New Light Plant Can Now Be Built Without Delay

LAST PAPERS WITH LIT-GANTS WERE SIGNED LAST FRIDAY

Board of Public Works Makes Clear That Present Tended Site Was Obtained for a Third Less Than Other Sites

For the last three months, the Board of Public Works has been endeavoring to build their new plant on the "island," so-called, for which the U. S. government has given a grant towards building it of approximately $875,000, or at least a third of the entire undertaking. As is well known, the PWA under which the government works, plans these projects to relieve the stress of unemployment. The Board of Public Works, as it was repeatedly stated, felt that this was the opportunity to build the plant that would be an imperative need a few years hence, since the demand upon the present plant for light and power was almost up to peak already.

Several advantages presented themselves, one of these being that plenty of water was always available, and that was not the case at the Black River where the plant is now located. Another reason was that a tremendous saving can be had by being right on the water front and buying the coal in bulk and unloading it from vessels right at the door of the plant. Another reason was that the plant had almost reached its capacity, and that months of consideration and taking into consideration that the government was paying one-third of the plant, it was deemed advantageous to build on a desirable site, where the direct necessities of water and light plant were directly available.

Having considered the wisdom of building a new plant, rather than remodeling one in a spot that is not so desirable and where the government aid was not available, the Board of Public Works first cast about to find a suitable site. Other sites, according to members of the Board, had been looked into, and then the city of Holland went into the "island" project, filled in the swamp hole at the head of the bay, which has been a bog from the time when pleasure steamers ceased to run between Holland and the resorts, covering a period of at least two score years, the city and the property owners having gone into this fill-in project in which the "island" was involved. A site on the "island" and filled-in land also presented itself to the Board of Public Works as a possible and an ideal site covering the necessities that the Board in reality wanted in connection with a new site. There was plenty of water, plenty of ground, a great deal of dockage for direct shipment of coal by boat, and enough space to pyramid the coal heaps to be used for the plant year around.

The Board of Public Works did more. For months the Michigan State Highway department made experiments to ascertain the strength of the foundation. They made test borings on different parts of this building area, and found these very satisfactory. The concern who had the contract of piling, the Lake State Engineering Co., for their own protection, since they were under a contract to do a good job, did some test piling; and they, too, found the foundation work ideal for the construction of a plant, such as the Board of Public Works contemplates. Test piles of 65 feet have been driven, and according to all these tests, the foundation work has proven very satisfactory. Every pile that is being driven has gone first through 30 feet of clay, then through stiff blue clay, and into the boulder strata, whatever that means; but undoubtedly those who work in that sort of engineering, such as the staff of the Board of Public Works and contractors who must do a good job, are convinced that this is an ideal spot for a plant of that sort. As a member of the Board of Public Works states, that the site could be secured for one-third less than other sites considered, and what is more, with the settlement of all litigation with land owners, who had riparian rights along the shore, the settlement included the right-of-way of two large sewers, which will be necessary, avoiding any condemnation proceedings to get this right-of-way. This, too, was all arranged in the settlement with the litigants.

What a beautiful spot this will become after the Board of Public Works has built its plant can only be conceived by the beauty that surrounds the present plant. This wasn't done in one year. All the improvements on that spot and the possibilities of the new land filled in owned by the city and the adjoining property owners can well be conceived. Now that this property is going to be valuable to the property owners along the shore, and undoubtedly improved, it will all be taxable property from which revenues will be derived for years to come, which will find its way into the city treasury. The "bog hole" or swamp that has existed for years did not bring the city a penny—only stench. It is going to give us a new Pine Street, approximately 90 feet wide for which the new property owners will have to pay their share, as is the rule on all streets, connecting up with the four-lane drive at the Grand Haven bridge. This in itself is an imperative necessity. Today, travel on US-31 comes into the city on a four-lane drive and bottles itself up at State and Second Street, bringing about a traffic jam that is not only dangerous, but convenient to all traffic.

Another broad highway, dividing the part of that travel is a necessity so great that, should travel increase with the growth of the city and the influx of more tourists, it will not be long before part of River Avenue will have to be widened, and that is a tremendous expense but with a wide Pine Avenue available into the city, it would appear that the heavy congestion on River Avenue would be greatly relieved. No one knows how tre-

Holland's Clerk Oscar Peterson Again Elected

VOLUME OF VOTES ONLY 2787; LESS THAN HALF OF REGIS-TERED VOTE

Peter Van Ark Is Again Assessor
of the City of Holland

The City of Holland held one of its poorest elections in years, despite the work of the candidates and the urge to have citizens use their prerogative in selecting Holland's official body rather than not voting and kicking afterward. The number of votes cast was 2787, while the registered vote of Holland is 6500, and over. The weather was bad, and walking was dangerous, and undoubtedly that kept many of the older folk away. City Clerk, Oscar Peterson, however, states that compared to last year the vote was higher this year, possibly for the reason that the head of the ticket, Henry Geerlings, and several others had no opposition. At that time the vote was only 1950; however, either figure is deplorable, considering the number eligible to vote.

In the returns, city clerk, Oscar Peterson, won hands down, receiving 1998 votes against John Spyker, 691.

Peter Van Ark, the present assessor, received 1897, and Ed Brower, 850.

The present justice, Raymond L. Smith, won over Sam Miller, the vote standing: Smith, 1788; Miller, 863.

Neil De Cook, former alderman of the third ward, now supervisor, had no opposition, and received 2346 votes.

City attorney, Clarence Lokker, appointed by the common council to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Elbert Parsons, who became the county's prosecuting

LAST CIVIL WAR VET BURIED TUESDAY

Anthony C. Van Duine of Jenison on Tuesday attended the funeral services of Samuel Lane at Grandville.

Mr. Lane was the last surviving veteran of the Civil War from Jamestown township. The services at the home were in charge of the Rev. Feenstra and at the grave by the Neal Fonger Post of the American Legion, Commander Lotan Hildreth in charge.

Mr. Kirtland, another civil war veteran from Jamestown township, died two years ago.

Leonard D. Visser of route 6, and Herman Lambers are candidates for treasurer and justice of the peace, respectively, in Laketown township. Their names will be brought forward at the Union party caucus at 2 p. m. Saturday in Laketown township hall.

A very enjoyable evening was spent, and dainty refreshments were served by the ladies organization.

Mr. Lanting is no stranger in this community, having held a pastorate at Holland for several years, and the community is looking forward to a very successful pastorate there for him as well as for his church.

Dr. M. J. Van Kolken is back at work at his office after being sick several days.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Sixty, Fifty, Forty, Thirty, Twenty and Ten Years Ago Today

SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY

On Saturday last—Washington's birthday—the flags were flying, but outside of that, we have noticed no demonstrations or celebration of the event. The Holland Soldiers' Union lit their "campfire," however, in the fireman's room, Columbia host No. 2, smoked the pipe of peace, and celebrated the event by a pleasant chat over Oldtime.

Note: The Soldiers' Union was an organization of Civil War veterans in this city before a unit of the G. A. R. was started. After the Civil War, many kindred organizations were organized, but as time went on, they all resolved themselves in the Grand Army of the Republic. Time has made inroads on this organization, too. Holland's last member answered to "taps" when John Douma passed away.

Swan Miller, head of the Macatawa Resort Assn. at Hotel Macatawa, who is spending the winter at Warm Friend Tavern, has been affiliated with the A. C. Van Ralte post G. A. R. for some time, and he is well in the nineties. Time was when there were more than 150 old soldiers on parade at one time in our Memorial Day activities.

In Holland these activities have been handed down to the Spanish-American War veterans, who, too, have already become grizzled soldiers of the nation, and they in turn are calling in veterans of the World War to help carry on.

Sleighting has been better during the first ten days of March than during the entire winter. Farmers are availing themselves of the snow and are drawing from 50 to 60 sleigh loads of stove bolts daily to the stove mill of E. Vander Veen & Co.

Rookus Kanters & Sons have just received a contract from Lincoln Park Commission at Chicago to build 200 feet of brush breaker next season. They put in this Netherlands construction last year and the Chicago Park authorities were so pleased that they were given a third of a mile more to build along the shores of Lincoln Park. Note: Mr. Kanters, who adopted the method used in the Netherlands by tying together in bunches branches of brush trees, and piling them where breakwaters were to be built, keeping them down with stone. Part of Holland's old piers were built in that way, and the local company was also given a contract in Galveston and in Buffalo, N. Y. The Kanters family was one of prominence in the early days. Their home, just east of the Holland Theatre, was a social center. The large house between the Kanters home and the first ward fire station, was at one time the barn for their horses and carriages, but with the advent of the automobile was changed into a home.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Empire Tea Co. concluded that Holland was a poor field in which to operate. They left town on Tuesday, carrying their stock of tea with them. Where they have moved to we have no idea.

The Third Reformed church congregation are raising a fund to purchase a new organ to cost about $1500.

A baby daughter arrived at the home of Prof. and Mrs. John Kleinheksel, on 9th st.

The Bell Telephone exchange has moved and is now located on the second floor of the new Kanters block. Note: The Kanters block had been built by Rookus Kanters as a hardware store for his son. It is now the remodeled Knoll Plumbing Co. building.

The Ottawa County Building & Loan Assn. will offer $1,000 for competition among its members next Saturday in the office of the company in the new Kanters block. The one securing the loan will use it for home building.

A firemen's concert at Lyceum Opera House staged by Eagle Hotel Company No. 1 was given packed houses and many were turned away. The concert was in the form of a cantata, entitled, "The Pilgrim Fathers." The direction was in charge of Prof. J. B. Nykerk of Hope college, and did fine work in arranging the cast. Mr. Goodrich of the orchestra furnished the music, and Miss E. Cappon presided at the piano, and Miss Hannah TeKoller at the organ. The singing of Mrs. G. J. Diekema and Mr. Philip Solon was outstanding. There was also a trio, Miss Reka Boone, Miss Minnie Cappon and Miss Maggie Pfeister, who gave fine renditions. The singing of the chorus of local talent was also excellent, and the large audience was liberal in its applause, despite the fact that the opera house was not very well heated. The janitor, undoubtedly feeling that it being a firemen's concert, not very much extra heat was necessary.

Forty Years Ago

When the report went forth that the late Simon Pokagon had been refused burial by the side of his wife and child, a subscription was started at Chicago to purchase a lot in a cemetery there. The cemetery company offered a free lot in case it was needed. Note: It never was needed. A few months ago the Holland City News gave the entire history of Chief Pokagon, who ruled the Indians of Ottawa and Allegan counties when everything was primitive. He was the guest speaker at Holland's semi-centennial in 1897, and in the last written by his speech, which was a classic, was then given in full.

Zeeland State Bank Starts Its New Building

HOLLAND MAN GETS ZEELAND BANK BUILDING CONTRACT

John Bomers, Holland contractor, was the lowest bidder to reconstruct the Zeeland State Bank recently gutted by fire. Mr. Bomers is a prominent contractor in this city, and it is understood that the contract for the building will have to be completed by the first part of July, according to the president of the bank, Ed M. Den Herder.

The new bank will be fire-proof throughout. The second floor as well as the roof will be constructed of reinforced concrete, and even the partitions will be built in that way. The floors of the lobby of the bank will be mosaic in pattern. The old building, which suffered fire will be wrecked completely with the exception of the outside stone wall, which is to be refinished.

The front entrance is to be changed altogether, and the doorway will be further to the east into a sort of a vestibule, where a stairs also leads to the second floor and naturally there will be double doors to the bank proper. The present entrance will be closed, as will the outside door to the floor above.

A new microphone automatic alarm system will be installed, connecting the vault as well as the booths in the office. When the building is completed, it will be a bank building of the most approved type. Don Laker, formerly of Holland, now of Grand Rapids, has been engaged as architect.

The bank occupies the most centrally-located corner in Zeeland, and after the fire the bank staff has been doing business in another building in the rear of the bank. While the fire was unfortunate, the bank was fortunate in not losing a dollar or any of its private papers since these were quickly locked in the vault and the loss is only sustained to the building, which was fully covered by insurance. When the bank building is completed, the institution will have a building that is not only more convenient, but absolutely safe against future fires and of course it will be more commodious.

A phone call from Mr. Den Herder brought the statement that when the bank is completed it will practically be a new one. All the fixtures will be new. There won't be a piece of wood in it. The entire interior will be fire-proof. He expects the contractor will have the bank ready early in July.

TREASURER AMENDMENT
CARRIES BY NAR

Holland voters had an extra ballot on whether the charter should be amended, making it possible to choose the same treasurer as often as they wanted him. The full contents of the ballot was completely given in this publication. Before, the treasurer's terms were limited, but now if we have a good treasurer, we can elect that treasurer repeatedly, without being hedged in according to charter mandates as now.

The vote on this question carried by the city by 1390 votes yes and 1299 votes no; or a majority in favor of the amendment of 161. This will allow a treasurer to present his name as often as he pleases with the expiration of each term, and it is up to the voters to vote to see whether they want him or not.

GIDEONS SUGGEST TO MAKE BIBLE DISPLAYS

Saturday and Sunday, March 11 and 12, are to be Bible Days in Holland and Zeeland. The Gideons, Christian business men's organization who have banded themselves to winning men to Christ through the spreading of the Bible and personal work, are requesting all downtown merchants to display the Bible in their windows. On Sunday the pastors are asked to include in their messages a plea to more Bible reading.

The Gideons as Christian business men recognize that the Bible is the only cure to our present day ills. The lives of individuals must be changed first, then and only then can we expect to see a change in nations.

On Sunday the Gideons will speak at the various churches explaining their plan to place the Bible in all the schools and hospitals in Allegan, Van Buren and Berrien counties.

Taxes on the estate of the late George W. and Martha McBride to the amount of $340.68 have been paid to County Treasurer Fred H. Den Herder by Charles H. McBride of Holland. The bulk of the estate went to the National Anti-Saloon league. The Holland City News some months ago gave a complete review of this unusual will case. Mr. McBride was a former Holland resident and an uncle of Attorney McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunn left Holland Thursday noon for a trip to the west coast, which they plan to return in mid-April.

Next Wednesday night at 8 p. m. the Beechwood P.T.A. will present a "Red Rush Album" program, featuring 17 old fashioned pictures. Louis Jalving will sing the musical accompaniment. A magic act will be presented by Roy Young and Peenie Daily. Ethel Grandt will play her accordion and Vivian Tardiff will give a reading.

A bluebird was sighted by Ann Elaine Wolters of route 1 recently.

A sacred concert was presented Thursday night in the City Mission by the Hosanna chorus. Half of the numbers were in Dutch.

Friday evening the Union Bible class of Wesleyan Methodist church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. De Fouw of West 17th St.

Monday evening the Young Men's society of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church held its regular meeting in the church parlors, with discussion centering around the Bible lesson. The group decided to organize a gym class in Christian high gym next Tuesday. J. Dykeman, home missionary for the Christian Reformed churches of the Classis of Holland, gave a talk at a joint meeting of the Central Avenue group and the young men's societies of Fourteenth St. and Ninth Street churches. George Schreier presided. The closing prayer was given by Adrian De Groot. Refreshments were served.

The Zeeland high school band under the direction of Mr. Carl Senoh will give its first concert of this year on Wednesday, March 15, at 8:00 o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Russian Women Have Many Traits Our Women Have

ATTRACTIVE RUSSIAN GIRL WAS OUR CONSTANT GUIDE, NOT OUR GUARD

By Dr. A. J. Brower

Coming back to Russia, I wish to deal briefly with Leningrad, at one time St. Petersburg. During the ten years preceding the revolution, the architecture in Leningrad was sadly neglected, and conditions were indeed bad; however, after the revolution, and the Soviet government was established, in a measure building operations were revived. In those parts of the city where the renovating and reconstruction program had been going on, it really looked very inviting, and the governing powers stated that they wanted only a little time to do the very necessary work to restore the city to its beauty of long ago. The new sections are entirely modernized, and the buildings are really substantial and beautiful.

Leningrad, as well as Moscow, is typically Russian in every way. The country is very large; in fact, two thousand miles from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea and four thousand miles the other way. The Soviet union embraces a territory of eight million square miles or over one-sixth of the earth's surface, and this area has a population of 176,000,000 souls. It has 180 nationalities within its borders.

When I was in Russia I endeavored to forget the books I had read on Russia, and the many terrible things I had read in the papers. I set about to find out for myself, and I never entertained the least fear

Current on the Farm

An important phase of business improvement is seen in the progress of the rural population in securing electrical service. An authoritative estimate is that 168,500 farms added during the last year brought the number receiving the service to 1,410,000.

That a home should be lighted by electricity seems a commonplace to the average city dweller. But until recently the difficulty and expense of distributing current has kept a large part of the country people from enjoying such benefits.

Due to the mode of living in the country, electricity becomes useful in many ways. A study made in New York State reported 48 different farm uses and 28 household uses for electricity are found on farms where the service has been installed. Extension of facilities, therefore, opens markets for new machinery of many kinds and greatly increases employment and production.

It is estimated that electric service increases the value of a farm about 17 per cent. Much more difficult would be an estimate of the increase of satisfaction of living and the general cultural improvement of the people.

New Sources of Newsprint

(Detroit News)

Within a few days it has been announced that an Italian chemist has discovered in chestnut timber a source of cellulose suitable for the making of newsprint paper, and that another chemist, in Pittsburgh, has perfected a process for the de-inking and converting of old paper into newsprint pulp. These reports attest the extent of the search for new sources of newsprint, and the urgent nature of the problem which has grown up with the rise in cost of paper from present sources.

The Italian discovery cannot be immediately helpful to Italy, where reforestation has priority as a national concern, or to us whose chestnut supply has succumbed to the blight. It has long been felt that the ultimate source of newsprint would not be the forests, but the farms, in the shape of an annual crop, the cellular structure of which lends itself to the cheap manufacture of print paper. Such a solution would bear on another and pressing problem, the using up of the surpluses of our farms.

The Pittsburgh chemist, Hochstetter, has developed a process for the conversion into paper pulp of straw and grass, which is to be demonstrated this month. This or a process like it is the hoped-for solution of the whole question, and in the meantime any practicable method of reclaiming old printed matter and putting it to use again would lighten the cost load.

The departments of agriculture in Washington and the states, and private researchers, have experimented for years to both these ends. They have made paper of many kinds of vegetation, with interesting but not highly encouraging results. Either some material not now grown in this country was needed, or some new treatment of the material available. If the Pittsburgher has a workable approach to the problem from either direction, he will have done a great deal for every buyer of newsprint.

Miss Sadie Zepp and Miss Mildred Brown left Holland for a month in California Saturday. They plan to visit San Francisco exposition and visit in Los Angeles.

Hanna Grace Lenters was honored at a seventh birthday anniversary party recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lenters. Prizes were awarded for the games played. Refreshments were served.

John M. Mulder and daughters, Jeanette and Jennie, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mulder and Miss Jessie Brandman called on Mr. and Mrs. Mack Mulder and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Doherty of Benton Harbor Saturday. Mack Mulder is convalescing from a recent operation.

AGED HAMILTON BASKET-MAKING INDIAN DIES

Charles Rossett, aged 83 years, for many years a resident of Hamilton, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clara Pigeon of Holland.

He is survived by his wife, Kate, and two daughters, Mrs. Pigeon and Mrs. Ida Hope of Kalamazoo; also five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Hamilton American Reformed church, the Rev. I. Scherpenisse officiating. Burial was made in the Hamilton cemetery. The passing of the aged Indian, Mr. Rossett, brings to mind the large settlement of this race of people in this vicinity in years past, many of them living around Purdy's lake and in the oak groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Rossett were well known locally and had many friends through their congeniality, and also sold hundreds of pretty Indian baskets of their own weaving in the surrounding community. There was one of the last remaining families to keep residence at Hamilton. At one time Indian camp meetings were held regularly in one of the groves near Hamilton.

FORMER ZEELAND BOY IS SIGNALLY HONORED

Another Zeeland boy was signally honored on Monday evening February 13, when Adrian N. Langius was elected president of the Lansing-Jackson division of the Michigan Society of Architects held at the annual meeting at the Union Building of Michigan State College.

Mr. Langius is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Langius of Zeeland. He was born and reared in this community and received his elementary and high school education here. He is a graduate of Hope College and of the Michigan College of Architecture at the University of Michigan.

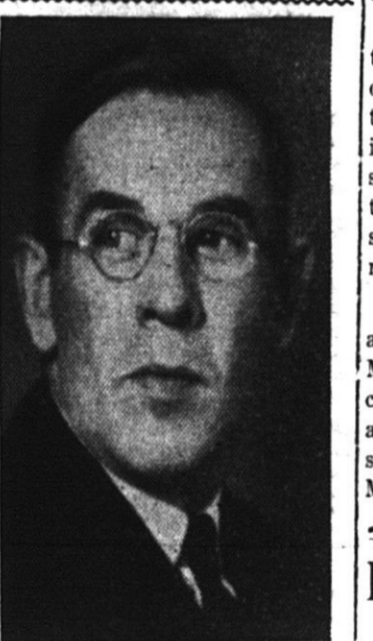

During the past nine years he has been employed as architect for the State of Michigan, during which time he has worked on the original hospital building program, and was in complete charge of the building program for the Michigan State Police and the State Department of Health. The state police program included the construction of thirty-eight buildings at a cost of more than one million dollars.

The Lansing-Jackson division of the Michigan Society of Architects was organized two years ago, and it comprises the registered architects residing, practicing, or being employed in the counties of Ingham, Jackson, Hillsdale, and Clinton.

HENRY VELD, CONDUCTOR, AUGUSTANA CHOIR

The outstanding success of the Augustana Choir of Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, may largely be attributed to the skill and fine sense of musical proportion of its conductor, Mr. Henry Veld.

No detail of preparation is too trivial to engage the careful attention of the conductor in the preparation of the choir for its appearances. Daily rehearsals throughout the school year aggregating two hundred hours of patient work, coupled with exacting selection of voices and efficient leadership, is the key to the high degree of musicianship attained by the Augustana Choir.

Because of his outstanding success in molding young voices into effective choral ensembles, Mr. Veld is in great demand as a director of musical contests and as a director of high school festival choruses throughout the country.

The Augustana Choir, under Mr. Veld's direction, will appear in concert in the Hope Memorial Chapel in Holland on Monday evening, March 13 at 8:15.

Saturday evening the members of the Mystery club and the Junior Mystery club were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford in honor of the birthday anniversaries of three of the members, Mrs. W. L. Eaton and Mrs. John Eaton on Monday evening, March 13 at 8:15.

Miss Lida Rogers, teacher of biology at Holland high school, spoke on Alaska to members of the Young People's Fellowship of Grace Episcopal church after the regular evening service of the fellowship and a dinner in the hall Sunday evening. Paul Harrison and Henry Brusse were in charge of serving the meal. Miss Grovone Dick presided. Bill Dekkers, chairman, Miss Marjorie Borgman and Arthur Barnhart are on the supper committee for next week.

The home of Mrs. Estelle DeVries was the scene Monday evening of a meeting of the Fahochla class of First Methodist church. Mrs. Harris conducted devotions. Beatrice Fairbanks was in charge of the entertainment, which followed the business meeting. Frances Hoover, Lia Harris, Ellen Anderson and Marjorie Bender were in charge of serving refreshments. A hymn-sing was enjoyed. Twenty members were present.

Injured in an automobile accident Monday morning on US-31, a quarter mile south of Holland, were Mrs. Olga Keene and Miss Evelyn Keene of Eau Claire, Jacob Roelofs, 61, of route 3, and Martin Dykstra, 63, of 241 Fairbanks Ave. The first two were occupying one car, and the latter pair the other. Mrs. Keene suffered a fractured left leg, while the others received cuts and bruises.

Cast of Senior Class "Skidding" Play

These young people have been honored by Holland High seniors by being chosen to represent their class in the annual senior play. This year's class has chosen that "homey" comedy by Auravio Rouvrol entitled "Skidding." Not only is the title attractive, but so is this alert group pictured above.

In top row from left to right are Virginia Dykhuys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Dykhuys, 167 West 8th st.; Clarence Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Harris of 288 West 17th st.; Clinton Harrison, son of Dr. P. W. Harrison of Kodaikanal, India, and Julia Voss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Voss of Montello Park.

Little Theatre Group Takes Up Tools, Makes Properties

Dr. Shackson seems so happy these days that we just had to look into the matter and find out the why and whereof. It seems that our professor of speech and dramatics is realizing a long cherished dream, that of having a "Little Theatre" on our campus.

In connection with the preparations for a commons room, the dramatic class, under Dr. Shackson's direction, is making a complete and permanent set for the stage.

On Thursday afternoons the girls, garbed in slax and smocks, and the two fellows in the class busy themselves with hammering, sawing, sewing—and un-sewing.

Marge Vyverburg is very proud that she has acquired the technique of wielding the hammer. She says that a long and powerful stroke is the most successful. Dr. Shackson will willingly uphold the fact that the girls of Hope College can successfully do manual labor. And no fingers broken!

In fact, the co-eds are learning a great deal about practical things. Mildred Kirkwood says that she can now tell the difference between a hammer and a saw—figuratively speaking, of course. And Millie Mulder was so enthusiastic as to donate a bar of soap for the repair of a squeak.

Other members of the class have also made contributions. And Dr. Wickers has consented to have a door made between the back-stage portion and the "Anchor" room.

The class is now completing the flats, which have a wood framework and are covered with unbleached muslin. They will be painted in the primary colors so that the lighting effects, which will have tin cans in the composition, can make the set any desired color. The chandelier above the stage will be removed.

During the semester's work the class will choose three of the best student-directed, one-act plays which will be presented for the enjoyment of the students.

The class is very proud of their work and hope to have it completed tomorrow. They feel that they have contributed to an interest in and appreciation of dramatics which will be active on our campus for many years.

We have discovered another dream that Dr. Shackson would like to realize. Outside the education building he would be very proud to see a neon sign with the words, "Hope College Little Theatre." (Hope College Anchor)

Dr. Thoms Tells Experiences of Arabian Mission

Hope students gave proof of their interest in the Boys' School of Basrah, Arabia, on February 28th, when they pledged $515 for its support in a special chapel meeting. The drive was planned by the Y.M. and Y.W.C.A.'s. The address of the morning was delivered by Dr. Wells Thoms, alumnus of Hope, now a medical missionary in Arabia.

Recently in New York, Dr. Thoms was questioned by leaders in the business world about the effect of missionary endeavor on the character of the Moslem Arabs. He also referred to other indications of a world wide interest in Arabia which has arisen in the past few years.

Dr. Thoms reported that to witness the awakening in the lives of the Arabs who embrace the Christian religion is a thrilling experience. Though many of them face death because of their conversion, they remain true to their convictions.

Bob Swart and Si Voogd played a trombone duet. They were accompanied by Jeanne Swart, John Olert and Esther Bultman, Y.M. and Y.W. presidents, were in charge of the service.

Chairman M. Mulder Announces May Day

Mildred Mulder, chairman of the May Day activities, announces that this annual festival will take place in the form of an all-college day on May 5th. She has already selected the following committees: Margaret Allen as Alcor representative and Clifford Marcus as Student Council representative are co-chairmen of the banquet committee. Dorothy Vanden Bout is in charge of costumes.

Katharine Van Raalte has charge

Seated are John Pelon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pelon of 230 East 8th st., and Marian Geerds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Geerds of 588 Central ave.

These people will open Monday evening for a four-night run and an excellent production is assured.

Mrs. Donovan, known better to Holland audiences as Miss Lucille Lindsey, has already coached eight senior plays for this community. Some of her well-remembered productions and leading characters might well be recalled. We recall Margaret Van Raalte in "Martha by the Day," Jean Herman in "Merely Mary Ann," Edgar Landwehr in "Whole Town's Talking," Martha Slowinski in "Too Many Cooks," James Boter in "The Family Upstairs," Bob Wismeier and Mary Jane Vaupeil in "The Goose Hangs High," Dorothy Hadden in "Shavings," and Don Poppen in "Nothing But the Truth."

Be sure to see this group present the Andy Hardy story of "Skidding" and add it to your list of "I-Won't-Forget" plays.

He was chairman of the county Red Cross and the library board. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Mary Potter; a daughter, Mrs. Fred Harris of Allegan, and three grandchildren. Burial was in New Troy.

First golfers on the Saugatuck course were sighted Saturday. This is not a course record, however, according to George B. Ferry, who says that the course has been played as early as Jan. 8.

Mrs. Beatrice Finch, who has been in Pasadena, Calif., for the winter, and Richard Brown, a Western State Teachers college student, daughter and son of the late Mrs. James Brown of Saugatuck, have returned to Saugatuck.

J. W. Schrekengust, who received a hip injury several weeks ago when a car tipped over on the New Richmond hill, has recovered sufficiently to go on with his work as deputy sheriff.

Miss Marjorie MacDonald of Saugatuck, a student of dental hygiene at the University of Michigan, has recovered from a recent illness and returned to her studies.

The program is sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society and an offering for Missions will be received.

Michigan Leads in Pickle Crops

If the nation's pickle eaters fail to get their fill in 1939, it isn't Michigan's fault, for growers in this state last year harvested 25,000 acres of cucumbers to get an estimated billion pickles. Many of these went into the H. J. Heinz Co. 57 varieties.

That's a fourth of the national production, as figured out by E. L. Seaton, horticulturist, and F. W. Fabian, bacteriologist of the staff of Michigan State College.

The two men were leaders at East Lansing in the recent mid-winter technical school for pickle and kraut packers which attracted plant managers and technicians from 18 states and Canada. The schooling is designed annually as a service to those who utilize so much of the Michigan production of cucumbers for pickles and cabbage for kraut.

One of the men attending the conference was Roy Irons, Clyde, Ohio, secretary of the National Kraut Packers' association. He placed Michigan fourth in kraut cabbage, yielding a large share of the 192,000 tons packed in 1938 and now being consumed. The 192,000 tons fill 138,384,000 average size cans.

Insects and crop diseases were discussed at the conference, as well as new information on vitamins, flavors, control of bacteria and use of various sugars and acids in processing the food products.

A regular meeting of the Beechwood Boosters was held Wednesday night at the school. Mary Hanson, Betty Soya, Maude Horning and Anne Vander Yacht were captains of teams as a new volleyball tournament was started. A team headed by Mrs. Darlene Riemersma won the recent tournament.

"George in a Jam" is being repeated at Montello Park school Thursday and Friday under the auspices of the Van Raalte P.T.A.

Members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution heard a talk on "Lamps Through the Ages" at the meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Martha Robbins of 93 West 14th St. Mrs. Josephine M. Shaw, who has exhibited her collection of lamps dating from pre-historic times at various exhibitions, including The Chicago world's fair, spoke. Mrs. Malcolm House and Miss Ruby Hughes were hostesses. Mrs. F. E. De Weese, president of the chapter, presided.

Start Laying Bricks On Walls of New Allegan Hospital

With concrete for foundation and first floor poured, brickwork started Wednesday on Allegan's new hospital, which when finally completed and equipped will cost around $175,000. Considerable progress has been made on the structure despite bad weather and storms. Since early spring is due to arrive soon, it is expected that more speed in construction will be shown.

Tentative plans have been considered to arrange a dedication ceremony and the laying of a cornerstone. This probably will take place during latter April or early in May, depending upon the amount of progress made in construction and weather conditions.

The hospital, when completed, will have around 30 beds and all floors will be used extensively, including the basement, which has special rooms. Completion date has been set, by contract, for the middle of fall and the hospital will be opened at that time to receive patients.

When the dedication ceremony takes place, it is reported that a program of interest to all citizens in the city will be presented. Preparation of the program will be in the hands of city officials, co-operating with the W. K. Kellogg Hospital foundation.

Definite announcements concerning it probably will be announced within the next few weeks.

CENTURY CLUB HEARS NOTED COMMENTATOR

Mrs. F. M. Brazelton, Chicago news commentator and a leader in the League of Women Voters, spoke on "The Carpenter Encouraged the Goldsmith" at a meeting of the Century club Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLean on West 12th St.

Mrs. Brazelton urged her listeners not to be discouraged by the nine years of depression. We have had our nine years of good cry," she said. "Let's not get the habit."

Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen arranged the musical program, which consisted of numbers by the girls' string quartet of Holland high school. The quartet is composed of Pauline Lowe, first violin; Amy Haight, second violin; Myra Kleis, viola; Patricia Haskins, cello.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul Hinkamp, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Yeomans and Mr. and Mrs. William Winter were in charge of the social hour. The next meeting will be held March 20 at the home of Mrs. N. and Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen.

Melons Date Back For Centuries

Watermelon and cantaloupe graced the tables of Americans in the far southwest 300 years ago and perhaps before the first white settlers arrived at Plymouth. These delicacies, not native to either of the American continents, made their debut in what is now the United States as early as 1629, according to research of Volney H. Jones, University of Michigan anthropologist.

Evidence that American Indians included these melons and other foreign foodstuffs in their diets at this early date is provided by, of all things, the bricks of a Spanish mission in the old Hopi Indian village of Awatovi in northeastern Arizona. In Mr. Jones' research, waste food and other refuse was separated from the adobe bricks of the mission. This refuse, Mr. Jones explains, was used as a binding material in manufacturing the bricks.

Because records give 1629 as the date for the building of the mission, the introduction of these foods by the Spanish is known to be not later than this date. In addition to the melon seeds found in the bricks, fruit pits, grain and straw also indicate that the Hopi people were cultivating wheat, peaches, and either plums or apricots at this time. The information given by bricks indicates that there have been no important changes in the climate, vegetation, or animals of the region in the 300 years since the mission was built.

CERTIFICATE OF HONOR AWARDED METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

A certificate of honor for having fulfilled its quota in the Million Unit Fellowship Movement, has been awarded the Saugatuck Methodist Episcopal church of Saugatuck, according to the Rev. Robert Sneden, pastor. The local church is one of 926 churches, or about five per cent of the denomination's 20,000 congregations in the United States, which already have reached their goals.

Quotas for the individual churches were set when the movement, now in its third year, was inaugurated and were based on a communion wide goal of 500,000 units—persons who will subscribe one dollar a month as well as undertake the spiritual obligations of the fellowship.

With the strengthening and deepening of the spiritual life of the church as its chief objectives, the Million Unit Fellowship Movement is also endeavoring to secure a better understanding of its missions and benevolences, known collectively as world service. Thus far, the movement has added about three-quarters of a million dollars to the church income for missions and benevolences.

new plant, and the U. S. government gave the city of Holland a limited time in which to start the project going, should they receive the grant of $675,000 approximately. In order to find out exactly what their equity was in the way of riparian rights, the Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. started proceedings in the courts followed by other proceedings and contemplated proceedings by still other property owners, it would never have been possible to go through the court, which might take months or even years, and at the same time have the Board of Public Works start its plant according to government stipulations and save the grant of $675,000. For that reason, after months of negotiations, meetings, court proceedings, dissolving of injunctions, the final basis of settlement was reached between the city and the respective property owners, and as we understand it, the last signature for settlement for these property owners was received last week Friday, according to City Attorney, Clarence Lokker. The Board of Public Works did not know up to that time the outcome of the entire matter.
According to Joseph H. Geerds, member of the Board of Public Works, who speaks with authority for the Board, it is understood that $52,320 was paid by the Board of Public Works in reaching a settlement between the Board and the property owners, the land extending from the West Michigan Furniture Co. nearly to the Grand Haven bridge.
Included in the $52,320 is the original purchase price of $24,320 which is to be paid to Jack Lyons, Mr. Geerds stated, adding that the new site will be larger in area than the original site of 11.97 acres which council authorized the board to purchase from Mr. Lyons late last fall. Mr. Geerds said he did not know the exact acreage of the newly-acquired site.
Those included in the compromise settlement are the West Michigan Furniture Co., the Holland Furniture Co., Scott-Lugers Lumber Co., the Gil-Boat Co., Donnelly - Kelley Glass Co., the John Good Co., Walsh and Zwemer, Lyons Construction Co. and the city of Holland.
Mr. Geerds stated that all those concerned in the compromise had accepted terms of the agreement. Some of the property owners accepted cash while others took property along the new channel which has been constructed as an outlet for Black river into Lake Macatawa.
Council members were advised of the details of the settlement when it gave the board the power to act in the matter.
From the compromise settlement, the city of Holland is acquiring the original site purchased with an additional 40 feet to the north of the original site. The city also is acquiring a 90-foot right of way for the north extension of Pine Ave. from Seventh St. to Madison St. together with rights-of-way for all open streets east of Pine Ave.
"This will save the city considerable expense in obtaining the right of way for Pine Ave. which would immediately be necessary to extend the Pine St. storm sewer and the sewage disposal plant discharge along Third St. This site and the 90-foot right of way was obtained through a compromise for the city at other less cost than any other available site for the municipal power plant," Mr. Geerds said.
Mr. Geerds said payment of the $52,320 will be made from board of public works funds and will be included in the cost of the plant. In explaining why the board selected this particular site for its plant, the board member stated that two sites were available but this one was the most desirable.
"However, the board of public works found itself unable to go ahead with construction work as long as there was any court litigation as to government financial aid could be had until the matter of property rights had been settled," he explained.
He said that over a long period of time several compromises were presented to the property owners but only recently was one presented that could be "workable" among all concerned.
All property owners are satisfied with the settlement, Mr. Geerds reported, adding that Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. will take immediate steps to dismiss its suit now pending in Ottawa circuit court against the city. In its complaint this company claimed ownership of the property upon which the city proposed to build the plant.
The others affected by the compromise settlement were brought into the case by the board after suit had been filed by Donnelly-Kelley. The board wished to make a settlement with all property owners to avoid any further delays as it was felt that all were affected by the filling in of the lake through their riparian rights. It was also learned elsewhere that all money which has been expended to date on the project has come from board of public works funds. The city could not make application for PWA assistance until it could show proof that there was no court action pending or any threatened law suits against the project.
Mr. Geerds stated that the city's grant is still in good standing with PWA officials. He said action will now be taken to clear all titles to the property in circuit court by means of "friendly" cases.
"The compromise was the result of the idea that property owners owning property along the original shores of Lake Macatawa had claims through their riparian rights. The board agreed to the compromise rather than take a chance of losing its PWA grant through a long court suit."
The board of public works is highly elated over the settlement in obtaining the site to build the plant without any expensive court litigation as well as the immediate acquiring of the right of way for Pine Ave. and extension of sewers," Mr. Geerds said.
He reported that the works board at its special meeting Friday night adopted a resolution of thanks to be presented to the Lake States Engineering Co. for holding back the work on its contract until it received the "go-ahead" signal.
Under PWA regulations, work

Hope Drops Two Games At Kazoo; Standing Is 3rd

frame. Bob Vandenberg, forward, was high for Hope with 10 points. Beban topped Albion with 18.
Returning to the floor after only a 10-minute intermission, Hope battled Kalamazoo, and lost, 30-23. After trailing 14 to 11 at the half the Dutch staged a seven-point spurt at the beginning of the second half, and it was anybody's ball game from that time on. Thirty seconds before the end of the game, Vandenberg made a bucket to put the local collegians ahead, 29-28. The basket which Spalsbury dropped in the last five seconds to defeat Hope resulted when he intercepted a Hope pass and dribbled down close for the winning shot. Vandenberg also picked up ten points in this game, and was high for Hope. Spalsbury garnered eight for Kalamazoo.
Kalamazoo beat Albion by another 30-29 score in the final game of the three and a half hour series.

attorney, also had no opposition, and received 2372 votes.
For health officer Dr. William M. Tappan, who is now serving, won easily over Dr. William Westrate, a former health officer. Both are American Legion men. Tappan received 1816, and Westrate, 880.
Joe H. Geerds had no opposition, and was elected for five years by a vote of 2305 for the office of member of the Board of Public Works.
The only contest on the city ballot left for April, aside from the aldermen, is the member of the board of police and fire commissioners. There were three candidates: John (Vaudie) Vandenberg, receiving 904, John Knapp, 755, and James Borr, 944.
The results of the aldermanic and constable race are found below, with full particulars.
MANY ALDERMANIC CANDIDATES GO BACK ON THE BALLOT
It was rather a spirited aldermanic contest in the non-partisan election in Holland Monday.
In the contest in the first ward were Albert P. Kleis, present alderman, who comes from a family of aldermen, his father being alderman before him; Jacob Vandenberg, P. M. railroad man; and Edward J. Arendshorst, local broker. The results show that Jacob Vandenberg, a former alderman, received 72; Albert Kleis, 193; Edward J. Arendshorst, 213. Arendshorst and Kleis will have to try conclusions again next April.
The second ward alderman, James A. Drinkwater, dean of the council, and better known as "Art" to his many friends, had no opposition, and garnered 93 votes.
In the third ward there were two candidates in the field, and consequently an election.

PARK TOWNSHIP HAD UNEVENTFUL PRIMARY
Supervisor, George Heneveld, received 277 votes in the two precincts; Dick Miles and Henry Vanderberg received a vote in the first precinct, the names being written in. Nicholas Stielstra won easily for clerk in the two precincts over Robert Leenhouts, Stielstra receiving 200 and Leenhouts 100. Mr. Stielstra takes the place of Albert Kronemeyer, who did not ask for another term.
Dick Nieuwma, the present treasurer, won over Oscar Witteveen by 162 votes. Nieuwma received 162 votes, 19 in the first precinct and 143 in the second. Witteveen received 145 in the two precincts, 96 in the first, and 49 in the second.
Gerrit Nevenzel received 264 votes for justice of the peace in the two precincts. Peter Dykman for board of review received 279 votes in the two precincts. Henry Lugers for highway commissioner received 268 votes in the two precincts. Warren Fisher for constable received 224 in the two precincts. These four last named candidates are unopposed. All these names will appear on the ballot for the April election.
The baccalaureate address for members of the Hope college class of 1939 will be delivered June 18 by the Rev. Norman V. Peale, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, New York city.

had to be begun at a certain date and continue in order that the city remain eligible to receive its grant, amounting to approximately $675,000. The company, Mr. Geerds said, has been given full orders to complete its contract with the city as soon as possible.
Council and the works board met in a special joint session Friday night to receive bids for contract No. 2, which will be for the largest single contract to be awarded in the construction of the plant. Fourteen bids from nine companies were received. These bids will be found in the official council proceedings elsewhere in this issue.
The board, in turn, submitted the bids to its consulting engineer, Charles Hamilton of Grand Rapids, with instructions to tabulate them and to make recommendations in awarding the contract.
Five more contracts, including one for the building which will house the plant, must be let before the project is completed.
Regarding the pending suit of Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co., Orin S. Cross, attorney for the company, stated that the board of public works has settled in full with the Donnelly-Kelley company. The Donnelly-Kelley Co. will now cooperate with the board and will request the court to have a decree entered in this case to quiet title in favor of the city and from any possible claims.
Mr. Cross said his notice of appeal to the state supreme court on the decision of Judge Fred T. Miles in ordering dissolution of a temporary injunction obtained by the Donnelly-Kelley Co. against the city will be withdrawn.

Saugatuck Has Another Mexico Motor Traveler

THIS NOMAD SEES OLD MEXICO A LITTLE DIFFERENT;
ALSO VISITS
GUATEMALA

Recently the News printed a travelogue by Stuart N. Sessions of Saugatuck giving an interesting review of Old Mexico as he saw it. Below is found a description of a trip by Russell Force from our neighborhood town also printed in the Saugatuck Commercial Record showing just a different angle and also tells of a visit to Guatemala and of the Latin-American countries.

Since there have been so many who have made the trip to Mexico by auto, I feel another description of it would be like a carbon copy. Now that I have seen a cross section of this great country from border to border, it is easy to see that the landscape pattern repeats itself like a beautiful wall paper. From Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City, one passes through cactus-clad desert, fertile green plains, mountain lights and valley depths until his sense of balance becomes so confused he is certain that stars are racing up the mountain sides, though, at no time are the grades such as to require shifting of gears. The curves are many but easy enough so ordinary drivers should experience little difficulty.

Mexico City is no place for an amateur driver, and a good horn is as necessary as good brakes. The horn is used, or should be used at all intersections. The sound of the horn gives one the right of way except at stop streets where traffic police or lights operate during the busy hours. A person stops when the officer turns his side to him and goes when he turns his back to one or faces him.

Upon entering the city, official and unofficial guides are provided to assist a person to any point to which he may wish to go. As we had no room for an official guide, we attempted to do it alone only to be thrown off our course by the brief pause to right ourselves, a small boy with an overnight smattering of English fastened himself to the side of the coupe and unrolled his best slang.

"Hell, toots. Oke doke, kiss me. Where you go? I recommend the best places."

From then on his directions consisted of "blow your horn and go ahead." Along the way, we had found it more convenient to stop at auto courts. In Mexico City, we selected Shirley's, a well known American operated court. Shirley is a man from the states having a long period of experience in Mexico. The only criticism, if any, one might make of his establishment would be that it is not Mexican enough in atmosphere. In service rendered it is quite American, for which one is thankful, especially if he is in a hurry. Harry Frank, the globe trotter writer, Bowman and Dickenson and other authors have made their residence here and have written books in part or entirety in the courts. It was here, again, we met Mr. Power, publisher of Power's Guide (a most favored descriptive guide book to all Mexico) who introduced himself to us at Ixmiquilpan. He told us we had taken the last room in the best hotel causing his wife and himself to stay at a place of lesser rating where they had considerable company. It was difficult for my two friends, Stuart and Olin, to understand how any place could be worse than the one we had. Mr. Powers will still continue to add to his knowledge. He is now on a trip to see just how far he can travel by auto over the proposed Pan-American highway. He is driving a model A Ford with a rebuilt motor, all new tires, and he is equipped to make repairs on the spot. Any information he brings back will be true and worth abiding by—all at his own expense and physical discomfort. His intention is to satisfy the tourist who wants to know.

My greatest objection to travel in Mexico is tipping. A Scotchman would never get any pleasure out of travel in this country. It is almost impossible to park a car anywhere without from one to a dozen boys of all ages asking, "Watch your car, meester?" Any size tip may prove to be an insult as some wish to set their own price. When questioned they do not know what might happen to the car if it is not watched. On the other hand I know what could happen and so it is settled with the usual tip. Train travel in this respect is more costly, for instance, at Tierra Blanca the charge for the next was two pesos off and two pesos on or four pesos altogether which is ridiculous in any man's language. At the present rate of exchange it amounted to eighty cents American money. They are licensed and can show their papers to prove it.

Concerning the much talked of floating gardens at Xochimilco—perhaps, the description given by the Chamber of Commerce will give you a greater desire to visit the place. As for me, I prefer to read of their origin. They were at one time floating rafts of sticks and brush surfaced with soil to enable growing of vegetables and flowers by a peace loving Indian people. Later, as the rafts settled and more soil was added, tree roots took the gardens to the lake bottom making the whole a series of canals on which the tourist as well as the Mexican is poked about in flat bottomed flower-bedecked boats.

After passing a dance pavilion or two, the gardens appear on all sides. Flowers are so low in price that they could be used for goat feed and, with the exception of the violets, which were of a very good quality, I would suggest that most of them be used for just that—quantity to be sure but not always quality.

Xochimilco could be and should be a beautiful place. It is considered romantic, if one can take romance with a gulp. It is an experience worth all the time it takes. Don't miss it.

Taxco would appeal to more if it were harder to reach. It is, quoting most guide books, "a Colonial Gem," plastered to the mountain sides on which it lives and breathes, and with a sweeter breath than few other cities of the Republic. Borda was its father and the present government its god father. Its architecture and setting attract artists and tourists, good and bad and from all parts of the world. A few Americans believe it was especially created for them and the rest of the world should detour. A not-so-young lady expected us to park outside the town so she could utilize the space for eight or ten cars, to get a better view from the seat of her own auto. Judging from her tone of voice we were common tourists and judging from her water color she still has something to learn. Then one meets those who have been there before telling the newcomers how to get the prices down, gagging on a few Spanish words only to receive an answer in English. Time for Taxco was much too short. I want to go back for I have never seen a town quite like this. The market is clean and the Sunday is very busy. Its streets of cobblestone flow down between the buildings. The old church is worth the trip many times over. I do not believe a description can be given of Mexico's old churches. One marvels at their exterior beauty and also at their interior decorations. Protestants and Catholics alike are awed by the intricate carvings and moldings, the wealth of gold and silver, jewels and silks, costly woods and thousands of hours of toil.

To enter Guatemala requires considerable time in getting together the proper credentials, such as certificate of vaccination, health, and birth, a passport, five photographs, letter of conduct, tourist cards, etc. The last requirement before obtaining the tourist card is a letter from the American consul at Mexico City to the Guatemalan consul there. Our consul spent considerable time discussing Vandenberg, Hoover and the New Deal, sprinkled with American sports while his secretary typed the letter from the usual form, handing it to me with the words, "That's the silliest thing I have to do." In a few minutes the letter was presented to the consul of Guatemala and the tourist card was mine for a fee of five pesos or about one American dollar. In Mexico City I was told that there was a plane service between there and the capital of the state of Chiapas. Now that I am in Chiapas I have learned that there are two planes a week at a saving in time and money. I was also told by people "who know" that it would be a great risk to ship an auto on open flat cars to Guatemala. Now I know, automobiles are being shipped to the border in sealed cars. I am satisfied, though, to use as little Mexican gas in my car as possible as it is something that should be used only in stores.

From Mexico City to Cordoba, the highway is bonded surface or black top. Manuel Gardea was my driver and a very good one. He knows Mexican history and has an appreciation for the best in colonial architecture and a dislike for the modern, especially when crowded too close to the old. As a driver he has nothing more to learn. Briefly, describing his driving in such narrow streets, it is little exaggeration to say he could thread a needle with a rope. The trip to Cordoba is made in less than a day and it gave me many opportunities to photograph along the way. Traveling eastward to the Atlantic, Mr. Ortiz appears to move about. As we wound through the mountains, suddenly we looked down into a great valley and saw our road four thousand feet below. Again, I was glad Gardea was at the wheel. The car was in gear much of the way for the grades were greater than on the International highway. Cordoba is considered tropical, though, most people from the North feel a penetrating cold in the evenings and mornings.

Mexicans, at best, have failed to meet the needs of the American tourist—lots of glamour, brass buttons and ballyhoo, but if you want hot water, heat it yourself; that is one reason why Mexico is Mexico and it is worth all the bother.

TWO MUSKELLUNGES IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

Everyone's heard about the big one that got away. But even more difficult to believe than that old yarn is this new one about the two that didn't get away.

The story should be of especial interest to the many fishermen who have gone a lifetime wanting but never knowing the thrill of hauling in a muskellunge, Michigan's largest game fish. Arthur Martin of Moran, Mich., had that experience twice this winter and all in a period of 15 minutes.

Mr. Martin was spearing on Brevoort lake, one of the state's fine fishing places, when he pulled in the first musky. It was a nice one, later proving to weigh 27½ pounds, with a length of 47 inches. But Mr. Martin was still in the fever of joy when a second musky floated into range. His aim was accurate and the spear found its mark. And this one was more than 12 pounds heavier and five inches longer than the first. To be exact, it weighed 39½ pounds and was 52 inches long.

Several muskies have been taken out of Brevoort lake during the current spearing season, a few weighing to 40 pounds, according to Conservation Officer Ray Walker. Brevoort is the only lake in this vicinity known to be inhabited by muskellunge, although it is found in four other upper peninsula lakes and in 19 in the lower peninsula.

ered romantic, if one can take romance with a gulp. It is an experience worth all the time it takes. Don't miss it.

Townships Want Span Over River

ENGINEER BOWEN WILL STUDY THE PROJECT OF A NEW BRIDGE OVER THE GRAND—400 SIGN

Request for a bridge over Grand river connecting the north and south banks at about where Jack's Jungle is located on the south side, is being made by residents of Robinson and Crockett townships presented through a petition bearing over 400 names. The petition was turned over to the Ottawa county road commission yesterday by Casimir Szopinski, supervisor of Robinson township, to whom it was presented last week.

The request has come largely from residents in the two townships as a convenience to connect M-50 with the airline at Nunica. The project suggested is a revival of a demand that was made some 15 years ago when an attempt was made to build another trunkline north and south paralleling U.S. 31. The petition suggests the bridge be built as a WPA project.

To Study Request
Carl Bowen, county engineer, said he would make a study of the request as to cost, location and source of funds, preparatory to making a report to the board of supervisors at the April session. He said he will suggest that the matter be turned over to the roads committee of the board or that a special committee be appointed to make further study of the demand should the board be sufficiently interested.

According to Mr. Bowen the bridge would undoubtedly have to be a swing bridge or one built up very high as the river at that point is navigable, according to federal status, which would of course make the cost considerable. The bridge on M-50 over Grand river, erected many years ago, is stationary but the center span is so constructed that it could be used for a swing, providing navigation should be re-established at that point.

Mr. Bowen recalled that permission to build the present bridge was received from the federal government after many months of effort. He believes a bridge located at the suggested point would be too far east and would provide more convenience if located three or four miles farther west and in that way hook up with roads already constructed. He said the bridge would be a convenience principally for residents in the townships where the demand is being made.

Approximately 140 members and wives of members of the Young Men's Bible class of Trinity Reformed church attended the class banquet Tuesday evening in the church parlors. "We, the Privileged" was the subject of a talk by Dr. C. P. Dime of Grand Rapids, former Trinity pastor. A piano solo was presented by Doris Houting, and Mrs. Bert Arendsen gave a reading. Gladys Bos presented an accordion selection and the Weighmink brothers gave several instrumental numbers. "Wife Wanted," a play, was presented by the Beechwood Boisterettes. George Schilling, teacher of the class, the Rev. H. D. Ter Kuurst and Henry Tyse gave short talks. Dick Stoketee is the assistant teacher.

E. H. Plaggenmeyer of Montello park observed his 84th birthday anniversary Tuesday. During his active career he worked for Boone's Livery stables, carried the mail to Saugatuck, worked for a Grand Haven livery and a Fremont livery, and was employed with the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. for 35 years. He has three children, Herman of Chicago, and Miss Sue, and Mrs. Jack Marcus, both of Holland.

Those who were involved are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lavender and their children, Joyce, Jeanette, Virginia, Donald, Naomi and Jewell. As the picnic grounds are on his farm he went into one of the buildings. The dogs went with him. When he returned home he missed one dog but was not much alarmed as he thought it would return. About ten days afterwards he started to think that perhaps he had closed the door on the dog. He went back to the building and opened the door and the dog was just wild to see Mr. Dozeman.

750 Attend 17th Banquet of Fish And Game Club

"MAKE USE OF WHATEVER YOU HAVE," DR. RICE TELLS ORDERLY AUDIENCE

"Make use of whatever you have," Dr. Merton S. Rice, pastor of Metropolitan Methodist church, Detroit, told approximately 750 members of the Holland Fish and Game club who gathered in Holland armory Friday night for the club's 17th annual banquet and program.

A fire prevention tableau with Jack Leenhouts as "Demon Fire," and sound moving pictures, "Devil Fish," shown by John Klinkenberg were other features of the program. E. V. Hartman pronounced the invocation. During dinner, which the Methodist Episcopal church ladies served, the Holland American Legion band played. Their musical entertainment included a number of novelty pieces and two selections by the saxophone quartet, Eugene F. Hester directed the band and led the group singing, which followed dinner.

Immediately after the singing the tableau, which was originally conceived by Major Henry Geerds, with the help of the members of the club, was presented. The lights were dimmed and with the Legion band playing appropriate dramatic music, blue and purple flashes, like lightning, lighted the room at irregular intervals. When the proper atmosphere had been achieved, Jack Leenhouts appeared in a beard, moustache and tight red costume, complete with horns. Demon Fire called forth to turn all his assistants, who helped him destroy—the careless fisherman, the careless hunter, the camper who doesn't put out his fire, and the man who carelessly burns brush and leaves in his own yard. Just as it appeared that the forces of destruction were to be victorious, the voice of a fire warder was heard mobilizing the fire-fighting forces from the window in the second floor of the armory, which represented a fire tower. Uniformed conservation officers and Boy Scouts appeared and put out the fire.

The scene was illuminated entirely by means of the flares that the players carried. These portrayed the idea of fire so realistically that the front row of seats was evacuated during the tableau.

John Sybesma, Bert Ten Brink, John Patulis and Kenneth Wolring played the parts of the devil's assistants. The officers were Conservation Officers Forrest Lavoy and Howard Treat, district supervisor. The Scouts were Vernon Nijhuis and Warren Pommerening, both of Troop 7. Police Chief Ira A. Antles took the part of the townmaster.

J. N. Lievesne, club president and chairman of the banquet, introduced Major Geerds, the toastmaster. The latter complimented the banqueters on their orderliness. He introduced groups from Hastings, Hamilton, Saugatuck and Fremont, and presented Art Brown and Clyde Lydell of the Comstock Park fish hatchery. Major Geerds also introduced Conservation Officers Treat and Lavoy, the latter, the Major said, "for identification." He also asked Chief Antles, former conservation officer, to rise, who received an ovation.

"Conservation of ideas and ideals is as important today as conservation of game and other natural resources," the toastmaster said.

Others whom the toastmaster asked to rise were Joe Rhea, director of publicity for the banquet, and the club officers: Mr. Lievesne, president; C. De Waard, vice-president; John Galien, treasurer; Henry Vander Schoor, secretary; and Shud Althuis, T. Wyma, C. Van der Velde and G. Tubergen, directors. Major Geerds thanked the programs, and expressed his appreciation for the work done by the M. E. church ladies who served. "Let us use what we have, and worry not over what we have lost," Dr. Rice said. His talk consisted of a series of anecdotes taken from his broad experience, illustrating a theme taken from a saying of Solomon that "A live dog is better than a dead lion."

In explaining the saying, he emphasized that the despised dog of Solomon's day is far different from the dog as we know him. He told of the esteem in which we hold members of the canine world, and described a dog's funeral with five cars of flowers which he saw recently in Detroit, while a short distance away an honest and hard-working woman was being buried with a single spray of fern. "I wish Solomon had been on hand," Dr. Rice said.

"We must make use of the difficult things," he declared; "the difficult things in life that we have often failed to see." The speaker quoted Thomas E. Edison, who contemplated the cooling ashes of his once great laboratory at East Orange, N. J., and finally said, "Tomorrow, thank God, we shall have the joy of beginning all over again."

In conclusion, Dr. Rice said, "There's two hours more of this, but I guess that's enough for tonight," and sat down.

After his talk, the Detroit pastor was presented with "covers for another kind of dog"—a pair of size 12 wooden shoes.

Approved and hearing set for Wednesday, April 5, 1939.

Clerk presented communication from the Police and Fire Board recommending that the Board be given authority to receive bids and purchase a fire truck at a cost of not to exceed $15,000.00.

It was moved by Ald. Drinkwater, seconded by Kleis, That the recommendation of the Board be approved.

Ald. Oudemool objected to the wording of the recommendation, stating that in his opinion the recommendation should provide that the bids be sealed bids and that they be publicly opened and referred to the Common Council for action.

Ald. Drinkwater stated that it was his understanding that this would be done inasmuch as he felt that all bids on matters of this kind should be sealed bids and should be handled by the Council.

Ald. Ketel reported for Ald. Drinkwater's information that the Committee from the Council had been working with the committee from the Police and Fire Board on this matter of securing sealed bids. However, they could not come to an agreement on this matter since the Police and Fire Board committee felt that they have made sufficient investigation and were ready to purchase a Seagrave Truck without further bids.

A substitute motion was therefore offered by Ald. Oudemool and supported by Smith.

That the Council committee, together with the committee from the Police and Fire Board prepare the necessary specifications for receiving sealed bids. Adopted unanimously.

Motions and Resolutions

Ald. Kalkman reported that he had been approached relative to the City selling the so-called airport property on E. 16th St., and suggested that the Council advertise for bids and sell this property. Ald. Prins, however, stated that some favorable offer should first be received before the property is offered for sale, and moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. Adopted.

Mr. James De Young, chairman of the Board of Public Works, appeared before the Council and requested permission to meet with the Council members in the Committee of the Whole to further discuss the matter pertaining to the City acquiring undisputed title to the property where the Board is constructing its new Light Plant. On motion of Ald. Prins, seconded by Smith.

The Council went into the Committee of the Whole for this purpose and adjourned to the Band Room for discussion.

After discussing this matter for a brief time, the Committee returned, and

On motion of Ald. Ketel, seconded by Oudemool, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED, that the entire matter of securing the building site for the erection of the City power plant and the terms of settling all pending and threatened litigation relating thereto, be left to the Board of Public Works with full power to act."

Ald. Prins reported that he had received complaints in regard to parking on both sides of College Ave. between 10th and 12th Sts., and recommended that until such time as this street is widened, that parking be permitted only on the east side of College Ave., between these two blocks, viz.: 10th and 12th Sts. not arrive until an hour later and the assembly was adjourned before he put in an appearance.

One hundred fifty of the teachers and school officials from all over the country dined at the Methodist church and they received the hospitality not only of the church women, but of Grand Haven citizens as well.

The Rural Ramblers quartet of Holland gave a selection in the morning and Dr. C. A. DeYoung, an educational director at a normal college in Illinois and a native of Zeeland, Mich., and Salam Rizk, a native of Syria, spoke at both the morning and afternoon meetings.

In the afternoon Dr. DeYoung spoke on "Teacher Education" and Mr. Rizk's subject was "The Education of an Immigrant." Mr. Rizk gave an interesting account of his life, including his arrival at Ellis island off New York. He contended that America is still the only land of promise on the face of the earth.

Supt. E. H. Babcock of the public schools at Grand Haven made announcements and Mr. Groenewoud, who will not seek reelection as commissioner in the spring election, presided.

Mr. Groenewoud of this city has served Ottawa county as school commissioner for 16 years and he has not only been a painstaking official but an able one. He is not only well versed in school work but knows all the ramifications of Holland school law and that requires knowledge. Mr. Groenewoud, who retires next fall, has the good will of all educators in this county and it can be said of him after 16 years of faithful service, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

A recent ballot by students of Hamilton high school resulted in the following selections: Girls' di-

JAPS MAY WIN BUT RACE WILL NOT MIX

"Behind the Scenes in Eastern Asia" was the subject of a talk by Dr. William Montgomery Government of the Northwestern University faculty at a meeting attended by members of the Woman's Literary club and their husbands Tuesday night.

Dr. McGovern believes that the Japanese will win the present war, that they will not be assimilated by the Chinese, but that after half a century or more the Chinese, having learned warfare and organization from the invaders, will eject the Japanese again. This opinion is backed by the speaker's nine months of experience as a war correspondent in the war in Asia, as well as by his knowledge of both nations. He also discussed factors which make the two nations too different to merge, and some of the Chinese national characteristics which have hampered their waging a modern war.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, Hope college president, introduced Dr. Mc-Govern. The members' guests were welcomed by Mrs. Kenneth De Pree, president of the club. Mrs.
Albert Diekema and Mrs. Don Crawford were hostesses. Seating of the guests was in charge of Mrs.
Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. W. S.
Merriam.

Approximately 300 were present.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

March 12, 1939.

Peter Delivered from Prison—
Acts 12:5-17.

Henry Geerlings

Hate never sleeps. Wickedness is always alert. Evil men are always planning how to defeat good men and to circumvent goodness. Herod was one of this type. He, at this time, laid violent hands on Jesus.
He seemed to think it was better to have Jesus removed and so he saw to it that it was done. It is possible that he would have given Herod no particular cause for concern. It may be that he did not care what Jesus believed and taught, but he knew the Jews did care and here was an opportunity to make himself popular with them.
Such men as Herod will not stop at anything if they may gain popularity. Tyrants have no hearts.
Neither have they any respect for other people's rights. What they want and what they consider will glorify them to consider as of importance. So a laid violent hands upon Jesus and slew him with the sword. This had the very effect upon the popular mind that Herod wanted it to have. It pleased the Jews. That pleased him, too. He thought to please them still further and he therefore laid hold upon Peter with the purpose of putting him to death also. But this man who cared nothing for human blood did have respect upon the blood of the sacrifices. He was that kind of a mind that would preserve the ribbons of religion, but would not hesitate to crucify its beautiful spirit.

Because it happened to be the days of unleavened bread when Peter was arrested, Herod would not think of using the sword on him.
Then that would be a great sin, not because he hesitated to commit murder, but because he would not be guilty of a breach of religious etiquette. It seemed to be quite right to commit murder if it can be done outside of unleavenedbread week. It is quite allowable to let yourself loose in a wild life of gaiety and to give yourself over to social excesses provided you do not do these things in Lent.
Peter became a hold-over case for the sword could be used with ease and a clear conscience so far as Herod was concerned. But not always do tyrants' plans go through.
While Peter was languishing in prison the church was praying. It is really a thrilling and dramatic contrast which we have here. On the one hand we have this wicked man Herod defying the throne of God and on the other we have a little company of devout souls besieging with prayer that same throne of God. We have on the one hand impudent and self-sufficiency, we have a sense of utter insufficiency on the other hand, completely reliant upon the omnipotence of God. Though God does not always interpose as we think he should and though it looks at times as if He did not care, yet there are many ways in the mind of God whereby our knowing for the accomplishment of good and His ultimate purposes through us. God did interpose to save Peter's life. Why did He not save James from the sword?
That we cannot answer. If we measure life in terms of this world and this world's years then it may be said that for many people life is nothing but a staggering tragedy and an unaccountable piece of injustice. But if we think of life as extending beyond death and this world's affairs then we have some light on the question of why spare Peter's life and why let James be put to death by the sword. If we believe in the continuity of life, then we can also believe in a continuous program for life and a fandum purpose which goes beyond any working out of things here. In this case we have every reason to believe that God was as much with James as He was with Peter. God was not behind the sword that slew James, but He did permit it and He gave James a great victory through such a violent death. The sword did not and could not touch his soul, only his body. You cannot decapitate the soul. It may be that the death of James, cruel and violent though it was, was a glorious liberation for that great personality that he might begin a program of great usefulness in the unseen, but real world, that there is something for him more glorious ahead. There is tonic and life beyond chemistry or description, the fact that we are justified in measuring the values of life in terms of immortality.

Examination was waived Wednesday by Allen Howard, 50, of Montpelier, O., charged with felonious assault on Sam Wise, 49, after the accused had previously demanded a hearing, which had been set by Justice John Galien for 10 a. m. Friday. As a result of Howard's later action, he was bound over for arraignment before Judge Fred T. Miles Thursday. Howard's criminal record, received Wednesday by Chief Ira A. Andles from the Michigan State police, indicate that he has received the following sentences: 1910, one and one-half to five years at Ionia, burglary and larceny; 1912, three to seven years, robbery; 1915, returned to Ionia, violation of parole; 1924, one and one-half to five years, receiving stolen goods; 1932, returned to prison, violation of parole and later indicted for burglary and larceny. Howard is also wanted by Grand Rapids police. He was one of the parties involved in a fight in a local tavern about a year ago, according to Deputy William Van Etta.

Tagged Raccoons

Just Don't Return

What happens to pen-reared raccoons when they are released in the wild? During the last two summers 75 raccoons have been tagged at the Swan Creek Experiment Station near Allegan, but only 10 of the animals have been recovered by hunters. A year ago, a half dozen raccoons were released near the Huron River by the Michigan Sportsmen's Association. These raccoons were ear-punched for identification, but none of them has ever been reported by 'coon hunters.

The scant records of the Swan Creek station indicate that it is not unusual for raccoons to travel from five to 10 miles and two of them have gone 18 to 20 miles from the point where they were tagged. The object of the raccoon investigation is to learn what management measures will promote the natural increase of raccoons in the state. The project is being carried out by the Conservation Department, and constitutes part of Michigan's wildlife restoration program under the Federal arms and ammunition tax fund for 1938.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The next regular meeting of the Post will be held on Wednesday, March 22nd.

The program and lunch will be under the supervision of Jake Bultman and the Forty & Eight. This is our Birthday Party and we look for a good turn-out.

On next Wednesday, the 15th, the Auxiliary will entertain all the members of the Post at their regular meeting. Keep this date in mind. You know the ladies never have a slip-up on their lunch committee like we do and their kitchen committee already has the lunch arranged.

Two big meetings are scheduled for Friday, March 10th.

One is the Fifth District meeting at Grandville, in their new club house just across the road from the entrance to Johnston Park, (turn north at the traffic light in Grandville). Several items of importance to Legionnaires will be discussed.

The other meeting for the 10th is the Americanism meeting at Saginaw. There is no charge for this but you must get there in time because it will be well attended. Comrade Homer Chailleau, National Americanism Chairman will be the main speaker.

Finance officer, Andy Rutgers, is reported as being on sick call.

There were a few more Legion caps at the last meeting, but not the number there should be. Get yours ready so you may wear it to the next meetings.

Professional Adv. — Committee reports made in your absence or presence, no written reports necessary, just call me any time before the meeting starts. — A. C. Joldersma.

We had a musical program last Wednesday, the first in quite a while. Miss Gladys Bos, Accordion; Master Billy Bos, drums, and Mrs. Wm. Bos, piano—and good too. And Comrade Bill Bos, property man.

Remember the above dates—next Wednesday the following Wednesday and this Friday.

Mrs. Henry Dangremont of Los Angeles, Calif., daughter of Mrs. John Hoffman of Holland, is seriously ill.
