Early Birds Hear Talk on Auto Safety

True safety in driving is an evolutionary rather than a revolutionary process, Sam T. Burns of the General Motors Corp. told over 100 persons at a Chamber of Commerce Early Bird breakfast in Hotel Warm Friend Tuesday.

Speaking on "Handle With Care," Burns said safety is the constant, painstaking improvement of the entire product, and cannot be achieved by a package deal of new equipment.

He was a bit critical of recent converts to over-simplify the problem and to underestimate the requirements for solution... people who think of automotive safety as a package of gadgets added on to standard equipment such as seat belts, outside rear view mirrors, padded instrument panel.

"We like to see problems publicized if it means new forces can be brought to bear in their solution," Burns said.

Burns said highway safety essentially involves three elements — the car, the road, and the driver.

Not everybody recognizes that reserve horsepower is a vital safety factor, and fewer recognize the "power to stop" as one of the most fascinating and encouraging chapters in the whole automotive story, he said.

He cited the constant drive for improvement in the car industry in the fields of all-steel bodies, steering, safety glass, lights, and the prime concern of the manufacturer in constant reappraisal toward functional improvement and safety.

"GM is deeply interested in the individual driver. After all, it is his hand, his judgment and his reaction that controls what is designed to be his obedient and useful servant, the American motor car. Since 1955, General Motors has made almost 50,000 cars available for high school driver-training programs. These cars have helped develop safer driving habits for more than four million young people."

He added that there is no legitimate place on any highway for the drinking driver... "there can be no safety without responsibility and the drunk cannot be responsible."

Don Rector presented the speaker with a pair of wooden shoes, symbol of the city's welcome to special guests. William Vandenberg Jr. introduced the speaker.

Rector announced an additional breakfast meeting March 28 for a "Breakfast With Guy" with Rep. Guy Vander Jagt as speaker.

Deputy Halts Store Breakin

ALLEDALE — An Ottawa County sheriff's deputy on patrol discovered a break-in in progress at the Allendale Farm Supply Company on M-45 here shortly after midnight today, but was unable to apprehend the persons involved.

The deputy spotted a man inside the store, but the man escaped through one of the many doors in the large store before the deputy could get help to cover all the exits. Tracks in the snow indicated that two men were involved in the break-in. A tracking dog was brought to the scene, but reportedly did not pick up the scent of the intruders.

The burglars abandoned a pair containing tools and cigars they apparently intended to take from the building. The burglars' car, with the motor running, was behind the building. Deputies have impounded the auto.

Five From Holland

HUDSONVILLE — Two Grand Valley State College students from Holland were killed in a car-truck crash on their way to classes today.

Paul Veltman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Veltman of 1024 West 32nd St., and Ben Elfring, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elfring of 9½ West 16th St., were pronounced dead on arrival at Holland Hospital.

Three other Grand Valley students and the driver of the truck were injured in the violent collision at Port Sheldon Rd. and 48th St., two miles northwest of Hudsonville, at 8:37 a.m.

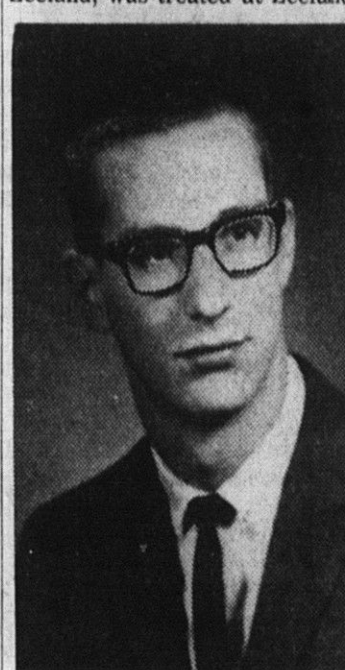

Released from Holland Hospital following treatment for multiple bruises and lacerations were Edward Zylstra, 20, son of Mrs. Patricia Zylstra of 258 Hope Ave., Leonard Buursma, 23, of 385 East Eighth St., and Andrew Hoekstra, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoekstra of 1116 West 32nd St.

Truck driver, James A. Klinger, 23, of 2895 North State St., Zeeland, was treated at Zeeland

Paul Veltman

Hospital for a scalp laceration and mild concussion. He was released after treatment.

Elfring, driver of the car, died of a skull fracture, according to medical examiner, Dr. William Westrate. Mr. Veltman's death was caused by internal chest injuries, according to examining physician, Dr. Warren K. Westrate.

Ottawa County Sheriff's deputies said Elfring was driving north on 48th St. and Klinger was headed east on Port Sheldon Rd. when the crash occurred.

Deputies said Elfring apparently failed to stop for a stop sign and drove into the path of the eastbound truck. The truck was traveling about 50 miles per hour when it struck the rear-engine compact car broadside.

Elfring was thrown from the car in the crash, deputies said. The car came to rest 39 feet from the point of impact, and Elfring was found lying 14 feet from the car. Veltman was lying in the back seat of the auto. He had been sitting in the left rear seat.

The force of the collision ripped the engine from the car and hurled it 82 feet beyond the point where the car came to rest. The engine came to rest against the front porch of a house.

Klinger's truck, owned by Bill and Marve's Turkey Farm in Zeeland, overturned after the collision and came to rest on its side some 201 feet from the point of impact. Gasoline from the truck's fuel tanks spilled on the road and ignited. George

Africa Comes Alive for Woman's Literary Club

"The three keys to peace in Africa are food, freedom and friendship," Grant C. Butler, noted lecturer-author, told the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon at its regular meeting in the clubhouse.

Butler, who has made 12 tours of the Middle East and Africa since 1944, gave a lesson in practical geography of Africa which is the second largest continent in the world and three times the size of the United States. He led an imaginary tour of the continent (a real one would take four to seven weeks) giving brief, salient comments on each country.

Butler said the continent can be divided into three parts, the top Arab, the central the black belt and the bottom the European belt. It has a population of 250 million of whom 100 million are Moslems and 50 million Christians. He quoted Billy Graham as saying Africa is going over to Islam at the rate of four to eight converts to every Christian convert, influenced mainly by the blacks' prejudice toward whites and the Islamic tradition which allows polygamy.

He said freedom is the No. 1 magic word in Africa and is a somewhat emotional issue which requires many lessons in responsibility. He said many African leaders hope for a United States of Africa much like the United States of America, and he expressed the hope that America would continue aid to Africa by sending its experts, both technical and agricultural, and increasing numbers of Peace Corpsmen.

Mrs. Bryan Athey, club president, presided, and Elizabeth Brummel explained the work of the Hospital Auxiliary hostesses to deliver mail, flowers and issue visitors' cards. Mrs. Henry De Weerd and Mrs. John Vande Wege were door hostesses.

Ottawa County 4-H News

By Willis S. Boss
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

"It's a Small World" was the theme of the annual 4-H Leadership held at Kellogg Center on the Campus of Michigan State University on March 4 and 5. This event recognized leaders for the volunteer support they are giving. It provided an opportunity for a discussion of 4-H leaders' responsibilities, stimulates an exchange of ideas by leaders from every Michigan county, and serves as an inspiration to leaders for their continued work with your people.

Dr. John Furbay, world traveler, educator and humanist, spoke on "Let's Join the Human Race." A noted speaker, he is world-wide educational program director of Trans World Airlines. Other program speakers include Dr. Hideya Kumata, professor of communications, and Dr. Gordon Beckstrand, director of 4-H Youth Programs, both of the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University.

The 4-H leaders who attended this event from Ottawa County were Mrs. Don Wyngarden of Zeeland; Mrs. Ray Mulder of Jenison, Mrs. Meuri Rodibaugh of Allendale, Mrs. LaDeane Sichter of Coopersville; Robert Straatsma of Grand Rapids; and Lloyd Kleinheksel of Holland. These leaders learned more about how economics, interpersonal relationships, heritage, political aspects and the international dimension fit into their club program. Through informal sessions, they discussed junior leadership, leader recruitment, awards, professional Extension roles, parent participation, and the State 4-H Show.

It is not too early to call attention to dairy club members that they should be thinking about their calves and cows for the 1967 summer shows. In connection with this, the Michigan Holstein Freisian Assn. is holding a sale on Wednesday, March 15 at 11 a.m. at the Ionia Fairgrounds in Ionia. They have indicated that a number of good 4-H and FFA animals will be available. I would also mention that we know of a few Jersey cattle for sale, if anyone is interested, they may contact our office. They would make outstanding animals for this summer's shows.

A number of people have indicated that they are interested in attending the Veterinary Science Workshop at Camp Kett on March 16 and 17. This will be the kick-off for this new project. We are in hopes that we will be sending leaders and older 4-H club members to take an active part in this program. At present we have eight persons who have indicated their interest. These folks will spend the two days gaining information which they in turn will relate to local members and leaders.

The Ottawa County 4-H Council will meet in the County Building in Grand Haven Tuesday, March 14 to cover 4-H business at hand and discuss the County Achievement Day program scheduled for March 10 and 11. We will also hear committee reports and discuss the district achievement days.

On Thursday, March 16 at 7 p.m. members enrolled in a 4-H knitting or clothing club in the Coopersville area will have their project judged for style at the Coopersville Junior High School. The Coopersville Achievement Days will be held on March 20 and 21 at the Coopersville Junior High School.

Recently 4-H conservation projects were judged at the Jenison Junior High School. The following students' exhibits were picked for county honors: Paula Helms, Debbie Pitcher, Shirley Schutte, John Dozeman, Rusty Randeau, Sue Shafer, Debbie Van Wormer, Peter Van Strien, and Esther Oosting. Their exhibits will be shown at the County Achievement Days. Ron Gulumbo is the teacher of this class.

CHARACTER

Two years ago the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs was under serve pressure when 109 cadets were dismissed for cheating.

Now another group of 46 cadets has been involved in cheating. We are experiencing the same reactions from people. There are those who speak of a scandal, others who tell us the rules are too strict, and still others who would prefer simply to wink at the dishonesty.

We are disappointed at what has happened. But we refuse to be critical of the Academy. An institution which is willing to stand by its code, in spite of the hurt to its pride, will certainly survive. The insistence by those in command that honesty must be respected ought to get a cheer from all of us. We would be shocked if we knew that the Academy was trying to cover up, or was willing to make cheating a matter of little concern. This would be a scandal of the kind that ultimately must weaken institutions.

From our point of view, the Academy would do well to stick by its basic principles, and not to listen to those who would give in to the weakness of the lowest common denominator. The time will come, in Vietnam, or some other area of the world, when the devotion to that which is right will pay off. We wouldn't want to put the right in the category of "it pays," but we would say that ultimately it will give us strength of character that will stand the test of difficult days.

To live up to a code of honor is never easy, especially when there is the pressure toward goals. But to remain steadfast builds into a man that which is a goal in itself.

Man Under Judgment
(Temperance)
Luke 20: 9-18
By C. P. Dame

The word "judgment" is overlooked by many today and the fact of judgment is not accepted by many and ignored by the rank and file of people. The Bible teaches the fact of judgment. This lesson about judgment is timely.

I. God demands returns. Jesus spoke the parable of the lesson on the last week of His life. It is recorded in Matthew, Mark and Luke. The idea of this parable is also found in Isaiah 5:1-7 and in Psalm 80:8. The Old Testament writers speak of the vines and vineyard which did not produce, Jesus tells of the wickedness of the tenants.

Israel is the vineyard, the religious leaders are the tenants who were under obligation to the owner—to God. At the right time the owner sent a servant to the tenants demanding his share. They sent him away empty. The owner sent another servant and the tenants beat him and sent him away empty. Once again the owner sent a servant and "they wounded him also, and cast him out."

Jesus told his hearers that their fathers had mistreated the Lord's prophets in a similar way. Finally the owner sent his son and him they resolved to kill. After the prophets, then came Jesus, the divine Son whom they were plotting to kill and this they finally did a few days later.

II. God holds leaders responsible. The religious leaders were selfish and were more concerned about keeping position and power than about their obligations to God. How hateful and faithless these leaders were! They acted as if the church belonged to them. It is easy for some who are in the church to think that it exists for themselves and hence they lose the sense of responsibility and do then as they please. This same spirit of irresponsibility and the quest for freedom are rampant today. We are all accountable to God whether we are in the church or out of it.

III. God's Word says that judgment is sure. "He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others." That was done. When the people heard these stern words they said, "God forbid" — may this not happen.

The Lord said that the Jewish leaders would be replaced and they were — the apostles became the religious leaders. The new covenant foretold in the Old Testament became a real. Jesus told His hearers that His rejection was foretold in Psalm 118:22, 23, which is the Psalm from which the Hosanna shouts were taken on Palm Sunday.

The builders rejected Jesus — the stone. Note two facts about the stone. "Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken." The nation, family or people that reject Jesus ruin themselves. The other fact is that "on whosoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder" — pulverize him, that is like winnowing the dust of the grain and scattering it.

Read Psalm 1:4 and Matthew 3:12, which speak of a final judgment which millions overlook and some laugh at. The fact of judgment is too real to slight.

Christian School Budget Tops Million

The Holland Christian School Society, in the most momentous financial meeting in the school's history, adopted a record budget of $1,079,925 for the next school year Monday night in the Central Avenue Christian Reformed Church.

While the society was approving its first million dollar budget, Robert De Nooyer, co-chairman of the "In Pace With Progress" new Holland Christian High building campaign made the surprise announcement that the million-dollar mark had been reached, including cash and pledges. He also announced that 80.8 per cent of the total pledges had been collected although the two-year time period won't expire until early summer.

The new budget was adopted by the group following a presentation by Howard Johnson, chairman of the finance committee. Next year's budget represents an increase of approximately $132,000 over this year's figure. Johnson said the boost was due mainly to increases in teacher salaries and anticipated maintenance costs of the new high school. Instructional salaries for next year are slated to total $787,900 and constitutes the single biggest item in the new budget. Other large items were maintenance of school plants, textbooks and supplies, and janitors' salaries. Johnson said anticipated revenue for next year includes $770,000 from tuition and pledges, $20,000 from school aids and circles, $199,000 from the Sustaining Membership Fund, $80,000 from churches and societies, and $10,000 from gifts, bequests, and rentals.

In approving the budget, the society also assented to a tuition increase ranging from $75 to $100 per family. Under the new tuition and pledge guide, the minimum fee will be $395 for a child in kindergarten half days. The maximum payment would be $815 for three children in the grades and three in the high school.

Russel Michmerhuizen of the planning and construction committee gave a slide and pictorial presentation of the new high school progress. He said that construction is proceeding according to schedule and that the school should be ready for occupancy by next September. He showed slides of the seats purchased for the 800-seat auditorium as well as carpeting and furniture for the library. He announced that with the completion of the new high school, the square footage in the school buildings will have been increased by about 50 per cent.

He also announced that various committees including site improvement, hot lunch and building renovation were working along with the planning committee.

Supt. Mark Vander Ark gave a pictorial presentation of the Symbolism to be used in the new high school. He reported that Artist Edgar Boeve of Calvin College is completing the work on the art and mural.

The superintendent also reported on the teacher salary schedule and gave comparative tables. He said the board continues to follow the "going rate"

Linguist Tells Century Club About Africa

At the Century Club meeting Monday night in the Tulip Room of the Hotel Warm Friend, Dr. William E. Welmers, professor of linguistics at Hope College, presented an informative talk about the study of African Languages, of which there are about 1,000.

The pursuit of study is further complicated by the fact that there are many dialectic variations of an African language, 250 in Nigeria alone.

The method used to research a language is to sit down with a native speaker, listen to the sounds he makes, and try to form a grammatical construction and vocabulary from this. It is necessary for the researcher to possess a sensitive ear in order to catch the varied intonations which may cause one word to have many meanings, Dr. Welmers said.

Only about on third of the languages have some sort of written system. The origin of African languages can be traced to the many ancient tongues such as Ancient Egyptian which no longer exists.

In most of the African countries the former Colonial language has become the official language, although the local Africanese is still spoken. Dr. Welmers does not think there will be only one recognized language in the future.

Each tribe takes a fierce pride in its own language. It is a natural integral part of them. However, Swahili has become a second language for many tribes, and Somali is also popular.

"We have shortened the distance between continents with speedy travel, but we must remove the final barrier—the last 18 inches," Dr. Welmers said, "and learn their language. This should be especially true in the field of diplomacy, where our countrymen could reach out to the people amongst whom they live, and not just the ones they represented."

Peace Corps applicants are given a course of study before they embark for their respective African countries. Dr. Welmers heads the foreign language program of the Peace Corps.

A St. Patrick's Day theme was used for the social portion of the program arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Bosch, chairman.

TRAIN DERAILS — Some of the 38 cars and two diesel locomotives that derailed at New Richmond Sunday lie sprawling along the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad right of way. The derailment held up rail traffic between Grand Rapids and Chicago for more than 24 hours after some 500 feet of track was torn up. Thirty crews from as far away as West Virginia are working to clear up the wreckage. Railroad officials said damage to railroad equipment was set at $230,000. Damage to freight has not been determined. (Sentinel photo)

Freight Train Derailed In New Richmond Area

NEW RICHMOND — Railroad crews Monday began the massive cleanup of wreckage caused when 38 cars and two diesel locomotives of an 80-car Chesapeake and Ohio freight train derailed near New Richmond Sunday.

The derailment occurred about 8 a.m. just as the train cleared a bridge over the Kalamazoo River. The train was bound from Chicago to Grand Rapids.

C and O officials in Grand Rapids said two of the train's crewmen were slightly injured.

Conductor John Henning and the rear brakeman, identified as a Mr. Wilmar, were shaken up and bruised. Both were released after examination and treatment at a Grand Rapids hospital, railroad officials said.

The cause of the accident has not yet been determined, according to C and O officials. Damage to railroad equipment, including engines, freight cars, track and railroad signals, has been placed at $230,000. Officials had no estimate of damage to contents of the freight cars.

The wreck halted all runs to and from Chicago for more than 24 hours. Railroad officials said more than 500 feet of track had been torn up in the accident.

The track was repaired and ready for use by mid-morning Monday, officials said. However, C and O spokesmen said it would be at least a week, and possibly two weeks, before all the wreckage was cleared away.

Two passenger runs between Grand Rapids and Chicago were cancelled following the wreck. One Grand Rapids to Chicago freight train was held up at Waverly Yard in Holland, and officials said trains from Chicago were going as far east as possible and then being held up.

Most of the 25 loaded cars were filled with sand, coal or lumber. Two large bulldozers, valued at $30,000 each, flipped from their overturned flatcars and rolled into the river.

Three railroad cars toppled into the river, and most suffered extensive damage.

The train's crew hinted that the wreck may have been caused by a loose rail on a curve near the bridge, but railroad officials were uncertain of the cause.

Mrs. Helen Brown, an employee at Holland Hospital, who lives two doors from the tracks, said the crash shook her house.

Arrest Zeeland Man for Using Phony License

Alfred Parker, 29, of 306½ North State St., Zeeland, was being held today in Holland city jail under $1,000 bond on charges of using a forged or counterfeit license plate.

Parker demanded examination at his arraignment in Municipal Court today. Preliminary hearing was set for March 14 at 1:30 p.m.

Holland police arrested Parker at 3:55 a.m. today on South Michigan Ave. where officers allegedly found Parker driving his car with a cardboard copy of a 1967 Michigan license plate in the rear window of the car.

Police said Parker had been warned earlier about driving without a valid 1967 license plate and had been told to keep his car off the streets until he had acquired the new license.

He was spotted at the time of his arrest driving on Michigan Ave. The cardboard copy of the blue and yellow 1967 license plate had been attached over an old license plate.

Police said the phony plate looked genuine enough from a distance.

The walls and foundation of her home were cracked during the derailment.

Several cars ended up in the back yard of the Clarence Dailey home, located adjacent to the tracks.

Some 30 crews from as far away as West Virginia were called to the scene of the derailment to help remove wreckage.

Jack Brink, 18, of 830 Myrtle Ave. was listed in good condition at Holland Hospital Monday with second and third degree burns over a large area of his body received in a fire resulting from an auto accident on River Ave. north of First St. at 11:15 p.m. Saturday.

Brink was pulled from his flaming sports car by a passing motorist, Ronald Nykamp, 31, of 1010 South Baywood Ave. Nykamp received burns of the hands in the rescue, and was treated at Holland Hospital and referred to a doctor.

Holland police said Brink, who was alone in the car, lost control of the vehicle at a curve in River Ave. The auto ran off the roadway, hit a large snowbank and rolled over twice. The vehicle then burst into flames. Holland firemen extinguished the fire.

Police Cite Driver

Holland police charged Orbin J. Tuttle, 40, of 319 West 20th St., with failure to maintain an assured clear distance after the car he was driving struck the rear of a second car on State St. near 32nd St. at 4:23 p.m. Thursday. Maroons Top Unity, 81-52; 31st Crown

Displaying fine shooting and rebounding, Holland Christian won a convincing 81-52 victory over Hudsonville Unity Christian to capture the Class B district tournament crown in the West Ottawa High School gym Friday night before 2,400 spectators.

It was the 31st district trophy won by Holland Christian in its basketball history and then ninth in the last 11 years.

With Bob Van Langevelde hitting a jump shot off of the opening tip-off, the Maroons took the lead and never trailed in the contest. Christian jumped out to an 8-2 lead at 5:05 of the first quarter, but Unity came back to trail 10-8 at the 2:48 mark. The Maroons ended the quarter leading 18-13.

In the second quarter, the Maroons outscored Unity 19-7 to take a 37-20 lead at halftime. Holland Christian made eight of 16 shots in the quarter, scoring 10 points before Steve Roelofs hit a free throw with 4:43 left in the half, to make the score 30-14. Hudsonville Unity Christian made only one field goal in the quarter and five of six free throws.

The Maroons kept their momentum going in the second half mainly as a result of a 60 per cent shooting average (9-15) in the third quarter. Unity Christian did no better in the second half as its shooting was way below par because of pressure defense put on by Christian. With Steve Bushouse scoring seven points, the Maroons moved out to a 61-31 third quarter advantage.

With the victory clinched Christian coach Art Tuls substituted freely in the final period allowing all his players to get into the game.

Bob De Nooyer, who sprained his ankle against Grand Rapids Central Christian last week, dressed for the game but did not see any action. It is expected that he will be ready to go next week.

The rebounding of the Maroons cut-off any chance of Unity getting a second shot at the hoop. So effective was the Maroon rebounding on the defensive boards that the Crusaders got only one offensive rebound in the first half. The Maroons pulled down a total of 41 rebounds, with 25 defensive and 16 offensive. On the other hand, Unity picked off 26, with 20 defensive and 6 offensive.

Holland Christian was led in scoring by Don Hulst with a game high of 15 points. He was followed by Bob Van Langevelde with 13 and Jim Vogelzang, 12. Unity's high scorers were Rick Coy with 12 and Jim Duthier with nine points.

The key to success for the Maroons along with their fine rebounding was their shooting accuracy. The Maroons hit on 31 of 68 for 46 per cent. From the free throw line, they were 19 of 28 for 68 per cent.

Unity made 17 of 58 for a 29 per cent field goal average, and 18 of 23 for 78 per cent from the free throw line.

Progress Told On New School By VanderArk

Progress on the new Christian high school was reviewed for Holland Rotary Club members Thursday by Mark Vander Ark, Holland Christian Schools superintendent. He was assisted by Konrad Marcus.

Vander Ark said the classrooms will be ready for students when the new school year starts next September. Completion of some facilities, such as the athletic field and stands and the gymnasium, may take longer.

Among the architectural features illustrated by Vander Ark in a series of slides is a formation of anodized aluminum arches that will stand in the school courtyard. It is one of several symbols having a religious significance that will play a part in the educational environment.

The new school is located on 40th St. in the southwestern section of the city. Ottawa Ave., when extended, will intersect 40th St. at the school site. The financing of the construction is proceeding satisfactorily, Vander Ark indicated. A complete report will be issued next Monday night.

Junior Rotarians for March, introduced by Loren Howard, are James Butler, Holland High; Tom Kalkman, West Ottawa; and Bill Van Wyke, Holland Christian.

Three new directors were elected to the board of Holland Rotary at the meeting. They are Donald Crawford, Donald Williams and Bernard Arendshorst.

Accountants Hear Talk On Compensation Laws

"Changes in Workmen's Compensation Law" was the subject of a talk given by John Fallan, head of the payroll auditing department for Aetna Casualty & Surety Company of Grand Rapids, and Donald Lieveense, co-partner of the Lieveense Insurance Company of Holland, at the dinner meeting of the Holland Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants, Tuesday evening in the Warm Friend Hotel.

To show these changes, Fallan and Lieveense, in turn, contrasted the original Compensation Law of 1912 with the Revised Compensation Law of 1965.

Plans are in progress for the Public Relations dinner planned for the April meeting.

Plainwell put on its press at the beginning of the second quarter, and it caused Hamilton to turn the ball over a couple of times before adjusting to it. Plainwell closed to within three points 21-18. The Hawkeyes then hit three straight baskets, and Plainwell didn't get close again.

Hamilton led 37-26 at halftime. After the intermission they outscored Plainwell 25-15 to take a 62-41 lead at the end of the third quarter. Hamilton Coach Tom Bos said his team played one of its finest games of the season against Plainwell. The Hawkeyes are now 16-2. Plainwell's record is 10-8.

Vows Are Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lee Boeve

Miss, Melva Ann Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Walters, 523 William St., Zeeland, became the bride of Gary Lee Boeve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Boeve, route 3, Holland on Feb. 10 in First Reformed Church of Zeeland with the Rev. Adrian Newhouse performing the rites.

"Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "Wedding Prayer" were sung by Dan Ritsema, accompanied by Elmer Lieveens who also played appropriate organ music.

Wedding attendants included Miss Judy Vredendael as maid of honor; Mrs. Larry Boeve, sister-in-law of the groom, and Miss Mary Walters, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids; Larry Boeve, brother of the groom, best man; Jim Walters and Wayne Balder, ushers.

The bride, approaching the altar with her father, wore a demitied gown of peau de soie fashioned and designed by her mother. The gown featured applied lace on the sleeves and along the wide hemline. Tiny appliques held the long cathedral-length train which fell from the shoulders and a seeded crown held the lustrous bouffant veil. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

The attendants' gowns in floor-length also designed by the bride's mother, were empire bodices of red velvet and white embroidered brocade skirts fashioned with back bows and streamers. They carried lace heart-shaped pillows with red carnations. The red velvet braided crowns with circular veils completed their outfits.

The altar was enhanced with a heart-shaped floral centerpiece of red carnations in keeping with the valentine motif.

A reception for 180 guests was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mokma serving as master and mistress of ceremonies. Punch bowl attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lanning and in the gift room were Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, Miss Jan Huizen and Jake Boeve. Sheila Lanning and Debbie Walters presided over the guest book.

Following a honeymoon to Florida and the Bahama Islands, the couple will be at home at 204½ West Central, Zeeland.

The bride is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the groom at Miles Laboratories, Zeeland.

Subsidies for Theatre Advocated by Guthrie

Disdaining the microphone and drawing some 300 persons interested in theatre to the front of Dimmet Memorial Chapel, Sir Tyrone Guthrie, eminent drama director of Belfast, Ireland, discussed "serious theatre" at a public meeting Thursday night. Sitting on the platform, Guthrie had instant rapport with his theatre-minded audience in a cozy chat geared to serious theatre in the United States, concluding that government subsidies could be an answer to developing theatre in this country.

He defined serious theatre as not frowningly serious — "jokes can be serious." He said all adult minds need time to play, and he felt that theatre primarily is not to instruct but to entertain.

Holding that theatre is not an intellectual form of art but more of an emotional experience, he nevertheless felt it could be an intellectual experience upon reflection, balance and judgment.

He pointed to King Oedipus as the master detective story of all time — concise, tense, emotional, with plenty of color, costumes and the choreography of movement — a play which occupies the intelligence and the emotions.

But, he added, the same concise flow of words and movement can be found in "Cactus Flower" or "Mary, Mary," plays in which the appeal comes through the senses to the imagination. People can leave "Oedipus" or "Hamlet" utterly exhausted and spent, or leave other plays happy. The feeling of being purged after an evening in the theatre is similar in any case, he said.

"Of course, when you get as blasé about theatre as I am, those moments don't occur so often. But when they do, it's great. Waking up at 4 a.m. and mulling over a line or a thought is a great experience. Or reflecting over it two days....

"The American actor does not often regard speech as a form of music and the American actor often uses imprecise, slovenly speech. But then American theatre is regarded as a business, one in which public evaluation determines the success. Professional theatre has almost ceased to exist in America except in New York where enormous prices are charged because of high rents and costs. A play has to be a smash hit to succeed, and must receive rave notices from all critics."

Guthrie deplored theatrical patterns in America where it is difficult for an aspiring actor to get the experience he needs to develop into a fine actor. A talented actor is likely to go Hollywood and go into television — two areas which have no audience rapport — and probably ends up rich.

And he had no kind words for American musicals which he said were full of frivolity and little else. Even a musical as successful as "My Fair Lady" based on George Bernard Shaw's fine old play has to be ruthlessly cut to make room for five or six pop numbers. "And singing in American musicals too often is just shouting," he said.

He advocated subsidies to theatres in America much like what is done in Europe, and took some comfort in the fact that Congress has conceded a principle in contributing to the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts, and in some allocations in other forms. He strongly advocated development of repertory theatres in America to provide the exposure and experience necessary for development of serious drama.

Guthrie, director of the Shakespeare Theatre of Stratford, Ontario, and the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre of Minneapolis, was introduced by George Ralph of the Hope drama department.

Hepatitis Preventives Advocated

ALLEGAN — Allegan Health Department today advocated preventive measures for infectious hepatitis in connection with a recent outbreak at one of the state universities.

People are urged to wash hands thoroughly after each toilet use and to use separate towels. It also is necessary to wash hands thoroughly before eating or preparing food.

If water comes from a source other than municipal service, it might be well to check private wells and rule out possibility of contamination from septic tank wastes. Persons may call the Allegan County Health department on questions on water supply or waste disposal system.

Infectious hepatitis is caused by a tiny virus that leaves the body with bowel material and gets back into the system through the mouth. The virus then grows in the intestines from two to six weeks, and then strikes.

Frequently, symptoms include a splitting headache, high fever, nausea, extreme fatigue and a feeling of severe depression. After a few days, jaundice may develop, with the skin and the whites of the eyes turning a sickly yellow.

The state health laboratories have produced a substance known as gamma globulin which can be helpful in preventing severe infection before it really takes control. Given shortly after exposure, it usually reduces the severity of the infection and prevents jaundice.

Infectious hepatitis is seldom fatal, but the damage it inflicts may be proportionate to the length of time the disease runs before treatment is begun, particularly if the individual remains active. Complete recovery can be a long drawn-out process. The actual disease runs its course in about six weeks, but the convalescent period may require six months and in some cases a year or more.

Garden Clubbers Enjoy Program On Wild Flowers

Members of the Holland Garden Club and their guests enjoyed a preview of spring when they attended their Thursday afternoon meeting, at the Woman's Literary Club.

Dr. Isla De Pree of Grand Rapids showed slides of "Wild Flowers of Drummond Island" and "Wild Flowers of Michigan", beginning with the early spring arrivals and on into the seasons, giving descriptions of the various flowers and where they are located.

Dr. De Pree does all her own photography, and went to many unusual and different areas to get some of her "prizes". Some of the choice slides included, the spring beauty located on the floor of the woods, the delicate pink hepaticas still partially covered with snow, the rare red trillium, rare green trillium, many species of violets, the wild blooms among the spagnum moss, the old time tanzie, remarkable shots of a variety of thistles, and the dramatic cardinal flower growing on its stalk.

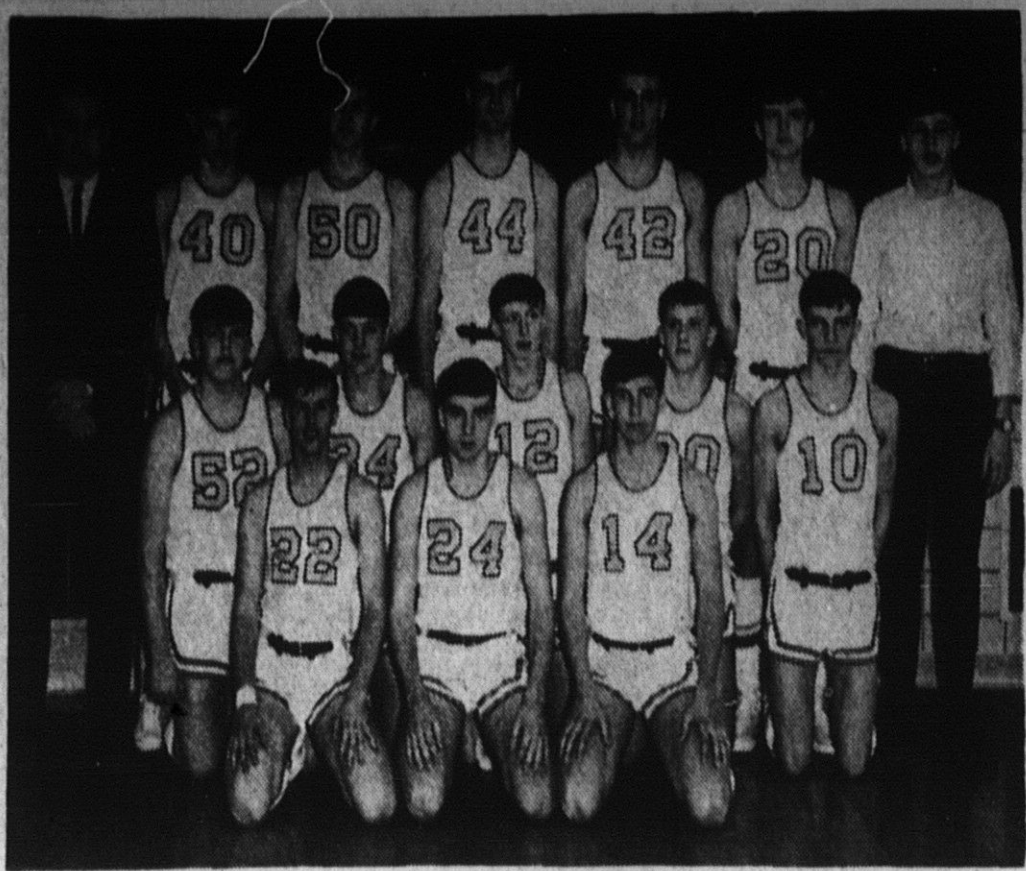

The second half of her program was all slides of orchids, of which there are 52 varieties in Michigan, and she has photographed 30 species. Closeups of their delicate petals and exquisite coloring were shown. The closing slide showed how difficult it is to get some of these pictures, as members saw Dr. De Pree on her knees in the dense woods among weeds and underbrush with camera in hand.

Preceding the program, a short meeting was held, with Mrs. Paul Mellwain presiding. Mrs. Robert Wolbrink introduced the speaker.

City Okays Beech-Nut Financing

$12,500,000 Bond Issue Approved By City Council

An ordinance to issue industrial development revenue bonds in the amount of $12,500,000 to finance construction of a confections plant in Holland for Beech-Nut Life Savers, Inc., was passed unanimously by City Council Wednesday night.

The measure was introduced before City Council Jan. 18 and was presented for first reading Feb. 15 when aspects of the proposed measure were thoroughly explored.

Plans call for a similar program of financing some five years hence when Beech-Nut plans to erect a baby foods plant in a second development.

The lengthy bonding ordinance was drafted by a New York law firm headed by Thomas E. Dewey, Charles R. Moon of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, Detroit bonding attorneys, represented Beech-Nut in negotiations with Holland City.

Moon Wednesday night explained certain minor changes which had been incorporated into the lengthy ordinance and Council waived the reading of the complete ordinance which will be published later in The Sentinel.

Moon said the expansion of industrial activity in Holland would enhance the tax base of the area as well as the economic health of the area through employment, increased sales, etc. He said this method of financing does not place any lien on the property, and the obligation of paying the bonds rests with the industry, not with the city.

He said an increased tax base is desirable for the school district and for the county, and that this method of revenue bond financing provides a generally advantageous interest rate for the industry, as well as a long-term financing program which is difficult to arrange in a private market. It results in a net gain to the city without accruing obligation.

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham pointed out that the city of Holland would be paid all costs, regardless of bond sales, and emphasized that there is no risk of any tax monies in the operation.

Although new to Holland, the concept of issuing revenue bonds for well established industry has become common in many places in America. Michigan is the 32nd state to adopt legislation providing such financing. The Industrial Development Revenue Bond Act was adopted in 1963 but its legality was challenged, and last August the Michigan Supreme Court approved the constitutionality of the law.

This method of financing has been used successfully throughout the country and especially in southern states to attract industries seeking new plant locations.

Although the Beech-Nut plant will be "owned" by the city and leased to the company for the duration of the bond issue, Beech-Nut will pay taxes on the same basis as any other industry.

Kaper's Shot Wins Game in Last Second

OTSEGO — Groy Kaper hit on a 20-foot shot with one second left to play to give Hamilton a 57-55 victory over Allegan and the first district basketball title in the school's history in a game played in the Otsego High School gym Saturday night.

The Hawkeyes were unable to win any titles when they competed in Class D and C, but this year, their first in Class B tournament competition, they came home with a trophy.

Kaper's dramatic shot came after teammate Mike Brinks had won a jump. Brinks tipped the ball directly back to Kaper who hurriedly fired just before the final buzzer sounded. The ball dropped through the hoop as the buzzer was going off.

The game was close in the first half. Hamilton grabbed a 17-13 lead at the end of the first quarter. The score was tied six times in the second period before Hamilton made four points in the last 1:12 of the half to take a 35-31 lead at the intermission.

Hamilton outscored the Tigers 12-11 in the third period, and held a 47-42 margin at the three-quarter mark.

The Hawkeyes had a 51-46 lead with 7:06 left to play. Gary Huntley then scored a basket for Allegan, and a few moments later Brinks was called for a technical foul. Mack Simpson sank the free throw to put Allegan only two points down. At the 4:39 mark Tom Massie found the range on a long jump shot to tie the score at 51-51.

Brinks hit for two points for Hamilton, but the Tigers countered with field goals by Huntley and Massie to go ahead 55-53.

Hamilton's Dave Plasman tallied on a jump shot to knot the score at 55-55 at the 1:15 mark. Allegan stalled for the last shot, and with eight seconds remaining Mack Simpson drove for the basket. He collided with Hamilton's Cliff Haverdink and was called for charging.

Hamilton called time out, and Kaper tried to pass up court to feed Brinks under the basket, but the ball was deflected out of bounds by an Allegan player. The Hawkeyes then tried to feed Plasman in the corner from an out-of-bounds play with four seconds left, but a Tiger partially blocked the shot. There was a scramble for the ball which resulted in the jump situation. Brinks then tipped to Kaper to set up the winning basket.

Hamilton won the game at the free throw line. They hit 19 of 27 attempts from the foul line for 70 per cent. Allegan only got seven tries from the line, and made only three of them.

Allegan's zone defense throttled Hamilton's attack quite effectively, and the Hawkeyes got off only 45 shots in the game. The Hawkeyes were able to hit on 19 of the attempts for a 42 per cent average.

A key to Hamilton's victory was its lack of fouls. The Hawkeyes picked up only nine fouls while their opponents were detected for 20 personals.

The Tigers, led by Huntley's 20 points, had seven more field goals than Hamilton. Allegan made 26 of 68 attempts from the floor for 39 per cent.

Brinks led Hamilton's scoring with 19 points. Lloyd Schrottenboer had 15 and Haverdink 10 for the Hawkeyes. Massie scored 12 and Simpson 10 to go along with Huntley's 20 points for Allegan.

A cottage owned by William Hardy, 795 Lakeside was also entered, and two windows were broken in a cottage next door owned by L. C. Kingsland, 791 Lakeside.

The windows were broken by throwing beer bottles through them, deputies said, the Kingsland cottage was apparently not entered. These two cottages are in Allegan County and the cases were referred to the Allegan County sheriff's department.

Deputies said the cottages were entered by breaking windows, and unlocking doors or windows or by forcing open doors.

Snowfall Totals 117 Inches Here

Holland has had 117.1 inches of snow so far this season.

This includes 33.5 inches which fell during February, according to Lynn P. Wheaton, official weather observer here.

Snowfall in January totaled 45.5 inches; December, 25.1 inches, and November, 13 inches. There was no snow in October.

This season's total may yet approach the all-time total of 137.5 during the 1962-63 season, should March have heavy snow. Last year's total of 74.8 was considered light for Holland. The 1964-65 total was 112.3 inches and the 1963-64 total, 115.75 inches.

According to Sentinel records dating from 1906, snowfall in Holland exceeded the 100-inch mark for the first time in 1942-43. The well remembered snow season of 1935-36 totaled 91.5 inches. Since 1943, Holland has experienced winters of over 100 inches of snow on 11 occasions.

Holland was covered with snow the entire month of February, the depth ranging from 7 to 19 inches. The last time the city recorded no snow on the ground was Jan. 25 when a high of 61 was recorded. Cold weather set in the following day, followed by the season's worst storm.

Holland's average temperature in February was 21 degrees, or 5.2 degrees below normal. A high of 48 was recorded on Feb. 14 and a low of -10 on Feb. 7.

Although the snowfall totaled 33.5 inches, precipitation totaled only .86 inch which is .98 inch below normal for February.

Greatest snow depth on the ground was 19.3 inches on Feb. 2. This is far from a record. It was in February, 1963, that a depth of 42 inches on the ground was recorded. That was the season that 137.5 inches fell. Cars flew flags from aerials and parking was restricted to one side of the road.
