Local Leaders Are Enthusiastic Over Tulip Time

Indirect Financing of Festival Proposed in New Souvenir Booklet

Everything seems rosy for Tulip Time. More than 100 local business men and industrialists gathered in Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday morning to discuss the future of Tulip Time over a cup of coffee, and not one person expressed a desire to tailor the festival to a home-town event.

In fact, many went on record as favoring a longer festival to accommodate the large crowds that flock annually to Holland.

John H. Van Dyke, president of Tulip Time, Inc., explained some of the financial difficulties facing the commission in view of the fact that no state funds seem to be forthcoming this year. He outlined a plan whereby local leaders could contribute indirectly to the festival's financial success.

This involves buying advertising space in a Tulip Time souvenir booklet similar to the Tournament of Roses booklet issued annually in Pasadena. This booklet would have an initial printing of 10,000 with a potential printing of 50,000 and would retail at 50 cents. It would contain choice Tulip Time pictures and its size would depend on the amount of advertising.

Distribution would be in charge of the Lions club which would derive a small percentage for its blind fund. This project no longer comes under Community Chest, it was said.

In the discussion as to the future of Tulip Time, Jim Frane received a hearty round of applause when he said, "Anything that brings a million dollars to Holland benefits everybody. We should extend Tulip Time instead of cutting it down."

Frane's angle of the tourist dollar was supplemented by Harold A. Vanderploeg who invited all present to the meeting of the Holland Tourist Council tonight at 7:45 p.m. in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Chairman Van Dyke said local response was poor to the commission's request for expressions on the future of Tulip Time but outside response was good, all urging no letdown. He asked full co-operation from leaders in promoting wearing of Dutch costumes and participation in parades and street scrubbing.

Among those expressing opinions were Bert Post, William Nies, Jim Frane, Harold Vanderploeg, Andrew Klompars, Bertel Sligh, John Antas, Russell Bouws and Nick Hoffman.

Crime Increasing, Kiwanians Hear

"We are in a crime wave today," Robert L. Lalley, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told local Kiwanians at their meeting Monday night at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Because 1948 figures have not been released as yet for publication, Lalley illustrated his talk with 1947 statistics, asserting the 1948 crime figures have increased over the previous year's total.

Lalley stated 21 murders were committed on an average each day throughout the nation. The daily average on rape cases was 47, robberies 159, and aggravated assaults 205. A total of 2,585 larcenies were committed daily totaling 943,000 for the year 1947. Auto thefts also ran high with an average of 506 per day.

Lalley based his assertion of increased crime during the last year upon the fact more fingerprint cards were received by the bureau from local law enforcement agencies than any other year. He said FBI now has a file of more than 110,000,000 fingerprints on hand. Daniel Vander Werf, club president, who was in charge of the meeting, presented the speaker with a pair of wooden shoes. Wilbur Cobb was program chairman. Guests were Police Chief Jack Van Hoff, Deputy Sheriff Clayton Forry and Edwin Plaggenmeyer.

Resident of Saugatuck Succumbs to Illness

Mrs. Loring Randolph, 72, of Saugatuck, died Tuesday morning in Riverside Nursing home after a lingering illness. Born April 1, 1876 in Saugatuck, she was the former Nellie Van Leeuwen.

Surviving are the husband; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Böttcher of Ferndale; two sons, Fred of Waukegan and Clare of Los Angeles, Calif.; seven grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Edward Kitchin of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Kate Hale of Allegan, Mary Wolters of Gibson and Mrs. John Bekken of Holland; and a brother, Earl Van Leeuwen of Washington, D. C.

The funeral will be Friday at 2 p.m. in First Congregational church, Saugatuck, the Rev. H. E. Maycroft officiating. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery. The body will be at the Dykstra Funeral home in Holland until Friday morning when it will be taken to the church.

Dr. Melville Sayhun of Santa Barbara, Calif., relaxes at the Warm Friend Tavern. The Stanford-educated scientist is credited with important discoveries in nutrition. He is currently working on germ-destroying substances called anti-biotics.

Noted Organic Chemist Pays Visit to Holland

Countless lives have been saved through the work of Dr. Melville Sayhun, who succeeded in developing the only commercial process for making crystalline insulin, which is essential for life of persons afflicted with sugar diabetes.

And now, this pioneer in the fields of commercial insulin and amino acids, is striking out on his own, forsaking support of universities and chemical companies to build his own laboratory for work in the field of nutrition. He will finance the project with money received from his patents.

Dr. Sayhun came to Holland Thursday with his attorney. They left last night for Santa Barbara, Calif.

The chemist's method of commercial insulin production established from 1930-34, at Stanford university, has made it possible for the crystalline form of insulin to be produced as cheaply as crude insulin.

Dr. Sayhun also developed the first amino acid preparation, now widely used for injection into human beings as a liquid food, when therapy requires such treatment. "Amino acids are the building stones of proteins in the body," he said.

The nutrition expert was born in Beirut, Lebanon, adjoining Palestine in 1895, and came to America in 1923. He is a graduate of the American university of Beirut, and was a member of the faculty for three years.

During World War I, he served as assistant to the secretary of the commander of the British fleet. These travels took him to Egypt, where he became a news reporter.

Coming to the United States, he turned to chemistry, and during the period from 1923-28, became interested in insulin, which was discovered in 1922 by Sir Frederick Banting and Charles Best.

During those five years, Dr. Sayhun published 10 papers on his research with insulin, one of which described the first method of testing the potency of insulin.

In 1928, he entered Stanford university, and received M. S. and Ph. D. degrees in two years, won two fellowships and a Sigma Psi key.

Leaving Stanford, he became director of biochemical research at Frederick Stearns Co., in Detroit, and later became chemical consultant for several companies, among them Dow Chemical of Midland.

At present, Dr. Sayhun's efforts are concentrated in his own laboratory at Santa Barbara, where he is investigating a new synthetic anti-biotic. An anti-biotic is described as a substance formed by molds of bacteria, capable of destroying bacteria. This anti-biotic is made by synthesis, a building-up process from simple organic compounds. Dr. Sayhun is also carrying on large experiments in cattle feeding in California, to try and improve the nutrition value of feed. He has published more than 60 scientific papers, and two books.

Charter Meeting
The public is urged to attend the second charter revision commission meeting tonight in the council chamber of the city hall. George Sidwell, charter consultant, will discuss the many forms of city government in detail. The form adopted by the charter commission is one of the more important aspects of charter revision.

Holland Among Leaders in U.S. Traffic Safety

National Safety Council Completes Annual Survey Covering 386 Cities

New York, March 10 (Special)—With a perfect record of no fatalities in 1948 resulting from auto accidents, Holland took its place among the leaders in traffic safety during the past year. The findings are by the National Safety Council, which has just completed its annual survey of auto accidents, covering 386 cities.

Compared with Holland's perfect record, an improvement over its 1947 figure of four traffic deaths, is the national rate of 21.9 killed per 100,000 population and the rate for other cities of Holland's size group, 10,000 to 25,000 population which was 11.2 deaths per 100,000 population. The Michigan state figure was 24.3.

On the basis of number of cars in use, the 386 cities average 3.9 fatal accidents for every 10,000 cars operated.

The report shows that there were 697 fewer fatal accidents in 1948 than in the prior year. The reduction, which amounted to two per cent, left the national toll at 32,000. Slight though the improvement was, it was accomplished in the face of a rise of seven per cent in travel in 1948. Viewed from this standpoint—miles traveled—1948 had the lowest auto death rate ever recorded, the Safety Council states.

Eleven Persons Pay Local Court Fines

Eleven persons paid fines in municipal court Monday and Tuesday.

Louis Stegenga of route 1, and Mrs. Harry Neils of route 4, each paid $6 for speeding and William Wood, 19, of route 4, paid $5 on a similar count.

James Klinge, of route 6, paid $3 for running a stop street and Arnold Gordon, 23, of route 2, Bangor, paid $3 for not having a license plate.

Parking fines of $1 each were paid by Marvin L. Overway of Holland; Phillip N. Frank of 235 West 25th St.; Ann Lowry of 686 North Shore Dr.; J. W. Hobeck of Holland; Leon Wenzel of 345 Howard Ave., and Ben Frens of 172 West 18th St.

Police Report Two Accidents

Holland police reported two accidents during the week-end.

Car driven by Carlton V. Ardis of route 3, Lowell and Jacob D. Wiersma of route 3, Zeeland, came together Saturday evening at the crossing of 15th St. and College Ave.

Ardis was given a summons for driving without due caution. According to police, skid marks from the Ardis car were visible 24 feet up to the point of the impact and 12 feet after the impact.

Damage to the Ardis car was estimated to be $150 and $200 to the Wiersma car. Both drivers told police they didn't see each other in time to stop.

In a mishap Sunday afternoon on River Ave., between 15th and 16th Sts., a car driven by Robert E. Rosendahl of route 2, and a car driven by Dick Smallenburg of 297 East 12th St., collided.

Police said Smallenburg was standing still waiting for traffic and Rosendahl said he didn't see the stopped car in time.

On Such a Day as This, They Razed Old Hotel

It was just 25 years ago today that work was begun on tearing down the old Holland hotel to make way for the Warm Friend Tavern.

The late Frank Dyke was contractor for both jobs, tearing down the old hotel and building the new $500,000 hotel. At the time work was begun, it was hoped that the new hotel would be ready for a stockholders' banquet the next Christmas.

Files of The Sentinel revealed that the hotel was financed largely through issuance of $300,000 in common stock, with sales limited to five $100 shares for any individual on the supposition that the more to participate the greater the success.

The late A. H. Landwehr of the Holland Furnace Co. arranged for the Holland Furnace to offer $200,000 in 6 per cent realty bonds with interest payable semi-annually and principle at the rate of $5,000 or more a year.

Crest listed the hotel proper at $335,000, the site at $65,000 and furnishings at $100,000.

The building committee consisted of G. J. Dickema, Landwehr,

The board will elect officers for 1949 and discuss policies for the year. C. D. McNamee, of Muskegon, is president.

The contest is carried on under auspices of this board representing agriculture, business, and the press of the five counties participating—Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Ottawa.

Game Club Fete Ducats on Sale In Holland Area

Only 750 ducats are on sale for the annual Holland Fish and Game club banquet which will be held at the Armory April 21.

Gerrit Hoving heads the membership and program committee charged with ticket sales. Hoving said more than 300 of the 750 tickets already have been sold.

Hoving said tickets are available in Holland, Zeeland and Hamilton.

"Facilities at the Armory limit the event to 750 persons," Hoving said. "We wish we had the space to take care of 1,500."

Dog Owners Cautioned To Keep Pets Tied Up

Sheriff's officers and Holland city police today urged all dog owners to keep their pets tied up or under control at all times.

The request followed complaints of dogs molesting chickens and turkeys, according to Deputy Clayton Forry.

City police say they get many calls of dogs digging up lawns and upsetting garbage cans. Tony Beyer is county poundmaster and city police enforce dog ordinances inside the city.

Hope Students Place

Lucille Brunsting, Hope college student, speaking on "Kid Dreams," made fifth place in the women's division of the state oratorical contests sponsored by the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League at Alma last Friday.

William Dykstra, talking on "The New Look," was tied for third place in the men's contest. Dr. William Schrier and Prof. Edward S. Avison of the Hope college speech department attended the event.

Furnace Company 1948 Net Profit At All-Time High

W. H. Boer Appointed To New Position by Board of Directors

Holland Furnace Co. today reported a net profit, after taxes, of $4,033,808 for 1948, compared with profits of $3,696,319 for 1947. Earnings are equal to $4.48 per share, compared with $4.10 in 1947.

Officials revealed sales in 1948 were highest in company history totaling $41,020,000, an increase of 17 per cent over 1947. Net profit, however, after all taxes, amounted to only nine per cent over the preceding year. This was explained as the result of greatly increased costs in all departments offsetting profits normally attributable to a $6,000,000 rise in sales volume.

Management concurs in the general opinion that business in the heating industry, however, is favorable and there is a tremendous potential. It only remains for the company to procure its share of the purchasing dollar, a spokesman said.

"Decisive steps have been taken to accomplish this," the statement continues. "Weak spots will develop among personnel from time to time, in spite of every effort. These have been eliminated and replaced with enthusiastic, capable, positive thinking men. As a result, the organization is in an excellent position to meet a year which gives promise of being rather demanding. Also, nearly 200 branches are in process of being opened, giving the company a more full and complete coverage of territory."

Expenditures for improvements for 1948 amounted to $1,488,000, which includes the new factory addition nearing completion, the report revealed.

A regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share payable April 1 was declared by the board of directors at a meeting Tuesday. This payment affects holders of record at the close of business March 18.

The board also appointed William H. Boer as secretary and assistant treasurer. Boer has been with the organization in various capacities for 25 years.

"His appointment is most enthusiastically acclaimed by the entire organization," a spokesman said.

Norman Taylor Given Probation

Grand Haven, March 9 (Special)—Norman Taylor, 21, of 75 East Ninth St., Holland, was placed on probation for three years Thursday when he appeared before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith on a nighttime breaking and entering charge.

Conditions provide he pay $5 a month oversight fees, leave intoxicating liquors alone, secure employment, and pay $100 costs within six months.

Judge Smith also recommended that Taylor attend church at least once a Sunday and insisted he start a savings account or buy savings bonds regularly.

Taylor was involved in a break-in at Do Drop Inn in Holland Feb. 15.

"You will have to walk the straight and narrow path as no one has ever walked the straight and narrow path," the court told Taylor.

Frankena Heads Zeeland Ticket

Zeeland, March 10 — Nicholas Frankena, who has been mayor of Zeeland since 1940, was nominated to the position again at a Republican caucus Tuesday night which attracted approximately 100 persons.

Nomination of Frankena and others on the Republican slate is tantamount to election, since the Citizens party has announced it will submit no slate in this election. Republican nominees will appear on the April ballot but the only possible opposition will be write-in or sticker candidates.

Three new aldermen were nominated. They are Edward De Pree, Raymond Schapp and Marvin Verplank, replacing L. H. Van Dyke, Joe Waldyke and John Stephenson, all of whom said they did not seek re-election. Nicholas Tania, city treasurer, and Nick Cook, supervisor, also were nominated.

Constables on the ticket will be Herman and William Scheele, Arthur Giltstadt and Frederick Hieftje. Giltstadt is the only incumbent.

Nurses Wear Flowers On Grandpa's Birthday

Nurses and staff employees of Holland hospital wore carnations Wednesday in celebration of George Brooks' 92nd birthday anniversary.

Brooks, a patient at the hospital since last May, provided white carnations for the nurses and pink ones for other employees to celebrate his natal day. He is a Montello park resident.

Tuesday also was a special day at the hospital when Mrs. John Cooper, iron lung polio patient, marked her birthday anniversary. An avalanche of mail was received. Mrs. Cooper has been at Holland hospital since Sept. 29, 1947. The hospital kitchen baked special cakes for both occasions.

200 Persons Hear Fascinating Story Of Soils, Rocks

The fascinating story of the earth's top soil which provides sustenance for all living things and of the rock formation deep under the earth's crust "which makes the old earth the way it is" was told to about 200 persons who gathered in Washington gymnasium Monday night for the fourth meeting of the "Michigan, My Michigan" series.

Russell G. Hill, soils expert of the Michigan Department of Conservation and MSC extension service, spoke about that important 10 or 12 inches of top soil, its productivity and its problems, chiefly erosion.

"Our conception of conservation involves use, not just preservation, and we must use our land to maintain or increase productivity," Hill said. He described types of soil, size of particles from fine sand to coarse gravel, clay, muck, silt and loam. Also necessary to top soil is water and humus, the plant and animal material which keeps the land productive. He described the top layer as a "whole living community."

Erosion, caused by wind and water, is the biggest problem in Michigan today, Hill said. He spoke of the loss by flood and said tests last year during the Grand river flood near Grand Rapids revealed 55,000 tons of top soil passed down the river every 24 hours.

After emphasizing a three-point program of maintaining plant food, reducing erosion and determining the best use of each piece of ground, he showed the color film, "By Land We Live."

Helen M. Martin, department geologist, described rock formation of Michigan as a series of mixing bowls, with the layer of iron ore near the surface in the upper peninsula far beneath the surface in Ottawa county. Spanning two billion years, the interesting story of rock formations and their effect on the earth's face was related.

With the aid of maps, she described rock formations in Ottawa county which lies in a section under 650 feet above sea level. Of particular interest was her description of water formations in the Holland area in the Marshall sandstone formation. She said full reports on U. S. geological findings to be released in June reveal water supply from deep wells inadequate.

"In your case, it's the difference between spending a quarter million dollars for a good well supply or spending $800,000 or more to go to Lake Michigan. She said under the Marshall sandstone formation here is 80 feet of clay which protects the water supply from the Coldwater shale which contains salt.

With a normal recharge of five inches of the 30 to 33 inches of rainfall which falls annually in the Holland area, wells will provide adequate water in Holland for some time, Miss Martin said. She also spoke of water tables and their gradual drop, partly due to tremendous increases of water use in industry.

L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, will speak at the last of the lecture series March 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Washington school. Two field trips, one to the north part of Ottawa and the other in the south part, will be held in April.

C. De Waard, a director in the fish and game club, presided.

Leaves Accident Scene

Grand Haven, March 10 (Special)—Norman Tripp, 21, of Spring Lake, paid $25 fine and $4.40 costs in Justice George V. Hoffer's court Wednesday on a charge of leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

The arrest was by state police shortly after midnight today. He is alleged to have struck the left rear of a car driven by Laverne Berkompas of route 1, West Olive, in Spring Lake township.

Harbor Channel Repairs Okayed At Meeting Here

Prospects for New Coast Guard Station On North Side Cited

Local harbor leaders Wednesday afternoon approved in principle two recommendations from U. S. Army engineers for improvements to the channel between Lake Michigan and Lake Macatawa and for the extension of the channel and turning basin at the east end of Lake Macatawa.

Harbor leaders also learned of the possibilities for a new Coast Guard station on the north side of Lake Macatawa replacing the present location on the Macatawa park side of the channel.

Col. J. O. Colonna of Milwaukee, who conducted hearings on harbor projects here last Aug. 2, told local harbor committees he was prepared to recommend a modification of the turn in the channel in the vicinity of the Coast Guard station. Such a change would enable lake vessels to navigate the turn with greater ease. It would involve building a new revetment 1,020 feet long.

He also said he was prepared to recommend extension of the channel and turning basin at the east end of Macatawa providing government maintenance in the vicinity of docks for the Board of Public Works and Brewer Coal dock. This action would extend the 21-foot channel 110 feet and provide for a 750-foot turning basin.

The city's obligation in such improvements would be to provide the necessary disposal area for dumping of silt and sand as well as providing the necessary property for revetment modification. The city also would agree that the United States be free from responsibility in case of accidents.

Col. Colonna rejected as "not economically justified" plans for a larger arrowhead "super" harbor with giant breakwaters costing an estimated $71 millions. He also rejected plans for modifying the north revetment keeping the entire channel in a straight line because of excessive cost.

Estimated cost to the government for improving the south revetment is $460,000 and the cost to the city for replacing the Coast Guard station and obtaining property occupied by five cottages was estimated at $133,000.

However, James Van Zyl of Grand Haven, president of the Chamber of Commerce and active in Coast Guard work, informed the local group that replacing the station on the north shore already has been authorized under congressional priority and that it ranks No. 23 in the six-year program of the Coast Guard. He said the new station is expected to cost $313,000. He added the Coast Guard already holds title to the property near Ottawa beach, source of a controversy when a new station was under consideration in 1936.

With the removal of Coast Guard obligation, expenditure of local funds would be substantially reduced.

Government's cost of extending the channel and turning basin is estimated at $172,500. Joe Gearda, speaking for the Board of Public Works, and Cornel Brewer, speaking for Brewer Coal dock, assured Col. Colonna there would be no question of their fullest co-operation.

This project would involve dumping of an estimated 175,000 cubic yards for the initial work, and thereafter 6,300 cubic yards a year.

Col. Colonna, who represents the Department of the Army, Corps of Engineers, said no further consideration was given to a cement cap for rubble mounds after this request was more or less withdrawn at the August hearing. The colonel estimated it might be about three years before work would be done. He suggested that the request for the revetment modification be submitted to the chief of engineers who can authorize improvements of bends. If not authorized, it must be submitted to Congress. The other project of extending the channel and turning basin must be presented to Congress, the colonel said.

Five Persons Fined In Municipal Court

Fines amounting to $14 were levied in municipal court Wednesday and today.

Bernard Ebels, 19, of route 3, paid $10 for speeding.

Four persons paying $1 parking fines were: Dorothy De Witt of 373 Central Ave.; Jay Vander Bie of 170 Hope Ave.; Stephen Kasten of 219 West 20th St., and Marilyn Helder of 359 College Ave.

Pays Driving Fine

Grand Haven, March 10 (Special)—Roy W. Brown, 36, salesman for a steel company in Chicago, arrested by state police Feb. 17 on a charge of drunk driving, pleaded guilty this morning in Justice George V. Hoffer's court to a reduced charge of reckless driving and paid $75 fine and 15 costs. Brown was arrested in Grand Haven.

Tulip Time Leads 50 Festivals in Western Michigan

Cherry Festival Ranks Second in Attracting Crowds at Such Events

Grand Rapids, March 10—More than a million persons will attend Western Michigan festivals this year, President Joseph J. Bachunas of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association predicted today.

Nearly half of Bachunas' estimated attendance will be counted at the two top events—the Tulip Time festival at Holland May 18 to 21 and the National Cherry festival at Traverse City July 7 and 8. Tulip Time festivals attract the largest crowds of any festival in the state.

Even before the tulips pop open at Holland, the festival season will be under way. On April 29 and 30 several thousand persons will celebrate the National trout festival at Kalkaska to usher in the trout fishing season April 30. Then comes the Fishermen's festival at Coldwater June 23 to 25 and the seventh annual Bluegill festival at Marcellus June 24 and 25 signaling the opening of the annual fishing season June 25.

The National music camp opens at Interlochen June 25.

Indians, young and old, will take part in a traditional tribute to the Ottawa tribe at the Indian Naming Ceremony at Harbor Springs July 16 and 17. Another Indian program will be the annual Indian Pow Wow at Cross village Aug. 14.

The 19th annual Venetian night program on Round lake near Charlevoix is scheduled July 31. The annual showboat at Lowell will be staged July 26 to 30.

Several hundred travel travelers will participate in the second annual encampment of the "Tin Can Tourists of the World, Inc." at Grand Traverse county fairgrounds at Traverse City July 18 to 21.

Manistee, which in past years has staged the Manistee National Forest festival, has altered its plans and will present a three-day program at the Manistee Sports festival July 14 to 16.

A new event will be the Water festival at Muskegon July 2 to 4. The U.S. Coast Guard will send top-ranking officers to Grand Haven Aug. 2 to 5 for the annual Coast Guard festival.

Median workers, who each summer come to Michigan to assist in the harvest of the state's vast fruit and vegetable crops, will participate in the Mexican festival at Hart Aug. 15.

Sportsmen's Holiday at Charlevoix Aug. 14 and Emmet county Sportsmen's show at Petoskey Aug. 19 to 21 are other summer attractions. A sailboat race across Little Traverse Bay is an outstanding Emmet county event.

A Labor day event which before the war sent many thousands of glider enthusiasts to Frankfort is the National Open Glider meet to be revived this year. Dates have been fixed for Sept. 3 to 5.

Fall attractions include the Harvest festival at Scottville Oct. 6 and 7, the National Bear Hunt trials at Cadillac Oct. 8 and 9, the organized bear hunt in Missaukee county Oct. 26 to 31, and the Red Flannel festival at Cedar Springs, Oct. 12.

New Fun Group Organized Here

"The Jumpin' Chiggers," Cootie club No. 397, has been instituted in Holland and meetings will be held the first Thursday in each month.

This is a fun organization and auxiliary to the Cootie club of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mrs. Flora Koutz heads the new group as "Chief Grayback." The organization has recently received its charter after an organization meeting in October. Hospital work and similar activities will be carried on by the group.

Charter members include the Mesdames Koutz, Irma Knapp, Doris Osterbaan, Bernice Borwick, Nell Klomprens, Irene Hamm, Florine Berkey, Fern Volkers and Miss Marie O'Malley of Holland; Mesdames Sara Thrall and Marie Hardenberg of Zeeland; and Mesdames Ruth Edgcomb and Jane Jorgenson of Saugatuck.

Also affiliated with the group are Mrs. Lillian Borchers, a transfer, Mrs. Ruth Kleinjans and Mrs. Eleanor Ott of Zeeland.

South Haven Wins Tournament Tilt From Zeelanders

Rams Meet Christian To Determine Winner Of District Play

South Haven gained the right to meet Holland Christian in the finals of the district tourney Saturday night by virtue of a comparatively easy 44-22 victory over the Zeeland Chix Thursday night. Christian moved into the finals Wednesday by swamping Allegan's Tigers by a 53-33 margin.

A surprisingly tough Zeeland aggregation made it rough for Coach Adrian Slikker's Rams in the first quarter, by battling them on better than even terms. The Chix got more than their share of rebounds and were playing hard aggressive basketball. Zeeland's trouble was hitting the hoop. They took plenty of shots, but were able to connect on only five baskets in the entire tilt.

The Rams played conservative basketball, relying on their rushing defense for a good share of the tallies.

Art Pratt and Bill Fagerlund were offensive stars for the winners with Pratt getting 19 tallies and Fagerlund 13. Many of Pratt's shots were from the foul area where he stood quite unmolested.

Many fouls were called in the fray with South Haven responsible for 18 and Zeeland guilty of 21. The second half under a cloud of two players on each squad played four fouls each.

Zeeland held a 3-2 lead at one point in the first quarter before Fagerlund dumped in four tallies to give the Rams their first lead late in the first quarter. The count was knotted at 8-8 before Pratt hit on two successive free throws to give the invaders a 10-8 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Play in the second quarter was ragged, with many passes going wild. Both clubs were getting some good shots at the hoop, but failed to connect with any consistency. Fagerlund and Pratt combined to boost their club to a 17-10 half-time lead.

South Haven lengthened its margin to 24-10 soon after the third period opened to virtually dash Zeeland hopes of an upset. Coach Howard Elzinga's lads crept to a 26-14 count late in the quarter but soon faltered to give the Rams a 30-15 lead at the end of the third quarter.

South Haven took a 37-18 lead at the automatic timeout. Reserves of both squads finished the half game with the tilt stopped by frequent jump balls and foul shooting.

The Rams connected on 14 out of 27 foul attempts while Zeeland managed to garner 12 out of 24. Pratt led both clubs with 19 points while Ray Wagner was high for Zeeland with eight-six coming from the foul line.

World Brotherhood Discussed by Panel

Observing World Brotherhood week, two panels were staged by junior and senior high students recently. "Brotherhood in Our Community" was discussed in Austin Buchanan's first hour history class. Connie Tuinisma served as chairman.

Others were Delphine Schaeffer, Merwin Van Doornik, James Buys and Sally Damson. They compared Holland to Minneapolis-St. Paul, winner of the citation award. This honor is presented by the National Conference of Christians and Jews to the outstanding city in the United States in improving religious and racial relations.

Judging is based on tolerance in daily lives of residents, practices of churches and synagogues, schools and employment and membership in labor unions. To be considered for the award, no discrimination must be shown in use of public parks, recreation centers and libraries.

Guests at the panel were Bernice Bishop, principal; Donald Irlman, Hope college student doing practice teaching with Buchanan; Mrs. Albert Timmer, Camp Fire executive, and Albert Howell, of the English department.

"How To Have World Brotherhood" was discussed by members of Marian Shackson's first English period. Betty Lou Hoving acted as leader. Also participating were Delores Hirdes, John Streur, Marilyn Bredeweg and Norman Van Langen.

The problem was taken from both racial and religious angles. In one week of preparation, the scholars obtained clippings and articles, saw movies and wrote themes.

Hurricanes End Season With Win; De Vette Is Star

Canes Wind Up With Record of Nine Wins in 20 Contests

The Holland Hurricanes finished their first season Friday night at the Armory by whipping the Creston Body quintet of Grand Rapids 65-55.

Friday's win gives the Canes a record of nine victories in 20 games this season and avenged a defeat administered by the Creston Body cagers last Saturday night.

Coach Dell Koop floored one of the best combinations he has had all season. His starters were Herk and Harve Butler, Russ De Vette, Ken Van Regenmorter and Jack Tirrell. His equally potent subs were Ken Zuverink, Louie Van Dyke, Gene Schrotenboer, Claire Van Liere, Art Slager and George Dalman.

Although both squads played good ball Friday night, the game simmered down to a battle between Jimmy Command of the visitors with his uncanny shots, and De Vette of the locals. De Vette won out in the point-making department by a narrow two-foul shot margin.

The Canes sharpshooter netted 23 points on nine field goals and five free throws. Command ended with the same number of field goals but only three free throws.

The visitors set the pace in the initial quarter with one of the classiest shooting exhibitions viewed at the Armory this season. They hit from all angles. The score ended 22-14 with the Grand Rapids team ahead.

After Koop inserted his subs, the Canes began a slow uphill climb that put them ahead 32-30 at halftime. Herk Butler and Louie Van Dyke were the big guns in that drive.

Russ De Vette sparked the locals throughout the entire second half as he netted 16 of his 23 total. Command took a back seat as De Vette kept him under wraps with his close guard.

The locals led 47-43 at the end of the third quarter.

Herk Butler, who was playing his first game for the Canes, connected for 13 points that included six field goals in the first half. Louie Van Dyke, playing only part of the game, came next for Holland with 11 points.

Rog Vander Wiede of the visitors hooked 16 points into the hoop.

The Hurricanes netted 11 out of

OTTAWA-ALLEGAN HAVE

SPIRIT

The people of our two countries have again responded as they do in all good causes and we mean the Crop program that was headed up by Dr. Hannah of Michigan State college. The Ottawa county drive was under the able chairmanship of Clarence Reenders who with the help of his co-workers the Rev. Gerrit Rozeboom of the First Reformed church at Coopersville; the Rev. William Vandenberg, publicity chairman and pastor of Hope Reformed church of Grand Haven, and John H. Ter Avest, of Coopersville, treasurer of the Crop drive, reported collecting more than fourteen thousand dollars that was used to purchase two carloads of wheat and a carload of evaporated milk. The last report we have received from the Allegan chairman James Boyce and the Rev. Peter Muyskens credits Allegan county with more than seven thousand dollars. When one thinks of the dollar value of this giving in comparison with the aid that our government sends one can understand that Crop giving exists in spirit rather than in substance. We trust that the spirit of fellowship will help in the world's great needs today. As nations deal with each other the recurrent expressions of Christian principles among our common men seem to take place all too quietly.

We also trust that these principles will stand as guide posts on the path toward universal peace which mankind seems to long to follow.

Jesus' Ministry to Human Need

Mark 5:22, 23; 35-42

By Henry Geerlings

We have a picture today of a real father, driven by the irresistible power of love. It was quite an undertaking for him to go to Jesus and ask such a big favor of Him. The circumstances are more than common. He was a ruler of the synagogue, and his position set him apart. He had to defy possible criticism from his friends. He had to break through fences of prejudice with which he was built about. He had to toss tradition to the winds. He had to go against that which was proper. He had to think that prominent Jews were not flocking to Jesus in great numbers because it was the thing to do. All these things were in the background of his thought. We may justly surmise. But love breaks through every hindering wall, tramples down all opposition, has contempt for danger, has no respect for what may be considered proper, lets society continue to do according to what custom dictates and goes after what it wants.

So the ruler of the synagogue came to Jesus for his daughter's sake and his own great love's sake. Every father should be able to read this story of Jairus with an understanding heart. His heart is the best commentary on this lesson that he can find. It is said of Jesus that He went with Jairus.
That was the beginning of the victory of Jairus' love and faith. But the going must have seemed a long time to this anxious father.
Something unexpected happened on the way. A woman temporarily arrested their going. Jesus took time to deal with her. She simply touched Jesus and she was healed of her malady. Now we are not going to do Jairus any dishonor when we say we believe that being human he must have been perturbed, and perhaps a little disappointed, by the delay caused by the woman. When we go for a doctor when someone is dying in our home we want him to come immediately and not to think of any other case or cases.
We are inclined to be just a little bit selfish in our grief, a little impatient in our plans concerning our loved ones are in any way disturbed. But we believe that Jairus learned some things out of the incident that delayed. He must have learned that Jesus was always ready to meet the unexpected and to do good when it was not planned. Here was what we may call an incidental ministry—this healing of the poor woman who wanted but to touch the hem of Jesus' garment—a miracle by the wayside. May we say that it is not a question of our doing the things we set out to do on life's highway, but rather do we always do the lovely thing, render a sweet and helpful ministry, when a need unexpectedly crosses our path?

It is possible that Jairus learned another lesson in the going—that Jesus was nonetheless interested in his sorrow because He allowed Himself to be interested in another's trouble. Jesus has a heart for everybody. He does not impoverish Himself by giving of His virtue. We have no special claim on Him and His love.
Something of this idea must have sunk into the mind of Jairus that day. It was good for Jairus if it did.

But thinking of the message that was brought to Jairus about his daughter, the delay caused by the incident of the woman must have entered as iton into his soul.
Again it was only human to think that, if it had not been for the delay, Jesus and he might have arrived at his home before the death of the child. But Jesus soon re-established confidence. Only believe. This seems to have undergirded Jairus. Jesus seeing the child remarked: "She is not dead, but sleepeth." Then it is written that they laughed him to scorn.
It was the laugh of ignorance. It was the laugh that does not know all the possibilities in the world, but is sure that it does. It was the laugh of a closed mind that had looked the door and thrown away the key.

Jesus quieted the turmoil in the home by challenging the mourners. His words were startling, foolish, ridiculous—so the mourners declared. Scornfully they laughed at this stranger, who assumed to call death a sleep. Certainly they knew that the child was dead. Their inference was that Jesus was either an imposter, or a person self-deceived, too ignorant to speak intelligently. Jesus was unperturbed by these remarks. He eliminated all but the parents and his three disciples. He went to the child, took her hand, spoke to her, and she was released from death's grip and was given to her parents, alive again and ready to start on in her unfolding life. Of course there was amazement. Naturally the impulses was to rush out and proclaim the miracle. But Jesus restrained them. He centered their attention not on Him but on the physical needs of the child. She was still human and needed food.
How fortunate that troubled Jairus had gone to Jesus and brought Him into his home.

Garden Club Is Shown

New Floral Techniques

Prof. C. E. Wildon, floricultur-ist at Michigan State college, discussed the fundamentals of artistic flower arrangements at a meeting of the Holland Tulip Garden club Thursday afternoon in the Tulip room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

In order to make an artistic arrangement, it is necessary for one to take into consideration design, materials, containers in relation to the type of arrangement, and accessories, he said.
Design, the predominating factor in an artistic arrangement, is secured by placing the flowers in a definite pattern that has balance, rhythm and harmony.

Balance is secured through stability, establishing a center of interest, and color. Rhythm is the application of geometrical pro-gressions, and harmony is achieved by pleasing and orderly arrangements, the speaker pointed out.

After his discussion, Prof. Wild-on demonstrated by creating artistic arrangements from the schedule of the forthcoming flower show. He made a lovely arrangement illustrating the use of analogous colors in stressing rhythm.
"All is Not Gold That Glitters." Another, using a variety of flowers, expressed line through color, "Ante-Bellum Beauty." He also fashioned a simple rhythmic arrangement for twin containers for the mantle, "Double or Nothing."

Mrs. Fred Pickel presided at a business meeting and announced that all members who wish to attend the Detroit Flower show may secure their tickets from Mrs. J.
C. Jander until March 24. She said that the various classes of the artistic arrangements for the flower show are best illustrated in "Complete Book of Flower Arrangements" which can be ordered

East Lansing—The majority of schools in the rural communities of the state today are no more advanced in their methods than they were 25 years ago, Prof. W.
H. French told an M. A. C. class

French is deputy state superin-communities," he said "have op-much behind its neighbors. While Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio and other states have been adopting the township high school plan many Michigan districts have been content to drag along in the same old way." Prof. French said he thought it would require a number of years before Michigan catches up in rural educational methods.

Good Cultural Practices Help Beautify Garden

Good Drainage, Right Plant Food and Room Important Factors

By the Master Gardener
To have a perennial border that gives you full beauty and satisfaction requires many of the good cultural practices. Following are a few of the most important:

Good drainage: enough of the right kind of plant food; winter protection; Renovation of beds and dividing of clumps to prevent overcrowding; Enough moisture; Pest and disease control and cultivation.

For the present, let's just concern ourselves with two of the above... plant feeding and pest and disease control.

Growing in the same soil year after year, perennials must have an ample supply of the vital elements required for best plant growth. That calls for feeding with a complete plant food... one that provides all these elements in proper balance and in amounts necessary for finest development.

When new perennial beds are prepared, they should be fed four pounds of complete plant food per 100 square feet of area, which is equal to one rounded tablespoonful per square foot. When buds appear, feed again at half the rate. On early feedings work the plant food well into the soil. Later feedings should be lightly worked in.

For established perennial borders, feed in early spring before the plants sprout and again when the buds appear, using the same recommendations as given above. Scatter the plant food evenly and if plants have already put in an appearance, keep it away from the new shoots.

Along with proper feeding, insect and disease control is necessary if your flowers are to be kept beautiful and full-blooming. The simplest and most effective way to control pests is with a preventive dusting program. Just as soon as plants leaf out in spring, begin dusting them at seven-to-10-day intervals with an all-purpose garden dust.

Remember, however, that preventive dusting is what does the job. Because three-way garden dust comes in a handy dust gun and leaves no unsightly residue, the old objections to regular dusting are eliminated. It is always better to dust plants before pests strike because once they do, control becomes much more difficult.

Muddy Barnyards Will Arrive With Spring

Spring usually brings one of the most unpleasant situations a farmer deals with—muddy barn yards. Cattle that have to wallow knee-deep in mud can't produce properly and they're hard to care for.

The remedy for the muddy barn yards is a hard surface. Michigan State college extension specialists have prepared a bulletin that gives the necessary information. Drawings and pictures show how the work is done.

Paper Airs Plans To Reorganize

Planned to give arguments both for and against state administrative reorganization, a pamphlet published by the co-operative extension service of Michigan State college is now available to Michigan residents.

For more than 30 years, Michigan people have heard of plans to streamline the state government which has continued to grow. With this increased growth, due to demands for more services, has resulted a heavier tax bill. Many feel reorganization would bring about more efficiency and economy in state government. While people want both efficiency and economy, many fear that through reorganization they may lose democratic control of the state administration.

Prepared by James W. Miller, assistant professor of history and political science, and Kenneth F. Millsap, assistant professor of public administration, both of MSC, the pamphlet makes no recommendations. It was published, the forward states, "to stimulate discussion on the subject in much the same manner as does 'Town Meeting of the Air.'"

The publication, titled "State Administrative Reorganization," is available without charge. County agricultural agents in each Michigan county can provide a copy or it may be obtained by writing the bulletin office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college.

Grass Meetings Close in County

The winter "grass" meetings conducted by the extension service and soil conservation service closed last week.

L. R. Arnold, agricultural agent said that farmers are more interested in better hay, also better pastures. Considerable stress was put on new perennial grass for this area, ladino clover.

Ladino clover is a large Dutch white clover which will do well on soil adapted to alsike. It thrives best on a moist soil. In growing it can be likened to a strawberry plant in that it throws out runners which send roots down into the soil. It is rich in protein. Cattle and other stock relish it. It requires a good soil, and should be fertilized well.

If sown alone, it cannot be harvested as hay, but will make excellent pasture. Spring seeding is usually the best.

Good results have been reported from recent trials. Carl Bethke, Grand Haven, reports that production of milk is stepped up when cows are turned out on Ladino. Harry Petroelje, Borculo, harvested 40 pounds of seed from a small planting. He will increase his acreage in 1949.

Arnold urges all dairymen to give this grass consideration. When properly managed it is unexcelled as pasture. When grazed at immature stages, plants may contain 20 to 30 per cent or more of crude protein.

It is adapted to all kinds of livestock but is particularly good for poultry.

When grown pure, it is difficult to cut, and is hard to cure. When grown in a mixture it works out well with the other grasses as a hay crop.

Arnold Looking For Dairy Queen

L. R. Arnold, agricultural agent is casting about for a pretty single farm girl, 16 to 20 years of age as a candidate to compete as Michigan Dairy Queen.

The project is to be conducted among 4-H Future Homemakers, Junior Farm bureau, Juvenile Franchises, or any girl having a farm background.

One girl will be selected in each county. This winner competes against winners in other counties in her district. The district winners then compete with the final winner declared Queen. There are eight counties in the district in which Ottawa county is located.

The basis for selection of the county princess, district princess and the dairy queen includes appearance, personality and ability to appear before an audience.

Selection of a county princess should be made by April 15. A county committee of dairymen will make the county selection.

Some Ottawa county 4-H club member also is eligible to win a trip to Chicago next December.

Three cash prizes are offered in connection with the Michigan Allied Dairy association contest for 1949. This contest is in connection with the June-Dairy month activities when the dairy queen will be crowned. Any 4-H dairy member may write an essay on one of the subjects: "Dairying as a Factor in Michigan Agriculture" or "Feeding the Family Through Dairy Products."

Contestants must read the essay before selected groups. The excellence of the essay grades 60 per cent; presentation, 40 per cent.

Arnold urges any interested member to get in touch with Dean Troop, newly appointed 4-H leader for Ottawa county.

Chicks Should Be Ordered Now

For farmers who are still wondering if it is advisable to buy baby chicks this year, Howard Zindel, Michigan State college extension poultryman, has a few suggestions.

He says that the farmer should consider five points. If the answers are favorable, the chances are that poultry production would be profitable for the farmer.

First, is the proper equipment available? Was there a poultry enterprise on the farm last year? Do you like poultry and chickens? Do you have time to manage and properly care for baby chicks? Last, Zindel advises that the farmer figure whether adequate feed is available.

The farmer who skips from the poultry business from one year to another has little chance of making money, he stresses. The "in" and "out" is invariably wrong—in or out at the wrong time.

For those who plan to keep poultry this year, Zindel advises that no time be lost in ordering baby chicks. Baby chicks with good breeding are the ones that pay. Cheap chicks do not make the gains that chicks of proved blood lines will make.

Zindel concludes that the average farmer can raise chickens and make a profit this year by securing good chicks, feeding a well-balanced ration, giving good care, and culling to remove all boarders from the flock.

Bodies of Two Servicemen Returning to Holland

The pepper tree is a genus of South American and Mexican trees and shrubs. The leaves abound in a resinous or turpentine-like fluid which is discharged when the leaves become inflated. Better Living Stressed at State 4-H Week Michigan's largest rural youth program, the 4-H clubs, are observing National 4-H club week with a goal of adding more members to the roll which now includes 53,830 boys and girls between 10 and 21 years. It began Saturday and ends next week Sunday.

During the past year membership increased about eight per cent and A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader at Michigan State college, hopes for a similar increase in 1949.

The 4-H club program is carried on in all 83 counties in Michigan through the Co-operative Extension service at M.S.C. More than 7,000 local leaders in communities throughout the state make up the contacts with the youth through the county extension offices in each county. These local leaders volunteer their time and service to guide members in their project work.

Michigan's 4-H club members completed 88 per cent of the projects under taken during 1948. For many years, this state has stood near the top in the United States for project completions. One member may carry more than one project at the same time.

"Better Living for a Better World" is the 1949 theme of the 4-H club program. The work stresses development of talents, choosing a way of earning a living, producing food for the home and market, creating better homes, conservation of natural resources, building good health, sharing responsibilities for community improvement and joining friends for work, fun and fellowship.

Michigan has 5,261 clubs. In the nation more than 80,000 clubs include nearly 2,000,000 boys and girls.

Lush Days Over, Holland Resort Operators Told

No Need for Pessimism In Tourist Prospects, Chester C. Wells Says

"The lush days of easy earning and spending are past and the time is at hand to promote the tourist and resort business with more vigor than ever before," Chester C. Wells, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, told 80 local operators and guests Tuesday night in the Warm Friend Tavern.

The event was the annual spring meeting of the Holland Tourist council composed of tourist and resort operators in the Holland area.

"Although the honeymoon days are over, there's no reason to be pessimistic over tourist prospects this year," Wells said. "There's plenty of selling and plenty of goods, but we're faced with a new economy and the time is close when the tourist dollar may be the difference between profit and loss."

Wells commended local leaders for their stand on Tulip Time and the desire to keep it as it is or expand it, rather than reducing it to a strictly local affair.

"Everywhere I travel, people ask about Holland and Tulip Time, and I'm proud to tell them I live within 28 miles of the fascinating town," he said. "You've built a reputation money can't buy and you can't afford to let that slip. It takes time, effort, leadership and sacrifice to put on such a festival. Perhaps it's become a bit too big, but you've got one of the top festivals, so hang onto it," Wells said.

He added not all communities have the blessings of industry, agriculture and tourist attractions that Holland has.

Aurey Strohpaal, in charge of publicity for the association, told how publicity is covered on the higher level. He sketched the history of the association which started 32 years ago when lumbering days were lagging and business was at a standstill. At that time Western Michigan pioneered in tourist promotion, and as a result many other states vied for the tourist dollar. Latest survey revealed 45 out of the 48 states have active promotional programs.

H. A. Vanderploeg, council president, presided. Background of the local council's booth at the Cleveland Travel show later this month was on display, and persons who will work in the booth appeared in Dutch costume.

A sound film on Williamsburg, Va., the town which has been restored to its early colonial splendor, was shown.

A coffee kletz, with women present providing home made cake, followed.

Muskegon Man Convicted Of Larceny by Conversion

Grand Haven, March 10 (Special)—After deliberating 20 minutes a Circuit Court jury, Thursday afternoon found John Kamhout, 58, of Muskegon, formerly of Grand Haven, guilty of a charge of larceny by conversion. Kamhout will return March 21 for disposition of his case.

The charge against Kamhout stemmed from a complaint by Henry Van Oordt of Spring Lake township who alleged he gave Kamhout $60 down payment for fluorescent lights and that Kamhout kept the $60 and failed to deliver the lights.

The jury was dismissed until March 14, when the two cases will open against Raymond A. Metzger and Jacob J. Vandenberg, doing business as the Home Equipment Co. and the Shell Oil Co., by Rose Sewers and John C. Sewers, both of Saugatuck. Mrs. Sewers is seeking $50,000 damages and Sewers $10,000, resulting from the loss of a leg by Mrs. Sewers, which allegedly resulted from an explosion, due to faulty installation of a water heater installed by Donald Vandenberg, an employee of the Home Equipment Co. Gas service was purchased from the Shell Oil Co. Mrs. Sewers' leg was amputated a week after the explosion.

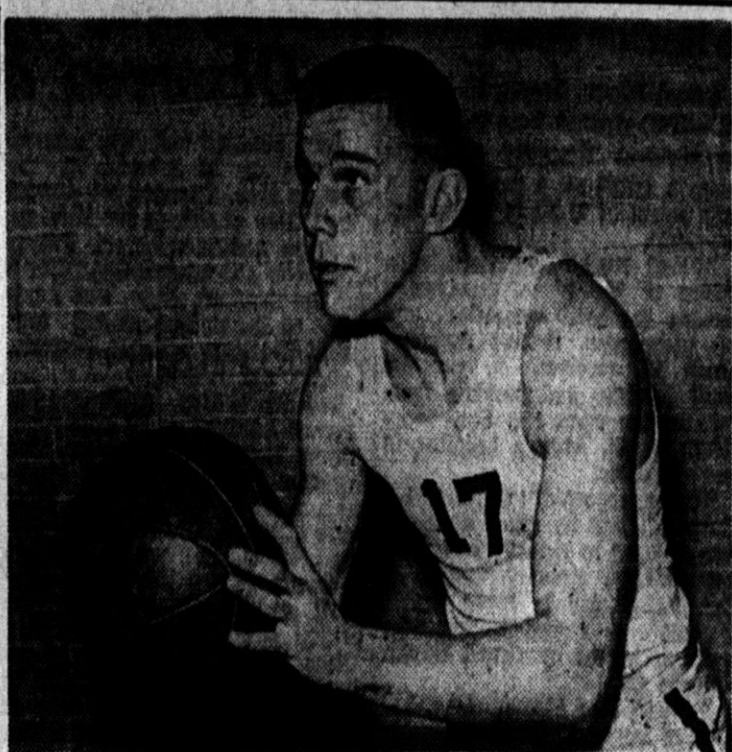

Karsten, Jr., Coaches Winning Grass Lake Team

Grass Lake high school's basketball team, coached by Harold J. Karsten, Jr., former Holland high varsity center, won the class D district championship at Jackson Saturday night.

The victory gives Grass Lake the right to play in the regionals at Albion this week after eliminating Pinckney and Starr Commonwealth. Grass Lake defeated Starr Commonwealth in a thriller Saturday night winning 32-30 after a nip and tuck race all the way. Grass Lake often trailing.

Karsten, who will be graduated in June from the University of Michigan school of engineering, started coaching at Grass Lake as an extra-curricular activity. His wife teaches there.

Grass Lake is located 10 miles east of Jackson. So great was the town's interest in the tournament games that nearly all stores closed Saturday night to allow the population to hear the team to victory. It was the first time in many years that Grass Lake developed a winning team.

Bill "Moose" Holwerda, captain of the 1948-49 Hope college basketball team, was voted "most valuable player" by his teammates at a meeting Monday afternoon. Moose is a junior at the local college and has played the last two seasons as a regular guard on the Dutch cage team. He also played end on the Dutch grid team. Holwerda went to high school at Grand Rapids South before coming to Hope.

Honor Breakfast Given By Holland High Girls

Christian Loses To South Haven In Tourney Play

Winner Moves Ahead To Regional Play At Kazoo Wednesday

A difference of six foul shots gave the district basketball championship to the South Haven Rams on the Armory court, Saturday night. At the final horn, the Big Seven champions held a 34-28 decision over Coach Arthur Tuls' Holland Christian Maroons. Probably the largest crowd in the history of local basketball witnessed the final clash. Both clubs were as evenly matched Saturday night as one could hope for, with one exception—accuracy at the foul line. Each aggregation scored 10 field goals, but Coach Adrian Slikkers' club made good on the foul shots and Christian didn't. The Rams connected on 14 out of 19 while the best the locals could do was eight out of 18. Slikkers said following the clash that this was the fifth occasion this year in which foul shots have meant a victory for his team.

Other than this, the contest was nip and tuck with both aggregations coming in for a share of glory. Each had leads and each had individual performances. For the Rams it was the front line with Art Pratt, Bill Fagerlund and Tom Baer playing outstanding ball. Glenn Petroelje, Butts Kool and Norm Unema stood out for the Maroons, although everyone on both quintets turned in a hard fought ball game. One of the highlights of the contest was a "backboard duel" between Kool and Baer. Both were excellent on rebounds, splitting the honors about evenly. Pete Holstege was the defensive star, limiting the high scoring fagerlund to just two field goals.

Playing their aggressive ball, the Rams found themselves in trouble throughout the tilt with three players nearing the five foul mark, early in the fray. However, only Art Pratt was ejected in the closing stages. A total of 18 fouls were called against the invaders compared to 15 for the locals.

With tension running high, both clubs played jittery ball early in the fray, with each club holding momentary leads. However at the first quarter horn, South Haven led 10-8. The second quarter was a good exhibition of basketball with each five showing its best form. South Haven led 16-10 at one point, but aggressive Pete Holstege dumped two goals to make the count 16-14 at halftime. South Haven still leading.

Christian made a determined bid for victory in the third period, outplaying the Rams throughout. However, with a two-point lead and plenty of shots, the Tulsians were unable to connect with consistency to boost their margin. The Maroons led 22-21 going into the final quarter.

South Haven turned on the steam early in the fourth quarter to jump ahead 31-24 at the summertime timeout. Christian came roaring back to make the count 31-28 before the Rams "loot" the victory with three successive foul shots Fagerlund sank two after the game was over with the crowd milling around the court.

Art Pratt led the Rams with 11 tallies, followed by Baer with 10 points. Petroelje paced the Hollanders with eight just ahead of Norm Unema with seven.

For Christian it means "the end of the road" as far as this season is concerned. Coach Tuls brought his crew a long way from the beginning of the year and proved it by nearly upsetting the highly touted South Haven club.

Coach Adrian Slikkers can well be proud of his South Haven aggregation. They have plenty of everything and will prove tough for any Class B foe in the remaining weeks of tourney competition. The Rams open Regional play at Kalamazoo this week. Also slated to play in the Kazoo meet are St. Joseph, Coldwater and Hastings.

Volleys From Ambush

HOLLAND DIDN'T forget Henry Geerlings on his birthday after all.

At least, employees of the Holland Hitch Co. (we think Henry is still president there) remembered.

And these employees protested the Sentinel's story this week that our venerable representative had to go to Lansing to get recognition for his 81st birthday. (Since he's Holland's most famous Leap Year baby, he's had only 19 anniversaries.)

The office crowd at the Hitch celebrated the event Monday afternoon with a birthday cake with 19 candles. They had coffee and sang "Happy Birthday" too.

Mournful afterthought: Why don't they let us know about those things when they happen?

Here's an S.O.S. from Dr. Seth Vander Werf who is conducting some research on Holland's early history for the public library and the Netherlands museum.

He needs help from early editions of De Grondwet, those printed before 1880.

If you have some old copies in your attics, dust them off and see if they can be of any help. And if you don't particularly want to keep them, Dr. Vander Werf and the museum or library will be pleased to relieve you of them.

Dr. Vander Werf is particularly interested in the beginning and the "end" of the Dutch paper. It was discontinued about 13 years ago, we recall. Anyone with information may call The Sentinel or get in touch with Dr. Vander Werf or the museum office.

If somebody comes around to ask if you would like your house number painted on the curb, it's probably all right. Common Council considered such a request this week and the matter was turned over to the Street committee with power to act.

Remember that cute Duck and Turkey love affair picture The Sentinel carried a few days before last Thanksgiving day? It concerned a drake which had taken such a shine to a hen turkey that it even roosted on the wire fence beside the lady love, a feat not readily accomplished by a web-footed critter.

That picture, taken by Ernie Penna, hit a lot of newspapers and got wide coverage. And the owners of the farm received oodles of letters from widely separated places pleading with them not to kill the turkey and spoil a beautiful love affair.

The Ambusher doesn't have the wherewithal to hand out orchids but something of the kind should go to the Rev. Bernard Kok, pastor of the Protestant Reformed church.

We understand Rev. Kok was given strict orders not to speak for a month following a delicate throat operation, a tough order for any human being, let alone a preacher.

The story goes that the parson adhered strictly to the order and said nary a word. He even attended the exciting basketball games of Holland Christian (his son's manager of the team) and used a note pad for scribbling when he was spoken to.

The month is supposed to be up now. We sincerely hope it accomplished what was hoped.

We bow to superior will power!

If Mayor Bernard De Free and City Attorney Peter S. Boler look extra healthy these days, it's probably because of those snazzy cigarette holders they're using.

The holders (they smirk loudly of bargains) are supposed to be de-nicotinizers, or something. They boost of some internal gadget that removes or lessens what is supposedly harmful in cigarettes.

We strongly suspect the bargain counter because Pete already damaged his holder. It broke in such a place where there is just thread enough to hold it together.

Pete said he would have liked to get bright red holders, but refrained. Perhaps the color red just isn't to be used by those in public life.

This volley is slipped in by the staff.

The Ambusher came to work yesterday wearing a loud figured bow tie. He, of course, was accused of aping Gov. Mennen Williams who also sports such neckware. "Democrat, nix," one staffer remarked. "He's just a Republican trying to be liberal!"

When Dan Vander Werf was named secretary of the Charter Revision commission this week, George Sidwell, expert counsel from Lansing on charter revision, remarked it was the first time a feminine member on the commission did not get that position.

What Sidwell will learn soon

Four Hurt in Crashes In Northern Ottawa

Grand Haven, March 10 (Special)—Two persons were injured in an accident Thursday afternoon when a truck hit a parked car a mile south of M-50 in Tallmadge township.

Russell Hogkin, 23, Grandville, driver of the truck, received a serious forehead laceration, and his companion, Robert Swindlehurst, 22, received a possible skull fracture and possible fracture of the right leg. Both were taken to St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids.

Hogkin, reportedly traveling between 50 and 55 miles an hour, was ordered to report to sheriff's headquarters Monday. Owner of the parked car is Jacob Stark, 50, route 5, Grand Rapids. The truck is owned by Grand Rapids Storage Co.

Edward Lee Booth, 25, and Harvey Poore, 21, both of Muskegon, were treated in Municipal hospital Thursday when a car, driven by Booth, crashed into a tree 13 miles north of Ferrysburg. Booth told state police his lights went out. Both received cuts and released after treatment.

Negligent Homicide Case Brings $200 Fine

Grand Haven, March 10 (Special)—Albert Elzerman, 49, Grand Rapids, who appeared in Circuit Court Thursday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of negligent homicide, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and $100 costs, or serve 90 days in the county jail.

His bond was continued until the fine and costs were to be paid, upon arrangement of counsel.

The charge against Elzerman arose out of a fatal accident which occurred in Georgetown township Dec. 14, 1948, when Benjamin DeWint, 47, a deaf mute, a passenger in a car driven by his father, Oscar De Wendt, was fatally injured.

enough is that Dan is the efficient reporter for the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, and is able to take notes faster with his fleetest shorthand than 20 women, no matter how efficient.

Remember the swirling snow storm earlier this week?

In the midst of that storm in which motorists couldn't see a half block ahead came a nice greeting from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ter Haar who were honeymooning in Hawaii.

It said so appropriately: "The climate here is excellent with an average temperature of 76 degrees."

Lots of people think driving habits are pretty bad in Holland. We know they're not perfect, but probably the traffic behaves better than is generally supposed.

Witness the request from Point Pleasant, W. Va., to the Public Safety commission for information on how Holland handles its traffic.

The local boys are complying.

World Day of Prayer Is Observed in Holland

Four hundred and fifty women, representing 33 churches in the Holland area, attended the annual World Day of Prayer for Missions in Hope Reformed church Friday afternoon and contributed $203.65 for the missions cause. The funds will be distributed among four fields, Christian colleges, Negroes, Indians and migrants.

The World Day of Prayer has been an event of world wide significance since 1915. This year, Mrs. Wealthy Honinger Fisher, chairman, went to China, where plans were initiated. Dr. Dora Hsu, acting president of Hwa Nan college in Foochow, sent the theme, "The Lord Is Thy Keeper," and the prayer was contributed by Mrs. Henry Lin, president of the national committee of the YWCA in China. Mrs. C. C. Chen, dean of women at Shanghai university, prepared the call to worship.

Miss Retta Pas introduced representatives of the four fields which will benefit from this year's offering. Dr. Eva Tyssie McGilvray represented the Christian colleges, Miss Pauline Hendrieh the work among the negroes, Chester Droog, the migrants, and Ray Reeverts, work among the Indians.

As speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Henry De Pree, retired missionary to China, gave an inspirational talk on the afternoon's theme, stressing the point that the Chinese people really believe that "The Lord is thy keeper."

Mrs. Marion de Velder presided at the meeting and Miss Nettie De Jong gave the offertory prayer. Mrs. Harry Young sang "The Lord Is My Light and My Salvation," and "O Divine Redeemer," with Mrs. W. C. Snow at the organ.

Mrs. George E. Kollen is president of the women's organization which sponsors the annual event.

Father-Son Banquet Held in Sixth Church

Nearly 100 attended the father-son banquet of Sixth Reformed church Friday evening, sponsored by Peter Van Langevelde's Sunday school class.

The Rev. J. Kenneth Hoffmaster, pastor of First Methodist church, as banquet speaker spoke of some of his experiences with emphasis on travel and fishing trips.

Louis B. Dalman was toastmaster. The Rev. Henry Mouw spoke briefly. Music was provided by a quartet of Fourth Reformed church consisting of Marvin De Ridder, George Schierenga, Gordon Plaggemars and Elmer Atman, accompanied by Miss Betty Hop.

Jack Hobeck showed motion pictures of hunting trips.

C. B. Dalman, who will be 76 Monday, was the oldest father present. Young Mike De Ridder, five years old, was the youngest.

Valve-in-Head - and Fireball too!

White optional fire, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

It seems that valve-in-head engine design is becoming quite the thing, now that gasolines are stepping up in octane rating and higher compression ratios begin to be worth while.

Well, that's dandy as far as Buick is concerned.

For more than forty-five years, Buick engineers have been working with, developing and learning all about valve-in-head engine design.

So quite some time ago Buick applied a principle, possible only in valve-in-head design, which still remains a Buick exclusive.

It is Fireball design — and it's an interesting engineering story.

It comes from a specially shaped piston, designed to roll each fuel charge into a compact, whirling, ball-shaped mass. It goes a step beyond high-compression ratios, because it means better mixing of fuel — and so better burning.

Result: More good from each fuel charge. A touch more life, pep, ginger. More of that happy, satisfying feel of power and zip that give Buick its good name as a performer.

So remember, as more and more cars climb on the valve-in-head bandwagon, that Buick is still calling the tune. Still ahead in knowledge and experience and development of a principle that has always been recognized for its greater basic efficiency.

With self-setting valve lifters adding new quiet and washing out tappet noise, it's plain that "Buick's the buy!" on engine design as in other ways.

Come satisfy yourself on that score — and get a firm order in either with or without a car to trade.

BUICK alone has all these features
