Distribution Of Inner-City Survey Starts

An inter-city survey of 200 residences sponsored by the Holland Planning Commission began Monday.

The questionnaires will be distributed and picked up personally two days later. Hope College political science Major, Gary Begley, whose services are contributed to the city under a student internship program.

The survey form is based on questions about the inner city raised by members of the Commission and will be available in both English and Spanish versions.

The Planning Commission will use the results of the survey in its comprehensive review and revision of the inner city master plan. Questions on the survey relate primarily to attitudes and opinions regarding government services and public facilities. Specific questions of a personal nature such as age and income have been avoided to encourage the widest possible response.

According to Dale Wyngarden of the Planning Commission, samplings of four distinct areas of the city should supply a representative composite of the inner-city. The areas include homes on one-way streets, large older homes, average older homes and waterfront homes.

If the survey, which will take about two months to complete, is successful, the commission hopes to expand it in the future.

Allegan Board Faces Two Headaches

ALLEGAN — Two major headaches face Allegan County commissioners at their meeting Tuesday... bids for the controversial county building at DuMont lake and replacement of county health director Dr. Julius Nesbit who resigned March 1.

Bids on the new building to house the health and social services departments are to be opened Friday and the board is to decide Tuesday whether to postpone awarding the contracts in light of a suit to block construction of the building.

Taxpayers opposing selection of the rural site north of Allegan filed for an injunction and the matter is in the courts.

Dr. Nesbit resigned by letter March 1 as county health director and took a swipe at the finance committee headed by John Vogelzang of Holland. Nesbit claimed the committee had "usurped all authority and deprived us all of our rightful roles."

Nesbit said the county health board approved "actions and requests aimed at making the department a viable one," but pointed out that most of the decisions were countermanded by the "all powerful" finance committee.

Nesbit was hired as health department chief last spring without previous experience in the field of public health. He was the first professional director for the department in eight years succeeding Dr. A. B. Mitchell who retired in 1965. Several doctors were hired for short periods of time in the interim.

Three persons suffered minor injuries when their car went out of control along Lakewood Blvd. two tenths of a mile west of Division Ave. Tuesday at 7:46 a.m. and rolled over. Treated in Holland Hospital and released were Dorothy Mae Van Doornik, 47, of 1703 Perry St., and her daughters, Dotty, 17, and Susan, 16. Ottawa County deputies said the car was eastbound on Lakewood attempting to pass another vehicle when it went out of control and ran off the left side of the road rolling over.

Mercury Here Soars to 70 Degrees

Spring Arrives, Lasts One Day

On the wings of heavy winds, Spring hit Holland Sunday and the mercury soared to 70 degrees, leaving its mark on the rapidly receding piles of snow left by countless plows, jeeps and dump trucks during the February snows.

Low spots were soon waterlogged and dirt roads posed new challenges while winds up to 60 miles an hour sent branches crashing, snapping utility wires in the process. Gusts winds blew ice across Lake Michigan to local shores and redistributed blow sand in almost fearsome proportions.

The weather today was another story with rain, some unpredictable snow and tempera-

Dr. Bright Is Speaker at Convocation

Dr. William R. Bright, president of Campus Crusade for Christ International, will speak to an all-college convocation at Hope College Friday at 10 a.m. in Dimment Memorial Chapel. The public is invited; admission is free.

Dr. Bright is in Holland to lead a Lay Institute for Evangelism. His address at Hope College is sponsored by the college's Ministry of Christ's People.

Leaving his business interests in Los Angeles in 1951 Dr. Bright founded and now heads Campus Crusade for Christ International, an interdenominational Christian movement in 45 nations of the world. The movement is designed to serve as an evangelistic arm of the local church.

A Coweta, Okla. native, Bright graduated from Northeastern Oklahoma State College, where he was president of the student body and editor of the campus newspaper. After serving on the faculty of Oklahoma State University, he moved to Los Angeles and founded his own specialty foods manufacturing company.

Dr. Bright became active in Christian education at the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, in 1945.

Continuing to operate his business, he began graduate study at Princeton Theological Seminary in 1946, and later continued his studies at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena until the spring of 1951. The University of Korea, John Brown University, and Houghton College have since conferred honorary doctoral degrees.

Dr. Bright began the ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ at U.C.L.A. in the spring of 1951. The movement has expanded until it is now active on more than 500 college and high school campuses in the United States, as well as on hundreds of campuses in other countries.

Campus Crusade began a ministry to laymen in 1953, and in 1970 more than 100,000 laymen received Campus Crusade training.

BPW Garage Will Be Used For City Computer Center

City Council approved city purchase of the Board of Public Works garage at the rear of City Hall for a computer center Wednesday night but hedged 4-4 on approving an architect for remodeling the building.

This left the city manager in a position of making new arrangements with architects on a remodeling job estimated at $12,000 to $15,000. It appeared there was a question about the proposed architectural fee of 12 per cent, but Councilman Elmer Wissink's motion to reduce the fee to 10 per cent failed to receive a second.

The purchase price of $10,500 for the BPW property was approved. The BPW will move its meter department from the garage to its 5th St. station no later than June 15. Council vote was 7-1 with John Bloemendaal dissenting.

A public hearing on proposed construction of a sanitary sewer in 26th St. from Concord Dr. to Azalea Ave. brought response from two persons, both favoring the issue. The resolution calling for construction passed unanimously.

A communication from the Greater Michigan Foundation informed Council that Holland has been paired with Traverse City for Mayor Exchange Day May 20.

A communication from Consumers Power Co. concerned a contract for municipal pumping service and a proposed rate increase. The company filed a request for such an increase with the Michigan Public Service Commission Feb. 25.

A communication from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission requesting Council action on an application from Skiles Tavern for a class C tavern license in conjunction with its existing SDM license at 152-154 East Eighth St., was referred to the city manager for report.

A card of thanks from Councilman and Mrs. John Bloemendaal expressing thanks for a formal arrangement on the occasion of the recent loss of Mrs. Bloemendaal's mother was read.

A request from CHAMPS and the March of Dimes requesting permission to use city property at 6th and College for a complete recycling center including appliances was referred to the city manager for report.

ment including a homicide case in 1957.

Prior to 1956 the two alternated as detective and parking control officer. The detective bureau was expanded in the 1960s to provide additional manpower.

Tors joined the police department in 1941 as a patrolman under the direction of then chief Jacob Van Hoff.

Filling a detective bureau vacancy created by Tors' retirement is Cpl. Robert Ryzanca who is being transferred from the patrol division. Patrolman John De Jonge, 32, of 2457 Prairie Ave., is being promoted to rank of Corporal to succeed Ryzanca. De Jonge is a seven-year veteran of the department.

A new officer, Joe M. Morales, 26, of 299 East 14th St., will begin training prior to joining the force to fill a vacancy left by the promotions. Morales will complete 256 hours of police training at a school in Muskegon.

Recent Accidents

Keith Lewis MacDonald, 20, of 63 East 21st St., suffered minor injuries when the motorbike he was operating was struck from behind by a car driven by Joyce Lee Brown, 18, of route 2, Hamilton, Tuesday at 4:48 p.m. MacDonald was treated in Holland Hospital and released. Police said he was stopped westbound on Eighth St. at College Ave. for a left turn when struck by the Brown car.

Holland. Ende continues his work with the detective bureau. The two were the first full time detectives on the force having been appointed detectives in 1956. Until the 1960s the two handled virtually all the investigations for the department.

Michael was critically injured in a car-truck collision Thursday at 11:36 a.m. at 48th Ave. and Port Sheldon St.

Ottawa County deputies said Benner was pinned in the wreckage of his car and was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Peter Ver Keik, medical examiner.

Michael was taken to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids where his condition continued as "critical" with head injuries.

Deputies said the Benner car was westbound on Port Sheldon attempting a left turn onto 48th Ave. and apparently turned into the path of the truck which was eastbound on Port Sheldon.

The truck was driven by James Grassmid, 28, of route 1, Zeeland. Grassmid was not reported injured.

Deputies said Benner's death was the second traffic fatality in Ottawa county this year compared with three a year ago at this time.

Council acknowledged a gift to Holland Hospital of $350 for use in the respiratory therapy department from the Holland Hospital Explorer post and gifts of 11 memorial books for Herrick Public Library from various donors.

Council approved a Planning Commission recommendation not to vacate Macatawa Ave. located in Montello Park plat, but to hold the right of way in public trust for its potential to serve the general public interest. As an alternative to vacating the right of way, the commission suggested revocable licenses for developing docks, seawalls or bulkheads.

Council set March 20 as date for reviewing a special assessment roll for a sanitary sewer in Birchwood Ave. from Legion Park Dr. south to the end. Total cost was listed at $101,428.52 with $35,000 to be assessed property holders.

A city auditor report informed Council that the Municipal Finance Commission has approved the city's request for issuing $150,000 in special assessment public improvement bonds and $125,000 general improvement bonds. The request had been made last Nov. 19. Sale date of bonds is set April 3.

Since the second Council meeting in May coincides with the opening day of Tulip Time, the meeting was postponed to May 22.

Mayor Lou Hallacy presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and a quarter. Invocation was given by the Rev. Glen O. Peterman of Hope Church. All Councilmen were present with the exception of Al Kleis Jr.

Byker Urges Bill to Aid Rape Victims

LANSING — Legislation to help rape victims successfully prosecute for the crime has been introduced in the state Senate by Sen. Gary Byker, R-Hudsonville.

The bill, based on the proposal of the Michigan Women's Task Force on Rape, classifies rape as a crime of violence rather than a sexual offense and also include protection for male rape victims.

Byer said FBI estimates show that fewer than one out of five rape victims even report the crime and only one out of 100 offenders are convicted.

The bill would establish four degrees of sexual assault, ranging from first degree to fourth degree depending on the amount of violence and coercion committed. Sexual assault with a gun would automatically be a first degree offense punishable by 20 years imprisonment. Fourth degree rape, however, is a misdemeanor.

The proposed law would eliminate the statutory requirement that a rape victim must "resist to the utmost" or not be able to prosecute the assailant at all. A victim who submitted through fear of being killed would be able to prosecute for first degree sexual assault.

A similar bill was introduced in the state House Thursday by Rep. Edgar A. Geerlings, R-Twin Lake.

The bill also prohibits the attorney of a person charged with rape from inquiring into prior sexual activity of the victim. Currently, attorneys often seek to imply that a rape victim's prior sexual activity lead to the crime.

Hudsonville Man Killed in Collision Of Car and Truck

HUDSONVILLE — Richard Benner, 28, of 4054 Nancy St., was killed and his four-year-old son, Michael, was critically injured in a car-truck collision Thursday at 11:36 a.m. at 48th Ave. and Port Sheldon St.

Ottawa County deputies said Benner was pinned in the wreckage of his car and was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Peter Ver Keik, medical examiner.

Michael was taken to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids where his condition continued as "critical" with head injuries.

Deputies said the Benner car was westbound on Port Sheldon attempting a left turn onto 48th Ave. and apparently turned into the path of the truck which was eastbound on Port Sheldon.

The truck was driven by James Grassmid, 28, of route 1, Zeeland. Grassmid was not reported injured.

Deputies said Benner's death was the second traffic fatality in Ottawa county this year compared with three a year ago at this time.

The couple was to have been married March 30.

Miss Potter is survived by her mother, Mrs. Cass J. Potter of Grand Haven. Her father died in 1950. She was employed with the Ottawa County Social Service and Mental Health program and was a graduate of Western Michigan University. She was a candidate for a masters degree at Western.

Woman Killed In Hit, Run Accident

GRAND HAVEN—Terry Linda Potter, 24, of Grand Haven, who was to have married a Holland man this month, was killed when struck by a hit-and-run motorist Sunday at 1:58 a.m. while walking with her fiancé.

arraigned Monday in District Court before Judge John Galien of Holland was Raymond De

Terry Linda Potter

Witt, 23, of 96th Ave., and Polk St., Zeeland. He demanded examination to a charge of manslaughter and was released on $2,000 personal recognizance bond. No date for the hearing was set.

Deputies said they stopped the De Witt car about 1/4 of a mile from the accident moments after the accident occurred but minutes before it was reported. Deputies said the car was stopped for defective head and tail lights. De Witt was released when deputies received the emergency radio message of the accident but was taken into custody later at his home.

Officers said Miss Potter and her fiancé, Leon Kraai, Jr., 26, of 579 West 29th St., Holland, but working in Ohio, were walking south along the west side of 144th near M-45.

Deputies said Kraai told them he heard the sound of a fast-approaching vehicle and stopped to look back while Miss Potter continued to walk ahead. Officers said the southbound vehicle brushed past Kraai and struck Miss Potter.

Miss Potter was carried 130 feet from the point of impact to where her body was found. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Arthur De Boer of Grand Haven. Kraai was not injured.

The couple was to have been married March 30.

Miss Potter is survived by her mother, Mrs. Cass J. Potter of Grand Haven. Her father died in 1950. She was employed with the Ottawa County Social Service and Mental Health program and was a graduate of Western Michigan University. She was a candidate for a masters degree at Western.

Swim Pool Completion Seen May 1

Morris Pee-bolt, chairman of the outdoor swimming pool committee, reported to City Council Wednesday night that excellent progress is being made at the swimming pool in Smallenburg Park and he expects substantial completion by May 1, with open house a bit later, and operations soon after June 1.

He said the pool has been named the City of Holland Bouws Recreational Pool and a bronze plaque is being prepared.

The L-shaped pool was described as 47 by 75 feet, with a depth of 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 feet, and a 20 by 25 foot wading area. The diving pool on the upper level measures 32 by 45 feet and is 12 1/2 feet deep. Locker rooms also are nearing completion.

In other business, two proposed ordinances outlined by the city manager were tabled for further study. One involves private sewer systems and the other driveway approaches.

Council approved a $2,500 transfer from general contingency to the police department's overtime account, due to increased police work during the recent independent truckers strike. Truck firms are being billed for some other costs.

The report also commented on the gasoline budget of the police department which will be substantially over-run because costs have almost doubled since the preparation of the current budget. The department is placing $9,600 from other departmental accounts, but it was pointed out that if the police budget is in a deficit position near the end of the fiscal year, it may be necessary to ask Council for transfers.

By a 5-3 vote, council approved purchase of sound analysis equipment for the Department of Environmental Health at a cost of $2,280 with $680 from the contingency account and $1,600 from revenue sharing funds. Some Councilmen were more concerned over motorcycle noise than industrial noise and other sound pollution. Robor Stroh who heads the Department of Environmental Health said it would be better to become acquainted with noise levels and other city problems before drafting a noise ordinance. He said his department would be working with the police department on complaints. Dissenting votes were cast by James Vander Poel, Ken Beelen and Hazen Van Kampen.

Received for first reading were two ordinance amendments, one calling for the same increase in late payment of illegal parking tickets as in overtime parking tickets, and the other on inoperable vehicles, requiring them to be in running condition and having current licenses, unless parked in an enclosed structure.

In response to a citizen request to synchronize the traffic signal at 17th St. and Pine Ave. with the signal on River Ave., the city manager recommended an electronic tie-in between the two signals at an initial cost of $110 for installation plus an estimated $40 operating expense annually. The city manager is negotiating with the State Highway Department since the signal on River Ave. is on a state trunkline.

A communication from the Holland Community Choral invited Council to its winter concert March 16 in Holland High School.

Council approved a paving assessment revision crediting Rudy Brink with $359.70 in an out-of-court settlement on Prospect Ave. paving.

Assistant City Manager Terry Hofmeyer was named acting city manager during any periods the city manager is out of town for the next several months.

Marina Urged For Douglas

DOUGLAS — Development of a 32-slip municipal marina and park is being recommended for a site northwest of the Blue Star Highway bridge over the Kalamazoo River.

The recommendation was contained in a study completed by Gove Associates of Kalamazoo for the village and the State Waterways Commission.

Estimated costs for the project were $486,670 with various grants paying for half the cost of the land and up to 80 per cent of the construction. Local costs were estimated at $130,000.

LOWER SPEEDS — State highway department crews changed speed limit signs in the Holland area Monday to conform with the new 55 mile an hour limits signed into law by Gov. Milliken Saturday. The new speed limit was given final legislative approval Friday. Installing the new signs along US-31 north of Riley St. were David Brinks (left) and Tom Napier, both of Grand Rapids. State Police said they would not ticket motorists traveling up to 70 miles an hour until enough signs have gone up to give the drivers fair warning. Under state law, motorists face only fines if they drive between 55 and 70 miles an hour. Above 70, courts may assess points for drivers as well as fines. (Sentinel photo)

Near Capacity Audience Cheers Hope's 'Cabaret'

By Cornelia Van Voorst
Hope College's production of the musical "Cabaret" opened Thursday night to a near capacity crowd in De Witt Cultural Center, a bright, colorful and brassy story of the pre-Nazi era in Berlin mostly cast in the Kit Kat club in which colorful cabaret songs and dances are superimposed against a subtle network of the growing Nazi menace.

Cast in the early 30's on the arrival of "Mein Kampf" to the literary world, "Cabaret" is a study of lifestyles akin even more to the permissive present than when it opened on Broadway in 1967.

Director Don Finn's production followed a clock-like pace with nary a slipup in dance steps, lyrics or lines, an almost frantic story of gaiety but one with serious caution and stop lights that pretty well convince the audience that life is not a cabaret, old chum... there's more to it than that.

Lights and costumes were superb, and individual song and dance acts on a tilted cabaret stage showed Rich Rahn's distinctive hand in choreography. In general, the night club acts tended to dim the story line which it perhaps was intended to do. Kim Zimmer as leading lady Sally Bowles sang the "Life Is a Cabaret" theme with gusto, but a bit short of Liza Minelli who starred in the movie.

Ken Aitchison as the American novelist who fell easily into the Parisian-type gaiety in the end showed the strength of character which contrasted to the amoral Sally, and his German friend played by David Ueker was convincing in bringing out the Nazi approach.

Cheri Chenoweth and William Te Winkle as the two elderly Germans who saw a chance to escape loneliness together provided a strong secondary sub-plot, a story that pointed to tragedy since Herr Schultz was Jewish.

Taking over the stage with complete aplomb at times was Richard Hoehler as the white-faced master of ceremonies, partly performer, partly commentator and partly demon. As performer, he brought down the house in some truly imaginative night club acts, one a novelty dance with a female gorilla to the tune "If You Could See Her as I Do."

Particularly funny were some acts by Nancy Sigworth as the street-walking fraulein usually followed by sailors.

An excellently designed set by Todd Engle provided maximum movement with a central cabaret stage, Fraulein Schneider's rooming house to the left and assorted movable sets to the right.

Accountability Hearings Set For Schools

GRAND HAVEN — A series of 13 public hearings on education accountability in Michigan will be held throughout the state during March and early April. Roger Troups, superintendent of the Ottawa Area Intermediate School District, announced today.

The most convenient hearing for citizens of the Ottawa district will be Thursday, March 28, at 7 p.m. at Burton Junior High School, 2133 Buchanan, Grand Rapids.

The hearings will be conducted at a 25-member educational accountability panel appointed by the State Board of Education and State Superintendent of Public Instruction John W. Porter. The study was requested by Gov. William G. Milliken when the issue of accountability became a major stumbling block in the settlement of the seven-week Detroit teachers strike.

The public hearings are one part of a larger study which includes a public opinion survey. The 25-member panel has been divided into two groups, one conducting six hearings and the second seven hearings.

The schedule: Detroit, March 13; Kalamazoo, March 14; Detroit, March 16; Mt. Clemens, March 19; Pontiac, March 20; Ann Arbor, March 21; Saginaw, March 26; Lansing, March 27; Grand Rapids, March 28; Sault Ste. Marie, April 1; Marquette, April 2; Gaylord, April 3; Detroit, April 4.

Recent Accidents

Cars operated by Maria Elena Valverde, 26, of 257½ East Ninth St., and Elroy Lynn Kosters, 23, of 118 West 20th St., collided Saturday at 2:30 p.m. along Seventh St. 200 feet west of River Ave. Police said both were westbound along the one-way street when the Kosters car attempted a left turn from a center lane and collided with the Valverde car in the left lane.

Cars driven by Paul D. Stempfly, 34, of 252 West 20th St., and Stephen J. Vanette, 18, of 480 Central Ave., collided at Eighth St. and Fairbanks Ave., at 12:30 a.m. today. Officers said both cars attempted to turn southbound on Fairbanks from Eighth St. The accident remained under investigation.

PRESENTS PLAQUE — Eunice Bareham, Ottawa County Commissioner from Spring Lake, presents a plaque of appreciation from "the people of Ottawa County" to Vice President Gerald R. Ford at a Thursday luncheon of the National Association of Counties at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington. County Commissioners contributed $10 each to have the plaque made by Grand Haven craftsmen in appreciation for the work Ford had done in representing Ottawa County as part of the old Fifth District before reapportionment. ## Hamilton Production Staff Is Working on 'Spoon River'

Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology," which will be viewed at Hamilton High School the evenings of March 21-23, is a production that presents new challenges to Hamilton's theatre department.

Since Charles Aidman's version of "Spoon River" is basically a "reader's theatre" adaption in which the actor simply reads his parts from various speaker stands, the Hamilton theatre staff will face the complexities of turning nearly four score monologues and accompanying folk tunes into an expressive, interrelated whole. This task involves intricate staging, lighting and handling of properties.

Director Al Ver Schure's scene design will attempt to meet staging difficulties with a partially thrust stage and a reliance on only curtains, a cyclorama backdrop, some fencing, and six movable crates. Taking place on "The Hill," the Spoon River cemetery, Ver Schure has taken many ideas for the production from a 1969 presentation enacted by the Hope College theatre in which he assisted Hope director John Tammi.

Charged with carrying out the set design are crew heads Sara White and Bob Johnson. Assisting them are crew members Phil Van Tubbergen, John Wilson and Lloyd Ter Beek.

Keeping specific illumination on the 18 actors and actresses, portraying 75 characters, while using various acting areas and trying to avoid monotony and repetition is the job of lighting director Keith Hoffman. Helping him with more than 100 lighting cues are Gary Ver Hoog, Randy Reimink and Earl Bowers.

Because the exchanging of hand properties often designates a change of character in "Spoon River," the properties crew becomes a vital part of production. Heading the crew is Louise Grondin, with assistance from Kathy Grondin, Kathy Aalderink and Sandy Klein.

Costuming the cast is the job of student crew head Dawn Slotman, with help from advisor Carla Ver Schure and faculty member, Anne Moore. Other costume crew members are Dawn Lampen and Ramona Sims.

Make-up crew head is Carol Beckfort, with crew members being Jan Wentzel, Linda Sternberg, Pat Hietje, Lynelle Lubbers, Linda Gruppen and Diana Love.

Faculty advisor Ethel Verduin, working on her third Hamilton production, will again take charge of ticket sales, ushers and security. Student business crew head is Karen Lugten, with her crew composed of Connie Schipper, Sally Speet, Kristi Scholten and Janet Sloothaak.

In charge of publicity is Nancy Overbeek; working on musical numbers are pianist Gary Schra and guitarist and faculty member, Jim Hekman, and program cover and poster designs are being created by art instructor, Charlotte DeVos.

Holland Hosts VFW District Quarterly Meet

Goldsmith Performs At Hope Recital

By Anita Wallgren

"... Unpredictable, violently changeable, brusquely untidy and generously emotional" is Harris Goldsmith's description of Beethoven as a composer.

Goldsmith's Thursday night performance in Dimmet Chapel exemplified all of these adjectives in his special program of all-Beethoven selections. The unpretentious man became the dynamic artist at the piano, explosive and in some places, brusque with the music.

Few pianists have such a turbulent interpretation as Goldsmith, and he conveys the feeling that music is propelled by creative forces.

Opening the concert with the "small" Sonata in F Major, Op. 10, No. 2, Goldsmith demonstrated his accomplished technique through tricky rhythms and ornaments. The sonata is small only in size and must be played with the youthful vigor that Goldsmith possesses. From the opening staccato chords to the end of the Presto finale the music is unremitting in its urgency.

The more familiar "Tempest" Sonata in D Minor, Op. 31, No. 2 has periods of recovery written into it. Goldsmith was especially effective in the Largo, Allegro opening movement which featured dramatic pauses between broken arpeggi and chordal sections. A pleasant Allegretto movement indicated Goldsmith's strict interpretation of Beethoven's pedal markings, that is, a sustained, deliberately blurred effect, which was evident at other points in the program.

After a brief intermission, Six Bagatelles from Op. 126 displayed the versatility and, as Goldsmith says, the more "im-promptu" side of Beethoven's music. The third, a thoughtful "Andante" was beautifully concise, and the fifth, a little charmer, was reminiscent of Scarlatti sonatas. The sixth, opening with a flourish of conglomerate sounds, displayed the most freedom through the bulk of its lilting "Andante amabile" section.

The finals of the evening was a vivid performance of the "Waldstein" Sonata in C Major, Op. 53. Here the full energy of the artist was evident, and long, explicitly written-in crescendos were effective. The Rondo final movement was the summation of the unfolding drama of the sonata, and well-executed scale passages in the bass lent their support to the grandiose melody in octaves carried in the treble.

As an encore, Goldsmith played another Beethoven Bagatelle. Today he is scheduled to conduct two sessions of a master's class at Wickers auditorium, featuring Hope college piano students.

SHARP DECLINE IN SECRECY

About a year ago the House of Representatives decided that thenceforth committees must either open their sessions to the public or vote publicly to close a given session. This has had a salutary effect. The House is now being far less secretive than before in conducting its business. That is all to the good, since the business of the House is in the last analysis in the public business.

The Senate rejected this reform at the time the House adopted it, and the figures dramatize the consequent difference since the House rules took effect. Last year only 10 per cent of all House committee meetings were held behind closed doors. In the Senate, 25 per cent of committee sessions were held in secret.

That difference is all the more significant in light of the fact that in past times the House has tended to be more secretive than the Senate. Now, even when House subcommittee sessions are lumped with those of the main committees, it turns out that only 16 per cent of the 1973 total were barred to the public. The comparable figure a year before was 40 per cent.

The general argument that openness serves the public interest is hard to contradict. Even so, concern must be felt about the contention that open sessions tend to slow down the legislative process; considering the great number of bills submitted, that is an important factor.

As to this point we cite the conclusion of Common Cause, which has been monitoring House operations under the new rules. It finds that "many important and complicated pieces of legislation were drafted by committees in open session and brought to the House for votes with no more delay than in earlier years when secrecy prevailed." If this continues to be so, those who champion barring the public from committee and subcommittee sessions will have little ground left to stand on.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, March 10
When the Spirit Fills a Life
Acts 3:1-6; Acts 4:31-37
By C. P. Dame

Last week we noted how the Holy Spirit fell upon the early church. In this lesson and others we learn how the church gave proof of having been empowered by the Holy Spirit.

I. The early church healed. Acts 2:43 says that "many wonders and signs were done by the apostles." This lesson cites one of the many. Peter and John were on the way to the temple to pray. Pious Jews observed "three special hours of prayer—9 a.m., midday 12 and 3 p.m." On the way the apostles saw a beggar looking for alms. For forty years he had been lame, deprived of normal living, dependent, forgotten by many. He got the attention of the apostles who first disappointed him and then healed him—telling him, "In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth to rise up and walk" and did and praised God for his healing.

II. The early church preached. Peter addressed the crowd that had gathered, as, "Men of Israel," people of the covenant, telling the crowd that the God of their fathers had "glorified His servant Jesus" whom they had crucified but God had raised from the dead. Once Peter denied Jesus but since he had received the Holy Spirit he witnessed and the result of his preaching was the conversion of five thousand men.

The preacher was arrested and brought before the court. Peter "filled with the Holy Spirit said that the lame man had been healed 'by the name of Jesus of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead.'" Upon being released the apostles went to their friends and reported what the chief priests had said, they lifted up their voices and praised God and all were refilled by the Holy Spirit. We all need a refilling of God's Spirit.

The church also showed concern for each other. Some had possessions, others were in need and they shared, they showed that they were of one heart and soul. After selling property some Christians brought the money to the apostles who distributed it to the needy. Joseph surnamed Barnabas, sold a field and brought the money to the apostles, thus setting a fine example. The early church showed concern for those outside its membership and for each other. Church members still give.

Grand Haven Puts Dutch On Sidelines With Win

By Leo Martonosi
MUSKEGON — The game of basketball has its ups and downs. And in state district play, if you're down you're out.

Myles' Shot At Buzzer Tips Cougars

By Leo Martonosi
ALLEDALE — Miracle's do happen, just ask Tom Villemure of Grand Valley State College. It took a "freak" bucket by "Jumping Jack" guard Don Myles in overtime to give the Lakers their heart-pounding 71-70 NAIA District 23 tournament win over a fired up Spring Arbor five here Tuesday evening.

The win was the first for Grand Valley in NAIA play. Spring Arbor ends its season at 21-14.

With Grand Valley down by one point, 70-69 and one second left in overtime, the Lakers' Kimm Griffin tied up the Cougars' Terry Wilson for a jump ball at the GVSC basket.

The situation looked hopeless as it didn't seem possible that the Lakers had a chance to pull out the verdict.

Villemure checked with the officials working the game, the colorful Art Willard of Jackson and Jerry Hendrickson of Grand Rapids to make sure they informed the official scorer that the clock wouldn't start until after either a Cougar or Laker touched the ball after the tip.

Spring Arbor's enthusiastic fans couldn't believe their eyes and neither could the Laker student body, as Griffin got the tap to Myles outside the free throw lane and Myles, who was hanging in the air at least three feet, threw the ball at the bucket in hopes that a miracle would happen.

It did, as his attempt swished the cords to give the Lakers the thrilling victory. It was a crushing loss for the Cougars, who played inspired ball.

The win might be just the right ingredient GVSC needs Thursday when they host rival Ferris State College at 7:30 p.m. for the District title and the rights to advance to Kansas City.

Grand Valley's fans went berserk, as they mauled Myles, Griffin and others.

After picking his way through the bedlam which was going on the court, Villemure beamed. "This has to be the biggest break I ever got in all my years of coaching. It was the first lucky win I ever had."

Two free throws by Rob Gray of Spring Arbor gave his team a 70-67 advantage with 16 seconds left in overtime and it looked like Grand Valley's season was going down the drain.

But the Lakers weren't dead as Tony Smith netted a basket with nine seconds left to set the stage for the last second heroics.

The Cougars, who started two freshmen, one sophomore, one junior and one senior held a surprising 30-26 halftime lead. The regulation ended at 62-62. Junior Terry Wilson, a transfer from Alpena Junior College led the losers in scoring with 25 counters while Gary Rhew, a freshman chipped in with 15. Griffin had an outstanding game with 20 markers and a game high 16 rebounds. Myles added 18 counters and ex-Holland Christian flash Sid Bruinsma 16 points.

Bruinsma snared nine of the Lakers' 57 team caroms. Gregg Kinear had 12 of the Cougars' 47 total.

Both teams played tough defense, as the percentages showed GVSC with a 42 per cent figure and Spring Arbor at 38 per cent.

That was the role of the Holland Dutch, as they fell victim to Grand Haven, a team they defeated twice during the regular season.

Coach Al Schaffer's scrappy Bucs took a 74-70 barn-burner from the Dutch at the L. C. Walker Arena Wednesday evening.

"We played poor defense and got out-rebounded and that was the ball game," said a disappointed Holland Coach Don Piersma.

On the other side of the ledger, Schaffer commented, "We were ready and did a heck of a job in fighting for those rebounds against the taller Dutch. 'Clark' Gerrish and Ron Nuismer had fine tills for us but so did Jud Hesselink and Tim Van Tongeren for Holland."

Hesselink was out of his mind in the first period, as he poured in 18 points to lead the Dutch to a 24-17 quarter advantage.

The 6'5" Holland junior earned eight of 12 fielders from the floor and two of three charity throws as he was going after Ron Maat's school record 48 points.

Grand Haven was running into foul trouble during that first eight minutes, as Rick Teunis, Gerrish and Jim Kalsbeek all had two personnel. But in the end it was the fifth foul on Holland's star No. 50 Hesselink that might have been the difference of the contest.

With 4:56 left in the game and Holland down by one point, 60-59, Hesselink was called for his fifth infraction. Nuismer sank both free throws to tie the Buc count to three and they were never headed after that even though the Dutch came within two points 72-70 with 10 seconds left on two free throws by Van Tongeren.

Jeff Schaffer, Grand Haven's coaches son, who was the hero in the Bucs thrilling win over Mona Shores Monday dropped in two freebies with three seconds left to lock up the game.

It looked like the Dutch might run Grand Haven right out of the gym in the second period when they led, 32-22 with four minutes left in the half. But behind the fine shooting of Gerrish, the Bucs outscored the Dutch, 17-5 the rest of the way to lead by two points, 39-37 at the intermission.

Grand Haven's press started to take its toll on the Dutch and the fans from both schools knew it would be a dog-fight after that.

A bucket by Van Tongeren gave Holland a 53-52 margin late in the third stanza but the Bucs bounced back to hold a 56-55 lead heading into the final eight minutes.

Holland never regained the lead after that, as the Bucs were on the way to their 13th win of the season compared to nine setbacks. The Dutch packed their bags with an overall 129 slate which is quite an improvement from last year when they were 3-18.

Hesselink cooled off in the second half but still ended the night with a game high 29 markers. Van Tongeren closed his career with 22 while Gerrish had 22 to pace the Bucs attack. Nuismer chipped in with 17 while adding 16 was Teunis.

Dennis Lawson, Holland's starting center who enjoyed two fine outings in the two previous meetings with the Bucs failed to score this time around, as Paul Hospers did a fine defensive job on him.

Piersma brought up sophomore Todd D. Young from the reserves. De Young saw action briefly in the first half but did not score in his one attempt at the bucket.

Guard-forward Ken Bauman missed the game because of an ankle injury.

The Bucs will meet Muskegon Friday night for the district championship.

West Ottawa Ends Season With 6 Wins

By Rich Wolters
Holland Christian and West Ottawa, two teams which struggled through the season with losing records, met in District Tournament play Wednesday and discarded their past performances, to put on an excellent display of basketball, with the Maroons eking out a 62-60 victory.

The teams, which appeared to be about even on paper, bore that out, as the game remained close all the way. Both clubs were vastly improved from the time they met earlier in the season.

Dave Tuls, the Maroons' senior guard, playing probably his best all-around game of the season, clinched the verdict with a pair of free throws with 21 seconds left to play, giving the Maroons a 62-56 lead. Christian then allowed Norm Walker and Mark Visser to score uncontested baskets, making sure they wouldn't commit any fouls. Visser's basket was at the final buzzer.

The individual matchups were quite interesting as the two junior centers battled to a standstill, with Visser connecting for 21 points and grabbing eight rebounds, while Keith Frens for Christian tallied 18 points to go with 11 rebounds. The junior forwards had Jon Houseward of the Maroons with 13 points and the Panthers' Dan Scheerhorn with 10, while senior guards Norm Walker of West Ottawa made 18 points in a fine out-court shooting display, while Tuls notched 15 with some good moves on driving layups.

Sophomore Dave "Leemo" Van Langevelde of the Maroons opened the scoring with a bucket, which was followed by one from Houseward, and Christian held a slim lead throughout the first quarter, which ended 14-13.

Two straight baskets by Houseward gave the Maroons their biggest lead of the game, 29-21. Christian then began fouling Visser, who responded with five free throws plus a basket to pull the Panthers within one at halftime, 33-32. Visser made nine points in the period, seven at the charity stripe.

At 6:06 of the third quarter Visser again connected and the Panthers took their first lead of the game, 36-35. West Ottawa held on to a 48-46 margin at the period's end. Visser and Walker each tallied six points for the Panthers, while Tuls had seven and Frens six to account for all of the scoring for the Maroons.

When Walker scored for West Ottawa at the outset of the final period, the Panthers held a four-point lead for the second time, which was their largest advantage.

Christian came back on two free throws by Houseward and baskets by Van Langevelde and Frens to lead 53-50, before Scheerhorn's four points put the Panthers back on top. Joe Vogelzang and Visser traded baskets for a 56-55 West Ottawa lead with two minutes left in the game. Then Keith Boeve hit a pair of clutch free throws, followed by a basket by Frens and three free ones by Tuls to ice the game.

The Maroons hit 48 per cent of their shots in each half, ending with 25 baskets in 52 shots on quarters of 7-14, 7-15, 6-11 and 5-12. The Panthers were 33 per cent in the first half and 54 per cent the second half for a game average of 42 per cent on 24 of 57. Their periods showed 6-19, 5-14, 8-13 and 5-11.

Both clubs hit on 12 free throws, on 22 tries for West Ottawa and 19 for Christian. The Maroons outrebounded the Panthers 39-22, as sophomore Vogelzang, who spelled both Houseward and Van Langevelde when they got in foul trouble, hauled down eight.

Each team lost one player on fouls, as Houseward left at the 4:37 mark of the final period and sub guard Bruce Visser of the Panthers with 0:36 left.

West Ottawa ends the season with a 6-16 mark, while Christian, now 4-17, moves to the District finals, and Saturday will play the winner of tonight's contest between Jenison and Hudsonville Christian.

Controls Set On Burning In Zeeland

Also adopted by council was an ordinance requiring residents to hook into a sanitary sewer within a specified time after the sewer becomes available.

Early Birds Hear Address On Land Use

House Bill 5055 on land use in Michigan was described by its sponsor, State Rep. Philip Mastin (D-Ferndale) at an overflow monthly breakfast of Chamber of Commerce Early Birds Tuesday in Warm Friend Motor Inn.

The new bill, designed mainly for critical land use, is the result of years of study which included 26 public hearings all over the state the last two years. Much of the study dealt with farmlands, recreation areas, wet lands and timberlands, in addition to ever escalating residential and industrial problems and the type of person he wanted to be.

The bill calls for establishing a seven-member Land Use Commission representing regional interests, and an advisory body which would have wide representation. In general, state guidelines would serve as a basis for regional, county, township and city controls in establishing zoning ordinances on local levels. Existing organizations would continue to be utilized.

Counties would be given two years to prepare zoning or land use plans. Of Michigan's 83 counties, 26 have planning organizations and 22 of them have adopted a county plan.

Mastin said main purpose of the proposed legislation is to provide a legal basis for controlling development on critical land areas. Studies the last two years have uncovered a wide variety of definitions, and the state bill, admittedly imperfect, would provide a working basis.

The new commission would be housed with the Department of Natural Resources and the DNR departments on forestry, minerals, wildlife, etc., would be readily available. The agricultural department and Michigan State University also would provide expertise.

Mastin said Michigan currently has 6.6 million acres in production, providing food and fiber for 50 per cent of the state's 7 million population. He said agricultural acreage is being reduced at the rate of 2,000 acres annually. By the year 2000, the state's projected population of 11.5 million would have to import 75 per cent of food and fiber since productive farming would be reduced to some 4 million acres.

He said Vermont has controls on land use of 2,500 feet elevation, Florida has controls on large scale development, and the nation's newest state, Hawaii has rigid land use controls protecting its tourist industry.

Unify Education Efforts Dr. Anttonen Tells Club

The Revolution in Higher Education has been of serious interest since the end of World War II according to Dr. Elmer Anttonen, who spoke on the subject before Century Club members Monday evening.

New types of programs have had to be instituted and gone are the days when enrolling first year students were handed a program. At present a student may decide to spend five years preparing to be a systems analyst, a computer expert or an international business executive. The speaker continued that today's student seemed to be most concerned with social problems and the type of person he wanted to be.

The state legislators are very concerned about the demands for financing. There are seven major universities; 15 four-year colleges; 29 community colleges and 43 private and parochial schools the speaker said, and all want help.

Competition for students is another problem due to tuition costs, the speaker said, since differences in requirements are minimal. Of the 15,000 applicants for Michigan State University's 1973 opening, 7,000 were accepted. Another problem under this heading is the growing number who choose the community college.

Changes in program are due to studies made by the commissions like Carnegie and Michigan Commission of Higher Education, Dr. Anttonen said, and continued that the State Board of Education has proposed plans for a Wolverine State University which would be directed by this board. Also, he stated that a recommendation of the council of State College Presidents is the external Degree program which would be for credits earned outside the classroom.

The University Consortium Center in Grand Rapids where Dr. Anttonen is associate director is a means, he said, of unifying the efforts of four universities to bring more opportunities to the communities. He reported the Advisory Council is now considering problems which they have been asked to solve. The most pressing seem to be in the areas of health, management and occupations for women. Continuing education and the life-long learning concept is an important consideration.

Inflation has increased the problem of funding for higher education, the speaker noted, and said some educators suggest the federal government should finance graduate study since persons with these degrees usually have positions of national concern.

However, in closing, Dr. Anttonen said the uppermost aim of education is the pursuit of excellence, not only in economic performance but in civilizing and expanding the potentials of life.

Dr. William Arendshorst presided and paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Esther Snow, a long-time member of Century Club, who had come to Holland in 1929 and had made many valuable contributions to Hope College, the community, the church and Century Club.

The president announced that books will be placed in the Hope College music library in Mrs. Snow's memory and in the Junior High School Library in memory of Adelaide Dykhuizen.

In other business, the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Jerome Counihan, Dr. Lester Kuypers and Mrs. Alvin Bos, was given by Mrs. S.

Pressed glass is the name given to glass made by pouring molten glass into a mold and then pressing it into shape by means of a mechanical plunger. Molds were made in two, three, or four parts from brass, iron, or other metal. It is possible to tell how many parts were contained in the mold by counting the ridges along the sides of old goblets and bowls.

Pressed glass makes an intriguing collectible because of its availability and relatively low cost.

West Ottawa Rips Zeeland In Opener

By Roger Kuiken

Zeeland seems to bring out the best in West Ottawa as the Panthers, for the second time this season, defeated the Chix in the opening District Class B basketball game by a convincing 72-56 score here Monday night.

West Ottawa defeated Zeeland "We really played as a team" stated a happy coach Jerry Kissman and he had high hopes that this would be the start of something good. The Panthers were super in all phases, on the boards and the defense was probably the best of the year.

earlier in the season by a slim four point 64-60 margin and since then the Chix were much improved, as their record showed, winning nine of 20 games.

Everyone knows though that the record book goes out the window when it comes to tournament games. It was even basketball for the first period with both teams showing hustling and the score was deadlocked 14-14.

The lead changed hands several times in the second period until Dan Scheerhorn came on the scene and made four quick field goals for West Ottawa and gave them a 10-point lead, 32-22 at the half.

Scheerhorn could do no wrong and was tough on the backboards.

Zeeland cut the lead to five, 45-40 in the third period but couldn't keep up with the Panthers in the final eight minutes.

"We just choked up," said first year coach Dan Shinabarger, who lost some tough games this year by narrow margins.

This was not one of the Chix better games by any means but West Ottawa looked good under pressure.

Tom Kragt played his usual fine game for the Chix and was the leading scorer with 18 points followed by Scott Van Dyke with 13 points and Terry Van Dyke with 10.

Mark Visser was tough for the Panthers, especially on the boards and made some nice follow through shots. Visser scored 28 points and Scheerhorn had 15.
