Easterly and R. S. Brown were elected fire chiefs.

Three Greater Muskegon milk companies will reduce milk prices beginning tomorrow. Quarts will retail at 11 cents and pints at 6 cents, as compared with 12 and 7 cents, respectively, the rate which has been in effect some time.

Delegates To State G. O. P. Meet Elected

County Republicans Feel Loss of
G. J. Diekema at Convention
Held at Grand Haven

At the Republican county convention held Friday afternoon at the Court House, Grand Haven, William E. Slater of Nunica was elected temporary chairman and William Wilbur, county clerk, temporary secretary. Secretary Wilder, clerk of the county committee in the absence of the county chairman, William Hatton, called the convention to order.

The following committees were selected: Order of business, Ned Spencer, William Thompson, Fred Graham; credentials, Ray Tardiff, James Scott, Philip Vinkemulder; resolution, Fritz Jonkman, William Havedink, William Connelly; appointment of delegates, George Straight, Simon Kleyn, Henry Prins.

All during the convention there was a feeling that some one was missing. This lack was especially felt by seasoned members. The smiling, dynamic personality of the late Gerrit J. Diekema was missing. For years there has never been a convention but that the voice of that orator was not heard, supporting the policies of Republicanism.

In this vein did Clarence Lokker of Holland, a nephew of the late minister, remind delegates of the loss of the leader and resolutions on his passing were drafted by the resolutions committee and adopted by the convention.

Judge Fred T. Miles addressed the convention as not favoring the proposed law of capital punishment and gave an expose on the merits of prohibition.

The election of delegates was changed from the old order of committee selection. Instead delegates were chosen by nomination from districts. The committee on apportionment reported the number of delegates necessary for the several districts of the county as follows: Holland and Grand Haven three, Zeeland one, and Spring Lake and Grand Haven townships together, one. Each district nominated its own delegates and alternates who were confirmed by the convention at large.

The following were chosen delegates: William Havedink, P. Leavenworth, James Scott, Angus De Kruit, William Connelly, T. W. Van Hiteema, Philip Vinkemulder, William E. Slater, Dick Plaggenmeyer, R. W. Tardiff, William Wilbur, James J. Danhof, Baltus Pellegrom, Andrew Klomparens, Charles H. McBride, Henry Pelgrim, Ernest C. Brooks, Frank Bieve, R. Lievense, and William Thompson; alternates, Gerrit Yntema, Harm Plaggenmeyer, Frank Lake, Benj. C. Van Lo, George Borck, E. J. McCall, Fred Graham, H. Lydens, John J. Wolbrink, Henry Suissa, Fred Boumer, George L. Olsen, Peter Van Zyl, Corabelle Verhoeke, Arthur Van Duren, C. A. Lokker, F. Jonkman, John Walton, Archie Van der Wal and Arie Van der Hill. The delegates go unpledged and uninstructed to the state convention.

To correct so-called inconsistencies in the election laws, whereby but one officer, a county school commissioner, must be elected at the biennial election once in every fourth year, Wm. Connelly, representing a committee from Spring Lake, requested the convention adopt resolutions to be presented to the state legislature suggesting the term of office be changed so that the election coincide with the fall election. This was adopted.

Mr. Connelly headed a committee of three, selected at the Spring Lake Township caucus, Feb. 17, requesting the county convention to suggest the change to the state legislature.

The following resolution on the death of Gerrit J. Diekema was also adopted:

"In the passing of Hon. Gerrit J. Diekema, the county has lost a great leader, our state a devoted servant, our nation a magnificent statesman. His absence today at the convention assembled is felt most keenly, but we all feel that his good and fine influence will continue as a directing power in this and future deliberations of our party."

"Be it resolved that we express our heartfelt sympathies to the afflicted family of our departed leader." Signed by the committee on resolutions, Fritz Jonkman, William Havedink and William Connelly.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business reported 181 accredited delegates. Most of the Holland delegates left early yesterday for Kalamazoo where the state convention is to be held today.

FURNITURE ART TO BE TAUGHT IN GRAND RAPIDS

With the opening of the David Wolcott Kendall Memorial School of Art comes the realization of a dream long cherished by a Grand Rapids woman who sought to commemorate one of the finest of Grand Rapids' furniture designers by insuring gifted students of the community a chance to develop their talents.

The art school of which Helen M. Kendall dreamed as a memorial to her husband, designer and art lover, is to be housed in the old Kendall home which Mrs. Kendall bequeathed to the school along with funds which eventually may reach an endowment of about $180,000.

The state highway department has authorized the Ottawa county road commission to take out many of the old dead trees on Willow Drive, just outside of the western limits of Spring Lake, and to close trim and prune others that are of sufficient importance and beauty to be retained.

For some time the trees have been a hazard as the willows are not long lasting trees and they have been deteriorating for a long time. While the beauty of the highway will be materially affected, the commission believes the hazard is too great to allow the big branches to remain on the decaying trunks. Elms and other willows have been planted father back from the highway, which, in time may replace the old willows. The trees were planted nearly 40 years ago by Thomas Savidge, when he was president of the village and they have grown to large proportions, replacing entirely the tall poplars which were planted alternately. Now they too must give way to the more permanent tree, the elm.

MOST OF MICHIGAN CLAM FISHING DONE IN GRAND RIVER

The button industry is largely kept up because of clam fishers, also so called pearl buttons are made from the shells of clams and what is more, Michigan rivers have furnished most of these clam shells. The Department of Conservation issued 2,460 clam licenses during the year 1930, an increase of 30 per cent over the previous year. The increase in fishermen is due to unemployment in other lines. Of these fishermen 2,454 residents and six non-resident clam licenses were sold during the year, and that practically all of them were issued in the southwestern part of the state.

According to license sales, as reported by agent, the Grand River system through Ionia and Kent Counties is the most popular clamming site in the state. Agents issued 1,046 licenses in these two counties alone. Four hundred and twenty licenses were issued in St. Joseph County. Other counties in which clamming licenses were purchased were: Allegan, Ottawa, Berrien, Mecosta, Montcalm, Newaygo and Oscoda.

Resident clam licenses were sold for $1 and non-resident licenses for $50. Clamming is permitted in Michigan through the year except for the months of April, May and June.

$12,000,000 SPENT BY HUNTERS

Michigan's 400,000 small game and deer hunters spend about $12,000,000 while in the field during the hunting season. They have approximately $10,000,000 invested in guns and other more or less durable hunting equipment. This equipment has an annual depreciation volume of about $1,000,000 and an interest charge of $500,000 if it is considered as invested capital. An additional $5,000,000 is spent each year for sundries, if the computation of the department of conservation is accurate.

Included in the $12,000,000 spent while in the field is a gasoline bill of $500,000, $100,000 of which is gas tax paid into state and county highway funds.

Michigan's army of hunters also pays the state a total of $600,000 in license fees. The ratio of license fees to the other costs of hunting is $1 to $18.50.

WAYSIDE MARKETING BY RURAL WOMEN

How can rural women go about to earn a little extra money is the question which will be discussed by Miss Barbara Van Heulen, a marketing specialist from M. S. C. at a Zeeland meeting to be held early in March. Miss Van Heulen has recently been appointed by the state board of agriculture to work with the rural women in helping them to find ways and means of selling surplus products. One of Ottawa county's resources are its resorts which line the shores of Lake Michigan. Every woman who brings her family to a cottage will be in the market for freshly baked chocolate cakes, breads and cookies. Many women are timid about going out with their wares and hesitating about making a start but under the new marketing plans the college will help to find a market for the things they best do.

Do you live on a main highway? Have you an attractive yard with a big tree or two? Try a roadside market. The Michigan home marketing service will offer the rural women the use of the marketing service labels which say the products are supervised by the Michigan State College.

WILLS ALL TO NEIGHBORS WHO WERE GOOD TO HER

Mrs. Kate Jacques, who has lived in Allegan for a number of years died suddenly while walking to her home on PawPaw road. Her body was found by Celia Elliott and removed from the sidewalk where she fell, to a house in the neighborhood. Justice Fish was called in the absence of the coroner and pronounced death due to heart failure. Mrs. Jacques was seventy-two years of age and had no relatives who anyone knows of, yet she enjoyed a number of sincere friends. To show her appreciation for many kindnesses she had made a will in which she bequeathed the residue of her estate after funeral expenses were paid, in twelve equal parts to the neighbors in recognition of their many deeds of love.

Miss Frances Wydgraff entertained with a party at her home last week Tuesday evening. Games were played and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were the Misses Dora Batjes, Ruth Borman, Mary Vankampen, Margie Knoll, Henrietta Bredeweg and Frances Wydgraff.

HOPE GRADUATES FORMERLY PREACHED FOR THE ROCKEFELLERS

The following clipping from the Cedar Rapids Gazette tells an interesting story of a Hope graduate:

"The Rev. Cornelius Nicholas Bakker of the First Presbyterian of Vinton has accepted a call from the Market Street Presbyterian church of Lima, O. He has been a pastor here two years.

"Mr. Bakker received his education at the College of Wooster and at Hope college. He and Mrs. Bakker, who was Marion E. Mersen of Holland, Mich., were members of the class of 1923 at Hope. Mr. Bakker began his ministry work at the Louisville Presbyterian seminary and received his divinity degree at the Hartford Theological seminary at Hartford, Conn. He was ordained in the First Presbyterian church of that city.

"On graduation from the seminary, Mr. Bakker went to the Union church of Pocantico Hills, N. Y. This church includes in its associate membership John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The church property adjoins the Rockefeller estate.

"From Pocantico Hills he went to the congregational church of New Haven, N. Y., and he came to Vinton in January, 1929. The Market Street church is one of the prominent churches in Ohio and the largest in the Lima Presbytery. Mr. Bakker will assume his duties in the new field in April."

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT OTTAWA COUNTY JAIL

An old elevator shaft at the Ottawa county jail is being ripped out to make way for an improvement whereby the attendant at meal time may serve the food to the prisoners in the bull pen without opening the big iron door.

Jack Spangler suggested the change when he was a deputy under Del Fortney, several years ago. Sheriff Steketee is taking advantage of the idea and is doing the work himself.

A heavy steel door, which is on the bull pen side of the wall, will be transferred to the outside. The opening is large enough to permit the daily rations being passed in that way.

Patronage at the "county hotel" was very light over the week end without a single request for lodging on Sunday. This has not occurred in many months.

Warm Friend Tavern Makes Financial Gain

According to a financial statement sent to stockholders of Warm Friend Tavern it is evident that the hotel is going to be a real asset to those who have invested. The enterprise has been a city asset for several years now and indirectly has paid Holland many dividends. While the statement showed a deficit in 1929, since that time there has been a substantial gain which is most encouraging to the officials.

At a recent election the following directors were named: A. H. Landwehr, C. H. Landwehr, Ernest C. Brooks, C. M. McLean, D. B. K. Van Raalte, Hub Boone, B. P. Donnelly, W. L. Eaton and A. W. Wrieden. After the organization, A. H. Landwehr was named president.

Earnest C. Brooks and Arthur W. Wrieden, vice-presidents; and Charles K. Van Duren, secretary and treasurer.

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind

Spinach

IN CONTRAST with such vegetables of ancient use as the cabbage, turnip and bean, spinach was introduced into Europe as recently as the sixteenth century, at which time there was controversy whether the name should be spanacha, a vegetable from Spain, or spinacio, a vegetable with prickly pods. Eventually it was shown that spinach was a Persian plant, almost certainly coming from the ancient empire of the Medes and Persians, whose hordes used constantly to menace the Greek civilization from the East. The Persian name is ispay or ispani, and the Hindu, isfany or pinis. That it has no Sanskrit name indicates that even in those regions its cultivation does not reach back into remote antiquity.

Further evidence of its Persian origin is found in its Chinese name, characters which are translated "herb of Persia."

Cultivation of spinach probably originated about the time of the Greek and Roman civilization, when the Persian empire was also flourishing. Its spread was slow, both to the east and to the west. No mention of it in Chinese records is found until between 600 and 900 A. D. Ebn Balther, a resident of Malaga and a great traveler, reported evidence that it was raised extensively in ancient Nineveh and Babylon, which he obtained from Arabian writings.

Spinach has frequently been identified as wild, but the facts are not wholly beyond question. A variety, spinacia tetrandra, is found to the south of the Caucasus in Turkistan and in Persia, and the modern spinach may be a derivation through cultivation from this plant. Tetrandra has been brought under cultivation in India and some botanists, after a careful examination of the resulting plant, claim that it is identical with the garden spinach of the modern world.

In this respect it differs markedly from lettuce, which has been positively identified in the wild state in a great variety of places, ranging from the Canary Islands and Algeria to temperate and southern Europe, Persia, Abyssinia and China. It does especially well in Europe. Two thousand years ago botanists described three varieties, while latterly this number has grown to more than fifty, many of the kinds having been developed in the gardens of temperate Europe. MOONEY MAKERS

EVERY one is not a money-maker. And strange to say that very few of those who are only money-makers ever accumulate a fortune. "Easy come—easy go" is one of those world-old proverbs that epitomize truth in four words.

BUT EVERY one can accumulate money. It requires no genius. It does take time—it does mean self-denial—it always, ever means that the outgo must be less than the income—with the difference left in the bank.

The lead changed hands frequently in the first half. Kuipers started the scoring by sinking a field goal and a free throw and the Christian attack functioned to give it a 12 to 10 lead at half-time. Broene with ten points to his credit was high point man for the Arlebeke coached outfit, while Hoogensteen and Kuipers and Meeuwse played good games. Plewes with 6 points and DeVries with 5 looked best for the losers. In the preliminary the Zeeland girls defeated the Christian girls, 9 to 6.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(BY REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for March 8

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord. LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:25-37. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Story of a Real Friend. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Story of a Real Friend. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Serving and Sharing. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Stewardship of Life.

1. How to Inherit Eternal Life (vv. 25-37). The lawyer's question (v. 25). The term "lawyer" here means one versed in religious law—the Scriptures, not lawyer in our modern sense of that term. It would more nearly correspond to our theological professor. The lawyer's object was to trip Jesus, to induce him to take such a stand as would weaken his influence as a teacher. He expected Jesus to set forth some new ceremonies which would conflict with or displace the law of Moses.

2. Jesus' question (v. 26). Though Jesus knew the motive of the lawyer, he did not evade his question. He sent him to the law, the field which was familiar to him. He thus robbed him of his own weapon.

3. The lawyer's reply (v. 27). He made an intelligent answer, declaring that the entire content of the law was embraced in love to God and man. This expresses the whole of human duty.

4. Jesus' reply (v. 28). The straightforward answer went to the heart of the lawyer. Perfect love to God and man is truly the way of life. No man has yet had nor can have such love. His sinful condition precludes its possibility. Man's failure to measure up to this requirement is his condemnation. The lawyer keenly felt this thrust. He was defeated on his own grounds and convicted of guilt.

11. Who is My Neighbor (vv. 29-37). 1. The lawyer's question (v. 29). The question reveals the insincerity of the lawyer. Christ's answer had reached his conscience, and now he seeks to escape the difficulty by asking a captious question. Lawyer-like he sought to get off by raising a question as to the meaning of words.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 30-37). Jesus' reply more than answered the lawyer's question. In the Parable of the Good Samaritan he makes clear who is a neighbor, and also what it means to be a neighbor and what loving a neighbor means. Christ's answer had a double meaning. He not only made clear who is my neighbor, but made it clear that the lawyer was not playing the neighbor.

a. Who is my neighbor? This destitute and wounded man, left on the wayside by the robbers, is a man who needs a neighbor. My neighbor, therefore, is the one who needs my help, whether he lives next door or on the other side of the world. It does not regard locality, nationality, or blood relation.

b. What being a neighbor means. Our supreme concern should not be "Who is my neighbor?" but "Whose neighbor am I?" To be a neighbor is:

(1) To be on the look-out for those in need of our help (v. 33). It is keen to discern the needs of those with whom it is brought into contact. (2) To have compassion on the needy (v. 33). Christ's compassion was aroused as he came into contact with those who were suffering and in need. (3) To give to those in need (v. 34). Love does calculate the cost of its actions. Whenever there is calculation of cost, there is the expression of selfishness. Many are willing to give money to help the poor and needy but are unwilling personally to minister to them. The true neighbor gives himself as well as his money.

(4) To bind up wounds (v. 34). If we have eyes to discern, we shall see many wounds about us that need attention. (5) To set the helpless on their feet while we walk (v. 34). This is the proof of the genuineness of our love. Those who are like Christ will deny themselves in order to have something to give to those who are in need. (6) To bring to the inn and take care of the unfortunate (v. 34). Genuine love does not leave its service incomplete. True love follows up the needy. (7) To give money (v. 35). It costs a good deal to be a neighbor. Love is the most expensive thing in the world. It cost God his only Son. It cost Jesus Christ his life.

This parable has been through the centuries the classic illustration of true Christian neighborliness.

Here Is a Window Shade That Likes a Bath

A window shade that can be cleaned is decidedly economical. Replacements are fewer, for a washable shade can be kept fresh and new looking for a long time.

The New and Improved du Pont TONTINE is a truly washable window shade. It has a beautiful, smooth surface to which dust and dirt do not readily cling. It is heavy in weight, which assures years of service. By using soap, hot water and a brush, the soil that accumulates after a season's use can be easily removed.

Repeated washings will not harm du Pont TONTINE. Nor will it crack, "pinhole" or fray. And TONTINE is thoroughly waterproof, sun-proof and beautiful.

We will be pleased to send a man to show you samples of this New and Improved du Pont TONTINE in plain, duplex or lovely, all-over figured patterns. We know that you will be delighted with these most practical and charming window shades.

"Esther" Praised As Cultural Accomplishment

Brilliant Costumes and Setting Produce Pleasing Oriental Atmosphere

—Hope College Anchor—

The presentation of "Esther," Racine's Classical Play, by the Drama Class under Mrs. Duffee's excellent guidance, was indeed a delightful entertainment of the highest quality. To Racine, however, all the credit does not go, since John Masfield, the poet laureate of England, was the translator; and the choruses were of his own composition. Nevertheless the essence of the play was left unchanged and the literary value is inestimable.

The story upon which the play is based is that heroic and fascinating story of Esther, the biblical heroine of yore. Esther, the favored wife of King Ahasuerus, and his beloved Queen, is a Jewess, a daughter of the hated and persecuted race. The King, swayed by Haman, his supposedly faithful friend, aims to rid his kingdom of this wretched race by murdering them, ignorant of the fact that his Esther is a Jewess, but is prevented from doing so by the heroic Esther. For love of her own people, she divulges her secret to the King, risking her own happiness. She reveals to him her story and her heritage and opens his eyes to the fact that he is being cleverly duped by his close friend Haman. He is being used as a tool in the intrigues of a scoundrel. Haman desires to rid the kingdom of the Jews; then to kill the King, and establish himself on the throne of Persia. Esther exposes his trickery and the King immediately revokes his orders, freeing the Jews and adequately and effectively disposing of Haman. Esther is blessed with the happiness deserved by her, and remains the charming and courageous Queen.

The entire cast was excellent; each member performing with exceptional ability. The work of the chorus was admirably rendered and greatly enhanced the entire atmosphere of this great play. From beginning to end this superb classical presentation was portrayed with dignity, charm, simplicity and smoothness. The performance may be termed a cultural accomplishment of the Drama class, that was immensely appreciated and enjoyed by the audience.

Hope College News

On Friday afternoon, the Freshman class held a meeting for the purpose of electing their officers for the second semester. The former president, James Nettinga, called the meeting at 1:15, and presided over the election. The persons chosen for the officers were: president, Christian Walvoord, vice-president, Bernard Rottschaefer; secretary, Marie Verduin; treasurers, Vivian Behrman and Harvey Scholten. No council members were elected since this office is retained throughout the year by Beatrice Visser and Preston Van Kolken, the persons chosen at the fall election.

The retiring officers of the class are: James Nettinga, president; Don Van den Belt, vice-president; Jean Bosman, secretary; Marvin Kruisenga and Ruth Winstrom, treasurers.

The Freshmen and Sophomores will be the only two classes to elect officers this semester, since the upper classes retain their officers for both semesters.

Monday night, before a church audience at Hamilton, a Hope affirmative met a Hope negative team in a practice debate. Wallace Ferguson and Nicholas Burggraaf made up the affirmative team, and were opposed by Clark Poling and Arthur Ter Keurst. The affirmative debated in preparation for their engagement with Michigan State on Thursday evening. This debate will take place in the Bethel Reformed church of Grand Rapids.

Another affirmative team composed of William Kuiper, Leon Winstrom, and Lester Van der Werf debate Western State tonight, at eight o'clock, at Wayland. This debate will be different than any of the other debates Hope has taken part in this season, for each team though having three constructive speeches has but one rebuttal. Kuiper will bear the burden of Hope's rebuttal. This and the Michigan State debate close the season for Hope's affirmative squad.

The negative team which furnished opposition to Ferguson and Burggraaf Monday night will meet Western State's affirmative team before Kalamazoo Central High School Tuesday afternoon, March 10th.

At the senior class meeting held last week no definite action was taken in regard to the several questions brought before the class. Several committees were appointed, however, Mr. William Kuiper is investigating the feasibility of producing a Class of '31 Yearbook to contain only senior pictures, with a record of seniors' activities and other material of interest to the class. Mr. Harry Ver Strate is investigating a picture proposition whereby the class may get senior pictures at reduced rates. Miss Marian Anderson has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Announcements Committee, and Miss Bessy Schouten has agreed to corral her social committee together once more and arrange for a senior spree in the very near future.

It was announced by the Play Committee that "Seventh Heaven" had been chosen as the Senior Play for this year. Mr. Lindemulder of Grand Rapids, who will coach the play, is already selecting his cast.

Last week-end Miss Marian Sluyter visited Miss Myrtle Klooster at Forest Grove, Michigan. Miss Klooster graduated from Hope last June.

Miss Mildred Kooiman was at her home in Grand Haven all last week with a slight illness.

Sunday night the Girls' Glee Club sang in Zeeland, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away" and "Oh, Make My Spirit Worthy" were the numbers rendered.
